" Sent for concurrence.

Ordered, That Mr. Conwell return the foregoing resolution, concurred in by the Council, and deliver to the House of Assembly the following answer from the Council to their verbal message of this day, viz :

Gentlemen :

The Council will be ready to receive your honorable House, according to your proposal, in the Council Room, at five o'clock this afternoon.

Mr. Conwell now reported the delivery of the foregoing resolution and message to the House of Assembly, according to order.

Previous to the meeting of the General Assembly in the Council Chamber, agreeable to the order of the day, Mr. Dickinson arose and took his leave of Council, in consequence of his appointment to the office of President, in the following words, viz :

“Mr. Speaker : I am now to take my leave of you and the “other gentlemen of the Council, as a member of this body ;
“but, before I go, I beg permission to return my thanks to you
“and them, for the very attentive and respectful treatment I “have received, while I have had a seat here.

“You, gentlemen, are witnesses, with how much reluctance I “have been separated from you. I expected, intended, and “should have been perfectly contented, to have continued among
“you, if such had been the pleasure of the General Assembly ;
“but, in whatever station I serve the State, or wherever I may “be, I desire you all, gentlemen, to be assured, that I ever “shall retain a grateful and affectionate remembrance of your “behavior towards me, and I pray Heaven to bless every one of “you, in your public and private capacities.”

The House of Assembly met the Council in the Council Chamber, agreeable to the order of the day, to receive the answer of John Dickinson, Esquire, as to his acceptance of the office of President of this State, to which he had been elected. Whereupon Mr. Dickinson arose and addressed the General Assembly on the subject of his appointment to the said office in the following pathetic speech, viz :

"Gentlemen of the General Assembly:

"I thank you for the honour you have conferred upon me, by electing me President of this State. The post, itself, I do not think so great an honour, as the manner in which you have bestowed it. That conveys a proof of your esteem, which I feel to be very valuable and powerful. I give up my inclination for a retired life, to which I am called by so many and such weighty considerations, to your pleasure.

"One apprehension I cannot dismiss, that I shall not be able to fill the station to which I am appointed, so advantageously as I wish, or as you may perhaps expect. I will try to compensate for deficiencies in other respects, by my integrity, attachment to the common cause, and the love of my country, to which shall be added all the application my health will bear; yet still, I must request your favorable interpretation of my conduct, and rely, in a great measure, for success on your support.

"Any mistakes I may commit will be of my judgment, never of my intention, and I confide in the candour of my countrymen, that circumstances, unavoidable in the present arduous contest, will not be imputed to errors in administration.

"What laws, now in force, are to be altered or repealed, and what new ones are to be made, it will be your business, gentlemen, to determine. It will be mine to see those which the wisdom of the Legislature approves effectually carried into execution.

"If, in my attempts to discharge this complicated duty, any part of it escapes my attention, I ask, and shall at all times gratefully receive your advice or information.

"As it does not appear to me inconsistent with this duty, so it will be a pleasing employment to consult the ease of the good people of the State, as far as can be done without weakening our exertions in maintaining this just and necessary war, which men of sense and virtue cannot desire.

"May a happy harmony, in sentiment and measures, so beneficial to society, always prevail among us, or, if there must be division, let it only be between those who generously contend for the freedom, independence and prosperity of their country, and such as weakly wish for a dangerous and dishonorable sub“mission to enemies so infatuated as to hate where they ought “to admire, and to provoke their own and pursue the ruin of “these States, though nature and policy point out that we should “be blessings one to the other.

“Above all things, gentlemen, let us seriously endeavor to re“commend ourselves and our cause to the adorable Providence
“that has so graciously conducted us thus far, through a wilder“ness of difficulties, and made, as it were, the sea to give way
“before us; and therefore let us more and more promote a spirit
“of benevolence, equity and liberality, and heartily join together
“in discouraging every kind of vice and immorality, being as“sured that ‘Righteousness exalteth a nation, but Sin is a re“proach to any people.’ ”

On motion,

Resolved unanimously, That a certificate of the appointment of John Dickinson, Esquire, to the office of President of this State, signed by the Speakers of the two Houses, and sealed with the Great Seal of the State, be made out and delivered to Mr. President.

On motion,

Resolved, That the Speaker of the Council be authorized to administer as well the qualification of allegiance and declaration of faith, prescribed by the twenty-second article of the Constitution of this State, to the Honorable John Dickinson, Esquire, as the following oath of office, to wit :

“cording to the best of my abilities and judgment, execute the “office of President of the Delaware State agreeable to the Con-
“stitution and Laws thereof.”

Then the General Assembly proceeded to the nomination of persons to be balloted for to supply two vacant ensigncies in the Delaware Regiment, when two persons were named for the consideration of the General Assembly.

Whereupon the General Assembly, there being no more than two persons nominated to fill the said vacancies, proceeded to the ballot, and it appeared that John Vaughn and John Platt were declared duly elected to fill the said vacancies.

Who, being returned, reported the delivery thereof according to order.

The same member also delivered to the Chair a new map of the western parts of Virginia, Pennsylvania, Maryland, and North Carolina, with several reports and papers relative to the claims of Virginia, &c.

The same member also delivered to the Chair the supplement to the act entitled "An act for regulating and establishing fees," with an amendment proposed thereto by the House of Assembly.

On motion, by order,

The President's Message, and its inclosures, were severally read, and the said message is in these words, viz :

"Gentlemen of the General Assembly :

"The Secretary will lay before you several acts of Congress, dated October the 30th, November the 2d, 12th, and 23d, December the 4th, 10th, 11th, and 17th, and January the 2d, with letters from the President of that honorable body, and the Financier, relative to the subject of those acts.

"Some of these are of so important a nature, that our utmost exertions to comply with the requisitions founded upon them will be the best measures we can possibly pursue to attain and secure the blessings for which we are contending.

"The successes of the last campaign, obtained, under the favour of Divine Providence, by the distinguished abilities of the Commander-in-Chief, the generous aid of the monarch who does honour to the exalted station he holds, the gallantry and good conduct of his troops, and of the American officers and soldiers, in every scene of action—the unparalleled harmony between the combined forces, promising all the fruits of a perfect and permanent amity, the militia rivaling veterans in bravery

“and discipline—our recovery from the distresses of a depreciated currency—the resources open to our view—the vigorous and economical administration taking place in our finances—the enterprising and public spirit of the mercantile part of the community, giving motion to so many springs in the system of government—the unanimity of the people, in asserting and defending their independence, are circumstances of such moment as to present a prospect of the most prosperous events, if the opportunities they offer are seized with decision and improved with wisdom.

“They are, however, but steps in our progress to political happiness, and by looking back too earnestly upon them, we may yet forfeit the inestimable prize we wish to crown our labours with at the conclusion of the course.

“In a contest so deeply interesting to us and our posterity, we ought to think nothing done while anything remains to be done. Our conduct should be regulated by the temper, ability, and even the errors of our enemies. Confiding in their wealth and strength, animated by the remembrance of former victories, and irritated by a resistance subverting the foundations laid by their wise ancestors, for more than Roman grandeur, they discover a fixed resolution to persist, in defiance of every difficulty and danger, in their attempts to recover their immense losses, aggravated, as they must be, by a consciousness of their own imprudence. Thus stimulated they dare a complication of wars, face their foes on every side, and combat in every quarter of the Globe; demonstrating the prodigious supplies of hostility accumulated by a great and long established commercial power, exhibiting a memorable instance of the destructive diligence and obdurate perseverance excited by the rage of ambition.

“If all this profusion of blood and treasure cannot obtain the principally desired and dreadful end of subjugating these States, we should remember it has been declared, in a manifesto published by the commissioners appointed under the Great Seal of Britain, and of which no disapprobation could be obtained from either House of Parliament, a secondary end may be answered—that of rendering, by the EXTREMES of war and desolation, our connection with France of as LITTLE AVAIL to her as POSSIBLE.

“How far this avowed principle has heretofore influenced the military operations on this Continent, it is needless to say : how far it is to influence the future, let the past determine ; but whatever our sufferings have been, it is worthy of consideration, whether part of them may not be imputed to our mistakes.

“We, knowing that a vast majority of the inhabitants of these States will, at every hazard, maintain their independence, now indispensably necessary for supporting their honour and happiness, and desire no peace but upon this ground, and that not one in an hundred would risk life or property for reconciliation on any other terms, have relied too much on this solid mass of opposition. Relaxation ensued, and has been followed by its natural consequences. Happily for us, indeed, virtue has frequently paid the arrears of prudence.

“On the other hand, our enemies, viewing the same object through the deceiving mediums of passion and prejudice, believe that the thinness of our battalions, and the dilatoriness of our supplies, are, in a great degree, occasioned by the disaffection of large numbers to our cause. This error produces another, and leads them to expect a dissolution of public credit, from dissatisfaction at the burthens imposed, and a flattering comparison between their funds, supposed by them to be almost inexhaustible, and the scantiness of our revenues.

“Inattentive to the smallness of the debt-we have contracted during the war, and the heavy load it has laid upon them, they seem not to advert to the difference of effects such national incumbrances must produce in a country prospering by manufactures, and another that little depends on such employments ; and while an increase of our burthens only adds to the odium against the original unprovoked authors of them, they will not duly estimate the calm and steady resentment of injured and insulted innocence, and never reflect how much of their property they cheerfully spare, who are ready to part with the whole, for preserving their freedom.

“Another error of our enemies, if they really believe it, or an artful insinuation, if they do not, deserves notice, as their disguised emissaries endeavor to disseminate it among us. They suppose, or surmise, that such a cordial friendship can never be formed between us and the subjects of our ally, as with them“selves, because of the dissimilarity of government, laws, manners, customs, religion and language. There was a time when hereditary habits of thinking would easily have admitted this doctrine. It is past. The hard-hearted policy of Great Britain, and the just and wise magnanimity of France, have restored to us the impartial exercise of our judgment; and stating the case of a connection between us and each of those kingdoms, the very line of distinction, that has been drawn, will remove apprehensions with respect to the latter that must exist as reasonable for want of it, and on account of the late separation, as peculiarly forcible against the former. Mutual interests, liberal sentiments, and fair dealing, are better promoters of concord between nations than resemblances that may prompt and cause deceptions, and which we feel to have given edge and extension to the fury of those, who now, with preposterous ingenuity, urge them as sources of affection.

“If America now rises to a full display of her temper and ability, correspondent to the desires and efforts of our illustrious ally, she will dispel the errors that have been so fertile of evil, and may, in a short time, realize the proposed reward of her toils, not otherwise perhaps to be obtained but by a tedious struggle, great expense, and renewed losses.

“When such a measure is recommended by the Council that presides over the common interests of the Union, and whose comprehensive survey of affairs must certainly have suggested to them cogent reasons for recommending it in the manner they have done, I am perfectly convinced, from my knowledge of your zeal, that every possible exertion will be made on your part. Permit me only to add, that I cannot but ardently wish this State may have the merit of being distinguished by the earliest punctuality of compliance.

“Gentlemen—The Secretary will also present to you two letters from the Commander-in-Chief to me, dated the 3d and 15th of December, concerning the establishment of a temporary hospital, at Wilmington, for sick soldiers returning from Virginia, with several papers relative to that business.

“Humanity, and a just respect for his Excellency’s sentiments, induce me to pursue every measure within my power that appeared likely to save the lives and alleviate the distresses of the brave and good men whose relief was intended. I am “informed that these measures have been of use, and hope they “will meet your approbation.

“I have directed a letter from General Greene, of October the “24th, one from the Secretary of Foreign Affairs, of November
“the 12th, and another from the Board of War, of the 19th of “the same month, to be delivered to you, as they contain mat“ters that will require your consideration.

“Immediately after my going to Philadelphia, as I was well “acquainted with your solicitude to have the execution of your “late resolutions respecting the clothing of our regiment expe“dited, I applied to the Secretary of War. His letters, of the 3d
“and 4th of December, are now sent. By the information
“I received from him, and afterward from the Financier, I “thought it improper that any further steps should be taken “until your pleasure could be known on the new circumstances
“that have occurred; but there are deficiencies as to the clothing
“of the officers that deserve, and therefore, I am assured, will “engage your early and effectual attention. I have desired the “Clothier to lay his accounts before you.

“The Legislature has not yet acted upon a resolution of Con“gress dated the thirteenth of last June, respecting the officers
“of the Hospital and Medical Department.

“The greatest dispatch was made in getting the schooner be“longing to the State ready, in pursuance of your directions.
“She sailed on the 20th day of November, and protected our “trade to advantage, until she was driven into port by a vessel
“from New York, of superior force. I have reason to believe “that there will be a coopération in Pennsylvania, next spring,
“with a similar measure. If it is not disagreeable to you, I will “endeavour to procure the concurrence of the State of New Jer“sey.

“The recruiting service has been begun, and promises the “happiest success. The gentleman appointed to superintend it
“will soon report his proceedings.

“On the 20th of November, I wrote to all the Receivers of “Supplies, desiring them to make returns of the supplies deliv“ered, mentioning the articles, quantities, condition, and dis“tances from landings. I have had no answer but from the “Receiver for New Castle County.

“As we shall be charged with an interest on the deficiencies of those supplies, the collection of them should be enforced, or else, they should be changed into taxes, in specie, and I should be glad if the Legislature would consider whether this is not the most eligible mode. There are other deficiencies of taxes that require a like adjustment.

“I have the pleasure of informing you, that our quota of the Continental Bills, except a very inconsiderable balance, is transmitted to the Treasurer of the United States.

“The supplies that you so prudently ordered to be provided at the post of Christiana Bridge, for the army on its return from York, have been furnished at a less expense than was expected, as appears by the account of the Commissioners. It is with particular satisfaction I can say that the service has been performed in a manner very acceptable to the troops, and reputable to the State.

“Gentlemen—As delegates in Congress are now to be appointed, and a representation cannot consist of less than two, an addition to the usual number appears to be necessary. Many questions of the first magnitude will very shortly be agitated in that assembly. The interest and dignity of the State are concerned in its regular representation. It is to be observed, that this is a very proper time to give instruction, to those who may be appointed, to use the strictest diligence in procuring the claims of boundaries to be immediatly settled upon just principles.

“I esteemed it my duty to obtain all the information I could on this momentous business, and the Secretary will deliver some important documents and papers on that head, as also on the right to the islands in the Delaware.

“The Militia laws should be explained, amended, and reduced into one act. The public welfare requires that this mode of defence should be put upon a more respectable footing.

“I beg leave, also, to recommend the passing of laws for more effectually preventing insults to the State, by taking vessels out of its harbors; for establishing a Court of Admiralty and defining its jurisdiction; for establishing a Naval Office; for regulating trade and navigation; for establishing one Judge of "the Supreme Court and of Oyer and Terminer, when he alone attends to do any judicial act except the trying of causes, and for the award of tales de circumstantibus in such manner that the administration of justice may not be delayed ; for the revival of proceedings in the Court of Oyer and Terminer for Sussex County ; and for better securing and escorting prisoners of war and deserters, upon which occasions a contract for the rations that may be necessary appears to be the cheapest method of providing them.

Mr. Duff, a member of Assembly, was admitted and delivered to the Chair a message from the President to the General Assembly, of the 28th ultimo.

The same member also delivered to the Chair certain resolutions of the House of Assembly for accelerating the recruiting service, together with certain papers and a letter from Captain James Moore relative to that service.

Mr. Bassett, a member of Assembly, was admitted and delivered to the Chair a bill to remedy the defects that have arisen in the execution of an act of Assembly entitled "An act for embodying a number of the Militia of this State for the purpose of reinforcing the Army of the United States," together with the report of the committee of the House of Assembly on the act for embodying a number of the Militia, &c.

On motion, by order,

The President's message was read the first time, and is as follows, viz :

"Gentlemen of the General Assembly :

"My duty obliges me to represent to you, that part of the ordinance of Congress, dated the fourth day of December last, concerning captures, is likely to prove particularly and extremely detrimental to this State. Upon recaptures not made until the expiration of twenty-four hours after the capture, there is to be no restitution of any part. This regulation was adopted by Congress, I believe, for the purpose of conforming therein to the practice of other nations. So far it may be proper. But I apprehend there ought to be a distinction made between captures in common cases, and captures of vessels employed in the coast trade, for the sole purpose of carrying the produce of the country to market within the country, and always navigating between lands on each side, without ever passing into the open sea. The capture of such vessels is almost always made within cannon shot of the shore, frequently within the body of a county. They generally continue in or near the places where they are taken for upwards of twenty-four hours, and, in every instance that has come to my knowledge, the recapture has been made by citizens of some of the United States. I therefore think, that with strict propriety, such captures should be put upon the same footing with recaptures of property originally captured on land, which is to be restored to the former owner upon payment of a reasonable salvage, not exceeding one-fourth of the value ; no regard being had to the time of possession by the enemy.

"If the present regulation continues in force, the damage to this State must be exceedingly great, if not irretrievable, during the war. We have but very few shallops left, and the difficulty of procuring more is well known. If the property of those that remain is to be divested in the manner above mentioned, it is highly probable that in a short time we shall not have a shallop belonging to any citizen of this State. Of consequence, we shall not be able to send our produce to market.

"If this matter appears in the same light to you that it does to me, I hope it will be judged advisable to instruct the Delegates of this State to use their utmost endeavors to obtain immediately an alteration of the ordinance in this particular.

"The law for prohibiting persons from trading with the enemy, requires many amendments. I am informed that sometimes vessels are loaded, and lie in harbor, or sail under such suspicious circumstances, as denote an intention of falling into the hands of the enemy by collusion. I sincerely wish the wisdom of the Legislature may devise the most effectual means for preventing or punishing such conduct, as also the practice of going to boats or vessels in the bay or river, and corresponding with the enemy, without legal authority.

"The Secretary will lay before you several letters, dated December the 24th and January the 3d and 10th, and a report of Captain Moore's proceedings in the recruiting service, with some observations on that subject.

"It does not appear that power has been expressly given to me to appoint a person in Mr. Montgomery's place on his resignation. I understand that great delay, in settling the accounts, has been occasioned by the distance at which the Commissioners reside from one another. I therefore beg leave to submit to your consideration, whether it may not be best, in filling up the vacancy, to appoint some person living nigh to Mr. McComb, as there will then be two Commissioners near the centre of the State.

"The Secretary will also lay before you a copy of the instructions to the commander of the State schooner, and his letter to me of the 14th of December. A former letter, therein referred to, never came to my hand. The diligence, activity, bravery, and good conduct of this worthy officer, deserve great praise.

"JOHN DICKINSON.

"Dover, January 28, 1782."

Mr. Latimer, a member of Assembly, was admitted and delivered to the Chair the act for more effectually punishing and discouraging offences committed in taking vessels out of the harbors of this State, together with a paper of amendments proposed thereto by the House of Assembly; which were read, considered and agreed to.

