HISTORY OF SANBORNTON,

NEW HAMPSHIRE.

In Two Volumes.

VOL. II.—GENEALOGIES.

BY

REV. M. T. RUNNELS.

"There is a history in all men's lives,
Figuring the nature of the times deceas'd:
The which observ'd, a man may prophesy,
With a near aim, of the main chance of things
As yet not come to life."

"One generation passeth away and another generation cometh."

INTRODUCTION.

As promised in the "Prospectus for the Sanbornton Town History," under date of March, 1880, the "genealogical records of more than two hundred [223] family names of the original town" are given in this volume, besides briefer notices of nine others, in Appendix I. The object of the work was then stated to be "to communicate to present and future generations some knowledge of the noble fathers of old Sanbornton; to transmit some just idea of those later upon the stage to those who shall come after us, and to show what the influence of Sanbornton has been, through her emigrating sons and daughters, in the varied walks of life, upon other communities of the land and the world."

When the author first came to the town in 1865, he found numerous families bearing the same name in the church and parish over which he was pastor. Prompted by curiosity, and as a means of aiding him in funeral services and other pastoral duties, he began to inquire into the connection of these families. Before he was aware, he had collected records and scraps of information, which increased in interest as he proceeded, and soon convinced him that if the same work could be continued and amplified, so as to embrace all the families of the town without partiality, it might prove a task pleasant in itself, gratifying alike to present residents and absent descendants, and promotive of God's glory.

He early discovered, from the details of family and individual experience, that the genealogies of the town were well worth preserving, and that its history should be written; to which he was further encouraged by the earnest and repeated recommendations of the late Dr. N. Bouton, of Concord ("make it rich in genealogical material!"), as also by several of the venerable men of the town, since passed away. He found less than half the old families represented on the town books, and most of these but partially; which, however, he determined to take as a basis, leaving nothing out which those public records contained. Then, by consulting the registers in many a well-worn family Bible, by interviews with aged people, and by extensive correspondence with the scattered descendants of these families, a mass of material was soon collected which might have seemed appalling but for the enthusiasm it awakened. This work did not hinder but rather aided the pastor's labors in his own parish, while it opened up many avenues of usefulness abroad. It was afterwards resolved to incorporate into these genealogical records what could be gathered and condensed from such obituary notices as came to hand, as also from all the monumental incriptions in the older cemeteries of the town, and all the earlier records of marriages and deaths, both public and private, some of the most valuable of which came to light quite providentially.

The author's aim has been to embrace what could be obtained both of the ancestry and posterity of all the older and many of the later families, though of course he found it necessary to exclude many whose residence in town was only temporary, or who, within the last thirty years, have become residents, especially of the new towns of Franklin and Tilton; excluding also his own family, so that the usual charge against genealogists, of egotism in parading their own personal or family histories, might not be brought against himself. He wished to produce a record of such impartiality that none of the original and older families nor their descendants could complain of being neglected, and of such fulness that other local historians and genealogists might find in this work all they could expect to obtain by corresponding with the town clerk or visiting the town in person; viz., whatever information the public records, the cemeteries, and the oldest inhabitants might afford them.

The records, as now presented, are, from the nature of the case, imperfect. The author has labored under the conscious disadvantage of not being a native of Sanbornton; besides, the work of a genealogist is never finished. It is like the photographer's endeavor to take a picture of a moving procession: before his instruments can be adjusted, or his impression, caught at a given instant, can be prepared for exhibition, the procession may be presenting altogether a different aspect. The humiliating conclusion is also forced upon the writer of a book like this, that there must be errors, omissions, and redundancies upon almost every page: for of some families no written records could be obtained; the uncertain memories of the aged had to be trusted for names and dates; the random guesses of some individuals would be given by word of mouth or letter, instead of facts; the stolid indifference of others must needs be confronted. The author can, however, honestly say, there is not an imperfect record of a Sanbornton family in the whole work (excepting a few in the Appendix) which he has not attempted, and in many cases repeatedly, by visitations, or correspondence, to make more full than it is.

In regard to the epitaphs, he is aware that many of them are uncouth and unpoetic, while some may seem to detract seriously from the literary merits of the volume. But having determined to take any, all must in justice be included. The quaintness or roughness of an epitaph is often its chief recommendation. The sentiment is usually devout. The propriety of giving these epitaphs in connection with the deaths of individuals whose records are transmitted, appears from the fact that some hearts were once moved to choose such expressions, with reference to the same individuals, as their buried friends. Their publication is no breach of courtesy, since they were all originally designed for the public. They belong peculiarly to, are in fact a part of, the literary history of the town; while many of them, fast crumbling to decay, will in this volume be preserved for the precise purpose for which at first designed, — the perusal of future generations.

It was proposed in the Prospectus that the "Sketches" should be merely "occasional or incidental," — thrown in "to relieve the monotony of genealogical detail," — and applied "principally to those public or professional men who were several years resident in town, and to other sons of Sanbornton either at home or abroad, of whom (1) previously printed sketches or obituaries have been found, whose friends (2) have voluntarily furnished such notices, and who (3) have been personally known to the author during his fifteen years of residence here as pastor of the Congregational Church." Beyond these limitations it was not possible to go, while it is freely admitted that many, to whose names only a brief record is appended, may have been equally worthy of a fuller notice. But the work is strictly genealogical rather than biographical. Many excellent citizens and sons of the town had passed away during its first century, with whom no personal acquaintance was possible; of many of these, no printed memorials have been found; and of others still, their surviving friends have shown no desire that particular mention should be made. Where much was not given, much cannot reasonably be required.

All efforts have been made which were possible, under the circumstances, to ascertain pedigrees and ancestral connections with fulness and accuracy. To this end the published "Genealogies" extant have been studiously consulted; but these are comparatively few in number. The records of other towns have also been, to some extent, inspected, though these, in many places, are defective. Where other means of information failed, recourse could only be had to the tradition of aged people belonging to different families, and in most cases no certain light has been obtained back of the Sanbornton immigrant ancestor, or the first of a given name who settled in the town. The author has, however, scrupulously distinguished between fact and probability in the statements made, at the headings of the various families.

More time might have made the records, especially of some families in the Appendix, more full and satisfactory. The "twenty years" assigned by Dr. Bouton for this work are not yet completed. But space would not have allowed the swelling of this volume much beyond its present size; and therefore, such as it is, with a full consciousness of its imperfections, many of which arise, as before hinted, from the very nature of the enterprise, the obscurities of handwriting, and the various and unsatisfactory ways in which the material has been brought to the author's hands, he deems it best, without further delay or attempts at improvement, to give it to that public which has patiently awaited its appearance.

The numerous "sources of information," and the many individuals to whom the author feels indebted, are usually noticed under their respective records, as referred to from Index II. An exception is found in the case of Mr. Stephen G. Taylor, of Brooklyn, N. Y., whose manuscript records of the Taylor Family — the result of several months of patient labor — were of essential value. Separate mention should also be made of the venerable Perkins Brothers, Capt. Chase, who gave the earliest encouragement for this history, and his older brother, Capt. John B., whose valuable aid was providentially continued nearly to the completion of the manuscript. The aged Mr. Peter Burley, Mr. Jeremiah Weeks, so lately departed, and several others, are also entitled to grateful remembrance; while to the youthful James H. W. Abbott, the author stands indebted for the genealogical papers which he left upon a few of the Sanbornton families; and to his father, the lamented James B. Abbott, M. D., for his "Sketches of the Sanbornton Physicians," most of which are incorporated in the records of the present volume, under their several names.

EXPLANATIONS.

I. The genealogical arrangement employed in this volume is simple and easily explained, as follows: Heads of families are given in the larger type; children, or descendants, immediately after, in the smaller type. Through each family name, in all its branches, consecutive numbers are found on the left margin of the printed page. These numbers, preceding the heads of families, are followed (except the first), after the name, by smaller bracketed numbers, each referring back to that consecutive number at which the same individual appears as a child. Those children, or names in smaller type, who are afterwards to appear as heads of families, are followed, after each name, by larger bracketed numbers, referring forward to the places where they thus appear. It was first contemplated that all parents, especially in the male lines, should thus reappear, even to the latest generations. A few of the records which were earliest prepared, like the Hunkins and Odell families, were arranged chiefly upon this principle; but it was found that the same carried out would swell the volume to an inordinate size, so that the arrangement was modified, as now appearing in the Sanborn, Morrison, and most of the smaller families, and generally in the tracing of female lines; viz., that not the last generation but one of a given family should be the last to be thus transferred, but the second or third before the last. By this arrangement not only children are entered under their proper consecutive numbers, but grandchildren and great-grandchildren under the same consecutives, the grandchildren appearing after the Arabic numerals 1, 2, 3, etc., the great-grandchildren after the Roman numerals I., II., III., etc.; and in a few cases, even great-great-grandchildren after Arabics in parenthesis, — (1), (2), (3), etc.

II. Pedigrees are indicated, after the several heads of families, by a list of names in parenthesis, with small exponent figures, as on p. 1, the first over the name in question, thus, "Ezra^{5}," showing the generation to which the individual belongs; the next being the father, "Samuel^{4}," with exponent one less; then the grandfather, with exponent one less, etc., back to the first known ancestor, whose name appears with the exponent ^{1}, thus, "George^{1}." It must be noted, however, that this first exponent does not indicate the "original ancestor" of the individual, nor even, in most cases, the earliest in this country (as with the Abbotts), but simply the earliest as known to the collector of these records, which often go no further back than the first ancestor in this town, though in a few cases, as with the Gilmans, to previous centuries in the old country.

III. A few records coming in late, after the families had been arranged for the press, were necessarily entered, like the female lines, with two or more generations under the same consecutive number, instead of being transferred, like corresponding branches of the same family. Instance, p. 438 [47]. In other cases, for the same reason, one or two consecutive numbers must needs be entered fractionally, as on p. 241, because the numbering had been completed, and could not well be changed, after the new material was received.

IV. The parenthesis (—) has other peculiar uses in this work besides those already indicated; e. g., (1.) After the Christian name of a female, her maiden surname is frequently given in parenthesis before her married surname, as on p 2, line 8. (2.) In giving the children of a female line, the family surname thus appears after the Christian name of the first child, as on p. 1 [8, 1]. (3.) If two different dates were found, as of births or town conflicting with private records, or if a similar uncertainty existed as to names, etc., the more probable is given first, and the other directly after, in parenthesis. (4.) In numerous instances, after the date of a marriage, the surname of the officiating clergyman is given in parenthesis, and the honored names of "Woodman," "Crockett," and "Bodwell" thus appear most frequently. All others are the ordinary uses of the parenthesis, which, from the sense, will be readily understood.

V. Quotation-marks after a death always indicate the epitaph taken from the gravestone of the individual buried in Sanbornton, unless otherwise stated.

VI. Figures after "ae." indicate the years of age; or, connected with dashes, thus, "1—1—17" (p. 3 [29]), the years, months, and days, unless otherwise specified.

VII. It is not claimed that all who served as soldiers in the several wars are noted in these records; but as many as were heard of in that capacity are thus noticed, to whom reference is made in Index II.

VIII. Ordinarily, when no town is mentioned as the place of birth, Sanbornton is to be understood, unless there is previous specification to the contrary, or the head of the given family is just before represented as having elsewhere settled.

IX. In a few instances, families, chiefly belonging to other towns, like the Ladd Family, were yet so intimately connected with Sanbornton by marriages that their records are given with nearly the same degree of fulness as the others.

X. When all of a given family name are shown in the records to have been descended from one and the same ancestor, the singular, "Family," is, with a few exceptions, employed in the headings (as also in the Index and Table of Contents); when such common ancestry is not shown, the plural, "Families," is employed; and, in either case, the term "Branch" or "Branches" is used to designate the separate family groups.

XI. In the disputed orthography of certain surnames, a compromise is usually made. Preference may sometimes be given to the older forms of spelling in the running or page titles and the Index, but not in the way of authority or dictation.

XII. Miscellaneous explanations: A mark of interrogation (?) after a name or date implies uncertainty. Consecutive numbers are always referred to in brackets, except in the Indexes. The usual abbreviations for titles are employed, as also for the names of States and provinces, which usually appear but once after each family name when the place of residence is first given. Names of towns, if without special designation, are supposed to be in New Hampshire. Other abbreviations are those commonly used in books of this kind, as "b." for "born"; "m." for "married"; "unm." for "unmarried"; "d." for "died"; "ae." for "aged"; "dau." for "daughter"; "res." for "resides" or "residence"; "res'd." for "resided"; "rem." for "removed"; and "t. r." for "town record(s)."

HISTORY OF SANBORNTON.

GENEALOGIES.

THE ABBOTT FAMILIES. — Six Branches. — I.

1. Ezra[5] Abbott (Samuel[4], Jonathan[3], Benjamin[2], George[1]) was b. Aug. 15, 1763, in Pembroke, being the 8th child and 4th son of Samuel[4], who, with his elder brother Job[4], had early settled in P. He was descended, as were the other families below, from George[1] Abbot, the Puritan emigrant from Yorkshire, Eng., 1640, who was among the first settlers of Andover, Mass., in 1643, and a proprietor. He moved from Pembroke to Sanbornton about 1794 or '95, soon after his marriage to Mary Brown, also a native of P. Settled on the present Isaac N. Lane place, Lot No. 57, 2d Div., northwest corner of the town, where he d. Nov. 16, 1824, ae. 61—3. [Gravestone says, "in his 63d": should be 62d year.] She moved to Cabot, Vt., in 1834, and there d. 1836. II.

36. James Buswell[6] Abbott (Elias[5], Reuben[4], James[3], William[2], George[1]) was b. June 24, 1799, in Concord, being the son of Dea. Elias, b. Oct. 24, 1757, a Revolutionary soldier, and Elizabeth Buswell, of Bow, b. Sept. 4, 1761. (See I.) He studied medicine with Dr. Enos Hoyt, of Northfield; attended medical lectures at Hanover in 1824 and '25; and graduated at that institution in 1826. In July, same year, he entered into partnership, in the practice of medicine, with Dr. Harper, of Canterbury, and continued this connection one year. In Aug., 1827, he established himself at Loudon Mills, where he remained upwards of ten years. Nov. 15, 1827, he was m., 1st, to Nancy B. Rogers, of Northfield, who was b. Sept. 6, 1800, and with whom he lived until Sept 11, 1837, when she was removed by death, ae. 37. He was elected Fellow of the N. H. Medical Society in 1832. In April, 1838, removed to Boscawen, and in October, same year, was m , 2d, to Elizabeth A. Rogers, b. Oct. 15, 1816, whose loss by death he was called to mourn, Nov. 27, 1842, ae. 26—1. He m., 3d, Sarah Gerrish, March 22, 1843, the dau. of Capt. Joseph Gerrish, of Canterbury, b. March 2, 1816, and Dec. 19 of that year (1843) removed to Sanbornton. He here remained, in the successful discharge of his professional duties, residing at the Square, as Dr. Hill's successor, for more than twenty-six years. He was characterized, both as a man and as "the beloved physician," first, by that tenderness of heart which rendered him peculiarly sympathetic, and enabled him to feel for those in distress; second, by that soundness and correctness of judgment which made him exceedingly useful as an adviser in any situation; and thirdly, by a firmness of will, which resulted in remarkable decision of character, and rendered him constant and reliable as a friend and benefactor. He was town clerk, 1850 and '51; school committee, 1844 and '49; was for twenty-two years a deacon and pillar of the Congregational Church; and for sixteen years the "valued and efficient superintendent of the Sabbath school." As a physician, he studied well the diagnoses of his patients; decided deliberately, and seldom decided wrong. He represented the N. H. Medical Society at the National Convention (American Medical Association) in Baltimore, May, 1848, and left several valuable papers, published and unpublished; among the latter, a series of biographical sketches of the several physicians of Sanbornton. He was a Christian of a deep and genuine religious experience; excelled in the gifts of prayer and exhortation; but was ever clothed with humility, as also with benignity and gentlemanly kindness of speech and manner. He d., after seven weeks' distressing illness, of heart disease, July 6, 1870, ae. 71, "with the harness on, his armor all fitting well, having never lost his ground, and with all the honors of his best manhood" (Prof. Albert Smith). "His rest shall be glorious." His funeral sermon, by the author, was published. Children:

March 29, 1804) and Judith Farnum, his 2d wife (m. April 12, 1837), still occupants of "the paternal estate" "in the bend of the Merrimack River at Sewall's Falls," Concord, where his grandfather Jabez[4], with his brothers Nathan[4] and Jesse[4], early settled. Their grandfather Thomas[2] was the 7th son and 10th child of George[1] Abbot the original ancestor in Andover, Mass., and Hannah Chandler, his wife. (See I.)

The subject of this sketch studied medicine with S. M. Emery, M. D., at Fisherville, and graduated with honor at the Dartmouth Medical Coll., 1868; soon after which, going to Kansas, he resided in Lawrence, and practised near the Osage Mission in the southern part of that State, but, returning to New Hampshire, located in Suncook till July, 1870, when he came to Sanbornton, and has since practised (1880) at the Square as successor of [36], occupying chiefly for his residence and office the house and studio of the late Walter Ingalls. He has won much esteem for his social qualities and as a well read, scientific physician, enjoying an extensive practice in this and the neighboring towns, especially Meredith and New Hampton, and being called to perform several difficult operations in surgery. He was m. to Julia Ann Clay, in Manchester, Dec. 30, 1869, by Rev. Cyrus Wallace, D. D. She was the dau. of James and Mary (Brailey) Clay, b. Feb. 13, 1843, in Nashua. Children, b. in Sanbornton:

THE ABRAMS FAMILY.

This family, as the name indicates, is of Jewish origin, and the tradition is that two brothers, Christian Jews, came from Palestine to New England, at an unknown date, their names being:

1. William[1] Abrams, who "was a ship's carpenter, and fell into the sea and was drowned"; also,

2. John[1], the other brother, who settled at Amesbury, Mass. Of his children:

3. Sarah[2] is remembered to have lived, unm., at Ipswich, Mass., about 1842, and there d.

4. John[2] (John[1]), b. March 3, 1766, in Amesbury; m. Mehetabel Harriman, 1789, who was b. Sept. 30, 1762, being the dau. of Laban Harriman, a Quaker, and his wife, Mehetabel Putnam, who was the niece of Gen. Israel Putnam, of Revolutionary fame. He settled in this town soon after marriage, near the present Hill Bridge, where now Mr. Brown's residence (Lot No 57, 2d Div.), and there d., Aug. 29, 1841, ae. 75—6; she d. July 26, 1844, in her 82d year. He was a pious man (deacon of a Congregational church), as were all his daughters' husbands. Children:

THE BAMFORD FAMILY.

1. "Widow Bamford" is reported to have been among the residents of town as early as 1768. Her husband is thought to have been Jacob[1] Bamford, and he probably d. before his family settled in Sanbornton, as his name does not appear on the "Petition of 1768." She had located, with her children, near "Little Bay," south of the present railroad, and on the south part of the farm still owned by her descendant, near the depot at East Tilton, Lot No. 58, 2d Div. On coming to town they took possession of a log-house or hut, some fifteen feet square, which had previously been erected by a temporary fishing settler, and is claimed by some as the first dwelling built within the confines of Sanbornton. Mrs. Bamford had but two children, and before they were hardly of a suitable age to care for themselves, she again m., 2d, and left town. Children:

2. Sarah, m. —— Atkinson, and lived in Boscawen.

He (Carter[3]) was the 10th child and 4th son of Samuel[2], whose father was Nathaniel[1]. The parentage of the latter is not satisfactorily determined; has been by different persons called the son, nephew, and grandson of Rev. Stephen Bachiler, first pastor of Hampton, and this last is the more common tradition in that town; yet this is not certain, as the Rev. Stephen was an elderly man on coming to this country; is not known to have had any sons here (see Sanborn family), and returned to England in 1656 or '57, where he d., at the age of 100. Another supposition makes "John Batchellor," of Salem, Mass., the common ancestor of the Sanbornton families. He came from Dorsetshire, Eng., "adm. to the church" in Salem, "June 23, 1639"; "freeman, 1640"; "d. 1646." "His descendants write Batchelder." William[4] [1] m. II.

39. David[1] Bean, surnamed the "King," must have settled in that part of town which is now Franklin (Lot. No. 61, 1st Div.) in the latter part of 1776, as his name does not appear on the "Association Test," July 3, of that year, while his son Jonathan does appear as a Revolutionary soldier of Sanbornton, April 20, 1777, then enlisting for three years, and his name is among the highway surveyors of 1778. The family was said not to have been connected with the preceding [I.], though it may have descended from Joshua[3] (John[2], John[1]), of Brentwood, who had twenty-one children, and four of whose sons settled as men of prominence in Gilmanton. Five of the name, mostly of these Gilmanton families, had graduated at Dartmouth College, in 1832, and at least two others from Harvard. Others claim that this David Bean came from Epping with the Prescotts, or his pedigree may possibly be traced to Philip Bean, noticed in Salem, Mass., 1638. He m. Betsey Bickford, and is known to have had the following children, b. before coming to Sanbornton. He d. July 20, 1812; she d. Nov. 11, 1825, ae. 94; both in S.:

THE BLAKE FAMILY.

1. John[3] Blake (John[2], Jasper[1]) and his wife Mary, all of Hampton, were the parents of:

2. Thomas[4], who was b. Oct. 23, 1724, in Hampton, and was there living (1748) as one of the grantees of this town and original proprietor of Lots Nos. 22, 1st, and 35, 2d Div. He was in Epsom, highway surveyor, 1761, and bought a pew in the meeting-house at E , 1764, but was not there as a tax-payer in 1793, and had probably removed to Epping by or before March, 1782, when Thomas Arnal, who had previously bought the "2d Div. right of Thomas Blake, of Epsom," deeded the same to Joseph and James Wadleigh, Jr. (see). He m. Hannah Dearborn, of Hampton (H. records), and his children, as there baptized, were: — 1. Dearborn, bapt. June 25, 1749. 2. John, bapt. June 23, 1751. 3. Miriam, bapt. March 28, 1756. 4. Nanny, bapt. Sept. 14, 1760. There is no evidence that he was the father of the three following, at least on the Hampton records.

3. Nathan, whose father's name was probably Jedidiah, first occupied the farm on Lots Nos. 38 and 39, 2d Div., afterwards owned by Rev. Benjamin Calley, and now by his son. He probably came from Epping, and was drowned, May 5, 1799, while running logs down the Pemegewassett, at the Rapids, just above Franklin Village, since called Blake's Falls. His widow Molly m., 2d, Samuel Tenney (see). He had buried five children within three months of each other, in 1796, June 6, Aug. 25, 26, and 29, and Sept. 6. He also had two sons, as per deed Blake to Calley, Jan 16, 1805: — 1. Jedidiah, who was m. to Sarah (Sally) Hoit, by Rev. Mr. Woodman, Oct. 10, 1799, and whose child d. Aug. 1, 1803, the fatal year. 2. Eliphalet, b. 1781; m. to Sally (Sarah) Danforth, by Rev. Mr. Crockett, March 20, 1803. He was living in Alexandria (1875), and d. there, 1877, ae. 96.

THE BODWELL FAMILY.

1. Rev. Abraham Bodwell was b. May 5, 1777, in Methuen, Mass., the son of William. His ancestors are said to have belonged to Newbury, Mass., and he may have been descended from Henry Bodwell, b. 1654, who m. Bithiah Emery, dau. of John, May 4, 1681, provided, only, that they had other children besides "Bithia, b. June 2, 1682," as mentioned in Coffin's "History of Newbury." He was graduated at Harvard University, 1805, spent three months in the study of theology with Rev. Jonathan French, of Andover, Mass., and received approbation to preach from the Westford Association, at Stoneham, April 30, 1806. Esq. Josiah Emery was sent by the town to Andover, seventy miles, on horseback, to confer with him and invite him to preach as a candidate, which he did for three months, delivering twenty-three discourses, and two very pungent ones, Aug. 24, 1806, from the text, Isa i. 3, l. c. (For the action of the town, see Ecclesiastical Hist.) He was ordained Nov. 13, 1806, Dr. McFarland, of Concord, preaching the sermon, from Titus ii. 11. "His ministry was faithful and earnest in no common degree. He presented habitually, as though he believed them with all his heart, the great fundamental doctrines, — ruin, redemption, and regeneration." After a season of deep and prayerful anxiety for his people, in 1816, the Spirit was poured from on high; the whole parish was shaken, and more than one hundred were hopefully converted to Christ, many of whom were fathers and mothers, among the most respectable and influential members of the congregation. Other seasons of special awakening were enjoyed, but none comparable to this. During the forty-six years of his ministry, 307 were received into the church, and there were 484 baptisms, mostly of children. He was eminently a peacemaker, "combining the utmost meekness of spirit and forbearance of demeanor with a declared decision and firmness of principle" He took an early stand on the temperance question, seconded by his excellent wife; "was at once a most unworldly man and an excellent financier." Was ever bound to his colaborer, Rev. Mr. Crockett, of the 1st Baptist Church, "by a beautiful friendship, based on a mutual and high respect, and a warm affection." He was dismissed by the same council that installed his successor, the Rev. James Boutwell, June 24, 1852, and ever afterward proved a good parishioner, a faithful teacher in the Sabbath school, and an occasional aid to his pastor, in the pulpit, while his strength continued. On the fiftieth anniversary of his settlement he preached a half-century sermon, but it was not published till after his death, which occurred March 24, 1863, "when his 86th year was nearly completed, after a brief illness of only one week, passed in a peaceful and steadfast reliance on Christ." At least two of his discourses were published, besides the above. 1. "A Sermon delivered at the Request of the Female Cent Society, Dec. 23, 1812," from Mark xiv. 7, l. c. 2. "The Sovereignty of God, a Sermon preached in Sanbornton, July 5, 1813; Isaiah lxiii. 17, f. c." (See Dr J. C. Bodwell's Centennial Address, from which quotations above.)

A. Bodwell.

He was m. Jan. 12, 1809, to Nancy Conner, oldest child and dau. of Mr. Joseph Conner (see), by Rev. Mr. Patrick, of Canterbury, who proved a cheerful and efficient helpmeet, of rare social qualities in her younger days, of prayerful, earnest piety till the last. The shadows had fallen over her once active mental powers, but her last years were remarkably peaceful, and she fell asleep in Jesus, April 1, 1871, ae. 83—2. Their hospitable home was the house built by Mr. B., opposite her father's (Lot No. 14, 1st Div , at the Square), in 1808, and is still owned by their daughter [4] (1880). Children :

2. Sarah Jane, b. Feb. 12, 1810; m. Col. Charles Lane (see).

9. William [19], b. May 25, 1826.
10. Elizabeth Lancaster, b. May 3, 1830; m. Joseph Edward Beeton, April 29, 1856, who was the son of Joseph and Ann Beeton, of Bury St. Edmunds, Suffolk, Eng., and there b , Dec. 24, 1827. He res'd. in Sanbornton till after her death, May 27, 1861, ae. 31, four days after the birth of their youngest child. In Sept., 1861, he rem. to St. Catharine's, C. W., where established as a druggist. Children: — 1. Annie Bodwell (Beeton), b. May 17, 1857; m. William Haldenby, a druggist, at Toronto. 2. Edward Abraham, b. May 23, 1861.

11. Joseph C [3] (Abraham[2], William[1]), fitted for college mostly in this, his native town, where he also commenced teaching, very early, in one of its northern school districts; was grad. at Dart. College in 1833; taught the academy at Haverhill Corner the following year, and the Woodman Academy, in Sanbornton, 1835–6.

The friendship and advice of Rev Mr. Gibbs, the esteemed pastor at the former place, who was a native of England, induced him to repair thither to prosecute his theological studies, which he did, in 1836, studying divinity at Highbury College, London, two years. He was ordained pastor of the Independent Church, Weymouth, Dorsetshire, April 3, 1839; dismissed, 1845; installed, at Bury St. Edmunds, Suffolk, June 22, 1847; dismissed, and returned to the United States in the autumn of 1850; installed at Framingham, Mass., June 30, 1852; dismissed, Nov. 5, 1862; installed at Woburn, Mass., Nov. 11, 1862; dismissed, Aug. 3, 1866, to become "Professor of Pulpit Training and Pastoral Care" in the Hartford Theological Seminary, where he continued for seven years. He d. of carbuncle on the back base of the head, at Southwest Harbor, Mt. Desert Island, Me , July 17, 1876, and was buried here, on the 21st, in the same lot with his parents in the old cemetery. No native of the town has risen higher in distinction and usefulness abroad, while none retained a more ardent affection for the town itself, or was more ready to labor for the benefit of its citizens, who were gladdened, for a short time, by the prospect of his spending the remainder of his life among them had it been prolonged.

Dr. Bodwell, who received his degree of S. T. D. from his Alma Mater in 1864, possessed "a high order of natural gifts, and a broad and generous culture." "English literature was a study and a delight to him; and few men understood and exercised better the forces and the graces of our language, whether written or spoken."

"From his early English training for the ministry and its exercise there for the first fourteen years, he acquired the off-hand, semi-memoriter style of the English pulpit. In this he had peculiar success, and was, withal, very successful in training his ministerial pupils to this model." "He was above all artifice or professional manœuvre, trusting to the truth, plainly given, and to the Spirit of God; and as indorsing this policy, the churches to which he ministered will always carry distinct marks of growth and of fruit for the years he was with them." "He had a keen sense of the apt and beautiful in the expression of thought, and many of his sermons will long be remembered as admirable specimens of the best English." Several of them were published, though a sensitiveness, now much regretted, kept many others from the press. Among those printed are "A Pastor's Farewell to his Flock," preached in the 1st Congregational Church, Woburn, Aug. 5, 1866, and "The Preachers demanded in Our Day, and how to secure Them," an inaugural discourse, as Professor at Hartford, the same year; but his native town and church were brought under peculiar obligations to him for the admirable "Historical Address" delivered at the centennial celebration of the Sanbornton Congregational Church, Nov. 13, 1871. He was one of the founders of the "American Theological Review," and one of the four original proprietors and editors of the "Boston Congregational Review," many of the pages of which, for its first five years, were from his own pen. His lectures on English life, delivered at Dartmouth College and elsewhere, soon after returning from England, and on educational and other topics, scattered through years, placed him among our most instructive popular lecturers. As a pastor he excelled, especially amid the "reverses" of his people, and "in the chambers of the sick and of the dead." He will always stand out in the memory of those who knew him "as a fair specimen of the noble, liberal, Christian gentleman." In his friendships he was discriminating, ardent, and fast. "His home," as in Framingham, Woburn, and Hartford, in all of which places he built elegant houses, "was simply an outgrowth of himself, — open, genial, and hospitable." He was m. to Catharine Sykes, only dau. of John Sykes, Esq., of Highbury Park, London, May 16, 1839. — [Extracts above from the "Obituary" of Rev. Wm. Barrows, D. D.] Children:

THE BOUTWELL FAMILY.

1. Rev. James[2] Boutwell, third pastor of the Congregational Church, was b. May 14, 1814, in Lyndeborough, being the son of Nehemiah and Elizabeth Boutwell, having seven brothers and one sister older than himself, and two sisters younger. He was hopefully converted at 15, while a member of Phillips Academy, at Andover, Mass.,

under the pastorate of Rev. Milton Badger, a sermon of Dr Lyman Beecher's, on the sovereignty of God, being especially instrumental in bringing him into the light and liberty of the gospel. He graduated at Dartmouth College, in 1836, ranking well as a scholar, and at the Andover Theological Seminary, in 1840, having spent one year teaching, in the mean time, at Dunkirk, N. Y. Was m. April 10, 1837, to Mary P., dau. of Dea. Paschal Abbott (see "Abbott Families"). His first settlement was at Brentwood, from Nov. 4, 1841, till May 12, 1852, when he repaired immediately to Sanbornton, and commenced his labors on the following Sabbath. Installed June 24, 1852. An ardent attachment grew up between him and the people, which continued unabated till severed by his death, April 21, 1865, in his 51st year, after months of prostration and suffering. "Our pastor," and "I shall rise again," are upon his tombstone. He was a sound theologian, — dwelling with much love and earnestness upon the doctrines of grace, — an unusually attractive preacher, and an ardent patriot. "The banner of the cross was first in his esteem, and next the stars and stripes." Sixty members were added to the church during his ministry. His last most deeply affecting interview with his people was at Communion, on the first Sabbath of March, 1865, soon after a "wonderful revelation of the Divine Redeemer" to him on that morning, after which he was "wholly weaned from earth" and all its anxieties, so that, to the closing hour of life, his "peace was as a river." Mrs. B. was a woman of rare intelligence, amiability, and excellence of character, a model pastor's wife, and, though afflicted with almost total blindness during her last years, she ever seemed cheerful and resigned. She followed her lamented husband Sept. 9, 1868, ae. 54—3. Their Sanbornton home was the old Conner place, near the Square. Children:

THE BUNKER FAMILY.

1. Valentine Estabrooks Bunker was the son of Nathaniel and Ednah (Woodward) Bunker, of New London, and there b., on the original Colby place, Feb. 13, 1811. His grandfather, Benjamin Bunker, was a native of Barnstead, early emigrated to Lee, and thence, for his final settlement, to New London. (The family is probably descended from George Bunker, of Charlestown, Mass., freeman, 1634, d. 1658, whose son, Benjamin, graduated at Harvard College, 1658; was minister in Malden, Mass., and d. Feb. 3, 1670.) He [1] received his education at the old New Hampton Institute; taught school in Orange, in 1837; there commenced to preach; was ordained (June 20, 1838), and continued as a preacher less than two years. Moving to Ohio, he gathered a Baptist church, and helped build a meeting-house at Mechanicsburg, laboring in and near that place six years; then at Big Darby (Madison and Franklin Counties), two years; West Jefferson, Clark Co., as a home missionary, two years; and at Quincy, O., five years. He returned to New Hampshire in 1857, and having supplied the Union Church at Wilmot one year, and officiated, as pastor, at Sutton five years, he commenced his labors with the 3d Baptist Church of this town (Pine Hill) in 1865, continued till 1870, and resumed them in 1875, as the present pastor (1880), having meanwhile been settled over the 2d (Bay) Baptist Church, 1870–73, and at Enosburg, Vt., for two and a half years. In nearly all these numerous fields Mr. Bunker has been blessed with revivals of religion, some of them of great power; he has baptized about 150 individuals on the profession of their faith.

He was m., 1st, to Sabrina R. Davis, of Sutton, in New London, by Rev. Reuben Sawyer, April 24, 1838. She was the daughter of Ezekiel and Ednah Davis, b. Feb. 11, 1811, and d. May 3, 1867, at North Sanbornton, ae. 56—3. He was m., 2d, by Rev. H. C. Estes, D. D., in Jericho, Vt., to Mrs. Lois (Curtis) Woodworth, of Essex, Vt., Nov. 16, 1867. She was the dau. of Gideon and Hannah Curtis, and widow of Norman Woodworth. He occupies the Thomas farm (late J. W. Moses), on the turnpike, one mile north of his m. h. Children:

2. Cyrus Valentine, b. July 20, 1839, in Orange, d. in Monroe, O., March 7, 1840, ae. 8 mos., 13 days.

3. David W. [7], b. May 2, 1841, in Monroe, O.

6. Albion C., b. July 28, 1871, in Sanbornton.

7. David W.[4] [3] (Valentine E.[3], Nathaniel[2], Benjamin[1]), m. Sarah J., dau. of Cyrus H. Lane (see), Nov. 30, 1871; is a farmer, on the Lang place, North Sanbornton. Child:

8. Eugene Lane, b. March 7, 1873.

THE BURLEY, OR BURLEIGH, FAMILY.

The orthography of Burley was earliest employed in Sanbornton, and is most common now among the descendants in town, though Burleigh is claimed by some as the more ancient, and is far more generally in vogue in other places. (Burghley, the "castle on the moor," prevailed before Queen Elizabeth's day.) The race, as a whole, has been distinguished for solid physical as well as superior mental endowments. It might, indeed, be styled, by a yet briefer spelling, the Burly race, as four brothers, named below [15, 16, 19, 21], i. e., Joseph, Nathaniel, David, and Daniel, were weighed on one occasion together, giving the goodly aggregate of 900 pounds!

1. Giles[1] Burley and Elizabeth, his wife, were the earliest ancestors of the Sanbornton families of this name in the country, being inhabitants of Ipswich, Mass., in 1648 (see Burley Genealogy). Their second son:

2. James[2], b. Feb. 10, 1659, d. in Exeter, about 1721.

3. Joseph[3], second son of the last, b. April 6, 1695; removed to New Market with an ancestor of the Hersey family (see), being attracted by the oak and ash timber, and there d., his estate being administered March, 1761. His children, b. in New Market and connected with Sanbornton, were these:

4. Joseph [8], who must have been considerably the oldest, though not in town so early as his brothers.

5, 6. Nathaniel [13]. David [23].

7. Susannah, who accompanied her brother [13] to this town, and d. Nov. 16, 1823.

Besides these four were:

7¼. Jemima, who m. James Hersey (see), and perhaps a third dau.

7½. Alice, whose Bible, received from her father, is now shown.

8. Joseph[4] [4] (Joseph[3], James[2], Giles[1]), settled and made the first improvement on the north end of Lot No. 36, 1st Div., directly north of his brother Nathaniel's, Calef Hill, there building the house opposite the late Dearborn place, afterwards occupied by Moses Silver (see Vacant Sites). He had come to town in 1781, but was not here in 1776. He m. Comfort Stevens (?), and d. Feb. 17, 1795. Children:

9. Rhoda, b Nov. 25, 1750, in New Market; m. Daniel Gale (see).

10. Keziah, b. 1753, in New Market; m. Jotham Rollins (see).

11. Stevens, b. Dec. 25, 1755, in New Market; settled with his father till the latter's death; then moved to Gilford He seems, in fact, to have preceded his father into Sanbornton, as his name appears upon the "Association Test" of 1776 as Stephens Burley, while his father Joseph's does not. He was also a Sanbornton soldier in the Revolution, enlisting for eight months, May 8, 1777, which must have included the Bennington battle and Burgoyne campaign. He was m., by Rev. Mr. Woodman, to Abigail Taylor, of Gilmanton, Sept. 3, 1788, and of his eleven children, the oldest: — 1. Abigail, was b. in this town, Dec. 3, 1789; m. Ezekiel Robinson, June 30, 1812, and d. June 26, 1869, in her 80th year.

12. Anna, m. Bartholomew Gale, of Gilmanton, Sept. 15, 1785 (Woodman).

(According to Charles Burleigh's Genealogy of the family, there were two other children of [8]; Comfort, who m. John Taylor, and another dau., who m. —— Palmer; but doubtful, see [27].)

13. Nathaniel[4] [5] (Joseph[3], James[2], Giles[1]), having m. Sarah Powell, settled, first, in New Market; was then for a few years in Canterbury, and came thence to this town in April of the third year after the first settlement, i. e., 1767, as reckoned by the age of his oldest son. They crossed the river at the Bridge, then covered with birch poles, a little east of the present Hill's Block. The mother rode horseback with her two youngest children, one and a half bushels of meal, and the barnyard poultry, slung over their horse's back, in a straw bed-tick, saddle-bag fashion, with "breathing holes for the birds," out of which their heads protruded! while the father, with the two oldest boys, seven and six years of age, drove the two cows on foot! In this style they presented themselves at a small log-cabin, previously built in what is now Mrs. Daniel Davis's orchard, southeast corner of Lot No. 35, 1st Div. The husband helped his wife to dismount, swung open the bark door, and politely said, "Walk in, ma'am"! The good lady both laughed and cried. Mr. Burley was a carpenter and joiner, having learned his trade in Chester. It is said that he received the fifty acres on which he located from the proprietors as the first house carpenter in town, but there is no documentary evidence of this. (See Lots.) He was obliged to go down-country the first two years to work for the means of subsistence, at one time bringing corn meal home on his back from Deerfield, a distance of forty miles. The cows meantime ran in the woods, and hay was gathered from the meadow below for their winter keeping. He was a signer of the "Petition" of 1768, and of the "Association Test" in 1776; was a highway surveyor in town as late as 1795. He d. Feb. 27, 1805; she d. Nov. 28, 1818. Children:

21. Daniel [76], b. July 3, 1777.
22. Nancy, b. May 8, 1781; m. Edward Mason (see).

23. David[4] [6] (Joseph[3], James[2], Giles[1]), was the youngest of the three Burley brothers, who came to Sanbornton, rem. from New Market, about 1778, and settled, as a farmer, on the present Eben Plumer place, on the main road in the north part of the town, Lot No. 44, 2d Div. He m., 1st, —— Smith; m., 2d, Mrs. Rachel Pearsons, widow of Taylor, Jr. (see), the mother of his 2d son's wife, before coming to town. He d. Feb. 10, 1809. Second wife d. Nov. 13, 1816. Children:

24. Joseph, b. 1762; was one of the soldiers in the Revolution from this town, with his cousin William [33], who visited him at a hospital tent, after he was shot in action, and just before he d., of a severe wound in the neck.
25. Josiah [88], b. Aug., 1764.
26. Mary, b. April 5, 1767; m. William Batchelder (see).
27. Comfort, b. 1770; m., 1st, John Taylor, of Gilmanton, Feb. 15, 1787 (Woodman); m., 2d, —— Mason; lived in Meredith.
28. David [100], b. June 9, 1773.
29. Nancy (2d wife), m. Joseph W. Sanborn, son of Col. Josiah (see).

