INTRODUCTORY NOTE.

There is a statement in one of the books of Robert Louis Stevenson, that the proper summit of any Cambrian pedigree is a prince. I can give no better reason than this for the claim that has been made that we are descended from Llewelyn ap Gruffydd, the last Prince of Wales. For my part, I have not been able to trace the family beyond the narrow confines of Delaware. In that State they were "children of the soil." They are characterized in deed and will as "yeomen" and "planters."

Griffith is a very common surname in the county directories of Wales. Griffin, the English corruption of the same name, is seldom seen in those books, but is quite common in the English border counties.

THE FAMILY TRADITION.

Why does the number three appear in so many family traditions; as, for instance, "there were three brothers?" Three is the holy number of the old Chaldeans, and its use may be a mysticism inherited from remote ancestors. We are also told that the early Britons had a passion for the figure 3.

In the tradition of the Griffin family three brothers came from Wales and settled in Delaware. This story has been handed down through several lines of descent, and is substantially the same in its several versions. Yet, it is apparently unsubstantiated by any documentary evidence; in fact, the evidence of the public records is in direct variance with the tradition. It is not to be supposed, however, that it is altogether an invention—that it had no foundation in facts. There must have been some reason for its existence, which careful investigation may discover. Most traditions, even when founded upon real events, become so modified after being transmitted orally through several generations, as to be as far from the truth as the story of the "three black crows."

All our chroniclers are agreed that three brothers came from Wales. I will show later that they were a part of a larger family, and it can almost be proven that all were born in this country. Why three, only, are remembered may be explained, I think, by the fact that these alone, as far as is known, left descendants of the name in Delaware. Why the father failed to impress his personality upon his posterity, and was so soon forgotten, may also be explained, I think, by the circumstance of his early death, while his children were young. With all recollection of an earlier generation obliterated by reason of his early death, it would have been natural for the later generations to look upon the heads of their respective lines as the founders of the family in this country. This undoubtedly is the correct explanation of the three brothers, emigrants, in the tradition.

One legend relates that they brought their aged parents with them "in cribs or cradles." I have no explanation to offer for this remarkable story. It rests upon the authority of Sarah Cowgill, the Quakeress preacher and abolitionist. This story, which is accredited to her, is the only one that makes any mention of the first generation; all other accounts begin with the second generation.

Sarah Cowgill was of the fourth generation, and was born before the death of her grandfather, William Griffin, who, according to her, was one of the emigrants. William was the oldest of the children of Samuel Griffin. Although unmarried at the time of his father's death, he was old enough to have land settled upon him, and was probably nearing the time when young men married in those days. Sarah Cowgill was seven years old when her grandfather died ; she lived to be 88 years old. She should have been, therefore, a valuable repository of family lore.

One source of our information says that William Griffin changed the spelling of his name to conform to the pronunciation of his English neighbors. Another relates that two of the brothers wrote the name Griffin, whilst "a third would always write his name Griffith, different from the rest." This statement is correct. In the line of Samuel, the elder branch of which remained in Delaware, the name of Griffith was retained in the family records until about 1780, when Griffin was substituted. Griffith often appears in public documents pertaining to this line.

In regard to the name itself, it is from the Welsh word gruff (pronounced greef), and which Jones, in "Cymri of the Revolution," says, means "fierce, terrible," whilst Anderson, in "Genealogy and Surnames," says, signifies "having great faith." The correct Welsh spelling is Gruffydd, the Anglicised Welsh is Griffith, and the English is Griffin.

Some decades ago the family was infected with the "fortune-in-chancery" disease. There was in connection with this malady an awakening of family interest which emigration westward was gradually obliterating. Old pedigrees were hunted up, old records were searched for, old members were interviewed to prove descent in order to share in this mythical fortune. It has been my good fortune to read many of the old letters that were written during that period. The information which I obtained from them has been considerable.

- (3) II. James, born — ; died between 1729 and 1746. He was living at the date of the father's will, but was not a signer of the deed of division.

¹ The names of the children were taken from Samuel Griffin's will, and from the deed of division of the Kent county property. There is no record found of the division of the property in New Castle county. The early records of this county are defective. In relation to this matter, the solicitor of the city of Wilmington wrote me as follows: “At the time when the British captured Washington, it is said, that all our records were removed, some people say to Lancaster, others to York, Pa., in order to keep them from falling into the hands of the enemy. They were never all returned to New Castle county after the war. It is said that all the records, prior to 1809, of the settlements of accounts in the Register's Office disappeared in this way, as well as eight or ten of the Deed Records in our Recorder's Office.” The records of the county are not only incomplete, but they are badly indexed.

I have also read that during the Revolutionary War, Knyp-hausen's Hessians plundered the county-seat and carried away some of the records, and that part of them were afterwards recovered in the State of New York.

Samuel Griffin was probably the emigrant. He is the first of this line, as far as is known, in this country. What time he arrived in "The Three Lower Counties," and whence he came, I have not been able to ascertain. All the information we possess of him, or nearly all, has been derived from the records of the county courts.

We learn from the archives of New Castle county that Samuel Griffin and John Taylor purchased jointly, 2 September, 1707, of Edward Williams, a tract of land in Appoquinimink hundred, New Castle county, containing 400 acres. This land was the east end of a larger tract of 700 acres, called "Exchange," formerly belonging to and taken up by Thomas Harris and William Osborne, and lying on the north side and along the main branch of Duck Creek. Edward Williams bought the land from William Osborne, 1 February, 1706.

The property is further defined in the deed as bounded on the west by a straight line of division running north and south, and extending from the smaller to the main line of Duck Creek and from that said line westerly² [easterly], taking in all the land and marsh contained in the fork of the said main and smaller run of Duck Creek Mill. It was bought for forty-five pounds "lawful money of Pennsylvania." In the deed Samuel Griffin is called of "Duck Creek in the county aforesaid." The property lay along the lower border of the county, the main branch of Duck Creek being the dividing line between the counties.

We next find Samuel Griffin's name appended as a witness, along with his land partner, John Taylor, to the will of "James Withe, of Duck Creek in New Castle County." The will is dated 1 January, 1709. He signed his name to this document as "Samuel Grifing," which manner of spelling he adhered to when he signed his will, except that there he doubled the f.

"February 10, and in the year of Christianity, 1728," he purchased a tract of land on the south side of Duck Creek, in Kent county. The deed for this land is recorded at Dover, and in it he is called "Samuel Griffin of New Castle County on Delaware, planter." He is the first Griffin whose name appears on the records of Kent county. This tract contained 125 acres, and was bought of Edward Grumley, who had inherited it from his father, Benjamin Grumley. He paid for it thirty-nine pounds, "good money of America." In the language of the deed, the land was situate on the right side of a branch issuing out of Duck Creek, "called formerly Pairman's Branch, now Gravelly Run," and was bounded by lands of John Cook. This is the tract of land which Samuel Griffin mentions in his memorandum as having given to his son William. For some reason William Griffin did not retain possession of it. On 16 May, 1746, the date, probably, when Matthew, the youngest of the children, attained his majority, this property was conveyed to Samuel Griffin, the second of that name, for eighty-one pounds.

The original of this deed of division is still in the possession of a descendant of the second Samuel. It was from it that the names of the children of the first Samuel, who were living at the date of its execution, were obtained. All but three of the signers attested their names with their mark. The signers were William (who wrote his name "Griffng") and Eleanor, his wife; John and Mary, his wife (both of whom appended their mark to the name of Griffith); Alexander Chance and Elizabeth, his wife ("quondam Elizabeth Griffin"); William Carpenter and Amy, his wife ("quondam Amy Griffin." She wrote her first name Noomy, as it appears in the father's memorandum); George (who wrote his name georg Griffen) and Rebecca, his wife; and Matthew (who made his mark). The deed recites that this "tract of land was conveyed by Edward Grumley to Samuel Griffin, deceased." In 1748, Samuel, the second, conveyed the same tract to William White. The land is located south of the town of Smyrna, below the Mill pond, and towards Leipsic. Gravelly Run³ separates it from the estate called "Belmont," belonging to the descendants of John Cook.

Samuel Griffin's will (or memorandum) is on file at Wilmington, the county-seat of New Castle county. It is dated 17 December, and was probated 19 December, at New Castle, the then county-seat. He, therefore, died on either the 17th or 18th of that month. A copy of the will, with its unique spelling, is here given. The attorney who made the copy was of the opinion that it was written by the testator himself. It is apparently unsigned, there being no signature in the usual place at the end of the writing.⁴ Although probated, it seems as if the first paragraph, at least, was not executed.

³ It is interesting to note in this connection, as matter of local interest, that Gravelly Run is said to have been navigable, formerly, for vessels of light draught; that during the Revolutionary War a British vessel came near enough to the Belmont estate to shoot a lookout stationed on the top of the house. The stream had a fine, gravelly bottom, hence the name. It is now silted up with mud, and it is doubtful if anything drawing more water than a duck could navigate it without running aground.

I think it may be concluded, from the evidence we possess, that Samuel Griffin died suddenly of an acute disease, while in the prime of life, leaving several young children, and that none of them was married at the time of his death. It is probable that all his children were born in this country. That William was the oldest and Matthew the youngest hardly admits of a doubt.

If it be conceded that Matthew attained his majority in 1746, the year of the deed of division (all the other children were married at that time, except Matthew, who is called “Batchelor”), the year of his birth would be 1725. Allowing an average interval between the birth of each child of two and a half years, and assuming that none died, the year of the birth of William would be 1707, the year the land was purchased on Duck Creek.

To all people to whom this shall come, I Edward Williams of Appoquinimy Creek in New Castle County upon Delaware, yeoman, sendeth greeting Whereas, there is a certain tract of Land lying and being in New Castle County upon Delaware situate upon the North side of the main branch of Duck Creek being the East end of a tract of seven hundred acres, formerly belonging to and taken up by Thomas Harris and William Osborne and called by the name of the Exchange, and the said East end being four hundred acres and bounded on the West side by a straight line of division running North and South and extending from the smaller to the main line of Duck Creek formerly run between the said Thomas Harris and William Osborne through the said tract of seven hundred acres dividing the said four hundred from the other three hundred acres and from that said line Westerly taking in all the land and marsh contained in the fork of the said main and smaller run of Duck Creek Mill falling to William Osborne was by him sold and made over in Court at New Castle to the aforesaid Edward Williams by good, firm and lawful conveyance bearing date the first day of February, 1706 as reference thereunto being had may more at large appear.

Now Know ye, that the aforesaid Edward Williams for and in consideration of the sum of forty-five pounds lawful money of Pensilvania to me in hand paid and secured to be paid by John Taylor and Samuel Griffin both of Duck Creek in the county aforesaid before the ensealing and delivery hereof the receipt whereof I do hereby acknowledge, have given, granted, [etc.], and by these presents from me and my heirs forever doth fully and absolutely give, grant, [etc.], unto the said John Taylor and Samuel Griffin and their heirs forever the afore recited Tract of Land four hundred acres, To Have and to hold the said tract with all and singular the privileges and improvements and appurtenances thereunto belonging or in any wise appertaining, with all the right, title, interest, property claims or demands of him the said Edward Williams or his assigns unto them the said John Taylor and Samuel Griffin and their heirs unto the proper use and behoof of them the said John Taylor and Samuel Griffin their heirs, executors, administrators and assigns forever, free and clear of all former Deeds, sales, mortgages, dower-rights and other incumbrances whatsoever, or otherwise by the said Edward Williams or his heirs, executors and administrators to be sufficiently indemnified and saved harmless of and from the same according to law and common usage in like sales (the quit rents due from the same to the Proprietor only excepted) and the said Edward Williams doth hereby covenant and grant for himself, his heirs, executors and administrators to and with the said John Taylor and Samuel Griffin their heirs and assigns that they the said John Taylor and Samuel Griffin their heirs or assigns may henceforth freely have, hold, possess and enjoy the abovementioned four hundred acres of land and premises fully and peaceably to their own use and to the use and behoof of their heirs to be sufficiently saved harmless and indemnified from the suits or molestation of any manner of person or persons whatsoever claiming or to claim by, from or under him the said Edward Williams his heirs or assigns. And the said Edward Williams doth further covenant and agree to and with the said John Taylor and Samuel Griffin their heirs or assigns to make do and execute and further deed, acts or acknowledgment as may be for the better securing and confirming the said John Taylor and Samuel Griffin and their heirs in the quiet and peaceful possession of the above granted premises when the same shall be lawfully and reasonably required, provided it be within the term of twenty years from the date hereof, the said John Taylor and Samuel Griffin being at the cost and charges thereof. And further I do hereby appoint my trusty friends James Hayes and Absalom Cuff, or either of them my true and lawful attorneys for me and in my name to deliver this in open Court to the use of the above named John Taylor and Samuel Griffin or either of them for the use above expresst. In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and seal this second day of September in the year one thousand seven hundred and seven.

William Griffin was a farmer, and lived in Appoquinimink hundred. From an examination of the locality it is probable that his dwelling plantation, which he bequeathed to his son David, and which remained in the family until 1817, was the original tract purchased by Samuel Griffin in 1707. The land is located in the fork of the main and smaller run of Duck Creek Mill, as described in the deed. Tradition likewise declares this tract to be the original Griffin homestead. It is at present owned by Jacob Shahan. It is situated about one and a half miles northwest of the town of Clayton. The farmhouse was on the north side of the Cypress road, leading to the Cypress branch of Chester river. A short distance to the east was the Griffin mill, afterwards known as Casperson's. Thomas Marim, writing in 1870, when he was 75 years old, says of this farm, that it was then owned by Gideon Rothwell; that the old house had been torn down and a new one built over the "branch;" that the graveyard had been plowed over. This was probably the family burying-place, and explains why no gravestone records of the older members of the family are found in the nearby church graveyards. Mary Maria Griffin visited the farm in 1848, with her father, Charles Griffin (34). She says of the house, that it was "of brick, pretty good."⁵ She describes the farm as the one on which her father was born, and which he left, when he was four years old, to go to the Redstone country of Pennsylvania, which farm his grandfather, William, once owned. This is probably an error. William Griffin bequeathed to his son Charles, the father of the one here mentioned, all that portion of his estate situated in Kent county, except 40 acres, which he gave to his son William. These 40 acres were probably land adjacent to the mill, which he also gave to William. It is known that William Griffin, the elder, did not retain the land in Kent county which his father had given him. This land was purchased by Samuel, his brother, in 1746.

In regard to the Griffin mill, Scharf, in his "History of Delaware," says the site for the mill-pond was condemned 19 July, 1748, and the mill was erected by Samuel Griffin in 1760. Substitute William for Samuel, and the historian is probably correct. The Samuel Griffin of that time is not known to have possessed mill property; but William Griffin bequeathed a mill to his son William, who thereafter signed himself "William Griffin, miller." In regard to the location of this mill, Thomas Marim, writing in 1856, says, "the railroad runs just below the old Griffin mill." William Griffin, miller, died in 1783, and his estate was unsettled as late as 1787. (See Scharf's History. Assessment List of Taxables of Appoquinimink Hundred. "Wm. Griffen's est.") Scharf furthermore says: "In 1789, the mill, in an advertisement offering it for sale, is described as 'a grist-mill in good repair for grinding merchant work, and having to it a good dwelling-house suitable for merchant work.''' It is probable that Samuel Griffin, the third, purchased it from William Griffin's estate after it was advertised for sale. He died in 1795, and bequeathed the mill to his son John. Scharf says the mill was surveyed to John Griffin in 1797 on account of a dispute over the line. John Griffin died in 1798, and the mill remained in the Griffin family until 1820. The dispute over the boundary probably originated at the time the mill passed from the one branch of the family to the other. The survey, however, did not settle it—a tragedy marked the ending of it. "In 1859, David S. Casperson purchased it. In that year a dispute over the line, which had been standing since John Griffin's time, between Casperson and a neighbor, George Buchannon, and Buchannon killed Casperson." (Scharf's "History of Delaware.") The pond is now drained, and the mill is in ruin.