McLane's company to the Delaware Regiment, together with certain resolutions of the General Assembly, dated October 31, 1780, empowering the State Treasurer to purchase a sum of money, in specie, for the benefit of the officers of the Delaware Regiment who were made prisoners on Long Island, &c.; and also a certificate, under the hand and seal of General Washington, dated the 31st December, 1781, together with a memorial of Allen McLane, dated January 30, 1782, founded thereon.

On motion, by order, the foregoing bill, and the several foregoing papers accompanying the same and delivered therewith, were read the first time.

Mr. Cook now reported the delivery of the several papers committed to him, according to order.

Mr. Read, a member of Assembly, was admitted and delivered to the Chair the resolutions for accelerating the recruiting service, with the amendment proposed thereto by the Council acceded to by the House of Assembly.

The same member also delivered to the Chair the bill for establishing a Militia within this State, with the first amendments proposed thereto by the House of Assembly and a paper of additional amendments proposed to the said amendments.

Ordered that the said bill be engrossed.

Mr. Peery, a member of Assembly, was admitted and delivered to the Chair certain instructions to the Delegates of this State in Congress.

On motion, by order, the foregoing instructions were read the first time.

TUESDAY, A. M., February 5, 1782.

The Council met. Present the same members as on yesterday.

On motion, by order,

The resolutions for accelerating the recruiting service, were read, as amended, concurred in, and are as follows, viz :

"The committee to whom was referred Capt. James Moore's letter respecting the recruiting service, addressed to the President and by him laid before the Assembly, report it as their opinion that resolutions of the following import be added to those passed the 13th of November last for recruiting the Delaware Regiment :

"1st. That it be recommended to the President or Commander-in-Chief of this State to appoint one fit person in each County of this State to muster the men enlisted to serve as soldiers in the Delaware Regiment under the regulations prescribed in the resolutions of the said 13th of November last.

"2d. That Capt. James Moore be allowed to retain three shillings per diem in lieu of his rations, out of the monies which may come into his hands for the recruiting service, so long as he shall be employed therein.

"3d. That Captain Moore, with the approbation of the President, be authorized to issue orders for rations to such of the wives of sergeants and old soldiers of the Delaware Regiment as are within this State, in want of such support, until the General Assembly shall take further order therein.

"further sums of money as he shall judge necessary, from time
"to time, for the said recruiting business, not exceeding the ad"ditional sum of nine hundred pounds.

"Sussex County, be authorized to pay unto Capt. Moore, upon the "orders of the President, such sums of specie money, as are or "may be come to their hands, respectively, as recruiting officers
"for those two counties, under the act of Assembly entitled 'An "act to recruit the Regiment of this State now in the service

"of.

"8th. That Capt. Moore be accountable to the General As"sembly for all such sums of money as shall come into his

"the business aforesaid.

"9th. That it be recommended to the President to order

"under their command and march off such of the old soldiers,
"aforesaid, and the new levies, as may not be necessary to fur"ther the recruiting service, and to proceed with the utmost ex-
"pedition to the Regiment in the Southern Army, under Gen"eral Greene.

"10th. That in case of the death or other disability of the said Capt. James Moore, to superintend the recruiting service, and to perform other the duties prescribed to him, as well by the several foregoing resolutions as by the said resolves of the 13th of November last, the President or Commander-in-Chief of this State appoint some other fit person to the same service; and that every person or persons, so appointed, shall have and exercise all the powers and duties in the said resolutions respectively prescribed and given to the said Capt. James Moore.

"Sent for concurrence.

"SIMON KOLLOCK, Speaker."

On motion, by order,

The instructions to the Delegates of this State in Congress were read the second time, considered and concurred in, and follow in these words, viz :

"IN THE HOUSE OF ASSEMBLY,

"MONDAY, February 4th, 1782.

"Instructions from the General Assembly of the Delaware State to the Honorable Thomas McKean, Philemon Dickinson, Caesar Rodney, and Samuel Wharton, Esquires, Delegates from the said State to the Congress of the United States of America :

"Gentlemen :

"The affairs that will engage your attention as Delegates of this State in Congress are so various and complicated that it is impossible at this time to point out with precision the conduct you ought to observe in conducting them.

"We expect that you will form such agreements among yourselves, respecting your attendance, that this State will always be regularly represented in Congress, and we desire that you may, with the greatest diligence, strenuously promote all such measures as, upon mature deliberation, you shall judge most efficacious for maintaining and securing the freedom, independence and happiness of the United States in general, and of this State in particular.

"You will perceive by the resolutions of the Legislative Coun“cil, and of the House of Assembly, dated the 23d and 28th of “January, 1779, of which a copy is herewith transmitted to you,

“the objections made by this State to some articles of the Con“federation. They appear to us to be well founded, and we “wish you would act conformably to them, and endeavor to pro“cure an amendment of the Confederation in those particulars;
“but we especially require that you will employ your most in“dustrious exertions for obtaining, without any delay whatever,
“a final settlement of the boundaries of those States whose “claims are immoderate, and of the rights of the United States “on the principles of the resolutions, an adherence to which is “so plainly consistent with justice and so indispensably essential
“to the peace and welfare of the Union. This business we judge
“to be of the first magnitude, as deeply interesting to us and our “posterity, and for very strong reasons we are clearly of opinion
“that no time should be lost in bringing it to a conclusion.

“It is probable that the property of the islands in the Dela“ware may be considered as connected with this subject. We “desire that you will attend also to this point, and that you will “take care that due regard be had therein to the rights of this “State.

“Part of the ordinance of Congress, dated the 4th day of De“cember last, concerning captures, is likely to prove extremely
“and particularly detrimental to this State, without any necessity
“urging our being subjected to such hardships. Upon recap-“tures, not made until the expiration of twenty-four hours after “the capture, there is to be no restitution of any part. This “regulation was adopted by Congress, we understand, for the “purpose of conforming to the practice of other nations. So “far it may be proper; but we apprehend there ought to be “a distinction made between captures in common cases and “captures of vessels employed in the inland trade for the sole “purpose of carrying the produce of the country to markets
“within the country and always navigating between and in sight
“of lands on each side without ever passing into the open sea.
“The capture of such vessels is almost always made within can“non shot of the shore infra præsidia of the State, frequently “within the body of a county; they generally continue in or “near the places where they are taken for upwards of twenty-“four hours after, and in every instance that has come to
“to our knowledge the recapture has been made by citizens of

“some of the United States. We therefore think, that with the strictest propriety such recaptures should be put upon the same footing with recaptures of property originally captured upon land, which, by the same ordinance, is to be returned to the former owner upon payment of a reasonable salvage, not exceeding one-fourth part of the value, no regard being had to the time of possession by the enemy. If the present regulation continues in force, the damage to this State must be exceedingly great, if not irretrievable, during the war. We have but very few shallops left, and the difficulty of procuring more is too well known. If the property of those that remain is to be divested in the manner before mentioned, it is highly probable that in a short time there will not be a vessel belonging to an inhabitant of this State. Of consequence, we shall not be able to send our produce to market, and it then becomes utterly impossible for us to furnish our quota of supplies, which, indeed, is nearly the case already, from the almost continual interruption of our commerce by armed vessels from New York. For these reasons we earnestly desire that you will use all the means in your power to obtain immediately an alteration of the ordinance in this particular.

“Lastly, we expect and desire, that if any particular doubts or difficulties present themselves to your minds on questions of great moment, agitated, or likely to be soon agitated, in Congress, you will communicate them fully to the President of this State, that he may be enabled to judge of the expediency of convening the Legislature and taking their sense thereon for your further direction.

“Signed by order of the House of Assembly,

“SIMON KOLLOCK, Speaker.

“Sent for concurrence.”

The bill for ascertaining the depreciation of the pay accounts of divers persons in the several departments of the army who are credited to this State as part of the quota of the land forces thereof, and for other purposes, was read the second time, and an amendment is proposed, agreed to, and ordered to be transcribed.

"VERBAL MESSAGE FROM THE ASSEMBLY TO THE COUNCIL.

"Gentlemen :

"The House of Assembly propose to your honorable body
 "that a conference of both Houses be held, in the Council

The President's Message was read, and is in the following words, viz :

"Gentlemen of the General Assembly :

"I have lately received from a committee of Congress some "important intelligence of such a nature that I do not think my-

Then the two Houses separated, and the Council adjourned till to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock.

SATURDAY, A. M., June 15, 1782.

The Council met. Present the same members as on yesterday, except Mr. Polk.

Mr. Vandyke, a member of the House of Assembly, attending, was admitted and delivered to the Chair a message from his Excellency, the President, to the General Assembly, dated June 12, 1782, accompanied with divers acts of Congress, letters, and other papers, therein referred to.

On motion, by order, the foregoing message and papers were severally read, and the said message is in these words, viz :

"Gentlemen of the General Assembly :

*"His most Christian majesty has given so many decisive
"proofs of his friendship for the United States, and his subjects*

“have manifested such a sincere esteem for us, that I am certain you will learn, with all the pleasure of a grateful affection, that the wishes of our beloved ally, and of France, have been gratified by the birth of a dauphin.

“Your joy on this occasion must be enlivened by the honest warmth which your hearts will feel, by expressing, in the present situation of affairs, an inviolable adherence to the engagements of your alliance and a just veneration for national faith.

“The late remarkable change in the British ministry, uniting a great number of active, able and popular men in the same administration, should in prudence add to the firmness and vigor of our councils and proceedings.

“Our enemies ought to believe that our sole aim in this just and necessary war is a safe and honorable peace; and that such a peace, in our unalterable determination, includes independence and concert with our ally.

“There is, however, too much reason to be persuaded that the present ministers mean no more than to alter their plan of conducting the war, excite jealousies, disgusts and divisions between the powers concerned in it, and while they afford us a temporizing relief from some of its distresses, bend their force against our friends, and at last return to the accomplishment of the original object—our destruction.

“In this manner, it seems, all the blessings that might be derived from the present opportunity are to be sacrificed to the phantoms of ambition and revenge.

“We may, by this renewed persecution, be convinced of these important truths—that our past calamities ought not to be imputed to the late ministers, but that every party in the kingdom is hostile, and the people in general filled with an inveterate enmity against us.

“Thus, every pretension to the esteem or confidence of America being removed, we shall receive additional evidence, from the extended and deep fixed resentments of Great Britain, that France is our natural ally, and our mutual welfare so intimately connected, that whatever injures one nation must, in its consequences, necessarily affect the other.

“Gentlemen—The Secretary will lay before you acts of Congress dated January 8th and 25th, February the 26th, and May the 27th—letters from the Commander-in-Chief, of December the 19th, January the 22d, March the 5th and May 4th—from the Financier, of January the 3d and 8th, February the 9th, March the 9th, April the 5th and May 9th—from the Secretary of War, of April the 9th—from the Secretary for Foreign Affairs, of February the 18th and 19th, and May the 14th—one from General Greene, of February the 1st, and another from General Smallwood, of the 28th of the same month.

“From the information contained in several of these letters, you will perceive the indispensable obligation imposed upon us of drawing forth, from the resources of the State, early and adequate supplies, in compliance with the requisitions made, while justice and policy, as well as the arts and exertions of our enemies, all combine to demonstrate that every measure ought immediately to be adopted that can be devised for the support of public credit. In order to lay a firm foundation for future operations, I hope you will expedite the adjustment of all public accounts, and empower and authorize the United States, in Congress assembled, to make a final settlement of the proportions to be borne by each respective State of the general expenses of the war, from its commencement to the beginning of this year.

“I sincerely share with you in the high pleasure you must receive from the truly honorable testimony given by that distinguished commander, General Greene, to the uniform good conduct, singular merit, and important services of the officers and soldiers of our line.

“A reinforcement is in readiness to march to the southward, as will appear from the report which I have desired Captain Moore to make.

“The Secretary will communicate to you several papers concerning the sale of the vessel lately belonging to the State, and the building of another, together with some correspondencies relating to the protection of trade in the River and Bay.

“As I judged it would give you some satisfaction to see how the accounts of this State with the United States stand, in the "books of their Treasury, I have prepared a copy of them,

"which is herewith sent.

"Gentlemen—As an attention in rulers to the manners of "the people is so essential to the prosperity of a State, it is
"with great regret I find myself compelled, by a regard for my "duty, to represent to you that some further provision appears
"necessary for preventing those gross irregularities at places of "diversion, now become so frequent, by which the morals and
"circumstances of many individuals are injured, and the wisest
"and worthiest persons among us, whose minds are impressed
"with a solemn sense of the distresses in which our country is "involved, are deeply afflicted.

"As I presume you will not choose to make a long session at "this season, I will only beg leave to submit to your considera"tion whether it may not be advisable to appoint a committee for "the purpose of collecting, revising and amending the laws prior "to the Revolution, and preparing an appendix to contain those "that are obsolete, but under which the right to property has been "determined, and to shew when they were made, expired or
"were repealed, with such other observations as may be judged
"proper; so that the whole work, being hereafter subjected to
"the judgment and correction of the Legislature, and then ap-
"proved, might form a complete body of our laws to that period.

"JOHN DICKINSON."

Adjourned till 10 o'clock on Monday next.

VOTES AND PROCEEDINGS

OF THE

COUNCIL OF THE DELAWARE STATE.

REGULAR SESSION, OCTOBER, 1782.

The minutes of this session, which was held at Dover, commencing October 1st, and adjourned November 1st, until January 6th, 1783, are lost, but the following documents submitted, and resolutions, &c., passed, are preserved, to wit:

MESSAGE OF HIS EXCELLENCY, JOHN DICKINSON, PRESIDENT.

"Gentlemen of the General Assembly:

"I feel a very sincere pleasure in advising you, that their High
"Mightynesses the States General of the United Provinces have "acknowledged and received a Minister Plenipotentiary of the "United States in that quality, an event likely to be immediately
"succeeded by treaties of alliance and commerce greatly bene-
"ficial to both nations.

"The Secretary will lay before you letters from the President
"of Congress, of the 19th and 24th of June, and the 20th of "July—from the Commander in Chief, of the 28th of May—from
"the Financier, of the 9th, 29th and 30th of July, the 15th, 17th
"and 25th of August, the 12th and 20th of September, and the "5th of October—from the Secretary at War, of the 8th of July,
"the 9th of August, and the 15th of October—from the Secretary
"for Foreign Affairs, of the 2d of May, and the 12th and 15th of
"September—from Governor Clinton, of the 4th of August—

“from General Gist, of the 5th of June—and from the Commanding Officer of our Troops in the Southern Army, of the 8th of July, and the 10th of August.

“I beg leave to refer you, Gentlemen, to several Acts of Congress communicated in former Messages, to recommend them to your attention at the present Sessions, and to observe, that an early as well as a pointed compliance of the several Legislatures with the determinations of that National Council, is absolutely necessary for establishing a system of regularity and efficacy in the affairs and for maintaining the honour of the United States.

“You will perceive by a resolution of the House of Assembly and the Council of New Jersey, of the 24th of June, that commissioners are appointed for settling and establishing the line of jurisdiction between that State, Pennsylvania and this State. Commissioners are also appointed by the State of Pennsylvania; and such a measure seems proper to be taken on our part for settling the line of the jurisdiction in the Bay and River Delaware.

“Upon considering, after your last recess, some circumstances that had lately occurred, I judged it expedient to consult the Commander-in-Chief before I should give orders, in pursuance of your resolutions, for the march of the recruits and soldiers then in the State to the southward. In consequence of his answer, and of the second letter above mentioned from the Secretary at War, orders were issued for their march to Philadelphia, which have been executed, as will appear by Captain Moore's letter of the 7th of August.

“As it appeared to me my indispensable duty to endeavor that our militia should be placed on the most respectable footing, I have constantly and diligently applied my care to this great point. Returns have been required of the military stores, and of the arms both public and private fit for service, in each County. These are now presented to you; and from them you will observe, how necessary it is, that immediate provision should be made for procuring further supplies of these articles. It is much to be wished, that the General Assembly would also devise means for establishing an Artillery Company, with a competent number of field-pieces, in each County.

“I have lately reviewed every Regiment in the State, except the eighth, and have been generally pleased with the appearance and behavior of the officers and privates on this occasion, and particularly of Colonel Duff’s, Colonel Hall’s, Colonel Jones’s and Colonel Polk’s Regiments.

“An adjustment of all public accounts is a business of such moment that it ought to be made with dispatch, and published for the satisfaction of our constituents, and an officer of skill and integrity should be appointed to keep them in perfect order for the future, so that the General Assembly and Executive may easily and without loss of time know the state of our finances, and avoid errors and difficulties in transactions relating to them. The propriety and advantage of such a measure are too manifest to need any arguments for enforcing its adoption.

“Many of our titles to lands depend upon records in Pennsylvania. Transcripts from them should be obtained, and duly recorded in some of our offices. It may not be improper, that a committee should be empowered to inquire and report whether the records in general are safely and properly kept.

“The Laws require very considerable amendments to be made, for preventing substantial justice being defeated or delayed by unnecessary and injurious forms; for ascertaining with precision the Statutes prior to the Revolution that are to be regarded as parts of our jurisprudence; for securing the inestimable benefits of the writ of habeas corpus; and for fixing the trial by jury on such a solid basis as will guard as much as possible against its being shaken by the dreadful efforts of party rage—if that blind and destructive power, from which we are now so happily free, should in times to come attempt to pull down the pillars in our Courts, for supporting which the precious blood of our brave fellow citizens has been so nobly offered and liberally poured out. Regulations of this sort will be among the best inheritances we can leave to our posterity.

“Another amendment humanity compels me to propose, that persons manumitting healthy slaves, not advanced in years, should not be obliged to give security for their maintenance, and that slaves should not be sent upon sale or otherwise to places distant from their usual residence, by which means “affectionate and near relations are cruelly separated from one another, and the remainder of their lives extremely embittered. “The Legislatures of several neighbouring States, moved by a “deep sense of the divine favors to them in this contest for their “own freedom, and by an enlightened commiseration, have “lately passed laws for alleviating the afflictions of this helpless “and too often abused part of their fellow creatures. I entertain “the warmest hopes that the Legislature of this State will emulate the most generous and wise examples of this kind.

“JOHN DICKINSON.

“Dover, October 29, 1782.”

RESOLUTION IN RELATION TO A DAY OF GENERAL THANKSGIVING.

Resolved, That his Excellency the President be requested to appoint and proclaim that Thursday, the 28th day of November next, be observed throughout this State as a day of solemn thanksgiving for the purposes expressed in the proclamation of the United States in Congress assembled, of the 11th of October instant.

MESSAGE OF HIS EXCELLENCY, JOHN DICKINSON, PRESIDENT.

“Gentlemen of the General Assembly :

“The Secretary will present to you a letter from the Minister “of France, of the 14th, and another from Mr. Robert Morris, “of the 18th of this month.

“Such a recommendation, I doubt not, will be duly respected; “and it seems, from all circumstances which have come to my “knowledge, that policy and humanity may both be observed,

“by admitting the recent services of the offender as an atonement for his former misconduct.

