DAVID THOMPSON'S INDENTURE.

1622.

[Published from the original manuscript by permission of the Massachusetts Historical Society. This indenture between David Thompson and his partners Abraham Colmer, Nicholas Sherwill and Leonard Pomery, all gentlemen of Plymouth, England, is one of the most important documents relating to New Hampshire. It was written on parchment and was in duplicate; this being David Thompson's own copy had the seals and signatures of his three partners, while their copy which has not been preserved had his signature and seal. The seals three in number are little slips of parchment, considerably longer than broad, but broad enough to write one's Christian name on, these were inserted or interwoven through several incissions into the parchment instead of being stuck to the same with sealing wax, and in signing the document, the Christian name was written on the seal or slip and the surname after it on the parchment instead of before the seal as now. The seal or slip of Abraham Colmer has been taken out, consequently his Christian name does not appear in his signature. Later we shall publish the wills and other documents relating to Abraham Colmer, Nicholas Sherwill and Leonard Pomery, and it will be found that they were engaged in a thriving fishing and trading business, along the shores of New Hampshire and in the Piscataqua river, which at that time was the center of the salmon fishery. A certain cove in that river was for many years called Pomery's Cove.]

TO OUR FRIENDS AND PATRONS.

In entering upon the second year's publication of The New Hampshire Genealogical Record, the editor wishes to express his sincere thanks to his friends and patrons for the support they have given the publication during the past twelve months. We intend to make the magazine much more interesting the coming year than heretofore, and to improve it in every way possible. In this number we have given David Thompson's indenture with his partners Abraham Colmer, Nicholas Sherwill and Leonard Pomery, gentlemen of Plymouth, England. This will be followed in the near future (possibly beginning in October), by a series of articles on "The Early Settlement of New Hampshire." We are gathering data in England and elsewhere, concerning David Thompson and his party (consisting of eight men including himself, and four women), who in 1623 settled in New Hampshire at Little Harbor, then called Pannaway, now in the town of Rye. The story of his building a large house at Pannaway, protected with palisades and flankers, and fortified with four small cannon; of his building a second house at Thompson's Point, in Dover, to accommodate his salmon fishing industry, which point was specially included in his charter; the sad loss of three of his men and their burial at Thompson's Point; the accidental finding of their graves and the exhumation of their remains; the dismantling of the house at Pannaway and the removal of David Thompson, in the early part of 1625, to Massachusetts, where, with one of his men he built another house with palisades and fortified it with the four cannon before mentioned; his death, and the marriage of his widow to one of the men of his party; the three men he left to look after his interests in New Hampshire, and what became of them; the final abandonment of Pannaway and Thompson's Point and the commencement of the settlement at Hilton's Point, and the reasons therefor; the efforts of Edward Hilton to get a new charter for the members of the party remaining in New Hampshire, and his final success on March 12, 1629/30; and the growth and success of the later settlements in New Hampshire, together with a genealogical and biographical sketch of each of the early settlers will be given and proved by positive and circumstantial evidence and will appeal to all lovers of history and genealogy. We propose to cover the first fifty years of the history and genealogy of New Hampshire with a thoroughness never before attempted. The publication of an exact transcript of the genealogical records of New Hampshire will remain the special province of the magazine.

In order to increase the value of the magazine and enable us to prosecute the extensive investigations essential to a thorough and comprehensive discussion of the difficult work in hand, we appeal to our friends to aid us in extending our circulation. Will each subscriber continue his or her subscription and make a special effort to secure another subscriber; if they will all do so the desired end will be attained. The magazine has come to stay. Again thanking our friends and patrons for their financial aid and many kind words of commendation and encouragement we remain,

Cordially yours,

THE EDITOR.

INSCRIPTIONS ON GRAVESTONE OF HON. EZRA GREEN, DOVER, N. H.

E Z R A G R E E N.

Born in Malden, Mass., June 17, (O. S.) 1746, the 4th in descent from James Green, freeman of the Colony, and a settler in that town in 1647.

Graduated at Harvard College, 1765; Surgeon in the army of the Revolution, 1775 and 1776; and in the ship of War Ranger, Capt. John Paul Jones, 1777 and 1778.

Member of the Convention for the adoption of the Constitution of the U. S.

Deacon of the Cong. Church in Dover from 1790.

Humble and devout, sincere and upright, benevolent, faithful and consistent, his life was an illustration of the Christian Patriot.

With Intellect unclouded, and a Faith which had sustained him through long infirmity, he died July 25, 1847, at the age of 101 years; at the end of the 2nd century from the first settlement of the family in this country; and the oldest graduate of HARVARD COLLEGE.

On the day which completed his century, he said:— "I thank God, that I am able to contemplate Him as my Father in Heaven. Through Jesus Christ, the Mediator, I have hope in his mercy, and a perfect trust in his paternal goodness."