In 1747, William Griffin conveyed to James Hyatt, William Rees, Jeremiah Rees, James Howells, David Enos and Enoch David, all of Kent county, trustees of the Baptist Society, one half acre of land for a church on condition "that it doe now and shall hereafter meet to embrace and adhere freely to all the principles and articles that are compiled in a certain confession of Faith that was agreed upon and adopted by the Baptist Association that met at Philadelphia, September, 1742.”⁶ (Scharf’s “History of Delaware.”) It will be seen by the conditions imposed that William Griffin was fully in accord with the doctrines of the Welsh Tract Church; but for some reason the church was not built upon this land. It will be seen later that a church was established in the western part of Duck Creek hundred, many years afterwards.

WILL OF WILLIAM GRIFFIN.

In the Name of God, Amen: I, William Griffin of Apoquinamink Hundred and County of New Castle on Delaware, farmer, Being ancient and Infirm of Body, but of Sound Mind and Memory, Thanks be to Almighty God, Calling to mind the Mortality of my Body and the Immortality of my Soul, that it’s appointed for all men to Die: Therefore Do make and ordain this & no other to be my Last Will and Testament; hereby Disposing all such Worldly goods I’ve been Blessed with in manner Following. ⁶The Baptist Association of 1742 adopted the articles of the Century Confession relating to singing, imposition of hands, ruling elders and church covenants. The Welsh Tract Baptist Church was the first in this country to introduce these articles into their worship. They had been the cause of their withdrawal from Pennepek, in 1703. They gave as the reason for their removal to Delaware that they could not take communion with their brethren at Pennepek. (Morgan Edwards’s “History of the Baptists in Delaware.”)

(4) ELIZABETH GRIFFIN (Samuel, 1), born — ; died — ; married ALEXANDER CHANCE, born — ; died in 1772 or 1773.

CHILDREN.

(From the will of Alexander Chance.)

- (17) I. Mary Chance, born —; died 1779; married, (1), Abraham Fields, (2), — Allford.
- (18) II. John Chance, born —; died —.
- (19) III. Edmond Chance, born —; died 1796; married Rachel —. The estate of Edmond Chance was administered by Isaac King, 11 April, 1796, Rachel Chance, widow, renouncing her rights. (Will Book O-1-156.) Letters were granted on the estate of Rachel Chance to Jeremiah Hukill, 26 September, 1796. (O-1-190.)
- (20) IV. Rebecca Chance, born —; died —.

Elizabeth Griffin was not married at the time of her father's death. In the deed of 16 May, 1746, she was the wife of Alexander Chance. She was living at the date of the will of her husband, 23 December, 1772.

Will of Alexander Chance, of Appoquinimink hundred, New Castle county, yeoman, probated 12 January, 1773, mentions wife Elizabeth (to whom he bequeathed all his movable property and one-third of his home plantation of 300 acres, and she was to have the entire plantation for the purpose of maintaining and schooling three children until they were 21 years old), sons Edmond and John, and daughters Mary Allfoard and Rebecca Chance. He made provision for Edmond when he should come of the age of 21, and for Rebecca when she should come of the age of 18 years. Grandsons, John Chance and Thomas Allford; granddaughter, Elizabeth Fields. Wife, assisted by son John, executrix. Witnesses: John Standley, Abraham Howell and Thomas Hayselwood. (Will Book K-1-p. 57.)

Alexander Chance was probably the son of John Chance, planter, of Pennsylvania, in the county of Kent, on Delaware. His will, dated 1 May, 1728, leaves all his land to his two oldest boys (names not given), and charges their mother with the care of his two little girls (names not given), mentions sons Joseph, John and Alexander, daughter Honor Chance, and brother William Chance.

Letters of administration on the estate of John Chance, of Kent county, Delaware, were granted, 6 June, 1760, to Alexander Chance, of Kent county, yeoman. Will of Elijah Chance, of Little Creek hundred, Kent county, yeoman, mentions, besides wife Lydia and daughter Mary, brother Alexander Chance. The will is dated 10 October, 1775, and probated 31 October, 1775. There were, therefore, two of the name of Alexander, one of New Castle county and the other of Kent. The latter was living at the date of the former's death.

Alexander Chance probably worshipped according to the rites of the Established Church. This information is obtained from the deed for the land on which was built the first Episcopal chapel in Duck Creek hundred, the parent of the present St. Peter's of Smyrna. The deed is dated 17 August, 1744, and recites that: "Considering the necessity of having some place appointed for the worship of Almighty God according to the Rubric of the Church of England, established by law, David Marshall, William Strickland, of Kent County, and Alexander Chance, of New Castle County, have agreed with the aforesaid Abra'm James, Jacob James and Ruth James for the aforementioned tract of land for the improvement of the Established Church and for the better entertainment of a minister of the Established Church that shall be sent for that purpose by the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel in Foreign Parts."

Lieutenant Alexander Chance, of New Castle county, was commissioned in 1747, when they began to organize small companies for defence. (Scharf's "History of Delaware," Vol. I., p. 136.) Captain Alexander Chance, of the Lower Regiment of New Castle county, was commissioned from Appoquinimink hundred in 1756. (Ibid., p. 141.)

All the information we possess of Elizabeth Griffin and her descendants is documentary.

(5) GEORGE GRIFFIN (Samuel, 1), born —; died 1751; married REBECCA REES, daughter of Evan Rees, and sister of Mary, wife of John Griffin.

In the will of Evan Rees, dated 18 July, 1737, mention is made of sons David and Richard, of daughters Eleanor and Mary, and son-in-law George Griffin. In his own will, dated 10 September, 1751, and probated 15 October, 1751, he is called of Duck Creek hundred, blacksmith. He mentions wife Rebekah, and brothers William and Matthew, appointed executors. Witnesses: Peter Stout and Lydia Griffing.

No mention of children is made in the will.

Evan Rees was the son of John and Eleanor Rees, of Duck Creek hundred. John Rees's will was probated 20 April, 1728. Children (as mentioned in the will): 1. David (will proved 20 February, 1727); 2. Evan (above); 3. Mary (dead at date of will, married Michael Richman, and had children, John, Evan and Temperance); 4. Jane, married — Marshall; 5. Hannah, married — Wootten, and had daughter Eleanor;⁷ 6. Martha, died unmarried (will proved 9 January, 1729); 7. Esther, married — Owens.

Children of Evan Rees: 1. Eleanor, married Morris Howell; 2. Rebecca, married George Griffin; 3. Mary, married John Griffin; 4. David; 5. Richard. Evan Rees mentions in his will a granddaughter, Esther Rees.

According to Morgan Edwards, Evan Rees was one of the heads of families that settled in Duck Creek hundred in 1733. It appears from the records, however, that he might have been living there before that time.

(6) SAMUEL GRIFFIN (Samuel, 1), born —; died in 1769; married MARTHA —; born —; died in 1781.

CHILDREN.

- (21) I. Owen, born 1739; died 1767; married Susannah —. My wife
- (22) II. Rachel, born 1742; died 1793; married John Patterson.
- (23) III. Elizabeth, born 1744; died 1796; married Joseph Meredith.
- (24) IV. Thomas, born 1747; died probably in his minority, as his name does not appear among the heirs in the division of his father's personal estate, 27 August, 1773.

- (25) V. Samuel, born 1749 ; died 1795 ; married Mary Rees.
- (26) VI. Isaac, born 27 February, 1751 ; died 12 October, 1827 ; married Mary Morris.

Samuel Griffin (or Griffith) died intestate, and letters of administration were granted to Martha, his widow, 20 March, 1769. There is no record of the death of Martha Griffin in the office of the Register of Wills of Kent county. The date here given is that of the return of the freeholders who were appointed by the Orphans' Court to go upon her lands and divide them among her heirs. Her name appears among the constituents who petitioned the Welsh Tract Baptist church for leave to become a separate church—which petition was granted 24 November, 1781. The following is copied from the record book of the Welsh Tract church: "[October ye 6th, 1770]: then was Martha Griffin received into full communion here being baptised in May last by Mr. Thomas Davies then in Kent and came under Laying on of hands before ye church in ye Welsh Tract when she was received."

The administratrix made three reports before the final distribution of Samuel Griffin's personal estate. In the first report the amount of the "Inventory of Appraisment" is given as £731 6s 6d. In the last report the personal estate is valued at £1282 0s 8d, of which sum £885 0s 2d were distributed among his five heirs, as follows: To Owen Griffith's representative; John Patterson, for his wife Rachel; Joseph Meredith, for his wife Elizabeth; Samuel Griffith, Isaac Griffith—to each £177 0s 0½d, the fifth part of the above balance.

What real estate Samuel Griffin possessed at the time of his death is not definitely known, as the return of the freeholders appointed to divide his lands has been lost, and their report was never recorded. But it has been ascertained from the records at Dover that he purchased of Benjamin Chew, 2 January, 1769—the year of his death—964 acres of land in Duck Creek hundred, a part of the “Manor of Freith,”⁸ for which he paid six hundred pounds.⁹ He also owned 200 acres of land in North Murderkill hundred, a part of the farm called “Elsworth.”

⁸The Proprietor's Manor of Freith, one of the many manors in Pennsylvania and outlying territory laid off for William Penn, is described as situated on the head and on the branches of Duck Creek. It comprised nearly the whole of the western part of the hundred, extending from near the present line of the Delaware railroad to the Maryland boundary (the present east and west limits of Kenton hundred), and from New Castle county to Little Duck Creek, in its western part. It contained more than 10,000 acres of land.

⁹In the first report of the administratrix made 30 November, 1770, the estate is charged with £219 8s 4½d, paid Thomas Parry, assignee of B. Chew, on bond. This was probably the balance of the purchase money.

In 1763, he bought of David Finney, of New Castle, 227 acres of land in Duck Creek hundred, a part of a tract called "Partnership" (or "Mill Range," or "Mill Creek," both of which names are used in the deed describing the property). The tract called "Partnership" originally comprised 1800 acres, and was situated in both Duck Creek and Little Creek hundreds. He is called in this deed Samuel Griffith. This property, for which he paid 454 pounds, probably became his dwelling plantation, and passed at his death to his son Samuel, who calls it in his will his "dwelling plantation." The North Murderkill property went to the representative of his son Owen. There remained the land that was part of the Manor of Freith to satisfy the other heirs.

In one of her reports the administratrix charges the estate with one pound for "expenses, trouble and time spent in going to New Castle to make search for papers to secure the title of the land of Sam'l Griffith, dec'd, against claims of F. Wells." This must refer to land held in New Castle county, but no record of such land has been found. It is stated in Scharf's "History of Delaware," that the site for the mill, now known as Casperson's, was condemned 19 July, 1748, and the mill was erected in 1760 by Samuel Griffin. There is good reason for believing that this is one of many errors in that historical work. This mill property is in

New Castle county, and it is explained elsewhere (under William Griffin) how it probably came into the possession of Samuel, son of this Samuel, at a much later date. There is evidence that Samuel Griffin owned at the time of his death land amounting to nearly 1400 acres. It is recorded that the widow's third was $328\frac{1}{2}$ acres. The tract of 125 acres, the part of his father's estate, purchased in 1746, was sold in 1748.

In the final report of the administratrix, the personal property was divided equally among the five heirs, and Owen Griffith's representative was charged a double share of the cost of the division of the land. It was one of the peculiarities of the laws of Delaware at that time that it allowed the eldest son to take a double share of intestate real estate. This was changed after the War of the Revolution, when an equal distribution was decreed.

Samuel Griffith signed the marriage certificate of Joseph Hales and Susanna Holliday, of the Society of Friends, 19th 3rd mo., 1748.

(8) JOHN GRIFFIN (Samuel, 1), born —; died —; married MARY REES, daughter of Evan Rees, of Duck Creek hundred.

In the nuncupative will of David Rees, son of Evan, who lived two miles from Duck Creek Town, mention is made of his brother Richard, his sister Eleanor Howell and John Griffin who married his sister. The will is dated 23 August, 1750. John Griffin was married between 1737 (date of Evan Rees's will) and 1746 (date of the deed). Nothing more is known of him. He was of Appoquinimink hundred in 1746.

(9) MATTHEW GRIFFIN (Samuel, 1), born about 1725; died in 1773; married, about 1747, LYDIA HOWELL, born —; died in 1789; daughter of James and Mary Howell, of Duck Creek hundred.

In an indentured deed, dated 16 May, 1746,

Matthew Griffin is called "Batchelor." James Howell, in his will, signed 2 January, 1748, mentions his daughter Lydia Griffin. Their marriage, therefore, must have taken place between these dates. Matthew Griffin was one of the executors of the will of Morris Howell, brother of Lydia Griffin. This will was signed 8 February, 1747. Mary Howell, widow of James Howell, died intestate, and Matthew Griffin was appointed to administer the estate, 11 October, 1757.

Abstract of Will of James Howell, of Duck Creek hundred, Kent county, on Delaware, probated 14 March, 1748. Daughter Lydia Griffin, granddaughter Mary Howell, daughter of son Philip Howell, then in Carolina, the three children of his son Morris Howell, deceased. Wife Mary Howell and friend Henry Farson, executors. David Rees and Mary Rees, witnesses. (Will Book J, p. 265.)

Abstract of Will of Morris Howell, probated 24 February, 1747. Wife Eleanor. [In the nuncupative will of David Rees, son of Evan, proved 23 August, 1750, sister Eleanor Howell is mentioned.] Children: Lydia, Sarah and James. Executors: Daniel Nock and Matthew Griffin. (Will Book J, p. 181.)

Evan Rees and James Howell were the heads of two Welsh Baptist families who settled in Duck Creek hundred in 1733, having come hither, with others (James Hyatt, Nathaniel Wilds, David Evan, David Rees, Evan David Hughs and Joshua Edwards), from the Welsh Tract in Pencader hundred, and were members of that church. (Morgan Edwards's "History of the Baptists in Delaware.") According to this historian, the first emigration from the Welsh Tract into Duck Creek hundred took place in the year 1733. The Griffin family, therefore, was not identified with this movement, although some branches of it became connected, later, with the oldest offshoot of that church (Bryn Zion) in Duck Creek hundred.

In 1781 the Duck Creek Baptists petitioned the Welsh Tract Church for permission to become a separate organization. Among other Griffins, this petition was signed by Lydia Griffin and her daughter Elizabeth Roe.

THIRD GENERATION.

(10) CHARLES GRIFFIN (William, 2, Samuel), born 1 December, 1734; died 1 August, 1832; married ANN HYATT, born 8 September, 1738, in Delaware.

CHILDREN.

(Order of birth not known.)

- (34) I. Charles, born 25 December, 1777; died 30 December, 1860; married Ann Combs.
- (35) II. William, born —; died September, 1832; married Rhoda Pierce.
- (36) III. Susan, born —; died —; married Lott Abrams. Moved to near Cincinnati, Ohio.
- (37) IV. Mary, born —; died —; married John Smith. Moved to near Cincinnati, Ohio.

Charles Griffin inherited of his father's estate all that portion located in Duck Creek hundred which he had bought of Richard Empson, except 40 acres, which were given to his brother William. One account says, that he moved to the western part of Pennsylvania in 1780. Mary Maria Linn (114), in a letter before quoted, says: "Papa and I were in Delaware in the year 1848, and were on the farm his grandfather once owned. Here my father was born, and left there when he was four years old for the Redstone country, Pa." As her father was born in 1777, he would not have completed his fourth year until the last of 1781. He exchanged his lands in Delaware, located, it is said, where the town of Clayton now stands, with Isaac Griffin (26), his first cousin, for lands in Springhill township, Fayette county, Pennsylvania. The town of Clayton was built on the Tibbitt farm. It is probable that the Empson property which Charles Griffin inherited from his father was between the town of Clayton and the mill property, on the north, as 40 acres had been detached from it and given to the son who inherited the mill farm.

At a business meeting of the Mount Moriah Baptist church, Fayette county, held 10 September, 1785, Charles Griffin's name is mentioned. His wife, Ann Griffin, was a member of that church 31 October, 1784. (Ellis's "History of Fayette County.") In 1797 he erected a stone dwelling-house on his property, which is still (1896) standing. He was a farmer in Delaware and in Pennsylvania, but in the latter State he combined with farming the distilling of whiskey. He was a distiller in 1786, and three years later he was returned as a distiller of the first class, turning out 105 gallons daily.

Ann Pumphry (117) is the authority for the statement that Charles Griffin's wife was Ann Hyatt. From her was also obtained the date of her grandmother's birth. William Pierce Griffin (127) thought his grandmother was Anna Pastoley (sic). The first statement is accepted as the most reliable. Hyatt was a Delaware name.¹⁰

(11) WILLIAM GRIFFIN (William, 2, Samuel), born 1740; died 1783; married ANN NOCK, born 6th 11th mo., 1745, daughter of Ezekiel and Elizabeth (Hales) Nock.