Another branch of the family appears among us in:

30. Joseph Low[5] (Samuel[4], Josiah[3], James[2], Giles[1]). It having been ascertained by Mr. Charles Burleigh, the enterprising author of the "Burleigh Genealogy," since the publication of his book, that Samuel[4], who m. Martha Low, of Stratham, and d. in Lee, was the son of Josiah[3], instead of Joseph[3], the cousin, and not the brother, of the three Burley brothers who came to this town. He [30] was b. June 7, 1761, in New Market; m. Elizabeth Ewer, Sept. 7, 1789, who was b. Sept. 24, 1766. He settled in Sanbornton soon after his marriage; was a clothier below Union Bridge, occupying a large house near his mill and the "Burleigh Bridge," which was thus named after himself. He d. 33. William[5] [14] (Nathaniel[4], Joseph[3], James[2], Giles[1]), was seven or eight years old on coming to town, and commenced his soldier life at the age of 17, being "furnished as a three months' man," by his father, in 1776. He subsequently volunteered six months, then enlisted April 20, 1777, for three years, and was twice wounded, in arm and rib, serving out his time partly with Gen. Sullivan, in the Indian country, and coming home in 1780.

He was thus early deprived of the privileges of an education, and never went to school; but afterwards, putting himself for two winters under the instruction of his cousin, James Hersey, Esq., and chopping wood for board and tuition, he became a good mathematician and an excellent surveyor. He m. Sarah Ames, of New Market, at N. M., 1785, and about that time opened the farm on Calef Hill, now owned by Chase Colby (Lot No. 18, 1st Div., north end), building the first house. Being with his cousin, Jacob Hersey (see), when the latter was drowned, he made great exertions to save him, and so injured himself that he never did a day's work afterwards, and, after four months, d. in consequence, Dec. 28, 1796, ae. 36—9. She was b. April 23, 1752, and d. Sept. 14, 1841, ae. 89—5. His gravestone reads, "A soldier of the Revolution at the taking of Burgoyne." Children:

THE CALEF FAMILIES. — Two Branches. — I.

1. Jeremiah Calef, or Calfe, as formerly written, was b. Jan. 28 (19), 1751, in Exeter; now known to have been the brother of [23], though their father's name has not yet come to hand. He m., 1st, Molly (Mary) Calfe, of Exeter, Dec. 13, 1772, who was b. Jan. 23, 1753 (N. S.), and d. Feb. 7, 1796 (June 1, 1795), ae. 43. (The former date is according to the "Crockett Record," and is doubtless correct, though her gravestone gives 1797.) Her pedigree is Mary^3 (Jeremiah^2, Jeremiah^1).

(Jeremiah^1 was a clothier in Exeter; will admitted to probate May 25, 1762, in which he bequeaths domestic utensils and plate to his son Jeremiah^2, then abroad, or, "in case he should not return to his native country," the same to Lydia and Mary, daughters of the said Jeremiah^2. This Lydia m. John Robertson, came to Sanbornton, and here d., May (Dec.) 9, 1812.) He [1] m., 2d, Hannah Creighton (formerly Brackett), of Greenland, Nov. 27, 1797. She was b. Jan., 1759, and d. THE CALL FAMILY.

Though residing mostly in that part of Andover which is now Franklin, this family has been numerously connected with Sanbornton families, as seen below. The three (four) following brothers and two sisters comprise, so far as known, the original stock. Their father was probably Philip, an early settler of Salisbury, 1750. His wife was there murdered by the Indians.

1, 2. JOHN [7]. STEPHEN [17].

3. NATHANIEL, m. Sarah Chapman, of Sanbornton, Dec. 11, 1783 (Woodman); belonged to Andover.

THE CALLEY, OR CAWLEY, FAMILIES. — Three Branches.

I.

The orthography of this name is divided. Our oldest records in Sanbornton favor "Cawley," though "Calley" now more generally prevails, and some insist that this is the primitive way of spelling. Of the numerous families in this town, we give, first, in genealogical order, the three ancestors who are known to have been brothers, and the sons of:

1. Thomas, and Mary, his wife. The records of Epping have been searched in vain for fuller ancestral notes upon this and other families who came thence to this town. We only know that this is the parentage of the three brothers from the fact that after the birth of [3], the only Calley given, he is called the son of Thomas and Mary, as above, the known parents of [2], while also [3] and [4] are acknowledged brothers. Hence three of their sons (see also Addenda) were:

2. Thomas, Jr. [5].
3. Jonathan [7], b. May 19, 1756. (Epping record says 1757.)
4. Josiah [14], b. about 1758, in E., probably.

5 Thomas[2], Jr. [2] (Thomas[1]). We are only informed of him that he lived in Epping (though he probably came to S. and here d., April 12, 1810), and was the father of

6. Richard [20], b. Sept. 5, 1773, in E.

7. Jonathan[2] [3] (Thomas[1]), m. Elizabeth Coal (Betsey Cole), Aug. 15, 1781, probably in Epping, and moved thence (one account says from Exeter) about that time to this town; was the first settler on the farm lately owned by his son, Dea. Jonathan [36], north end of Lot No. 31, 2d Div., near the Cawley Pond, which received from him its name. He d. Jan. 18, 1840, ae. 83—8. She was b. March 13, 1755, d. Aug. 2, 1845, ae. 90—5. 31. John Carr (another of the name) was m. in town to Betsey Davis, by Wm. Weeks, Esq., March 31, 1814.

THE CASS FAMILY. — Two Branches. — I.

Of the earlier inhabitants of this name in town, we find two brothers, who were probably born in Epping, viz.:

1. Moses [3], b. March 16, 1729.

2. Jonathan [18], b. 1737; the youngest brother of their father's family.

3. Moses [1], came to town from Epping, Feb. 8, 1792, and settled near the spot where now Fred. Osgood lives (1880), near the confines of Lots Nos. 6 and 7, 2d Div. (see Sites). He had at that time a family of six children (his youngest) and two grandchildren (of his wife). He m., 1st, Molly French, mother of the three oldest children of the list below; m., 2d, Hannah Cilley, mother of the four next, and of three others, who d. young; m., 3d, Mrs. Sarah (Ring) Berry, who d. Jan. 31, 1810, ae. 1861. He d. May 9, 1817, ae. 88—2; was the father of 16 children, of whom:

4. Levi, the oldest, settled in Epsom, and had two sons: — 1. Levi. 2. Samuel.

5, 6. Jonathan, d young. Samuel, a house carpenter, d., ae. 22.

7. Moses, settled in Cornhill, Me. (2d wife).

8. Molly, m. Winthrop Dow, and settled in Epping.

9. Tabitha, m. Lemuel Parker; settled in Epsom.

10. Sally, m. Benjamin Robinson,; settled in Gilford.

11. Simeon [26], b. April 7, 1771 (3d wife).

12. Jacob, b. Jan., 1773; lived and d. in Lyman; had 17 children.

13. Miriam, b. Feb. 25, 1775; m. Levi Prescott (see).

14. Betsey, b. May 26, 1777; m. Thomas W. Morrison (see).

15. David, b. March, 1779; m. Nancy Harford, Dec. 25, 1799 (Crockett); ten children, the three youngest being: — 1. David. 2. Samuel. 3. Betsey A., who m. —— Page, in Deerfield.

16. Samuel, b. May, 1782; m. Mary (Polly) Brown, dau. of John (see), Jan. 14, 1805 (Crockett), and d. July 7, 1806, leaving one son: — 1. Samuel, b. May 14, 1806, d. in Boston, March 7, 1829, in his 23d year.

Additional Note. — The grandchildren of his 3d wife, who came to town with Moses Cass [3], were the children of her dau. by a former husband:

17. Molly (Berry), who m. Jonathan Thurston, and moved to Canterbury, both dying when their oldest child was five years old. Children: — 1 Ezekiel (Thurston), was brought up by his father's brother, in Portland, Me. 2. Hannah Ardoway, b. Feb. 4, 1786; m. Samuel Thompson, son of Moses (see). 3. Betsey, b. Jan. 20, 1789; m. Mayhew Clark (1st wife) (see). The two last were brought up by their grandfather Cass.

18. Jonathan [2] had preceded his brother to town, coming very early, when only twelve families, by one account, had settled, and took possession of the one hundred acres, embracing the present 1st Baptist parsonage, occupying a log-house between that and the house above, near the elm-tree. He had m. Sarah Eastman, of Hopkinton; was a carpenter and joiner, and framed many of the earliest buildings erected; was employed on the first town meeting-house, also on the 1st Baptist. He dropped dead in the road, returning from the funeral of John Morrison's son (see), Feb. 14, 1816, ae. 79; she d. II.

33. Chandler[2] Cass is known to have been nearly related to the family of the Hon. Lewis Cass, of Michigan, and was doubtless more or less distantly connected with the earlier settlers of that name in this town (I. above), as he was the seventh child and fifth son of Nason[1] and Hannah (Chandler) Cass, of Epping, who rem. thence to New Chester (Hill) in 1778. He was b. Aug. 28, 1766; m. Dorothy Dyer, at the age of 19, who was b. July 16, 1762, and d. Dec. 15, 1841, ae. 79—5. He lived, chiefly as a farmer, on the site of the present village of East Andover, from 1802 till 1829, and d. in Holderness, Nov. 3, 1849, ae. 83—2. "His life was a worthy example of Christian virtue." Children:

THE CATE FAMILIES. — Two Branches. — I.

1. James Cate (or Cates) was b. about 1728, and came from Epping, though all our attempts to trace his ancestry in that town have failed. He had moved hither prior to Jan., 1768 (see "Petition" headed by himself); was a house joiner by trade; settled and lived in what is now Franklin, Lot No. 69, 2d Div., the late Wyatt place, building first a log, and then a substantial frame house. A road then led south, between the lots, to the present Tilton and Franklin road, near the Esq. Clark place. The present wide-spreading elm near the well was planted by him. His name is also first upon the list of eight original members of the Congregational Church, though he could not then have been over 43 years of age. No descendants of his name were found left within the original limits of Sanbornton in 1876, yet more of his descendants bearing other names than of any other original member of the church, listened, as members of the congregation, to a church historical discourse that year delivered. He was an energetic and good man, very attentive to all his religious duties, so long as physically able, and retaining his rational faculties to the last. Of unusual intelligence among the laymen of his day, he was a prolific rhymer, especially in the style of elegy (see Specimens of Sanbornton Poetry). He was moved by his grandson, Abijah Sanborn, to the home of his dau. [4], where the last twelve years of his life were spent, in the house now occupied by Walter Sanborn (1880). He there d. THE CHAPMAN FAMILIES.

Four distinct heads of families bearing this name are found in Sanbornton, between most of whom, as yet, no connection can be established. The absence of records in some of these families, and of information respecting others, will leave their history meagre and unsatisfactory.

Three Branches. — I.

We have, first, the Edmund and Edward [7] branches, these being the names of two brothers; though a slight doubt exists as to the latter's name, none as to the identity and relationship. They are said to have come from Epping.

1. Edmund[1], first lived below the Tin Corner (Lot No. 74, 2d Div.), and kept tavern, very early, in what is now the little orchard north of Amos H. Jones's. He afterwards rem. to Vermont, exercised his gifts as a preacher, but returned to this town, and d. at the Chapel, on the site of the present res. of Curtis B. Burley, Nov. 13, 1802. His wife's name was probably Sarah, who d. April 16, 1806, at the Chapel. Children:

2. Sarah, m. Nathaniel Call, of Andover (see).

3, 4. James [15], b. 1767. Huldah, b. Jan. 16, 1769; m. Joseph Weeks (see).

5. Edmund, m. Rebecca Rollins, dau. of Jotham (see), Aug. 15, 1799 (Crockett); lived in this town, where a child of his d., Sept. 29, 1803, and she d. Feb. 4, 1817. Three others: — 1. Rachel. 2. Daniel. 3. Jonathan.

6. Elizabeth, m. John Dow, Jr., of Gilmanton, Sept. 22, 1803 (Crockett).

7. Edward (?) was a brother of [1], was nicknamed "Tojers' (of this name we are more sure than of the former), and preceded the Piper family on southeast corner of Lot No. 36, 2d Div. He d. (if "Edward") Oct. 13, 1798; his "widow Abigail" d. Aug. 30, 1818. Children:

8. Edward, settled in town, as his son d. here, July 1, 1817.

9. John, lived with his father, and m.; his child d. July 24, 1803; his wife d. June 20, 1805; he d. Sept. 19, 1809.

11. Stephen G., m. Susannah Call, of Andover, July 8, 1790 (Woodman).

12. Hannah, m. Joshua Mudget, of Gilmanton, Feb. 6, 1794 (Woodman).

13. Joseph, b. 1770; m. Susanna Thompson, March 2, 1797 (Crockett), and last occupied his father's place as a farmer. She was the dau. of Jacob Thompson, and d. March, 1840, ae. 69. He d. Nov. 3, 1840, ae. 70, "breaking his neck by a fall."

14. Abigail (Ruth), m. Samuel Mowe, April 24, 1809 (Crockett), and rem. to Vermont.

15. James[2] [3] (Edmund[1]), m. Lovey Hoeman, July 26, 1797 (Crockett); lived first in a house then standing across the road from Piper's Mills (Chapel); next in the Chapman house, north side of Salmon Brook, at the same mills, and there d., Feb. 3, 1847, ae. 80.

"The jewel of life is to love and to pray,
In this world of probation; while on the way
Wisdom's bright paths but for to find,
As the heaven of love, all in the mind."

She d. Feb. 7, 1847, ae. 71; hence b. 1776.

"Devoted to uses, her peace she did find,
It was her good pleasure and heaven in the mind.
Her affections flowed forth in the uses of love,
As a divine inspiration to her from above."

Children:

16. Asa, b. 1798, and must have been the oldest, if the inscription on his gravestone, as below, is correct; m. Salina Winter, of Wilmot; there res'd., and d. Sept. 11, 1846, ae. 48, but was buried in this town, cemetery near the Chapel.

"The trump of death hath called him home,
The angels loved, and bade him come."

17. Joseph, b. 1800; res'd. in Boston, first as a truckman, afterwards as proprietor of a hat and fur store, acquiring wealth, and freely expending of the same on the cemetery, near the Chapel, where, with other kindred, was buried his wife, Mary Elizabeth, whom he m. in Boston, and who there d., Nov. 25, 1847, ae. 47.

"Here, her body to the earth be given.
She is not here, for lo! she has risen;
And while we mourn here, below, for her loss,
For a new companion, angels rejoice."

21. Moses[2] [4] (Nathaniel[1]), m. Abigail Leavitt, dau. of Moses (see), Jan., 1800 (?), and first settled near her father's, northwest corner of Lot No. 3, 1st Div., Site 1. He named his oldest child Nathan Smith (see Smith Families), after the man whom he highly esteemed; and his conversion and first impulse towards the ministry were occasioned by the loss of that child. The place is still shown, in pasture back of his old house site, where he consecrated himself to God. Such were his gifts after this, that he was advised by Capt. Folsom, of whom he learned the joiner's trade, and by others, to preach. Left his family, and went to Gilmanton Academy. Preached his first sermon on a large rock, on the Batchelder farm, and was the first to occupy the original Bay meeting-house. He soon after rem. to New Durham, and was associated with Rev. B. Randall, the founder of the Free Will Baptist denomination. While there, two years, 1809–11, he preached frequently in this town, near his former home, especially during a revival, which culminated from his last sermons, before moving away. On one of these occasions, having arrived from N. D., he proceeded up the aisle, singing, with singular effect, a hymn which he had composed on the way, a large audience being in readiness for him. First lines:

"Dear brethren, we have met again,
To preach and pray and sing."

Second stanza:

"Since I was here, how have you done?
How have you walked? or have you run?
Or like the eagle flew?
Or have you fell in Despond's slough?
Then look to Him who sees you now,
To frame your minds anew."

There were four six-line stanzas. They were first procured by Elias Smith, who had them printed, and they afterwards appeared, with alterations, in several editions of the Free Will Baptist Conference Hymn-Book. Another hymn of his, entitled "The Old Hemlock," devoutly celebrates a tree which shielded (prevented) another from falling on him, when a little boy, being with his father, who was felling trees in the woods. He finally returned to Sanbornton Bay, where the late Boynton house was built for him, and he remained as pastor eight or nine years in all. He afterwards lived in Gilmanton, Meredith (Pease neighborhood), and in Brentwood, preaching continually. In June, 1824, he rem to Derby, Vt., and took a farm, but still labored in the gospel. He was a valiant soldier of the cross, strong-minded yet versatile, popular yet faithful; preached in all about fifty years, and occasionally till the time of his death; was a Free Will Baptist the first twelve years of his ministry, afterwards a Calvinist Baptist. 41. Nathan S.[3] [26] (Moses[2], Nathaniel[1]), from the age of 12 to 21 lived with Simeon Pease, in Meredith, a favorite youth in that neighborhood, for his wit and jollity. Began for himself as a truckman, in Boston, but not being prospered in that, he repaired to his father's farm, in Derby, Vt., till the severity of the climate there, and the attractiveness of the Illinois prairies, induced him to go thither, in 1835. He selected a choice lot of land at Pilot Grove, Hancock Co. (Ill.), drove a family of wolves from their den, and built a log-cabin over it, in which he lived a hermit life for about 10 years. Almost gave land away to induce families to settle near him, which he has since bought back for $100 per acre! He m. Rebecca L. Rice, Dec. 24, 1850 (who was b. THE CLARK FAMILIES. — Four Branches. — I.

1. John[1] Clark, the earliest known ancestor of most of the Sanbornton Clarks, was b. in Haverhill, Mass. His father was a ship-carpenter, in H., and an observation of his, respecting ship building, is said to have been handed down for more than 200 years, "that there would be but few more vessels built in Haverhill, for the want of timber," it being then thought that no timber cou'd be used but "such sticks as filled the moulds," without splicing or cutting across the grain, as they did in after years. A sister of his [1] m. —— Madget, and lived in Rye. The names of neither of his two wives are now known. He resided in Stratham, on the farm where his grandson Benjamin Clark [21] was living in 1826, and there d. His name, "John," is found in four or five successive generations of his descendants, and "seven John Clarks" are said to have been known in Sanbornton at one time! Another tradition says the "family originated from Martha's Vineyard, Mass." The name is very common, some twenty-five "original ancestors" being found in Savage, prior to 1700. It is equally honorable. One hundred and four persons of that name had graduated from the New England colleges, and Union and Princeton in 1826, and twenty-eight had become ministers of the gospel. The final "e" is usually omitted. Children of [1]: marriage, he built a house and carpenter's shop, near Cross's Mills, and there lived till 1834, when he sold; went to res. with the Canterbury Shakers for one year, and left with them his only surviving son, who has since become a leading member of their society. He "never attended school a day in his life"; h nce could neither read nor make figures, but measured lumber by a rule taught him by his cousin, Esq. James [114], and could carry any number, even to 100,000 feet, accurately in his head! He was of stalwart frame, six feet two inches, weighing 240 pounds; had also, naturally, a great intellect; "was built for a philosopher." One of his first pieces of important business, after getting his trade as a framer, was the framing of the upper portion of the State Capitol, at Concord, in 1817, the mechanic who did the lower framework "not venturing to do the upper"! But dam building chiefly occupied him through life. Like his brother Joseph [43], with great mechanical genius, he was much given to studying hydraulic science and art. In 1823, being called to Boston to superintend the erection of a tide-water dam, he received, on returning, the title of "Boston John," to distinguish him from "six other John Clarks" in Sanbornton. The original dam at Walter Aiken's factory, in Franklin (built 1818), that at Bristol, on the Pemigewasset, the Amsden dam at Fisherville, Sewall's Falls dam, and the great dam, which finally stood at Lawrence, Mass., are among the monuments of his genius and oversight. No man "could so easily and surely as he conquer an ugly spot of water-power." He d. in the house where m., in Northfield, 1874, ae. 84. Children:

2, 3. JOHN [11]. SATCHEL, lived in Stratham.

114. James[4] [48] (Joseph[3], Joseph[2], John[1]), was a prominent man in town; justice of the peace; a distinguished surveyor and "lot layer" for many years. He was member and president of the New Hampshire State Senate in 1836, having previously been clerk of the House of Representatives; was also register of probate for Merrimack Co., 1839–43. For a whole generation he was well known, not only in the vicinity of his home, but all over the State, for his general intelligence, and his readiness to communicate of his stores of information both in matters pertaining to his own business, and on more general, practical, and scientific questions. He was especially versed in the local history of this part of our State; became an acknowledged authority, and drew up several papers and interesting statements respecting the archæology and Indian history of the Winnipiseogee Valley, and on other kindred topics, some of which were published, and others remained among his surveying papers, proving of real service to more recent investigators. He m. Polly Hilton, of Andover, Oct. 2, 1808, who was b. April 5, 1782, and d. Nov. 8, 1857, ae. 75—7. He d. June 15, 1861, ae. 77—4. Children:

12. Joseph Wardwell[3] Clement was b. July 30, 1789, in Salem. (Filial affection has furnished the writer with most of the items of the following sketch.) His father was Richard[2], b. Aug. 5, 1750 (the son of Carleton[1]?); m. Mehitable[4] Runnels (Thomas[3], Job[2], Samuel[1]), of Salem, who was b. Oct. 28, 1764, in Bradford, Mass.; moved to Landaff, and there (?) d., Dec. 15, 1815, ae. 65—4. Thence he [11] previously went to Hampstead, learned the trade of a wheelwright, and coming to this town about 1814, established a successful business at the Tin Corner, where he made most of the first wagons that were used in town. His house and shop stood east of the late John Comerford's (see Sites), the former being moved to the Bridge, in 1837. He there went into trade, but finally rem. to Franklin (1839), built the house in F. now owned by his son [17], and there d., Feb. 24, 1868, ae. 78—7. He was somewhat prominent in Sanbornton town affairs, being justice of the peace, notary public, selectman, 1829, representative, 1831, and moderator, 1836. His father had been in the Revolutionary war, and instilled into his mind a strong love for liberty and country. He was a liberal supporter of the preaching of the gospel at the Tin Corner (Union Church), while he lived there, and, though troubled with sceptical doubts through life, he enjoyed in his last days, and at death, a full, clear faith in Christ He was a man of his word, — honest, honorable, "adhering to the divine law of right"; possessed of fortitude, serving no clique, and abhorring intrigue or double dealing, even in politics. He was public-spirited and benevolent, a great reader, and intelligent in matters of history and diplomacy; was a prominent Mason, and "a gentleman of the old school" in all life's relations. He lost his property (at the Bridge) by indorsing for a friend, but his misfortunes were divinely overruled for the growth of his Christian virtues. He m. THE COLBY FAMILIES.

At least three distinct branches of Colby families appear in the early history of Sanbornton, two of which are known to have been connected. They may have descended from Anthony Colby, who, according to Savage, was in Cambridge, Mass., 1632; freeman, 1634; moved to Salisbury, and d. 1663, leaving eight children, — Samuel, rep. from Amesbury, 1689, being probably of this family; or, as tradition here informs us, they may have sprung from one or more of the "three brothers," William, Isaac, and Philip, who are thought to have "emigrated from the North of England between 1675 and 1750."

Three Branches. — I.

The earliest ancestor of several who came to this town, as the writer has learned by consulting the Haverhill (Mass.) records, was

1. Anthony[1] Colby, his name strongly favoring the former of the two suppositions just named, who m, 1st, Mary Currier, Oct. 23,

1701; she d. April 8, 1719; and he m., 2d, Elizabeth ——, who d. June 25, 1738. The following children (1st wife) only are given on the Haverhill records:

2, 3. ANTHONY, b. Nov. 1, 1704. ELIJAH, b. Sept. 14, 1707.
4. RICHARD [6], b. Jan. 18, 1709–10.
5. ISAAC [14], b March 23, 1711–12.

6. RICHARD[2] [4] (Anthony[1]), settled in H., as he m., 1st, Hannah Davis, and m., 2d, Tabitha Ela, "both of Haverhill" being appended to each entry. Children:

7, 8. MARY, b. July 19, 1739. RICHARD [26], b. Dec. 26, 1741.
9. EPHRAIM, b. March 29, 1745; settled in Plaistow.

26. RICHARD[3] [8] (Richard[2], Anthony[1]), was m. while still a resident of Haverhill, Mass., May 25, 1786, by Rev. Mr. Woodman, to Anne Kelly, dau. of Edward, of this town. She was probably his 2d wife. At that time, or soon after, he settled on north side of the Range Road, west side of the Colby Hill, a little east of the present D. B. Sanborn's, Lot No. 10, 2d Div. (see Site). She d. Oct. 5, 1815. He d. Oct. 3, 1828, in his 87th year; and besides a child, who d. July 6, 1809, their children were:

27, 28. NANCY, m. Nathaniel Leavitt (see). HUGH, d. Oct. 20, 1815.

29. JOHN[3] [10] (Richard[2], Anthony[1]), m. Lydia Stevens, who was b. July, 1752; rem. from Haverhill to this town, and settled on the late Dyer place, Lot No. 37, 2d Div. He there d., Feb. 11, 1823, in his 75th year, and she d. Oct. 18, 1827, ae. 75—3. Children:

31. Polly, m. Edmund Buzzell, of New Chester, March 20, 1806 (Crockett). They lived in that part of the town which is now Danbury. Four children.

32. Joseph [52], b. 1780.

33. Anthony[3] [20] (Isaac[2], Anthony[1]), m. and probably d. young in Haverhill. His children, who came to this town, were:

34. William [57] (afterwards named Anthony), b. July 24, 1776, in Haverhill.

35. Betsey, m. James Chase (see).

36. Abigail, lived and d. unm., with her sister-in-law [57], at the present Dea. Kimball's.

37. Isaac[3] [21] (Isaac[2], Anthony[1]), m. Phebe Hunt, dau. of Philip, Sen. (see), in Haverhill, came thence to Sanbornton about 1773, and was the first settler where now his grandson Rufus [63], Lot No. 27, 2d Div., on the main road. She was from Newburyport, knew nothing of farming, and went to Judge (?) Livermore's, at Plymouth, to learn the art of butter and cheese making! He used to wear a fox-skin cap, with tail hanging behind, and dressed in this, with a leather apron, and other apparel to match; cords for his reins, and chains for traces, he was accustomed to go to market regularly, once a year, at Newburyport and Salem!

He d. Feb. 17, 1816, in his 70th year. She d. March 23, 1826, in her 79th year. Unusual discrepancy appears between the children's birth dates, etc., as given on the town records and in the family Bible; the latter are here stated second, in parentheses. Children:

38. Elizabeth, b. Dec. 2, 1769 ('70), in Haverhill; m. Andrew Smith, Jr., of New Hampton, Nov. 13, 1794 (Woodman), who lived for a time on the Simeon Drake (Plumer) place, and rem. thence to Holderness. Children:— 1. James (Smith). 2. Andrew. 3. THE CRITCHETT FAMILY.

1. Thomas Critchett seems to have been the unique character among the early settlers of town, of whom various laughable accounts were given. Of his origin and pedigree nothing is known. He was not here, in all probability, during the winter of 1768, and yet was fairly established as the owner of land, in Lot No. 26, 1st Div., in July, 1770, when the first road was returned! His house on that lot was at Site 1, some 60 rods back from the Bay at the old Copp place. He m. —— Towle, from Meredith; afterwards lived opposite the present John Perkins', Site 1, Lot No. 51, 1st Div., being there in 1795. He, at least, rem. to Canada, and there d. She d. with her dau. 4. Lydia, b. 1774; m. Henry Smith (see).

5. John, was killed on board the "Chesapeake," at its capture by the British, June, 1813, ae. 24 (?).

THE CROCKETT FAMILY.

The earliest mention of the family name in New England is in Savage's General Dictionary, Vol. I., page 475: "Thomas Crockett, of Kittery, 1648," and of "York, 1652," being the same, doubtless, as the Thomas Crockitt, who is said, in letter of Ambrose Gibbens, July 13, 1633, to have been one of the four men who were then with him, in the infant colony of "Newichwanicke" (Salmon Falls). — See Belknap's History, Farmer's Ed., page 425.

Tradition, in the Sanbornton family, informs us that another brother settled early in Virginia, from whom may be derived those bearing the name of the same spelling, in different histories of Tennessee and Kentucky.

Two Branches. — I.

1. John[1] Crockett, Sen. (descended from the above Thomas), was b. June 28, 1739; m. Mary Lane, oldest dau. of Samuel and Mary

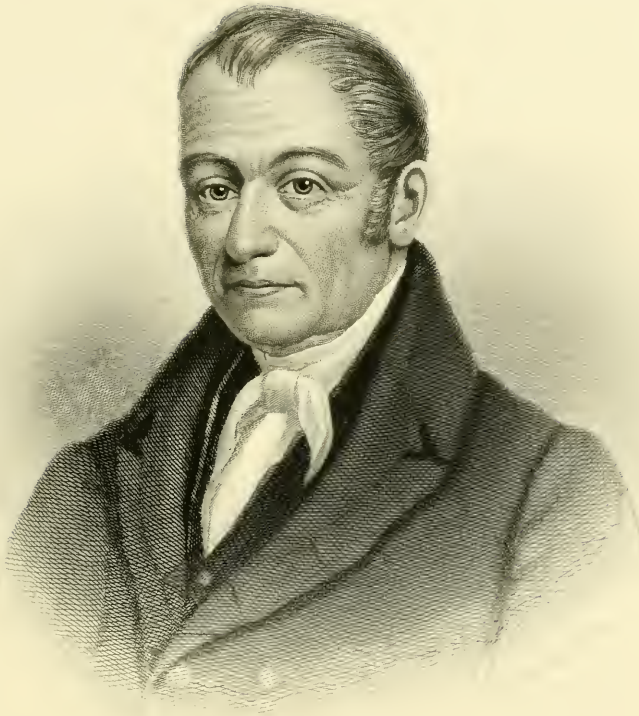
(The above list of John Crockett, Sen.'s, children was found in a "Genealogy of Samuel Lane," Chas. H. Clark, Esq., Franklin.)

9. John[2] [3] (John[1]), m., 1st, Betsey Jenness, Dec. 11, 1788, who was b. Jan. 9, 1763, and d., of consumption, June 9, 1818, ae. 55—5. He was originally a shoemaker, and the old ledger in which his accounts were kept and balanced with great accuracy contains the following interesting items in his own handwriting: "John Crockett, Jun., and wife, moved home to Northwood, Feb. 14, 1789; lived there till Jan. 14, 1794; then moved to Sanbornton, and engaged for one year in the work of the ministry to the Baptist Church of Christ." "I was ordained Sept. 3, 1794, in the 29th year of my age, in the 3d year of my pilgrimage" (alluding to his life after conversion). From a printed sketch of the 1st Baptist Church, written by himself a year or two before his death, we further learn that the April before his removal he first received a letter from the church requesting him to visit them and preach the last Lord's day in the same month. (The church in Northwood, to which he belonged, had given him a license to preach the gospel in 1792.) "I came at their request, and preached my first sermon from Isaiah xxxii. 20, 'Thine eyes shall see Jerusalem a quiet habitation.'" This relation, thus happily formed, was not dissolved until it pleased the great Head of the Church to call his servant home!



John Crockett

Mr. Crockett was known extensively, and was happy in extending his usefulness as far as his acquaintance. Many now rise up and call him blessed (1833), not only in the town in which he was settled, but in all the surrounding region. He was a man that took a very active part in the operations of all public bodies of a religious character. For a number of years he acted as moderator in the meetings of the Meredith Association, and was frequently called to preside in councils and ecclesiastical bodies. He was not a man of public education, but he knew how to prize an education, and was very active in aiding whatever promoted this object. For a long time previous to his death, he was a member of the board of overseers in the New Hampton Institution, and a trustee of the Woodman Sanbornton Academy, to both of which institutions he contributed liberally of his substance. He was a beloved and useful pastor; genial and social, sympathetic, and frequent in his visits among his own people, and in his intercourse with other denominations, kind and prudent. He led the church successfully through many seasons of trial, but also of great revival interest, baptizing more than three hundred and forty, who were added to the church during his ministry. He officiated at by far a greater number of funerals and marriages (as the t r. show) than any other clergyman in this town.

About two years before his death, he was much injured in consequence of his horse taking fright, on which he was riding. He recovered from this injury, however, so far as to be able to attend to his customary pastoral duties until the 1st of June, 1832. During the week before its first Sabbath, he preached a funeral sermon, and on Friday attended the church meeting preparatory to communion. His "last text," as his gravestone informs us, was Rev. xxi. 7, "He that overcometh, shall inherit all things"; after discoursing from which, he administered the Lord's Supper to the church for the last time, being the two hundred and twentieth that he had enjoyed that privilege with the people of his charge. He was immediately attacked with a disease which baffled all medical aid, depriving him a part of the time of the use of his reason, yet leaving him opportunity, in his lucid moments, to show that his faith in the Saviour remained unfaltering, and that the gospel which he had preached to others was his support in the last conflict. Just before his death, he gave directions respecting his funeral services, and sweetly fell asleep in Jesus, Feb. 6, 1833, in the 67th year of his age, and the forty-first of his ministry. The Rev. William Taylor preached his funeral sermon from 2 Tim. iv. 7, 8. He was first publicly mentioned in David Benedict's "General History of the Baptist Denomination," Boston, 1813, p. 500. His home in this town was ever, after the first year or two, at the Corner, which has borne his name, and near which his meeting-house was rebuilt in 1833. He m., 2d, Mrs. Sarah M. Rogers, widow of Nathan (see), Jan. 20, 1819 (Bodwell), who d. Aug. 11, 1863, in her 82d year. "She must be near to Jesus, who loved His name so well on earth." Children:

10. George Washington [20], b. Oct. 4, 1789, in Northwood.

11. John (3d), b. April 30, 1791, in N.; m. Polly Burleigh, dau. of Josiah (see), July 19, 1818 (Bodwell); "moved from her father's into this house, July 27" (where he afterwards lived and died); "moved to the Rogers place, Aug., 1819" (now Jona. S. Taylor's); "moved again to the Chapman place, May 24, 1827" (now Mr. Hackett's); "moved back to this house to take care of my father, Dec., 1832." He was a pillar in the 1st Bap ist Church (over which his father was settled) till his death, Feb. 6, 1869, of congestion of the lungs, in his 78th year; was accustomed always to hold a meeting on the Sabbath in his beloved house of worship, of which he had the care, even in the absence of a minister; and when no person but himself was present, at the appointed hour he would faithfully go through a short service from the well-worn Bible, which he always carried to the house of God, and sing and pray. His loss to the society was irreparable. No children. "Wearied under the pressure of the infirmities of old age, he longed to be absent from the body to be present with the Lord. His wish is realized, and his happy soul has not one hope unanswered." (Gravestone.)

12. Hezekiah J [31], b. May 3, 1793, in Northwood.

20. George W.[3] [10] (John[2], John[1]), entered the academy at Salisbury at the age of fifteen, under Ichabod Bartlett (afterwards M.

C.) as preceptor. His health failing, he procured a situation in the office of the N. H. Secretary of State; soon after commenced mercantile business in Durham, and subsequently rem. to Portsmouth. He m. Ruth W. Kimball, of New Chester (now Hill), July 3, 1814, who was b. May 23, 1793, in Antrim. After the year 1820 he res'd. as a merchant in Boston, Mass., till his death, Aug. 14, 1859, in his 70th year. Became a member of the city government, as common councilman from Ward 4, 1843–44; was a member of the House of Representatives, Massachusetts Legislature, 1847–48, and a senator from the county of Suffolk, 1849–50. In the latter year, he was appointed chairman of the Committee on Banks and Banking, and was elected a member of the convention for revising the Constitution of Massachusetts, from the city of Boston, in 1853; was first president of the Bank of North America at its incorporation in 1850, and so continued, by successive annual elections, till his death; one of the board of trustees for the Mount Auburn Cemetery several years, from its first establishment, and one of the founders of the Boston Academy of Music, whose organization took place in his house. (Full sketches of his life, death, and burial, with resolutions, etc., appeared in the Boston Daily Advertiser and other Boston papers, from Aug. 15 to 19, 1859; also in his "Memorial," a bound volume of 26 pages, 1860.) She d. Aug. 14, 1879, "the twentieth anniversary of his death," ae. 86—3. Children:

21. Mary Elizabeth, m. Samuel T. Dana, of Boston. Their child:— 1. Samuel Heber (Dana), b. Nov. 20, 1841, was a superior violinist at 12, and a gifted writer, but d. April 21, 1856, ae. 14—5, thus quenching the fond hopes of parents and friends for the present life, but calling forth a beautiful volume of "Reminiscences," pp. 106 (Ticknor & Fields, 1856). "His very name was appropriate, foreshadowing, as it were, the disposition of his life; for, like Samuel of old, his spirit was, 'Speak, Lord, for thy servant heareth'; and, like the gifted Heber, he had devoted himself to the noble task of carrying the gospel to distant lands."

22. Martha Jane, b. June 1, 1817, in Portsmouth; evinced great precocity of mind, especially in the department of music, and was a favorite pupil of Lowell Mason, who was then commencing his career. Was a member of the choir of the Bowdoin St. Church, at the time of her death, Mr. Mason at that time having direction of the music. The favorite tune, "Mt. Vernon," was composed by Mr. M., as a tribute to her memory, and the poetry by Rev. S. F. Smith, of Newton Theological Seminary.

"Sister, thou wast mild and lovely,
Gentle as the summer breeze,
Pleasant as the air of evening,
When it floats among the trees.
Peaceful be thy silent slumber,
Peaceful in the grave so low,
Thou no more wilt join our number,
Thou no more our songs shalt know."

She d. July 13, 1833, ae. 16—1. A musical composition of her own was afterwards published in the "Choir" (see obituary sketch in the "Religious Magazine," Jan., 1834, by Jacob Abbott).

THE DUSTIN FAMILY.

1. David Dustin (written also "Dusten," and even "Dusting," on the old Crockett death record) was a descendant of one of the sons of the renowned Mrs. Hannah Dustin, the heroine of 1697; but by what line of descent is not ascertained. He was b., probably, in Raymond, and came from Exeter (or Amesbury, Mass.) to Sanbornton, in 1766, with his first wife, formerly Lovey Homan(s), whom he m. in E., and one or two children. He made the first settlement north of the Square, on the rise of ground near Clark's Corner, where Mr. Judkins now lives, at the same time building his mill 100 rods below the so-called Turkey Bridge. This is claimed as the first grist-mill erected in town. Some say he continued but two or three years at his first settlement; others, till about 1783, when he removed to his "mill-house," not far from the present new school-house in district No. 12. There he lived with his family of children and work-hands, numbering, in all, twelve persons. The house used to be supported by shores, one on each side of the outer door. It contained only two small rooms, and one stone chimney, with an oven in the back! In this house he lived for years, with only two iron vessels among his utensils, — a pot and a skillet! yet he afterwards became one of the "wealthy men" of town The Dustin farm was the same as that lately owned by Charles Silver (Lots Nos. 6 and 34, 2d Div.). He united with the Congregational Church, April 20, 1777, and m., 2d, Lydia Kenniston, dau. or sister of William (see), who had previously united, March 27, 1774. Her voice is said to have been "powerful, almost, as a trumpet," which she used to advantage at one time when the house got on fire! He d. Aug. 15, 1803, and his funeral was attended by Rev. John Crockett. She d. Nov. 10, 1835. Children (with possibly another dau., who d. Dec. 28, 1800):

THE EMERY FAMILY.

The Emerys of this town are descended from

1. John[1], who, from Romsey, England, was among the first settlers of Newbury, Mass., 1635; a carpenter; d. Nov. 3, 1683, ae. 85, and hence b. in 1598. The line continues:

2. John[2], b. 1629, also in England.

3, 4. John[3], b. Sept. 12, 1656. John[4], b. Sept. 29, 1686; and

5. Moses[5], b. 1715; m. Lydia Emery, dau. of Stephen. Of his children two were early identified with Sanbornton, viz.:

6, 7. Josiah [8], b. May 17, 1747, C. S., and Michael [17], b. Aug. 1, 1764.

8. Josiah[6] [6] (Moses[5], John[4], John[3], John[2], John[1]), m., 1st, Rebecca Woodman, dau. of John, and sister of Rev. Joseph, 1770, who d. Jan. 5, 1788, ae. 41—6. He m., 2d, Mrs. Elizabeth (Meader) Morrison, Oct. 13, 1791 (Woodman). She had m., 1st, —— Woodman; m., 2d, Samuel Morrison (near Tin Corner). As his two oldest children are said to have been born in Epping, he probably made a brief settlement there, his first on leaving Newbury, and did not reach Sanbornton before 1774, though he was here in 1776 to sign the "Association Test." He was the first to settle, and always lived on the present farm of Rufus Howe, Lot No. 27, 2d Div.; was an athletic man, and is said to have "carried the ring" at wrestling on the day of the raising of the first meeting-house. He never owned a wheeled vehicle, only a sleigh in winter; but possessed two saddle horses, and was himself an expert rider. At one time he could ride and see at least six of his children, all settled in Sanbornton with large families, in a single day (now, 1878, only one grandchild and one great-grandchild of his remain in the original town). He also made the journey on horseback to Andover in 1806, to secure the services of Mr. Bodwell. His wife was the first woman that ever rode in a wheeled carriage north of the old meeting-house. Her father and mother had come to visit their children (Rev. Mr. Woodman and Mrs. E.), had spent Saturday night at Mr. W.'s, and on Sunday, after meeting, were about to repair to Mr. Emery's, when the mother was afraid to ride with her husband, on account of the roughness of the road, and he took in his daughter (Mrs. Emery) instead. He was received into the Congregational Church, April 9, 1775. His name often appears upon church and town committees, and, being justice of the peace, he seems to have been much relied upon for counsel and judgment in cases of difficulty. He d. Oct. 20, 1816, ae. 69—5, and his widow followed him, March 21, 1817, in her 74th year. Children (t. r.):

9. Moses [20], b. Feb. 2, 1772, in Epping.
10. Nathan [24], b. Dec., 1773, in E.
11. Anna (Nancy), b. July 8, 1775, in Sanbornton; m. Ede Taylor (see).
12. Molley (Polly), b. March 21, 1777, in S.; m. John P. Hayes, son of William (see).
13. Lydia, b. Nov. 8, 1778; m. Jeremiah Hackett, of Canterbury, Nov. 15, 1798 (Woodman).
14. Rebecca, b. Nov. 9, 1780; m. Jonathan Morrison, Jr. (see).
15. Sarah (Sally), b. Aug. 26, 1782; m. Joseph Huse, Jr. (see).
16. Betty (Betsey), b. May 3, 1784, in S.; m. Simon D. Sanborn (see).