“A barge of the enemy being lately cast on shore near Lewes-Town was seized, with her arms, tackle and apparel, and the crew were made prisoners by some of the inhabitants of that place and the neighborhood. Several young men, who were concerned in the seizure, have informed me, that if the State would be pleased to give up the public share of the prize to them, they would fit her out at their own expense as an armed vessel for assisting to protect the navigation of the Bay. It appeared to me a proposal deserving to be communicated to you. I have seen and examined the boat. She is of very little value, and I am persuaded cannot possibly be applied to any other use so properly, as in the desired encouragement of the men I have mentioned. A list of their names is enclosed.

“By a message of the 19th of last January I recommended the passing a law ‘For better securing and escorting prisoners of war and deserters;’ and I now think it my duty to repeat my application on that head. For want of due regulations, a very unreasonable share of public service is imposed on the Militia in some parts of Sussex County; and not unfrequently, after they have performed such service in a manner much to their credit, prisoners make their escape.

“James Millis, lately keeper of the goal in this town, last week discharged ten prisoners of war brought up from Lewes-Town and committed to his custody, under pretence that no provision was made for their support. Six of them were quickly retaken by the spirited and zealous activity of the Sheriff and some inhabitants of this County. Afterwards two of them escaped again. Similar instances have happened too often. If it be considered that every one of these prisoners, if detained for exchange, might have restored to his country, his family and friends, some worthy fellow citizen now languishing in captivity, I am sure, you, gentlemen, will feel the proper sentiments on circumstances so injurious to our unhappy countrymen, and so disreputable to the State.

“JOHN DICKINSON.

“Dover, October 30, 1782.”

The aforesaid two letters from the Minister of France and the Honorable Robert Morris, soliciting a pardon for Luke Shields, were also read, reciting that the said Luke Shields, formerly an inhabitant of Lewes-Town, having fled to the British and acting in the capacity of a pilot on board of one of their armed vessels, was captured by his most Christian majesty's frigate L' Aigle, and has rendered very essential services on board her; and recommending that such services be admitted as an atonement for his former misconduct, in adhering to the enemies of his country.

Resolved, That William Peery, Esq., be and is hereby appointed for the purpose aforesaid.

Resolved, That the General Assembly will defray the expense that may be incurred by the said William Peery in the discharge of the business aforesaid.

On motion, by order,

The President's Message of the 11th instant, and his letter to the Speaker of the Council, were severally read, and the said message is in these words, viz :

"Gentlemen of the General Assembly :

"Since the last recess of the General Assembly, I have been "elected President of the Supreme Executive Council of Penn"sylvania ; and the duties of that office requiring my residence

“there, I was prevented from removing to Wilmington, after I “had got my house in that place prepared, at a considerable “expense, for the reception of my family.

“I wrote immediately to the Honorable the Speaker of the “Legislative Council, requesting him to take the administration
 “upon him, according to the Constitution, and to the Secretary
 “to deliver to him the Great Seal.

“The General Assembly will, I hope, approve of my engag“ing in the employment that has been mentioned, in a sister and “neighbor State—the true interests of both being, by situation
 “and a variety of circumstances, so intimately connected—espe“cially when they consider how earnestly I entreated to be excus“ed from accepting the Presidency here—that I have faithfully
 “and to the best of my abilities served a year—and that I could “not avoid accepting the Presidency lately conferred upon me,
 “without involving myself in circumstances exceedingly disa“greeable.

“I now do myself the honour of waiting upon you, gentlemen,
 “to inform you of this event, and to acquaint you, that I am “ready to resign the dignity I hold in this Republic, in such “manner as you shall judge proper. But permit me to add that “my affection and gratitude to the State I never will resign but “with my life.

“My words are unable to do justice to my sentiments on this “occasion. I cannot but remember that I have transacted a “multiplicity of business with most of you for several years,
 “and in times of distress, and have never had the least personal “difference with any one of you. I cannot but remember the “politeness and kindness with which, in your public and private “capacities, you have constantly treated me.

“Be pleased, gentlemen, to receive the warmest thanks my “heart can feel for these instances of your goodness; and allow “me to trust that you will continue to me the share of your “esteem which has been and will always be so great a part of “my happiness.

“That Divine Providence may protect and bless you, gentle-
 “men, and that this State may flourish and abound with pros-“perities till time shall be no more, is my fervent prayer.

" Gentlemen of the General Assembly :

" I omitted mentioning in my last address to you that I have " advanced money and incurred debts to a considerable amount
" for the use of the State. I make no doubt but due care will " be taken that these shall be soon discharged.

" Dover, January 13th, 1783.                      JOHN DICKINSON."

On motion, by order,

The message from the Vice-President, of the same date, was read, and follows in these words, viz :

" Gentlemen of the General Assembly :

" In the absence of the President from the State, and upon
" his request, signified to me by a letter dated at Philadelphia,
" the 4th of November last, I assumed the administration of the " government, agreeable to the Constitution, a few days after " your adjournment of the last sessions, and have exercised the
" same during your late recess, with every endeavor to discharge
" the important trust thus devolved upon me, with diligence and
" fidelity.

" The trade of this State on the Bay and River Delaware, at " the time I entered upon the administration, evidently required
" every possible exertion for its protection, and the insufficiency
" of our funds prevented the equipment of the State schooner
" for that purpose. I therefore judged it most advisable to fit
" out the said vessel, if practicable, in concert with the State of " Pennsylvania, whose interests are equally affected by the ene-
" my. Accordingly, with the concurrence of several members
" of the Council and Assembly, on the 13th of November last,

"I issued instructions to Charles Pope, Esq., commander of the said schooner, to contract with the Marine Commissioner of Pennsylvania, for transferring to that State, by way of sale, a part of the said vessel, and generally to concur with them in adopting such measures as might be requisite for her speedy equipment for the protection of the trade. The Secretary will lay before you a duplicate of these instructions, and the correspondence between the said commissioners and Charles Pope, by which you will perceive that he has been unable to effectuate the measures recommended to him.

"This State having incurred a considerable debt in building and arming the said vessel, and our funds at this time being inadequate to her present equipment and regular maintenance, I beg leave to suggest it, as expedient, that application be made to the State of New Jersey to employ the said vessel jointly with this State for the protection of the trade of both, which is similarly circumstanced and equally exposed. If this measure is unattainable, or does not meet with the approbation of the General Assembly, I think it would redound to the interest of the State that she should be sold.

"I have directed the Secretary to lay before you the following letters—one from the Secretary for Foreign Affairs of the 23d of December last—one from the Assistant Secretary at War, of the 3d instant—and two from the Financier, of the 21st and 23d of October last.

"To the requisitions of Congress, inclosed in the letters from the Financier, I have no doubt but that your honors will pay that attention which their importance require; and I beg leave to recommend to you that a distinction and appropriation of the public taxes, which Congress have strongly urged for obvious and cogent reasons, be made.

"The Secretary will also lay before you divers letters and papers containing intelligence of a public nature, which I have received in the recess of the General Assembly.

"JOHN COOK, Vice-President.

"Dover, January 13, 1783."

On motion, by order,

The Vice-President's Message of the 17th instant was also read, and is as follows, viz :

"Gentlemen of the General Assembly:

"I last evening received intelligence from Capt. McKennan, commanding that part of the Delaware Regiment which have been doing duty in the Southern Army, that he is on his march to this State and may be expected by the twentieth instant. Lieutenant Hyatt has been sent forward with this information, and to assist in making preparation for the reception of those troops. As I am not informed from any public authority that they are destined for any service immediately, it will be necessary that provision and quarters should be had and made for them forthwith, and therefore I recommend this business to you. The Secretary will lay Capt. McKennan's letter before you, and should the General Assembly wish to be further informed of the numbers and conditions of the returning troops, Lieut. Hyatt will attend them. As the other part of the Delaware Regiment is quartered in the City of Philadelphia, I think it right to transmit the account of the advance of those under Capt. McKennan to the Secretary at War, or this State's Delegates in Congress, that I may certainly know whether quarters for the winter or only temporary ones ought to be provided for them in this State ; but of this measure I shall be glad to know the sense of the General Assembly.

"JOHN COOK, Vice-President.

"Dover, January 17th, 1783."

The Council met.

The Council met the House of Assembly, in the Assembly Room, and there, in General Assembly, proceeded to the election of a President for the State, and the members of both Houses, to wit: nine of the Council and twenty-one of the House of Assembly, then present, having prepared tickets with the name of the President to be appointed and put the same into a ballot-box, the Speakers of the two Houses, in the presence of the other members, examined the ballot-box, and it appeared that eighteen votes out of thirty were in favor of the Honorable Nicholas Vandyke, Esquire; whereupon the said Nicholas Vandyke, Esquire, is declared duly elected President of this State for the term of three years next ensuing, and until the sitting of the next General Assembly thereafter, and no longer, agreeable to the present Constitution or system of government.

The General Assembly then proceeded to the election of Delegates to represent this State in Congress for the ensuing year out of the persons put into nomination in the forenoon, and the ballots being examined, it appeared that there was a majority of votes in favor of Caesar Rodney, James Tilton, Eleazar McComb, and Gunning Bedford, Jr., Esquires; whereupon the said Caesar Rodney, James Tilton, Eleazar McComb, and Gunning Bedford, Jr., Esquires, are declared duly elected Delegates to represent this State in Congress for the ensuing year.

On motion, agreed that the two Houses now separate. Then the Council withdrew, and adjourned till 10 o'clock on Monday next.

MONDAY, P. M., Feb. 3, 1783.

The Council met. Present all the members, except Mr. Joshua Polk and Mr. Bassett.

On motion, by order,

The resolutions of the House of Assembly respecting the sale of the State schooner were read the first time.

By special order, the same were read the second time, and the first of the said resolutions was concurred in, which respected the propriety of the Vice-President's instructions to Colonel Charles Pope as to the sale of a part of the said schooner. The latter was disagreed to; and thereupon the Vice President's Message of the 13th instant, and the several papers relative to the same subject, and referred to in the said message, were also read; and the same being read, Mr. William Polk moved for leave to bring in a bill for fitting out or selling the said State schooner, which was granted; and thereupon a bill, entitled "An act for fitting out or selling the State schooner," was laid upon the table, and, by order, read the first time.

On motion, by order,

The petition of Isaac Short was read and referred to Messrs. Grantham and McDonough, to inquire into the state of the facts alleged therein and to report their opinion on the same.

On motion, by order,

The petition of James Abbott was read the second time and referred to the same committee.

On motion, by order,

The joint petition of George Abbott and Charles Williams was also read the second time and referred to the same committee.

On motion, the resolution of the General Assembly of this State, of the 12th February, 1781, appointing William Peery, Esq., to settle and state all the accounts between this State and the United States, and empowering him to call for such books and papers relating to the said accounts as might have come to the hands of any person in public office, and directing him to make his report to the General Assembly as soon thereafter as might be, returning therewith as many original vouchers as could be procured, or authentic copies, or other the best documents that might be obtained, was ordered to be read, and the same being read, and no report appearing to have been made thereon,

Resolved, That whereas, by the capture made by the enemy of the public papers in New Castle County, in the month of September, 1777, many of the original vouchers for supporting this State's account against the United States were then carried off, and the want of several of them only to be supplied by the minutes or memory of divers persons previous to that time engaged in the public transactions; and that whereas the vouchers of charge subsequent to that time are much dispersed and irregularly kept, that a Commissioner on the part of the United States having been appointed to make a settlement of all accounts between them and this State, and Mr. Peery authorized to lay the public accounts of this State against the United States before the said commissioner for liquidation and settlement, it is highly necessary that the General Assembly, previous to a final settlement of the said accounts, be informed in what state of readiness the same accounts are for such settlement; therefore

Resolved, That Mr. Peery be called upon to report his proceedings under the said resolution of the 12th of February, and that he return to the General Assembly an abstract or list of the several charges selected by him and to be made in this State's accounts against the United States, specifying generally the service and the time thereof, with the sum charged therefor, to the end that omissions, if any, may be discovered and supplied.

Resolved also, That a copy of the foregoing motion and resolutions be forthwith made and delivered to Mr. Peery.

Adjourned till to-morrow at 10 o'clock.

TUESDAY, A. M., Feb. 4, 1783.

The Council met. Present all the members, except Mr. Bassett and Mr. Joshua Polk.

Ordered, That Mr. Banning deliver to the House of Assembly the resolutions directing a report of the state of the accounts between this State and the United States.

Mr. Banning, being returned, reported the delivery thereof according to order.

On motion, by order,

The amendments proposed by the House of Assembly to the resolutions of the Council founded on the resolutions of Congress of the 30th October and 2d November, 1781, were read, considered and agreed to.

Ordered, That the said resolutions, as amended, be transcribed and sent to the House of Assembly for concurrence.

Mr. Gordon, a member of Assembly, was admitted and returned the resolutions directing a report of the state of the accounts between this State and the United States, with the concurrence of the House of Assembly thereto.

The Council now took into consideration the amendments proposed by the House of Assembly to the bill for preventing and punishing the counterfeiting of the common seal, &c., of the Bank of North America, and agreed that the bill thus amended should pass the House and be engrossed.

On motion, by order,

The Council now took into consideration the several amendments proposed by them and by the House of Assembly to the bill for raising £26,250, &c., and, upon the motion and question, "Shall the Council adhere to their first amendment by striking out the words [twenty-six thousand two hundred and fifty] and inserting instead thereof the words [thirty-nine thousand]?" the Council determined to adhere to their said amendment.

Mr. W. Polk required the yeas and nays on the said question to be entered on the minutes. They are as follows, viz :

For the question—Mr. Read, Mr. McDonough, Mr. Grantham, Mr. Collins.

Against the question—Mr. William Polk, Mr. Baning.

The question was carried.

Upon the motion and question, "Shall the Council adhere to their 11th, 12th and 14th amendments, for the changing the mode of the collection of the State tax, proposed by the said bill, by vesting the power of collection in one person in each county, he to be accountable in the Auditor's office by rendering his accounts there of the collections on the 20th of July and the 1st of November, and finally accounting there on the said 1st day of November, paying in the meantime to the State Treasurer, on the first days of June and October, the several proportions directed to be raised in each county, thereby changing the collection from the collectors of hundreds and their account and payment to the County Treasurer, and by him to the State Treasurer?" the Council determined to adhere to the said amendments.

And thereupon Mr. W. Polk required the yeas and nays on the same question to be entered on the minutes. They are as follows, viz :

For the question—Mr. Read, Mr. McDonough, Mr. Grantham, Mr. Collins.

Against the question—Mr. Wm. Polk, Mr. Baning.

The question was carried.

Thereupon the following message, stating the reasons of the Council's adherence to their said amendments, and rejecting those proposed by the House of Assembly, was drawn up, read, agreed to, and ordered to be transcribed, to wit :

Gentlemen :

The Tax Bill for the present year, with its respective amendments, hath been further considered by the Council, and upon mature deliberation they are still of opinion, that the sum of thirty-nine thousand pounds, as proposed in their first amendment, is a necessary one, to be raised for the uses expressed in the bill, to wit: to answer the two requisitions made by Congress of forty-four thousand eight hundred dollars, the payment of the sums due to the inhabitants of the State for supplies furnished for the Army of the United States, money borrowed on the credit of the State, and public services performed in, or on behalf of the State, and to be paid for by the State in the first instance, the interest on certificates given to the officers and soldiers of the Delaware Regiment, and the necessary and incidental expenses of the State within the year. The Council are satisfied that even this sum will be inadequate to these purposes, but, from the deficient manner in which the public accounts of the State have been kept, they do not pretend to say with precision how much more will be wanting ; and when the Council advert to their second proposed amendment, acceded to by your House, they must suppose that such was your opinion ; for as the bill first stood the sum therein of £26,250 must have been considered as only adequate, or nearly so, for the purposes there expressed in its preamble, which limited the sums to be paid to the inhabitants for supplies furnished for the army to the latter part of the year 1780, or beginning of the year 1781, to monies borrowed within the same time, omitting all prior demands of the inhabitants of the like sort, which probably when taken together will amount to more than the specified ones of the latter part and beginning of those two years, and further confining the public services, which this State is to pay in the first instance, to those performed by the officers and soldiers of Col. Neil's Battalion of Militia in the fall of the year 1780, when prior services, yet unpaid, will probably double the sum that battalion is entitled to ; therefore taking it for granted that so much or more will be wanted for all these purposes, the Council apprehend it to be prudent and wise to make a provision somewhat adequate to the necessary uses there generally mentioned, and prevent any suspicion that might be entertained of postponing one just creditor of the State to another, and particularly to avoid a preference of the latter creditor to the prior one of some more years standing, and that the General Assembly, in whom the disposition and application of the remaining part of the £39,000 is, after discharging the two requisitions of Congress, may have it more in their power to satisfy the old, and many very poor creditors of the State, and make some advances towards the restoring of public faith and public credit within the State, essentially necessary to its welfare and existence: whereas on the other hand, if the sum should be confined to the one in the original draught of the bill, there must be partial payments, and those payments may fall to the lot of the later creditor, according to the influence he may make at the time of such disposition. We should not, and we ought not, even to leave any cause for such suspicion when in our power to prevent it. The Council are well aware of the great want of a due medium of circulating specie within the State, and the difficulty attending the carriage of its produce to a market where a further supply thereof might be obtained, but they are of opinion that the difficulty may be surmounted, for that they know very many of the taxables of the neighboring States have and do still combat greater evils of the like kind. The Council conceive it to be their duty to exhibit the actual wants of the State to their constituents, that they may provide accordingly, and judge it ill policy to continue the practice of leaving the debts of preceding years unprovided for and unnoticed, to accumulate, and by that means put it out of the power of their constituents to pay them perhaps ever, as each succeeding year will have its particular charge, and an increased one when we are called upon to provide for the payment of the interest of the national debt which the United States have contracted during the present war. A further argument which weighs with the Council, is, that they have reason to believe that it was the intention of Congress, when they fixed their demand upon the United States only to two million of dollars of the six million which was their estimate for the War and Civil Department, (relying upon obtaining the other four million by way of loan in Europe), thus to afford the States in the Union an opportunity to raise extra sums to discharge their former internal debts; this opportunity ought to be laid hold of; justice to the public creditors of the State, and the true interest of our constituents demand it of us—yet if, upon further deliberation had by your honorable House, you shall be of opinion, that the time specified in the bill, and enlarged by our amendment, for the collecting and finally paying in the said sum of £ 39,000 may be further enlarged and thereby tend to the greater ease of the taxables of the State, we shall have no objection to such a proposition. As to the mode of collecting and after accounting for the receipt and payment of those quotas in each County, as proposed in our 11th, 12th and 14th amendments to the said bill, we are decidedly of opinion, that it ought to be adopted, and therefore adhere to those amendments. The barely stating the two different modes proposed by the respective Houses, will perhaps tend to throw light on the question, which of the two is the most eligible : The one in the original bill is a collection to be made by twenty-four persons in the three Counties, ten, nine, and five of which number are respectively to account with and pay to three more persons, one in each County, viz : the Treasurers thereof, and they after to account and pay to the State Treasurer, and he finally to a committee of the General Assembly ; so that the persons in the receipt and management of this public tax account with one another, except the State Treasurer. As we cannot consider the accounting of the County Treasurer with the Levy Court, or their committee, in any degree either proper or satisfactory, no report, return or certificate thereof being to be made to the General Assembly, who ought to be perfectly and minutely informed of the monies drawn from their constituents for public purposes in every stage of receipt and payment ; and further, that none of the first twenty-seven persons are of the nomination or appointment of the representative body, which directs the raising and applying of the State tax ; so that let the choice of any of them be ever so improper, or they be totally unfit for such duties, the General Assembly must adopt them with all their imperfections, and solely rely on a circuitous remedy on the bonds to be given for the performance of their duties ; with this, that there must be twenty-four accountings, such as they are to be, more under the bill than under the proposed amendments ; for that by the amendments one collector for each County appointed by the General Assembly, and in case of disability or removal, after by a session of Justices in each County, makes the whole collection of the quota of his County, and pays over the respective portions of such quota immediately into the State Treasury at the times limited for such payment, and in seven weeks after his first payment, and in one month after his second payment, he is to adjust and settle, in the office of the

Auditor of Accounts, for the amount of each portion, with an allowance of three per cent. The balance of the first portion is to be carried into his second account, and its balance paid to the State Treasurer in about seven weeks after settlement thereof, and in case of failure, chargeable with an interest of ten per cent. till paid.

