Introduction.

This book contains all that it has been possible to learn about the Park, Parke and Parks families of Connecticut. In the main, the facts given are correct; but mistakes must necessarily occur where information is derived from so many sources. Consequently the compiler can not guarantee the accuracy of any of the statements made in this volume. In many cases the same event has been found recorded as having occurred on different dates. For instance; the birth of one man who is still living, is found recorded in a church record as 1825, on a town record as 1827, while he himself says he was born in 1826.

Some confusion of dates may occur in the minds of those not familiar with the subject; from the fact that previous to 1752, the legal and ecclesiastical year began on March 25, although it was not uncommon in writing to reckon it from Jan. 1. Consequently many events occurring between Jan. 1, and March 25, are recorded by giving both years. For instance; a child born (as we reckon now,) on Feb. 12, 1743, might be recorded as having been born on "Feb, 12, 1742-3."

In tracing one's ancestors, the system of numbers used has been found by the N. E. Hist. Gen. Society to be the most simple. For instance; Scott Parks is found on page 181, as number 1050. By turning back until his number is found, on page 125, his father Lewis, No. 530, will be seen. Going back to No. 530, his father will be found, and so on, either turning backward or forward, ones ancestors or descendants may be traced.

Other Parke Genealogies.

As far as known this book is the first successful attempt to publish a list of the Parke and Parks families of Connecticut. It is said that Paul Park wrote a genealogy of Robert Parke's descendants in 1763. Hezekiah Ripley Parke is supposed to have compiled and written out his branch of the family about 1847. Hudson Hovey Parke attempted a genealogy of Robert Parke's family about 1887, but did not live to publish it. Mr. Edwin H. Park published a very good genealogy of his branch of the Robert Parke family in 1902.

The "History of Windham County, N. H.," contains a very complete account of the descendants of Alexander Park, who is supposed to have come from Ireland in 1728, and landed in Boston; finally settling in Windham. Bond's "History of Watertown," Mass., contains several generations of the descendants of Richard Parke, of Cambridge, Mass., who came from London, in the ship "Defence," in 1636. In 1888, Mr. Levi Wesson Park, of Chicago, published a small book: "Family Record of Levi Park, of Bernardston, Mass." Levi was a descendant of Richard. Rev. C. C. Park published a record of the Peter Park family in 1876; and W. J. Park, of Covington, Ky., published in 1880, "The Park Family of Washington Co., Pa."

Dr. C. R. Parke, of Bloomington, Ills., compiled in Ms. a list of the descendants of Arthur Parke, of Pennsylvania, who came from Ireland before 1744.

The "History of Rye, N. Y.," contains a record of some descendants of Roger Park, who is supposed to have come from France before 1699.

Preface.

This book is the result of a casual visit to the Boston Public Library, in September 1899. The compiler, then residing in Boston, noticed upon a shelf in that library a History of his native town, Palmer, Mass., and on looking over its pages, came across his own name, together with that of his father, grandfather and great-grandfather. Up to that time he had not known his great-grandfather's name and had never had any curiosity to know it. All knowledge of his ancestors, beyond his grandfather, was embraced in the statement, often made by his father, that: "All the Parks's in this Country were descended from two brothers who settled in Connecticut in sixteen hundred and something." Upon learning that he had had a great-grandfather and his name, Reuben Parks, the idea occurred that HE must have had a father, and curiosity became excited to learn who he was.

From that point he started in systematically to discover the name of his great-great-grandfather, and for three months spent all his evenings poring over genealogies and local town histories, in the Boston Public Library, looking for all items about the family name and taking notes of them.

Having obtained considerable information through this source, it was decided to send out circulars to other members of the family, and, if results would warrant it, to publish in book form all the facts that were secured. At that time, however, it was not realized what a stupendous undertaking it would be.

The library of the New England Historic Genealogical Society, of Boston; the libraries of Worcester, Mass.; Norwich, New London, New Haven and Hartford, Conn.; the Lenox Library, of New York City; the Library of Congress and other libraries in Washington, D. C., that are rich in genealogical data, were searched. Several trips were made from Washington to the New England states to consult various records. The vital, probate, land and church records of many Connecticut and Massachusetts towns were closely scanned for facts relating to the family. Old graveyards, many of them almost forgotten and inaccessible, were visited and many names and dates unearthed, that will become obliterated in a few years through the relentless march of time and the ravages of decay. Over three thousand letters and circulars were sent out to members of the family in all parts of the Country, and much valuable information was received through this source. Many facts were found in old family bibles and other old family records, and through personal interviews with living members of the family.

It is impossible to mention more than a few of the many who sent valuable data, together with words of encouragement and wishes for success. Mr. Francis R. Parks, of Westfield, Mass., secured the services of Mr. L. M. Dewey, (compiler of the Dewey Genealogy,) who obtained much of the earlier history of the family in Connecticut. Mr. Edwin H. Park, of Denver, Colo., who compiled a genealogy of his branch of the descendants of Robert Parke, placed all the data that he had collected at the service of this volume. Mr. Joseph H. Parks, of Amsterdam, N. Y., Mrs. A. P. Gilbert, of Logan, Okla., Mrs. Myrta Bossart, of Burton, Ohio, Mrs. A. C. Gilman, of Palisades, N. Y., and many others, spent much time in collecting and forwarding facts about the families for use in the Genealogy. All are entitled to the thanks of the writer and the readers for their efforts to make this record more complete.

In his journeyings in the quest for information the compiler has personally met many of the family who have helped to make this book a success, and a better set of people do not exist. They are, for the most part, people of the middle class, neither very rich nor extremely poor; God fearing, industrious; in fact, the kind of people who have helped to make this great Country what it is.

We have been well represented in all the wars, including the Colonial wars; and there is no branch of the arts, sciences or industries in which members of our great family can not be found taking an honorable part.

This book has many faults and is very incomplete in various ways, and no one is more conscious of its deficiencies than is the compiler. Had it been possible to induce more people to answer letters, much that is now lacking could have been included. Such as it is, it represents the best that could be done with the facilities at command. Over six years of his leisure hours and considerable time and money spent for travel, is the Compiler's contribution to the family of which he is proud to be a member.

F. S. Parks.

Washington, D. C., May 19, 1906.

Origin of the Name.

It is not a very difficult matter to trace the origin of our family name. Although we are not so plentiful as the Smiths, Browns, Jones, etc., there are enough of us to conclusively prove that we did not all come from the same ancestor, unless we go back to Adam. He, however, lived in a kind of park, and had he taken a surname in the same manner that our more recent ancestors did, would possibly have been called "Mr. Parke."

An ancient writer on the subject of surnames, Ralph Brooke, York, Herald, in 1594, wrote:

"If a man had three sonns, the one dwelling at the Townsend, the other at ye Woods, and the thyrde at the Parke, they all took theyr surnames of theire dwellings and left their annciente surnames; which errorr hath overthrowen and brought into oblyvion manye annciente houses in this realme of England."

The book, "Patronymica Britannica," an authority on English surnames; published at London, 1860; has the following in regard to the sources from which the Park families derive their names:

PARK. From residence near a park. Anciently, AT-PARK and A-PARK. See however, Peter.

