HISTORY OF THE BONE SURNAME

Bone from Bohon, located n., Normandy. Or French Bouhon; Dutch Boon; German Bohn; Flemish Bon;

"Bone is usually for France le bon, but both Bones and Baines may be taken literally. Compounds are Longbones, Langbain, Cockbain, Smallbones, Rawbon, the obsolete Sorebones, and the existing Hollebon, Hollowbone, Hollowbone, corresponding exactly to German Holbein. Bain is Scottish." ("Surnames" by Ernest Weekley, M. A.)

Ireland - The following were among the principle families in Ireland, from the English invasion down to the reign of King Henry VIII, among them being the names of some of the old Irish Proprietors who remained in possession of their ancient estates, or, who were transplanted to other parts of Ireland.

Families in Ireland down to the 15th Century

Chamhin ("CHaimb"): Irish, a bone: his sons; a quo O'Chaimhim, anglicised Nevin, MacNevin, Bone, Bonass and Bowen

O'Cinnshnamba - anglicised means Bones (of families of HY-Fiachrach)

IRISH IN AMERICA

("The Irish In America," by Carl Wittke)

People of the lowest level usually were too poor to emigrate and did not leave until they were faced with the inexorable choice between flight and death. The Irish emigrant before 1830 came largely from the farming class that stood between the gentry and the lowest type of peasant laborer. After they had a lease of around thirty acres, for twenty-one years or longer, even this group, though somewhat higher in social scale, suffered from the disastrous system of subletting and had no real inducements to improve their holdings. In some cases the average size farm was ten acres or less and many were under five.

("The American Irish" by William V. Shannon)

The Irish in the 16th and 17th Century did not fight for National Independence but fought for the right to hold their lands, religion, glory of the Stuart kings, some ancient grievance or local quarrel, or protest against their common lot misery. 1691 ended it all.

Remnants of Irish nobility and best of fighting men fled abroad to courts of England's enemies and enlisted in the armies of the continent. They were the "Wild Geese" of Irish history. Behind them in Ireland, the Irish aristocrats left a people invertebrate who burned the manor houses. They worked for English landlords who possessed three-fourths of the land, had no legal right or fixed tenure to the soil. They held their cottages and acres only if they paid annual rent to the English landlords. After 1691 the English had a new penal code whereby the Irish were deprived of Civil rights, exploited and subject to hanging or deportation for trivial offenses. No Irish Catholic could vote, enter a University, become a lawyer, work in government, marry a protestant or buy land from a Protestant. They were forced to pay tithes to the Anglican Church. The Irish language was forbidden, and schools became almost unknown. The penal code survived for one hundred and twenty-five years.

("Colonists from Scotland: Emigrates to North America, 1702-1783" by San Charles Cargill Graham)

In 1717, 594 Scottish prisoners reached plantations of South Carolina, Maryland and Virginia. Treason was the crime sentencing prisoners to compulsory emigration to American Colonies in the 17th and 18th Centuries.

In 1739 the Earl of Egmont, Secretary to Georgia Trustees, learned that Scots of Darien began keeping cattle and General Oglethorpe in 1740 seized the money obtained for cattle and used it to amortize the loan. Many Scots then removed to South Carolina.

SOUTH CAROLINA BONES

The first record of a Bone to South Carolina was Jacob Bone, who received a Town Grant, February 13, 1736, in Purrysburg, Beaufort County, South Carolina. No further record of this Jacob Bone was found.

Some of the first Bones in South Carolina records were John Bone, George Bone, and John Bone in Cheraw District in 1790. This District comprises the counties of Marlboro, Darlington, and Chesterfield. There was a George Bone in the Georgetown District, Prince George Parish in 1800. After 1800, there is no further record of Bones in the Orangeburg County Census.