By this mode, proposed by the Council, the collection is made by three, the accounting for, receipt and payment into the State Treasury by the same three, and that accounting is with the immediate officer of the General Assembly, the Auditor of Accounts, whose situation is to be at Dover, nearly central as to the State, and the place of meeting of the General Assembly, where each member of the legislative and executive powers of the State may resort, and at a single view discover a state of such receipt and payment. And further, as to the accounting by the State Treasurer, the provisions in the amendments by Council are, that he shall once in three months transmit into the Auditor's office an exact state as well of all the monies by him received, with the names of the persons by whom paid, and the time of payment, as of the monies by him paid, to whom, on what account or order, and the time when; and at the expiration of each year appear in the said office and lay his general account before the Auditor, who is to adjust the same. After this just representation of the two modes, the Council cannot suppose it necessary to urge any arguments further, tending to shew that the first mode of collection and account, as proposed by the original bill, is a complex one, requiring so many things to be done to complete it or compel its due execution; or that the latter mode proposed in the amendments by the Council is a plain and simple one, wherein the conduct and acts of three persons, chosen specially for the service, are necessarily inquirable into, until the monies are got into the Treasury of the State; and this may be known to and viewed by the representatives of the people whenever they meet in General Assembly. The first mode, it is true, hath been several years in use, but the best excuse for its existence is either inattention or want of a more satisfactory simple plan being struck out and offered to view; its defects were always apparent, and a competent remedy not exhibited to supply its place till now. It may be said that the term competent is here used rather prematurely, for that trial and experience alone can justify the term, but as the usefulness and success of the single collection don't admit of a doubt, in the opinion of the Council, they venture to use the expression ; sure they are, that pursuing the old plan of collection and account they will only increase that chaos of unaccounted for public grants of monies and supplies, that it will become exceedingly difficult, if not impracticable, to reduce it to form, and give their constituents an opportunity of knowing what hath been the disposition and application of all that has been drawn from them by way of tax for several years past : none of which yearly grants, in the knowledge of the Council, have been yet regularly or intelligibly accounted for. The Council request that your honorable House will please to take these their reasons for dissenting from you in opinion as to the Tax Bill sent from your House, and for their adhering to their amendments, into your consideration ; and be assured that the Council consider those amendments so important and necessary, on behalf of the people both Houses represent, that until reasons, operating more powerfully than those before enumerated, (though not all that had been suggested in Council), shall be offered to Council, they must retain their opinion in favour of their amendments.

EODEM DIE, P. M.

The Council met.

Mr. Waples, a member of Assembly, attending, was admitted and returned the bill for auditing and arranging the accounts of this State, &c., with the first amendments proposed thereto by the House of Assembly generally agreed to by the Council ; the additional amendments proposed to the said bill, and amendments by the Council generally disagreed to by the House of Assembly, together with a further amendment proposed by the House of Assembly to the said additional amendments of the Council.

The same member also delivered a letter from Major William Polk, dated this day, together with a resolution of the House of Assembly for referring Major Polk's accounts to William Killen and Thomas Rodney, Esquires.

The same member also delivered a resolution for making provision for the subsistence of the Delaware Regiments.

The same member also delivered a resolution of the House of Assembly for the appointment of a committee to wait on Mr. Vandyke to desire his answer as to his acceptance of the office of President.

The Council now took into consideration the bill for auditing and arranging the accounts of this State, with the several amendments proposed thereto by the House of Assembly, and the Council adhered to their 5th amendment, which was disagreed to by the House of Assembly, and disagreed to the further amendments proposed by the House of Assembly to the said 5th amendment of the Council, and adhered to the 1st, 2d and 4th of their additional amendments to the said bill, and therefore the following message, stating the reasons of such adherence, was drawn up, read and agreed to, and ordered to be transcribed :

Gentlemen :

The bill for auditing and arranging the accounts of this State, &c., with the respective amendments proposed by both Houses, as well to the bill as it originally stood as the subsequent amendments, have been taken up and duly considered by the Council, and they find themselves bound by opinion, and duty to their constituents, still to reject the fifth amendment proposed by your honorable House in your first paper, restricting the Auditor of Accounts from liquidating and settling any claims against the State for services performed, monies advanced or articles furnished by order of the legislative or executive power for the use of the State, or for any other purpose, before the first day of March next ; and also to reject the additional amendment contained in the third paper, seemingly intended to enlarge the restriction occasioned by the fifth amendment, by permitting the Auditor's duty to extend to accounts for such articles and things prior to the first of March, not already exhibited to the General Assembly, and for which the laws of this State have directed no particular mode of settlement.

When the Council framed this bill, among the many objects of public utility they had in view, the first was, to relieve the two Houses of the General Assembly from that embarrassment they were then under with the very many accounts, that had been exhibited for years past, and dispersed among their several files of papers.

The disinclination of the respective members of both Houses to accept of a place on the Committee of Accounts, the time that had been spent in the present session, and the little progress made in that business, with the great interruption given to the other general and more peculiar business of the General Assembly, convinced the Council of the necessity of immediately providing and adopting a mode, better calculated for a more exact and speedy settlement of all public accounts whatsoever; and after, for the regular entry and state of the allowances, or balances found, by some person well skilled in the arranging and stating of accounts in mercantile and intelligible form; which entry, subsequent to settlement, hath been always omitted heretofore, and the State left open to second, third or more charges for the same articles, and no other chance of detecting the imposition but the recollection, perhaps, of an individual member, unless the old bundles of accounts of preceding years were minutely examined. The Council therefore, on the first appearance of your fifth amendment, agreed to reject it, as it tended to defeat the first object of their bill, that of immediately transferring the liquidation and settlement of all public accounts from the General Assembly to the Auditor, whose daily expense for such service would not be the thirtieth part of the sum that the two Houses were then sitting at, and but small progress made in the business—ten days expense of the present General Assembly being equal to a full years allowance for the service of the Auditor. And upon the same grounds the Council disagreed to the further amendment in the third paper, as it tended to retain all the accounts already exhibited, and almost every one that could or would be exhibited, for matters or things prior to the first of March. This the Council considered as not remedying the grievance, either as to the State expense, or that of the accountants—two only of whom had been in waiting in the present session, and one for five and the other for more than ten days before their accounts could be examined, reported and determined upon. The Council also considered the last part of the said additional amendment as exempting every public debtor or accountant from the Auditor's settlement and bringing them before the General Assembly, which ought not to be with respect to any, except Hundred Collectors (who were specially excepted in the original bill, though your honorable House, by their eighth amendment, left them open to such account with the Auditor for any monies they may receive after the first day of March next) and Trustees of the Loan Office; for, according to the best recollection of the Council, all other accountants under laws of the State are generally to account with the General Assembly or their committees, which it is the fixed purpose of the Council to have transferred to the Auditor, whenever established, or otherwise a principal part of his usefulness will be lost to the public, as also to the accountants;—as to the first, saving that great expense of the two Houses sitting to transact this business, a want of knowledge, and, too generally, attention to it when under consideration—and as to the accountant, his tedious and expensive attendance on such settlement.

Your honorable House will therefore discover, from what is before said for rejecting your addition to your fifth amendment, why the Council thought it necessary—after your first paper of amendments had been laid before them, and most of them agreed to, for the sake of immediately establishing an office so useful to the State—to offer their fourth amendment as in the second paper, for the collecting and transmitting of all the public accounts in the possession or care of either House to the office of the Auditor, there to be forthwith liquidated and settled, all which might probably be done before the next meeting of the General Assembly. Then as to the direction for the Auditor to examine and revise former settlements, and report all substantial errors or omissions, the Counsel have been told, and they think from authority, that a like officer lately, in a neighboring State, by such revival of settlements, had discovered an error of fifteen hundred pounds in the account of an individual, such a sum standing in the settlement as a charge against the State, when it should have stood as a charge against that individual accountant in favor of the State. Many such instances may have happened in a long train of accounts, often settled under a variety of circumstances productive of mistakes; and as such revision would add but little to the expense of the State, the Council deemed it prudent to direct the measure, not doubting that every guardian of the people's rights and property would wish to be informed of substantial wrongs done to that property, and therefore Council conceived it their duty to point out this as saving from such injury, and after to adhere to that fourth amendment as in the second paper.

Then as to the first and second additional amendments proposed by the Council, as in the second paper, they apprehend that some mode for calling every public debtor, or accountant, to do that which his duty and trust required, that is, to render an account of his transactions in money matters intrusted to his care to the common officer of the State, was absolutely necessary to be prescribed to render that officer an useful one to the State; and as your honorable House, by their eleventh and twelfth amendments, in the second paper, had disagreed to all the clauses in the original bill that were framed and calculated for compelling the public debtor, or trustee, to account and after to pay what he should have been found indebted to the State in a summary way, the Council, by their first and second amendments in the second paper, placed a delinquent debtor, or accountant, on the same footing with the witness who was to testify either for or against the delinquent, by enabling the Auditor to use only the same kind and form of compulsory process to call such delinquent before him as by the same tenth section of the original bill, approved of by your honorable House, the Auditor was authorized and directed to use for the appearance of the witness; and great was the surprise of the Council to discover the disagreement to this so mild, and, as they conceive, unexceptionable and necessary power of the Auditor—for to say that a delinquent shall be left to his sole will and pleasure whether he will account for his trust, and yet that, if he pleases to come forward and do this, any persons who, by accident or otherwise, have a knowledge of his conduct, or of the transactions to be accounted for, shall be compelled by a form, too rigorous for the delinquent, to appear and give evidence relative to the subject matter of such delinquent's account. As many such delinquent accountants are and may be, where no bond and security hath been given or required, what is before said applies to such, and must discover to your honorable House the palpable impropriety of appointing a person to exercise the power of settlement, and yet withholding the power of effecting it. Then, as to such whose bonds of performance may include the right of suits thereon for not accounting, they are left to exercise all the delays and chicanery used and practised in the Common Law Courts before even a judgment to account can be had thereon. By these second last mentioned amendments the power of the Auditor over him is no more than, as is said before, against his witness, which is to compel an appearance and exhibit his account ; for as to the recovery of any sum declared by the Auditor to be due thereon, the suit, on his bond if such given, if not, then as in common cases of debts to private persons, is to be brought and pursued in the Courts of Law. Upon the whole, the Council hope that when your honorable House shall be possessed of their reasons for determining as they have on the first, second and third papers of amendments, they will concur with the Council, and not let so useful, necessary and important a bill fall through, and be lost to the State, and thereby remove every suspicion that might be suggested, that the Representatives of the People, or any of them, were disposed to countenance delinquency in the public servants and accountants.

the first of the century, the United States was a young nation, and its people were full of energy and ambition. They were determined to build a great nation, and they were willing to sacrifice everything for it.

Gentlemen:

The Council are at loss to know upon what precedent, usage or practice the House of Assembly have founded their resolution aforesaid, as the Council apprehend that when committees of conference are appointed and had between two branches of a legislature, they are to communicate the reasons which each branch may have for a difference of opinion upon any public act or measure, after to be represented by each set of conferees to their respective Houses. In the present case your honorable House are in possession of the reasons which induced the Council to make, and after to adhere to, their amendments to the Tax Bill; therefore Council apprehend, that a conference of members of both Houses, either in the manner adopted by your House in their resolution now before Council or in the customary mode, will not answer any good public purpose, at least before the reasons which induced the House of Assembly to disagree to, or reject the amendments, are laid before the Council.

Ordered, That Mr. McDonough wait on the House of Assembly and deliver the above message.

"I beg leave to congratulate you on the happy and important event of peace, liberty and independence, secured to these States by the preliminary treaties between the belligerent powers. The accomplishment of these objects, under the smiles of Divine Providence, and the aid of our illustrious ally, has placed America in an equal station among the Nations of the Earth.

"Her attention should now be undiverted to support a char“acter worthy of the virtuous struggles by which she has, in her “late ardent conflict, acquired her elevation ; and I hope, a reg“ular administration of justice, and a due veneration of national “faith, will render her as respectable in peace as she has been “illustrious in war.

“During your late recess, I have received the following public
“letters—from the President of Congress, of the 8th and 24th
“of February last, and the 6th and 9th of May instant—from the “Secretary for Foreign Affairs, of the 3d of January and the “2d of April—from the Superintendent of Finance, of the 22d
“of February, the 2d, 20th and 25th of March, the 12th and “18th of April, and the 9th, 12th and 20th of May.

“These letters, with their enclosures, I have directed the “Secretary to lay before you. To such of these papers as re“quire your immediate attention, I am persuaded it is needless “for me to urge it, being well convinced of your disposition to “give all necessary dispatch to the public business.

The Council now took into consideration such of the amendments as were proposed by them and disagreed to by the House of Assembly to the bill for raising £22,500 for the service of the present year, and receded from all so disagreed to except the proposed enacting clause in the 6th amendment, to which they adhered, and proposed a paper of further amendments to the same bill, which were agreed to, and ordered to be transcribed and sent to the House of Assembly, accompanied with the following message, drawn up at the table, read and agreed to, viz :

Gentlemen :

We return your second Tax Bill for the present year, with our first paper of amendments, the most material of which you had disagreed to, and you will then discover, that the Council had receded from all those amendments so disagreed to, but the proposed enacting clause in the sixth amendment, which the Council consider as necessary to be adopted upon the principles and plan of the Auditor's Bill, which has received the concurrence of your honorable House. We send you also a second paper of amendments framed on the same principles, to prevent a contradiction in the provision of the two bills aforesaid as to the mode of accounting by the respective County Treasurers.

Gentlemen—Be assured, that we have withdrawn those amendments relative to the mode of collection and account of the State-tax, granted by this bill for the year, not from any alteration in our sentiments expressed in our message to your House of the fourth of February last, with respect to which you have held an awful silence. The framing of this second bill upon the plan of the first, without answering the reasons assigned by Council for their proposed amendments to substantial parts of the bill, is a mode of conducting business of legislation totally different from what the Council conceive to be parliamentary, or ever heretofore in practice in this State. The Council consider the delay of your honorable House, in taking up this subject of the annual supplies so late in the session, as an apology to the public and themselves, for assenting to the continuance of a plan of collection of the State-tax as heretofore used, apparently inadequate and unproductive. As the Council must either recede from their well founded and unanswered amendments, or lose the supplies for the year, they have considered the first as the lesser inconvenience, because temporary, and may be provided against in future.

Gentlemen of the House of Assembly—We cannot here omit taking notice of a further striking fact in support of our proposed alteration in the plan of collection and account of the State-tax which has been afforded since our former message on this subject, that is the total silence of the several persons to whom the resolutions of the General Assembly, passed the thirty-first January, 1783, were addressed and delivered, respecting the collection and account of the State-tax of the year 1781, particularly the County Treasurers, who were to be the first and principal actors under those resolutions, two of whom are members of your honorable House.

Ordered, That Mr. Bassett return to the House of Assembly the said bill, with the paper of further amendments proposed thereto by the Council, and the foregoing message; and that he also deliver the Auditor's bill, engrossed and signed by the Speaker, with the original bill, for comparison, and in order to be signed by the Speaker of the House of Assembly.

Mr. Bassett reported the delivery thereof according to order.

The Council took into consideration the amendment proposed by the House of Assembly to the instructions proposed by the Council to the Delegates from this State to the Congress of the United States, and agreed to the said proposed amendment, and the same, as was agreed to by both Houses, are as follows:

INSTRUCTIONS FROM THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF DELAWARE
TO THE DELEGATES OF THE SAID STATE TO THE CONGRESS OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.

Gentlemen :

Yours of the eleventh instant to the President of this State, accompanied with the report of a committee of Congress on the act of the Legislature of Virginia of the second of January, 1781, respecting the cession offered by that State to the United States, of all the lands northwest of the River Ohio, was laid before us, and after full consideration and deliberation had upon the premises, we are decidedly of opinion, that this State is justly entitled to a right, in common with the other members of the Union, to all that extensive tract of country which lies to the westward of the frontiers of the United States, the property of which was not vested in, or granted to, individuals at the commencement of the present war; or which hath been, or may hereafter be, gained from the King of Great Britain, or the native Indians, by the blood and treasure of all, and ought therefore to be a common estate, to be granted out on terms beneficial to the United States.

We are the more strongly impressed with these sentiments, because well assured, that every idea held out to the public, on paper or otherwise, at the commencement of the late war, was diametrically opposite to the acceptance by the other States, of the cession now proposed.

Why is this partial cession proposed, and that too, wonderfully fettered?

The States are, or are not, entitled to their proportional part of the lands in dispute. If entitled, then the accepting of what is proposed is, must and will be hereafter, considered a clear dereliction of their right to the residue.

We apprehend the considering of these lands as the now indisputable right of the United States in common, and hereafter to be granted out on terms beneficial to the whole, is so plainly consistent with justice and so indispensibly essential to the future peace and welfare of the Union, that we feel ourselves not a little alarmed at such a seeming disinclination, which too evidently appears in our sister State, in giving up what justice so loudly demands from her.

We judge this business to be of the first magnitude—deeply interesting to us and our posterity; and for cogent reasons, we conceive no time should be lost in bringing it to a conclusion; and we expect and desire, that you will positively assert the claim of this State, in common with the other States, to all the lands to the westward of the frontiers of the United States as above expressed.

And that if any particular doubts or difficulties present themselves to your minds on the above question, supposing the ground thereof should be changed, or on any other question of great moment agitated, or likely to be soon controverted in Congress, you will communicate them fully to the President of this State, that he may be enabled to judge of the expediency of convening the Legislature and taking their sense thereon for your further direction.

FRIDAY, November 14, A. M.

EODEM DIE, P. M.

Council met. Present all the members.