PARKE. 1. May be a derivative of Peter, and intermediate between that and Perkins; or, 2, local; either from one of the places called Parc in Normandy, situated respectively near Dieppe and Bernay, or from residence near some English park, like the De la Parocke of the H. R.

PARKES. May belong to the series, Park, Parkins, Parkinson, &c., from Peter, the Christian name; or may be local, from Parcs, near Pont-l'Éveque, or Parcs, near Alencon, both in Normandy.

PETER. The Christian name, introduced here [England] at the Conquest. It has become the parent of many surnames, as Peter, Peterson, Piers, Pierce, Pearse, Pearce, Pears, Peers, Pierson, Pearson, Peterken, Perkin, Perkins, Purkess and Purkis, Perk, Pyrke, Perks, Perkes, PARK, PARKS, PARKES, Parkin, Parkyn, Parkins, Parkinson, and perhaps Porson and Parsons.

Coat of Arms.

One of the first questions asked by the average seeker for genealogical information in regard to his family is: "Have we a Coat of Arms?" This subject properly comes under the head of Heraldry; but the two subjects, heraldry and genealogy, are so closely interwoven in the older countries, especially those of what were known as the better class, that it is almost impossible to trace the genealogy of a family without having something to say about its armorial bearings.

There have been a number of Parke coats-of-arms granted in England at various times; some of which have been claimed and used by families on this side of the water. All that have been discovered are described here in heraldic terms. The colors used in these descriptions are: Gules, red; Azure, blue; Argent, white or silver; Or, golden; and these are also abbreviated.

1. Parke of Lower Henbury, co. Dorset. Azure, on a fess engrailed argent, between three hinds trippant or, as many torteaux, each charged with a pheon of the third. Crest: A stag's head coupé sable, holding in the mouth a key or. Motto: "True and fast."

2. Az. an eagle displayed ar, armed or.

3. Sa. an eagle displayed within a bordure ar.

No. 1.

No. 4, 10 and 11. Cambridgeshire, by Sir Wm. Seger, Garter, 1618.

5. Arms of Richard Parkes, of Willingworth, county Stafford, Feb. 4, 1615. "Sable a fess Ermine between three buck's heads, coupéd or. And for his crest on a wreath on his coulors—or and sable, an oak tree flourishing with leaves and acorns thereon, a squirrell all proper." From Hist. of Wednesbury, County Stafford, Eng., 1854; and British Museum Harl. MS. 7025, f 201.

No. 5.

6. "An English crown with two buck deer standing like the lion and the unicorn, with one buck head and neck looking over from the backside."—From a descendant of Robert Parke, residing in Leonardsville, N. Y.

No. 8.

7. Parke, of Gestingthorpe, Eng. Azure, an eagle displayed argent, gutte gules, legged and beaked, or. Crest, an Eagle's head coupee, erminois, about its neck a mural crown, sable, and beaked sable.

8. Scotland, 1672. Az. a fesse, chequy gu. and ar. between 3 frases of the second. Crest: A dexter hand holding up a shut book ppr. Motto: "Graviter et pie."

9. Mr. Edwin H. Park, of Denver, Colo., in his Park Genealogy, published 1902, gave the following as the coat of arms of Robert Parke: "Argent on a pale azure 3 stag's heads caboched of the field. Crest: A talbot's head coupé gu. eared and gorged with a collar gemmel or, and pierced in the breast with a pheon of the last. Motto: "Justitiæ tenax."

10. A descendant of Richard¹ Parke, (Cambridge, Mass., 1636), who resides in Concord, Mass., has a copy of the Parke arms as described by Edwin Park, with the motto: "Providentiæ me committo," which has been in the possession of her family for over a hundred years.

11. The most reliable authority for the use of arms by the descendants of Robert Parke, is contained in a letter written by Mr. Hudson Hovey Parke, of Buffalo, N. Y., in 1887. Following are some extracts from the letter:

BUFFALO, Feby. 20, 1887.

Mr. Charles S. Parke,

Dear Sir,

Your letter of Feb. 17, recd. I am glad to get your line of descent, and I shall be very much pleased to receive the balance of your memorandum.

I will give you copies of the entries made by Paul Parke, of Preston, showing when and how the name was first abbreviated by him in his record. The entries are in Revd. Paul's own hand as follows: "(January ye 16th AD 1757) (Benajah Parke a Bro. of this Church) (Gave up to God his Child which he) (desired baptized namely) (Jonah Parke.)" Succeeding this entry comes the following: "(October ye 9th AD 1757) (This Ch. being together: Paul Park) (with his wife Gave up to God there) (young Child which was baptized) (namely: Molle Brewer.)"

After this entry the name is used by him generally without the final E. The Revd. ancestor did not make very good use of his capital letters, or spell very well, and I first thought, as I sat in his chair, which is in the old house on the home farm, and read his dingy manuscripts, that the dropping of the "e" was an accident, but when I found he had left it off all sorts of other names, I concluded that the action was prompted by the same spirit that dumped the tea into Boston Harbor.

Now as to the coat of arms; I get that from Lord Wensleydale, the last of the Baronets of the Parke family. Wensleydale was the son of Thomas Parke, of Highfield, near Liverpool, by Ann Preston his wife. He was born March 22, 1782, married April 8, 1817, died Feby, 25, 1868. He left no sons living. This Bart was of our family. His original letter from which I take the arms was written by him to Mr. Hezekiah R. Parke, and is now in the possession of his son, William A. Parke. This letter, of which I have a copy, concludes: "My arms above aluded to are 3 stag's heads caboched gules, or, a field argent, with a stag hound's head for a crest. I mention that supposing you may take an interest in that subject."

I also have a cut of his full arms with the supporters, which are only used by the Peerage; so I do not use them.

The perpendicular shade lines indicate red. The motto in English means: "Maintaining justice." I also have a photograph of a very ancient painting of these arms from Mr. Benj. Parke, of Parkvale.

Yours truly,

HUDSON H. PARKE.

16 West Swan St., Buffalo, N. Y.

Nothing more than is given here has been learned as to the right of the American families to bear and use arms. However, there is no law in the United States upon the subject; anyone can use any coat of arms that he may desire. That illustrated in colors is the one to which the greatest number here is apparently entitled to.

Some English Parke Families.

A genealogy of the descendants of Robert Parke would be incomplete without some attempt to trace his ancestry in England. Considerable has been written upon the subject and many conjectures have been made as to what part of England he came from, but no authentic information has been discovered. The consensus of opinion seems to have been that he came from "Preston," and probably he did, but as there are several places and parishes called Preston, in England, the question is: From which Preston did he come?