John Bone of Chesterfield County, born about 1740 married Elizabeth Jordan, January 19, 1762 and had the following children:

1. John Bone, of Marlboro, born about 1764, and died 1822, Marlboro County. His wife, Jane, was about the same age, and in 1800, they had five male children under 10, and 2 female children under 10. (1800 Marlboro Census)
2. Abner Bone, born about 1770. In 1800 he had 2 male children under 10 and 2 female children under 10.
3. James Bone, born about 1780.
4. Daniel Bone, of Chesterfield, born about 1765. In 1810, he had one female child under 16, and one female child under 26. Daniel owned 16 slaves in 1820. No further record after 1820. (Died 1820-1830)
5. Archibald Bone, born about 1780. In 1810, he had one female child age 10. Archibald owned 16 slaves in 1820. In 1830, he had 1 male child age, 15-20, 1 male child age 20-30, 1 female 20-30, 1 female 15-20. No further record after 1830.
His issue:
 - A. John L. P. Bone, born 1812, farmer. Wife, Abigail (b. 1815)
His issue:
 - (1) Sarah Bone b. 1835
 - (2) Charles Bone b. 1839
 - (3) Eliza Bone b. 1841
 - (4) Elisha Bone b. 1842
 - (5) Jane Bone b. 1844
 - (6) Flora b. 1847
 - (7) Margaret Bone b. 1848
 - B. Elijah Bone born about 1805. Manufacturer and trader in 1840. 1840, 1 male child under 5, 1 male 5-10, 1 female age 10-15. Wife born between 1800-1810.

George Bone born 1763, Marlboro County, South Carolina. Died after 1840. In 1790, he was in the Cheraw District, farmer and in 1830, Marlboro County Census, he is the only Bone family still in that county, with one female age 5-10, 1 female age 15-20, and one female age 40-50 (this last female is believed to be Sally Crop, a girl living in the family). In 1840, there is also a female child age 30-40. The last child was born about 1820 or 1825. He appears on the 1850 Marlboro County, N. C. Census with one son under 10, one son 10-16, and one daughter 16 & over. He died August, 1845.

George Bone, Continued

George Bone served in the Revolutionary War in Captain Thomas' Company in South Carolina and in North Carolina in Col. Crawford's Regiment. He made application for a pension, March 21, 1837, while residing in Chesterfield County, South Carolina, and was granted this pension in 1840, age 77.

The following is a Revolutionary War Pay Voucher, which is a pay record sent to George Bone from the State of North Carolina:

No. 2443. State of North Carolina, Auditors Office, Salisbury District, Lower Board. Nineteenth July, 1784. This may certify that George Bone exhibited his claim and was allowed the sum of Eleven Pounds, Five Shillings.

THE PENSION OF GEORGE BONE

Chesterfield Court House
May 3, 1837

G. L. Edwards, Esquire;

Sir, early in the year of 1834, George Bone applied to me to prepare his declaration in order to obtain a Pension under the Act of June 7th, 1832. I then prepared his declaration and instructed him to attend at March Court (1834) with a clergyman and one or two respectable citizens who would give the certificate required in the instructions from the Department and with such other proof of service as he could get.

He did not attend. He afterward applied to me to prepare his declaration again, stating as his reason for not attending that he could not get the individuals upon whose certificate he depended to attend at the time appointed, but thought that he could procure the certificate by the next court after this second application to me, this was in 1836. He failed to attend again. But meeting with him afterward he mentioned the subject of his declaration and I absolutely refused to have anything further to do with the matter, as I had been at considerable trouble and he had wholly neglected the matter.

He stated that he had failed to attend because he could not provide the attendance of any clergyman who could give the requisite certificate, and that he understood from what I had said that the certificate of a clergyman was absolutely necessary. This was in the early part of this year and I prepared the Declaration which was sent to you believing that his failures had provided from the facts stated by him and knowing that I had instructed him to procure the Certificate of a clergyman. As the certificate of Aaron Knight - I am informed it was taken at the instance of the brother of this applicant who has been some time dead. Aaron Knight lived in Georgia at the time of giving the certificate forwarded to you. I know nothing of him myself but I know he has the character in this community of a man of truth and of having been a Revolutionary soldier. I am informed that Aaron Knight and Moses Knight are both now dead.

