Acknowledgments

In the preparation of this book I have had the valuable assistance of Mr. Oren F. Morton, who, in addition to condensing the great mass of material into the shape in which it appears in sections from 1 to 251, prepared the articles which appear under the title "Virginia's Share in the Militia Movements of the Revolution," and "Virginia Counties, Old and New."

I wish also to acknowledge my indebtedness to Judge Lyman Chalkley, of Lexington, Kentucky, for procuring for me some of the declarations of record in that State, to Mr. W. G. Stanard, the Secretary of the Virginia Historical Society, and Dr. Henry R. McIlwaine, the Virginia State Librarian, for many courtesies shown me while engaged in the preparation of this book.

Introduction

This book does not profess to be a history of the Virginia Militia in the Revolution. No claim is made that it gives a complete list of the companies from any of the counties. Its purpose is to make available the material, some of which I have been gathering from time to time for a number of years. It is believed, however, that it is the first attempt to compile a considerable quantity of data on the subject. In a statement issued by the Secretary of War in 1832, he says that there are in his department no rolls of the State troops except those of Virginia, and no rolls of the militia except those of New Hampshire.

In regard to the Militia, very little is known and that little is extremely fragmentary.

In 1776 the available militia in Virginia is thought to have been about 45,000 men; probably it was never less than 40,000, of whom possibly one-fourth saw real service. Other states have counted their militia in the strength which they gave to the Revolutionary cause. For the lack of data Virginia has not received credit on this score. The reports of Secretary-of-War Knox fail to do justice to Virginia along this line. The figures given by him are mere estimates.

In 1776 a large number of Virginians were in the field against Dunmore. Some went to the relief of North Carolina and others were in the Cherokee Expedition in the West.

In 1778 Virginia had a number of militia in the operations in the West and for defense along the frontiers.

In 1779, Virginia was authorized to send militia to South Carolina.

In 1780, the militia were out in large numbers.

In 1781, 700 militia joined General Gates, some were at King's Mountain and others were serving around Norfolk. In the latter part of this year Dan'l Morgan had some of them serving in Green's Army. In 1781, practically all of the available militia of Virginia were summoned into service, taking part in the Battle of Guilford Court House, serving with Lafayette and at the Siege of Yorktown.

It is hoped that the material given in this book may throw some light on these services.

Most of the statements set out in this book were found by me in the counties where they were made. The word "county" is omitted in the statements where it will be easily understood. In some of the counties the declarations of the soldiers for pensions are spread in full upon the order book. In others they may be found filed with the papers of the term of court at which the application was made. Where not set out in full on the record book and not filed with the papers of the term, a very difficult proposition presents itself. I have frequently succeeded, however, in finding among the old musty files a package in which these declarations are wrapped up and have been preserved. Should all of these methods fail to disclose the statement, the only other method of procuring it is to obtain from the Bureau of Pensions at Washington, an abstract of the particular statements desired.

Frequently in the Clerk's Offices there will be found applications on which no pensions have been issued, due sometimes to a failure to supply proper proof, and at others because the service was not of sufficient length to bring the applicant within the terms of the pension law.

Under Chapters IV and V will be found the list of successful applicants for pensions whose pensions were granted solely on the ground of service as Virginia Militiamen. Many others who obtained pensions for service in the State Troops or in the regular service unquestionably served at times in the militia. There are several instances in the statements set out in this book where soldiers who held a high rank in the State troops or in the regular service later on served in the militia.

In Sections from 251 to 280 inclusive, I give the names of officers who were recommended or qualified in various counties in the State. While this does not necessarily mean that the person served, the probabilities are so strong as to make it almost a certainty.

I have followed various trails which were said to lead to muster rolls of Virginia Militiamen but found only the few which are set out in this book.

Virginia's Share in the Military Movements of the Revolution

In this article we present a bird's-eye view of those field movements of the Revolution, which immediately concern Virginia. It will interpret much of what is told in the pension declarations.

During the spring of 1775, Virginia committed herself to the cause of American Independence. In June, Lord Dunmore, the tory governor fled to a British war vessel, and from the safety of its deck he still made a pretense of asserting his authority. During the summer he gathered a few ships and with a force of British and tories he began to harry the shores of the Chesapeake. His style of warfare consisting in plundering plantation houses, maltreating women and children, stealing slaves, and burning seaports. In October he was repulsed from Hampton and in December was defeated near Norfolk. But on New Year's day, 1776, he cannonaded and burned the last named town. General Andrew Lewis took command of the Virginia forces and drove Dunmore from his stronghold on Gwin's Island in the Chesapeake. The late governor sailed for England, and for three years the British had no foothold on Virginia soil. Yet their navy enabled them to dominate the sea, and the counties lying on navigable waters were thus kept in frequent alarm.

The first phase of the Revolution, as it relates to Virginia, was therefore the contest with Dunmore on the tidal waters. It was fought with militia, who came in part from the counties toward the Blue Ridge. The militia of the Tidewater continued to be called out here and there to repel the parties which landed from ships for the purpose of plunder.

The second phase consisted of trouble from the Indians on the western frontier. They had been stunned by their defeat at Point Pleasant, in 1774, but being urged on by British emissaries and white renegades, they at length began to harass the weak settlements in Kentucky, along the Holston, and toward the Ohio. To quell the Cherokees in the Southwest, a large force of militia was sent to the Holston early in the war. This army was in part made up of men from east of the Blue Ridge. But the militia of the Shenandoah Valley were able to stand off the Indians who threatened them from the Northwest. The war parties of the red men scarcely ventured east of the Alleghany divide, yet the scattered settlements beyond were subjected to much distress. The wanton murder of Cornstalk, at Point Pleasant, was the immediate cause of the Indian raid into Greenbrier in 1778. The Indian depredations continued throughout the war, and garrisons had to be maintained in the frontier forts throughout the threatened area.

Being unmolested by any strong force, Virginia was free to raise and equip a number of regiments for the Continental service. Several of these took a distinguished part in the war in the Northern colonies. But for some time the militia were scarcely called upon except for the purposes already named.

The final phase of the Revolution in Virginia did not actively begin until the close of 1780, although in 1779, Clinton, the British commander-in-chief, had sent an expedition to ravage the coast. Unable to make head against Washington in the North, Clinton had carried the war into the South. Under Cornwallis, his armies overran South Carolina during the spring and summer of 1780, Georgia being already in their power. North Carolina was thus threatened from the South, and continued British success meant peril to Virginia from the same direction. To render the outlook all the worse, there were few disciplined Virginia troops who could be summoned to defend the State. The Virginia Continentals had been sent South as well as North. Gen'l Mathew's regiment had been captured at Germantown, Buford's had been massacred by Tarlton's troopers, and still other regiments had been included in the surrender of Charleston, to say nothing of still further losses. The drilled Continentals had proved themselves equal to the best British regulars, but although Virginia still had a somewhat numerous militia, they were untrained men and therefore at a great disadvantage when confronted by veterans.

In the fall of that year there was some apprehension that the Carolina tories under the energetic Ferguson, would push into Southwest Virginia. There was a considerable tory element in that region, and it was a further object to seize the lead mines in Wythe County. The militia were called out in their defense, but in October, Ferguson's army was annihilated at King's Mountain, men from Southwest Virginia contributing to this fortunate result.

In 1780, General Muhlenberg, the brilliant soldier who had quit the pulpit for the camp, was sent by Washington to take command in Virginia. Gathering some odds and ends of trained troops, and some militia, he drove the British General Leslie from Portsmouth. Next January, Benedict Arnold, the traitor, appeared with a larger force than was present to oppose him. He took Richmond and then fell back to Portsmouth, burning and plundering all along his line of march. At Portsmouth he was blockaded by the militia under Muhlenberg. General Lafayette was now sent on by Washington with 1,200 regulars. To rescue Arnold, a still larger force of British was sent to Portsmouth, and Phillips, its commander, advanced and took Petersburg. Here he had an engagement with Steuben, who was in general command of the Americans, pending the arrival of Lafayette, whose approach prevented a second capture of Richmond. Phillips died of fever at Petersburg and Arnold resumed command of the British.

Meanwhile, Cornwallis had pushed the Southern army, under General Green, through North Carolina to the very border of Virginia. Notwithstanding the menace of the British army on the lower James, it was necessary to meet the new danger. Through great exertion, some 1,600 Virginia militia were collected to join Greene. Many of them were from the Valley counties. With their help he gave battle to Cornwallis, at Guilford, March 5th, and crippled him so badly that he made a tumultuous retreat to Wilmington. Greene advanced into South Carolina, and toward the end of May Cornwallis arrived at Petersburg and superseded Arnold.

The British army in Virginia was now about 8,000 strong. Lafayette with his much inferior force was pursued to the Rapidan, which he crossed at Ely's Ford. Cornwallis then moved toward the mountains. A raiding party under Colonel Simcoe destroyed the American magazines at the mouth of the Rivanna. Another expedition under Tarleton dispersed the State Legislature, at Charlottesville, but was deterred from pushing on to Staunton by the militia gathering to defend the mountain passes. Tarleton had been taught a lesson by his crushing defeat at the Cowpens, a few months earlier. Lafayette recrossed the Rapidan at Raccoon Ford. Cornwallis attempted to strike him on the flank, but was foiled by his adversary, who opened by night an old path since called the "Marquis Road," and took a strong position behind Meechums River to protect his stores. Cornwallis did not attempt to force conclusions, but under orders from Clinton retired toward the coast, followed by Lafayette, who on the Rapidan had been joined by Wayne with more troops from the army in the North.

Cornwallis had been ordered to take a position on the coast, so that he might be within supporting distance of Clinton at New York. This movement turned out to be his undoing. While executing it, two small engagements occurred near Williamsburg. The first known at the time as the battle of Hotwater, took place at Jennings's Ordinary, seven miles to the Northwest. Colonel Butler, a good officer under Lafayette, fell upon foragers under Simcoe, rescued the cattle they had taken, and handled the British roughly, but was forced to retire under the approach of Cornwallis to rescue his subordinate. The other fight, that of Green Spring, took place near Old Jamestown. The British were about to cross the James at this point, and Wayne, who was misled into thinking only a rear guard was on the north bank, made an impetuous charge against greatly superior numbers. He was repulsed with a loss of 118 men to the enemy's 80, but in alarm at the onslaught, Cornwallis did not deem it best to pursue and run into a possible ambushade in return.

Cornwallis took post at Yorktown. In September, Washington arrived with a further re-enforcement and assumed general command. The gathering militia swelled the American army to a strength of 9,000 men, French under Rochambeau raising the total to 15,000. Being outnumbered two to one on land, and bottled up by the French fleet which commanded the bay, Cornwallis had to succumb to the inevitable. With his surrender the war was practically at an end. During his almost unobstructed marches through the State, his armies wrought damage after the characteristic British fashion in the extent of about $10,000,000, the equivalent of probably three times that sum at the present day.

After the surrender of Burgoyne, in 1777, many of his men were sent to a military prison, at Winchester, others were quartered at Albemarle Barracks (now Charlottesville). The prisoners taken at the Cowpens were also sent to Winchester, as were likewise the soldiers in the army of Cornwallis. To guard all these prisoners of war many details of militia were called into service.

Virginia Counties, Old and New

Before the Old Dominion was torn into two states in 1861-3, the 149 counties of which it was then composed were grouped into two Districts; the Eastern and the Western, the line between them being the crest of the Blue Ridge. This division was thoroughly well known, and was recognized for administrative convenience and sundry other considerations. There has always been a marked difference in the origin, habits, and characteristics of the people of the two sections, and thus the Eastern District was the "Land of the Tuckahoe," while the Western was the "Land of the Cohee."

Of the present 69 counties of the former Eastern District, 58 were already in existence at the outbreak of the Revolution in 1775. During that time of strife, four new counties were formed; Fluvanna and Powhatan, in 1777, and Campbell and Patrick in 1781. Fluvanna was formed from Albemarle, Powhatan from Cumberland, Campbell from Bedford, and Patrick from Henry. Between 1784 and 1838 seven more counties were established; Appomattox, Franklin, Greensville, Madison, Nelson, and Rappahannock. With one exception, all these newer counties lie against the Blue Ridge, and therefore in the more lately settled part of the old Eastern District.

The explanation given in the above paragraph will make clear why seven counties east of the Blue Ridge are never alluded to by name in the military movements of the Revolution. The names of officers and soldiers properly belonging to those areas must therefore be sought in the records of the older counties from which the newer ones were formed.

In the Western District the situation was vastly different. No portion had been settled for quite 50 years, and to a very great extent it was still an unoccupied wilderness. Because of these facts, there were, prior to 1776, only seven organized counties instead of the present 86. These seven were Augusta, Berkeley, Botetourt, Dunmore, Fincastle, Frederick and Hampshire. Berkeley then included Jefferson, Dunmore included most of Page, Frederick included Clarke and Warren, and Hampshire included Morgan, Mineral, Hardy, and Grant. The remaining and far greater part of the Western District was comprised in the enormous counties of Augusta, Botetourt, and Fincastle, the jurisdiction of all of which was asserted as far as the Ohio river. Dunmore was soon renamed Shenandoah, and Fincastle disappeared because of its subdivision.

During the war for Independence eight new counties arose in the Western District. Washington and Montgomery were formed in 1776 from a part of Fincastle. In the same year, Ohio, Monogalia, and Yohogania were formed out of the Northwest section of Augusta, the present county still retaining a frontage on the Ohio river. The other new counties, Rockingham, Rockbridge, and Greenbrier, were formed in 1778. Rockingham covered all the north of Augusta east of the Alleghany divide, and it then included nearly all of Pendleton and a portion of Page. Greenbrier, taken from Botetourt, reached to the Ohio river, while Rockbridge, formed from both Augusta and Botetourt, has always had substantially its present dimensions.

But Virginia, following the wording of her charter, claimed all the country to the west and northwest as far as the Mississippi, and the Great Lakes, and also that section of Pennsylvania lying west of the meridian, which constitutes the western line of Maryland. In the French and Indian and Revolutionary wars, these claims were maintained by force of arms. Thus Kentucky County, taken from Fincastle in 1776, afterwards became the State of Kentucky. Illinois County conquered from the British by George Rogers Clark and established in 1778, afterwards became the Territory Northwest of the Ohio, and out of it were carved the magnificent states of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, and Wisconsin. A boundary dispute with Pennsylvania was settled to the advantage of the latter state. By means of it, Virginia lost nearly all of Yohogania County, the fragment saved being annexed to Ohio County. She also lost a large part of Monongalia.

The few counties west of the Blue Ridge were not only large, but because of their great extent they possessed a considerable population. This was particularly true of Augusta and the counties southwest of it. It therefore explains the large number of officers and men who came from those counties as the boundaries then stood. Because of the additional circumstance that their inhabitants were nearly all white, they took a very conspicuous part in the Revolution. Probably no one county furnished so many soldiers as Augusta.

One other fact remains to be noticed. The Valley of Virginia had been settled such a length of time, that a majority of the men it sent into the Revolution were native to the soil. But this was not at all the case west of the Alleghany divide. The settlers west of the range were but a handful, and very few had been there so long as ten years. They were immigrants from the older counties of Virginia and from the neighboring states of Pennsylvania and Maryland.

AUGUSTA

NOTES:—The service of militia in 1774 are included because the Battle of Point Pleasant in that year was really the initial battle of the Revolution.

Under the head of "Augusta" will be found services of many companies which later fell into the subdivisions of this large section of country then called Augusta.

There will also be found mention of some companies which may really belong to Rockingham, Greenbrier, Rockbridge, or Botetourt because of the difficulty in determining where they should be placed.

1774. Capt. Geo. Moffett's Company was six weeks at Clover Lick Fort 87.

1774. Capt. Geo. Moffett's Company built Fort Warwick, 117.

1774. Capt John Lewis' Company (raised at Warm Springs), was in the Battle of Point Pleasant, 60-73.

1774. Capt. Jno. Dickenson's Company in Battle of Point Pleasant, 79-115.

1774. Capt. Andrew Lockridge's Company at Battle of Point Pleasant, 74.

1774. Capt. Alexander McClenachen's Company at Battle of Point Pleasant, 136.

1774. Capt. Jno. Morrison's Company at the Battle of Point Pleasant, 136.

1774. Capt. Saml. Wilson's Company at Battle of Point Pleasant, 136.

1774. Capt. Geo. Mathews' Company at Battle of Point Pleasant, 136-117.

1774. Capt. Geo. Moffett's Company at Battle of Point Pleasant, 117.

Services for Which no Years are Given:

Capt. Thos. Smith's Company in service about Richmond, 130.

Capt. ——— McCoy's Company in service about Richmond, 86.

Capt. Geo. Poage's Company at Clover Lick Fort, 86.

Capt. ——— Buchanan's Company in service around Norfolk, 86.

Capt. ——— Company at Warwick Fort for three months, 73.

1776-1777. Read fully the statement of Wm. Pryor, 61, which is too full to be fairly abstracted here.
1780. Capt. Thomas Wright raises a Company to go against the Indians at Detroit. But it was marched to Lead Mines on Holston, and then to Logan's Station in Kentucky. It was also at McAfee's Station in Kentucky where Capt. James Armstrong was in command, 65.
1780-'81. Capt. A. Nickle raises a company to go to the Great Lakes, 60.
1781. The Militia of this company were in service at Laferty's Fort on Indian Creek, 34.

Capt. Mathew Arbuckle was one of the most noted soldiers of this County. After serving through the Indian Wars he was killed by a falling limb while riding beside Jackson River in the McClintic neighborhood, in what is now Bath County. His body was buried there near the place where he was killed. I have recently learned that his grave must be on the lower edge of the property now owned by the Hon. Geo. A. Revercomb on Jackson River.

PART II

Section No. 1

MASSIE, THOMAS.*—Nelson, Feb. 15, 1833. Born Aug. 22, 1748. In the Spring of 1775 he was chosen captain of a large company of volunteers to assist in protecting Williamsburg and the country between York and James rivers, against the depredations of Lord Dunmore and his myrmidons. Within the ensuing fall, he received a captain's commission to recruit a company of Regular soldiers to serve in the 6th Va. Reg. of the line on continental establishment. His Company, being recruited at the commencement of the following spring, he marched it to Williamsburg and united with the said 6th Regiment, then under command of Colonels Buckner and Elliott, and Major Hendricks. All the companies were nearly complete, some he believes, quite so, viz.: Capt. Samuel Cabell, Lieutenants Barrett and Taliaferro, and Ensign Jordan; Capt. Ruffin, two lieutenants and ensign; Capt. Johnson, two lieutenants and ensign; Capt. Hopkins, ditto; Capt. Garland, ditto; Capt. Cocke, ditto; Capt. Oliver Towles (a celebrated lawyer), and company officers; Capt. Gregory, ditto. He believes Capt. Worsham, or Dun and Avery. Also himself (Capt. Massie), Lieutenants Hockaday and Epperson, and Ensign Armistead. The companies were raised in different and distant parts of the State, and he had not even personal acquaintance with many of them, which, *NOTE:—Except for the introductory lines, this declaration is given in full, the language of the original document being followed. It will be found of much interest. It throws important light on the treachery to the American cause of Gen. Charles Lee at the battle of Monmouth; a matter which was not fully cleared up by American historians for seventy or more years after it occurred.

together with the length of time, renders it difficult for him to remember every officer's name. After the Regiment was equipped and armed, it marched out and camped in the vicinity of Williamsburg, where it entered into camp and military training; whence the regiment was ordered to march to the North. Within the summer following this was done under the command of Col. Buckner and Major Hendricks (Lieut-Col. Elliott having withdrawn), Capt. Ruffin died and he believes another officer, and several resigned or withdrew. The regiment marched through Virginia by way of Fredericksburg and the Northern Neck, through the upper part of Maryland into Pennsylvania by way of Lancaster, leaving Philadelphia to the right; crossed the Delaware River above Trenton, and passed through Jersey to Perth Amboy, where the regiment was posted to defend that point and the country around until further orders. Gen. Washington at that time having the greater part of the main American army on Long and York Islands, soon after the defeat of that army on those islands, he, with his said regiment, was to march up the Sound by way of Newark. The storm and capture of Fort Montgomery taking place, he met with Gen. Putnam at Newark, and marched up the North River as high as Fort Lee. The defeated army had crossed the Hudson, except a part that had marched on the east side of that river under command of Gen. Chas. Lee. He, the said Thomas Massie, fell in the rear of those retreating troops who had been appointed to cover their retreat and marched the upper road by Springfield, Scotch Plains, etc., to New Brunswick, on the Raritan River, where the troops to which he was attached were attacked by the British Van. Having destroyed a part of the bridge, the said American troops kept up a hot fire with their artillery and small arms, with the British the whole day. This checked the progress so much as to enable Gen. Washington to cross the Delaware River with the retreating army, military stores, etc. The troops to which he was attached (being uncumbered), also had the good fortune to cross the Delaware without much loss. Gen. Washington having refreshed the troops and received reinforcements recrossed the Delaware in the night of the 24th of December (he thinks), surprised and defeated a large body of Hessians, posted at Trenton, captured about 900 of their number, and crossed the river again with them. Several days subsequent, Gen. Washington, having received reinforcements, again crossed the Delaware River with his army and took a post at Princeton.