SUSANNA HAYES,
 wife of EZRA GREEN, Obt. Feb. 14, 1836,

Note.—A copy of above inscriptions was requested by a member of the Paul Jones Club, S. A. R. We take pleasure in printing the same. The pages of this magazine will be always open to members of all patriotic societies for such purposes. The grave of Hon. Ezra Green, commonly known as Dr. Ezra Green is in Pine Hill Cemetery, Dover, N. H. Should any person wish to visit the grave, it is about seventy-five feet south-southwesterly of the brick receiving tomb. A tall marble slab now marks the spot. There are many gravestone inscriptions of our Revolutionary heroes, that ought to be perpetuated in the same way. Marble especially, soon crumbles under the action of water and frost, and when the stone is once broken, it is seldom replaced.

IRISH RECORDS.

Many of our readers are interested in genealogical research in Ireland and do not know where to find or look for the old records. All Irish wills when twenty years of age are sent to the Public Record Office of Ireland, which is at the Four Courts, in Dublin. In the Public Record Office many of the wills are very old, some as early as 1600 or even before that date. To examine the wills for genealogical purposes a person should go before the Keeper of Records and make a statement that the search is to be made for purely literary purposes, otherwise he will have to pay the exorbitant fees the government charges for examining the records. The Registry of Deeds is on Henrietta St., Dublin, where a very good record of deeds has been kept for all Ireland, since 1708; unfortunately they are mostly not indexed in name of grantor and grantee as in America, but in name of the place where the land is situated.

BOOK NOTICE.

HISTORY AND GENEALOGY OF THE STACKPOLE FAMILY.
By Rev. Everett S. Stackpole, D. D. Press of Journal Company, Lewiston, Me., 8 vo., cloth, pp. 252, 27 illustrations.

This book, the labor of several years, contains about two hundred and fifty large octavo pages and twenty-seven full-page half-tone illustrations. Among them are the Stack Rock, the Coat of Arms, Stackpole Court, Sir Richard Stackpole, said to have been knighted by William the Conqueror, Sir Elidyr Stackpole, who accompanied Richard the Lion-Hearted on his Crusade, and portraits of several of the family in America.

The history of the family is traced back to the very origin of its name, soon after the Norman Conquest, in Pembroke-shire, Wales. A full description of Stackpole Court, present seat of the Earl of Cawdor, is given, the author having visited the place.

Nearly all the Stackpoles in America are lineally traced to James, the emigrant, who married Margaret Warren and was settled in Dover, N. H. (now Rollinsford) before 1680. A large family of Stackpoles in Pennsylvania is also given.

The ancestry of many who married Stackpoles appears in footnotes. Many other families connected by marriage are genealogically described with considerable fulness.

The price is five dollars. All orders should be accompanied by the money, unless it is preferred that the book be sent by express, C. O. D. Address the author,

Rev. Everett S. Stackpole,

Bradford, Mass.

QUERIES.

Two pages are allowed for queries, free to subscribers. Answers are solicited.

16. Hussey. Elijah Hussey of Dover, b. Mch. 18, 1765, d. Aug. 15, 1826, married Jane Bickford, b. July 24, 1771, d.

Aug. 29, 1849. Their children were Joseph, b. April 19, 1790, d. March 6, 1831; Priscilla, b. Dec. 25, 1793, married Jonathan Hayes 2nd of Madbury, Oct. 24, 1813; Ruth, b. Sept. 22, 1795; Paul, b. May 22, 1797, d. Sept. 22, 1829; Timothy, b. July 25, 1799, d. Sept. 24, 1846; Daniel, b. Aug. 14, 1801, d. July 15, 1886; Elijah, b. Oct. 25, 1803, d. June 15, 1839; Moses B., b. Jan. 6, 1806, d. Sept. 8, 1848; Elizabeth, b. Feb. 8, 1808, d. Feb. 2, 1868; Mary Jane, b. May 3, 1810; Sarah Hayes, b. April 19, 1814, d. Nov. 15, 1874.

I would like to obtain: (1) Date of marriage of Elijah Hussey and Jane Bickford. (2) With the exception of Daniel and Sarah, of whom and their descendants I have full records, dates of marriage and death of above named children, to whom married, and birth, parentage and death of husband or wife when possible. (3) Similar information concerning the children and other descendants of any of the persons named above.

Any persons able to furnish any of the above information will confer a great favor by sending the same.

Henry S. Webster.

17. Daniel³ Kingsbury, son of Nathaniel² and Mary (Bacon) Kingsbury; born in Dedham, Mass., Nov. 11, 1688; died in Wrentham, Mass., April 27, 1754; married in Wrentham, Dec. 29, 1713, Elizabeth Stevens (Stephens), of Dedham who was b. about 1691; d. July 12, 1764. When and where was Elizabeth born? Who were her parents?

Frank B. Kingsbury.

Keene, N. H.

18. John¹ Hill, born in 1624, was first taxed in Dover in 1649. Was he the John Hill who married Elizabeth Strong at Boston in 1656, if not what was his wife's name? "Old Eliot" says John Hill was twice married, the second wife was a Frye. Samuel² Hill son of John¹ Hill married October 28, 1680, Elizabeth Williams daughter of William and Mary of Oyster River. Who was Mary? I want Williams line in Dover, and connection with Williams line of Massachusetts if there is any.

