ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

The rare copy of Nixon's Jacksonville City Directory for 1868-69, from which this reproduction was made, was loaned to the Jacksonville Area Genealogical and Historical Society by Mr. Robert Tendick of Jacksonville, Illinois. The original owners, now deceased, were Mr. and Mrs. Clifford W. Fanning of Murrayville, Illinois. The librarian, Mrs. Mary Frances Alkire, assisted by Mr. Tendick, carefully photocopied the entire directory. Special publication chairman, Mrs. Ruth L. Lepper, prepared the copy for publication and Mr. William Benson of Dallas, Texas designed the cover.

INTRODUCTION

Because the original outside cover pages and lettered pages A-K had been printed on colored paper, they were badly deteriorated. The outside cover pages, both front and back, are copied on page 1 of this edition; however, due to their nearly unreadable condition, Mrs. Lepper has assembled a reasonable facsimile of these pages which appear on the inside of the back cover of this publication. The top portion of page A had been destroyed and is herein replaced by a similar ad. The simulations were copied from Springfield, Illinois, directories of the same era.

DEDICATION.

TO OUR PATRONS,

Gentlemen:

This volume, our First Directory of the City of Jacksonville is most respectfully dedicated to you, as a slight token of regard, by

Your most obedient servant,

W. A. NIXON, Publisher.

JACKSONVILLE, November 1, 1868.

INTRODUCTORY.

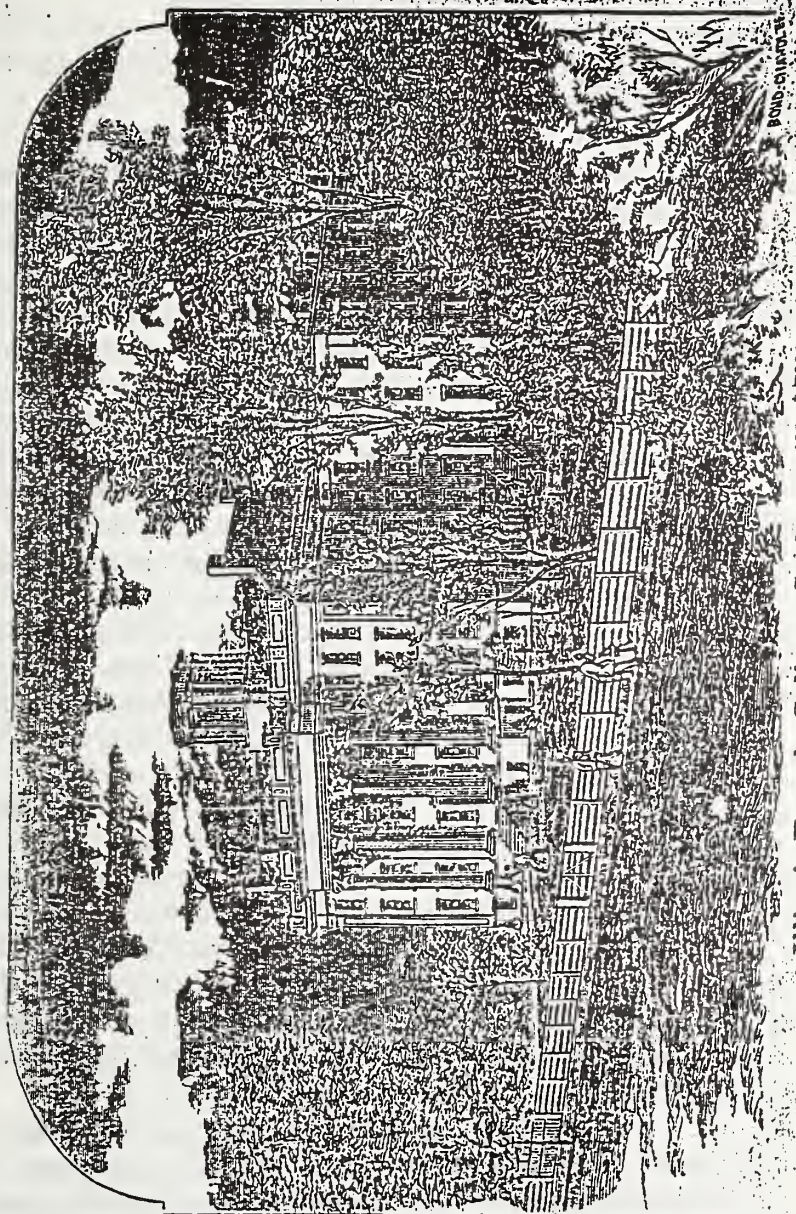

In presenting this, the first volume of NIXON'S DIRECTORY to the citizen's and business men of Jacksonville, we have endeavored to make an ACCURATE and RELIABLE DIRECTORY as far as possible. We hope our patrons will be satisfied with our efforts.