CHILDREN.

- (38) I. Jabez, born 1768; died 30th 12th mo., 1804; married Sarah Levick.
- (39) II. Daniel, born —; died 1800. Letters of administration upon his estate granted to Jabez Griffin, 3 March, 1800.

¹⁰ James Hyatt was one of the nine heads of Baptist families who moved down into Duck Creek from Pencader hundred in 1733. He was one of the trustees of the Baptist Society of Kent county in 1747. He signed the Confession of Faith of the Welsh Tract Meeting in 1727. The shallop Hampton, built at Duck Creek, New Castle county on Delaware, James Hyatt, of Duck Creek, owner and master, was registered at Philadelphia, 11 November, 1737. (Pennsylvania Magazine of History and Biography, Vol. 23, p. 501.) Ann Hyatt was probably of this family.

- (40) III. Sarah, born —; died —; married James Cheffin.
- (41) IV. Barthia, born —; died 1802. Will, dated 19th 12th mo., 1802, mentions brothers Jabez and Ezekiel, and sister Sarah Cheffin. She was admitted to membership of the Society of Friends of Duck Creek Meeting, 10th 2nd mo., 1798.
- (42) V. Ezekiel, born —; died 1804; married Sarah Stokely (Stokesly?).

Letters of administration upon the estate of William Griffin, miller, were granted, 12 August, 1783, to Ann Griffin, who gave bond with Thomas Nock. He inherited the mill property and the land belonging to it and forty acres of the Empson tract, adjoining the lands of Jacob Jones and William Pugh. He also owned another tract bought of Roger Pugh. His wife was of Quaker parentage, and was disciplined for "marrying out." It is recorded in the "Minutes of the Duck Creek Monthly Meeting," under date of 24th 10th mo., 1767, that "Women Friends request our assistance in treating with Ann Nock (that was), now the wife of William Griffin, Jr., for marrying a man not of our Society." That she made her peace with the Society is shown by another entry on the minutes of the Monthly Meeting, dated 27th 8th mo., 1768: "Ann Griffin having some time ago offered a paper of acknowledgement for her outgoing in marriage . . . Friends of Duck Creek Preparative Meeting, to which she belongs, expressing their satisfaction with her conduct . . . it is received as satisfaction." The following is also copied from the records of their meetings, under date of 15th 11th mo., 1791: "Received by Thos. Nock and Sam'l Griffin in behalf of the Adminⁿ of Will^m Griffin [amounts mentioned]."

In the will of Ezekiel Nock, of Kent county, signed 28th 10th mo., 1773, Ann Griffin is mentioned as his oldest daughter, and mention is likewise made of her children, Jabez, Daniel and Sarah. Barthia and Ezekiel were probably not then born.

William Griffin, miller, and Ann Griffin signed the marriage certificate of Joseph Smith and Sarah Pugh, 28th 7th mo., 1773.

(12) DAVID GRIFFIN (William, 2, Samuel), born —; died 1786; married HANNAH STOUT, born —; died 1799, daughter of Emanuel Stout and Luraney Owen (his first wife).

CHILDREN.

- (43) I. Martha, born —; died —.
(44) II. Jacob Stout, born 30 November, 1776; died 20 February, 1851; married (1), Rebecca Bracken (2), Priscilla Rees.

- (45) III. Sarah, born 1780 ; died 1802.
(46) IV. Eleanor, born — ; died 1846 ; married Benjamin Blackiston.

Letters of administration on the estate of David Griffin, late of New Castle county, were granted to Hannah Griffin, his widow, 19 July, 1786 ; and letters of administration on the estate of Hannah Griffin, late of New Castle county, widow, were granted to Jacob Griffin, next of kin, 11 June, 1799, with Jabez Griffin, surety.

At Orphans' Court, held 17 January, 1792, there "came into Court Martha Griffin and Jacob Griffin, minors, orphan children of David Griffin, late of Appoquinimink hundred in this county, husbandman, deceased, and chose for their guardian, David West, of whom the Court approve . . . and upon application the Court appoint the said David West guardian of Sarah Griffin and Elinor Griffin, other minor orphan children of the said David Griffin, deceased. The Court approve of Jabez Griffin as security."

Under the law of Delaware a minor over the age of fourteen years has a right to choose his own guardian, while a minor under that age has one appointed for him by the Court. It may, therefore, be inferred from this record that Martha and Jacob were fourteen, or over that age, and that Sarah and Eleanor were under fourteen at that date.

At the same session of Orphans' Court three freeholders were ordered to go upon the land and premises of these orphans and make an annual valuation of the same, and to report what houses, out-houses and orchards there were and what repair they were in. It is learned from the return of these freeholders, dated 31 March, 1792, that the lands and premises of David Griffin, deceased, in Appoquinimink hundred, contained about 300 acres, of which about 250 acres were clear and cripple, and the remainder woodland, that the buildings, with the exception of "a large old frame barn, that wants repairing," were of hewn logs, and most of them were old and needed repairs. There was a new saw mill on the place, and a large apple orchard and a few peach trees. They agreed that the yearly rent for the whole place should be one hundred pounds specie.

It is shown in William Griffin's will that David Griffin inherited all his father's lands situate in Appoquinimink hundred, and that these lands included what he called his dwelling plantation.

A David Griffin, probably this one, signed the marriage certificate of Thomas Hammans and Susanna Holliday, 21st 6th mo., 1753.

(13) GEORGE GRIFFIN (William, 2, Samuel), born —; died 1811; married, (1), —, (2), SARAH STEWARD (?).

CHILDREN.

By first wife.

- (47) I. George, born — ; died — ; married
Mary (Polly) —.

By second wife.

- (48) II. Alphra, born — ; died — ; married
— Boyer.
- (49) III. Nathaniel, born 5 April, 1800 ; died
— ; married Sarah Howard.

The descendants of this branch cannot trace their ancestry beyond this generation. As William Griffin mentions no son by this name in his will, George Griffin is placed here solely upon the testimony of Joseph Ezekiel Griffin (231), who, in a letter written 21 June, 1873, says: "My other grandfather was Ezekiel Griffin, who was a third cousin of my father. He belonged to old William Griffith's family. Old William was brother of old Samuel Griffith. He was said to have seven children, namely: Charles, William (from whom I am descended by my mother), David, George, Owen (the latter my mother said went to South Carolina), Mary and Martha."

All the Griffins of Duck Creek hundred, so far as discovered, belong to this family. The records of the hundred reveal the existence, at this period, of a George Griffin, and he is probably the one under discussion.

Letters of administration upon the estate of George Griffin were granted, 8 May, 1811, to John Wilds, of Kenton, Sarah, his widow, renouncing her rights. The will of his widow, dated 2 April, 1830, mentions sons Nathaniel and Alphra; granddaughter Sarah, daughter of Alphra; and Sarah Steward Perdee and Alphra Steward. His descendants claim he was a soldier in the Revolutionary War and was with Washington at Valley Forge during the winter of 1777. The records show a George Griffin of Delaware pensioned under the act of 7 June, 1785, the pension commencing 1 January, 1803.

George Griffin signed the marriage certificate of Robert Register and Ruth Stout, 1st 3rd mo., 1775, and that of Thomas Corse and Ruth Register, 27th 3rd mo., 1788.

(14) OWEN GRIFFIN (William, 2, Samuel), born ———; died ———.

The father's will is also silent in regard to this son. His existence, as in the case of George, rests upon the testimony of Joseph Ezekiel Griffin, who relates the following concerning him: "The latter [Owen], my mother said, went to South Carolina, but no member of our family has any recollection of him now." There is additional evidence that one of the sons of William Griffin went south.

Mary Maria Linn, in a letter written about 1870, says, "William Griffin went to North Carolina." She was, unquestionably, mistaken in the name; as it is a well established fact that William Griffin lived and died in Delaware. As Owen is the only one that has left no trace behind him in Delaware, it is probable that he was the emigrant. About this time there was a tide of emigration from the State to South Carolina, to the Welsh settlements in Darlington county, on the Great Pedee river.

(15) MARY GRIFFIN (William, 2, Samuel), born —; died 1806; married (1), DAVID LEACH, of Frederica, Del., formerly of Somerset county, Md., born —; died 10 January, 1760. She married (2), JAMES JONES, born —; died 1762; (3), EMANUEL STOUT, born —; died 1781; son of Benjamin Stout and Elizabeth Lewis, and grandson of Richard Stout and Penelope Van Princis, of Monmouth county, New Jersey.

CHILDREN.

By first husband.

- (50) I. Mary Leach, born 12 September, 1760; died 17 January, 1834; married (1), William Berry, (2), — Clark.

By third husband.

- (51) II. Sarah Stout, born 6 January, 1764; died 30 December, 1852; married (1), Jacob Emerson, (2), Daniel Cowgill.

- (52) III. Jacob Stout, born 1764; died November, 1855; married Angelica Killen.
- (53) IV. Martha Stout, born —; died —; married John Cowgill.
- (54) V. Rebecca Stout, born —; died —; married William Ruth.
- (55) VI. Peter Stout, born —; died 1811; married Fanny —.
- (56) VII. Ann Stout, born 1 January, 1778; died 5 January, 1882; married William Denny. (104)
- (57) VIII. Lydia Stout, born 30 May, 1780; died 2 February, 1868; married Robert Register.

Letters of administration on the estate of Mary Stout, deceased, were granted to Peter Stout, who gave bond with Jacob Stout, 3 December, 1806. (Will Book O, p. 139.) David Leach came to Frederica (or "Johnny Cake Landing," as the village was called from 1684 to 1772) in the beginning of the year 1729, as in a deed to him from John Sipple, 14 May, 1729 (Deed Book I-1-187), it is recited: "David Leach, of Somerset Co., Maryland, but now of Kent Co., Delaware." Mary, widow, administered his estate, 6 February, 1760 (Will Book K, p. 219); and Mary Jones, widow, administered the estate of James Jones, 23 February, 1762. (Will Book K, 277.)

William Griffin in his will, dated 2 August, 1769, mentions two granddaughters, Mary and Elizabeth Jones. It seems hardly probable these could have been children of his daughter Mary, who, although she had married a man named Jones, already had one daughter by the name of Mary, by her first husband. Her father, in his will, names, first, his daughter Mary Stout, and after her his granddaughters Mary Leach and Sarah Stout, who were children of his daughter Mary. Following these bequests he names his daughter Martha Ashford, and after her his granddaughters Mary and Elizabeth Jones and Martha Ashford. It is reasonable to assume from what is known that the last three were children of his daughter Martha, and are named in the order of their birth, as are Mary's children. The following is from the records of the Orphans' Court, and bears date, 28 March, 1768. (B-1-46.) "Emanuel Stout and Mary his wife, who by the name of Mary Jones, was administratrix of all . . . which was of James Jones, late of Kent county, deceased."

Mary Stout, widow, administered the estate of Emanuel Stout, 25 April, 1781. (L-228.) At the time of his death the children of Emanuel Stout were all minors, as on 23 October, 1783, they were committed by the Orphans' Court to the guardianship of their mother.¹¹

¹¹ A further account of children by third husband will be given in genealogy of STOUT FAMILY.

(16) MARTHA GRIFFIN (William, 2, Samuel), born —; died —; married (1?), — JONES, (2), — ASHFORD.

CHILDREN.

By first husband.

(58) I. Mary Jones, born —.

(59) II. Elizabeth Jones, born —.

By second husband.

(60) III. Martha Ashford, born —.

The only information concerning this family is derived from a letter dated 11 March, 187—, written by Mary Maria Linn (114) to Elizabeth Stout Rees. She there states that Martha married a Mr. Ashford, and had two daughters, and that “there is [was] one of their sons living now [then] in Fayette county, ninety-three years old.” On this letter, interlined in pencil in another’s hand-writing, and partly erased, was the name “Rodney Ashford,” which may have been the name of Martha Griffin’s husband.

The reason for considering Mary and Elizabeth Jones the children of Martha Griffin is given under Mary Griffin (15).

(17) MARY CHANCE (Elizabeth 4, Samuel), born —; died in 1779; married, (1), ABRAHAM FIELDS, (2), — ALLFORD.

CHILDREN.

By first husband.

- (61) I. Elizabeth Fields, born ——. Mentioned in grandfather's will.
(62) II. Allen Fields, born ——; died in 1797; married Hester ——.

By second husband.

- (63) III. Thomas Allford, born ——. Mentioned in grandfather's will.

Letters of administration on the estate of Mary Allford, late of Appoquinimink hundred, widow, deceased, were granted to Allen Fields, next of kin, 13 March, 1779. (Will Book L-1-146.)

That Mary Chance's first husband was Abraham Fields is based upon the fact that the only one of that surname, whose death antedates hers, on the probate records of New Castle county, from Appoquinimink hundred, is the one here given, letters of administration on whose estate were issued to Mary Fields, widow, 26 December, 1749.

There were two Allen Fields living in Appoquinimink hundred at the same time. One left a will, in which are mentioned sons William, Henry and Benjamin, and brother Benjamin. For this reason he is supposed to be the son of William Fields, who left a will naming sons Allen and Benjamin. This was Allen Fields, the younger, and his will was probated 9 May, 1797. His wife was Mary Fields. The other is called Allen Fields, the elder, and is supposed to be the son of Mary Chance. Letters on his estate were granted to Hester Fields, widow, 6 May, 1797. Later it is recorded that letters were granted on the estate of Allen Fields, the elder, upon the renunciation of Abraham Fields, guardian of Cassandra Fields, the next of kin of Allen Fields, the elder, his estate being unadministered by Hester Cradock, deceased, formerly Hester Fields.

The small village of Fieldsboro, 3 miles northeast of Townsend, on the upper "King's Road," is named after this family.

(21) OWEN GRIFFIN (Samuel, 6, Samuel), born 1739; died 1767; married SUSANNAH —, born —; died —. (She married, secondly, Henry Killen.

CHILDREN.

(64) I. Elizabeth, born 22 August, 1762; died 1807; married John Warren.

Owen—better known in the records under the name of Griffith—died intestate, and letters of administration upon his estate were granted to Susannah, his widow, 13 April, 1767. That the widow married again shortly after his death appears in the petition to the Justices of the Orphans' Court of Kent county, at the sessions held 23 November, 1768, and 23 August, 1769, "of Henry Killen and Susannah, his wife, administrators of all which were of Owen Griffith, late of the said county, deceased." The inventory of his personal property amounted to £530 14s 4d.

(22) RACHEL GRIFFIN (Samuel, 6, Samuel), born 1742; died 1793; married JOHN PATTERSON, born —; died 1792.

CHILDREN.

- (65) I. John Patterson, born —.
- (66) II. Thomas Patterson, born —.
- (67) III. George Patterson, born —.
- (68) IV. Isaac Patterson, born —.
- (69) V. Elizabeth Patterson, born —; died —; married Josiah Wallace.

Rachel Patterson's will is dated 1 February, 1793, and was probated 26 March, 1793. She bequeathed: "the home plantation where I now reside, containing about 360 acres, to be equally divided between my sons John, Thomas, George and Isaac: To William Patterson (in North Murderkill Hundred) about 80 acres to him and his heirs forever: To my grandson, Samuel Wallace, a parcel of land in Duck Creek Hundred to him and his heirs forever, and in case he should die and leave no lawfully begotten heirs of his body, then in that case it shall fall to his brothers and sisters lawfully born of my daughter Betsey, wife of Josiah Wallace: To Elizabeth Meredith 1 blue gown, 1 quilt: To my daughter Betsey Wallace my private book account."

The will of John Patterson, signed 1 March, 1792, and proved 7 June, 1792, bequeaths: "To Rachel Patterson one-third of my personal estate, and out of the remaining two-thirds my debts are to be paid. The home plantation on which I live containing about 370 acres to be equally divided between my beloved sons John Patterson, Thomas Patterson, George Patterson and Isaac Patterson, all being my children." The main provisions of the wills of husband and wife are alike. He leaves to William Patterson 80 acres of land, but does not locate it. There is no evidence who William Patterson was, but he evidently was not a child of Rachel Patterson. The land in Duck Creek hundred, which he bequeathed to his grandson Samuel Wallace, son of his daughter Betsey Wallace, wife of Josiah Wallace, is described as a parcel of woodland. He disposed of his personal estate as follows: "To George Patterson, my son, 1 negro woman, Jemima, 1 negro boy, David, 1 negro boy, Daniel; and to Isaac 1 negro boy, Jacob, 1 negro girl, Rose; to William Patterson 1 negro boy, Richard; and the remainder of my personal estate among my children."