He, the said Massie, was for the two succeeding years generally employed on detached or particular service, consequently was seldom with the said Sixth Regiment or his company, which company was by this time much reduced. On the 1st day of January, 1777, he marched under the command of Gen. Scott (who headed a considerable body of troops), on or about the Princeton road and encamped in the evening on the Heights above Maiden-head. Soon after the van of an army under the command of Lord Cornwallis appeared, followed by the main body, said to amount to 12,000 men, and encamped in the place for the night. By dawn of the next day the enemy were in motion and filed off in columns to the American left, apparently to surround them. The Americans discharged two light field pieces of artillery at them, without return, and retreated down the road to a creek, which they crossed over a bridge and destroyed the same, and took possession of the ground on the Trenton side of the creek, then covered with large forest trees. Gen. Hard at that time, being above with a large corps of Western Pennsylvania riflemen, the Americans kept the enemy at bay for several hours (he believes), before he could effect the passage of the creek with his large and heavy artillery. The Americans retreated up and slowly along the road to a summit of a hill, also covered with forest trees. Here Gen. Washington, accompanied by Gen. Green with reinforcements, came up. Here the Americans also skirmished (a considerable time), with the enemy before they retreated, and ultimately retreated to a long hill perhaps a mile to the west end of Trenton in view of the main American army. Here they formed and awaited the attack of the enemy. The day being now very far spent, the enemy appeared and approached the Americans in columns. As they were displaying we gave them a fire in single file from right to left, and retreated under a heavy fire of musketry and artillery, and formed under the protection of the main army in Trenton. A very heavy cannonade ensued directly between the two armies that lasted until after dark and has been called the cannonade of Trenton. Gen. Washington, having fortunately gained a grand point in eluding Cornwallis' intention of bringing him into a general action, made up large fires in front and left those who had been in the van during the day to keep them up. He immediately marched with his army, and taking the

Princeton road, reached that place early the next morning, defeated Col. Mahood, whom Lord Cornwallis had left there with troops to defend the place and its stores. Gen. Washington, having taken off these stores, etc., proceeded down the road by Kingston and Somerset Court House to Morristown, where he established posts on the Raritan in Jersey, viz., at Perth Amboy, Bonnontown and Brunswick. Gen. Washington also established a line of posts opposite to them with a view of preventing the British garrisons from having intercourse with and marauding the country. He, the said Massie, was placed on this duty at Middle Post, Matuchen, under the command of Col. Hendricks, and served on it near five months. This duty was extremely severe by night as well as by day, constant patrolling, frequent skirmishes, some of them very bloody, nocturnal surprises, the cutting off of pickets, etc., always attended with loss of men and great fatigue. The British called in their posts about the first of June, and the American posts were evacuated about the middle of June. He, with the other officers, etc., who had been in this line of duty, joined the main army at Middlebrook. Sometime after, he and five other officers were sent to Virginia with instructions. He, on his return, joined the army under Gen. Washington at the White Marsh Hills. Shortly after, Gen. Morgan returned with troops from the capture of Burgone's army. Our army then marched into winter quarters by way of the gulf to Valley Forge. He was soon detailed on duty under Gen. Morgan, who was to take post at Radnor, about half way between Valley Forge and the mouth of the Schuylkill River, with a view of cutting off the communication of the enemy from that part of the country which was effected. About this time (Feb., 1778), he was promoted to the rank of Major. In the Spring he commanded a large guard low in the lines not far above Philadelphia. Here he received Lord Cathcart, aide to Gen. Clinton, with a flag of truce and dispatches for Congress. Agreeably to orders, he, Cathcart, was not permitted to proceed further. The dispatches were read and delivered to Gen. Morgan. Immediately after, Gen. Clinton evacuated Philadelphia. He (Massie), marched under Gen. Morgan, through the city, proceeded up and crossed the river, and united with the main army. He, with Major Gibbs, was detailed to attend Gen. Morgan, who was appointed to command the light troops, etc., to interrupt and endeavor to retard the march of the British army through Jersey to Sandy Hook. The first attempt to retard their march was made at Allentown. This stopped them a day and some prisoners were taken. The second attempt was a complete surprise, from thick shrubbery in the pines, where 16 to 18 prisoners were brought off and a few killed with little loss to the Americans. Several other attempts were made to alarm and retard their march which succeeded so far as to enable Gen. Washington to march with his main army by Englishtown and obtain a position which gave him the power of bringing Gen. Clinton to a general engagement, in which it is believed he would have been entirely successful except for the flagrant disobedience of orders by Gen. Chas. Lee, who commanded the van of the American Army. On that, the 28th day of June, 1778 (an intense hot day), Gen. Washington ordered Gen. Lee to attack in full force. This, the said Massie, knows to be the fact, the orders having been communicated verbally by Gen. Washington through him (the said Massie), the evening before. On Gen. Lee's approach, the British army drew up in order for battle. Gen. Lee ordered a retreat which was done under a slow retreating fire for some time. Gen. Lee repeatedly sent orders to the officers commanding the several flanking corps not to advance and engage. This state of things continued until Gen. Washington came into the field himself, took the command, arrested Gen. Lee, and renewed the battle by bringing the troops into action. The battle at Monmouth Court House was a bloody and hard fought action. After the sunset the British army gave way, and it being too dark for pursuit, the American army lay on the field for the night, with a view to renew the battle the next day; but the British army in the night made a silent and rapid retreat, leaving their dead and wounded. Gen. Morgan, under whose command he, the said Massie, still acted was ordered to pursue the British early next morning, but they could not be overtaken except two or three hundred stragglers that were captured. Pursuit was continued to Middleton Heights immediately above Sandy Hook. After being there and thereabouts for several days, the troops marched up by Sposwood to Brunswick bridge on the Raritan River. Here we had a feu de joie in honor of the victory of Monmouth. From thence he marched to King's Ferry on the Hudson River and crossed to the White Plains in New York. Here he remained several weeks. From there, he, with several other officers, was ordered to Rhode Island to assist Gen. Sullivan at the siege of Newport, then in the possession of the British. A violent storm, however, with rain, etc., for several days having driven Count D'Estrey's fleet from the mouth of the harbor out to sea, rendered it impracticable for Gen. Sullivan to proceed with the siege; he consequently retired from the island, and the said Massie with the other officers detached as above stated returned and rejoined their respective regiments then encamped on the Hudson some distance above West Point, and on the opposite side.

Soon after this, the surprise and capture of Baylor's newly raised regiment of cavalry near Heroington, happened, when he with his regiment marched under the command of Gens. Woodford and Morgan with their troops to that neighborhood and took post on the strong heights of Paramus. By this time a large British force (said to amount to 6,000), under the command of Lord Cornwallis, had taken possession of the town of Hackensack, with a view of foraging the country, in which they did not succeed to much extent, owing to the vigilance of the American troops in attacking and repulsing their foraging parties. In a few weeks the British army returned to New York, and the said Massie with his regiment under the command of Col. Febiger was posted at Hackensack. Soon after this Col. Febiger was called off, and the said Massie was left in the sole command of the regiment. This was the second Virginia regiment on continental establishment. The officers were Captains Taylor, Parker, Calmen, Catlett, Stokes, Kennan, Gill, etc., as well as recollected at the distant date. He continued there until after the middle of December, when he with his command pursuant to orders marched into winter quarters at Boundbrook, on the north side of Raritan River (under the command of Gen. Lord Sterling, who commanded that division of the army), where he continued quietly for a considerable time. The British were confined to New York and its environs and employed in arranging and strengthening their posts of defense. Their embarkation of troops to our Southern States and other occurrence demonstrated the intention of moving the main seat of war there, with a view to attempt the subjugation of those states. Time progressing, it was known that Congress had determined to defend and save Charleston, if possible, and that the eight old Virginia regiments were doomed to that service. Those (8) regiments were then so much reduced in number that they were consolidated into (?) regiments (March, 1780). The officers whose commissions bore the highest rank, of course, took the command. The said Massie was of consequence a supernumerary officer, and, with Gen. Washington's permission, returned to Virginia, holding his commission (which he at this time has), ready and subject to duty with other supernumerary officers whenever called on or required.

He ranked as Major on the 20th of February, 1778, but did not take his commission from the war office (not having leisure to call for it), until the 20th of March, 1779. His commission as captain was literally worn and rubbed out in his pocket while on duty from the constant exposure to rain, hail and snow day and night. He acted alternately, under the command of Gens. Scott, Weedon, Sullivan, Morgan, Woodford, Gen. Lord Sterling, etc. He was afterwards under the command of Gen. Nelson as aidecamp in the winter of 1780 and 1781, when Arnold invaded Virginia and destroyed the public stores and houses at Richmond and arsenal and foundry, etc., at Westham, and was finally at the siege of Yorktown, and the surrender of that post with the British army, in October, 1781.

After the ratification of the treaty of peace, he received five thousand, three hundred and thirty-three and a third acres of land in the states of Ohio and Kentucky (the patents for which he now has), in consideration of his services as Major aforesaid. He likewise received some three per cent and six per cent certificates, not worth much at the time, afterwards sold, amount not recollected.

Section No. 2

ANDERSON, DAVID.—Prince Edward, Jan. 21, 1833. Enlisted May, 1777, serving as a private under Capt. Cadwallader Jones, in Col. George Baylor's Regiment till June, 1778, when he received a written discharge from Maj. Clough, of said regiment. Also volunteered as Minute Man, June, 1776, under Capt. Frank Goode, of Chesterfield County, and marched to Portsmouth, remaining there till about Dec. 20, same year, when he received a verbal discharge. In March, 1781, while living in Prince Edward County, was pressed into militia service as wagoner, by Henry Lipner commissary at Prince Edward Court House, and made one trip, conveying stores to Halifax Old Town (Pittsylvania, C. H.). Then was guard at Prince Edward C. H. over military stores, and was collector of provisions for the army at Yorktown, serving with the exception of four or six weeks till the surrender of Cornwallis. Applicant was born in Cumberland (now Powhatan) County, Va., July 15, 1756. Discharged in 1787 because of hernia.

Section No. 3

ANDERSON, DAVID.—Prince Edward, Aug. 22, 1832. Born, 1756. Enlisted from Chesterfield in 1777, in the dragoons under Capt. Cadwallader Jones, serving under Col. George Baylor, First Lt. John Sleth (?), Second Lt. William Barrett. The term was for three years or during the war. Stationed at Fredericksburg till November, then went to Frederick, Md., and Lancaster and Reading, Pa. At Reading he had the smallpox. Crossed the Delaware to Princeton and Trenton, where he was discharged because of a rupture which still continues with him. Had served thirteen months. In 1776 he volunteered as a Minute Man under Capt. Frank Goode of Chesterfield, and was at Portsmouth during his term (according to recollection), of six months. He was then discharged. In March, 1781, was pressed into militia service as wagoner, by Harry Sepner, Commissary at Prince Edward C. H. Also acted as guard over military stores at that point, and as collector of provisions for the army at Yorktown. Was in service from a few days after the battle of Guilford until the surrender of Cornwallis, excepting a month or six weeks. Maj. Hazaret commanded at Prince Edward C. H.

Section No. 4

ARBOGAST, ADAM.—Pocahontas, Nov. 6, 1832. Born, 1760. Indian spy, 1776 or 1777. Drafted, and marched under Capt. John McCoy and Lt. Joseph Gwin to West's fort on West Fork of Monogahela, then down the river to Lowther's Fort, then lower yet to Nutter's Fort, where he remained much of the three months, and finally to Coontie's Fort, where troops were called in consequence of the Indians killing a white woman while she was spreading hemp in a field. Volunteered, 1778, as Indian spy under same Captain, and marched to Warm Springs, whence he, together with George Hull, John Gum, and Conrad Fleisher, were ordered to Crabbottom to guard that locality, and there remained the rest of his time. At another time he marched from his home (now Highland), across Greenbrier River to head of Seneca in pursuit of Indians. Date not given (1781?).

Section No. 5

ARGABRITE, JACOB.—Monroe, Oct. 15, 1832. Born in Lancaster County, Pa., Oct. 20, 1760. Came to Rockingham in boyhood. Volunteered for six months in May, 1778, under Capt. Craven for service against Indians. Was stationed at Westfall's and Hutton's forts in Tygart's Valley, except for a few days spent in reconnoitering. Volunteered at end of time for three more months. Then home two weeks, after which he was marched to Ft. Pitt and Tuscarora river, assisting at the latter place in building Ft. Laurence. The troops were commanded by Maj. Nall, Col. Crawford, and Gen. McIntosh, and sometimes by Col. Gibson. He knew Lt. Parks, who was killed by Indians between Ft. McIntosh and Ft. Lawrence, and saw him lying dead in the path. Col. Crawford therefore wanted to kill nine or ten Indians who had come for peace, but the other officers prevailed on him not to do so. Got home in February, 1779, without having been in any battle. In the fall of 1780, volunteered for 12 months in cavalry service under Capt. Sullivan, of Berkeley, and marched to South Carolina. Was in the battles of Cowpens and Guilford, and stationed a while at Salisbury. His time expired while command was at Bowling Green, Va., recruiting their horses. One Freeze was colonel (or major). Here he volunteered for an indefinite time in a rifle company under Capt. Coper, and was at the siege of Yorktown and one or two skirmishes. Was in the guard to convey away the prisoners. Taken sick at Williamsburg and discharged at Williamsburg, after having been in the service fourteen months after starting for North Carolina.

Section No. 6

BOATWRIGHT, JOHN.—Prince Edward, Aug. 22, 1832. Born in Amherst, 1764. Enlisted in winter of 1780-1, under Capt. Crad. Haskins, from Cumberland, and served three months, in Col. Posey's regiment, of Gen. Muhlenberg's command. In next tour was under Colonels Dolman and Parker, marching to Suffolk and Portsmouth, in which vicinity he was in several skirmishes, and then to Gen. Gregory's station, returning after a few days to Gen. Muhlenberg near Suffolk. Discharged after three months at Chuckatuck Mills. Also in 1781, served two months under Capt. William Meredith, of Gen. Steubin's command, campaigning in and about Chesterfield County.

Section No. 7

BRIGHTWELL, CHARLES.—Prince Edward, Sept. 13, 1832. Born about 1756, in King William. In 1779 served three months from Prince Edward under Capt. Thomas Flournoy, guarding the magazine at Williamsburg. The under officers were Lt. John Moore and Ensign John Allen. A Col. Hawes was in service at Williamsburg. Second term in 1780 of three months under Capt. Charles Allen. Marched to the Long Ordinary near Petersburg. Col. Randolph, Col. Meade, and Maj. John Holcomb were in the encampment. Third term, 18 days under (?) Capt. Richard Holland and Lt. Philip Mathews, guarding prisoners at Albemarle Barracks. Was drafted in each case.

Section No. 8

BOWLING, JAMES, SR.—Amherst, Aug. 20, 1832. Born 1752. Enlisted fall of 1775, under Capt. William Fontaine, serving in Second Virginia, under Col. Woodford, Lt. Col. Charles Scott, and Maj. Hardiman, John Marx being First Lt., Thomas Hughes, Second Lt., and one Robertson, Ensign. Served one year, campaigning about Norfolk at the close of 1775. Was in the battle at Great Bridge about December 9th, where the enemy lost a brave officer, named Fordyce. The British were driven out of Norfolk to their ships, but their fleet cannonaded and burned the town. The American force remained some time at Norfolk, and on leaving it burned what was left. The return was by the same route, but the command remained some time in Suffolk because of sickness. Was discharged near Williamsburg. Served under Capt. Philip Thurmond as guard over the British prisoners in Albemarle Barracks; also as guard over paroled prisoners at Amherst C. H. Just before the capture of Cornwallis, he was on a tour under Col. Meriwether, the three services occupying about six months.

Section No. 9

BECK, JESSE.—Amherst, Aug. 21, 1832. Born in Albemarle, 1758. Prior to March, 1781, performed two terms of three months each in the Albemarle militia, guarding British prisoners. Was under Captain James Garland, who was killed by a sentinel at Albemarle Barracks. Was also under Capt. Hunton, or Capt. Montgomery. Col. Taylor, of Orange, was in charge. About March 1, 1781, under a draft of every fourteenth militiaman for 18 months, he became sergeant under Capt. Benjamin Harrison. The company made rendezvous in Hanover, where it was attached to the regiment under Col. Paddy and Maj. Finley. At Yorktown he saw the army of Cornwallis ground their arms. The regiment went into winter quarters at Old Cumberland C. H. In February, 1782, the corps was ordered into Southern Service and was in Georgia under Gen. Wayne, till November. Was discharged at Old Cumberland C. H., in December, 1782, after nearly 21 months' service instead of eighteen. Remembers that when drafted each man was paid a bounty of $4,000, which by reason of depreciation was of little value. While in Georgia the army under Wayne watched Savannah, where the British were waiting transports to carry them home. Wayne's headquarters and his own encampment were at Mulberry Grove, the property of a tory, which, after confiscation, was purchased by Gen. Wayne.

Section No. 10

BLAIR, ALLEN.—Amherst, Oct. 15, 1832. Born, July 8, 1754, in Amherst. In 1780 was drafted three months under Capt. Younger Landrum and marched to join Gen. Gates in North Carolina, but before his time was out employed William Bowman, as substitute. In 1781 he again marched under Landrum, this time to join Gen. Greene. He was not in battle of Guilford, but so near that he saw dead and wounded men removed from the field. He saw Gen. Edward Stevens badly wounded in the thigh. Shortly after was again drafted, and under Capt. John Loving marched to Williamsburg, where he took sick of fever and was in hospital a considerable time. A little before the close investment of Yorktown, he was discharged from hospital and sent to the New Barracks. Soon the forces at this place were ordered to join the besieging army, but applicant was discharged, his time being nearly out and the surgeon deeming him too feeble for active service. Served six months in all.

Section No. 12

BRADSHAW, JOHN.—Pocahontas, Sept. 4, and May 7, 1833. Born, 1758. Went out in January, 1781, under Capt. Thomas Hicklin, Lt. Joseph Gwin, Ensign Thomas Wright in regiment of Col. Sampson Mathews. Was at Camp Carson near Portsmouth most of the winter. Discharged at Murdock's Mill, April 9, 1781. Was in one engagement within sight of Portsmouth, where Capt.

Cunningham, of Rockbridge, was wounded in the groin, and one private also wounded. Declarant was sergeant. Later, same year, was drafted for the Yorktown campaign, marching under Capt. Thomas Hicklin, and Col. Samuel Vance. After the surrender of Cornwallis he helped guard the prisoners to Winchester. Had served as Indian spy in the years 1776 to 1779 inclusive. Such services were not needed in the winter, as the Indians then kept in their quarters. The practice was for two men to leave Fort Cook, Monroe County, and be out three or four days each week, others taking their places on the return. They watched the gaps and low places in the mountains for thirty miles, to a point where they met the spies from Burnside's fort. They were strictly forbidden to make a fire, no matter how inclement the weather. Died Jan. 6, 1835.

Section No. 13

BOYD, PATRICK.—Monroe, Sept. 17, 1832. Born 1759. Enlisted in Augusta in the regular service in Sept. ?, 1777, under Ensign Robert Kirk, the company being commanded by Capt. Smith and later by Capt. Bell. Col. Grayson commanded the regiment. Wintered at Valley Forge. Marched to Boundbrook, N. J. Was sick in camp at battle of Monmouth. After serving about 19 months and finding his health failing, he gave a man whose name he has forgotten, 100 pounds to take his place. At the same time was offered a lieutenant's commission if he would continue in service. Volunteered in 1781 under Capt. John Smith in Augusta, to go to North Carolina. Rendezvous at Waynesboro. Col. Moffet commanded the regiment. Marched by Lynchburg to Guilford, and was in the battle there over two hours. Reached home about one month later. Volunteered in September, 1781, under Col. Bowyer, to check the British from marching up country. When the regiment reached Charlottesville the town had been set on fire by the enemy. Marched to Gum Springs and to Richmond, where the enemy were seen leaving the city. Discharged about Oct. 1st, at Hickorynut Church, near Hot Water, after service of one month. Was in no battle while militiaman.

Section No. 14

COCKE, ANDERSON.—Prince Edward, Aug. 21, 1832. Born in Cumberland County, 1758. Living in Campbell. Declaration differs in no material respect from that of his comrade, William Wright.

Section No. 15

CARTER, POVALL.—Prince Edward, Sept. 14, 1832. Born, 1762, in Cumberland (since Powhatan). Enlisted under Capt. Edward Munford, December, 1779 (?), in the Light Infantry commanded by Col. Willis and Maj. Duval. Marched through Dinwiddie, Prince George, Surrey, etc. Had one skirmish near Bland's Ordinary. Discharged after three months. In spring of 1780 or 1781, served one term of four weeks, in Chesterfield, under Capt. Richard Crump and Col. Goode. In July, 1781, marched under Capt. Robert Powt to join Gen. Lafayette at Malvern Hill. Thence marched to Richmond and Pipington in pursuit of the British. Discharged after four weeks. Later served five weeks under Col. Moreby to guard prisoners at Old Cumberland, C. H. Was drafted for each term.

Section No. 16

CUNNINGHAM, JOHN.—Prince Edward, Aug. 21, 1832. Born, 1758. Enlisted May, 1776, in Militia company under Capt. Chas. Allen, Lt. Joseph Parks, and Ensign James Allen. Marched by Manchester, Williamsburg, and Yorktown to Hampton, where he was stationed under Col. Meredith and Maj. James. Discharged at Portsmouth after term of seven and one-half months. In May, 1779, volunteered under Capt. John Holcomb, serving about three weeks at Petersburg. In September, 1780, volunteered in Capt. Charles Allen's company of First Regiment, and after three months was given an honorable discharge. Was stationed at Petersburg under Col. E. Meade and Beverly Randolph. Early in 1781 volunteered under Capt. Andrew Baker, Lt. Joseph Parks, and Ensign Joseph Read, and joined Gen. Greene near the Dan river, where the company was attached to the regiment under Col. Otho H. Williams. Marched toward Hillsboro. In a skirmish at Whitsell's Mill about March 6, our troops gave back, Lt. Parks and private Ezekiel Parks being wounded. Company was discharged after one month. In May, 1781, volunteered under Capt. Richard Hilland, and served two or three weeks, being employed in conducting British prisoners from Prince Edward C. H. to Albemarle Barracks. Has always lived in Prince Edward.

