FOREWORD

THE foundation of this volume was laid by the will of the late Samuel St. John, of New York, and New Haven, Conn., published in book form in 1852, and now incorporated herein.

The work has been a labor of love, and it has been my wish that all who shall possess the book may enjoy it as much as I have its compilation. It has cost me a great deal of time and labor, during the past decade, expended without thought of compensation, save that which came from the satisfaction of preserving records and family traditions which were rapidly passing away. No attempt has been made to trace the family beyond the first American immigrant.

Notwithstanding all the efforts made, and care exercised, to verify names and dates, there are doubtless many errors. Perhaps an absolutely correct genealogy was never written. By far the larger portion of the facts herein recorded has been obtained from family Bibles, town, court, and cemetery records, or from published genealogies.

It is with regret that I confess many failures to receive replies to queries sent out, to which must be attributed some lack of connection among the records. And now that my work is ended, I particularly desire to thank all who responded so kindly to my inquiries, and to assure them that I shall ever cherish among my pleasantest memories their patient interviews, their warm hospitality, and kind letters.

To the Rev. Horace E. Hayden, author of Virginia Genealogies, and to Mr. David H. Van Hoosear, author of the Van Hoosear Genealogy, my gratitude is especially given for their valuable aid. I desire also to acknowledge the encouragement of the Rev. C. M. Selleck, Norwalk's historian, and the kind services of Mrs. M. Louisa Brodnax, genealogist, of New York City.

O. ST. J. A.

THE OLD STYLE AND NEW STYLE CALENDAR

The year, at the time of the American Colonial period, began March 25th and ended March 24th, and so remained until 1752: then the change was made to January 1st by Great Britain and her Colonies. Other European countries had made the change earlier.

From 1607 to 1752 double dating was the common practice for the months between January 1st and March. This was an attempt to give dates for a year beginning March 25th and at the same time for a year beginning January 1st. This led to much confusion with regard to dates of marriages and births. (For further information see articles on "Calendar" and "Chronology" in the Encyclopedia Britannica.)

INTRODUCTION

THE following items, names, etc., are given here because they appear on the records. No proof of connection has as yet been found with the first Matthias St. John.

Viscount Grandison was the son of Nicholas and Elizabeth (Blount) St. John. His younger brother, Richard, was ancestor of the Irish St. Johns, and I think of our Matthew St. John, who, by the way, lived in St. Botolph, Bishopsgate, in London, before going to Conn. (N. E. Hist. and Gen. Register, vol. 54, p. 342; Colonial Papers; British Public Records.)

June 24, 1619. Shareholders in London Co. William Sharley to Oliver St. John. Mrs. Millicent Ramsden to Oliver St. John. (Va. Hist. of Orange Co., N. Y., p. 488.)

Hector St. John came from France to Hamptonburgh, Orange Co., N. Y., and lived where Hezekiah Moffatt lived and died. He returned to France during the Rev. War, with one son. He afterwards returned to the U. S. as Consul to N. Y. The other son and daughter were educated in the eastern part of the U. S. Frances, the dau., m. a Frenchman named Otto and went to France. There he was made Count Otto and sent to the court at Vienna, etc. (Eagers' Hist. of Orange Co., N. Y., p. 488.)

Permission is granted Mr. Hector St. John to send his family by a Flag going up Hudson's River. (Rev. Events No. 205, Genl. Pattison issues permits; Orange Co., N. Y., Republican, 1904.)

Henry Wisner writes Gov. Clinton: "West Point, Feb. 19, 1778. I arrived here last evening broke roads over the mountains through the snow with 16 teams. I take liberty to observe that the people of our country are much alarmed at their apprehensions of St. Johns Being permitted to goe to New York. I asked one of the most sensible of them what damage he could Doe; he observed that he might Advise the Burning of Sterling works in order to prevent our giting the Chain done. I told him I believed you would Consider well the matter Before you would grant that perimition." (Vol. 2, 788, Clinton Papers.)

Thomas Moffat indorses Mr. St. John's application for leave to go to Europe; Blooming Grove, Apl. 9, 1778.

Genl. Mc. Dougall Believes Mr. St. John should proceed to N. Y. on his way to Europe under certain Safe guard; Fishkill, Apl. 28, 1778.

Mr. St. John has informed the Com. of Cornwall Precinct that he has applyed to your Excellency for leave to go to Europe. (Clinton Papers, vol. 3, 148, 151, 227.)

Goodman Nicholas Senchion came from England in the Elizabeth and Ann. Nicholas Sension of Windsor, Connecticut, was fined to pay five pounds to the Country for not appearing to witness against Aaron Starke, July 2, 1640. (Colonial Records, 1, 55; Savage, iv. p. 52.) In 1643 he bought the lot of Richard Waller at Windsor on Silver St. opposite Pigeon Hill road and built thereon. This lot in 1663 was between John Mores and James Eno. "Sension's house was against the waye to Pigeon Hill" (Stiles, Windsor, i. 166, 155). In 1654 he was in possession by purchase or otherwise of Matthias Sension's lot (idem). He was a member of the Windsor Dragoons who, July 3, 1667, received Pouches of Thomas Dibble (i. 184). In 1675 he was reported among the first class of tax payers at Windsor in the list headed "Family horse and four oxen" (i. 88). In 1676 he gave 2 shill, 6 pence for the poor of the other colonies (i. 229). In 1673 he gave 2 shillings for Church purposes (i. 885). He was made freeman at Windsor Oct. 11, 1669 (Col. Rec., ii. 520).

The Old Church Records of Windsor state that "he married his wife Isabel, June 12th 1645, now 1680, and 35 yrs., last June, and had no child." She was admitted to the Church, Jan. 22, 1649, and was still living in W. Dec. 21, 1677. In 1648 Nicholas was a witness to the will of Edward Chalkwell and received from his estate a legacy of a gun, sword, and handoliers, vest, hat, and 40 shillings (Col. Rec., i. 492). He was convicted of gross crimes, 1677, and put under 300 recognizance for his good behaviour, and his lands, housings, cattle and household stuff pledged therefor (Stiles, Windsor, ii. 676, quoting "Crimes and Misdemeanours," i. 92, 112, State Archives). There is nothing to indicate that he was related to Matthias.

Nicholas Sensine, of Windsor, Inventory taken Apl. 8, 1690, £11-17-0. Timothy Phelps Senr. and James Ennoe (Court Rec., p. 14). Apl. 9, 1690, Administer to Saml. Wilson. Distributed to the oldest son living, a pewter platter and a Coverlid, and, to the wife of Josiah Gillett, all her wearing clothes and skillet; the remainder of Nicholas Sensions estate is passed over to Samuel Wilson.

Nicholas Sension m. June 12, 1645, Isabel, he d. Sept. 18, 1689, she d. Oct. 2, 1689, in Windsor, Ct. (B. M. & D. Windsor, Ct.; Hartford Pro. Rec., vol. v. 58; Manwaring Digest, p. 505).

Thomas Senchon was an inhabitant of Windsor, 1639, but it does not appear who he was. Matthew Grant's Old Church Record, so often quoted, gives this fact: "May 16, 1639, two children died, John Phelps and Thomas Senchon's" (Stiles, Windsor, i. 877).

The same record (i. 878) also gives this: "1647, died Sara Senchon."

Elizabeth St. John, b. at Cayshoe, Bedfordshire, England, in 1605, the daughter of Sir Oliver and Sarah (Bulkley) St. John, married August 6th, 1629, Samuel Whiting, his second wife (Parish Reg. St. Botolph, Boston). She came with him to Lynn, Mass., in May, 1636 (Memoir of Rev. Samuel Whiting).

FIRST GENERATION

FIRST GENERATION

1 MATTHIAS ST. JOHN, SENSION or SENTION, the first of this name whom we can trace in America, was born in England, came to Dorchester, Mass., in 1631-2, and was made a freeman there, on September 3rd, 1634. He received a grant of 20 acres in Dorchester, January 14, 1635, "at the bounds betwixt Roxbury and Dorchester." We find the record, on January 16, 1636: "It is ordered that Mathias Sension and Thomas Sampford shall keepe the cowes this yeere to begin the 17th day of Aprill and to continue the keepeing of them till the 15th of Nouember to haue for their pay in keepeing 5 shills the head for as many as are brought in; the sayd five shill p' head to be payd $\frac{1}{3}$ in hand $\frac{1}{3}$ at halfe the tyme the other at the end of the tyme."

On March 18, 1637, Matthias owned three acres, two goads, and three rods in the neck at Dorchester, and two acres, one goad, and four rods in the Cow pasture. In 1638 he had sold his house as, on April 23, 1638, it was ordered "that Mr. Withington shall haue adjoining to his house that was Mr. Sensions the swamp aboue," etc. And on October 31, 1639, it was ordered that there should be laid out "3 akers for Mr. Withington which was Mathias Sensions." As late as 1674 this property was referred to as that which was Mr. Sensions (Dorchester Town Records, iv. 14, 22, 31, 33, 41).

Matthias St. John moved to Windsor, Conn., in 1640, as in that year he had granted to him, at Windsor, a lot in the Palisades containing ten rods. This was occupied in 1890 by Mrs. Anson Loomis. It was bounded, South by the Burying Ground and the road leading to it, at the South West corner of the Palisades Green; East by the Green. It was 10 rods wide and 18 rods deep, extending back to the Palisades. A record of the lot was made in the "Book of Figures" (the records were so kept before the Court established a Town Clerk to keep the records). This lot, with house, was sold to Walter Gaylord, the son of Deacon Gaylord. Sension also owned one of the home lots in Backer Row, 27 rods South of North Sandy Hill Road, 14 rods wide; afterwards found in the possession of Nicholas Sension. He also had 24 rods of land in East Windsor, east three miles, bounded North by Joshua Carter and South by John Stiles.

In Matthew Grant's Old Church Records, among those who, "Being gone yet had children born here," i. e. in Windsor, appears, "Mathias Senchon 3" (Stiles, Hist. Ancient Windsor, i. 166, 479, 545, 883). "Mathewe Sension" was a member of the Grand Jury, Nov. 19, 1643, and in Dec., 1644 (Col. Records of Conn., i. 95, 114). The name Matthias Sension (or Matthew, as given in the index) appears on a list of settlers in Wethersfield between 1636 and 1645. Matthias was in Wethersfield as early as 1648, if not earlier, for when Jonas Weede removed to Stamford from Wethersfield about 1640 he sold his place to Matthias Sension (St. John).

In February, 1658, Thomas Wickham, of Wethersfield, recorded a house and "garden plot," which he had bought of Matthias Sension, late of Wethersfield. He recorded to his son, Thomas, the house he had bought of Matthias Sension, bounded N. & E. by High St. Common, South by Thos Curtis' Homestead, W. by Thos. Tracy. He and his wife, Sarah, in 1673, gave the Matthias Sension house, warehouse and "cellar" to their eldest son, Thomas (History of Wethersfield, Conn., by Henry R. Stiles, M. D., vol. i. pp. 31, 296, 312).

Matthias Sension was a Jurymen in Particular Court, at Hartford, Conn., on March 28, 1650; a juror before Edward Hopkins, Esq., Gov., Magistrate, May 7, 1650-51. On October 21, 1651, he was before a Particular Court at Hartford, apparently owing 14s. 7d. As a juror, in May, 1653, he made oath at this Court that John Barnes, dec'd, owed him, at his death, £1. Again on June 1st, 1654, "Matthias Sension of Wethersfield" was before a Particular Court at Hartford because he "had sold syder to Indians by which they was Drunke." He was before a Grand Jury, Nov. 13, 1654, and was a Juror, Dec., 1654. Matthias Sension had a suit in Part. Court, at Hartford, June 7, 1655: "Richard Fellowes Plaintiff, Matthias Sension Def." in action for debt, with damage of £18. Also, Matthias Sension Pltf., Stephen Beckwith Dft., in act. of defamation, damage £10. And at Quarter Court, Hartford, First Thursday in Mar. 1655-6, he was brought into the Court, "Owing the Estate of Wm. Cross. £3. 19. 4. (Norwalk Records, vol. ii. pp. 8, 28, 41, 53, 57, 62, 67, 84, 90).

In 1654 Matthias removed to Norwalk, Conn. Hall states that in the "Table of Estates of lands and accommodations in 1655" appear the names of Matthias Sention, Matthias Sention, Jr., and Matthew Sention.* Matthias Sention, Sen., bought of Mr. Steeile,

* "Matthias" is simply the Latin form of "Matthew," and the first Matthias sometimes appears in the records as Matthew. If a third Sention appears in the list of 1655 it was probably Mark and not Matthew.

of Farmington, who married the widow of Richard Seamer, 4 acres. "Granted, in addition 1, April 6, 1661, 5 acres, bounded east by Common land, west by Town's Highway, north by Samuel Hale's home-lot, now Robert Stewart's, south by Matthew Camfield's home lot." On March 5, 1657, Matth. Sention, Mark Sention, with Isacke More and Ed. Nash, undertook to make and provide a good and sufficient wolfe-pitt upon the other side, in some convenient place (Hall's History of Norwalk, Conn., pp. 17, 23, 47). Matthias Sention's "eare mark, a crophe upon the neere Eare and a slitt cross cutt in the same," was Recorded Nov. 20, 1655. In a list of Freemen at Norwalk, taken Oct. 11, 1669, appear the names of Math. Sention, Senr., Math. Sention, Jr., Marke Sention and Samll. Sention (Col. Rec. Conn., ii. 522).

Matthias Sention's Will was dated Oct. 19, 1669, and he died in Norwalk, in October or November of the same year. His Estate was inventoried on Jan. 31, 1669-70. He mentions his wife in his Will without giving her name; wills to his "Mother Selle one cow and one ewe," and "unto my dearly beloved brother and sister Hoit, Twenty shillings apiece as a token of my love." On Jan. 3, 1670-71, the Town of Norwalk voted that his son "Matthias Sension is to take up his proportion of six acres to the hundred upon Elie's Nek, next to his uncle Hoite." Probably this was Walter Hoite (Whitney, 573).

The Will of Matthias St. John, Sr., from the Fairfield Probate Records, vol. 1665-75, p. 47, is as follows:

The Last will and testament of Mathias Sension Sen^r. of Norwocke made this 19th of October 1669: Revoking all former will: I being at this present in perfect understanding and memorie but weak in body expecting my change suddenly in hope of a Joyfull Resurrection at the Last day: thorowe the vertu of the resurrection of my alone Saveour & blessed Redemer: The estate the lord of his Bounty hath given me and blessed me withall: I doe by these presents will and bequeath: my Just Debts to be faythfully discharged: my body decently Interred— It. SECOND GENERATION

SECOND GENERATION

2 MATTHIAS ST. JOHN (Matthias¹), b. in 1630; d. in Dec., 1728-9; m. Elizabeth. Matthias St. John's home lot was No. 25 near the cove. In 1665 his lands and accommodations were valued at £150. He was selectman of Norwalk. Matthias Sention, Jr., entered into a fence agreement, 1656; appears on second list, 1657; was ordered to pay with others, 1659; was Fence viewer, 1659; was granted liberty to make fence across the Highway, 1664; was granted 16 ft. of ground, 1665; was granted land, 1660-66; and appears in a wolfe killing article, 1667.

At Town meeting Oct. 5, 1667, it was voted: "Cattle to be put in the plantinge fed and kept there by Stephen that day, and every day for a month they are to be fetched up by one standinge man and another, to be ready at the soundinge of a horne to go a longe with him, and so to take their turnes until the months is out, the time to goe out to fetch up the cattle is at noone; and it begins with Matthias Sention, Jr., and so longe with Walter Hait, and none to goe but trained souldiers, and if any neglect they are to forfeite 2s. to the use of the Towne. Stephen Beckwith hath promised to give foureteene dayes, and also as it beginneth with Matthias Sention, Jr., he is to give notice and warne the next over night against the next day, and so every one the like as it passeth a longe upon the forfeite of 2s. to the use of the Towne" (Vol. T. P., 33).

Again we find the following: "Charges for the Cowheard: John Gregory, 3s.; Mark Sension, 6s.; Matthias Sension, 7s.; Samuel Sension, 2s. Mark Sension went with Jores and his canoe halfe a day to burne the Islands 1683" (T. P., 163).

Matthias Sention, Jr., was to make the list, Sept. 9, 1668 (T. P., 83). He took an inventory of Thos. Hale's Est., 1678. James and Martha Miller sold part of their Home lot and dwelling in Norwalk, one acre and one rood, bounded E. & W. by highway, to Matthias Sention, Dec. 26, 1681-2 (N. L. Rec., vol. i. p. 75). In 1686 Matthias Sension made over to his eldest son, Ebenezer, the land and house he bought of James Miller (N., i. 85). In 1692 Matthias Sension, Sr., deeded to his son James land called "Stickey Plain" (N., i. 102).

In 1705-6 Matthias Sension, Sr., bought of Thomas Hayt land at Stickey Plain (N., i. 243, ii. 83).

Under "Eare Marks," we find the following: Matthias Sention, "Slippe cut oft of the inside of the neer and a slitt right downe oft the oft eare." May 30, 1655 (T. P., 9).

Children:

- 7 i Ebenezer, b. abt. 1660; d. in 1723-4; m. Elizabeth Comstock, b. Oct. 7, 1674.

(4) Deacon Isaac Moore, of Farmington and Norwalk (Savage, i. 195, ii. 333, iv. 115; Goodwin's Notes, 3; Hist. of Stratford, pp. 100-122).