(23) ELIZABETH GRIFFIN (Samuel, 6, Samuel), born 1744; died 1796; married JOSEPH MEREDITH, born —; died 1795.

CHILDREN.

- (70) I. Elizabeth Meredith, born —; died —; married — Ford.
- (71) II. Samuel Meredith, born —; died —; married Mary Beardley.
- (72) III. Jacob Meredith, born —; died —; married Martha Meredith.
- (73) IV. Martha (Patty) Meredith, born —; died —; married — Bradley.
- (74) V. Ann Meredith, born —; died —; married — Hartshorn.

Joseph and Elizabeth Meredith died intestate. There is no record of letters of administration having been granted upon the estate of Elizabeth Meredith. However, the Orphans' Court was petitioned, 5 May, 1796, for a division of her lands, and the freeholders made their return on 3 May, 1797. Her land, consisting of 153 acres and 60 perches, was divided among the five heirs. Letters of administration upon the estate of Joseph Meredith were granted 14 April, 1795. Twenty acres of land were divided among the five children. Among the marriage licenses at Wilmington are the following: "Jacob Merydith and Martha Merydith, both of Kent County, in Delaware State, 3 March, 1789." "Samuel Merydith and Mary Beardley, both of Kent County, in Delaware State, 12 March, 1789."

It is very probable that this family followed the Griffin emigration to western Pennsylvania. Susanna M. Griffin (131), in 1874, writes that Joseph E. Griffin (231) "has gone back to Texas. His cousin Meredith whom he left in charge of his place, has died." Charles B. Griffin, son of Joseph, writes that "there was a relationship [between the Griffin and Meredith families]. Captain Meredith was quite a well-known character in the New Geneva section of Fayette county. He had two sons, Enoch and Jacob. Jacob came to Texas with my father in 1851, and died about 1873. His father and brother are both dead." James W. Nicholson, of New Geneva, writes me that he was personally acquainted with some of the Merediths of Fayette county, and that they were related to the Griffins. They have all left the county.

I find recorded: "The petition of Sarah Meredith, formerly the wife of Ezekiel Griffin, late of Springhill Township, dec'd, and administratrix," etc. This may explain a relationship with Ezekiel Griffin's descendants.

(25) SAMUEL GRIFFIN (Samuel, 6, Samuel), born 1749 ; died 1795 ; married MARY REES, born 1747 ; died 1823 ; daughter of John and Hester Rees, of Little Creek hundred, Kent county.

CHILDREN.

- (75) I. Rachel, born 18 December, 1769 ; died 25 December, 1790 ; married Jacob Anderson.
- (76) II. John, born 11 April, 1772 ; died 8 February, 1798 ; married Elizabeth Rotheram.
- (77) III. Ann, born 19 June, 1774 ; died 15 May, 1821 ; married Enoch Jones.
- (78) IV. Owen, born 15 September, 1776 ; died 19 November, 1789.
- (79) V. Thomas, born 3 August, 1779 ; died 31 July, 1807 ; married, (1), Rebecca Wilds, (2), Martha Durborough.
- (80) VI. Esther, born 2 February, 1781 ; died 2 January, 1815 ; married John Saunders.
- (81) VII. Mary, born 24 April, 1783 ; died 24 December, 1811 ; unmarried.
- (82) VIII. Samuel, born 17 January, 1786 ; died 28 July, 1793.
- (83) IX. Isaac, born 3 September, 1789 ; died 6 December, 1809 ; unmarried. This Isaac Griffin was called Jr., probably to distinguish him from his uncle Isaac Griffin who went to Fayette county, Pa.

The following was copied from the record book of the Welsh Tract Baptist church : "1780. Then was baptised Samuel Griffith and Mary Griffith from Kent, received into full communion."

The Griffin family,—particularly the branches of Samuel and Matthew—has been closely identified with the Bryn Zion Baptist church—the oldest offshoot of the parent church of Pencader hundred—since its beginning as a separate Baptist society. We learn from Morgan Edwards, that, when the number of Baptists in Duck Creek hundred had increased to thirty, they petitioned the Welsh Tract church for leave to become a separate church. Their petition was granted 24 November, 1781. Of the thirty petitioners, eight were of the family of Griffin. Their names are as follows, namely, Samuel Griffin and Mary Griffin (his wife), Martha Griffin (his mother), Rachel Griffin and Elizabeth Griffin (his sisters), Mary Griffin, Jr. (wife of Isaac Griffin), Lydia Griffin (widow of Matthew Griffin), and Elizabeth Roe (her daughter). This church is located about three-quarters of a mile northeast of the town of Kenton. It faces the main road leading from Smyrna to Kenton, and is on a corner made by a cross road coming from the Middle Alley road. The building is of brick, and was built in 1771. The site was first occupied by the Independents; but in course of time this society dwindled away, and, as they had neglected to have the lot conveyed over to them, it reverted to the original owners, John and Philemon Dickinson,¹² who conveyed it by deed, bearing date, 17 November, 1772, to the Baptists, who had made use of the building some time previous to this. (Scharf's "History of the State of Delaware.")

The tract of land on which Mary Griffin laid the perpetual rent charge of six dollars annually to be paid to the trustees, and their successors, of the Bryn Zion church, and which farm she devised to her grandson Samuel Griffin, was located hard by the meeting-house, on the east side of the road leading from the Lower to the Middle Alley road. This was the dwelling-farm of Samuel Griffin (25), and was probably a part of the purchase called "Partnership," bought by Samuel Griffin (6) in 1763.

From the records of births, deaths and marriages contained in the family Bible of Samuel Griffin it is learned that this branch of the family adopted the English spelling of their name about the year 1790. These records show that Owen Griffith died in 1789; that Samuel Griffith was born in 1786, but died in 1793 as Samuel Griffin.

¹² John and Philemon Dickinson were sons of Samuel D. Dickinson, who moved from the Eastern Shore of Maryland to near Dover in 1740. He became Chief Justice of the county of Kent. John Dickinson, born in Maryland, 13 November, 1732, died in Wilmington, Del., 14 February, 1808, was a lawyer, and established himself in Philadelphia for the practice of his profession. He was a distinguished publicist, and was the first president of Pennsylvania. He was the author of the "Farmer's Letters," which were of such great help to the colonists in the beginning of their struggle with the British Parliament. Philemon Dickinson, born in Croisdore, Talbot county, Md., 5 April, 1739, died near Trenton, N. J., 4 February, 1804, was a soldier in the Revolutionary War. He became Major-General of the New Jersey forces, and displayed great bravery at the battle of Monmouth, and on other occasions.

In 1782, Samuel Griffin purchased from Samuel Chew, son of Samuel Chew, a tract containing more than 400 acres, a portion of the Manor of Frieth. This tract was, apparently, the land which he designated in his will as his "Forrest farm," adjoining the lands of Nathaniel Wilds, and others. (See plan.)

(26) ISAAC GRIFFIN (Samuel, 6, Samuel), born 27 February, 1751, in Duck Creek hundred, Kent county, Delaware; died 12 October, 1827, in Nicholson township, Fayette county, Pennsylvania; married, 10 March, 1774, MARY MORRIS, born 28 July, 1756; died 23 May, 1835; daughter of James and Ann (Tilton) Morris, of Duck Creek Cross Roads (now Smyrna), Delaware.

CHILDREN.

- (85) II. Martha, born 1 May, 1779; died 20 May, 1826; unmarried.
- (86) III. Harriet, born 5 March, 1782; died 18 March, 1835; married Edward Hall.
- (87) IV. Samuel, born 16 August, 1785; died 9 March, 1838; married Esther Smyth.
- (88) V. Mary Morris, born 1 January, 1787; died 9 July, 1842; married Andrew Oliphant.
- (89) VI. Ebenezer, born 12 August, 1788; died —; married Leah Clawson.
- (90) VII. James Morris, born 27 December, 1789; died 18 December, 1812; unmarried.
- (91) VIII. Elizabeth, born 26 November, 1791; died 14 March, 1831; married Daniel Haymond.

- (92) IX. Isaac, born 27 December, 1793; died 20 February, 1826; married Ann Griffin.
- (93) X. Margaret, born 13 July, 1795; died 5 October, 1870; unmarried.

The following pedigree of Mary Morris is said to have been compiled from the Morris Bible in the possession of J. B. Gilfillan. It was furnished by Mrs. Elizabeth Linn, of Minneapolis, Minn., a granddaughter of Isaac Griffin.

“Anthony, son of Anthony Morris and Elizabeth Senior, baptized the 25th day of August, 1654—being then but two days old, as saith the Parish Records of St. Dunstan Stepney, of London, in the kingdom of Great Britain.” (From a manuscript written by Anthony Morris, “in his Folio Bible.”)

Anthony Morris (1) was lost at sea. Anthony (2), son of Anthony and Elizabeth (Senior) Morris, married his first wife, Mary Jones (he was married four times), before coming to this country. He arrived in New Jersey (at Burlington) in 1678. He soon moved to Philadelphia, where he was prominent in social and political circles. He was the second mayor of Philadelphia (Edward Shippen was the first). His name is frequently mentioned in the early history of that city. His son, James Morris (3), married Margaret Cook, and their son, James Morris, Jr. (4), married Ann Tilton; and these were the parents of Mary Morris (5), wife of Isaac Griffin. James Morris (3) took up land in Kent county, on the south side of the main branch of Duck Creek, and was living there 4th mo., 2nd, 1714. (Pennsylvania Archives, 2nd series, Vol. 19, pp. 580, 612.)

Isaac Griffin enlisted in the Continental army, January, 1776, for one year, in Colonel Haslet's regiment, 1st Company, Captain John Patten. He went into active service in August, and was under fire at the battle of Long Island, where Col. Haslet's men assisted the Maryland Line in holding the British troops at bay until Washington withdrew his forces across East river. The regiment again distinguished itself at White Plains, and was publicly thanked by Lord Sterling, who was in command. He was in the fighting at Trenton, and was at Princeton, where his colonel was killed.

The following letter to his wife belongs to this period of his service :

MORRISTOWN, Feb. 1, 1777.

MY DEAR WIFE—

I cannot neglect the opportunity of informing you where I am, and likewise concerning my health. We arrived at Morristown Sunday evening, Jan. 26th, after a most fatiguing March and have remained here since. Our time is now out and our people are returning home. I shall stay a few days longer with Benny Hazen who is extremely bad, and has been sick about a week. Notwithstanding the desire I have to come home and see my dear little girls, I could not leave Hazen so far from home, at the point of death, without friends or relatives. As soon as he is able to travel we shall proceed homeward.

We have very little news at Headquarters. To day was heard a very heavy firing towards Brunswick, but we have no particulars. Our Militia gets no honour by this tramp. The General was very angry at their going home without rendering any benefit to the Colonies.¹³ I have been very hearty since I left home—have sometimes a little of the Sciataka and quickstep, as we call it here, but nothing to hurt me.

I shall conclude by wishing you all manner of health and happiness until my return, which I hope will be shortly. Remember me to all enquiring friends and accept my love.

from your Husband,

(Signed) ISAAC GRIFFITH.

To Polly Griffith.

Isaac Griffin's stay at home must have been short; for it is found he soon afterwards re-enlisted. Inquiry at the Department of State, Washington, D. C., brought the following reply :

"On the Muster roll of Captain Robert Kirkwood's Company in the Delaware Regiment, commanded by Col. David Hall, Sept. 9, 1778, in the custody of this Department, the name of Isaac Griffin

¹³ Colonel Thomas Collins was ordered by Washington to report with his Delaware militia at Morristown, for immediate service. It appears that they marched to Morristown and then marched back again, without rendering the country any service. Washington, in a letter to Col. Collins, dated January 21st, 1777, says: "To my great surprise I was applied to this morning to discharge your Battalion. If I am not mistaken it came in on Sunday last . . . What service have they been of? None—unless marching from home . . . and staying four weeks on the way can be called service." It is probable that their reason for asking to be discharged was that their time had expired; for, Washington in the same letter says: "their time of service cannot commence till they were equipped and ready to take the field. Dating it from thence they ought to stay six weeks after they marched from Philadelphia." He would not discharge them, nor would allow them pay for the time they were with him. ("More Colonial Homesteads," by Marion Harland, p. 359.)

As it would appear from Isaac Griffin's letter, they had begun the homeward march before the 1st of February.

appears as a private who enlisted for the war, and at the above date was reported sick in camp."

(Signed) E. D. RENICK,
Chief Clerk.

He was again, in 1781, reported in camp near New York. The Delaware Line "had a record second to none in the Army." It participated in the battles of Brandywine, Germantown and Monmouth, and was at Valley Forge during the winter of 1777-78. Going south in 1781, the regiment was almost annihilated at the battle of Camden. The remnant was incorporated with the Maryland Line; and, together, they won many laurels. Kirkwood's Battalion was praised by Baron de Kalb, and was thanked by Congress after the battle of Cowpens.

Soon after peace was established Isaac Griffin is again found at his home in Delaware. It appears from "The Minutes of the Council of the Delaware State," that, at the general election held at Duck Creek Cross Roads on the first day of October, 1783, there were, as it is expressed by the committee which investigated the affair, some disorderly and violent proceedings, during which "a box containing the votes then remaining to be read at one of the polls" was carried off. In the investigation which followed, several persons connected with the Griffin family, either bearing its name or joined to it by marriage, are mentioned, either as participants or witnesses of the proceedings. They were Samuel Griffin, Isaac Griffin, Joseph Meredith and Enoch Jones. Isaac Griffin is the only one who received any censure as a participant ; the others were called as witnesses. It is given as the cause for the disturbance that persons had been allowed to vote who had not taken the oath of allegiance ; in other words, they had been enemies to the cause for which Isaac Griffin had been fighting and suffering. That such persons had voted was admitted in the investigation. The disgust occasioned by this affair may have had something to do in causing his emigration from the State.

Isaac Griffin, like the rest of his family at that time, was a slave owner. With few exceptions, they, when making their wills, made provision for giving freedom to some of their slaves. This must, in a great measure, be attributed to the humane influence of their Quaker neighbors, with whom they were more or less in sympathy, and with whom they had contracted marriage alliances. That it was Quaker influence that induced Isaac Griffin to liberate his slaves is evident ; for, it is found recorded in the manumission book of the Friends' Meeting of Duck Creek, as follows :

"I, Isaac Griffin, of Kent County, Delaware State, do hereby manumit and set free all my negroes hereafter named, to witt : Richard, aged 31 ; Jacob, aged 27 ; Jemima, aged 38 ; Sampson, aged 40." And he bound himself in a penal bond of one hundred pounds to each and every negro named to faithfully carry out this agreement. It is signed 23 December, 1782, and was witnessed by Samuel Pattison and Josiah Wallace.¹⁴

Another instance of his charity is given by Morgan Edwards, in his "History of the Baptists of Delaware." Among the temporalities of the Society of Duck Creek Cross Roads, according to Edwards, was "a lot in the town, measuring 7 perches square, the gift of Isaac and Mary Griffin, their deed bearing date of July 1, 1789."

In 1796, Isaac Griffin had established his family in some degree of comfort in their new home, in Fayette county, Pennsylvania, whither he had gone soon after the close of the Revolutionary War. From all accounts he returned to Delaware after his first visit and remained some years before settling permanently in that region. His daughters were all educated in Delaware, most of them at the school of Miss Susan Hanson, in Wilmington. They made the journeys there and back on horseback.

The following account is taken almost literally from Ellis's "History of Fayette County," Pennsylvania.

Isaac Griffin was one of the pioneer settlers, as well as one of the most prominent men in public and private life for many years in what is now Nicholson township, owning a large amount of land there, a part of which is known as the Morris farm. He was a native of Delaware, being born and reared in Kent county in that State. Although wild and reckless while young, he won the heart of a young Quakeress, named Mary Morris, whose family were strict Friends. She was locked in a room upstairs to prevent her union with the young worldling. He found out the situation, obtained a ladder, put it to the window, and she climbed down and eloped with him. This bit of romance has been handed down in that neighborhood to this day. A meeting of the Friends was called, when she was notified that, "If thee will say thee is sorry that thee married Isaac, thee can stay in." But as she would not say it, she was expelled from their membership.