17. Michael[6] [7] (Moses[5], John[4], John[3], John[2], John[1]), was lame in the wrist, so as not to labor, and hence became a teacher; visited his brother in Sanbornton previous to his removal hither, in 1815, and is said to have taught a school in the Prescott District ("New State") "more than 75 years ago" (1877). He finally settled where now his son, Dea. Joseph, lives, in Tilton, Lot No. 57, 1st Div. He m., 1st, Mrs. Sarah (Worthen) Sargent, 1804, who was b. Nov., 1764, the dau. of Joseph Worthen, of Amesbury, m., 1st, John Sargent, of A., and d. March 1, 1814, ae. 49—4; m., 2d, Lydia (Hoyt) Sargent, March, 1815, who had m., 1st, Jonathan Sargent, and d. May 15, 1849, ae. 82—3. He d. here, Oct. 27, 1842, ae. 78—3. Children:

18. John Sargent [41], b. Dec. 2, 1805.
19. Joseph [50], b. Sept. 19, 1807.

20. Moses[7] [9] (Josiah[6], Moses[5], John[4], etc.), res'd. on his father's farm, in this town; m. Mrs. Hannah (Woodman) Morrison, Nov. 12, 1794 (Woodman) (who was dau. of Esq. Josiah's [8] 2d wife by her 1st husband); was a member of the Congregational Church from May 3, 1807, till his death, Sept. 10, 1850, ae. 78—7. He "used the office of deacon well" from 1821 till 1837; was "upright, generous, and fearless, of warm sympathies, and an unswerving probity, ready for every good work"; the peculiar tone of whose voice in the prayer-meeting well expressed "the sincerity and earnestness of his spirit." • She d. July 11, 1837, ae. 70. Children (t. r.) (besides another who d. March 20, 1812):

21. Elizabeth (Eliza), b. Jan. 13, 1796; m. Joshua Merrick, of New Hampton, Oct. 7, 1823 (Bodwell); d. May 3, 1837, ae. 41—4. Child:— 1. Joshua M. (Merrick), m. Abigail B. July 17, 1865.

24. Nathan[7] [10] (Josiah[6], Moses[5], John[4], etc.), never lived in town after he was 16, but went to Canterbury, and there m. Betsey McCrillis, 1798. She was b. Aug. 8, 1780, in C., and d. with her son in Lowell, Mass., Aug. 6, 1852, ae. 72; a true "mother in Israel." He had d. Feb. 19, 1850, ae. 76—2, having lived with his wife more than half a century in the same neighborhood in which she was born. "He was one of the best specimens of the productions of New England, — the honored head of a large and enterprising family, a pillar in society, and a true member of the church of God." We give below the list of his numerous and widely scattered children, and the number of grandchildren, living and dead, in each family, making an aggregate (in 1878) of 77, as here enumerated, though his descendants would probably overrun 100. "Were all American families as fruitful, and all their descendants as enterprising, we should soon have no waste land in the Union to quarrel about, and no lack of freemen to cultivate the soil." Children:

THE EVANS FAMILY.

Besides other "original ancestors," we find

1. Thomas "Evan," in Boston, freeman, 1641; member of artillery company, 1653; d. Aug. 25, 1661; and

2. David, of Marblehead, 1648, from one of whom the Sanbornton family may have sprung.

Twenty-seven of the name had received the honors of college in New England in 1828.

3. Edward[1], the earliest known ancestor of the following, was b. 1736; settled in Salisbury; was adjutant of the 2d Regiment N. H. Militia, Revolutionary war, under commission from Gov. Meshech Weare, July 18, 1777, and d. May 26, 1818, ae. 82. He was buried in what is now Franklin, opposite Lot 1, 2d Div., as also his widow, Sarah, who d. July 29, 1831, ae. 79. Children:

6. Edward, b. May 15, 1795, in Salisbury.

7. Edward[2] (Edward[1]), was a school-teacher, of good repute, as "Master Evans," for 16 years, in Andover and Sanbornton; m. Phebe Morrison, dau. of David (see), Dec. 26, 1822 (Crockett); res'd. in Danbury till about 1835; but the last 37 years of his life in this town, on his father-in-law's place, where he d., suddenly, of apoplexy, Sept. 14, 1872, ae. 77—4. She d. Aug. 16, 1875, ae. 75—5. (Both funerals attended by the writer.) She was a true mother in her family, generous-hearted and public-spirited in the community. Warned by increasing feebleness, she desired to be transferred immediately from the home of her son in Boston to her old home in this town, where, during her last few months, her triumph over the fear of death was complete, her fondness for sacred song sweetly revived (she had once been a prominent member of Father Crockett's choir), and "her end was peace." Children:

8. Ransom Flagg, b. Jan. 9, 1824; has been in successful business in Faneuil Hall Market, Boston, wholesale and retail, since 1854 (?), firm of Furber, Evans & Fottler, and while unwearied in efforts to promote the comfort of his Sanbornton friends in life, and to improve the old homestead, filial affection has also prompted him to make the Evans monument one of the most costly and imposing of any yet erected (1880) in the new cemetery at Franklin.

9. Edward Dustin, b. May 16, 1826; m. Frances ——, of New Bedford, Mass., where he res'd. till his health failed, and he ret. to S. about one year before his death, of consumption, Dec. 25, 1859, ae. 33—7. THE GAGE FAMILY

Is of Norman extraction, deriving its descent from De Gaga, Gauga, or Gage, who accompanied William the Conqueror into England, and was afterwards rewarded with large grants of land. A line of seven generations, from

1. John Gage, 1408, terminates with

2. John, Esq., oldest son of Sir Edward, who was knighted by Queen Mary. He was 30 years of age at his father's death, and heir to fifteen manors in Sussex; but surviving all his brothers, and leaving no issue, the estate descended to his nephew, the earliest known ancestor in a direct line of the Gages of Sanbornton, viz.:

3. John[1], who was made baronet March 26, 1622; m. Penelope, widow of Sir George Trenchard, and d. Oct. 3, 1633. Nine children, four sons, of whom his second son:

4. John[2], came to America from Suffolk, Eng., in 1630, landing at Salem, June 12, in company with John Winthrop, Jr., son of the governor, and was one of the proprietors and first settlers of Ipswich, Mass., 1633. His 1st wife, Anna (or Amy), there d. June, 1658, and he m., 2d, Nov. 7 following, Sarah, widow of Robert Keyes, who, by one account, survived him, though by another he m., 3d, Mary Keyes, Feb., 1633, who d. Dec. 20, 1668. He rem. to Rowley in 1664, and there d. 1673, having been a "prominent man and held responsible offices of trust and fidelity," both in Ipswich and Rowley. Of his eight children, seven sons, the second was:

5. Daniel[3], of whom we find the earliest mention among the Gages of that part of "Old Rowley" which is now Bradford, Mass. We there learn (Bradford t. r.) that he m. Sarah Kimball, May 3, 1675, and d. Nov. 8, 1705. He had eight children, three sons, of whom:

6. Daniel[4], was the oldest, b. March 12, 1676. He m. Martha Burbank, March 9, 1697, and about that time settled in the extreme northwest corner of Bradford, on the banks of the Merrimack, establishing the well-known "Gage's," or "Upper Ferry," on the then main road to Methuen, where the grotesque Gage house, as built and afterwards enlarged, now stands (1879) in dilapidation, the oldest in the town. She there d., Sept. 8, 1741, and he d. March 14, 1747, ae. 71. Their children were:

7, 8. Mehitable, b. Dec. 29, 1698. Josiah, b. 1701; settled in Pelham.
9, 10. Martha, b. April 17, 1703. Lydia, b. May 24, 1705.
11. Moses [21], b. May 1, 1706.
12. Daniel, b. April 22, 1708; rem. to Pelham.
13. Sarah, b, Feb. 19, 1709-10.
14. Jemima, b. Dec. 2, 1711; m. Richard Kimball, Nov. 8, 1733.
15. Naomi, b. Feb. 25, 1714-15; m. David Hall, Sept. 22, 1737.

THE GALE FAMILIES. — Four Branches. — I.

The earliest ancestors of the Gale family in this country are believed to be the three following: —

1. Abraham, of Watertown, Mass., 1640 (the son of Richard), who m. Sarah Fiske, and "had many children." Also:

2. Ambrose, of Marblehead, Mass., 1674, and one of the founders of the church there, but previously of Salem, where his children were baptized, as follows:

3, 4. Benjamin and Elizabeth, bap. May 17, 1663.

5, 6. Charity, bap. June 17, 1664. Ambrose, bap. 1665; and finally,

7. Bartholomew, a shipwright, who came from England to Boston.

Twelve of the name had graduated from New England colleges in 1834. Branches II. and III. of the Sanbornton Gales are doubtless each descended from one of the above, and so may be this [I.]. For, although,

8. John Gale, the earliest settler of the name in town, always bore the sobriquet of "Dutchman Gale," and is hence supposed to have been of Dutch descent, yet more reliable information has since proved that he was not a Dutchman by race, but merely came from New York to Exeter. His father, or earlier progenitor, may, therefore, have belonged to one of the afore-mentioned families, and emigrated from New England to New York, whence he returned, and married Susan McCarty, in Exeter. (Of her father there is the following romantic legend among her descendants in this vicinity: that he was sent from Ireland when a little boy, by his aunt, who wished to secure a large property which he was to have inherited. His parents had died, and she consigned him to a sea-captain, to be taken to parts unknown. He was finally left at Exeter, "where he had m., and could not return," when his aunt, having learned of his destination, repented on her death-bed, and sent for him!) He [8] was in town before 1768 (see "Petition"), and by "Returns of Roads," in 1771–72, seems to have been living at first in the southwest part of the town, in the vicinity of the Winnipiseogee and John Clark's, on Lot 69, 2d Div. Prior to Aug., 1778, however, he must have located just west of the wooded hill in Franklin (New Boston), which has since borne his name, Lot No. 67, 1st Div., where he d. March 16, 1802, and she d. his widow, Jan. 25, 1815. Children:

9. Susanna, b. 1763 (?), in Exeter; m., 1st, Capt. Aaron Sanborn (see).
10. Theodosia, b. March 16, 1765, probably in E; m. Jonathan Taylor (see).
11. John, b. 1767 (?), in Sanbornton; lived and d. in Holderness.
12. Daniel, b. 1769 (?), in S.; res'd. in Bangor, Me., and Effingham, where he d.

II.

28. Stephen[1] Gale res'd. in Haverhill, Mass.; there m Ednah Little, according to the town records, Dec. 17, 1734, and d. Feb. 5, 1735–36. His posthumous child:

29. Stephen[2], b. June 8, 1736; came to Sanbornton from Haverhill, probably between the years 1768 and 1770; was a (shop) joiner by trade, and settled on the farm now owned by B. F. Cass, Lot No. 64, 2d Div. (Tilton). He was on the first board of selectmen chosen in town, 1770 (and at least twice afterwards), and signed the "Association Test" in 1776. He (not his wife) "was admitted into covenant with God and communion with this Congregational Church," Dec. 3, 1775, and had his three children, then living, baptized the next Sabbath. THE GIBSON FAMILY

Is said to be of English origin, and two brothers, James and John, when coming to this country, are said to have lost their father on the passage. A doubtful legend is also related, that one of these brothers from England married the daughter of a nobleman, against the will of her parents, and that he was the father of Jeremiah Gibson, an early settler of Canterbury. The name appears as "Gipson" on the "Petition of 1768," which was signed by the oldest of the five brothers, who early gained possession of Lot No. 58, 2d Div., on which Union Bridge village now stands, and gave their original name ("Gibson's") to the falls below the Bridge. Only the two oldest and youngest of these brothers can now be traced to any extent. It is certain that their father did not settle here, though supposed, at first, to have been the "John of 1768." Perhaps he was the "Jeremiah of Canterbury," above. The five brothers were:

1, 2. John [6]. James [10].

3. Jeremiah (Jerry), who lived near the south end of the lot where now Capt. Jacob Sanborn (Lakeman place); m. Eleanor Forrest, sister of Jane [19], and rem., with four children, quite early, to Canada. Children, b., but not m. in S., were: — 1. Robert. 2. John. 3. Judith. 4. Comfort.

4. Enoch, was here with his brothers, unm., and also went to Canada.

5. Thomas, the youngest, and the last who came to this region, located directly across the river, on the Gilmanton side, at Union Bridge, having previously settled in Canterbury, and m. Jemima Shepard, dau. of James, of Revolutionary memory. (Their record coming late, must here be introduced in full.) Children: — 1. Abigail. 2. Martha. Both d. young. 3. Enoch, b. March 19, 1784; m , 1st, Polly Gibson [15], Oct. 10, 1810 (Crockett); he was then said to be of Gilmanton (Union Bridge), whence he moved back to Canterbury, near his father's former residence, and there d., Nov 28, 1862, ae. 78—8. She had d Sept. 14, 1817, ae. 26, and he m., 2d, Mrs. Nancy (McClellis), widow of Nehemiah Clough, of Canterbury. Children: — I. Thomas, b April 1, 1811, at Union Bridge, d. April 28, 1833, ae. 22—1 He was six feet four inches in height. II. Caroline, b. Oct. 15, 1814; m., 1st, Samuel Tallant, of Canterbury, May 7, 1840, who was a farmer, and d. April 1, 1846 She m., 2d, David Morrill Clough, of Canterbury, June 17, 1856. He is the well-known "corn king" of New Hampshire, owning 180 acres of interval land in one piece on the Merrimack River; harvesting 2,500 bushels of ears in 1879, and having over thirty acres of corn under cultivation in 1880! Her child: — (1.) Mary (Tallant), b. Nov. 10, 1842, d. April 8, 1872, of consumption, ae. 29—5. III. Enoch, now lives in Boscawen; a farmer; one son. IV. Nehemiah, settled in Hamilton, Mo.; a farmer; four sons. V. Polly, m. Moses R. Elkins, of Lake Village, and there d.; no children. 4. Polly, m John Prescott, farmer, of Gilmanton; lived at Lake Village, and d. in Manchester, of lung fever, ae. 72. Seven children (three sons). 5. Nancy, d. young. 6. Elsey, m. Robert Smith, of Gilmanton. Eight children (five sons). 7. Naaman, m., and rem. to Canada. Five children (three sons). 8. Jemima, m. Benjamin C. Swasey, of Gilmanton, and there d. early in life; but left five children (three sons). 9. Naomi, m. David Lane (see). 10. Royal, m. Harriet Thorne, dau. of Phinehas (see), Aug. 17, 1825, then of Canterbury; afterwards settled in Lind, Waupacca Co., Wis. Five children (one d.); the living are: — I. Hollis, b. Dec 14, 1826. II. Charles, b. April 3, 1833. III. Lucia, b. July 15, 1835. IV. Alice, b. July 4, 1838. 11. John, d., unm.

6. John [1], was the earliest of the brothers in town; lived on the north end of the lot, near the present Rollins place, and being subject to fits, was drowned in one of them in early manhood, while going down to his mill in a boat. This was probably the first casualty of the kind on the bay, and he is said to have been the first person buried in the old Centre cemetery. He left three children:

7. Jeremiah, six years old at the death of his father; m. Anne Perkins, of Canterbury; went to Canada like his namesake-uncle [3], and there d.

8. James [19], four years old at his father's death.

9. Polly, b. the very day that her father was drowned; m. Asa Kimball and lived in Concord, where both d. Three sons: — 1. Reuben (Kimball). 2. John, of late years a merchant in C. 3. Benjamin.

10. James [2] was most intimately connected with Sanbornton of any of the family, and seems to have been the only one present in town to sign the "Association Test" of 1776 Was ensign, and so called to distinguish him from James [19], his nephew. Like all the Gibson race, he is described as being of a very easy disposition, kind and good-natured, but exceedingly strong and athletic physically. In early times, when "all the town" had assembled, on one occasion, at the Falls, for the purpose of constructing "weirs" (see Gen. Hist.), after they had become well "warmed." Ensign Gibson gave out word that he "could put every man in Sanbornton under the water." The challenge was accepted, and he succeeded in carrying every man present, singly, into the stream, and "ducking" their heads, in spite of their resistance, except two, viz., Maj. Chase Taylor and Col. Josiah Sanborn! He first occupied the present Rollins place for many years; then rem. to a small house close to the Bridge, and there d. His first wife was Anna Forrest, of Northfield (sister of the 1st wife of [19]), b. 1750, and was doubtless the "Anna Gibson, wife of J G., d. Oct. 18, 1783, ae. 3 (3)," on whose gravestone, one of the oldest in the Centre cemetery, is the above scarcely legible inscription. He m., 2d, Betsey Heath, of Canterbury (?), cousin of Ebenezer Sanborn's wife, who is said to have been, like her dau. Ruth, a very large woman, and fully six feet in height She d., probably, Sept. 4, 1823; he d. March 3, 1825. Children (first five only on the t. r.):

11. Anna, b. June 11, 1777; m. Stephen Morgan (see).

THE GILMAN FAMILIES. — Five or Six Branches.

By the aid of Arthur Gilman's "Genealogy" (chiefly of the John Gilman family of Exeter), we are enabled to trace most of the Sanbornton families of this name further back than any other family in town. The common ancestor is Edward[1] of Caston, Norfolk, Eng., who was there m. to Rose Rysse, June 22, 1550. His will was dated Feb. 5, 1573, devising his mansion-house in Caston to his eldest son, John, and his other estates to five daughters and three other sons, among whom Robert[2] was baptized at Caston, July 10, 1559. His wife Mary was there buried March 9, 1618, and he March 6, 1631. But he had lived at Hingham, Eng., as his son Edward[3] was there b., probably 1587–8; m. Mary Clark, of (at) Hingham, June 3, 1614, and became the emigrant ancestor of most who bear his name in the United States. He had land granted to him by the Plymouth colony, near Rehoboth, 1641, was at Ipswich, Mass., 1647, but afterwards went farther north with his sons, and d. June 22, 1681. His son, Moses[4], was baptized at Hingham, Eng., March 11, 1630; m. Elizabeth, dau. of William Hersie, Sen.; was in Exeter with his father, May 10, 1652; received grant of land in that part of E. which is now New Market; was frequently selectman, and in 1694 was succeeded in that office by his son, Moses, Jr.; took an active and somewhat leading part in town affairs, and d. in 1702, as his will was proved Aug. 6 of that year. His branch is hence called the "New Market branch" of the Gilmans (as distinguished from the "Exeter" and other branches), and to this the Sanbornton families mostly belong. The son just alluded to, Moses[5], m., 1st, Anne ——; m., 2d, Elizabeth ——; and d. 1747; owned land on the east and west sides of Bloody Brook, Exeter (New Market), and the Fresh meadows, which were commonly called "Moses' meadows." His son, Moses[6], m. Mary Tracy; lived in New Market, and d. Jan. 9, 1769. He was the father of the three brothers who came to Sanbornton, and of one other brother and three sisters, as follows: I. Moses, b. 1743. II. Simon, b. 1745. III. Joseph, b. 1748. IV. Samuel, b. 1750, in Exeter (?); m. Ruth Philbrick, of Deerfield, and d. 1821. V. Shuah. VI. Sarah. VII. Mary.

Sarah McDaniels, at Exeter, in 1774, and their three oldest children were there b., in the Garrison house, during the first years of the Revolutionary war. Moving to Sanbornton about 1780, they settled near the Sands at the Bay shore, late H. W. Day's (No. 73, addition lot, 2d Div.), and he appears to have been one of the Revolutionary soldiers from the town the last two years of the war, Feb. 6, 1783. She was b. April 28, 1745, on a passage from the North of Ireland to this country, of Scotch-Irish descent, and was christened in the old North meeting-house, in Boston. Her parents having moved to Exeter, she m. as above. She was of a very vigorous constitution; used to help her husband fell trees in his new settlement, and has described it as being at that time "an unbroken forest" from their place nearly to the Square. She was subjected to many hardships during her husband's absence at the war (with her young children); but was never during her life confined to the house for any length of time, except by a broken leg, in 1816, and "was never sick," till she received a paralytic shock two weeks previously to her death. She was a decided Christian, and a member of the 2d Baptist Church. Mr. Gilman was drowned in the Large Bay, Nov. 20, 1802, ae. 57, while boating sand from the head of the Bay to Meredith Village, his body lying in the water eleven months. She m., 2d, Sylvester Brimhall, another Revolutionary pensioner, Oct. 5, 1817 (John Doe, Esq.); lived in a small house built for them near her first home, and there d., May 19, 1845, ae. 100 years, 21 days,— one of the oldest persons who has d. in town! III.

51. Joseph[7] Gilman (Moses[6], Moses[5], Moses[4], Edward[3], Robert[2], Edward[1]) seems to have come to Sanbornton before his brother Simon, and was earlier in the Revolutionary war (see List), receiving "100 paper dollars as a bounty, May, 1778." He had m. Hannah Magoon, of Exeter, who had there lived in easy circumstances, and when, on arriving in town, they brought up at the little cabin on their first stopping-place (Site 4, Lot 47, 1st Div.), and found it full of snow, "she sat down and cried." Her hardships did not end here; she nursed her oldest and one other child, during her husband's absence in the war, having no provision much of the time but the milk of one cow and wild plums or berries. From their second dwelling, corner opposite the late Ransom Chapman's (Site 3, Lot 47, 1st Div.), they were driven by fire. Their third house was still farther north (Site 2, same lot), her father having moved up meanwhile and settled above them (Site 1, Magoon house). They finally settled on the spot where recently the house of Bartlett Hill was burned and Mr. Nelson was living (1877). He d. April 17, 1818, ae. 70. She d. March 15, 1835. Children:

Over their common grave we read:

"Here low they lie, — their days of life are fled;
They are gone to mingle with the righteous dead.
Who learn their fate, let fall the mourner's tear,
A tribute to the worth that slumbers here."

Children:

60. Josiah, b. Nov. 4, 1810. He is most kindly remembered as a student of the Sanbornton (Woodman) Academy, and an eminent Christian. The only tree now growing in front of the old Academy building and meeting-house at the Square is the result of his planting and assiduous care. He d. a member of the senior class of Dartmouth College, Oct. 29, 1840, in the 30th year of his age.

"He lived as every one should live;

THE HARPER FAMILY.

1. William Harper's name first appears upon the town records as "Capt." W. H., chosen "representative 1785," and Wm. H., Esq. (as ever after), "constable 1786" He came from Deerfield some time previously to the former year, where he had first settled, having m. Mary Lane, dau. of John[4], and sister of the Lane brothers who settled in this town. Of his parentage nothing is known, save that his mother was a Scribner, and that the "old Mr. Harper, who dyed" here Aug. 25, 1790, was probably his father. He is presumed to have been descended from Joseph Harper, an early resident of Braintree, Mass. One of his sisters, Anna, b. April 3, 1750, had m. David Bean (see p. 28 [4]); another, Elizabeth, m., 1st, a Smith, in Raymond, or Candia (father of Nathan, in this town); m., 2d, Asahel Quimby (see); m., 3d, Dea. Ebenezer Colby (see p. 171 [117]); and m., 4th, Benjamin Robinson, the father of Benjamin, Jr. (Calef Hill). He bought out Josiah Sanborn, on the hill above the first meeting-house, and became an extensive landholder in other parts of the town. He also took a prominent part in all public affairs in town, as being its only lawyer, and built one of the finest houses of that day, now owned by Mr. Chesley, indulging a little rivalry with Mr. George C. Ward, which resulted in the third story upon the latter's house at the lower end of the village!

In 1788 he was chosen delegate from Sanbornton to the convention held in Exeter and Concord for adopting the new Constitution of the United States. Suspicions were entertained that he would oppose it, and the friends of the Constitution in town "endeavored, by all the powers of persuasion they could command, to induce him to change his purpose." He contended that "the powers conferred upon the general government were too great; that the abundant patronage conferred upon some, and the independent tenure of office upon other departments, would tend to consolidation, and lead to the exercise of tyranny and oppression." It was rumored that Esq. Harper was among the four or five members of the convention for whom a stratagem was planned to detain them from the final vote; but it did not succeed in his case, for his vote was among the 47 given against the Constitution, though, happily, with 57 in its favor! He was thought to be entirely sincere in his convictions, and by his action in this matter seems not to have lost his popularity among his fellow-citizens, as he was elected sole representative of the town from 1791 to 1800, continuously, and three times moderator of town meeting, 1792–96. He d. Dec. 31, 1809; his wife had d. June 18, 1806; his mother, as "Widow Harper," d. in this town, April 6, 1803. Children:

18. John Philbrick, b. April 20, 1843, in Nashua; was m. to Etta N. Osgood, dau of Calvin (see), of Sanbornton, in Lynn, by Rev. C. W. Biddle, March 9, 1872. He was there engaged in the shoe business; made (1877) an expedition to the Black Hills, Dacotah Ter.; now res. (1880) at Franklin Falls, in charge of a meat market, with C. G. Colby.

19. Sarah Josephine, b. April 25, 1846, in Sanbornton, and here d., March 25, 1857, ae. 10—11.

THE HERRICK FAMILIES. — Two Branches — I.

Their ancestry "is clearly traced back to a Danish chieftain who invaded England in the reign of Alfred," through an immigrant of that name, who landed at Salem, Mass., in 1629.

1. Nathaniel[1], the sixth in descent from the latter, was "an early settler in Sanbornton from Exeter"; m. Mary, dau. of Col. James Hackett, of E., and carried on the business of a clothier at the east end of the Sanborn bridge, in Franklin. His children were:

2. Elizabeth Swasey, b. Sept. 8, 1787; m. Jonathan Sanborn (see).
3. Sally (Sarah), b. May 22, 1792; m. Tristram Sanborn (see).
4. James Hackett, b. Sept. 20, 1798; was a Sanbornton soldier in war of 1812–14, and residing in Canterbury, 1876.
5. Daniel [8], b. Jan. 19, 1801.
6. Nathaniel, Jr., b. Dec. 18, 1803; has been an overseer in a factory at Manchester.

7. Mary H., b. Feb. 16, 1806; m. Robert Annan, of Peterborough, June 7, 1825.

("The whole family was distinguished for the sterling good sense of its members, as well as for longevity.")

8. Daniel[2] [5] (Nathaniel[1]), m. Narcissa Blanchard, of Northfield, dau. of Richard and Hannah (Hill) Blanchard, Sept. 26, 1822, their golden wedding being celebrated in 1872. He "was a man of extraordinary mechanical genius"; early visited the paper mill at Exeter, in the garb of a Quaker, and was able soon after to reproduce similar machinery for the Peabody & Crane mill in Franklin, where he was head machinist for many years. He was then, for twenty-three years, in charge of the pattern making and repair business in Herrick Aiken's machine and tool shop, and continued in a similar capacity for Walter Aiken till four years before his death, Aug. 7, 1876, ae. 75—7. Children:

9. Mary Elizabeth, b. Aug. 24, 1824; m. Cyrus T. French, of Northfield (Franklin).

10. Sarah Smith, b. June 20, 1830; m. Leavitt W. Dolloff, of Lancaster. Three children.

D., the esteemed founder and first rector, for nearly fifteen years, of the Episcopal (Trinity) Church in Northfield and Tilton; was also, like [8], the 7th in descent from the immigrant ancestor at Salem, through the line of another of his sons. He was b. Aug. 27, 1821; entered into rest on the eve of All Saint's, Oct. 31, 1875, ae. 54—2.

"Pretiosa in conspectu Domini Mors sanctorum ejus."

THE HERSEY FAMILY.

The first ancestor of the Sanbornton Herseys in this country was doubtless William, of Hingham, Mass., 1635; admitted freeman, 1638, and member of the artillery company, 1652. Had a son William; m., 1656. Name also written on the Hingham records "Hersie," "Harsie," and "Hearsey." One of this family early moved from Hingham to that part of Exeter which is now New Market, having first explored the country for the purpose of cutting ash and oak timber, as he was a carpenter or cooper. He afterwards took up land, and settled there, in company with the father or grandfather of Nathaniel Burley (see). His immediate descendant (probably grandson) was:

1. JAMES[1] HERSEY, of New Market, who m. Jemima Burley, a sister of Nathaniel and his brothers, who moved to Sanbornton (see p. 58 [$7\frac{1}{4}$]). He met with an accident which resulted in the loss of his leg, and afterwards of his property, so that he was unable to complete the education of his sons, as he had commenced with the oldest. His children were all b. in New Market, one of whom he followed to S., and here d., April 27, 1804. Children:

2. JAMES [12], b. Jan. (?), 1746 (?).

3. JONATHAN, b. June (?), 1747 (?); settled in Wolfeborough; m. —— Fox. Eight sons, two daughters.

4. JOSIAH [23], b. Nov. 20, 1748.

5. JEMIMA, b. 1750 (?); m. to John Piper, of Wolfeborough, by Rev. Mr. Woodman, Jan. 20, 1783, and settled in W. Six sons, four daughters.

6. WILLIAM [30], b. 1752.

7. MOLLEY, b 1755 (?); m. William Shores, Feb. 25, 1799 (Crockett); lived in Sanbornton; but had no children (?).

8. PETER [40], b. Sept. 7, 1758, O. S.

9. JACOB, b. 1762 (?); settled where Amos K. Hersey now lives (1880); was the first person drowned in Sanbornton Little Bay, at Hersey's Cove, Aug. 19, 1796, ae. 34 (see p. 61 [33]).

10. ELIZABETH (Betsey), b. 1764 (?); m. Nicholas Giles, Sen., 2d wife (see p. 302 [1]).

11. JOHN, b. 1766 (?); began to improve a lot in what is now (1877) Charles W. Colby's pasture; was deranged in mind, and relinquished his land to his brother James; d., ae. 60 (?).

12. JAMES[2] [2] (James[1]), was a surveyor, and was early employed by the last provincial governor, John Wentworth, to run a line from Portsmouth to Quebec, as also to survey the town of Stewartstown, N. H. On his way back, he called to visit his uncle Nathaniel Burley, and being pleased with the country, he negotiated with the grantees, or others, for a large section of land, on several different lots, between Burley's (or Calef) Hill and the Bridge, especially on Lots 55 and 56, 1st, and 65 and 75, 2d Divs. In this way he "took it up." There is some undue embellishment upon this subject in the Merrimack Journal of Aug. 22, 1873. The river lots were not then considered the most valuable; and though Esq. Hersey may not have secured his right and title to Lot No. 75, 2d Div., or some portion of it, till after the Revolutionary war commenced, and though he may have ridden a fine horse to Portsmouth, as there Thomas Packer, Esq., Masonian proprietor of said lot, resided, and though he may "have left the horse as the consideration" for a deed of the lot brought back, yet it is quite certain that Gov. Wentworth had nothing directly to do with this transaction. It is, however, confidently affirmed by his descendants, that "one of the last acts of Gov. Wentworth, when on board a vessel at Portsmouth, and ready to sail for England, on account of his adhesion to Tory principles, was to sign a deed from the Crown, to Mr Hersey, of land in Sanbornton"! Also that, as king's surveyor, he laid out several of the original towns of the State, and made the first survey of Lake Winnipiseogee and its islands previous to the Revolutionary war, naming many of them, — Bear Island, for instance, "from the fact that making its survey in the spring of the year, when the ice was thin, a bear was killed while trying to escape"

He finally settled where now Gideon Piper (1880) lives, near the Seminary buildings, in Tilton, and, from his land farther back, supplied his brothers with homesteads. For many years he was a prominent man in Sanbornton, as justice of the peace and surveyor, both making out deeds and running out lines for the farmers. Legal documents are now shown, drawn up by him as late as 1796, with great accuracy. He also surveyed a good deal out of town. He was an earnest friend of education. He first welcomed Jacob Knapp, the "stripling teacher," to town; and Dudley Leavitt boarded at his house while teaching at the Bridge, who also was assisted by Esq. IV.

We append the following as connected with the Hunkins family, and as throwing additional light upon the earlier generations of the Hoyts preceding: —

122. John[5] Hoyt (John[4], Thomas[3], Thomas[2], John[1]) was the oldest brother of Major Barnard[5] [60], being the oldest child of Capt. John[4] and Sarah (Barnard) Hoyt, he being the oldest child of Lieut. Thomas[3] and Elizabeth (Huntington) Hoyt, he being the oldest child of Thomas[2] and Mary (Brown) Hoyt. He (Thomas[2]) was b. Jan. 1, 1640–41, and was the 2d son and 3d child of John[1]. John[5] Hoyt m Abigail Nichols, and res'd. in West Amesbury, Mass. Their 7th and youngest child was:

123 Nabby (Abigail), b. May 10, 1765, in Amesbury; m. Robert Hunkins (see p 371 [132]).

THE HUNKINS FAMILY. — Three Branches.

The earliest ancestor of the Sanbornton Hunkins families as yet ascertained was:

1. Robert[1] Hunkings, Sen., probably of Haverhill, Mass., who was b., according to tradition, 1679, and d. 1769, ae. 90. He was married to Abiah Page, May 1, 1706. (Whether connected with John Hunking, of Portsmouth, 1650, who came about that time from England, or with William, of Providence, R. I., 1641, does not appear. Mark Hunking, Esq., one of the Council, under Gov. John Wentworth, 1726, Province of N. H., was probably descended from the former.)

The children of Robert, Sen., and Abiah (above), as confirmed by the Haverhill records, were:

2, 3. Mary, b. March 28, 1707. John, b. Dec. 25, 1708.

THE HUNT FAMILIES. — Two Branches. — I.

Of the so-called "Amesbury line," three brothers are said to have originated in Amesbury, Mass., of whom:

1, 2. Humphrey and William, went to Gilford, and

3. Philip, to Sanbornton. (Forty-one of the name had been educated at the colleges of New England and New York in 1826.)

4. Philip Hunt, Sen., of Sanbornton (whether or not the same as [3] of the above tradition), came to this town at an early date (see "Petition" of 1768), but not directly from Amesbury. "Penacook" (or Concord) is thought to have been his last location previously, though he could not have tarried there long, as his name does not appear in the "History of Concord." There is also good evidence that his family, or portions of it, were in Newburyport and Haverhill, Mass., before that. He settled in the "Hunt neighborhood," now wholly deserted, Lot No. 51, 1st Div., his house being near his son's, north side of the old road to Union Bridge (see Sites). He followed his son [7] to Vermont, and there d. His children were all b. before coming hither, as follows:

5. Philip, Jr. [13].

6. Phebe, b. April 22, 1747; m. Isaac Colby (see p. 163 [37]).

THE INGALLS FAMILY,

Of Sanbornton, was, without much question, descended from

1. Edmund[1] Ingalls, who, with his wife Ann, and his brother Francis, was among the first white inhabitants of Lynn, Mass. He came from Lincolnshire, Eng., in 1629, and was drowned in Saugus River, by falling through the bridge, March, 1648. Nine children:

2. Henry[2], his 6th child, b. 1627; adm. freeman, 1673; rem. to Andover, Mass.; there d., 1719, ae. 92, and was probably the father of

3. Eldad[3], who res'd. in Haverhill, Mass., and there m. Hannah Watts, Nov. 17, 1719, who d June 20, 1738. Children (Haverhill records):

4, 5. Hannah, b. Sept. 5, 1720. John [8], b. June 1, 1723.
6. Elizabeth, } b. April 11, 1727.
7. Abiah, }

8. John[4] [5] (Eldad[3] (?), Henry[2], Edmund[1]), first settled in Haverhill, afterwards removing to Atkinson, and thence to Canterbury. He had twenty children, "fifteen by his last wife," of whom was:

9. Caleb, who was a Free Will Baptist clergyman, first settled in Canterbury, and then in Stewartstown, where he lived chiefly, and d. He m Elizabeth Clark, dau. of Satchel (see p. 131 [31]), Dec. 16, 1790 (Woodman), then said to be of Canterbury. She d. in this town, Jan. 10, 1845, ae. 77—1. Four children.

10. Jesse[5], another son of [8], was b. April 2, 1770, in Haverhill. He m. Hannah Chase, of Loudon (see p. 121 [109]), and rem. from Canterbury to this town in 1818, occupying the place on the hill north of the old meeting-house site (Lot No. 75, 1st Div.), previously owned by Caleb Rogers, and now by his son-in-law [17], Richard Ward. Though afflicted with lameness during many years of his life, he was invariably cheerful, social, and fond of young company; was a devoted husband and father, a good and agreeable friend and neighbor; d. Oct. 29, 1851, "of long and gradual decline," ae. 81—7. She was a thoughtful, intelligent Christian, a great reader of the Bible, who never forgot nor neglected her excellent early training. She d. Sept. 26, 1852, ae. 78—1. Children:

11. John, b. 1799, in Canterbury; was graduated at Dartmouth College, 1823; a student of theology at the Andover Seminary, and had nearly completed his course, when he was taken sick and d, in a hospital at Cambridge, Mass., Sept, 1828, ae. 29. (Triennial of Dartmouth College says by mistake "d. 1827, ae. 27.") He was an earnest seeker after truth, and his death produced a mournful void in the hearts of his mother and of other friends, blasting many fond hopes in him, as a prospective minister of the gospel.

12. Gardner, b. 1800–1; lived first in Sanbornton, on his father's place, as a cabinet-maker, his father having built a shop for him and his brother Walter, and hired an experienced workman to teach them the trade. The shop was burned, and both conceived the idea of becoming portrait painters, commencing at Lowell, Mass, about 1835. He afterwards returned to this town, but finally res'd. in Lowell till his death, Aug. 15, 1874, ae. 74. He m. Joanna Varney, dau. of Dudley (see), April 28, 1834 (Bodwell). Child:—
1. Helen Mar, res. with her mother, at 76 High St., Lowell.

13. Walter [18], b. Feb. 16, 1805.

14. Mahala, b. Oct. 29, 1810; m. Charles J. Conner (see p. 181 [51]).

15. Pamelia, b. July 3, 1814; m. Solomon McNeil Willson, Aug. 16, 1841 (Bodwell). He was the son of James and Mary (McNeil) Willson, of Scotch-Irish descent; b. Aug. 27, 1819, in Amherst, the youngest of 10 children; first res'd. at Bradford, as a teacher of elocution; commenced studying law with his brother, Hon. John M. Willson, of Lowell, Mass.; was admitted to the bar, and located in Chicago, Ill., in 1853. He was an excellent scholar, able to read several modern languages with fluency, and to speak the German; was also a dramatic author, writing the celebrated play, "Y^e Court Martial," and translating another from the German. As an elocutionist and reader of Shakespeare and other poets, he had few equals. He had a passionate love of the beautiful, and, "by the aid of palette, brushes, colors, and his own ideas," without special instruction, became no ordinary painter. Was a good conversationalist, genial, kindly, and a universal favorite, especially among his professional brethren, as witnessed by their resolutions of sympathy passed at his death. He was representative from Cook County in the Illinois Legislature, and aid to Gov. Yates, with rank of colonel, rendering laborious service in raising soldiers for the war, by which his health was lost. He d., of consumption, at Macon, Miss., Feb. 11, 1867, ae. 47—6; no children.

16. Jerome Bonaparte, b. Oct., 1817, d. June 13, 1835, in his 18th year. He was a promising lad, but fell from a horse, thus producing periodic convulsions.