Section No. 17

CASHWILL, HENRY.—Amherst, Sept. 17, 1832. Born in Amherst, 1757. In fall of 1779 served three months under Capt. John Sale, guarding prisoners at Albemarle Barracks, these being chiefly from Burgoyne's army. In February, 1781, marched under Capt. James Franklin, joining Greene's army the day after the battle of Guilford. During the battle his command was about 10 miles away and the cannon were heard. Thinks they might have taken part in the battle if they had used becoming alacrity. The company was then placed under Capt. Younger Landrum, of Col. John Holcomb's regiment and Gen. Lawson's brigade. In this tour he was Orderly Sergeant. Was discharged on Deep River after three months. In August, 1781, was again Orderly Sergeant under Col. Hugh Rose for three months, the service consisting of escorting a small body of British prisoners to a British vessel below Jamestown. Was drafted each time.

Section No. 18

CASH, BARTLETT.—Amherst, Oct. 15, 1832. Born in Amherst, 1757. In 1776 served three months under Capt. John Sale and Lt. James Franklin, of Col. Christian's brigade. The force he was in was to protect the frontier from the Cherokee Indians, then very troublesome. There was no battle. In 1781, under Capt. James Franklin. Joined Gen. Greene shortly after the battle of Guilford, serving then under Capt. Younger Landrum, Col. John Holcomb, and Gen. Lawson. Served in all six months, being drafted the second time.

Section No. 19

CASHWILL, WILLIAM.—Amherst, Sept. 17, 1832. Born in Amherst, 1762. Went out in militia February, 1779, under Capt. David Woodruf, and guarded prisoners at Albemarle Barracks three months. Volunteered, September, 1780, under Capt. John Morrison of a rifle company, and was stationed at Long Dairy, three miles out of Petersburg. There were present about 1,500 men under Gen. Steuben, and Gen. Lawson. February, 1781, he went out under Capt. James Franklin to join the army of Greene in North Carolina, but did not arrive in time for the battle of Guilford. They were near enough to hear the cannon and he thinks if the officers had pushed forward they might have been in time. Franklin resigned the day after the battle and went home. The company was then put under Capt. Younger Landrum. Col. John Holcomb's regiment, Gen. Lawson's brigade. Was discharged at Deep River after three months' service. Total service, twelve months, three in each of four tours. Last tour began in September, 1781, under Capt. John Stewart. Was at siege of Yorktown and marched as guard to the prisoners to Winchester barracks, where he was discharged.

Section No. 20

CAMERON, CHARLES.—Bath, March 13, 1839. (Affidavit by Sarah, widow of said Cameron). Entered service December 3, 1776, as Lieutenant, under Capt. John Lewis in Tenth Virginia Continentals. Col. Adam Stephen commanding. Resigned, Jan. 3, 1778. Was in battles of Brandywine and Germantown. About January, 1781, drafted for three months. Captain of militia under Col. Samson Mathews. Subalterns being Lt. William Anderson and Ensign Robert Christian. Later, same year, served again as Captain of volunteer cavalry. Was in battle of Jamestown where he was adjutant of regiment, Samson Mathews being colonel and of Gen. Campbell's brigade. Last tour, two months. After Jamestown, became Captain in place of Capt. John Brown, taken prisoner. The lieutenant was Robert Thompson. 1782, appointed commissary for the district including Augusta, Rockingham and Rockbridge, serving as such from 12 to 18 months. Married Sarah Warwick (born 1772), May 3, 1792; died July 14, 1829, aged 76. December 3, 1776, elected First Lieutenant of First Company of Augusta, and reported, Feb. 1, 1777, that he had secured no recruits.

Section No. 21

CANTERBURY, JOHN.—Monroe, Jan. 19, 183—. Born in Prince William about 1761. Volunteered for one month in Montgomery to guard the frontier at Clinch River. Was at Blackmore Station on Clinch. Voluntered one month to guard the frontier on Bluestone river. Received no pay for either tour. Moved to Holston river, where he substituted three months for Samuel Douglas, and served at Logan's Station, Ky. Volunteered under Capt. Joseph Martin against the Indians. The troops marched across the French Broad to the Indian towns and were in several small skirmishes, but no regular engagement. They killed some Indians and took some prisoners, but the Indians evacuated their towns. Substituted for three months for a David Renfrow, and marched under Col. Campbell to the Santee river, where he joined Gen. Marion's army, then in camp. In one scouting party they took about 80 prisoners, brought them into camp, and sent them to Camden. Army remained in camp till Cornwallis surrendered. Declarant settled in Monroe, about 1784.

Section No. 22

CLARK, SAMUEL.—Monroe, Aug. 22, 1832. Born in Augusta, April 18, 1764. Entered as substitute for Thomas Means, in September, 1780, under Capt. Samuel McCutcheon, and Lt. John McCarney. Marched to Richmond along with the companies of Captains John Dickey, Francis Long, and Thomas Smith, and also one other company. The said five Augusta companies were stationed below Richmond, and after discharge marched back together. There was no engagement. Drafted three months in January, 1781, and marched under Capt. James Trimble to Fredericksburg, then to Sandy Point, where the James was crossed, then to within twenty miles of Portsmouth, where the British were in camp. The companies of Captains John Cunningham, Charles Cameron, Joseph Patterson, and Thomas Hicklin were also in the march. Hicklin was cashiered for cowardice. The militia companies at this same point were commanded by Col. Sampson Mathews, Lt. Col. William Bowyer, and Maj. Alexander Robertson. Gen. Muhlenberg occasionally visited the station and seemed to be in command. The Rockbridge militia under Col. John Bowyer, were a few miles away. A captain or major named William Long was present for some time to drill the troops. Declarant with Cunningham's command was in a skirmish in which Cunningham was wounded. Discharged in April. Next month volunteered as substitute for John McCutcheon, a relative who was drafted three months and because of his family could not with safety leave home. His Captain was Patrick Buchanan, his Lieutenant, John Boyd. The companies of Captains John Campbell and Charles Haskins were in same troop. Field officers were Capt. Thomas Hughart, Lt. Col. John McCreery, Maj. Wilson. They marched into James City County, where the three companies joined Gen. Wayne. Soon after a foraging party of the enemy was seen about five miles from Williamsburg, and the companies of Buchanan and one each from Rockingham and Rockbridge were sent to drive them back. Maj. Willis, who was in command, was defeated, and the whole army marched to Jamestown, where it also was defeated. Declarant was wounded on the head by a British swordsman, and Col. Bowyer was taken prisoner. Declarant was taken to a hospital on Pamunkey river, and there remained till his discharge in August. Was then drafted three months under Capt. Francis Long. The companies of Captains Trimble, Dickey, and Buchanan also marched to Yorktown, where declarant remained till after the surrender. In April, 1782, volunteered three months against the Indians, and marched under Capt. John McKittrick to Tygart's Valley and to West Fork of Monogahala.

DUPUY, JOHN.—Prince Edward, Aug. 13, 1832. Born Jan. 20, 1756. Enlisted June, 1776, as volunteer in State troops under Capt. Chas. Allen, Lt. Joseph Parks, Ensign James Allen, Col. Merriman being field officer and one Overton, Major or Adjutant.

Marched from Prince Edward C. H. through Richmond and Williamsburg to Hampton, where the army was stationed three or four months. Discharged at Portsmouth in January, 1777. In May or June of this year, under a draft on the young unmarried men of the State, requiring one year in the regular service, applicant hired a substitute named Estis, paying him $400. These troops marched north to join the army, and he knew nothing more of Estis. In 1778, during an alarm, and at which time applicant held a commission in his home company, he volunteered as a private under the above Charles Allen, and marched to Petersburg, the tour occupying a month or so. In January or February, 1781, he volunteered in his home County, Prince Edward, under Capt. John Bibb, himself being lieutenant. Bibb soon resigned and Nathaniel Cunningham was commissioned in his place. The company joined Gen. Greene at Irvin's Ferry, Halifax County, and was attached to Col. Cocke's regiment of Gen. Steuben's brigade. Was in the battle of Guilford. The second day afterward, applicant conveyed prisoners to Halifax C. H., Va., and delivered them to Nathaniel Hunt, stationed there to receive them. After this service, he returned home, according to order by Gen. Steuben, the tour lasting two or three months. Shortly after reaching home he was ordered to Halifax County to receive arms brought from Guilford battle field and convey them to Prince Edward C. H. In the same year, probably August, he was ordered to convey some wounded prisoners, sent from Guilford to Prince Edward C. H., and convey them to Gen. Lafayette, then at Ruffin's Ferry, King William County. From this point he took them on to Jamestown and delivered them to a British ship, the whole service occupying about one month. According to recollection his commission as lieutenant was by Patrick Henry. Henry Dawson, a witness to the declaration, served with applicant in 1776.

Section No. 24

DAWSON, HENRY.—Prince Edward, Sept. 7, 1832. Born in Amelia County, 1753. Volunteered from Prince Edward as minute man early in June, 1775. Company officers were Capt. Charles Allen, Lt. Joseph Parks, Ensign James Allen. The Colonel was one Merriman and one Overton was major or adjutant. Marched through Richmond and Williamsburg to Hampton, where the army lay three of four months. It then proceeded to Portsmouth, where applicant was discharged about Christmas. In 1777 he was drafted into the company of Capt. Flournoy and Lt. Moore, and after serving a while at Williamsburg a short while was discharged at Yorktown after a tour of three months. In 1778 was drafted into the militia company of Capt. Ligon and serving at Petersburg was there discharged after three months. In 1781 was drafted into Capt. Flood's Company and marched in pursuit of Cornwallis. This tour was also for three months. John Overstreet was major.

Section No. 25

DRUMHELLER, LEONARD.—Albemarle, Oct. 12, 1832. Born near Reading, Pa., about 1762. Came to Albemarle while small. Drafted in January, 1781, under Capt. John Harris, Lt. Thomas Jones, and Ensign William Jarman. Drew arms at Richmond. Stationed as fifer some time at Halifax House between Hampton and Yorktown. Discharged at Richmond in March. Drafted in May under Capt. Mark Leake. Joined the army under Gen. Lafayette near Richmond, marched to Raccoon Ford, where a junction was made with Gen. Wayne: Then through Orange and Louisa by the route still known as the "Marquis Road." The march was continued to Hampton, he being transferred to Capt. Miller's Company and frequently detailed for picket duty. Discharged at Malvern Hills in July. Again in minute service at Charlottesville, so continuing till after surrender of Cornwallis.

Section No. 26

DAVIDSON, GILES.—Amherst, Aug. 21, 1832. Born in Buckingham, 1762. Went out three months under Capt. William Dugrid at Albemarle Barracks, being substitute for Young Lee. He there enlisted under Capt. Garland Burnley for 12 months as guard to British prisoners. Later he volunteered under Capt. Francis Shelton, of Henry, who was raising a force to put down the tories, then causing alarm in the hollows of Dan River, on the North Carolina line. Shelton's men visited persons known to be disaffected to the American cause and prevented injuries from tories. The headquarters was with a tory named McGowan, who lived in Henry. In 1781 he went out from Buckingham for three months under Capt. William Perkins, and was in the battles of Hot Water and Jamestown. He was at once called out again under Capt. Silas Watkins, who before Yorktown resigned and was succeeded by Capt. William Giles. Was present at Surrender of Cornwallis and helped to guard the prisoners to the Winchester Barracks, where he was discharged about Dec. 1, 1781.

Section No. 27

EAST, JAMES.—Rockbridge, Sept. 3, 1832. Born in Goochland, Aug., 1753. Entered service in Fluvanna in August, 1777, going out for three months under Capt. Joseph Hayden and Lt. Benjamin Anderson. Served under same officers in 1779 for three months at Williamsburg, Yorktown, and Hampton. On both tours Col. Samuel Cabell and Maj. George Thompson were field officers. Enrolled, January, 1781, and retained in County as maker of gunstocks, so continuing till the capture of Cornwallis, never understanding this service to be of private nature, and never being compensated therefor. Enlisted 1775 under Capt. Thomas Holt constantly employed with him in recruiting service for four months, then, because of the dissatisfaction of his parents, procuring James Burnley as a substitute. Also performed an irregular service of two months in 1779, guarding prisoners, especially Hessians, at Charlottesville. His Captain was Samuel Richardson, his lieutenant (probably), Thomas Thurman. Left Fluvanna, 1792.

Section No. 29

GILLISPIE, GEORGE.—Prince Edward, Sept. 17, 1832. Born, 1752. In May, 1776, enlisted as minute man in the company of Capt. Charles Allen, Lt. Joseph Parks, and Ensign James Allen. It marched from his home County of Prince Edward to Hampton, by way of Richmond, Williamsburg, and Yorktown. At Hampton, Col. Meredith and Maj. James were in command. He was discharged at Portsmouth after service of seven and one-half months. In September, 1780, he volunteered under Capt. Charles Allen of the First Regiment, and marched to Petersburg, where other troops under Col. E. Meade and B. Randolph were stationed. His regiment then marched to near Portsmouth, where it was first under command of Gen. Robert Lawson and afterwards of Baron Steuben. After a tour of three months he was discharged thirty miles above Portsmouth. Applicant has no written discharge.

Section No. 30

GRUBBS, NATHAN.—Prince Edward, Aug. 21, 1832. Born in Hanover, 1757. First tour of nine months was in Virginia. Applicant was in no action. His Captain was John Winston, and he recollects his colonels as Elisha Meredith and Charles Dabney. The second tour, of six months, began in June, 1780. His Captain was John Price and his colonel was Holt Richardson. Was in Gate's defeat near Camden, S. C. At the end of his tour was honorably discharged. Served two subsequent tours in Virginia of three months each, one at Sandy Point under Capt. Thomas Doswell, and one at Cabin Point under Capt. John Thompson. He was also in the Siege of Yorktown, under Thompson. After the war lived in Louisa and Goochland, finally removing to Prince Edward.

Section No. 31

GILES, ISAIAH.—Prince Edward, Sept. 17, 1832. Born in Chesterfield, 1756. Performed a three months' tour under Capt. Jacobs, of Amherst, the time being spent in guarding prisoners at Albemarle Barracks. Col. Burnley and Maj. Meredith were in command. Second tour was under Capt. Richard Ballinger, this service being at Hood Fort in Prince George. His Company was the only one there. Third tour was under Capt. John Christian. He was at Richmond, Hobb's Hole, Bottom's Bridge, the Chickahominy, and other places. By recollection the tour was for three months and Gen. Lawson was in command. The fourth tour, of three mouths, was under Capt. John Phillips, and he served below Richmond. In the fifth tour, his father's wagon being impressed by Col. Gabriel Penn, of Amherst, he was assured by the said Penn that if he went with the wagon it would answer as a tour of duty. Length of his tour forgotten, but it included the Siege of Yorktown. All the tours were from Amherst.

Section No. 32

GRANT, ROBERT.—Amherst, Aug. 22, 1832. Born, 1761. Served three tours of two months each as drafted militiaman. About 1780 he marched from Fluvanna under Capt. Levi Thompson and Lt. Henry Martin to Cabin Point and put under Col. Holt Richardson. About a year later he went out under Capt. Anthony Haden, and Lt. Daniel Lightfoot, being again under Richardson, whose duty was to watch Hanover, Orange, and other counties. This was the time when Tarleton made his raid to Point of Fork and Charlottesville. The third time he went to the siege of Yorktown under Capt. Richard Napper, Lt. Zachariah King, and Ensign James Cole. His command was stationed on the Gloucester side of York River, under Col. Taylor and Maj. Campbell, to keep the enemy from escaping. The French fleet was lying off York River. He returned before the surrender. His companions were made no allowance for time spent in going into or returning from service. They were discharged en masse by their immediate company officers.

Section No. 33

GREEN, WILLIAM.—Bath, Sept. 11, 1832. Born, 1755. Drafted three months in September, 1776, as guard against Indians in Warwick's Fort, under Capt. John Lewis. In May, 1777, John Wilson applied to Col. John Dickenson for six men as a guard at his own fort on Jackson River. Declarant was drafted as one of these, serving three months. In September, 1777, drafted for three months under Capt. Samuel Vance at Clover Lick Fort. In 1778, drafted for four months against the Indians, serving on Jackson's River. Marched to Fort McIntosh on Ohio at Mouth of Big Beaver Creek, being under Capt. Samuel McCutcheon, of Gen. McIntosh's command. Was in no engagement. 1780, drafted for three months' tour under Capt. John McCoy. Marched to Richmond, remaining there eight or ten days, and was discharged after 24 days' service. 1781, drafted and served 34 days under Capt. David Gwin. Joined army at Hickory Neck Church near Williamsburg. In May, 1782, drafted for three months, serving under Capt. George Poage, at Warwick's Fort.

Section No. 34

GARTIN, NATHANIEL.—Monroe, Feb. 17, 1834. Born, 1759, in Orange. Moved to Rockingham, 1768. Entered service, 1777, as Indian spy in January and February. Capt. Robert Craven and Lt. Trout commanding the company. Marched to Tygart's Valley. Three months at Warwick's Fort. Indians had committed many depredations, and declarant was constantly examining the ways by which the Indians came into the settlements, so that he could give intelligence at the fort. No engagement. He and others pursued Indians, sometimes marching 40 or 50 miles a day and suffering extremely for want of provisions. A year later, the Indians still doing much injury in Tygart's Valley, he went out under Lt. John Rice, for three months. A year later still, marched 200 miles under Capt. William Kinkead to Nutter's Fort on West Fork of Monongahela, and served three months guarding farmers while at work in their fields. Settled in Monroe. In spring of 1781, having learned that the family of James Meeks on Indian creek, had been captured by Indians, he went to Laverty's fort on said creek as a volunteer, remaining three weeks reconnoitering between the mouths of the Bluestone and Indian Creek, and protecting the farmers while planting their corn.

Section No. 35

HILL, WILLIAM.—Prince Edward, Aug. 17, 1832. Born, July 22, 1758. Marched June 15, 1780, from Head Lynch's Tavern, Caroline County (under Capt. James Johnson, Lt. Pemberton, and Ensign Reuben Samuel), to Hillsboro, N. C., where a regiment was organized under Col. Holt Richardson, of King William County, Va., and Lt. Col. Glenn and Maj. Boyd and put into the brigade of Gen. Stevens. The army marched by Mast Ferry on the Pedee to near Camden, where there was a battle between Gen. Gates and Lord Cornwallis. After the retreat to Hillsboro and New Garden, applicant returned home in August. In February, 1781, he marched from Edmund Taylor's, Hanover County (under Capt. Edward Bullock), to Williamsburg, where a regiment was formed under Col. Mathews and Maj. Armistead. Then the command marched to Jamestown and Richmond, where it was joined by Gen. Lafayette and took part in his retreat. It was discharged the last of May. Three months later, he marched from John Morrill's Tavern, Hanover County, under Capt. John Thompson to Williamsburg, where a regiment under Col. Darke and Maj. Armistead was formed and put under Gen. Steuben. The troops were discharged at Yorktown, a few days before the surrender of Cornwallis. His services were in the Sixth Division of Carolina and the Fifth of Hanover. He removed to Prince Edward in 1781.

Section No. 36

HINES, WILLIAM, SR.—Prince Edward, Oct. 13, 1832. Born June 18, 1754 (in King and Queen?). Volunteered as minute man from King and Queen under Capt. William Richards and Lt. Hugh (?) Campbell, and marched to Gloucester about the time Dunmore and his troops lay near Gwin's Island. By permission of his commanding officer, he was on that island on a visit while the battle was going on, in which he took no part, nor was he in any engagement during that tour, which lasted about two months. He then hired his brother, John Hines, as a substitute for the rest of his term. Afterward, he went, in March, 1780, to Higgins' Station, Ky., three miles from Harrisburg, with a view of settling. In July, he volunteered for service against the Indians, only two old men being left at the station. His Captain was Hugh Megary (?). At the falls of the Ohio they joined Col. George Rogers Clark, and after a few days marched up the river in advance of him in pursuit of Indians. About the eighth day Col. Clark came on in boats, passed the company, and landed on the other shore. While in sight of Col. Clark the company was attacked by Indians, declarant being wounded by a ball which broke both bones in his right arm below the elbow. Next day he was sent with the other wounded to the falls of the Ohio, where he lay till December under the care of a surgeon before he was able to travel. He then returned to Higgins' Station. In this tour he was with Col. Clark only one night. During the winter he returned to King and Queen and was not fit for any more military service, since he could not straighten arm or fingers. Until his return he was out on the last tour five or six months. He went to see Col. Clarke after the latter returned from his expedition, and was told by him that he would have the necessary steps taken to have a pension allowed. A pension was granted, but he drew it only two or three times beginning with 1784 or 1785. He was some distance from Richmond, which fact was troublesome, and he was illiterate besides. For one month he was a substitute for William Sterling and served at Gloucester Town.

Section No. 37

HERRING, JAMES.—Albemarle, Oct. 19, 1832. Born in Albemarle about 1754. Four times in service, once under Lt. Henry Austin, of Gen. Nelson's command, for two months around Williamsburg. Second tour under Capt. Miller, of Col. Mathews' regiment. From an old field he saw the enemy's fleet seven miles distant in the river (James?). Discharged after two months at Brock's bridge. Third tour also two months and under Col. Mathews. Fourth term of one month at Charlottesville guarding a tory. Was drafted in each instance.

