I have read with great interest the enclosed papers. Mrs. Marshall only son - and a brave boy none died for the southern cause - was killed in the fight in which I lost my arm. She is now 75. Alone & poor.

Dr Kirkpatrick states facts. When he says that the dropsy was a result of heart disease. Many people have rheumatism - the most frequent cause of heart disease - & while they get over that attack it leaves valvular heart trouble that finally kills them. Dropsy is one of the most frequent expressions of the heart trouble - I am convinced that Mrs. Marsh was such a case -

Truly Yours,

NOTES.

In order to avoid unnecessary delays to applicants, and to enable all parties interested to understand the laws granting allowances to disabled soldiers, as well as the rules adopted by the Governor touching the payments provided, the following suggestions are submitted:

1. If an applicant has been wounded, the description of the wound should be carefully and fully set forth by applicant and physician, and followed by a plain statement of facts showing the extent of the disability. If applicant claims disability from disease contracted in the service, a full and carefully stated history of the disease should be given, tracing the disability by positive proofs to the service.

2. The law makes no allowance for an arm or leg, unless the arm or leg has been rendered substantially and essentially useless.

3. It will not answer to say that an arm is "substantially useless for ordinary pursuits of life, etc." There is no qualification to the clause of the Act in reference to the arm or leg, but the limb must for all purposes be "substantially and essentially useless."

4. If the application is for a wounded leg, it would seem to be a fair construction of the Act, and the words above quoted, to say that unless the injury is such as to require the constant use of crutch or stick, that the leg is not "substantially and essentially useless."

5. If papers are returned for correction, and amendments are added to any of the affidavits, the amendments must be made under oath before an officer, and the proofs must show that the amendments have been duly sworn to.

6. Every application must be certified by the Ordinary of the county of the residence of the applicant. The certificate of any other will not be received in any case.

The Ordinaries of the several counties are specially requested to call the attention of the physicians and applicants to these points.

GEORGIA, FULTON COUNTY:

Personally appeared before the undersigned, Chas. D. McKinney, who, on oath says that he is executor of the estate of the said Mrs. Laura S. McKoy who died on October 22, 1932.

Affiant further states that up to the date of her death she had been on the pension roll of Fulton County as the widow of the late John J. McKoy, a Confederate veteran in Fulton County for many years prior to her death.

Affiant further states that he is intimately acquainted with the property interests left by the late Mrs. McKoy and had been familiar with these properties for several years prior to her death.

Affiant further states that at the time of her death Mrs. McKoy had no estate sufficient for the payment of her funeral expenses tho she had considerable real estate and personal property in her name. All of said real estate was heavily encumbered with mortgages and the value of said property was not sufficient to pay off the mortgages.

Affiant further states that there was a small amount of cash held in trust by affiant for the purpose of paying certain unpaid taxes against her real estate, on account of which the security of the first mortgage loans was in danger, but that with the consent of her creditors affiant was holding said money for the purpose of paying off these unpaid taxes, with the understanding that he would try to sell the property for an amount sufficient for paying off the frist mortgage loans and accumulated interest, in the hope that there would be some balance to help pay the unsecured debts of the said Mrs. McKoy.

Affiant further states that in the hope that he could consummate such sales, and with the consent of her creditors, affiant paid out the sum of $187.25 to H. M. Patterson & Sons for her funeral expenses and that said money is now needed for the purpose of paying the taxes against said real estate, and affiant has not been able to sell any of said real estate at any price even approximately sufficient to pay off the first mortgage loans against said properties.

Affiant further states that he is negotiating with the holders of the first mortgage loans to settle same at considerable loss in each case to the said mortgage holders and as a result of each of the negotiations affiant hopes to consummate the settlement of these loans during the next few weeks but there will still be a considerable amount of unsecured indebtedness which affiant as executor of the said estate of Mrs. Laura S. McKoy is utterly unable to pay.

Affiant further states that the said sum of $187.25 above referred to as having been paid to H. M. Patterson & Sons for funeral expenses is greatly needed for the purpose of paying off the taxes against said mortgaged properties above referred to.

FULTON COUNTY

Personally appeared before the undersigned, Mrs. Laura S. McKoy, who on oath says that she is an applicant for pension as widow of her late husband, John J. McKoy, in accordance with application this day filed through the Court of Ordinary, Fulton County, Georgia; that she has made diligent effort for the past six months, both personal and through others, to find a witness now living who could answers the "Questions for witnesses as to service of husband and marriage" attached to her application for pension, but after continuous and diligent search, she has been unable to find any witnesses, as all of the Confederate soldiers associated with her late husband whom the affiant knows personally seems to have died or to have left this section of Georgia, in which affiant and her friends are acquainted.

