INTRODUCTION.

LITTLE could even the most sanguine of the early emigrants to America have contemplated the subsequent effect which their action would work upon the world's history. Some of them, it is true, were men of position at home, with wealth and all its concomitant advantages at their disposal, but by far the greater number was composed of comparatively obscure men—men of little means, but possessed of hearts and consciences of too honest a nature to permit them quietly to submit to the intolerance which was forced upon them at home. But those whose names are recorded in the following pages, with many others of whom no such minute particulars have come down to us, were the seed-grains from which the mighty Republic has sprung—the rapid growth of which has no parallel in the world's history. Colonization was but imperfectly developed in those early days, and many attempted settlements proved abortive; but the first settlers in Virginia, and subsequently those in New England, carried with them the elements of success, resulting in permanent establishments.

Of the history of the Colonies, and the eventual establishment of independence, I have nothing to say. My object is simply and briefly to point out some of the causes which contributed to the early emigration of English families to America, and then to estimate the practical value of the contents of the present volume as a means of assistance in making genealogical researches in the mother country.

One of the earliest acts of Charles the First—an act which raised a storm of indignation throughout the country,—was the imposition of a forced loan without the grant of Parliament. The manner in which this unconstitutional measure was treated by those called upon to contribute towards the assessment, is well illustrated by the events which took place in Lincolnshire, and a relation of the part taken by the leading men of that locality, some of whom were related to, or intimately associated with, the principal agents in the subsequent emigration to Massachusetts, under JOHN WINTHROP, in 1630, will be of some interest to the descendants of the New England emigrants.

One of the richest men in the county of Lincoln, who strenuously opposed the forced loan, was ISAAC JOHNSON, who, as is well known, married the Lady ARABELLA FENIX, sister to THOMAS, Earl of LINCOLN, who himself married a sister of the Lord SAY and SEEL. These two noblemen took a very active part in denouncing the loan as dangerous and unconstitutional. Lord SAY and SEEL, who, during the civil war, some years later, commanded a Parliamentary regiment, openly asserted that he would rather lose half his estate than risk the impoverishment of his posterity by the establishment of so dangerous a precedent as a loan without the sanction of Parliament. But Lord LINCOLN's opposition to the loan was more immediately productive of disqualification. As soon as it was proposed he took upon himself to have an Abjuration of the Statutes prepared for distribution; and it is not unlikely that in the compilation of this document he was aided by his former steward, THOMAS DUDLEY, who subsequently went over to New England, and became Governor of Massachusetts. DUDLEY had received a legal education, under his relative, Sir AUGUSTINE NICHOL, one of the Justices of the Common Pleas, and was, therefore, peculiarly fitted for the work. The immediate result of this act on the part of Lord LINCOLN, was to bring down upon himself and his servants the resentment of the King and his party, and the Abjuration was rigorously suppressed. Not only was his lordship proceeded against in the Star Chamber, but more completely to crush out the attempts made to incense the people, a proclamation was issued for the apprehension of JOHN HOLLAND, Steward to the Earl, and ROBERT BLOW, the Clerk of his kitchen; and further, a Groom in the household of his lordship was condemned in the Star

Chamber to pay a fine of £2000 for his share in distributing the obnoxious work. The Earl was soon after committed a close prisoner to the Tower, where he remained in custody for some years. I have not and any evidence of what was the result of the attempts made to apprehend HOLLAND and BLOW, but there are reasons for supposing that both escaped detection. A ROBERT BLOW, in all probability the same person, was subsequently an ensign in the regiment of Lord SAY and SEEL, the nobleman before mentioned. The only trace of HOLLAND we have met with brings out some information respecting the residence, at Boston, of THOMAS DUDLEY, and the estimated value of his early income.

Letter from Sir EDWARD HERON, addressed to Sir HUMPHREY MAVE, Chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster:—

Letter from Sir EDWARD HERON, addressed to Sir HUMPHREY MAY, Chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster.—

“EDWARD HERON.

“Yet maye you please further to vnderstande, that this Mr. DUDLEY syngre reported to have good p. an, some saye good, refused vpon our earnest request to heare you, towards the haue with a neyghbour that has deeply charged as we have informed in our certifiatts vnto the heads of the counsell, wherof I beseech your honor to direct the plyverye.