Section No. 38

HOGG, JOHN, Albemarle, Oct. 16, 1832. Born in Hanover, Sept. 15, 1763. About Jan. 6, 1781, he marched in the militia company of Capt. John Harris, Lt. Ralph Thomas, Lt. Thomas Jones, and Ensign William Jarman to Richmond, where they drew arms, and proceeded to the Halfway House, between Williamsburg and Yorktown. There they were stationed some time. Was discharged at Richmond, returning home about March 22. May 4, same year, marched under Capt. Nicholas Hammer and Ensign Charles Hudson to Albemarle Barracks, and then to the vicinity of Richmond to join Gen. Lafayette. After this the army made the "Wild Goose Chase," toward Fredericksburg and to the Raccoon Ford on the Rapidan, where Gen. Wayne joined the army. Then the march was through Orange and Louisa to Watson's Old Fields, where declarant was transferred to a company of light infantry under Capt. Woodford, Lt. Ruffin, and Ensign Bacon, of Muhlenberg's command. Near Richmond there was a skirmish with the enemy's light horse. The British were followed to Jamestown, where there was a smart skirmish from one o'clock till after sunset. He then marched with Muhlenberg's, Wagner's, and Campbell's brigades, to Goode's bridge on the Appomatox, where he was discharged July 24. A few days after his return home he was called out on duty at Charlottesville, until after surrender of Cornwallis. The minute men were compelled to be in place under penalty of serving six months. Applicant was drafted each time.

Section No. 39

HIGGINBOTHAM, BENJAMIN.—Amherst, Sept. 17, 1832. Born in Amherst, 1757. Called into the militia in 1779, under Capt. Richard Ballinger for three months, guarding prisons at Albemarle Barracks. Called again, 1781, under Capt. James Dillard, joining Gen. Greene in North Carolina, the day after the battle of Guilford, and serving three months. Later the same year served three months under Capt. Samuel Higgenbotham, driving cattle to Williamsburg for the main army. Was drafted each time.

Section No. 40

HARTLESS, WILLIAM.—Amherst, Sept. 17, 1832. Born in Caroline, 1754. Served in militia at Albemarle Barracks one month under Capt. Philip Thurmond in 1779. In 1781 went under Capt. James Dillard and joined Gen. Greene after the battle of Guilford. Later, same year, went out under Capt. Christian to Yorktown. After the surrender of Cornwallis he went to Winchester, conveying the prisoners. The last tours were each of three months and on all occasions he went out under draft.

Section No. 41

HIGGINBOTHAM, JAMES.—Amherst, Dec., 1832. Satisfactorily shown to the Court of Monthly Sessions that the said Higginbotham entered the Virginia service as Major of militia in 1776, serving around Williamsburg and continuing in duty as such till about 1778, when he was promoted to be Colonel (?), of the Ninth Regiment, Virginia Continentals. Continued to serve, principally as recruiting officer, till the close of the war. Shown also that said Higginbotham died intestate about March, 1813, aged above eighty years, leaving as heirs, Joseph C. Higginbotham, George W. Higginbotham, James Higginbotham, and Judith (Higginbotham) Dillard, but that letters of administration of his estate have never been granted.

Section No. 42

HARRISON, RICHARD.—Albemarle, Oct. 13, 1832. Born in Goochland, Sept. 10, 1757. Moved to Caswell County, N. C., 1775. March, 1776, volunteered against the tories who rose to protect their governor. His officers, Col. Saxton (?), Maj. William Moore, Capt. Adam Saunders. At Hillsboro troops were organized and then marched to Cross Creek, where there was news of the defeat of the tories by Col. Caswell, at Long Bridge. Discharged after five or six weeks. About December 1, 1776, marched from Pittsylvania County, Va., to Georgia under Capt. John Dooley and Lt. Boswell Smith. In Georgia, Capt. Thomas Dooley was killed by an Indian. Declarant was now in Continental service for 18 months, but then attached to no regiment. Next Captain was Boswell Smith. The troops in the two companies that marched to Georgia were promised a bounty of 200 acres, which he never received. All he did get was $8 in money. Discharged in Wilkes County, Ga., spring of 1778 and came home. Spring of 1781 was drafted from Pittsylvania, and marched to siege of Fort Ninety-Six, under Capt. James Turner. After Gen. Greene raised this siege he was in camp at the high hills of Santee, where his time expired, and he was sent back to Virginia in charge of prisoners. This service was for three months, eighteen days. In September, 1781, he went to the siege of Yorktown as substitute for his employer, John Lewis. Fleming Bates was captain. After surrender of Cornwallis he conveyed prisoners to Noland's Ferry on the Potomac. Was there discharged. Moved to Albemarle, 1784.

Section No. 43

HAWK, ISAAC.—Pocahontas, Sept. 5, 1832. Born, 1758. Entered service in Hampshire, March 10, 1777, under Capt. Moses Hutton, Lt. West Wade, Ensign Andrew Heath. Marched through "Yough (Youghigheny) Glades," to Fort Pitt, and thence to Wheeling by command of Gen. Hand. Was at Fort Wheeling six months. Jacob Ware and Jacob Crow were there killed by Indians, but not in any regular engagement. Aug. 10, 1781, was ensign under Capt. George Ball in Lt. Col. James Newell's regiment, of Hampshire County. Drafted for one month, Oct. 8, 1782, and marched from Big Capon, Hampshire County, to the Monongahela to guard the commissioners while running the line between Virginia and Pennsylvania. There was no engagement.

Section No. 44

HUTCHISON, WILLIAM.—Monroe, Oct. 17, 1835. Born in Augusta, 1757. In 1776 volunteered one year under Capt. John Henderson to guard the frontier. Began service in May at Cook's Fort. Marched across New River through the present County of Giles, then thinly peopled, and served as ranger, being on constant duty. The next spring volunteered under Capt. Archibald Wood to serve so long as the Indians might be troublesome. In the fall the company marched up Bluestone to the settlement near its head, to protect the people gathering their fodder. He was in places where probably few persons except Indians had ever been. Thus served four years (excepting one year that he and two others were detailed as spies by Capt. Woods), arduously and almost constantly ranging back and forth from Cook's fort to Wood's fort on Rich Creek. The country was wild and mountainous. Frequently he carried orders in the night time, when he could hear not far off the yell, the whistle, or the weary tread of the savage. If orders were to be sent express he was the man generally selected. Such service, however difficult or dangerous, he always performed, and as he believes to the full satisfaction of his captain and fellow-soldiers. During the year that himself, Philip Cavender, and Nicholas Woodfin were detailed as spies by Capt. Wood, he served at the imminent hazard of his life, lying out by night with no covering but his blanket and no shelter but the forest, the scream of the panther or the yell of the Indian reminded him of his duty to his country. After four years Capt. Gray, of Rockbridge took command of the company. In the spring of 1782, all signs of the savage disappearing from near the settlements, he left the service. When ordered by Capt. Gray to the head of Bluestone, after marching twenty miles, all but himself refused to go further. An old man named McGuire wished to go to the settlement, and one David Clay showing the way, we started and soon found we were pursued by some 10 or 12 Indians. Sometimes we were in mud to our knees, or in water to our necks. At dark the pursuers set up a tremendous yell, but we heard no more of them, and at length arrived where we were ordered, declarant having traveled 40 miles that day after nine in the morning.

Section No. 45

HAND, CHRISTOPHER.—Monroe, —, 1833. Born in Ireland, 1758. Came to Virginia about 1773. Drafted in Augusta early in 1781, under Capt. Stevenson and Lt. Smith, of Col. George Moffett's regiment. Appointed orderly or first lieutenant. Company rendezvoused at Widow Tee's on Middle River, marched to Williamsburg, then to Norfolk, then with other militia to Gen. Greene's army at Guilford C. H. Was in the battle at that place, the Virginians forming the second line. The first line fled, but the Virginians stood their ground and fought hard till ordered to retreat by Gen. Stevens, their brave commander. A halt was made four or five miles from the battleground. The army retreated a little farther to Speedwell Iron Works, but returned to South Carolina. Discharged about Sept. 1, after serving eight months instead of the stipulated six. Was in no other engagement.

Section No. 46

JONES, THOMAS.—Made oath in Nelson that he enlisted December, 1776, under Capt. James Franklin, and soon made sergeant. Marched to Baltimore and then to Bound Brook, N. J. Affiant was often by the side of Franklin in the battle of Brandywine, and the latter's conduct was that of a brave officer. Shortly before the battle of Germantown Franklin left his company and was said to be sick. The company was in the battle, one man being killed and several (including declarant), wounded and removed to Reading. About one month later Franklin called at hospital and told him he was on his way home as his constitution would not stand the fatigues of the army. In 1780 at a militia muster in Amherst he heard Capt. Franklin asked why he was not at his post. The reply was that he returned home to enjoy his estate, the same as the inquirer.

THOMPSON, SMITH.—Made oath in Augusta that he was in the battle of Monmouth, June 28, 1778, and knew a James Franklin in Woodford's or Weedon's brigade, said Franklin being in the battle; that March 15, 1781, he saw the said Franklin, then a captain, in Gen. Greene's army at Guilford C. H., N. C.; that Franklin was attached to a regiment of Virginia Continentals; that he saw him the day after the battle in the tent of Col. John Greene.

FRANKLIN, JAMES.—Will made, March 11, 1813. Recorded in Amherst, August, 13, 1813. Gives his wife eleven negroes and his plantation on south side Rutledge Creek. Mentions Nancy C.,

Sarah W., and Betsy H. Franklin (daughters), and Jeremiah Franklin, bequeathing various property to the daughters, including a mill.

Section No. 47

JARVIS, FIELD.—Monroe, Jan. 21, 1833. Born in Westmoreland, April 25, 1756. Volunteered in 1776, serving three months at the lead mines in Wythe to keep the tories and Indians from taking them. His officers were Capt. William Leftridge and Lt. Stephen Saunders. When he went out he was living in Bedford. Volunteered there in September, 1777, for three months, under Capt. John Torbert and Lt. Arthur Mosely, and marched to Yorktown, where he served out his time. Moved to Monroe, 1781. Called out in 1779 by Col. James Calloway for guard duty at New London, Bedford County, the British prisoners taken at the Cowpens being confined there and at Lynchburg. In service ten days. Was in no battle.

Section No. 48

KINNISON, JACOB.—Pocahontas, Aug. 8, 1833. Born, 1757. Volunteered, 1777, under Capt. Mathew Arbuckle, then living in Little Levels of Greenbrier. Served the whole ten months at Point Pleasant, Arbuckle's subalterns being Lt. James Gilmer and Ensign John Williams. Only one company there. At end of ten months the Greenbrier men discharged by Gen. Hand, who came from Pittsburgh. A part of that company had enlisted for three years. Shortly before applicant was discharged, 700 men arrived at Point Pleasant under Colonels Dickenson and Skillern. April 15, 1779, re-entered service as Indian spy, and was expected to scour the country from Fork Lick on Elk River (including waters of Sleepy Creek, a branch of Greenbrier), to Drenna's Fort and Little Levels. Was almost continually in service, never being allowed at the fort more than two or three days at a time. Discharged October 15th.

Section No. 49

KELLER, CONRAD.—Monroe, Sept. 15, 1834. Enlisted for three years in Shenandoah, in 1776 or 1777. Served out said time as waiting man to Gen. Muhlenberg. Was drafted two months in 1781 or 1782, under Capt. Downey at Winchester. Served two months more at Fort Frederick on the Potomac.

---

Section No. 50

LEWIS, JESSE.—Albemarle, Oct. 13, 1832. Born in Albemarle, May 13, 1763. Drafted 1780, and served two months at Cabin Point under Capt. John Henderson, of Col. Holt Richardson's regiment, one Quarles being Major. In May, 1781, he substituted for William Eustis, who had been drafted for 18 months' service in the regular army, and marched under Capt. Benjamin Harris to rendezvoused at Old Chesterfield C. H., where Gen. Steuben was in command. Next march was to Point of Fork, a depot for military stores. On Tarleton's approach there was a retreat southwest to Staunton river and then to Hanover, to join the main army under Gen. Lafayette. Was at siege of Yorktown. After surrender of Cornwallis the command marched to winter quarters at Old Cumberland C. H., where declarant fell sick, procured a substitute, and received a written discharge from one Ferbecker (Febiger?). Was under command of Capt. Kirkpatrick and Lt. Thwait several months. His field officers most of the time he believes were Col. Gaskins and Maj. Polson.

MORGAN, WILLIAM.—Prince Edward, Sept. 17, 1832. Born, 1757. In summer of 1776 enlisted as private under Capt.

Robert Hughes and Lt. Edward Munford, marching from Cumberland County by way of Richmond and Williamsburg to Yorktown, where applicant was discharged after two months' service. In April, 1780, joined a troop of cavalry from Powhatan County, commanded by Capt. Littlebury Mosby and Lts. Horatio Turpin and Wade Mosby. The troop proceeded by way of Richmond, Williamsburg and Bottom's Bridge on Chickahominy to Petersburg, being joined meanwhile by a cavalry troop from Dinwiddie. At Petersburg applicant was in the battle in which Gen. Steuben was successful (?) over the British, who proceeded to Richmond and then down the James. At Richmond he was discharged after a tour of two months. Enlisted, 1777 or 1778, in Powhatan County, and at Old Cumberland C. H., served two months under Col. Mosby as Sergeant of the guard. 200 British soldiers were quartered there. February, 1781, joined a rifle company in Prince Edward, where applicant then resided. The company officers were, Capt. Andrew Baker, Lt. Joseph Parker, and Ensign Read. It joined Gen. Greene near the Dan river, and was attached to a regiment commanded (?) by Col. Call, of the Regular service. After one month returned to Prince Edward for provisions from the commissary, and then rejoined the army, which proceeded to Ramsay's Mill on Deep River. In North Carolina he marched under Gen. Robert Lawson to Halifax County, where he was discharged after a service of two months.

Section No. 58

McCAUSLAND, ANDREW.—Bath, Sept. 11, 1832. Born, July 14, 1757, in Chester County, Pa. Drafted three months, 1777, serving under Capt. Samuel Vance and Lt. John Cartmill; two weeks at Warwick's Fort, going then to Clover Lick Fort. In June, 1777 (or 1778), stationed one month under Capt. Andrew Lockridge at Vance's Fort on Back Creek. Drafted January, 1781, for three months, and marched under Capt. Thomas Hicklin, Lt. Joseph Gwin, and Ensign Thomas Wright to Camp Carson near the Dismal Swamp, so as to protect the road between that point and Portsmouth. Colonels Sampson Mathews and William Bowyer were in command. In June, same year, drafted 20 days to Williamsburg and Jamestown, serving under Capt. David Gwin, Lt. William McCreery, Ensign Alexander Wright.

Section No. 59

MORGAN, BENJAMIN.—Monroe, Nov. 19, 1832. Born at Philadelphia, Pa., 1761. Moved to Berkeley Co., Va., in boyhood. In 1778 (1779?), was drafted in the summer for three months under Capt. David Kennedy, of the packhorse service to Fort McIntosh, Col. Murray commanding at that post. Except for the last three weeks, helped to complete Fort Lawrence on Tuscarora River, seventy miles beyond Fort McIntosh. Discharged at the latter place. He saw Lt. Parks lying in a path after being killed by Indians. Volunteered about May 1, 1781, for three months under Capt. Edward Davis, marched by Fauquier C. H. and Fredericksburg to a point 40 miles below Williamsburg, where he joined his battalion, and then under Col. Darke and Gen. Lincoln toward North Carolina. Before getting that far the men were turned back to Yorktown and discharged. Was in no battle. Near Yorktown was pursued by a scouting party of British light horse, and in getting over a post and rail fence was cut in the shoulder. Drafted same year three months under Capt. John Hart and was at siege of Yorktown. Was of the guard for the portion of prisoners sent to Frederick, Md. Discharged about Christmas. Married Ann ———, 1784. Died Feb. 24, 1836.

Section No. 60

NICKLE, ISAAC.—Monroe, April 15, 1833. Born, 1752. In August or September, 1774, volunteered three months under Capt. John Lewis, and was in battle of Point Pleasant. Lt. John Henderson was in his company. Drafted from Greenbrier in August, 1777, to serve against Indians, under Capt. Mathew Arbuckle, and Col. Lewis. Served three weeks on Elk river and rest of three months at Point Pleasant. In 1780 (1781?), was drafted for three months under Capt. A. Nickle to go toward the Lakes, but owing to the condition of his family he hired Thomas Buchinal as substitute, giving him a mare worth $50. The troops were commanded by Col. Brown.

Section No. 61

PRYOR, WILLIAM.—Amherst, Oct. 15, 1832. Born in Albemarle (now Amherst), about 1752. Moved to the Great Kanawha in fall of 1773, and planted corn next spring, but was driven back to Amherst by Indians. Was at Point Pleasant, spring of 1775, and there saw Capt. Isaac Shelby, who had been left with the wounded after the battle the preceding October. Early in 1776 the Indians were so troublesome that he, with many others had to take shelter in the fort at Point Pleasant, and here substituted for James Frazer, in the command of Capt. Matthew Arbuckle, who was in charge of the fort. The subalterns were Lieutenants Andrew Wallace, James Thompson and Ensigns Samuel Wood and James McNutt. After serving out eight months for Frazer in the fall he enlisted under Arbuckle for two years. About this time Capt. William McKee, Lt. James Gilmer, and many privates came to Point Pleasant and were stationed under Arbuckle. Was often sent on detail with others up the Kanawha to a plantation to get corn, and was often a spy or on guard on the Ohio above the fort. In the fall of 1777, Colonels Skillern and Dickinson came on an expedition against the Shawnee towns. He met this force at the mouth of Elk. Among others of them were James Harrison and Micajah Goodwin. When they reached the fort, Lt. Gilmer went over the Kanawha to shoot turkeys and was there killed by unknown Indians. As soon as Gilmer's body was brought to the fort his men murdered Cornstalk, his son Ellinipsico, and another Indian, these Indians being held as hostages for the safety of the garrison and the settlers. While Skillern and Dickenson were at Point Pleasant, Gen. Hand, of the Continental army, came from Pittsburg and ordered a return, saying it was too late in the season to attack Chillicothe and other Indian towns. Hand ordered Arbuckle and McKee to shorten the pay and daily allowance of their men, saying they feasted too high. When this order was put into execution almost every man in the fort shouldered his gun and put on his knapsack, resolving to go home. But Col. McDowell told Hand of the impolicy of such measure and obtained permission to address the men, who on being promised their former pay and allowance, returned to duty. He himself took no part in the mutiny. Because of the murder of Cornstalk, the Shawnees, in the spring of 1778, mustered all their strength and besieged Point Pleasant several days. They killed Paddy Sherman and wounded Lt. Gilmer. Finding they could not take the fort they killed all the stock of the garrison and then started for the Greenbrier settlements. We knew of this from the Grenadier Squaw, said to be a sister of Cornstalk. She had taken shelter in the fort soon after its erection, and continued with us. When her own stock was killed she went out with spirits and became intoxicated, but overheard the Indians and told the officers of their plans. Capt. McKee then proposed that if any two men would go out and warn the Greenbrier people, he would so extend their furloughs as to be equivalent to a discharge, which itself he could not grant. John Inchminger and John Logan accepted and started, but returned the same evening. Philip Hammond and myself then agreed to go, but I gave way to my older brother, John, whom Hammond preferred and who was more experienced in Indian warfare. They were dressed in Indian style by the Granadier Squaw, and passed the Indians at some meadow about 12 miles from Donally's fort. They gave information and the settlers had been in the fort but a little while when the Indians attacked and a dreadful conflict ensued. Capt. Arbuckle was then in Greenbrier visiting his family. He and Capt. Lewis raised a company and forced their way into the fort. The Indians were driven off with much loss and Greenbrier was thus saved. During this expedition of the Indians, Gen. Clark stopped at Point Pleasant on his way to take Vincennes. In the autumn of 1778, there was a man in the fort named Morgan who had been a prisoner among the Indians many years. A squaw with him was said to be his wife. Morgan was in custody and ironed, and was to be taken to his father who had offered a large reward for his return. But finding himself lightly guarded, he and the squaw ran off and were never again heard of. Suspecting he would reach the Indian towns and tell that our time was nearly out, and that many of us would soon leave, the officers discharged many, including myself. In 1779 was drafted from Amherst for a three months' tour a little below Richmond. He served under Capt. Samuel Higgenbotham, of Col. Christian's regiment, and among his comrades were Zedekiah Shumaker, William Brown, and Samuel Allen. In 1780, he was out three months under Capt. Richard Ballinger, serving at Fort Powhatan, below Richmond, now (1832), Fort Jefferson. Among his comrades this tour were an elder brother, Nicholas Pryor, and Richard Tankersly.

Zedekiah Shumaker certified he served with declarant at Point Pleasant and below Richmond.

NOTE:—In a memorial of James Huston, who moved from the Cowpasture River to Kentucky, in 1783, and died there in 1818, aged 92, it is stated that he was out on a scout the day before the attack on Donally's Fort, and by means of his dog detected the approach of the Indians, and was thus enabled to warn the settlement. Houston's wife was Nancy McCreery, and he settled in Fayette County.

Section No. 62

PETERS, CHRISTIAN.—Monroe, Sept. 17, 1832. Born 1761. Drafted in Rockingham about June 1, 1779, to go to North Fork of South Branch of Potomac against the Indians, marching under Capt. Robert Craven. While stationed there the Captain received a commission to raise a company under a proclamation of the governor of South Carolina, offering 1,000 pounds of tobacco ($33.33) to each volunteer. Applicant accepted the position of corporal under said offer. With four others he returned with Capt. Craven to Rockingham, after being out about two months. The company was soon raised and started south about Sept. 1. At Hillsboro they lay two weeks waiting for other troops. They marched thence under Gen. Stevens to Cheraw Mills where they joined the army under Gen. Greene. A detachment was sent out to surprise some tories at the Black Swamp. The tories dispersed, but fourteen prisoners were taken. Part of the detachment was sent back with the prisoners, the other part marching to Georgetown, where twenty-eight prisoners and some supplies were taken. Another guard was sent off with the new prisoners, the rest of the force joining Gen. Morgan about 36 hours before the battle of the Cowpens. In the night the army moved about half a mile to the place chosen for a fight. Men were left to keep up the fires till daylight. The battle began about sunrise. Declarant was in the riflemen, on the right of the army, and in the third company from the right. They had the pleasure of taking 600 prisoners. Then the army moved back before Cornwallis' army to Salisbury, where declarant's company was detailed on the guard to convey the prisoners to Virginia.