The facts he stated with regards the times of preparing the several declarations for the said George Bone, I am able to say are correct having prepared the two first and having three now before me.

Hoping the above may be satisfactory

I am & C your Abd. Servt.

Mr. Boan lives at some distance from this place-

I do not know where I shall see him - Please inform me whether the above is Satisfactory.

Excerpt from Declaration of George Bone (In order to obtain the benefit of the Act of Congress, passed June 7, 1832) State of South Carolina, Chesterfield District.

"That he was born in what is now the District of Marlboro, in the State aforesaid, in January in the year of our lord one thousand seven hundred and sixty three that his age was set down in a Bible given to this deponent, by his father, when a boy at school - that many leaves of the Bible have since been destroyed and amongst them that on which his age was written.

That this deponent went into the revolutionary service in December in the year one thousand seven hundred and seventy eight, at which time he volunteered for one month under Captain Tristan Thomas - Stephens orderly sergeant that he does not recollect the names of the other officers of Capt. Thomas Company, nor does he know that it was attached to any Battalion or Regiment, but appears to act alone against the Tories of Marlboro District. That he served the whole month under Captain Thomas but was not in any engagement during the time. At the expiration of the month he returned to his father's, who shortly afterwards removed to Richmond County, North Carolina, taking this deponent with him. That in March 1779, he was drafted in Richmond County, North Carolina, for three months under Captain John Speed, Major John Jones & Col. Thomas Crawford; he does not recollect what the Regiment was called. Before marching they were joined by Col. Wade who took command of the Regiment; he then marched under the said officers from the house of Col. Crawford in Richmond County, by way of Greens Swamp to Betting Bridge or Downing Creek where a number of Tories were there lying under the command of Col. Hector McNeill; the night before we attacked them Col. Fanning with a number of Tories joined Col. McNeill Through the force of Col. Wade was greatly inferior to that of McNeill & Fanning, he made the attack and was completely defeated. In this engagement the deponent received five bullet holes through his coat and had his horse shot out under him - at the moment deponents horse fell, a Tory Captain of horse rode up near him & ordered him to surrender, deponent's gun was loaded & he shot the captain and made his escape upon his horse - that he was out in this tour the whole three months for which he was drafter.

That some time afterwards he volunteered under the same officers (except Col. Wade) Col. Thomas Crawford having the command and marched from Pee-Dee River in Richmond County, to near Wilmington, North Carolina in order to join General Rutherford's army, intending to assist him in driving the British, who had possession of Wilmington. Rutherfords army was on the opposite side of the river and that he (Col. Crawford) could not cross. The next day after Col. Crawford arrived near the town, the British marched out and crossed the River toward Col. Crawfords Camp, who immediately retreated a few miles. The next day Genl Rutherford took possession of the town and this deponent returned home with Col. Crawfords Regiment, having served four months in this tour - making in this whole a service of eight months in the Militia.

That he never received any discharge - that he lived in Richmond County, North Carolina from the time his father settled there as above stated until 1831. In January of 1831, he removed to Marlboro District in South Carolina and resided there until February 1832, he removed to Chesterfield District where he now resides. This deponent does not know or recollect any of his companions in arms who are now alive having lately learned that Aaron Knight who lived in the State of Georgia and Moses Knight who lived in Richmond County, North Carolina are both dead.

April 13, 1837

Sir

I have seen the declaration of George Bone, and have placed upon the files of my office. Why he has so long delayed his application, is not stated. The affidavit of Aaron Knight, was taken, it seems, more than four years since. Neither Aaron nor Moses Knight was able to furnish such evidence of service to justify the enrollment upon the pension lists. Some Explanations will be required of Mr. Bone.