In the present work there are 3,400 names. Multiplying the number of names by 4, the usual figure, we find the population amounts to 13,600.

With many thanks to Hon. Murray McConnell, Col. W. D. Crowell, Col. G. P. Smith, Mayor Wm. P. Barr, City Clerk James J. Rowen, S. M. Martin, Supt. County Schools, Leopold Weil, Cassell & Fitzsimmons, Mathers & Wadsworth, C. E. Ross & Co., Marcy & Brother, W. C. Woodman, Home Manufacturing Company, Stevenson & Woods, Capps & Sons, Rockwell & Adams, Postmaster Horace Chapin, Dr. G. Y. Shirley, Dr. P. G. Gillett, Supt. Deaf and Dumb Institution, Prof. De Motte, President Illinois Female College, Dr. Rhoads, Supt. Blind Asylum, Dr. Wilbur, Supt. Institution for Feeble-minded Children, Dr. McFarland, Supt. Institution for Insane, Dr. J. M. Sturtevant, and others who have kindly given us their countenance and patronage, and assuring all that we shall redouble our efforts on our next Directory,

We remain, very respectfully,

W A. NIXON, Publisher.

Illinois Female College, Jacksonville, Illinois.

A SKETCH OF JACKSONVILLE.

WE are indebted to the Hon. MURRAY McCONNELL for the following brief and excellent Sketch of the CITY OF JACKSONVILLE:

JACKSONVILLE, ILL., Sept. 25, 1868.

To W. A. Nixon, Esq.,

DEAR SIR: You request me to jot down for you a short history of Jacksonville, to be published in your Directory for the City, now being prepared by you, and I proceed to do so in as few words as I can, to give your readers the information they will expect in a work of the kind you propose to publish.

The Legislature of Illinois, in January, 1823, established by law the county of Morgan, and appointed three persons to locate a county seat. The country then included in the county now composes the counties of Morgan, Scott and Cass. Owing to the fact that at that time but a few inhabitants resided within those boundaries, the Legislature thought proper to provide that the county seat to be located under said law should be temporary only, leaving it to some future Legislature to provide for the permanent location of the county seat. This temporary county seat was located at a place called "Olmstead's Mounds," some eight or nine miles nearly west of the present City of Jacksonville.

The session of the Legislature of 1824-5, passed another law touching the county seat of said county, in which three persons were appointed to permanently locate the county seat of said county, and in said law it was provided that if said county seat should be located upon land belonging to any private citizen, the owner or owners of the same should donate to the county twenty acres, to be laid out in lots and sold, the proceeds of which should be applied to the building of a court house and jail for said county.

In obedience to this law the three persons appointed located the county seat in the center of a quarter section of land composed of the east half of the north-east quarter of section twenty, and the west half of the north-west quarter of section twenty-one, in township fifteen north of the base line, and in range ten west of the third principal meridian.

The day this county seat was located the land belonged to the Government of the United States, but the next day, at nine o'clock in the morning, the Government sold it at private sale at one dollar and a quarter per acre, to Thomas Arnitt and Isaac Dial, two citizens residing near the place. Arnitt purchasing the tract in section twenty, and Dial the tract in section twenty-one. Arnitt and Dial resolved, in connection with the county, to lay out a town upon said land, and by an agreement between these owners and the county commissioner's court, a line was drawn from east to west, through the center of the quarter section, and Arnitt and Dial conveyed by deeds to the county, each twenty acres immediately on the north side of that line. This donation by those proprietors contained forty acres, being double the quantity required by said law to be given to the county. On the tenth of March, 1825, those proprietors, for themselves, and the county court for the county, laid out a town on eighty acres of land, in a square form, in the center of said one hundred and sixty acre tract, the county owning the north half and the proprietors the south half, and after much research and deliberation in selecting a name, they called the town Jacksonville, after General Andrew Jackson, he being the great man of that day.