By the time the army was fairly across the Yadkin, the advance of the British were on the other bank, but as the river was rising fast, they could not cross. The company's baggage wagon was lost, not being taken along. At Pittsylvania C. H. they delivered their prisoners to the militia of that county and were discharged in Rockingham in April. Declarant sold his bounty as part pay for a horse. In June, 1781, volunteered as sergeant under Capt. Jeremiah Beasley, and marched to Eastern Virginia, where command was attached to the regiment of Col. John Willis and Maj. Rucker, Gen. Campbell commanding the brigade. Declarant was in the battle of Hot Water, which lasted two hours and ten minutes, the Americans falling back to the shelter of Gen. Wayne's army. One man of the company was killed and fourteen wounded. In the battle of Jamestown, he was on the right, where there was little danger, but Gen. Wayne's regular troops suffered very much. Was out this time about four months, including a month, consumed in coming and going back. Total service, eleven months, in which he carried his own rifle, tomahawk, and butcher knife. Affidavit supported by John Dunn, a comrade.

Section No. 64

ROBERTS, WILSON.—Albemarle, Oct. 12, 1832. Born in Albemarle, May 13, 1762. Volunteered for eighteen months under

Lt. Robert Jouett, and rendezvoused at Fredericksburg, April 25, 1779. The new recruits were there laid off into divisions and marched to Baltimore, his own under Capt. (?) Howard. They proceeded by water to the head of Elk, and the vessel running aground, the command marched to the Blue Ball Tavern, thirteen miles from Philadelphia. Then they were ordered south, going by way of Fredericksburg to Petersburg, where the men were laid off into regiments. Declarant was in the Third Regiment, commanded by Col. Abraham Buford, of Gen. Scott's brigade. The regiment marched south the middle of March, 1780. About this time two field pieces were wanted at Charleston, S. C., and declarant's company volunteered to guard them. The regiment got within 25 miles of Charleston, which then, was under siege. There was then a retreat through Camden toward Salisbury. The day after leaving Camden they were overtaken at Hanging Rock, otherwise the Waxhaw Settlement, by the British Light Horse and infantry under Tarleton. This according to recollection was May 29th. Buford was defeated and it was the general opinion that out of about 500 men not more than 25 got entirely away without harm. Declarant made his way to Salisbury, where a remnant gathered and proceeded to Chesterfield C. H., Va. The regiment was again made up, still under command of Buford, and sent to Hillsboro, N. C., where declarant was discharged. About September, 1781, he was drafted for two months in the militia, and marched under Capt. Robert Sharp, to Richmond. Thinks his colonel was one Richardson. Soon after arrival at Yorktown, Cornwallis surrendered, and he was ordered back to Richmond to guard some prisoners or refugees. He was there discharged by Capt. Falkner, the tour being of two or three months.

Will made Aug. 20, 1836, probated July 3, 1837. Mentions, of children: Martha D. Kerby, John W. Roberts, William R. Roberts: of grandchildren: Sarah E. and John W. Kerby. Executors: J. W. and W. K. Roberts and Fayette F. Kerby. Possessed land, negroes, bank stock.

Section No. 65

ROBINSON, JOHN.—Monroe, Sept. 17, 1832. Born, 1749. Drafted in February, 1780, under Capt. Thomas Wright, of Greenbrier, for the alleged purpose of going against the Indians at Detroit, but was marched by Crytes (?) lead mines to the head of Holston, and thence to Logan Station, Ky., where it was decided that the troops were not to go to Detroit. Marched to McAfee's Station on Salt River, where Capt. James Armstrong was in command. The major under whom affiant served was Andrew Hamilton. Discharged here in August, 1780, his term of service calling for twelve months. Reached home the last of August in Company with twenty-eight others who had been in the same service. Among them were, James Alton, Swift Perry, and Edward Cornwell, all now dead; William Bushor, who moved to Kentucky, and James and John O'Hara and Thomas Alterberry, whom he knows nothing of. Was in no battle. In consequence of being from home he sustained a loss of $1,600 in the depreciation meanwhile of paper money held by him.

Section No. 66

SCOTT, WILLIAM.—Prince Edward, Sept. 17, 1832. Born in Ireland, Dec. 3, 1757. Enlisted 1775 or 1776 from Charlotte County for a term of one year in the militia. His company officers were Capt. Wm. Collier and Lt. Douglas Watson. Joined his regiment at Petersburg, commanded by Col. Ruffin and Maj. Glenn. The march was then by way of Williamsburg and Yorktown to Gwin's Island, where there was fighting several days with the British under Lord Dunmore. Several, he thinks seven, ships were destroyed after Dunmore was driven out. The enemy then went up the river, the army watching his movements. News arriving that the Indians were troublesome on the frontier, the regiment, which was armed with rifles, marched to Holston river. A few days before its arrival there had been a battle between the vanguard and the Indians. The main body of the army went in pursuit, his regiment, then commanded by Col. Morgan being stationed at Holston (Long) Island, where it remained until the time of service expired. He had no written discharge because of the unpopularity of Morgan. The day before the discharge was to take place, the soldiers were told they would be mustered for the purpose. Next morning some men who wished to show their dislike to the Colonel broke his sword near the hilt and shaved the mane and tail of his horse.

Morgan rode off in a rage without issuing regular discharges, but saying he would do so at New London, Bedford County. He did not meet the men there nor did they get any written discharge. In February, 1778, applicant was drafted in Charlotte for a term, he believes, of two years. He hired John Scott as a substitute, gave him 100 pounds, and got a discharge for himself from Thomas Reed, the same stating the services was from Feb. 10, 1778, to March 16, 1778. The last tour was in 1779, when he was drafted about Feb. 1st into Capt. William Morton's Company, and marched south. At Salisbury, N. C., the command was joined by other Virginia troops and marched through Charlotte and Camden to the main army under Gen. Lincoln. While there an attempt was made to storm a British fort at Stono Ferry, but the attack was repulsed. His discharge is dated July 13, 1779, and is signed by Maj. William Hubbard, of the Virginia Brigade. Applicant came to America in 1763, and moved to Prince Edward about 1782.

Section No. 67

SIMMONS, JEHU.—Prince Edward, Sept. 17, 1832. Born in Prince Edward, February, 1762. In 1779 or 1780, his father being drafted into the militia, he marched as a substitute under Capt. Clark, of Col. George Walker's regiment, both officers being of his County. They were ordered to Petersburg, where three other companies also assembled. In 1781 he volunteered for a second tour under Capt. Ambrose Nelson of Prince Edward and Ensign John Woodson and Benjamin Allen of Cumberland. The Command marched to join Gen. Greene at Guilford C. H., N. C. He was in Col. John Holcomb's regiment of Gen. Lawson's brigade. From recollection his major's name was Tucker. His regiment was not in the battle at Guilford, but a brother was wounded. Afterwards he marched with the army to Ramsay's Mill, where he was discharged. During the following summer he was drafted as a guard in the vicinity of Prince Edward C. H., Cornwallis being expected there. This tour he believes was of four weeks. Later in the summer he was drafted, and marched under Capt. Bird, of Prince Edward, to the siege of Yorktown. Maj. Charles Allen was the superior officer. At Yorktown he was under Col. Beverley Randolph, of Gen. Lawson's brigade. His command was detailed to convey the British prisoners to Winchester, and having been sick some time, he substituted a man in his place. The last tour was of four months by recollection, and he was sick some time afterwards. In every case he served full time and was honorably discharged.

Section No. 68

SMITH, PHILIP.—Amherst, Oct. 15, 1832. Born in Amherst, 1755. In 1781, marching under Capt. James Franklin, he joined Gen. Greene's army in North Carolina the day after the battle of Guilford. He was then put under Capt. Younger Landrum, Col. John Holcomb's regiment, Gen. Lawson's brigade. In the following summer was in a tour under Capt. Caleb Higgenbotham, driving cattle from Amherst to supply the army at Williamsburg. Served three and four months. Was drafted each time and was in no battle.

Section No. 69

SHUMAKER, ZEDEKIAH.—Amherst, Oct. 15, 1832. Born in Henrico about 1754. Went to the Great Kanawha and there resided till 1775, but returned because of Indians. In the autumn of 1776, enlisted two years under Lt. William Moore, of Rockbridge, some comrades being John Hogg, John Finney, Samuel Peters, and William Hicks, and marched to Point Pleasant. Other officers were Capt. William McKee, Lt. James Thompson, and Ensign James Gilmer. Capt. Matthew Arbuckle was in command at Point Pleasant, his subalterns being Lts. Andrew Wallace and Samuel Wood, and Ensign James McNutt.

Remainder of declaration is substantially the same as that of William Pryor. (Sec. 61). He adds that Inchminger and Logan declared they could not get by the Indians, that the Indians did not believe anyone would dare leave the fort, and that the reward offered by Morgan's father was $500. Also that Capt. Arbuckle's idea in sending off the men before their time was quite out was that otherwise the Indians might waylay them. He served a month or two guarding British prisoners at Albemarle Barracks, his Captain being Anthony Rucker.

Section No. 72

STEUART, JAMES.—Bath, Jan. 12, 1833. Born in Augusta (now Highland), Jan. 2, 1757. Drafted 1778, or 1779, for three months under Capt. Andrew Lockridge, at Clover Lick Fort. A year later went out one month under Capt. Thomas Hicklin to guard the frontier, and served at Warwick's Fort. Went out three months in 1781 against the British, the company officers being Capt. Thomas Hicklin, Lt. Joseph Gwin, Ensign Thomas Wright, and the regimental Colonels, Sampson Mathews and William Bowyer. They were stationed during the winter at Camp Carson near the Dismal Swamp, where he took a prisoner. He was often in scouting parties and in March they took some prisoners in a skirmish at Portsmouth. Discharged at Camp Carson. Drafted, June, 1781, on tour of 20 days, being in Capt. Peter Hull's Company of horse of Col. John McCreery's regiment. Was in the battle of Jamestown and then discharged. As substitute for James Carlile, served same year a month and ten days. Crossed and recrossed the James at Westham, in pursuit of Tarleton.

Section No. 74

SHARP, WILLIAM.—Pocahontas, Sept. 4, 1832. Born, 1740. Indian spy in 1773-'74. In service, summer of 1774 in company of Capt. Andrew Lockridge during the Point Pleasant campaign. William Mann and himself were sent by Gen. Andrew Lewis with a message to Gov. Dunmore, and did not rejoin the army till the morning after the battle at Point Pleasant. In September, 1764, had volunteered under Capt. Charles Lewis in an expedition against the Indians on the Muskingum. Returned next March. There was no engagement. The Indians gave up their captives. Lt. McClenahan was of the company. Colonels Field and McNeel were then members of it. Drafted, January, 1781, in Company of Capt. William Kincaid and Ensign James Trimble, of Col. Samson Mathew's regiment. Was in a skirmish with the British at Portsmouth. Discharged, April, 1781.

Section No. 75

SANS (SANDS?), SAMUEL.—Monroe, Aug. 22, 1832. Born, 1758. Substituted for William Dickey, who was drafted from Augusta late in 1780. Served under Capt. James Tate, whose major was Frank Triplett, of Fauquier. The regular officers were, Maj. Brooks, Col. Howard, and Gen. Morgan. Was in battle of Cowpens and was with Col. Washington when that officer captured 200 Tories at Rugley's Mills. Discharged at Salisbury, after six months tour. Drafted three months in June, 1781, under Capt. John Campbell, Maj. Long, and Col. Charles Cameron. Was at battle of Jamestown, where he was commanded by Capt. John Dickey and Col. Hughart. Was also at Siege of Yorktown, and guarded prisoners to Winchester, where he was discharged. (Note: Declarant must have been called out twice in 1781). In 1782, substituted three months for Hugh Brown against the Indians, and marched under Lt. John McCamie (?), serving out his term at Clover Lick. Berryman Jones and Samuel Clark were comrades. The latter was wounded at Jamestown.

Section No. 80

WALKER, WILLIAM T.—Prince Edward, Aug. 21, 1832. Born in Amelia, 1757. Drafted in summer of 1778. Marched under Capt. Edward Walker to Richmond, thence to Williamsburg, where the company remained several weeks, and finally to Hampton, where it was regularly discharged, the tour comprising about three months. At Hampton there was a report that the British were coming down Elk River. Because of the scarcity of lead, bullets were made from the lead in the church windows. In 1779, volunteered as private under Capt. E. Walker, of Amelia, and marched to Cabin Point, where the company was discharged, the tour covering two or three months. In 1780, volunteered in Capt. Philip Holcomb's Cavalry, of Prince Edward County, where applicant was now living. Marched to Petersburg and used Masonic Hall as barracks. This tour was also two or three months. Gen. Lawson was here in command.

Section No. 81

WOODSON, JOSEPH.—Prince Edward, Sept. 17, 1832. Born, 1751. Drafted from Amelia County, 1777, serving under Capt. Benjamin Ward two months. Stationed at Petersburg and there discharged. In the spring of 1780, the enemy lying off our coast and coming up our rivers, threatened Petersburg and Richmond, there was a call for 300 militia from Amelia. Applicant then served two months under Capt. Watson, of Col. William Giles' Regiment. The troops crossed the Appomattox below Petersburg and marched to the Chickahominy, where they were discharged. At the close of 1780, or early in 1781, applicant enlisted from Amelia in a company of cavalry under Capt. Edmund Walker, and marched by Cartersville, Point of Fork, and Albemarle C. H. to receive arms. The British were coming up the James and into the County. He was discharged in Amelia, never having been attached to any regular troops. In the spring of 1781, he enlisted in the State Legion to serve during the war. The Captain was Peter Randolph. The colonel was Everett Meade, and the majors were Diggs and Nicholas. The legion marched to Genito Bridge on the Appomattox, where it was stationed a short while, and then to Richmond to receive arms. Not being able to procure any it was stationed near Goode's bridge on the Appomattox, and did not join the troops about Jamestown and Yorktown. After the surrender of Cornwallis the troops to which applicant belonged were ordered to go home, after a service of about nine months, but to hold themselves in readiness for a future call, which however, never came.

Section No. 82

WORSHAM, WILLIAM.—Prince Edward, Aug. 20, 1832. Born, 1752. Enlisted for one year from Amelia County, in the First Virginia Regiment, in the summer of 1775. The company officers were Capt. Markham, First Lt. William Cunningham, Sec'd Lt. Joseph Scott, and Ensign Tarleton Woodson. The regimental officers were Col. Patrick Henry, and Major Francis Epps. Soon after his enlistment he marched to Winchester, then to Williamsburg, and afterwards to Norfolk. On the way to Norfolk the battle of Great Bridge took place between the advanced troops under Colonels Scott and Marshall, and the British, the latter retreating and after a few days of skirmishing embarking on their vessels. Norfolk was about this time burned, and the American troops remained to the end of his enlistment at Kemp's Landing. Afterwards, declarant was commissioned captain of militia, and with Captains Roberts, Fitzgerald, and Jones marched to aid the people of North and South Carolina, then much annoyed by the British and tories. At Halifax, N. C., they remained some time, and being joined by some of the militia of that State, were placed under the command of Col. Wylie Jones. They had marched near to Charleston about the time of Gate's defeat near Camden (Aug., 1780), when the militia returned, and his company was discharged in Amelia after a term of six months. In the fall of 1780, his company was again ordered out, and marched to Richmond and vicinity, being then under the command of Col. Abraham Greene and Maj. Philip Jones. After about two months the company was discharged. There was another call for the Amelia militia, and he marched with his company to Petersburg, where after two months of service under Col. Edmund Booker, he was discharged. Arnold and Philips appeared around Petersburg and Richmond, and the militia were called out frequently for short periods. In February, 1781, he again went out with his company for three months, and marched to the headquarters of Gen. Lafayette at Wilton near Richmond. Cornwallis came up from the South, and at Petersburg took general command of the British. It was the intention of Lafayette to attack them at different points at the same time. One division under Col. Barbour marched to Petersburg, while the other, under Lafayette in person, marched around to cross at Goose Island. Applicant was guide to Lafayette, but Barbour arriving first attacked from Baker's Hill and the British retreated, going up the James to Point of Fork. Other troops coming in, the Amelia and Chesterfield militia were discharged at Bird's Ordinary, near Point of Fork. The day after his discharge, applicant with Capt. John Knight, Lt. Archer Wats-hall and about 100 soldiers were taken prisoners on their way home by Tarleton. His commission was taken from him and he was detained as prisoner two months. After the battle of Jamestown, in July, he was discharged with the smallpox upon him. He was not again in service.

Section No. 93

AILSTOCK, ABSALOM.—Rockbridge, — —, 1832? Born in Louisa about 1763. Freeborn mulatto. Marched from Louisa about Dec. 1, 1780, it being rumored that the British were about to land on the coast, and was out four weeks. Regimental officers were Col. Fontaine and Maj. Winston. Discharged at Hanover C. H. About April 1, 1781, joined the Second Regiment under Capt. William Harris, the superior officers being Col. Richardson and Maj. Armistead. The British burned the tobacco warehouses in Manchester, the ruins of which applicant distinctly saw from Richmond side. Brigade stationed a while at Malvern Hills. The enemy were in the habit of coming this far up the James in boats, each with a gun at either end, their purpose being plunder. Two such boats and seventeen prisoners were taken by the regiment. Discharged in Spottsylvania in June. Called out next month under Capt. Benjamin Harrison and joined Nelson's brigade (called at Yorktown the Louisa Brigade), at Williamsburg, Col. Richardson being a field officer, but Maj. Martin taking the place of Maj. Armistead. After Washington arrived, the brigade marched on to Yorktown. During the siege, applicant was employed digging intrenchments for batteries and making sand baskets. After the French began the battle on Sunday morning, his regiment was put into the poplar redoubt for the purpose of charging into a gun battery.

Section No. 97

BELL, SAMUEL.—Augusta, July 28, 1834. Born, 1759. Drafted for three months in September, 1777, under Capt. George

Moffett, Lt. Joseph Patterson, Ensign Andrew Anderson. Col. John Dickenson and Maj. Samuel McDowell being line officers. Marched from rendezvous at mouth of Kerr's Creek by way of the Big Savannah (Lewisburg), and Walker's Meadows to Point Pleasant, where there was a fort garrisoned by a company of regulars under Capt. Arbuckle. It was understood that the troops were destined against Detroit, but in consequence of the late arrival of Gen. Hand from Pittsburgh, the expedition was abandoned, and in December applicant's command was ordered home, where he arrived Christmas eve. About May 1, 1780, applicant substituted for Benjamin Brown, a relative who could not leave home without great inconvenience. Marched under Ensign John Wilson to Clover Lick, where he joined his company under Capt. William Anderson and Lt. James Mitchell, and was discharged after three months. No other troops were at Clover Lick. In fall of 1780, applicant volunteered under Capt. Thomas Smith, Lt. (?), George Craig, Ensign John Bell. Marched to Richmond to guard the General Assembly. Several other militia companies were there. Discharged after two weeks. Then rejoined (not expecting to march far), Capt. Smith's company and marched into North Carolina, overtaking the main army at Troublesome Iron Works, the day after the battle of Guilford, and returning after a little above one month. The following May or June, Lt. Robert Kirk applied to Capt. James Bell (with whom applicant was serving) for men to help impress horses for the regular army. Applicant with a few others was so detailed, and served in Bath, etc.

Section No. 100

BUSTER, CLAUDIUS.—Augusta, Sept. 25, 1832. Son of John Buster. Born in Albemarle, Nov. 24, 1763. Entered service in December, 1780, under Capt. William Grayson, Lt. William Gooch, Ensign Francis Montgomery, Orderly Sergeant Taulton (Tarlton) Woodson. Given arms at Richmond. Received into army at Yorktown by Gen. Nelson. Discharged next March. The companies of Capt. James Barnett and Capt. Tucker marched from Amherst at same time. The field officers were, Col. Dabney and Maj. Campbell. He served between Yorktown and Hampton. One night the British sailed up York River, landed at Halfway House, and destroyed some property. The Americans had left there the night before. Col. Mallory gave them battle, himself and several men being killed. In May, 1781, when it was rumored that the British were on their way to Richmond, there was a call for a great many men from Albemarle, and the following companies went into service: Capt. Daniel White's, Capt. Mark Leake's, Capt. Benjamin Harris', Capt. John Burke's, and Capt. Laney's. By a proclamation it was announced that if men who had served the winter before would now volunteer for six weeks, it should stand as a tour (of three months?). Applicant and many others so volunteered. His company officers were, Capt. Daniel White, Lt. Nathaniel Garland, Ensign Francis Montgomery, the whole force marching under Col. Reuben Linsday, and joining Gen. Lafayette on his retreat from Richmond. When Col. Linsday made return of his men he made no discrimination in favor of the volunteers, and all served three months. The army marched and countermarched until it fell back to Fauquier County. It then moved southwesterly to the Rapidan where it was joined by Wayne and Steuben. Col. Toles (Toler?), then took command of declarant's regiment. A Maj. McIlhany of the regular army, was also attached to the regiment. About this time the British cavalry got into Charlottesville, ran out the Assembly, and then retreated. Our army followed the British, but there was no fighting until the vicinity of Williamsburg was reached. There were then skirmishes at Hot Water and Hickorynut Church, and a considerable battle at Jamestown when the British went on board their ships. Applicant himself was in no battle. After the British took ship his company lay in camp at Malvern Hills until its discharge in August.