It is hereby certified that satisfactory evidence has been exhibited before one Clerk of the Court of Chesterfield District that George Bone was a Revolutionary Pensioner of the United States at the rate of Twenty Dollars per annum and that he died in August eighteen hundred and forty five leaving surviving the following named Widow and children to wit Penelope Bone who died about 1847 and Martha Stogner and John W. Bone now living It is further certified that E. T. Morgan Esq. before whom the preceding affidavit and Power of Attorney were made and acknowledged was at the time of doing so specially authorized Justice of the Peace in and for said District and that the signature purporting to be his I believe to be genuine and further that in the written claim for Pension I am interested.

In testimony whereof I have hereunto

Mr.

I have received the informant's application of the surviving children of George Bone for increase of his pension. The grounds of this demand for increase is not stated; but the papers upon which the father of claimant was inscribed upon the pension rolls under the Act of June 7, 1832 have been examined and it is not perceived that they would justify any additional allowance.

The State of South Carolina

Henry Boan of the District & State aforesaid says on oath that he is the son - the oldest living child - of Lewis Boan & Mary Boan. Deponent always understood & believes that his father Lewis Boan was a Whig & served in the War of the Revolution. Deponent has often heard his father say that he turned out as a volunteer against the Torgs at the age of sixteen, but deponent dont recollect to have heard him say how long he served on his first tour; Deponent also heard him say that he served near Charleston on Sullivans Island, Bully Island, & other places as a drafted soldier, a tour of six months. Deponent has also heard his father say that he served another tour, but how long deponent dont remember, but deponent does remember, but but deponent does remember that his father said in the line of his last tour he was in the fight at Billis Bridge on Drowning Creek in North Carolina, where he was wounded & taken prisoner, & that he was afterwards paroled by Fanning the Tory Colonel who commanded the enemy at Billis Bridge. His father was wounded in the thigh four or five inches above the knee; Deponent has often seen the Scars - one on each side of the thigh where the ball probed. Deponent dont know under whom his father served in the first tour above mentioned; In the second tour above mentioned his father said he and Aaron Knight (now dead) served as soldiers together, but deponent cant say under what officer or officers he served. In the Battle at Billis Bridge, deponent thinks his father was under the command of Colonel Wade; and was under the immediate command of a Lieut. or Ensign Jordan. Deponent has heard his father say that he served under Major Speed, but how long at what time, or at what places deponent cant say further than that he was with Speed on the Pee-Dee River. Deponent dont know the age of his father at the time of his death or the year in which he was born. Nor can deponent state precisely when his father & mother were married as early or before 1793, for deponent will be sixty one years old the twelfth day of our lord (1850) and he has always understood that he was born less than two years after the marriage of his father & mother. Deponents mother lost a child by miscarriage before deponent was born, which is the reason deponent says above that he is the oldest living child of his parents.

Deponent cant say where his father died but knows he died upwards of thirty years ago & left deponents mother a widow, & she continued a widow up to the time of her death. She (deponents mother) died the twelfth day of April in the year one thousand eight hundred & forty five leaving at the time of her death this deponent Henry Boan, Elizabeth Boan, Killis Boan, Aggy who married Jacob Holby, Phoeby who married Edward Boan, Gilly Boan, & William Boan, and perhaps Rachel & Wirrey Boan: Rachel & Wirrey left this part of the country many years ago & whether they be alive or dead deponent dont know; Gilly Boan died unmarried since the death of her mother. All the above named were the children of Lewis & Mary Boan. Deponent makes this declaration on behalf of himself & his aforesaid brothers & sisters in order to obtain for himself & for any Pension from the Government of the United States, the right to which had been conferred on his mother in her life time by the Act of Congress.

NORTH CAROLINA BONES

Bone families have lived in North Carolina from its earliest days until the present. The early Bone families, for the most part moved on to other places, sometimes leaving behind members of their families.