The will of Elizabeth Bacon, late of Hadley, now of Hartford, Conn., dated Oct. 30, 1671, contains the following: I give to my son Caleb Standly my Houseings and land in Hadly formerly my husband Andrew Bacon's deed. that fell to me by the Death of my son Isaac, I give to son Caleb Standly, to my daughter Elizabeth Sension, the wife of Mark Sension, etc., provided that out of my daughter Elizabeth's part £5, to be paid to my grandchild Sarah Sension, daughter of my daughter Elizabeth (Manwaring Digest, vol. i. 270). Elizabeth m. (1) Timothy Stanley of Hartford, Conn. In the distribution of Timothy's Estate, in 1648, appears a son Caleb, not yet 21 years old, and two elder daughters, not named (Digest, vol. i. 489). The daus. were Abigail, who m. Saml. Cole, and Lois, who m. Thomas Porter, of Farmington, Conn.

The "care mark" of Marke Sension appears on record as a "Croppe upon the neere care and a slitt down in the same" (T. P., 9). Marke Sension complained of Samuel Ely for "Missimende" (misdemeanor) "in his light carriage towards the wife of complainant," at quarter Court in Hartford for the first Thursday in March 1655-6 (vol. ii. 985, Secretary's Office).

The will of Mark St. John, from the Fairfield Probate Records, vol. 1689-1701, p. 87, is as follows:

Rec., ix. 407); m. in Ridgefield, Ct., Oct. 13, 1709, Anne Whitney, b. in Norwalk, Ct., in 1690; d. in Sharon, May 9, 1772-3, æ. 82 years, buried in Sharon, Ct., the dau. of John and Elizabeth (Smith) Whitney. Matthew St. John, son-in-law of John Whitne, Sr., is named thus in 1721-2 (N. L. Rec., v. 452; Whitney, 18-19).

Matthew St. John was one of those who bought Ridgefield of the Indians, Sept. 30, 1708, was a petitioner for town privileges, May 12, 1709, and an original settler. In a deed between Catoonah and Matthew St. John, Rec. Feb. 3, 1709-10, Matthias, Samuel, Ebenezer Sension, and Matthew St. John, all of Norwalk, are named (R. Rec., 1). A deed of June 23, 1712, grants to Matthew St. John, his heirs, land from the Proprietors (Book 1). Another is dated Dec. 10, 1716. Matthew St. John deeded land to James Wallis, of Ridgefield, for love, Jan. 18, 1716-17. He exchanged land with Joseph Crompton, Dec. 11, 1716, and with Moses Northrup, Apr. 4, 1723. He executed, Oct. 22, 1717, a "deed to my Brother John Saint John, of Norwalk, land his father gave him." May 12, 1730-1, a right of Commonage in Norwalk was conveyed by Nathan St. John, of Ridgefield, "to my honored Father Matthias³ St. John of ye town of Norwalk."

Again "Matthew St. John of Ridgefield Ct. by bill of exchange with Joseph Lee of Pypmawogg, in Norwalk, my Home lot and buildings, House and barn, Apl. 1, 1725" (vol. i. 7, Ridgefield Records).

He was appointed Ensign of the Co. of Wilton Parish, Norwalk, Oct., 1727; Lieut., Oct., 1730; Capt., Oct., 1738 (Col. Rec., 126, 297). He went to Stockbridge, Mass. He appears in deeds as "of Wilton" in 1728-9 (N. L. Rec., vol. vii. pp. 36-334). In June, 1745, Capt. Matthew and wife and children, Luke, John, Hannah, Matthew, Jr., and wife and child Mary, moved from Wilton.

In a deed dated Sharon, Litchfield County, Conn., Jan. 7, 1751, Matthew St. John conveys to his son Mark for the consideration of £40 in "bills of Credit old tenour" land in said township of Sharon, "being the first part of what was last voted to be laid out belonging

No. 66 (page 55). From "Boston Transcript,"

8603. MOREHOUSE, GREGORY, F. A. E. Nov. 25, 1925. The ancestry of Mary Morehouse follows: Thomas (1) Morehouse was in Wethersfield, Conn., as early as 1640. The next year he helped to found Stamford, whence he moved to Fairfield, in 1653. He bought the house and lot of John Barlow on Ludlow square, a grist mill and several parcels of land. He was a deputy in 1653. He died in August, 1658. Isabel was his second wife. By the first, whose name is not known, his children were: Samuel, born 1642; Thomas (2), Mary, John, Jonathan, Ann and Hannah. His will, dated Aug. 8, 1658, left a third to his widow and a double portion to Samuel.

Thomas (2) Morehouse before 1672 married, first, Elizabeth, daughter of Ralph Keeler of Norwalk, by whom he had, Thomas (3), Gideon and Nathan. He married, second, Martha Hobby, who bore him Lemuel. Thomas lived in Fairfield, part of his life, west of the present Park avenue, Bridgeport. December, 1697, he deeded to his three elder sons 100 acres on Chestnut Hill in the present Bridgeport. He was part owner of a saw mill and of a grist mill. He died in December, 1725.

Thomas (3) Morehouse was probably born about 1680. His wife's first name was Mary, and the writer desires aid from Transcript readers in learning who she was. Their children and dates of baptism in Christ Church, Fairfield were: Jehu, Jan. 5, 1700-1; Mary (Bedient), May 16, 1702; Sarah (Mills), Feb. 6, 1704; Jethro, Feb. 3, 1706; Thomas, May 16, 1708; Thankful, Stephen (4), Aug. 10, 1712; Hannah (married John Sherwood), Sept. 4, 1715; and Elisha. In 1721 Thomas bought several parcels of land easterly from the Saugatuck River, in what is now Green's Farms. There he appears to have lived till about June 6, 1732, when he bought fifty acres on the west side of the present Hurlbutt street in Wilton (then in Norwalk), Conn. The Ambler family at present owns this farm. There Thomas and his wife lived till their deaths, Sept. 6, 1748, and June 23, 1761, respectively. These were recorded in the Green's Farms Congregational Church, and not in the nearby Wilton Church.

Stephen (4) Morehouse received as a gift from his father, Feb. 8, 1734, the easterly half of his Wilton farm. Thomas reserved usage for life to himself and wife. In the records of Wilton Congregational Church is this: "1733, Nov., Stephen Morehouse of this parish and Sarah St. John of ye old parish in this town, were married." Ye old parish was the southern part of the town of Norwalk, of which Wilton was then the northern part. Like a monkey wrench in a machine are the words "ye old parish," since Captain Matthew St. John, in November, 1733, was a resident of and active in ye new parish. Matthew had a daughter Sarah, born in Ridgefield, Sept. 18, 1713. Nothing more is said about her in the St. John book. All other Sarah St. Johns apparently are accounted for. Many circumstances point to Stephen's wife being the daughter of Matthew. She may have lived with one or more of her three grandparents who in 1733 were living in Norwalk. Can any reader help solve this puzzle?

The known children of Stephen and Sarah were, Mary (5) and Sarah, who married David Gruman. These girls and their mother appear in the Norwalk land records as inheriting the land of Stephen. He died Sept. 21, 1738. His widow, May 13, 1740, married Ebenezer Hurlbutt, son of Thomas. The issue of this marriage and their baptismal dates were: a daughter, June 28, 1741; Thomas, April 10, 1743; Hannah, April 14, 1745; Elizabeth, Oct. 2, 1748; Sarah, Feb. 23, 1758.

Mary (5) Morehouse married Joseph Gregory in the Wilton church, Nov. 8, 1756. He was of Norwalk, son of Ebenezer. Information wanted of his birth date, which is thought to be 1733. Whether Mary Fitch was his mother depends on this date. They moved to Sharon, Conn., where Joseph was a farmer and merchant. He was an ensign in the Sixth Regiment, Dutchess County, N. Y., serving in the Revolutionary War. He lived for a while in Greenbush (now Sand Lake), N. Y., and died in Catskill, where, according to tradition he was sheriff (probably a deputy). On the gravestone of Mary in Sharon is inscribed: "In memory of Mrs. Mary Gregory, wife of Ensign Joseph Gregory, who died Nov. 24, 1789, ae 53." Her grave is in the next row and directly behind that of Ann St. John, who lies next to her husband, Captain Matthew St. John. Joseph Gregory married, second, the widow Anna Jewett, probably born Bartlett.

26 CAPTAIN SAMUEL ST. JOHN (Matthias³, Matthias², Matthias¹), b. in Norwalk, in 168-; d. in Cortland Manor, N. Y., in 1755; m. Rebecca Olmstead, b. abt. 1661; the dau. of Lieut. John and Elizabeth Olmstead. Her sister Eunice, b. 1687, m. Joseph St. John (N. E. Gen. Reg., Oct., 1905; see also No. 6112). Rebecca m. (2) Lockwood.

Capt. Samuel St. John came from Norwalk with his brother Matthew and his father, and was an original proprietor of Ridgefield, Sept., 1708, when 24 persons bought the land from the Indians. In 1709 they took possession of this 20,000 acres and divided them into lots, of which No. 1 fell to Capt. St. John. He was made Sergeant in 1708. A deed of Benj. Wilson and Samuel St. John, of Ridgefield, to Thomas Fitch, names "our sister Deborah Olmsted, father John Olmstead, our Honoured Mother-in-law Mrs. Elizabeth Lockwood, late widow and relict of our father," Jan. 20, 1710-11, signed Jane Wilson and Rebecca St. John (N. L. Rec., iv. 124).

Lot No. 1, Ridgefield, is located at the S. end of Main St., E. side, and is now (1890) occupied by John Keeler. It was "Granted by ye Proprietors of ye Town of Ridgefield unto Serjeant Samuel Saint John and recorded unto the said Samuel Saint John his heirs and assigns forever, a certain parcel of land in the Township of said Ridgefield Layed out for a Home Lott, with ye first Division added in ye Rear of ye same, ye whole containing seven acres and one-half, be it more or less, Bounded North by ye Home Lott and Division of addition that was Samuel Keeler, Jun'r, and now Jonathan Rockwell's, South Easterly by ye late granted Building Lott to Joseph Whitne and Common Land, and West Southerly by ye Town Street, which Home Lott and Division being ye first in number and drawn by ye said Samuel Saint John as appears upon Record in the 5th folio of this Book. Recorded July 25, 1712." Samuel received No. 1 lot of No. 16 (from division of Matthias Home lot 16), July 25, 1712. He deeded land to John Stirdevant, Aug. 10, 1710, recorded July 25, 1712. Jan. 15, 1719-20 he bought land of Jonathan Wood, recorded Sept. 23, 1720. A deed from Abigail St. John, Apr. 28, 1720, to Samuel St. John, shows his wife, named as Rebecca. He lived at So. Salem, N. Y., where Rebecca was a church member before July 21, 1752.

* Sharon Published Rec., pp. 119, 122, give "Homer Sprague and Hannah St. John," and "Ebenezer Sprague and Hannah St. John," m. Feb. 20, 1745-6.

In 1715 Samuel St. John "was one of three appointed to look over town and propriety votes and as much as they think necessary, order for the file." In 1718 Lieut. St. John was chosen townsman; in 1720-21, Fence Viewer; lister, in 1724; Townsman, 1727-28; Surveyor and Moderator of town meeting, 1729. He was appointed Lieut. of the Train Band of Ridgefield, in May, 1718; Captain, in May, 1727 (Col. Rec., vii. 91).

He died before 1756, as his son Noah sold lot No. 1 in Ridgefield to Jeremiah Keeler in Mar., 1756. In 1709 Samuel Sension deeded land from the Estate of his father, Lieut. John Olmstead (N. L. Rec., iv. 74). In 1710 Rebecca, wife of Samuel Sension, of Ridgefield, is noted (N. L. Rec., iv. 124). In June, 1701, father Matthias St. John, Sr., of Norwalk, calls him in deed, "My loving son Samuel of Norwalk," and had a deed from him Apr. 5, 1710. Samuel and Matthew sold an £80 right of Commonage in undivided land of Norwalk, "which was my Honored Father's, Matthias St. John," to Nathan Ketcham and John St. John, Mar. 15, 1720-21. P. 55 names "my son Noah." Samuel and wife Rebecca sold to Lemuel Morse a homestead at Ridgefield, Feb. 24, 1728-9. On Feb. 13, 1740-1, Samuel gave a deed to Ralph Isaacs "of ye town of Norwalk," and is described as "Samuel Saint John lately of Ridgefield now living on Cortland Manor in ye County of West Chester." This deed conveyed his homestead of 6 acres bounded S. by Norwalk, Samuel Smith's, and common land, North partly by his son Noah's land, for £236 7s. 10d. On Sept. 7, 1742, in a deed of N. land to Samuel Smith, of Ridgefield, he calls himself "late of Ridgefield, now living in Cortland Manor in ye County of Westchester and Province of N. Y."

27 NATHAN ST. JOHN (Matthias³, Matthias², Matthias¹), b. in Norwalk, Ct., in 1692; d. in Ridgefield, Mar. 10, 1749, æ. 57 (T. S. in Ridgefield Cemetery); a farmer; m. in Ridgefield, Ct., June 7, 1721, Hannah Seymour, who d. in Ridgefield, Aug. 22, 1768; the dau. of Matthew and Sarah (Hayes) Seymour. In 1742 Hannah, wife of Nathan St. John, of Ridgefield, appeared as heir of Matthew Seymour, dec'd. (N. L. Rec., ix. 323, x. 981).

Nathan St. John's ear marke was $\frac{1}{2}$ penny in rear side of each ear, June 29, 1715. Feb. 7, 1716-17 his father Matthias gave deed of all his right to land "within ye bounds of ye Township of Ridgefield" to his son Nathan St. John of Ridgefield for "Parental love and affection," only that he receive the same as his portion. Nathan became a large land owner and was active in public life. He was Surveyor in 1715; Collector of ye ministers rate, 1719; Constable, 1721; Lister, 1723; Surveyor, 1725; Lister, 1726; Toler, 1727; Townsman, 1733. The Proprietors granted him 20 acres of land, Feb. 12, 1717, and $\frac{1}{2}$ acre, Mar. 12, 1718-20. Feb. 17, 1721-2, he restored them land over and above his lawful measure. Nathan bought land in Ridgefield of Joseph Platt, of Milford. Jan. 2, 1720-21, recorded Jan. 2, 1720-21.

April 13, 1740, he, with 24 others, obtained a patent of 50,000 acres in the oblong (S. Salem Town Rec., vol. i. 70). Nov. 24, 1743, he, with 23 others, deeded about 300 acres in the oblong to John Osborne (S. Salem T. Rec., vol. i. 64).

On Mar. 3, 1752, we find reference to his widow Hannah. Nathan, eldest son, the heirs of Elijah, dec'd., David, Sarah, and Anna, all children of Nathan and Hannah St. John. The estate was dist.: to the widow, land in Oblong, above the land of Paul Keeler; to Nathan, land in oblong at S. W. Ridge; to David, land at Round Hill and oblong; to Rachel, land at Pompian Ridge and oblong (see N. L. Rec., vii. 146, 1730-1).

In an old State document in the "Senate House" at Kingston, N. Y., a proposed settlement between New York and Conn., as to division line, dated June 3, 1731, Nathan St. John is mentioned. The land is apparently leased to him with others. A patent dated June 5, 1731, recites the settlement of the line between New York and Conn., on a line parallel with the Hudson.

This may certify that the above and foregoing is a true Copy of Pages 400 & 401, Pol. 1724-1749 of the probate records of the District of Fairfield.

Attest,

Elmore S. Banks,

Clerk. (L. S.)

Elizabeth, widow of Matthias St. John, of Norwalk, decd., was administratrix Sept. 26, 1732. The estate was inventoried Sept. 26, 1732, by Joseph Lockwood and Jonathan Fairchild, at £906. Matthias St. John, Jr.'s heirs, with others, sold land to Benjamin St. John in 1749. John St. John, guardian to Elizabeth St. John, Benjamin St. John, and Catherine, wife of Joseph Marvin, Elizabeth St. John, and Hannah St. John, only children of Matthias St. John, Jr., dec'd, owned land together in 1749 (N. L. Rec., x. 238). Elnathan Hanford and Joseph Betts, of Norwalk, were appointed by the Court to divide the following land: Matthias, Jr., and Benjamin had land in Norwalk at "East Rocks," 19 acres. Matthias, Jr., d. without dividing it and it came to his children. A partition was asked for Dec. 5, 1749.

John Abbott, Jr., and wife sold land, formerly Matthias St. John, Jr.'s, dec'd, in 1753 (N. L. Rec., xi. 127). In 1787 "Lemuel Rogers and wife Hannah sold to Johnathan Camp $\frac{1}{3}$ of Homestead of Father Matthias St. John dec'd., which was set to Mother Elizabeth Gregory dec'd, undivided with my two sisters" (N. L. Rec., 16, 206). Nehemiah Gregory was appointed guardian to Hannah St. John. Matthias St. John's daughters, Betty, wife of John Abbott, and Catherine, wife of Joseph Marvin, both deeded Matthias St. John's Homestead, situated E. by highway, N. and W. by Cranberry Swamp and land of Estate of Josiah Thatcher, S. by highway, 1787 (N. L. Rec., 16, 206).

John Abbott deeded land to his grandson Aaron in 1785 (N. L. Rec., 16, 263). John Abbott and wife Elizabeth sold $\frac{1}{3}$ part of land at Cranberry Plains, being Estate of father Matthias St. John, dec'd, and undivided with Lemuel and Hannah Rogers and heirs of Catherine Hanford. 1787 (N. L. Rec., 16, 244). John Marvin, Joseph, David and Betsy, all of Sharon, to Johnathan Camp, land at Cranberry Plains, undivided interest of Elizabeth, wife of John Abbott and Hannah, wife of Lemuel Rogers, being Estate left to our mother Catherine Marvin by our grandfather Matthias St. John, 1787 (N. L. Rec., 16, 368).