Section No. 102

CARTMILL, HENRY.—Botetourt, Sept. 7, 1832. Born in Chester County, Pa., 1754. Removed to Augusta, 1761. Feb. 26, 1779, commissioned ensign in Botetourt. Upon a requisition for troops to go against the Indians in the southwest of Virginia, he marched under Capt. James Smith to Nolachucky river, being joined on the way by Capt. James Barnett's Company from Roanoke. At Nolachucky about 400 men were found under command of Col. William Campbell. By a council of war it was determined not to pursue any farther. Returned after an absence of over three months, the distance to the Nolachucky being about 350 miles. Commissioned lieutenant April 14, 1781. Called into service and was at Yorktown during the whole siege, being under the command of Capt. James Smith. After the surrender he guarded prisoners for some distance beyond Williamsburg, when there being more force than was thought necessary he was permitted to return home. At the report that Donally's Fort in Greenbrier was attacked, he went as ensign under Capt. Hugh Logan to the relief of the settlers, but they were met by Capt. Hall, who told them the Indians had retired. At another time he ranged the mountains between Fincastle and Sweet Springs in search of Indians. Himself and many others assembled at the lead mines in Wythe to meet Col. Ferguson who was said to be advancing from the Carolinas with a large force of Tories. After going as far as Stone House in Botetourt, they were stopped by Col. Skillern, commanding the Botetourt militia, until more men could be collected. News reaching them that the Tories were dispersed, they returned home.

Section No. 104

COLVIN, BENJAMIN.—Boone County, Mo., June, 1832. Born in Culpeper, 1758. Entered service in April, 1778 (1781?), under Capt. Elijah Kirtley, of Culpepper, Col. John Willis, of Hanover, commanding the regiment. At first the expectation was to join Washington in the North, but news came the British were coming up the Potomac. Joined Gen. Morgan at Bird's Ordinary, Amelia County. At Bacon's Branch were joined by Gen. Muhlenberg. Moved toward Roanoke, where it was understood Tarleton was doing mischief, but he had left. Crossed James twenty miles above Richmond and about fifteen miles beyond met Gen. Wayne. A few days later a battle at Jamestown lasting two hours by the sun. At Hot Water there was a skirmish with a party of British who were robbing the country of cattle. They had a great many shut up in Gen. Lawson's field, but we got them all away. After Jamestown he was on scout duty and in some light skirmishes. Time was out Oct. 20, when the American army was at Bacon's Branch above Richmond. A day or two later, without going home he joined Capt. Samuel Ferguson's company just arrived from Culpeper and raised in affiant's neighborhood. Discharged in January, 1782, after service of nine months and ten days. Allowed $31.11 a year.

Section No. 105

DAVIDSON, JOHN.—Rockbridge, Aug. 8, 1832. Born in Rockbridge, Oct. 29, 1757. Was willing to go out in spring of 1778, being liable as unmarried man, but was induced by mother to hire substitute, who served twelve months. Drafted about June 1, 1778, serving in Greenbrier. Early in July, 1778 (1779?), served fifteen days under Capt. William Lyle driving packhorses loaded with flour and bacon to the troops on the frontier. Went out in January, 1781, under Capt. Andrew Moore, Lt. John McClung, Ensign James McDowell, the regiment being under Col. Bowyer. Rendezvous at Red House and marched to Portsmouth, where the regiment lay, except a month at Great Bridge. The Nansemond at Suffolk was crossed on a floating bridge. At Great Bridge were captured two twelve-pounder howitzers and about twelve prisoners. At Gum Bridge, near Dismal Swamp, there was a skirmish. Discharged about April 11th. Marched Aug. 7, 1781, under Capt. David Gay, who tried to induce him to be Orderly Sergeant. At Richmond the company formed with those of Augusta a battalion. Line officers were, Colonels Parker and Willis, and Gen. Muhlenberg. Proceeded to Ruffin's Ferry, thence to a point opposite Jamestown, 5,500 French being camped on north side. Their boats ferried the militia across. Then under Col. Samuel Lewis the companies marched to Yorktown, remaining there till Sept. 14, 1781.

Section No. 109

HICKMAN, ADAM.—Rockbridge, Sept. 3, 1832. Born in Germany, 1762. Came to Rockbridge, 1768. Drafted about Oct. 1, 1780, under Capt. James (or William) Hall. Marched from rendezvous a mile below Lexington to Richmond and Petersburg. The company of Capt. Gray, also of Rockbridge, marched at same time. Tour was three months. Again drafted, May, 1781, marched to Sandy Point, where he crossed the James, then to Petersburg, where his recollection is that the Appomattox was crossed on a flatboat, the bridge having been burned by the enemy. After much further marching in this part of the State was discharged in August. William Miller, a comrade, certified that declarant was in the battle of Hot Water; that when the flat-boat on the Appomattox was upset by the horses in it, Hickman clung to a rope; and that he went by night to Williamsburg with a scouting party to surprise the British guard.

Section No. 111

HAMILTON, ALEXANDER.—Augusta, Aug. 29, 1833. Born in Augusta, Sept. —, 1759. Drafted for the protection of the frontier. Marched under Capt. James Trimble through Tygart's Valley to Fort Buchanan on West Fork of Monongahela. While there was in scouting parties but no battle. He thinks this service was in 1779. The discharge was in June, after at least two months service. Drafted for same purpose in spring of 1780, marching under Capt. John McKittrick from Jennings Gap, remaining a while at Fort Dinwiddie and serving the rest of the three months at Fort Warwick, from which he was sometimes out on scout duty. Third tour was from Waynesboro late in May, 1781. Marched under Capt. Patrick Buchanan of Col. Thomas Hughart's regiment to Richmond and below. Was in battle of Hot Water, June 26th, where his brother, James, was severely wounded. Was then detailed to attend his brother in a hospital in New Kent, the wound being considered dangerous. So remained till his time was out, when his brother, John, took his place as nurse. Col. (or Maj.?) Willis commanding their troops at Hot Water under Col. Butler, both being of the regular service.

Section No. 112

HARRISON, JAMES.—Rockbridge, Sept. 3, 1832. Born in Culpeper, Sept. 4, 1755. In fall of 1777, marched under Capt. John Paxton to Point Pleasant by way of Fort Donally. Gen. Hand soon arrived from Pittsburgh. Applicant witnessed the death of Cornstalk, his son Ellinpsico, and two other warriors, Red Hawk and Petalla. Returned shortly before Christmas. Gen. Hand disbanded the troops because of the lateness of the season and short supply of provisions. Applicant was drafted from Amherst in the Spring or summer of 1779 to serve under Capt. Shelton in guarding the British prisoners at Albemarle Barracks. Col. Taylor, of Orange, was in charge of them. The next term, also three months, he served there again, under Capt. Ambrose Rucker and Col. Taylor. This was the winter of 1780-'81. Next season, while Tarleton was above Richmond, he was called out by Col. Hugh Rose, of Amherst, to exchange British prisoners at Jamestown and deliver deserters from the American ranks (these being at New London, Bedford County), to American recruiting officers. Was thus engaged six months, and six months longer in patrolling his county twice a week to thwart any effort by the tories to disaffect the negroes.

Section No. 113

HIGHT, GEORGE.—Rockbridge, Dec. 3, 1832. Born in King and Queen, 1755. Removed while young to Amherst. In January, 1776, volunteered in Botetourt against the Cherokees, and marched under Capt. Gilmore to Crow's Ferry, now Pattonsburg, thence to Long Island on Holston, where he remained till about 3,000 men had assembled under Col. Christian. They marched for four weeks into the Indian country, destroyed five towns, and were discharged at Long Island. Enlisted in Rockbridge, Aug. 14, 1777, in Col. George Baylor's Light Dragoons to serve during the war.

In October, joined the regiment at Fredericksburg, remaining there five or six weeks, then marching to Reading, Pa., where he was inoculated for the smallpox. In February, 1778, the troop marched to the Raritan, and next month to Valley Forge. Here the Fourth Troop, to which he belonged, commanded by Capt. Cadwallader Jones, was employed by Gen. Morgan in preventing the people of the county from furnishing supplies to the enemy and in watching the movements of the latter. In the action at Monmouth, affiant was under the immediate command of Maj. Clough, of Lee's division. The regiment then proceeded to Hackensack, remaining there five or six weeks, then moving up the river. Sept. 23, it was surprised by Gen. Gray while asleep in barns. No quarter was given except to the Fourth Troop, all of whom were made prisoners, except affiant and John Walker, who escaped by getting in among the enemy. Col. Baylor was wounded and Maj. Clough was killed. Next day affiant joined the remnant of the regiment and wintered at Frederick, Md. In the spring they were joined by the Fourth Troop, now exchanged, and by some new recruits. Col. William Washington now took command, and they returned to New Jersey, again being employed in watching the enemy and preventing trading with him. Near the close of 1780, they marched south, arriving near Charleston, S. C., in March, 1780. Shortly after, learning that Tarleton was on his way from Savannah to Charleston, Washington whipped him, taking sixteen prisoners, including a colonel and a doctor. But later, Washington was surprised and defeated at Monk's Corner. The attack was so sudden that although the horses were saddled and bridled, there was not time to mount. Affiant was captured and after being dragged about with the army of Cornwallis some ten days, was put into a prison ship till after the surrender of Charleston. He was then placed in the barracks, there, but this being inconvenient to the British, he was again put on board a prison ship and confined till about August, when he was exchanged at Jamestown, Va. At Malvern Hills he found Capt. Cadwallader Jones, and was sent on to Maj. Call of Washington's regiment, who was recruiting in Orange, Albemarle, and Goochland. After the surrender of Cornwallis he was discharged in South Carolina, in the fall of 1782. Bartlett Fitzgerald, a comrade, certifies that in Grey's surprise Hight was cut down and left as dead.

Section No. 114

HEWITT, JOHN.—Botetourt, Sept. 5, 1833. Born Nov. 14, 1763, in Botetourt. Volunteered in Continental Line, Sept. 8, 1780, for six months, but order to march did not come till Oct. 27. Went out under Capt. James Robinson, Nov. 5, were joined by Capt. Alexander Handly's company, and marching under Maj. David Campbell joined Morgan two days after the battle of the Cowpens. There took the place of the Augusta and Rockbridge militia, who were about to be discharged. They acted bravely in the battle and guarded the prisoners to Virginia. Affiant's command was sent down the Catawba to act in concert with Gen. Davidson at McCowan's Ford, and by felling timber along the bank to prevent the enemy from crossing. A few hours after this preparation had been made a detachment of the enemy appeared on the opposite bank. As we were about to fire on them they retired. Before daylight next morning the British opened a heavy artillery fire on Gen. Davidson, who commanded lower down the river. After daylight they forced the passage and Davidson was killed. Meanwhile in a cold dark dash with heavy rain, the affiant's command got into the road on which Gen. Morgan was retreating and came up with it on the Yadkin, which was very much swollen by the rains. It was daybreak before the North Carolina militia got over, and took position a half mile up the river from the direct road to Salisbury. Next night they were attacked by a strong detachment of infantry supported by cavalry, and compelled to retreat. The army got over with the exception of a small part of the baggage. The last boat had put off when the British cavalry reached the river and fired on it with pistols, but without effect. In our skirmish, Capt. Hanley and John Allen were taken prisoners and a few men killed. The most of those who escaped had to cross the river in canoes. When the scattered troops assembled they marched to Guilford C. H., where they were permitted to rest a while, the enemy being detained by the flood in the Yadkin. Then they marched to Bruce's crossroad on the way where Col. ———— was cut to pieces by the British cavalry. The retreat continued till the Dan was crossed. After the Yadkin was crossed the army was commanded by Col. Williams. From the day after the battle of Cowpens they were employed night and day in throwing every possible difficulty in the enemy's path. The men were without tents and often without provisions. The fatigue, privation, and loss of sleep brought on sickness and death in that inclement season. When the two rifle companies crossed the Dan the 111 men were reduced to 17, and there were no officers but the major, who gave the remnant a verbal discharge, affiant being one of the 17. He volunteered Aug. 6, 1781, and marched to the siege of Yorktown under Maj. Patrick Locke, and after the surrender guarded prisoners to four miles beyond Winchester, where he was discharged the middle of November.

Section No. 115

JONES, JOHN.—Kanawha, (W. Va.), Jan. 15, 1833. Born Feb. 2, 1756. In 1773 he and two others settled on Great Kanawha, and next spring driven back to Muddy Creek by Indians. Built fort there under orders from Capt. Mathew Arbuckle. Was in the battle of Point Pleasant. In the middle of September, 1776, enlisted as regular soldier under Capt. Arbuckle. First Lt. Andrew Wallace, Second Lt. William Wood, Ensign John Gallagher. Served at Point Pleasant to close of 1777. The command was re-enforced by Botetourt men under Capt. McKee, Lieutenants William and John Moore, and Ensign James Gilmer. An attack by the Indians was repulsed and the savages then turned to Donally's Fort in Greenbrier. Two bold and daring soldiers, dressed in Indian costume, made their way thither and apprised the settlers of their danger in time to save them from extermination. Was employed as Indian scout in 1778-9 over a distance of 60 to 70 miles west of the inhabited section of country. William and Leonard Morris and John Patterson were scouts with him. Applicant mentions William Arbuckle, then at Ft. Mason.

Section No. 117

KENNERLY, WILLIAM.—Augusta, July 22, 1833. Born in Culpeper, Feb. 4, 1752. Volunteered in Augusta, June, 1774, to serve against the Indians. Went out under Capt. George Mathews, William Robertson, being First Lieutenant and George Gibson, Second. Marched to Warwick's fort, where they joined Capt. George Moffett, whose men were building the fort. Declarant was left here in command of sixteen men, the rest of the company marching on to Point Pleasant, and returning after the battle. Discharged about Nov. 1st, after serving about four and one-half months. About June 1, 1778, was drafted into the Augusta militia. Owing to the domestic situation in his own and his father's family, his brother being also in service, declarant was asked by Col. Sampson Mathews to take charge of a brigade of pack horses to convey provisions to Fort McIntosh. He continued in this service till about the middle of November. In June, 1781, volunteered with 108 others as mounted infantry to go to lower Virginia. William Bowyer was captain and Samuel Bell and Charles Cameron were lieutenants. They joined Gen. Campbell at Richmond, and had a skirmish at New Kent C. H., and later at Hot Water. The troops marched and countermarched in the vicinity of Williamsburg. At the Siege of Yorktown, declarant was furloughed because of fever brought on by fatigue and exposure. Discharged late in October. Gen. Campbell served under Gen. Wayne.

Section No. 118

LEMON, JACOB.—Botetourt, June 7. 1832. Born about 1762. Enlisted in October, 1780, under Capt. John Tate, and joined the Southern army in South Carolina, serving in Col. Howard's

Maryland regiment. Was slightly wounded at Cowpens and discharged late in February, 1781, at Salisbury, N. C. Next May was drafted, and went out under Capt. John Dickey, marching to Williamsburg. Was in the action at Jamestown. Discharged at Camp Holly (Bottom's Bridge), sixteen miles below Richmond. Acted as sergeant in both tours. Drafted in 1782 under Col. John Moffett to guard the frontier at Tygart's Valley. Marched under Capt. John McKittrick and served full tour of duty.

Section No. 119

LEWIS, THOMAS.—Rockingham, Aug. 20, 1832. Born Jan. 26, 1760. Served in different tours under Captains Nall, Rush, and Houston, the last one a service of twenty days against the tories on the South Branch in 1781, doing at least ten days' guard duty on prisoners taken at Woodstock, from King's Mountain. Some of them were sick and one died on the road. Served under Capt. Houston at Yorktown in 1781, twenty days as lieutenant and adjutant. Drafted in 1781, for eighteen months in regular service Substitute hired without his knowledge. The tour under Nall, October, 1776, was against the Indians, who had done mischief that spring and summer, and was stationed at Westfall's fort and in Tygart's Valley. Second tour, under Rush, of Col. Sampson Mathew's command. Tour under Capt. George Houston was against Claypole's headquarters at Cape Capon. The establishment was entirely broken up. Was in battle of Hot Water.

Section No. 120

MOORE, WILLIAM.—Rockbridge, Aug. 7, 1832. Served three months and fifteen days, including going and returning, under Capt. Samuel Wallace, of Rockbridge, and Lt. Edmundson, being discharged about April 15, 1781, at Portsmouth. The company was in Col. John Bowyer's regiment of Gen. Muhlenberg's brigade. As captain of a volunteer company he later marched to Richmond soon after Tarleton's incursion to Charleston (?). Was gone about three weeks. Marched again about the middle of September, 1781, to Yorktown as captain of militia, being under Col. Samuel Lewis and Majors Long and McIlhany. From Yorktown, marched with the prisoners to Winchester, and was discharged there in December, returning to Rockbridge with not over twenty of the men he had taken out. Served also three other short tours.

Section No. 121

MILLER, WILLIAM.—Rockbridge, Sept. 3, 1832. Born in Pennsylvania, March 1, 1757. Drafted in Rockbridge. Marched October 9, 1780, under Capt. James Gilmore, Lt. John Carrothers, and Ensign John McCorkle. The last named was wounded in the wrist at Cowpens and died of lockjaw. At Hillsboro, N. C., the command joined Gen. Greene, was reviewed, and drew muskets. It then received orders to join Gen. Smallwood, then between Charlotte and Camden. At Salisbury, while on the march, applicant was taken from his company and ordered to the Catawba to guard Garrison's Ferry, being thus engaged for four weeks. When applicant was on his way to Smallwood, he heard that Morgan had gone to Charlotte and had sent the sick and disabled to the hospital. Capt. Gilmer advised applicant to go to hospital, but he preferred going on next day with the army. Was prevailed on to remain a short while with William Gilmer, a relative to the Captain and sick, and then to meet the army as soon as possible. But applicant was delayed and when he met his company it was returning from the Cowpens with prisoners. Served about seven months. Holds a certificate from Auditor of Public Accounts, showing he is entitled for his militia service to four pounds, eight shillings ($14.67). Came to Rockbridge about 1770.

---

Section No. 122

MASON, JOHN.—Rockbridge, Sept. 3, 1832. Born in Pennsylvania, 1740. Drafted fall of 1777, in Berkeley and marched under Capt. Evans, of Col. Campbell's regiment. Was in battle of Brandywine. Returned home next spring, being in service about six months, although the draft was for three. Later, marched from Augusta under Capt. Tate and was in battle of Guilford.

Section No. 123

McCLAIN, JOHN.—Rockbridge; Aug. 7, 1832. Served one tour of three months in Greenbrier under Capt. David Gray, of Rockbridge, in 1778. In 1781 served a tour of three months under Capt. Andrew Moore, Lt. John McClung, and Ensign James McDowell. Rendezvoused Jan. 10th at Red House, and served at Portsmouth and at Great Bridge near Norfolk under Col. Parker. Discharged April 11th. It took about fifteen days to get home. The certificate for said services was taken by the sheriff for tax. Born in north of Ireland, 1756.

Section No. 124

McCUTCHEON, WILLIAM.—Augusta, June 20, 1833. Born Nov. 27, 1758. Went into service in 1778, every tenth man among the militia who had not families being required to enter the regular service for one year. Took the oath June 3, and was ordered by Col. Sampson Mathews to drive a wagon from Staunton to Valley Forge. The wagon brigade to which he was attached was under Wagonmaster David Steele. They crossed the Blue Ridge by Rockfish Gap and took up a supply of bacon at Orange and Culpeper. Washington's army was met between Morristown, N. J., and the Hudson at King's Ferry. Soon after the battle of Monmouth they proceeded to White Plains. Declarant then presented to Gen. Greene a certificate from Col. Mathews, and asked to be returned to the ranks, his duties as wagoner being very tiresome. The request was refused. Discharged at Raritan River, June 1, 1779. Col. Thompson was wagonmaster general. Drafted, 1780, under Capt. Samuel McCutcheon, and Lt. John McCamie. Marched from Widow Tee's (Waynesboro), Sept. 1st, with the companies of Captains Smith, Long, Dickey and Given, and served three months at Richmond as guard, and were in no engagement. Long, the senior captain, acted as major. Declarant was Sergeant. Drafted in June, 1781, again under McCutchen, George Craig being lieutenant. The colonel was William Bowyer, the adjutant, Thomas Bell. Declarant served twenty days as Orderly Sergeant.

Section No. 131

SHEPHERDSON, DAVID.—Rockbridge, Dec. 3, 1832. Born in Louisa, Aug. 3, 1763. Drafted in fall of 1779 for six months under Capt. John Bias, of Louisa. About June 19, 1780, having been transferred to Second Virginia Regiment, marched to Hillsborough, N. C., where he joined the Southern army under Col. Spencer and Gen. Stevens. His lieutenant was Thomas Shelton, his ensign, Anthony Winston. At Deep River himself and comrades nearly perished, having nothing but green crabapples to eat. 200 men were sent out to thrash some grain. Was in battle between Gates and Cornwallis, Aug. 16th. Affiant and his company retreated to Hillsborough and made rendezvous. Provisions soon became so scarce there that the captain advised the men to go home and get provisions and clothing, their clothing having been lost in the battle near Camden. So they went home, got supplies, and returned, but were advised to go home again, which they did and were honorably acquitted by a court martial. Was in active service three months. Drafted three months next spring under Capt. Harris. Marched to Williamsburg and back to Richmond, where he saw the British burning tobacco, etc., in Manchester. This expedition was called the "Wild Goose Chase." The company was relieved by another from Louisa. Later, was drafted three months under Capt. James Watson, who was succeeded by Capt. Samuel Pettis. Was attached to Gen. Weedon's brigade and stationed at Gloucester during the siege of Yorktown. Moved to Rockbridge, 1815.

