Preface.

THIS Volume contains the Registers of the Baptisms, Marriages, and Burials at the Church of St. Martin Outwich, London, from 1670 to 1873. The transcript of the original Registers, which form this Volume, was made some years ago by the Rev. J. A. Lumb Airey, M.A., and the whole of it has been carefully revised with the original Registers.

The following description and particulars of the Church is taken from pp. 14 and 15 of "LONDON CITY CHURCHES DESTROYED SINCE A.D. 1800, OR NOW THREATENED"*:—

"ST. MARTIN OUTWICH.

'On the south part of Three Needle Street, at the east end, by the well with two buckets, is the parish church of St Martin, called Oteswich, of Martin de Oteswich, and others of that name, new founders thereof.'† Thus John Stow described the position of what was then a newly-built church, the re-building dating from 1540. John de Dalington was presented to the living in 1325 by the Earl of Surrey. The church of Stow's day escaped narrowly the flames of 1666, and in 1794 consisted of a nave and chancel and south aisle, with a tower at the south-west angle;‡ but it had received such serious injury from a fire in Bishops-gate Street, which burnt fifty houses, in 1765, that it was taken down in 1795, and re-built the following year by Mr. S. P. Cockerell; and again a good deal altered in 1827. This building was of very plain exterior, and built against on its western and southern sides. Occupying a very noisy position, it was found advisable to admit light chiefly from the roof. The general plan was elliptical, with a recessed sanctuary, lighted by a sky-light which contained painted glass saved from the older church, showing several coats-of-arms—amongst them the arms of Naylor and Nevill, 1483, the arms of Charles II., the Merchant Taylors, &c. Several monuments were preserved from the old church, of which the finest were that of John Oteswich and his wife, with recumbent effigies in alabaster, and that of Hugh Pemberton, Merchant Taylor, who died in 1500, and his wife, a canopied altar-tomb, with brasses at the back. There were also brasses to † Stow's Survey.

‡ Allen's History, vol. iii., p. 205, where a view of the old church is given, and a plan as in 1760. A better view of the old church [here reproduced—ED.] is given in West and Thom's London Churches, 1736. A plan of the last building is given in Old and New London, vol. i., p. 534. [There is also a view of the church given in "Architectura Ecclesiastica Londini," by Charles Clarke, F.S.A. (John Booth, Duke Street, Portland Place, London, 1820.).—ED.]

Nicholas Wotton, who died 1482, and John Breux, who died 1459, rectors; a tablet to Rich. Staper, 1608, &c. These monuments have been moved to St. Helen's Church, enriching what was already a sumptuous collection. Before the repairs of 1827 the space over the altar (which was an elaborate work in stucco) was occupied by a wall-painting by Rigaud, but, having become dilapidated, it was then replaced by panels of imitation marble! This church* in its turn was demolished in 1874, the parish being united with St. Helen's."

For a fuller description of the ancient Church the reader is referred to "Antique Remains from the Church of St. Martin Outwich, London,"† wherein is contained a table of Benefactors, a List of Rectors and Patrons, and some particulars of the Monuments, with illustrations.

The Registers are in the custody of the Rector and Churchwardens of the united parishes of St. Helen's and St. Martin Outwich, and are kept in an iron safe in the Vestry. No reference to the earlier Registers prior to 1670 is made on p. 193 of the Parish-Register Abstract, ordered to be printed 14th February 1834. The Editor has made enquiries from the Patrons of the said Church (the Merchant Taylors' Company), but without any result.

Space has been saved in the printing of this Volume by adopting uniformly the initial letters "s" and "d" to indicate "son" and "daughter," and the repetition of the formulas "were baptized" or "married" or "buried" has also been avoided with a similar result.

Anything within brackets thus [ ] will of course be understood as explanatory interpolations by the Editor.

The Registers of St. Martin Outwich are written on paper, and are contained in seven volumes, and for easy reference are identified as follows :

† By Robert Wilkinson. Cornhill, 5 Jan. 1797. (R. Wilkinson, 58 Cornhill, 7 Jan. 1797.)

