SATER'S MEETING HOUSE.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH ERECTED IN MARYLAND A.D. 1742.

The Sater Genealogy.

ONE GENERATION PASSETH AWAY AND ANOTHER GENERATION COMETH; BUT THE EARTH ABIDETH FOREVER.

—ECCLESIASTES I.

HENRY SATER, born in 1690 in one of the western shires of England, of Danish extraction, came to this country in 1709, and first settled in Virginia. He subsequently became a colonist of the Province of Maryland, and established a plantation at Chestnut Ridge, ten miles north of the City of Baltimore, from grants of land which he received from Lord Baltimore.

He married (first) a Miss Stephenson about 1730—no issue.

He married (second) 1740, Dorcas, daughter of William and Catherine (Allen) Towson, of Towson-town, Maryland.

Henry Sater died May, 1754, at his plantation, in the 65th year of his age, and the 46th year of his settlement.

The earliest progenitor of this family of which we have authentic information is William Towson, who was an original settler from London, England, and after whom, Towsontown, Baltimore County, Md., was called.

FIRST GENERATION IN AMERICA.

1. WILLIAM TOWSON ALLEN.
2. ISAAC TOWSON OVERY.

Children of Henry and Dorcas (Towson) Sater.

- I. GEORGE; born 20th October, 1740; married Rachel Hamilton, and lived in Baltimore County, Md., until his decease April, 1768, aged 28. He left a son and daughter.
- II. PRUDENCE; born 25th November, 1743; married 21st September, 1762, Benjamin Howard of Baltimore Co., Md., and then moved to Wilkesboro, in what is now Wilkes County, North Carolina. She had four sons and eight daughters, and died 22d September, 1822.

One of her descendants, Mrs. N. M. Turnley writes: "My mother told me when I was a little girl something about my grandmother Howard, which was so interesting to me that I have never forgotten it, although I am now 75 years old. It was this:

In those days there were no factories in America, and the men did most of the weaving of cloth on hand looms. A man by the name of Sater had Howard weaving for him, (I imagine he was running a large business of that kind). Howard and Sater's daughter concluded to get married. Sater opposed it; but they did get married. She jumped out of the dining-room window and ran away with him. All turned out well, and they were all satisfied afterwards. Howard and wife moved to North Carolina, and when their daughter Polly grew up, grandmother Howard took Polly and went with her back to Baltimore, five hundred miles on horseback, all alone, to see her kinsfolk.

This I have no doubt came from the mouth of the old lady to my mother in North Carolina, where she knew her very well. She also told me of some other interesting and amusing occurrences that happened during their travels. I think she must have been a remarkable woman, of great energy."

[As Prudence was only eleven years of age when her father died, the Sater referred to above could not have been Henry Sater; but was probably her brother George, who afterward joined them in Wilkesboro.]

Concerning the ancestry of Prudence's husband, Mr. Geo. R. Howard of Palestine, Texas, (a descendant) writes: "I learned from my mother that the Howards were English and emigrated from England, and settled in Maryland."

Benjamin Howard was born 17th February, 1742, and deceased 4th June, 1828.

III. HENRY; born 27th April, 1745; married Hannah, daughter of John Stansbury of Baltimore Co., Md., and lived and died in his native county.

IV. DISCRETION; born 3d April, 1749; married 3d March, 1766, Thomas Walker of Baltimore City, and had eight sons and three daughters. She died 7th Dec., 1823.

Thomas Walker, her husband, was born September, 1742, in the then town of Baltimore, near Jones Falls, west of a stone mill and near the present intersection of Calvert and Bath streets. According to the family register :

"At the age of twenty years he married Discretion Sater. Shortly after he took to the pursuit of a farmer and settled upon a piece of land near by. From this first settlement he removed to a farm, four miles south of Westminster in Carroll County, where he remained until April, 1796, when he removed to the City of Baltimore and continued there until his death in 1818 (Oct. 18), aged seventy-six years, and was buried at the Baptist Meeting House upon the plantation of Henry Sater, where he was married." His wife is buried by his side. Their graves are marked by two marble monuments near the front entrance to the church.