17. Mary Ann, b. Jan. 16, 1821, in Sanbornton; m. Richard Ward (see).

18. Walter[6] [13] (Jesse[5], John[4], Eldad (?)[3], Henry[2], Edmund[1]), m., 1st, Hannah M. Woodman, of Newburyport, Mass., April 5, 1827 (Bodwell), and having abandoned his mechanical operations at the Square, with his "gulf-water privilege" (see Mills), he started for Washington, D. C., for the first time, at the age of 23, with a certificate of good character from the selectmen of this town, and a pass from Gov. Bell. Afterwards, commencing as above [12], at Lowell, he became justly distinguished as a painter, not only of portraits, but of scenes and objects of nature. His first wife d. of fever and palsy, Sept. 26, 1846, ae. 42, being b. Sept. 3, 1804, and he m., 2d, Helen L. Clark (see p. 150 [292]), Feb. 16, 1849 (Bodwell), who proved an efficient helper, and gave him a pleasant home wherever they were. With her he travelled extensively in the Southern States, South America, and Europe; spent a year in Brazil, and returned with a most valuable collection of paintings of Brazilian fruits; also one year in Italy, perfecting his art; but was ever delighted to return, during those summers that he could, to his quiet home and attractive studio, here in Sanbornton (old Taylor house, at foot of the Square street), where he kept an open house, charming all by his geniality, and surprising his old neighbors and friends, ever and anon, with admirable portraits of themselves! A traveller through life, his mind and memory were stored with entertaining information; while his fund of incident, ready wit, hearty sympathy, and pleasant address made him ever a most delightful friend and associate. The last year or two of his life he had kept a studio in the United States Capitol building at Washington, which was highly recommended. He there produced portraits of Senators Morton, Cameron, and others, and a life-size portrait of Hon. Charles Sumner was one of his last and best. He painted, some years ago, the full-length picture of Washington, now in the Representative Hall at Concord, as a gift to his native State; also one of Pius IX., while at Rome, which is pronounced one of the best and most accurate representations of that pontiff on this side of the Atlantic

"Mr. Ingalis was an artist of more than ordinary merit, and loved his profession with all the spirit and inspiration belonging to high art, and gave to all his subjects a naturalness and originality that only true genius is capable of imparting. In his special line of portraits he had few superiors." (From Forney's Washington Chronicle.) His health for many years had not permitted him to pass his winters North; and he finally yielded to the devastations of disease upon his physical frame while passing a short vacation at Oakland, Md. (near Washington), July 21, 1874, ae. 69—5. He was buried at Sanbornton, and his excellent wife — his widow but a short time — d. suddenly, at her sister's, in Lawrence, Mass., Aug. 30, 1874, ae. 44—9 (see, also, [12]). "Lovely and pleasant in their lives, and in their death they were not (long) divided." Children (1st wife):

19. John, b. Feb. 28, 1829; m. Ann Smith, Dec. 29, 1848; was keeper of a ranch in Texas; now (1876) a merchant, in the dry-goods business, at New Orleans, La. Children: — 1. Fannie H., b. Aug. 9, 1852. 2. Walter T., b. March 16, 1854. 3. Ernest D., b. Feb. 16, 1863.

THE JAQUES FAMILY

Is supposed to be descended from:

1. Henry Jaques, b. 1618; a carpenter, who came to Newbury, Mass., in 1640; m. Anna Knight, Oct. 8, 1648, and d Feb. 24, 1687, ae. 69. She d. Feb. 22, 1705. Besides seven daughters, he had:

2, 3. Henry, b. July 30, 1649. Richard, b. 1658.
4, 5. Serg. Stephen [6], b. Sept. 9, 1661. Daniel, b. Feb. 20, 1667.

All four of these sons settled in Newbury, and the Sanbornton branch is probably descended from:

6. Serg. Stephen [4] (who m. Deborah Plumer, May 13, 1684), as he only had a son Samuel, and by far the most numerous family of the four. His children were:

7. Stephen, b. July 28, 1686.
8. Samuel, b. March 19, 1692, the probable grandfather of [15].
9, 10. Mary, b. Sept. 26, 1694. Sarah, b. Sept. 23, 1697.
11, 12 Richard, b. April 1, 1700. Benjamin, b. Sept. 23, 1702.
13. Ann, b. Feb. 25, 1705.
14. Samuel, who is now known to have been the father of [15], was probably the son of [8], and thus the long-missing link in the pedigree of this family is at last (1879) supplied.

15. Samuel[5] (Samuel[4], Samuel[3], Stephen[2], Henry[1]), was b. March 2, 1758, in Newbury; m. Eunice Chase, of Newbury, who was there b., June 18, 1759, and rem. from West Newbury to Sanbornton about 1787. He first rented the house owned by Rev. Mr. Woodman, on the 2d Div., Minister Lot, No. 11, nearly opposite the Colby (now Giles) place, at the junction of the roads. In 1794 he rem. to the north end of Lot No. 65, 2d Div., now known as the site of the old Jaques place, in Tilton. He there d., July 1, 1828, ae. 70—4; death said to have been occasioned by internal injury from a race which he playfully ran with another old gentleman, Jeremiah Smith, of Northfield, across the Bridge, from the old corner store. THE JOHNSON FAMILY.

There were numerous original ancestors bearing this name in the country, and fifty-two had graduated at New England and New Jersey colleges in 1828.

1. John Johnson, the first of the name in Sanbornton, came very early to town from Epping, — one account says, "with the third company of settlers" He was b. in 1740, and had been "a Revolutionary soldier from Epping," which service must have been confined to the campaign of 1775, as he was here to sign the "Test" in 1776. Hence, too, his arrival in town is determined as not earlier than the fall of 1775. He settled on the Johnson lot, No. 4, 1st Div., near the late Phinehas Sanborn's; was a joiner; m., 1st, Abigail Morrison, dau. of Bradbury, Sen. (see), who d. 1777, ae. 32; m., 2d, Mary (Molly) Smith, April 23, 1778 (Woodman's first on the t. r.). She was the dau. of Elisha Smith, Sen., and d. Sept. 12 (21), 1826, ae. 64—8. He had d. the previous year, May 24, 1825, ae. 85. Nineteen children are traditionally assigned to him, one or two of whom "d. very young, without names." His fifth was said to be Hannah, but Mrs. Brawn [11], his only surviving child in 1877, then affirmed that she never had a sister by that name. The list of his children, therefore, reduces to seventeen, not found upon the t. r. or elsewhere, as follows:

2. Benjamin, b. 1764, in Epping; was a Revolutionary soldier from this town, 1781 and 1782 (see Lists); m. Abigail Sanborn, daughter of Josiah, July 27, 1786 (Woodman), who d. April 10, 1802, in her 32d year; lived in Orange, Vt., but d. in this town, Jan. 27, 1812, ae. 48.

58. Charles (2d), d. an infant, Oct. 5, 1821.

59. Joseph W[3] [45] (Joseph[2], Caleb[1]), m. Sarah A. Clark, dau. of John[3] (see p. 150 [290]), at Sanbornton, Jan. 13, 1845 (Bodwell). (We give a more extended sketch of his military career which has come to hand, partly as a specimen of what might be assigned to other heroes in the late war among the "sons of Sanbornton") He had been an overseer in the Atlantic Mills, Lawrence, Mass., and enlisted as 1st lieutenant in Co. F, 1st Mass. Heavy Artillery, early in 1861, having been largely instrumental in raising this as one of the first companies of three years' men. Promoted to the captaincy of the same company, he was continually with his regiment, and justly regarded as one of the most fearless of its officers, till June 22, 1864, when he fell, before Petersburg, Va., in his 43d year, a ball entering his brain from a rebel sharpshooter, while he was fighting with his men, as he was accustomed to work at the guns as well as carry a sword! As soon as the ground was regained his comrades tenderly buried his remains, which were afterwards disinterred and brought home to Lawrence. The history of the war furnishes no better record of bravery and self-sacrifice. He was always happy, hopeful, and confident during the dark hours of the campaign, and proud of his company, while his regiment were proud of him. He never required his men to go where he was not willing to lead, — marching, fighting, suffering with them. But four days before his death, while in charge of a skirmish line, and obliged to fall back from lack of support, he took three of his wounded men that were unable to move, one by one, on his back, and carried them over "that plain of death" to the breastworks, where they were safe. It was this care of his men that endeared him to their hearts. In one of his last letters he said: "I am in an honorable service, and if occasion calls for it I must lose my life as easy as it would be to blow out a candle. I must obey my superior officers; I must lead my men; I must fight when led against an enemy of my country or the blessed old flag, and I shall do it with a will." His funeral was attended by a throng of people at the City Hall, in Lawrence, in charge of the city government and the Masonic Order. Consoling resolutions were afterwards passed by the Grecian and Tuscan Lodges, with which he was connected, as "a lasting and abiding recognition of their appreciation of his many merits and noble qualities" Children:

60. Helen Josephine, b. Nov 9, 1845, in Lowell; was m. to John H. Morse, in Sanbornton (Cong. meeting-house), Sept. 26, 1871 (Runnels). THE KNAPP FAMILY.

1. William[1] Knapp, the immigrant ancestor, was b. 1578, in England, and settled at Watertown, Mass., 1630. His son:

2. John[2], b. 1624; m. 1660; d. 1696, ae. 72. Of the next generation, —

3. Isaac[3], res'd. in Charlestown, Cambridge, and Salem, where his son,

4. Nathaniel[4], was born May 4, 1713; res'd., 1st, in Salem, but finally settled in Newbury, Mass.

5. Isaac[5], son of the last, b. Dec. 27, 1747, in Newbury, was a sea captain, and rem. from Newburyport between 1803 and 1812, to take possession of the school land which his son [12] had previously purchased, and began to improve (having built a small house), on the farm now owned by Moses Leighton, near the Bay, Lot No. 20, 2d Div. His first wife, Susanna Newman, whom he m. April 24, 1770, was

b. about 1750, and d., in town, Aug. 12, 1807, ae 57. Her epitaph reads: "Faithful, affectionate, benevolent, devout, loving, and beloved, her death was full of immortality." He m., 2d, Dolly Stanwood, March 31, 1808 (Crockett), who is said not to have been a favorite of his son, William! She d. Aug. 2, 1818. He d. March 22, 1830, ae. 82—3, and inscribed on his gravestone we find: "Intelligent, uncompromising, humane, upright. During the voyage of life, truth was his compass; the Bible his chart." Children:

6. Isaac, b. Oct. 15, 1771, d. young.

7. Jacob Newman [12], b. Nov. 7, 1772

8. Benjamin N., b. April 23, 1776; m. Elizabeth dau. of George Hancock, of Northfield, who was b. Sept. 26, 1780, and d. June 8, 1859, ae. 78—8—12. (Her mother, Sarah, was b. Feb. 10, 1759, and d. Jan. 15, 1860 ae. 100—11—5.) He left for the West (Ohio) about 1812, where he is supposed to have d. soon after, 1814 (?). Besides one child, 1. who d. young, they had: — 2. Susan Newman, b. July 24, 1799, d., unm., with her cousin William Hancock, at Franklin Falls, Oct. 12, 1876, ae. 77—3, of whom Dr. H. W. Bellows says: "If there be a high place reserved for lowliness and obscure, but exalted, worth, surely she has already attained to it."

9. William, b. 1780 (?); was an eccentric character, and a remarkable rhymester (see "Specimens of Sanbornton Poetry"); lived, after 1815, as a hermit, in a small house built for himself, near the Bay shore, between two hillocks named by him "Mt. Hemlock" and "Mt. Ivory"; d., unm., March 4, 1823, and desired "his shoes to be buried with him." "Horse Point," on the opposite shore of the Bay, was the scene of his rescuing a man and his horses from drowning, one spring.

10. Samuel Lorenzo, b. Jan. 19, 1784; grad. Dartmouth College, 1804; was a lawyer in Newburyport, Mass., 1809-17; then rem. his office to Boston, and went to New York City in 1827. He m. Mary Ann, dau. of Gen. Amasa Davis, of Boston, July 18, 1814, and had two daus., both since deceased, leaving families. He returned to Sanbornton to "improve his father's place for a summer residence," built an artificial fish pond, and commenced "a costly, fantastic dwelling-house," which property fell to his older brother, and was sold to Moses Leighton (see), his house becoming the barn of Andrew W. Sanborn. He was eminent as a lawyer, an active member of the Massachusetts State Legislature, and during the last war with Great Britain commanded a regiment of State militia, in defence of the coast. Aug. 5, 1826, he delivered the eulogy on Adams and Jefferson before the municipal authorities of Boston; was a very popular public speaker, fluent, easy, winning, and graceful, and finds a place among "The Hundred Boston Orators," by J. S. Loring. But the best of his days were devoted to literature, and in defending the literary reputation of others; he has given a work in his "Lectures," on which his fame may securely rest. He received the degree of LL. D. from a university in Paris, France; was the author or editor of about fifteen different volumes, besides editing the Boston Monthly Magazine, and the Galaxy, jointly with J. T. Buckingham, and especially excelled as a writer of eulogies and sketches of character. He d., at Hopkinton Mass., July 8, 1838, ae. 54—6.

11. Joseph, b. Jan. 31, 1788; studied medicine; was M. D.; m.; settled, and practised at the South (South Carolina ?). Had one son: — 1. Joseph, Jr., who was also a physician.

12. Jacob N.[6] [7] (Isaac[5], Nathaniel[4], Isaac[3], John[2], William[1]), had preceded his father to Sanborntòn, having first commenced teaching in London at 16. The next summer (1790) he again started, with all his worldly goods tied up in a handkerchief, and after a weary walk of four days, was guided by a kind Providence to a house in this town, where he was engaged as a schoolmaster, began the next day, and taught four years in different districts. Was regarded as the "stripling," but the "favorite teacher"; won the prize at a reading contest in Northfield, at the raising of the meeting-house, over Masters Fuller, Clark, and an Englishman (the latter having a volume of Addison's "Cato," and challenging the others); was accustomed to marshal his classes "without speaking a word, by giving slight taps of his ferule on the desk." (See his sketch under "Schools.") From his small wages — $6 per month and board — he saved enough to buy 50 acres of woodland, on the 2d Div. school lot (as above), for his father, and personally secured the clearing of 10 acres, by fire and axe. Afterwards fitting for college at Andover, Mass., under Mark Newman, then principal, he was graduated with honor at Harvard University, in 1802. He studied divinity with Dr. Jedidiah Morse, of Charlestown, preached, but never settled, on account of a weakness in the eyes, and became a distinguished master of boys' schools, in Salem, 1803–12, and at Brighton and Jamaica Plain till 1822, when he retired to Walpole, and there res'd. till his death, July 27, 1868, in his 95th year. He m. Louisa Bellows, of Walpole, June 3, 1819, who was b. 1786, and d. in W., March 16, 1872. Eloquent tributes were paid to the memory of both, by their nephew, Rev. Henry W. Bellows, D. D., pastor of the All Souls' Church, New York City. Children:

162. Charles[6] [63] (Joshua[5], John[4], etc.), served his time in Concord as a tradesman, and was first established as a storekeeper at the Square, in the building afterwards used for a book-bindery and Masonic hall (finally burned). He was early engaged in Sanbornton as a newspaper and book publisher, editing the paper himself; and the elegant "Family Bible," which he published in 1837, would have done credit to later years and city establishments. He was an acknowledged leader in the affairs of the town, and did and devised much for the prosperity of the Square. In 1841 he rem. to Laconia; purchased and ably conducted the Belknap Gazette for several years; was clerk of the B., C. & M. Railroad Company from its organization till his death; was U. S. marshal for New Hampshire, under the administrations of Jackson and Van Buren, and served the State as town representative and State senator. In later years he did a large business as one of the most prominent insurance agents and adjusters in the State. "Physically speaking, he was a man of fine and commanding presence, with a large frame, surmounted by a head whose Websterian proportions and strong features betokened great intellectual ability. His rare gifts, combined with a genial and sunny disposition, won him hosts of friends" Stricken by paralysis, four years previously, and ever after an invalid, he d. at Laconia, March (?) 6, 1876, ae. 77—1, and his funeral was numerously attended, with extra trains bringing large Masonic delegations from Concord, Plymouth, and intervening places. 172. Joseph[6] [75] (Joseph[5], John[4], etc.), having lost his father at the age of 16, he commenced, after moving to Sanbornton, an apprenticeship as a tanner and currier, but made a public profession of religion, Sept. 8, 1816, and, strongly impressed that it was his duty to preach the gospel to the heathen, he began his preparatory studies with Rev. A. Bodwell, Jan., 1820. Afterwards attended the academy at Gilmanton, and for two years, from Sept., 1821, the Phillips Academy, at Andover, Mass. Graduated at the Bangor Theological Seminary in Aug., 1826, and Sept. 20 following was ordained as a missionary, at Sanbornton, with Bombay, India, as his prospective field of labor. His health beginning to decline, his destination was changed to a station among the Tuscarora Indians, in Western New York. He returned from this field June, 1827, and remained with his friends, at Sanbornton, in greatly impaired health, till Oct., 1828; preached in Franklin from Nov., 1828, till Feb. 20, 1831, and afterwards at Centre Harbor, Westbrook, Me., and Farmington. "As a pastor he was faithful, assiduous, and efficient, securing the confidence and affections of his people," but "as an agent in the cause of Christian benevolence he was most at home and best known." "Out of the nearly twenty-five years of his ministerial life, he spent not far from thirteen in advocating the claims of different benevolent societies, and the last ten years of his life was the valued secretary of the New Hampshire Bible Society." His maladies recurring in June, 1850, he continued in great suffering till Sept. 27, 1850, when "he sank quietly into the arms of death," at Brattleborough, Vt., ae. 53—7. His home, for some years, had been at Pembroke, where his old school companion and intimate friend, Rev. Benjamin P. Stone, late of Concord, preached a commemorative discourse, Oct. 13, 1850, entitled "The Peculiar Presence of God with the Good Man," from the text, Genesis xxxix. 2, f. c. This sermon was published by request. He was m. to Rebecca Philbrick, of Sanbornton, dau. of Reuben (see), Nov. 22, 1826 (Bodwell), who d. June 12, 1854, ae 49—3. THE LORD FAMILY,

"Lowd" being also found as the spelling in some generations. Several original ancestors are noted; among them, Nathaniel, of Kittery, Me, freeman, 1652, the probable father of Samuel, mentioned in Sullivan's "History of Maine," from whom are descended Hon. John, and his more distinguished son, the late President Nathan Lord, D. D., of Dartmouth College. Twenty-four of the name had grad. at New England College in 1821, eighteen at Yale, and the number has since been considerably increased, especially at Dartmouth. The progenitor of Lord, and other families in Sanbornton, was:

1. Robert[1], b. 1603; settled early, in Ipswich, Mass.; m. Mary Waite, 1630; was representative in the Legislature, and d. Aug. 21, 1683, ae. 80. His son:

2. Robert[2], b. 1631 ('32); m. Hannah Day; d. 1696, ae. 65, of whose children:

3. Thomas[3], m. Mary Brown, and was the father of

4. John[4], who settled at Exeter; m. Abigail Gilman, and had sixteen children, two of whom are represented in this town, viz., the father of Eliphalet below [17], name unknown, and

5 Robert[5], who was a farmer in Exeter; there lived, in a garrison house, for some time, during the Revolutionary war; m. —— Cram, a relative of Dudley Cram, who moved to Sanbornton (see p. 187 [1]), and d., in Exeter (as also his wife), in 1801. Children:

12. Robert, settled in Ossipee.

13. Samuel, moved to Vermont, and is remembered to have brought his produce down to the New Hampshire markets, customarily, in the winter season, in a large sleigh.

14, 15 James. Nathaniel, both lived and d. in Exeter.

16 Polly, the 11th and youngest; m. Daniel Cooley, of Exeter; rem. to Sanbornton, thence to New Hampton, and there both d.

17. Eliphalet[6] (——[5] (?), John[4], Thomas[3], Robert[2], Robert[1]), was probably born in Exeter, his father being known to have been one of the sixteen children of John [4]; is also said to have served in the Revolutionary war, though, in that case, his wife and known cousin, Hannah Lord [6], must have been several years his junior; may have settled temporarily in Exeter, but soon after in Deerfield, whence he followed his brother-in-law, John [26], to this town; settled, in the hatting business, at the present Shaker Bridge, and there d., Aug. 5, 1826. Another account makes him to have moved down East, whence he must have returned. She lived and d., with her son, Eliphalet, Jr., at Shaker Bridge. Of their twelve children, four, dying young, are not here given:

18. James, m. Marcia Durgin, dau. of Elijah (see p. 239 [107]), Dec. 4, 1828 (Crockett); lived near Shaker Bridge, as a stone-mason. She d. at Stoneham, and he now res. (1877) at South Reading, Mass. Ten children (seven sons).

19, 20. Lewis [29], b. 1788. Eliphalet, Jr. [38], b. May 1, 1790.

6. Ebenezer, b. 1677, d. 1759, ae. 82.

7. Joshua Lovejoy, Esq., who rem. to Sanbornton from Amherst, was b. 1744, and was probably a grandson of one of the above brothers, as he lived in Andover, Mass., as late as 1778, though his family is also said to have been of Scotch extraction, and himself to have been descended from a sister of "Lord Stirling, one of the early governors" of Virginia (?). He was a soldier; first in the old French war, when only 16 years of age, serving near its close; also in the war of the Revolution, "an officer, standing close by Gen. Warren when he fell," on Bunker Hill, and hence naming one of his sons [12] after that hero. He had been a deacon of the Congregational Church in Amherst, and took a letter to the church in this town, which was accepted Oct. 9, 1808, with that of his wife, though 1794 was the probable year of their removal hither. THE MARCH FAMILY.

1. "Mr. Hugh[1] March, carpenter," according to Coffin's History of Newbury, Mass., was undoubtedly the earliest ancestor in this country of the Sanbornton Marches. He was b. 1620; m., 1st, Judith ——, who d. Dec. 14. 1675; m., 2d, Dorcas Blackleach, May 29, 1676, who d. Nov. 22, 1683; m., 3d, Sarah Healy, Dec. 3, 1685, who d. Oct. 25, 1699, his widow. He had d. Dec. 12, 1693, ae. 73. Five children (1st wife), but from which of these sons the first Joshua, of Sanbornton, descended, cannot as yet be stated:

2, 3. George[2], b. 1646. Judith, b. Jan. 3, 1653.

4, 5. Hugh, b. Nov. 3, 1656. John, b. June 10, 1658.

6. James, b. Jan. 11, 1664.

(A John March was also admitted to the church in Salem, May 12, 1639.)

7. Joshua[4], b. 1729; was probably a grandson of one of the brothers last named, and hence in the fourth generation from [1]. He rem. from Newbury about 1776, and settled in Sanbornton with his son [16], where now his grandson [18]. His wife was Rebecca ——, b. 1732, and d., in this town, March 10, 1818, ae. 86. He d. April 24, 1809, ae. 80. Children, b. in Newbury:

8. Moses [12], b Oct. 29, 1752.

9. Hugh, b. Aug. 31, 1756; commenced the practice of medicine here in 1777, being the first physician that settled in the town. He was unm., and seems to have settled and chiefly res'd. with his older brother [12], on the place now occupied by Major D. C. Clough (Calef Hill), but being of an enterprising turn of mind, he bought small parcels of land, bidding them off for taxes, on Lot No. 79, 1st Div., and in other parts of town. He finally fixed upon a site for his house, nearer the Square, on the side of the Gulf Hill, Lot No. 37, 1st Div. (see Sites), where he had erected the frame of his dwelling-house (now J. B. Osgood's), before the failure of his health. "He continued to practise with success, highly esteemed and beloved by all who knew him, until 1781, when he was obliged to quit his business on account of ill health"; returned to Newbury, and there d., probably, in 1782, ae 26. "He was well educated, skilful in practice, quick of apprehension, and of sound and discriminating judgment, but a premature death cut short a life which bid fair for extensive usefulness." (Dr. J. B. Abbott's Sketches of Sanbornton Physicians.)

10. Jacob [16], b. July 17, 1760. (Also, probably, one dau., who appears to have come hither with her bro'hers, viz.:)

11. Judith, m. Summersby Pearson, of Boscawen, March 3, 1791 (Woodman).

12. Moses[5] [8] (Joshua[4], ——, ——, Hugh[1]), m. Judith Bartlett, March 6, 1777, who was b. in Newbury, July 9, 1757, and d. Feb. 27, 1844, of influenza, ae. 86—8. Settling on the former Folsom place, summit of Calef Hill, Lot No. 34, 1st Div., he became a man of mark in town, both locally and socially. He d. instantly, June 23, 1823, ae. 70—8. Children (t. r.):

13. Samuel, b. Aug. 19, 1778; m. Martha Creighton, Aug. 19, 1804 (Crockett); settled first with his father; then about 1814, in the northwest part of the town, farm lately occupied by Daniel W. Newton, Lot No 39, 2d Div., where he d. of dropsy, Sept. 10, 1841, ae. 63, leaving no children. She was b. THE MILES FAMILY.

1. Josiah Miles had come very early to town from Canterbury, his father being a noted hunter there; was a "major," and "kept tavern" on the old New Hampton road, owning a large tract of land, on which he was the first settler (present Dearborn place), and which he afterwards sold out to Messrs. Dearborn, Ellsworth, and others. He then lived for some time north of the Colby, present Giles place, Lot No. 10, 2d Div. (see Sites), and rem. thence to Wheelock, Vt., when his children were young. He m. Marah, oldest dau. of Esq. Daniel Sanborn (see), and the dates of births in the following list of their children, from our town records, probably indicate most of the years of his residence in town:

2, 3. Daniel, b. July 23, 1772. Elizabeth, b. April 26, 1774.

4. Comfort, b. Feb. 10, 1775, d. Dec. 8, 1776, in her 2d year.

9, 10. William, b. Aug. 12, 1786. Jonathan Sanborn, b. July 24, 1788.
11. Mariah, b. July 21, 1792.

12. Hannah, was probably a sister of [1], who accompanied her brother to this town, and m. Daniel Sanborn, Jun. (see). Perhaps, also, two other sisters were:

13. Sarah, m Jonathan H. Sanborn (see); and

14. Delia, b. Nov., 1765; m. John Sanborn (see); the three sisters of [1] being thus united to the three brothers of his wife. Another, 15. Hannah, m. Michael Smith (see); perhaps a niece of [1].

THE MOODY FAMILY.

1. William[1] Moody, the first of the name in this country, came from Wales as early as 1633; was first in Ipswich, Mass, and one of the original settlers of Newbury, in 1635, where he was admitted freeman, received 92 acres of land, and d. Oct. 25, 1673. He was a blacksmith, and the first in New England to shoe oxen so that they could walk on ice. Twenty-five of his name — mostly, if not all, his descendants — had grad. at New England colleges in 1826. Three sons:

2. Joshua, who was the first minister of Portsmouth.
3, 4. Caleb [5], b. 1637; and Samuel.

5. Caleb[2] [3] (William[1]), settled in Newbury, and represented the town, 1677–78. His son,

6. Caleb[3], b. Sept. 9, 1666; had a son

7. Benjamin[4], b. 1711; m. Anne Bradstreet, the dau. of Dr. Humphrey Bradstreet, of Newbury, about 1732, and d., in N., Feb. 23, 1802, ae. 91. His son,

9. Bradstreet[6] (Humphrey[5], Benjamin[4], Caleb[3], Caleb[2], William[1]), who was b July 25, 1770, in H. (probably), the seventh child and fifth son of his parents, with one brother and one sister younger. He served apprenticeship, in Newburyport, as a blacksmith, and came to Sanborntown Bridge at the age of 20, or about 1790. He m Ednah Gale, oldest dau. of Stephen (see p. 294 [31]), April 25, 1792 (Woodman), and settled, first, near the present saw-mill of Mr. Simons, above the Bridge, on the site of which he built originally his shop, and afterwards had a trip hammer, foundry, oil mill, and grist mill, all in one, carrying on the business of hoe and scythe, as well as oil making, quite extensively. He also owned and occupied the present Joseph Dearborn place, but his health became feeble, and, besides other misfortunes, his mills were all burned in the spring of 1814, with forty barrels of oil and a large quantity of coal. He is said to have been a devoted Christian in early life, and when he crossed the bridge, on arriving in town, "with his bundle under his arm, laying it down, he raised his hands in prayer to God for His blessing." Subsequently he became so involved in business, politics, and other distracting influences, as to lose apparently his early devotion, but he d., of laryngeal disease, in the triumphs of faith and of prayer, Jan. 11, 1835, ae. 64—6. His habitual kindness to the poor appeared especially in the settling of estates. He had continued to improve his education by self-culture, was much employed in town and county business, was seven years a member of the House of Representatives, from Sanbornton, a fluent and commanding speaker, and at one time was talked of for governor of the State, before his misfortunes came. His widow died June 15, 1836, in Brookfield, in her 64th year. His younger sister,

10. ABIGAIL[6], b. July 17, 1775 (June 19, 1774); m. Dearborn Sanborn (see). Children of [9] (t. r.):

THE MORRILL FAMILY.

1. Abraham[1] Morrill was of Cambridge, Mass., 1632; member of the Artillery Company, 1638; rem. to Salisbury, Mass., and there d., 1662. He is known to have been the ancestor of Gov. David L. and Judge Samuel Morrill, and was also, probably, of the other Morrills of New Hampshire, including those of this town. His son,

2. Jacob[2], was representative, 1689, and

3. Rev. Isaac[4], b., in Salisbury, May 20, 1718; grad. Harvard University, 1737; was probably a grandson of the last [2]. His son,

4. Samuel[5], grad. Harvard University, 1762, was the father of

5. David Lawrence, who was the governor of New Hampshire, as above noted, 1824–26.

6. Ezekiel[3], the earliest known ancestor of the Sanbornton family, may have been the father of [3], and the son of [2], enabling us to establish the pedigree, approximately, at least, as below. He is said to have been one of the proprietors of Salisbury, but this designation would more reasonably belong to his father or grandfather. His son was

7. Henry[4], b. 1715; from whose Bible, two volumes, "bought, 1772, at Newburyport, for $5.00," now in possession of his descendant, J. Wesley Simonds, we learn that he was a deacon; m. THE MORRISON FAMILY.

The Morrisons of Sanbornton, like those of Londonderry, Peterborough, etc., are probably of that noble Scotch race who had settled for conscience' sake in the North of Ireland, and were driven under the walls of Londonderry, in the famous siege of 1688–89. This according to one supposition,* and if correct,

* According to another, suggested by Hon. Charles R. Morrison, of Manchester, Daniel[1] Morrison, of Newbury, Mass., who d. Oct. 9, 1700, and his wife Hannah, may have been the parents of John[2] [4], their children being:

1, 2. Daniel, b. Aug. 6, 1691. John [4?], b. March 28, 1693.

3, 4. Hannah, b. Jan. 27, 1696. Ebenezer, b. Oct. 6, 1697.

5. Mary, b. March 20, ——.

(Coffin's "History of Newbury.")

The Hon G. W. Nesmith remarks that he found the Scotch accent of the Sanborn-

1. David[1] Morrison is their earliest supposed ancestor in this country, and is traditionally said to have first come "to some of the British colonies further south than Massachusetts," but "time of landing unknown." We know that 6,000 of the Scotch-Irish had landed in Pennsylvania by the year 1729, and that one stream of these "immigrants had moved into Virginia and North Carolina," of which the Jackson family; yet the fact of this ancestor's being found in Haverhill, Mass., would seem to imply that he may have been among those first immigrants of the same race who landed in Boston about 1718, and separated to Lunenburg, Casco Bay, and other localities. The company who thus went to Maine, not liking the country, came back to Haverhill, and the men there left their families, while they went to explore "Nutfield," afterwards Londonderry. It seems, therefore, not impossible that the said David[1] may have remained in Haverhill, from this company, being, perhaps, the brother of that

2. John[1] (Samuel) Morrison, whose five sons were of the same company, and all settled in Londonderry.

3. John[2], b. 1678, the oldest of the five, was afterwards in Peterborough, where he d., June 14, 1776, ae. 98 (see Smith's "History of Peterborough"). He, David[1] [1], also had a son,

4. John[2], who could not have been born in Haverhill, as some have affirmed, if his family, and the time of its coming to this country, are rightly given above, but probably in Ireland, like his supposed cousin [3]. His wife, however, Lydia Robinson, may have been b. in Haverhill, and they both there lived and d., himself in 1765 or '66. For the order, names, and number of their children, we are indebted to the "Morrison Book," being a manuscript record, especially of the descendants of Bradbury [119], as also of the "Morrison meetings" (see beyond). Besides the eleven following, there was a daughter, name not given, who never married:

5. Bradbury [16].

6. John, settled in Candia; had there a large family. A branch of the Sanbornton Dearborns (Tin Corner) is said to have descended from him.

7. Jonathan, d. young without children.

8. Daniel, settled in Gilmanton, and left several children, some of whose descendants may be found in Wolfeborough.

9. Ebenezer [23].

10. David [34], b. 1732 ('33), in Haverhill, Mass.; this being the only approach to an authentic birth date in the whole family.

ton Morrisons, on coming to this vicinity, not so peculiar or "broad" as of the Londonderry families, whom he early knew in Antrim and elsewhere, and this might argue the earlier origin. But the testimony of older members of the family in Sanbornton is so decisive as to the correctness of the main supposition of the text above, that we see no reason to change it. A very valuable general "History" of the Morrison name and family, with a "Genealogy of the Londonderry and other branches," will be found in the work on that subject, by Leonard A. Morrison, of Windham.

11. Jeremiah, "studied medicine, and went to some unknown region." Never afterwards heard from; and it "is feared that his fate was melancholy," as the result of "disappointed affection" (Morrison Book).

6. GEORGIE ISABEL, b. Nov. 15, 1843; m. David F. Cheney (see p. 129 [80]).

THE PEARSON FAMILIES.

Our record of these is quite fragmentary.

1. TAYLOR[1] PEARSON (spelled also "Pearsons" and "Parsons"), who lived in Exeter, is thought to have been the ancestor of most, if not all, bearing the name in this town, and was certainly the father of three brothers, whose descendants have been found here and in the edge of Meredith. He was twice m. Children (as above):

2, 3. TAYLOR, Jr. (?) [5]. JOHN [11].

4. DOLE [20] (2d wife), half-brother of the two preceding.

5. TAYLOR, Jr.[2] (?) [2] (Taylor[1]), of whom we only know that he m. Rachel Taylor, who, after his death, m., 2d, David Burley (see p. 60 [23]), and was the father of the five following:

6. TAYLOR, who settled in Meredith, near the present Lucrates Colby's; m Molly Leavitt. Children: — 1. Nancy, b April 17, 1775; m. David Hanaford, Feb. 10, 1794, who was b. July 28, 1771, and d. 1833, ae. 62. She d. Nov. 12, 1859, ae. 84—7, and was the mother of ten children, of the following names and order: — I. Peter (Hanaford), b. Nov. 18, 1794, d. July 14, 1833, in his 39th year. II Mary L., b. Jethro, Jr., b Sept. 24, 1801; learned the trade of shoemaker and tanner of Lieut. Perkins, and d. at home, unm., Oct. 11, 1828, ae. 27. 5. Burleigh, b. Oct. 14, 1803; learned the cabinet trade in New Hampton; afterwards travelled as a "profile taker," and d., unm., in Henniker, Oct. 23, 1825, ae. 22. 6. Hannah Parker Plumer, b. June 7, 1809; m. James C. Wadleigh (see). 7. Nancy Jewett, b. April 8, 1811; m. Jacob Smith (see).

Two daughters of [5] were:

9. Mary (Molly), b. 1769; m. Josiah Burley (see p. 65 [88]).
10. Martha (Patty), b. 1771 (?); m. Jonathan Smart (see).

11. John[2] [3] (Taylor[1]), had moved to this town before 1797, and settled on the Barnard Hoyt place, east of the present William Burleigh's, on old range road, south side (see Sites). His children, having mostly rem. to Littleton, he followed them, when between 70 and 80 years of age, and there d. Besides the eight following children, of whom we know little more than their names, one other d. young, by falling into the cellar through a trap-door, thus breaking its neck. Children:

12–14. Levi. Job. Nathaniel. (A child of his d. June 22, 1813.)

15. Abigail, m., 1st, Daniel Ames, of New Market, Oct. 2, 1809 (Crockett); m., 2d, Levi Wallis (see).

16–18. William, whose dau. d. Sept. 27, 1828. Edward. John.

19. Benjamin W., m. Mehitable Parker, of New Hampton, July 9, 1818 (Bodwell). Their child d. June 7, 1826.

20. Dole[2] [4] (Taylor[1]), had m. Hannah Fogg, sister of Ephraim (see p. 279 [1]), and first settled in Exeter, whence he came to this town, following his half-brother [11], about 1798 or 1799, and located east of the Hunkins neighborhood, Lot No. 80, 1st Div. His three daus. having rem. to Vermont, he finally took up his residence at St. Albans, Vt., and there d. Children:

21. Jethro, b. 1778; did not come to Sanbornton; was a tailor in Salem, and there d.

He presented a noble instance of the triumph of temperance principles solely by the grace of God, having once been an inveterate drinker, but having for fifty years abstained entirely from all stimulants, even tea, coffee, and vinegar, and presenting a wonderfully hale and hearty old age. He d. Jan. 21, 1879, ae. 88—4. Child: — 1. Rosilla J., b. Feb. 1, 1816; m. Dudley Cram, now Reuben Dudley (see p. 188 [18]).

28. Mary (Polly), b. Nov. 17, 1795; m. Jeremiah Sanborn, 4th (see).

THE PERKINS FAMILY.

1. Abraham[5] Perkins, called "Master Perkins," was b. in Ipswich, Mass., April 1, 1735. His father was Matthew, Jr.[4] (Matthew[3], Serg. Jacob[2], John[1]), whose earliest known ancestor, John[1], was b. 1590; came to New England, 1630; admitted freeman, at Ipswich, 1633; representative, 1636, and d. 1654. Elsewhere in Massachusetts, there were also Abraham, admitted freeman, 1640, and Isaac, ditto, 1642. Forty-two of the name had grad. at New England colleges in 1826. Having early lost his father, his mother ("Widow Mary Perkins, published to James Gerrish, Dec. 12, 1740") rem., with her 2d husband, to Berwick, Me., then a frontier town, greatly exposed to Indian depredations. For a course of years, or during the war of 1744–48, he said he never knew of going to meeting, or any public assembly, except under arms. His only schooling was, for about six months, under Master Sullivan, the father of Gen. Sullivan, of Revolutionary memory. On one occasion, when the master went home from school at noon, he charged the boys, through apprehension of danger from the Indians, not to stir out of the school-house (the garrison-house was close by). Six of the boys disobeyed; went out by a brook to play, and were there waylaid by the Indians, scalped, and massacred. The others, who obeyed, and kept within the walls of the school-house, were safe, among whom was Abraham Perkins. He used to cite this as a warning to disobedient children, and during his thirty years of almost continuous teaching in this town he was enabled most effectually to inculcate and secure the strictest obedience, as well as the most excellent order, in all his schools. His early training among the scenes of Indian hostility had made him a natural soldier; hence he served himself with great acceptance as a soldier and officer in the Revolutionary war (see Records), and ever after displayed much military exactness and precision as a teacher. Though his constitution was feeble, and he never could endure constant manual labor on a farm, yet no one, it was said, could sustain the toils and privations of a soldier or pioneer life more successfully. He was, therefore, employed by the proprietors to cut out one of the earliest roads through town long before he thought of settling here (see Prop. Hist.). Learning the shoemaker's trade, he moved, in that capacity, from Berwick to Exeter, and thence to Sanbornton, in 1774, with his family of eight children, having m. Mrs. Mary (Sanborn) Fogg, dau. of Jeremiah[5] Sanborn (see). He here took the lot on which his wife's former husband, Mr. Fogg, had first located, — log-house a little northeast of the late Chase Perkins residence. He continued his trade after he came to this town, working nights and mornings. His "lap-stone," brought to town with him, as also his "rubbing-stone" (a kind of sandstone), and "shoulder-stick" are in possession of his great-grandson [21], 1880. He used to tan his own sheepskins white, in salt and alum, and made chiefly women's shoes. Was very quick in his movements, and of slender build, never weighing over 150 pounds, and the last of his life not more than 125, yet he most effectually governed the stout young yeomanry of Sanbornton! He was sparing in his diet, and fond of robins, shot for him by his grandsons, in his latter days. He finished his last school, on the Calef Hill, only the Saturday night before he d. (Aug. 16, 1804, ae. 69—4), and returned home with the expressed presentiment that his lifework was done, and that he was entering his dwelling never again to go out of it. He was buried on the original Sanbornton Square, north of his land; remains afterwards moved down to his family lot. His influence in forming the character of the Sanbornton population, in his own and the following generations, was hardly second to that of any minister of the gospel who ever res'd. in town. She d. May 25, 1823, ae. 90—4. Children:

2. Anna, b. Nov. 8, 1758; m. Philip Hunt (see p. 378 [13]).
3. Jonathan [10], b. Oct. 17, 1760, in Exeter.
4. Esther Jane, b. Aug. 3, 1762; m. Jonathan Morrison (see p. 498 [47]).
5. Ruth, b. July 21, 1764; m. Jacob Thomas (see).
6. Meribah Fogg, b. June 26, 1766; m. Nathan Hoyt (see p. 363 [110]).
7. Lydia, b. April 17, 1768; m. John D. Sanborn (see).
8. Theodate, b. April 13, 1770; m. Samuel Sanborn (see).
9. Matthew, b. Nov. 18, 1772; served his time in Newbury, Mass., as a tailor; then followed the sea three months; had been to one of the West India Islands, and on his way home, when near Newburyport, fell overboard while dipping a bucket of water, and was probably caught by a shark, 1793-94, ae 21.
9½. Mary B., b. Sept. 27, 1774, in Sanbornton ("Master Perkins's ninth child"; heard of too late for insertion in numerical order), d. Sept. 5, 1775, ae. 11 mos., 8 days.

10. Jonathan[6] [3] (Abraham[5], Matthew[4], Matthew[3], Jacob[2], John[1]), enlisted in the Revolutionary service for nine months, in 1780, and went to West Point; m. Hannah Taylor, dau. of Chase (see), Oct. 7, 1782 (Woodman). He was "lieutenant," and a farmer on his father's homestead; a great Bible reader; enjoyed his senses and faculties, and was "bright and cheerful to the last." He d. "of old age," July 25, 1852, in his 92d year, having "never been confined to his bed by sickness, for a single day!" She d. Sept. 15, 1837, of consumption, in her 76th year. Children:

11. John Brewer [17], b. May 16, 1784.
12, 13. Chase [22], b. March 11, 1786. Matthew [25], b. June 17, 1788.
14. Phebe, b. Dec. 3, 1791; m. Samuel Harper (see p. 327 [12]).
15. Sally M., b. March 31, 1804, d., unm., at her brother's, in this town, May 9, 1863, ae. 59—1.
16. Abraham, b. Oct. 13, 1807; joined the family of Shakers, at Enfield, in 1827, and has risen to prominence and distinguished usefulness in that community, both at E. and Canterbury, as a preacher and temporal adviser.