One of the earliest Bone on record is John Bone, who, October 11, 1749, petitioned for warrant for land, (300 acres) in Anson County, which was granted. The next year, April 4, 1750, John Bone petitioned for patents on 300 acres in Anson County.

There were five Bones who served in the Revolutionary War from North Carolina.

1. James Bone, Pvt. January, 1778, Allen's Co. 2nd Regiment. (Col. Alex Martin). Enlisted 1/15/1777 for 3 years. Died 6/17/1783. No further record in North Carolina.
2. Thomas Bone, Comptroller's Office Certificate dated 1785, Salisbury District. No further record in North Carolina.
3. William Bone, Claims Allowed and passed from 7/16/1783 to 3/19/1784 Salisbury District.
4. John Bone, Pvt. in John C. Smith's Company. Payroll Sept. and Oct. 1779.
5. Archibald Bone. Received pension in 1840 for service in Revolutionary War.

Three Early North Carolina Bone Families

Archibald Bone, while serving in the Revolution, at camp near Charleston, S. C. where the men had applied for discharge. The men were told they would be put under guard and be court-martialed. Many deserted at this time.... "Arch Bone acted as pilot to these deserters - the rest were late deserters from Scotland." (State Records of North Carolina) In 1790 Arch Bone was living in Cumberland County, North Carolina with three males under 16 and four females. In the 1827 Georgia Land Lottery he drew land from Washington County.

John Bone was born February 14, 1757 in Richmond County, North Carolina. He had one son b. 1765-1774, 3 sons b. 1790-1800, and 4 daughters b. 1790-1800. Sometime after 1800, he moved to Montgomery County, Tennessee, where he lived for 2 years, then he moved to Hopkins County, Kentucky, where he lived 12 or 13 years, then returned to Montgomery County, Tennessee, where he lived 9 or 10 years, then moved to Hickman County, Kentucky where he filed the following petition:

Congress passed June 7th 1832 - That he enlisted in the Army of the United States in the year (1777 on the 13th May) in the third Regiment of the South Carolina Continental line under the following named officers - John Bone states that he enlisted in Cheraw district on the 13th May after the Battle at Sullivans Island under Col. Wm Thompson, Major Samuel Wiso, Captain John Caraway Smith, Lieutenant John Crowder, Ensign Aaron Smith - From Esquiro Wilsons where he enlisted he was marched to the west side of the Santee about seven miles from the Eutaw Springs; from thence he went to Charleston, There went out to Ninety six district under Lieut. Crowder to take care of the garrison - Went back sometime after this to Charleston - Then was sent to the Midway Meeting house in Georgia under General Lee - Then to Savannah and was there at the fall of the same when it was taken by the British. Fled from this place and rallied on the east side of the Savannah river opposite the two sisters. At this place General Lincoln took the Command and moved them to Pruriesburg - Here he lay some time until the French fleet came up when he went to the siege of Savannah and there after a two weeks or thereabouts preparation fought a Battle in which his Major Wiso was killed & Count Pulaski was wounded and afterwards died. He well remembers attending the funeral, but some said there was no body in the coffin - From the defeat of Savannah went to a place called General Bull or Shildin Hill or some such name - There he believes he wintered When the army went down to Charleston he went to Smiths Plantation with the horses & when he returned the British had so besieged Charleston that he could not get in - He remained at Orangeburg & Edisto until some time in April & was discharged when his term of three years had expired - He was born in Richmond County North Carolina Foby 14th 1757 and lost the record of his age (shortly after his marriage) the burning down of his house which consumed his discharge and all other papers.

Sometime after this between the battle of Guilford and the battle at the Eutaw Springs he enlisted for 12 months under Col. Peter Horry (commonly called Col. Orce) Major Benson, Capt Wethers, & Lieutenant Edmonson & Ensign Lesame near the Cheraw Hills, and got eleven guineas bounty: but never received another cent though promises twenty dollars per month - At the battle of Eutaw Springs he was stationed about 13 miles distant - Not far from the Widow Tiddymans on Santee were surprised by a party of British, believes the commanders name was Thompson - In this action lost Major Benson Afterwards rallied at Georgetown about 20 miles off, and there lay until discharged.