Abijah St. John in 1795 to father and mother, Daniel and Mary. executed a lease of house at Silver Mine (N. L. Rec., xviii. 41). Feb. 5, 1800 (N. L. Rec., xix. 92), Daniel St. John of Norwalk to son Stephen, 3rd, deeded 8 acres at Silver Mine, bounded by land he the same day sold to Stephen and Abijah. The same day he deeded to Stephen, 3rd, and Abijah of Norwalk, for $100, 3 acres at Silver Mine. Stephen and Abijah, Feb. 24, 1800, deeded to Benoni, for 10 cents, land at Barren Marsh (N. L. Rec., xix. 97, xvii. 45).

The will of Daniel St. John follows:

IN THE NAME OF GOD AMEN. I, DANIEL ST JOHN of Norwalk in the Town of Norwalk and State of Connecticut being sick and weak of Body but of sound and disposing mind and memory, Praised be to God therefor, Do make and ordain this my Last Will and Testament, And first of all I commend my soul to the merits of my Savior Jesus Christ I shall enjoy eternal Life. My Body I commit to the Earth to be Decently buried at the Discretion of my executors hereafter named nothing doubting but at the Resurrection I shall receive them again by the mighty Power of God.

And as touching such worldly estate as it has pleased God to bless me with in this life, after the Payment of my Just Debts and Funeral expenses, I give and dispose thereof in the following manner and Form, viz:—

Imprimis I give and bequeath to my well-beloved Wife Mary, The sum of Twenty pounds to be her own forever also the Improvement of one third my housing and Land during her Life.

Item. I give and bequeath to my Daughters, Susanna, Joanna, Mary, Ester and Lois and to my Son-in-law, Jonathan Brown, Five and Twenty pound each of them with what they have already received as an account thereof is kept and now to be seen.—

The remainder of my estate both real and Personal I give and bequeath to my four sons, viz. Daniel, Benoni, Stephen and Abijah to be equally divided among them and whereas I have given some land by Deeds to my two sons Benoni and Stephen my will is that what they have received by Deed shall be prized by two men of good judgment and that it be accounted and reckoned as part of their Portion.—

Finally I do nominate and appoint my two sons Benoni and Stephen executors of this my Last Will and Testament and I do hereby order and direct my said executors to sell dispose of so much of my real estate as shall be sufficient to pay And discharge all my just debts And Funeral Expenses and to make and execute Deeds thereof in Due Form of Law and I do hereby ratify and confirm this and no other to be my Last Will and Testament revoking all other former Wills or Testaments by me made.

In Testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand This twelfth Day of May Anno Domini 1790

(8213.) 1. WOOD. Joseph Wood, born Jan. 25, 1755, married Mary St. John of New Canaan, Conn., March 16, 1780. Wanted. Joseph's parents and birthplace. Statement that he was son of Benjamin and Elsey (Hoyt) Wood is plainly an error; he had a son, Benjamin, who married Elsey Hoyt.

2. WOOD. Joseph Wood was baptized March 16, 1755, Huntington, L. I., N. Y. Wanted, his parents and later history.

3. WOOD. Israel Wood is named as grandson in the will of James Chichester, of Huntington, L. I., Jan. 10, 1769. Wanted, parents of Israel and his brothers and sisters, if any.

4. WOOD. Keziah Wood married John Hoyt, Oct. 30, 1771, at Salem, Westchester county, N. Y. Wanted, Keziah's parents and birthplace.

5. WOOD. Keziah Wood was baptized May 10, 1752, at Huntington, L. I. Wanted, her parents and later history.

6. WOOD. Azariah Wood married Ruth Chichester, Dec. 11, 1753, at Huntington, L. I. Wanted, their children, also Azariah's parents. One Azariah Wood was baptized June 30, 1728 at Huntington, L. I.

I have spent much time on the above problems, and shall greatly appreciate any information.

4267. 6. WOOD. C. N. H., June 2, 1926. I strongly suspect that John Hoyt's wife, Keziah Wood, was the same Keziah Wood who was baptized by Rev. Ebenezer Prime at Huntington, L. I., N. Y., May 10, 1752. The naming of her first child "Betsey" suggests that Keziah's mother may have been Elizabeth. Two Elizabeth Woods joined Rev. Mr. Prime's church, one June 9, 1728, the other Oct. 2, 1741. Keziah (Wood) Hoyt's granddaughter, Melicent Hoyt, or Halt, married Jesse Lockwood Wood, son of Caleb and Abigail (Buckhout) Wood. Abigail Buckhout's father, Peter Buckhout, Jr., was baptized by Rev. Ebenezer Prime. Caleb Wood's father, Joseph, was born Jan. 25, 1755, and I surmise he was the Joseph baptized by the Rev. Mr. Prime, March 16, 1755, but his ancestry is undiscovered. John Hoyt, Peter Buckhout and Joseph Wood all settled in Delaware County, N. Y., in towns of Walton and Sidney, not far apart. John Wood and Elizabeth Gildersleeve were married at Huntington, Dec. 3, 1729, and it seems a reasonable guess that Keziah, baptized 1752, and Joseph, baptized 1755, may have been their children. My ancestor, Joseph Wood, born Jan. 25, 1755, named his second daughter Elizabeth, his first having been named for her mother, Mary (St. John) Wood.

14. WOOD. The inventory of one John Wood, of Stamford, Conn., was sworn to by his widow, March 12, 1689-90. He had children: Jonus, Daniell, John, Samuel, Joseph, Isack, Mary, and Hannah. (See Fairfield Wills, Vol. 4 page 2; unpublished.) Daniel, just mentioned, died Nov. 29, 1697, having son Abraham, three other sons and a daughter. Daniel's inventory was taken by Jonas Wood.

The will of Samuel St. John, the benefactor, No. 301 above, is here given entire:

I Samuel St. John, of the City and County of New Haven, in the State of Connecticut, being of lawful age and of sound and disposing mind and memory, do make and establish this as and for my Last Will and Testament.

First. I direct my Executors herein after named to pay and discharge, within a reasonable time after my death, the expenses of my funeral, and also all lawful claims against me.

Second. All the estate both real and personal of every kind and description whatever, which I may own or have right to at the time of my death, I give, devise and bequeath as is particularly declared and expressed in the following Articles of this Will.

Third. Of the said estate mentioned in the Second Article of this Will, I give the amount of ten thousand dollars, ($10000,) to each and every one of my brothers and sisters who shall be living at my death, subject to the regulations and provisions hereinafter contained.

Fourth. Of the said estate mentioned in the Second Article of this Will, I give the amount of five thousand dollars, ($5000,) to each and every one of my nephews and nieces who shall be living at my death, subject to the regulations and provisions herein after contained.

Fifth. Of the said estate mentioned in the Second Article of this Will, I give the amount of one thousand dollars, ($1000,) to each and every one of my nephews and nieces in the second degree who shall be living at my death, subject to the regulations and provisions herein after contained; (meaning by nephews and nieces in the second degree, the children of my nephews and nieces.)

Sixth. Each and every principal of each and every one of the amounts of estate given by this Will as aforesaid, I give, devise and bequeath to Isaac H. Townsend and Stephen D. Pardee, and the survivor of them, as joint tenants in fee simple and forever, as a distinct fund, upon the trusts and for the purposes following—that is to say:—

Upon Trust to hold the said each and every principal of the said each and every amount of estate as a trust fund, during the life of the person to whom the said amount is given as aforesaid, and to manage the said each and every principal as they shall deem expedient, and to receive and collect from time to time the income, interests and profits of the same and of the avails thereof, and to pay over the nett proceeds of the said income, interests and profits to the said person annually during his or her natural life, and in the same proportion for the part of the year which may have elapsed at the time of his or her death.

And upon the further Trust, at the death of the said person to whom the said amount of estate is given as aforesaid, to convey, transfer, and pay the said principal of the said bequest to the heirs at law of the said person who shall then be living, in the same manner and in the same proportions as the same would have descended or be distributed to them, according to the present statute of distributions of the State of Connecticut, if the said person had owned the same as his or her own proper estate at the time of his or her death, and had died intestate and solvent.

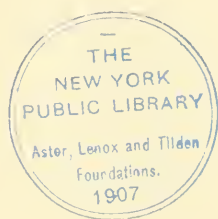

Seventh. The annual sums which I direct to be paid to my brothers and sisters, and nephews and nieces, and nephews and nieces in the second degree, severally, as fully expressed in this Will as aforesaid, I intend for their respective personal use and benefit:—and I, therefore, particularly provide that no sum or sums intended to be paid as aforesaid shall under any circumstances whatever, be anticipated, aliened, charged, or in any way incumbered, or by any means diverted from the personal benefit of the person to whom intended to be paid;—and if the said person shall do any act, or if any proceeding shall be had at law, or in chancery, or otherwise, by reason of which act or proceeding he or she would be deprived, if the trust aforesaid in his or her favor were to continue, of the personal receipt or enjoyment of any sums or sum aforesaid, or any part thereof, at the time of becoming payable; then and immediately upon such act or proceeding, the said trust for the payment to him or her of the said annual sums shall cease, determine and become utterly void.—

And in that event, any sum or sums which shall thereafter become payable as aforesaid prior to the death of the said person, the said trustees shall retain in their own hands, and apply the same from time to time, at their discretion, towards the support and maintenance, in a suitable and becoming manner, of the said person and of his or her family, or of his or her family alone if he or she cannot legally be included in the provision; and whatever sum shall remain in their hands on the first day of January in any year not applied for the said purpose, the said trustees shall immediately pay to the child or children of the said person then living, and in equal proportions if more than one; and in default of such child and children then living, the said trustees shall add the same to the principal of the trust fund from which it accrued as part thereof.

yours truly

And the provisions of this article of this Will shall apply severally to all sums and every sum, which shall from time to time accrue as aforesaid as income from all and each of the trust funds aforesaid respectively.

Eighth. All rights and interests which shall accrue or belong, at any time or times, to any married woman under this Will, shall be for her sole and separate use and benefit, free from and independent of the debts, claims, control or interference of any husband whatever; and her personal receipts shall in all cases be effectual discharges for all money which shall be paid to her, and for all estate which shall be conveyed or transferred to her, pursuant to this Will:—and the provisions of this Article shall apply to every married woman who shall have rights or interests under this Will, whether she is now married or shall hereafter be married.

Ninth. I do not intend that any parts or part of this Will shall extend to or include any person or persons as devisee or devisees, or legatee or legatees, whom the law does not or shall not allow to take as such; and if the rules of construction shall, in any case or cases, lead to a result different from my said intention, I expressly provide that the parts or part of this Will from which such construction may arise shall not, in any case whatever, be void for that reason, but shall be confined in operation to the persons or person whom the law shall allow to take, as though the said persons or person only were reached by the said parts or part of this Will.

Tenth. I hereby authorize and empower the trustees who may hold any estate real or personal under this Will, to sell and dispose of the same, or any part or parts thereof, and on such credit and with such security for the payment of the purchase money as shall be satisfactory to them, and to make good and sufficient titles to the purchasers; and to invest the avails in such manner as they shall deem expedient, and to vary investments from time to time at their discretion:—and I hereby authorize and empower my executors to sell and dispose of any of my estate real or personal, or any part or parts thereof, before distribution shall be made of such estate; with the same power, authority and discretion in relation to the same and the avails thereof, in all particulars, which I have given the trustees as aforesaid.

The acting executors or executor, or administrators or administrator, for the time being, under this Will shall have all the interests, rights and powers given by this Will to all the executors:—and the acting trustees or trustee, for the time being, of any trust under any part of this Will, whether appointed by this Will or otherwise in due course of law, shall have all the interests, rights and powers given by this Will to all the trustees originally named for the said trust.

Eleventh. I give and bequeath the sum of two hundred and fifty dollars ($250) to each and every one of the following corporations absolutely and forever, to wit, to the New Haven Orphan Asylum for the objects and purposes of that institution; and to the Ecclesiastical Society of the Congregational denomination in the town of New Canaan, of which the Rev. Mr. Smith is pastor, for the objects and purposes of that Society; and to the United Society in New Haven, of which the Rev. Mr. Dutton is the pastor, for the use and benefit of the sabbath schools of that Society.

Twelfth. In consideration of my niece Maria Sheffield, the wife of Joseph E. Sheffield, having been a member of my family for a number of years, I give and devise to her in fee simple and forever the land and dwelling house in the City of New Haven, known as Number Two (No. 2) St. John Place; and I request that at her death she will give the same, or the avails thereof, to her eldest surviving daughter. And as my said niece is not in circumstances to require aid from my estate, I give her the premises aforesaid in testimony of my regard and affection.

Thirteenth. In consideration of the kindness and attention of my niece Catherine S. St. John, I give and devise to her in fee simple and forever the land and dwelling house in the City of New Haven, known as Number One (No. 1) St. John Place;—and I direct my executors to furnish the said dwelling house with appropriate furniture, and in all respects in a suitable and proper manner, at the expense of my estate; and I give and bequeath to my said niece absolutely and forever the furniture and other articles with which the said dwelling house shall be furnished pursuant to the above direction.

Fourteenth. All the rest, residue and remainder of my estate, I give, devise and bequeath to Isaac H. Townsend and Stephen D. Pardee, and the survivor of them, as joint tenants in fee simple and forever, upon the trusts and for the purposes following—that is to say:—

Upon Trust to hold the same as a trust fund, and to manage the same as they shall deem expedient, and to receive and collect from time to time the income, interests and profits of the same and of the avails thereof; and of the nett proceeds of the said income, interests and profits to pay the sum of two thousand dollars ($2000) to my niece Catherine S. St. John annually during her natural life, and in the same proportion for the part of the year which may have elapsed at the time of her death, for the support of herself, and of her nephews and nieces whom she now has under her care, and of such other persons as she, from time to time, may wish and request to be members of her family; and the balance of the said nett proceeds to add, from time to time, to the principal of the trust fund under this Article of this Will as part of the same.

And upon the further trust, at the death of the said Catherine S. St. John, to add the estate then held in trust under this article, to the trust funds which shall then be held in trust under the Third, Fourth, Fifth and Sixth Articles of this Will; and so to add the same in proportion to the respective amounts of the said several trust funds; and to hold the said additions as parts of the said funds respectively, and subject to the same trusts and regulations:—and the said additions shall be made and held as aforesaid, whoever may be the trustees or trustee under this Article or the said Third, Fourth, Fifth and Sixth Articles, at the time the said additions are to be made as aforesaid.

Fifteenth. I hereby expressly revoke all wills and testaments by me at any time heretofore executed:—and I nominate, constitute and appoint Isaac H. Townsend and Stephen D. Pardee, and the survivor of them, the Executors and Executor of this my Last Will and Testament.

Not wishing to subject my Executors to unnecessary inconvenience with reference to their official bonds, I hereby direct that neither of them shall be required to give, in any State, a bond with surety of greater amount than twenty-five thousand dollars; and for any further sum they may respectively give their own bonds; as I chiefly rely upon their integrity, judgment and personal responsibility for the faithful settlement of my estate.

In Testimony Whereof I have hereunto placed my hand and seal, at the City of New Haven, this 12th day of September, A. D. 1844:—and this Will is written on five folios of paper, numbered in succession on the margin of the first pages respectively.

Signed, sealed, declared and published by the said Samuel St. John, the testator, as and for his last will and testament, in presence of us, who, in his presence and in presence of each other, have hereunto subscribed our names as witnesses, at his request.

Joseph Smith,

Timothy Fowler,

Abner Austin.

All the St. Johns in this country are believed to have descended from Matthias St. John, Sen., who, with a large family of sons and daughters, settled in the town of Norwalk, in Fairfield County, Connecticut, before the year 1654. The name is written "Sention" on the town records down to the year 1706, when it first appears as "Saintjohn." In 1725 it is first written "St. John," and it was generally accented on the first syllable down to the year 1800. Although the town records are somewhat imperfect and do not make it absolutely certain, yet the following appears to be the genealogy of that branch of the family to which the late Samuel St. John belonged, viz: Matthias, Matthias, Matthias, Benjamin, Matthias the father of Samuel St. John. Matthias, the father of Benjamin, was one of the twenty-five persons who purchased the township of Ridgefield, in that County, September 30th, 1708. (See Trumbull's History of Connecticut, Vol. I, page 460.)

Benjamin St. John, the grandfather of Samuel, removed from Norwalk to Canaan parish, now the town of New Canaan, in Fairfield County, in 1744, with his family of four sons and four daughters, and died there "about the close of the Revolutionary War."

His sons Benjamin, Caleb, Matthias, and David, all lived and died in New Canaan, and left a numerous posterity. Matthias, the father of Samuel, was married June 28th, 1758, to Naomi Weed, daughter of Abraham Weed of the same place. He died March 20th, 1819, aged about 87 years—his wife died August 27th, 1780, at 46 years of age. They had eleven children, as follows:—

- 1st. Abraham, baptized March 25th, 1759.
- 2d. Sarah, baptized June 15th, 1760—married to Isaac Keeler.
- 3d. Matthias, baptized August 29th, 1762.
- 4th. Esther, baptized July 8th, 1764, died in 1777.
- 5th. Enoch, born October 14th, 1765.
- 6th. Benjamin, born June 8th, 1767.
- 7th. Samuel, born January 27th, 1769.
- 8th. Anna, born Nov. 13th, 1770—married Matthew Benedict.
- 9th. John Trowbridge, born July 26th, 1772.
- 10th. Nathan, baptized November 16th, 1775.
- 11th. Esther, born March 15th, 1777—married Benjamin Bates.