The Rev. Paul Park, of Preston, Conn., who, it has been stated compiled a Parke Genealogy about 1763, said that Robert came from Preston, Lancashire. As the Rev. Paul was one hundred and forty years nearer to the time of which he wrote than we are, and as he probably had some of the original papers that were brought over by Robert, (since destroyed by fire), his statement is entitled to serious consideration. He wrote that: "Robert Parke, Gentleman, was born about 1580, at Preston, Lancashire, England. He married Martha Chaplin, of Edmundsbury, England. They came to Roxbury, June 17, 1630, to Weathersfield in 1640, and to Mystic, Conn., in 1649. He died Feb. 11, (?) 1664, aged eighty-four. His grave is in Whitehall Cemetery, Mystic, Conn. Sir Robert and family sailed from Cowes, Isle of Wight, March 29, 1630. Landed at Boston, Mass., June 17, 1630. Came in a fleet with 1500 or 1900. His son William remained at the homestead in Roxbury. Thomas came to Preston, Conn., after 1649. Robert Parke, Gentleman, was secretary to Gov. Winthrop during the passage on board the 'Arabella.' Other passengers were Sir Robert Saltonstall, and Lady Arabella Johnson, daughter of the Earl of Lincoln. Thomas Park's children were Thomas, Nathaniel, Robert, William, Martha, Dorothy and Alice, all born in Preston (?), also John. Thomas Parke, born in England about 1620; married his cousin, Dorothy Thompson, who came with her aunt Parke from England in 1630, and came with Sir Robert's family to Roxbury, thence to Weathersfield and to Preston, and later to Mystic."

It is claimed that the above was written by the Rev. Paul Park, under date of Jan. 5, 1763.

All that can be learned from the published records of Lancashire is from "The Register of the Parish Church, of Preston, England," which begins 1602, any previous volume or volumes having disappeared. This book was published in London, 1892:

Page 40. "Roger Chorley was instituted to the Vicarage of Preston, 17 Oct. 1563, on the presentation of Thomas Parkes." (Piccope MSS, XVIII, 173).

Page 221. August 1631, burial. "A sonne of Robt. Parke sept. 30 die."

If our Robert came from Lancashire, the above records possibly refer to some of his relatives.

One writer gave the birthplace of Robert Parke as Gestingthorpe, Essex; and the late Stephen Cleveland, of Preston, Conn., left among his papers a statement to that effect, but did not give his authority. This statement probably originated from the fact that there was a Parke family in Gestingthorpe. The following is found in the "History of the County of Essex; compiled by Philip Morant; London, MDCCLXVIII," Vol. II; p. 309. In the parish of Gestingthorpe:

"PARKS is another estate in this parish which derived its name from a family existing here from the time of K. Edward III, to that of King Charles I.

"In 1381, Julian att Parke, and Walter deGeldesford, held here, of William de Ufford Earl of Suffolk, the fourth part of a knight's fee called Morhall which is supposed to be this estate.—Robert Parke dyed in 1400. Margaret his wife having outlived him 57 years, dyed 21 August 1457 and both lye buried in this Church with an epitaph.—John his son was returned for a Gentleman of Essex in 1433.—William seems to have been his son, whose son,—John dyed in 1574, leaving by Alice his wife daughter of Richard Strutt of Maplestead,—John, living in 1634. He was so considerable a person, that he was summoned according to ancient custom, to receive the honor of Knighthood, and on his refusal paid a composition fine, for which he had a tally from the exchequer. (On which was the following receipt: 'DeJohne Parke de Gestingthorpe Aro de Composic' quia non suscepit ordin' militar' Secdm proclamacon' Dni R.... Essex.....' On the other side: 'Pasche x Junii ano RRs Caroli Sexto.') By Margaret, daughter of Nicholas Morton, he had William; and two daughters, Anne married to William Edwards of Toppesfield, and Elizabeth, to Henry Meriton of Stanleyhall in Pebmarsh. He died 10 March 1636; possessed of a considerable estate.—William, his son, married Hester daughter of William Strutt of Wickham, St. Pauls, and had by her: William, John, Robert, Hester, Elizabeth and Sarah.—John, second son, an attorney-at-law, sunk the estate in debt; etc. Arms of Parke: Azure, a spread eagle argent, gutte gules, legged and beaked, or. Crest, an Eagle's head coupee, erminois, about its neck a mural crown, sable, and beaked sable." From same history, page 412: "Roger att Parke son to William deParco of St. Osith, resided in Stebbing, Essex Co., in 1293, from whom the name 'Parks' was given to a capital messuage in the parish of Stebbing."

The late Stephen Cleveland, of Norwich, Conn., left among his pprers, the statement that: "Robert, (the third son of William,) came to America. He married Martha, daughter of Capt. Robert Chaplyn, whose wife was Elizabeth, daughter of Francis Anstey, of Bury. Sir Francis Chaplyn, Knight and Mayor of London, in the time of Charles I, was her brother."

"Robert, (the third son of William,)" may have come to America, as Mr. Cleveland wrote, but he could not have been our Robert, as he was only about ten years old in 1630. However, he seems to have had him confused with our Robert when he said that he married Martha Chaplyn. There appears to be but little doubt that it was our Robert who married Martha Chaplyn.

The "History of New London County." published at Philadelphia, 1882, has the following:

"Robert Parke, with his wife and three sons came from England in 1630 and settled at Boston, Mass. He was the first of the name that emigrated to this Country. The genealogy of the Park family has been traced many generations in England to the Earf of Wensleydale, etc."

Robert Rarke may have been descended from the same Parke family as was the Earl of Wensleydale, but he could not have been descended from an Earl of that name, for the reason that the title "Earl of Wensleydale," was created many years after he came.

One correspondent in England could not connect Robert Parke in any way with Lancashire, but said: "Parke was a Lincolnshire name. There is a parish of Preston in Suffolk county, not far from St. Edmundsbury, where Robert Parke is supposed to have married his wife Martha Chaplin. Chaplin was a well known family name in Suffolk county in those days."

The following was copied from the "New York Mail and Express," of Jan. 30, 1904, and is given for the benefit of the reader:

"Further light on this question, as well as on the maiden name and family of Robert Parke's first wife Martha, the mother of all his children, is given in Waters' 'Gleanings,' pp. 32, 1010-11. Mr. Waters says that Clement Chaplin's sister Martha is said to have been married to Robert Parker, of Wollpitt, who went into New England," and that Thomas Chaplin and Capt. Robert Chaplin, both of Bury St. Edmunds, Richard Chaplin and Edmund Chaplin, both of Semer, and William Chaplin, of Bloxenhall, were brothers of said Clement and Martha, and that their father was William Chaplin, of Semer.

Wollpitt, Semer, Preston, and Groton are all within a few miles of Bury St. Edmunds, all in the county of Suffolk, England, in the same general region as Lincolnshire, whereas Lancashire is in quite a different part of England. The Preston in Lancashire is a large and prominent town, while the Preston in Suffolk county is small and obscure, which circumstances may account for the mistake, if it was a mistake, of Rev. Paul Parke in saying that Robert Parke came from Preston, Lancashire, England. There was, however, a Parke family in Preston, Lancashire, in the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries. A careful investigation of the parish registers and similar records in Preston and neighboring localities in Suffolk county, England, would probably settle the question of Robert Parke's birthplace and residence in England, and throw light on his relationship to the pioneers, Richard Parke of Cambridge, Mass.; Joseph Parke, of Salisbury, Mass., and the Park pioneers of Virginia.