Dr. Quint gives the marriage of Mary Davis to Joshua Clark, Aug. 18, 1685. I find in Haverhill marriages, "Mary Davis and Joseph Clark were married Aug. 18, 1685." Evidently the same couple, what was his Christian name?

Children given by Dr. Quint were; Hannah b. Oct. 29, 1685, Joseph, b. Sept. 6, 1687, Jonathan, b. March 25, 1690, d. Nov. 1690, Ephraim, b. Aug. 18, 1694, Tabitha, b. Dec. — 1696, David, b. Aug. 21, 1699, Nathaniel b. Feb. 25, 1702-3. Would like marriages of above list of children. I think David married 1st Mercey(——— ?) and moved to Eliot, as a "Mercy wife of David Clark" is in list of the members of Eliot Church in 1721. She evidently died soon, as David Clark married Jan. 12, 1723-4, widow Hannah Frost, and had Nathaniel, Hannah, Rachel, Elizabeth and David. He died 1761. Did he marry his first wife, Mercey, in Dover? Were there children by this marriage?

The easterly part of the town was set off and incorporated by the name of Kingstown East Parish, now East Kingston, with the privileges of a town, on November 17, 1738. The west part of the town was set off April 6, 1756 and incorporated into the town of Sandown. Another portion was incorporated into a town by the name of Hawke, now Danville, February 22, 1760. FRIENDS RECORDS, DOVER, N. H., MONTHLY MEETING.

FAMILY RECORDS.

[On pages of the size used in this magazine, it is impossible to give an exact transcript of the book of Family Records of the Friends Society. Their family Record book was ruled with perpendicular lines and each space was appropriately marked, at top of page, and the different dates were given in their respective columns; the months by number and not by name. There is a division in the book, previous to which, the old style was used in numbering the months and year. The reference page was given in numbers in a special column. In this magazine the page number of the original record has been kept and follows after the page, the same as in copying other records. The reference page number is given in figures with the word page prefixed and refers to the page of the original record and can be easily traced by finding the corresponding number of original page and looking back for name or date; the person referred to being the same in both instances; the system will be found quite convenient in tracing back ancestral lines. The month is here given by name only, and the words born, married and died have been inserted to go with their respective dates. In some instances only a part of the names of the children were given on the original record, when known these instances have been starred and additional names given in foot notes. The spelling when faulty has been corrected.]

INTRODUCTION.—A concern appearing on many Friend's minds to revive the practice of Recording Births and Deaths of Friends belonging to Dover Monthly Meeting which had for a Long time been much neglected, (a few Individuals excepted), and never been regularly done, by which Omission great Inconveniencies and Difficulties had arisen in Determining who were the members of our Meeting. Therefore the Monthly Meeting in the — month 1786 procured this Book and appointed a Recorder to record all Births, Deaths and Burials according to the ancient custom of Friends and advice of the present Discipline.

And now the Recorder being about to proceed on s^d work premises the following Observations.

1st—That as the records of Births and Deaths were Imperfectly kept in the early part of Dover Monthly Meeting, and many never enter'd at all he is under the Necessity of collecting from private records and ancient Friends verbal accounts in order to begin the work, to shew from whence the present stock of friends were Descended.

2^d—He not being able, Even by the best accounts he can procure to ascertain all the Births and Deaths of friends that are Deceased, he therefore arranged their Names and names of their children in order that the Succession may appear, and whenever the s^d Births and Deaths can be obtained are to be Inserted, blank remaining for that purpose.

3^{ly}—No regular minutes being kept of receiving and Disowning persons except in a few Instances, the Recorder is obliged to procure from any source, circumstance, or ancient person's Testimony he can obtain; the time of many persons coming among friends or Leaving them, which matter of owning the truth and Leaving the same being generally a gradual work could not even at that time have been accurately perfixed, as no minutes of Receiving and Disowning them appears. Many it is presumed, certainly some, obtained their membership, or left the same at their marriages, for some that were not the children of friends, who conducted orderly had the Liberty to marry among friends without any previous acceptance and were thenceforth Deemed members; and others who married out, many of them Declined from friends and are no more noticed as belonging to them, of which circumstances the Recorder takes notice when he can with authenticity.

4th Friends in the advance of time growing more careful in preserving records of their proceedings, this record will therefore appear better displayed. Births, Marriages, Deaths and Burials arranged in such a manner that the peruser may find the line of Friends from whence he sprung, if he is an offspring of friends and the families with which he is connected; who are the members of our Meetings, and who were their Predecessors, of which circumstances Posterity it is probable will be advantaged, is the Design of the present Records.

21. WATSON.—Josiah Watson was born in 1780 and married Caroline Colcord of Newmarket, N. H., in 1812. He was brother to the Rev. Elijah Watson, a prominent Freewill Baptist preacher. Both were sons of Nathan Watson. Who were the parents or grandparents of Nathan Watson? John J. Loud.

Weymouth, Mass.