And now the Council resumed the consideration of the petition from Kent County, praying that the election had on the first day of October last should be set aside, together with the testimony produced and heard by the Council to the same election.

And thereupon the Council resolved unanimously as follows, to wit:

1. That no evidence whatsoever hath been given to support the charge that one of the Inspectors changed a vote delivered to him by an elector.
2. That no evidence hath been given that any Inspector did swear that such particular men should be carried, but one inspector, to wit: Samuel Wilson, of Duck Creek Hundred, did imprudently say that a parcel of tickets which he held in his hand should or would go, declaring they were good whig votes. That said Wilson was in liquor at time.
3. That as to the charge that a number of non-jurors and persons otherwise disqualified to vote were admitted to vote; it appears, by the testimony of Joseph Meredith, that a James Maxwell should have told him that he had voted though he had not taken the oath of fidelity; and that it further appears as well by the said inspector Wilson's testimony as also by his list of voters at the said election that he (Wilson) received Maxwell's vote as a good vote, that Maxwell, although summoned to attend the Council, hath neglected so to do for the ascertainment of the fact of his being a non-juror, but that no other testimony was given of admitting other non-jurors or other disqualified persons to vote.

4. That no evidence whatsoever hath been given of administering the oath of fidelity to the State to any disaffected persons on the morning of the election.

5. That it appears by the evidence that about one or two o'clock in the morning of the 2d of October last, while the judges of the election were employed in reading off the received votes out of the box into which all the votes had been put and mixed, a person by the name of Conner did forcibly take and carry off the said box containing in it the remaining uncounted votes or tickets.

6. That it appears by the evidence that one of the polls or tallies, kept by John Pearce (one of the appointed clerks) containing the number of votes for Counsellor and Assemblymen was taken up by Judge Collins and saved from an attempt made by a James Frazer to seize it. That the same was in Judge Collins' sole possession for about ten minutes, after which he delivered it to the Sheriff and inspectors. That the other poll for Counsellor and Assemblymen was in the sole possession of the Sheriff, he taking up from Mr. Stout, the other clerk, upon the seizing and carrying off the box. That at the same time one of the polls or tallies kept of the votes for the candidates for Sheriff and Coroner's office was taken up and secured by George Cummins, the under-Sheriff, and by him immediately delivered to the Sheriff. That the other poll or tally for Sheriff and Coroner was seized and carried off by a certain Isaac Griffin, of Duck Creek Hundred. That upon the examination and comparison immediately made after the return of Judge Collins of the two polls or tallies for Counsellor and Assemblymen the number tallied off in each of these two polls corresponded.

7. That it appears, as well by verbal testimony as by the lists and tallies kept by the clerks appointed for that purpose, that the whole number of the votes or tickets received at the said election, put into the said general box, amounted to seven hundred and fifty, and the number of the said tickets read off from the said box amounted to six hundred and sixty-seven.

8. That it appears by the testimony and lists last aforesaid, as also by the Sheriff's, inspectors' and freeholders' indenture, returned to this House, that Caesar Rodney, Esquire, the candidate for the vacant seat, in the County of Kent, in this present year, and the returned member, had six hundred and sixty-five votes of the said number so read off.

9. That it appears by the evidence that the other two votes were for persons ineligible, to wit: Thomas Collins, Esquire, Chief Justice of the Common Pleas, and Richard Bassett, Esquire, already a member of this House.

10. That it appears by the evidence that several persons' names, annexed to the said petition, particularly those of Samuel Griffin, Enoch Jones and Alexander Worknot, were not subscribed by themselves or by their order.

11. That it appears by the evidence that Isaac Griffin, whose name is annexed to the said petition, conducted himself in a very unbecoming, disorderly manner during the time the said votes were reading off, in the presence of the judges of the election, and from his conduct immediately on Conner's taking the box, induce the Council to believe he was privy to Conner's intention of taking it.

12. That it appears by the evidence that one other of the petitioners, Thomas Cummerford, had knowledge of such an attempt being to be made, before it was carried into execution.

And thereupon it was unanimously adjudged by the Council that Caesar Rodney, Esquire, the returned member of this House for the County of Kent, this present year, was duly elected.

On motion, ordered

That the consideration of the petition and remonstrance, complaining of irregularity in conducting the last general election of Sussex County, be taken up at the meeting of Council to-morrow morning.

Council adjourned to 10 o'clock to-morrow morning.

SATURDAY, November 15th, A. M.

Agreeable to the order of the day, Council went into the consideration of the petition and remonstrance concerning the irregularity of conducting the last general election of Sussex County, and praying that writs for holding a new election in that county may be directed, or such other measures for restoring the just rights and liberties of the people, preserving them forever inviolate, redressing their present and preventing future grievances, as may be most conducive and effectual to that important end, and after some time spent thereon, adjourned to three o'clock this afternoon.

EODEM DIE, P. M.

Council met. Present all the members, except Mr. Joshua Polk.

And now the Council resumed the consideration of the petition and remonstrance from Sussex County, together with the testimony produced and heard by the Council relative to the last general election held for that county, and after some time spent therein,

On motion, the following questions were put, viz:

1. Whether the fact alleged in the petition from Sussex, complaining that the petitioners, who had lately taken the oath of fidelity to the State, producing a voucher to the Justice at the time, were refused to vote at the general election, for that the vouchers had not been sworn, appears to be proved to the satisfaction of this House?

Passed in the affirmative unanimously.

2. Whether the Inspectors refusing the said votes were warranted by law in so doing?

Passed in the negative.

On motion, that the yeas and nays should be entered on this question, it was ordered accordingly, and they are as follows, viz:

For the affirmative—Mr. William Polk, Mr. Collins.

For the negative—Mr. Read, Mr. Baning, Mr. Bassett, Mr. McDonough, Mr. Grantham.

3. Whether the fact alleged in the said petition, that some of the said Inspectors refused the votes of persons under age at the time of passing the law for the further security of the Government, in May, 1778, and who had taken the oath of fidelity to the State after three months from their coming of age, without producing a voucher, appears to be proved?

Passed in the affirmative unanimously.

4. Whether such Inspectors were warranted by law in so doing?

Passed in the negative.

On motion, yeas and nays on this question ordered:

For the affirmative—Mr. Collins.

Passed in the affirmative.

On motion, ordered that the yeas and nays on this question be taken:

For the affirmative—Mr. Read, Mr. Baning, Mr. Bassett, Mr. McDonough, Mr. Grantham.

Passed in the affirmative unanimously.

WHEREAS it appears to this House, from the testimony delivered on the petition and remonstrance aforesaid, that some of the Inspectors, who joined in certain rules for governing their conduct as to the receiving of votes, conducted that business in a manner different from those rules and different from the other Inspectors; therefore

Resolved, That the said election, held on the first day of October last, was not freely, legally, and indifferently made, and it is adjudged by the Council, that Joshua Polk, in the indenture returned by the Sheriff, Inspectors, and Freeholders of the said County, as elected in the present year, for Sussex County, by a majority of such votes, as the Inspectors of the several Hundreds, in the said County of Sussex, or a majority of them, adjudged to be legal votes, was not legally elected.

These papers were read.

On motion,

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed to bring in a bill for the devising of the means of supplying the several offices of this State with public seals to authentic the acts of office where such seals are necessary to be annexed, as well with respect to such offices whose seals have heretofore been taken by the enemy, as others the devices of which seals may not be inconformable to the independency of the State.

Whereupon Messrs. Read, William Polk and Snow were appointed a committee for that purpose.

Mr. Broom, a member of the House of Assembly, attending, was admitted and delivered to the Chair a message from his Excellency, the President of this State, accompanied with three letters from the Financier, of the 26th May, 14th June, and 12th October, 1784, and a letter from the Committee of the States, of the 2d August, 1784, with the ratification of the definitive treaty; which, by order, was read, as follows:

Gentlemen of the General Assembly:

The Secretary will lay before you sundry public letters, which I have received since the last meeting of the late General Assembly, to wit: One of the 2d of August last, from the Committee of the States, accompanied by a copy of the ratification of the definitive treaty of peace on the part of his Britannic majesty, exchanged with that on the part of the United States of America on the 10th of May last, at Passy. On the final accomplishment of this important and interesting business, I take this early opportunity of presenting you my most hearty congratulations—an event which has placed these United States in the possession of liberty and independence, and secured to them a rank among the nations of the earth. The recollection of the unequal and arduous struggle lately endured by America, for the attainment of these important blessings, must call forth the most sincere gratitude to the Wise Disposer of human events, and kindle in the breast of every American a warm attachment to that illustrious ally who, from a wise and generous policy, exerted his national strength for our defence and support. Virtue, and a wise and just policy, will, I hope, in future, render us as illustrious in peace as we have been in war, and enable us as a nation to enjoy the extensive privileges and blessings tendered to us and our posterity by our present situation.

One of the 17th of the same month, from Thomas Barclay, Consul-General of these States, at Paris, with the arret of his Most Christian Majesty confirming the privileges which the ports of Dunkirk and Marseilles have for some time enjoyed, and for establishing l'Orient and Bayonne as free ports.

Two from the Financier-General and Mr. Purnel, on the subject of the recovery from individuals of debts due, and effects belonging to the United States. I thought it my duty to inform Mr. Morris that such provision had been made by the Legislature of this State, and that Congress had been furnished with the same; in consequence thereof I received his answer of the 14th of June last.

One of the 21st of last month from the State Treasurer, resigning his appointment, under a late law to issue a certificate for interest due on monies loaned, and liquidated debts. I have been informed by that gentleman that he cannot transact the business, no provision being made for a clerk, either by Congress or the Legislature; and lest the good people of the State might be injured, I wrote Mr. Morris on the subject, in order that that objection might be speedily removed. By his answer, of the 12th instant, you will perceive the business is yet at a stand, and as the County Collectors are now in the execution of the duty assigned them, unless the Legislature adopt some mode for certificates to issue, the taxables who are entitled to them will be more distressed in payment of their taxes than is just, or was expected by the late General Assembly.

Gentlemen—As the public dispatches now laid before you will demand but a small share of your time, the remainder of it, I am convinced, will be devoted to an attention to the necessary and important objects of the internal concerns of the State. Among the many interesting matters which will claim your attention, I shall only point out the following: a law for establishing a militia within this State, which is the most natural and secure defence of a free republic, and is with great propriety and justness of sentiment proposed and urged by our late worthy Commander-in-Chief in his memorable valedictory address; a proper regulation for the encouragement and introduction of trade; a law providing for the naturalization of foreigners who may come among us; a more adequate provision to secure the inhabitants of the State from injury by sickly crews being landed; an amendment to the present mode of taxation; a regulation of water grist-mills, and a revision and publication of the laws of the State.

Council met. Present all the members.

On motion, ordered,

That Mr. Neill wait on the House of Assembly with the supplementary bill to the act for the more easy and speedy recovery of small debts, with the amendments of Council, which had been returned by that House, many of them disagreed to by the same, and the amendments proposed by the Assembly to those of the amendments of Council, and inform the House of Assembly that Council adhered to their several amendments, except the last, from which they had receded, and that Council disagreed to the amendment of the House of Assembly on one of the amendments proposed by Council.

Mr. Neill, being returned, reported that he had delivered the bill and amendments last mentioned to the House of Assembly, according to order.

On motion, the report of the Auditor of Accounts respecting the sum of £3 being due to William Manlove, and the resolution of the House of Assembly thereon, was read a second time and concurred in by Council.

A VERBAL MESSAGE TO THE COUNCIL FROM THE HOUSE OF ASSEMBLY.

Gentlemen:

This House have fully considered the amendments proposed by your honorable House to the supplementary bill for the more easy and speedy recovery of small debts, and still continue to reject such of the said amendments as were before disagreed to by this House and adhered to by the Council, and have also proposed a further amendment. This we have done upon full conviction that acceding to those amendments will not be productive of utility in framing the bill; and altho' we conceive this law to be a very beneficial one, and much desired by our constituents; yet, if the Council cannot recede from the aforesaid amendments, we can only lament the loss of an act salutary to the good people of this State.

Upon reconsideration of Council on their amendment on the quantum of the sum from ten to twelve pounds in the said supplementary bill mentioned, the Council, on the question, receded from their amendment thereon, but adhered to the other several amendments by them proposed.

On motion, the question was put, "Shall a committee be appointed to prepare and bring in a message to the House of Assembly, therein giving the reasons of Council for their adherence to the several amendments proposed by them to the supplementary bill last mentioned, except that receded from by Council?" It was carried in the affirmative.

Committee: Mr. Bassett, Mr. Wm. Polk, and Mr. Neill.

Mr. Read craved leave of absence after this evening, which is granted.

The committee appointed to prepare and bring in certain resolutions concerning the resignation of Samuel Patterson, Esq., of his office of Continental Loan Officer of this State, now reported that they had essayed a draught for that purpose, which they submitted to the correction of the House.

On motion, ordered that the same be read.

By special order, the same was read a second time, agreed to, and ordered to be transcribed, and sent to the House of Assembly for concurrence.

The report aforesaid being transcribed and compared, ordered that Mr. Neill wait upon the House of Assembly therewith; who, being returned, reported he had delivered the same according to order.

Mr. Douglass, a member of Assembly, attending, was admitted and delivered to the Chair the bill for the relief of Bertles Shea, to which that House had agreed, with the amendments proposed by Council, with a resolution to affix the Great Seal thereunto, to which Council concurred, and the Speaker, by order, signed the said bill.

Mr. Taylor, a member of Assembly, attending, was admitted and delivered to the Chair the report of the committee of Council on the letter of General Patterson, disagreed to by that House.

The committee appointed to prepare a message from the Council to the House of Assembly, assigning their reasons for adhering to their amendments proposed to the supplementary bill to the act for the more easy and speedy recovery of small debts, now reported that they had essayed a draught for that purpose, which they submitted to the correction of the House.

Ordered that the same be read; which was done accordingly, and after some amendments, was agreed to, and ordered to be transcribed.

The transcribed message was read and compared, and ordered to be signed by the Speaker.

Before any further proceedings could be had, notice was given that the House of Assembly had adjourned to the first Monday in January.

TUESDAY, January 11th, A. M.

Council met. Present the same members, and Mr. William Polk, who appeared at this meeting.

On motion, a petition, signed by Simon Wilmer Wilson and Peter Barclay Ferry, representing the injury they had sustained by the capture of a schooner, part whereof belonged to them, and of the great expense by them incurred in paying the salvage to those who had afterwards retaken her, &c., and desiring relief in the premises, accompanied with their accounts of expenditures on that occasion, and the Auditor's report thereon, were read the first time.

Ordered to lie on the table.

On motion, a remonstrance, signed by John Baning, Treasurer of Kent County, representing that in consequence of certain resolutions of the General Assembly of the 9th April, 1784, for the payment of one year's interest due on the certificates of the officers, non-commissioned officers and soldiers of the Delaware Regiment, the officers of the Hospital and Medical Departments, and such other officers, non-commissioned officers and soldiers as are credited to this State in its quota of land forces, and others, that the same resolutions directed and empowered the President and Commander-in-Chief to draw his order on the State Treasurer for the payment of £7500 to the Treasurer of New Castle County, for the sum of £4000 to the Treasurer of Kent County, and for the sum of £1500 to the Treasurer of Sussex County, to enable them to discharge the public debts due as aforesaid; in consequence of which the President did draw an order, bearing date the 21st of April last, on the said State Treasurer for the payment of £4000 of the public money in his hands to the remonstrant, John Baning, Treasurer as aforesaid, to be applied according to the directions of the General Assembly, in their resolutions aforesaid.

That the remonstrant did not think it necessary to demand of the State Treasurer actual payment of the money mentioned in the said order of the President, as he presumed he should receive of the collectors of the different Hundreds of his County public money of their collections sufficient to discharge the debt aforesaid as fast as they should be demanded and that he has found in the actual performance of the duty enjoined him his presumption well grounded.

That the remonstrant did, immediately on the receipt of the said order and resolutions, begin and hath continued to pay the several public debts aforesaid, in the order prescribed by the said resolutions, out of the several collections paid into the Treasury, until the receipt of a letter from Samuel Patterson, Esq., State Treasurer, dated the 5th December last, requiring the remonstrant, in the most peremptory and authoritative manner, not to pay or discount any debts without his particular order.

That by reason of this mandate of the State Treasurer the remonstrant conceives he cannot safely continue to pay the residue of the said £4000 according to the resolutions aforesaid, nor answer any order or warrant of the General Assembly, or Commander-in-Chief, for the payment of money, unless the same shall be approved of and an order for the payment of the sums therein mentioned indorsed thereon by the said State Treasurer, as it must be presumed, from adverting to this prohibition, the said Samuel Patterson, the present State Treasurer, will not allow the remonstrant credit for such payments on the settlement of his accounts with him, and humbly praying the General Assembly to take his case into their serious consideration and provide ways and means to indemnify him for the payments he has already made in strict pursuance of the aforesaid resolutions, and give him their advice and direction how he is to demean himself in future, as County Treasurer, in respect to orders drawn upon him for the payment of money, either by the General Assembly, the Commander-in-Chief, or any other person or persons whatsoever, under color of any law now in force, except such orders as are drawn upon him by the said Samuel Patterson, as he has reason to apprehend that the payment of any others besides the latter will not be allowed to the credit of his accounts on settlement with the said Samuel Patterson.

Which remonstrance was accompanied with the resolutions of the General Assembly and the letter of Samuel Patterson above mentioned, and were severally read.

Ordered to lie on the table.

Council adjourned to 3 o'clock, P. M.

[The remainder of the Journal of the Council for the year 1785 is missing. As shown by the proceedings of the House of Assembly, both houses adjourned on the 6th of June until the 30th day of September. A session of the General Assembly was convened on the twentieth day of October, 1785, and continued until the 5th day of November, when an adjournment took place until the 3d day of January, 1786. The following papers belong to this period]:

Paper sent to the Council, Friday, June 3d, 1785, by the House of Assembly, with a resolution for the payment of £135 : 5s. to the representatives of Thomas Stroud, deceased :

The Auditor of Accounts, having examined the papers accompanying the petition of Thomas Stroud to the General Assembly, which were referred to him, begs leave to report: That it appears to him a vessel belonging to the petitioner was taken or hired by the then President of the State to receive on board the papers of the Continental Loan Office of this State and the records of New Castle County, together with some valuable private property, in order to preserve them from falling into the hands of the enemy, then on their march from the Head of Elk to Philadelphia; that the said vessel, with the above mentioned papers, records, and property on board, lying under the guns of the fort near Wilmington, was taken by the enemy on the morning of the 13th of September, 1777, and received so much damage while in their possession that it cost the petitioner upwards of one hundred and ninety-one pounds ten shillings to repair her, which, together with £15 charged for five days' hire, amounts to the sum of two hundred and six pounds twelve shillings and ten pence, for which he prays to be reimbursed by the State.