Isaac Griffin was a captain [there is no evidence that he was an officer] in the war of the Revolution, and had a great deal of trouble with the Tories, who were very numerous in Delaware. He was mainly instrumental in capturing their leader, Chany Clow, who was executed. When Clow came home from the Tory camp, Captain Griffin with his company surrounded the house. He was accompanied by Major Moore. It was dark, and in attempting to reach the door Griffin stumbled and fell. Major Moore got ahead of him and was shot dead by Clow, who said he was sorry it was not Griffin. The adherents of Clow hated Griffin intensely, and after the close of the war his personal safety was endangered. This in part caused him to change his residence.¹⁵

He bought his first lands in Springhill (now Nicholson) township, Fayette Co., Pa., of the Hardins, but the Indians lingering near, his wife feared to move there. He then traded his western lands to his relative, Charles Griffin, for a farm in Delaware, where the town of Clayton now stands. His wife having lost her health, and his enemies constantly harassing him, she finally consented to go to Western Pennsylvania. He again visited the West and bought land of the Evanses. He afterwards bought several farms, and became one of the most successful stock-raisers on the Monongahela.

¹⁵ "Cheney Clow. Husbandman of Little Creek, Delaware. In 1778 he was required to surrender himself, or to suffer the forfeiture of his estate, both real and personal." ("Biographical Sketches of Loyalists of the American Revolution." By Lorenzo Sabine. 2 vols. Boston, 1864.)

In the "Biographical and Genealogical History of Delaware," it is stated, under James E. B. Clark, page 754, that: "In 1836 Mr. Clark purchased a small farm in what was then Duck Creek [now Kenton] hundred. On this tract of land stood the Chainey Clouds fort." This land is situated near Downs's Chapel.

Mr. Griffin owned a few negro slaves that he brought with him to Fayette county. [This is evidently an error, as it has been shown that he liberated all his slaves in Delaware.] Soon after he became a citizen of Pennsylvania, the Governor [Mifflin] appointed him justice of the peace, in 1794, in which capacity he served several years. [The charter of New Geneva was acknowledged by Albert Gallatin before him, 31 October, 1797.]

In 1807 he was elected to the Legislature, and was re-elected until he had served four successive terms. In 1809 there were six candidates for the office, but Mr. Griffin ran ahead of all the others, receiving the entire vote of Fayette Co., with the exception of about two hundred votes. Although living in the opposite end of Fayette county from Mr. John Smilie, Mr. Griffin was appointed by that gentlemen one of the executors of his will, and at his death in 1812, Mr. Griffin was elected to Congress as Mr. Smilie's successor. It is related of him that upon being notified of his election he brought cloth of home manufacture to Thomas Williams, Esq., of New Geneva, for the purpose of having him make him a suit of clothes. He informed the persons present that "he raised the sheep, carded, spun, dyed and wove the cloth on his premises." At a mass-meeting in Uniontown he was nominated for Congress by acclamation. At the election his competitor was General Thomas Meason, a prominent member of the Fayette county bar. He defeated General Meason by a large majority, and was once re-elected without opposition. He served in the Thirteenth and Fourteenth Congresses. In 1812 a gloom was cast over him by the death of his favorite son, James Morris Griffin, who was killed in battle in the war with England.

Mr. Griffin voted to sustain Mr. Madison in all his war measures, and ever enjoyed his confidence, as well as that of his constituents. For no vote that he gave during the ten years that he was in public life was he censured ; but for a vote that he did not give he was blamed. It was said that when the vote was taken to increase the pay of members of Congress he was not in the house. He felt stung by the comments of a writer in his home paper, and would not allow his name used as a candidate for re-election.

In 1824 Mr. Griffin was a Crawford electoral candidate for the Fayette district, but was, of course, defeated, as the State went largely for Jackson. Mr. Griffin could never be induced to make a public speech, but his conversational powers were of a high order, and these made him a general favorite. The ablest men of the nation would with pleasure listen to him talk. His personal dislike to General Jackson was caused by the hanging of Alexander Arbuthnot and Robert C. Ambrister in Florida after they were cleared by court-martial.

This opposition to General Jackson caused Mr. Griffin to lose his popularity among his neighbors, where Jackson was a great favorite.

Mr. Griffin had features of the Roman type, with black hair and deep blue eyes. In height he was six feet and two inches, and had a powerful physical organization. Although he was modest and retiring, he possessed a chivalric nature, and he was not slow to resent an insult. While in Congress he had a difficulty with a member from South Carolina, which would have been a serious affair but for the timely interference of other members. At a public dinner in Uniontown, an Englishman, who was an officer of the old Uniontown Bank, spoke of Mrs. Madison in the most disgraceful terms, and for this act of ill-breeding Mr. Griffin knocked him down at the table, an act for which he was greatly applauded at the time.

Soon after he settled in his new home in Fayette county, his wife joined Father Woodbridge's Seventh-Day Baptist Church, and remained a consistent member until her death, which occurred in her eightieth year, although she had been an invalid for fifty years. Her husband, although not a member, gave his support to the regular Baptist church. This caused them to have a Sabbath and a Sunday in their house for about forty years, but this occasioned no jar, for everything moved on smoothly, and they traveled life's pathway harmoniously, although differing widely in most things. After Mr. Griffin retired from public life he remained on his farm until his death, at the age of seventy years, occasioned by a fall from a loaded wagon. The Rev. John Patton, of the Baptist Church [also an emigrant from Delaware], who performed the funeral service, said, "Mr. Griffin did not attach himself to the church for reasons best known to himself, but he was an Israelite, indeed, in whom there was no guile."

He was buried on the farm where he lived and died, and which he called "Providence." Buried in the same place are his wife and two unmarried daughters, Martha and Margaret.

(106) IV. Matthew, born —.

The names of the children of Matthew Griffin were obtained from his will. There is very little information concerning this family. The dates of death were furnished by Mrs. Laura E. Sapp.

Joseph Griffin was a farmer, and lived on a farm adjoining the Griffin mill property on the north. It is recorded in the Orphans' Court at Wilmington, under date of 10 December, 1799, that, "Joseph Griffin minor orphan child of Matthew Griffin, late of this County, chuseth for Guardian James Tippet." He was, therefore, at least fourteen years old at that date, which would make the probable date of his birth about the year 1785.

WILL OF MATTHEW GRIFFIN.

In the name of God, Amen, the fourth day of April in the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and ninety-seven, I, Matthew Griffin of Appoquinimink hundred and county of New Castle in the state of Delaware being sick & weak in body but of sound and perfect mind and memory thanks be given unto God for the same and calling to mind the mortality of my body and knowing that it is appointed for all men once to die do make and ordain this my last will and testament, that is to say, principally and first of all I give and recommend my soul into the hands of God that gave it and for my body I recommend it to the earth to be buried in a christian like manner at the discretion of my executors and as touching such worldly estate wherewith it hath pleased God to bless me in this life I give, devise and dispose of the same in manner and form following, that is to say, I give, bequeath and devise unto my beloved wife Eleanor Griffin the plantation on which I now live during her natural life with the third part of my moveable estate after my debts are paid. Item. I give, bequeath and devise to my daughter Elizabeth Benn the plantation where my brother Ebenezer now lives (formerly the property of Abraham Taylor) to her and the heirs of her body forever with paying what is hereafter mentioned to be paid by her and quitting her claim to a horse I gave her. Item. I give and bequeath to my son Joseph Griffin that plantation where George Hilton now lives adjoining John Griffin's mill and my plantation first mentioned beginning at Duck Creek mill pond now in the possession of Redgrave and Blackiston and running with the fence as it now stands between the plantations till it comes to the woodland then with a strait line with the last course of the fence through the woodland till it intersects the lands lately the property of Isaac Thomas, to him his heirs and assigns forever, with paying what is hereafter mentioned to be paid by him. Item. I give, bequeath and devise unto my Daughter Temperance Griffin the first mentioned plantation after the decease of my wife Eleanor aforesaid to her and the heirs of her body forever and my will is that Elizabeth & Joseph aforesaid shall pay the aforesaid Temperance yearly a proportionable part off or from their plantations in order for her support so long as my wife Eleanor shall live. Item. I give and bequeath to my son Matthew the sum of one hundred pounds to be levied off the aforesaid lands in proportion to the values thereof and to be paid to him when he arrives to the age of twenty one years, clear of interest till he is fifteen years old and likewise to be supported and raised clear of costs, out of the aforesaid estate and it is my will that if either of my aforesaid children shall die before they have lawful heirs then and in that case my son Matthew aforesaid is to have their part by quitting claim to his legacy aforesaid, but if more than one should die after the said Matthew shall have one part then and in that case it is to be an equall division amongst the survivors, and further if there is anything left of moveable estate after my debts is paid my will is that it be equale divided between my four children aforesaid, and I do hereby constitute, make and ordain my wife Eleanor Griffin and my brother Ebenezer Griffin my only and sole Executors of this my last will and testament and I do hereby utterly disallow, revoke and disannul all and every other former testaments, wills, and legacies, bequests and executors by me in any wise before this time named, willed and bequeathed, ratifying and confirming this and no other to be my last will and testament. In Witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and seal the day and year first herein written.

MATTHEW GRIFFIN.

Witness :—PRESLE SPRUANCE, JOHN BENT,
DANIEL DAVID.

Proved at Dover, Kent County, Del., June 6, 1797.

(30) WILLIAM GRIFFIN (Matthew, 9, Samuel), born 1754 ; died 1803 ; married, (1), ANN —, (2), HESTER —.

CHILDREN.

- (107) I. Elizabeth, born —.
- (108) II. John, born —.
- (109) III. Mary, born — ; died — ; married William Hutchison.

- (110) IV. William, born 8 September, 1799 ;
died 15 March, 1881 ; married Ann Clements, widow of Thomas Dunn.

In Lydia Griffin's will there is mentioned " my granddaughter Elizabeth Griffin, daughter of my son William." There is recorded at Dover the will of Ann Griffin, of Duck Creek hundred, dated 22 May, 1781, proved 15 December, 1781, in which are mentioned husband William Griffin, uncles Richard and James Darling and aunt Sarah Burrows. Witnesses: Ebenezer Griffin, Rachel Greenwood and Daniel David, Jr. Will of William Griffin, of Duck Creek hundred, is dated 30 June, 1803. He names his wife Hester and sons John and William. His estate adjoined Benjamin Blackiston's and David Rees's.

A great-grandson of William Griffin writes that his great-grandfather died in 1803, in the 49th year of his age, leaving three children, John, Mary and William. It is probable, therefore, that William Griffin was married twice, and that his daughter Elizabeth was by his first wife Ann.

- (31) LYDIA GRIFFIN (Matthew, 9, Samuel), born
— ; died — ; married — WELLS.

CHILDREN.

- (111) I. Mary Wells, born —.

All the information I have of this daughter is obtained from the grandmother's will, wherein is mentioned a granddaughter, Mary Wells, who must have been a child of Lydia Griffin, as, according to the same will, the other daughter, Elizabeth, married a Roe.

- (33) EBENEZER GRIFFIN (Matthew, 9, Samuel), born —; died —; married —.

CHILDREN.

- (112) I. Jacob, born in 1782; died in 1848;
married Rebecca Hayden.

Nothing more is known of Ebenezer Griffin. This information was obtained from James Griffin, son of Jacob.

FOURTH GENERATION.

(34) CHARLES GRIFFIN (Charles, 10, William, Samuel), born 25 December, 1777 ; died 30 December, 1860 ; married ANN COMBS, born 8 February, 1785 ; died 19 August, 1846 ; daughter of Joseph and Rachel Combs.

CHILDREN.

- (118) VI. Alfred Milton, born 1 May, 1818.
- (119) VII. George Washington, born 11 December, 1820 ; died —. He went to California in 1849.

- (120) VIII. Hamilton Rogers, born 13 May, 1823; died 7 June, 1892; married Nancy

Charles Griffin, it is said, was four years old when his parents emigrated from Delaware to Fayette county, Pennsylvania. He lived, in the latter State, in a large stone house built by his father, about one and a half miles from the iron-works of Andrew Oliphant, on George's creek. Ann Combs is said to have been born in eastern Pennsylvania. There were people of the name of Coombs contemporaries and neighbors of Charles Griffin in Fayette county. (See Ellis's "History of Fayette County.") An Ann Coombs was a member of the Mount Moriah Baptist church in 1784.

- (35) WILLIAM GRIFFIN (Charles, 10, William, Samuel), born ——; died September, 1832; married RHODA PIERCE.

Isabella Luchy.
(123) III. Rhoda, born ——; died ——; married
John Roderick.
(124) IV. Charles, born ——; died ——; married
Mary Shipley. He moved to Rush county, Indiana, in 1836. He had three sons and three daughters. Some of the latter are living in Rushville, the county seat.

- (125) V. Sarah, born —; died —; married Levi Britt.
- (126) VI. Susan, born —; died —; married Thomas Stentz.
- (127) VII. William Pierce, born 2 September, 1809; died 1 March, 1901; married Mary Ann Gans.
- (128) VIII. Son, born —; killed by lightning.

William Griffin was a miller. He had ten children, two dying young.

(38) JABEZ GRIFFIN (William, 11, William, Samuel), born 1768; died 30th 12th mo., 1804, aged 37 years; married, 13th 9th mo., 1792, SARAH LEVICK, born 23d 9th mo., 1773; died 31st 3d mo., 1849; daughter of William Levick and Susanna Manlove, daughter of Mark Manlove.

CHILDREN.

- (129) I. William Levick, born 12th 12th mo., 1793; died 13th 4th mo., 1825, in Philadelphia, Pa.; unmarried. The certificate of removal of William Griffin, minor, from Duck Creek Meeting to the Northern District Meeting, of Philadelphia, bears date 6th 4th mo., 1811. It states he went there to serve an apprenticeship.

- (130) II. Ann, born 11th 4th mo., 1796 ; died 23d 7th mo., 1878 ; married Elijah Weaver.
- (131) III. Susanna Manlove, born 22nd 3rd mo., 1800; died 29th 10th mo., 1883; unmarried. The certificate of removal of Susanna Griffin from Duck Creek Meeting to the Philadelphia Meeting bears date 6th 8th mo., 1814. She was a member of the Green Street Meeting, and a preacher.
- (132) IV. Sarah Levick, born 1st 4th mo., 1804 ; died 18th 9th mo., 1804.

Jabez Griffin was received into membership of the Society of Friends of Duck Creek Meeting, 7th 7th mo., 1792. He lived in Duck Creek hundred, and sat in Meeting as a representative of that hundred from 6th 10th mo., 1792 to 18th 2nd mo., 1794, and as a representative of Little Creek hundred from 12th 7th mo., 1794 to 7th 10th mo., 1797. After the latter date he returned to Duck Creek hundred and again represented it at the monthly meetings. On 7th 4th mo., 1798, he was proposed for the station of overseer of the Duck Creek Preparative Meeting.

The certificate of removal of Sarah Griffin from Duck Creek Meeting to Haddonfield Meeting, New Jersey, bears date 3rd 4th mo., 1814.

Jabez Griffin died intestate, and letters of administration upon his estate were granted to Sarah, his widow, 18 January, 1805. According to the records of the Friends' Monthly Meeting, he died 29th 12th mo., 1804. The date given above was furnished by a grandson. In his life-time Jabez Griffin owned 16 acres of land in Appoquinimink hundred, and in a petition for the sale of this land, it is stated, he died 10 December, 1804. The petitioners were Sarah Griffin and William Denny. (I-1-511.)

(40) SARAH GRIFFIN (William, 11, William, Samuel), born —; died —; married JAMES CHEFFIN, born —; died 1833, near Blackiston's Cross Roads, Kenton hundred, Kent county (married, [2], Mary White), said to have been a soldier in the War of 1812.

CHILDREN.

(From "Biographical and Genealogical History of Delaware.")

(133) I. Ann Cheffin, born —; died —; married Thomas Lamb.