Previous to that time there had been a public road laid out from Springfield, the then recently located county seat of Sangamon county, to the town of Naples, on the Illinois river, in Morgan county. This road, by way of eminence and distinction, was called the State road. This State road passed east and west on the top of the ridge of land directly over the spot selected for said county seat. The surveyor who laid out the town, (Mr. Johnston Shelton,) began the survey by laying out a central square of land, containing something more than five acres, directly in the center of the said one hundred and sixty acre tract, the State road running through the center of the square. Upon this State road he located a street, sixty feet wide, intending it to run due east and west across said one hundred and sixty acres, and on the north line of the land belonging to the proprietors. Thus locating one-half of said square and one-half of the width of the street on the land of said private owners, and the other half on the land of the county. This street was called State street.

A street was then laid out running north and south through the center of said land and said central square, of the same width, and it was called Main street. Taking those two streets as base lines, the town was laid out into square blocks, of one hundred and eighty feet nine inches on each side, which blocks were divided into three lots, each of equal size. All other streets, except those two, were made forty feet wide, and the alleys twenty feet wide, all running at right angles with each other.

The county offices and all county business were removed from the temporary county seat at Olmstead's Mound to Jacksonville, in the summer of 1825, and the first circuit court was held at Jacksonville in September of that year.

In 1826 the first court house was built in Jacksonville. It was located on the land on the north side of State street, and west of Main street, and on that part of the center square that had been conveyed to the county. It was a two story frame building, thirty by forty feet square, set upon round blocks, and cost about four hundred and fifty dollars. There was but one term of the circuit court held in this house, the same being burned in December, 1827, together with the records of the courts of the county. The loss, however, in those records was not great, as the county had not been long organized, and but a few records had been made. The original plat, however, of the town, and the deeds from Arnett and Dial to the county for the land where on the north half of the town was laid out, were burned, but the record-book containing copies of said plat and of those deeds was secured, the recorder, Dennis Rockwell, having, accidentally, said book at his house on the night of the fire.

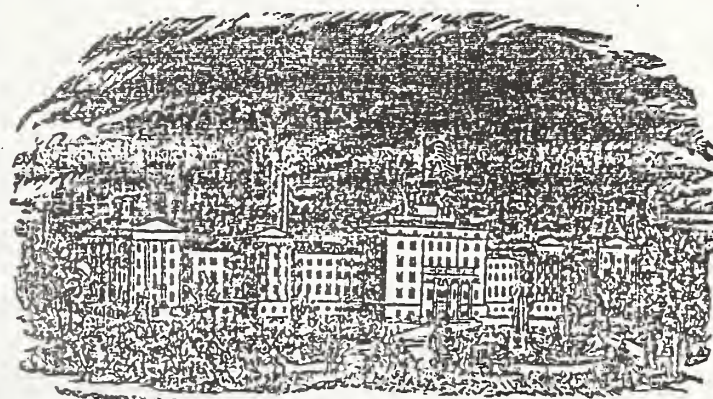

To supply the place of the court house burned, the present court house (now called the old court house) was built in 1829 and 1830, and was the first brick house in the county. This house was located on the same center square of land, on the south side of said State street, and west of Main street, and cost about four thousand dollars. This old court house is shortly to give place to a new and elegant structure now being built on the second block west of the square on the north side of State street, on that part of said eighty acres of land conveyed by Arnett to the county, and this old edifice will soon be removed and forgotten.

Much might be said in praise of the enterprise of the inhabitants of the city in years past, of the eleemosynary institutions, and institutions of learning that have clustered around the city. I could tell you of the first preachers and the first churches, and the first schools, but I am not sure you would deem that exactly appropriate in a work like the one you propose to publish. I could go into the personal history of the first and earliest settlers of the town; tell when they arrived and where they were from, how they lived, and when they died, but all this would be biography and not local history. Therefore I respectfully submit to you what I have written to be by you published or not, or used as you may think will best promote the objects intended by your book.