It seems practically certain that the Robert Parker mentioned by Mr. Waters was intended to refer to our pioneer Robert Parke, and that Clement Chaplin and Robert Parke were brothers-in-law. Mr. Waters ("Gleanings," p. 32) gives an abstract of the will of Clement Chaplin, of Thetford, Eng., a few miles north of Bury St. Edmunds, dated August 16, 1656, and proved September 23, 1656, by which he devises to his wife Sarah, "all my houses and lands in Hartford and Weathersfield, in New England." Clement Chaplin is mentioned in an order of "A Corte held att Newe Towne (Hartford, Ct.), 10 November, 1636;" he was one of the "Committees" of the General Court at Hartford; was appointed Treasurer in 1637, and was one of the "Deputyes" of the General Court at Hartford in 1643. (Col. Rec., Conn., pp. 6, 9, 12, 39, 82, 90).

If this Clement Chaplin was a brother-in-law of our Robert Parke, it is natural to suppose that he was influential in inducing Robert Parke to remove from Roxbury, Mass., to Weathersfield, Conn. Robert Parke's name appears on the Conn. Col. Records as follows: Among the persons "made free" at the "Court of Election," at Hartford, April 9, 1640, is "Mr. Parke at Weathersfield;" on a jury at Hartford, July 2, 1640, is "Robert Parke," on a jury Sept. 2, 1641, is "Robert Parks," one of the "Deputyes" at each of the General Courts at Hartford, August 26, and September 8, 1642, is "Mr. Parke;" on a jury June 1, 1643, and on a grand jury September 15, 1643, (at a court where "Mr. Chaplin" was a Deputy), was "Mr. Parke." (Col. Rec. Conn., pp. 46, 55, 66, 75, 84, 87, 93.)

The common neighborhood of Clement Chaplin and Robert Parke during these four years 1640-3, both inclusive, corroborates the more direct evidence that they were brothers-in-law, and confirms the statement in the Parke Genealogy, compiled by Rev. Paul Parke, that Martha, the wife of Robert Parke, was the daughter of William Chaplin, of Edmundsbury, England. Later genealogists, who state that she was the daughter of Capt. Robert Chapin, of St. Edmundsbury, England, have probably been misled into supposing her brother, Capt. Robert Chaplin, of Bury St. Edmunds, to have been her father.

C. A. C.

It has been claimed that the first ancestor of Robert Parke came over to England with William the Conqueror, and after the Conquest was rewarded by the King with grants of land in the north of England.

He was made Master of the Hunt and placed in charge of the Royal Parks, and granted the title of "Baronet," (?) and was known as Thomas de Parke. "Among his other descendants were Major William Parke and Col. Richard Parke, both Companions of the Order of the Bath. Daniel Parke, from whom is descended the Parke-Custis family of Virginia, was a near relative of Robert Parke."

The "History of Lincolnshire," published at London, 1828, has the following to say about Easterkeale or East Keal, the place in Lincolnshire from where Robert Parke indited his letter to John Winthrop, just before coming to this Country:

"East Keal, (Soke of Bolingbroke, Lincolnshire co., Eng.) is situate on the turnpike road between Spelsby and Boston, at the distance of about a mile and a half south-westward from the former place. The church, which is a tolerable structure, contains in the north wall a bust, without any inscription; and in the south wall, a whole length female figure, holding an inverted torch, with an inscription wherein the name of Susanna Kirkman is to be decyphered. The parish is parcel of the duchy of Lancaster, and in 1821, contained 58 houses, and 313 inhabitants."

It is to be regretted that the means at the disposal of the Compiler would not permit of a systematic search being made among the old records in England to definitely settle the vexed question of the place of Robert Parke's birth.

From "History of Wednesbury in the county of Stafford," England. London, 1854:

"Thomas Parkes, Gentleman, gave by will, dated Jan. 11, 1602, to the poor people of Wednesbury ten pounds, to be paid yearly by twenty shillings a year to the Vicar of Wednesbury and the church-wardens to the use of the poor, to be given every Good Friday, for ten years." Also the said Thomas Parkes gave a school house, a certain tenement in Wednesbury, and a close called "Clay Pit Leasowe," to maintain a schoolmaster to teach ten poor children of the parish, for the term of four score years after his decease. He also gave a cottage, situate in Wendnesbury, to be set apart as an almshouse for two persons, for ever.

"Richard Parkes, Esquire, son of the above Thomas, did by will confirm the above and gave forty shillings more to the school, A. D. 1617."

Richard and wife Dorothy had son Thomas, whose daughter Anne married William Ward, who was the progenitor of the present Lord Dudley; the Parkes name apparently becoming extinct. Sedgley Manor, which the first Thomas Parkes had purchased from the impecunious Lord Dudley of 1600, was thus carried back to a later bearer of that title.

From the "History of Northampton," England; Vol. I, p. 747:

"Thomas dePark or Parco, was lord of Grimsbury, temp. Joh. His son was,

William dePark of Park, co. Gloc. and Grimsbury.

First Generation.

1. ROBERT¹ PARKE, (or Sir Robert Parke, as he has been sometimes called), was born in Preston, England, in 1580. He was a personal friend of John Winthrop, to whom he addressed a letter relative to his proposed journey to New England, in February, 1629-30. Following is a copy, preserving all the quaint old orthography:

ROBERT PARKE TO JOHN WINTHROP, 1629-30.

"To the Right Worshipfull Maigr. John Winthrop Esquier in Gratton in Suffolke give this with speede I pray you.

"To the Right Worshipfull, Sir:—I vnderstand by some of my frendes that you are suddenly to goe into New England. If it be not to laite for me, to provide my selfe with cattell and shiping, I doe porpose to goe with you, and all my company, if please God to permit vs life and health. I have sente to my sonne and to Mathewe Harrison, to by for me six coues, and three mayers, and a horse; soe, I beseech you, giue them directions to take the beste coures for me that you shall thinke fit for to be done, hoping you will do the beste that you can to fordere my jurny. Furder, I woulde desire you to giue me directiones what household I shall take with me, and for howe longe we shalbe vittle vs, and what day we shall set forwardes from London; but as for our selves, we wilbe at Stratford the laste weke in February: and thus with my loue and serius remembred, in haiste, I reste, com'iting you vnto the Almightye,

"Your assured frend to commande.

RO: PARKE.

"From Easterkeale in Lincolnshire, this xxvijth day of February, 1629." (1629-30.)

From the above, it will be seen that he was a man of some means. He did not come to the new world through dire necessity or to better his condition, but rather through a desire to have more religious liberty. Ho was of that large number of emigrants mentioned in Green's "History of the English People:"

"They were in great part of the professional and middle classes; some of them men of large landed estates; some zealous clergymen like Cotton, Hooker and Roger Williams; some shrewd London lawyers or young scholars from Oxford. The bulk were God-fearing farmers from Lincolnshire and the eastern counties. They desired in fact 'only the best' as sharers in their enterprise, men driven forth from their fatherland not by earthly want or by the greed for gold, or by the lust of adventure, but by the fear of God and the zeal for a Godly worship."