At the decease of Samuel St. John on the 4th day of November, 1844, but three of his brothers and one sister were living, viz: Enoch, Benjamin, John T. and Anna wife of Matthew Benedict. Of these, Benjamin St. John is now (August, 1852) the only survivor.

All the brothers and sisters of Samuel had children and grandchildren living at the time of his death, except the first Esther, who died when thirteen years of age.

By the will of Samuel St. John three classes of Legatees were created—

- 1st. His Brothers and Sister living at his decease.
- 2d. The children then living of all his brothers and sisters—that is, his nephews and nieces.
- 3d. The grand children then living of all his brothers and sisters—that is, his grand nephews and nieces.

The following is a statement of each branch of the family, embracing the names of all the brothers and sisters of Samuel St. John, who had children—of all his nephews and nieces who were living, or who had children living at his decease—and of all his grand nephews and nieces then living, but including none of either generation who died childless prior to his death.

The foregoing is not a complete list of the descendants at the present time, to the third generation, of Matthias St. John, the father of Samuel St. John, the Testator; because children have been born of the third generation since the death of said Testator, who, of course are not Legatees; consequently no account of them has been given to the Trustee of the Estate. Most of those, however, and many of succeeding generations, will hereafter become interested in the Will of Mr. St. John, as heirs of his Legatees upon their decease.

Witnesses, Isaac Richards, Joseph Silliman (from original deed).

The following autobiographical reminiscences of Mr. St. John were publish in the New York Herald:

"I was born in the town of Norwalk, Fairfield county, Conn., on the 1st of June, 1773. The St Johns were among the settlers of Norwalk over two centuries and a quarter ago. They were Huguenots, and were driven from France by religious persecution. Peter St. John was my father's name. He was one of three brothers, all born in

Norwalk, Myer and Daniel being the other two. My father lived to be quite old, being eighty-five when he died here in Walton, in January, 1811. At eight years of age I was sent to Dutchess county New York, where I remained four years. Then I went back to Connecticut and remained until I was twenty years old. Then I joined a party of surveyors, bound for Canada. That was in May, 1793. We went in a sloop to New York, and then up the Hudson to Albany in a sloop. There we hired wagons to carry our baggage to Schenectady, and we walked to that place through the woods, and took bateaux up the Mohawk river to Fort Stanwix. That is where Rome now stands, and where the big battle took place between the Americans and French at the time of the French war. From Fort Stanwix we had our bateaux carried to Wood Creek, six or eight miles. We went down Wood Creek to Oneida Lake and through it, by Three River Point, to Oswego Fort. The British still had possession of that fort and Fort Niagara and had garrisons there. At Oswego Fort I saw the red coats. This was the 4th of June, 1793. I then returned to New York city. Greenwich Street was then the most western street in the city. I was walking in Greenwich Street, and saw a block of new buildings with carpenters working inside. I entered one of 'em and asked a man where the boss was. He said he was called the boss. I told him I wanted work. 'Where are you from?' said he. I told him from Connecticut. 'Oh, I don't like Yankees. They're too apt to be trickish,' he said. His name was Pancoast, and he said he came from New Jersey. I told him that was bad, but he couldn't help being born there any more than I could in Connecticut. Then he laughed and asked me if I was a workman. I told him I had nothing to say as to that, but I had a recommendation from my father, and I handed my letter to him. He read it, and when he got through laughing at it he said, 'By God, I'll hire you!' While I was in New York I was challenged to fight a duel by Pancoast. I declined to accept, and that was the end of that scrape. After finishing that job I began building a dock in the North River, near the Battery. This was the first ever constructed in the North River, and when I went to New York there was no dock east of Peck Slip in the East River. The dock was being built by old Governor Clinton, and was to be used for storing stone on for the use of the city. I don't remember ever having seen Governor Clinton on the work, but his son-in-law—I forget his name—was there often. I injured myself by heavy lifting on the dock. The yellow fever visited the harbor and I took it. So I returned home to Connecticut. That was in 1796, the year that I was married the first time. I remember a great deal about the revolutionary war. I remember when the British burned Norwalk, and I witnessed the burning. I was six years old. I had four brothers in the war. My brother Justin was in the battle of Bunker Hill. I can remember his coming in the house whae the war first broke out, and then going away again, after bidding my mother good-bye and leaving her weeping bitterly. I couldn't understand it at the time, but learned afterward that he had told mother he had enlisted, and was going then to join the Continentals. I wasn't more than two years old then. It must have been about the time they heard the news from Concord and Lexington. I don't remember ever hearing my brother speak of any incidents connected with the battle of Bunker Hill or the war. When I was five years old a portion of the army, with a long train of baggage wagons, passed through Norwalk on their way from Boston to New York. My mother and I strained our eyes to get sight of Justin, but he was with another division and we didn't see him.

"Peter was my own brother, my father being married twice. He was apprenticed to a Tory shoemaker. When the British came to Norwalk and burned the town he was sixteen years old. They burned the place on Sunday. If there is anything in the world I can remember it is the burning of Norwalk. What a time there was when the news came that the British were coming. The women and children all fled to the woods and hid behind stumps and bushes. My mother took me on her back and left the house for the woods. Gideon was then home, sick from his stay on the prison ships, and could not be moved, and father stayed with him at the house. The men formed a company and went to defend the place. A few houses were not burned but they belonged to Tories. I remember the Tories Betts and Hoyt; their houses were not burned. The Episcopal churches were all loyal, and every minister got orders from the British, before the burning, to leave the parishes. They all went off with the British except the Rev. Mr. Avery of Stamford. Danbury was burned at the same time. After the British went aboard the shipping the women and children returned from the woods. My mother and I went home. We had been there but a few minutes when we saw a company of British light horse coming down the road, and we believed they were to continue their work of destruction. My mother hurried with me out of the house again and got down behind the bushes. The company stopped, as we supposed, to get some beer. The British proved to be prisoners, which our men had captured and disarmed. They were the only red coats I saw during the war. I was six years old when this occurred. I was ten years old when the British left the country. I remember Roger N. Sherman, one of the signers of the declaration."

"Was there much demonstration made by the people when peace was declared?"

"I guess you'd a thought so if you'd been there! I don't know that I ever saw such a universal turn-out. There was great doings for the number of people, I tell you—nothing like it since. Such bonfires! They'd take a log as big as they could raise up on it's end—say twenty feet high when it was up. Around this they piled wood, clean to the top, and as big round as this room. Then they put barrels of tar on top of the pile and fired it. When the tar melted it ran down over the wood and in the flames, and I tell you everything blazed. That was the fall after I was ten years old. I am a centenarian who never saw Washington—that is, so far as I know. Shortly after he got his commission he passed through Norwalk, but I don't remember seeing him. Guess I never did. We probably didn't know he was coming until after he got there. News didn't fly then as it does now.

"I was married the first time on the 21st of December, 1796, to Polly Seymour, in Norwalk. She was the daughter of Samuel and Anne Seymour, and was one of twelve children. My first child was born on the 25th of November, 1797, and the second in March, 1800.

"In 1802 I left Connecticut with my family to come to this place. It was on the 1st of March. We came in sleighs, and were eight days making the journey. The snow was so deep that we were three days going the first thirty miles. It was nearly all woods here then. I bought a farm up the East brook and cleared up 200 acres. In 1804 my first wife died, leaving three children. I married Ann Benedict, daughter of Deacon Ezra Benedict, in January, 1805, and in 1807 sold my farm and bought the grist mill in East Brook. The next year I bought a farm four miles from here, on the 'Sopus turnpike, where I lived until my second wife died, in 1850. Since then I have lived here, and had nothing but kindness from everybody. I lived seven years with my first wife, over fifty with my second and twenty-five with my daughter-in-law, and have yet to say that any of them have ever given me an unkind word. There's something remarkable for you to put down. I've had every malignant disease there ever was, I believe, and no man ever suffered from sickness more than I have. I've been scared to death once and drowned once, and I'm alive yet," he said in conclusion.

"I have taken care of him for twenty-five years," said Mrs. St John, "and to this day he has not been the least trouble or annoyance. After his second wife died, in 1850, he came here and said he wanted to come and live with us, as he was lonesome at home. He lived four miles from here, on the Esopus turnpike, between here and Hancock. We told him to come if he wanted to, and the next day he did come and has been here ever since. He goes to bed winter and summer at eight o'clock. As soon as the clock begins to strike eight he commences to get out of his chair. We remove his coat and vest, and he takes off the rest of his clothes, and dresses himself in the morning, coming out of his room with his coat and vest over his arm, like a little boy. He is often the first one up in the morning, and eats breakfast with the rest of us. We have to cut his food up on his plate, and he eats with a spoon. He lies down a spell in the forenoon, then after dinner generally sleeps an hour or two. It is something remarkable that he is in better health now than he was when young. He always was sickly, but does not have one sick spell now where he used to have a dozen. When he was ninety-nine he was weighed, and then again when he was a hundred, and he had gained ten pounds. I don't remember how much he weighed. During all the civil war I read every word of war news, from the beginning to the close, to him. He took a great interest in the war, and would have no one else to read to him but me, although there were much better readers in the house than myself. After the war was over I read the paper to him until three years since, when his hearing became so bad that it was too great a task. He is anxious as ever to hear the news, but appreciates the difficulty of getting details to him and never asks for them. This is a peculiar household. We have living with us two of our grandchildren, who are orphans, and now young ladies. It has always seemed strange that they, in the very morning of their lives could content themselves here with three such old people as father, my husband, and myself."

Her will, dated July 12, 1838, was Prob. in 1839. Captain John St. John entered the Revolutionary Army in 1775 and served nearly seven years, until honorably discharged in 1781. He enlisted in 1775 as Sergeant, in Captain Ichabod Doolittle's Co., 5th Regt. of Conn. Militia, David Waterbury, Colonel. In June, 1776, he was commissioned by the Assembly Second Lieutenant of the 6th Co. 1st Conn. Battalion, Captain Gamaliel Northrup, Gold S. Silliman, Colonel. He was promoted to be First Lieutenant Jan. 1, 1777, Capt. Ezekiel Sanford's Co., 5th Regt., "Connecticut Line," Phillip B. Bradley, Colonel; and to be Captain in the same Regt., May 25, 1778. His company was part of the 2nd Batt. from the 2nd Brigade under Colonel R. J. Meigs in the assault on Stony Point, July 15, 1779. In 1781 he and his company served under Gen. Lafayette in the South. Made deaf "by the unexpected report of a cannon," he resigned his command, May 1, 1781. His affidavit and that of his wife for pension are on record. His name does not appear on the pension rolls unless it was he who was, as John St. John, Saratoga Co., N. Y., pensioned as a private in Col. Waterbury's Regt. Conn. Line, Jan. 29, 1808, at $60 per annum; "raised to $96 May 1st, 1820, by increased disability" (Conn. in Rev., 194, 242, 327, 352, 393; Colonial Rec. of Conn., xv. 425; Pub. Rec. of Conn., i, 15; U. S. Pension Rolls of 1835, vol. ii., New York, p. 75).

The will of his wife, Hannah St. John, follows:

KNOW ALL MEN BY THESE PRESENTS, That I, Hannah St John of the Town of Greenfield, in the County of Saratoga and State of New York, being at this time in health and of sound mind and memory, and knowing that it is appointed unto all once to die, do for the settlement of my worldly estate that I am blessed with in this life, make, ordain, publish and declare this my last Will and Testament in manner and form following, (viz:)

Item FIRST. It is my will after my decease that all my just debts and funeral expenses shall be paid by my Executors hereinafter named out of my property that I shall leave at my decease.

SECOND. I give and bequeath to my son Jabez F. StJohn and to his heirs and assigns forever all my lands and tenements that I shall be possessed of at my decease, and also all my stock of cattle, horses, sheep, and swine, and also all my farming utensils and carriages of every name and nature, and also one feather bed, one bedstead and cord, two pair of linen sheets, two plaid woolen sheets, two pillows, two pair of pillow cases, one blue and white coverlid, two plaid woolen blankets, one calico bed-quilt and one puff, and also one clock one cooking stove, one pair of andirons, shovel and tongs, one looking-glass, five large silver table spoons, and also all the casks and barrels that I shall leave at my decease for his use and benefit.

THIRD. I give and bequeath to my daughter Pamela Reed wife of John Reed two hundred dollars to be paid to her in one year after my decease, and whereas I have heretofore given her three hundred dollars in money together with a setting out of furniture which she has heretofore had is all that I calculate to give to her except what is mentioned hereafter.

FOURTH. I give and bequeath to my daughter Lydia Bockes wife of Daniel A. Bockes four hundred and ninety dollars for her use and benefit and hers only to use and dispose of the same as she may think proper and expedient uncontrolled by any one.

FIFTH. I give and bequeath to my daughter Charlotte Bullard four hundred and eighty-one dollars to be paid to her in one year after my decease.

SIXTH. It is my will, and I do hereby give and bequeath to my said three daughters above named all my wearing apparel, household furniture, beds and bedding, that shall be left at my decease except the bed and bedding and other articles mentioned in the foregoing which I have bequeathed to my said son Jabez F. 232 NEHEMIAH ST. JOHN (Noah⁵, Samuel⁴, Matthias³, Matthias², Matthias¹), b. in Ridgefield (?) in 1742; d. at Hubbardton, Vt., July 23, 1803, æ. 61; m. in Southbury, Conn., Feb. 18, 1767, Ruth Wheeler, b. in 1746; d. Aug. 15, 1804, aged 58 yrs. His ear mark was a swallow fork on the near Ear and slit in ye off Ear (Rec. Nov. 10, 1767). Nehemiah, of Redding, in 1782, gave a quit claim to his brothers and sisters. Mr. St. John moved to Hubbardton, Vt., in 1786. Mr. S. W. St. John writes: "Ruth Wheeler sympathized with the Tories during the war, and in her cellar there was a hiding-place called 'Tory Hole.' This has been seen by my father and uncle Hiram. It is said that she went to her father-in-law's house the morning after the British went through Redding Parish to Danbury, and told them that they would have a chance to show their courage." Nehemiah did not agree with his wife in politics. He enlisted May 12, 1775, in Capt. Matt. Mead's Co., 5th Conn. Regt., and served until discharged Dec. 13, 1775 (Conn. Men in Rev., pp. 67-486). After 1781 he traded his homestead for property in Vt., owned by Matt. Gregory, and moved there. The Gregorys, in 1890, sold the property to Chas. and Eliza (St. John) Dykeman. Nehemiah of Redding, to Samuel of Wilton, sold land at Copps Farm lying undivided with my father's, Noah St. John of Norwalk, 1771 (vol. xiii. 526). Nehemiah of Redding to his brothers and sisters and their husbands, sold all his right in homestead of father "Enoch" in 1782. N. says "father Noah" in vol. xvi. 495, 1782.

Recollections of Mrs. Parnell Sidway;
Of events in the history of the family of Gamaliel St. John, (No. 263)
and

Margaret Kinsman Marsh, his wife.

Written in the winter of 1876-7.

My parents were from the towns of Norwalk and Kent, in the State of Connecticut. My father was from Norwalk and my mother from Kent. My mother, Margaret Kinsman Marsh, was the daughter of Cyrus Marsh, who was the first Presbyterian clergyman settled in the township of Kent, in the State of Connecticut, according to the annals of that state, and he was also one of the five young gentlemen who constituted the first class on whom Yale College conferred its degree, as may be seen by reference to the catalogue of the Alumni of that institution.

After Cyrus Marsh graduated, he was ordained a minister in May, 1741, and sent as a missionary to the then new, if not frontier town of Kent, to preach, not only to the people of that town, but to a tribe of Indians known as the Scatacookse, living on a branch of the Housatonic, of the same name.

Gamaliel St. John was born September 22, 1766—died June 6th, 1813. My mother was born in Wilton, Connecticut, July 15th, 1768, died April 27th, 1847. They were married in Kent, October 16, 1788, and took up their residence in a house built by them in the village of Danbury, Connecticut, where they lived for several years, and until they had born to them five children, viz: Elijah Northrop, Maria, Aurelia, Cyrus Marsh and Sarah. , Partaking of the spirit of "Emigrating to the West," they moved to the town of Westmoreland, Oneida County, N. Y., where was born their daughter Margaret. During their residence in Oneida County, my father entered into contract with the proper persons for the construction of a portion of the Turnpike from Albany to Cayuga Lake. His contract called for the necessary work to be done on a section of seven or eight miles between the Cayuga and Owasco Lakes. The construction of that work necessitated the removal to Cayuga County. During their stay in Cayuga, there were born unto them three children, Parnell, Martha and John Ransom. After living in Cayuga County six or seven years, and finishing the section of the road according to contract and to the satisfaction and acceptance of the other party, my father removed with his family, in the year 1807, to a farm in Williamsville, (Niagara) now Erie County—on which farm is yet to be seen the large spring that constitutes the source of the "Mill Creek," at the village of Williamsville, and which is one of the tributaries of the Tonawanda Creek. But he did not move his family until he had made, the previous spring, a tour of observation, that extended all along the Niagara frontier. The farm thus selected, was then the property of Mr. Andrew Ellicott, a brother of Joseph Ellicott.

