MANUFACTURER'S EXCLUSIVE DEALERS IN

Glidden's Patent Steel Barb Wire

FOR THE STATE OF TEXAS.

Washburn & Moen Manufacturing Co.

WORCESTER, MASS.,

Sole Manufacturers for the Eastern and Southern States.

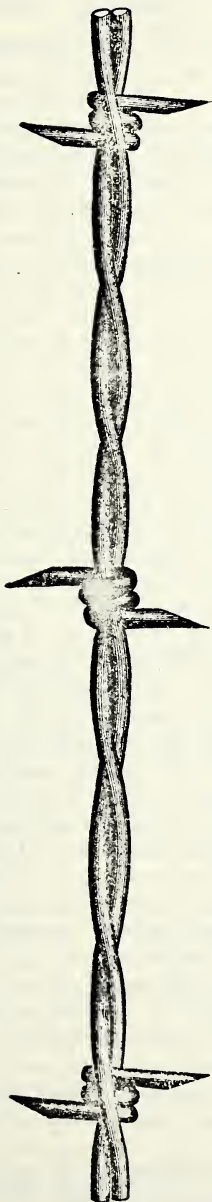

Made from two No. 12 Steel Wires full size, Barbs at right angles with Main Wire, and uniformly $2\frac{1}{2}$ or 5 inches apart as desired.

It is evenly twisted, genuinely galvanized, and its strength is unequalled, the superiority of which is universally acknowledged. From the extensive use of Glidden's Patent Steel Barb Fence Wire, it has fully demonstrated the fact, both to consumers and dealers, of its superiority over any other style of wire. The consequence is a constant, growing demand for it. Hence it being so generally called for that dealers in other styles of wire, we notice, have very generally fallen into the habit of representing to their customers they were actually being furnished with Glidden Wire, when, in fact, they would get a wire only licensed by Washburn & Moen Manufacturing Co., simply bearing their names as licensees, but not made by them; hence inferior both in style and quality. Our present prices are exceedingly low, and we earnestly invite a thorough investigation of this superior wire before placing orders. Sold through exclusive agencies throughout the state.

HOUSE. A station on the G., C. & S. F. Ry, in Fort Bend county, 46 miles from Galveston. No postoffice.

HOUSTON. Situated in Harris county, of which it is the judicial seat, is pre-eminently the railroad centre of Texas, and ranks among the great commercial and manufacturing cities of the State. It is situated at the head of tide water on Buffalo Bayou, which is navigable by vessels drawing 9 feet of water, and the Morgan line of steamships affords connections with Galveston and New Orleans. It is 50 miles northwest of Galveston, 216 northeast of San Antonio, 166 southeast of Austin, 264 southeast of Dallas, 361 from New Orleans, and 1,683 from New York. Transportational facilities are afforded by the G. div. M. P. Ry, which runs from here in a northeasterly direction to Longview; the G., H. & H. div. of the same road connecting Houston with Galveston; and the C. div. running to Columbia. It is the eastern terminus of the H. & T. C. and the T. W. Rys, the southern terminus of the H., E. & W. T. Ry, and the northern terminus of the H. & G. div. G., C. & S. F. Ry. The Galveston, Harrisburg and San Antonio Railway passing through here traverses the State, running east and west from Orange to El Paso. All these great lines centering here, and with their connections radiating to all parts of the United States, afford the manufacturer opportunities for trans-continental shipment unsurpassed by those of any city of its size in America. Several other roads are now in course of construction and are approaching the city, among them being the Texas Mexican Railway, of which Corpus Christi is at present the eastern terminus. Houston is so situated that the greater portion of the freights from the north and east for Mexico and California must pass through the city. There are 5 banks doing business here, 2 national with an aggregate capital of $600,000, a savings bank, capital $100,000, and 2 private institutions, all of which enjoy the confidence of the business men. The manufacturing interests, which are very extensive, comprise a barbed wire fence factory, 2 bottling works, carriage and wagon works, a brewery, brick and tile factories, a chair factory, 2 cotton compresses, 2 cigar factories, a cotton gin, a flour mill, 2 foundries and machine shops, a confectionery factory, a rolling mill, an ice factory, planing and shingle mills, 2 mattress factories, plow works, a cotton-seed oil factory, mill machinery works, 3 sash, door and blind factories, and many more too numerous to mention in this sketch, but a complete list of which will be found in the subjoined alphabetical list. Education is represented by an excellent system of public schools, 3 business colleges, the Clopper Institute, the English and German Institute and St. Joseph's school. The religious advantages are all that could be desired, there being 23 churches, 16 white and 6 for the colored population. Four months subsequent to the famous battle of San Jacinto, which occurred on the 21st of April, 1836, and which culminated in the independence of Texas as a separate nationality, the land where the present city now stands was surveyed and laid off into streets and building lots. The town, which was named in honor of General San Houston, the hero of San Jacinto, was made the capital in 1837 and remained so for 4 years, when it was removed to Washington, thence back again to Houston and finally to Austin, where it still remains. In 1842, Houston had reached a population of 3,000, had several fine buildings and was favored with water communication with the States by the Buffalo Bayou, Galveston Bay and the Gulf. Upon the admission of Texas as one of the Sovereign States of the Union, in 1846, the city was infused with a fresh commercial life, and the influx of settlers from the older states gave new vigor to its industrial capacities.

The handling of cotton is an important feature in the commerce of Houston and adds largely to the industries of that city. It practically controls the cotton product of the Red river country, and over the T. & N. O. Ry, its trade in that commodity extends into Western Louisiana. The principal public building is the City Hall and Market House, constructed of brick, at a cost of $400,000. It is 272 feet long by 146 feet wide, and, besides the city offices, contains a hall 70 by 110 feet, fitted up for public entertainments, and capable of seating 1,300 persons. All the city offices, which are spacious and fitted up with every convenience, are located on the second floor. From the top of the main tower the view is picturesque and interesting. Spread out upon either side is the beautiful city of Houston, its broad streets running at right angles, and lined with shade trees. At a little distance upon the north side is a range of slightly elevated wooded land, at the verge of which are many elegant private residences. To the east there is a charming grove, which is a favorite resort during the summer season. In contrast to the above, on the south and southeast, are seen the trains of cars and the boats and steamers upon the Bayous, suggestive of commercial prosperity. In the immediate vicinity are the banks, stores, warehouses, factories, churches and hotels of the "Bayou City." Here, then, is already established the nucleus of great enterprises, the homes of comfort and plenty, and the capacity to embrace and support a population of 100,000. The city was organized and assumed the functions of a civil corporation in 1838; it is now governed by a mayor and a board of aldermen, is lighted with gas and electricity, has an excellent street railway system, water works, an efficient fire department, lodges of all the principal secret and benevolent societies, and all the other attributes of a first-class and thoroughly prosperous city. The press is represented by the Age, daily and weekly democratic; the Deutsche Post, and the Texas German Gazette, both weekly democratic papers, and the Girls National Reformer (Ind.), issued semi-monthly. In the near future as this section of the grandest agricultural state in the Union shall become developed, its vast domain populated, its agricultural capacities and resources utilized, and its immense surplus products shall require additional railway facilities for transportation to the seaboard cities, Houston will become the most important railway centre in all the southern states. The machine shops of the H. & T. C. Ry, located here, give employment to a number of men, and these men live in the city and spend their wages here, thus adding materially to the prosperity of the retail stores and shops. BAYLOR COLLEGE 1846.

J. H. LUTHER, D. D., President.

INDEPENDENCE, TEXAS.

FOR THE HIGHER EDUCATION OF WOMEN

This School, located in the most picturesque part of Washington county, enjoys a reputation for rare healthfulness. It is accessible from Brenham and Navasota on the H. & T. C., and from Gay Hill and Clay Station on the G. C. & S. T. Its isolation from society excitements and thoroughfare commends it for economy in dress, uninterrupted student life and immunity from malignant epidemics.

Its constantly sustained prosperity is the evidence of intrinsic merit in the college course. The Music School, well equipped and thorough, controls a large patronage. The Art School is not equaled elsewhere in the State, and has no superior in the South.

Our Specialties.

The Bible a regular study, with reference to the modern phases of infidelity and the necessity of adopting pronounced views in favor of the evangelical religion.

Morality, based upon the Bible as an inspired book.

The study of our native language as we speak it, as we read it, as we write it.

Our Annual Motto:

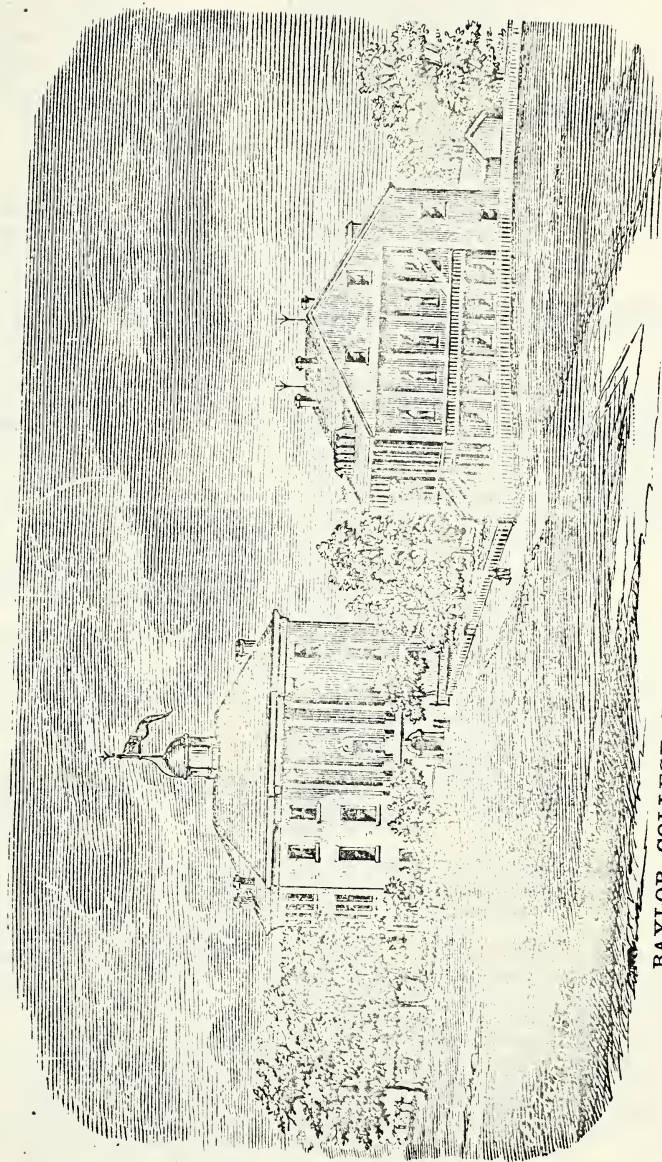

PURITY OF MORALS; PURITY OF MANNERS; PURITY OF LANGUAGE.

That the extremely low charges for board and tuition may be kept at the present figures, the system of advance collections will be rigidly insisted upon. Such exceptionally low charges for board can only be justified with cash in hand to buy supplies in bulk at wholesale prices; and the teacher, to be what he ought to be in the school room, must be relieved from the harassing trials of the slow and partial payment plan. Any mistake in charges will always be cheerfully corrected, and, when a pupil by absolute necessity leaves school, unappropriated funds will be refunded.

For the benefit of parents and pupils, the President has effected an arrangement with able physicians, whereby, for the moderate charge of three dollars per scholastic year of ten months, the young lady boarders will have medical attention for the whole or any part of the session.

Send for complete catalogue to the President.

St. Louis through the Indian Territory will be completed to this point during 1885. The railroad car shops located here give employment to a number of men and add materially to the prosperity of the city.
Excellent timber for manufacturing pur-respect Marshall possesses advantages equal, if not superior, to those of any of her sister cities of the same size. She is fast tending to metropolitan style and will eventually rank among the first cities in Texas. The exports, which consist chiefly of lumber, wool, and hides, are enormous and are still steadily increasing. Hack

SAN ANTONIO. Was first settled in 1691 by a Spanish colony, who named the place San Antonio de Bexar, in honor of the Duke de Bexar in Spain. The colony was composed of adventurous and warrior monks of the Franciscan order, who immediately commenced the erection of churches and missions for the conversion of the Indians and protection against savage tribes. The first mission lies within the present corporate limits of the city, and is in a perfect state of preservation. In 1730, there arrived under the protection of the then Viceroy of Mexico a colony of thirteen families from the Canary Islands, comprised of the noblest and proudest blood of Spain. New life and vigor were thus aroused, and the founding of San Antonio was firmly established. The city is located upon both banks of the San Antonio river, which rises from numerous springs gushing at the base of a low limestone formation that constitutes an extending spur of the high cretaceous strata of table land. It is 216 miles southwest of Houston, 94 from Uvalde, 80 southwest of Austin, and 153 northeast of Laredo, and is in the geographical centre of Bexar county, of which it is the judicial seat. The I. div. of M. P. Ry and G., H. & S. A. Ry passing through here afford, with their numerous connections, transportation facilities to all parts of the United States and Mexico. Here among other monuments of thrilling interest is the famous Alamo, where the chivalrous Travis, Bowie and Crockett, with about 170 comrades, laid down their lives for their country's freedom. The building has recently been purchased by the State and will be carefully preserved. The city is built chiefly of stone, though many handsome wooden private residences have recently been erected; real estate is in demand at good prices, immigration is constant and those who come here generally come to stay. As a health resort San Antonio is without a rival in the State, its pure atmosphere filled with ozone exercising a most salutary effect on invalids. All the leading religious denominations are represented by church organizations.

There are 6 large public schools and 14 private and religious institutions of learning and the various secret, benevolent and social societies have large memberships. The press is represented by the following newspapers: The Express (daily morning), the Times, the Light and the Freie Presse (afternoon dailies), the Express, Texas Stockman, Beobachter, Phonograph, Opera Glass and El Hogar (Spanish) weeklies. Commercially, San Antonio stands in the front rank among the cities of the Lone Star State, and contains 6 banks, 2 National and four private, ice factories, iron foundries, flour mills, 3 soap factories, cement works, planing mills, large wholesale and retail dry goods and grocery houses, 2 sash, door and blind factories, tanneries, 4 breweries, hotels, extensive lines of street railways, gas and water works, and all the other attributes of a first-class and thoroughly prosperous city. It is the largest wool market, and with only one exception, the largest horse market in the States. In 1883, the assessed valuation of real and personal property was $12,650,690, an increase of $3,027,389 over the previous year. The trade of the city extends over western, northwestern and southwestern Texas, and a large portion of Mexico; and projected lines of railroad will soon enlarge its limits much beyond its present territory. It is the headquarters of Department of Texas U. S. Army, and the free letter carrier system is in vogue. San Antonio offers many opportunities for manufacturing, but thus far they have not been utilized to any great extent. The field for this industry is broad and open, and awaits only occupation by energy and capital. The soil is abundantly productive, and is adapted to the highest state of cultivation. It offers rare inducements to the industrious immigrant, who would find the hand of welcome generously extended to him by its hospitable and genial citizens. Stages run daily to Boerne, Bandera, Pleasanton, Stockdale, Helena, Highland Home, Lockhill, Comfort and other points. Tel., W. U. and Telephone Telegraph. Exp., Pacific, W. F. & Co., Adams and Texas. Population, estimated from the city directory for 1883, 30,187. Mails, daily. James P. Newcomb, postmaster.

SHERMAN. A handsome and prosperous city, on the E. div. M. P. Ry, at the intersection of the H. & T. C. Ry, in the central portion of Grayson county, of which it is the judicial seat, 328 miles northwest of Houston, 18 east of Whitesborough, and 285 northeast of Austin. It contains 2 banks, the Merchants' and Planters', and the City Bank of Sherman, having an aggregate capital of $800,000; 7 churches, Episcopal, Methodist, Baptist, Presbyterian (Cumberland and Old-school), Christian and Catholic, and several for the colored population. Its educational advantages are the pride of its citizens, and consist of St. Joseph's Academy (Catholic), Sherman Female Institute, North Texas Female Institute, Austin College, and good public schools. The city is lighted by gas, has a telephone exchange, good system of street railways, an efficient and well equipped fire department, and a handsome opera house, capable of seating 1,000. Two daily and weekly newspapers, The Courier and The Democrat, are published, and keep the citizens informed on all current topics of interest. Its business houses are handsome and substantial brick buildings, and its residences are pretty, stylish and comfortable. It is a flourishing and progressive place, and there is no doubt that encouraging as has been its growth during the past few years, it is as yet only on the threshold of its greatness, and it is safe to say that in a few years it will rank among the great cities of the Lone Star State. The principal shipments, during 1883, were 40,000 bales of cotton, 30,000 pounds of wool, 200,000 pounds of hides and peltries, 100,000 bushels of grain, and 65,000 head of live stock. Tel., W. U. A Superior Substitute for Kalsomine, Wall Paper, &c.

Alabastine is a Cement,
And is the Only Preparation based upon the proper principles to constitute a Durable Finish for Walls.

And is Entirely Different from all other Preparations applied with a Brush.

It can be Mixed and Applied by Anyone.

1 Light Pearl	2 Seal Brown	3 Steel Gray	4 Rose Pink	5 Buff	6 Green	7 Sage Green	8 Light Blue	9 Olive Gray	10 Deep Pearl	11 Light Olive	12 Alabas- tine Blue
---------------------	--------------------	--------------------	-------------------	-----------	------------	--------------------	--------------------	--------------------	---------------------	----------------------	-------------------------------

These samples are made by spreading Alabastine on paper with a common Kalsomine Brush.

READY FOR USE BY ADDING HOT WATER.

Fifty Cents worth of ALABASTINE will cover 50 square yards of average wall with TWO COATS; and ONE COAT will produce BETTER WORK than can be done with one coat of any other preparation on the same surface.

ALABASTINE IS THE BEST FINISH FOR ALL THE FOLLOWING SURFACES:

A Soiled "Hard Finish."

Painted Walls, Wood Ceilings, Over Old Wall Paper, On Brick, or on ROUGH BOARDS, ROUGH PLASTER, &c.

WETTING ALABASTINE DOES NOT SPOT IT.

Put up in 5 lb. Packages, 20 in a Case, and in Barrels and Half-Barrels.

Manufactured only by the ALABASTINE CO.

M. B. CHURCH, Manager.

FOR SALE BY PAINT DEALERS Everywhere.

ALABASTINE.

AN ALABASTER CEMENT.

Alabastine is the first and only preparation made from calcined Gypsum rock, for application to walls with a brush, and is fully covered by our patents. It is the only permanent wall-finish, and admits of applying as many coats as desired, one over another, to any hard surface, without danger of scaling or noticeably adding to the thickness of the wall, which is strengthened and improved by each additional coat, from time to time. It is the only material for the purpose not dependent upon Glue for its adhesiveness; furthermore, it is the only preparation that is claimed to possess the above great advantages, which are essential to constitute a durable wall-finish.

Alabastine is hardened on the wall by age, moisture, etc.: the plaster absorbs the admixture, forming a stone cement, while all Kalsomines or whitening preparations have chalks and glue for their base, which are rendered soft or scaled in a very short time, thus necessitating the well-known great inconvenience and expense which all have experienced in washing and scraping off the old coats before refinishing, to avoid as much as possible its scaling off upon furniture, goods, machinery, etc. In addition to the above advantages, Alabastine is less expensive than other preparations, as it requires but one-half the number of pounds to cover the same amount of surface with two coats; is ready for use by adding water, and easily applied by anyone.

While Alabastining is superior to all other ways of refinishing walls, such as Kalsomining, Papering, Painting, &c., it is also the best, cheapest and by far the most durable finish.

FOR NEW WALLS, ON A SAND FINISH OR BROWN PLASTER.

It is well known that the finish known as "hard finish," or "putty coat," is not a durable one, and that many times it is soiled by workmen, and cracked by shrinking of timbers in the building, so as to require coating with something before the building is ready for occupancy, or soon after, as it is delicate and brittle and is put on good buildings before the finishing of wood-work, painting, etc., and before the building is thoroughly dried out from being dampened and swelled by the wet plastering, while the Alabastine finish can be applied the last thing before moving in the building, and the cracks invariably found in the "hard finish," are avoided.

The coat of Alabastine is thin, and not designed to fill and smooth uneven plaster, but one coat of tint, or two of white, mixed the same as for other surfaces, produces a beautiful, even finish, and the most durable, and may be renewed from time to time by inexperienced hands, and every additional coat adds to the strength of the wall; is hardened by age, and will not fade.

There are different ways of plastering walls for this Alabastine finish, according to the amount of expense and labor to be expended, as it will make a durable and handsome finish on one coat of common mortar, floated off and made comparatively smooth, and a better one on a good smooth sand finish as usually made for nice papering.

 The new work must be thoroughly dry, before applying Alabastine. For further information, directions, samples of tints, &c., send to WACO. Originally known as Waco Village, and deriving its name from the Waco Indians, whose former home it was, is now a flourishing incorporated city, located in the central portion of McLennan county, of which it is the judicial seat, 188 miles north-west of Houston, 238 north-west of Galveston and 107 northeast of Austin. The city is divided into east and west by the Brazos river, which is spanned by a fine suspension bridge 475 feet long and constructed at a cost of $140,000. Waco has long been known as a city of churches and schools, and while it enjoys to-day the distinction of being one of the leading commercial cities in Texas, it is none the less renowned as a seat of learning and for the intelligence and morality of its citizens. Situated at the point of intersection of the three chief railway systems of the State, viz., the W. & N. W. div. H. & T. C.; the W. sec. M. P. and the T. & St. L. Rys. Waco has facilities for transcontinental traffic unsurpassed by any city of its size in Texas. The estimated annual sales of general merchandise aggregate over $5,000,000; the receipts and shipments of cotton, 50,000 bales; of wool, 900,000 lbs.; of hides, 500,000 lbs.; of live stock, 8,000 head; of grain, 200 car loads; and the value of miscellaneous articles shipped is $350,000. The manufacturing interests comprise a cotton factory of yarns and seamless socks, a large woollen factory, 2 cotton seed oil mills, 4 flouring mills, 2 foundries and machine shops, a rotary plow factory, 2 cotton compresses, 2 ice factories, 2 planing mills, a stirrup factory, and extensive manufactories of carriages, wagons and agricultural implements. Waco has a well equipped fire department and an excellent system of water works, which combined, render the city safe from any serious conflagration. There are here 5 banks, a handsome opera house and several good hotels. Waco Female college, Waco University, Academy of the Sacred Heart, a school for boys and girls for the special benefit of those of the Hebrew faith, Lambdin Female Seminary, the Kindergarten school, Leland's Seminary, excellent public schools, besides a number of private and denominational institutions of learning, constitute the educational facilities of Waco. All of the leading religious denominations have churches, and many of them are spacious and handsome structures. The streets are wide and well paved, and are studded with handsome business blocks and private residences. The press is represented by 2 daily and 2 weekly newspapers. The city is lighted by gas, has 3 miles of street railway in operation, is connected by telephone with all surrounding points, and has, in fact, all the attributes of a first-class and thoroughly prosperous city. Tel., W. U. Exp., Pacific and Texas. Population, 12,000. Mail, daily. O. N. Leland, postmaster.