“Since the writings herof, I vnderstande that one ADDAM KESTON brother in law vnto the s^r Mr. HOLLAND, came riding through our streets on brayes in the night, the 20th of this month, with a gentleman behinde him, supposed to be the wyfe of Mr. HOLLAND, greynge towards Boston; and as other gent. seeminge swillings to be knowen.

“You maye also please to take into your consideration that one BENJAMINE DUNSTON of Boston alderman, that the tyme of Boston is able and ought to contribute to the charge and expence of theyre late mayor & Eld. THOMAS, of wch the that suffer trouble in cause of the same; and to helpe towards theyre losses & JOHN HOBSON, Collector.

“The same DUNSTON was yf leads yet sett out th by the lords at Lincolne.”

A long list of Lincolnshire men who refused to contribute to the loan, has been preserved. Ten of the principal of them were immediately committed to prison—viz JOHN WEALE, Sir THOMAS GRANTHAM, and Sir EDWARD ARDEN, to the Gaol House; Sir WILLIAM ARMYN, Sir THOMAS DUNSTON, WILLIAM ARDENSON, Esq, the Mayor of Boston, and ALGERNON EDWARD TUDOR of that town; to the Fleet; and WILLIAM TUDOR (TUDOR, Esq, and W. HOBSON, Esq, to the Marshalsea. The Boston men who refused to lend, or to enter into bond for their appearance before His Majesty's Privy Council, beside the Mayor, and ALGERNON TUDOR, were ARTHUR HUNTER (ARTHUR HUNTER, EDWARD JOHNSON, RICHARD DUNSTON, THOMAS LEVETT, THOMAS LOWE, THOMAS TUCK, JOHN COFFIN, WILLIAM COTTINGTON (COTTINGTON), WILLIAM CUNDE, and RICHARD WESTLAND. Of these LEVETT, COTTINGTON, and HUNTER subsequently went out to New England, and there attained positions of eminence. The London prisoners were soon filled with the most important of the characters from various parts of the country, but chiefly from the city of London, Lincolnshire, Northamptonshire, Essex, and Gloucestershire. The cells being filled to repletion, and moreover the expense of maintaining prisoners proving a heavy charge upon the State—already impoverished—the great majority were liberated from confinement, but were not allowed, however, to return to their own homes for fear of their stirring a fresh disaffection among their neighbours. Thus a delinquent belonging to Essex would be sent, perhaps, to Wiltshire, or Yorkshire, and under pain of severe punishment, forbidden to leave the town in which he was located, where, by-the-way, under the semblance of being a free man, he was compelled to earn, or at least procure, his own living.

This was a very ill-advised proceeding on the part of the Government for each man thus removed to a distant town soon formed a focus of discontent. One of the most energetic of these prisoners, in free study, as it was termed, was RICHARD KNIGHTLEY, a gentleman belonging to Northamptonshire, an intimate friend of the leaders of the Massachusetts Colony, and connected by marriage with JOHN HAMPTDEN, in conjunction with whom he was named as executor to the will of ISAAC DRINSON.

Most of the proceedings against the remonstrants were taken in the Star Chamber, the decree-books of which are unfortunately lost, or we might readily have traced many, if not all the suits, citations, fines and amercements instituted in, or imposed by, the Court. The Star Chamber was a tribunal taking cognizance of all kinds of delinquencies, and there still remains in the Record Office an immense mass of documents appertaining to suits before the Court, in which, when they can be sorted, arranged, and made available to the public, we may hope to find some important information respecting the personal histories of some of the original settlers in New England.

The proceedings, which were taken chiefly against the Nonconformists, caused many English families to leave their homes. Unfortunately, the records of the High Court of Commission, which has been not inaptly called “The English Inquisition,” are very imperfect, but enough remains to show that proceedings were taken in it against many of the ministers and public men who afterwards became eminent in the New England States. It was not until the Rev. JOHN COTTON, RICHARD BELLINGHAM, recorder, and WILLIAM COTTINGTON, a member of the corporation of the town of Boston (Mass.) had been fined for noncompliance, that they gave up their English possessions and places to their friends in Massachusetts. Other instances might be adduced to the same result attending prosecutions in that Court.