There is a family tradition (perhaps legendary) about the elopement of Discretion, in which it is related that she ran away from home, and jumped upon Thomas Walker's horse, where seated behind him, they rode to a minister's and were married.

Thomas Walker is described as "of middle stature though well proportioned. His costume was always plain, with the old custom knee breeches and shoe buckles, with the clear soul showing through his blue eyes—a white brow and bald head bare the impress of thought."

The will of Thomas Walker, executed 12th of September, 1816, and probated 24th of October, 1818, is filed in Baltimore, Md.

He bequeathes all his personal property to his wife, Discretion, and also all his real and landed property during her natural life. She is made sole executrix. Among his different parcels of real estate, was his plantation and tract of land in the Forks of Patapsco Falls, called "Society Hills," another tract called "Zebulon's Fancy," and another tract called "Walker's Paradise," all adjoining and being in Baltimore County.

The earliest account of the Walker family in Virginia is contained in the "Genealogy of the Page Family in Virginia," by Dr. R. C. M. Page, in which he says: "The Walkers of Virginia, came from Staffordshire, England, about 1650, at an early period in the history of the Colony of Virginia. The Walker Family Bible is in the possession of Dr. Bernard H. Walker of Stevensville, Kings and Queens Co., Va., and was printed in 1589.

"Thomas Walker, of Gloucester County, Va., progenitor of the Walker family in Virginia, was a member of the Colonial Assembly in 1662."

This progenitor had a grandson, Thomas Walker, of Kings and Queens Co., Va., who had a son Thomas Walker, of Albemarle Co., Va., of whom Dr. Page's remarks: "He was probably the first white man that ever entered Kentucky, having gone there in 1750, or thirteen years before Daniel Boone."

The history of the Walker family in Pennsylvania, and their first appearance in America, is as viz.: "There were five brothers came from Wales in a British trading ship in the year 1699, and landed at

New Castle. Two of the brothers died soon after they landed. Lewis Walker, one of these brothers, purchased a large tract of land from William Penn, at Valley Forge, where it is said William Penn visited him the following year. He erected a commodious stone edifice thereon, at which a meeting of the Society of Friends was established in the year 1713. The same house was occupied by General Washington as his headquarters during the Revolutionary War."—Biographical History of Lancaster County.

Isaac Walker, a descendant of this original settler writes: "About the year 1700, (as I have been informed), three brothers by the name of Walker, said to be the sons of Isaac Walker, emigrated to Pennsylvania from the Principality of Wales, one of them, Lewis Walker, settled at the Valley Forge, near the line between Montgomery and Chester Counties.

"He was my grandfather's grandfather, and I have been told that he had a brother Thomas, which name was a common name among the descendants of Lewis Walker. Isaac was also a very common name in the family. My own father's name and also that of my great grandfather was Isaac. Although I am not certain, yet I have reason to believe that either Thomas, the brother of Lewis Walker, or one of nine of his sons, settled in the southern part of our County, contiguous to the Maryland line, as there is a large family connection of the Walkers in that locality, and there appears to be a strong family resemblance between their families and ours, and the names Isaac and Thomas are common names amongst them also.

"My grandfather was the grandson of Lewis Walker, and was born in the year 1746, and in all probability your grandfather was the grandson of Thomas Walker, his brother. There was also a branch of the Walker family settled in the Shenandoah Valley near Winchester, Virginia, who were distantly related to my grandfather, and quite likely to yours, also the name Isaac Walker was a common name in that family.

"Isaac Walker of Winchester, has visited here at our place within my own recollection, (about the year 1820), and I heard my father say that he was distantly related." Gap., Pa., April 3d, 1876.

There is another account by Mary Roberts, of Schuylkill, Chester Co., Pa., viz.; "A record of our great grandparents, Lewis and Mary Walker, of Great Valley, Tredyfflin Township, Chester Co., Pa., their families down to the sixth generation that have lived in the same place, and the same name of the Walker family."

"Lewis Walker, of Great Valley, by the Spring Rehobeth, now the residence of William Walker, left Meriouth in Wales, in the year 1686, and arrived in Pennsylvania in the year 1687, after a tedious passage of 13 months. Mary Morris sailed in the same ship, whom he afterwards married. He purchased a tract of land belonging to David Evans of Radnor, Delaware Co., on which he resided some time; he then bought a valuable tract of land in the great Valley, etc."