Section No. 132

SIZER, JOHN.—Botetourt, Jan. 19, 1833. Born in Baltimore County, Md., 1759. Moved to Prince William, 1770, Rockingham, 1777. Volunteered, 1777, under Capt. (afterwards major) Ewell.

Volunteered for 18 months under Capt. Daniel Smith, marched to Fredericksburg, where he was under command of Capt. Adam Wallace. Enlisted for three years under Capt. Beverly and Col. Heath, and marched to Charleston, S. C., where he was transferred to Capt. Parker's Company, captured at the surrender of that city, and held as prisoner eighteen months. He was exchanged at Jamestown, Va., and at Richmond provided with money to get home. Col. Heath, Lt. Col. Wallace, and Maj. Stevenson were exchanged at same time. Col. Parker, who commanded a half-moon battery at Stono, was killed at the taking of Charleston within twenty steps of deponent. Volunteered in 1781 to drive a wagon loaded with flour from Rockingham to Yorktown, where he was detained during the siege to haul ammunition. After the surrender gave up the team he had impressed and went home. In service three years.

Section No. 133

TATE, JOHN.—Botetourt, Sept. 7, 1832. Born in Augusta, Aug. 6, 1761. In 1777, volunteered under Captains Patrick Buchanan and Thomas Smith, against a body of tories, who had assembled near Peaked Mountain. The leaders were put in jail and the followers dispersed. In May, 1778, information came of the Indian raid upon Donally's Fort, and the companies of Captains James Tate, P. Buchanan, and Francis Long were ordered to the rescue. Declarant marched under Tate. The companies remained at Fort Savannah (Lewisburg) about one month and were then discharged. Lord Cornwallis having tried hard to retake the prisoners captured at Cowpens, a requisition was made in January, 1781, on Botetourt, and Captains Mays, John Cartmill, Matthew Wilson, Holston, and Bollar were ordered into service. There was a heavy draft and applicant volunteered under Mays. Each man was ordered to provide himself with a horse and six days' provisions. The detachment marched under Maj. Thomas Rowland. After the Dan was crossed, the horses were sent back and the detachment soon joined the army under Gen. Greene, on the Haw. In a skirmish several of Mays' company were killed, applicant's detachment and the cavalry under Col. Lee being sent to bring on an action. A few days later Gen.

Campbell with the militia from Washington County came in. Next morning there was a battle on Reedy Fork, when Capt. Mays and all his men except applicant and thirteen others left the battlefield and went home. A day later, Captains Tate and Smith, from Augusta, joined the army at Speedwell Iron Works. They wanted applicant to join them, but he declined and went home after three months' service. About Aug. 1st, he volunteered under Capt. David Mays and marched from Boyd's Ferry near Pattonsburg and marched to Yorktown, being present during the whole siege. He was then sent with prisoners to Winchester, where he was discharged after three months' service. Discharge was signed by Lt. Wallace Estill. Henry Cartmill and John Hewitt were comrades at Yorktown.

Section No. 134

VINES, THOMAS.—Rockbridge, Nov. 6, 1832. Born in Amherst, 1756. Drafted to Albemarle Baracks to guard Burgoyne's men. Marched under Capt. Loving and served four months. Colonels Burnley and Taylor commanded at the barracks at different times. Second tour under Capt. Josiah Martin to guard the prisoners taken in Carolina at Winchester, etc. Went out three months as substitute for John Campbell, of Augusta, marching under Capt. Given and Lt. William Robinson, Col. Robertson commanding the regiment. This was when Tarleton plundered Charlottesville. Joined Lafayette's army. Was in the battles of Hot Water and Jamestown. Was dismissed at the latter place, and when he reached home found orders to march again. Went back in July, under Capt. Christian, Lt. William Barnett, Ensign James Bell. Was at the Siege of Yorktown. Prior to this he volunteered under Capt. John Morrison, of Amherst, Lt. Thomas Yores, Ensign James Bell. The company was to go south, Capt. Morrison having served there. But as Arnold had come to Richmond, the command marched there remaining seven weeks. The enemy had gone after plundering, burning the rope walks, etc. Discharged at Petersburg after three months' service.

Section No. 136

WILSON, WILLIAM.—Augusta, Sept. 25, 1832. Born in Augusta, Nov. 7, 1745. Volunteered late in August, 1774, under Capt. Alexander McClenahan, Lt. William McCutchen, and Ensign Joseph Long, and marched to Point Pleasant together with the companies of Captains John Morrison, Samuel Wilson, George Mathews, and John Lewis. Captains McClenahan, Morrison, and Wilson were killed, the total loss being about 160. The army then advanced about eighty miles toward the Indian towns, returning to Point Pleasant, and waited there a week for provisions before resuming the return. In second tour volunteered in July, 1776, under Capt. John Lyle, Lt. William McCutcheon, and Ensign Joseph Long. From the rendezvous at Lexington the troops marched under Col. William Christian to the Holston river to protect the frontier against the Indians. There were only some light skirmishes. Disbanded in December. Drafted in 1781, serving under Capt. Thomas Rankin, Lt. Alexander Scott, and Ensign William Buchanan, his colonels being Sampson Mathews and William Bowyer. Rendezvous at Waynesboro, Jan. 11th, marching to Richmond, then Fredericksburg, then Portsmouth, where they joined Gen. Steuben's army. Was in two slight skirmishes. Disbanded at Portsmouth. Next volunteered in cavalry company under Capt. Zachariah Johnson, Lt. Charles Rankin, and Ensign Richard Madison. Marched about June 1st for Richmond, the British then retiring toward Williamsburg and the Americans pursuing. After the battle of Jamestown the troop returned, in August. His colonel was William Christian. Total service, about fifteen months.

Section No. 137

WILEY, ANDREW.—Rockbridge, — —, 1832. Born in Rockbridge, July —, 1756. Drafted by Thomas Vance in 1777 to drive cattle to Point Pleasant. Went as far as mouth of Elk, where the company met a detachment from the fort to receive the cattle. Discharged after forty-two days. About March 1, 1778, entered the Continental service in the Virginia Line. Marched under Capt. Robert Sawyers to White Plains, N. Y., where the command joined Gen. Morgan, and applicant remained with him during the remainder of his term of twelve months, being discharged at Noland Ferry on the Potomac about May 10, 1779. Capt. Sawyer soon returned home and Capt. Andrew Wallace was killed in battle at Hanging Rock in the Carolinas. For this service he received about $6.00. In 1780-'81, he served as substitute under Capt. James Hall, and marched with two other companies under Captains Campbell and David Gray, and at Deep Run Church near Richmond joined Gen. Muhlenberg. Thence they marched down the north side of James above a battery near a British encampment opposite Norfolk, thence by Portsmouth, to Richmond, where he was discharged. Was in no skirmish. Again drafted three months about April 1, 1781, under Capt. Hoyd (Lloyd?), then of Botetourt, and joined Greene's army at Guilford. Was in the battle there, the Carolina militia forming the first line, the Virginia militia the second, and the Continentals the third. The Carolina men broke and ran at the outset. The riflemen to which applicant belonged were on the left, and when the Carolina men retreated, the British forces came down upon a ridge between the riflemen of the left wing and the command of Col. Campbell, who as applicant believes brought on the action. The enemy were swept off by the Virginia riflemen, but formed again and again, until finally they came down upon the ridge in columns, twelve and sixteen men deep, and were compelled (which party?) to ground their arms. Gen. Stevens was wounded and Capt. Tilford killed.

John Wiley certified that Andrew Wiley marched against the Whiskey boys (1794).

Section No. 138

WYSONG, FIATT.—Botetourt, Sept. 6, 1832. Born in York Co., Pa. Removed to Shepherdstown, (W. Va.) Drafted into militia service under Col. Morrison, remaining about five months. Company officers, Capt. Josiah Swearingen, Lt. Isaac Johns. Marched to Ft. McIntosh, thence under Gen. McIntosh to the Muskingum, where a fort was built. Discharged at Ft. McIntosh. While there saw Col. Richard Campbell, who was killed at Eutaw. In July, 1781, drafted and marched under Capt. Joseph Looney, Lt. Tosh, and Ensign William McClenahan to Battalion (Bottom's) Bridge below Richmond, and then to Yorktown, being present at the siege. Discharged in October.

NOTE:—There was a Capt. ——— Looney in Botetourt and this was probably a company from that County.

Section No. 141

ALLEE, DAVID.—Cooper County, Mo., May 6, 1833. Born in Pittsylvania, Va., April 25, 1762. Served in Henry, Spring of 1777 (1778?), under Capt. Peter Herston, Lt. William Ferguson. Joined seven other companies under Colonels Shelby and Christie, and on the French Broad the companies divided and went in different directions in pursuit of the Cherokees. They marched to the towns of Choto, Chilhowie, and Tuckaluckee. On the return they remained at Long Island on the Holston until Christie's treaty with the Cherokees was concluded. This service was six months. July, 1778, went out from Botetourt under Capt. Thomas Cummings, and Col. Charles Lynch. Had a fight with tories at the head of Little River in Botetourt, where they took Job Hale and William Terry, two tory captains. At Sinking Creek, in Montgomery, they disarmed a good many tories, and at Tom's Creek in Wythe, they disarmed others. Here they were discharged. Then volunteered under Capt. Joshua Martin, of Col. Abraham Penn's regiment, marched to the Dan River, and as the British were not in Virginia as reported, they were discharged, just after the battle of Guilford. Volunteered six months in the rangers under Capt. Arbuckle, who scouted the country from Daniel Rand's bottom on New River to Point Pleasant. Served another six months under Capt. Arbuckle and Col. Floyd, being stationed at Point Pleasant to watch the frontiers.

Section No. 142

ANDERSON, JACOB.—Montgomery, Sept. 3, 1832. Born July 3, 1758. Volunteered in Frederick under Capt. Charles Thurston and marched into New Jersey to join Lord Sterling. Was in skirmishes at Piscataway and Quibbletown, and discharged in April, 1777. Then drafted for three months under Capt. Helms, of Gen. Potter's brigade. Discharged at Chestnut Ridge near Philadelphia. In fall of 1778 enlisted under Capt. Gilkeson for one year to guard the prisoners at Frederick, Col. Smith being in command there. Joined a troop of horse in Baltimore, and marched to Philadelphia, where he was discharged. Drafted for eighteen months in 1781, and hired a substitute, but declarant had to give his obligation to Col. Darke to fill the place if it came to his term, but he did not go into service again.

Section No. 143

BOLLING, ROBERT.—From letter by same in 1835. Born 1762. Volunteered in spring of 1778, in Hanover, in a troop of 100 cavalry under Capt. Thomas Nelson, of Yorktown, First Lt. George Nicholas, of Albemarle, Second Lt. Hugh Nelson, brother to Thomas. Troop raised for twelve months in pursuance of act of Congress. After being well disciplined, proceeded to Philadelphia, where command was told its services were not then necessary and was discharged Aug. 8th, with thanks of Congress in printed resolutions. Himself, early in 1780, as captain, raised a troop south of the James, Col. Bannister, of Dinwiddie, commanding the militia. Marched the troop into actual service under Col. Parker, of Gen. Muhlenberg's brigade, and held possession some time of Norfolk and Portsmouth. Early next spring resumed duty, new recruits having joined the troop, and remained in service till after the surrender of Cornwallis. In May a British force under Benedict Arnold captured Petersburg after a gallant resistance by the militia under Gen. Steuben. Was present in the action. Gen. Philips, who succeeded Arnold died at Petersburg a few days later in the home of writer's mother, Mrs. Mary M. Bolling. She with four single daughters were made prisoners. Cornwallis took command a few days later. Previous to the juncture of his force with Arnold's, writer went into North Carolina with a part of his troop to get information of the movements of Cornwallis. Two members, John Butts and Thomas Walker, were here captured. Writer was also in a skirmish seven miles below Petersburg.

Section No. 144

BOTT, FREDERICK.—Montgomery, Nov. 6, 1832. Born Oct. —, 1757. Volunteered in Dinwiddie, 1779, under Col. John Bannister to form one of a guard of twelve men and orderly sergeant to guard munitions of war at Petersburg. Was to serve eighteen months with privilege of hiring a substitute in case he did not retain his health. Fell sick after six months and hired substitute. Volunteered from Halifax under Capt. John Falkner and was at siege of Yorktown. Officers were, Capt. Fleming Bates, Col. Richardson, Gen. Samson (?).

Section No. 145

BELL, ROBERT.—Montgomery, Aug. 5, 1833. Born, 1759. Resident of County since 1762. Drafted 1776 (?), and served one month under Sergeant Aaron Scaggs on the Bluestone to guard Mares' (?) and McGuire's stations from the Indians, with whom there was frequent fighting. Three months later called out there again under Col. Preston and Sergeant Mace Tacy. Third tour was under Capt. Burnes against the tories at Buffalo Pond, Collin's mill, and the Wythe lead mine. Under Capt. Abraham Trigg marched into North Carolina and had a battle with the tories at Shallow Ford on the Yadkin. The wounded were left at Salem under physicians. Col. Preston and Maj. Joseph Cloyd were in command.

Section No. 146

CHARLTON, FRANCIS.—Montgomery, Feb. 4, 1833. Born Feb. 3, 1759. Went out in 1777 under Capt. Joseph Cloyd, Lt. Henry Patton, and Lt. Isaac Lorton, serving in April and July against the Indians on the Greenbrier and Giles frontiers. Second tour at same place under Capt. Daniel Trigg and Lt. McGee. Third tour, under Col. William Preston, was to disperse the tories in Montgomery who had turned out to meet the British advancing from the Carolinas. Col. Skillern was ordered from Botetourt for the same purpose. Fourth term under Capt. Daniel Trigg and Maj. Thomas Quirk was to guard the lead mines in Wythe from the British and tories. Volunteered from latter place under Capt. Isaac Taylor and went with the U. S. troops. Fifth term on Bluestone and in Abb's Valley, under Capt. John Preston. The order was because of the murder of the Moore family by the Indians. Total service, seven months.

Section No. 147

CLARK, MATTHEW.—Anderson, S. C., Oct. 5, 1832. Born in Goochland, Feb. 7, 1763. Before he was sixteen and therefore under age, he was permitted to join Capt. Hatcher's company, line officers being Col. Fleming and Maj. Morris. Was at siege of Yorktown, and then on detached service under Capt. Pier to convey away the prisoners. Before arriving at the military prison, he was left to take care of some who were sick.

Section No. 148

GRAVES, THOMAS.—Lincoln County, Mo., Sept. 17, 1832. Born in Culpeper, 1747. In 1775 went out under Capt. John Thorn and six other officers against Gov. Dunmore, who was trying to lock the wheels of government and stir up the Indians, and we drove him on board his vessels. We were governed by a body of wise men, like Patrick Henry and Edmund Pendleton, who found us in provisions and supported us upwards of six weeks, dismissing us with thanks. In 1776, the men were organized into divisions. Applicant was orderly sergeant under Capt. Bohannon, and marched to Norfolk and Long Bridge, being out three months. In 1777 ordered out when the British landed at Head of Elk and steered for Philadelphia. Went as orderly under Capt. Hill, Maj. William Roberts commanding the four Culpeper companies. We joined Washington above Philadelphia and were in the battle of Germantown. Soon after, we were put under regular officers, and sent down against the enemy's position at Philadelphia, where we felt some of the horrors of war. We marched and maneuvered day and night, sometimes in full view of the enemy's main army. Seldom an hour passed but we were shedding blood. We continued in perils of cold, hunger, and fatigue, our bed on the cold ground and our covering the canopy of the heavens. After six months we returned for winter quarters, without clothes and barefooted. In 1778, applicant was sergeant at the barracks guarding Burgoyne's troops until promoted by Maj. Roberts to be quartermaster vice James Straughton, also promoted. Was out four months. In 1781, called out in June, when the British took Richmond and made a raid to Charlottesville. Went as orderly under Capt. Ferguson. Joined the army under Lafayette and marched to Yorktown, where applicant was discharged. Two brothers were in the command, and one, Lewis Graves, being sick, substituted for him. After the surrender, applicant serving in a Berkeley company under Col. Hopkins (Clopham?) and Maj. Welch, helped to secure the prisoners. Was out about nine months. In the northern service was under Maj. William Roberts. Hired Lewis Prince as substitute eighteen months, paying him $250 and a good suit. Moved to Missouri, 1824. Died, March 14, 1834. Thomas N., the only son.

Section No. 149

HATTON, REUBEN.—Boone County, Mo., June 26, 1833. Born, 1762. Volunteered from Amelia, Oct. 1, 1780, under Capt. John (?) Ward, of Col. Mason's regiment and Gen. Lawson's brigade. Served as sergeant three months. Marched to Smithfield. Volunteered next February under Capt. Ford, and joined army at Westham above Richmond. Served three months as orderly sergeant around Richmond and Malvern Hills. From this point moved back, the enemy close upon us, but no battle. Gen. Wayne joined us at Culpepper, where declarant was discharged, in June. Then rejoined army in Orange under Capt. Edward Booker. Discharged in September and before he reached home heard that Cornwallis was taken. Married Joanne —, Sept. 20, 1782. Died Aug. 16, 1841. Moved to Kentucky, 1794, and lodged in David Crevis' stillhouse until he could build.

Section No. 150

HOWE, DANIEL.—Montgomery, June 3, 1833. Born, 1758. Served seven tours of one month each, twice as lieutenant. Also one month in the Cherokee war under Capt. James McCorkle.

Section No. 151

HARRIS, JOHN.—Pittsylvania, 1832. Born, 1755. Marched from said County, June 11, 1780, under Capt. Isaac Clement and Benjamin Duncan to Hillsboro, N. C., joining the Third Virginia under Col. Glenn, of Stevens' brigade. At Massey's Ferry, Pedee river, declarant was left in a guard of 200 under Maj. Conoway to guard ferry and secure the boats, the main army moving on. After Gates' defeat many Virginia militia and others rendezvoused with the guard, and then all retired northward. Declarant discharged at Guilford C. H., in September at end of a three months' tour. Drafted next month and marched under Capt. James Brewer to Hillsboro. Transferred to Capt. Peter Mays, of Col. Stubblefield's regiment, and marched to Salisbury. Taken sick there. September, 1781, drafted under Capt. Charles Hutchings to march to siege of Yorktown, but being unable to travel was furloughed with orders to rejoin command as soon as possible. Was on the way to the front, when several of company were met telling of the surrender. Was out on other brief tours. Thomas Williams was a comrade at Massey's Ferry.

Section No. 152

JONES, DAVID.—Cooper County, Mo., May 6, 1833. Born in Pittsylvania, 1761. Enlisted from Henry, Spring of 1777, under Capt. Peter Herston and Lt. Ferguson. Marched to Long Island of Holston River, joined the army under Colonels Shelby and Christy. There a treaty was made. Service, three months. Next served under Capt. Ruble and Maj. Walker as Second Sergeant, and marched to Yorktown, where he joined Gen. Lawson's brigade. Discharged after surrender of Cornwallis. John Ross was a comrade.

---

Section No. 153

KING, WILLIAM.—Montgomery, Jan. 7, 1833. Born about 1755. Enlisted in Bedford, 1778, for two months as guard at the lead mines in Wythe under Capt. Robert Adams, Lt. M. Reynolds, and Col. Charles Lynch. Next spring his father, Avra King, being drafted by Capt. Charles Watkins, and Lt. Thomas Logwood, he went as substitute. They started for Jamestown, but were met by an express with the information that as the enemy had left their aid was not necessary. About fifteen days later, went as substitute for James Mays, serving under Capt. Nathaniel Tate, Lt. Stephen Goggin, and Ensign Richard Edmondson, and marched to join Gen. Gates at Charlotte, N. C. Went into winter quarters at Cheraw Hills, S. C. During this march Gen. Greene assumed command and ordered Gates to Philadelphia under guard. Declarant marched under Capt. Isaac Webb, Lt. Charles Webb, and Ensign William Triplett to Mecklenberg, Va., as guard over baggage wagons and live hogs. Discharged at Bannister's Bridge. Following August, declarant volunteered under Col. Benjamin Logan to guard the Kentucky frontier, serving as minute man and scout. Logan joined Gen. Clarke at Bryant Station and marched to mouth of Licking River, where the regular troops were met. Marched to the Indian town at Standing Stone on the Great Miami, which with six others the declarant helped to burn. Army disbanded at mouth of Licking.

Section No. 154

LUCAS, BASIL.—Frederick, Va. —, 1835. Listed in pension list as sergeant in Virginia militia. Born Aug. 12, 1757. Enlisted for four years in Maryland Line, Continental service, Capt. Resin Ball's Company of Col. Thomas Price's regiment. Died in Winchester, Sept. —, 1841, leaving a widow, Elizabeth.

---

Section No. 155

LUCAS, JOHN.—Montgomery, Aug. 8, 1832. Born July 15, 1749. Went out as captain about 1780 under Col. William Preston, and Lt. Col. Walter Crockett, and served at least six months. Was out twice afterwards under same officers. Resigned at end of war. Went into the Carolinas under Crockett to convey some British and Tories from South Carolina to Moravian Town (Salem), N. C. Was engaged frequently in Montgomery, and under Preston surprised and captured some Tories under Capt. McDonald. Was then detailed to guard them.