The Auditor has taken some pains to obtain the necessary information relative to this business, but has not succeeded to his wish. He therefore prays to be excused from hazarding his single opinion, and to refer the case of the widow (the petitioner having lately departed this life) to the wisdom of the Legislature. One thing he will venture to mention, that as the vessel in question was taken up as well for the purpose of preserving the papers of the Loan Office as the records of New Castle County, the allowance, if any is made, ought, in his opinion, to be paid and borne equally between this State and the United States.

June 3d, 1785.

E. McCOMB, Auditor of Accounts.

Message from the Council received in the House of Assembly, June 4, 1785:

Gentlemen :

The Council received the last evening their amendments proposed by them to the bill entitled "An act for the suppression of public marts or fairs," some of which are acceded to and others rejected by your honorable House, and having reconsidered their amendments, still retain the highest sense of their propriety, both on account of their tendency to shorten the bill and preserving the propriety of expression; therefore Council wish your honorable House to reconsider the proposed amendments. But if your House cannot consider the same in the light Council do, and as they conceive the bill necessary and useful, and the object of both Houses, we presume, the same, rather than it should be lost, will recede from their proposed amendments.

List of engrossed bills, to which the Great Seal was ordered to be affixed, by resolution of the House of Assembly, and sent to the Council for concurrence June 4, 1785:

"An act for the suppression of public marts or fairs;"

"An act for establishing a Militia."

Messages from his Excellency Nicholas Vandyke, President :

Gentlemen of the General Assembly:

The Secretary will lay before you sundry acts of Congress, which I have received subsequent to the adjournment of the late General Assembly.

The requisition of Congress for this State's computed quota of three million dollars, demanded from the United States, is an object, which, from its importance, requires your earliest attention. The purposes to which this sum is to be applied, and the reason of the demand, are clearly specified in the requisition; and I trust it will be unnecessary to urge any arguments in favor of complying with a measure, the obvious consequence of which is the establishment of foreign and domestic credit.

I beg leave to call your attention to an act of Congress, of the 30th of April, 1784, recommending to the States to vest the United States, in Congress assembled, with powers competent to the protection of commerce, the situation of which claims the attention of the several States, and few objects of greater importance can present themselves to their notice. Without investing the grand council of the empire with such powers, we can never command reciprocal advantages in trade, or restrain such foreign commerce as may not be founded upon principles of equality.

It will appear, from many of the papers now laid before you, that Congress urge in the strongest manner, and with the most forcible reasons, the importance and necessity of a constant representation of the different States, and that each State should be represented, at all times when Congress are sitting, by three members. The dignity and interest of this State, as well as of the Union, are materially concerned in a constant and full representation, and I hope your Honors will take this matter into your serious consideration.

I must also recommend your attention to the other papers transmitted, a compliance with which will tend to promote federal confidence and prosperity.

NICHOLAS VANDYKE.

Dover, October 27, 1785.

Gentlemen of the General Assembly:

I have this day received, and directed to be laid before you by the Secretary, a letter from the Secretary for Foreign Affairs, dated the 10th instant, accompanied by information that the Regency of Algiers have declared war against the United States of America; and also two other letters, one from the Secretary of Congress, and the other from the Board of Treasury. The first of these is accompanied by an act of Congress of the 12th instant, by which the several States are earnestly called on to complete, without delay, the whole of their quotas of the requisitions of September, 1782, and April, 1784. The other contains accounts of the balances due on the requisitions of Congress, of the 30th of October, 1781, and the 4th of September, and the 16th of October, 1782.

The General Assembly will hereby be enabled to discover what exertions are necessary to be made, on the part of this State, for the important purpose of effectually supporting foreign and domestic credit; an object which, from its extensive consequence to all the States in the Union, I recommend to your serious consideration.

NICHOLAS VANDYKE.

Dover, October 28, 1785.

But whereas it is just and reasonable to provide for the discharge of such of the certificates to be given for interest due, as well on all Continental Loan Office certificates issued from the office in this State, as on liquidated debts of the United States, due to the inhabitants of this State, which may not have been received from the taxables by any of the County Collectors; be it therefore enacted that the State Treasurer is hereby authorized and required, so often as he shall have any monies in his hands under this act, where the proportion is greater than one-third of the amount of the interest certificates aforesaid, to exchange, without fee or reward therefor, any such interest certificates that may be brought to him for that purpose, paying the amount thereof, in specie, to the bearer, from the said overplus proportion, and that the holders of such interest certificates may have notice when to attend the State Treasurer for this purpose, he is hereby also authorized and required, at the expense of the State, to give public notice, by advertisement, to be inserted in the Delaware Gazette, when and where such holder may attend him for exchange as aforesaid.

Yeas—Mr. Craghead, Mr. Read, Mr. J. Polk, Mr. Snow, and Mr. Bassett.

Nay—Mr. Tilton.

As also the 46th amendment, which is as follows: And to the end that the taxables, within this State, who may hold any certificates of liquidated debts of the United States, and that all holders of Loan Office certificates issued from the Office in this State may obtain certificates for all the interest due thereon, to the last day of the year 1784, in a reasonable time after the passing of this act, for the purpose of discharging the two-thirds part of their tax therewith, or otherwise obtaining the exchange directed to be made as aforesaid; and the General Assembly of this State, considering the provisions in this act as a compliance with the first hereinbefore recited requisitions of Congress, be it therefore enacted, that if the Commissioner of the Continental Loan Office of this State shall refuse or neglect to settle and certify the interest due on any of the certificates aforesaid, to the last day of the year 1784, upon reasonable application to him made, at any time after one month from the passing of this act, that it shall and may be lawful for the President or Commander-in-Chief, for the time being, and he is hereby authorized and required, upon any and every complaint to him made, and supported by an oath or affirmation of the party, or any credible witness, of such refusal or neglect in the Commissioner of the Continental Loan Office aforesaid, forthwith to summons the Privy Council, notifying the Commissioner and the party complaining to attend the meeting thereof, and then proceed into the inquiry of the facts of refusal or neglect aforesaid, and if the same shall be made clearly to appear, to the satisfaction of the President and Privy Council, the President is hereby authorized and required to issue his proclamation declaring a suspension of the collection of taxes, directed to be made by this act, until such cause of complaint, as aforesaid, shall be removed, and when and as often as the President and Privy Council shall have satisfactory evidence that it shall be so done, the President, with the advice of the Privy Council, is hereby also authorized and required to take off such suspension and revive the collection of the taxes aforesaid by other proclamation for that purpose to be issued, anything herein before contained to the contrary notwithstanding.

FRIDAY, June 16th, 1786, A. M.

Council met.

On motion, by order, the message from the House of Assembly to the Council respecting the bill for printing and emitting twenty-one thousand pounds in Bills of Credit, to be let out on loan, and providing a fund for sinking the same, and the aforesaid bill, and also three petitions, praying relief from the distresses occasioned by the scarcity of money, were read.

Council, upon considering the aforesaid bill for emitting twenty-one thousand pounds in Bills of Credit, &c., do reject the same.

Mr. Tilton, Mr. Snow, and Mr. D. Polk are appointed a committee to prepare an answer to the message from the House of Assembly, in which answer the reasons inducing Council to reject the said bill are to be expressed.

Council took into consideration the resolutions transmitted yesterday respecting the appointment of commissioners, &c., and several amendments were proposed thereto and agreed to.

Ordered, That the same be transcribed and sent to the House of Assembly for their consideration, together with the following verbal message:

Gentlemen :

Your resolve of yesterday, proposing the names of five persons as commissioners, to be inserted in the transmitted resolutions as to the intended meeting at Annapolis, for conferring on the trade of the United States and forming a system of commercial regulations for the adoption of all the States in the American Union, is returned to you as rejected by Council, for that, agreeable to the rules laid down by the General Assembly of this State, in the session of February, 1777, and regularly persevered in as to all appointments to offices of public trust of importance since that time, such appointments have been made under the regulations then adopted respecting the choice of civil officers of the State, Delegates to Congress, and the Continental Loan Officer, &c., by the two Houses meeting together for the purpose of nominating a number of persons for the consideration and comparison of their fitness for the service to be performed, and after to elect by ballot. These rules of nomination and election the Council conceive it right and incumbent on them to adhere to, as well with respect to the commissioners to be inserted in the blank left for their names in the resolution aforesaid as to all other nominations to be made of civil officers, commissioners, &c., necessary to be appointed in the present session; and as its continuance will probably be short, the Council therefore propose to the House of Assembly that a meeting be had of the members of both Houses, in the Council Room, at 6 o'clock this afternoon, for the purpose of general nomination as aforesaid.

Ordered, That Mr. Craghead wait upon the House of Assembly with the resolutions of that House respecting the appointment of commissioners, with the several amendments proposed thereto by Council, as also with the above verbal message from Council to that House.

Gentlemen :

The House of Assembly having taken into consideration your verbal message delivered this afternoon, respecting the mode of nominating and appointing commissioners to form, with the commissioners from the other States in the Union, a convention for the purpose of framing and reporting a system of commercial regulations, &c., do concur in the mode proposed; and will meet Council for that purpose, at the time and place therein mentioned.

Ordered, That Mr. Snow return to the House of Assembly the following papers: The resolution of that House appointing commissioners from this State to meet commissioners from the other States, with the amendments proposed thereto by Council, as also a paper of amendments proposed by the House of Assembly to those of the Council, to which Council had agreed; with a verbal message from Council to the House of Assembly, which was returned to this House yesterday, with the several papers relative to the subject of commercial regulations and the improvement of inland navigation, and a letter from his Excellency, Wm. Adjourned to 3 o'clock.

---

EODEM DIE, P. M.

Council met. Present all the members, except Mr. Joshua Polk and Henry Neill.

Some amendments being proposed to the message from Council to the House of Assembly in answer to their message of yesterday and agreed to,

Ordered, That the same be transcribed and sent to the House of Assembly.

Ordered, That Mr. Polk wait upon the House of Assembly with the following verbal message:

“That the President’s Message of the ninth instant, accompanied with Secretary Thompson’s letter of the first of April last, mentioned a copy of the Journal of Congress. The Council wish to have a view of them for information relative to some business now under their consideration.”

Who, being returned, reported the delivery thereof according to order.

Mr. Garrett, a member of the House of Assembly, attending, was admitted and delivered the following verbal message, which was read, and follows:

Gentlemen:

The House of Assembly propose to your honorable House, that both Houses meet, at six o’clock this evening, in the Council Chamber, for the purpose of putting into nomination persons, out of whom one shall be elected by ballot, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of Richard Lockwood, Esq., one of the Justices of the Court of Common Pleas and Orphans’ Court for the County of Kent.

It appears to this House, that the accounts exhibited on behalf of this State against the United States, cannot be adjusted for want of vouchers produced to authenticate, support, and explain the said accounts; and the Commissioner heretofore appointed by this State for that purpose, conceiving that he hath completed the duties of his appointment, hath declined taking any further measures on this subject. In order, therefore, to effectuate a speedy completion of that business, this House propose to meet the Council at the time and place above mentioned, for the nominating of persons for the purpose of electing thereout a Commissioner to procure sufficient, or the best attainable vouchers, to support the accounts of this State against the United States, and for transacting, with the Commissioner of the said United States, all the necessary business relative to this important object.

Ordered, That Dr. Tilton wait upon the House of Assembly with the bill for printing and emitting twenty-one thousand pounds, &c., with the three petitions, praying relief from the distresses occasioned by the scarcity of money, as also the message from Council to the House of Assembly in answer to a message from that House respecting the said bill for printing and emitting, &c.;

Who, being returned, reported the delivery thereof according to order.

A MESSAGE FROM THE COUNCIL TO THE HOUSE OF ASSEMBLY IN ANSWER TO THEIR MESSAGE OF THURSDAY LAST.

Gentlemen :

We have considered the bill for emitting £21,000 on loan; also for suspending executions for a limited time; and after the most impartial and candid examination of it, have disagreed thereto.

We will not take up your present time with long and defensive arguments, but will mention concisely some of the leading or principal reasons which have influenced our conduct, and hope they will be satisfactory.

We know that previous to the Revolution happy concurrence of circumstances gave an advantageous credit to our paper currency, but since that period all experience serves to show that nothing short of a bank, or fund, at which paper may be exchanged, at pleasure, for hard money, can prevent the former from depreciation.

A paper currency, issued upon the principle proposed by your honorable House, would not pass in the taxes of the State for Continental use, nor, in our apprehension, be current for any purpose whatsoever anywhere without the State, and consequently must fail to answer our most necessary occasions. We are therefore of opinion that instead of affording relief to the people, the measure proposed would injure the estates of industrious and worthy citizens, and depreciate the morals of others in the same proportion as the money itself depreciated.

The facilities to be issued from the Continental Loan Office of this State, agreeable to the Tax Bill now pending with the General Assembly, will answer most purposes of a circulating paper medium. Being payable in Continental taxes, it will of course become a currency in most cases. An additional quantity of paper money, in the opinion of Council, would so far exceed the due proportion of paper to hard money within the State, as to depreciate the facilities, and thereby deprive us of the only circulating paper we can, at this time, reasonably hope to establish.

Permit us, gentlemen, before we close our address, to suggest our opinion of the source of those distresses which you so feelingly mention; and we hope you will be persuaded of our desire to concur with you in every measure of public utility, when we have pointed out to you the means of redressing these evils which we suffer from being in debt and involved one with another.

This kind of distress, we conceive, can only proceed from men's living beyond their income, or speculating indiscreetly upon their neighbors' property, and but very rarely from inevitable misfortune.

The plain and obvious means of redress' then will be a strict and uniform course of justice, and we apprehend the Legislature cannot more effectually contribute to the end proposed than by a further limitation and restriction upon book debts, and a regulation, as well in the form of the warrant of attorney, usually annexed to bonds given for payment of monies, as of the manner used in proceeding thereon in the courts of justice, for that in their present form and use they have tended rather to create an artificial credit than otherwise.

THO. McDONOUGH.

A VERBAL MESSAGE FROM THE COUNCIL TO THE HOUSE OF ASSEMBLY.

Gentlemen:

On motion,

Ordered, That the said bill be transmitted to the House of Assembly, together with the paper of amendments, as also with the paper of amendments proposed by the committee of conferees.

Ordered, That Mr. Craghead wait upon the House of Assembly with the aforesaid bill and several papers of amendments proposed thereto;

Who, being returned, reported the delivery thereof according to order.

On motion, that the sense of Council be taken whether Mr. Tilton have leave to enter at large upon the minutes of Council his reasons for disagreeing to sundry amendments proposed by Council to the bill for raising £21,000, &c., and for protesting against a message from the Council to the House of Assembly of the 22d instant, agreeable to leave then had and obtained of Council; and the question being put, it was resolved in the affirmative.

Whereupon Mr. Tilton laid on the table a paper exhibited as containing his reasons for his disagreement and protest, which follows in these words:

1st. Because the end proposed by the first amendment, for increasing the sum to be raised, and all the numerous amendments dependent thereon, is allowable in another way, and more to the advantage of the State. Instead of paying one-third of the requisition of the 4th of September, 1782, in specie, agreeably to the intention of this amendment, it is admitted the whole might be paid in facilities. By a separate provision then for this requisition, such as we have reason to believe the House of Assembly intend, our tax laws would be more simple and easily executed, more facilities might be brought into circulation, and as their value would be enhanced, they would circulate more currently and be of greater public utility; and in proportion as this State is enabled easily and speedily to comply with the requisitions of Congress, the Federal Government will be benefited.

2d. Because the Articles of Confederation expressly declare that the proportion of taxes to be raised by each State in the support of the Federal Government, shall be laid and levied by the authority and direction of the Legislatures of the several States, within the time agreed upon by the United States in Congress assembled; and the United States have required the Legislatures of each State in the Union, to provide, in the act complying with their requisition of the 27 Sept., 1785, that, if on the first day of January, 1787, the said State's quota of facilities shall not be in the hands of the State Treasurer, or other proper officer, the deficiencies shall be collected and paid into the Continental Treasury, in specie; therefore the 44th amendment for postponing the completion of this collection until the 31st May, 1787, cannot be considered as a compliance with the said requisition, and this circumstance of time must be regarded as essential to the requisition, and not as a mere matter of form, as was alleged and maintained in Council.

3d. Because the 45th amendment, for authorizing and requiring the State Treasurer to exchange specie for facilities is contrary to the spirit and letter of the requisition with which our act is intended to be a compliance. This amendment will also have a manifest tendency to depreciate the facilities, and, if adopted, must prove injurious to the honor and interest of the State, by opening a partial and dangerous speculation at the State Treasury.

4th. Because the 46th amendment, in its original form, to enable the President with the advice of the Privy Council to suspend the operation of the tax laws, as well as in the amended form in which it now stands, to enable the President with the advice of the Privy Council to summon the General Assembly for the express purpose of taking cognizance of officers appointed by Congress, and accountable to them alone, must be considered as manifestly tending to an incroachment on the just rights and prerogatives of Congress, engaged for by the plighted faith of this State through their Delegates in Congress assembled. It also behoves Council to have a due regard to the honor of this State, by a strict conformity to the requisitions of Congress, and to be seriously concerned to guard against a measure which might induce that honorable body to consider our present act as a non-compliance with, or repugnant to, their late requisitions, whereby our constituents might be deprived of the benefits hereby proposed and held out to them.

5th. Because in the message of Council to the House of Assembly, with reference to the Commissioner of the Loan Office in this State, for not having issued interest certificates, or Loan Office certificates, and other certificates of liquidated debts, up to the end of the year 1782, to be received in discharge of taxes for fulfilling the requisition of 1784, it is said: "and what has lately happened still renders the provision in this clause the more necessary, and Council willingly hope that any jealousy that may have taken place will, by the present form of the amendment, be done away." As it was sufficiently explained to the understanding and conviction of the Council, previous to the sending of this message, that neither Congress nor their officers could have done more for the State than was done, and that so far as the State may have suffered an inconveniency, it must have been owing to the contingency in the death of the late Loan Officer, and neglect on the part of the State to procure another before an entire change took place in the system for conducting the Continental Treasury, whereby it became impracticable to afford relief to the State, but by a speedy compliance with the requisition of 1785. It therefore becomes the duty of this dissentient to declare and protest, that language importing jealousy or distrust of Congress, or their officers, is without foundation, altogether unmerited by the officers of Congress, and when adopted by Council tends directly to disturb the harmony and impair the mutual confidence which ought to subsist between this State and the United States.

J. TILTON.

Upon the entry of the papers delivered by Doctor Tilton, as aforesaid, it was thereupon observed to the House that the facts as stated therein, to which his reasons referred, were misrepresented and not truly stated.

Whereupon it was moved by Mr. Read, seconded by Messrs. Neill and Craghead, separately, that the sense of Council be taken with respect to those facts, and Council proceeded thereon as follows:

The first of which facts alleged to be misrepresented is as follows, to wit: "Instead of paying one-third of the requisition of 4th September, 1782, in specie, agreeably to the intention of this amendment, it is admitted the whole must be paid in facilities."

The question whether this fact is truly stated being put, it was resolved in the negative.

The second misrepresentation is as follows, to wit: "By a separate provision then for this requisition, such as we have reason to believe the House of Assembly intend."