The genealogy of the Walker family, according to the memory of Isaac Walker, of Buckley Co., Va., January 20, 1846, recites: "My grandfather, Abel Walker, moved from Chester Co., Pa., during or near the time of the Revolutionary War, and settled at the Falling Waters, near the Potomac River, in Buckley County, Va., eight miles from Martinsburg."

V. JOHN; born 1st April, 1751, removed to Wilkesboro, Wilkes County, North Carolina, with his sister Prudence Howard, married and settled there, and had a family of several sons and one daughter. Wilkesboro is near Holman's Ford, on the Yadkin River, where the celebrated Daniel Boone then lived, his father having removed from Buck's Co., Pa., in 1752, when his son was 18 years old.

VI. JOSEPH; born 25th December, 1753; married 7th October, 1784, Hannah, daughter of William and Martha Levering, of Roxborough, Pa., and had four sons and three daughters.

They moved to the West in 1811 with six children, and settled in Crosby Township, Hamilton County, Ohio.

According to the History of Hamilton County, "they landed at Cincinnati and pushed their way across the country to the fertile Congress lands beyond the Great Miami, where he first settled among friends near Harrison, and then in 1812, he farmed a place at Round Bottom in the fertile Miami Valley. In 1813, he bought a tract of about three hundred acres from Capt. Jacob White, occupied by his son, Prudence White, at ten dollars per acre, having declined to purchase in the Mill Creek Valley, where Cumminsville now stands, on the ground that it was too high. The original Sater tract is now in part the property of John and Jacob Schwing, adjoining the farm of Thos. E. Sater, and in part is owned by the Shaker Society. Here Joseph Sater made his pioneer improvements, and remained until his death.

Joseph died there 27th October, 1833, His widow who was born 16th January, 1764, died 9th April, 1854, in the 91st year of her age.

Most of these records are from the family Bible of Joseph, and are furnished by his grandson, Mr. Thomas Enoch Sater of Preston, Ohio, who writes:

"The above are the first generations of Saters born in Baltimore County, and State of Maryland. * * * Grandmother Sater lived with me for several years before her death, and died at my house, and she gave me the old Bible which I prize very highly."

FOURTH GENERATION.

I. Children of George and Rachel (Hamilton) Sater.

Charles, the son, lived south of Westminster, Md., and afterwards moved West.

There was a daughter, from whom sprang a branch of the Merryman family.

[These records are very incomplete—no history of the descendants of George Sater could be obtained.]

The above is a transcript of the family records as kept by Benjamin Isbell, son of Thomas and Discretion Isbell, in their old family Bible, and is furnished by his son, Mr. D. R. Isbell of Mouse Creek, McMinn County, Tenn.

Benjamin Isbell wrote over twenty years ago as viz:

“The Isbells, my father’s connections, immigrated from England, as I have been informed, and settled in Virginia. My father's given name was Thomas. He married my mother, Discretion Howard in Wilkes County, North Carolina. My wife and I have raised eleven children and those now living are doing well. I have written the foregoing for the satisfaction of my children and grandchildren. I was eighty-four years of age on the 19th of October last, and I have this, the 17th day of February, 1870, written out the foregoing and signed it.

Isaac Walker's native city was Baltimore. His ancestors on both sides came to this country about 1700. In early life he engaged in mercantile pursuits and was associated in business with his brother Joshua. His residence in Baltimore, says Mrs. Ridgely, his niece, is the present site of Hamilton Easter's dry goods store, Baltimore street near Light street.

During the war of 1812, he served in the 39th Regiment of Maryland militia, commanded by Col. Benjamin Fowler, and was engaged in the battle of North Point. Mr. Walker belonged to the Society of "Old Defenders of Baltimore."

In the spring of 1831 he removed with his family to New York City. Some time before this he freed all his slaves.

In Colton's Gazetteer of the U. S. of 1858, Mr. Walker's name is mentioned as the fourth largest taxpayer in Missouri.