1st. Proof of marriage must be made.
2nd. Do not use the enormously large form of marriage certificate in common vogue throughout the State, suitable only for framing. Such certificate is entirely too bulky for use in any pension application. A plain certificate written on the back of the copy of marriage license is the proper thing.
3rd. The Ordinary should examine the blank after it is filled in, and see that everything is fully and correctly completed, and the seals affixed, and that back of application, when folded, is filled in.
4th. Pay out no money on this application until approved in the Pension Department and returned to you as your authority to make payments.
5th. Return this application with your final settlement to the Pension Department.
6th. The widow or person holding her proper power-of-attorney receipts for this pension by signing name, as widow, opposite the name of husband on the earlier pay roll.
7th. Only the unpaid pension for the year is covered by this application. Take another application, on the white blank, to admit widow to rolls in her own right.

DISAPPROVED, for the reason that re-marriage forfeits rights of widow under service of first husband, unless first husband killed in line of duty as a soldier. Ordinary should have made this application on a certain pink blank provided for use in such cases, but the facts shown in this application compel a disapproval anyway.

STATE OF GEORGIA,

Fulton County.

PERSONALLY appears B. J. McNeil of Fulton county, State of Georgia, who, being duly sworn, says on oath that he is a bona fide citizen and resident of said State, and has been such continuously since the day of 1870; that he enlisted in the military service of the Confederate States (or of the State of) during the war between the States, and served as a Corporal in Company D, of 4th Regiment of Georgia Volunteers Doles's Brigade; that whilst engaged in such military service, at the battle of Chancellorsville in the State of Virginia, on the 10th day of May 1863, he was wounded as follows: by a minnie ball which entered the left leg about four inches above the ankle and came out below the ankle joint, going through that joint, taking out one of the bones (the smaller) for four inches and fracturing the other; said leg is substantially and essentially useless, said injury being such as to require the constant use of crutches; the ankle joint is permanently stiff and the foot turned down to the outside.

Deponent desires to participate in the benefits of the Act, approved October 24, 1887, and the Act amendatory thereof, approved Dec. 24, 1888, and makes application for the allowance to which he is entitled for the year ending Oct. 26, 1889.

NOTE.—The physicians will state fully the extent of the wound, and then give facts to show the extent of the disability resulting therefrom.

ORDINARY.

NOTE.—The physicians will state fully the extent of the wound, and then give facts to show the extent of the disability resulting therefrom.

NOTES.

1. If an applicant has been wounded, the description of the wound should be carefully and fully set forth by applicant and physician, and followed by a plain statement of fact showing the extent of the disability. If applicant claims disability from disease contracted in the service, a full and carefully stated history of the disease should be given, tracing the disability by positive proofs to the service.

2. The law makes no allowance for an arm or leg, unless the arm or leg has been rendered substantially and essentially useless.

3. It will not answer to say that an arm is "substantially useless for ordinary pursuits of life, etc." There is no qualification to the clause of the Act in reference to the arm or leg, but the limb must for all purposes be "substantially and essentially useless."

4. If the application is for a wounded leg, it would seem to be a fair construction of the Act, and the words above quoted, to say that unless the injury is such as to require the constant use of crutch or stick, that the leg is not "substantially and essentially useless."

5. If application is for loss of fingers or toes the proofs must be made to show the number, and points where amputated.

6. If papers are returned for correction, and amendments are added to any of the affidavits, the amendments must be made under oath before an officer, and the proofs must show that the amendments have been duly sworn to.

7. Every application must be certified by the Ordinary of the county of the residence of the applicant. The certificate of any other will not be received in any case.

STATE OF GEORGIA,

I, W. L. Cochran Ordinary of said county, do certify that I am well acquainted with B. J. suffering two years with Chronic Diarhea & for the last year was not able to keep up on Marches & I was exempted from carrying gun and the Surgeon kept me filled with Morphine and gave his pass excusing me from all service I did not want to go to Hospital so stayed with my Command & when a Battle started I could always get a gun & went in all the Battle; a few times would ride in Ambulance on long march - I did not recover from this diarhea for 10 Years after going home and up to this day it sometimes returns for a few days - I have never applied before for a Pension because I did not need it, but I am now in my 83 Year and think I am entitled to it on the balance of my life - Kindly advise me if this statement is sufficient.

Dear Sir:- I have a letter from Mr. John McCoy of your City asking me to transfer his pension right from this County to Fulton County. I wrote him last Spring or Summer a letter showing that he had been drawing a pension from this County, but I suppose he has lost it. He is on the Indigent pension roll of this county and drew his pension through me last year. I am sorry that he is bothered about it. But I hope this will reach you in time for him to get his pension all right. I am having a time in the pension business just now.

Hope to see you when I come down next month.

COMMISSIONER OF PENSIONS

December 28th, 1932.