(134) II. Margaret Cheffin, born —; died

——; married, (1), Thomas Numbers, (2), Charles Hackett. Both husbands died in Kent county, Md. [Susanna M. Griffin writes (1862): "Cousin Margaret Hackett has lost her husband. He was her second husband. Her name before Murray was Cheffin." From this it would appear that her first husband was named Murray.]

- (135) III. Rebecca Cheffin, born ——; died ——, in Jones's Neck, Kent county, Del.; married Robert Clothier. He died in Kenton, Del.
- (136) IV. James Cheffin, born ——; died ——, in New Castle county; married Elizabeth Hallett, daughter of Colonel Hallett, a soldier in the War of 1812.
- (137) V. Enoch Cheffin, born ——; died ——, in Kent county, Del.; married —— Crockett.
- (138) VI. Susan Cheffin, born ——; died ——, in Smyrna, Del.; married, (1), James Keyes, (2), David Richards. After the death of her first husband, in the West, the widow returned to Delaware, where she married her second husband.

(42) EZEKIEL GRIFFIN (William, 11, William, Samuel), born —; died 1804; married SARAH STOKELY (who married [2], — Meredith).

CHILDREN.

- (139) I. Ann (Nancy), born 1801; died 1870; married Isaac Griffin (92).
(140) II. William, born —; died young, between 1804 and 1808.

Ezekiel Griffin moved to Fayette county, Pa. Letters of administration upon his estate were granted to Sarah Griffin, 16 April, 1804. The following petition is on file at the county seat of Fayette county: "The petition of Sarah Meredith, formerly the wife of Ezekiel Griffin, late of Springhill Township, dec'd, and administratrix of his estate, To the Honorable, the Judges of the Orphans' Court of the County of Fayette, at the November Term, 1808, Humbly Sheweth, That Ezekiel Griffin died intestate, leaving two children, viz., Nancy and William, the latter of which is since dead and the former of which is now about seven years old. Your petitioner therefore requests that your Honors would be pleased to appoint a Guardian to take charge of her person and estate during her minority . . ."

(Signed) SARAH MEREDITH.

Susanna M. Griffin writes, 2nd mo., 1873: "My father's brother Ezekiel married my mother's first cousin, S. Stokely."¹⁶

(44) JACOB STOUT GRIFFIN (David, 12, William, Samuel), born 30 November, 1776, in New Castle county, Delaware; died 20 February, 1851, in Preble county, Ohio; married, (1), REBECCA BRACKEN, born —; died 1808, daughter of Henry and Jean Bracken, of Mill Creek hundred, New Castle county; married, (2), 1818, PRISCILLA REES, born 20 January, 1795; died 8 April, 1874, daughter of John and Ann (Green) Rees, of Little Creek hundred, Kent county.

CHILDREN.

By first wife.

- (141) I. Elizabeth Stout, born 13 March, 1801; died 13 January, 1881; married Thomas Rees.
- (142) II. Hannah, born 15 November, 1808; died 25 July, 1892; married, (1), Charles Campbell, (2), James Burns.
- (143) III. Rebecca Ann, born 15 November, 1808 (twin with Hannah); died 4 July, 1896; married Boyce Eidson.

¹⁶ The name Stokesly, but not Stokely, appears on the Minutes of the Duck Creek Monthly Meeting of Friends. On 5th mo., 1774, Benjamin Stokesly and Susanna Train were married.

By second wife.

- (144) IV. Eleanor, born 2 May, 1819; married John Cregmile.
- (145) V. David, born 31 January, 1821; died 8 June, 1888; married, (1), Rachel Young, (2), —.

24 August, 1804, there was allotted to Jacob S. Griffin in Orphans' Court a tract of land in Appoquinimink hundred, containing 64 acres and 136 perches, a portion of the estate of David Griffin. (Record I, Vol. 1, p. 344.) In a deed dated 10 April, 1817, Jacob S. Griffin conveyed to Benjamin Blackiston a tract of land in the same hundred containing 194 acres and 65 perches. This tract was conveyed by Benjamin Blackiston and Eleanor, his wife, to Thomas Rees, in a deed dated 27 October, 1817. It was in this year that Jacob S. Griffin first went west with the intention of settling there. It is probable that his first trip was undertaken for the purpose of choosing a location; for, he soon returned to Delaware where he married his second wife, and, about 1820, after the birth of their first child, he moved permanently to Ohio, and settled on Twin creek, in Preble county. He was a farmer and miller in Ohio and in Delaware.

The founder of the Bracken family in Delaware was probably William Bracken. The home of the family was in Mill Creek hundred, in the northwestern part of New Castle county. They were farmers and millers. The assessment roll of Mill Creek hundred for 1804 contains the name of Henry Bracken, "grist and saw mills." Near these mills is Brackenville, a hamlet of few houses. The mills have not been operated since 1860. "The Minute Book of Property," under the Proprietor's government gives an account of land granted to William Bracken, probably his first holding in the State. It reads as follows: "William Brackin, Lab^r of New Castle Coun., requesting a grant of 100 A's Near Jno. Evan's, near Redclay Creek." [At a session in Philadelphia, 14th 7 mo. 1702.] The following record shows where he located. "Joshua Morgan requests 100 adjoining or near to the 100 a's lately granted to Wm. Brackyn, on Mill Creek, near Whiteclay." [Pennsylvania Archives. 2d series. Vol. 19, pp. 324, 342.]

William Bracken, "of Mill Creek Hundred, Co. New Castle, yeoman," left a will, dated 8 April, 1749, proved 28 December, 1749. The following children are mentioned therein, to wit: Thomas, John, Henry, Hannah (married James Jordan), Margaret (married Alexander Moore), Martha (married John Ball, Jr.), and Susannah (married John Gillahan).

Henry Bracken, son of William, "of Mill Creek Hundred, Co. New Castle upon Delaware, yeoman," left a will, dated 15 May, 1779, proved 26 May, 1779. The children mentioned therein are William, Hannah (married Joseph Ball), Henry, Sarah, Elizabeth and Susannah (married James Moore).

Henry Bracken, son of Henry, of Mill Creek hundred, New Castle county, left a will, dated 14 September, 1813, proved 22 September, 1813. Names mentioned therein are wife Jean, children John, Francis, William, Susan (married Anderson Anderson), Jean (married John Spruance), Margaret, Elizabeth and Henry. He mentions also his grandchildren, the children of Jacob Griffin.

(45) SARAH GRIFFIN (David, 12, William, Samuel), born about 1780 ; died 1802 ; unmarried.

The will of Sarah Griffin, of Appoquinimink hundred, New Castle county, dated 7 April, 1802, probated 14 May, 1802, mentions her guardian David West ; her deceased father, whose estate was in Appoquinimink hundred, adjoining lands of John Slaughter and David West ; her deceased mother ; sister Elinor ; brother Jacob ; and friend Stuart Redman, of Duck Creek hundred. She left a sum of money in trust to her aunt Elizabeth Freeman [sister of her mother, Hannah Stout].

In Orphans' Court, held 17 January, 1792, David West was chosen guardian for Sarah Griffin. [G-1-280.] At that date she was under 14 years of age; as, by the laws of Delaware, a minor under that age has a guardian appointed by the Court. At the session of Orphans' Court, held 21 May, 1794, "came into Court Sarah Griffin, a minor child of David Griffin, late of Appoquinimink hundred, in this County, deceased, and chuseth for her guardian David West, of whom the Court approve." [H-1-71.] At this last date, therefore, she must have been 14 years, or older. She was probably born in 1779 or 1780.

(46) ELEANOR GRIFFIN (David, 12, William, Samuel), born —; died September, 1846; married BENJAMIN BLACKISTON (his second wife), born —.

CHILDREN.

- (146) I. Sarah Ann Blackiston, born 1810; died unmarried.
- (147) II. Hannah Blackiston, born 1810 (twin with Sarah Ann); died unmarried.
- (148) III. Rebecca Blackiston, born —; died —; married John W. Thomas.
- (149) IV. Ezekiel Blackiston, born —; died —.
- (150) V. Henry Blackiston, born —; died —.
- (151) VI. Eleanor Blackiston, born —.

Elizabeth S. Rees, in a letter dated 28 May, 1848, says: "That country [Delaware] has been visited by unusually malignant fevers for the past few years. Most of the friends whom I loved in early life have fallen victims to it. My aunt [Eleanor] Blackiston, uncle John Spruance and Thomas [A.] Rees are of the number."

Eleanor, the youngest child of David Griffin, had a guardian appointed for her by the court, 17 January, 1792. On 19 August, 1802, she was still a minor, but was old enough to choose a guardian for herself, for on that date she came into court and chose Benjamin Hollett. [I-1-179.] Eleanor Blackiston's estate was administered by Ezekiel Blackiston, 25 September, 1846. Benjamin Blackiston's will is dated 16 December, 1824, and probated 14 January, 1825.

It is plain from what has been written above that this Eleanor Griffin could not have been the granddaughter mentioned by William Griffin in his will, dated 2 August, 1769, as she would not, in that case, have been a minor in 1792. As none of the other sons of William Griffin is known to have had a daughter named Eleanor, except this child of David Griffin, it seems probable that the Eleanor of the will died young, and it is not known whose child she was.

(49) NATHANIEL GRIFFIN (George, 13, William, Samuel), born 5 April, 1800; died —; married SARAH HOWARD, born 6 April, 1809; died —.

CHILDREN.

- (152) I. Miriam, born —; died young.
- (153) II. Martha, born —; died young.
- (154) III. Jackson, born —; died young.
- (155) IV. Hiram, born —; died young.
- (156) V. Elizabeth A., born —; died young.
- (157) VI. Nathaniel Howard, born 4 March, 1837; died —; married Mary E. Holland (widow Clark).
- (158) VII. Sarah R., born —; died —; unmarried. She was a trained nurse, and the last tidings of her was about 1870, when she was living in Philadelphia.
- (159) VIII. George Alphra, born —; died young.
- (160) IX. Ann E., born —; died young.

(50) MARY LEACH (Mary, 15, William, Samuel), born 12 September, 1760; died 17 January, 1834; married, (1), 12 March, 1778, WILLIAM BERRY, son of Joseph Berry and Unity Lowber; ¹⁷ (2), — CLARK.

¹⁷Unity Lowber married, secondly, John Gilder, and these were the great-grandparents of Richard Watson Gilder. (John Cooper Gooden.)

CHILDREN.

By first husband.

- (161) I. Charles Berry, born 1 December, 1779;
died young.
- (162) II. Sarah Berry, born 19 October, 1781;
married Abel Harris.
- (163) III. Ann (Nancy) Berry, born 5 December, 1782; married, (1), Robert Broad-away, (2), Thomas Lockwood, (3), David Marvel.
- (164) IV. Martha Berry, born 9 December, 1785;
died 19 September, 1786.
- (165) V. David Berry, born November, 1789;
died 29 November, 1814.

By second husband.

- (166) VI. Ruthanna Clark, born —; died —; married Nathan Ward.

There may have been other children born to Mary Leach and her second husband of whom the compiler has no knowledge.

(64) ELIZABETH GRIFFIN (Owen, 21, Samuel, Samuel), born 22 August, 1762; died December, 1807; married, 10 May, 1780, JOHN WARREN, born 22 November, 1757, died in 1803, son of Benjamin Warren.

CHILDREN.

- (167) I. Zipporah Warren, born 25 February, 1781; died 11 March, 1781.
- (168) II. Benjamin Warren, born 21 February, 1782; died —; married Susanna Luff.
- (169) III. Samuel Warren, born 27 February, 1784; died —; married, (1), — Heuston, (2), Ruth Lowber, (3), Mary Willoughby.
- (170) IV. Thomas Warren, born 30 March, 1786; died 9 October, 1787.
- (171) V. John Warren, born 12 October, 1788; died —; unmarried.
- (172) VI. Isaac Warren, born 23 January, 1791; died 30 December, 1796.
- (173) VII. William Warren, born 29 May, 1783; died —; unmarried. A soldier in the War of 1812. He carried dispatches from Lewes to the Governor at Dover, when the British appeared before Lewes and threatened to bombard that place unless permission was granted them to land and get provisions and water.
- (174) VIII. Charles Warren, born 16 August, 1795; died —; married, (1), — Harper, (2), Mary Simington.

- (175) IX. Elizabeth Warren, born 2 January, 1799; died in 1832; married, (1), Joseph Harper, (2), James Lindale.
- (176) X. George Warren, born 17 February, 1801; died 24 June, 1818.
- (177) XI. Mary Warren, born 23 May, 1803; died 6 January, 1804.

Elizabeth Warren is known to her descendants as Elizabeth Griffith. There is no evidence to show that she ever assumed the name of Griffin. That name is used here for the sake of uniformity. As the heir of Owen Griffith, 200 acres of her grandfather's estate, located in North Murderkill hundred, were assigned to her as her share. Of this land, 120 acres are described as cleared, and had erected thereon a frame dwelling, 16 x 20 feet, with other small buildings, and according to the report of the freeholders who were appointed to value the rents and profits of the same, they were considered to be worth thirty pounds per annum. At her grandmother's death in 1781, she received 136 acres of her land.

Elizabeth Warren's will is dated 4 December, 1807, and was proved 23 December, 1807. She bequeathed to her two youngest children, Elizabeth and George Warren, her property in North Murderkill hundred; and to Elizabeth five pairs of sheets, two pairs of pillow-cases, six bed quilts, two sets of curtains, six silver tablespoons and six large silver teaspoons, and to George six silver tablespoons, one pair of gold sleeve buttons, the negro boy Jack and her negro girl Violet; to Benjamin eight dollars to purchase a Bible; to Samuel her large church Bible; to John her new family Bible; and to William and Charles eight dollars each.

John Warren and his brothers were soldiers in the Revolutionary War, in Colonel Haslet's regiment. It is said that John Warren was in the battles of Trenton and Princeton, and helped to carry the body of his colonel, when mortally wounded, from the field of Princeton. On the assessment rolls of North Murderkill hundred, for 1785, are the names of John, Thomas and Benjamin Warren. The land on which the Camden Friends' Meeting House is built was conveyed, 12 May, 1760, to a body of trustees, among whom was a Benjamin Warren, who is supposed to have been the grandfather of John Warren.

John Warren died intestate, and letters of administration on his estate were granted 13 December, 1803. The division of his real estate shows that he died possessed of nearly 1,500 acres of land.

Most of the information concerning the Warren family was furnished by Mrs. Sarah A. Warren, of near Fenton, Delaware—since dead.

(66) THOMAS PATTERSON (Rachel, 22, Samuel, Samuel), born —; died —; married MARY —.

CHILDREN.

(178) I. Samuel Patterson, born —; died —; married, (1), — —, (2), Ann Stout.

(179) II. Isaac Patterson, born —.

A Thomas Patterson, undoubtedly the son of John and Rachel, was dead 19 December, 1809, when Mary Griffin, as executrix of the estate of Samuel Griffin, took oath to an account against the estate of Thomas Patterson, of which Mary Patterson was administratrix. The Mary Patterson who married Truax was a daughter of Samuel Patterson. The name of her grandfather is not known. She had an uncle, Isaac Patterson. That these were the children of Thomas and Mary Patterson there is no present evidence; but that Mary, the daughter of Samuel, was related to the Griffins we know. Until it is known what children the other sons of John and Rachel Patterson had, the descent as given above will be assumed.

(69) ELIZABETH PATTERSON (Rachel, 22, Samuel, Samuel), born —; died —; married JOSIAH WALLACE, died in 1830.

CHILDREN.

- (180) I. Samuel Wallace, born —; died —.
This child was mentioned in John
Patterson's will, dated 1 March, 1792.
- (181) II. Rachel Wallace, born 8 September, 1791; died 20 December, 1869;
married John Craig.
- (182) III. James Wallace?
- (183) IV. Joseph Wallace?

(75) RACHEL GRIFFIN (Samuel, 25, Samuel, Samuel), born 18 December, 1769; died 25 December, 1790; married JACOB ANDERSON, born 1754, died 30 August, 1792.

CHILDREN.

- (184) I. Joseph Anderson, born 12 November, 1790; died 27 July, 1793.

Jacob and Rachel Anderson, and Joseph Anderson, their son, are buried in the Bryn Zion graveyard, and the stones marking their graves bear the oldest inscriptions of any there.