During the last war he was a pronounced Union man, and gave one of his hotels in St. Louis, Mo., for government use without receiving any compensation.

In personal appearance he was very striking, over six feet in height, with an erect form, and ruddy complexion when beyond eighty years of age.

Gulielma Foster, his wife, was descended (through her mother), from Wm. Jones, of Deer Creek Hundred, an original settler from Bristol, England, who was granted a patent of land from Lord Baltimore 10th of May, 1729.

Her grandfathers, Robert Kennedy and Samuel Foster, were in the War of the Revolution, and her father, Moses Foster, served in the 7th Regiment Maryland Troop during the Revolution, and was awarded a tract of land westward of Fort Cumberland, Washington County, pursuant to an act of the General Assembly passed November Session 1788.

9. SATER THOMAS; born Sept., 1788; married 10th March, 1807, (by Rev. Archibald Maclay) Catherine Ann, daughter of Thomas Kelly, and died 24th July, 1849. They had five sons and nine daughters.

Sater Thomas Walker, like his brother, was in the War of 1812, and belonged to the Maryland Chasseurs. He was baptized 5th May, 1816, and ordained a Baptist Minister in 1826.

In 1842 he was made one of the corporators of the church (founded by his grandfather Sater) by an act of the Legislature creating trustees. His wife was born 19th October, 1788, and died 9th October, 1846.

10. CHARLES; born 11th August, 1791; married 31st March, 1833, Mrs. Cox of Washington County, Mississippi, (where he resided many years). He died 30th March, 1846.

Joshua Walker was a prominent merchant of Baltimore and possessed a great deal of property. He formerly owned the Carleton House, corner of Leonard street and Broadway, N. Y. City, where he resided. He also had a large plantation and country seat on the James River, near Richmond, Virginia.

The family register of Thomas Walker is in the possession of his grandson, Mr. Isaac H. Walker, of this city, and was received from the late Patrick Henry Walker, son of Noah Walker of Baltimore, many years ago.

Mr. Sater Thomas Walker of Baltimore, son of the Rev. Sater Thomas Walker, has also preserved the "Walker" family records.

V. Children of John Sater.

There were several sons and one daughter, Patsey, who married her cousin Henry, eldest son of Henry and Hannah Sater.

No record of this family in North Carolina, after their removal.

Wm. Sater, according to the "History of Hamilton County, Ohio," occupied a portion of the old homestead in Crosby township, Hamilton County, Ohio, and after his father's death, built the brick mansion in which his son (Thomas Enoch) resides, and died there 30th January, 1849.

The front of his store was adorned with the celebrated marble statue of Washington, since presented to the city and now in Druid Hill Park, Baltimore.

2. JULIA ANN; born 13th October, 1814; married 7th July, 1834, by the Rev. Archibald Maclay of New York City, to his son Archibald Maclay, Jr., M. D., of New York; she died 29th October, 1885. She had five sons.

Dr. Archibald Maclay, Jr., was born in New York City, 20th of March, 1812, and resided in his native city, practicing medicine, until his death the 1st of November, 1892, where he was widely known.

Rev. Archibald Maclay, his father, was born at Killearn, Scotland, 14th May, 1776, the son of Archibald and Jean Thomas Maclay. The paternal homestead, known as Green End, on the banks of Loch Lomond, was occupied by his ancestors for a great many generations, as they belonged to a very ancient highland clan. He well remembered the character "Old Mortality," made famous by Sir Walter Scott, and said: "When a boy, I have often seen Old Mortality, who always made his home at my mother's house when he visited our part of the country, and the deeply thrilling incidents which he told me of the martyrs and the sufferings they endured for Christ's sake, left a permanent impression on my mind."

It is related of Dr. Maclay's paternal grandmother, who was a woman of strong character, that by her address and knowledge of Gaelic, she saved her native village from pillage and destruction.

Graduating from the University of Edinburgh, he married Mary, daughter of Wm. Brown of Glasgow, and sailed for America 28th October, 1805.

From 1809 to 1837 he occupied the pulpit of the Mulberry Street Baptist Church, New York City, and continued to preach up to a short time of his death, which took place 2d May, 1860.