22. WATERS.—Wanted, name of wife of William Waters, who in 1665 or thereabouts, was "Clerk of the Writs" at "Damaril's Cove." —See Colonial Records of Mass. His father, William Waters of Boston in his will in 1714, makes his grandson "William Waters" of "Damoras Cove" sole executor. He names three daughters, Mary Salman, wife of John; Urith Nix, wife of John; and Ann, wife of Rev^d Narramore; also his granddaughters, Eleanor Waters and Elizabeth Whitaway.

WORTHYLAKE.—William Waters named above, married in 1701 Rebecca Worthylake, daughter of George and Susanna Worthylake. George Worthylake in his will, 1693 says he is "of the Island commonly called Pemberton," and names his eldest son Benjamin, seven daughters, viz. Susanna Dennis, wife of William; Mary Parrot, wife of Robert; Deborah Traffick, Elizabeth, Joanna, Sarah and Rebecca Worthylake; also son George. Daughter Rebecca was executrix. Susan A. Smith.

23. PARKER.—I would like to obtain the ancestry of the North Berwick, Me., branch of the Parker family. Betsey Parker, born August 31, 1766, married Mark Nowell, born, December 26, 1762 and lived in North Berwick, Me. In the old Nowell burying lot in North Berwick, are a number of Parker stones: viz.—Elbrige G. Parker, died December 6, 1816, age 4 years, 11 months. Emily C. Parker, died July 22, 1820, aged 11 years, 1 month. Benjamin Parker, died March 22, 1822, aged 50 years, 2 months, 27 days. I am inclined to think that Benjamin was a brother of Betsey, and that their father was either Benjamin or Jacob. Who were the parents and grandparents of the above named Betsey Parker and brothers and sisters? This family belongs, probably to the branch of Parkers mentioned in Stackpoles, "Old Kittery and her Families." There is a Parker burying-ground in North Berwick, where this family were buried. They were seeking a place of safety in the garrison house, that stood on the slope of that hill.

PORTSMOUTH TOWN OFFICERS.

[A request has been made that a list of Portsmouth Town Officers be compiled and printed, as a list of the same has never been published. Some years ago an incomplete list of Town Clerks was published, but no attempt was made to give a list of the other officers. Owing to the loss of the "Old Book" of Strawberry Bank Records it is impossible at this date to make up a list of Town Officers prior to April 5, 1652; it is, however, probable that in 1646 John Renals, John Crouther and William Berry, and in 1648 Renald Fernald, William Seavey and Robert Puddington were selectmen; there were probably two other selectmen each year. Where there is double dating in giving the year of election of officers, the first is the then official year or Old Style and the second is New Style or the present way of reckoning time.]

TOWN CLERKS.

1652-1849.

Renald Fernald, from April 5, 1652 till his death in 1656.
Henry Sherburne, from October 7, 1656 to March 2, 1662/63.
James Pendleton, from March 2, 1662/3 to March 6, 1664/5.
Elias Stileman, from March 6, 1664/5 to October 20, 1681.
John Fletcher, from October 20, 1681 to April 3, 1693.
Richard Martin, from April 3, 1693 to April 2, 1694.
William Pitman,* from April 2, 1694 to April 1, 1700.
Joshua Peirce, from April 1, 1700 to March 24, 1700/01.
Samuel Keais, from March 24, 1700/01 to June 7, 1714.
Joshua Peirce, from June 7, 1714 till his death February 7, 1742/43.
Hunking Wentworth, from March 25, 1743 to March 26, 1759.

*Probably William Pitman was town clerk for the four years 1696-99 inclusive, but as the original records for those years have been lost all we have is Samuel Keais copy or record, made up in 1706, in which he neglected to enter the names of the town clerks for those years. The records show that William Pitman was town clerk for the years 1694 and 1695.—ED.

FRIENDS RECORDS, DOVER, N. H., MONTHLY MEETING.

FAMILY RECORDS.

[Finding one family record given in New Style dating when it should have been in Old Style dating and fearing there may be other instances of similar wrong dating, it is thought best and safest to give the month by number as given in the original record and not by name as at first intended. These records prior to 1752 are in Old Style, March being the first, and February the twelfth month.]

BOOK NOTICES.

MEMORIAL HISTORY OF HAMPSTEAD, N. H., VOL. I, TOWN. 1899. VOL. II, CHURCH. 1903. By Harriette E. Noyes. Press of Newcomb & Gauss, Salem, Mass. Cloth, 8vo. Vol. I, pp. 468, 174 Illustrations and two Maps. Vol. II, pp. 832, 132 Illustrations.

These two nicely written volumes from the able pen of Harriette E. Noyes are full of Hampstead history and genealogy. Volume I is devoted chiefly to town history; it contains copies of the petition for incorporation as a town, the town charter, an historical sketch of the town, proceedings of the Centennial Celebration July 4, 1849, proceedings of the 150th Anniversary of the Town Incorporation July 4, 1899, educational work, military history and lists of soldiers, genealogical sketches, lists of town officers, gravestone inscriptions, births, marriages and deaths, and much other interesting data. Volume II is devoted to Hampstead church history, from June 3, 1752, the date of organization, to 1902. It contains a list of baptisms and admissions, and is particularly interesting by reason of having a genealogical and biographical sketch of each member, ever belonging to this church, some 775 in number. Price of work is $ 9.00.

FAMILY GENEALOGY. By Publius V. Lawson, L. L. B. Menasha, Wis. 1903. Cloth, 12mo., pp. 304, 8 Illustrations.

This Family Genealogy contains genealogical sketches of the Fleming, Lawson, Cook, Peper, Baird, Kerwin, Wright, Hitchcock, Finney, Williams, McAlpin, Graves, Clark, Munn, Sheldon, Strong, Stebbens, Ford, Parsons, and several allied families. About two thirds of the book is devoted to the Fleming and Lawson families. The Fleming family is traced back to Malcom Fleming of the parish of Derryloran, county Tyrone, Ireland, whose four sons Thomas, William, Andrew and Samuel were among the first settlers of Bethlehem township, Hunterdon county, N. J. The Lawson family is traced from John Lawson, the emigrant, born in Linlithgow, Scotland, in 1678, settled for a short time at Worcester, Mass., and later removed to Union, Conn., where he died November 14, 1774, aged 96 years. There are but few copies of this book left. Address: Publius V. Lawson.

GENEALOGICAL SKETCH OF SOME OF THE DESCENDANTS OF ROBERT SAVORY OF NEWBURY, 1656. By Fred W. Lamb. Manchester, N. H. 1904. Press of The John B. Clarke Co. Second Edition. Paper, 8vo. pp. 16.

This interesting sketch of the Savory family gives a direct line of seven generations from Robert Savory of Newbury, Mass., 1656, down to Josephine Augusta Savory, who married Franklin L. Lamb, and is the mother of the author.

GENEALOGICAL SKETCH OF THE LAMB FAMILY. By Fred W. Lamb. Manchester, N. H. 1903. Press of The John B. Clarke Co. Second Edition. Paper, 8vo. pp. 7, price 50 cents.

This short sketch begins with Isaac Lamb of New London, Conn., 1695, and gives a direct line of seven generations down to Fred W. Lamb, the author.

Address: Fred W. Lamb, Manchester, N. H.

THE SAMUEL AMES FAMILY. By John Kimball, A. M. Concord, N. H. Republican Press Association. 1890. Cloth, 8vo. pp. 55.

The author after giving the record of Daniel Ames of Exeter, N. H., later Newmarket, confines himself to following the descendants of Samuel Ames, son of the above Daniel, who was born at Exeter, 13 February 1723, and later removed to Canterbury, N. H. Six generations are given, 1723-1891. The book is well written and contains a large mass of information in a few pages. It will be especially interesting to the descendants of Samuel Ames; we wish the author could have seen fit to include all the descendants of Daniel Ames of Exeter.

FAMILY RECORD. THE DAUGHTERS OF NATHANIEL KINGSBURY. 1739-1903. By Frank B. Kingsbury. Keene, N. H. 1904. Press of Darling & Company. Paper, 8vo. pp. 63.

This Family Record contains a short sketch of the Kingsbury family, beginning with Joseph Kingsbury, the emigrant, who came to America about 1628 and follows a direct line of five generations down to Nathaniel Kingsbury, born Feb. 18, 1739 in Wenthams, Mass. It then gives the descendants of his three daughters; Abigail, who married Stephen White; Hannah, who married Rufus Clark; and Chloe, who married Seth Sumner. The book has five half-tone illustrations and the work will prove a valuable help in looking up the history of the above four families. Price seventy-five cents a copy.

THOMAS SEWAL; SOME OF HIS ANCESTORS AND ALL OF HIS DESCENDANTS: A GENEALOGY. By Henry Sewall Webster. Gardiner, Maine. 1904. Paper, 8vo. pp. 20.

A direct line of eight generations to Thomas Sewall born in York, Maine September 24, 1750 is given and all of his descendants, five generations. There are short sketches of the Webster and Hussey families.

NEWINGTON CHURCH RECORDS.

[Bloody Point was incorporated as a parish July 16, 1713; it was taken mostly from Dover with a small part from Portsmouth. Name changed to Newington, May 12, 1714. Its bounds were settled July 28, 1714; and apparently it was allowed town privileges. It sent its first representative, under its own name, to the New Hampshire Provincial Legislature in 1715. A small portion of the town was annexed to Portsmouth June 29, 1821.

The first minister at Newington was Rev. Joseph Adams, born in Braintree, now Quincy, Mass., January 4, 1688-9. He was the eldest son of Joseph and Hannah (Bass) Adams, of Braintree, and great-grandson of Henry Adams, of England, who came to this country with his family about 1630, and settled in Braintree. He graduated at Harvard College in 1710; after taking his degree he studied for the ministry, and was licensed to preach. On June 20, 1715, he accepted a call from Newington to become their settled minister. A church was organized at that place Oct. 26, 1715, and on Nov. 16, following, he was ordained pastor of that church. He continued pastor of the church at Newington till January 1783, when old age compelled him to retire, having filled the pastorate for sixty-eight consecutive years. He died May 26, 1783.

In the following copy an exact transcript has been given except as to the names of the months which in some instances have been abbreviated, and the years are given in New Style. The gradual introduction into common use of the words Mister and Mistress, here represented by their abbreviations Mr. and Mrs., usually without the punctuation mark, will be noted with interest, especially as to the latter word which for many years was indiscriminately applied to both unmarried and married women. This copy differs in a few instances from the copy published in Vol. 22, of "The New England Historical and Genealogical Register;" but after very carefully comparing both copies with the original the following has been selected as the corrected copy. The record book is not paged.]

AMERICAN REVOLUTIONARY NAVAL SERVICE.

[Under this title we intend to publish, from time to time, the record of several vessels of the Continental navy which had New Hampshire men in their crews; also whatever record we can find of the twenty or twenty-five privateers, sent out, either by the State of New Hampshire, the Town of Portsmouth, or by the citizens of New Hampshire.]

THE CONTINENTAL FRIGATE RALEIGH.

The War of the Revolution had commenced, the battles of Lexington and Bunker Hill had been fought, and Gen. Washington had assumed command of the American army and was laying siege to Boston before the American colonies decided to take the offensive on the ocean. On December 13, 1775, Congress ordered the building of thirteen ships of war, one of which, afterwards named the Raleigh, was to be built in New Hampshire. Eight merchant ships had been purchased under acts of Congress passed October 13 and 30, of that year, and were being converted into cruisers. This was the beginning of the American navy. The Raleigh was to be a 32-gun frigate and she was finally armed with 12 pounders. The keel of the Raleigh was laid on what is now Rindge's wharf, in Portsmouth, March 21, 1776; work was pushed along as rapidly as possible and the vessel was launched on May 21, following. She was built by Messrs. Hackett, Hill and Paul, under the inspection of Thomas Thompson. Congress on June 6, 1776 passed the following: "Resolved that Thomas Thompson be appointed Captain of the frigate built in New Hampshire." It was just eighteen days afterward on June 24, when Capt. Thompson began to enlist the crew for the Raleigh. The first enlistment being that of Robert Follett, as master, who however was soon discharged, and Thomas Manning enlisted for that office. Although the hull of the Raleigh had been so rapidly constructed, it was found impossible to procure her armament, ammunition and sails for her to go to sea before August 1777. Meanwhile Capt. Thompson was busy in enlisting his crew, weeding out and discharging those enlisted who upon trial were found to be undesirable men, and in getting the vessel, equipment, and men ready for active service on the ocean. Many of the men after signing the ship's book failed to appear at the time agreed upon, and we find a big "D" placed either in their time of entry or wage column and their names crossed; sometimes the equally expressive term "Run" was written. Capt. Thomas Thompson was born in England: he came to America in 1766 or 1767; resided in Portsmouth and married an American woman. He was a good seaman and an excellent shipbuilder.

The Raleigh went to sea August 12, 1777. She was ordered to meet the 24-gun ship Alfred, one of the eight merchant vessels which had been converted into cruisers, and the two, then to proceed in company to France, where military stores were in waiting to be transported to America. The first few days of the voyage they took several prizes of little value. On the 2d of September they took the Nancy, a vessel belonging to a convoy bound for the West Indies, but which could not keep up with the fleet. From this vessel Capt. Thompson obtained the signals of the fleet, and made chase. About noon of September 3, the fleet was descried from the Raleigh's masthead, and found to consist of sixty vessels, guarded by four men-of-war and several armed merchant vessels. Capt. Thompson gradually approached the convoy until he could make out the positions of the escort, occasionally signalling the Alfred with the enemy's code as if she were one of the merchantmen. Awaiting the cover of night he directed his consort to follow his movements. He failed in his endeavour to separate some of the ships from the fleet. The wind increasing towards morning so that the Alfred, being a weak ship, had to take in part of her sail and was fast falling to the leeward, he made a bold dash through the convoy toward the vessel of war that was most to the windward. Having obtained a weatherly position the Raleigh ran out her guns, set her ensign and commanded the enemy to strike, not being obeyed, she poured in a broadside of sixteen guns loaded with round and grapeshot; twelve broadsides were fired into the Englishman in the space of twenty minutes. The English vessel proved to be the Druid, carrying twenty guns. At the end of twenty minutes, the three other war vessels and the armed merchantmen appeared; the Raleigh left her antagonist, ran a league to the leeward and joined the Alfred and awaited the enemy, but the English did not follow. The Druid was a complete wreck; her masts, rigging and sails were cut to pieces, five feet of water was in her hold, six of her crew had been killed and twenty-six wounded, while the Raleigh had but three men in killed and wounded. Arriving in France the Raleigh and the Alfred loaded with military stores and sailed from L'Orient for America, in February 1778, taking a southerly course. On March 9, while the two vessels were far apart, the Raleigh being hull down to the leeward, two English vessels, the Ariadne of twenty guns and the Ceres of fourteen guns, came up to the Alfred and gave battle. Instead of trying to join the Raleigh as the Alfred should have done, being to the windward, after firing a few broadsides she struck, before the Raleigh could get near her. Capt. Thompson seeing that it was then three ships against one and being loaded with military stores that were very important for the American army decided not to give battle to the ships and soon out-sailed the pursuing vessels. Capt. Thompson was blamed for not attempting to retake the Alfred and was relieved of his command on his return to America. It appears to us if there was any fault it was in the two vessels not keeping close together with the Raleigh on the windward side, if this rule had been followed then both vessels would have been in the engagement with the chances in favor of the Americans.

On her return to America the command of the Raleigh was given to Capt. John Barry. The Raleigh, under her new commander, sailed from Boston on September 25, 1778, at six o'clock in the morning, having a brig and a sloop under convoy. At noon two strange vessels were seen to the southward, distant about fifteen miles. At sundown Capt. Barry found that they were two English frigates and sent the two merchantmen back to port, cleared his ship for action, and for forty-eight hours engaged in a game of hide and seek. The two English frigates hung to his trail like grim death, and through the darkness of night and a thick fog a part of the time by day he could not escape them; at about five o'clock in the afternoon of September 27 the action commenced with the foremost vessel. The Raleigh's foretopmast and mizzen-topgallant mast were shot away at the second broadside, which gave the English frigate the advantage. Soon the other frigate came up. Capt. Barry maintained a running fight for several hours and about midnight succeeded in running his vessel ashore on Wooden Ball island, about twenty miles from the mouth of the Penobscot, off the coast of Maine. Capt. Barry had landed a part of his men on the island and was returning in the boats for the remainder of his crew and to destroy the vessel when a petty officer struck the flag and surrendered the Raleigh. Capt. Barry with those who landed on the island escaped to the mainland. The English frigates were the 28-gun ship Unicorn, and the 50-gun ship Experiment. The American loss was ten killed or wounded; the Unicorn had ten men killed and many wounded. The Raleigh was floated off at high tide by the English and was but little damaged; she was then taken into the British service and for many years was one of their best ships of her class.

Capt. Thomas Thompson while he was commander of the Raleigh kept a book containing the names of the crew, time of entry into service and various other matters. This book came down through the Thompson family as an heir-loom and is now owned by Mrs. Arthur R. Yates, of Portsmouth, great-granddaughter of Capt. Thompson. The book is seven by eleven inches and contains twenty-eight pages, twenty-five of which are written. The cover is of thick, drab colored paper and on the first page is written: "Ship Raleigh's Book." The pages of the book are divided into columns, there being seven columns each on the first six pages, eight each on the next three pages, nine each on the next two pages, eleven each on the next six pages, ten each on the eighteenth and nineteenth pages, and nine each on the next four pages. Pages twenty-four to twenty-six are blank; the next two pages have six columns each. The columns do not always follow in the same order on each page. We have attempted below to give this book in paragraphs; repeating the column headings with each name, except the first, second and last columns which are plain enough. Ditto words are given in full, and the sign for dollars instead of the word.

BOOK NOTICES.

THE DESCENDANTS OF NATHANIEL CLARKE AND HIS WIFE ELIZABETH SOMERBY OF NEWBURY, MASS. 1642-1902. By George Kuhn Clarke, LL. B. Special Edition. Boston: Privately Printed. 1902. Cloth, 8vo. pp. 250. 16 Illustrations.

This work is a special edition of Parts I, II and III of a larger family history which appeared earlier in the year 1902. These Parts have been carefully revised, considerably enlarged and contain much new material never before published. The book is well arranged, finely written and is creditable to the compiler. It represents twenty-five years of careful research, and will prove of great value to the descendants of Nathaniel Clarke, many of whom live in New Hampshire.

Nathaniel Clarke was born in 1642; he was early of Newbury, now Newburyport, Mass., where on November 23, 1663, he married Elizabeth, daughter of Henry and Judith (Greenleaf) Somerby of Newbury. He became quite prominent in the history of Newbury and died there August 25, 1690.

EPITAPHS FROM GRAVEYARDS IN WELLESLEY (FORMERLY WEST NEEDHAM), NORTH NATICK, AND SAINT MARY'S CHURCHYARD IN NEWTON LOWER FALLS, MASSACHUSETTS, WITH GENEALOGICAL AND BIOGRAPHICAL NOTES. By George Kuhn Clarke, LL. B. Privately Printed: Boston. 1900. 8vo. pp. 236.

This book contains 575 epitaphs, accurately transcribed and nicely printed, a work of great value in itself, but the great worth of this book is the genealogical and biographical notes appended to each epitaph; sometimes a single epitaph will have a page or more of notes, a whole biography condensed into small space. The work shows great research in its preparation. There are but few copies left for sale; address: George Kuhn Clarke, LL. B., 70 Kilby street, Boston, Mass.

CONCERNING GENEALOGIES, BEING SUGGESTIONS OF VALUE FOR ALL INTERESTED IN FAMILY HISTORY. By Frank Allaben. The Grafton Press, New York. 1904. Cloth, 12mo. pp. 71.

This little book contains many useful suggestions for the amateur genealogist. It is devoted primarily to the explanation of what is called the Grafton system of genealogy. Address: The Grafton Press, 70 Fifth Ave., New York.

BOOK IN PREPARATION.

A HISTORY OF BOOTHBAY, SOUTHPORT AND BOOTHBAY HARBOR, MAINE. 1623—1905. Illustrated with Maps, Cuts and Portraits. By Francis B. Greene. 8vo. pp. about 700. Price in cloth $3.00, in half leather $3.50.

This history is now nearly ready for the printers, and it is expected to be published and ready for delivery by January 1, 1906. The locality lying between the Sheepscot and Damariscotta rivers, earliest known as Cape Newagen, later as Townsend, was in 1764 incorporated as the twenty-first town in the District of Maine, under the name of Boothbay. In 1888 the town of Boothbay was divided into Boothbay, Southport and Boothbay Harbor. Boothbay was settled chiefly by citizens from New Hampshire and the Scotch-Irish immigration under Dunbar; fully one half of the names of families are New Hampshire names. The author has devoted much of the time for the last sixteen years in collecting data for this history, especially for the family genealogies, which will be unusually full and complete, great care having been used to have them accurate as possible in every detail. Family genealogies will fill nearly half of the book. To New Hampshire and Massachusetts people this book will be of especial interest. Only a limited number of copies will be issued and those who wish the book should subscribe at once. Address all communications to Francis B. Greene, Boothbay Harbor, Me.

35. GREEN.—Who were the parents of Sally Green, who was born in Portsmouth, N. H., May 15, 1780. She married William Stimpson of Boston, Mass., February 27, 1799. Her parents died shortly after her birth, and she was brought up by Mark Green of Portsmouth, who may have been her uncle. In her will, which was dated December 12, 1859, Mrs. Stimpson mentions Samuel S. Green of Portsmouth.

WHITTIER.—Richard Whittier married Tabitha — about 1745. She died at Stratham, N. H., April 10, 1750. Richard Whittier married, second, Mary Chase. Richard and Tabitha had: Mehitable, born September 16, 1746, married James Joy; Tabitha, born June 3, 1749, married Chase Wiggin; Reuben and Richard. Would like the maiden name and ancestry of Tabitha and Chase Wiggin.

36 BLAND.—SMITH.—LEAVITT.—From 1646 to 1663 there lived on Martha's Vineyard, Mass., one Mr. John Bland, who was "sometimes called John Smith but his name and his ancestors was Bland." This was the testimony given by Nathaniel Drake aged 78 and Abram Drake aged about 70 years, dated April 27, 1691; and they further stated that Bland came from Colchester, England, and that they had known his daughter Isabel since childhood. This may serve as a clue to the English origin of the Drakes of Hampton. (Dukes Co. Deeds, I: 282.) This Isabel Bland married first Francis Austin or Asten and second Thomas Leavitt of Hampton. She died 19 February 1699-1700 as the widow of Leavitt, who died 28 November 1696 aged "above eighty," and both left wills. From all the surrounding circumstances not necessary to enlarge upon, it would appear that she was younger than he. The will of John Bland (1663) mentions his "daughters Anable and Isable who are all the children that are alive that I own." (Edgartown, Mass. Town Records.) I should be glad of any information about Anable Bland, as well as the first marriage of Isabel. The mother's name was Joanna but I have no further knowledge of what became of her.

37 TREADWELL.—William Earl Treadwell, of Portsmouth, N. H., died between years 1781 and 1793; he married Mehitable Odiorne who was born about 1733 and died January 1820. The exact dates of their births and deaths wanted. The New Hampshire Gazette should have the latter. Did this William E. marry, first, Zurviah Stanley Parker, who died May, 1750?

When and where was his son Robert O. Treadwell born? Also wanted date and place of birth of latter's wife, Ann Stocker Pearse. The forgoing is desired for a Treadwell genealogy, the compilation of which the writer has about completed.

Possibly Hannah Danielson was born in Dover, N. H.

1. Joseph Roberts, born about 1610, an emigrant sent by Capt. John Mason, perhaps from Portsmouth, Eng., landed at Boston, Sept. 16, 1632.

2. John Roberts, born about 1635, a marshal of Portsmouth, N. H., 1680.

3. John or Joseph Roberts, born about 1660, Portsmouth or Hampton(?).

(Lt. Hatevil Robbards, born about 1661, was living at Dover, N. H., 1715)

4. John Robards or Roberds, born about 1684; married Elizabeth——, Hampton, and later of Exeter and Brentwood.

5. Jonathan Roberds, born about 1710, yeoman. Crown Point, 1762, Capt. Jeremiah Marston of Hampton.

6. Joseph Roberds, born about 1733, married Hannah Young; Crown Point, 1762, Capt. Jeremiah Marston. Removed to Windham, Me.