The question whether this fact is truly represented being put, it was resolved in the negative.

The third, whether the following is a true representation of the facts, to wit: "The forty-sixth amendment, in its original form, to enable the President, with the advice of the Privy Council, to suspend the operation of the tax laws, as well as in the amended form in which it now stands, to enable the President, with the advice of the Privy Council to summon the General Assembly for the express purpose of taking cognizance of officers appointed by Congress and accountable to them alone."

And the question being put thereon, it was resolved in the negative.

The fourth misrepresentation is as follows, to wit: "As it was sufficiently explained to the understanding and conviction of Council, previous to the sending of this message, that neither Congress nor their officers could have done more for the State than was done."

The question whether this fact is truly represented or not being put, it was resolved in the negative.

Ordered, That Mr. Neill wait upon the House of Assembly with the resolution respecting the appointment of commissioners on commercial business, &c.; who, being returned, reported the delivery thereof according to order.

Mr. McCall, a member of the House of Assembly, attending, was admitted and delivered to the Chair the following papers, to wit: The bill for the suppression of idleness, vice, and immorality, with the paper of amendments proposed thereto by Council, and agreed to by the House of Assembly, and a paper of amendments proposed by the House of Assembly to the said bill; as also the resignation of James Tilton of the office of State Treasurer, with the following verbal message.

The Auditor of Accounts, to whom was referred the petition of William Killen, Esq., executor of Col. John Haslet, deceased, begs leave to report:

That he has had a conference with the petitioner on the subject of his said petition, and has been furnished by him with a settlement of Col. Haslet's accounts, confirmed by the House of Assembly on the 5th of June, 1779, and by the Legislative Council on the 8th of December following, exhibiting a balance of £234 : 13 : 11 due to the estate of his testator, which the petitioner alleges was paid to him on the 8th of January, 1780, when it was worth only £7 : 15 : 5 in specie. He also alleges that Col. Haslet's estate suffered greatly by the depreciation of the money which came to his hands; nevertheless he is willing to return the two thousand dollars last received by his testator from the United States, in certificates of final settlement, to the same nominal amounts due from the said States to the officers and soldiers of the late American army, provided this State will assume the payment of the said two thousand dollars to the United States.

The Auditor, upon considering the circumstances of the case, is of opinion that this State may with safety accede to the proposal of the petitioner; that the said two thousand dollars will then be settled in a general account with the United States, in which account the certificates of final settlement must be received and accepted as a credit. That with respect to the interest due on the said sum, it is the opinion of the Auditor that the petitioner's testator's estate should be charged with it, and that the interest due on the certificates of final settlement to be given in exchange should be calculated up to the time of exchange.

ELEAZER McCOMB.

The Council now resumed the consideration of the contents of the paper purporting to be the return of a Counsellor for the County of Sussex for the present year.

On motion of Mr. Tilton, seconded by Mr. Baning, that the following resolution should be adopted by the Council, to wit:

WHEREAS the disturbances in Sussex County, which have occasioned the disputed election now under the discussion of this House, appear manifestly to flow from causes that have subsisted from the beginning of the war with Great Britain, and through the Revolution, until this day, and are now of so serious a nature as to deserve the most attentive and thorough investigation; and whereas to decide on the election upon the information given upon one side only, without hearing those complained of, as well as those complaining, must be an ex parte procedure contrary to the rules of justice and moderation; and whereas there is also reason to apprehend that besides setting aside the election there may be further proceedings of the Legislature, for the purpose of disgracing or punishing those complained of by the petitioners, whereby they will be condemned unheard, and may be rendered more desperate in their conduct, and the disorder of this Government become more extended and dreadful in their consequences; therefore

Resolved, That such of the persons complained of in the petitions as choose be permitted to attend and be heard in their own justification, and that such person or persons as can throw light upon this important subject be ordered to attend and give their evidence; that, after the fullest information and the most free and open discussion of the matter, the House may be enabled to proceed in so important a business in such manner as shall most effectually quiet the minds of the people.

The question was put, and the yeas and nays being required by Mr. Tilton, they are as follows:

Yeas—Mr. Tilton, Mr. Baning.

Nays—Mr. Read, Mr. Cook; Mr. D. Polk.

So it passed in the negative.

Whereupon, on motion, it is

Resolved, That the said election of a member of this House, in the present year, for the County of Sussex, was not freely, legally, and indifferently made, and it is adjudged by the Council that Simon Kollock, in the indenture of return aforesaid, was not duly elected.

The question being put on the above resolution, the yeas and nays were required by Mr. Tilton, and they are as follows:

Yeas—Mr. Read, Mr. Cook, Mr. Polk, Mr. Baning.

The committee to whom was referred the ordinance of Congress, of the 7th of May last, for settling the accounts between the United States and individual States, to report what might be necessary to be done thereon on the part of this State, now made their report; which was read.

The said report was read a second time and agreed to, as follows:

WHEREAS Eleazar McComb, Esq., the Auditor of Accounts for this State, on the 24th June, 1786, was elected by the General Assembly the Commissioner to complete a settlement of the accounts of this State with the United States; and some doubts have been made by Mr. McComb, whether the said appointment continues, so as to authorize him to proceed in the said business with the Commissioner, or his deputy, appointed under the ordinance of Congress, of the 7th May last, for settling the accounts between the United States and individual States for the district of which this State forms a part; therefore

Resolved, That it is the opinion of this General Assembly, that the appointment made of the said Eleazar McComb as aforesaid doth still continue; and he is hereby authorized and required to use all due diligence in collecting and stating such accounts of this State as come within the description of the accounts and claims of individual States against the United States, as enumerated in the ordinance aforesaid; and to procure sufficient or the best attainable vouchers to support the accounts and claims of this State against the United States; and for this end he is hereby empowered to call for books and papers relating to the same, which have come to the hands or possession of any person in public office or appointment, or after into the possession of others by means thereof, giving descriptive acknowledgments thereof to the person from whom they may be received; and finally to transact with the Commissioner of the District all the necessary business relative to this important object.

2. That in case of the death, inability, or refusal to act, of the said Eleazar McComb, as State Commissioner as aforesaid, it is the opinion of the General Assembly that his Excellency the President, in their recess, appoint some other suitable person to act as State Commissioner in the business aforesaid.

3. That Mr. McComb, as Auditor of this State, do forthwith call to account all persons who have been in any ways intrusted with any public monies belonging to the State, or wherewith the State may be chargeable, or who may have been appointed or employed on behalf of the State, or any part thereof, in collecting or receiving of supplies intended for the use of the United States, that the Auditor, in his character of State Commissioner as aforesaid, may be the better enabled to make the exhibits on the part of this State against the United States, within the time limited by the ordinance of Congress aforesaid; and in case of refusal or neglect so to account, that the Auditor, without delay, thereafter cause process to be issued against every such delinquent, as in and by the act for the auditing and arranging the accounts of this State it is prescribed.

4. That Mr. McComb ought to have an allowance adequate to his services as State Commissioner, and that this General Assembly, at their future meeting, will make provision therefor; or in case of other appointment as aforesaid in like manner for such appointee.

Ordered, That the said resolutions be transcribed and sent to the House of Assembly for their consideration and concurrence.

Resolved, That it be recommended to his Excellency the President that he take effectual order to have the business aforesaid performed as soon as reasonably may be, and that he appoint some suitable person to collect all vouchers relative to, or necessary for, the same; and to personally solicit such a credit at the Board of Treasury of the United States, or other public office connected therewith, at the expense of the State; and for this end the President may draw his order on the State Treasurer for such sum, in advance, for this service, as he may judge reasonable.

James Sykes, Esquire, Clerk of this House, having resigned, the House proceeded to the choice of a Clerk, when John Edmunds Clayton was unanimously chosen; who then took the oath prescribed by the Constitution, and subscribed the declaration of faith therein required, and also took and subscribed the oath of office. [See note on page 11.]

Mr. Speaker laid on the table a petition, signed by a number of the inhabitants of Sussex County, delivered him by a member of the House of Assembly, complaining of an undue election at the time aforesaid, together with a list of witnesses for the petitioners, and praying that inquiry should be made into the truth of the facts stated therein, and that they might be heard by Council.

The Doorkeeper informed the Speaker that Joseph Miller, Esq., as Counsel for the petitioners complaining of the undue election, then was in waiting and desired to be admitted before the Council.

Whereupon he was admitted, and made his apology for not attending sooner upon the business aforesaid. And he informed the House that such of the petitioners as had been attendant on the like complaint made to the House of Assembly, and also the witnesses produced to and examined by the House of Assembly, were gone to their respective places of residence; that the examinations had before the House of Assembly, as well of the witnesses in the petitioners list as others, were before the House of Assembly on oath and reduced to writing there, and probably did contain sufficient information for the Council to proceed into the inquiry of the facts alleged by the petitioners in their complaint, and that, as their counsel, he prayed that the depositions so taken might be admitted in evidence before this House.

And then the House took into consideration the proposition made by Mr. Miller on the part of the petitioners, Mr. Horsey, the returned member for Sussex County being present, and thereupon recommended it to Mr. Miller to reduce his proposition in writing, and present the same at the meeting of the House in the afternoon, when it was also recommended to the returned member to declare his sense thereof in writing.

Mr. Miller, counsel on the part of the petitioners, presented to the Chair the following petition, viz:

To the honorable the Legislative Council of the Delaware State:

The subscriber respectfully represents, that as the witnesses summoned by the honorable Assembly to give evidence on the controverted election for the County of Sussex, agreeably to the prayer of the petition now before the honorable Legislative Council, have returned home, and as the testimony of those witnesses has been taken in writing by the other honorable branch of the Legislature, the subscriber, in order to avoid expense and delay, prays, on behalf of the petitioners, whom he represents as their counsel, that the depositions of the said witnesses, as taken by the honorable Assembly, may be received by your honorable House as legal evidence concerning the election now in dispute.

Dover, 21st Jan., 1788.

Mr. Isaac Horsey, the returned member for Sussex County, also presented to the Chair the following declaration, viz:

I, Isaac Horsey, a returned member for the County of Sussex to the Legislative Council of the Delaware State, chosen and elected on the 26th of Nov. last, which election is now controverted, do, for the more easy and speedy determination of the legality of the said election, hereby agree that the depositions lately taken before the honorable House of Assembly of this State, touching the legality of the said election, may be read and taken as evidence in this House so far forth as may tend to prove either the legality or illegality of said election.

Witness my hand this 21st day of January, Anno Domini, 1788. ISAAC HORSEY.

On motion,

Resolved, That this House, agreeable to the above prayer of Mr. Miller, counsel on the part of the petitioners, and the declaration of Isaac Horsey, returned member, will receive the depositions of the said witnesses, as taken by the House of Assembly, in evidence as to the election now in dispute.

It was then represented by Mr. Miller, counsel on the part of the petitioners, that the House of Assembly, not having yet acted upon the testimony contained in the depositions taken before them on the contested election for Sussex County, he could not, as yet, with propriety, apply to that House for a transmission of those depositions to Council, but that he was informed the business of considering and deciding thereon would be speedily taken up by the House of Assembly and that he should immediately after make the application for such transmission.

VOTES AND PROCEEDINGS

OF THE

COUNCIL OF THE DELAWARE STATE.

ADJOURNED SESSION, JANUARY, 1789.

DOVER, January 12, 1789.

Divers of the members met, but the number not being a quorum, adjourned from day to day until Saturday, the 17th of January following.

SATURDAY, A. M., January 17, 1789.

Council met. Present, Mr. Vandyke, Mr. Baning, Mr. Cook, Mr. Ridgely, and Mr. Horsey.

On motion,

Resolved, That during the present sessions the door of Council shall be open for the admission of all orderly persons without the bar of Council.

Mr. Ridgely laid before the Council a memorial of Dr. James Sykes, praying leave to bring in a bill to enable him to bring into this State certain negroes, which, by the testament and last will of Robert Goldsborough, Esq., of the State of Maryland, were bequeathed him; which was read and referred to Mr. Ridgely, Mr. Cook, and Mr. Baning, to report thereon.

The petitions from James Rumsey, of Berkley County, attended with sundry other papers relative thereto, were presented and read.

Ordered, That the same be referred to Mr. Ridgely, Mr. Vandyrke, and Mr. Horsey, to report thereon.

Mr. Coombs, a member of the House of Assembly, was admitted and delivered to the Chair a bill entitled "An act to prevent the importation of convicts into this State;" a letter from the Secretary of Congress, of the 17th of September, 1788, to the President of this State, and a recommendation from Congress, of the 16th of the same month, upon which the aforesaid bill is founded; which were severally read.

Ordered to lie on the table.

Mr. Latimer, a member of the House of Assembly, was admitted and presented to the Chair a message from the President, of the 6th June, 1788, which was read, and is as follows:

Gentlemen of the General Assembly:

I have directed the Secretary to lay before you, for your information, a circular letter from the Secretary for Foreign Affairs, of the 17th of May last, and a letter from the Secretary of Congress, of the 12th of the same month, with their enclosures. These papers I would wish to have returned after they have been perused by your honors, as I purpose to publish them for the general information of the citizens at large.

As I am persuaded that the justice of the Legislature will extend to compensate for services rendered to the State by the servants of the public, I beg leave to observe to your honors that no provision is made for various public duties enjoined to be performed by the Secretary of this State, and in discharge of which considerable expenses must necessarily be incurred by him.

There are also many contingent expenses incident to the due administration of Government, such as the payment of expresses, postage of public letters, &c., which ought to be provided for to prevent the inconvenience which must otherwise follow.

I am therefore under the necessity of suggesting to your honors the justice and propriety of making such provision in these respects as you may deem consistent with your wisdom, and most honorable and beneficial to the State.

June 6, 1788.

THOS. COLLINS.

The same member also delivered the following message from the President, together with the several letters and their enclosures therein referred to, which were severally read:

Gentlemen of the General Assembly :

During your late recess, the following public letters have been received by me, which I have directed the Secretary to communicate to you, with their inclosures, to wit: from the Convention of the State of New York, of the 26th of July last ; from the President of the Convention of Virginia, of the 28th of June, and from the General Assembly of the said State, of the 20th of November; from the President of the Convention of North Carolina, of the 12th and 24th of August; and from the President of the Convention of South Carolina, of the 24th of May last.

The Secretary will also lay before your honors a printed copy of the journals of Congress, from the 20th of August last to the end of the federal year.

As it does not appear from the journals of the General Assembly that any provision has been made for the contingent expenses of government, recommended in my message of the sixth day of June last, I must earnestly entreat the attention of your honors to that business. And upon this subject, I cannot forbear to observe that the multiplicity of post-offices, erected upon the state road to Wilmington, and the extravagant rates demanded for the portage of letters, appear burthensome to the community. Under what authority those offices are instituted, or these rates demanded, I am unable to ascertain, nor will my present indisposition permit me to take steps for that purpose ; but I conceive their existence to be an evil that requires legislative inquiry ; and upon this business perhaps your honors can obtain information from the Post-Master of this State, who is a member of the General Assembly.

THOMAS COLLINS.

Belmont, January 14, 1789.

Adjourned to 3 o'clock.

EODEM DIE, P. M.

Council met.

The committee appointed on the 24th of November last to consider the bill for appointing Commissioners for the Town of Dover, brought in their report, which was read, as follows:

The committee to whom was referred the bill entitled "An act for appointing John Baning, Eleazer McComb, and Nicholas Ridgely, Esquires, Commissioners for the Town of Dover, and for other purposes," beg leave to report: That they think the clause in that bill for selling lots and confirming titles are proper, but all of the other clauses should be entirely rejected. They also think there should be a clause in the bill for regulating and ascertaining the streets that have been already laid out; to be done from the best documents to be found. The want of such a regulation is a growing evil, and the sooner it is prevented the fewer disputes there will be.

Read and agreed to.

On motion of Mr. Ridgely, for leave to bring in a bill for altering the manner of levying executions to be issued by Justices of the Peace in certain cases, and for lessening the number of Constables, the same was granted; whereupon he laid before the Council a bill for that purpose, which was read.

Ordered to lie on the table.

The bill entitled "An act to prevent the importation of convicts into this State," was read the second time. Deferred for further consideration.

Adjourned to Monday morning, 10 o'clock.

The same member also delivered a message from the House of Assembly, which was read, and is as follows:

A MESSAGE TO THE COUNCIL FROM THE HOUSE OF ASSEMBLY.

Gentlemen :

The message received from your honorable house, in answer to a resolution of this house, proposing a committee of conference relative to a depending bill, has highly astonished and alarmed us.

The circumstance of rejecting a proposal from either house, to confer with a committee to be appointed by the other, for the purpose of mutual communication and information, we conceive to be equally unprecedented in form, and dangerous in its political tendency. We do not mean to engage in a mere altercation about form ; we are only sorry, in the present instance, that we are obliged to complain of an infringement of a legislative and parliamentary custom.

When two branches of legislature are so constructed as to make a concurrence constitutionally requisite, in order to effect public business, and are so organized as to operate as reciprocal checks upon each other, frequent communications are often essential. Such communications, we apprehend, are regularly to be accomplished by committees of conference, appointed by the respective houses. The reason and expediency of appointments of this nature are too cogent and obvious now to be enlarged upon.

The message received from your honorable house has left us, with respect to the bill at present in controversy, without alternative. We cannot, as we conceive, consistent with the sacred duty which we owe to our constituents and to ourselves, concur in the amendments offered to us, without further information from your honorable house. This information, at least in the usual way, you have denied us.

Admitting that the Council have an absolute and constitutional right of rejecting any proposals which may be made by this house, we cannot help expressing our regret and surprise, that the exercise of the power was not reserved for an occasion more published for the year 1915.

weighty and important than the one which now engages our attention ; and we are equally sorry, that the urgent business of the State should be obstructed by delays, which we conceive might have been avoided, but have now become indispensable.

The preservation of that dignity which each house owes to itself, and relatively to each other, we take to be the surest means of preserving the harmony so necessary in all deliberative assemblies, and so essential to the discharge of our respective duties.

Should your honorable house concur with us in the ideas which we have now addressed to you, and agree to reconsider your message of yesterday, we shall rejoice in the prospect of a system of confidence, and an honorable discharge of the duties intrusted to us ; but should you, on the other hand, persevere in a line of conduct so different from the one heretofore pursued, we have only to lament, that one of the most useful purposes for which two branches of the legislature were created, "That of uniting their wisdom and councils for the general benefit of the State," must necessarily be destroyed.

The memorial of Joseph Anderson and Matthias Kerlin was presented and read.

Ordered to lie on the table.

Ordered, That the said bill, and the several papers which accompanied the same, be returned to the House of Assembly.

The bill entitled "An act to prevent the payment of any money into the Treasury of the United States for a limited time," was read a second time and deferred for further consideration.

The bill entitled "An act for creating original jurisdiction in the Supreme Court, &c.," was read a second time and deferred for further consideration.

On motion,

Ordered, That Mr. Bedford be added to the committee appointed to prepare and bring in a bill for regulating fees.