Moved from Richmond County North Carolina to Montgomery County Tennessee where he lived 2 years - Then to Hopkins County Kentucky, where he resided 1w or 13 years - Then returned to Tennessee where he lived 9 or 10 years & then to this county where he has resided three years - James Baggett of Montgomery County, Tennessee if alive would prove his service for he served with him at Stones where they had a Battle - He has no documentary evidence as he has stated nor does he know of any other person who can establish his service nor does he know that the man James Baggett is alive - He lives near Abner Meccum & Joshua Cole who can testify to his credibility and his character for truth and veracity - He asks his country for the promises dues of land & money which has been so long withheld - He here relinquishes every claim whatever to a pension or annuity except the present & declares his name is not on the pension roll of any agency of the United States

State of Tennessee
Maury County

John King a citizen of Maury County, Tennessee makes oath that he knew William Bone the husband of Jemima Bone who is now making application to the government of the United States for a pension for the services of said husband during the revolutionary war. Witness states that he is now in his 69th year. Witness was born in Rowan County, North Carolina and within a few miles of where William Bone the husband of said Jemima then lived. That said William Bone resided in said County as early as witness can remember anything. And witness information is that said Bone resided in said County of Rowan when he was engaged in the military service of the United States and witness feels satisfied that he is the same William Bone who was paid the ? of the State of N Carolina having heard the said William talk often times of being in said service and while said William lived he was always regarded by his acquaintances as a revolutionary soldier. The County of Rowan was divided and after said division said William Bone and witness were thrown into what is now Iredell County, N. C. That said Bone resided in N. Carolina until about 1810 when said Bone moved to Wilson County, Tennessee where he resided until the day of his death. Witness Father was also engaged in said service and he and William Bone were both in the same company. He has heard his father and said Bone talk the matter over and over time and time again.

"Henry Bone, farmer, Dallas, Paulding County, son of Bailey and Nancy (Evans) Bone, was born in Georgia in 1834. His grandfather, George Bone was a native of Ireland and migrated to this country about 1770. He was, a soldier in the patriot army during the Revolutionary War and after peace was declared in South Carolina, but soon afterward migrated to Georgia and settled in what is now Madison County, where Mr. Bone's father was born in 1800.. He was reared on the farm there, received a limited education at the "old field" schools common to the time and remained in the county until 1835 when he moved to Carroll County, to engage in gold-mining in which he was quite successful. Ten years later he moved to Paulding County, where he farmed until his death in 1859. Mr. Bone's mother was a daughter of William and Celia Evans and was born in what is now Madison County in 1802. In 1822 she was married to Mr. Bone and in 1889 died, aged 87 years, the mother of 8 children.

William, John, Henry, Mrs. Celia Abliss, Mrs. Mary Owens, Atlanta, Mrs. Nancy Owens, Mrs. Elizabeth Collins and Mrs. Addie Drake. Mr. Bone was reared on the farm, received a very limited education and worked on his farm until Georgia seceded. He enlisted in Co. K., 60 Ga. Reg. and he went to the front and participated in the battles of Gettysburg, 2nd Manassas, the Wilderness and minor engagements. At Staunton, Virginia, he was prostrated with measles, with which he suffered some time severely. He was never wounded but on one occasion a ball struck his canteen and passing through on side glanced from the other. He was sent home a few days before the surrender and never returned to the Army. Returning to his farm he re-habilitated it and here enjoyed the prosperity due to hard work and good management. He owns and operates a fine, well-stocked farm just outside the corporate limits of Dallas and is regarded as one of the best farmers in the county. Mr. Bone was married in 1869 to Miss Ella, daughter of A. am and Marion (Martin) Summers, formerly of South Carolina....."