With great respect I am yours,

M. M'CONNELL.

EDUCATIONAL.

Illinois College.

The beautiful site on which Illinois College now stands was selected by a committee consisting of Rev. J. M. Ellis and Rev. Thomas Lippincott, after very extensive and careful explorations in the southern and central portions of the State. The selection was made early in the year 1828. The considerations which induced the committee to make choice of that site were the beauty of the site itself and of its surroundings, and the great natural fertility of the adjacent country, promising a rapid growth in wealth and population. The site was immediately procured, and the first building was erected in 1829. The Institution was opened to students on the first day of January, 1830, under the sole instruction of Rev. J. M. Sturtevant, who now presides over it. It was chartered in 1835, and graduated its first class the same year, consisting of two, one of whom was our well known and honored fellow-citizen, Hon. Richard Yates. In 1832 the Trustees erected extensive and costly buildings, containing ample arrangements for boarding and lodging students. In 1852 these buildings were almost entirely destroyed by fire. The Trustees having been long dissatisfied with the system of College dormitories, now resolved to abandon it, and to erect a building for public purposes only. With this view, the present beautiful and commodious edifice was completed in 1857, chiefly by the liberality of the citizens of this town and county.

Through the liberality of its friends in this State and a few in other states, the College has an endowment worth about $90,000. Its site, buildings, library and apparatus are worth about $160,000. Its course of instruction and system of mental discipline are extended and thorough, and will not suffer in comparison with those of the most renowned Seminaries of our country. In consequence of the elevated and protracted course of study prescribed by this College, its number of students has never been large. Its friends, however, believe that at no distant day the College is to rise by a steady, healthful growth, to take rank with the foremost schools of learning in our land. Such has ever been and still is the hope and intention of its benefactors and founders. It was projected not alone for the present, but for posterity.

FACULTY.

Rev. Julian M. Sturtevant, D. D., President, Professor of Moral Philosophy.

Samuel Adams, A. M., M. D., Professor of Chemistry and Natural Philosophy.

Rev. William D. Sanders, D. D., Professor of Rhetoric and Elocution.

Rufus C. Crampton, A. M. Professor of Mathematics and Astronomy.

Edward A. Tanner, A. M., Professor of the Latin Language and Literature.

——— Collins Professor of the Greek Language and Literature.

Illinois Female College.

This Institution is one of the oldest, and best patronized of its class in the west. Since its organization, January, 1847, it has enjoyed almost uninterrupted prosperity; having had an average attendance of two hundred students, and graduated up to June, 1868, more than two hundred and twenty.

The property is held by Trustees appointed by the Illinois Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church; and the school is carried on under the direction of that body. Being the only school owned by that conference for young ladies exclusively, it commands an extensive and influential patronage.

The course of study is full and well arranged; comprising, besides the higher English and scientific studies, a liberal share of the classics. Excellent advantages are afforded in modern languages, music, painting, and other ornamental branches.

The College in all its appointments is well calculated to give the best opportunities to those wishing to pursue a thorough course of study and drill. The character of the teachers and methods of instruction are such as to enable students who purpose becoming teachers to prepare themselves thoroughly for the work.

The buildings and grounds are ample, well situated and well arranged for the purposes to which they are devoted; and though in the city sufficiently retired and protected to relieve the school entirely of the objections so frequently urged against the location of such institutions in large towns.

Female Academy.

This Institution was organized in the year 1830, and consequently is one of the oldest of the kind west of the Mountains. During its entire history it has enjoyed a large measure of public favor. Its pupils are scattered all over the West, and not a few of them have honored the Institution by exemplary usefulness.

BOARD OF INSTRUCTION.

Gilbert Thayer, A. M., Principal. Miss Annie E. Shute, Teacher of French, Mental and Moral Philosophy. Miss Emily Adams, Mathematics, Latin and German. Miss Laura A. Dutton, Preparatory Department and Natural Science. Miss Julia A. Crandall, English Grammar, Rhetoric, History and Mathematics. Miss Mary A. Harman, Vocal and Instrumental Music. Hattie Edgell, Miss Julia H. Thayer, Instrumental Music. Miss Ellen M. Green, Drawing and Painting.

The Young Ladies' Athenæum.

