NAME AND HISTORY

THE name Frye means Free and is found in England as early as A. D. 1100. The origin of the name is: when a man became free either from purchase of his freedom or from a grant from his over lord, he started a family of Free, which later on became Fry. The name is spelled many ways, such as ffrie, Frie, Frey, Fry, Frye.

The history of the Frye Family is most interesting and there are many famous men and women in it.

John Frye was with Drake, the noted Corsair, in the voyage of the Golden Hind in 1577. Francis Fry printed the first Bible translated in English. Elizabeth Fry was the noted prison reformer. Col. Joshua Fry was a senior officer and trusted friend of President Washington, in the French and Indian War. Major General Joseph Frie was famous in the Revolution. Senator William Pierce Frye was several times president pro tem of the U. S. Senate and twice acting Vice-President of the United States. So the list goes on of valient men and women, who became early settlers in America and bore without complaint their full share of the burdens of this Country, loved liberty and their fellowmen and struggled for independence and peace, through every stirring event down to the present day.

Several have claimed that the early Frye families in this country were all related but your historian has not, even after diligent search here and in England, found authentic records to this effect, so presents these four lines separately and hopes some day to have a complete record of all lines of all Fries who ever came to America.

This work is based on Town Records and Deeds, Church Records and Family Records, after exhaustive investigation and study. Where dates and names were uncertain space is given to be filled later by proven facts.

Now in order to make and keep the records complete for the future, your historian desires to hear family facts and traditions from all Frye descendants in America, desires a list of names and records of all descendants who were in the World's War, whether by name of Frye or not, that a complete Roll of Honor may be kept.

THE FRYE COAT OF ARMS

The Coat of Arms shown here was confirmed in England in the time of Edward IV, 1461-1483, and is used by all descendants in this country. The history of this illustration is as follows:

Miss Love Pickman Frye (158) of the John of Andover line, married for her second husband Admiral Sir John Knight, K. C. B., and lived in London, England.

She had no children but adopted her neice Sally Frye (352) to whom she left her property.

Miss Sally Frye while living with her aunt in England obtained a copy of the Frye Coat of Arms, as registered in Burke's Heraldry. This copy she brought to America and gave to her cousin Jedidiah (452).

Your historian fortunately obtained the original copy, in a frame made from the wood of the famous Frye elm.

ADRIAN OF KITTERY

This line writes the name both with and without the final E.

About 1620 in that part called Kittery Point, of Kingsweare, England, the town on the river Dart, directly opposite Dartmouth, lived a merchant, Mr. Alexander Shapliegh, who sent ships with merchandise to Lisbon, to Newfoundland, and later on to New England. In 1635, his son-in-law bought for him a large tract of land in the province of Maine, extending half way from Piscataqua (Portsmouth, N. H.) to the Agamenticus river (York, Me.). This tract of land was named Kittery Point, in memory of the old home in England and conveyed before 1650 to Nicholas, third son of Alexander Shapliegh.

With the name of Nicholas Shapliegh that of Adrian Fry appears often on the Kittery, Me., records. He was a Quaker and married Sarah, dau. of John White. His mark with that of his wife often appeared on legal papers from 1664 to 1692. He witnessed a deed in 12-7-1663, was a witness at Court in 1667, and had a grant of 100 acres in 1669. In 1664 he witnessed a receipt for a "Negro Boy named Mingoe, and a Sorrell Horse."

Adrian lived just south of Sturgeon Creek in 1674 and the place was called "Frye's Point" in a deed in 1713. In 7-15-1690, "At a Court of Sessions held in York, Adrian Fry & Family were P'sented for not Comeing to Mitting." During all this period he appears on the records as a grantor and grantee of various tracts of land.

On 10-12-1692, Adrian Fry executed the following quaint paper:

JOHN OF ANDOVER

This line wrote the name FRIE until 1745, when Col. James (86), as chairman of a meeting of the town property signed the records FRYE.

JOHN OF ANDOVER

John ffrie was said to have been born in Basing, England, in April, 1601, although there is no record of any ffrie family being known there. All ancient records were burned in the destruction of the town in 1645 by Cromwell.

John ffrie, with wife Ann and three children sailed from Southampton, England, in May, 1638. The ship Bevis, with Robert Batten, Master, arrived at Boston in August, 1638.

John was a wheelwright, and settled first in Newbury, Mass., then moved to Andover, Mass., where his name appears on the town records as the 8th in the list of first settlers before 1644. He was a Freeholder in 1645 and one of the ten male members of the First Church of Andover, organized 10-24-1645. He killed wolves in Andover in 1656 and received £5 a head from the Colonial government bounty. Was Selectman in 1670.

After his wife died, 10-22-1680, he was supposed to live with his son Deacon John. He died there 11-9-1695, and was buried in Andover graveyard.

Issue, born, 2, 3, 4, in England, the rest in Andover, Mass.:

JOSHUA OF VIRGINIA

This line writes the name mostly without the final E.

JOSHUA OF VIRGINIA

The name FRY is coeval with the Colony as far back as 1623 but Col. Joshua did not come to Virginia until about 1720. He was the son of Joseph Fry of Crewkerne, Somersetshire, England, and educated at Oxford. The date of his birth was about 1700. He patented 1000 acres of land on the Robinson river in Essex Co., Va., in 1726, and 400 acres "in the fork of the Robinson" in 1739. Skilled in the mathematical sciences, he was appointed Professor of Mathematics in William and Mary College in 1729. Later he was a member of the House of Burgesses. In 1738 he offered proposals to Legislature for preparing a map of Virginia, and in 1751, he compiled the map in concert with Col. Peter Jefferson, father of President Thomas Jefferson. The famous map was said to be the most accurate of any made and is called the Frye and Jefferson map and still used.

He was one of the commissioners from Virginia in making a treaty with the Indians at Logstown, June, 1752. He was appointed Commander-in-Chief of the Virginia forces, Feb. 25, 1754, and directed to Fort Desquene. In Governor Dinwiddie's commission to Col. Joshua Fry the name is spelled with the final E but on records of Albemarle Co., where Col. Fry lived for some time before his death, he signed his name without the final E.

He died suddenly, May 31, 1754, at Wills Creek, Va., on his march to Fort Desquene and was succeeded by Washington but his death was considered an essential loss to the service. He is buried at Old Town, Md., seven miles from Wills Creek, with this inscription on his grave, written by Washington, then second in command. "UNDER THIS OAK TREE LIES THE GOOD, THE NOBLE AND JUST COL. FRY."

His obituary reads: "He was a man of so clear a head, so mild a temper, and so good a heart, that he never failed to engage the love and esteem of all who knew or were concerned with him."

He married a widow, Mrs. Mary Hill, dau. of Dr. Paul Micou, about 1729.
