Bowling Green Branch Bank
March 16th 1830

No 2 I Richard Curd Cashier do hereby certify that it appears from the entries on the Books of the Branch that Samuel Arnold's note was received on the 18th of January 1822 for four hundred and sixty dollars together with a call of twenty dollars which two sums make four hundred and eighty dollars and which sum of $480 was on the 30th of January 1822 charged to said Arnold and Philip Kennedys note settled with the same

Richard Curd Cashr

Although P. Kennedys note was not settled until the 30th January 1822 and Arnold charged with it yet Mr Arnold should charge the Estate with $480 as paid on the 18th Jany 1822, as his note was not and settled on that day and which day P. Kennedys note fell due the reason why the note was not settled the same day Arnold's note was discounted was in consequence of the bank being too much behind in his time Hence to the day it was settled
