EXPERT TO TELL HOW TO ELIMINATE WEEVIL

Methods by which the boll weevil can be combatted will be explained during the course of a lecture to be given in the hall of the house of representatives at the state capital next Monday morning by Dr. S. T. Cauid and his assistant, T. P. Cauidy, who have been in charge of the federal experimental station in Louisiana. Directing a first account the world. Much interest has been manifested in the meeting and a large attendance of cotton growers is expected. These two experts are employed by the United States bureau of entomology.

Dr. Cauid is widely known as an advocate of the use of calcium arsenate as a means of destroying the weevil. He will give the results of his experiments along that line and show how the poison can be used to the best advantage.

MR. AWTREY HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENT MONDAY MORNING

Bakery Truck Crashes in Car Driven by County Agent E. O. McMahan

An automobile accident that came near being very serious happened Monday morning on Atlanta street when the Benson Bakery car, driven by Paul Grocer, ran into a Ford automobile driven by E. O. McMahan, county agent, and carrying Mr. Bernard Awtrey, county school superintendent, as they were attempting to turn by heading into an alley on the east side of Atlanta street.

A large car was in front of Mr. McMahan just before he turned to the east side of the street, and he did not see the Bakery automobile which was coming north at a good speed, until he had started to turn into the alley, but as it seemed he had a safe margin he headed on into the alley and the driver of the bakery truck evidently did not see Mr. McMahan's car and crashed into the side of the car and threw Mr. Awtrey to the street, his face and right shoulder being painfully skinned and bruised.

The bakery car, driven by Mr. Grocer, was heavily loaded, but only slightly damaged, the fender and radiator being slightly bent.

THE 500-GALLON STILL, WITH DAILY CAPACITY OF 750 GALLONS SUCCESSFULLY DISMANTLED IN CEDAR GROVE county of Cherokee. It was a remarkably substantial and dependable tool to be used in distilling. The ingenuity of its construction and the number of labor-saving devices with which the plant was equipped, displayed remarkable efficiency on the part of the builder. John Henry Harden, arrested this week in Atlanta on the charge of attempting to bribe Government officials, is said to have been interested in this and other stills of the nature in Cherokee.

BUSY WEEK FAILS TO CLEAR COURT DOCKET OF CASES

Supplement to List of Last Week. Court Will Probably Adjourn Friday.

Another busy week has failed to dispose of all the cases on the docket of Cobb County Superior Court. Below is a supplement to the list printed by the Times last week. A number of other cases will be tried before court adjourns this week, but it is probable that the docket will not be cleared.