He and his family sailed from Cowes, Isle of Wight, for America, on board the "Arabella," with seventy-six passengers, March 29, 1630, and landed in Boston, Mass., June 17, 1630; making the voyage in seventy-eight days. He lived for a time at Roxbury, Mass.

"Robert Parke, of Wethersfield, came in 1630; went back same year carrying an order by our Governor to his son John, in England to pay money, probably the first bill of exchange drawn in America." —Savage's Genealogical Dictionary.

In 1639 he went, with his son Thomas, through the wilderness to Wethersfield, Conn., with the first settlers there.

He resided at Wethersfield about ten years, and in 1649 removed to Pequot, (now New London,) Conn. He was a resident of the town plot of New London for about six years, and then removed to lands which he owned on the Mystic river.

In the first book of the town records of New London, the two Winthrops, John and Deane, are uniformly entitled "Mr." as are also Jonathan Brewster and Robert Parke, when they appear in the records of the plantation; but all others are styled "Goodman," or mentioned by Christian and surname, without any prefix.

When Mr. Blinman, (the first minister of the Gospel who preached regularly in New London), came in 1650, there was no meeting house. During the first years of his ministry he preached in the barn meeting house which stood on the corner of Hempstead and Granite streets. It belonged to Mr. Robert Parke.

August 29, 1651, the following vote of the town is recorded: "For Mr. Parke's barne the Towne doe agree for the use of it until midsummer next to give him a day's work a peace for a meeting house, to be by the Saboth come amoneth." In 1652 Mr. Parke sold his house lot to Mr. William Rogers, of Boston.

He was elected a Freeman of the colony in April, 1640, a Representative or Deputy to the General Court, September, 1641, and again in August, 1642. He was a Selectman in 1651, and again a Representative in 1652. In 1658 he was a Selectman of Souther-town, (afterwards named Mystic and now known as Stonington,) Conn.

Robert Pa.ke married 1st, Martha, a daughter of Capt. Robert and Elizabeth (Ansty) Chaplin, of Bury, England. Her father gave her portion of £300. It is probable that she died in England before the family came to this Country, as no mention has been found of her here. He married 2nd, at Wethersfield, about 1644, Mrs. Alice Thompson. She was the widow of John Thompson, of Preston, England, and the mother of Dorothy Thompson, who became the wife of Thomas² Parke. There is upon record a curious order of the General Court of Marrachusetts, dated May 30, 1644, in favor of Robert Parke, to the effect: "That he may proceed in marriage with Alice Thompson without further publishment."

He died at Mystic, February 4, 1664-5, aged 84 years. The diary of Thomas Minor, under date of Feb 1664, has the following: "The 4th of februarie mr perke departed this life and was buried the 7th day being Tuseday in the yeare 1664." His grave is in the White Hall graveyard, at White Hall, Mystic, Conn. His house was east of the present road and southeast of the burial ground, and stood just south of a small knoll, somewhat rocky.

His will is dated May 14, 1660, and was admitted to probate March 14, 1664-5. This will mentions only three children, William, the oldest; Samuel and Thomas. One authority has stated that his oldest son, named Robert, stayed in England and had the homestead; others have said that he may have had other children, possibly Joseph, Richard, Edward and Ann.

3 Thomas², b “

4 Samuel², b “

Anne², b “ lived at Roxbury, Mass., where she married Edward Payson, August 20, 1640, and died Sept. 10, 1641. She had one child who died young.

Second Generation.

2. WILLIAM² PARKE, (Robert¹), was born in Preston, England, about 1606. He came to America in 1630 and settled in Roxbury, where he became one of the prominent men of the colony. "He came to New England in the 12th month, 1630, a single man and was one of the first in the church at Roxbrough."—Rev. John Eliot's Record of Church Members. He was a member of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Co., 1638: represented Roxbury, Mass., in the General Court from 1635 to 1667, the longest known term of service under the old charter. He was one of the endowers of the Roxbury free school, the first in the United States and the oldest in continued existence in America. He was undoubtedly a man of influence and a power in the colony. The records of the Massachusetts Bay Colony show that he was always on hand, always on committees, always adjusting difficulties. He was executor of the will of Thomas Dudley, and of many others who died during the early days of the Colony. He married Martha, a daughter of John Holgrave, of Salem.

He died May 11, 1685, and is buried in the Roxbury graveyard, the stone still being in good condition. He left no descendants of the Parke name, his will, dated July 20, 1684, mentioning three daughters but no sons.

3. THOMAS² PARKE, (Robert¹), was born in Preston, England; came to America with his father in 1630, and removed with him to Wethersfield in 1639. There he married Dorothy Thompson, and there at least two of his children were born. About 1650 he removed to the Pequot Plantation, (New London,) Conn., where he became a Deacon in the Church of which the Rev. Richard Blinman, (his brother-in-law, they having married sisters,) was pastor. He resided in Pequot for about six years and then moved to Southertown, (now Stonington,) where he became a Selectman. While residing in Southertown he sent the following letter to his brother William, in Roxbury, Mass. What is now Stonington, was at that time a part of Massachueetts.

“To my louing and invche Respectad brother mr willame Parke at his hovs in Roxbrey this presant I Pray.

(The above was copied from the "New England Historical and Genealogical Register," Vol. XXXI, p 176-7: 1877.)

After residing in Mystic, within the bounds of Stonington for a number of years, he removed with his son Thomas³ Jr., to lands belonging to them in the northern part of New London, where in 1680 they were reckoned as inhabitants. In 1681 he was Collector of Taxes for New London. In October, 1686, he was one of the petitioners to the Legislature for the incorporation of the town of Preston. The petition was also signed by three of his sons, Thomas Jr., Nathaniel and John. In 1698, he, together with his sons Robert and John and nine others, organized the First Church of Christ, of Preston, and he became its first Deacon.

He died July 30, 1709, after a long and well spent life. He must have been about ninety years of age, although the exact date of his birth has not been discovered. His will, dated Sept. 5, 1707, and recorded in New London, provided for his wife, Dorothy; for children John, Nathaniel, William, Martha, Dorothy and Alice; for grandson Samuel, son of Thomas; and grandson James, son of Robert.

He married Dorothy Thompson, daughter of John and Alice Thompson, of Preston, England.

In New London about 1680. "One hundred acres of land in one entire piece," were voted to "Mr. Thomas Parkes, Senior," to remunerate him for furnishing cedar clapboards, nails and work for the parsonage house.

The second entry in the Town Meeting Book of Preston, is as follows: "1689, Mar. 30. At a town meeting granted to Thomas Parke Senr. one hundred acres of land which was formerly granted by New London lying on ye east side of gt. to sd. Parke his land," etc.

4. SAMUEL² PARKE, (Robert¹), was born in England, and did not come with his father and brothers, but came later, probably about the time of his father's death in 1665; as it was one of the conditions of Robert¹ Parke's will that his son Samuel should settle upon some land that he willed to him, within a certain time. He was a farmer in Stonington between the years 1672 and 1685. He is mentioned as living in Stonington in 1684, by his brother William, of Roxbury, in his will made that year. Samuel married Martha

The Diary of Thomas Minor, of New London, has two entries relating to Samuel Parke. July 29, 1673, "Deacon Parke and his two brothers were here."