The imposition of Ship Money was the extraordinary measure that drove hundreds from England to find homes in America, and another cause, was that which most of all contributed to bring about the war between the King and the Parliament. Though, after a long and tedious struggle, the levy of ship money was declared to be illegal, enough had been effected to make far-sighted men tremble for impending troubles, and no doubt the stand made by men of great influence and high position, such as HUME, who was intimately associated with the leaders of the Massachusetts settlement, had an immense weight with persons of an inferior standing in worldly wealth. By the Act of Parliament, which declared the illegality of the tax, it was ordered that all proceedings which had been taken should be cancelled, and in consequence a wholesale destruction of documents must have taken place, which, had they been preserved, would have been of great value to the topographer and geologist, as the bills of assessments were very minute. One volume of assessments only appears to have escaped the general fate, and this contains the names of all the persons assessed in the county of Essex (with the exception of four towns, numbering about 18,000), and, without doubt, includes many of the subsequent emigrants who went out from that county to New England, in the years 1637 and 1638. A copy of this very interesting document has been prepared for publication.

In 1850, Mr. DANIEL GARDNER DRAKE, of Boston (Mass.), published his "Result of some Researches among the British Archives, for information relative to the Founding of New England."

That work first suggested the desirability of making a systematic collection of authentic documents relating to the early settlers in America, not only to those who resorted to the New England States, but to those also who settled in Virginia, the Summer Islands, Barbadoes, Carolina, Jamaica, and other places. It is impossible to overestimate the value of these records, and it is a matter of the deepest regret that comparatively so few have survived to the present time, and that we have, therefore, of undoubted authenticity, are all that are to be prized. It is a transcript of some of these documents which have been submitted. The aim of the transcriber has been to present an accurate copy of the originals. He has not even ventured to correct palpable mistakes in the spelling of names, or other clerical errors, where such occur, and they are by no means infrequent, he has called attention to the fact, either by inserting the correct word in brackets, or by adding a foot-note, but the text is a faithful reproduction of the original.

There are some papers included in Mr. DRAKE'S volume, which have not been deemed admissible in the body of this work, inasmuch as they are not themselves official documents, but they may not inaptly be quoted here. The first to be noticed are the following lists, taken from the History of Sandwich, being transcripts of records belonging to the corporations of that port.

We have next to notice the record compiled by Mr. DANIEL CUSHING, first printed in Mr. SOLOMON LINCOLN'S Centennial Address, at Hingham, September 28, 1835. It contains the names of one hundred and seventy-five emigrants from the county of Norfolk, who emigrated between the years 1631 and 1638, almost wholly from Hingham, Weymouth, and other neighbouring parishes, and who consequently called their settlement Hingham. But there is something to be said about this migration, which it is believed has hitherto escaped notice—that is, that the movement was largely fostered by, if not directly traceable to, the influence of JOHN HAYNES, who was subsequently Governor of Connecticut.

The first name in the list referred to is that of THEOPHILUS CUSHING, from Hingham, who lived several years upon the farm of Mr. HAYNES, as he is described in the original. Hitherto, Governor HAYNES has always been regarded as an Essex man, and he is said to have married MARY, daughter of ROBERT TRENTON, of Nottingham. This is not in accordance with the facts of the case, for JOHN HAYNES was the son of another JOHN HAYNES, who lived at Great Hadham, and afterwards at Colchester, both in the county of Hertford, but inherited an estate in Essex, which had been purchased by his father. He married MARY, one of the three daughters and co-heiresses of ROBERT TRENTON, who possessed a good estate in Hingham, Weymouth, and Warrington. Mr. TRENTON died when his daughter, who was afterwards Mrs. HAYNES, was very young, and there are reasons for the belief that after the marriage, JOHN HAYNES went to reside at Hingham, and that their first child, called JOHN, whose name is not recorded by any genealogist either in England or America, was born there. But, before he left England, Mr. HAYNES certainly took up his abode in Essex, on a newly-acquired property, called Cogfield. Taking then the residence at Hingham as a mark of the character of HAYNES, it is easy to account for the emigration here, that given especially as the first portion of the company went out in the same year, indeed, there is every reason to suppose that they sailed in the same ship. There can be but little doubt that THEOPHILUS CUSHING was a trusted servant of JOHN HAYNES, and probably a family connection on his wife's side, his maternal grandmother being the heiress of ELMORE CUSHING, by which marriage the THEOPHILUS family acquired the estates at Hingham, Weymouth, and Warrington, which they enjoyed at the time Mr. HAYNES married into that family.