17. John B.[7] [11] (Jonathan[6], Abraham[5], etc.), m. Comfort Sanborn, dau. of Dr. Benaiah (see), May 9, 1808 (Bodwell); carried on the joint farming and tanning business, with his brother [22], till 1834; since then has res'd. on farm southeast of Square, old road to Union Bridge (Lot No. 41, 1st Div.), where she d., a true mother in Israel, March 12, 1873, in her 84th year. No other individual has lived so many years in Sanbornton, from birth, or as a citizen voted so many times at its town meetings (in all, 72 years), "casting his first Presidential ballot for De Witt Clinton vs. James Madison, in 1808," and attending every similar election till that of Hayes and Wheeler, in 1876. He held breaking-up plough or drove the team for 77 years in succession, and was remarkably vigorous and active, riding horseback (and breaking colts) till 88 or 90 years of age, and wholly making a pair of boots since exceeding the age of 90! He has of late years (1879) made frequent visits upon his friends in this and the neighboring towns, ever diffusing sunshine and cheerfulness, winning all hearts by his sociability, commanding universal respect for his good judgment and intelligence. He has, with his vigorous mental faculties and accurate memory, afforded far more essential aid than any other one person to the writer of this genealogical history. For the six last years his birthday was regularly celebrated, at his request, by a social evening prayer-meeting, fully attended by friends and neighbors, at his house. He d. Feb. 2, 1880, in his 96th year. Children:

J. B. Perkins

18. Juliann, b. Jan. 15, 1810; m., 1st, Jonathan H. Taylor (see); m., 2d, Joseph W. Lang, Esq., merchant, of Meredith Village, Nov. 8, 1866

19. Frederic Trenck, b. Aug. 16, 1811; was grad. at Yale College, 1839 and at the Yale Theological Seminary, 1842; was ordained and installed over the Evangelical Congregational Church, in East Cambridge, Mass., Jan 11, 1843; was afterwards settled at Williamsburg, Mass., and Galesburg, Ill.; stated supply at Naugatuck, Conn.; and now (1875-81) acting pastor of the Congregational Church in Tilton. He has also ever taken a deep interest in the old church of his native town, preaching its "centennial sermon," Nov. 12, 1871. He m., 1st, Harriet T Olmstead, of New Haven, Conn., Oct. 18, 1842, who d. at Williamsburg, Mass., Sept. 9, 1859; m., 2d, Eliza Olmstead (sister of 1st wife), Oct. 2, 1860. Children (1st wife): — 1. George Henry, b. Sept. 25, 1844; grad. at Yale College, 1867; at Yale (Sheffield) Scientific School, 1869; is now (1869-81) Professor of Natural Sciences in the University of Vermont, at Burlington. He m. Mary J. Farnham, of Galesburg, Ill., Aug. 16, 1870. Children: — I. Hattie Olmstead, b. Oct. 3, 1871, d. at Burlington, of diphtheria, Dec. 6, 1876, ae. 5—2. (Herself, father, grandfather, and great-grandfather — four generations — were taken in the same picture but the summer previously. The youngest first called home.) II. Henry Farnham, b. May 10, 1877, in Burlington. 2. Frederic Lyman, b. Nov. 30, 1848; an architect by profession, in Burlington (1880).

20. Matthew, b. Feb. 19, d. April 10, 1817, ae. 2 mos.

21. John, b. Aug. 6, 1827; m. Caroline W. Sanborn, dau. of William T. (see), Jan., 1851; was a farmer with his father, they being, as supposed, the twelfth consecutive owners of the same place, on which he still continues; served in the war of the Rebellion, in Louisiana, enlisting in Company H, 15th N. H. Regiment, Oct. 31, 1862; mustered out Aug. 13, 1863. Child: —

1. Fred. Cordis Taylor, b. Oct. 15, 1864, d. April 12, 1875, ae. 10—6. A child great promise; beloved for his combined amiability of disposition, manliness of character, and a thoughtfulness, sagacity, and reverence rarely manifested in one so young.

22. Chase[7] [12] (Jonathan[6], Abraham,[5] etc.), was physically a noble specimen of a man, and one who always stood high in the affairs of his native town, both civil and ecclesiastical. The Revolutionary stories he used to hear from his grandfather, father, and numerous uncles on both sides, who were in the war together, made a deep impression on his youthful mind; "he seemed to be almost among those scenes himself," and was thus prepared to act the most prominent part of any of his townsmen in the service of 1814, leading the light infantry company as its captain, to Portsmouth (see War History). (The writer acknowledges that it was the conversation of Capt. Perkins which first suggested the idea of the present annals.) He m. Susannah Taylor, dau. of John (see), March 1, 1810 (Crockett), who d. Sept. 10, 1860, in her 73d year.

"Here sweet be thy rest, till He bid thee arise,
To join Him in triumph, ascending the skies."

He retained the ancestral homestead, and there d., with his son [24], May 1, 1870, ae. 84—2.

"His Lord and ours will come, and then
This lifeless dust will live again."

Children:

23. Hannah Hutchins, b. Dec. 28, 1810; m. Benaiah Sanborn (see).

24. Thomas Webster, b. June 20, 1813; res'd. with his father till after the latter's death; now living (1874–80) in Concord, a member of the South Congregational Church. He m. Esther Woodman, dau. of Joseph (see), Sept. 11, 1836 (Bodwell). Children: — 1. Hannah Hutchins, b. March 24, 1841; m. George C. Boutwell, son of the Rev. James (see p. 46 [12]). 2. Chase Woodman, b. May 28, 1848, d. Aug. 25, 1867, by drowning, at Laconia, ae. 19—5. He was a young man of marked virtues, amiable disposition, and brilliant prospects in the promising business life he had just commenced at Laconia. His sudden death cast a gloom over both communities, Laconia and Sanbornton.

"Oh! be Thy name adored
For all Thy dealings. In Thy purpose deep
A blessing lies, unscanned by us who weep
Amid these shadows."

25. Matthew[7] [13] (Jonathan[6], Abraham[5], etc.), m. Jane Little, of Shirley, Mass.; was a lawyer of decided talent, living at the Square, where now Mrs. Heath. A Fourth of July oration of his was published. He d. Aug. 17, 1826, ae. 38—2, in New York. His oldest child had d. July 3, 1818. One other,

THE PHILBRICK OR PHILBROOK FAMILIES.

Three Branches. — I.

The name is spelled "Philbrook" by some of the branches in Sanbornton, who strongly urge that as original and correct; others insist as strenuously upon "Philbrick," which has more authority from the old records.

1. Thomas[1] was doubtless the immigrant ancestor of the Sanbornton Philbricks, at Hampton. His wife's name was Elizabeth; "was m. and had children grown when he came to this country," from Lancashire, with Saltonstall, to Naumkeag (Salem); then to Watertown, and finally to Hampton, as above. His will was made March, 1664; "proved 8, 8, 1667" (i. e., Aug. 8). Of his sons,

2. John[2], "was lost, with his wife, in a boat going from Hampton," in 1657; and

3. James[2], m. Ann Roberts, of Dover; was a mariner, and also "drowned in Hampton River." His oldest son,

4. James[3], m. Hannah Perkins, of H.; a mariner. Their eleventh child and eighth son,

5. Nathan[4], b. Aug. 19, 1697; m. Dorcas, dau. of James Johnson; lived at Hampton and Rye; d. April 23, 1794, ae. 96—8.

6. Benjamin[5] (Nathan[4], James[3], James[2], Thomas[1]), was the third child and second son of [5]; m. Sarah, dau. of Shubael Page, of Hampton, Dec 15, 1751, and there first lived (at Little River). He was father of the seven enterprising brothers who came early to this town, whom also he eventually followed, and here d., with his son [12], Jan. 23, 1808. She d. 19. David[6] [11] (Benjamin[5], Nathan[4], James[3], James[2], Thomas[1]). Of his first coming to town, see under [9]; near that time, while clearing his farm, which he continued to do after his brother's death, he used to come from North Hampton on foot, bringing his provisions on his back, stay a week, and then return. He was a tanner by trade, and shoemaker. His earliest dwelling in Sanbornton, where he made his first shoes, was a little shanty erected on the south side of road from his subsequent homestead (now Ethan Philbrook's, Lot No. 45, 1st Div.), and lighted by a single pane of glass! He had been converted between the age of 16 and 21, before he came to this town; was a very earnest Christian; a deacon of the original Bay Baptist Church, and was accustomed to hold meetings in his own house and at various other places. * A pleasing incident is related of the adoption of this child. Rev Mr. Woodman had said, at its mother's funeral, "The Lord will raise up some one to be a mother to this little girl" (now less than two months old). Mrs. Piper, on returning home that night, was sure it could not be herself, for she had three little ones of her own; but early the next morning her vigorous direction was: "Sir" (addressing her husband), "put the saddle on the horse; I must go down to Mr. Mason's." She brought back the motherless little one, who was ever after treated as one of her family, and presented with a silver spoon and beads at eighteen, as were her own daughters.

THE PLUMER FAMILY.

1. Francis Plumer came from Wales, 1633; adm. freeman, May 14, 1634; settled in Newbury, Mass.; was thrice m., and d. Jan. 17, 1672. His brother,

2. Samuel, b. 1619; adm. freeman, 1641; representative, 1676. From this branch,

3. Hon. William, governor of New Hampshire, 1812 and 1816–18, and M. C., was descended, and probably the Plumers of Sanbornton and vicinity also, as some of the name in town are known to have been connected with the governor's family.

4. Jesse Plumer was b. Sept. 18 (28), 1740 ('42); m. Sarah Merrill, who was b. April 16, 1739; rem. from Londonderry, 1777–79, first settled in the Woodman house, near the present Giles place, "minister great lot," and three years later took up his permanent abode in the edge of Meredith, near Sanbornton, where she d., Aug. 15, 1824, ae. 85—4, in this town, and he followed, Dec. 26, ae 84—3. (So closely identified was this family with Sanbornton, — the so-called "Plumer neighborhood" extending into our town, — that we give it nearly as a Sanbornton family.) Children:

5, 6. Nathaniel [16], b. May 29, 1764. Moses [26], b. Oct. 20, 1765.

7. Molly, b. Nov. 27, 1766; m. Capt Elisha Piper (see p. 576 [62]).

8, 9. Jesse [32], b. Feb. 6, 1768. Amos [40], b. Sept. 11, 1769.

10. Nathan [43], b. Oct. 3, 1772, in Newbury, Mass.

11. Joseph, b. Oct. 28, 1774, in Londonderry. An inborn fear of human beings seems to have driven him into solitude, and for nearly threescore years and ten he lived alone, being widely known as the "hermit of Meredith Hill." He commenced his career at the age of 21, by buying seven acres of land at the foot of the hill, not far from the Fox place. Here he built his first house, in a solitary forest, with a massive bank wall extending towards a brook, and all with his own hands. The deep circular cellar is still seen unimpaired (1878), and the identical ladder with which he used to descend, in partial preservation. The great freshet of 1826 overflowed his premises, and so alarmed him that he rem. three fourths of a mile to a larger tract of wild land, forty-three acres, which he had purchased, where he rebuilt his house, more in the heart of the forest, but near the Sanbornt on line, and there continued till his death, Dec. 3, 1863, ae. 89—1. His epitaph reads: "Content with seeking happiness for himself only, he lived in seclusion; he died alone. Peace to his ashes, and rest to his soul." And yet he contributed greatly to the entertainment of thousands of visitors, during his last thirty or forty years, discoursing intelligently with theological students upon Bible themes, and weighing all the ladies by a simple contrivance of his own invention! Pages might be added of curious and interesting facts respecting himself and his surroundings. To Sanbornton Square he was accustomed to come for purposes of trade, driving a solitary steer, reined by the horns! He left property to the value of $2,200, with money secreted in various places about his premises, which was divided among his thirty nephews and nieces. It was the greatest grief of his old age that his domain should be invaded by the building of the new Meredith Road from North Sanbornton, and the following, among other lines of complaint, were in part suggested by this affair:

"Iron stoves and wooden clocks,
Awful storms and dismal shocks,
Railroads and turnpikes through the land,
Forebode destruction near at hand."

THE PRESCOTT FAMILY.

The very elaborate and valuable genealogy of the Prescott name in this country, by the late Dr. William Prescott, of Concord, leaves nothing to be desired by way of ancestral information. The Prescotts of this part of New Hampshire are there shown to be descended from

1. James[1], of Hampton, who there settled from Lincolnshire, Eng., in 1665. Confining ourselves to those branches which were more or less intimately connected with Sanbornton, we commence with

2. Samuel[3] (James, Jr.[2], James[1]), b. March 14, 1697, who m. Mary[4] Sanborn (Joseph[3], John[2], John[1]), and lived at Hampton Falls. Of their children (all sons):

3. John [6], b. Dec. 12, 1723. (Third child.)
4. Joseph [8], b. Nov. 17, 1725, at Hampton Falls. (Fourth child.)
5. William [14], b. June 21, 1728, at H. F. (Fifth and youngest child.)

6. John[4] [3] (Samuel[3], James[2], James[1]), m., 1st, Hannah Rundlett, of Epping, and is merely introduced here as a connecting link for the sake of his first son and child:

7. Jonathan [24], b. May 3, 1748.

8. Joseph[4] [4] (Samuel[3], James[2], James[1]), m. Molly Norris, of Hampton; settled, first, at Hampton Falls; then at Epping, where all his children were born; was a member of the Provincial Congress of New Hampshire, at Exeter, from Epping, in 1775; signed "Association Test," 1776; was a major, in the Revolution, of Col. Stephen Evans's regiment, and present at the battles of Bennington and Ticonderoga, and at the surrender of Burgoyne. He moved to Sanbornton in 1783; located, first, a little north of the Piper place, southeast corner of Lot No. 35, 2d Div. (see Sites), and in April, 1788, on the highlands in northwest part of the town, called the "New State," homestead now occupied by his great-grandson [83], and the Knox farm. THE ROBINSON FAMILIES. — Three Branches. — I.

The surname Robinson, with its cognate Robertson, has been a very common one on both sides of the Atlantic, and any attempt to trace all the Robinsons of America to "Pastor John," of early Puritan memory, must prove unavailing. Exeter seems to have been the hive of two of the three distinct families of the name identified with Sanbornton (Branches I. and III.), and perhaps, originally, of the third (Branch II.). Three of the name were also "grantees," Jonathan, Sen. and Jr., and Josiah, all of Exeter. Our early settlers, Benjamin (I.) and John (III.) may have been related to them, but the fewness or entire absence of Jonathans and Josiahs in the families of these settlers, and the fact that none of them settled right upon, though some quite near, the lots granted, serve to make this connection a matter of uncertainty.

1. Benjamin Robinson, Sen., is supposed to have come from Exeter at the same time with his son [3], with whom he settled. His first wife here d., March 14, 1798, and he m., 2d, Mrs. Elizabeth, widow of Dea. Ebenezer Colby (see p. 171 [117]), her fourth husband, Oct. 1, 1799 (Crockett). He d. (probably) Dec. 7, 1809, and she (probably) Dec. 8, 1822. Children of his, who came to this town:

2. Levi [6], b. Sept. 18, 1753.

3, 4. Benjamin, Jr. [16], b. Dec. 25, 1755, in Exeter. William [21].

5. James, b. 1772 (?); was insane, but lived on the same lot with his father, northwest of the present Clay place He d., unm., of palsy, Aug. 31, 1845, ae. 73; or, possibly, Dec. 20, 1846, as a "Mr. James Robinson" then also d.

6. Levi[2] [2] (Benjamin[1]), came "originally from Exeter," and had settled in Sanbornton prior to July 13, 1783, as his wife Mary Leavitt(?) (b. 1756, d. June 18, 1812, in her 57th year) on that day united with the Congregational Church, on profession of faith. He located east of Hunkins's Pond (Lot No. 8, 1st Div., Site 1), and afterwards joined the same church, being baptized "by immersion, by Rev. Mr. Woodman" (probably in said pond), Nov. 22, 1791. This was the occasion of a sermon by Mr. W. on "Christian Charity," etc., which was afterwards printed. He rem. early to New Hampton. Was in the Revolutionary war, as he used to come to Sanbornton annually for his pension, of Esq. Charles Lane, till his death, in N. H., Oct. 22, 1849, in his 97th year. Children:

THE ROLLINS FAMILIES. — THREE BRANCHES. — I.

Judging from the number of this name — no fewer than nine — among the grantees, our town might originally have been called "Rollinstown," next on the score of propriety after "Sanborntown." We first give a list of those proprietors, who, with their successors settled in town, were probably all descended from James[1] Rollins, or Rawlins, of Dover (1644–91). The "Rollins Genealogy" has essentially aided us in the work of identifying and tracing the following grantees, to whose names are first appended their number or order on the original petition of 1748, and then the numbers of the lots, first and second divisions, drawn by each:

1. JONATHAN[4] (Moses[3], Thomas[2], James[1]), No. 44 on Petition, Lots Nos. 8 and 69; was b. Jan. 19, 1703; lived in Stratham, and there d., Nov. 19, 1797, in his 95th year.

2. JOSIAH[4] (Benjamin[3], Thomas[2], James[1]), No. 48, P., Lots 74 and 48; of Exeter; carried provisions to scouting party and garrison at Canterbury, in 1746.

3. AARON, of Exeter (see [III., 66]), No. 2, P., Lots 78 and 46.

4. JOSEPH[4] (Joseph[3], Thomas[2], James[1]), of Exeter; No. 33, P., Lots 12 and 52; was doubtless the father of [9], and through his influence his son's name may have gone on to the original list, though under age (see [9]).

5. JOSHUA[4], of Stratham, was probably brother of the last [4], No. 55, P., Lots 65 and 65. (Same number of lot in each division.)

6. THOMAS[3] (Thomas[2], James[1]), No. 7, P., Lots 24 and 37; was b. July 14, 1671; the oldest of the Rollins grantees; was a lieutenant of Stratham; seven children (1st wife); m., 2d, Sarah, widow of John Sanborn, 1731; d. prior to (will proved) Dec. 29, 1756. His 2d Div. Lot settled by his grand-nephew (see [42]).

7. Caleb[4], oldest child of the last, No. 20, P., Lots 15 and 27; lived in Stratham; birth unknown; d. about 1785.

8. John, of Exeter, No. 36, P., Lots 81 and 44, cannot be certainly identified with any of the numerous Johns descended from James[1]. May be connected with the family of Nicholas Rollins, of Newbury, Mass., his oldest son John being b. Dec. 1, 1680, and residing in Exeter, 1702–9, and possibly afterwards. He m. Mary Thomas, of E., Oct. 9, 1702.

9. Joshua[5] (Joseph[4], Joseph[3], Thomas[2], James[1]), No. 22, P., Lots 48 and 30, is here introduced as the ninth and last of the Rollins grantees; also as the first or head of family for Branch I. among the settlers of that name. He was b. Oct. 4, 1729, son of [4] (see), and though but 19, in Oct., 1748, yet his name appears on the earliest List, and he was hence one of the grantees of Sanbornton, as above. He res'd. in Exeter; was a soldier in the old French war, Capt. Jona. Parsons's company, at Fort Edward, July 26, 1756, and is supposed to have d. in that service, leaving one child:

10. Reuben, b. Nov. 15, 1751, in Exeter (Epping?). He inherited and took possession of his father's 2d Div. Lot (No. 30), deeding north end to Jonathan Cawley in 1784; res'd., first, in Epping, and was a soldier from that town in the Revolutionary war, serving two years, Capt. Clough's company, Col. Stark's regiment, Gen Sullivan's brigade; was at the battles of Trenton and Princeton; settled in this town, south end of above lot, west of Clark's Corner (site east of Brook). He had m. Elizabeth Smith, 1778, dau. of Reuben (see), and d. in S., June 18, 1808, ae. 56—7. She also here d., after a long widowhood, Aug. 28, 1853, ae. 93—5. Children:

11. Joshua [24], b. March 19, 1779.

Funeral attended by the compiler, in the Free Will Baptist meeting-house, at New Hampton Village, June 22. The large and tearful assembly of teachers and pupils from the seminary, and others, showed how greatly she was endeared to all.

65. Marianne Weeks (Mary A. W.), b. Aug. 23 (28), 1827; m. Daniel A. Sanborn (see).

III.

66. Aaron[4] (Samuel[3], Thomas[2], James[1]), was probably the same as Aaron, the grantee (see [I., 3]), but if so, being b. 1727, the oldest son of Samuel[3], of New Market, he must have been settled in Exeter at the early age of 21 (1748), when his name was signed second on the original "Petition" ("Aran Rolins"), and must afterwards have res'd. in New Market, whence he rem. to Brentwood, in 1763, and thence to Deerfield, in 1770. Yet no other "Aaron" in the "Rollins Genealogy" answers to this grantee. He is known to have been the father of

67. Elijah[5], who was b. April, 1759, second son and child; came with his father to Deerfield, as above; served in the Revolutionary war, in the same company and regiment with his older brother,

68. Nathaniel[5], and was paid off at the same time. He (Elijah) m., 1st, Mary Prescott, of Kensington, 1779, dau. of Jesse and Sarah (Dearborn) Prescott; m., 2d, Mary, dau. of Moses Chase, of Deerfield, 1800; about that time migrated to Sanbornton, and settled on the Gibson lot, near Union Bridge, where his grandson, Wm. H. H. [85], has lately res'd. He was drowned in Sanbornton Bay, Dec. 19, 1809, ae. 50, while attempting to cross the ice off Bayley's Point. His widow survived till Oct. 25, 1822, and d. ae. 52—9. Children:

69. Ebenezer, b. March 22, 1781; m. Betsey Rollins, of Deerfield, and settled in Grafton. Eight children.

70. Betsey, m. Eleazer Ladd, of Deerfield.

71. Hannah, m. Josiah Leavitt; res'd. in Ohio.

72. Sarah, m. Simon Smith, of Deerfield.

73. Ruhama, b. Dec. 4, 1797; m. John Copp (see p. 186 [54]).

Both were teachers before marriage, at Union Bridge and elsewhere, he also since her death. He m., 2d, Mary J. Newton, May 19, 1880 (Yeoman). Child: — 1. Clara Alice (1st wife), b. May 9, 1873.

86. Charles E., b. Aug. 21, 1845; was employed in the Everett Mills, Lawrence, Mass., 1875; now res. (1880) in Lewiston (?), Me.

THE ROWEN FAMILY.

1. Andrew Rowen's name has ever been published in gazetteers and elsewhere as among the very first settlers of Sanbornton (see Sketches). He had m. Phebe Dow, and came from Amesbury, Mass., as did the Copp family, and both (to this town) within a few days of each other, having been in the fort at Canterbury together for some time previously. He was here to sign the "Petition of 1768," but not the "Association Test" of 1776, and early came in possession of part of the small Lot No. 82, 1st Div., between the late Jacob B. Philbrick's and the Bay, where the graves of his family are still seen. The "Point," hard by, also perpetuates his name, incorrectly called "Rohan's Point" on the county map. He d. Dec. 31, 1801 ("Old Mr. Roen," on the Thompson record), and she d. May 12, 1807. No list of their children has ever been found, but the names and probable order of births are as follows:

2. Andrew, enlisted in the Revolutionary war, April 21, 1777; d. in service, of scurvy, March 1, 1778.

3, 4. John [9]. Thomas, res'd. with Mr. Bamford, at Union Bridge, and there d., Nov. 11, 1818, unm.

5. Joseph, name appears, with that of [6], in one of the old Philbrick deeds. He d., unm., June 28, 1818, the last of his father's family, on the place of original settlement, in a little house near the "Boundary Tree" (Copp house?), Bay Shore, back of the late Misses Philbrick's.

6. Henry, d. at the old Rowen house, Dec. 8, 1809, unm.

7. Sally, m., and left the State.

8. Betsey, d., unm., in Sanbornton (almshouse), Sept. 20, 1851.

9. John[2] [3] (Andrew[1]), enlisted for the Revolutionary struggle, May 23, 1777; afterwards m. Sarah Hancock, of Northfield, and there lived till his removal to Wentworth, where he d. Children:

10, 11. John[3]. Phebe[3], m. David Sanders, of Wentworth.

12. Dorothy[3], m. Thomas[3] Copp (see p. 185 [45]).

13. Jacob[3], was a farmer in Wentworth; m. Mary Copp, dau. of Thomas[2] (see p. 183 [22]), Aug. 31, 1815 (Crockett); afterwards lived in Dorchester. He fell from a frame, twenty-six feet, in 1830, struck upon his head and laid bare the brain, but recovered, and finally d., in D., Feb. 21, 1875. Children:

14. Rachel, m. Addison Kimball, of Wentworth, and d. 1863.

15. Joshua, res'd (1875) with his mother, in Dorchester.

THE RUNDLET OR RANDLET FAMILIES.—Three Branches.

The spelling is interchangeable on our town records, though the former chiefly prevails. The families of Branches I. and II. are first given, because of the "Ranlett" orthography and earlier dates, though less numerous in town than the "Rundlets" of Branch III.

I.

1. Jacob Randlet was b. July 16, 1733, in Stratham, being the son of Theophilus and Sarah (Smith) "Randlett." He m., 1st, Jena (Jane) Hill, who was the dau. of Joshua Hill, and b. Feb. 10, 1731; m., 2d, Hannah Thompson, Jan. 26, 1768. Children (Stratham records):

2. Joshua, b. Nov. 10, 1756 (1st wife).
3. Jena (Jane), b. April 5, 1759; m. John Ellsworth (see p. 266 [16]).
4. Jacob, b. Nov. 17, 1760; settled in Gilford.
5, 6. Reuben [8], b June 21 (12), 1763. David, b. Dec. 26, 1768 (2d wife).
7. Hannah, b. Oct. 31, 1770; m. —— Barker.

8. Reuben[2] [5] (Jacob[1]), m. Hannah Ellsworth, dau. of Jeremiah (see p. 266 [4]), and rem. from Stratham to this town in 1791; settled in what is now New Boston (Franklin); first occupant of the present Charles Prescott place; was a farmer; again moved, to Bridgewater, and there d., July 8, 1840, ae. 77. She returned to live with her dau. [11], in this town, and here d., April 17, 1852, in her 92d year. Children:

Y., for about ten years, and has since (1874–81) been winning an excellent reputation as principal of the new State Normal School in Worcester, Mass. He m. Harriet T. Lee, of Lancaster, Mass., March 11, 1862. Children, b. in Le Roy, N. Y.: — 1. Lee, b Jan. 8, 1865. 2. Olive, b. March 23, 1867. 3. Philip, b. July 24, 1869. 4. Ernest, b. Sept. 28, 1871.

THE SANBORN FAMILIES.

No other name is so largely or more honorably represented, either among the original grantees, the first settlers, or the subsequent inhabitants of the town which has appropriately received therefrom its designation of Sanbornton. Authorities have differed as to the etymology, and formerly, among the fathers of our town, as to the spelling of the word; whether "Sandborn," indicating a pristine residence upon a sandy shore, or "Samborn," from a parish or hamlet of that name in England. It is, however, agreed that the original ancestor (traditionally),

1. John[1] Sanborn, was b. about 1600; m. the dau. of Rev. Stephen Bachilor, and lived and d. in Derbyshire, England. His widow, with her father and three sons, afterwards came to this country, landed at Boston in 1632; proceeded to Lynn, Mass., thence to Newbury, and, in 1638, to the old Hampton Colony of our State, where the grandfather, though over 70 years of age, remained a few years as the first pastor, with Rev. Timothy Dalton as teacher, and returning to England, there d., at the age of 100. The three sons of [1] were:

2. John[2], b. 1620 (?); was a lieutenant, and many years a selectman and representative to the General Court, from Hampton; m., 1st, Mary Tucke; m., 2d, Widow Margaret Moulton, and d. Oct. 20, 1692, ae. 72. Eleven children, seven sons. (His descendants, as traced in Sanbornton and elsewhere, are said to be of the John branch.)

3. William[2], Esq., b. about 1622; m. Mary Moulton; was also selectman and representative of Hampton, and there d., Sept. 18, 1692, a month before his brother, ae. 70. Six children, four sons. (His descendants constitute the Esq. William branch.)

4. Stephen, the third brother, is supposed to have returned to England with his grandfather Bachilor.

We propose, in this genealogy, to trace those of the descendants of [2] and [3], so far as possible, who were connected with our town, or whose lines have been projected through it. The race has ever proved a solid and reliable one, "contributing their full proportion to the bone and muscle as well as the intelligence, enterprise," and moral worth of this Sanbornton community, not less than of the parent colony of Hampton. We must despair of embracing all these descendants, even within the limits proposed, for as early as 1809 there were said to be sixty families by the name of Sanborn in the town. No fewer than 120 bearing the name have been enrolled as members of the Central Congregational Church, and it is presumed that the other church registers in town would show a similar record. We shall first enter the names, and, as far as needful for our purpose, the immediate families of the twelve Sanborns among the original petitioners of 1748, who were afterwards grantees of the town following the two branches in genealogical order. (In establishing the pedigrees, much assistance has been derived from the "Sanborn Genealogy," pamphlet edition, by Dr. Nathan Sanborn [431], of Henniker, which also supplies the foregoing coat of arms.)

Part I. — The Sanborn Grantees and their Descendants.

5. Daniel[5] (John[4], Richard[3], John[2], John[1]), grantee, fifth on the "Petition" of 1748; drew Lots 54 (1st Div.) and 80 (2d Div.); of Hampton, oldest son of Ens. John[4]; was b. Feb. 17, 1702; m. Catharine Rollins, Jan. 14, 1725, "both of North Hampton"; will proved June 20, 1787; was styled "Deacon." Children:

6. Phebe, b. Dec. 13, 1725; m. Reuben Gove Dearborn; d. 1797, in her 72d year.
7. Anne, b. Feb. 21, 1727; m. —— Thomas.
8. Catharine, b. June 1, 1728; m. —— Foss.
9. Daniel [79], b May 17, 1731 (grantee?).
10. Sarah, b. Nov. 2, 1733, d. Sept. 19, 1742, in her 9th year.
11. Rachel, b. April 25, 1736; m. Gideon Piper (see p. 576 [56]).
12. Thomas [649], b. May 17, 1738.
13, 14. Moses, b. June 8, 1740. Aaron [96], b. Feb. 8, 1743.
15. Sarah, 2d, b. Feb. 24, 1745; m. —— Jewell.
16. Abijah [107], b. March 4, 1748.

(Four or five of the above children are thus "traced" into Sanbornton.)

17. Ebenezer[5] (John[4], Richard[3], John[2], John[1]), grantee, thirty-ninth on the "Petition," Lots 68 and 62; seventh child and sixth son of Ens. John[4], b. March 4 (15), 1712. He was a man of prominence in Hampton, being town clerk, selectman, and sheriff of the county for many years. By trade he was a bookbinder, as well as tanner and shoemaker. A venerable tome, one of the first editions of "Calvin's Institutes" ever published in English, is now in the family of Deacon A. B. Sanborn [411], which was left with this great-grandfather, just before his death, to be rebound. But it was never called for, and hence has descended, still unbound, as an heirloom. He was also a commissioned officer in the old French war, under George III.; was a man of powerful frame; could fearlessly cower down all insults and violent attempts from such as would seek in private to satisfy their grudges against him for his public acts as a sheriff! He m Ruth[5] Sanborn [32], April 1, 1735, and d. April 9, 1794, ae. 82; settled two of his sons, [23] and [26], on his 2d Div. lot, while three others (as below) located here, and one of them [18] among the very first settlers. Children:

18. John, "Sergt." [112], b. Jan. 28, 1736, in Hampton.
19. Anna, b. March 26, 1737; m. Simon Dearborn; settled in Maine.
20. Josiah, "Col." [117], b. Aug. 19 (21), 1738.
21. Ruth, b. Sept. 24, 1740; m. Capt. Benjamin Leavitt, of North Hampton.
22. Elizabeth, b. Feb. 22, 1745; m. Gen. Moses Leavitt, of North Hampton.
23, 24. Benjamin [125], b. July 16, 1746. Ebenezer, 1st, d. young.
25. William [140], b. Jan 8, 1753, at North Hampton.
26. Ebenezer, 2d [151], b. April 15, 1755.

27. John[4] (William[3], William[2], John[1]). His honorable name stands first upon the "Petition" of 1748, "John Sandborn, of Hampton," and he drew Lots 42 and 40, the former going to the heirs of [29]; was b. Nov. 6 (16), 1680, the eldest child and only son of William[3] (Jr.), and Mary Marston; m. Ruth Robie, Dec. 10 (Nov. 11), 1701, and d. Oct. (Nov.) 30, 1767, ae. 87. She d. April 19, 1753. "He was a man of ability and influence; represented the town of Hampton many years in the provincial government," and was the intimate friend of Gov. B. Wentworth. His age and experience gave him the first place among the grantees, so that he was naturally delegated to obtain, from the Masonian heirs, the grant of the town of Sanbornton, Dec. 31, 1748 (see Proprietary History). Through the lines of both his oldest and youngest children, as below, he appears as the immediate progenitor of a larger number of the Sanborns, and of the inhabitants of Sanbornton, than any other man; and the town is thought to have been named in the honor of himself more than of any other individual. Children:

28. Jeremiah [33], b. Feb. 12, 1703 (grantee).
29. Anna, b. May 27, 1705; m. John Dearborn, Sept. 30, 1724.
30. Josiah [41], b. Aug 19, 1707.
31. John, b. June 14, 1711, d. Jan. 4, 1732, ae. 20—7.
32. Ruth, b. Aug. 15, 1715; m. Ebenezer [17] (see).

We re-enter the next generation of the above family immediately, so as to bring the two sons, who were grantees, into the same range, genealogically, with [5] and [17], grantees of the fifth generation, in the "John Branch."

33. Jeremiah[5] [28] (John[4], William[3], William[2], John[1]), grantee; nineteenth on "Petition," Lots 58 and 76, neither of which remained in his family. He m. Lydia Dearborn, Jan. 29, 1730; res'd. in Hampton, and was a man of great excellence and distinction in that part of the State. Children:

34. Anna, b. July 4, 1731; m. —— Cawley.
35. Mary, b Jan. 6 (17), 1733; m., 1st, —— Fogg; m., 2d, Master Abraham Perkins (see p. 549 [1]).
36. Abigail, b. March 25, 1735; m. Moses Leavitt (see p. 456 [24]).
37. Lydia, b. Feb. 26, 1737; m. Nathaniel Leavitt (see p. 456 [25]).
38. Jeremiah [161], b. July 7 (6), 1739.
39. John [176], b. Jan. 25 (23), 1742, in Hampton, not Exeter.
40. Ruth, b. May 7, 1744; m. —— Batchelder.

41. Josiah[5] [30] (John[4], William[3], William[2], John[1]), grantee, of Exeter; thirty-fourth on "Petition," Lots 73 and 58; was also the "proprietor's clerk" and treasurer. He m, 1st, Theodate Drake, Feb. 22, 1733 (perhaps m, 2d, Deborah Bowman (?), April 8, 1770), was a marked and very peculiar man; lived and d. in Exeter; there called "Josiah Dote," which sobriquet attached to his two grandsons (sons?), who settled in this town. It is said that he would "turn out" for nobody, "not even the minister!" (Rev. Mr. Thayer, of Hampton, on one occasion;) had a voice like a trumpet; was a generous-hearted man, in his way; would grant favors, but never on being specially asked therefor! No record of his family appears in the "Sanborn Genealogy." Is known to have had a son:

42. Josiah, Jr. [191 or 192], grantee (?). Perhaps, also, John (see [193]).

43. William[4] (Josiah[3], William[2], John[1]), is also here introduced, from the fourth generation, for the sake of his two youngest sons, one of whom was grantee, and both immediate progenitors of early settlers and present residents in town. He was the oldest child of Josiah[3]; b. March 2, 1682; m Elizabeth Dearborn, Dec. 20, 1704; probably res'd. at the "Falls" (Hampton). Children:

44. Ezekiel, b April 4, 1706; m. Elizabeth Melcher, June 5, 1731 (Exeter).
45. Daniel, b. Oct. 8, 1708; m. Abigail Prescott, Sept. 2, 1731.
46. William [50], b. Oct. 31, 1710 (grantee).
47. Hannah, b. Jan. 4, 1713; m. John Folsom, June 14, 1731.
48. Joshua [62], b. March 16, 1715 (Fam. Bible says "June").
49. Elizabeth, b. April 30, 1718; m. Alex. Satter (?), March 27, 1748.

50. William[5] [46] (William[4], Josiah[3], William[2], John[1]), grantee; fourteenth on the "Petition," Lots 49 and 19; was then residing in Exeter; m. Betsey Dearborn, Sept., 1731, making the fourth of his father's family married the same year. Children:

51. Simon [194], b. Sept. 28, 1736.
52. Betsey (Elizabeth), b. Aug. 25, 1738; m. Daniel Sanborn, of Tamworth, and there d., Nov. 6, 1816, ae. 78—2.
53. Hannah, b. March 30, 1740; m. Josiah Chase.
54. William, b. Feb. 19, 1742; m. Mary Moulton, Feb. 4, 1768.
55. Henry Dearborn, b. Dec. 28 (23), 1743; m. Betsey Sanborn, of Deerfield, July 17, 1769.
56. Mary, b. May (Sept) 19, 1745; m. Stephen Chace, of Deerfield.
57. Josiah [201], b. June 19, 1747.
58. Sarah, b. May 12, 1749; m. —— Cram.
59. Anne (Nancy), b. Aug. 15 (27), 1751; m. John Sanborn [176].
60. Theodate, b. Aug. 30. 1753, d. young.
61. Abigail, b. Oct. 3, 1755, d. young.

62. Joshua[5] [48] (William[4], Josiah[3], William[2], John[1]), m. Abial Sanborn [68]; lived in Epping, and d. "Dec., 1764," ae. 49—6. She d. "Dec. 16, N. S., 1811," ae. 90—3, in this town, with her son [64]. (These dates of deaths are from the family Bible of his son [64], accidentally found in this town after having been sold at auction many years ago.) Children:

63. Daniel [213], b May 6, 1752.
64. Phinehas, b. Dec. 28, 1756 (baptized as "Fines" on the Epping church records, Dec. 11, 1758); m. Molly Woodman, dau. of Capt. Joshua (see), who d. Dec. 20, 1834, ae. 76—4. He came very early to this town, and occupied the centre of Lot 19, 2d Div., where lately Jona. Sanborn, 3d, has resided, having probably purchased the same of his uncle [50], grantee, or his cousin [201]. He was a man much respected in that part of the town, and there d., childless, Jan. 12, 1835, ae. 78.

65. TRISTRAM [220], } b. Sept. 30, 1760, in Epping, { d. in infancy.
66. JOSHUA, }

67. JABEZ[4] (Josiah[3], William[2], John[1]), grantee of Hampton, 28th on "Petition," Lots 6 and 67, fourth child and second son of Josiah[3], hence brother of [43]; was b. March, 1691; m., 1st, unknown; m., 2d, Abiah Marston, and lived at the Falls. Of his children — eleven in number, eight living in 1768 — two, and possibly three, were also grantees, and, as seen in the "Identification of Lots," his own, 2d Div. Lot, No. 67, came into the hands of his son Abraham. We give the record of his children who were connected with Sanbornton:

68. ABIAL, b. Sept. 11, 1721; third dau., fourth child; m. (see [62]).

69. JOSIAH [73], b. March 21, 1723; fifth child; grantee (?).

70. MARSTON, b. March 25, 1727; third son, seventh child; grantee, of Hampton; fifty-ninth (last but one) on "Petition," Lots 62 and 72.

71. ABRAHAM, b April 7, 1729; fourth son, eighth child of [67]; grantee, of Hampton; twenty-ninth on "Petition"; Lots 23 and 36 (see also under [67]).

72. JONATHAN[4], grantee, of Hampton; forty-ninth on "Petition"; Lots 47 and 15; was most likely the brother of [67], and, if so, the seventh child and third son of Josiah[3] (William[2], John[1]), b. April 27, 1697, d., unm., March 2, 1757, in his 60th year; though he may have been son of Capt. Jonathan[3] (John[2], John[1]), b. April 28, 1700 (doubtful because of Kensington?), or, yet less probably, the first child of Richard[4] (Nathaniel[3], John[2], John[1]), b. Feb. 18, 1714.

(We have thus introduced the names of the twelve grantees who bore the name of Sanborn, though in respect to two others besides the one last given [72], there exists considerable uncertainty (see [73], [79], and [191]).