(76) JOHN GRIFFIN (Samuel, 25, Samuel, Samuel), born 11 April, 1772; died 8 February, 1798; married ELIZABETH ROTHERAM, daughter of Jacob and Mary Rotheram, of White Clay Creek hundred, New Castle county, Del.

CHILDREN.

- (185) I. Jacob Rotheram, born 1 August, 1793; died 4 September, 1866; married, (1), Susan Rees, (2), Mary Covington, (3), Susan W. Cole.
- (186) II. Samuel, born 26 June, 1795; died 29 June, 1883; married, (1), Lydia Rees, (2), Hester Rees, (3), Elizabeth Wilds.

John Griffin inherited from his father's estate the Griffin Mill property, afterwards known as Caspersen Mill. Shortly after his death his widow married Howell Buckingham, as is set forth in the following record: "Be it remembered that on the fifth day of January, 1801, Letters of administration on the Estate of John Griffin, dec'd, were in due form of law granted to Howel Buckingham (who intermarried with the intestate's widow)." To this marriage there was born one child, Mary Ann Buckingham, who married Benjamin Husbands. The children of John Griffin, after his death, were taken care of by their grandmother, Mary Rees Griffin.

The Rotherams were farmers and millers of White Clay Creek hundred, New Castle county.

"In 1739, Joseph Rotheram purchased at a sheriff's sale a tract of land on which was situated a saw-mill and a grist-mill. In 1775, this tract by inheritance and purchase passed to his son Joseph, who operated the mills until his death. It was then sold by his executors in 1795." (Scharf's "History of Delaware," vol. ii, p. 939.) The property was known as Rotheram's Mill. Letters of administration on the estate of Joseph Rotheram, the elder, were granted 6 November, 1773, to Joseph and Jacob Rotheram, sons. In a codicil to the will of Joseph Rotheram, the younger, dated 24 April, 1795, and proved 16 May, 1795, mention is made of niece Catherine Rotheram, daughter of brother Jacob Rotheram. Letters of administration on the estate of Jacob Rotheram were granted, 24 May, 1796, to George Reynolds and George Adams, upon the renunciation of Mary Shannon, late Mary Rotheram, the widow. It would therefore appear that both mother and daughter married again shortly after the death of the first husband.

Mary Rotheram married, secondly, William Shannon, of the village of Christiana Bridge, New Castle county, Del. His will, dated 22 February, 1810, probated 10 September, 1815, mentions wife Mary, sons George P. Shannon and Abraham P. Shannon, stepdaughters Catherine Rotheram and Mary Harper, and friends George Pierce, Lewis Reece and James Harper. [R-99.]

Mary Shannon lived at the time of her death in Duck Creek hundred, Kent county. Her will is dated 19 July, 1824, and probated 21 December, 1824. In it are mentioned granddaughter Mary Ann Husbands, son Abraham P. Shannon (and his son William Thomas Shannon), son George P. Shannon (and his daughter Adeline Shannon), and daughter Catherine Harper. Her daughter Elizabeth Buckingham, the widow of John Griffin, is not mentioned in any of the wills. It is probable that the Harpers moved to Kentucky. When I visited that state in 1868, I was informed by letter from home that I had relatives by that name in the city of Lexington. I visited them at that time. The head of the family was superintendent of the express company. What was the relationship I do not know.

Abraham Pierce Shannon married, 21 September, 1820, Elizabeth Berry Rothwell, daughter of Thomas and Ann (Morris) Rothwell. (See "The Morris Family of Philadelphia.")

(77) ANN GRIFFIN (Samuel, 25, Samuel, Samuel), born 19, June, 1774; died 15 May, 1821; married ENOCH JONES.

It is not known that any children were born of this marriage. Mary Griffin bequeathed unto her daughter Ann Jones, wife of Enoch Jones, fifty dollars, to be paid one year after her death, out of her personal estate. The will was drawn 29 April, 1820, and Mary Griffin did not die until 1823. Ann Jones's death, therefore, preceded her mother's, but no change was made in the will. It is thought that Enoch Jones went to Kentucky after the death of his wife.

(79) THOMAS GRIFFIN (Samuel, 25, Samuel, Samuel), born 3 August, 1779; died 31 July, 1807; married, (1), REBECCA WILDS, born in 1776, died 5 November, 1805, daughter of Nathaniel Wilds and ———; married, (2), MARTHA DURBOROUGH.

CHILDREN.

By first wife.

(187) I. Eliza Wilds, born in 1799; died 12 May, 1881; married William Howard.

Thomas Griffin and Rebecca Wilds are buried in the Bryn Zion church-yard. One marble stone bears the inscription of both. It reads as follows: "Thomas Griffin, died March 31st, 1807, age 29 years." "Rebecca Wilds, wife of Thomas Griffin, who departed this life Nov. 5th, 1805, in the 29th year of her age." The marriage bond of Thomas

Griffin and Martha Durborough bears date of 27 September, 1806, with the names of John Wilds and James Harper as sureties. Letters of administration upon the estate of Rebecca Griffin were granted first to Thomas Griffin, 16 February, 1807, then to James Sorden, 6 August, 1807, the letters granted to Thomas Griffin being unadministered. [O. 155.] Letters of administration upon the estate of Thomas Griffin were granted to James Sorden, 6 August, 1807; Martha Griffin renounced "her rights to the estate of her late husband, Thomas Griffin, also her rights on the estate of Rebecca Griffin." [O. 155.]

Thomas Griffin inherited the Griffin homestead by his father's will. It was sold by sheriff's sale to pay his debts, and his mother was the purchaser.

(80) ESTHER GRIFFIN (Samuel, 25, Samuel, Samuel), born 2 February, 1781; died 2 January, 1815; married JOHN SAUNDERS.

Children of John and Esther Saunders are mentioned in the will of Mary Griffin. Letters of administration upon the estate of John Saunders, deceased, were granted to William Howard, who gave bond with Samuel Griffin, 24 March, 1823.

(84) ANN GRIFFIN (Isaac, 26, Samuel, Samuel), born 22 May, 1776; died 22 February, 1834; married, 1 January, 1797, JAMES WITTER NICHOLSON, born 20 April, 1773, at Nicholson Manor, near Nicholson Gap, Maryland, died 6 October, 1851, son of Commodore James Nicholson, of Revolutionary fame, and Frances Witter, both of Maryland.

CHILDREN.

- (188) I. James Nicholson, born 16 November, 1799; died 2 December, 1832; unmarried.
- (189) II. Thomas Witter Nicholson, born 10 April, 1803; died April, 1869; married Mary Biffle.
- (190) III. Mary Ann Nicholson, born 15 April, 1807; died 9 July, 1840; married Isaac Beeson.
- (191) IV. Frances Witter Nicholson, born 3 November, 1808; died 17 June, 1843; married Franklin Bond.
- (192) V. Albert Gallatin Nicholson, born 3 June, 1814; died 22 January, 1857; unmarried. He was a soldier in the Mexican War.
- (193) VI. William Few Nicholson, born 30 May, 1816; died 31 December, 1847; married Elizabeth Coalbank.
- (194) VII. Maria Nicholson, born 3 July, 1820; died 2 August, 1820.

James W. Nicholson went to Fayette county, Pennsylvania, with his brother-in-law, Albert Gallatin, and had financial charge of the glass factory which Gallatin established on George's creek, one mile east of New Geneva. This was the first manufactory of the kind west of the Alleghany mountains. It was established in 1794. He afterwards became a merchant in New Geneva. In 1836, he moved to Elk Hills, his country residence, where he died. Nicholson township, in Fayette county, was named in his honor.

(86) HARRIET GRIFFIN (Isaac, 26, Samuel, Samuel), born 5 March, 1782; died 18 March, 1835; married in 1799 (?1800), EDWARD HALL.

CHILDREN.

- (195) I. Alfred Hall, born 17 September, 1801; died 12 October, 1862; unmarried.
- (196) II. Louisa Hall, born 19 October, 1803; died October, 1896; married Thomas Neal.
- (197) III. Isaac Griffin Hall, born 15 November, 1805; died 13 June, 1848; married Elizabeth House.
- (198) IV. James Griffin Hall, born 12 April, 1808; died 2 June, 1873; married Celestia Miller.

- (199) V. John Hall, born 4 May, 1809; died 25 September, 1876; married Fannie Patterson.
- (200) VI. Joseph Tilton Hall, born 27 July, 1812; died 9 October, 1893; married Mary Louisa Stewart.
- (201) VII. Mary Morris Hall, born 8 May, 1815; died 29 September, 1854; married Joel Bronson.
- (202) VIII. Lewis Hall, born 16 July, 1817; unmarried.
- (203) IX. Ann Nicholson Hall, born 31 October, 1819; died 7 January, 1853; married G. Barstow Williams.
- (204) X. Elizabeth Hall, born 6 February, 1822; died —; married Zebina Williams.
- (205) XI. Samuel Hall, born 24 June, 1824; died —; married Nancy Hannon.
- (206) XII. Harriet Hall, born 14 November, 1827; died 25 September, 1877; married Joshua S. Murray.

This large family, desiring more room to expand than the mountainous region of Fayette county afforded, about 1836, pre-empted a large tract of land in Louisa county, Iowa, whither most of them moved. There the families increased and prospered. It is said that eighteen stalwart grandsons of this couple served in the Union army during the Civil War. Many of their descendants are settled in, or near, Columbus City, Louisa county, Iowa.

(87) SAMUEL GRIFFIN (Isaac, 26, Samuel, Samuel), born 16 August, 1785; died 9 March, 1838; married, 15 October, 1809, ESTHER SMYTH, of Virginia.

CHILDREN.

- (207) I. Elizabeth, born 19 October, 1810; died 6 October, 1895; unmarried.
- (208) II. Livinia, born 4 December, 1811; died 20 December, 1879; unmarried.
- (209) III. James Morris, born 24 August, 1813; died —; married, (1), Margaret Cox, (2), Hannah Mason.
- (210) IV. William Augustus, born 26 August, 1815; died 10 September, 1843; unmarried.
- (211) V. Isaac Hall, born 3 August, 1817; died —; married, 25 December, 1879, Susan K. Streeter.
- (212) VI. Sarah Ann, born 23 October, 1819; died unmarried.
- (213) VII. Mary, born 16 October, 1821; died 23 March, 1822.
- (214) VIII. Harriet, born 23 February, 1823; died —; married, 4 April, 1843, Richard Hanke.

- (215) IX. Thomas Masterson, born 21 March, 1825; died —; married Amanda Farris.
- (216) X. Samuel, born —.

Samuel Griffin, for some years after his marriage, resided in Pennsylvania. He emigrated from that state to Ohio, where he lived eight years. From Ohio he went to Kentucky, where he died. After his death his family returned to Ohio, whence they scattered, James going to Lawrenceburg, Indiana, and Isaac to Iowa.

(88) MARY MORRIS GRIFFIN (Isaac, 26, Samuel, Samuel), born 1 January, 1787; died 9 July, 1842; married, 24 June, 1804, ANDREW OLIPHANT, born in 1774, son of Andrew Oliphant.

CHILDREN.

- (217) I. Mary Ann Oliphant, born 1 May, 1807; died 12 July, 1842; married Edgar C. Wilson.
- (218) II. James Morris Oliphant, born 11 June, 1810; died 9 February, 1866; married, (1), Caroline Toucey, (2) Margaret Hertzog, (3), Mary Berry Corse.
- (219) III. Nathaniel Breading Oliphant, born 27 June, 1821; died 26 April, 1822.

- (220) IV. Elizabeth Haymond Oliphant, born 19 April, 1826; married James Johnson Linn.
- (221) V. Omer Toucey Oliphant, born 13 February, 1833; died 25 April, 1835.

Andrew Oliphant, Sr., lived in Chester county previous to the Revolutionary War. He was a trader, and packed goods over the mountains on horses to trade with the Indians. General Braddock is said to have pressed him and his horses into service in the disastrous expedition against Fort DuQuesne in 1755. When Braddock fell mortally wounded, he was carried on a litter between two of these horses under the care of Andrew Oliphant. Tradition says he assisted in the construction and defense of Fort Necessity. After the war he moved to Fayette county, and settled on land near Merrittstown. He was buried in the Presbyterian grave-yard at Dunlap's Creek.

John and Andrew Oliphant, sons of Andrew Oliphant, Sr., were born in Chester county. They commenced the iron business together at Old Fairfield furnace, on George's creek, in George's township, Fayette county. This was one of the first places where pig-iron was made west of the Allegheny mountains—Jacob's Creek, in Westmoreland county, being the only place which contests the honor of priority with it. The Oliphant brothers soon added Fairchance furnace to their works; subsequently, they built Sylvan Forges, all on the same creek. These were lower down, near New Geneva. They made pig-iron at Fairchance, and converted it into bar-iron at Sylvan Forges. They built boats on the Monongahela river at New Geneva, and floated their iron down the river to Pittsburgh and other places on the Ohio. They continued in business together until 1816, when they dissolved partnership and divided the property. Fairchance and Sylvan Forges being of equal value, John gave his brother the choice. He chose Sylvan Forges. (Ellis's "History of Fayette County.")

(89) EBENEZER GRIFFIN (Isaac, 26, Samuel, Samuel), born 12 August, 1788; died soon after 1836; married LEAH CLAWSON.

CHILDREN.

- (222) I. Thomas, born 13 June, 1810; died —; married Elizabeth Casement.
- (223) II. Mary F., born 21 November, 1811; died 15 November, 1862; married, (1), David Husted, (2), William Zerley.
- (224) III. Garrett Clawson, born 23 May, 1815; died 13 June, 1861; married Lydia Husted.

- (225) IV. Maria N., born —, 1818; died 17 November, 1852; married Edward M. Roe.
- (226) V. Kesiah, born 15 March, 1820; died —; married Richard Dotson.
- (227) VI. Alpheus, born 6 January, 1827; died —; married Serena Padgit.

About 1836, this family moved from Pennsylvania to what is now West Virginia. Many of their descendants are still living in the latter state.

(90) JAMES MORRIS GRIFFIN (Isaac, 26, Samuel, Samuel), born 27 December, 1789; died 18 December, 1812; unmarried.

He was a soldier in the War of 1812, in Captain James A. McClelland's Company, and was killed in a battle with the Indians at Mississinawa, Ohio.

AN OBITUARY OF JAMES MORRIS GRIFFIN.

(From the "Spectator," a paper published in Fayette county at that time.)

" 'How beautiful is death when caused by Virtue.'—Addison.

"Died. On the field of battle at Massissinawa, on the 18th of Dec., last, JAMES MORRIS GRIF-FIN, third son of Isaac Griffin, Esq., of this county, after having passed his 23rd year. When war was declared by the government of his country against Britain he entered as a private in Capt. McClelland's troop of horse, on condition that they would volunteer their service to the President of the United States, and was one of the few that remained at their post when their companions in arms, for cause not satisfactorily developed, returned home. A detachment under Col. Campbell being ordered to march on a secret expedition, he gallantly volunteered on that service, at the most inclement season of the year, determined to brave the wintry blasts in the wilds of the dreary wilderness for the protection of our defenceless frontiers, and was killed fighting against the savage allies of the more savage and barbarous British Government. It is doubtless a consolation to his connections that he entered the service from no sordid motive, prompted alone by the purest patriotism. His unassuming modesty would not permit of any attempt to obtain a commission, and it is most certain that five dollars a month could be no inducement.

"In these days of degeneracy, when extravagance and speculation have too clearly extended their baleful influence to a great part of the community, patriotism like this is considered by some as visionary and even scoffed at. But it is hoped that we have patriots in numbers sufficient to carry us through, honourably and successfully, the present struggle for our existence as an independent nation.

May the example of this virtuous youth stimulate others to stand forth in defense of their injured country."

(91) ELIZABETH GRIFFIN (Isaac, 26, Samuel, Samuel), born 26 November, 1791; died 14 March, 1831 (in the "Morris Family of Philadelphia," the date of her death is given as 14 November, 1835); married, 8 January, 1824, DANIEL HAYMOND (his second wife), born 28 April, 1787, in Harrison county, Virginia, died 10 December, 1874, son of William and Cassandra Haymond.

CHILDREN.

- (228) I. Cassandra Haymond, born 22 December, 1824; died 1 June, 1871; unmarried.
- (229) II. Mary Ann Haymond, born 1 October, 1826; died 28 July, 1871; married Saul Thomas.
- (230) III. Frances Haymond, born 18 February, 1829; died unmarried.