April 20, 1674, "the 20 day wee read the letter at samuell parks."

In 1667 he lived in Stonington, where the town record dated Jan. 31, 1667, has the following: "One hundred acres of land laid out to Thomas Park Jr." Again on June 18, 1667: "It was voted that young Thomas Parks shall have his hundred acres where it may be found after all the other grants are perfected that were before him." He married Mary Allyn, of Norwich, Jan. 4, 1671-2. She was a dr. of Robert Allyn. She was born at Salem, Mass., Nov. 19, 1648. In 1681 he was a Constable of the town of New London, and in 1686, without any change of residence, he became a Constable of Norwich. When Preston was laid out his farm was included in that town. He probably died before 1699, as "Mary Park, widow," joined the 1st Church, of Preston, in that year.

99. ROBERT⁵ PARKS, (James⁴, Robert³, Thomas², Robert¹), was born in Preston, Conn., about 1718, he being baptized August 18, of that year. Following in the footsteps of most of his ancestors, he became a tiller of the soil. In 1750 he was Surveyor, and in 1760, "Packer," of Preston. He resided in Preston until about 1770, when he moved to Massachusetts and settled on land in or near Westfield, which he had purchased from Abraham and Jacob Fowler. In the deed of this land, dated Nov. 15, 1770, his name is spelled "PARK" twice and "PARKS" twice; and it appears that this branch of the family used the final "S" from this point on, although the name is also found in many of the earlier records in that form. He also bought land near Westfield, (and probably adjoining his other property,) from James Martin, Nov. 2, 1770; this deed being recorded in Springfield, Mass. He married Jan. 22, 1744-5, at Preston, Mary Killam, a daughter of Samuel and Elizabeth (Rose) Killam, who was born at Preston, July 22, 1728. The dates and places of the deaths of Robert and Elizabeth have not been ascertained, but they probably died at the homestead, near Westfield.

- 247 Hannah⁶, b July 14, 1746.
- 248 Aaron⁶, b Nov. 2, 1748.
- 249 Roger⁶, b August 29, 1752.

- 252 Deborah⁶, b August 27, 1761; d at Russell, Mass., Jan. 25, 1830; m Isaac Palmer, at Westfield, Dec. 28, 1780. He was a son of Isaac and Abigail Palmer. He died in June 1833, aged 72 years. Children: Laura and Squier Palmer, and possibly others.
- 253 Henry⁶, b 1769.

101. NATHAN⁵ PARK, (James⁴, Robert³, Thomas², Robert¹), was baptized at Preston, Conn., Dec. 22, 1722; and there he married Mary Walton, Oct. 15, 1747. The family probably moved from Preston about 1756, and located for a time on the boundary line between Connecticut and Massachusetts, near Salisbury, Conn., and not far from his brother Robert who resided at Westfield, Mass. They finally located in New York state.

Children:

254 Rachel⁶, b March 27, 1748.

103. PAUL⁵ PARKE, (Hezekiah⁴, Robert³, Thomas², Robert¹) was born in Preston, Conn., Nov. 18, 1720, and lived there all his life, dying there June 25, 1802. He was a farmer, and supported himself and family by that occupation, while preaching the Gospel in the First Separatist Church, of Preston, of which he was pastor for fifty-five years.

It is to be regretted that the scope of this work will not permit of an extended review of the Separatist religious movement in Connecticut during the eighteenth century; a movement in which the Rev. Paul Park took such an active part and served so long and faithfully. In Trumbull's History of Connecticut many references are found regarding this movement and the part which he took in it, and from that work the following is quoted:

"How much they held to a miraculous and immediate assistance of the Spirit, in their performances, may appear by a charge given to elder Paul Parks, of Preston, at his ordination. He was solemnly charged not to premeditate, or think before hand, what he should speak to the people; but to speak as the Spirit should give him utterance. The preachers of this denomination were laymen, and their ordinations were of the same sort."

The History of the First Congregational Church of Preston, Conn., (Preston, 1900), has the following about Paul Park's connection with the Separatists:

"But what shall we say of Elder Paul Park, the inspiration of the Preston Separate church? No doubt a man of superior natural endowments was this farmer preacher. He brought to his work neither education nor theological training. We can imagine that he possessed gifts of speech however, such that he could in large measure follow the injunction not to premeditate what he should utter in public.

"For fifty years he held his flock about him, ministering to them as pastor, kept with his own hand the records of the church, maintained regular Sunday services, participated prominently in every council in which his church was represented, while at the same time supporting himself and family upon his farm, without ever receiving one dollar as salary or stated remuneration. He resided at what is still known as the Park homestead, in the southeastern part of the town of Preston. Ministers' rates were denounced by the Separatists. The only pecuniary assistance he received from his people, it is believed, was the aid his parishioners may have rendered him about his farming work. We can imagine for ourselves the sewing bees and the husking bees that may have been held annually upon the elder's plantation.

"In 1797 Elder Park preached his half-century sermon, which is said to have taken several Sundays for its delivery. It is still preserved, in his own handwriting. Large audiences gathered to hear him, few if any of whom had been participants in the early struggles of the church, and the story he told with emotion fell upon the ears of a new generation.

"The visitor to the Avery Cemetery stops a moment to gaze at a stone which bears for its inscription the words of Paul the Apostle, 'I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith.' It marks the last resting place of Elder Paul Park."

He married 1st, Sarah Smith, Dec. 5, 1738. She died Jan. 23, 1772, aged 51 years. He married 2nd, Mary Russ, of Ipswich, Mass. She died Sept. 11, 1824, aged 96 years.

314. JOHN⁶ PARK, (Joseph⁵, Joseph⁴, Nathaniel³, Thomas², Robert¹), was born at Chatham, Conn., 1760, and died in Manlius, Onondaga county, N. Y., July 6, 1819. He married Bethia Smith, July 1, 1784; she died at Middle Haddam, Conn., 1802. At the age of 16 he enlisted in the Continental Army, and served until the close of the Revolutionary war; was sergeant of the guard at the execution of Major Andre, Oct. 2, 1780, and described the scene to his children; remembering distinctly the words of that young officer when he first saw the gallows: "I am satisfied to die, but not with the mode." He settled in Middle Haddam; built and commanded his own vessel, the "Cleantha," and was for many years engaged in the coasting trade. May 14, 1798, he was commissioned by Gov. Trumbull, Major of the 23rd regt. Connecticut Militia. A devout member of the Protestant Episcopal Church, gentle and dignified in manner, he governed his household with much love and some Puritan discipline. Losing the larger portion of a handsome competency by endorsing the paper of a friend who subsequently failed, he removed with his family to Camden, Oneida Co., N. Y., and later to Manlius, in Onondaga Co., where he died in 1819.

514. ROBERT⁷ PARKS, (Reuben⁶, Robert⁵, James⁴, Rebert³, Thomas², Robert¹), was born at Westfield, Mass., and lived at Russell, Mass. It has been said that he married and had one son, that he sailed for the East Indies and was never heard from; and that his widow married Gibbs. There is also a tradition that his son Robert settled in Philadelphia, Penn.