He had letters from Joseph Ellicott to Jonas Williams of Williamsville. As there is some discrepancy of opinion as to whether Mr. Joseph Ellicott did or did not accompany him to Williamsville, either on the occasion of his first or second visit, it is thought most probable by those of the family now living, that at one or the other of the times, Mr. Joseph Ellicott gave him the letters to Mr. Williams and that Mr. Andrew Ellicott did accompany him to Williamsville.

While living at Williamsville, there transpired the usual new country events traditional in the family, of wild cats and wolves among the flocks, and the hunting of them by the men and boys of the family—of going to mill at Batavia or Niagara Falls there being none other than a sawmill at Williamsville, built during the summer of 1807—the frame of which was put up by volunteer labor of the people, so desirous were they of having some way of getting lumber. The sawmill was put up on Mr. Williams' land, and the necessary gearing and iron work was furnished by Mr. Joseph Ellicott. After residing three years on the farm at Williamsville, during which time was born Le Grand Cannon St. John, father sold his farm to a man by the name of Frink, reserving the privilege of cutting and hauling away logs for his own benefit.

The family moved to Buffalo in the spring of 1810, having previously bought of Mrs. Chapman, a claim for Lot No. 53 (Holland Land Co. Survey) on which was the frame for a house, 40 feet square, standing on blocks, and back of which was an appendix of 20 feet square, one and a half stories high, enclosed and floored, having a chimney with the old-fashioned fire-place and bakingoven, by the side of the fire-place. Lot No. 53 is directly opposite the "Tift House," on the site of Old Phoenix Hotel.

Into this apology of a house the family, then consisting of the parents and ten children, moved on or about the 10th day of May, 1810. On the 28th day of May, 1810, in the chamber of the above mentioned appendix, was born the eleventh child: Orson Swift St. John.

The price paid the above mentioned Mrs. Chapman for Lot No. 53, and appurtenances was four thousand dollars, and two hundred dollars paid to Mr. Ellicott procured the deed.

Mrs. Chapman, before her marriage to Mr. Chapman, was the widow Hull, and the issue of the marriage with Mr. Hull, was Mr. William Hull, the father of the present Mrs. O. G. Steele, and her deceased brother, who received the name of her father, William, and died at New Orleans, while in discharge of his duties as an officer in the United States Navy.

When young, my father was apprenticed for seven years, from the age of fourteen until twenty-one years of age. That being the custom of the times, and taken from the English custom, and I think prevails with that nation at the present time. The business to which he was apprenticed was that of manufacturing implements of agriculture and tools used by various mechanics, such as plows, harrows, scythes, planes, chisels, augurs, their woodings, etc., etc., in time he became skilled in the use of the tools of the carpenter and black-smith.

This experience, which goes so far to make up the Yankee, was, in a new country, of the utmost value to him as a contractor on the Turnpike, as a farmer, and finally as a builder.

When he went to get his deed from Mr. Ellicott, he presented the contract purchased of Mrs. Chapman, which was accepted as satisfactory and the deed given. At that time, while in general conversation, Mr. Ellicott made a solicitous request that he should undertake the iron work of the then contemplated jail, to be built at Buffalo. Mr. Ellicott wanted someone to engage in the work who was not only capable, but responsible. Father said he could do all the work excepting the making of the locks. When Mr. Ellicott proposed to send to Philadelphia for skilled work-men for that special purpose, a contract was made between them—the Philadelphia experts sent for—and the work under the supervision and personal labor of my father was urged forward. At the same time, the work of the jail was going on, the work of finishing the house bought of Mrs. Chapman was progressing. There was also at that time in process of construction, the first Court House, a frame building, being built by Oziel Smith, under contract with the same parties who were on the part of the public directing the building of the jail—the chief actor among whom, was Mr. Joseph Ellicott. It may be said that Mr. Ellicott's advice and influence in all these matters, was the next thing to law.

The lumber for the covering and finishing of the house purchased of Mrs. Chapman, was all drawn from Williamsville; the logs for which had been cut and drawn to the previously mentioned saw-mill, during the winter previous, or of 1809-1810.

The shingles for the house were all made during the same winter, by my father and his boys, Elijah and Cyrus. Much of this material was drawn in the winter, before moving to Buffalo, and the remainder, afterwards, as it could be obtained from the mill. The cellar was made equal to the dimensions of the house, and the stone composing the walls was drawn from the quarries of Judge Erastus Granger, on the banks of the "Three Mile Creek," East of the then village of Buffalo. That creek was known, where it emptied into the Niagara River, below the then ferry at the foot of Niagara Street, as the "Ska-ja-qu-a-da," commonly pronounced "Cou-jack-a-da."

The road then, was in the usual condition of most, if not all roads, through a new and timbered country—there being very little done, except to cut the timber out sufficiently for the passage of teams, and the making of causeways over the low and very wet grounds. The road from the "Three Mile Creek," was at first called four miles, and was throughout the entire distance from the Creek to the "Cold Springs," covered with a log causeway. The road from what was afterwards Walden's Hill to Chippewa Street, and to North Church, (Dr. Johnson's lot) was covered with a log causeway.

Between Chippewa Street and where the North Church now stands, was a log bridge over a ravine and low grounds, which extended, nearly, if not the entire distance. Along this ravine, ran a small stream heading on the East side of Main Street, in the rear of what was afterwards the lot and hat factory of Henry (?) Campbell.

The forest timber stood in its native condition on either side of the road, with exceptional little patches of clearing of a few square rods at long intervals, as far down as to Tupper Street, and from thence the woods were cleared away in spots, and more or less work done as people "took up their lots," and were in need of timber, fire wood, and a garden spot, to a spot as low down in the Main Street, as to where the First Church stands. There was the first considerable clearing. That cleared ground did not have the appearance of having been cleared for any particular purpose, or according to any previous design, but seemed from appearances, there being no stumps, but some second growth of small brush, to have been a camping and council ground of the Indians, and was then, in 1810, the locality where they received their annuities from the Government, at the hands of the Indian Agent, Mr. Granger.

From Gillett's Hill, (The Terrace), to the Buffalo Creek, Main Street was causeway, and the bridge over the Little Buffalo Creek was made of logs, with a pier in the centre of the stream, and logs across the stringers.

The road to and from the Indian Village was down Main Street to the "Big Buffalo" Creek, and along the bank of the creek, passing Pratt Ferry, up to Seneca Village.

The best road to Black Rock, was down from Gillett's Hill, (Terrace) along the West bank of the "Little Buffalo" Creek, (Commercial Street) to the "Big Buffalo" Creek, thence along the "Big Buffalo" Creek to the lake; crossing a small stream ten feet wide, and two and a half feet deep, and going around a small bay before getting to the beach of the lake—thence down and along the beach of the lake to "Sandy Town," thence, keeping close to the water, turned around close to the "Black Rock," just where the canal enters the "Black Rock" harbor; thence down and close along the foot of the hill, where the rail-road now runs until the ferry was reached, a point at the foot of Niagara Street.

There was a longer and less inviting way by what was commonly called the "Guide Board Road," now North Street. Niagara Street had been marked and some work done.

The house of my father, and of which we have been speaking, was finished in the fall and winter of 1810, with the pressing purpose in view of holding therein the New Year Ball of the coming First of January, 1811. That ball was held in the room intended for such purposes, and was attended by parties from a distance, embracing the whole "Frontier." The population was so sparse that they must necessarily come from considerable distances, to make up in numbers a respectable party. The political party-strife which brought on the War of 1812, and the consequent personal animosities between the Democrats and Federalists, ran so high at that date, as very unmistakably to show itself in the calling together of that dancing party. There were a few Democrats present, but the principal number of the party were Federalists. My father was a Jeffersonian Democrat, and a zealous supporter of all the measures that tended to the declaration and prosecution of the war.

During the summer of 1811, nothing of particular moment took place in the then village of Buffalo, beyond the councils held by and between the Ogdens with their interpreters, Parish and Jones on the one part, and the Seneca Indians and their chiefs, assisted by Mr. Granger on the other part. The part which Mr. Granger acted was prompted and perhaps required by the U. S. Government, as its agent for that tribe. The Chief, Red Jacket, was present at this and all future councils and successfully opposed all overtures made for the purchase of any portion of the lands which were held by the Indians, under reservation and guarantee from the general government. His councils prevailed with his tribe so long as he lived, but, not many years after his demise, they were forgotten or over-ruled. General Peter B. Porter had at first the exclusive right of purchase from the Indians, which right he sold to Ogden—and time has proven the wisdom of the Indian sale and removal, both for themselves and the city of Buffalo. During the summer of 1811, political animosities and party strife ran insanely zealous; extending its bitter virus into individual business and social intercourse; families were estranged from each other, indulging in the severest reflections, which were not believed by either party, and this very unprofitable spirit of crimination and re-crimination pervaded the whole body politic, to the extent that their children in school took sides, and like their parents, were not particular as to the injustice of their invectives.

My father had, and still has, the reputation among those who remember him, of being careful and deliberate of speech: his counsels to his family were, "Be careful and think twice before you speak." My mother was of more irascible temperament. She was just, generous to the extent of her means, and in all great and dark trials, was first timid, then firm, deliberate, calm and hopeful, relying upon her Heavenly Father to guide her out of impending difficulties. Yet in ordinary matters, she was impetuous, irritable, impatient of opposition, self-reliant, positive in her counsels, and imperative in her commands. In all matters, after the situation was comprehended, she was, as we shall hereafter see, as far as it is possible for any woman to be, equal to her task.

In the spring of 1810, just before the family moved to Buffalo, my brother Elijah left Williamsville, went to Erie, was in the service of the older Mr. Seth Reed, returned after an absence of three months, and not being yet of age, until August, he handed over to his father, the net earnings of his time up to the date of his majority. Such was the generally conceded and lawful duty of all minors, as held by all people at that time.

Father took the money, but more from prudential motives than selfish, as he was not of an acquisitive disposition.

During the following winter (1810-1811) my brothers, Elijah and Cyrus, were sent to Albany with father's teams to "bring on" goods for both Hart and Grosvenor. That trip led to the conception of the thought of making a business of that sort of enterprise, which he afterward attempted to carry out.

In the spring of 1811, Elijah bought a stock of goods from Eli Hart, for which father became responsible, and for which he afterward paid. With this outfit my brother traveled and traded all along the South shore of Lake Erie as far West as the river Rasin—exchanging his goods with the Indians and French half-breeds for furs, white fish, and whatever else that promised to be available on his return. He returned late in the next fall or early winter—made with my brother Cyrus, another trip to Albany, during the winter of 1811-12 and in the spring of 1812, started with another stock of goods bought of Abel M. Grosvenor, Sr., in a schooner, (name not known) commanded by Captain Chapin, and bound for Detroit. While the vessel was heading toward Malden, on her way to the mouth of the Detroit River, and near the entrance, was captured with all on board, by the Queen Charlotte, which had been hastily fitted out by the Canadians for such war purposes. The men who were taken were kept in prison for three months and then set at liberty on the Niagara Frontier. Nothing was heard from my brother from the time that he started from Buffalo, except that the vessel was taken at Malden, until he entered the door of the homestead on his return. Everything was taken from him except the summer suit which he wore—not even a pocket knife was left to him.

When my brother left, the news of the declaration of war with England, June 17th, 1812, had not reached the people of Buffalo, but by some unknown means or route, that fact had come to the knowledge of the Canadians sooner than it did to the people of this side of the river, and the Canadians taking advantage of their earlier intelligence made prisoners of all our people who were on their side of the line (see Howe, page 5).

Late in the spring of 1811, after having made the special trip first mentioned above, for the purpose of "bringing on goods" for Messrs. Hart and Grosvenor, my father drank in the idea of becoming a common carrier, as a business, and with that view entered into contracts with several of the merchants of Buffalo, for the transportation of their goods from Albany or Utica, as the season permitted—going to Albany in the winter, and only to Utica in the summer, as goods were then brought by open bateaux poled up the Mohawk River, to that place. He began that enterprise with two teams; one of three horses, before what was then called a Pennsylvania wagon, and one of two horses before a common wagon. Not long after he added the third team of two horses, making in all that season, seven horses and three wagons. This was the beginning of through transportation by regular line from Albany to Buffalo.

The last trip made to Albany with three teams, was under the guidance of my two brothers. Elijah and Cyrus, in the winter of 1811-12. Within a year from the time that this enterprise was inaugurated, it went out of his hands, and in consequence of the war measures, that business, under other management, took on such enormous proportions, that there were necessarily established extensive lines of transportation, involving the use of much more capital than he had at command. The teams which made up those future lines, had in number, as many, in most instances, as six to ten horses to one wagon, with a tire six or more inches wide. The reasons for these wide tires were, that as they were too wide for the ruts of the ordinary wagon, their tendency was to level the turn-pike, without cutting deep, and therefore were allowed to pass free of toll—an item not to be overlooked in their economy. That mode of common carrying, in time, assumed national importance, increasing with the settlement of the West, bringing and carrying between the East and West, until it became beyond a doubt, the evolving fact in the commerce of the state, which led to the conception and construction of the New York and Erie Canal.

Previous, and up to the time that my father's family came to Buffalo, the mails were carried, principally, on horse-back, they were sent and brought twice or three times each week, and their arrival was announced by the mail-carrier's horn.

During the summer of 1812 nothing, or very little was done by the United States Government in the way of prosecuting the war on this frontier, evidently knowing too little about its needs and condition, and expecting the principal strife to be carried on upon the ocean or somewhere else than this locality. The Canadians, however, being more active, were too long in provoking a recognition of this as the considerable field of their warfare. Yet nothing was done beyond the general trainings ordered by the State of New York, in August or September, and a draft of militia for defensive purposes.

The battery (at first of one gun,) near the place called Fort Adams, was put in place at or near Black Rock Ferry, now foot of Niagara Street, and from there an irregular cannonading went on with the Canadian side, (now Waterloo) for the space of six weeks. Among the events which took place during that battery practice, was the circumstance, among other and various trials of skill of the late venerable Dr. Josiah Trowbridge, then an enterprising young man, so sighting his gun, as at the second discharge, to knock the ram-rod hand spike from a Canadian gunner's hands, and for a brief space of time, dispersed their gunners and quieted their gun. Not long after the query came across the river, as to who handled our gun on that day. The circumstance of my brother Cyrus digging from the bank just under or below our battery, a cannon ball fired by the Canadian battery has been set forth in a paper by the late Henry Lovejoy, who helped my brother bring it home.

It was, I think, an eighteen pound shot; slung with a handkerchief on a pole, and with one end of the stick on the shoulder of each, the boys brought it into town. After many years it disappeared in the first furnace, which was in Reese's blacksmith shop. Of the regiment formed in Buffalo and vicinity, Dr. Cyrenius Chapin was made Colonel—the father of the late William Miller was Major—William Hull, a Captain, (Asaph) Atking a Lieutenant, and many of the active young men were called upon to fill the non-commissioned offices. Records of which can be found that are more definite than any individual memory can be. (Doubtful) They were probably not commissioned.

Politics ran high in spirit, and personal animosities were fearful. The social and communal frenzy was beyond description, all giving advice, and no one taking it, no concentration, no head, no effective purpose. All were bad people but they who were criticising. If people attended to their own interests and were prosperous, they were enviously denounced, and the source of their prosperity questioned. The opinions of the envious persons, were, as usual, of no permanent value, except to tear down themselves and build up the envied. On the third day of October, 1812, my sister, Aurelia St. John, was married to Asaph Stebbins Bemis, by Judge Oliver Forward. On the ninth day of November following, my brother Cyrus Marsh St. John, after returning from a hunting expedition with Elijah, through the inclemency of the weather and the swampy nature of the country, contracted the disease then epidemic, commonly called the "camp distemper," and died after six days' sickness. That disease was evidently, from its description, inflammation of the Larynx and Bronchia; in some instances involving the Tonsils, and in many respects answering in symptoms to the disease known now as "Diphtheria." Soon after this event, on returning home from the funeral, father was taken down with the same disease, but in consequence of the persistent efforts of Mr. Lecouteaux, who was by profession a druggist, with his French apparatus for steaming the throat with herb teas, it is believed by the family, the disease was overcome. The apparatus above mentioned, was a small pot with a long flexible tube, on the end of which was an ivory mouth-piece. The ivory end was inserted back into the fauces as far as possible, and respiration, at least the inhalation, was conducted through it. That brought on an active secretion and suppuration, and with it relief. Dr. Ebenezer Johnson, the attending physician, thought this case one of Quinzy or

"Laryngitis" and "Tonsilitis." Other members of the family were sick with the same disease, with various symptoms and degrees of violence, but in time all recovered. During the sickness of the family, or soon after that date, my sister Aurelia Bemis, and husband, rented the back room of Mr. Forward's house, at the solicitation of Mr. and Mrs. Forward, as they said "to keep soldiers from quartering there." The building had two rooms on the first floor and a chamber—Mr. and Mrs. Forward occupying the front room—Mr. and Mrs. Bemis the back room; the chamber being used as the post office. The dimensions of that building cannot now be defined.

The street door of the building opened into the room occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Forward, there being no hall. The entrance to the back room was by a side door—and the way to the post office was by a flight of steps up and across the front of the building.

After the six weeks' cannonading between Fort Adams and the Canadian side of the Niagara River, and while General Smyth, with the forces under him, were lying here, the naval officers came, say in November 1812. Being young and ambitious, restless, anxious for active service, they solicited from the officer in command the privilege of attempting to spike the British guns. General Smyth gave the order, the attack was made, the cannon spiked, the return a success, but with what casualties to our men, if any, is not recollected. In the latter part of the winter, General Smyth was relieved by Colonel Preston—all of which is, or should be, a matter of record.