Among the records of a meeting held in Baltimore, 27th October, 1836, for the organization of the "Maryland Baptist Union Association," including the Sater Church, is the following: Rev. Archibald Maclay of New York, present by request.

Of this family, Eliza Ann, resided two and a half miles north of Mt. Pleasant, Township of Springfield. Sarah lived in Morgan township, Butler County, and William lived near her. Joseph, who resided on his farm, Crosby township, near his brother, Thomas E., was elected township treasurer in 1860, and served eleven years. Has served as school trustee for over twenty-five years, and held various positions as township trustee and assessor, county commissioner, etc., and is noted for his integrity and high character. Murat Halstead said of him: "I would with sincerity join in the recognition proposed of the faithful and valuable public service of Mr. Joseph Sater, whose name is identified in this community with vigilance and integrity in the discharge of the duties of a position of responsibility," and the late Judge Longworth said: "It was better to have written on Mr. Sater's record, as it was now written, than on the tomb, the tribute to his honesty and capability."

Oliver Sater occupied the original cabin built by his grandfather at the old home until about 1858, when he built a larger house on the same site.

John J. Sater, the eldest son, lived nearly all his life in Crosby township, of which he was trustee. In the late War he was a member of company C. 69th Ohio Infantry, and was honorably discharged. He and his wife were members of the Baptist Church.

Thos. Enoch Sater, the youngest son, was but sixteen years old at the time of his father's death. He remained at home, assisting on the farm, and when the property was divided, the homestead and seventy-five acres fell to his share, which he has increased but always occupied. Mr. Sater was elected to Ohio Legislature in 1874, and has held various offices of public trust and responsibility.

Historical Sketch

OF THE CHESTNUT RIDGE BAPTIST CHURCH, NOW KNOWN AS SATER'S CHURCH.

From "The Baptist," Baltimore, September 26, 1894.

The above named church was organized in the year of our Lord seventeen hundred and forty-two (1742), and Henry Sater is represented as its founder, as no doubt he was. He was what was called at that day a "General Baptist" in contradistinction from "Separate Baptists." He was a layman, and the historian tells us that "he bore an excellent character." He came from England in 1709. Soon after his settlement in this colony he invited Baptist ministers to preach in his house, by which means a few from time to time were proselyted to his sentiments, and after many years the church was formed, it being the first Baptist Church organized in the State of Maryland. Among the ministers who officiated with this infant church as pastors or supplies in early times were George Eglisfield, from Pennsylvania, George Palmer, Henry Loveall and probably others. Those wonderful pioneers of the Gospel, Shubael Stearns, of Massachusetts, who was converted under the preaching of Whitfield, David Thomas, of Pennsylvania, who married a Mrs. Shreeve, of Maryland, and afterwards settled with the Ketockton Baptist Church in Loudoun County, Va., and John Gano, often preached the gospel to these faithful disciples, as they journeyed from State to State, for it was no uncommon thing in that day for Baptist preachers to travel on horseback from one hundred to three and four hundred miles, preaching as they went, as opportunity offered, in private dwellings and barns, but much more frequently in shady groves, having "mother earth," with a rustic board nailed to the side of a tree for a pulpit and the vaulted heavens above for a cathedral; and how wonderfully did God bless the labors of these faithful men! But Mr. Sater may be justly considered not only as the founder of the first church, but of the Baptist interest in Maryland. His liberal assistance in building the house of worship and his gifts of land to the church on which the house stands, and to the minister as well, are mentioned as peculiar marks of his liberality.

The church immediately after its organization increased very fast and began to spread over the country, and soon extended over to Opeckon and Ketockton in Virginia; in-somuch that in four years the number of communicants amounted to 181.

The Opeckton church in Berkley County, Va., and Ketockton church in Loudoun County, were formed to a great extent out of members moving from Sater's church in Maryland to Virginia, and out of which grew the "old Ketockton Association," one of the oldest and most influential bodies of Baptists in the State for nearly a century.