Child:

1012 Robert⁸.

517. ROLAND⁷ PARKS, (Reuben⁶, Robert⁵, James⁴, Robert³, Thomas², Robert¹), was born at Westfield, Mass., 1790, and died in Russell, Mass., May 31, 1836. He was married, and his wife died Nov. 19, 1835, aged 43. He was a Selectman of Russell for the years 1816, 1818 to 1827 inclusive and 1830.

518. SYLVESTER⁷ PARKS, (Reuben⁶, Robert⁵, James⁴, Robert³, Thomas², Robert¹), was born at Russell, Mass., April 8, 1792, and died at Palmer, Mass., Aug. 29, 1858. He married Laura Andrus, at Russell, 1813. She was born at Russell, June 8, 1793, and died at Palmer, May 25, 1879. She was a daughter of Ralph and Lydia (Snyder) Andrus, of Russell. Sylvester Parks was a farmer and lived on a farm in Russell until about 1824, when he moved to Palmer, where he had purchased a large tract of land upon which he built a house and settled. He was a Selectman of Palmer in 1828-9 and 1840. Temple's History of Palmer, says: "About 1841 Mr. Spalding, an agent of the District School Libraries, visited town. Capt. Sylvester Parks was librarian and kept the books at his house." This was the first attempt to establish a library in Palmer. His name appears first on the list of members of the 2nd Baptist Church, and his wife's name second; he having been the first Deacon, and one of the largest contributors and most enterprising and successful workers for the establishment of the church, which was organized August 8, 1852. Previous to that time they had worshipped at the 1st Baptist Church, located at the village of Three Rivers. They are buried at Palmer.

H., where he published "The Nashua Gazette," for forty-three years; first as a weekly and then as a daily; that being the first weekly and second daily newspaper published in the city of Nashua. "The Palmer Journal," in its issue of Sept. 23, 1804, said:

"Mr. Whittemore visited Palmer recently to look over again the scenes of his younger days and renew acquaintance with such of the men of former days as still remained—though the number is pitifully small. He brought with him the bound copy of the year's file of the paper and presented it to the library officers.

"Mr. Whittemore was born at Peterboro, N. H., March 29, 1825, and is therefore nearly eighty years of age. He removed from Peterboro to Nashua, the first day of 1840, commenced the printing trade June 28, 1841; he has worked at it continuously since that time and is still actively engaged in the business in the same building in which he began his trade and in which he carried on newspaper work for many years, although he has now retired from that branch and conducts a job business only. He has been in the building he now occupies for sixty years."

2361. JOHN HENRY⁹ PARKS, (John C.⁸, James⁷, John⁶, James⁵, Robert⁴, Robert³, Thomas², Robert¹), was born at St. Louis, Mo., July 25, 1849. The following is taken from "The Successful American:"

JOHN HENRY PARKS.

JOHN HENRY PARKS, of Duxbury, Mass., manufacturer, is a native of Missouri, but of old New England stock—on the paternal side, of Connecticut, and on the maternal side, of Maine. He was born in St. Louis, Mo., July 25, 1849, son of John C. and Mary McClellan (Drew) Parks. His father was a native of Meadville, Pa., and his mother of Newfield, Me. His maternal grandmother was Lucretia Kirby, of Great Barrington, Mass., and his paternal grandfather, James Parks, of Clinton, Mich., both of old Connecticut stock, originally of Middletown, Conn. The Drews were early Maine settlers, the present generation being prominent and highly connected in that section. Mr. Parks was educated at Notre Dame University, South Bend, Ind.; the Partridge Academy, Duxbury, Mass.; the McKendree College, Lebanon, Ills., and at Allen's English and Classical School, West Newton, Mass., where he finished. He began business life about 1866, with Woodward, Brown & Co., commission merchants, then at No. 28 South Market street, Boston, where he remained until 1869. In that year he married, at Duxbury, the only child of Samuel Loring, and entered the employ of Mr. Loring, in the latter's tack and rivet business at Plymouth, Mass., where he remained until 1882. In 1882 he became Treasurer of the Central Manufacturing Company, of Boston, Mass., and occupied that position until August, 1886. This corporation being then dissolved, he returned to Plymouth, and in September of that year became partner of Mr. Loring, under the firm name of Loring & Parks. Mr. Loring died in May, 1887, and Mrs. Loring continued with Mr. Parks under the same firm title until her death, in 1891. In May, 1891, the business was sold out to the Atlas Tack Corporation, of Boston, of which Mr. Parks was the principal promoter and organizer, and became its Treasurer. This position he held until 1896. The corporation is the oldest and several times the largest maker of tacks and small nails in the world. Its business was founded in 1810, and consolidated in 1891. In the spring of 1895 Mr. Parks became Treasurer for the Associated Wire Nail and Cut Nail Manufacturers of the United States, and Commissioner for the Associated Canadian Wire Nail and Cut Nail Manufacturers, which positions he held until the dissolution of these organizations in the winter of 1896. Mr. Parks has been Treasurer for the Associated Shovel Manufacturers since the spring of 1896. He is also Treasurer for several other organizations. He was one of the Syndicate which promoted and formed the American Steel & Wire Co., (capitalization, $90,000,000). He promoted the National Shear Co., $3,000,000 capitalization, and also the Mt. Vernon-Woodberry Cotton Duck Co., of Baltimore Md., $25,500,000 capitalization. He was connected with several other "melters" in manufacturing lines, notably in caskets, scythes, steel goods, leather, cement, bolts and nuts, valves, etc.

Mr. Parks is also a Director of the Old Colony National Bank, of Plymouth, Mass. In the community in which he lives he has been prominent and influential in many ways. He is a Trustee of the Partridge Academy, Duxbury; Trustee of the Partridge Ministerial fund, Duxbury; was for two years President of the Marshfield Agricultural Society, of Marshfield, Mass., and has been a Justice of the Peace for twenty years. He has declined all public offices, though several times requested to accept prominent nominations. His politics are Republican. He is connected with the Masonic fraternity, a member of the Blue Lodge and Samoset Chapter of Plymouth, and was a member of the Merchants', Algonquin and Exchange Clubs, of Boston, and the Commercial Club, of Plymouth, until his resignations in 1897, upon the removal of his principal office to New York, in 1897. Mr. Parks' present offices are at Sears Building, Boston, Mass., and Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, New York. Mr. Parks as an industrial organizer has few superiors. The Secretary of the National Hardware Association, at the 1899 annual convention of that organization, in Pittsburgh, said:

"The Shovel Manufacturers' organization is one of the large number of pools or combinations conducted by that peerless and fearless industrial organizer, J. H. Parks, of Boston and New York.

"This association of manufacturers is in the fourth year of its existence, and, while the most sanguine of its members at the time of its formation rather expected that the organization would require the services of the undertaker at the end of about two years, yet we are able to say it is in most splendid vigor and bids fair to die of old age rather than through assassination, suicide or paresis."