73. JOSIAH[5] [69] (Jabez[4], Josiah[3], etc), is re-entered here so as to bring his children, who settled in Sanbornton, into the same range, genealogically, with others of the sixth generation. His age would favor the supposition that he may have been the grantee instead of [191] (see), but less probably, as he was less probably "of Exeter." He m. Jemima ——; lived in Epping, and there d., 1770; will made May 29, and proved Oct. 31, in which he mentions his five children, as below, and his brother Abraham [71], as then of Exeter. Children:

74. MOLLY, b. Sept. 1, 1762; m. Dudley Gilman, of Gilmanton, who was b. Jan. 3, 1756, and d. April 3, 1820, ae. 64–3. She d. March 10, 1850, in her 88th year. Children: — 1, 2. Jeremiah and Molly (Gilman), b. Nov. 1, 1784. The former d. Aug. 3, 1788, in his 4th year. The latter m. Worcester Boynton, of Laconia, and d. Nov., 1841, ae. 57. 3. Bradstreet, b. Oct., 1786, d. Nov. 22, 1847, ae. 61—1. 4. Dudley, b. Dec. 24, 1788, d , in Laconia, 1873, in his 85th year. 5. Josiah, b. Aug. 14, 1790. 6. Charlotte, b. Feb. 15 (14), 1793; m. John S. Morgan (see p. 488 [20]). 7. Jeremiah Langdon, b Feb. 6, 1800, d. Oct. 1, 1805, ae. 5—8. 8. Matilda, b. Dec. 16, 1802, d. Oct. 6, 1805, in her 3d year. 9. George Washington, b. 1804, d. Oct. 2, 1805, ae. 1. (The three last all d. of dysentery.)

75. Josiah [230], b. July 8, 1764, in Epping.

76. Andrew [240], b. June 16, 1766, in E.

77. Jemima, b. Aug. 11, 1768; m. Jonathan Farrar, Feb. 20, 1783.

78. Rhoda, b. Dec. 21, 1769.

Sixth Generation. — John Branch.

79. Daniel[6], Jr. [9] (Daniel[5], Jo'n[4], Richard[3], etc.). If, as generally supposed, this was the Daniel, Jr., of Hampton, grantee, he was sixth on the "Petition" — name following that of his father, though he could not have been but 17½ years of age when he signed — and drew Lots 28 and 10. Should this be questioned (see under [72]), the honor of the granteeship must have fallen upon some other Daniel, who was of age, in 1748, — perhaps upon [45], in case he hailed from Hampton. It is now impossible to render the matter certain. He [79] is known, however, to have been most closely identified with the earliest settlement and history of the town. Being a young man of energy, and of a good education, he was chosen "survair," at the age of 21, for the committee who laid out the 2d Div. of Lots (1752), and thus became intimately acquainted with the surface and topography of the town. His name is also prominent in the other projects of the proprietors connected with the first settlement, and he built the first mill, in the spring of 1764. He had m. Lucy, dau. of James and Lucy Hobbs, 1751, and located in North Hampton. She was b. 1734, and d., in this town, July 15, 1813, ae 79. The time of their arrival, as a family, is fixed by the birth date of their ninth child [88], at the early summer of 1766, though he had come with some of his goods the February preceding; for it is affirmed that the horse which brought Mrs. S. to town was "driven hard," in order that she might arrive at his cousin Sergt. John Sanborn's [112], in season for the expected event! Meanwhile, he had gained possession of an excellent lot of land (No. 14, 1st Div.) near the present Square, and previously to their arrival had partially built there the first house, which was afterwards enlarged into the tavern stand, so long a landmark, and of late replaced by the present residence of Thomas M. Jaques. He also originally owned much of the land on the lots adjoining, on the west, and early had several of his children settled around him. By Petition of the Proprietors (see Gen. History), and also of the inhabitants, he was commissioned by Gov. John Wentworth, in 1771, as the first justice of the peace in town, being "most heartily recommended as the most suitable person for keeping and promoting peace and concord amongst the said inhabitants." Besides holding many other town offices, he was the first clerk elected by the town, in 1771, and for thirteen consecutive years, and then, after one intervening election, for eight additional years. He was also one of the original members of the Congregational Church. He d. July 26, 1800, ae. 69—2. Children:

80. Mariah, b. March 7, 1752; m. Josiah Miles (see p. 482 [1]).
81. Comfort, b. Nov. 4, 1753, d. April 5, 1754, ae. 5 mos., in Hampton.
82. Lucy, b. April 22, 1755; m. James Cate, Jr. (see p. 103 [10]).
83. Benaiah [252], b. June 5, 1757, at North Hampton.
84. Jonathan Hobbs [265], b. May 3, 1759.
85. Katharine, b. March 2, 1761, d. Nov. 4, 1778, ae. 17—8.
86. Daniel [275], b. Sept. 4, 1762.
87. James, b. April 4, 1764; m. Elizabeth Moore, dau. of William (see p. 485 [2]); was established by his father at upper end of the home lot, near the old meeting-house, now Cynthia Lane's; but was called into the government army service, after the Revolutionary war, and never returned. Is supposed to have d., and she m., 2d, Chase Weeks (see).
88. John [278], b. June 12, 1766. First person born in Sanbornton (see above).
89. Sarah, b. March 15, 1768; m. Nathan Smith (see).
90. Elisha [290], b. May 17, 1770.
91. Anna, 1st, b. April 26, 1772, d. April 13, 1777, in her 5th year.
92. Thomas, b. Feb. 9, 1775, d. Oct. 17, 1776, ae. 1—8.
93. Enoch Ely, b. May 26, 1777; called "Enoch, Jr.," at his death, March 6, 1795, in his 18th year.
94. Moses [303], b. Nov. 11, 1779.
95. Anna, 2d, b. Jan. 7, 1782, d. June 12, 1784, ae. 2—5.

96. Aaron[6] [14] (Daniel[5], John[4], Richard[3], etc.), m., 1st, Mary (Molly) Barter, May 20, 1764, who was b. Aug. 17, 1742, on one of the Isles of Shoals; must have come to town about a year after his brother [79], as he signed the "Petition" of Jan., 1768. Had purchased the valuable Lot, 39, 1st Div., directly south of his brother's, afterwards the Kimball place, and built first a rude cabin, and a few years after the stately two-story house which was a prominent landmark to those approaching the Square from the south, till 1874. Like many other early settlers of the town, he was a farmer, with a trade besides, — that of a tanner and currier; his tan pits being on the south side of the present highway, corner of W. D. Pike's pasture. Though a young man among the settlers, he evidently enjoyed their confidence, being elected, first, upon the board of their first selectmen, at their first town meeting, 1770, and variously at other times till 1783. His title changes from "Ens." to "Lieut." between 1775 and 1776 (town records), as in May of the former year he heads the list of the patriotic Sanbornton men who soon hastened to the scene of conflict after the battle of Bunker Hill, having previously been enrolled in Capt. Obadiah Clough's company, himself as first lieutenant. He was afterwards promoted to captain, and bore that title till his death, June 9, 1790, ae. 47—4. His first wife had d. Jan. 14, 1784, ae. 41—5, and he m., 2d, Susanna Gale, dau. of John (see p. 293 [9]), May 5, 1784 (Woodman), who afterwards m., 2d, Jonathan Judkins (see p. 411 [1]). Children (t. r.) :

97. Peter [307], b. April 7, 1766.

98. Molly (Mary), b. April 26, 1768; m. Archipphus Wheelock (see).

99. Anna, b May 19, 1770; m. Bradbury Morrison (see p. 504 [119]).

100. Betty (Betsey), b. Feb. 12, 1773; m. Asa Currier (see p. 201 [4]).

101. Phebe, b. Aug. 31, 1774; m., 1st, John Sanborn [651]; m., 2d, Jesse Plumer (see p. 581 [32]).

102. Deborah, b. Aug. 15, 1776; m., 1st, Ebenezer Cate (see p. 104 [36]); m., 2d, Maj. John Dearborn.

103. Abigail (Nabby), b. June 25, 1778; m. William Hayes, Jr. (see p. 332 [28]).

104. George Washington [313], b. July 1, 1780.

105. Hannah Huse, b. March 16, 1783; m. Capt. John Lane, Jr. (see p. 444 [123]).

106. Tryphena, b. Aug. 30, 1785 (2d wife); m. Samuel Lane, Jr. (see p. 440 [82]).

107. Abijah[6] [16] (Daniel[5], John[4], Richard[3], etc.), m. Mary Sanborn, Aug. 17, 1768, who was an early member of the Congregational Church, joining by letter, Jan. 2, 1772, he, with his two brothers, being among the original members a few weeks previously. He first settled on the later Colby and Col. Daniel Sanborn farm, Lot No. 78, 1st Div., and it was here that she proved herself the "heroine of the bears," and "did exploits!" (see Gen. History.) He afterwards rem. to the farm on Lot 52, 1st Div., near Sanborn Road, to which [140] and [409] succeeded, and there d., March, 1790, ae. 42. [Children (t. r.) :

108. Sarah, b. Oct. 9, 1769; m. Josiah Critchett (see p. 189 [2]).

109. Enoch, b. Feb. 24, 1773; m. —— Boyington, and rem. to Vermont.

110. Thomas, b. Aug. 2, 1777; m. Mehitable Gilman, and went to New York.

111. Molly (Mary), b. Feb. 23, 1780; m. —— Ellsworth.

112. Sergt. John[6] [18] (Ebenezer[5], John[4], Richard[3], etc.), has always had the honor accorded to him of being the first permanent settler in Sanbornton, i. e., of opening the first farm with the earliest improvements which looked towards other than a temporary residence. This was upon Lot No. 76, 2d Div , three fourths of a mile from the Bridge, which afterwards continued for more than a century in his family. Here he built his pioneer dwelling, in the fall of 1765, three rods northeast of the later barn, the first "framed house" in town! (See Gen. History.) He had m. Tabitha Page, Dec. 21, 1758, who was b. May 8, 1737, and took up his first abode in Epping. Selling his house there for $300, he laid out all that money in provisions, carpenters' tools, implements of husbandry, "tackle and falls," etc., and was prepared to start for his new home, with his family, and a good workman, early in Feb., 1766. He always alleged that his cousin Daniel [79] was expected to go in company with him, but when he arrived at the "house" above mentioned, he found Daniel already there, having "passed him in the night," and perhaps having some claim upon the establishment, for lumber furnished the season before. His second child [114] was about a year old, as commonly asserted, when they first arrived in town. He was a benevolent, generous-hearted man. People from Northfield, Canterbury, etc., would often stop at his house as a place of free entertainment. He greatly encouraged other settlers, and especially his four brothers, to follow him into town. He was a man of dignity and presence, full of dry humor (as illustrated by an anecdote elsewhere). Served early as a magistrate, without appointment, and, like all his brothers, "was a large, bulky man, a valuable citizen, and made a good living." He had previously served in the old French war. The absence of his name from the "Association Test" in 1776 is explained by the fact that he was then in the Revolutionary service, though his name is also wanting on the Sanbornton rolls; yet he is known to have been "orderly sergeant" under Capt. Jere. Clough. He was afterwards sick of camp disorder at Ticonderoga, and a young neighbor of his, Enoch Ely by name (living where now John P. Lane), very devotedly went for him, got him home safely, but was himself taken of the same disease, and died soon after. He was the first representative from Sanbornton under the new Constitution (see). He d. Aug. 29, 1814, ae. 78—7. She d. June 15, 1826, ae. 89—1. On their common tablet is inscribed: "One of the first settlers in the town." Children (t. r.):

113. Daniel Tilton, b. June 20, 1760, in Epping, d. Nov. 8, 1777, in this town, ae. 17—5, as the result of his Bennington campaign as a soldier.

114. Jeremiah [321], b. Nov. 12, 1764, in E. (see above).

115. Ebenezer [331], b. April 18, 1767, in Sanbornton; was, for a time, thought to be the first child born in town, until the previous statements (see under [79] and [88]) were verified.

116. John, b. Sept. 25, 1772, d. Feb. 6, 1774, ae. 1—4.

117. Col. Josiah[6] [20] (Ebenezer[5], John[4], Richard[3], etc.), was the fourth of the Sanborn name among the seven original members of the Congregational Church, and was in town prior to 1768, having made a beginning on Lot 13, 1st Div., drawn by one of his own name [171?] in the hollow east of the Square (see Sites), where he is said to have erected the "first framed barn" in town! He afterwards owned the farm on the hill, north of the Woodman place, which he sold to Esq. William Harper, taking his pay in the continental currency, by which he was much impoverished. Tradition among his descendants says that he held a lieutenant's commission, and served nearly through the Revolutionary war, marching with Gen. Washington to New York in 1776. He had the title of "Colonel" afterwards, also "Josiah S., 1st," and "Forty Hairs," from his near approach to baldness! Last lived on the late Thomas Webster place, where, besides being a shoemaker, he had an extensive tannery, for the times. He m., 1st, Anna Dalton, Jan. 22, 1762, who was b. Nov. 5, 1734, and d. July 26, 1797, in her 63d year. He m., 2d, Widow Prudence Haines, of Canterbury, Nov. 21, 1799 (Woodman), who was b. May 20, 1753, in Greenland, and d. in this town, May 27, 1843, ae. 90. He was greatly troubled with the asthma, and d. Jan. 18, 1809, ae. 70—5. Children (t. r.):

121. Samuel [359], b. April 12 (13), 1770.

122. Christopher, b. May 9, 1772; m. Susan Mason, of Tamworth; settled, as a farmer, on the first place west of the late town farm, Lot 23, 2d Div., and there d., May 27, 1840, ae. 68.

"My flesh shall slumber in the ground
Till the last trumpet's joyful sound."

He was deacon of the Bay Baptist Church. No children.

123. Joseph Warren, b. June 25, 1774; m. Nancy Burley, dau. of David (see p. 60 [29]), June 5, 1799 (Crockett); lived near Turkey Bridge, and d. Feb. 26, 1801, ae. 26—8. One child: — 1. John, b. 1800; rem. to Attica, N.Y., at the age of 21.

124. Chase Taylor [369], b. Nov. 23, 1776.

125. Benjamin[6] [23] (Ebenezer[5], John[4], Richard[3], etc.), m. Anna Cate, dau. of James (see p. 103 [4]), Nov. 9, 1768, after moving to this town, and settled on the south half of his father's, 2d Div., Lot No. 62, now Sanborn Road, Tilton, which land is still mostly in the hands of his descendants. He was a good singer, and the second chorister of the old Congregational Church, which he joined by profession the first year after its organization. He "departed this life Oct. 20, 1794, ae. 43—3; was seized with a nervous fever, — continued twenty-one days, and during the whole time was deprived of reason. He left a widow and fourteen children to lament the loss of a kind husband and indulgent father." His peculiar death, followed in little more than three months by the deaths of three of his children, suggested the mournful stanzas composed and printed by his father-in-law, part of which may be found under "Specimens of Sanbornton Poetry," Vol. I. She d., his widow, Aug. 12, 1836, ae, 86. Children:

126. Ebenezer, b. Nov. 10, 1769, d. Jan. 6, 1795, ae. 25—2, of the same disease with his father, after nine days' illness.

137. Hugh March, b. May 9, 1789, d. Dec. 4 (3), 1794, ae. 5—7.
138. Jonathan [397], b. March 31, 1792.
139. Sally (Sarah), b. Dec. 13, 1793; m. Simeon Moulton, Jr. (see p. 530 [37]).

140. William[6] [25] (Ebenezer[5], John[4], Richard[3], etc.), had visited his brothers here in early life (as shown by an anecdote under "Mills," Vol. I.), and was much interested in the affairs — civil and religious — of the new settlement, as proved by the "sarmon book" (Exercises at Rev. Mr. Woodman's Ordination) given to Abigail Hobbs, whom he afterwards married! She was b. March 5, 1754, and they first settled in North Hampton, where their children were all born. Rem. to this town in 1799, stopping at his oldest brother's [112] till he purchased his future home, on Lot 52, 1st Div. (see [107]). Said he was then "too old to come to a new town," and (in after years) that he should never have left his former residence if peat had been previously discovered. Like his two oldest brothers, was a tanner and shoemaker. He united with the church in the great revival of 1816, and d. by the singular accident of inhaling steam from the nose of a teapot, April 8, 1822, ae. 69—3. She d. Aug. 9, 1829, ae. 75—5. Children:

151. Ebenezer[6] [26] (Ebenezer[5], John[4], Richard[3], etc.), m. Huldah Philbrick, dau. of Benjamin (see p. 555 [8]), June 13, 1775, and rem. immediately to Sanbornton, to take possession of the north end of his father's 2d Div. Lot. "Came of age" in season for the "Association Test" the next year. The following sketch of his death, Sept. 26, 1820, ae 65—5, is from the lips of the venerable Capt. John B. Perkins. He had started for a visit with friends (dau. and niece), two miles northeast of the Square, on horseback, his wife having preceded in a wagon. On level ground, in the valley west of Mr. P.'s, his horse stumbled, and threw him by a partial somersault violently upon his back, rupturing an internal vessel, as he was a very heavy man. He remounted, but could proceed no farther than Mr. Perkins's, where he took a bed, from which he never rose. Great distress of body ensued, but the soul was calm and joyous The plan and purpose of God in bringing him thus to his appointed term of life were cheerfully descanted upon. Though he had never been a man who could speak in public of his religious experience, yet that shone very brightly at this time, and his tongue was unloosed to declare it. He affirmed that those last hours were the most happy of his life, notwithstanding his pain; could not sleep at night, but was full of the high praises of his God and Saviour; expressed an earnest desire to see his beloved pastor, the Rev. Abraham Bodwell, once more, who came to his bedside at 2 o'clock, A. M., and but a few moments before his faithful parishioner "fell asleep in Jesus," the whole occasioning a scene and a night long to be remembered by all who witnessed it. She d. Sixth Generation. — William Branch.

161. Jeremiah[6] [38] (Jeremiah[5], John[4], William[3], William[2], John[1]), m. Miriam Dearborn, Nov. 8, 1764, who was b. May 5, 1742; first came from Hampton to Sanbornton, autumn of 1778, and purchased two or three hundred acres above the confluence of the two rivers, at what is now Franklin Falls. The only buildings then upon the above-named tract of land were a small log-house, near the site of the late N. H. Sanborn's, and a small saw-mill, north side of the river, just east of the Sanborn Bridge (afterwards carried away by a freshet), previously built and occupied by a Mr. Folsom. Contracting for a one-story framed house, near the log-cabin, it took fire and was entirely burned when nearly completed. A second building was only boarded and shingled before winter, so that on moving his family to town, Feb. 13, 1779, he was obliged to occupy the log-house for some time. His family then consisted of wife, two daughters, and seven sons. The first of their settlement were years of privation and suffering, but brave hearts and willing hands soon turned the forest into a fruitful field. He built a new saw-mill on the south side of the river, parts of the basement sills of which were to be seen in 1872; also a grist-mill, on a small island near the north shore of the river. In 1798 his family was visited by a malignant fever, of which his widowed sister (?) d. Dec. 8, his wife Dec. 18, ae. 56—7, and his daughter as below [170]. These afflictions were sanctified and borne with Christian fortitude, hence he united with the Congregational Church at the Square, June, 1799, and ever remained a faithful, consistent member, performing his weekly "Sabbath-day's journey" of six miles, and often on foot, to the sanctuary, with great regularity. In old age, "without a staff, his hands folded behind," he would ascend our "Hill of Zion." On one Thanksgiving day he is remembered to have walked up the broad isle of the old meeting-house, "followed by his ten sons in the order of their respective ages." His last years were spent with his son [172], opposite his old homestead, in comfort; but a distressing accident, being run over by a span of horses and loaded sleigh, as he was walking out of a pleasant morning to visit the new factory, then nearly completed, occasioned his death, in two or three days, Feb. 13, 1823, in his 84th year, and on the 44th anniversary of his arrival at Sanbornton with his family! Six of his sons were settled near him, and five of them on land of the original purchase, given them by their father. Eleven of his fourteen children were married, and in 1873, 57 out of 80 grandchildren were m., and 36 of these were living. Children:

162. John D. [445], b. Sept. 14, 1765.

163. Jeremiah [455], b. Jan. 5, 1767.

164. Mary, b. Jan. 18, 1768, d., unm., Oct. 2, 1852, ae. 84—8.

165. Josiah [469], b. Jan. 31, 1770, in Exeter (?).

166. Joseph [482], b April 11, 1771.

* Information respecting this family of

1. James (Ens.) has come at the "eleventh hour," too late for the tracing of his pedigree. It is only known that he lived in that part of Sanbornton which is now Franklin, present Babbitt place, whence he rem., with most of his children, to Ohio (first to Attica, N. Y.) His wife's name was Sally E. He d. 1820. Children:

2. James, 3d, b July 23, 1787; m. Lydia [175], as above, Dec. 31, 1807 (Bodwell), who d. in Manchester, Jan. 4, 1872, in her 86th year. They had: — 1. Sarah D., b. March 22, d. Dec. 4, 1810, ae. 8 mos., 12 days. 2. John D., b. Aug. 27, 1812, d. July 1, 1813, ae. 10 mos., 4 days. "We trust they have met in heaven." 3. James, who now lives in Manchester. 4. Helen Samantha, m. Henry P. Cheney (see p. 129 [77]).

3. Mayhew, m. Polly Thomas (?), May 22, 1811 (Crockett); here buried a child, Dec. 3, 1817, and migrated to Ohio with his father, as did also the four younger children:

4-7. Sally. Harvey. Esther. Warren.

his two sons, now given, who both settled in this town. Yet as the grantee, Josiah, Jr. (?), fifty-seventh on "Petition," Lots 13 and 53, was said to be of Exeter, he is more probably to be identified with this man than with [73] (see). He could not, however, if his father's oldest child, have been more than 14 when he signed the original "Petition," as the father was not married till 1733. Whether minors might not have been admissible as petitioners, or even grantees (as this one could have been only 19, in 1753, at the time of "drawing"), is an open question. Seems likely in the case of "Daniel, Jr." (see [79]). Expectations of approaching manhood may have warranted their reception upon the list. All the above is rendered doubtful by recent discoveries to effect that the two following may have been the children of [41] by his 2d wife. In either case, 192. Josiah (the older), b. Nov. 19, 1771, had located on the late Ensign Colby place, Lot 14, 2d Div., at or before the year 1800, having m. Olive Fogg, of Exeter, Feb. 4, 1792. Was called in town, Josiah S. "6th," and "Dote" (see [41]); rem. to Belfast, Me. Three children found on our town records, but uncertain whether all b. here, viz.: — 1. John, b. Dec. 24, 1794. 2. David, b. Nov. 18, 1796. 3. Peter, b. May 30, 1801.

193. John, b. Sept. 21, 1773; styled "Jr.," and also "Dote." He m. —— Bagley; lived in town, next lot to his brother's, late Samuel Hersey place. His wife here d., Sept. 26, 1804, and he afterwards moved "down East," and went to sea, hence styled "Mariner"; same may be said of his three children, on town records, as under [192]: — 1. Sarah Shaw, b. Sept. 8, 1797. 2. Orlando Bagley, b. Oct. 8, 1799. 3. Dolly Wood, b. Feb. 7, 1802.

194. Simon[6] [51] (William[5], William[4], Josiah[3], etc.), m. Mary Cram, Dec. 12, 1760; signed the "Association Test"; res'd. in Hampton, and there d., July 11, 1808, in his 72d year. Children:

195. Jonathan Cram [553], b. Dec. 30, 1763, in H.
196. William, b. 1765; res'd. in Exeter.
197, 198. Woodbridge, b. 1767. Simon Dearborn [561], b. 1769.
199. Nehemiah, b. 1771; lived in Hampton.
200. Mary, b. 1773; m. Noah Hobbs, of Kensington.

201. Josiah[6] [57] (William[5], William[4], Josiah[3], etc.), settled early (in 1774) on south end of his father's 2d Div. lot, where now Smith Neal; was nicknamed "Bungy," to distinguish him from the numerous other "Josiah Sanborns" in town. He m. Lucy Swain, of Exeter (not as in "Sanborn Genealogy"), April 8, 1768. She was the sister of Ichabod (see). He d. May 7, 1817, in his 70th year (will proved May 17). She d. Jan. 9, 1822, ae. 79. Children:

202. Josiah, b. June 1, 1769; the fifth of that name in town; m. Sally Shepherd, Oct. 23, 1794 (Woodman); had most of the farm lately owned by Jonathan, 3d [613], centre of his father's lot; rem. to Sutton, C. E., and there d., Oct. 16, 1831, ae. 62—3. Children: — 1. Betsey. 2. Sarah. 3. Thomas.

203. Abigail, b. Aug. 2, 1770; m. Benjamin Johnson (see p. 402 [2]).

204. Sarah (Sally), b. June 4, 1772; m., 1st, Robert Morrison, of Wheelock, Vt., March 6, 1820; m., 2d, Samuel Rogers, of Northfield, May 3, 1825.

205. Elizabeth, b. Sept. 12, 1773; m. Zebulon Smith (see)

208. Anna, b. March 30, 1778; m. Samuel Calef (see p. 83 [41]).

209. Henry Dearborn [583], b. Nov. 2, 1779.

210. Ebenezer, b. Nov. 4, 1781, d. Aug. 31, 1783, in his 2d year.

211. David [594], b. June 30, 1783.

212. Nathan, b. March 12, d. July 9, 1786, ae. 4 mos.

213. Daniel[6] [63] (Joshua[5], William[4], Josiah[3], etc.), m., 1st, Hannah Folsom, of New Market; m., 2d, Priscilla Sanborn; m., 3d, Nabby Giles; signed the "Test," 1776; lived and d. in Epping. Children:

214. Daniel, remained in Epping.

215. Jonathan Robinson [606], b. May 24, 1772, in E.

216. Tristram, settled in Boscawen.

217. Joshua, lived in Boscawen and Concord.

218. Betsey, m., 1st, —— Smith; m., 2d, Henry Thorn (see).

219. Polly (?), m. Ezekiel Clough, of Loudon.

220. Tristram[6] [65] (Joshua[5], William[4], etc.), m. Comfort Dalton, Jan. 25, 1780, who was b. Aug. 31, 1760. He d. Jan. 29, 1832, ae. 71—4. The first four of the following children were b. in Epping, the rest in Dame's Gore, now a part of Canaan, where he settled. Children:

221. Abiah B., b. 1782; m. Josiah Sanborn, of Alexandria (3d wife), and d. Dec. 7, 1841, ae. 59. He was b. July 2, 1772.

222. Sally, b 1784; m. Peter Blaisdell, of Canaan.

223. Tristram, b. 1786; m. Mary Jones; lived in Dorchester, and d. March 14, 1855, ae. 69. She d. Dec. 15, 1847.

224. Dorothy, b. 1789; m. Josiah Lary, of Canaan.

225. Mary, b. 1793; m. Josiah Sanborn [221], 2d wife, April 19, 1826, and d. April 22, 1829, ae. 36.

226. Mehitable, b. 1798; m. Sanborn Blaisdell, of Rumney, and d. Sept. 4, 1867, ae. 69. He d Oct. 2, 1861.

227. Betsey, b Jan. 29, 1800; m. Isaac Sanborn [608].

228. Joshua H., b. 1802; m. Mary P. Sawyer, who was b. June 10, 1806, and d. July 6, 1867, ae. 61; res. in Dorchester.

229. Daniel [617], b Aug. 26, 1804.

230. Josiah[6] [75], (Josiah[5], Jabez[4], Josiah[3], etc.), was in the Revolutionary war from Epping, two years, Col. Nichols's regiment, and was afterwards a pensioner; first settled in this town, now Franklin, north end of his uncle Marston's 1st Div. Lot, No. 62 (see [70]), and was there known as "Wolf 'Siah"; next lived several years on the present Sanders place, under Steele's Hill, and d. at the Square, with his dau. [236], Jan. 24, 1841, ae. 77 (?). He m. Hannah Rundlet, of Exeter, who d. Sept. 24, 1822, of consumption. Children:

Seventh and Subsequent Generations. — John Branch.

252. Benaiah[7] [83] (Daniel[6], Daniel[5], John[4], etc.), gave his attention to the science of medicine in early life, and read with Dr. Moore, of Bolton, Mass.; commenced practice in this town in 1779, at the present Brown place; continued in the active duties of his profession for upwards of half a century, and closed his business, and eventually his life, on the same spot, — his father's pioneer home, — where he had res'd. after the year 1800. "Being a man of uncommon energy and perseverance, and living in those early times when physicians were few, his practice was very extensive, and he doubtless accomplished more business in a given time than any physician who ever succeeded him in town. Seated upon his well-trained horse, who full well understood the energetic character of his rider, he dashed forward, deterred neither by the piercing cold or the raging elements; and, when the snows of a Northern winter arrested the progress of his steed, he would exchange the saddle for snow-shoes, and in this way visit distant patients." On his winter journeys thus to New Hampton, he early discovered the present turnpike route, and predicted that a road would some day be built through the valley. "By his energy, promptness, bold practice, and peculiar tact, he retained the principal business of the place for a long series of years, notwithstanding the eminent skill and attainments of several other physicians who settled here. But age seemed to make a sudden inroad upon his mental faculties; in 1833 he visited his last patient, and for some years previously to his death, Aug. 30, 1841, ae. 84—3, he experienced all the imbecilities of a child." (Dr. J. B. Abbott's "Sketches of the Sanbornton Physicians.") He m. Huldah, dau. of Dea. Christopher Smith, of North Hampton (see), March 15, 1781, who d. April 1, 1858, ae. 96—3. "A woman whose large heart and generous sympathies were ever active in ministering to the needy, the sick, and suffering; a beloved member of the Congregational Church for seventy-five years" (uniting by profession with her husband), "and to the end of her long life blest with a vigorous mind and a cheerful spirit." Children:

253. Christopher Smith, b. Oct. 29, 1782; m. Rachel Taylor, dau. of John (see), Nov. 23, 1809 (Crockett); settled near his father's, — present Dea. Sanborn place; was "Col.," "Esq.," and a prominent townsman. No death in town ever probably created so profound a sensation as his, by drowning in the large Bay, as he was returning over the ice from Meredith Bridge, on the evening of March 8, 1828 (ae. 45—4), driving a span of horses and attended by his faithful dog, the first to give intimation to his family of the sad event.

> "The dear delights we here enjoy,
> And fondly call our own,
> Are but short favors, borrowed now,
> To be repaid anon."

She d. with her son, in Newport, Dec. 13, 1856, ae. 67—4. Children: — 1. Thomas, b. Sept. 26, 1811; studied medicine with Drs. Hill and Carr, in this town, and Drs. Kimball and Bartlett, of Lowell, Mass., with courses of lectures at Bowdoin College, and Dartmouth College, where grad., M. D., 1841; practised in Goshen two years, but settled as a physician in Newport, Aug., 1843, and there continued very successfully till his death, July 23, 1875, in his 64th year. He m. Notwithstanding his limited means of education, as enjoyed by the scattered population of the town, he was by no means deficient in the solid branches of learning. He attended a district school after he became the head of a family. Early acquiring a taste for reading, improving it through life, and possessing a retentive memory, few men, even of literary fame, could relate more of important facts and interesting anecdotes in the history and politics of his own or any other country. He was twice the town's representative to the State Legislature, and in 1812 was chosen messenger to return the votes of this State for President and Vice-President to Washington. An affectionate parent, an undeviating friend, a professor of religion more than twenty years, he was much in religious reading and meditation in his last days, perusing Scott's Bible, with notes and observations, for the seventh time. His manner of life is more substantial evidence than he could have given at death, that his end was peace." He m., 1st, Theodate Sanborn [178], who d. * The interesting facts have been supplied too late for entry in the text, above, that she was the lineal descendant of Gen. Joseph Warren (M. D.), the hero of Bunker Hill, and a daughter of Benjamin and Hannah (Parker) Warren; that after serving as matron in the Massachusetts State Almshouse, at Bridgewater, she started, in 1857, a pioneer enterprise at Bailey's Harbor, Door County, Wis., one and one half miles from Lake Michigan, where she cleared a little farm, largely with her own hands; was instrumental in starting the first school and Sunday school, and taught successfully, at different times, for five years. "One of the first four settlers of this beautiful spot in the wilderness, she lived to see a prosperous and thriving village opening up in her vicinity, and to know that her educating and refining influence was an acknowledged element in its growth." Her death — April 20, 1880, in her 72d year — "was felt by the whole community as that of a personal friend," and her attractive home still "stands as a monument to her industry and perseverance."

445. John D.[7] [162] (Jeremiah[6], Jeremiah[5], John[4], William[3], William[2], John[1]), m. Lydia Perkins, dau. of Abraham (see p. 550 [7]), Nov. 16, 1790 (Woodman); was a farmer on the hillside, just above his father's; house now occupied for tenements, being on the outskirts of the present village of Franklin Falls; was an "ensign" in the military, and d. Oct. 28, 1820, ae. 55—1. She d. Oct. 13, 1853, ae. 85—6. They both united with the Congregational Church, July 14, 1816, being among the thirty-five Sanborns who joined that year. The deeply interesting incident has more recently come to light, that when the first Sunday school was started at the Square, in 1819, he opened a similar school in what is now Franklin, one mile from his residence, which he held at 4 P. M., after returning from his meeting, himself being the only man in the neighborhood that could pray in the school, and with but one teacher who professed to be a Christian. On closing his school for the second season, the last of Sept., 1820, he made a very impressive address to the scholars, remarking upon the probability that they might not all meet again in the spring. Deep solemnity and a wonderful display of God's grace were soon manifest among those children; they held meetings for inquiry and Bible service by themselves, especially during the illness of their superintendent, which soon followed, and proved fatal, as above. "I am about to reap the reward of my labors in the Sabbath school," were among his last words to his physician, Dr. Hill; and through all the succeeding winter the meetings were kept up, attended by Mrs. Sanborn, and occasionally by Rev. Mr. Bodwell, and other ministers, resulting in the commencement of many useful Christian lives, like that of [453], who, after the lapse of sixty years, communicates these facts. Children:

THE SANDERS FAMILY.

1. Peter Sanders, the common ancestor of all bearing the name in town, so far as known, was b. in Haverhill, Mass., 1730, and settled here about 1777, on Lot No. 46, 1st Div., the present Freeman

D. Gilman place. We here insert a copy of his will, as affording us a specimen of ancient Sanbornton documents of this kind, noting, also, its special provisions after the names of his several children, for which, as well as for their number and order, we are indebted to the will itself: "In the name of God, Amen. I, Peter Saunders, of Sanbornton, in the State of New Hampshire, county of Strafford, Husbandman, being sick and weak of body, but of sound mind and memory, knowing that it is appointed for all men once to die, and not knowing how soon it may be my case, do make this, my last Will and Testament. And in the first place I humbly give my soul to God, my Creator, hoping for Pardon of all my sins through the merits of Jesus Christ; and my body I recommend to decent burial, according to the discretion of my Executor, hereinafter named, hoping in the Redemption to Eternal Life. My worldly estate I give, devise, and dispose in the following manner and form, — that is to say, Imprimis: My will is that all my just debts and funeral charges be paid as soon after my decease as may be done with convenience, by my Executor, out of my estate." (Then follow the several items, devising to wife and children as below.) This will was "signed, sealed, published, and declared," in presence of John Samborn and Ebenezer Gove, "Sept. 28, 1786." He d. 1790, ae. 60. He had m. Abigail Johnson, who d. Aug. 12, 1798. Hence in the will: "To Abigail, my beloved wife, the use of my dwelling-house, barn, goods, furniture, and the improvement of all my land; also one cow and two sheep, all which she is to have at her disposal as long as she shall remain my widow; then to return to my three youngest sons in the proportion of their bequests." Children:

2. John [10], b. Aug., 1757, to whom "1£ 10*sh.* lawful money, or the value thereof in a neat creature or sheep, to be paid by my three youngest sons, in proportion to what each receives from my estate, two years after my decease" (father's will).

THE SHIRLEY FAMILY.

Two, if not five brothers of the surname (which is of great antiquity in English history, traceable beyond the Norman conquest), came from the North of Ireland in 1728–30, and settled in Nutfield, now Chester, from which Scotch-Irish stock all the New England members of the family, at least, are sprung.

1. Thomas Shirley is supposed to be one of these (see Chase's "History of Chester," p. 591). He was the father of

2. Samuel Shirley, b. Dec. 25, 1748, in Chester, who m., 1st, Margaret Graham (yeleped "Peggy Grimes"), in 1774. She d. of cancer, in Chester, 1793, and he m., 2d, Anna Dearborn (Chase, by mistake, says "Anna Hazzard"), Oct., 1793, who d. at the birth of her third (his twelfth) child, Dec. 9, 1798. He m., 3d, Betty McDuffee, 1799. After having been an extensive business man in that part of Chester which is now Auburn, owning mills at the upper end of Massabesic Lake, building the first grist mill at Auburn Village, carrying on large lumber operations with Haverhill, Newburyport, etc., and running a well-known country hotel at Auburn, he became the victim of unjust litigation, which he fought against with true Scotch pertinacity, till his property was much reduced. He then moved into this region, with his oldest son and most of his other children, in 1801; lived first a short time in Northfield (Dr. Enos Hoyt, now Cilley place), then for three years, 1802–5, in what is now Franklin, Lot No. 69, 2d Div., east of the Esq. James Clark farm, and finally, at Union Bridge, receiving from Nathaniel Moor, by deed, sixty-one and one half acres, July 15, 1805, which he reconveyed to Samuel Lakeman, June 21, 1806? (see Lots), reserving two acres for his continued residence, at the head of Union Bridge Street, where he was known for many years as the "reed maker." He d. at his son John's homestead, at U. B., Jan. 7, 1832, ae. 83. Children:

3. Ann, b. Aug. 25, 1775, in Chester, or Auburn, as were all the other children; m. Daniel McDuffie; was styled "Queen Ann" from her size and other peculiarities; d Nov. 29, 1860, ae. 85—3.

THE SMART FAMILIES. — Two Branches. — I.

We first introduce the two brothers:

1. Dudley [5], b. Jan., 1758, and

2. Jonathan [10], both of whom lived in Sanbornton, though their parentage is unknown. Their sisters,

3. Mary, b. Aug. 23, 1766; m. William Hersey (see p. 340 [30]).

4. Hannah, b. Nov. 18, 1771; m. Jethro Pearson (see p. 547 [8]).

5. Dudley [1], m. Susan Burley, of New Market, who was b. 1754; was a soldier in the Revolution; early settled "between the Plumer and Pearson neighborhoods," near the border of Meredith

(see Sites, Lot No. 81, 2d Div., add.). He left that place for Chichester, in 1802, and there d., 1851, ae. 93. She d. one week later, ae. 97. Children, all b. in this town:

6. Peter [14], b. Sept. 16, 1793.

7. Olive, b. Oct., 1795, d., unm., in Chichester, 1867, ae. 72.

8. Andrew, b. May 3, 1798; m. Ednah M. Hersey, dau. of William (see p. 340 [39]), July 11, 1841, in Sanbornton; lived in Chichester, farmer, stage-driver, and tradesman till March, 1869, since then, in East Andover. No children.

9. Samuel, b. 1800 (?); went South, and there d., unm.

10. Jonathan [2], was also in the Revolutionary war; m. Martha Pearson (see p. 547 [10]); lived in town on the range, east of the Colby-Leavitt place (Site 1, Parsonage Lot, No. 12, 1st Div.). Nothing further known of him, except children (t. r.):

12. William Harper, b. Aug. 1, 1793.

13. Nancy, b. March 18, 1796 (and another child d. March 20, 1804).

14. Peter[2] [6] (Dudley[1]), commenced carrying the mail from Chichester to Portsmouth, at the age of 16, and, after 1815, became the "noted stage driver, for many years, through Sanbornton," from Concord to Haverhill. He m. Hannah Clough Haynes, Dec. 7, 1828, who was b. Sept. 25, 1807, the dau. of Josiah and Hannah (Clough) Haynes, of Canterbury; last lived in Northfield (near the Bridge), and there d., June 10, 1871, ae. 77—9. Children:

15. Hannah Haynes, b. Sept. 26, 1829; m. Charles E. Carroll, joiner and contractor, of Portsmouth, July 5, 1856, who d. April 23, 1876. She now lives in New London, Wis. Four children (one son).

16. Samuel Burleigh, b. Feb. 19, 1837, d. May 23, 1838, in Canterbury, ae. 1—3.

"I take this feeble child, saith Christ,
And fold him in my breast,
Protection he shall find in me,
In me be ever blest."

17. Susan B., b. Nov. 15, 1840; m. William Sunderland Shaw, bookkeeper, of Pittsburg, Pa., July 25, 1873. Child: — 1. Clara Estelle (Shaw), b. June 27, 1874, in P.

18. Walter, b. Oct. 24, 1842, d. Jan. 16, 1843, ae. 3 mos. "Of such is the kingdom of heaven."

19. Harriet Lyford, b. Dec. 25, 1843; m., 1st, William F. Durgin, of Northwood, Feb. 8, 1863; m., 2d, Edward S. Tripp, engineer, of Lynn, Mass. No children.

20. Clara Estelle, b. Oct. 17, 1846; one of the best school-teachers of recent times, in Sanbornton; was graduated at the Tilton Conference Seminary, 1872; held the post of vice-principal of the high school, in Manchester, Ia., at the time of her death, in Northfield, Aug. 12, 1875, in her 29th year. "It matters not how long we live, but how."

II.

21. Robert Smart, unconnected with the foregoing, served in the Revolutionary war, as a waiter for Maj. Chase Taylor; was owner (or tender) of the first grist-mill below Union Bridge; was twice m., and d. May 4, 1818. Sarah ——, his second wife, d. Oct. 14, 1824, ae. 100—8! hence b. Feb., 1724. He signed the "Association Test" in this town. Children:

22. Jemima, b. 1762 (?), 1st wife; m. Solomon Copp (see p. 184 [30]).
23. Sally (probably), d. Dec. 20, 1800, unm.
24. Adaline (probably), d. of fever, Aug. 21, 1821, unm.

THE SMITH FAMILIES.

No fewer than seven or eight distinct branches of the "universal Smith family" have been found among the inhabitants of Sanbornton.

I.