The covenant entered into by this people, that is to say, by the "Chestnut Ridge Baptist Church," now Sater's, and which was presented to the Governor and Court of this then Catholic Province, when the society was taken under the protection of the "Toleration Laws," was expressed in the following terms:

"We, the humble professors of the Gospel of Christ, baptized upon a declaration of faith and repentance, believing the doctrine of general redemption (or the free grace of God extended to all mankind), do hereby seriously, heartily and solemnly, in the presence of the Searcher of all hearts and before the world, covenant, agree, bind and settle ourselves into a church, to hold, abide by and contend for the faith once delivered to the saints, owned by the best reformed churches in England, Scotland and elsewhere, especially as published and maintained in the forms and confessions of the Baptists in England and Scotland, except in infant baptism, modes of church government, the doctrine of absolute reprobation and ceremonies. We do also bind ourselves hereby to depend and live up to the Protestant religion, &c." We do also engage with our lives and fortunes to defend the crown and dignity of our gracious Sovereign, King George, to him and his issue forever, and to obey all his laws, humbly submitting ourselves to all in authority under him, and giving custom to whom custom, honor to whom honor, tribute to whom tribute is due. We do further declare that we are not against taking oaths, nor using arms in defense of our king and country, when legally called thereto, and that we do approve and will obey the laws of this Province. And further we do bind ourselves to follow the patterns of our brethren in England, to maintain order, government and discipline in our church, especially that excellent directory of the Rev. Francis Stanley entitled "The Gospel Honor and Church Ornament, dedicated to the Church in the counties of Lincoln, Nottingham and Cambridge." We also engage that all persons upon joining our society shall yield consent to and subscribe this our solemn league and covenant. Subscribed by us whose names are underwriten this 10th day of July, 1742.

Early Dedication of Sater's Meeting House.

A Place Where the Baptist People of Long Ago Gathered for Worship Amid the Forest Primeval.—Their Quaint Declaration of Faith.—The Deed, to the End of the World, Made by Henry Sater in the Year 1742.

From the "Baltimore-American," February 10, 1895.

Out in Baltimore county, on an elevation known as Chestnut Ridge, stands an ancient Baptist Church in the centre of a primeval grove of majestic oaks. On the second Sunday of every June faithful Baptists from this city and from various sections of the State journey to this little church to worship at the shrine where so many pious men and women of two or more generations ago worshiped, and to gaze upon the weather-stained tombstones that mutely tell of those beneath who had lived and died in the faith.

This church, so hallowed in its age and so holy in its simplicity, is known as Sater's Meeting-house. It was named after that pious Baptist, Henry Sater, who over a century and a half ago, built and deeded it to his brethren in the faith. Through the years that have gone since then the church has been carefully preserved, both from the hand of progress, which too often is akin to that of vandalism, and from decay. Therefore, it stands to-day as its founder built it, an object of veneration and admiration of all beholders.

The history of its founding is like unto the history of many other churches in this city which raised their scarred spires to Heaven in colonial days. Back in 1709 Mr. Henry Sater went out from this city into the primeval forests of Baltimore county and purchased a plantation. A portion of a ridge, or elevated ground, upon which grew giant chestnut trees, was in this purchase, and the earliest visitors to his home soon grew to know this elevation as "Chestnut Ridge." The plantation was in those days a long distance from Baltimore Town, but the growth of the latter into a great city, and the spread of its population, has brought Chestnut Ridge to within a short distance of its suburbs. Mr. Sater belonged to that body of religionists known as "General" Baptists, called so in those early days to distinguish them from "Particular" Baptists. He was a religious man, and delighted in home service. A Baptist minister was always the most welcome visitor to cross his threshold, and his hospitality was prodigal. When such a minister came his friends and neighbors were notified, and they gathered at Mr. Sater's home to join with him in worship. As time wore on the members that attended these services grew greater, and soon formed a little congregation. Mr. Sater then determined to build a suitable place of worship, wherein all could gather, and where regular services could be held. He looked over his great plantation and decided that there was no more beautiful spot upon it than was found on the crest of Chestnut Ridge. So he selected there, in the heart of a magnificent grove of oak trees, a site for his meeting-house. At the foot of this grove there ran a little stream of water, since named "Shoemaker's Run," whose clear depths reflected the sturdy trunks of the oak trees and whose cool, pure water quenched the thirsts of man and beast when they should come from afar to gather at the church. In the midst of these beautiful pastoral surroundings Mr. Sater built his "meeting-house," and on November 16th, 1742, he deeded the house, with one acre of land for a burying place, "to the congregation forever, to the end of the world." The trustees to whom he made the deed were Henry Loveall, Thomas West, William Towson and William Browne.