The Athenæum, which is now the most popular and flourishing educational institution in Jacksonville, was founded in 1864. It was begun as an experiment to test a new method.

It grew out of a conviction of the grave defects inseparable from the common system, and the belief that there is a better way. What was at the first an experiment, has long since become a demonstration.

The number of pupils for the year 1864-5	67
The number of pupils for the year 1865-6	105
The number of pupils for the year 1866-7	135
The number of pupils for the year 1867-8	160

And it has begun the present year, 1868-9, with more pupils than it has had at the beginning of any previous year.

When it is considered that it began its career under the shadow of two old and well established institutions (the Methodist Female College and the Female Academy) and in temporary rooms with no external material attractions, these results can be explained only upon the theory of the great and recognized superiority of its New System. A system at once philosophical and practical, insuring thoroughness and elegance of culture, with none of the fearful risks inseparable from the common method, was recognized as a real and great practical discovery. Some of its peculiarities are the following, viz:

1. It Prescribes no Arbitrary and Inflexible Course of Study. It does not force the pupil to attempt the mastery of studies which she may have neither the talent, nor the time, nor the strength to master. It permits each to take that special course which is, all things considered, the best for her.

2. It Protests against the Neglect of the Elementary Branches. No knowledge of French, music or philosophy, can compensate for inability to read, write and spell.

3. It Recommends two Courses, viz: The Classical and the Higher English. The latter embraces all the studies of Yale or Harvard Colleges, except Latin and Greek; the former embraces all these and a good knowledge of Latin.

4. It Accepts Equivalents. French, for example, or German, may be accepted as equivalent in value to some omitted study of either of the regular courses.

5. It Classifies Upon a New System. It organizes no technical classes. For recitation purposes it puts together in each study those who are together, and who in that study can keep together. It thus puts each upon her own merits. The slow are not compelled to be superficial in order to "go on" with the quick, and the quick are not held back by the necessities of the slow. The time required to complete any chosen course of study will thus depend entirely upon the pupil herself. The aim is an actual education, and not a sham; an absolute mastery of every topic, and not a mere "going over it within a given time."

6. It Gives Great Prominence to Examinations. A rigid examination by written questions and answers is made the test of the pupil's mastery of each subject. The number of examinations which a pupil sustains in a year is the measure of her year's progress.

7. Scholastic Standing is Determined by What the Pupil has actually done. Each pupil stands upon her own merits, and is credited with what she actually accomplishes, this and no more.

This method gives to the slow or feeble as well as to the quick and brilliant, a fair chance. Each pupil may determine her own rate of progress. There is thus no clog upon the swift, and no unhealthful forcing of the slow.

8. Its Diplomas are Specific, not Technical. The Diploma will show exactly what she who receives it has done, no less and no more.

9. It Prefers Home Life to Boarding School Life. It locates its pupils from abroad in carefully selected families. Family influence is far more healthful to body and to mind than any system which separates the student from contact with family and social life. The family is the nursery and sanctuary of all womanly excellence.

10. It is not Sectarian. It was established and is sustained in the interest of no particular church or denomination. The best people of every name, united in its foundation and co-operate in its support.

11. Its Arrangements for Instruction are Unusual. In the number and character of its teachers it has few equals in the United States. It employs experts in every department. Its Faculty for the current year, 1868-9, is as follows:

WM. D. SANDERS, D. D.,
SUPERINTENDENT,

Prof. of Rhetoric, Elocution and English Literature.

N. N. WOOD, D. D.,

Prof. of Intellectual Philosophy and Logic.

REV. ENOS CAMPBELL, A. M.,

Prof. of Ec. of Christianity and Lecturer on Nat. Phil. and Chem.

PROF. WM. BENZIGER,

Prof. of Modern Languages, Drawing and Painting.

MISS HELEN LATHROP, PRINCIPAL.

MISS C. M. DUTY,
ASST. PRINCIPAL.

MISS JULIA REED,
Latin.

MISS A. MAY DUMMER, Mathematics.

MISS ADELAIDE MORRISON,
General Assistant.

MISS ALICE RHOADS,
Botany.

MISS WILHELMINA E. BENZIGER,
Vocal Music, Piano, Guitar, Organ.

MISS EMMA WATKINS,
Piano.