We begin with the grantees of the town who bore that name, — all of Stratham, — and shall thus find ourselves introduced to some of the oldest, and what have ever proved, and still are, the most numerous families of the name in town.

1. Joseph[1], Sen., of Stratham, was the fiftieth to affix his name upon the "Petition" of 1748, and four years later drew Lots 44 and 18, the latter falling to his son [19]. His sons who became identified with Sanbornton were:

2, 3. Joseph, Jr. [7], grantee, and Elisha [19], b. 1723 (1733), in Stratham.

4. Josiah, of Stratham, was probably the brother of [1], and signed the "Petition" next after, or the fifty-first in order. Before the time of the drawing, however, — Feb. 13, 1753, — he had d., and is hence marked "dece'st" upon the list of the "names drawn," though Lots 35 and 3 were assigned to him, and fell, doubtless, to his heirs. None of his descendants were ever known to have occupied these lots or to have settled in town, unless

5. Samuel, may have been one of his sons, who was in town, Jan., 1768; afterwards a private in Whitcomb's company of rangers, 1777, and taken thence into the Continental service, but then wholly disappears (probably killed in the skirmish, June 16, 1777), and

6. John, who enlisted, April 16, 1777, in Scammel's regiment of three years' men, and d. March 1, 1778.

7. Joseph[2], Jr. [2] (Joseph[1]), was twenty-fourth upon the "Petition"; also of Stratham; drew Lots 71 and 60, and settled upon the former, or 1st Div. lot, near what is now the thrashing-mill, Site 1, giving his 2d Div. lot to his sons, as below. It is uncertain whether he, or his oldest son, was Joseph Smith, the Revolutionary soldier. He had not come to town before the Revolutionary war, in the opinion of some (his son Joseph having preceded him), as his name does not appear on the "Test." He may, however, have been absent in the service, July, 1776. In early life he served his time as a ship-carpenter, in Newburyport, and was the first to build a dam at the thrashing-mill, on a pin or peg of which his own life was finally sacrificed, July 4, 1795, while rescuing a boy from drowning. (He is sometimes said to have been himself drowned, but the evidence is stronger that while walking upon the dam with the rescued child he fell, and fractured his skull on an exposed pin (or treenail), thus dying instantly. Near the same brook his wife, also, had previously died, of apoplexy, while washing, June 29, 1790, and was the first to be buried in the old cemetery above the present house of Harrison White. As his son Henry [12] used to say that he was the "middle one of a family of fifteen children," seven being older and seven younger than himself, it is evident that there must have been three other children — names not known — who were older than he, and never came to Sanbornton, and probably one younger, whose name is lost. As the record now stands his children were:

8. A daughter, name unknown, who m. —— Plumer, and lived in Newburyport, Mass.

9. A daughter; m., 1st, —— Cooper; m., 2d, —— Jones; m., 3d, Richard Huse. (The two last may have been younger than [11].)

10, 11. Joseph [33]. William [38], b. 1754.

12. Henry [40], b. 1761.

13. Solomon [55], b. Feb. 3, 1763, in Newburyport.

14. Stephen [65], b. 1765 (?).

15. Hannah, b. 1767; m. Ebenezer Morrison, Jr. (see p. 502 [75]).

16. Michael, b. 1769 (?); m. Hannah Miles (see p. 483 [15]), Jan. 3, 1793 (Woodman); settled, first, on his father's 2d Div. Lot, No. 60, in this town, but afterwards rem. to Wheelock, Vt.

17. Enoch, b. 1771 (?); had no family; d., in S., Feb. 26, 1819, ae. about 48.

18. Samuel [78], b. about 1773.

19. Elisha[2] [3] (Joseph[1]), is asserted, on good traditional authority, to have been the brother of Joseph, Jr. [7], while his inheriting the 2d Div. Lot (No. 18) of [1], Joseph, Sen., leaves no doubt of his being the son of the latter. He m. Lydia Norris, of Stratham, and first settled in Epping, where most of his children were born. Besides the inherited lot, just named, he early came in possession, by gift or purchase, of most of Lot No. 22, 2d Div., and a part of No. 21, making a solid body of nearly 700 acres of land (except the Samuel Calef lot of ten acres), extending through, from his home lot, to Meredith line.

He used to walk from Epping to work at "clearing," and at one time, dividing a willow cane, with which he had been travelling, into four parts, he stuck them up near the log-house he was building, and one of those pieces became the famous "big willow-tree," which was still standing near his old homestead (Bay Meeting-house Road) until 1880! Having finished and furnished (?) his house, as above, he finally moved up his family on an ox-sled, in the winter of 1775–76, when his son Elisha was six years old. He was thus in town to sign the "Association Test" the next summer. At the time of his removal his wife was an invalid, riding on a bed, expecting and "wishing only to be buried in Sanbornton"; but she soon after wonderfully improved, lived many years, and finally died, of dropsy, Nov. 12, 1819. He had d. March 12, 1811, ae. 88 (78); was a man of sterling integrity and untiring enterprise, whose influence, personally, and through his numerous and respectable descendants, has proved a power in the Bay community through all the century. He built the saw and grist mill on Black Cat Brook, just north of the late Maj. Zebulon Smith's (see Mills), and originally gave to each of his six sons 100 acres of land. Had also, by all accounts, seven daughters, two of whose names seem irrecoverably lost. In the absence of complete records, the following list of his children, after much labor and inquiry, is as nearly correct, in names and order, as we can make it:

20. Mercy ("Marcy"), b. Aug. 16, 1746; m. Bracket Johnston, Sen. (see p. 408 [1]). (She has been usually regarded as the oldest child of [19], yet unless the earlier of his two birth dates be assumed as correct, she must rather have been his sister, a supposition favored by the disparity in the ages of the oldest and youngest of his children, unless Lydia Norris was his 2d wife. This birth date of [20] is undoubted, as taken from the old Bible of the Johnston family.)

21. A daughter, b. 1750 (?); m. —— Brown, and res'd. a short time at the Gilman place, on "the Sands," lower Bay shore.

22. A daughter, b. 1755 (?); m. —— Heath, and rem. to Canada.

23. Lydia, b. 1759 (?); m. Samuel Folsom, son of Rev. Nicholas, of Meredith; settled on the late Benjamin Batchelder place (edge of Meredith), and rem. thence to Groton.

24. Molly (Mary), b. Jan. 23, 1762; m. John Johnson, 2d wife (see p. 402 [1]).

25. Benjamin, b. 1763; m. Elsie Woodman, dau. of Capt. Joshua (see); received his settlement (one hundred acres) on south end of the home lot, No. 18, 2d Div., building the original house of the late Alfred Burleigh, but rem. to Belmont (Belfast), Me., prior to 1814, where both d. Their oldest son was: — 1. Benjamin.

26. Mehitable, b. 1765; m. Caleb Sanders (see p. 697 [18]).

27. Zebulon [90], b. April 1, 1767.

28. Elisha, Jr. [101], b. July 15, 1769, in Epping.

29. Josiah [114], b. 1771.

30. Nathaniel [117], b. 1773.

31. Joseph, b. 1775 (?); first received his portion on the present Odell place, or a little above it, on the same lot, but rem. early to Groton, and thence soon after to Brunswick, Me. He lived last in Portsmouth, having embraced the Roman Catholic faith.

32. Abigail, b. 1778 (?), in Sanbornton, d. young.

33. Joseph[3] [10] (Joseph[2], Joseph[1]). Between him and his father lies the honor of being in the first band of Revolutionary patriots from Sanbornton! (see Lists, also under [7].) He finally settled where now Oliver French, north end of his father's lot; m., 1st, Mary Sleeper, who was lame, somewhat eccentric, and used to exercise her gifts in "preaching." One of her "sermons" is remembered, on the text, "Nothing," as in 2 Cor. xii. 11, from which she deduced several heads of "doctrine": "Nothing good," "Nothing bad," "Nothing to boast of," etc. She d. April 21, 1801 (or Dec. 11, 1811); and he m., 2d, Sarah (Sally) Robinson, Feb. 16, 1812 (Crockett). He was a tailor by trade, and of small stature; d. May 30, 1832. Children (1st wife):

34. Robert, b. June 16, 1785; m. Sally Keniston, dau. of William (see p. 414 [11]), Dec. 6, 1808 (Crockett), but settled in Campton, there lived about sixty years, and d. Dec. 12, 1868, ae. 83—6. She d. Dec. 14, 1867, ae. 78—2. Children: — 1. Robert Rogers, b. Jan. 25, 1810; first settled in Dubuque, Ia., then a farmer near Des Moines. 2. Ebenezer K., b. March 22, 1811; is a farmer in Plymouth; m. Elizabeth Adams, of Campton. Two children (one son). 3 Almira Keniston, b. Aug. 15, 1812, d. Dec. 28, 1813, ae. 1—4. 4. Juliann Barstow, b. Oct. 19, 1814; m., 1st, John Horner, of Thornton; m., 2d, Hazen N. Cross (see p. 198 [41]). 5. William, b. Dec. 10, 1815, d. May 2, 1816, ae 5 mos. 6. Lydia Bartlett, b. Feb. 17, 1821; m. Moses S. Chase, of Campton; lived in Massachusetts, and d. at Cedar Rapids, Ia, April 10, 1865, ae. 44—2. Four children (one son). 7. William Augustus, b. March 22, 1823; graduated M. D., Dartmouth College, 1845; has been a practising physician in Thornton and Campton Village, the last seventeen years (1881). He m. Susan F. Durgin. One son. 8. Sarah Morrison, b. Feb. 19, 1825; m. Varnum G. Durgin, farmer, of Thornton. Three children (two sons). 9. Abbie Sylvania, b. Feb. 14, 1831; m. Lucian S. Haniford, a native of New Hampton, June 29, 1862, who now res. in Ashland Village; previously a farmer on her father's place, in Campton. 10. Gilman Rowe, b. Aug. 31, 1832; m. Adaline Burbeck, of Campton; res. in Holderness, as a farmer. Five children (one son).

35. Cephas, b. 1801; settled first on Site 3, Lot No. 16, 1st Div. (Chapel Road); rem. to Moultonborough, but ret. to this town, and lived on or near his father's place. First wife unknown; m., 2d, Mrs. Sally (Morrison) Calley, Sept. 4, 1824 (Lovejoy), widow of William (see p. 95 [80]), who d. in Somersworth. He d Feb. 26, 1850, ae. 49. (Buried near Harrison White's, old cemetery.) "There is rest in heaven." Children: — 1. Mary Jane, b. April 25, 1821 2. Alvina, b April 26, 1823. 3. Rosilla M. (2d wife), b. April 13, 1826 (one of whom d. Sept. 10, 1826, of dysentery).

36. Joseph, lived in Campton, near his brother's [34], and there d.

37. Margaret, m. Henry S. Morrison (see p. 516 [250]).

38. William[3] [11] (Joseph[2], Joseph[1]), met with some adventures in early life, as "he went to sea, was captured by the British, and swam away from them." He afterwards m., 1st, Sarah Snow, of Portland, Me., and "had a mountain lot given him" (Site 1, No. 53, 2d Div.). He, instead of his brother [65], is thought by some to have been the one who "ground" (or thrashed) his grain upon the big flat rock! He was known by the title of "Col. Billy." First wife d. May, 1792, and he m., 2d, Sarah Smith, dau. of Jonathan (see [152]), Nov. 15, 1792 (Woodman). She d Jan. 4, 1801, in her 30th year, and he m., 3d, Elizabeth (Betsey) Morrison, dau. of Bradbury[3] (see p. 495 [20]), May 18, 1801 (Crockett). He is said to have d. at Mark Moore's, Jan. 23, 1827, ae. 73, after which she returned to her brother's (Steele's Hill), and there d., Dec. 24, 1837, ae. 88—11. Only one child has been assigned him (1st wife):

39. Paulina, b. Nov. 10, 1789; m. William Tenney Kimball, formerly William Tenney (see).

40. Henry[3] [12] (Joseph[2], Joseph[1]). The liberal vote of the town giving him "one good cow on demand," with promise of more, April 29, 1782, marks him, unmistakably, "as a soldier," though he must soon after have "returned" from the service. (This also favors the idea that the soldier Joseph may have been his brother.) He afterwards went to sea; but again returning, m. Lydia Critchett, dau. of Thomas (see p. 189 [4]), Nov. 25, 1789 (Woodman), and took up his residence on the northwestern corner of his father's second division lot, where James G. Sanborn has last lived (1880), and there d., Sept. 25, 1842, in his 82d year "A Revolutionary patriot." She d. May 25, 1844, in her 70th year. "Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord" His is the only branch of his father's family whose children's names appear on our town records, or of which a completed list of birth dates can be obtained, as follows:

41. Thomas, b. April 21, 1791, d., in this town, about 1854, ae. 63 (?); unm.

42. Joseph, 1st, b. Jan. 23, 1793, d. March 25, 1796, ae. 3—2.

III.

Another Smith, who gives the same evidence, as the head of the last branch [II., 124], of being in Sanbornton, both in 1768 and 1776, was probably the son of

145. Jonathan[1], Sen., as he is styled

146. Jonathan[2], Jr., on the "Association Test." Whence the family came to Sanbornton is yet unknown. The tendency of the daughters of this one [146] to marry with the sons of Joseph[2] [7], would indicate an intimacy and possible relationship with the I. branch; if so, he probably hailed from Stratham. He settled in this town, west of the later Clark's Corner; m. Sarah Morrison, dau. of Bradbury[3] (see p. 495 [17]); was familiarly called "Trucky," or "Trundle," on account of his diminutive form; and d. Dec. 11, 1798. She probably d., his widow (J. THE STEELE FAMILY.

1. Benjamin Steele had settled either at Site 2, Lot 25, 2d Div , or on the brow of the hill since called by his name, prior to 1784, as he first appears that year among the highway surveyors. This latter most attractive and much-frequented spot is the same as now occupied by Benjamin M. Burleigh, overlooking the lakes. Much is known of "Steele's Hill," very little of the man whose name is handed down, in that of the Hill, to an endless and ever-enlarging succession of the lovers of majestic scenery! He m. —— Smith, sister of Timothy (see p. 736 [173]), his neighbor, who d. June 17, 1827. His family is said to have been a peculiar one, living much within themselves, and rather independently of their neighbors, yet they were said to be good citizens, especially the sons [5] and [6]. He d. suddenly, in this town, just the night before he was about to start with his sons on their removal to Ellsworth, April 11, 1834, ae. 92, hence b. about 1742. (1880) at North Chelmsford, inventor and manufacturer of the Swain Turbine Water-wheel, patented May 15, 1860, — patent extended, 1875, for seven years. This wheel has been adopted by the manufacturing companies of Lowell, for use as the standard motor, in their great cotton and woollen factories, after a series of the most rigid tests (as detailed in pamphlet reports, by James B. Francis and Hiram F. Mills, civil engineers), where durability, and economy in the use of water are of the first importance, the driving gear being the heaviest and most substantial of the kind in the world. Mr. Swain's invention is an honor to his native town. Children: — 1. Carrie, b. July 26, 1856, in Lowell, and there d., Oct. 2, 1857, ae. 1—2. 2. Jessie May, b. Jan. 25, 1860, in L. 3. Charles Luther, b. Aug. 25, 1863, in Chelmsford, Mass. 4. Amy, b. Susie Elizabeth Adams, of N. C., at Lowell, Oct. 2, 1869; she was b. Sept. 13, 1848, in Andover, Mass. Children: — 1. Bertha Alice, b. July 7, 1870, in Chelmsford. 2. Walter Edwin, b. Oct. 11, 1872. 3. George Jefferson, b. March 8, 1879, in C.

II.

43. Ebenezer Swain, b. 1765, not related to the foregoing, moved from Epping to this town not far from the year 1786, and was the first settler on the place now occupied by Jeremiah S. Sanborn, "New State," at which time there was no "clearing" between that and the "Chapel" mills, and no path but by spotted trees. He had been in the Revolutionary war, enlisting at 17; was taken prisoner, and carried to England, hence a pension was granted to his widow. He m. Sarah Fogg just before coming to town, and d. June 29, 1807 (gravestone, less correctly, June 15, 1808), ae. 42. She m., 2d, James Osgood (see p. 538 [8]); m., 3d, John Tucker, of Gilmanton; lived again a widow, with her dau. [51], for eighteen years, and there d., Aug. 16, 1856, ae. 90, hence b. 1766. Children:

49. William, b. 1799; stood beside his mother, as she was milking, at night; d. very suddenly, before morning, July 29, 1803, ae. 4.

50. Asa, b. 1800, d. March 26, 1814, ae. 14.

51. Susan, b. Dec. 24, 1805; m. Nathaniel Piper (see p. 574 [40]).

52. Polly, b. after her father's death; m., 1st, David Dustin (see p. 247 [16]); m., 2d, Jeremiah S. Sanborn (see p. 690 [735]).

53. Josiah[2] [45] (Ebenezer[1]), m. Jane (Jenny) Eaton, dau. of William, 2d (see p. 259 [42]), July 12, 1812 (Crockett); then said to be of New Chester; has since lived in Warren, on a hill north of the village, largely occupied by his descendants, where she d., Jan. 18, 1862, ae. 70, and he d. May 11, 1875, ae. 84. He had, at death, 42 grandchildren (9 deceased), and 35 great-grandchildren (8 deceased). Children:

54. William E., b. Jan. 16, 1814, d. Oct. 8, 1829, in his 16th year.

55. Josiah, Jr., b. Aug. 6, 1815; m. Sarah Eaton, May 9, 1836, and settled in Warren, as have all the following brothers and sisters:

56. Elizabeth E., b. Feb. 8, 1818; m. Elias Foot, March 18, 1838.

57. Ebenezer, b. Jan. 1, 1820; m. Nancy Libbey, 1843.

58. Darius, b. Sept. 15, 1823; m. Elmena Little, 1849; and d. Dec. 15, 1861, ae. 38—3.

59. Abigail, b. March 20, 1825; m. Samuel E. Foot, Nov. 16, 1845.

60. Susan P., b. Oct. 24, 1828; m. Ezra Libbey, Aug. 14, 1849.

61. William, b. July 17, 1831; m. Sarah Caswell, 1855.

62. Sarah E., b. Jan. 14, 1834; m. Walter Pike, 1857.

III.

63. Ichabod Swain, as we learn from one of the first "returns" of highways, was in town as early as A. D. 1772, but whence came, or of what pedigree, is unknown. He was then occupying, as its first settler, the northwestern corner of Lot No. 2, 1st Div., Site 1, nearly opposite the Josiah Sanborn place. He had probably m., 1st, ——, and m., 2d, Mrs. Betsey (Stevens) Calley, widow of Richard, who is said to have had no near relatives of that name in town (see p. 82 [35]). He d. at an advanced age, Oct. 5, 1825, on his homestead. His widow m., 3d, Samuel Ela, from Vermont, Oct. 15, 1826 (Taylor); m., 4th, —— Eaton, and d. Jan. 16, 1842. He had no children, but sisters in town, as follows:

64. Susannah, m. Maj. Ebenezer Gove (see p. 314 [1²]).
65. Lucy, b. 1713; m. Josiah Sanborn (see p. 636 [201]).
66. —— (a third); m. —— Blake, of Andover.

THE SWAN FAMILY.

1. Jonathan Swan was the only son of a wealthy farmer in Methuen, Mass.; was there born, well educated, and fitted for college. He had m. Alice Sargent, also a native of M.; rem. to this town and settled near the old Gulf Road, Site 1, Lot 55, 1st Div. (house formerly moved from Mr. Ward's (J. M. Taylor's), at the Square, occupied by William Shores, and finally made a part of the Mark (Stephen) Hersey buildings). He d., in town, March 18, 1844, ae. 81 (records), and she d. Sept. 12, 1846, ae. 85. Children:

2. Jonathan, Jr., b. Nov. 28, 1786; m. Charlotte Buzzell, and lived in Methuen; moved North (?).

3. Frederick, b. July 10, 1788; went to the State of New York, and there m. Chloe Phillips.

4. Polly, b. Aug. 23, 1790; m. John Emerson, and lived in Boscawen.

5. Harriet, b. March 3, 1792; m., 1st, Richard Whitney, and settled in Methuen.

6. Charles, b. April 4, 1795; went to Massachusetts (Methuen?), and d. young.

7. Alice, b. May 5, 1797; took care of her mother and youngest sister on the old place; m. William Gibbons, of Lynn, Mass., Nov. 19, 1847 (Huntley); now res. in L., 10 Essex Street. No children.

8. Isaac, b May 28, 1799 (the only birth of this family on our town records); followed the sea chiefly; m. Esther Somerby, of Salem; finally settled in Newburyport; was there constable, but soon d.

9. Charlotte, } b. June 13, 1801, { d., unm., in Massachusetts.
10. Abigail, } { d. same day.

11. Sally, b. Jan. 18, 1804; was an imbecile; lived with her sister [7] and mother (as above), and d., in this town, May, 1839, ae. 35—4.

THE TAYLOR FAMILIES. — Two Branches.

No less than eighteen original ancestors are found, according to Savage, in this country prior to 1700, among whom are:

1. Anthony, of Hampton, 1638, and
2. Edward, of Lynn, Mass., 1639.

From one of these the Sanbornton families are probably derived, unless the traditions of a later origin, as below, are assumed. Fifty-three of the Taylor name had graduated at New England and New York colleges in 1828.

I.

3. Nathan Taylor, Sen., b. 1696, in Stratham (?); is said by some to have immigrated to this country direct from England. It seems a more probable supposition, however, as claimed by others, that his father, being the immigrant ancestor, came to Stratham from Massachusetts, and that

4. Edward, "of Stratham," grantee of Sanbornton, forty-fifth on the original "Petition," and drawer of Lots 5, 1st, and 26, 2d Div., was his younger brother. Stratham was, at any rate, a "radiating point" of the Taylors of this branch to various parts of New Hampshire.* He [3] res'd. in Stratham; m. Anne(a) Chase, who was there b., 1703, and there d., March, 1740, ae. 37; and thence removed, with his youngest son [8], to this town. He d. here, March 11, 1784, ae 88. Children, b. in Stratham:

5. Hannah, b. 1725; m. —— Mason; d., in this town, Feb., 1812, ae. 87.
6. Chase [9], b. March, 1728 (original grantee).
7, 8. Anne, b. 1731; m. —— Hilton. Jonathan [19], b. Oct. 2, 1739.

9. Chase[2] [6] (Nathan[1]), m., 1st, Phebe Hayes (see p. 330 [3[2]]), and first settled in Stratham, whence he rem. to Sanbornton, in Nov., 1768, with his family of seven children. Is said to have been "stuck in the mud" in the south edge of the town (near Bridge), and to have been "helped out" and up to the Square by John Sanborn! Though he drew, as grantee (forty-seventh on the "Petition" of 1748), Lots 25 and 13, and still kept possession of the same, yet he had early purchased, in addition, the more eligible lot, No 38, 1st Div., and there made his first improvements. He was a man of great physical strength and energy of character, and took a prominent part in the early affairs of the town, as well as in the Revolutionary struggle. He erected the frame house, partially consumed by fire the first spring, but still occupied by his great-grandson, Thomas W. [132], where the first town meeting was held after the incorporation of the town, in 1770, at which he was chosen moderator, as several times afterwards. He also commanded a company, raised by himself, in the Revolutionary war, Aug., 1777, a portion of which belonged to Sanbornton. With this, he arrived at Bennington the evening before the battle, and took a conspicuous part in that important engagement. He was wounded in the early part of the battle, breaking his thigh, falling to the ground, but "not knowing what hurt him" till he attempted to rise and "found his leg up in his face"! (See Revolutionary History.) In consequence of this he received a pension for many years after the war, while enjoying the fruit of his toils upon his farm in Sanbornton, where he lived to a good old age, latterly in the house more recently owned by Mr. Walter Ingalls, and died, respected by all, Aug. 13, 1805, ae. 77—5.

* More recent investigation of the Stratham records show that one I. "Benjamin Tailer" was there living in 1718, — selectman 1726. He was quite probably the father of Nathan [3] and Edward [4]. The latter was selectman of Stratham, 1749.

His common title was "Major." His will was dated Feb. 9, 1802, his house and house-lot, then occupied, being bequeathed to his grandson Thomas, when his "wife shall have done with the same," with legacies to three sons, and daughter of his son Jeremiah, then deceased (see [46]). His first wife d. Feb. 17, 1786, ae. 58, and he m , 2d, Sarah (Putnam) Elkins, widow of Capt. John Elkins, of Salem, Mass (see Ward Fam.), who d., his widow, Oct. 4, 1824, ae. 82. Children:

10. Chase, Jr., b March 28, 1752, in Stratham; was a Revolutionary soldier, and d. of camp disease, Aug. 1, 1776, ae. 24—4.

11. Nathan [28], b. Oct. 29, 1754, in Stratham.

12. William [35], b. March 26, 1757, in Stratham.

13. Thomas, b. Dec. 3, 1759, in Stratham, the fourth of his father's sons in the Revolutionary war, and with his father and two brothers in the campaign of 1777; d. of camp disorder, Aug. 25, 1777, in his 18th year.

14. Hannah, b. Nov. 30, 1761 (seven years old when her father came to town); m. Jonathan Perkins (see p. 550 [10]).

15. Jeremiah (Jeremy) [46], b. Feb. 15, 1764.

16. Anna(e), b. Sept. 15, 1766, in Stratham, d. Aug. 31, 1777, in Sanbornton, in her 11th year.

17. Molly (Mary), b. April 25, 1769, in Sanbornton (her father's new house taking fire the night of her birth!); m. Ephraim Hackett, of New Hampton, May 30, 1791 (Woodman). He was a farmer. She d. Jan. 30, 1838, in her 69th year. Children:—I. Chase T. (Hackett), b. Dec. 15, 1791; lived and d. as a farmer, at New Hampton, on his father's place; was twice m. (see Thompson Family [50]); d. about 1864, ae. 73 (?). He was a good man; had ten children (four sons), of whom four (two sons) are still living (1879), "honorable men and women, and no one would question that they possessed Taylor blood." 2. John, b. Sept. 15, 1793; res'd. first in New Hampton, rem. thence to Pittsfield, and there d., about 1863, ae. 70 (?). Eight children (five sons). 3. Charlotte, b. March 15, 1796; m. Alexander Park Ladd, farmer, of Meredith, near the village, and d. Jan. 3, 1861, in her 65th year Children, all living but one (1879):—I. Mary Taylor (Ladd), b. Dec. 22, 1814. II. John Orr Monroe, b. Sept. 10, 1816; was killed at the falling of the Meredith Town Hall, 1855, ae. 39. III. Timothy Boyd, b. April 14, 1820. IV. Joseph Park, b. May 22, 1822; has recently been a hotel keeper at Tilton, and now (1879-81) at Hill. V. Eugene Hackett, b. Nov. 20, 1834.

18. Phebe, b. Sept. 2, 1771; m. Ephraim Fogg (see p. 279 [1]).

19. Jonathan[2] [8] (Nathan[1]), had m. Rachel Moore, sister of William (see p. 487 [33]), then of Stratham, Oct. 16, 1760; rem. to this town, accompanied by his father, about 1773, and first settled where his grandson Andrew J. [212] now res., on Lot No. 9, 2d Div. There kept one of the first taverns in town. He was one of the most worthy and substantial of the primitive settlers, and would doubtless have proved equally patriotic with his older brother, during the Revolutionary war, but for the condition of his young family and the charge of his aged father, to him committed (see Rev. History). His wife d. Dec. 9, 1808, in her 70th year. He d. March 2 (3), 1816, ae.

76—5. Their five oldest children (as per records of that town) were born in Stratham, the last three in this town. No published sketches, as of his brother and nephew [28], have been found, but his family is by far the richer of the two in descendants, especially of the Taylor name. Children:

20, 21. John [51], b. June 9, 1762. Jonathan [63], b. March 12, 1764.
22. Ede [73], b. April 27, 1767.
23. Anna, b. May 9, 1770; m. David Chase (see p. 116 [32]).
24. Mark [87], b. Jan. 19, 1773.
25. Rachel Moore, b. June 25, 1776; m. Willoughby Durgin (see p. 235 [63]).
26. Thomas [99], b. March 13, 1779.
27. Nicholas Mason [109], b. Oct. 4, 1783.

28. Nathan[3] [11] (Chase[2], Nathan[1]). (From an extended obituary in the Strafford County Gazette, supposed to have been written by Charles Lane, Esq., we condense the following.) He commenced his career as a Revolutionary soldier (the last of) April, 1775, when less than 21 years of age (see Military Records). After the campaign of that year, he joined Maj. Whitcomb's 1st Company of Independent Rangers, which was stationed under Gen. St. Clair, at Ticonderoga, in the summer of 1777. It was known that Gen. Burgoyne had arrived in Canada, and would probably attempt a junction with the British army of New York. On the 16th of June, Lieut. Taylor, with twelve men under his command, was sent out to reconnoitre. Was ordered to an elevated point 15 miles down the lake (Champlain), whence a view of it for twenty miles farther could be obtained. No approach of the enemy being discovered, he started to return the next day, as directed; but, at 11 o'clock, fell into an ambuscade of sixty or a hundred Indians, near a creek since called "Taylor's Creek." The savages, feeling sure of their victims, greeted them familiarly with "How d' ye do, brothers?" but Lieut. Taylor, with remarkable coolness, promptness, and self-possession, gave the order to "Fire!" Recoiling, at first, they soon after rallied. The fight became general. Three of Taylor's men fell mortally wounded; himself received what he supposed would prove a fatal shot, in the shoulder. Ordering his men, therefore, to escape (retreating to the lake shore), to sell their lives as dearly as possible, and, if any reached the fort, to announce, "All's well upon the lake!" he crept, faint and bleeding, into the top of a large hemlock-tree which had lately fallen. Meanwhile, the Indians as a body had also retreated, perhaps concluding, from the boldness of their defence, that a re-enforcement was near at hand. Some of the savages, however, venturing back for scalps or spoils, stood upon and passed over the trunk of the very tree under the top of which young Taylor was lying in breathless suspense! Later in the day, perceiving no further tokens of their proximity, he found his way, with great difficulty, from loss of blood, back to the fort, arriving (according to Nathan Hoit's deposition) "just as the sunset gun was fired." He received the warmest commendation from Gen. St. Clair, while Capt. Hutchins, who had been sent out with one hundred men "to protect the scouting party," and had heard their guns without pressing forward to their relief, was promptly cashiered for his cowardice, and his command given to another.

On account of his wound — the ball having entered near the collar-bone and passed out below the shoulder-blade — Lieut. Taylor was unable to resume duty for several months, and not till after the unfortunate surrender of Ticonderoga, and the brilliant succession of events which followed, till the capture of Burgoyne and his army, had all transpired. He continued in the service till near the close of the war, ill health alone compelling him to resign his commission and retire to his home in Sanbornton but a few weeks before peace was declared. Here he afterwards became "the pattern farmer of the town"; was appointed justice of the peace, Dec. 22, 1795, and thus continued, by six renewals of commission, till his death; was an adept in the art military, and "Division Inspector of the Militia," with the rank of "Brigade-Major, April 5, 1793." In 1812 was one of the electors of President and Vice-President of the United States for New Hampshire; represented his town for many years in the State Legislature, and was a member of the Council and of the Senate. In 1814 commanded a company known as the "Ring Bone Company," in Sanbornton, composed mostly of Revolutionary veterans, and stood ready again to face the foe, if needed, and repel the invasion of the State.

"Possessed of great natural powers, a vivid imagination, a fund of anecdote, a mind well stored with historical facts, and most affable and winning manners, his company was sought by all. His house was always open, alike to the friend or the stranger, and his heart and hand were always ready to administer of his ample substance to the wants of the suffering or the needy. For many years he was a prominent member of the Congregational Church, and was Orthodox in his religious sentiments, always contributing liberally to the various charitable objects of the day. He is remembered as the 'model Christian gentleman,' much resembling, in manners and appearance, the great Washington, of whom he was the enthusiastic admirer. With Dr. Franklin, he could say in the decline of life, that he could look back upon his time with few things to regret, but many which afforded him comfort and consolation. He contemplated and arranged for his own death with the utmost composure; and having enjoyed perfect health and soundness, aside from a lameness occasioned by being thrown from his carriage, for almost a score of years beyond the common age of man, he was at last gathered to his fathers, full of years and full of honors," March 28, 1840, ae. 85—5. * The story has recently been made public in a county newspaper (of which we here give a slightly changed and authentic version), that when the youthful Jonathan M. Taylor [219] commenced his career as a blacksmith at the Square, Mr. T brought his horse to him with chalk marks upon the hoofs, ordering very incisively that the heels be paired down to such a point, and the toe-calks be made twice the usual length! Soon after he came again, requiring that the operation be reversed, thus "adding half a hand to the stature of the quadruped"! A week later the order was: "Take these shoes off, divide them in the middle, ox style; cut down the calks, and put them on, two on each foot." In every case the order was promptly executed without a word of remonstrance, or the least show of surprise. Finally the horse was led to the shop with the direction, "Shoe my horse as you think right," in tone and manner that signalled a truce! "Two lessons had been learned by two apt pupils," one by the young blacksmith, that obedience to owners was always good policy; the other by Mr. T. himself, "that he had found a man who interpreted correctly the purpose concealed in his singular demands."

19. Laura A., ditto (b. 1852), d. April 1, 1853, ae. 1. (Cemetery near Bay, Dea. M. Gilman place.)

THE THOMAS FAMILIES. — Three Branches.

There seem to have been three distinct branches of the Thomas family in Sanbornton which were but distantly related to each other.

I.

1. Jonathan Thomas, probably the oldest and earliest settler of the name, is said to have been a great hunter, and accustomed to pass his winters in the "upper country" in that capacity. His first residence in S. was in the present pasture of Joshua Lane, east of the Square (Site No. 1, Lot 40, 1st Div.), now visible in depression of the land overlooking the brook that has since gone by his name, — "Thomas Brook." He located, second, just below the present John Perkins place (Site 2, Lot 51, 1st Div.); thirdly, on the old Aaron Hill place (1774), towards Bay Bridge; his final home, in town, was the late Capt. Jacob Philbrick's, near the Bay, above Union Bridge, whence he rem. to Canada, and was last heard of as a "scout" (?) (hunter) through the woods of Maine. Children:

2. Jonathan, Jr., was corporal in Capt. Jeremiah Clough's company, and hence among the earliest Sanbornton men who started for the seat of war just after the battle of Bunker Hill. He continued in the service till 1781, but soon after left town for parts unknown.

3. Jacob [6], b. 1764.

4. Enoch, kept his father's last place, after the latter's removal to Canada, till it came into the possession of the Philbricks, and then himself moved from town.

5. Elizabeth, b. June 8, 1768; m. Reuben Philbrick (see p. 558 [44]).

6. Jacob[2] [3] (Jonathan[1]), was a fifer in the Revolution at fifteen; m. Ruth Perkins, dau. of Abraham (see p. 550 [5]), Oct. 13, 1785 (Woodman); occupied his father's second place (as above); rem. to Bridgewater about 1800, but ret. to this town, and lived, as its first settler, on the present Bunker (Moses) place, North Sanbornton; finally migrated (1833) with his son [12] to East Avon, N. Y., and there d., ae. about 76. He had also been in the Revolutiony war, and was, for many years, inordinately addicted to strong drink, but afterwards became a truly reformed and pious man. She d. June 7, 1850, ae. 86 (?). We have scarcely more than the names and doubtful order of their children, as follows:

7. Polly, b. April 10, 1787; probably m. William Moore (see p. 487 [25]), or may have m. Mayhew Sanborn, who also m. a Polly Thomas, May 22, 1811 (Crockett).

8. Joseph.

9. Abigail, b. 1790; m. Joseph Morse, of Salem, Vt., and there d., 1874, ae. 84. Her son: — 1. Joseph P. (Morse), now res. in Portsmouth.

10, 11. Eliza. Jacob.

12. Matthew Perkins, settled in East Avon, N. Y. (as above).
13. Nancy, b. July 20, 1798; m. John Dolloff (see p. 227 [3]).
14. Jonathan.
15. Esther, m. Nathan Heath, of Bridgewater, and there d.

16. Abigail, who m. Abiel Chandler (see Copp Fam., p. 182 [4, 1]);
17. Lydia, who m. Benjamin Powal, Sept. 5, 1793 (Woodman); may also both have been daughters of [1].

II.

18. Joseph Thomas, known only traditionally as a distant relative of [1., 1], was an early settler on Lot No. 37, 2d Div., where now his grandson [34] res. He m. Ruhama (Amy) Copp (see p. 182 [2]), and d. of a fit of apoplexy, "dropping dead in the road," near his house, on returning one night from a husking, ae. about 40. This must have been as early as 1780. She afterwards m., 2d, Jeremiah[3] Smith (see p. 735 [159]). Children:

19. Charles, m. Betsey Bean, Aug. 8, 1799 (Crockett); lived where now William B. Mason, west of his father's; rem thence to Hill, and there d. No children.
20. Joseph, Jr. [23], b. near the present house of his son [34].
21. Sally, m. Daniel Call, of Andover, Jan. 25, 1804 (Crockett) (see p. 84 [11]).
22. Polly, m. Sargent Sanborn (see p. 690 [728]).

23. Joseph[2], Jr. [20] (Joseph[1]), m. Polly Osgood, of Raymond (Gilford), dau. of Enoch, who was the cousin of Josiah[7] (see p. 540 [34]); continued on his father's place, and there d., July 31, 1833. She d. at Mr. Philbrick's [35], in Lowell, Mass. (?), March, 1866. Besides one infant child, who d. Sept. 7, 1806, and another who d. July 1, 1823, there were:

24. Harriette O., b. Aug. 14, 1807; m. Warren Wadleigh (see).
25. Hannah, b. Aug. 7, 1809; m. Ethan Philbrook (see p 562 [113]).
26. Charles [34]. b. Dec. 27, 1810.
27. Nancy E., b. April 25, 1812; m. Benjamin Calley, Jr. (see p 90 [35]).
28. Mary, b. Oct. 28, 1815; m. Hazen H. Call (see p. 86 [51]).
29. Joseph [36], b. July 25, 1818.
30. Benjamin Calley [39], b. April 2, 1820.
31. Charlotte, b. Nov. 12, 1821; m. David Shaw (see p. 702 (30]).
32. Betsey, b. Nov. 6, 1823; m. Jonathan T. Wadleigh (see).
33. Deborah Jane, b. Jan. 24, 1825; m. Isaac N. Lane (see p. 441 [98]).

34. Charles[3] [26] (Joseph[2], Joseph[1]), res'd. first in Campton, as a farmer; returned to his father's homestead in this town on the death of his brother [36], fall of 1865, and there continues. He m., 1st, Martha A. Jaques, dau. of Simon (see p. 395 [33]), Feb. 25, 1833 (Bodwell); m., 2d, Rebecca K. Emerson, dau. of Charles (see p. 268 [11]), Feb. 7, 1869. Child:

35. Elizabeth, b. Sept. 10, 1834 (1st wife), in this town; m. Charles H. Philbrick, of Lowell (in Dracut), April 6, 1855. He was b. in L , June 24, 1835; is there a merchant and manufacturer of concrete. Children: — 1. Charles S. (Philbrick), b. April 9, 1857, in Lowell. 2. Lizzie L., b. Aug. 14, 1859, d. April 7, 1861, in Lowell. ae. 1—8. 3. Elmer Ellsworth, b. July 25, 1861, d. Jan. 2, 1864, ae. 2—5. 4. Minnie Grace, b. March 27, 1864. 5. Harry Weymouth, b. Oct. 22, 1868. 6. Agnes Louisa, b. Oct. 13, 1873.

36. Joseph[3] [29] (Joseph[2], Joseph[1]), m. Harriet A. Clark, dau. of John D.[5] (see p. 140 [154]), who d. 1863, ae. 44. He occupied the ancestral farm, as above, and there d , June 9, 1865, in his 47th year. Children:

37. Mary Ann, b. Dec. 28, 1844; m. Andrew M. Hersey, 1st wife (see p. 347 [130]).

38. Frank J., b Oct. 16, 1849; is a farmer on the Eaton (Hale) place, Lot No. 33, 2d Div. (1881). He m. Martha G. Hale, dau. of Hermon T. Hale, Esq. (see Dolloff Fam., p. 228 [6, 2]), Feb. 18, 1879 (Bickford).

39. Benjamin C.[3] [30] (Joseph[2], Joseph[1]). During his minority he went to Boston, Mass., and engaged in a mechanical employment; was led, providentially, of a Sabbath morning, to attend public religious services with the Baldwin Place Baptist congregation. His attention was arrested; and, giving evidence of a saving change, he afterwards united with that church, Rev. Baron Stowe, pastor, Oct. 28, 1838. His dormant energies were forthwith aroused, and he speedily began to display those true qualities of a missionary,— a burning heart, inventive tact, and determined will. He was one of sixteen to form the Harvard Street Baptist Church, Boston, with which he proved a faithful worker, and continued connected for eleven years. Fitted for college at the Worcester Academy, grad. at Brown University in 1847, and completed a regular course at the Newton Theological Seminary, 1850. He m. Charlotte, dau. of Origen Bachelder, of Boston, Sept., 1850, and, Oct 12, was ordained as missionary to the Karens, — the successor of Boardman, — Dr. Stowe preaching the sermon from Luke iv. 12; embarked four days later for Calcutta, India, and reached his field of labor, Tavoy, May 1, 1851, where he labored successfully three and a half years. In 1854 he commenced in a new missionary field — purely heathen before, dark and forbidding — at Henthada, twenty miles north of Rangoon. He left, as the result of twelve years' active evangelism, an association of sixty churches, 2,000 living members, seventy Karen preachers, nine of whom he ordained himself, seventy out-stations, and one normal and forty-five primary schools. Early in 1867 he was assigned to the province of Bassien, and was laboring with his characteristic earnestness, and under that motive-power which had always impelled him, — the love of Christ; but in less than a year it was manifest, from his shattered constitution and failing health, that he must leave Burmah for his native shores, which he did by the overland route, arriving in New York June 8, 1868, just in season to die, June 11, ae. 48—2. His funeral was attended in Boston a few days later, at the Harvard Street Baptist house, the sermon being preached by his old pastor, giving a sketch of his life, as above, followed by earnest and appropriate addresses from Drs. Haswell and Warren, and a poem written by Henry S. Washburn, Esq. (an early friend and associate), on first hearing of his death. (The above is condensed from the Watchman and Reflector, of June 25 and July 2, 1868.) His widow has since returned to the(ir) missionary work. Children:

40. Willis Frye, b. Sept. 10, 1855, at Henthada, Burmah; grad. at Brown University, 1878; at the Newton Theological Seminary (1880), and has now joined his mother at the mission.