Judge Thomas H. Jeffries,
Ordinary, Fulton County,
Atlanta, Georgia.

Dear Judge:

IN RE: Application for pension for Mrs. Mary E. Magill, widow of Mr. James A. Magill:

I am compelled to disapprove this application, for the reason that the husband of the applicant is not accounted for as a Confederate soldier from November-December, 1864, until the end of the War, or April, 1865.

The official record of the husband shows that he enlisted March 1, 1862, and that he served until November-December, 1864. This shows much more than six months of actual service, which the law requires to have been performed.

It is suggested that some person, male or female, now in life, who had personal knowledge of the whereabouts of Mr. Magill during the last few months of the War, might supply an affidavit, accounting for him honorably during the period mentioned.

I trust the application can be successfully amended, and with kindest regards,

Yours very truly,

S M Ayers

IN THE MATTER OF W. C. MALONE, INVALID PENSION, ETC. } CHARGE OF DESERTION, ETC., BEFORE HON. J. W. LINDSEY, COMMISSIONER OF PENSIONS. FULTON COUNTY, GEORGIA.

STATE OF GEORGIA,
FULTON COUNTY.

In person appeared before me the undersigned, W. C. Malone, who on oath, says that he has this day read a charge which was preferred against him on September, 13, 1913, requiring him to furnish evidence at the office of the Pension Commissioner on the first day of October, 1913, why deponent should not be stricken from the Pension role for desertion, and deponent says that when this notice was issued, he was on a visit to his daughter at Grover, N. C., and did not return to Georgia until about the 18th day of January, 1914, and when he came back to his home in Georgia, he learned for the first time that his name had been stricken from the Pension role. If deponent had knew this charge was made against him he would have answered the charge, and would then have shown he was not a deserter. Now, in answer to said charge that he was a deserter, he says that he did not desert his Company or Command, but that he was captured near Winchester Va. by the Federals in September, 1864, and was carried back across the line to New Creek, West Va., and while in charge of the Federal authorities at this point he found opportunity to escape, and did escape from the Federal authorities and went out into the country and into the Mountains of West Va., and being a boy, and having no experience and no money, he had to do the best he could to get a living, and he would hire to persons out in the Mountains by the day, and in that way, obtained a sufficient amount to keep him alive, but he was afraid to undertake to go back across the line, for fear he would be captured by the Federals authorities again and the Federal Soldiers were all through that country, and it was dangerous for him to undertake to cross the line and he managed to get enough to live upon, by staying back in these Mountains and working, and part of the time loading lumber on a farm for one man who was running a sawmill, and the other portion of the time doing different kinds of work, but finally before he could cross back across the line, the war ended, and having no work, and being in that country, without money, and without friends, and about the first of December, 1865, he had an opportunity to get a position on the railroad and hired to work for the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, and only worked for them about five or six days, for soon after he commenced to work for said Railroad, being a breakman, he was thrown from the car and injured to such an extent that he was paralyzed, and when he recovered sufficiently to tell any person about his people, one, Miss Jollie agreed to write for deponent to his father, who then lived at Fairburn, Ga. and notified him of deponent's condition. She did notify deponent's father and deponent's father immediately went to where deponent had been hurt, and carried deponent back to his home and family, and deponent arrived at Fairburn in December, 1865, and deponent says he did not desert his Company or Command, and that the charge is not true, and deponent says that he had no knowledge that this charge had been brought against him until in January, 1914. Deponent has lived in Georgia since the war closed, that is, since he was brought home in December, 1865, and has never recovered from his condition, to-wit, the paralysis.

Hon. John W. Clark,
Commissioner of Pensions,
State Capitol,
Atlanta, Georgia.

Dear Sir:

Mr. L. R. Manning, a resident of Ngan, Georgia, eighty-seven years of age, has requested that I write you concerning a pension.

Mr. Manning tells me that he served in the Confederate Army under Captain J. F. Albert, Company E, 56th Georgia Regiment.

Mr. Manning tells me that at one time while Col. Lindsey was Pension Commissioner, he received a pension. This was several years past. For some reason, his pension was stopped. The only reason he can give for cancellation of his pension, was due to the fact that one of the witnesses who made an affidavit for him, certifying that he was actually in the Confederate Army, was found to be a deserter.

Mr. Manning tells me that he served in the Confederate Army; was never court-martialed; was taken prisoner at Vicksburg, and at the end of the War, was exchanged and returned to his home.

I will thank you to investigate this claim, and kindly let me know if it will be possible for this applicant to again receive the benefits of a pension. He is very aged and is in great need of assistance.

Yours very truly,

STATE OF GEORGIA,

COUNTY OF FULTON.