MISS JENNIE MAE TARBELL,
Vocal Music, Piano, Guitar, Organ.

MRS. AGNES J. GRILFITH,
Spencerian Writing, Principal of Primary Department.

12. It furnishes a Daily Lesson in Spencerian Writing.

13. Its Teacher of Drawing and Painting is a gentleman of many years experience in Europe and America, who sketches readily from nature and in Landscape painting has few superiors.

14. French is Taught by a Parisian educated foreign gentleman, and German, Italian and Spanish by teachers who speak these languages fluently.

15. It Devotes Extraordinary Attention to Music, Both Vocal and Instrumental. It is the intention that the Musical Department shall offer all the advantages of a first class Conservatory. Miss Benziger, who is at the head of this department, was educated in music in the Conservatories of France and Italy, (in Paris and Milan) and brings to her position the highest standard of taste and the method of the greatest living masters.

After two years' trial as a private enterprise in the winter of 1866-7, it received from the Legislature a very liberal charter, and was duly organized with a board of twenty-one trustees. These trustees are among the most intelligent and influential citizens of the city and surrounding country. And as required by the charter, not more than three are from any one religious congregation. Increased accommodations were also provided.

With neither extensive ornamental grounds, nor imposing buildings, its internal arrangements are now convenient and commodious. Few of the costly structures which present a more attractive exterior have either so much or so pleasant room devoted to other than dormitory purposes.

Full information concerning the Institution can be obtained by addressing the Superintendent,

Prof. WM. D. SANDERS, D. D.,

STATE BENEVOLENT INSTITUTIONS.

Illinois Institution for the Education of the Deaf and Dumb.

This is the oldest of the noble charities which grace our State government, incorporated by an act of the General Assembly approved February 23, 1839. The bill providing for its establishment was prepared and presented by Hon. O. H. Browning, of Adams county, who had been in correspondence with prominent philanthropists professionally engaged in the instruction of the Deaf and Dumb. At that time Morgan county was represented in the Senate and House of Representatives by one of the largest delegations in the Legislature. The influence of these numbers was sufficient to secure the location of the Institution at Jacksonville—a place which combined a larger number of desirable facilities for the successful management of such an enterprise than any other in the State.

The school was opened in 1846, under the superintendence of Mr. Thomas Officer, A. M., who for nine years succeeding served in the capacity of Principal. In the selection of Mr. Officer for this responsible position the Board of Directors were exceedingly happy and the Institution peculiarly fortunate. It would be difficult to conceive of one more admirably suited by temperament, energy and talent, both natural and acquired, with the highest Christian principle, to inaugurate and conduct an enterprise of benevolence than this gentleman in whom these qualities were most happily combined. To the snavity of the Christian gentleman securing for him at once public confidence and esteem, he added experience in the instruction of deaf mutes—a profession in itself separate and distinct from all others—requiring a peculiar cast of mind, and no small amount of experience to secure efficiency.

The Institution is healthfully located near the city and has large, beautiful and commodious buildings, warmed with steam and lighted with gas. It is the largest establishment of the kind supported and patronized by one State alone in the Union—there being but one other having so large a number of pupils, which, however, jointly patronized by several states. It is the earnest endeavor of the officers of this Institution to make it one of the leading Institutions for deaf-mutes in the world, and to discover and develop processes of education of the deaf and dumb superior to those heretofore practiced. To this end the directors have authorized the promotion of a department of Articulation for the advantage of such of the pupils as may be susceptible of instruction in Articulate speech and lip-reading.

It has received since its opening about 840 pupils, of whom about 280 remain on its rolls. The average attendance the last year was 232. The amount of light and knowledge which have here been disseminated among the children of silence—who, by their peculiar misfortune, are excluded from the usual avenues of instruction—the great day alone may reveal. Of one fact however, with honest pride we are assured that the usefulness of this Institution and its relative standing among those of a similar character and purpose of our country are fully commensurate with the honorable position of Illinois among the states of the American Union.

It has of late years received from the Legislature a support which, by the exercise of judicious economy, has been adequate to its requirements. No citizen of Illinois who has there visited the Institution and witnessed the order and system prevailing, together with the proficiency, happy and grateful countenances of its pupils, has yet been known to complain of the small taxation necessary for the support of this noble charity. Deaf Mutes, residents of Illinois, between the ages of eight and twenty-one years, are here educated, being furnished with tuition, board, &c., free of charge.