A CONFESSION OF FAITH.

The covenant under which the church was organized was very unique. It begins as follows :

“We, the humble professors of the Gospel of Christ, baptized on a declaration of faith and repentance, believing the doctrine of general redemption (or free grace of God to all mankind), do hereby, seriously, heartily and solemnly, in the presence of the Searcher of all hearts, and before the world, covenant, agree, bind and settle ourselves into a church, to hold, abide by and contend for the faith once delivered to the saints.

“We do further declare that we are not against taking oaths, nor using arms in defense of our king and country, when legally called thereto ; and that we do approve and will obey the laws of this Province.

“We also engage that all persons, on joining our society, shall yield consent to and subscribe to this, our solemn league and covenant.”

A LEGAL DOCUMENT.

The instrument of the formal transfer of the property to the trustees of Mr. Sater, or the indenture, is just as unique. The following was taken from the original, preserved among land documents at Towson :

Henry Sater to Henry Loveall and others. Conveyance.

This indenture, made this sixteenth day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand, seven hundred and forty-two, between Henry Sater, in the Province of Maryland, and county of Baltimore, planter, on the one part, and Henry Loveall, Thomas West, William Towson and William Browne, in the province and county aforesaid, witnesseth that the said Henry Sater, for and in consideration of two shillings sterling, to him in hand paid by the said Henry Loveall, Thomas West, William Towson and William Browne, aforesaid, the receipt whereof he, the said Henry Sater, doth hereby acknowledge, that he is therewith fully satisfied, contented and paid, and thereof and from all and every part and parcel thereof doth by these presents acquit and forever discharge the said Henry Loveall, Thomas West, William Towson and William Browne, and their heirs, executors and administrators, them, and every one of them, forever, hath given, granted, bargained, sold, sett over, delivered and forever confirmed, and by these presents do give, grant, bargain, sell, sett over, deliver and forever confirm unto the above said Henry Loveall, as pastor, and Thomas West, William Towson and William Browne, as deacons and elders, to the church congregation or people of God commonly called Generall Baptist, and to their successors, as such forever as chosen by the Church or Congregation, as above said, to the end of the world, an end of land situate and lying in or on his dwelling plantation, otherwise called Sater's addition, beginning at a red oak tree marked on four sides, running due north sixteen perches, then due west twelve perches, then due south sixteen perches, then east to the first-mentioned tree, be the same more or less, to have and to hold the said bargained land and premises for the building a meeting-house, burying place and all other buildings, erections and conveniences needful for the church and congregation above said, etc.

Geo. Buchanan, Chas. Ridgely.

Received a half-penny sterling for an alienation fine of the within land for the use of the Lord Baltimore, by order of Benj. Tasker, Esq., per Thomas Franklin.

ITS PEACEFUL HISTORY.

Thus the church was founded, and soon there gathered about a numerous congregation for so thinly-settled a district. The first minister to supply the church was George Eaglesfield, of Pennsylvania. He was followed by Paul Palmer. Then came Rev. Henry Loveall, the first regular pastor of the church. He baptized forty-seven persons, and his congregation there numbered fifty-seven members. Mr. Loveall remained with the congregation four years. Tradition says that Mr. Loveall baptized the first converts in Shoemaker's Run, selecting for that purpose one spot where the water was deeper than elsewhere. This spot was called the "hole," and in it the work of immersion was easy. In later years this custom was abandoned, and now the spot is remembered chiefly by anglers, who frequent the run to seduce from its clear waters the speckled trout which abound therein. But loving hearts have guarded the old "meeting-house," and it stands to-day a monument to its devout and generous builder. Services are regularly conducted therein, and descendants of those who lie buried in the old burial ground gather there on Sunday to kneel where their forefathers knelt, and offer their prayers to their Maker, even as their foreparents did a century and a half ago. The pulpit of the church is now supplied by Rev. William Nicholls.