This list of Mr. CUSHING'S is undoubtedly of great value, tending, as it does, to confirm other statements and unofficial lists, but as it is only a compilation made by a private individual, it is not inserted in this work.

There is another very interesting paper included in Mr. DRAKE'S work, which may be briefly noticed. It consists of extracts from the municipal records of Leyden, in Holland, made by the Hon. HENRY C. PURSHY. Many English families took refuge in Leyden, and the list referred to is a register of the births, marriages, and deaths which occurred there among the exiles. It was from Leyden that many of the first settlers in New England, popularly known as the Pilgrim fathers, came, and embarking from English ports, sailed on board the ships Mayflower, Fortuna, Anna, and Little James.

Among other notices contained in this list, are the following:—

WILLIAM BRADFORD, of Austerfield, Eng. m. Nov. 30, 1613.

DOROTHY MAY, of Witzbuts, Eng.*

EDWARD WINSLOW, of London, m. 16 May, 1618, ELIZABETH

BARKER, of Chetsum, Eng.*

JOHN JENNE, of Norwich, Eng. m. 1 Nov. 1614, SARAH CAREY, of Moncksoon.†

The three places here mentioned may be traced as Wisbeach, in Cambridgeshire; Chesham, in Buckinghamshire; and Monk Soham, in Suffolk. A family of the name of MAY certainly lived at Wisbeach at the time referred to, as did one of the name of BARKER at Chesham.

The foregoing extracts sufficiently demonstrate the nature of the Leyden records. Further notices are unnecessary, but the list of those who embarked in the before-mentioned ships is of sufficient value to justify its insertion in this place, though it must be remembered that it is not absolutely official. It is taken from the interesting work of the Rev. Abbel Steele, A.M., entitled "Chief of the Pilgrims, or the Life and Times of William Brewster," Philadelphia, 1837, pp. 401-410.

* Both Bradford and Winslow sailed in the Mayflower.

† His wife probably died shortly afterwards, as the name of John Jenne is given alone in the following list as coming over in the Anna, or Little James.

that the movement was largely fostered by it not directly traceable to the influence of JOHN HAYNES, who was subsequently Governor of Connecticut.

The first name on the list referred to is that of THEOPHILUS CUSHING, from Hingham, who lived several years upon the farm of Mr. HAYNES, as he is described in the original. THEOPHILUS CUSHING has always been regarded as an Essex man, and he is said to have married MARY, daughter of ROBERT THORNTON, of Nottingham. This is not in accordance with the facts of the case. For JOHN HAYNES was the son of another JOHN HAYNES, who died at Great Hadham, and afterwards at Colchester, both in the county of Hertford, but inherited an estate in Essex, which had been purchased by his father. He married MARY, one of the three daughters and co-heiresses of ROBERT THORNTON, who possessed a good estate in Hingham, Weymouth, and Wrentham. Mr. THORNTON died when his daughter, who was afterwards Mrs. HAYNES, was very young, and there are reasons for the belief that after the marriage, JOHN HAYNES went to reside at Hingham, and that their first child, called JOHN (whose name is not recorded by any genealogist either in England or America), was born there. But, before he left England, Mr. HAYNES certainly took up his abode in Essex, on a newly-acquired property, called Capfold. Taking then the residence at Hingham of a man of the character of HAYNES, it is easy to account for the migration from that place, especially as the first portion of the company went out in the same year. Indeed there is every reason to suppose that they sailed in the same ship. There can be but little doubt that THEOPHILUS CUSHING was a trusted servant of JOHN HAYNES, and probably a family connection on his wife's side, her maternal grandmother being the heiress of EDWARD CUSHING, by which marriage the THORNTON family acquired the estate at HINGHAM, Weymouth, and Wrentham, which they occupied at the time Mr. HAYNES married her daughter.

THEOPHILUS CUSHING is undoubtedly of great value, tending, as it does, to confirm other statements and unofficial lists, but as it is only a compilation made by a private individual, it is not inserted in this work.

EDWARD WINSLOW, of London, m. 16 May, 1618, ELIZABETH

BARKER, of Chetsum, Eng.*

The three places here mentioned may be traced as Woburn, in Cambridgeshire; Chesham, in Buckinghamshire; and Monk Soham, in Suffolk. A family of the name of MAY certainly lived at Woburn at the time referred to, as did one of the name of BARKER at Chesham.

The foregoing extracts sufficiently demonstrate the nature of the Leyden records. Further notices are unnecessary, but the list of those who embarked in the before-mentioned ships is of sufficient value to entitle its insertion in this place, though it must be remembered that it is not absolutely official. WILLIAM TREVORE, and — ELY; two seamen; are commonly, but incorrectly reckoned in the number of the first company of passengers for the Colony; Bradford himself says: "Two other seamen were hired to stay a year, * * * when their time was out they both returned." Accordingly he says of the Mayflower company: "These being about a hundred souls, came over in the first ship." Afterwards he adds: "Of these one hundred persons who came over in this first ship together, the greatest half died in the general mortality, and most of them in two or three months' time." Omitting those two hired sailors who returned, and co-opting the person that died and the child that was born while on the passage as one passenger, we have the exact number—one hundred of the Pilgrim Company, "who came over in the first ship." And, as fifty-one died the first season, this enumeration makes good those other words of the historian, that, "the greater half died in the general mortality."

THOMAS TINKER, wife and son; all died in the first sickness.

JOHN KINGSLEY, ALICE, his wife, both died in the first sickness.

JAMES CHILTON, his wife, both died in the first sickness. MARY, their daughter; lived, married, and had nine children. Another married daughter came afterwards.

EDWARD FULLER, his wife, both died in the first sickness. SAMUEL, their son; married, had four children.

JOHN TURNER, two sons; names not given; all three died in the first sickness. A daughter came some years afterwards to Salem and there married.

ANCIS EATON, SARAH, his wife; she died the first winter; by a third marriage he left three children. SAMUEL, a son; married and had one child.

MES FLETCHER, JOHN GOODMAN, THOMAS WILLIAMS, DEBBIE PRIEST, EDMOND MARGESON, RICHARD BRITTON, RICHARD CLARKE; these seven died in the general sickness. The wife of D. Priest, and children, came afterwards, she being the sister of Mr. Allerton.

ETER BROWN; lived some fourteen years after, was twice married, and left four children.

RICHARD GARDINER; became a seaman, and died abroad.

ALBERT WINSLOW; after living here a number of years, returned to England.

JOHN ALLEN; "a hopeful young man," lived at Southampton, married Priscilla Mullens, as mentioned, and had eleven children.

JOHN ALLETON.

THOMAS ENGLISH.

WILLIAM TREVOR, and — ELY; two seamen; are commonly, but incorrectly reckoned in the number of the first company of passengers for the Colony; Bradford himself says: "Two other seamen were hired to stay a year; * * * when their time was out they both returned." Accordingly he says of the Mayflower company: "These being about a hundred souls, came over in the first ship." Afterwards he adds: "Of these one hundred persons who came over in this first ship together, the greatest half died in the general mortality, and most of them in two or three months' time." Omitting those two hired sailors who returned, and counting the person that died and the child that was born while on the passage as one passenger, we have the exact number—one hundred of the Pilgrim Company, "who came over in the first ship." And, as fifty-one died the first season, this enumeration makes good those other words of the historian, that, "the greater half died in the general mortality."

It must not be imagined that the following pages furnish by any means a complete list of the early settlers in America. In 1637 Thomas

Wheeler was appointed, for a term of twenty-one years, to keep a record of all those persons who left England "to passe into forraigne partes," of Mayhew's lists nothing is to be found but the fragment commencing at page 287, and that continues but for a few months. It cannot be doubted but that other lists were made, but they are either lost, or among the mass of papers still uncatalogued at the Record Office. We learn incidentally that ships left England almost daily for America, and no records of them, or of their passengers, remain. Thus among the registers of deaths in the parish of Deal, co. Kent, we find that on the 5 of May, 1639, Margaret, wife of Thomas Waldgraue, bound for New England, was buried. Who was Thomas Waldgraue, and with what company did he sail?

We know that many ships sailed from Bristol, among others The Angel and The Janes, conveying the Revd. Richard Mather and the Revd. Daniel Maude, but no records of departures from that port remain. Again, who were the companions who sailed in 1633 in the The Griffin, with John Haynes and the Revd. Thomas Hooker? Where are the lists of The Arabella, and other ships, in which John Winthrop and the founders of Massachusetts embarked? Who went out with the Revd. Ezekiel Rogers from Rowley, and with Fenwick, and the Revd. Henry Whitfield? These are but a few instances, to show how very imperfect are our records of the early settlers.

Further, it should be borne in mind that only the names of those who were taken who legally left the shores of England. At page 142, for example, and elsewhere throughout the book, we find that the passengers were examined by the minister touching their conformity to the church discipline of England, and that they had taken the oaths of allegiance and supremacy; elsewhere (p. 105, &c.) we find it certified that they are "subsidy men, that is, men liable to the payment of a subsidy to the crown. Among the thousands who emigrated to New England, it cannot be doubted but that a very large number left to avoid payment of the hateful subsidy, and that they would not take the oaths of allegiance and supremacy. These, therefore, must have left secretly, and of such no record would exist.

It is perhaps hardly necessary to say, that where, in the following

It must not be imagined that the following pages furnish by any means a complete list of the early settlers in America. In 1637 Thomas

Mayhew was appointed, for a term of twenty-one years, to keep a record of all those persons who left England "to passe into forraigne parts," of Mayhew's lists nothing is to be found but the fragment commencing at page 287, and that continues but for a few months. It cannot be doubted but that other lists were made, but they are either lost, or among the mass of papers still uncatalogued at the Record Office, or learn incidentally that ships left England almost daily for America, and records of deaths in the parish of Deal, co. Kent, we find that on the 24th of May, 1639, Margaret, wife of Thomas Waldgrave, bound for New England, was buried. Who was Thomas Waldgrave, and with what company did he sail?

We know that many ships sailed from Bristol, among others The Angel Gabriel and The James, conveying the Revd. Richard Mather and the Revd. Daniel Mauds, but no records of departures from that port remain, again, who were the companions who sailed in 1633 in The Griffon, with John Haynes and the Revd. Thomas Hooker? Where are the lists of The Arabella, and other ships, in which John Winthrop and the founders of Massachusetts embarked? Who went out with the Revd. Ezekiel Rogers from Rowley, and with Fenwick, and the Revd. Henry Whitfield? These are but a few instances, to show how very imperfect are our records of the early settlers.

Further, it should be borne in mind that only the names of those who were taken who legally left the shores of England. At page 142, for example, and elsewhere throughout the book, we find that the passengers were examined by the minister touching their conformity to the church discipline of England, and that they had taken the oaths of allegiance and supremacy; elsewhere (pp. 106, &c.) we find it certified that they are to subsidize men, that is, men liable to the payment of a subsidy to the crown. Among the thousands who emigrated to New England, it cannot be doubted but that a very large number left to avoid payment of the hateful subsidy, and that they would not take the oaths of allegiance and supremacy. These, therefore, must have left secretly, and of such a record would exist.

It is perhaps hardly necessary to say, that where, in the following lists, it is stated that so many people were transported to New England, it does not mean that they were sent as felons, as the word, at the present time, usually implies. It simply means that they were conveyed. Those persons, however, who were convicted for upholding the cause of the Duke of Monmouth (pp. 311-342), were undoubtedly transported, as we now understand the word.

The Summer Islands, mentioned at pages 301-314, and elsewhere, are now called the Bermudas. In 1609, Sir GEORGE SOMERS, or SUMNER, was driven on the islands in the course of a voyage to Virginia, and from him the islands derived their name. The Virginia Company, who claimed the islands by the right of having discovered them, sold them to a company of a hundred and twenty persons, who, having obtained a charter for their settlement in 1612, sent out sixty settlers, with a governor. During and immediately after the civil war in England, many persons of eminence took refuge in the Bermudas, among others the poet WALLER, who celebrated their beauty in a poem, entitled "The Battle of the Summer Islands."

Enough has been said to show the great value of the lists here given, and I trust that others may be induced to make further search among the documents in the Record Office, to bring to light the treasures there hidden.