41. Clara Sabina, b. Nov. 13, 1863, in Rangoon, Bur., and there d., June 15, 1875, ae. 11—7.

III.

42. Elisha Thomas, a distant connection of the two preceding, was b., 1786, in Epping; came to town (Bridge) in early life, as a blacksmith and machinist; m. Abigail Morrison, dau. of John[4] (see p. 501 [65]), March 3, 1807 (Crockett); lived at Union Bridge, and was drowned in Little Bay, June 23, 1814, ae. 28 (see Casualties). She d., 1862, in Malden, Mass., ae. 72. Children (t. r.):

Jan. 17, 1837, d. Sept. 14, 1856, ae. 19—8. 2. Charles Franklin, b. Feb. 22, 1839, d. Aug. 24, 1844, ae. 5—6. 3. Charles Franklin, 2d, b. July 1, 1848.

44. Joseph, b. June 25, 1809, d. June, 1858, in Boston, Mass., ae. 49.

45. Abigail Morrison, b. Dec. 12, 1810; m. Thomas J Clark (see p. 148 [275]).

46. Joanna Hayes, b. Aug. 19, 1812; m. George Hubbard, of Groton, Mass., Sept. 24, 1835. Children: —1. Anna Louisa (Hubbard), b. July 24, 1836, in Methuen; m. Matthew Boothby, of Medford, March 27, 1862. 2. George Harrison, b. Sept. 12, 1840, in Boston; m. Martha Arabella Keene, of Medford, July 2, 1858. 3. Abby Augusta, b. Dec. 7, 1847, in Boston; d. at Malden, Sept. 29, 1861, in her 14th year.

47. Hannah (B.) Ayers, b. May 27, 1814, d. March, 1820, in her 6th year.

THE THOMPSON FAMILY.

Four Thompson brothers are said to have emigrated from England to Newburyport, Mass., prior to 1712, and settled in New Market, viz.: —

1, 2. Matthew [5]. William.

3, 4. Jacob and John, who returned to England. (Forty-six of the name had grad. at New England and New York colleges in 1828, seven of them at Dartmouth, seven, also, at the latter institution, between 1828 and 1860.)

5. Matthew [1], again rem. from New Market to Stratham, and there cleared him a farm. He was the ancestor of all bearing the name in Sanbornton, through his three children:

6. Matthew [9], b. July 8, 1718, in Stratham; first son, fourth child.
7. William [13], b. Aug. 5, 1722; third son, sixth child; and
8. Jacob [20], b. Feb. 21, 1734; youngest of the family.

9. Matthew[2] [6] (Matthew[1]), m. a Mrs. Brown, of New Market; lived in Stratham, and there d., Sept. 12, 1800, ae. 82—2. Among their children were:

10. Moses [26], b. Sept. 5 (15), 1749, in Stratham.
11. Matthew [37], b. Aug. 16, 1756.
12. Sarah, m. David Crockett (see p. 196 [47]).

13. William[2] [7] (Matthew[1]), m. Catharine Mason, of Stratham, and rem. thence to Sanbornton, March, 1769, his dau. [17] being then "nearly five years old, and remembering to have crossed the river on the ice." He cleared his farm from standing trees, where now Ebenezer Burleigh lives, Lot No. 32, 1st Div., and there d. He had been a soldier in the old French war of 1756; was present at the taking of Quebec, and left a "drinking-glass," now with his granddaughter, Mrs. Leavitt (see Sanborn Fam., p 650 [343]), one of three given him by a citizen of the captured city. Children:

14. Anna Sanborn, b. 1756, in Stratham; m. William Hayes (see p. 331 [11]).
15. William, Jr. [43], b. 1758.
16. Susannah, b. Nov. 27, 1760; m. John Taylor, Esq. (see p. 754 [51]).
17. Dorothy (Dolly), b. May 9, 1764; m. Dea. Josiah Sanborn (see p. 650 [338]).
18. Jonathan [53], b. 1766 (?).
19. Olive, b. 1768 (?); m. Capt. Peter Sanborn (see p. 644 [307]).

20. Jacob[2] [8] (Matthew[1]), came to town at the instigation of his brother [13], being a blacksmith; settled, and carried on his trade where now Seth Thompson [106] res. (near the brother's), and there probably d. He m. Susanna Tabor, of Stratham, who d., his widow, Dec. 4, 1827. Children:

21. Jacob, Jr. [58], b. May 2, 1767.
22. Susanna, b. 1771; m. Joseph Chapman (see p. 112 [13]).
23. Charlotte, m. —— Moore, of Parsonsfield, Me. Children: — 1. Jacob (Moore). 2. Charlotte.
24. Polly (Molly), b. May 10, 1776; m. David Burley (see p. 65 [100]).
25. Hannah, b Feb. 20, 1778 (1779); m. Harper Quimby (see p. 597 [2]).

26. Moses[3] [10] (Matthew[2], Matthew[1]), m. THE THORNE FAMILY.

1. John Thorne (or Thorn), was always known as the "old quartermaster," from his office held in the French war. He came from Kingston about 1765, — at the same time with Jacob Smith [124] and Satchel Clark (see p. 131 [27]), with whom he made the first joint improvements west of the Tin Corner, and finally settled on or under the little eminence known as "Thorne Hill." His first cabin was built directly opposite the late Widow Clement's (now David Clark's); afterwards replaced by a frame house, near which his son Phinehas also built, Site 1, Lot No. 72, 2d Div., the most of which lot he originally owned to the river. His wife, according to one account had previously d. and was buried at Tin Corner; after which he went to Sullivan, Me., and lived with his son, Dr. John. It has likewise usually been claimed that he d. there (in Maine); but we have now good evidence that he returned to Sanbornton, and here d., Sept., 1807. It is also more probable that his wife was the "Widow Thorn" who d. in this town Aug. 16, 1812. Children:

THE TILTON FAMILIES. — Four Branches.

The Tilton name is probably of Massachusetts connection, as to its immigrant ancestors, there being found three, brothers perhaps, from England:

1. John, of Lynn, in 1642;
2. William (see [144]), of Lynn, 1645; d. 1653, and
3. Peter, who was afterwards representative of Hadley, Mass., ten years, from 1665, and deacon of the church.*

At least seven of the name, doubtless descended from one or both of the two first above, are known to have been at Hampton Falls in Feb., 1733 (Bouton's Provincial Papers, Vol. IX. p. 342), viz.:

4–7. Jethro, Jonathan, Joseph, 1st, Joseph, 2d. (One of the two last being first selectman "of ye parish," in 1734.)

8–10. Josiah (see [144]), Samuel, and "Shurbun."

Though there is no evidence that a Tilton was among the citizens of Stratham at the incorporation of the town, in 1716, or in that town, or what is now New Market, as late as 1746; yet from one of those towns we must trace immediately our first Sanbornton family.

I.

11. Nathaniel Tilton was probably a son of Samuel [9], but though his name is so prominent in the early history of the first church in town, and after him, through his descendants, the southern portion of the original town is now called, yet very few reliable data respecting himself, his birth, his ancestry, or his immediate family have yet come to light. He is known to have rem. to Sanbornton from Stratham or New Market, as above; perhaps originally, and not long previously, from Hampton or Kensington. He first settled, between 1768 and 1771, on Lot No. 65, 2d Div. (south end), nearly a mile above the Bridge (now C. W. Colby's); was the second of the seven to put his name to the original "Church Covenant," Nov. 13, 1771, and was chosen the second deacon, "Jan'y ye 2d, 1772." He served the old church more than thirty-nine years, and May 8, 1811, at the request of Deacon Tilton, it was "voted to excuse him from performing the services of a deacon." His latest surviving grandson [91] was taught by him "to say his prayers" very early in life, and received from him a strong impression of his being "a godly man, and one very strict in keeping the Sabbath, to prevent the desecration of which on the part of his grandchildren, he used to tell them Bible stories." He m. Abigail Gilman, a relative (cousin?) of Gov. John Taylor Gilman, who d. in this town, Oct. 14, 1803. He d. Feb. 11, 1814. THE WALLIS OR WALLACE FAMILIES. — Three Branches.

* This does not harmonize with the reference in Cogswell's "History of Northwood," etc., to the three Tilton brothers in Hampton, "from Tilton Hill, England," David, Jacob, and Daniel. But these were probably of the second generation (see Daniel[2], in pedigree of [144]).

The former orthography has prevailed in this town, and is claimed by some to be the more authentic, even in Scotland; though history, as connected with Sir William Wallace, the gallant Scotch general, who endeavored to rescue his country from the English yoke, but died as a "traitor" in 1303, would favor the latter. John Wallis, an eminent English mathematician, died in 1703, and Dr. George Wallis, an English medical writer, poet, and satirist, died in 1802. The ancestor of all bearing the name in Sanbornton was

1. George[1], who came from Scotland in 1660, and settled in Rye, near the so-called "Wallis Sands," having land conveyed to him by deed, Nov. 16, 1660. His son,

2. William[2], was suddenly killed in Rye, by being thrown from a load of hay.

3. William[3], of the next generation, son of [2], rem. from Rye to Northwood, where his son,

4. John[4] [60], was b. July 23, 1777.

I.

We begin, however, because earliest settled in town, with

THE WARD FAMILY.

The name of Ward has ever stood high in New England, and twenty-four of the name had graduated at her colleges in 1826. Cotton Mather has immortalized the names of two Puritan divines, who settled here from England, viz.: —

1. Mr. Nathaniel Ward, of Ipswich, and his son,

2. Mr. John Ward, of Haverhill. There were also other original ancestors; and, among them,

3. John, of Salem, Mass., who d. 1656, and, probably,

4. Miles[1], of Salem, who m. Sarah Massey. Their son,

5. Joshua[2], m. Sarah Trevett, and their son,

John and Sarah (Putnam) Elkins (see Chase Taylor, p. 750 [9]), and rem. to this town in 1790.* He first settled just below the Square, northwest corner of Lot No. 39, 1st Div. (main road), where he built the "great house," so called, the first and only three-story building ever erected at the Square, site of the present A. M. Baker's; also the store just above, known as the "Lovejoy stand," and a distillery back of the present residence of Jona. M. Taylor, with a small house in front, which last, after the failure of the enterprise, was moved down to Lot No. 54, west of the present Lane place, on the Gulf Brook (see Sites). He afterwards built and occupied the house now held by William Lane, owning also the farm — as appears by his initials, "G. C. W.," still preserved upon the bound stone — between that lot and No. 53, "D. L." (David Lane). He d., of consumption, at Salem, Mass., while on a visit, March 11, 1801, ae. 35—7. Few men in Sanbornton ever displayed a more vigorous and effective business energy in ten years' time than he! His widow m., 2d, Hon. Nathan Taylor (see p. 753 [28]). Children (t. r.):

THE WOODMAN FAMILIES. — THREE BRANCHES.

Two brothers, Woodman, came from Malford, England, in the "James," to Newbury, Mass., June, 1635. Of these,

1. Archelaus was a mercer; had m. 1st, Elizabeth ——, who d. Dec. 17, 1677; m., 2d, Dorothy Chapman, Nov. 13, 1678, and d. Oct. 7, 1702. He "left no children." His brother,

2. Edward and family came same year (as above); was one of the fifteen (out of ninety-one grantees of Newbury) who bore the title of "Mr." He was doubtless the common ancestor of all the Sanbornton Woodmans, and we have this additional record, in pamphlet list, of his descendants (1855): "He was a man of influence, decision, and energy, and opposed with great zeal the attempt made by the Rev. Thomas Parker to change the mode of church government (in Newbury) from the Congregational to something like the Presbyterian, 1669 and onward (see History of Newbury). He was deputy to the General Court in 1636, 1637, 1639, and 1643; during several years was one of the three commissioners, 'to end small causes,' in Newbury, and at various times held other offices of profit and trust in town and State. Among other commissions, he had one from the State 'to see people marry,' of which, in 1681, he thus speaks: 'An unprofitable commission. I quickly laid aside the worke, which has cost me many a bottle of sacke and liquor, where friends and acquaintances have been concerned.'" He and his wife, Joanna, were living in Feb., 1687–88. She was then 74, hence b. 1613. He d. prior to 1694; age not known. His two oldest children were:

3. Edward, Jr. [5], b. 1628; came to this country, with his father, when a little boy, as did also

4. John [60], the supposed ancestor of the Woodmans in the east part of Sanbornton. We separate these two brothers, for convenience' sake, into two branches:

I.

5. Edward, Jr.[2] [3] (Edward[1]), m. Mary Goodridge, Dec. 20, 1653. Of his eleven children, the eighth, and the oldest, son, who lived to grow up, was

6. Edward[3], b. March 20, 1670; m. Mary Sawyer, June 29, 1702. Their second child and oldest son was

7. John[4], b. Sept. 15, 1704; m. Anna Adams, of Ipswich, Mass., 1723; 1725 also given, but the former more probable, from the following children's births, all born in Newbury:

8. Sarah, b. June 2, 1724; m. Abiel Rogers, June 4, 1752; d., ae. over 90.
9. John, b. Nov. 29, 1726, d. Feb. 14, 1727, ae. 3 mos.
10. Nathaniel, b. Feb. 22, 1730, d., ae. 94 (1824).
11. Polly, b. 1732; m. —— Brickett.
12. Daniel (Samuel), b. Jan., 1735, d. 1819, ae. 84.
13. Abigail, b. Feb. 9, 1737; m. Anthony Chase, June 29, 1758; res'd. in Haverhill, Mass.

14. Priscilla, b. July 29, 1740; m. Tristram Chase, of Haverhill, 1762.

15. Judith, b. April 24, 1742; m. Joshua Woodman, of Kingston, May 26, 1772.

16. Elizabeth (Betsey), b. May 29, 1744; m. John Emery, 3d, Oct. 1, 1767; lived in Haverhill, Mass.

17. Rebecca, b. July 10, 1746; m. Josiah Emery, of this town (see p. 269 [8]).

18. Joseph [19], b. Aug. 22 (Sept. 4), 1748 (besides one other daughter, who m. —— Bartlett).

19. Joseph[5] [18] (John[4], Edward[3], Edward, Jr.[2], Edward[1]), was educated at Nassau Hall, New Jersey, and received the honors of that institution in 1766; m. Mrs. Esther (Whittemore) Hall, March 8, 1771, who was the widow of Jeremiah Hall, and the dau. of Rev. Aaron Whittemore, first Congregational minister of Pembroke, b. Aug. 13, 1752, her first husband having d. very soon after marriage. He was ordained pastor of the Congregational Church and minister of the town, Nov. 13, 1771, the church being the same day organized, and continued in that relation for thirty-five years, though compelled to suspend his labors most of the time for the last two or three years on account of ill-health. He was dismissed Nov. 13, 1806, and d., in town, Sept. 28, 1807, ae. 59—1.

> "The sweet remembrance of the just > Shall flourish when they sleep in dust."

She, as his "virtuous and amiable consort," had "cheerfully resigned her departing spirit into the hands of Jesus," July 12, 1803, in her 51st year. "Beloved in life, lamented in death."

(For the acts and proceedings of the town relative to the settlement of Mr. Woodman, see General History, Vol. I.) It seems that the frame of his house was not erected, with the town's assistance, till the spring after his ordination, and that the house was not completed till the autumn following. In the mean time he had negotiated with Esq. Harper to exchange the 1st Division lot, which fell to him as first minister of the town (No. 76, being rough and undesirable), for portions of Nos. 75 and 14, near the dividing line of which the house was erected in 1772, which was to bear his honored name for more than one hundred years. He had lived, meanwhile, on first coming to town, at the Ely place, now J. P. Lane's, in Tilton. His 2d Div. lot, No. 11, was retained, and near its southwest corner he built the Woodman upper house, for renting (see Lots). It is traditionally reported that he went out, "early in the Revolutionary war, as chaplain, on a short expedition, with soldiers from Sanbornton and vicinity." This, if authentic, was probably for the Bennington campaign in 1777. From Rev. Dr. Bodwell's Church Centennial Address, we quote as follows: —

"He was a man of commanding personal appearance and dignified bearing, and for talent and education took rank with the foremost ministers of New Hampshire. He was of medium height, of a broad, compact frame, with large head well set on ample shoulders, and decidedly marked features. I have heard it said by men who knew him, and who have passed away, that he had natural endowments which would have fitted him admirably for the courts of law, or the halls of legislation, if such had been his choice. The estimation in which he was held by the town may be gathered from the fact that at a special meeting, held Jan. 17, 1775, it was 'voted that the Rev. Joseph Woodman be a deputy for this town to join the deputies of the other towns in this province, at a meeting to be held at Exeter on the twenty-fifth day of this instant, to choose delegates for the Continental Congress, and to choose a committee to proportion each town's part of ye charge of sending delegates.' That he was held in high respect beyond the limits of his own town, it is evident; for we find that on the third day of June, 1802, he preached to the governor of the State (John Taylor Gilman) and his Council, with the Senate and House of Representatives, in Concord, then a pleasant village, and the discourse was published" (text, Hos. vii. 9). His discourse on "Christian Charity and Candor," preached on the occasion of his baptizing Mr. Levi Robinson, by immersion, Nov. 22, 1791, was also published. Children:

59. Aaron[6] [29] (Joseph[5], John[4], etc.), received a good academical education; spent several years in the store of Mr. Greenough, at Canterbury; commenced business in New Boston at the age of 20; soon after settled in Northfield, and there continued till 1816, when he removed to Boston, Mass., and was associated with Mr. Levi Bartlett in mercantile pursuits till his sudden death, July 30, 1826, ae. 36—4. He "was blessed with a sound mind and discriminating judgment; was amiable in disposition, social in his affections, and remarkably uniform in his temper. Decision was a distinct and peculiar trait in his character; modesty, promptitude, and energy distinguished all his actions."

He became the subject of deep religious impressions, during a revival in Canterbury. In Boston he formed, with six other young men, an association for devotional purposes, which still exists in connection with the Park Street Church, and with this church they all united in 1821. He afterwards labored to strengthen and build up the Union and Hanover Street Churches, with which he was successively connected, — being selected, with others, for the former, — and was most laborious and efficient in the cause of Sabbath schools, first as teacher in the Mason Street and Fort Hill mission schools, and then as superintendent of the African Sabbath School. He was evangelical in his views, consistent in his Christian life and character; keen in his moral perceptions; of a quick and tender conscience, and pre-eminently adorned with humility. "His closing scene was marked with special interest, while the Christian benevolence of his previous life, and his recognized stewardship from the Lord" dictated the bequests of his will as follows: To the American Board of Foreign Missions, $4,000; to the Education Society, $3,000; to the Tract Society, $2,000; to the American Colonization Society, $500; to the Penitent Female Refuge, $1,000; besides making "suitable provision for his relatives, in proportion as he judged their circumstances required," and leaving $400 to the funds of the "Woodman Sanbornton Academy," in his native town, in addition to what he had previously given. In this latter institution, his name — as its chief founder — was worthily perpetuated for many years. He never m. (Abstract of notices in the Boston Recorder and Telegraph, Oct., 1826.)

Converted when only a child, he honored the God of his parents; and father, mother, three brothers, and two sisters-in-law, all Christians, stood around his death-bed.

25. George Colby, b. May 5, 1851; is now (1875-81) employed chiefly in the Granite Mill (Tilton); also aiding his father on the farm.

APPENDIX I.

A few additional families and individuals, of whom we find brief entries upon the town records, or information has been derived from other sources, though not with sufficient fulness for the foregoing genealogies.

THE BENNETT FAMILY.

Father's name not ascertained. He kept the well-known "Bennett's Ferry" in early times, below the present Hill Bridge. Mrs. B. d. Dec. 24, 1814 (Bodwell). Supposed children (as gathered from the Crockett marriage records):

1. Sally, m. Josiah Heath, of Bridgewater, June 5, 1795.
2. Betsey, m. Joseph Heath, of Bridgewater, Nov. 17, 1796.
3. John, m. Betty Connor, Nov. 17, 1796.
4. Hannah, m. Clement Seavey, March 25, 1798.
5. Dolly, m Moses Page, Sept. 6, 1798.
6. Tilton, m. Sally Straw, of New Chester, April 18, 1799. And probably, though then said to be "of New Chester."
7. Cutting, m. Polly Fowler, July 6, 1809.

THE BRUCE FAMILY.

1. Thomas Bruce was a member of the Sanbornton company which enlisted for the Portsmouth campaign, in 1814; afterwards settled as a blacksmith, near Calef's Corner, in the house lately occupied by G. W. Copp. He there d., of a fever, Oct. 11, 1825, his wife having preceded him of the same disease, Oct. 3. Their child had d. Aug. 31, 1810.

THE GREENLEAF FAMILY.

1. Thomas R. Greenleaf had moved to Sanbornton from Salisbury before 1830, and was established in trade on the Kimball stand, at the Square, now the dwelling of the late Chase Jaques, till about 1845. He was a conscientious and good man. His business with the farmers of Sanbornton and vicinity was almost wholly by barter. He had three or four hundred names upon his books, and so great confidence had he inspired that the prices of his goods were very rarely asked. His wife's first name was Mary E. Their children who died, and were buried in the Centre Cemetery, were:

2. ANDREW S., b. 1829, d. April 20, 1832, ae. 3.
3. ELVIRA, b. June, 1832, d. Feb. 5, 1834, ae. 1—8.
4. CHARLES, b. Jane, 1834, d. Feb. 12, 1835, ae. 8 months.

THE HUBBARD FAMILY.

The town records give simply:

1. "RICHARD," as the father's name (whence came, where, or how long in town, unknown), and his "child":

2. "JOHN LANGDON, b. Nov. 18, 1814."

THE LARY FAMILY.

1. DANIEL LARY had settled in town very early, on Lot No. 27, 2d Div., back of the later Emery and present Howe place. His name, and that of his brother, who accompanied him,

2. JONATHAN, were upon the "Petition" of 1768. His two sons were in the Revolutionary war:

3, 4. JOHN, JAMES, of one of whom Hon. Nathan Taylor used to say (as being present at their famous encounter with the Indians at Taylor's Creek, N. Y., in 1777), that he was observed, on that occasion, to be "shooting tobacco juice and leaden balls in about equal proportion"! A daughter of this family,

5. JEMIMA, m. John Lucas, of Wolfeborough, Jan. 3, 1782 (Woodman).

THE NUTT FAMILY,

Of which our attention must be confined to a single representative: —

1. SAMUEL (Rev.), b. Dec. 15, 1784, being of that sterling Scotch-Irish race which came to this country in 1719, and settled in Londonderry. The name was originally written "McNutt." At first a blacksmith, he became, by the power of God's Spirit, operating upon the strict Presbyterian training of his earlier years, a valiant soldier of the cross, and a most successful preacher of the Christian denomination. In no less than nine different States, and two of the neighboring provinces, did he labor. Between 1,000 and 2,000 were baptized by his own hands. The scene of his most effective labors was in the Province of New Brunswick, where, in the valleys of the St. John's and Miramichi Rivers, about 1,200, as nearly as could be ascertained, were converted to Christ under his powerful appeals, and of these no less than thirteen afterwards became preachers of the Gospel. The last twenty-one years of his life were spent in Sanbornton, where he won the confidence and love of all who knew him, as a quiet, exemplary citizen and a truly godly man. "His was a life among us of faith and prayer, of constant dependence upon the Son of God, spiritually, and upon the wise and merciful providence of God to supply his earthly wants. In answer to his prayers, the Lord raised up friends for his declining years, — friends of former years, 'friends of the mammon of unrighteousness,' those who regarded him as their spiritual father; the sea-captain, who always said that the prayers of Elder Nutt, at one time, upon his own vessel, in a violent storm, saved the ship and their lives from destruction; large-hearted and benevolent men, who loved him, in the neighboring town of Franklin and elsewhere, — all vied with each other in bestowing upon him a variety of unsolicited favors, and received as their greatest earthly reward the good man's blessing." He d. Sept. 17, 1872, in his 88th year, and his obsequies were attended at Franklin on the 20th. He was twice married, and left a widow, but no children.

THE REED FAMILY.

1. John Reed was a laborer; worked for Mr. Clark, at Cross's Mill (now Franklin), and there built a small house. He m. Polly Haynes. The town records contain nothing but his name, the first name of his wife, and that of his child (with birth):

2. Lucy, b. Sept. 26, 1815.

THE ROWE FAMILIES.

(In part supplemental to p. 495 [21], and p. 605 [65]).

1. Simon Rowe m., 1st, Betsey Crandall, who d. Oct. 17, 1826, in the 41st year of her age. His 2d wife d. Jan. 3, 1830. He d. at his Sanbornton home, Sept 19, 1851. Of his children (1st wife):

2. Ursula, b. Feb. 3, d. Feb. 18, 1806, ae. 15 days.
3. Bradbury Morrison (no record).
4. Abigail, m., and res in Brentwood.
5. Clarissa, b. 1822, d., of dysentery, Sept. 7, 1826 (the fatal year), ae. 4. (Centre Cemetery.)

Of another family was:

6. Leander S. Rowe, b. 1813, at the Indian Stream (Northern N. H.); came thence to this town for work; made it his home, at Mr. David L. Morrison's; was a Sanbornton soldier in the war of the Rebellion; d. at New Haven, Conn., on his way home, Jan. 7, 1863, ae. 50, and was here buried near the residence of his generous patron.

THE SEVERANCE FAMILY.

1. Nathaniel Severance (usually written Sufferance on our town records) was the earliest settler on the Ede Taylor, now Daniel B. Sanborn place; lived afterwards at the Woodman upper house, but rem. to Belfast, Me., soon after 1800. He was vividly remembered by the venerable Capt. John B. Perkins, from certain episodes of school-boy experience,* as a citizen of the Centre School District, being the father of two sons and at least one daughter. The town records give only the former of the two following children:

2. James, b. March 18, 1786. There was also
3. Jacob (known to have been a little younger).

---

* It seems that during the winter which closed the past and opened the present century, the boys of the Centre School one day engaged in a snowballing frolic, carrying their sport to such a pitch that it ended in a general melée, and the fracture of a rib of one of these Severance boys! A solemn "trial" ensu d, consuming the whole afternoon, and satisfaction not thus secured, there was another (adjourned) "court," at which Rev. Mr. Woodman was present; but the arguments of neither parson nor dominie could ever induce a certain youth, who, from his strength and agility, was regarded as a ringleader in the affray, to render any apologies or confess to any "wrong" of which he was not in the least conscious, either in thought, feeling, or intention! The irate father was, however, at last appeased by the promise of a lamb, to be given to his injured boy by the father of the other youth who would not make a confession, which lamb was presented the following spring.

APPENDIX II.

The following list comprises the names of other persons who were buried within the original limits of Sanbornton, or such of the tablet inscriptions, from all the older and some of the more modern cemeteries, as have not already been incorporated in the foregoing genealogies, in connection with the deaths of the individuals mentioned. All the inscriptions from the old gravestones in town were carefully copied off, so far as legible. This, therefore, is the remnant of a catalogue which was originally designed to be complete. Brief remarks are occasionally added, in parenthesis:

1. Ash, Elizabeth, dau. of Ira and Anna Ash, d. Oct. 22, 1853, ae. 3—4. (Rollins Cemetery. Her father was a blacksmith near Esq. William Weeks's, School District No. 11, see p. 690 [735]).

2. Bean, Hezekiah, d. May 8, 1874, ae. 64.

3. Bean, John W., d. March 11, 1860, ae. 17—9—9. "All is well."

4. Bean, Mary Ellen, d. May 9, 1841, ae. 10 weeks and 5 days. "She sleeps in Jesus." (Three last in the Tilton Park Cemetery.)

5. Blodgett, Clara, wife of Rev. L. D. Blodgett, d. June 10, 1852, ae. 32. "She is not dead, but sleepeth."

"Though beauty grace your comely face
With roses, white and red,
A dying fall will spoil it all,
For sweet Rozilla's dead."

(Two last in Morrison Cemetery, Franklin.)

44. Taylor, David S., d. Feb 18, 1835, ae. 23—4. (East Tilton Cemetery.)

APPENDIX III.

Contains all which at the latest possible moment (Feb. 22, 1881), before the printing of this volume is completed, can be appended by way of supplement or correction (addenda and errata) to the foregoing records.

Many of these items were received or discovered too late to be incorporated into the body of the work, or were there inadvertently omitted. All are referred to the proper individuals, by page and consecutive number. It will be noted, especially, that no less than nineteen individuals, who were living Sept. 23, 1880, when the printing of the volume commenced, are so soon to be reckoned among the departed. Thus death is ever on our track. The names of these appear in a body at the close of the addenda. Others reported as living have doubtless fallen by the way, but no intimations of other recent deaths have been received.

ADDENDA.

1. Frank R. Woodbury (p. 95 [80, 1, I.]), d. Sept. 18, 1853, ae. 6—6. (Cawley Cemetery, North Sanbornton:)

Recent Deaths, in the Order of Occurrence.

(See heading of this Appendix.)

1. Carrie Frances Blair (p. 73 [182, 3]), was b. Dec. 22 (not 3), 1875, and d. in Campton, of scarlet fever, Sept. 26, 1880, in her 5th year. While in health, this darling child enjoyed and expressed such vivid presentiments of approaching heavenly glory, that the hearts of her parents are greatly comforted.

2. John C. Gove (Mrs.) (p. 317 [41]), d. in Cleveland, Ohio, Oct. 18, 1880, in her 74th year, after a brief illness, occasioned by the shock to her system from a slight accident occurring in the family of her son, with whom residing. She was a true mother, — sympathetic, anxious for others' welfare, and endeared to all around her.

3. John Taylor Clark (p. 151 [310]), d. in or near Boston, Oct. 30, 1880, ae. 55—1, of Bright's disease. A contemporary newspaper furnishes the following obituary: "Few more useful and public-spirited citizens have lived in Boston than Hon. John T. Clark, whose premature death so many are now brought to mourn. His early life was similar to that of most of our successful merchants. He came to Boston from the country, and made his way to business prominence by his own efforts. It is in his identification with the municipal affairs of Boston, however, that he will be longest remembered. Immediately (on being elected to the Board of Aldermen) he took a leading stand in that body. His services at the time of the great fire were invaluable. His judgment was sound, and his industry and activity were very great. He labored early and late in his duties attendant upon the rebuilding of the burnt district, and the amount of work that he then accomplished was a marvel to his associates. When Mayor Pierce declined a re-election, their minds, and those of many others, turned to Mr. Clark as his fitting successor; but in view of the peculiar politics of the city, it was felt expedient to nominate a Democrat for mayor, and Hon. Samuel C. Cobb was selected. Mr. Clark, however, continued to be a main reliance in the Board of Aldermen. He served five successive years in that body. His most conspicuous acts during Mayor Cobb's administration were in introducing the resolution in favor of a public park, and in the order to extend Commonwealth Avenue. He urged both these measures with untiring persistence, and no man is better entitled to the credit of their paternity. The extension of Commonwealth Avenue he had much at heart. It was a frequent remark with him that if he could live to see this avenue reach to Chester Park, he should be content to die, feeling that he had conferred a lasting benefit upon the city. It has been suggested to call this Prince Park; but the name of Clark Park would be greatly more appropriate; for Mr. Clark's clear-sighted vision foresaw the importance of the scheme, and to him, much more than to any one else, shall we be indebted for its consummation. Mr. Clark was personally one of the best known of Boston men. His distinguished presence made his a marked figure wherever he appeared, and his courtly manners corresponded well with the singular endowments of person with which nature had gifted him. He was amiable in disposition, and attached men to him always by his uniform courtesy of manner. As a husband and father he was a model. No man was ever more endeared to the home circle, and few have been so highly esteemed in social life."

4. Timothy D. Baker (p. 18 [33]), d. at Lake Village, Nov. 11, 1880, ae. 70—6. His residence in that place had covered a period of nearly twenty-nine years, where he had accumulated considerable property, and was universally respected. He had served twice as deputy sheriff; was engineer of the Lake Village Fire Precinct; an original member of the Belknap County Band, with which he actively served as drummer for many years. At his funeral, which took place on the Sunday after his death, the band showed their high regard for his memory by attending in a body.

5. Joshua Clark (p. 145 [229]), d. at his home, in Campton, Nov. 20, 1880, in his 71st year. He united with the Free Will Baptist Church before leaving Sanbornton, ever maintained a consistent Christian walk, and was highly esteemed as a neighbor and a citizen in the town of his adoption.

6. Carrie A. Gilman (p. 308 [44]), d. Dec. 5, 1880, ae. 22—3—17. Her years of feebleness terminated in a singularly happy death.

"Ah, had disease but spared her morning hours,
Had life with her received a longer date,
How bright in age had bloomed fair virtue's flowers,
And nobly triumphed o'er the stroke of fate.

"But sickness came and plucked each blooming grace,
Round her fair form a deadly influence threw;
Stole, one by one, the roses from her face,
And planted the pale lily where they grew.

"Yet, though her sun of life went down ere noon,
That sun shall rise again divinely bright, —
Through countless ages, undiminished glow
In all the radiance of celestial light."

(From a tribute to her memory, written by Mrs. S. B. Hanson, and read at the Ladies' Circle, Acad. Hall, Jan. 13, 1881.)

7. William H. Burleigh (p. 68 [133]), d. in Grafton, Dec. 25, 1880, ae. 63—1. He had been a man of remarkable industry and business energy, — continued till near the close of life. His remains were followed by widow, son, and daughter-in-law to his native Sanbornton, and, at their request, a funeral discourse was preached by the writer, in the 1st Baptist Meeting-house, Dec. 28, from the text selected by Mrs. B., Ps. xxiii. 4 "Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil; for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff they comfort me."

8. Luther Osgood (p. 538 [22]), d. in Campton, Jan. 23, 1881, ae. 70—7, of softening of the brain, after an illness of four months. He was for twenty-three years a "well-known and prominent citizen of Campton, and one of its best farmers. He was a good man, and had held various town offices, being the representative of the town two years, 1849–50." (Boston Journal obituary.) His funeral services were held the Tuesday after his death, in the Congregational Meeting-house, Campton, conducted by Rev. Quincy Blakely, assisted by Rev. J. B. Hadley.

9. Chase W. Brown (Mrs.) (p. 49 [34]), d. in Sanbornton, Jan. 24, 1881, in her 72d year. She inherited much of the religious principle and Christian zeal of her worthy grandfather, the Rev. Nicholas Folsom. A true mother in Israel, and greatly will her aid and influence as a grandmother be missed in the home circle.

10. Josiah F. Stone (p. 150 [304]), d. in Winchester, Mass., after a long and painful illness of pneumonia, Jan. (?) (Feb.), 1881, ae. 58—3, being, at the time of his death, "a member of the Massachusetts House of Representatives, for 1881, from the Fourteenth Middlesex District. He was b. Oct. 16, 1822, in Cornish, N. H., and received a liberal education at the Kimball Union Academy, in Meriden. After his removal to Winchester he was honored with many local offices of trust, and held a justice of the peace warrant for twenty-five years. He was in the House of 1879, that, prior to the opening week of this session, having been his only legislative experience." (Boston Journal obituary.)

11. William E. Crockett, Jr. (p. 877 [17, 7]), while in the faithful discharge of his duty as brakeman, was so injured by accidental concussion with a bridge at Beverly, Mass., Jan. 29, 1881, as to cause his death, Feb. 3, in his 21st year. "He was a young man of more than ordinary promise, — capable, manly, and honest." His railroad associates, coming in a body to his funeral at Newburyport, vied with the friends of his earlier life in "pillowing" his casket with flowers, and doing honor to his memory.

12. Benaiah S. Lang (p. 455 [56]), d. Feb. 4, 1881, in Tilton, in his 84th year, having enjoyed excellent health till within a few months. The oldest residents of Sanbornton never had occasion to doubt his integrity, and of late years he has been respected, even by the children, as one of our most genial and venerable citizens.

13. Samuel Prescott (p. 593 [100]), d. in Franklin, Feb. 12, 1881, in his 72d year; he had m., 2d, the widow (2d wife) of his brother [106], about 1872, and after that res'd. in F., being "universally recognized as an honest man and an upright citizen. Generous to a fault, his benevolence to the poor will ever be remembered." His remains were interred in Blossom Hill Cemetery, Dorchester, Mass.

14. Grace Fannie Houghton (p. 572 [41]), d. at Brasher, N. Y., Feb. 13, 1881, ae 3—3, after an illness of three days.

15. Sally Ames (Mrs) (p. 61 [35]), d. in Laconia, Feb. 14, 1881, ae. 93. (Erroneously given in the local papers as one year older.) She had been a woman of great physical strength and endurance, with excellence of character and moral effectiveness to match. Faithfully did she serve her family and children through all the days of her activity.

16. Phebe R. Fox (Mrs.) (p. 728 [104, 8]), d. in Laconia, Feb. 18, 1881, ae. 40—2, after three days' sickness, of pneumonia, following the measles. She was buried from the residence of her sister, Mrs. Gilbert, Rev. G. C. Waterman officiating, and a large circle of relatives and friends mourning her loss.

17. Corban Curtice (Rev.) (p. 205 [3]), d., after a brief illness, of mastoid abscess on the brain, Feb. 19, 1881, ae. 72. A large and sympathetic audience was assembled at the Congregational Church, in Tilton, on the 21st. The altar and pulpit, from which for so many years he had faithfully dispensed the word of truth, were tastefully draped in mourning, and a tender and eloquent tribute was paid to his memory as a pastor, preacher, and spiritual helper, by Rev. F. T. Perkins, the present minister in his much-loved parish. "He rests from his labors, and his works do follow him."

18. Daniel S. Clay (Mrs.) (p. 156 [82]), d. in Tilton, Feb. 22, 1881, ae. 51—3, thus early rejoining the pastor of whose earthly flock she had been a most faithful and devoted member.

19. Reuben Philbrook (p. 563 [114]), d. on the day previous to the last, and in Tilton, the same village with [17], ae. 66—5, the closing of whose worthy life affords a fitting close to these records. "Let me die the death of the righteous, and let my last end be like his."

ERRATA.

On p. 21 [13], second line; for "Edward," read "Ward."

On p. 802 [76], thirteenth line; for "Merrill," read "Morrill"; probably, also, "Joseph" should be substituted for "Jacob."

On p. 810 [163]; for "John Wallis," read "J. Willis."

On p. 831 [1], second line; for "1867," read "1767."

INDEX I.

NAMES.

This index will contain (1) the names of all ancestors of whom anything more than the mere name is given; (2) of all parents or heads of families; (3) of all children, in consecutive order, except of those who reappear by a second (bracketed) number, as heads of families; (4) of all persons who married into these families, and whose surnames are known, except of those who appear as children of other families in other parts of the volume; (5) of individuals to whom important reference is made, as ancestors or connections of distinction not in the regular line, or persons referred to as furnishing valuable information.

The first number after a name, if without the dash, is that of the page on which the name is found. The second number, or that uniformly preceded by a short dash (-), is the consecutive number in the given family at which the name is found upon the page before noted; but in case of family names found within the pages assigned to a family heading, the consecutive number of the individual only is given, preceded, as before stated, by the short dash, and sometimes followed by other numbers, indicating the individual's place or generation. Where more than two persons bear the same Christian name, as well as surname, the birth years of each, when known, are added in parenthesis. The letter (H) indicates those names which are found in the headings of several families.

INDEX II.

GENERALITIES.

This index contains, I., references to many of the other towns (with their States) alluded to in the volume, chiefly as being the places from which the early settlers and others came to Sanbornton, and to which emigrants removed on leaving town. It, however, omits the citation of several places which are more frequently mentioned, like Northfield, from its contiguity to Sanbornton, and Boston, Mass., from the numbers who have migrated thither. It also contains, II., references (1) to most of the early ancestors of the several families traced out; (2) to all persons named as belonging to the several professions (clergymen, lawyers, physicians, teachers, etc.) in Sanbornton and elsewhere; (3) to college graduates, and to State, county, and town officers; (4) to the soldiers of the various wars in which our country has been engaged, enlisting from Sanbornton and from other places; (5) to casualties, noted as occurring in Sanbornton and elsewhere; (6) to the epitaphs, or gravestone inscriptions, which have been taken from the several cemeteries in town; and (7) to most of the incidents or topics of general interest brought to notice in various parts of the volume.

The first number, that before the short dash (-), refers, as in Index I., to the page; the second and subsequent numbers, after the dash, to the name of the individual to be designated, or in whose record the cited place, fact, or incident is to be found.