In 1852 the churchyard was closed. In 1873 the Church was taken down, and on the 5th of May 1873 the Parish of St. Martin Outwich was conjoined with that of St. Helen's, Bishopsgate.

The thanks of the Society are due to the Rector and Churchwardens for the kind permission to print the Registers; to Philip Norman, Esq., F.S.A., the Treasurer of the Society of Antiquaries of London, for the kind loan of the old view of the Church, from his noted collection of engravings of London Churches; and to the Rector and Mr. H. J. Davey, the Vestry Clerk, for their kind loan of the later view of the Church, both of which views form the Frontispiece to this Volume.

The best thanks of the Society are tendered to the Rector, the Rev. J. A. Lumb Airey, M.A., for the kind loan of his transcript, the assistance he has rendered, and the facilities of access that he has at all times so courteously afforded to the Editor.

ST. MATTHEW OUTING.

(Corner of Threadneedle Street and Bishopsgate)

Founded by the de Otewich family about 1201 and came into possession of Merchant Taylors' Company about 1347, through John Churchman, trustee for the de Otewich family. Rebuilt, as above, in 1796 and demolished in 1873 by Order in Council on the petition of St. Matthew Outing and St. Helen's, Bishopsgate. The site is now (1891) occupied by the Capital and Counties Bank.

JOHN ROSE, A.M., Rector

1799.—Before the entrance of any Register for this Year it may be proper to record that a New Church has been built on the Scite of the old One; & to relate some particulars of both which may interest Posterity. The history of the old Church is distinctly arrang'd in a publication by Wilkinson of Cornhill under the Title of ANTIQUE REMAINS,* which will be left as parish property by the present Rector, with the Registers and other parish documents. The New Church was nearly three years from the taking down of the old one to the reconsecration in November 1798. It was built under the direction of Trustees by an Act of Parliament: the Money was borrow'd on Annuities for a term, as will be hereafter describ'd: a portion of Ground triangular whose base lay at the N.E. end of the building, measuring at the base 10 ft. 6 inches, was thrown into the public way for general Accommodation, and under a stipulated agreement with the Merchant Taylors' Company an entire new vault was added under the west Arch: the Rector's two vaults at the East end were converted into One. The Vestry Room was formerly the front ground Parlor of the Rectory house, the removal of which into the Church was to have been inserted in the Act of Parliament, but by some means forgotten; and the introduction of it into the Commons being so late in the Session a very great delay must have ensued had the Rector refus'd to sign it before the alteration could be made. The removal therefore was privately guaranteed to him, and afterwards publicly ratified. On this removal of the Vestry Room he gave up all Claim to any part of the Money given by the Patrons, the S. Sea Comp<sup>y</sup>, and the City of London for the triangular portion of Ground thrown into the public Way, and the parish gave up all Claim to the room in the Rectory.

Architect, J. P. Cockerell, Esq.

Builder, . . . . Stewart

JOHN ROSE, A.M., Rector

The painting in Fresco at the Altar, by Rigaud, R.A., of the Ascension, together with The Table, the Rails, and all the Ornaments within them are the Gift of the Architect. M<sup>r</sup> Scott on the opening, when reconsecrated by Beilby, Lord Bishop of London, gave a silver Communion dish. M<sup>r</sup> Scott is no parishioner, but the Vestry Clerk. M<sup>r</sup> Ross, who was Ch. Warden at the opening, gave a beadle's Staff with a solid silver top of elegant Workmanship, and the lac'd Hat and lac'd dress of the beadle. The Money given by others for the portion of Ground and towards Rebuilding the Church—

The Merchant Taylors' Company, Patrons	£500	} N.B.—There was no duty in the old Church for near two years.
The South Sea Company . . . . .	£200
The City of London . . . . .	£200

The whole Charge of the building.

Under a new Act of Parliament the Registers in future are to be kept in books furnish'd from the King's printer to be uniform throughout the Kingdom; but as the spaces in such books are very small, as there is no room for recording the birth nor the mother's maiden name, it is my intention to continue the present Register upon the old plan in addition to the new one exacted by legislative authority.—J. R.