Mr. Parks' success, as is that of most "successful Americans," is the result of many years of assiduous hard work, and, as he is still an active laborer in his chosen field of "organization," he is widely recognized as an important factor in many of the present important industrial movements towards concentration of interests.

He was married, May 27, 1869, to Miss Nancy Sprague Loring, daughter of Samuel and Laura A. B. Loring, of Duxbury, grand-niece of the Hon. Seth Sprague and Judge Peleg Sprague. Their children are: Laura Loring, (born May 27, 1870, married September 19, 1894, to Thomas Russell, ex-Representative to the General Court, son of William G. Russell, of the law firm of Russell and Putnam, Boston), Samuel Loring (born in 1872). John Ward (born in 1879) and Bettina Loring Parks (born in 1884). Mr. Parks resides in Duxbury on the Loring homestead, which has been in the Loring family since about 1707, and has from that time never been passed by deed, always by will. The old manor house on the homestead, still in an excellent state of preservation, was built in 1738.

Children:

3770 Laura Loring¹⁰, b May 27, 1870, in Duxbury.

3771 Samuel Loring¹⁰, b April 25, 1872, in Duxbury; m Anna Mae Ryall, of Montreal, Can., Aug. 13, 1895.

3772 John Ward¹⁰, b Dec. 3, 1879, in Plymouth.

3773 Bettina Loring¹⁰, b Dec. 27, 1884, in Boston.

JOHN HENRY PARKS, Industrial Organizer, in 1904 married Elizabeth Ray Parker, of Baltimore, Md., (widow), born March 10, 1873, in New York city.

HER children (adopted by John H. Parks):

Clara Ray-Parks, b May 13, 1889, in Baltimore.

Celia Ray-Parks, b Oct. 20, 1890, in Baltimore.

EDWIN HORATIO PARK.

Edward Parks, of Guilford, Conn., and Descendants.

FIRST GENERATION.

1. EDWARD¹ PARKS, appeared at Guilford, Conn., about 1670. No authentic record has been discovered as to who his ancestors were. The "History of Guilford" says that: "Edward Parks came from Killingworth, was admitted a planter May 28, 1671. He was by trade a tailor. He became one of the first settlers of (Cohabit,) North Guilford. He probably first settled in Norwich." There is nothing on the Norwich records, that could be found, that would tend to confirm the statement that he had ever resided in Norwich, Conn. He married Deliverance French, at Killingworth, Conn., Dec. 21, 1669.

[Edward Parks, citizen and merchant tailor, of London, England, died Jan. 23, 1650. His will, proved Jan. 29, of that year, mentions wife, Mary; children, Henry, Edward, John, William, Stephen, Thomas, Dannett, Francis, Samuel, Elizabeth and Mary. To Henry he left all his property, lands, etc., "in New England, beyond the sea." Edward received £60; the others £500 apiece. Henry was of age, while the others were all minors. It is possible that this son Edward, who was not twenty-one years of age in 1650, is our Edward who married in Killingworth in 1669. Henry's property was located near Boston, Mass., and it is possible that Edward came over to settle it up and remained here; locating in Connecticut. However, this is merely conjecture, as nothing to confirm it has been found, except the fact that he was a tailor and the Edward Parks, of London, was also a tailor.]

Children:

- 2 Mary², b Dec. 10, 1672.
- 3 Joseph², b May 1675.

She was the daughter of Samuel Conant. She was born in 1792, and died at Corro Gorde, Ills., Sept. 11, 1865. At the age of 15 he went with his brother-in-law, Rev. David Bacon, to Macinac, Mich., and cleared a small farm. Assisted by Col. Dunham, commander at Fort Macinac, he went to Dartmouth, where he graduated in class with Daniel Webster. He studied law and practiced at Middlebury, Vt., for eight or ten years; abandoned the profession because he "considered it difficult for a lawyer to be an honest man." Began teaching; moved to Madison, Ind., in 1823 and established the first Latin and Greek academy in that state. Was appointed professor of Greek and Latin in the State University at Bloomington, Ind., in 1832. Moved to Springfield, Illinois, in 1840, and conducted an academy there until old age compelled him to retire, about 1860. He was thus a pioneer in educational work west of the Alleghanies, and taught many who afterwards became prominent in western life. He was a man of high moral and religious principles. He joined the Congregational church at the age of sixteen. That church not being organized at Madison, he joined the Presbyterian, but remained in sympathy with congregationalism. He was ever a devoted and conscientious Christian.

Peter Park, of Stonington, Conn., and Descendants.

The following list of the descendants of Peter Park is taken almost entirely from a small book published in 1876, entitled: "The Complete Record of the Descendants of Melvin, son of Peter Park, a native of Scotland. Prepared by his Grandson, Rev. C. C. Park, of North Amherst, Lorain Co., Ohio, 1876." Some few additions and corrections have been made, and the female lines have not been followed out beyond the children of those born Park. The places of births, marriages and deaths are not included in the Rev. C. C. Park's book, and it has been impossible to gather this information, or to bring the matter up to date; as the living descendants have almost entirely ignored all letters and circulars sent to them on the subject.

The first mention that we have of Peter Park is found on the town records of Stonington, which show his marriage and the births of his children. It is possible that he came originally from Scotland, but if so, no record of that fact can be found. It is supposed by some that he was descended from Robert¹ Parke, of New London, through one of the missing branches of that family. This is quite possible, as there appears to have been a number of records in the neighborhood of New London and Stonington that have either been lost or destroyed.

Revolutionary Record.

The following list contains all of the Parke name, under the various spellings, who fought in the Revolutionary War on the side of the colonies, that have been found in printed works on the subject; together with a few names recovered from other sources. It is not claimed that this list is complete, as there is no doubt that many fought for short periods whose names did not get upon any lists that have been preserved to our time. It is probably a fact that during the progress of the war, in the confusion, and uncertainty then existing as to its outcome, much data relating to the participants was destroyed as a precautionary measure. Many knew that if the struggle should result disastrously to the Colonies, and Great Britain prove victorious, they would be ostracised as traitors and all their possessions forfeited to the Crown.

Massachusetts had the largest number of our family names, as it also had the largest number of men in the war; as it was at that time the largest Colony or State. Many of those whose names appear credited to Massachusetts and New York were members of our Connecticut families; they or their parents having emigrated from Connecticut. Some names are probably duplicated through different spellings, and through having served in the Continental Army from different states at different times.

In looking for a particular ancestor one should not confine his search to the present spelling of the name, but should closely examine the record of all of the given name for which he is looking; as the surname may have been written in any of the the varinus spellings in the old original lists from which the printed lists were made.

The authority is given for what is printed here about most of the names. "Mass. in Rev.," refers to "Massachusetts Soldiers and Sailors of the Revolutionary War," Vol. XI and XII, Published by the State, Boston, 1903-1904. "N. Y. in Rev.," is from "New York in the Revolution, as Colony and State," Albany, 1898. "Conn. in Rev.," is from "Record of Service of Connecticut Men in the War of the Revolution, etc.," Hartford, 1889, and "Collections of the Connecticut Historical Society," Vol. VIII.