The next event of any moment during the winter of 1812-13, was the military ball held in the house of Mrs. Joseph Landon, given by the officers stationed in this vicinity, in honor of Governor Lewis on the occasion of his visit to Buffalo. Of course Governor Lewis was a Democrat, then called Republicans, the opposite party were called Federalists. He had been elected as a Jeffersonian War Democrat. My father being an ultra-Democrat, very readily affiliated with him, and was present at the ball, though not yet in the best of health, accompanied by my sisters, Maria and Sarah. The Governor danced but once that evening, and that with my sister, Maria St. John, as partner.

In the spring of 1813, the schooners John Adams and Niagara, (Caledonia) were "cut out" from the Canadian shore by a private party, but cannot say who, without any particular order or command, and were brought back to this side of the river, and moored or anchored in the stream, just above Squaw Island. These two vessels were lying there, say May, 1813. The Adams certainly in June. During the winter all the naval stores had been moved to Erie as a better base of naval operations.

During the spring of 1813, Colonel Preston made his preparations for attacking Fort Erie. By that time my father's health was so far recovered that he was able to ride down to Black Rock nearly every day; and it was understood by the family that he was in general consultation respecting the feasibility of measures to be taken, by and with Colonel Preston.

The Democrats being in the minority in the township of Buffalo, were the subjects of a vast deal of uncharitable vituperation, but were none the less a unit in all that pertained to war measures. General Smyth was a Federalist; Colonel Preston a Democrat, and as such, inspired his party friends with a hope that something would be done, worthy of the country. When everything was in readiness, the army was ordered to cross the river.

Previous to the order being given to cross, there was an understanding between Colonel Preston and Colonel Christy, stationed at Fort Niagara, that on a given day, in the morning early enough to be on the Canadian side by day-light, there should be a simultaneous movement on Fort Erie and Fort George; and it was further arranged, that in the event of either army succeeding, a messenger should at once be dispatched to the other. As Colonel Preston's army was to cross below Fort Erie, and that under Colonel Christy was to cross, I think, above Fort George, while forces from the fleet were landing below, the messengers were expected to reach their destination without much difficulty, particularly as they were to be prepared with the proper means of signs by which they should know each other, and be recognized as proper and reliable persons by the officers in command. About the landing of our troops or crossing at Fort George, I am not positive.

On the morning of the crossing of the armies, May 27th, 1813, my father took an early breakfast and left home for the scene of action at Black Rock, saying to the family, that he would go down and see how Colonel Preston had succeeded in crossing—and that he would be back in due season, evidently intending to quiet my mother's anxieties about his health being such as to warrant his crossing the river. As he did not return, as was expected, a messenger was sent to inquire and learn of his whereabouts—who on returning, informed the family that his horse was in the stable at Black Rock, and himself was seen on one of the last boats going over the river. He went directly up to Fort Erie, as he afterwards narrated, which had by that time been possessed by the forces under Colonel Preston, who was looking anxiously for someone acquainted with the country, to be a bearer of dispatches to Colonel Christy. My father volunteered to go.

As a prudential measure he was dressed in a British Sergeant's uniform, and carried as a provision against emergencies, a flag of truce. His acquaintance with the people on the Canadian side, many of whom were friendly to the United States, enabled him to know where, and to whom to apply for fresh horse and food, which he was supplied with, at the distance of about twelve miles below Fort Erie. He rode the distance as soon as proper prudence would permit, and reached Fort George late in the afternoon, at about the same time, or very soon after our troops took possession of it; which they were enabled to do after much harder fighting than at Fort Erie.

As he entered Fort George, Colonel Christy was casting about for someone to be the bearer of dispatches to Colonel Preston.

The dispatches borne by him from Colonel Preston gave to Colonel Christy the desired information respecting the situation of affairs at Fort Erie. After taking his supper, (a soldier's supper) he was mounted on a fresh horse, and started back as bearer of dispatches from Colonel Preston, in Fort Erie. He accomplished his task that night, having made a journey, not without peril, of nearly seventy-nine miles in less than twenty-four hours. At his time of life, and his health considered, that effort was one of great fatigue. He rested and slept a part of the second day. When he arose from his sleep, Colonel Preston met him, saluted him and thanked him for his services, and tendered him a certificate setting forth that his services were of great value, and worthy of consideration and reward by the Government—at the same time, intimating that he would reward him in any other way that he would name. Father's answer was, that he was serving his country, and as he had previously pledged his services to the country in various ways, he was too well paid by the happiness which he experienced, as he rejoiced in the success of the day. His first impulse was that he did not think the certificate necessary—but as Colonel Preston insisted on his taking it, saying that he (Father) could not say when or where it might or might not, be of service to him, he did take it, and witnesses are living who read it. When the village was burned it was destroyed by the Indians, together with all of his valuable papers. Colonel Preston suggested to him that he would do well to take from the spoils some memorial of the events of the day. On looking about among the effects of the British officers, there were found many elegant things, particularly in the line of clothing. It was finally decided that he should take an undress suit of exquisite material, which by trial was found to fit him. That suit was afterwards much admired and coveted by many of the young American officers. The family knew nothing of his doings, from the time that he was seen on the boat crossing the river, until his return. Not long after his return, say three or four days, Colonel Preston sent a special messenger, requesting him to come over to Fort Erie, as he (Colonel Preston) wished to see him. On going over to Fort Erie he learned that Colonel Preston wanted to know where the ferry boats were.

After much counselling as to the ways and means by which the military supplies for the army could be got across the river, he was requested by Colonel Preston to go and hunt up the ferry boat and see that it was made available for that purpose. He engaged to do so. On coming back to this side of the river, he found that a Mr. Dean had some special grants from the state authorities, giving him control over the ferry, but that in consequence of the war, he had for a time, at least, abandoned his rights, and had taken his boat down to Ska-ja-que-da Creek, and sunk it. Father went down to "Conjockada" Creek, calling on Mr. Benjamin Bidwell, a young man then living near that creek, and engaged him as a ship carpenter to help repair the boat in the event of its being found. It was found deep in the mud and seriously broken, but the bottom, on examination, was found to be sound. It was pried up and with much difficulty got in shape to be repaired. Mr. Bidwell was the chief worker in making the necessary repairs, in which he was more or less assisted in various ways by others, among whom was my brother Elijah. In the meantime, Colonel Preston was urging that the work be expedited, and that father should take charge of it when done. That he refused to do, beyond getting the boat ready and sending it over to the Canadian shore. In the mean time he had talked with brother Elijah, advising him to take charge of the boat, in preference to his going on another trading expedition up the lake, as he was desirous of doing.

By dint of severe effort, the boat was, by Saturday night of June 5th, 1813, thought to be fit for service, and the next day, Sunday, June 6th, everything as far as it could be was in readiness for delivery. Elijah remained down where the boat was, but father returned home Saturday evening—he left again very early Sunday morning. After making a call for volunteers to help take the boat over, and getting his men together, they were by nine o'clock A. M., under motion. There were in all nine persons on board. Of the number of men so engaged, there were five soldiers, wishing and waiting to go over—a Mr. George Lester, a tanner by trade, from Cold Spring, who had a horse with him—and a young lad from up in the country, who afterwards proved to be Mr. Lester Brace, who had asked as a privilege to go over in the boat—Mr. Brace was born July 1790, and at that time twenty-three years old in July following—my brother Elijah, twenty-six years old, acting as steersman, and father, forty-seven years old, directing the whole. The boat was headed up the stream until they had reach a point where, as Elijah thought, they were high enough to pass the cable of the Schooner John Adams, then, as before mentioned, lying there at anchor. Elijah repeatedly suggested that they were high enough up, but father, more cautious, advised going still farther up the stream, until they should reach a less doubtful point. They went farther up.

When they did strike to cross the river, they soon found that by reason of the inexperience of the men, of their want of skill in handling the boat in a rapid current, of which they had little or no knowledge, they were making no encouraging progress toward Canada but were floating directly down upon the cable of the John Adams, which had been their special reason for caution. In spite of their efforts to avoid it, the struck the dreaded cable, up which the scow made a rapid slide, turning completely over, and bottom side up floated away down the river. In an instant all were in the water. The sailors on board the schooner threw ropes to those who were within their reach, and drew them on board, the citizens, as soon as possible, started out in row boats to their rescue, but they passed by Elijah, who was so close to the shore that they thought he would be able to save himself. Why he did not reach shore was a matter of much speculation in opinion afterwards, as he was known to be a good swimmer. There was a mark on his forehead, indicative of some injury, probably received when the scow capsized, causing him to become faint, or otherwise exhausted, if not unconscious. They succeeded in saving the soldiers and two citizens. The soldiers' names are not known; but the two citizens were Mr. George Lester, of Cold Springs, and Mr. Lester Brace. There were three soldiers, names not known, who were drowned, their bodies being afterward picked up below the Falls, and two citizens. The citizens were my father and my brother Elijah.

The horse of Mr. George Lester, of Cold Springs, swam to the shore and was recovered. In two or three days, or as soon as Mr. George Lester could find himself sufficiently recovered to call on our family, he came into town from Cold Springs, and gave us the details of what took place in the boat and while in the water. While in the water my father and Mr. George Lester were assisted by the buoyancy of a rail which they had the joint possession of, and which they hoped would be the means of keeping themselves above water, until help could reach them; but they soon realized that it was not sufficient for the two, and that one or the other must relinquish it. They discussed the chances of being saved, and on Mr. George Lester saying that he could not swim father let go of the rail and he was lost. The body of Elijah was found on the ninth day after the accident, or on the 15th of June, 1813, close in to the shore, among some bushes, not far below where he was last seen swimming, and was brought to Buffalo by Asaph S. Bemis. The body of my father was found on the fifteenth day after the accident, on the 21st of June, 1813, as low down the river as half way to Tonawanda.

It was discovered by Mr. E. D. Efner, and his partner, Mr. Sackett. Those gentlemen had the body secured, through the help of someone living on the bank of the river, and then returned to Buffalo, giving up their mission to Tonawanda, where they were going on business. On their informing the family of the facts, Mr. Asaph S. Bemis went down to the place where the body was secured, and brought it to Buffalo.

Those events threw the family into the deepest gloom and despondency. The future before our mother and the older members of the family can be better imagined than described. The chapter of their misfortunes was not yet ended, and their salvation from wreck was fortitude.

The family remaining was composed of our mother and nine children, six daughters and three sons; the respective ages of the three sons were eight (8), six (6) and three (3) years.

Our family were in the large house, and the sign had previously been taken down. It was now evident that they could not conduct the house as a public house, and therefore arrangements were soon after made to lease it to Mr. Mosely Abel; afterwards a resident of Fredonia.

Our mother administered upon the estate of Gamaliel St. John deceased, sold personal property, paid debts, struggling on in an unsystematic way generally, and at great disadvantage.

Immediately after the lease was made with Mr. Abell, she went out to Clarence, where Mr. Otis R. Hopkins lived, and bargained for the house and lot (54) adjoining on the North side of the old homestead, or large house, so rented to Mr. Abell, and the family moved into that house, so purchased from Mr. Hopkins, where they lived when the village was burned.

Colonel Preston's stay at Fort Erie was of short duration. In less than one month, he, with his command, was ordered to another field, where the demand was made urgent, there being no promise of any further or immediate necessity for troops in this vicinity. The removal of the forces under Colonel Preston to a point somewhere on the frontier East of this, left Buffalo and its vicinity unprotected, except by the militia. The people were in a feverish state of excitement—everything was in an unsettled and unstable condition—the timid, uncertain of their position, were devising plans of safety for their families, moving and countermoving, and at last, doing that which as often as otherwise, proved to be unsafe, and void of good judgment.

In the midst of this state of things, our mother, like all true mothers, was ready to jeopardize her life for the future interests of her family.

The large house, as before stated, had been rented, and the first quarter of the year's rent had been paid in advance. With this small capital the family took possession of the new purchase. It was a small, one and a half story building, unfinished, being only inclosed, or the frame covered, and the floors laid, but standing on the walls of a good cellar. In dimensions on the ground it was 22 ft. on the front, running not more than 20 or 22 ft. back, possibly 22 ft. square. It stood quite by itself, on the West side of Main St., in an open space, without fence or shrub about it, and back from the line of the street 25 ft.

Into that unfinished building the family stowed themselves away as best they could, with a work-bench on the lower floor, and the joiners working with all due diligence to get it in shape for their greater comfort. When finished the house was constructed with a four-paneled, street door, in the centre of the front of the building, with a fifteen (15) light window of 7 x 9 glass, in line with the two below. A chimney and fire place stood at the centre of the West end of the building, in line with, and facing the street door. The street door opened without any hall or porch directly into the main room. On the right, as one entered from the street, was a bed room in the North-east corner, half the length of the house, say 7 x 10 ft. further on and adjoining this room, and to the right of the chimney, in the North-west corner of the building was a room of the same size, used as a stairway to get into the chamber, and as a passage-way out of the back door, and in which a scant place was appropriated for a small bed. On the left of the chimney in the South-west corner, was a cupboard for dishes and what was requisite for the table and cooking. The chamber was divided into two rooms; the smaller bed-room, being on the South side and running the whole length of the house, say 7 x 20 or 22 ft., with a window 12 lights, 7 x 9 glass in the West end; there was also a window 12 lights 7 x 9 at the head of the stairs, in the West end of the main room and on the North side of the chimney. The eaves-troughs were worked out of a white wood or cucumber tree, and each was of one solid piece.

With this state of things prevailing in the town, the people were suddenly called upon (Oct. 13, 1813) to give quarters to the troops drafted or called from the militia to defend the frontier. (See How, page 8, right hand column.) In the summer or fall of 1813, some of our people of Buffalo, not properly organized or connected with the army or Government, went over to Canada under the guidance of Colonel Chapin, and were engaged in a work and various enterprises, with which I am not conversant as to character, but about which there were many severe criticisms and caustic remarks. While they were over there, they were made prisoners, and soon after, the much vaunted and heralded retaking of themselves took place. (See How, page 9, at bottom.)

The burning of Queenstown and Newark, was a measure that our mother, in common with others, boldly denounced as an exhibition of wantonness only fit for savages, and in all her conversations, accused the perpetrators of that act, of exhibiting a bravado that only belonged to cowardice and motives as mercenary as the cow-boys of the Revolution. She was wont to quote the Biblical maxim, "What you sow, that shall you reap." They sowed the wind, and in due time we reaped the whirlwind. (See How, page 8, Right hand.)

The people of Buffalo were kept in a state of unrest by the nightly firing of cannon and other alarms, to keep the people vigilant, and to let the enemy, if any in hearing, know that our defenders were around.

This state of things went on, with various minor events until the morning of the 30th of December, 1813.

The British had crossed the Niagara during the night before, and that morning appeared in sight on Niagara Street. (Black Rock Road.) The Canadian Indians were coming through the woods from Black Rock, scattered as far North as the "Guide Board Road," now North Street, and were driving and killing our scattered people, wherever they overtook them. Among the citizens killed were Mr. Roop, the father of the late Henry Roop (Harry Roop) and Sammy Helms. The stalwart Seth Grosvenor and his friends with the only gun at command, had stationed themselves at or near the junction of Main and Niagara Streets, and were doing such good service with it as the British were coming up Niagara Street, as to bring them to a halt. While they were so engaged, Colonel Cyrenius Chapin appeared with a flag of truce, and ordered the men to "cease firing." Grosvenor told him to "go about his views, if he liked, they intended to fire the cannon." Grosvenor and friends were so encouraged by their success, that their ambition and zeal got the better of their judgment, so far as to overload the gun, when it reacted with such violence as to become dismounted.

Grosvenor started for help, to assist him in putting the cannon back on the carriage, and came to our house, with the hope of finding some one or more for that purpose. Not finding any one there stout-hearted as he was, he could not suppress his tears as he said to my mother, "If I had help to put the cannon up again, I could drive the British back."

In the mean time Chapin went forward with his flag of truce, and capitulated for the saving of many of the houses, his own included, from the torch of conflagration, while the rest were burned. Neither of our houses was mentioned in the capitulation, and the large house was fired that day, but the flames were extinguished by Sarah, (afterwards Mrs. Wilkinson), drawing water, and mother, Maria and the hired man, carrying and throwing it on the fire. The next day, (third) or before the British finally left, they burned it. The smaller house was neither included in the capitulation, nor fired. The people of the town had been fore-warned of the approach of the enemy and as a general thing had fled.

The British and their Indians left on the 31st of December, but the Indians, under the immediate direction of Lieutenant Wm. Carr, (an under officer) a half-breed, returned the third day, and burned the large house, as he said under peremptory orders.

Here ends the narrative of Mrs. Sidway (Parnell). I was called away to Ohio, and never found it convenient to have another interview with her upon the subject.

In December, 1876, I wrote my sister, Martha St. John, now Mrs. Skinner, to send me her recollections—and in due time I received from her the following letter, which I have copied for more facile reading. (I send—give—you the original).

O. S. St. John.

THE LETTERS OF MRS. MARTHA ST. JOHN SKINNER.

Clarance Place, Dorchester,
Near Boston, Mass., Dec. 22, 1876.

Dear Friends:—

We have found the weather cold, and no disposition to write, till I fear it is late.

Well. I will proceed to tell you about Buffalo. There were in Buffalo, just before the burning, from two to four thousand drafted and volunteer militia. They were encamped nearly in front of the old Court House, and when ordered to march to Black Rock, for the purpose of preventing the British from crossing, they went, I think, down Eagle Street (possibly Court). The house which mother bought from Otis R. Hopkins was only covered, but had the windows in, as it had been occupied by Mr. John Root, and his wife, (Christiana) and also by Alva Sharpe's daughter, Matilda, who was afterwards Mrs. Dickinson. When our family moved into that small house, which was 22 ft. front, and running back not more than that. To make it comfortable, as the winter was a very cold one, mother, assisted by the children, hung the inside of the house, next to the walls, with blankets and quilts.

As I said, such a great number of troops had marched to Black Rock, (all the people felt safe,) Mrs. Pomeroy and her daughter Minerva, afterwards Mrs. Champlin, and Mrs. Abell, wife of Mosely Abell, and three children, were sitting up at our house, listening to hear the guns at Black Rock, supposing we were safe—when suddenly the alarm gun boomed up with an awful burst of thunder, which aroused everybody, and people were seen flying every way for safety. We were soon prepared for a start, and Mr. Bemis, whose house was opposite ours on the East side of Main Street being able with his wagon and horses, to carry his family and part of ours, we were all packed in, three girls and three boys, with beds, blankets and clothing, leaving mother, Maria and Sarah at the house, and we drove out Main Street, until we came to North Street, there we met our Seneca Indians retreating, and the Canadian Indians pursuing and firing on them. The bullets came whistling by us and Mr. Bemis, not liking the music, turned his course and drove back, and said to mother, (as we were flying past) that we would be compelled to go the other road on the Lake shore, but that he would return as soon as possible, and take away the remainder of the family. As we passed the head of Niagara Street, which was the place of the alarm gun, we looked down the street and saw the British army arrayed on Niagara Square, and a person before them, on horse-back, facing them, holding a white flag over his shoulder. The gun had been fired by the command of Seth Grosvenor, as it was too heavily loaded, it dismounted, and he could not gather together enough help to get it back. When we arrived at the ferry, one mile up the creek, called Pratt's Ferry, we were compelled to wait our turn to cross; the ice was not thick enough to drive over, although people could walk across.

After crossing we drove up the Lake shore. The people came flying by us, some one way, some another. There was Mrs. Atkins, who had fallen off the horse into the quicksand, with her baby. We came to Mr. Barker's tavern, eight miles from Buffalo. Mrs. Barker was very sick, and died on the 10th of January. We pursued our journey on toward Willink, as we were waiting for our way over the creek, we saw the smoke of the burning village, coming over the trees, so we knew it would be of no use to return. It was past 12 o'clock noon-day, when we left Mr. Barker's and we found snow and night coming on. We had a heavy load of household goods, and Mr. Bemis and his wife and their child, a baby—my sister Margaret (Mrs. Foot), my sister Parnell, Mrs. Sidway now, and myself, (Mrs. Martha St. John Skinner)—my brother John Ransom St. John, of Lockport—brother Le Grand Cannon St. John, and yourself, Orson Swift St. John, the youngest child three years old.

Now to our journey from Barker's to Willink. "The way was long and the night cold," when we were about three (3) miles from the tavern at Willink, something in the road, I believe a very steep place, the horses pulled so hard, something about the wagon broke, and we were compelled to get out of the wagon. So we three sisters walked along ahead, leaving the rest of the party with the wagon. The snow was deep and the road was strange, and we could hear nothing of our friends we had left behind us. Two or three roads came together at one place.

We were unable to determine which road to take. Soon I heard a loud roaring in the woods, and I looked and saw a ball of fire coming, as I thought, from Buffalo, which might be some of the fire from the burning houses, blown over the tops of the trees. We stood still, till that passed—then another, then another, which were like meteors throwing off fire.

We then pursued our course, following or taking the road over which the meteors flew. After day-light, we arrived at a log tavern. I do not remember the name of the people who lived there. We went in the first room we could, and that was a large room, with a large log fire. We were nearly benumbed with the cold—and when we approached the fire, I saw Mrs. Sophia Pratt, wife of Samuel Pratt, and mother of Mr. Samuel F. Pratt, late of Buffalo. She was sitting in one corner watching some cooking going on for breakfast. She reached out her hand and took my hand, and drew me to her, and placed me between herself and the fire keeping my hands against her head and face to drive out the pain from my fingers, and saying kind words and comforting us all she could. I often think of her and think what a dear good woman she was. We were getting quite comfortable, she was preparing for breakfast, with baking bread, frying meat, with the most savory smell of sausage. Presently there came in, all nearly frozen, Mr. and Mrs. Bemis and the baby, and our three little brothers, John R. St. John, Le Grand C. St. John, Orson S. St. John; they had all come on horse-back.

They had left the wagon, load and all, and taken the horses. Mrs. Bemis on one horse with her baby in her arms, and one of the little boys behind her on the horse. Mr. Bemis took the other horse, with one little boy in his arms, and the other behind him—they arrived all safe but very cold. As soon as she could get warm enough, Mrs. Bemis commenced her preparations for breakfast, making a large boiler full of chocolate and all that could be gathered together for a comfortable meal.

Mr. Samuel Pratt told me, one time when I met him at a party at Mrs. Sidway's, that she, his mother, had her bread ready to bake and, finding she could not bake it in Buffalo, she put it in a pillow case, and carried it to Willink to bake.

I think Mr. Bemis procured a sleigh to proceed on with. We left the house full of people, many of whom went no farther. I saw two of Mr. Cyrenius Chapin's daughters, whom the Buffalo Gazette said, walked all the way from Buffalo.

Now, we will proceed on our journey, through Hamburg and Boston, over hills so high that it seemed as if we were going into the clouds. We arrived at Warsaw, which was in a valley—a pretty place, with a long bridge, I believe, over the Genesee River. We stayed there, or not far from there, until Mr. Bemis could return to Buffalo, as we knew nothing of the fate of those we had left at Buffalo. I cannot say that Mr. Bemis came back to us. I think it was the hired man, with horses and sleigh, that came and carried us all back.

We learned they were alive and the house was not burned. We returned through the Indian village, and stopped at Corn-Planter's to warm us. The sun was setting as we drove over that beautiful prairie ground. The squaws were carrying bundles of sticks to their wigwams or huts. We came into Buffalo in time to see the chimneys standing. All seemed gloomy and desolate. We soon came in sight of our own home. The cellar walls were standing, and the chimney on the North side of the hall, and the one on the South side of the hall was standing. The large stone step on the Main Street was firm and in its place against the front wall. How sad was the change since we had seen it last. Tears were nothing now; everybody had been weeping for days. While we were waiting at the ferry for our way over, I heard a loud groan and saw people looking up at the tops of the trees; I turned my eyes and saw those awful clouds of smoke, rolling over and over, and the women shrieking and sobbing and all could avail them naught, for the destruction had commenced. Therefore when we met our mother, we tried to be thankful for the small house, knowing our former home was lost, with nearly all the proceeds of a (father's) life, "whose constant care had been to increase his store."

In the recital concerning the morning after we left Buffalo, my sister Sarah said, mother was standing in the door and Mr. Seth Grosvenor came along with a white flag on a walking-stick.

He said if he could only gather citizens enough to assist him, he could drive them (the enemy) back, as he had sent the contents of that gun among them with the effect to mow them down.

Just then some few men on horseback were coming from Court Street, and as they came nearer, she (mother) walked to the road; the headmost one drew up his rein, and she said to him, "For mercy's sake do turn back and help Mr. Grosvenor manage that cannon and defend the town; and let General Hall go—the miscreant!! He must be an awful coward." At that he raised his hat, curbed the bit, his horse set off with a dignified trot and the others followed suit. She was soon informed she had been talking to General Hall himself. She said she did not wish to recall her words—that if she had known him to be such she would have said more. The truth was the General was a plain farmer from Bloomfield and probably had Falstaff's valor, the better part being discretion; sufficient at least, to seek a place of safety. He was one of those whom Oliver Cromwell would have called "Ye spurious sons of War."

My mother said she saw an Indian pulling the curtains down from the window of Mr. Lovejoy's house, and saw Mrs. Lovejoy strike his hand with a carving knife—and saw the Indian raise the hatchet; but as the door closed she could not know for certain, that he had killed her. She did not dare to go and see. Soon there came along an advance guard, with a cannon and a (British) Colonel on horseback.

He spoke very crossly and said, "Why are you not away?" She said she had lost the opportunity, and now she had nowhere to go only out in the cold and perish in the snow. He said, "I have just now seen a very unpleasant sight in the house over the way. The Indians have killed a woman and I am very sorry any such thing should happen." "Well" said she, "I was fearful she would provoke them to kill her. I spoke to her and said do not risk your life for property, she answered: 'When my property goes, my life shall go with it.'" My mother asked the Colonel to set a sentinel by the large house and the one she was in, to prevent the Indians from coming in, and burning the houses. He said he had no power to issue such a command; that she must go to General Rial; he could say what might be done. He moved along with his party and cannon.

The squaws were in the house plundering when she returned and very soon there came in a little dwarf, and spoke very lively to my mother and said, "Do not be frightened, Madam, you need not fear. There was an order issued this morning, from the Canadian officers, that no person should be molested, that was obliged to stay from sickness, or old age, or any accident or misfortune." My mother said: "Where is your commanding officer?" "Just down here in a log house, on the Niagara road." (At the Edsell Tannery, near the junction of Niagara, Mohawk and Morgan Streets.) So as a squaw had taken off the veil and bonnet from my mother and also her cloak, and had put her own squaw blanket about her (mother's) shoulders, and had served Sarah with the same change of dress; they and Maria and the dwarf set off together; he having informed my mother that he could speak six different languages and was the interpreter for the General Rial. So they took their course down to the corner of Delaware and Niagara Streets, and were ushered into the presence of the Indian commander, by the dwarf interpreter. The old bluff man said, "What do you require?" She said, "I came to ask you to send a guard to keep the Indians from burning the house, and from plundering our goods and clothing." He spoke a few words with the guide and they retraced their steps back to their home. The interpreter took his seat by the door; it being winter, the door was closed and the Indians would bang their guns against the door; when the door was open, the interpreter would speak, and they would go away, looking as if they had met with severe reproof. In the course of the day, the house of Mrs. Lovejoy was set on fire, and mother and sisters Maria and Sarah, with the hired man, old Mr. Pettingill, and others, went to the house and took the body of Mrs. Lovejoy out of the house and laid her body on a pile of boards by the side of the fence, so she need not be consumed by the fire. Then they went into the house and saw that it did not burn fast, so they made an attempt to put out the fire, and did succeed. When night was coming on, they thought they would carry her body in again, and as the old man was very weak and old, they would like more help. They looked up street and saw Mr. Walden. So sister started Sarah on a run to ask him to come and assist.

He came; they, Walden, mother, Maria and Sarah, lifted the body and carried it and placed it on the cords of a bedstead. I received a number of the Sandusky Clarion, containing an account of a gentleman living in Ohio, near Sandusky. He said that he was a boy at the time that Buffalo was burned, and was living about half a mile from Buffalo towards Black Rock; that his father took his gun and went to the battle; and that his mother prepared breakfast, but before they could eat, his father returned and said they had no time to lose, the British were just behind them; so they dashed out and followed with the crowd, and they came up to where they were loading the gun, ready for resistance, but they did not dare to stop. They followed the crowd up the creek, but they did not cross the creek, staying about and sleeping that night in a barn. The next morning they returned to the village and went to my mother's (Mrs. St. John's) and got some breakfast and they went over to see Mrs. Lovejoy. She was lying on the bedstead; was a tall woman, dressed in black silk dress, with her long black hair hanging down, reaching through the cords, to the floor. He said they all stood about her and shed tears. Then the Indians came again the third day and set the house on fire and she was burned in it, then Mr. Lovejoy came and gathered her bones in a handkerchief and buried them.

The large house of ours had been set on fire, and Sarah drew water from the well, and mother, Maria, and the old hired man carried it and poured it on the fire, 'till it was out.

Then there was a sentinel set to guard it, but after the bugle blew for retreat, the third day there came back an Indian on horse-back, with a waiter on another horse. The officer dismounted, and gave his rein to his waiter, and went into the house, and began to gather some combustible material such as paper and straw and the clock case, from which a squaw had taken the works, split up and blew one pistol into and set fire to it. My mother had just arrived and attempted to put out the fire. At that, the Indian, who spoke English, told her she must go to her house, for he intended to burn that one. She said she "would have no income if that was destroyed, and I am a widow, and I have lost my sons." He said, "Very likely, that may be true, but you have left to you one roof, and that is more than the Americans left our widows, when they came over, they only left the brands of the houses after they were burned." He then drew another pistol and pointed it at her saying, "If she wished to save her life, she must leave and return to her house they had left for her." My mother said, "I do not intend to risk my life for property but this is my home. I took the other to have the income from this." He said, "Very probably, but" said he, "this will be a rendezvous for four thousand troops before tomorrow night." This was the last day. The barn was burned on the first day. On the first day some of the British ordered the old hired man to burn the barn. The old man came in wiping his eyes. My mother said, "What is the matter?" he said, "I must do what I never did expect to do; they say I must burn your barn; and see, they have taken the woolen mittens you made me and made me take these old worn out buck-skin gauntlets." My mother said, "Oh, well—it cannot be helped, you had better obey their orders." So he took the brand of fire from the hearth and went out and set the barn on fire. Many of the houses were standing on New Year's day. Our own large house was not burned until the last day of the burning, and all had been burned but ours. When the bugle blew, the sentinels were removed and all had left when the Indian, Carr, (a half-breed who married Brant's daughter,) returned, resolved to burn it.

This being the second day of January, they had hopes that those houses would be saved, but while at breakfast, the old man came in and said, "I think I have heard the Indians whoop down towards Black Rock." They rose, my mother took the table-cloth for a flag and waved it out of a window; the West chamber window at the head of the stairs, and seeing an Indian running by the house, she looked to see where he was going, and saw Sarah running towards Mohawk Street. Mother called vehemently saying "Don't run." The old man was trying to run, too, but he stumbled; the Indian helped to lift him, and took some vermilion and painted his face. Seeing that, Sarah turned back and shook hands with the old Indian, and he painted her face. She returned to the house. Then there came along the British officer on horseback, and stopped near the house and said, "Why did you not go away?" She told him she had no where to go. When he saw the paint on Sarah's face he asked how that came to be so. She told how she attempted to run away on seeing the Indian that morning, but as she saw he was not disposed to murder the old hired man, she turned back and was painted, too. The officer looked very angry about it and told her to go and wash it off. She said, if he (the Indian) should see her again, she was afraid he would be displeased. He said he would insure her safety. She then went and washed her face.

The officer rode along, and the Indians commenced burning the houses again; burning Mrs. Lovejoy's and Mr. Bemis' house over the way opposite ours, and all was burned and the sentinels removed.

In a few days we returned, and all our neighbors came into town; and the mothers from Bloomfield came to Buffalo to identify their sons who had been killed, and buried in a mound in the grave ground. They had been buried without coffins.

My mother gave the Bloomfield people refreshments, and they warmed themselves by the fire, they seemed to be sadly afflicted.

In a few days Judge Granger, the Indian Agent, said to my mother that his family were in Canandaigua, and he was going there to stay the remainder of the winter; that he was afraid to leave his house empty, for fear that it would be filled with soldiers; that he would leave his sisters, Mrs. Remington and her family and Mrs. Forward and her family, and he would give a room or two to my mother if she would move out there, and that would leave no room for the Quartermaster to take. We made ready to accept Judge Granger's kind offer, and moved to his place, out on the Three Mile Creek. Before moving mother rented the small house to Mr. Holden Allen, father of Levi Allen, for $300.00. By the kindness of an aunt, (Mrs. Philander Bennett's mother) part of the family were carried away to Oneida County, and the younger part, with my mother, moved out to the Granger farm. We were very comfortable, with old John Puffinburg to take care of the families and a very large flock of sheep.

My mother was the daughter of the Rev. Cyrus Marsh, the first settled minister in the town of Kent, State of Connecticut.

He was ordained in May, 1741, and preached to a colony of twelve families—the Ransoms and Comstocks, and the Stars and nine other families. I do not know her age (79 when she died) but she was in New York when the British had just left that city, and attended the celebration of the evacuation by the British. I believe she was seventeen. (As I, O. S. St. John, remember having heard her say, that she was seven years old when the War of the Revolution commenced, she must have been, at that time, not far from fourteen years old.)

I cannot write any more at present. I cannot come to Buffalo this winter. I am quite well and wish all a Happy New Year.

Mrs. Martha St. John Skinner.

Mrs. Skinner died at Willoughby, Lake Co., Ohio, on the morning of the 11th of March, 1880, in her 77th year. During her last sickness, I obtained her confirmation of the foregoing narration, and what there is in the following and preceding that of the principal letter, which I hand over to the Society for comparison or reference.

Mrs. Skinner said that some years after the burning of Buffalo—on the occasion of the Government sending out a commission—to examine and appraise the damages which each family or individual had suffered by the burning of their buildings—my mother, thinking that the damage had not been fairly assessed, directed my sister, Mrs. Bemis, to write several letters, which mother dictated and mailed to Richard Bland Lee, (of Washington) who was at the head of the claims department.

Joseph Earl Sheffield lived to be over 90 years of age. The extent of his fortune is unknown, but it is estimated at about $10,000,000. Mr. Sheffield had a wide reputation owing to his benefactions to Yale College. It is owing to his magnificent gifts to that institution that the Sheffield Scientific School is now placed in its present high position among the technical schools in this country. His mother, Isabel Thorpe, was the daughter of Walter Thorpe, of Southport, in the West India trade.

In 1808 Mr. Sheffield was employed at the age of about 15 years in a store in Newbern, N. C. He was afterwards engaged in business with Henry Kneeland, an old and respected merchant of New York, and was engaged in buying and shipping cotton. His various enterprises in the South, in connection with the business interests of Mobile, were successful in results, and in 1835 he refused the presidency of the Mobile branch of the U. S. Bank.

In 1822 he married Miss Maria St. John, of Delaware Co., N. Y., and in 1835 came to New Haven, devoting much of his energy to the building of the Northampton Road, which would probably never have been built except for his persistence and courage. He was one of the chief projectors of the railroad between New Haven and New York, and in 1850, in company with Henry Fornam, built and equipped the railroad between Chicago and Rock Island, at a cost of over $5,000,000, within two and a half years after signing the contracts. He was a director in the company which constructed the Mississippi and Missouri Railroad until 1856, when he declined a re-election.

Mr. Sheffield's gifts to Yale College really commenced in 1846 and when they were made from time to time until 1870, they had amounted to a large sum. He gave the building in which the Sheffield School was started; twice re-fitted and enlarged it; gave a fund of $130,000 for professorships; a library fund of $10,000, afterwards increased to $12,000, and paid for the Hillhouse Mathematical Library $41,000. He also gave $2,700 to the Collier Cabinet, besides contributing to the current expenses of the Sheffield School. These gifts amounted to no less than $250,000. In 1870 Mr. Sheffield gave the ground for a large new building in Prospect Street and paid for the erection thereon of the building known as North Sheffield Hall. He has given large sums at different times to the Berkeley Divinity School, in Middletown; to Trinity College, Hartford, and the Theological Seminary of the Northwest in Chicago. He has also built, in New Haven, a Parish Home in connection with Trinity Church, a beautiful and costly building, paying about $75,000, and has been a contributor to the Orphan Asylum and various institutions there and elsewhere.

Mr. Sheffield's six children survived him, Mrs. VanBuren, Mrs. W. Walter Phelps, Mrs. W. J. Boardman, Mrs. John A. Porter, widow of Prof. Porter of Yale; George St. John Sheffield, and Charles J. Sheffield.

Y., Apl. 4, 1797, to Apl. 2, 1799; Supervisor of Roads, Mar. 1806-1819. The following is from the New Canaan Messenger (Historical Notes), Feb. 27th, 1892, Patriots of Canaan Parish. 1776:

David St. John, Sergt., was also a soldier in the Continental Army. He was in Capt. Daniel Benedict's Company, under command of Lieut. Col. John Mead, (of Greenwich) and was in service at New York, marching Aug. 12th 1776. During that service they lost their Captain, who was captured, and died in prison; (the old Sugar House) and after their return the company was reorganized, and he continued as first Sergt under Capt. John Carter. In October the company was again ordered to march to the Westchester border, and place themselves under Gen. Wooster. His name is still found on the roll-call of the 9th Co. June 1779 under Capt Reuben Scofield, commanded by Col. John Mead. And it again appears in the list of Revolutionary pensioners, at the age of 87 years.

David St John was the son of David and Jemima St John; and was about 17 years of age when he entered the Continental army. He married and with his wife joined the Church in 1786. Their home is yet to be located.

The military record of this Co., is found in the Adj't. Gen's. Report of the "Men of Connecticut in the War of the Revolution," pp. 458, 485.

He lived in the old house, part of which now remains, known as the old David Van Hoosear homestead at Nod. He went to Ridgefield in 1820. In 1843 he had had nine children (three dead), and thirty-four grandchildren (three dead). His ear mark was a slope under the off ear and a hole in the near ear (Rec. Oct. 7, 1782). His will follows:

I give and devise to my beloved daughter, Anna Godfrey, as a compensation for her kindness and faithful services—the South West Room in my Dwelling house—the two bed-rooms in the Chamber over said South West Room—the cellar under said Room and a privilege of passing through the kitchen to the oven in the same and of Baking in said oven—of passing and using the Chamber stairs in said Kitchen to and from the two Bed-Rooms before mentioned and using the cellar stairs in said Kitchen, to go to and from that part of the cellar herein before mentioned and the same to be hers and her heirs forever. Also I give to the said Anna the privilege of passing and re-passing through said kitchen to and from the well and of using the water which will be in said well and also to go from her part of the house to the highway which privilege I give in the same manner as the one herein before mentioned—

The remainder of my estate I hereby will, order and direct shall be divided into six equal parts or proportions, and one part or proportion I give and devise to my beloved son, Stephen St. John—one part or proportion thereof I give to son Edward St. John—one part or portion thereof I give and devise to my son, William St. John—one part or proportion thereof I give and devise to my son Anson St. John—one part or proportion thereof I give and devise to my daughter, Anna Godfrey and part or proportion thereof I give and devise to my daughter, Deborah Dan—and the several parts and proportions before herein enumerated shall be and belong to the said Devisees and their respective heirs forever.

Lastly—I hereby nominate, constitute and appoint my beloved son William St. John Executor of this my last Will and Testament in witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and seal this eighteenth day of January A. D. 1826.

OBITUARY 1924

Mrs. Lewis S. St. John.

Mary E., wife of Lewis S. St. John, died at her home at Rochester, N. Y., Tuesday, March 4th. The remains were brought to Walton and funeral services held at the Holmes chapel on Friday, March 7th, Rev. S. U. North officiating. Burial will be made in Walton cemetery.

Mary E. Launt was born in the town of Hamden, one of ten children of Frederick and Maryetta Launt and attended school at Hamden and Walton, afterward teaching in the vicinity for several years.

In 1866 she married Lewis S. St. John at Walton where she resided until the family removed to Rochester in 1900 and where three children were born, Helen B., the wife of John H. Smith, of Norwich; Harold L., now a practicing physician at Rochester, and Edna, who died in childhood.

In early life she united with the Congregational church at Walton, retaining her membership until after she went to Rochester where the membership was transferred to the Spencer Ripley Memorial church.

Besides the son and daughter she is survived by three grandchildren, Clarice and Margaret St. John, of Rochester, and Harold H. Smith, of Newburgh, also one great grandson, John Horton Smith.

Of the children of Frederick Launt six are still living, Peter E., at Walton, Charles at Grand Rapids, Ind., June at Rome, Fisher at Sidney, George at Livingston Manor and Mrs. Sherrill Edwards at Franklin.

OBITUARY 1924

Miss Mary D. St. John.

The death of Miss Mary D. St. John occurred Tuesday, April 8, at a sanitarium at Chestnut Hill, Boston, Mass., where she had been staying since August. Her brother, Robert B. St. John, went there last Friday to visit her and when he left Walton there was no intimation that her condition was serious. The word of her death came as a shock to her many friends in Walton.

Miss St. John was born in Walton 62 years ago, the daughter of Henry E. and Emily Berray St. John. Her entire life had been spent here. She was a woman of great beauty of character who in her everyday life lived the teachings of Christ. Always thoughtful and considerate of others and ever seeking to help by word or deed, her life had truly been one of service. From early life until illness came upon her five years ago she was an active worker in the Congregational church.

The funeral service will be held this, Friday, afternoon at 2 o'clock at the St. John home, Rev. S. U. North officiating. Two brothers survive, Robert B. and Fred A. St. John, both of Walton.

"One of the ablest authorities on finance in America to-day is Mr. William Pope St. John, M. A., president of the Mercantile National Bank of New York and author of the proposed platform for American Independents, published in our June issue. This prominent Metropolitan banker was born in Mobile, Ala., being the son of Newton St. John of the firm of St. John, Powers & Co., bankers, and for twenty-five years agents in the South for Baring Bros. & Co., of London. Mr. St. John's ancestors were intimately connected with the foundation and political life of our government.

"His mother, Maria Pope, was a daughter of Alexander Pope and Dorothy Bibb, of Georgia, the latter being a sister of William Bibb, the Territorial Governor and first State Governor of Alabama. The father of Alexander Pope, Mr. St. John's great-grandfather, was Charles Pope, of Delaware, lieutenant-colonel of the Revolutionary regiment known as "the Blue Hen's Chickens," which constituted the first independent command of Lafayette.

"Mr. St. John's paternal great-great-grandfather having been one of the twenty-five founders of the town of Ridgefield, Conn., Mr. St. John is thus eligible to membership in the New England Society and the Southern Society, and on his father's side is eligible to the State Societies of Massachusetts, Connecticut and New York, and on his mother's side of Delaware, Georgia and Alabama. He is therefore intensely American.

"Mr. St. John's school days beginning in Mobile, continued in Germany and England and ended in Massachusetts. After terminating his education, he entered the employ successively of several distinctly different kinds of business, with houses standing first in their line. His last engagement, prior to entering banking was in employment with the largest sugar refinery firm of our country, where he had full charge of the sales during four years. Some idea of the magnitude of its business can be gained from the fact that the sales for a single year aggregated $5,000,000.

"In January, 1881, he was tendered the cashiership of the Mercantile National Bank of New York City, and two years later on the death of the President of that institution, he was promoted to the first position in that bank, which office he has filled ever since. Under the presidency of Mr. St. John, during thirteen years, the Mercantile National Bank has trebled the volume of its deposits, and besides paying regular semi-annual dividends, has accumulated $1,000,000 of surplus earnings. Mr. St. John is also a director or trustee in other banks and institutions of New York, and has been a frequent contributor to financial literature. Williams College has conferred upon him the honorary degree of M. A.

"In 1884 Mr. St. John was elected a member of the finance committee of the New York Chamber of Commerce, a position to which he was annually re-elected for a total period of eight years. Upon his first election the Chairman urged upon him, as the junior member, the obligation to devote research to the silver question. He began that research as a pronounced gold-standard man, and with all the prejudice against silver money which still prevails in that Chamber of Commerce. At a convention of bankers in 1883 he had asserted of the Bland Act, which provided a limited coinage of silver, that it was 'dishonest in inception and vicious in its tendencies.' The first six years of his research were devoted to a painstaking endeavor to substantiate with the facts of history his pre-conceived false notions, which he shared with his fellow-members of the Chamber.

"After six years' research he began to differ from the conclusions of the finance committee, setting forth his views in a minority report. After nine years of research Mr. St. John advocated boldly the restoration of silver and its unlimited coinage in the United States."

A note is here added on the family of Mary Jane (Pope) St. John, first wife of Newton St. John, and mother of his children, given above.

"Kept at Work While Fire Raged.—The only Government department in the San Francisco Custom House in which work has continued uninterruptedly is that of Surveyor of the Port Woodward. He and his Chief Deputy, Chauncey M. St. John, were at their desks by 9 o'clock in the morning of Wednesday, and remained there all day.

"The fire crept up toward them from the water front and finally was on all four sides of the building. Amid the roar of the conflagration, the crash of falling walls and the excitement attending the work of the 150 sailors who saved the building, their work went on uninterrupted. Inspectors fought their way to the building, reported to Mr. St. John, and received further orders regarding their work along the water front.

"It was a severe ordeal, but neither the Surveyor, his deputy, nor his Inspectors showed any inclination to abandon their posts until their day's work was done. They have kept at their work ever since (N. Y. Times, April 24, 1906).

Walton Couple Celebrate Sixtieth Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Cook W. St. John celebrated the sixtieth anniversary of their marriage Saturday, February 27, by keeping open house to their friends at their home on Platt street, Walton. Twenty-fifth wedding anniversaries are numerous, but golden weddings are looked upon as notable events, while only a few couples are spared to share together the joys and sorrows of life for a period of sixty years.

It was a happy day. Happy both for Mr. and Mrs. St. John and for their many friends who dropped in during the afternoon and evening for a word of felicitation and greeting. Two of the children, Miss Flora St. John and Philip B. St. John, were present, while the other son, Clement St. John, who is spending the winter in Jacksonville, Florida, sent a remembrance to his parents in the form of sixty dollars in money, a dollar for each year of their married life. The rooms of the St. John home were filled with beautiful flowers and there were many greetings from absent friends.

A register was provided for the names of the guests, who numbered about seventy, and refreshments were served to the visitors. Pictures of the bride and groom on their wedding day and one taken on the golden wedding ten years ago were shown the guests.

Cook W. St. John and Delia Ann Hawley were married on February 27, 1866, at the Brisack homestead near Hawley's station. Rev. J. S. Pettin-gill, pastor of the Congregational church, officiated at the ceremony which was performed in the presence of thirty-six guests. Five of these are still living, but only one, Mrs. John Olmstead, was able to be present at the sixtieth anniversary. Mrs. Olmstead assisted in receiving the visitors.

Mr. and Mrs. St. John are among the oldest members of the Congre-gational church. He has been a member seventy-three years and Mrs. St. John over sixty years. An act of thoughtfulness on their part was the sending of some of the flowers they received to the church for use in the Sunday services.

Mr. and Mrs. St. John enjoy good health and it is the hope and prayer of their many friends that together they may see many more years pass blessed in the companionship of one another and in the knowledge of lives well lived.

(3) in 1853, Hester A. Rogers, of New York. He was in New York City in 1832-1838. He was a man of culture. Literature, art, and music found favor with him. He was benevolent and generous, almost too trustful, as a so-called friend later caused his financial failure. In California he retrieved the fortune he had lost. When in N. Y. City he was a member of the Philharmonic Society. He was an intimate friend, while in N. Y. City, of William Cullen Bryant. They were fellow-members of the Art Association, where they often studied the paintings together. The friendship, continued until 1871, when a letter filled with reminiscences of early association came to him from the poet, and was long treasured by him.

Child:

3036 i James Allen.

"James Allen St. John inherited his mother's and grandfather's talent and is a portrait painter of some note.

"He began his art studies at a very early age. He says, in speaking of his childhood: 'My first recollections are my mother's studio, and the eyes of her portraits following me about the place.'

"His mother's father was Hilliard Hely, an artist of considerable talent, who had spent his student life in Paris under the supervision of the worthy masters of those days of the First Empire. His daughter received her first lessons from him, and later on Mrs. St. John became the teacher of her young son. When he was eight years old, Mrs. St. John went to Paris to continue her studies, taking the boy with her. 'Even as a child,' said Mr. St. John, 'I found delight in the society of so-called bohemians my mother gathered around her, and one of my greatest pleasures was to ramble at will through the Louvre, the Luxembourg and the countless quaint and charming corners of the unfashionable parts of the city, so dear to all dreamers. But I unconsciously imitated those with whom I was brought in contact, and began to sketch and paint before I could read and write.'

"Mr. St. John returned to America after some years of this idle, joyous life, and after going through the usual course of schooling his father took him in hand when he reached the age of sixteen and decided to give him the chance of becoming a good thrifty merchant. He bought him a partnership with a man of practical experience; but the dreamy boy was ill-adapted to the work and rebelled so vigorously that his father sent him, as a last resource, to his uncle's ranch in the San Joaquin valley of California, with the injunction to regain his health, to ride and to shoot, and to become a cowboy, pure and simple, for a time at least.

"The lad's mind was still on the happy days of Paris and his early attempts at sketching when he was suddenly brought into the picturesque scenery and environment of Southern California.

"While on a trip to Los Angeles he had the good fortune to fall under the influence of Mr. Eugene Torrey, an accomplished artist, and at one time a student in the École des Beaux-Arts. This meeting decided the career of the young man. He threw all other pre-arranged plans to the wind and spent the next three years studying under his artist friend. He traveled with him from place to place, drawing and painting the old Spanish missions, and seeking inspiration from the glories of the Yosemite and the snow-covered peaks of the Sierra-Madre."—Metropolitan Magazine.

5060a DANIEL ST. JOHN (Daniel⁶, Samuel⁴, Matthias³, Matthias², Matthias¹), undoubtedly identical with No. 238, page 113, was killed by the Indians, July 8, 1778, when moving his family from the Wyoming Valley. He had reached Atherton's, near Providence. "Daniel St. John's wife saved herself and her child, Daniel, by hiding in a hollow log" (M. M. St. John). A Daniel St.
 John was one of the signers of the Minisink Pledge, June 26, 1775

(Stickney's Minisink, p. 76). He was also an associator in Minisink in 1775. A Daniel St. John was in 1776 taxed for £31 in Pittston Dist., Wyoming, Penn.; as also on Aug. 1, 1777. and in 1778. Ex-Governor John P. St. John is the great-grandson of the above Daniel. Daniel, father of No. 238, had a dau. Rebecca, who m. Uriah Chapman and had Lucy D. The latter m. a Schoonover and had a son, Uriah, whose name by act of legislature was changed to C. M. Bell. The latter, writing to ex-Gov. John P. St. John, says, "My grandmother, Rebecca St. John, was sister to your grandfather, Daniel St. John." Evidently Dr. Bell leaves out a generation, his grandmother, Rebecca, probably being a sister of the ex-Governor's great-grandfather.

Parker, b. Dec. 25, 1838; the dau. of Col. Nathaniel and Betsey (Lockard) Parker. In 1847 he with his parents moved from Indiana to Illinois; in 1852 to California; in 1855 he went to the Sandwich Islands, returning in 1856 to California, where he studied law at night, after mining all day. In 1858 he went back to Illinois where he studied in the law office of Starkweather & McLain, and was admitted to the Bar in 1859. He was Captain in the 68th Regt., and Lieut. Col. of the 143d Ill. Regt., in the Civil War. He went to Independence, Mo., in 1865; in 1869, to Olathe, Kansas, with his family where he now resides (1906). He was elected State Senator in 1872; Governor in 1878-1882. During his two terms as Governor his administration was clean and successful, many public improvements were made, and protection from Indian depredations accorded to his people. He was of the Republican Party, but later became an active Prohibitionist, and was the candidate for President of that party, receiving 150,000, votes that being fifteen times more votes than that party had ever before polled.