Personally appeared before the undersigned authority, Lodrick R. Manning, who after being duly sworn deposes and says that he was born in Cherokee County, Georgia, on January 27th, 1840, and that he has resided in the State of Georgia all of his life.

Deponent further deposes and says that during the war between the States he first enlisd in the Confederate Army for a period of six months, in Company B, 4 State Troops, 2nd Brigade, October 25th, 1861, and that he was mustered out at the expiration of his enlistment on April 24th, 1862, at Savannah, Georgia. That after he was mustered out he returned to his home in Paulding County, Georgia, about twenty-five miles from Atlanta, Georgia.

Deponent further says that on May 13th, 1862, he re-enlisted under Capt. John F. Albert, in Atlanta, in Company E, 56th Georgia Inf., C. S. A. That his command remained in and about Atlanta for about two months, and then he was ordered to Chattanooga, Tenn., where they remained until the month of December, 1862. That while stationed at Chattanooga, Tenn., they were ordered and stationed at Knoxville, Tenn., and different locations in and around Chattanooga.

Deponent further says that his command returned to Atlanta, Georgia, on Christmas Eve night 1862. Upon their arrival in Atlanta, Captain Albert gave a number of furloughs for a period of twenty-four hours, to various members of his Company. But deponent says that he and about twenty-five other members of his Company were given transportation to Newnan, Georgia, and ordered by their Captain to strike a camp there and that he would join them shortly. That they remained in camp at a little station near Newnan, Georgia, for three or four days, and then marched on to a little town beyond Opelika, Alabama. Shortly thereafter, they were joined by their Captain and the other members of his Company, and all remained there for about one week. That they then moved on to Jackson, Mississippi.

Deponent further says that they remained in Jackson, Mississippi, for about one month and were then ordered to Vicksburg, Mississippi. After being engaged in battle with the enemy in, around and about Vicksbugg, Mississippi, for a period of fifty days, his command was surrendered on July 4th, 1863, and shortly thereafter they were paroled. That because of this surrender, General Pemberton, their commanding General, was afterwards Court Martialed in the State of Alabama.

Deponent further says that they then marched by foot for more than two hundred miles, by Jackson, Mississippi, towards Atlanta, Georgia, and finally arrived in Atlanta during the early part of August, 1863. That they were issued furloughs upon their arrival in Atlanta, for twenty or thirty days, and returned to their homes.

Deponent further says that when he returned to his home he became ill, and promptly notified his Captain that he would be unable to return to his command; that he was being treated by Dr. Brock, and that just as soon as he had enough strength he would report back for duty. Deponent says that Captain Albert answered his letters and told him it was all right, and for him to remain at home until he was fully recovered, and then to report back for duty.

Deponent further says that he was ill and unable to perform any work, and under the care of a Doctor for almost two years after arriving home; that Dr. Brock ordered him to remain at his home; that he was practically a wreck; that when he recovered so that he was able to report back to his command, he was ordered to report to General Wofford at Atlanta, Georgia, and some time about Christmas, 1864, he reported to his new command near Cartersville, Georgia. Shortly after they had assembled under Captain Jeff Hardridge, near Cartersville, General Lee had surrendered, and his Company was disbanded. That he never received and discharge, but all were merely disbanded and directed to return to their homes.

Deponent further says that his sufferings resulting from the activities in and about Vicksburg, Mississippi, were very severe. That frequently he went for periods of three days without food, and that he seldom ever slept, and that the hardships were so great his health was impaired, and he was practically a wreck when he reached Atlanta.

Deponent further says that he was in the service of the Confederate Army every day he was physically able to serve, during the War; that he was never criticised or reprimanded; that he was never court martialed, and never accused of shirking any duty.

Deponent further says that he is now so feeble due to his advanced age, he is unable to perform any physical labor, or to earn his own livelihood; that he will be 87 years of age in January, 1927.

Deponent further says that he has never been sued by any one; that he has never been in trouble of any kind; that he has never been accused of any improper conduct; that he has always tried to live an upright, honorable life, and throughout the War his service was never questioned, much less his loyalty to the South. That on one occasion, after he had been surrendered at Vicksburg, Mississippi, he refused to partake of food offered him by the Union Forces, although he was half starved at the time.

Deponent further says that he was never accused of deserting, and if he had been, or was actually a deserter, he would now starve before asking the State of Georgia to allow him a Pension. But as he did serve as much as he was able to, and as much as any other man did under similar circumstances, and as he is now feeble and in great need of the benefits provided under the Pension laws of the State of Georgia, he asks that this benefit be extended to him.

Deponent further deposes and says that he does not know of any person that can testify of his being in the Confederate Army, at the present time; that he has searched for a number of his comrades, but those that were with him have all died. But deponent says that the facts stated in this affidavit are true, and give a complete history of his service in the Army of the Confederate State of America.