Daniel Haymond was a man of prominence and wealth. He held county offices, and was a member of the Virginia legislature at Richmond. He was married four times, and he and his wives are buried at Mole Hill, Ritchie county, West Virginia. These facts and dates were obtained from "The Genealogy of the Sharpless Family."

(92) ISAAC GRIFFIN (Isaac, 26, Samuel, Samuel), born 27 December, 1793 ; died 20 February, 1826 ; married ANN GRIFFIN (139), born 1801, died 1870, daughter of Ezekiel Griffin and Sarah Stokely.

CHILDREN.

- (231) I. Joseph Ezekiel, born in 1821 ; died in 1889 ; married, (1), Ellen E. Allison, (2), Martha Hughes, a widow.

Ann Griffin accompanied her son to Texas in 1851, and died there. She was second cousin, once removed, of her husband.

NOTE.—Most of the information relating to the descendants of Isaac Griffin and Mary Morris was obtained from Mrs. Elizabeth H. Linn, of Minneapolis, Minnesota.

(94) JOHN GRIFFIN (Samuel, 27, Matthew, Samuel), born 12 August, 1778 ; died 6 October, 1826 ; married, 9 June, 1810, SARAH KNOTTS, born 1 September, 1784, daughter of William and Nancy Knotts.

CHILDREN.

- (232) I. Lydia Ann, born 7 May, 1811 ; died 3 June, 1837 ; married, 12 February, 1835, Lott Watson.
- (233) II. William, born 9 June, 1812 ; died 25 May, 1862 ; married Emaline Price.

- (234) III. James Laurence, born 16 November, 1813; died —; married Ellen L. Swearingen.
- (235) IV. Nancy, born 30 June, 1816; died 20 November, 1834.
- (236) V. Mary, born 26 May, 1818; died 31 March, 1841.
- (237) VI. Elizabeth, born 13 July, 1820; died 17 September, 1891; married, 6 September, 1846, Jacob B. Stone.
- (238) VII. Samuel H., born 27 December, 1822; died —; married 9 September, 1856, Elvira Collier.
- (239) VIII. Rebecca, born 2 August, 1825; died —, 1895; married Adam Spaw.

About 1823, John Griffin moved from Delaware to Fayette county, Pa. He kept the Seventh Tavern Stand on the National Road, in Henry Clay township, near Markleysburg. He married Sarah Knotts. He had a son William, who kept the tavern after the death of his father. William was succeeded at the stand by his sister Elizabeth, who married Jacob Stone. The above is taken from Salter's "History of Fayette County." The will of John Griffin is recorded at Uniontown. It is dated 23 September, 1826, and probated 19 October, 1826. (Will Book, vol. i, p. 897.) He mentions wife Sarah and daughter Lydia. Jeremiah Boyd and William Griffin, executors.

In addition to entertaining travellers on the National Road, he was a farmer, his farm being located about fifteen miles east of Uniontown, the county seat. If the date of his emigration, as given by Salter, be correct, all his children, except the youngest, were born in Delaware.

(95) WILLIAM GRIFFIN (Samuel, 27, Matthew, Samuel), born —; died —; married SARAH McKEE.

CHILDREN.

(240) I. William Rees, born in 1833(?); died 14 August, 1879; married Jemima Agnes Showalter.

There is no evidence to show that William Rees Griffin was the son of the above; but, it seems probable, that such was the case, as he came from that part of Fayette county where the Griffins were settled, and his descendants claim relationship with them. This is the only line of descent, it seems to me, that is possible for him. William Griffin died in Dunkard township, Green county, Pa. He was probably the William Griffin mentioned in John Griffin's will, as one of the executors of his estate.

(96) JAMES GRIFFIN (Samuel, 27, Matthew, Samuel), born —; died —, in Delaware; married

— —.

CHILDREN.

- (241) I. Elizabeth, born —; died —; married — Hall. She was early left an orphan and was brought up in the family of her uncle William Griffin. She had one son named John Hall, of Green county, Pa. This information comes through the descendants of John Griffin (94).

(99) JOHN SPRUANCE GRIFFIN (David, 28, Matthew, Samuel), born 11 October, 1780; died 28 February, 1832; married, 20 October, 1816, ELIZABETH BROADAWAY (widow Marsh), born 29 September, 1789, died 30 November, 1871, daughter of Elder Samuel B. Broadaway (a Baptist minister) and Mary Willoughby.

CHILDREN.

- (242) I. Lydia Ann, born 2 September, 1817; died 13 October, 1819.
- (243) II. David Broadaway, born 13 February, 1819; died in 1859, in Kentucky; married, (1), Martha Ann Rodgers (date of marriage bond, 18 August, 1840), (2), Louisa Smith, of Kentucky. David B. Griffin was a tailor, and lived in Smyrna before migrating west. It is thought he left no children.

- (244) III. Ann Jemima, born 21 May, 1821; died 17 January, 1895; married Tilghman Foxwell.
- (245) IV. Thomas Rees, born 24 August, 1823; died 11 November, 1823.
- (246) V. Hester Ann, born 19 August, 1824; died 27 August, 1824.
- (247) VI. Samuel Thomas, born 20 December, 1825; died 1 February, 1826.
- (248) VII. John Rees, born 19 November, 1827; died 17 June, 1828.
- (249) VIII. Samuel Spruance, born 29 April, 1829; married Sarah Jane Rash.
- (250) IX. Lydia Elizabeth, born 15 February, 1832; died 9 December, 1868; married Daniel Faries.

Elizabeth Broadway lived in what was known as Brown's Neck, Kent county. She married, (1), 1 February, 1810, William Marsh (and had Mary, born 1 October, 1810, married Benjamin Clouds; Rebecca, born 13 September, 1811, married Garrett Forkum; Eliza, born 23 August, 1812); married, (3), 22 December, 1836, Thomas Wilds. She had no children by her last marriage.

"Samuel Broadaway was son of James, who died in 1758; James was son of Samuel, who died in 1742; Samuel was son of Samuel, who died in 1698. Samuel Broadaway bought land 10 November, 1692, and 15 August, 1682. Nicholas Broadaway and Catherine, his wife, sold land 15 August, 1665, and took bill of sale of cattle, sheep, etc., 9 July, 1662." (John C. Gooden.)

John S. Griffin was born in that part of Duck Creek hundred known as "The Alley." When eighteen years old, it is said, he enlisted as a sailor in the United States navy, and followed the sea for more than twelve years. After leaving the sea, he returned to Delaware and engaged in farming for the rest of his life.

(100) LYDIA GRIFFIN (David, 28, Matthew, Samuel), born 27 January, 1783; died 22 October, 1811; married ELI COVINGTON.

CHILDREN.

- (251) I. Elizabeth Covington, born ——.
 (252) II. Nathaniel Covington, born ——; died ——; married Mary Farrow.

(109) MARY GRIFFIN (William, 30, Matthew, Samuel), born ——; died ——; married, in 1806, WILLIAM HUTCHISON.

CHILDREN.

- (253) I. Nathaniel Hutchison, born in 1807; died —; married — —. Children: 1. Samuel Hutchison. 2. William Hutchison, married Virginia Wilds, daughter of John Wilds and Mary Jane Spruance.

Samuel Hutchison, of Kenton, Delaware, writes (24 May, 1900), that he was a grandson of Mary Griffin and William Hutchison, and that his father was the oldest child of that marriage.

(112) JACOB GRIFFIN (Ebenezer, 33, Matthew, Samuel), born in 1782; died in 1847; married REBECCA HAYDEN.

CHILDREN.

- (254) I. James, born —; married Mary Carey.
(255) II. Sarah, born —; married Redner Zane.
(256) III. Jacob, born —; married Rachel Bennett.
(257) IV. Ebenezer, born —; married Anna Scout.
(258) V. Margaret, born —; married John Mowers. The mother of Laura E. Sapp, wife of John H. Sapp, of Dover.

- (259) IV] Caroline, born —; married William Wesley Sherwood, died 10 May, 1877, in Wilmington, a painter. A son, Henry Elmer Sherwood, born in Smyrna, Del., 4 March, 1863.
- (260) VII. Rachel, born —; married Joshua Bennett.

Jacob Griffin was a farmer, and lived near Collins's Beach, on the Delaware Bay.

FIFTH GENERATION.

(113) DAVID FRANKLIN GRIFFIN (Charles, 34, Charles, William, Samuel), born 21 October, 1808; died —; married RUTH MORGAN, died 18 April, 1870.

CHILDREN.

- (261) I. Ann M., born —; married William P. Dillman.
- (262) II. Mary, born —; married E. S. Hunt.
- (263) III. George W., born —.
- (264) IV. Charles, born —.
- (265) V. David Franklin, born 13 January, 1854; married Melissa Dillman.
- (266) VI. Caroline, born —; married — Peterson.

In 1832, David F. Griffin moved from Pennsylvania to near Wenona, Marshall county, Illinois. He was a farmer.

(116) WILLIAM HARRISON GRIFFIN (Charles, 34, Charles, William, Samuel), born 1 May, 1814; died 24 March, 1862; married LUCINDA McMASTERS, born 11 January, 1817, in Smithfield, Fayette county, Pennsylvania, died 25 January, 1891, in Lancaster, Wisconsin.

CHILDREN.

- (267) I. Anna Maria, born 16 March, 1836, in Uniontown, Fayette county, Pa.; married Joseph Nathan. Address: Lancaster, Wis.
- (268) II. George W., born 27 March, 1840; married Rebecca Archer. Address: Carbon, Wyoming.
- (269) III. Ann (Nancy), born 23 August, 1842; married Roland W. Royce. No issue.

William P. Griffin was a farmer, and an elder in the Christian Church. In his younger days he was a lieutenant in the state militia. He lived on the farm called "Maple Grove," that was the property of his grandfather Pierce. It is situated on George's creek, near Old Frame. He is said to have been a man of the strictest integrity and of high standing in his community. He was born in Springhill (now Nicholson) township, Fayette county. The following is an account of his funeral: "He was buried from the Oak Grove Christian Church, services being conducted by deceased's grandson, Rev. W. H. Hanna, of Washington, Pa., the funeral director being another grandson, Ernest G. Sturgis, of Morgantown, W. Va. The pall-bearers were also grandsons, William and Merl Griffin, Edward and Emmett Hanna, Frank and Walter Ramsey, three pairs of brothers."

William Gans, the father of William P. Griffin's wife, was the son of Jacob Gans, a dunkard, who emigrated from Germany to escape religious persecution. He settled first near Antietam, Md., and moved to Fayette county in 1785, where his son William was born, 7 October, 1788. Magdalane Gans, born 27 April, 1793, was the daughter of George Custer, son of Paul Custer and Sarah Ball. (Ellis's "History of Fayette County.")

(For the continuation of this line see REES FAMILY.)

As a girl, Elizabeth S. Rees went to Lititz School, a noted seminary for girls in Lancaster county, Pennsylvania. She married at the age of sixteen, and a few years afterwards accompanied her husband to their new home in the western part of Ohio. Of her fourteen children, only one died in childhood, which speaks well for her motherly care. A daughter writes: "A devoted wife and mother, she was noted for her habits of industry; and, although left in good circumstances at the death of her husband, she did not choose to remain idle, but brought into requisition, as in early life, her literary attainments, with remunerative results. Her prose and poetic effusions were eagerly sought as they appeared in the magazines and journals of the period. Her life was happily prolonged until assured that all her children, save two—one losing his life by drowning and the other in the service of his country—were comfortably settled in life.” Her sturdy sons, in their turn, became pioneers to the country farther west, and wherever they have settled, there they have taken a leading part in the affairs of the community.

Elizabeth S. Rees in her younger days was called beautiful, and she preserved her good looks to the end of her life. She was of good stature, and had a fine carriage. Like her husband, she had dark hair and gray eyes.

The following obituary was published in “The Messenger,” of Minneapolis, Kansas: “Died—Sunday, January the 13th, 1884, Mrs. Elizabeth S. Griffin Rees, aged nearly 83 years, at the home of her son, Victor D. Rees, buried Monday the 14th, in the Highland Cemetery, near Minneapolis. She was followed to the grave by her many relatives and friends, who mourn her loss. She was a true, noble woman, industrious, conscientious, a good and true friend, despising all shams and hypocrisy. She had prepared the following paper, which was all she desired said at her burial. Rev. Joy Bishop, of Delphos, officiated at the funeral :

“ ‘I was born March 13, 1801, in Smyrna, New Castle county, Delaware; educated at Lititz boarding school, Lancaster county, Pa.; married Thomas Rees, of Delaware, in St. Clairsville, Belmont county, Ohio, June 4, 1817; moved from Delaware to Preble county, Ohio, in 1825, and from thence to Reily, Butler county, Ohio, in 1831. Brought up to man and womanhood eleven sons and two daughters, for whose good and pure moral attainments I have earnestly prayed and thanked God through many years. The few duties of life performed and the many left undone, are known only to God, and to Him alone I look for justice.

“ ‘This is all I wish said of myself at my burial.

“ ‘ELIZABETH S. GRIFFIN REES.’ ”

Jacob R. Griffin after his first marriage lived on the farm which his wife had inherited from her mother, Jemima Rees. This was part of the Spruance property willed by John Spruance to his daughter Jemima. There Susan Griffin's children were born. They moved from this farm to the Eastern Shore of Maryland, near Church Hill, where the first wife died. After her death he returned to Delaware, and lived for a while on the farm afterwards owned by Tilghman Foxwell, near his first place of residence, on the opposite side of the Upper Alley road. From there he moved to Dover, where he went into the hotel business. In 184—, he went to the western part of Illinois, where his wife and son afterwards joined him. After the death of the former he moved to Mississippi, where he married his third wife. Shortly after the birth of their child the family moved to Texas, and finally settled permanently on the Colorado river, at Wharton, Wharton county, where he died.

Joseph E. Griffin was a member of the state legislature of Pennsylvania, from Fayette county, in 1849 and 1850. In 1851 he moved to Montgomery county, Texas, where he died. His first wife also died there, of the yellow fever. He was a soldier in the Civil War for four years or more. Much information of the early history of the family was obtained from Joseph E. Griffin, who inherited traditions through two lines of descent.

Charles Black Griffin was born in Montgomery, Texas, and was educated at Waynesburgh, Green county, Pennsylvania. He is the manager of the "Southern Land and Lumber Company," of Shreveport, Louisiana.

(233) WILLIAM GRIFFIN. (John, 94, Samuel, Matthew, Samuel), born 9 June, 1812 ; died 25 May, 1862 ; married, 15 September, 1836, EMALINE PRICE, daughter of Joseph and Ann Price.

- (511) IX. Samuel C., born 15 June, 1853; married, 27 December, 1877, in La Salle county, Ill., Isabell Cusac. Emigrated to near Clyde, Cloud county, Kansas.
- (512) X. Nathaniel E., born 18 October, 1856; married, 26 November, 1879, in La Salle county, Ill., Minerva Cusac. He moved to Kansas shortly after his marriage, and lived there until his wife's death, six or seven years later, when he returned to Illinois. He resides at present (1902) in Williamsburg, Iowa.

William Griffin was married in Wharton township, Fayette county, Pennsylvania, by the Rev. Joel Stoneroad, pastor of the Presbyterian church in Uniontown. It has already been stated that he succeeded to the business of his father after the latter's death. He died in Fayette county, and after his death all his family, except Nancy, emigrated to McDonough county, Illinois. They traveled in covered wagons, and arrived at their destination in December, 1863.

(234) JAMES LAURENCE GRIFFIN (John, 94, Samuel, Matthew, Samuel), born 16 November, 1813; died —; married, 25 December, 1840, ELLEN L. SWEARINGEN.

- (522) IX. Martha Ellen, born 1877. Res., Fort Scott, Kansas.

William R. Griffin, according to the statement of his son, Dr. U. M. Griffin, was a farmer and a politician. He emigrated to Kansas in 1868, and settled in Fort Scott in 1869. This family is undoubtedly connected with the other Griffins of Fayette county through the line of Matthew. But, not being able to give the name of their grandfather, their line of descent is unsettled. They profess the Baptist faith, and have always claimed relationship with the family in Pa. According to Dr. U. M. Griffin his grandmother was Elizabeth Francina Griffin; while another authority states William Griffin (95) married Sarah McKee.