Ordered, That the following message be transcribed and sent to the House of Assembly:

AN ANSWER FROM THE COUNCIL TO A MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE OF ASSEMBLY.

Gentlemen:

The Council have taken into consideration the message this afternoon received from your honorable House, and are truly surprised that the exercise of a right so clearly established should become a matter of astonishment and alarm. Where rights are defined and well ascertained, we conceive a precedent unnecessary to justify us in our conduct, should that be wanting; but we are not without even that authority.

Had your honorable House given a single reason for your rejection of the amendments proposed by Council, we should perhaps have thought a conference more eligible than we did. Extraordinary modes of legislation should not be adopted but on extraordinary occasions. The object of the bill, even in the most perfect state it could have been formed, was certainly not worth the time that had fruitlessly been spent on it previous to your proposal for a conference, much less to waste more without a certainty of agreement.

Council are not so very tenacious of former opinions as obstinately to adhere to them could they be satisfied they were wrong; but until this is done they think they should be wanting in duty to their constituents to recede from them and to permit established privileges of Council to be infringed.

We lament exceedingly that your honorable House should suffer the harmony of the Legislature to be interrupted on so trifling an occasion, and we sincerely hope that the most useful purposes for which two branches of the Legislature were created may not be destroyed.

Signed by order of the Council,

GEORGE MITCHELL, Speaker.

EODEM DIE, P. M.

Council met.

The committee to whom was referred the bill to provide for such certificates as have not been claimed by persons justly entitled to the same, beg leave to report: That they have considered the same and are of opinion it should not be passed, because it will draw into dispute the right of depreciation certificates, which we think hath already been regulated by former laws, except so far as the same relates to cases where this State hath not received credit for the same by the United States.

Read and ordered to lie on the table.

Mr. Vining, a member of the House of Assembly, was admitted and delivered to the Speaker a message, which was read, and is as follows:

A MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE OF ASSEMBLY IN ANSWER TO A MESSAGE FROM THE COUNCIL.

Gentlemen :

The House of Assembly have received the message from your honorable house, and still adhere to the idea that their rejection of the proposed committee of conference, as made by this house, was of the first impression. We conceive that Council have not taken the proper discrimination between a constitutional right, which we admitted, and the breach of a parliamentary custom of which we complained.

The House of Assembly remain yet to be convinced, that a precedent, similar in its nature, has ever existed, or has ever been exercised by either the House of Assembly or the Council, previous to the present instance. Upon this occasion the House of Assembly beg leave to recommend to the attention of the honorable Council the several messages which passed between the Houses in the May session of 1786, where they will find the points at present in controversy fully ascertained and explained.

As to the supposed insignificance of the bill now in question, it only furnishes us with an instance, that even on trifling occasions, encroachments may be made by one House on the accustomed privileges of the other ; and besides, it is a respect in our judgments due to any bill originating in either House, that it should not, unless rejected in the usual way, be entirely lost ; the adoption of the rights now claimed establishes this dangerous precedent.

If your honorable House will only consider the progressive state of this business, they will find that not only custom, but parliamentary propriety, suggests abundant argument why the reasons of adhering to their several amendments should have been communicated to this House, either by way of message or by means of a committee of conference ; otherwise any bill, even of the utmost importance, might be eventually lost, without such satisfactory information as might respectively induce the different Houses to recede from error or to have passed a salutary law.

Under the firmest persuasion therefore, that the reasons of rejection should have preceded the disagreement of Council to the conference, we trust that, let the sentiments of Council be ever so well established as to their right, they will be cautious of drawing into precedent a principal which in its effects may defeat the wisest purposes of legislation.

It is a very common mistake to suppose that the life of a man is a straight line, and that the only way to success is to follow it. In fact, the life of a man is a curve, and the only way to success is to follow it.

Mr. Grantham, a member of Assembly, was admitted and delivered to the Chair the following resolutions, viz:

IN THE HOUSE OF ASSEMBLY OF THE DELAWARE STATE,

WEDNESDAY, A. M., September 7th, 1791.

1. Resolved unanimously, That, in the opinion of this House, alterations and amendments of the Constitution of this State are necessary; and that the same should be revised in such manner as may be best adapted to the end proposed.

And whereas governments are instituted for securing the unalienable rights of man, and the protection of individuals in the enjoyment of life, liberty, and property; and all government originates from the people, is founded in compact only, and intended solely for the good of the whole: and whereas it is expressly declared by our own Bill of Rights, "That whenever the ends of government are perverted, and public liberty manifestly endangered, the people may, and of right ought, to establish a new, or reform the old government," from which, as well as from the nature of society, and the principles of government, it appears that the people have, at all times, an inherent right to alter and amend the form of government, in such manner as may appear to them best adapted to the end proposed; and whereas it has been found from experience, that the great and important ends of government are not effected by our present form of government, and that the general departments thereof are so blended together, and improperly arranged, as to prevent an impartial, beneficial, and energetic operation; and whereas the burdens and expenses of government are with difficulty borne, and in some instances the present form is contradictory to the constitution of the United States, which every member of the Legislature and all Executive and Judicial officers must be bound by oath or affirmation to support; and whereas, by the thirtieth article of the constitution of this State, the power of revising the same, and of altering and amending certain parts thereof, is vested in the General Assembly; and it appears to this House, that the exercise of the power of altering and amending the constitution by the Legislature would not be productive of all the valuable purposes intended by a revision, nor be so satisfactory and agreeable to our constituents; and that it would be more proper and expedient to recommend to the good people of this State to choose deputies for this special purpose, to meet in convention, it is therefore further

2. Resolved, That it be recommended to the good people of the several Counties of this State to choose a suitable number of deputies, to meet in convention, for the purpose of revising, altering and amending the Constitution of this State; or, if they see occasion, for forming a new one instead thereof.

3. Resolved, also, That it is the opinion of this House, that the said Convention consist of the number of thirty persons; that is to say: ten for the County of New Castle, ten for the County of Kent, and ten for the County of Sussex; and be chosen on the first day of October next, in the same manner, by the same persons, at the same places, and under the same regulations, as are directed and appointed by the Election Laws of this State; save that the names of the persons to be elected deputies shall be written on pieces of paper separate from those containing the legislative representatives and officers then to be elected, and put into separate boxes ; and that the returns should be made to the convention so choosen ; and that the said convention should meet on Tuesday, the twenty-ninth day of November next, at the Town of Dover.

4. Resolved, That it be and it is hereby recommended to the succeeding House of Assembly to provide by law for the expenses incurred by the said election and convention.

The Commissioner appointed to state and support the claim of this State against the Union, begs leave to report: That after two preparatory journeys to Philadelphia, he entered on the business of his mission in the month of June last, and on the 24th day of the same month exhibited a claim, amounting to 3,261,044<sup>19</sup>/<sub>100</sub> dollars, of old emissions, and 380,228.90<sup>1</sup>/<sub>3</sub> dollars, of specie, to the Board of Commissioners appointed by Congress; that the Board estimated the old emission payments to be equal to 100,000 dollars, and supposed that two-thirds of the sum might be allowed for interest, making the whole, on a rough calculation, to amount to 800,000 specie dollars.

The Commissioner made sundry other claims by way of a general saving, and informed the Board that he would hold himself in readiness to support the claims of the State by the best proofs in his power; that in doing this reference would be made, in some cases, to the laws and journals of the Legislature, and to the public books of the State. And he expressed his hopes that great indulgence would be shown the State in consequence of the loss of papers captured by the enemy.

The Commissioner has applied since to the Board, both by writing and in person, to know when he shall attend to finish the business, and was informed that those attending from distant States ought to be dispatched first, and that notice should be given him in case it was necessary for him to attend to substantiate any part of the claim of Delaware.

That, charging Capt. Peter Jacquet with the money

Also with money he received from Geo. Read, Esq., in May, 1777, . . . . .	$ 780 00

Dover, January 26th, 1792.

ELEAZER McCOMB.

The Auditor of Accounts, to whom was referred two petitions of George Evans, of New Castle County, begs leave to report:

With respect to the first petition, dated January 2d, 1792, that at the time allowances were made to the lieutenants and sub-lieutenants of Kent and Sussex Counties, it was alleged, by one or more of the members of the General Assembly from New Castle County, that those officers for that county would not exhibit any charge for their service, but would be contented with the Militia fines they had received, or were to receive, under the law. This the Auditor took for granted, as no account appeared of any money paid by them, on account of fines, to the State Treasurer; and although the declaration of these gentlemen doth not preclude the demand, the Auditor is of opinion that no allowance whatever ought to be made to the lieutenant or sub-lieutenants of New Castle County for their services until the Militia fines received by them are duly accounted for.

With respect to the second petition, dated January 4th, 1792, the Auditor is of opinion, that as Francis Wade was an officer of the United States, and not accountable to this State for his conduct in the transaction of his business, any just demand which Mr. Evans may have against him, as an officer of the United States, should be exhibited to Congress.

The Auditor begs leave further to mention that the said Geo. Evans, acting as Commissary under the appointment and orders of the President and Privy Council of this State, sold and disposed of a number of cattle, &c., to a considerable amount, in the month of November, 1777, of the sales of which no account hath yet been rendered; but a list of outstanding debts, amounting to £693 : 14 : 9, hath been returned by him into the Auditor's office, and, by his own confession, there remains in his hands upwards of one thousand pounds, of Continental money, received on account of said property sold.

The Auditor, having heretofore called upon Mr. Evans, by summons, to appear in his office and settle his accounts, on his neglecting so to do, caused a suit to be instituted against him in the Court of Common Pleas of New Castle County, which is still depending; and the Auditor is of opinion that Mr. Evans ought to collect the debts he has returned outstanding and account for what he has received, or may receive, and what may have been lost through his neglect.

Dover, January 19th, 1792.

Mr. McKennan, a member of Assembly, was admitted and presented the following resolution of that House, which was, by order, read, viz:

IN THE HOUSE OF ASSEMBLY,

FRIDAY, P. M., May 4th, 1792.

WHEREAS John Clayton, who declared he spoke the sentiments of the people of Kent County, hath, as one of the Commissioners for completing the Court House in Dover, insulted the Legislature of this State by denying them the use of the chambers heretofore occupied by the General Assembly for holding their sessions, requiring them to be delivered up for the use of workmen employed about the building, in consequence of which both Houses have adjourned the sessions to Duck Creek Cross-Roads; therefore

Resolved unanimously, That, in the opinion of this General Assembly, the Legislature of this State ought not to be subject to the caprice of any individual in the State, and that it will not be proper for them to hold their sessions in the Town of Dover until the Levy Court of Kent County, or some other proper authority, shall, by an explicit act, appropriate to their use the chambers in the said Court House, agreeable to the intention of the Legislature heretofore expressed.

Ordered, That the above resolution be sent to the Council, for their consideration and concurrence.

Extract from the minutes.

JAS. BOOTH, Cl'k of Assembly.

Mr. Maxwell, a member of Assembly, was admitted and presented the following message from his Excellency, the President, together with the inclosures therein mentioned, which was, by order, read, viz:

Gentlemen of the General Assembly:

A majority of the Legislative Council of this State having represented to me that a meeting of the Legislature would be of great public utility; and requested that the General Assembly should be convened on the first day of the present month, I did, therefore, on the eighteenth day of April last, issue writs of summons for that purpose, which I have directed to be laid before you.

A letter, dated the 23d ulto., has just been communicated to me from Thomas McKean and Edmund Physick, Esquires, attorneys of the late proprietaries, relative to the vacant and unappropriated lands in this State, the quit rents, alienation fines, and monies in arrear, which is claimed by them on behalf of the said late proprietaries. They have deemed it expedient to make this communication to me, and I have directed the Secretary to lay the same before your Honors for your consideration.

The Secretary will also deliver a resignation of Jacob Broom, Esquire, dated the 16th ulto., of his commission as a Justice of the Peace for the County of New Castle; and also the resignation of John Clayton, Esquire, dated the 17th ulto., of his commission of third Justice of the Court of Common Pleas and Orphans' Court for the County of Kent.

I have also directed to be laid before you a letter of the 31st of January last, from his Excellency the Governor of Georgia, enclosing a concurrent resolution of the General Assembly of that State, instructing their Senators to move that the doors of the Senate of the United States be kept open, whilst sitting in their legislative capacity.

The act of Assembly entitled "An act to render parts of divers acts of Assembly, and certain law proceedings, more conformable to the present Constitution," operates, in many instances, very injuriously by restricting the several Courts of Quarter Sessions in issuing recommendations for the keeping of houses of public entertainment to the session annually held in the month of February, whereas, in a great variety of cases, the performance of that duty can be exercised at a subsequent session, if requisite, more beneficially, both to the public and the parties interested. The inconvenience complained of might be remedied with great facility, and I therefore recommend it to the attention of your honors.

J. CLAYTON.

Dover, May 2d, 1792.

SATURDAY, May 5th, 1792, A. M.

Council assembled. Present as yesterday.

On motion, the resolution of the House of Assembly of yesterday, respecting the adjournment to this place, was read and non-concurred in.

Ordered, That Mr. Tilton wait on the House of Assembly and deliver the following verbal message, together with the following resolution, for their concurrence:

VERBAL MESSAGE TO THE HOUSE OF ASSEMBLY.

Gentlemen:

The Council, having taken into consideration the resolution of your honorable body, of yesterday, respecting the cause of adjournment of the present session from Dover to this place, have thought proper to return the same to your honorable body, together with a resolution unanimously agreed to by Council purporting the same, but more explanatory, and flatter themselves that it will meet with your unanimous approbation.

WHEREAS the Legislature, at their present meeting, were prevented sitting in the Court House, in Dover, by the Court House Commissioners refusing the use of the chambers formerly occupied by them; on which refusal the Legislative Council procured a room for their accommodation, and the House of Assembly having taken possession of the room in the Court House formerly occupied by them, and during the time of their sitting John Clayton, who declared he spoke the sentiments of the people of Kent County, did, as one of the Commissioners for completing the Court House, in Dover, request to be heard before the House of Assembly, and upon being admitted denied the House of Assembly the use of the chambers aforesaid for holding their sessions, demanding them to be delivered up for the use of workmen employed about the building, in consequence of which, and for the want of proper rooms for sitting in, both Houses have adjourned to Duck Creek Cross-Roads; therefore

Resolved unanimously, That, in the opinion of this General Assembly, the Legislature of this State ought not to be subject to the caprice of any individual in the State, and that it will not be proper for them to hold their sessions in the Town of Dover, and that it be recommended to the Convention of this State, and it is hereby recommended to said Convention, to fix the place of meeting of the Legislature, under the new Constitution, at Duck Creek Cross-Roads, unless the Levy Court of Kent County, or some other proper authority, shall, by an explicit act, appropriate to the use of the Legislature the chambers and office in the said Court House, agreeable to the intention of the Legislature heretofore expressed, and furnish the Convention with said proceedings.

Mr. Tilton reported that he had delivered the message and resolution agreeable to order.

WHEREAS it is represented to this General Assembly that a canal and lock navigation on the waters of Brandywine River, extending from Chester County, in Pennsylvania, through part of New Castle County to the Borough of Wilmington, is practicable, and, if executed, would be attended with great advantage to the agricultural and commercial interests of both States, this General Assembly, willing to encourage designs of such public utility, do

Resolve, That ——— be and they are hereby appointed commissioners on the part of this State to view the grounds through which the said canal is intended to pass, and, in conjunction with others on the part of Pennsylvania, to note down the elevations and distances by plot and survey, and to make an estimate of the probable expense, and report their proceedings to the next General Assembly, to whom it is recommended to make an adequate allowance to the said commissioners for their time, trouble, and expense in the performance of the said duty.

Ordered, That Mr. Cooper return the said bill to the House of Assembly; which he did accordingly.

Mr. Tilton laid on the table the following resolution, viz:

WHEREAS a number of the inhabitants of New Castle have, by their petition to this General Assembly, set forth that a canal and lock navigation on the waters of Brandywine River, extending from Chester County, in Pennsylvania, thro' part of New Castle County to the Borough of Wilmington, is practicable, and, if executed, would be attended with great advantages to the agricultural and commercial interests of both States, this General Assembly, willing to encourage designs of such public utility, do

Resolve, That ——— be and they are hereby appointed commissioners on the part of this State, they, or any three of them, to view the ground thro' which the said canal is intended to pass, and, in conjunction with others on the part of Pennsylvania, to note down the elevation and distances by plot and survey, and to make an estimate of the probable expense, and report their proceedings to the next General Assembly, provided that the petitioners make compensation to the said commissioners for their time, trouble, and expense in the performance of the said duty.

On motion, said resolution was read and agreed to.

Ordered, That Mr. Tilton wait on the House of Assembly and deliver said resolution, for their concurrence; which he did accordingly.

The committee appointed to wait on his Excellency, the President, delivered the following communication from his Excellency, which was, by order, read:

Gentlemen of the Council:

Your committee have communicated to me a message from your honorable House, desiring to know my reasons for not commissioning the person chosen the last sitting of the General Assembly, as fourth Justice of the Court of Common Pleas for the County of Sussex.

By the 12th section of the Constitution of this State it is declared that the President and the General Assembly shall, by joint ballot, appoint the Justices of the Supreme Court, the Judge of Admiralty, and the Justices of the Courts of Common Pleas and Orphans' Courts. And, in the seventh section of the said Constitution, it is declared that, on the death, inability, or absence of the President from the State, the Speaker of the Legislative Council, for the time being, shall be Vice-President, &c. It is by the joint ballot of the President and General Assembly only that a constitutional appointment of a Justice of the Courts of Common Pleas of the County of Sussex, aforesaid, could, at the last session of the General Assembly, have been made, as no inability on my part, nor absence from the State, could have authorized the exercise of the powers of the President by any other person, agreeable to the provision contained in the seventh section of the Constitution.

The President of the State, where neither inability nor absence from the State takes place, is a constituent part of the body constitutionally vested with those appointments, and not being required by the Constitution or any law of this State to be constantly attendant on the General Assembly, ought, I conceive, to have received a notification to attend for the purpose of proceeding to such appointments, and in this opinion I was warranted by the invariable practice of the Legislature on every similar occasion which has occurred since the Revolution.

In the present instance of an election of a person as fourth

Justice of the Court of Common Pleas for the County of Sussex, although I had been for many days at the place where the sessions of the Legislature was held, and during the whole session was within the State, and exercising the office of President, I never received any notification or information whatever of the intention of the General Assembly to proceed to the said election; and as the said election was made without my knowledge or being present thereat, I cannot but deem it unconstitutional. Under these circumstances I consider myself bound, by the duty I owe to the public in the character of President, and by the solemn obligation of my oath, to refuse to commissionate the person thus unconstitutionally elected fourth Justice of the Court of Common Pleas for the County of Sussex.

J. CLAYTON.

Duck Creek Cross-Roads, May 4th, 1792.

On motion,

Ordered, That Mr. Shankland wait on the House of Assembly and deliver the following verbal message, which he did accordingly, viz:
