PREFACE.

It is with some degree of pardonable pride, that we present to our citizens this volume, as the result of the first effort to produce a Directory of the County of Bedford. Covering as it does a wide field, it required an amount of careful, persevering labor, and the expenditure of means beyond our expectations, and we appeal to the public spirit of our citizens, in whose interests this work has been pushed to a speedy and successful completion, to assist in giving it a wide circulation. In the preparation of our historical sketches we were compelled to exclude much valuable matter for want of space, and in the arrangement of the Directory our object was to make it a convenient, useful, reliable and indispensable book of reference. To the friends who have assisted us by their patronage in making the enterprise a financial success, and to those who have given us desired information or assistance, we return our sincere thanks. That the faults and failures of the Bedford County Directory may receive the most generous and charitable criticism of the Public is the earnest wish of

THE AUTHOR.

HISTORY OF BEDFORD COUNTY.

Bedford County was created out of part of Cumberland County on March 9th, 1771. Robert McCray, Wm. Miller and Robert Moore were appointed to fix the boundary lines, which embraced what now constitutes the counties of Fulton, Juniata, Mifflin, part of Center, Huntingdon, Blair, Cambria, Somerset, Fayette, Westmoreland, part of Indiana, part of Armstrong, Allegheny, Washington and Greene—territory containing at this time a population of about 650,000, and covering an area of 9,000 square miles. The Commissioners above named were also authorized to purchase a lot for public buildings, and the lot upon which now stands the residence of the late Samuel H. Tate was purchased for that purpose—an old log house upon said lot was converted into a county Jail.

Arthur St. Clair was appointed Prothonotary and Clerk of the Courts, March 12th, 1771, and the first Court was held in Bedford, April 19th of the same year.

Andrew Ross, Philip Pendleton, Robert Galbraith, David Sample and Robert Wilson were admitted to the bar at this term, and David Grier, David Espy and Geo. Brent at the next term of Court, held in July, following.

Robert McGraw was the first practicing Attorney of the County. The first Courts of the county were presided over by Justices appointed by the King.

The first Justices appointed for the county were Wm Proctor, Jr., Robert Cluggage, Robert Hanna, George Wilson, William Lechery, and William McConnell, Esqs. Justices of our Lord, the King, to hear and determine divers felonies and misdemeanors committed in said county. The other justices appointed and commissioned by George III., with the above, were John Frazer, Bernard Dougherty, Arthur St. Clair, William Crawford, James Milligan, Thomas Gist, Dorsey Penticost, Alexander McKee and George Woods. The first Commissioners were Robert Hanna, Dorsey Penticost, and John Stevenson. The first Grand Jury were James Anderson, Charles Cessna, James McCashlin, Thomas Kenton, Allen Rose, George Milliken, John Moore, Robert Culbertson, George Funk, John Huff, Rinard Wolfe, Valentine Shadacer, Thomas Hay, Samuel Drennin, Edward Rose, Samuel Skinner, William Parker, Christopher Miller, Thomas Croyal, Adam Sam, Jacob Fisher, and David Rinard. William Proctor was the first Sheriff.

The members, from Bedford county, of the convention which adopted the State Constitution of September 28, 1776, were Benjamin Elliott; Thomas Coulter, ancestor of Judge Coulter, of Westmoreland; John Burd; John Wilkins, father of Judge Wilkins, late of Pittsburgh; John Cessna, great-grandfather of Hon. John Cessna, of Bedford; Thomas Smith and Joseph Powell.

The members of the State Constitutional Convention of February 5, 1790, were Joseph Powell and John Piper, afterward member of the House of Representatives of Pennsylvania.

Samuel Davidson, grandfather of John Davidson, was the first Treasurer of the county.

The first public buildings erected for county purposes were built about the year 1780, and comprised a small stone building, used as a Court House, and a small stone Jail attached, and were located on the northwest corner of the public square. On the 13th May, 1826, Commissioners Silas Folck and John Bowser contracted with Solomon Filler for the erection of the present Court House for the sum of $7,500. Joseph Morrison and John Keefe were his securities.

On March 7th, 1836, Commissioners Gibson and James Sipes contracted with Abraham Kerns for the erection of the present county Jail for $7,940. The old buildings were suffered to remain for a number of years and were used for offices—one part as a printing office by G. W. Bowman. At the April session of the County Court for the year 1840, the Grand Jury declared the old buildings a nuisance, and an obstruction to the highway, and the Court ordered them to be removed. The Commissioners secured a suspension of the order until April, 1842, when the old Court House and Jail were sold to Alexander Henry and Wm. Fletcher for the sum of $93, and they were shortly afterwards removed.

The first county Taxes were levied in 1771. The county was divided into five districts, with one Assessor for each district. The first assessors were James Pollock, James Carit, James Smith, Joseph Beeler and Richard Wells. The collectors for Bedford, Cumberland Valley and Colerain, [the townships that then contained all of the present territory of Bedford county], were Elijah Adams, Jonathan Bishop and James Newell.

Great difficulty was experienced during the first ten years of the county's history, in levying and collecting taxes, in consequence of the depredations of the Indians. Bedford county was then a wild, mountainous region, on the extreme borders of civilization, and all who have read the early history of border settlements, will readily understand how our sturdy pioneer forefathers were beset with trials and sufferings of no ordinary kind, and must have found sufficient employment in protecting their homes and families from the inroads of their insidious and terrible foes. For the better protection of the settlers from the incursions of the Indians, forts or block-houses were built at Bedford and several other points, to which the settlers and their helpless families could fly on the approach of the cruel savage, and as his startling war whoop was heard echoing through the mountain wilds, the frightened refugees might be seen flocking in from every direction to these little cities of refuge.

To show the patriotic spirit of this noble little band of frontiersmen and their willingness to bear the burdens of taxation, a few notes from the minutes of the Commissioners' Office will be of interest:

“MONDAY, JULY 5th, 1778.

“The collectors of the county had been notified to meet the Commissioners on this day, but only two made their report, and the following is the entry in the old, time worn, record:

"The Commissioners are very desirous of contributing everything in their power towards defraying the expenses of the war, but find it impossible for the Assessors to act, as required by the acts of Assembly, as many parts of the county are overrun with savage Indians, and owing to the frequent murders, the county is fast becoming depopulated, and we are at a loss to know what to do unless the Assembly will afford some relief."

At a subsequent meeting the minutes say:

"The Assessors of Cumberland Valley, Hopewell and Turkeyfoot made their return, but the assessors from the other townships could not attend--that the frontier townships were almost deserted in consequence of the ravages of the Indians--that the whole county was now invaded and in a state of war and that it was impossible to levy a tax, and they therefore asked the clemency of the Government."

In 1779 matters were no better as will be seen by the following extract from the minutes of May 17th:

"Commissioners met at the house of George Mills for the purpose of levying Bedford County's quota of the $62,000 required to pay the war debt, and the necessary taxes to meet the current expenses of the county, but the Indians having made a general invasion of the county, the unfortunate inhabitants were compelled to fly to the adjacent forts for protection, all of which make it impossible to levy a tax."

"We are anxious," say the Commissioners, "to show our readiness to share the burdens of taxation, but we cannot, without incurring great risk, attempt to collect a tax this year. Besides it would be unjust to tax a people who have been so terribly distressed by the last year's depredations of the Indians. Our present situation is so threatened that it is impossible to fix a day for our next meeting:

RESOLVED, Therefore, by the Board now present, that as soon as there is an interval of peace and safety we will meet for the purpose of assessing the tax aforesaid."

These minutes are signed by the Commissioners and Assessors present.

If the unwritten history of the first ten years of our county's existence could be furnished in detail, it would make a volume more thrilling than the most startling romance. But many of the most interesting adventures of our ancestors perished with them and can only live in the imagination of those who carefully think over the trials endured by those who laid the foundation of our greatness.

Bedford County was not permitted to enjoy her magnificent proportions very long, for in 1772 Northumberland was created out of part of Bedford; in 1773, Westmoreland was taken from Bedford; in 1787, Huntingdon; in 1795, Somerset; in 1804, Center; in 1846, Blair, and in 1850, several townships were taken off to help make up the small county of Fulton. These collective partitions left the county in 1851 with an area of 1,000 square miles, and a population of 23,052, comprising one Borough and 17 Townships, viz:

Dec. 8, 1876—King township taken from Union township, (named in honor of the late Hon. Alex. King.)

Dec. 8, 1876—Bloomfield township taken from Middle Woodberry.

Bridgeport, in Londonderry twp., incorporated into a Borough at September Term, 1877, and the name of the Borough changed to Hyndman at December Term, 1877.

MINERAL WEALTH.

Bedford county is, without doubt, one of the richest iron counties in the State, as it contains almost every variety of ore—the fossil, the hematite and the carbonaceous ores. Iron can be made at lower rates than elsewhere in the State, as coal, ore and limestone are found in great abundance in close proximity, and these are all intersected by a railroad running diagonally north-east and south-west through the entire length of the county."

Dr. Hickok, in his Centennial History of Bedford County, thus alludes to its mineral resources, and which he collates from a Geological description of the county, by the Hon. Wm. P. Schell, of Bedford:

"All of the Geological strata within the limits of Pennsylvania, from the Trenton or lower limestone up to and including the coal formation are found in the county. The great Appalachian chain of mountains have their trend north-east and southwest through the county. The western boundary is formed by the Great and the Little Allegheny ranges, which abound in coal, iron-ore and fire-clay. The eastern boundary is formed by Ray's Hill and Broad Top Mountains. They contain a very superior coal, known as the Broad Top semi-bituminous, and also iron.

The central portion of the county is traversed by several mountain ranges—Terrace, Tussey's, Dunning's, Evitte, Will's and Buffalo mountains, all of which contain one or more valuable seams of fossil iron ore, except the first named, which contains an excellent red hematite ore. There are over two hundred square miles of fossil iron ore within the limits of the county. Embosomed in these mountain ranges are some of the most beautiful and fertile limestone valleys to be found anywhere. Many of them are of the same geological formation as Lebanon valley, the great Cumberland valley, and the Limestone land of Lancaster county.

Within a distance of ten miles, on an east and west line, may be found every geological stratum within the state, except those beneath the Trenton limestone.

"The manufacturing facilities of the county are as yet comparatively undeveloped. There are several extensive iron furnaces, some of which have been nearly a century in operation. One, the Bloomfield furnace, in Morrison's cove, furishes iron of such peculiarly excellent and tenacious quality that it was exclusively used during the recent war for the manufacture of the immense cannon used by the government."

"The natural scenery of Bedford county is perhaps unsurpassed for picturesqueness and variety. The wild mountain views alternate with rare rural scenes. The valleys especially attract the attention of tourists, and some of the landscapes are pronounced, by persons traveled in this and other lands, as beautiful as any the sun shines upon. The climate is pure and healthful."

Among the many natural advantages of the county are its now famous Mineral Springs. Possessing medicinal properties of a very high order, and being generally, easy of access, they have become places of fashionable resort during the hot, summer months, as well as sources of considerable profit to their fortunate possessors. In short, too much can hardly be said respecting the universally known and admired Mineral Springs situated within a ten minutes ride of Bedford. Added to their admirable location, (surrounded as they are by some of the finest scenery in a country noted for its picturesque beauty,) there is a refreshing coolness in the air even during the enervating heats of midsummer, which lends an additional charm to the many others surrounding this immensely popular retreat. It is generally admitted that the time is fast approaching when these Springs will rival in popularity their more famous cotemporaries, Saratoga and the White Sulphur Springs of Virginia, and indeed the increase in the number of visitors of late years lends a great probability to such a result.

COUNTY STATISTICS.

The following table is an enumeration in detail of the number of acres, of seated and unseated lands, number of town lots, cattle and horses, valuation of real and personal property, in 1876, and the population of the county from 1860, the date of the last partition, to 1876, inclusive:

PUBLIC BUILDINGS.

COURT HOUSE.—This building, although of an ancient order of architecture, and possessing very little attractiveness, since the late improvements is substantial and convenient, having on the first floor six spacious and well ventilated offices; three iron, fire-proof vaults, two of which are 18x18 feet, and an excellent burglar and fire-proof safe in the County Treasurer's office.

On the second floor are the Court Room, three Jury Rooms and a Library, all in excellent condition. The building is warmed by furnaces in the cellar, and has water closets and stationary washstands in the corridors and Jury rooms.

COUNTY PRISON.—This is but an ordinary two-story brick building, built 41 years ago, when the requirements of the county for a jail were very few, and is, consequently as a house of detention, not at all equal to any unusual emergency.

The front is occupied by the Sheriff's family as a residence. In the jail are seven cells and two day rooms, arranged in the most primitive manner possible, without the slightest protection from fire, or assurance against the escape of prisoners. Prisoners charged with high crimes can only be retained by personal vigilance and cruel treatment. A high brick wall encloses a spacious yard at the back.

ALMS HOUSE—Is a very commodious and well constructed, three-story building, with accommodations for about 100 inmates. The house is well supplied with all modern conveniences, such as bath-tubs, water-closets, stationary wash-stands, sitting and dining rooms on each floor, and the building is so arranged internally that a complete separation of the sexes is effected. Over 100 paupers were provided for in the institution during the past year, in addition to 25 out-door recipients of county relief. 3751 meals were furnished tramps. Under the efficient management of the gentlemanly Steward, Mr. I. D. Earnest, the farm, which was in a wretched condition at the time of its occupation by the county authorities, has been brought into a high state of cultivation and productiveness, as is evidenced by the following statement from last year's report:

Quantity of Grain raised,	1500 bus.
“ Potatoes “	300 bus.
“ Hay “	30 tons.
“ Cabbage, “	2000 heads.

and an abundance of the smaller garden vegetables.

In the industrial department, under the management of the Matron, Mrs Earnest, about 600 articles of wearing apparel were manufactured. As an evidence of the sanitary condition of the establishment, but 5 deaths have taken place during the past year, 3 of which occurred from old age and decrepitude, and 2 from consumption. This branch is under the supervision of Dr. S. H. Gump of Bedford.

The expenses of the establishment for the year ending January 1st, 1877, in excess of income derived from the House and Farm, reached $9,000—making the average cost to the county of maintaining the poor less than 30 cts. per diem.

RAILROADS.

HUNTINGDON AND BROAD TOP RAILROAD.

One of the greatest barriers to the growth and prosperity of Bedford county was the necessity for greater facilities for the transportation of the products of the county. True we had the Loudon wagon and the Concord coach, with an excellent roadway, traversing the county from East to West, but it was not till the shrill voice of the steam whistle and the tread of the iron horse was heard echoing through our mountain passes, that her dormant energies were fairly aroused, the immense coal deposits of the Broad Top having attracted eastern capital, the H. & B. T. R. R. was the result.

This road branches off from the P. R. R. at Huntingdon, follows the course of the Raystown branch of the Juniata and enters the northeast end of our county near Cove Station, passing through Liberty, Broad Top, part of Hopewell and West Providence townships to Mount Dallas, one mile West of Everett. The financial condition of this road is good—its business has steadily increased. About 32 miles of the road is in Bedford county. During the past year the traffic on the road footed up as follows: Passengers, 54,175; Freight, 400,000 tons. There are three branches from the main line—the Shoup's Run, $9\frac{1}{2}$ miles; Six Mile Run, $4\frac{1}{2}$ miles; Sandy Run, 3 miles—all of which penetrate the various coal deposits of Broad Top. Its officers are:

President—B. Andrews Knight, Philadelphia.

Secretary—J. P. Aertsen.

Superintendent—Geo. F. Gage, Huntingdon.

BEDFORD AND BRIDGEPORT RAILROAD.

This road, from its inception, was, in every respect, a Bedford county enterprise, and reflects great credit on the public spirited citizens of our county who were instrumental in procuring its construction, as it was the important link necessary to connect our, hitherto, isolated interests with the great markets of the east and west. This road connects with the Huntingdon & Broad Top road at Mt. Dallas, eight miles east of Bedford; follows the beautiful Juniata through Snake Spring township to Bedford; thence through Bedford township, part of Napier and Harrison, through Londonderry to Mt. Savage Junction, thus penetrating the celebrated Cumberland coal fields. Length of road 39 miles. It is now leased to the P. R. R. and the returns of its traffic are merged in the reports of that road.

President—Hon. John Cessna, Bedford.

DUNNING'S CREEK RAILROAD.

This road branches off from the B. & B. R. R. at Bedford, running up Dunning's Creek about nine miles, traversing extensive ore deposits, the property of Hon. John Cessna, J. W. Lingenfelter and others.

PITTSBURGH & CONNELLSVILLE RAILROAD.

About 15 miles of this road passes through Bedford county, entering a few miles west of Bridgeport, running down Will's Creek, parallel with the B. & B. road, to State Line, and from thence to Cumberland, Md.

President—John King, Jr.

Treasurer—Charles Donnelly.

BOROUGH, TOWN AND POST OFFICES.

BEDFORD BOROUGH, the county seat of Bedford county, is beautifully situated on the Raystown branch of the Juniata river, near the centre of the county. The B. & B. R. R., connecting with the Pittsburgh and Connellsville and the B. & O. R. R.'s on the west, and the Penn'a. R. R. on the east are the railroad communications at the present time. The Pittsburgh, Bedford and Chambersburg Turnpike passes through the town and is yet in good condition, being the mail route between Everett borough and Chambersburg. The town was laid out in 1776 by Gov. John Penn, and incorporated a borough March 13, 1795, since which time the corporate limits have been greatly extended by the Watson and Haehnlen additions on the South, and the Shuck, Gephart and Defbaugh additions on the West, with the Mann extension on the North. The borough contains, within its present limits, about 350 improved and 550 unimproved lots, 35 business houses, 7 churches, 1 foundry and machine shop, 2 planing mills, 1 tannery, 1 steam flouring mill, 1 banking house, 7 hotels, and about 350 private residences.

BARD—A station on the B. & B. R. R. in Harrison township. It contains a store, tannery, school house and 10 or 12 private residences. Distance from Bedford, 14½ miles.

BUFFALO MILLS—A station on the B. & B. R. R. in Harrison township. Its principal buildings are a church, school house, Granger Hall, store, hotel, grist and saw-mill, and about 20 private residences. It derives its name from the Buffalo mountain or ridge near its site. Distance from Bedford 13 miles.

BAKER'S SUMMIT—Situate in Bloomfield township near the celebrated Bloomfield ore mines. It contains a church, school-house, store and about 20 private residences. Distance from Bedford 26 miles.

BEAN'S COVE, P. O.—In Southampton township, between Tussey's and Evett's mountains, 19 miles southeast from Bedford.

BURN'S MILLS, P. O.—In Juniata township, 3 miles West of Schellsburg and 13 miles N. W. from the county seat.

BURNING BUSH, P. O.—In Cumberland Valley twp. 9 miles south from county seat.

CHARLESVILLE—A little village in Colerain township; has a store, schoolhouse, and 10 or 12 private residences; 5 miles southeast from county seat.

CENTERVILLE—In the centre of Cumberland Valley township, has of late years become a very enterprising town. It has good schools, a good church, an "Odd Fellows' " Hall, several fine stores, a good hotel, and perhaps 30 private residences. It is improving fast and will no doubt soon boast of a separate incorporation. Located 15 miles south of county seat.

CHANEYSVILLE, in Southampton township, is a flourishing little village. It has a fine hotel, store, an excellent grist mill, the property of Mr. B. O'Neal, a large planing mill and a wool factory, the property of Leonard S. Tewell. There is also a good church and schoolhouse near the town, and about 20 private residences. Distance from county seat 16 miles southeast.

CLEARVILLE, in Monroe township, 8 miles south of Everett, on a beautiful plain or table land lying between Ray's mountain on the east and Warriors' Ridge on the west. The settlement around (commonly called Clear-ridge,) is celebrated for its choice fruits and excellent potatoes. The town is regularly laid out and contains two stores, a public house, church, school house, tannery "Odd Fellows' " Hall and 30 or 40 private residences. Distance from county seat 16 miles.

COALDALE—A small town on the Six Mile Run branch of the H. & B. T. R.R., in the heart of the coal region, and surrounded by large collieries. Its population is largely made up of miners and their families. It has two stores, a hotel, school house, and a good church. Distance from county seat 26 miles via Railroad.

CESSNA P. O.—In Bedford township, on the Dunning's Creek Railroad, and five miles north from Bedford by the township road.

CHAPMAN'S RUN P. O. is in Monroe township, 4 miles southwest from Clearville and 20 miles from county seat.

COOK'S MILLS P. O.—A station on the B. & B. R. R. in Londonderry twp., 28 miles from county seat.

EVERETT.—Situated on the Bedford and Chambersburg turnpike, 8 miles east of the county seat, is the second town in size and importance in the county. The town lies in a curve or bend formed by the Juniata river, along the left bank of which it extends nearly a mile. The H. & B. T. R. R. approaches the town on the west, the terminus of the road being within a mile of the borough. The site was laid out in 1790 by Michael Barndollar and named Waynesburg—the post office having been previously established was named Bloody Run, after a stream of that name which is formed by two beautiful springs within the borough limits, and for three quarters of a century it bore that far from euphonious title. In 1860 Bloody Run was formed into a borough, and Feb. 13th, 1873, by a decree of Court the name was changed to Everett. For many years the growth of the place was exceedingly slow, but since the introduction of railroad facilities, the town has improved greatly in size and appearance. In 1850 there were but 20 houses, 3 stores and 3 hotels. Now there are 15 business houses, 5 hotels, 3 fine churches, an excellent graded school, a good banking house, a foundry and machine shop, planing mill, 2 steam tanneries and about 200 private residences, in and immediately around the borough limits. The largest leather manufactory in Southern Pennsylvania is located here and owned by Messrs. J. B. Hoyt & Co. This establishment gives steady employment to about 60 men, and the annual production of leather amounts to 1,000,000 pounds, valued at $375,000.

ELBINSVILLE P. O. is in Southampton township, eight miles southeast from Chaneyville, and 24 miles from the county seat.

FISHERTOWN—In East St. Clair township, on what is known as the Quaker Valley road. It has a fine church, schoolhouse, store, and about 30 houses. Distance from Bedford 12 miles.

FOSSILVILLE P. O.—A small station on the B. & B. R. R., with depot, store and 8 or 10 houses. 19 miles southwest from Bedford.

HYNDMAN —See New Bridgeport.

HOPEWELL.—In Broad Top township, a station on the H. & B. T. R. R., 12 miles east of Everett. The celebrated iron furnace of Lowery, Eichelberger & Sons is located here. The manufacture of coke iron in this furnace has attained a high degree of excellence. Here are also the extensive machine shops operated for many years by C. W. Ashcom. The town has two stores, a hotel, church, schoolhouse, and about 40 private residences. Distance from Bedford 20½ miles via Railroad.

IMLERTOWN—A small town in Bedford twp. (in what is locally known as "Dutch Corner,") named after the Imler family, so numerous represented in the vicinity. A fine church (German Reformed), a good school house, and an excellent country store are the principal attractions. It has about a dozen private residences and is distant from Bedford 7 miles.

Lafayetteville—A small town in South Woodberry township, at the foot of Dunnings Mountain, on the road leading from Bedford to Bloomfield. No business houses; no post office here. Distance from county seat 15 miles north east.

Mann's Choice—The name of this town site was the result of a dispute between the residents as to the location of a post office. They left the selection of a site to Hon. Job Mann, then member of Congress from this district; hence the name. It is on the B. & B. R. R. four miles south of Schellsburg. Messrs. McNeal & Black have here an extensive steam tannery, the second largest in the county, the annual production being about 10,000 sides of heavy leather, and the consumption of bark about 2000 cords. There are two stores, a good church, a school house, a very fine hotel property, owned by Messrs. Mullin, and about 40 private residences. Distance from the county seat eight miles.

Mowry's Mill P. O. is in King township on Bobb's Creek. There is a grist mill, saw mill and store here. Distance from Bedford 16 miles.

New Enterprise— Situate in about the centre of South Woodberry township, in one of the most wealthy settlements in the county. A beautiful stream of water, called Three Spring Run passes through the village. Although the town is of comparatively recent date it already boasts a fine carriage manufactory, a lumber mill, plaster mill, tannery, a good hotel, two or three good stores, two churches and a select school. Distance from county seat 16 miles north east.

New Bridgeport, (now called Hyndman.)—In Londonderry township, at the confluence of the Little and Big Will's Creeks, and the Junction of the Pittsburgh & Connellsville and Bedford and Bridgeport Railroads, the two roads running parallel with each other from this point to the Maryland Line. The town is beautifully located on a spacious plain or plateau, formed by a curve in Will's Creek. Bridgeport possesses every facility and resource requisite [capital excepted] to make it a first class manufacturing town. At present there are three churches, a good school house, several fine stores, 2 hotels. a fire-brick manufactory and about 60 private houses. Distance from Bedford via R. R. 23 miles. Incorporated into a borough Sept., 1877, and changed to Hyndman, December of same year.

New Paris—A pretty little village in Napier township, on the west side of Chestnut Ridge, in the center of one of the finest wheat growing districts in the county. The United Brethren, Albrights, and German Reforms have each a good church here. It is also one of the oldest Quaker communities in the State. A good hotel, several fine stores and about 40 private residences make up the village. Distance from county seat 14 miles north west.

NEW BUENA VISTA—In Juniata township, four miles southwest from Schellsburg. This is a very pretty little village with several stores, a church, school house, &c.; 14 miles west from Bedford.

OSTERBURG, on the road leading from St. Clairsville to Pavia, (about two miles northwest of the former,) a small town founded by the Messrs. Osters, who have a store and excellent grist and saw mills here. It has a fine location in the beautiful little valley of Bobb's creek, a rich agricultural settlement. In close proximity are three very fine churches and a good school. Distance from Bedford twelve miles.

PLEASANTVILLE BORO', Alum Bank P. O.—Situate in West St. Clair township, near the base of the Allegheny range, on the road leading from Bedford to Johnstown. It has an excellent steam tannery, foundry and machine shop, a grist mill, hotel, several stores, a church, school house, Odd Fellows' Hall and about 60 private residences. With railroad facilities to enable its citizens to utilize the immense stock of timber in their immediate vicinity this borough would rapidly increase in wealth and population. Distance from Bedford 16 miles northwest.

PATTONVILLE—Founded by Major James Patton, and now principally owned by Wm H. Aaron, is in South Woodberry township, at or near the gap in the Tussey's mountain. The Yellow Creek, one of the finest streams for water power in the State passes through it, upon which are the extensive flouring and lumber mills of Messrs. Aaron, Fluck and Linton. There are two good stores, a tannery, a school house and about 40 private residences. Distance from Bedford 16 miles northeast.

PAVIA—In Union township, a small town near the base of the Allegheny mountains. It has a church, school house, store, grist mill, lumber mill and about 20 residences. Distance from the county seat 20 miles northwest.

PINEY CREEK P. O. is in Mann township, on Piney Creek, 22 miles southeast of Bedford.

PERCELL P. O. is in Mann township on Piney Creek, 7 miles east from Chaneyville and 25 miles southeast from Bedford.

PIPER'S RUN P. O. is a station on the H. & B. T. R. R., 6 miles north from Everett and 16 miles from Bedford northeast.

RAINSBURG BOROUGH, at the head of Friends' Cove, one of the most attractive spots in Bedford county, and the site in former years of a select school. The fine seminary building is still standing and used for school purposes. It is the property of the Odd Fellows, however, and part of the building is occupied by the fraternity as a hall. The town has several churches, stores, hotel, carriage manufactory, tannery, grist mill, and about 50 private residences. Distance from Bedford 9 miles.

RAY'S HILL.—In East Providence township, on the Bedford and Chambersburg turnpike, nine miles east of Everett. It was laid out by the late John Nycum, father of Simon Nycum, who is the owner of the farm from which the town was taken. The Lutheran and Methodist denominations have good churches in the vicinity. There is a good store, the property of the Nycums, and a large steam tannery owned and operated by J. B. Hoyt & Co. A neat hall for the Odd Fellows has been recently erected. Distance from Bedford 17 miles east.

RIDDLESBURG is situated on the H. & B. T. R. R. at the outlet of the Six Mile Run. Here are located the extensive iron furnaces of the Kemble Coal and Iron Co., the largest establishment of the kind in Southern Pennsylvania. This company mine all their own ores, coal and limestone, and manufacture their own coke. They have two furnaces, each 60x14 feet, only one of which is in blast. Their annual production of iron amounts to about 10,000 tons, and they employ in their mines and at the furnace from 200 to 300 men. The town is peopled largely by the employees of the company, and they are supplied with a store, church and a good school. Distance from Bedford 23 miles by railroad.

ROBINSONVILLE P. O., is near the S. E. corner of Monroe township, and on the east side of Addison's ridge. There is a good store here. Distance from Bedford 25 miles southeast.

SIX ROADS P. O. (So called from the fact that six public roads centre here), is situate in W. St. Clair township. There is a good store at the place. Distance 14 miles from Bedford.

SHELLSBURG is situate on the eastern slope of Chestnut Ridge, 9 miles west of Bedford, on the turnpike leading to Pittsburgh. The town was laid out by John Schell in 1810, and by an Act of the Legislature dated the 19th of March, 1838, was incorporated into a Borough. The village is beautifully located on an elevated plain forming one of the approaches to the famous Allegheny, affording a delightful view of the surrounding hills and valleys and adjacent villages. The town has about 500 inhabitants, many of whom can boast of noble ancestry. The Society is good and morals excellent.

The German Reformed, Lutherans, Methodists, and Presbyterians have each respectable congregations. The educational interests of the place are under the supervision of Prof. Wm. Vaughan, who is conducting a fine select school. A beautiful town hall, the property of the Odd Fellows, (recently erected), is an enterprise worthy of commendation. The business interests of the town have suffered from want of railroad facilities. The town has four or five good stores and the necessary mechanical industries, principal of which is the fine steam tannery of Mr. W. A. B. Clark. The annual production of this factory is 4,000 sides (upper stock) for market, with quite an amount of country work.

STONERSTOWN is situated in Liberty township where the H. & B. T. R. R. crosses the Juniata, north of Saxton. It has a church, school house and about 40 private residences. On the completion of the railroad its principal business was attracted to Saxton. Distance from Bedford 28 miles.

SAXTON is on the line of the H. & B. T. R. R. where Shoup's Run branches. The headquarters of this line of road, their machine shops, round houses, and principal buildings being located here. It is the coal centre of the county, as all the coal shipments from Broad Top are made from this point. The town boasts of an excellent school, several religious societies, an Odd Fellows' hall, and about 60 private residences. Distance from the county seat 28 miles.

SPRING HOPE is in East St. Clair township, on the Quaker Valley Road, west of Fishertown. It has a fine grist mill, store, school-house and ten or twelve private residences. Distance from Bedford nine miles.

SPRING MEADOW is in East St. Clair township, the location of the well known Trout Springs, one of the finest bodies of water in the county. There is a fine grist mill, store, and eight or ten residences in the immediate vicinity, surrounded by an excellent farming community. Distance from Bedford 12 miles northwest, STUCKEYVILLE P. O.—At the junction of the Pittsburgh and Wheeling turnpikes, and near Napier station on the B. & B. R. R., 5 miles west of Bedford.

TATESVILLE—The first station on the railroad east of Everett, founded by Jos. W. Tate, Esq., of Bedford. Here is mined nearly all the iron ore used by the Riddlesburg furnace. The town has a store, hotel, saw mill, two churches, a school house, and 25 or 30 residences in and around the place. Distance from Bedford twelve miles via Railroad.

WOLFSBURG—(Named in honor of the late Rev. David Wolf)—A station on the B. & B. Railroad west of Bedford. It has a fine grist-mill and saw-mill, a church and parsonage, school house, and an excellent store. The Kemble Coal & Iron Company are mining good ore near this place. It contains about 20 residences. Distance from Bedford three miles.

WEST END P. O.—At the west end of Dry Ridge, on the Wheeling turnpike, 18 miles west from Bedford.

YELLOW CREEK P. O. is located at Steel's Mills, a small town on Yellow Creek, midway between Hopewell and Pattonville. Smith Bros. have a good store at this point. Distance 16 miles northeast from Bedford.

WOODBERRY BOROUGH—Situate near the centre of Morrison's Cove (the garden spot of Bedford county).—is one of the most pleasantly located towns in Bedford county, and the scenery around is romantic and beautiful beyond description. Water power of the first order, and not excelled by that of any county in the State for manufacturing purposes, is here at hand. Immense deposits of iron ore and limestone are met with everywhere in the vicinity, and the principal mines and ore banks being connected by rail with the furnaces. Wealth and general prosperity are the characteristics of its people.

A fine grist mill, several excellent stores, an Odd Fellows' Hall, a Normal School, and one or two good churches, with the usual mechanical establishments, all in a flourishing condition, are here. Distance from Bedford 20 miles northeast.

WATERSIDE—On the turnpike leading from Pattonville to Woodberry; the residence of the late Hon. Jos. B. Noble, and the location of the large woolen manufacturing establishment of Messrs. J. I Noble & Bro. is one of the most attractive spots in Morrison's Cove. It has two fine churches, a good school house, and a hotel. It was founded by the Hon. Jos. B Noble, and is the property, principally, of his heirs. Distance from Bedford 18 miles northeast.

BARCLAY & KEGG, Coal Dealers. This is a sound firm and drives a lively trade.

STONER & LINE, Furniture, &c., Pitt st. An enterprising business firm and doing all in their power to merit public patronage.

WM. BRICE, Cigar Manufactory. Mr. B. is manufacturing an excellent brand of Cigars, and is building up a substantial trade. Dealers in this line of goods, would do well to patronize this establishment.

AMONG the mechanical industries of Bedford county, the Iron Foundry, Machine Shops and Wood Shops of Messrs. SHIRES & JORDAN, of Bedford, are worthy of note. This establishment has been in operation for many years, and the agricultural implements (and especially the Threshing Machines) manufactured here, have wide reputation for excellence. The annual production amounts now to about $10,000. Much less than it was before the general depression in business.

EVERETT.

J. B. & S. D. WILLIAMS.—This Dry Goods, Grocery and Produce House is the largest and has the most extensive trade of any house of the kind in the county. The enterprising spirit and indefatigable energy of the members of this firm have instilled a new life into the business interests of Everett.

A. J. NYCUM—Dry Goods and Groceries—Although not one of the oldest, this house ranks among the best business houses here. Mr. N., having ample means and a genial, business-like reputation, is making hosts of friends and driving a brisk trade.

J. J. BARNDOLLAR has had refitted the old J. M. Barndollar house with a large stock of dry goods, groceries, &c., and as the many friends of the old firm still patronize him, it is not surprising to see this House start off again with a large trade.

F. M. MASTERS—Wholesale and Retail Drug Store. This is one of the largest and most substantial business houses of the kind in Pennsylvania. The proprietor is a gentleman who bears an irreproachable moral and business reputation, and has, by honest industry and a liberal share of printers' ink succeeded in building up the largest business of the kind in the county.

P. G. MORGART—Dry Goods and Groceries—This house, although but recently established, is fast becoming one of the substantial houses of the town, and is securing a liberal patronage.

ADDITIONAL BUSINESS LOCALS.

WE INADVERTENTLY OMITTED to call the attention of our patrons to the wholesale and retail tobacco establishment of W. B. MILLER & BRO., successors to Crouse & Shires. They have fully demonstrated the fact that you can buy Tobacco cheaper at home than in the city, thus saving freight. The senior member of the firm has visited and made arrangements with some of the largest factories in the country, by which they save the commission made by city jobbers. Having control of all the popular brands, they are prepared to fill orders promptly.

WE INVITE special attention to the advertisements of woolen goods by the MESSRS. NOBLE and also of ADAM ULLERY, agent for the Keagy factory. Those who witnessed the fine display of manufactured goods on exhibition at our late fair, must have been impressed with the degree of perfection attained in this department of our home industries.