The Institution for thirteen years past has been under the superintendence of Mr. Philip G. Gillett, A. M., to whom communications respecting admission of pupils and business pertaining to the Institution should be addressed.

State Hospital for the Insane.

The Insane Hospital was founded in 1847, largely through the self denying and philanthropic efforts of Miss D. L. Dix, by whom the sufferings and necessities of the insane were presented to our legislators and our people in a spirit of true christian charity to the unfortunate.

TRUSTEES.

E. G. Miner, President. J. F. Eccles, F. A. Hoffman, Fernando Jones, I. N. Morrison, E. P. Kirby, Treasurer and Secretary.

SUPERINTENDENT.

Andrew McFarland, M. D. H. Artemas Gilman, Assistant Physician. Miss Mary Johnston, Matron. Charles A. Barker, Clerk. D. H. Hall, Supervisor. Mrs. Nancy McCartney, Supervisoreess. Rev. J. G. Roberts, Chaplain.

Illinois Institution for the Education of the Blind.

This Institution was established by act of the Legislature, and approved by the Governor in February, 1849.

Its design is to educate the Blind in literature and music, and to teach them trades by which they may contribute to their own support, and derive the satisfaction arising from employment.

Since 1850, Dr. Joshua Rhoads, assisted by teachers in the various departments, has conducted the Institution.

The Board of Trustees consists of five members, viz: Matthew Stacy, President. E. B. Hawley, W. A. Grimshaw, Hiram Buck, Michael Shaeffer.

Illinois Institution for Feeble-minded Children.

This Institution, authorized by an act of the General Assembly of 1865, is now organized and receiving pupils. It has been in successful operation nearly four years. The design and object of the Institution are not of a custodial character, but to furnish the means of education to that portion of the youth of the State not provided for in any of its other educational institutions, who are of a proper school-attending age, and who shall remain such periods of time as shall, in the estimation of the Superintendent and Board of Directors, suffice to impart all the education practicable in each particular case, and in conformity with regulations hereinafter specified.

Children between the ages of seven and fourteen, who are idiotic, or so deficient in intelligence as to be incapable of being educated at any ordinary school, and who are not epileptic, insane or greatly deformed, may be admitted by the Superintendent, with the advice and counsel of the Executive Committee.

The parents or guardians of those in whose behalf applications are made for admission as pupils, will be required to answer, in writing, such questions as the Superintendent may prescribe. They shall, moreover, if of sufficient ability, engage to pay such reasonable sums for the education and support of the pupils as shall be stipulated by the Superintendent, and they shall in all cases be bound to receive them back, when required, free of expense to the Institution. A bond will be required, in all cases, to insure the removal of the pupil, when required by the Superintendent, free of expense to the Institution.

All pupils will be received upon trial, and will be expected to come to the Institution provided with a supply of neat and substantial clothing.

The education furnished by the Institution will include not only the simpler elements of instruction usually taught in common schools, where that is practicable, but will embrace a course of training in the more practical matters of every day life, the cultivation of habits of decency, propriety, self-management and self-reliance, and the development and enlargement of a capacity for useful occupation.

There will be a vacation during the months of July and August, at which period all pupils must be removed from the Institution by their parents or guardians, if required by the Superintendent.

The combination which this Institution presents, of practical medical experience and proper physical training with efficient educational resources, will supply, it is hoped, a want which has long been felt by the parents of the children of this unfortunate class in the State.

Over two hundred applications have been received for the admission of pupils. The mansion, residence and grounds of the late Governor Duncan have been leased for a term of years and are in use for the purposes of the Institution. A large building seventy feet long, and three stories high, has been added—connected to the old building by an enclosed way—which supplies the institution with large, airy and comfortable school rooms, play rooms and dormitories, all thoroughly heated and well ventilated. The location is healthy and accessible as well as retired. The surroundings are all pleasant and well suited to the necessities of the Institution.

Persons knowing the residence of feeble-minded children in Illinois will confer a favor by writing to that effect to the undersigned. Application for admission, information, etc., should be directed to