Section No. 156

LEWIS, ANDREW.—Montgomery, Nov. 7, 1832. Born Oct. —, 1758. Volunteered from Botetourt in February, 1779, under Capt. Joseph Crockett and Lt. Robert Sayers. Was stationed with other forces at Williamsburg till discharged in May. Gen. Andrew Lewis, his father, was commandant. No enemy appeared on land. Later in same year volunteered under Capt. William McClenahan and went into Montgomery against some tories who had organized for active service. The forces were under Col. William Preston and were engaged a month. Went again in same year against them as volunteer under Capt. James Barnett and Col. Hugh Crockett. Marched with other forces from Ft. Chiswell to Ramseur's Mill, N. C., where the British and tories had just been defeated, this fact determining the officers to return, the war lasting two months. Went out in February, 1781, under Capt. William McClenahan and Col. Hugh Crockett, and joined Greene's army in North Carolina. Declarant was in the engagement at Alamance and Reedy Fork. At Guilford was on outpost duty, under Colonels Williams and Howard. Total service one year. Was mounted on his own horse except in first tour. Never received a cent for his services, being then in affluence and only interested in sustaining his country.

Section No. 157

MURPHY, WILLIAM.—St. Francois County, Mo., May 7, 1833. Born March 12, 1759. Volunteered for three months, about Aug. 1, 1776, from Bedford under Capt. William Leftridge, Lt. Calloway, Ensign Joseph Bond. Guarded Chiswold lead mines till relieved by other troops. In April, 1777, was substitute three months for Lewis Dusee (?), who was drafted from Thomas Jones' Company in Henry. Served under Capt. Peter Herston, Lt. William Ferguson, Ensign Edward Tatum in Col. Christie's regiment. Marched 200 miles to Long Island in the Holston to stand guard during a treaty with the Cherokees. August, 1777, was substitute three months for Gwin Dudley, who was drafted into John Wilkerson's Company in Bedford. Served as Second Sergeant under Capt. Thomas Doley, Lt. Harry Talbott, and Ensign Calloway, and marched to Williamsburg. In 1778, substituted for William Cannon, drafted for five months into Robert Sevier's Company, Washington County, N. C. Joined Gen. Regulars in South Carolina about Dec. 1st, was appointed First Sergeant of a company organized, and served till March, 1779, under Capt. R. Sevier, Lt. Christopher Connaught, Ensign Charles Young, in Col. Peasley's battalion, Gen. Rutherford's regiment. In March, Sevier resigned and applicant became ensign. Detained till April 10th to await South Carolina recruits. Was in a battle on the Savannah and in some light skirmishes in Georgia. Volunteered in April, 1780, to serve three months against the Cherokees. Went as sergeant under Capt. Jno. Clark and Lt. John Bond, Gen. John Sevier being in general command. Marched to the headwaters of the Tennessee and killed a number of Indians, with the loss of Capt. Davis and Lt. Bond killed, and Jasper Terry wounded. Some horses were killed. In July, 1780, volunteered three months as private under Capt. John Renfro, Lt. Chatton Doggett, and Ensign Lewis Davis, in Col. Lincoln's so-called Light Horse of Bedford. Fought some tories on New River, taking their captain, William Terry, and getting his commission, which was from a British officer, and also a list of his men, all of whom we took and disarmed, excepting one, who got away. In June, 1781, a Thomas Runnels was killed by Indians, and Capt. Neely McGuire ordered our men in pursuit. Applicant volunteered and was one month in frontier service. In February, 1782, volunteered three months under Capt. John Clark, and Lt. John Murphy, of Washington County, N. C. (now Tenn.), Col. J. Brown commanding the regiment, and marched across Nalachucky and French Broad in pursuit of the Indians who had attacked Sherrill's Station on the frontier, losing one of their number in the attack. We overtook a band, supposed to number 60 to 100, and killed, as was said, thirteen of them. In August, 1782, drafted against the Indians again and hired George Doggett as substitute, but Gen. Sevier insisted that I go. Served under him in company of Capt. Thomas Wood and Lt. Vathan Breed, all the officers being of Greene Co. (Tenn.) We destroyed several Cherokee towns, killed a number of Indians, and took some prisoners. John Watts, a half-breed gave up a white woman named Jennie Ivey, who was taken from Roane's Creek a year before. Discharged in Greene County (Tenn.) married Rachel ———, (born Nov. 15, 1764), Jan. 26, 1782. Husband died Nov. 2, 1833. John, oldest son, born in September, 1782. David Murphy, born, 1769, was half brother to William.

Section No. 159

MITCHELL, JOHN.—Montgomery, Sept. 3, 1832. Born about 1760. Drafted from Amelia in 1776 for no definite term. Served as fife major six weeks under Capt. Rowland Ward and Ensign Roberts. Only two companies were out on this service, the other being under Capt. Wilson. Marched to Hampton to prevent the British from landing, their fleet lying in the Chesapeake in full view. Drafted in fall of 1777, under Capt. William Craddock and Lt. Richard Craddock. The major in command was Dr. Cluman, a Frenchman. Marched to Cabin Point and Williamsburg. Was out six weeks. Served again in 1780 under Capt. William Craddock and Col. Richardson. Assembled at Hillsborough, N. C., and marched under Gen. Stevens, joining Gen. Gates the day before the battle of Camden. Next morning the action became general, and in the defeat, each man had to look out for himself. At Hillsborough remained about two weeks until the stragglers had pretty well come in. The forces to which applicant belonged were reduced to a regiment and placed under Col. Faulkner, Capt. Price commanding the company. They marched to New Garden to protect the Whigs from the tories, and finally applicant was discharged at Guilford C. H., after five months' service. Later, he was employed a month in Amelia collecting beeves for the army, this being in lieu of service in the ranks.

Section No. 160

RUTLEDGE, EDWARD.—Montgomery, Sept. 3, 1832. Born March 10, 1762. Volunteered in Augusta, January, 1781, and marched into North Carolina to receive the prisoners taken at Cowpens, and guarded them to the eastern border of Rockingham, where declarant's company was relieved by another, the service lasting three weeks. His captain was Francis Long. In April, volunteered for three months under Capt. F. Long, Col. Hughart, and Maj. Andrew Hamilton. Pursued Tarleton on his retreat from Charlottesville, and in vicinity of Richmond scouted to prevent depredations from raiding parties. Then marched to Jamestown, where a fight took place. At Burnt Ordinary was another skirmish. Near Williamsburg Hughart went home and Hamilton took command. Volunteered again under Long and was in Col. Vance's regiment at siege of Yorktown.

---

Section No. 161

RATLIFF, NATHAN.—Montgomery, July 1, 1833. Born, 1762. Entered service about June 1, 1778, serving one month against the Indians under Capt. Joshua Wilson and Lt. William Hungate. Went out again about July 1, 1780, under Capt. Abram Trigg, afterward a general. Marched to the Yadkin in North Carolina and defeated the tories in a skirmish. Eight months' service in all.

---

Section No. 162

THOMPSON, WILLIAM.—Boone County, Mo., July 2, 1833. Born in Augusta, 1749. Went out from said county in April, 1777, under Capt. Bohannon. Marched to Portsmouth, but the British had left after doing much damage in the vicinity, especially by fire. Drafted about April 1, 1781, under Capt. John Brown and Col. Bowyer, serving below Richmond. Was in the actions at Hot Water and Jamestown. In the latter his colonel was taken prisoner, but paroled after a few days. Discharged below Williamsburg, returning home in three or four days (?). In September his wagon was impressed with the team of a neighbor to haul forage and provisions to the army, and he went out with the wagon rather than trust it to another. The militia were discharged shortly after arriving at Richmond, but himself and wagon were impressed by Col. Sampson Mathews to make a trip from Petersburg to Taylor's Ferry on Roanoke. When near Petersburg on the return was again impressed to haul forage for the Light Horse. Reached his home in February. Allowed $23.33 per year.

Section No. 170

FLOWERS, ABSALOM.—Sussex, May 2, 1833. Born, 1758. Enlisted Jan. 1, 1781, under Capt. John Powell, Lt. Edward Powell, and Ensign Rochelle, in Col. Meriweather's militia. Rendezvoused at Ball's Ordinary, Sussex, and served mostly about Cabin Point until discharged in April. Called out in April, 1781, serving under same officers, except Capt. John Massenburg (Mas-singbird?), who was wounded in the hip in a fight at Petersburg. Four other comrades were also wounded. The call was to relieve some militia at Petersburg, but next morning they were attacked and compelled to retreat. Lt. Powell marched the command to the Chesterfield coal mine, where they remained about ten days. The enemy moving toward Richmond to burn that city, the troop marched there and joined a strong force under Lafayette. Arnold then made a sudden retreat to Petersburg and the American army lay at Richmond some time. Discharged after eight weeks. Called out next October under Capt. Nathaniel Newson, who resigned at Surry C. H., and was succeeded by Lt. Thomas Newson. Served at siege of Yorktown.

Section No. 171

HOPKINS, JAMES.—Pittsylvania, Sept. 17, 1832. Born Feb. 22, 1765. Substituted for James Hopkins, Sr., spring of 1780, and marched under Capt. Azariah Martin, Lt. William Holt, Ensign Leroy to Hillsboro, N. C. There transferred to Fourth Virginia militia under Col. Lucas, of Gen. Stevens' brigade, and after having some drill were sent on to join the army under Gates. From Rugeley's mill marched at 10 p. m., Aug. 15th to surprise the enemy, who however, marched at the same hour. The armies met in the night, there was a sharp skirmish between the advanced guards, a line was formed, and the men stood under arms till daybreak, when there was a shameful defeat. No rendezvous had been designated and the men lost all their baggage, including all clothing but what they had on. Under these circumstances a considerable part of the company went home, but a court of inquiry ordered them back to serve eight months under regular officers. Under Capt. Paulin we marched back to Hillsboro, and there transferred to Capt. Graves, of Culpeper, assigned to take command of men from a few other counties, who had committed the same offense. Under Gen. Greene the army went into winter quarters on the Cheraw Hills, S. C. In February there was a general order releasing the married men belonging to the eight months company, and Capt. Graves returned with the discharged men. Capt. Webb and Lt. Webb took command of those still in the army. Shortly after this, Gen. Morgan defeated Tarleton at Cowpens and had to make a rapid retreat with his prisoners. Gen. Greene marched to cover Morgan's movement, leaving the small eight months company to guard the camp and the mills that were supplying flour and meal. At length Capt. Webb received orders to follow with about ten wagons loaded with flour and meal and a drove of 400 hogs. We were in the rear of both armies, and had to change our course because of Cornwallis' march. In Mecklenburg we delivered the supplies to a commissary, having safely brought them through a region infested with British and tories. Our time being nearly up, we were permitted to petition Gen. Greene that he discharge us, we being worn out with fatigue and nearly naked. He did so.

Section No. 172

KIDD, JAMES H.—Gwinnett, Ga., Aug. 13, 1833. Born, 1765. Drafted in Virginia into Capt. Reuben Vaughan's company, January, 1779. Joined Gen. Lincoln at Bacon's Bridge near Charleston, S. C. Was in battle at Stono. Discharged in Virginia in July. Was under 15 when he went out, but from his desire to enter the army he reported himself old enough to go on the militia roll. Served two months in 1780 under Capt. John Kendrick, and three in 1781, under Capt. John Brown. Was at battle of Guilford. From Ramsey's Mill was sent to Albemarle with prisoners and discharged there. After this the company were required to present their discharges in order to draw some salt, and applicant never saw his again. Born in Mecklenburg.

Section No. 173

NANCE, JAMES.—Pittsylvania, Sept. 17, 1832. Born in Nottoway, Feb. 2, 1762. Drafted Feb. 9, 1779, under Capt. William Fitzgerald, Lt. Charles Irby, Ensign Bowling Hall, joined Col. David Mason at Halifax, N. C., and Gen. Lincoln at Stono, S. C. Was in the battle at Stono, June 20, from beginning to end. Discharged at Camden, S. C., in August, having acted as fifer. In 1780 was out under Capt. Gray and Col. White. In fall of same year was drafted under Capt. Irby and marched by Cabin Point to Nansemond. Was to go into the cavalry under Charles Irby on condition that he could get a horse, and if he could not, his absence in search of one was to count as furlough. Not finding one in his home neighborhood, and Elisha Gunn being called out to join Gen. Greene, he and Gunn changed tours. Marched under Capt. Overstreet to Troublesome Creek, N. C., and was in the battle at Guilford. Was discharged at Ramsey's Mill, Chatham County. Moved to Wake County, N. C., 1801.

Section No. 174

NANCE, WILLIAM M.—Pittsylvania, Sept. 17, 1832. Born Jan. 18, 1760, in Nottoway. Substituted for William Mitchell in 1777, entering service under Capt. Gabriel Folks, Lt. John Knight, and Ensign William Brookin. At Williamsburg Joined Col. Vivian Brookin's regiment. Served under Gen. Nelson and discharged at Hampton. Drafted February, 1779, serving in same company with James Nance (§173). Was orderly sergeant during this six months tour. In 1781, drafted from Pittsylvania and served at siege of Yorktown, under Capt. Charles Williams, and Lt. Dix (Hunt?).

Section No. 175

PITTMAN, JAMES.—Madison County, Ga., Oct. 2, 1832. Born in Amelia, March 4, 1756. Enlisted from Columbus County, Ga., in 1776, served two months under Capt. German in Col. Marbury's regiment, and four as lieutenant, guarding the Georgia frontier. Went into Florida to take St. Augustine, but the expedition failed. Was in a fight with the British. Served again six months on the frontier, and another tour under Col. Few, during which there was a fight with the enemy between Savannah and Augusta, and Few retreated. Served four months under Capt. Sinkfield and Col. Williamson, while the tories were troublesome in South Carolina. After the surrender of Charleston he thought South Carolina and Georgia entirely in the hands of the enemy, and went as refugee into Virginia, where he served two weeks guarding the prisoners taken at Cowpens. Returned to Georgia after peace. Died Dec. 25, 1850. Children: 1. John G; 2. Noah W; 3. Timothy; 4. Teresa (married Wilson Strickland); 5. Martha (married Abner Wells); 6. America (married Benjamin W. Cash); 7. Sarah (married Samson Lay); 8. Lucinda (married Henry Harris); 9. Pleasant O.; 10. Martin H.; 11. Sir James; 12. Nancy (married Silas Smith); 13. Elizabeth. 9, 10, 11, 12, 13 died prior to 1850, leaving children, except, (?) Elizabeth.

*Lafayette. Some of the soldiers knew him only as DeMarquis or Demarcus.

Section No. 178

PERKINS, JOHN.—Franklin, Tenn. Born in Halifax, May 11, 1765. Enlisted as Thomas Carson, April, 1781, as substitute for Alexander Moore, under Capt. James Turner. Was at the siege of Ninety-six and discharged in Mecklenburg, N. C. Moved in 1782 to Caswell County, N. C., and was there drafted for eighteen months under Capt. Elijah Moore and Capt. Rhodes. Discharged at Ten Mile House near Charleston. He used the name Thomas Carson because while he was an infant his mother, Mrs Mary Perkins, married Thomas Carson, a widower, one of whose children was John. After his stepfather died in 1783, his mother told him his real name and he used it thence forward. Married Frances ———. Died in Hardin County, Tenn., June 16, 1840.

---

Section No. 179

DAVIS, THOMAS.—Woodford County, Ky., Aug. 18, 1818. Born in Spottsylvania, 1761. Enlisted April 25, 1779, for eighteen months. Served under Capt. Alexander Parker in Col. Richard Parker's regiment. Substituted for his brother, Benjamin Davis, under Capt. William Mills and James Cunningham. Discharged at Williamsburg. Drafted the day after his return home and was at siege of Yorktown: Total service 18 (22?) months, for which applicant received $60.

A supporting affidavit adds these particulars: Jesse Davis, of Prince William, was private, Jan. 1, 1777, to Jan. 6, 1778; Lieutenant thence forward to October, 1778, when he became captain. Died, February, 1782. His brother, Pressley Davis, was killed in battle of Long Island, 1776. John, another brother, died in hospital of smallpox.

Capt. Davis married Nancy Melton, of Prince William, about 1775. Children: 1. William M., of Frankfort, Ky; 2. Nancy (married ——— Reynolds), Frankfort.

Section No. 181

MOORE, DAVID.—Cole County, Ky., Nov. 13, 1832. Born in Amelia, Nov. 20, 1763. Enlisted in Lunenburg, fall of 1780, as substitute for his father, Robert. Served under Capt. William Hays, Lt. Hays, Ensign Gill. Marched to rendezvous at Jamestown, then to Portsmouth, which Lord Dunmore (?) had garrisoned. There was a skirmish between scouting parties. Col. Daniel Morgan (?) with his riflemen attacked a fort, causing a loss to the enemy of 18 to 20 men, as stated by a deserter. Dunsmore abandoned the fort during the night. Later, marched under Colonels Morgan and Dowbman (?) through Dismal Swamp to Elizabeth, a small place destroyed by the British. Returned home next spring soon afer battle of Guilford. A week or so later substituted for John Mathews, of Brunswick, under Capt. House. Marched to Point of Fork, finding an engagement going on. Then retreated about two days before the British. When his three months expired, permission to return home was refused. Next night the orderly sergeant went off with muster rolls together with several men, and the following day there was no one to call the roll and permission to go home was given. Went to Missouri, 1819. Allowed $30, a year, March 4, 1831.

NOTE:—Arnold, not Dunmore, had a British force at Portsmouth about the time applicant first enlisted. Morgan was at that time camping in the Carolinas, not in Virginia.

Section No. 182

POTTERF, CASPER.—Preble County, O., March 23, 1833. Born in Lancaster County, Pa., Dec. 19, 1759. Moved to Virginia about 1778; to Ohio, about 1800. Drafted, winter of 1777-8, in Frederick, Md., under Capt. John Bannerd. Enlisted again, January, 1781, under Capt. James Buchanan, of Rockbridge. Discharged in April at Gregory's Camp, N. C. Enlisted next August under Capt. Charles Campbell, of same county. Discharged at Winchester Barracks. Total service, nine months.

Section No. 183

BUCK, JOHN.—Greenup County, Ky., October —, 1820. Born Dec. 20, 1752. Drafted from Culpeper, July 4, 1776, for 18 months, under Capt. Kilpatrick and Col. Chambers Begger. Served out his time.

---

Section No. 184

MOORE, GEORGE.—Boone County, Mo., Feb. 6, 1833. Born 1761. Enlisted in Charlotte, Dec. 25, 1780, under Capt. Richard Givens for three months. One month later reached headquarters of Gen. Muhlenberg near Dismal Swamp. The traitor, Arnold, with 1,600 British was fortifying himself in Portsmouth. Affiant volunteered in a company of 50 under Capt. Jesse Saunders, Lt. David Caldwell, and Ensign Carter, of Col. Dick's and Maj. Thomas' regiments. Two companies of infantry were in two miles in front of the main army toward Arnold's line. We often skirmished, killed some of the enemy and taking some prisoners. Capt. Armand, a Frenchman who commanded a company of light horse, charged on the enemy's guard and took them all, without a gun being fired on either side. The enemy at one time came out of their works and fired on us, but on our advance they retired. Our only damage was one man wounded in the thigh. We marched against a fort on the Blackwater held by the British, who fired on us with cannon, but for want of artillery we made no attack. After dark they sent a boat down the river for reinforcements. We took the boat with an officer, eight men, and some clothing. We also took some horses around the fort. Arnold evacuated Portsmouth in March. We were discharged in April. Middle of next August called out under Capt. Andrew Wallace and marched for Yorktown to join Washington's army. When within two miles we laid out our camp and went to digging trenches. Affiant and three others of company were employed in artillery service. We began firing Oct. 9th, and after a few days moved our guns nearer. Generals Lafayette, Wayne, and Lincoln I saw frequently with the men in the entrenchments. Gen Knox, the commander of the artillery, was one day at one of the batteries looking through his spyglass, when a cannon ball struck the top of the post by which he was standing. A splinter struck his ear and made it bleed freely. After the surrender, Sergeant Elijah Clark, Samuel Marshall, John Paulet and affiant had orders to take some Carolina Tories from Williamsburg to Richmond, where we drew provisions to last us home. Moved to Missouri, 1810.

Section No. 185

KINCAID, JAMES.—Lafayette County, Mo., Nov. 5, 1833. Entered service while living at Castlewood on Clinch, 25 miles from Abingdon. The settlers in Powell's Valley had been driven out by Indians, and many of them hid their "plunder," not being able to bring it to a place of safety. Capt. John Duncan and company were ordered out to guard the people so that they might bring their goods into the settlements. Applicant was one year with him. Capt. Joseph Martin was at this time stationed at Rye Cave on Clinch to guard the frontier. The brothers, John and James, Bunnill (?) were scouts under him. We met these spies and went with them to Martin's Station in said valley, but all had fled. One refugee, Capt. (Robert?) Davis met us. He had lived at Owen's Station, ten miles below Martin's. Duncan sent five men to go with him to Owen's to collect his "plunder." On the way back Indians in ambush fired on them, killing Bowman and wounding James Bunnill and ——— Johnson. Bunnill, Davis, and another man got in that night. Next day Duncan went down with all his force, including affiant, save a few left to guard the wounded. Davis took us to where an Indian stood that he shot at. We found a good deal of blood and followed the trail, but after a while it seemed that the party scattered. We buried Bowman and returned to Owen's. Bunnill grew very sick and we took him to Rye Cave. All were dismissed in about a month. The above took place 1776 (?) in summer time. Next went to Kentucky under Col. John Bowman, of Bedford, Henry Rolling (?) being captain, and made for ——— Station. Near Abingdon one William Bush told our captain he would raise a lieutenant's quota (24 men), if he could command it under Rollins. He secured the men, affiant and brother Joseph enlisting by consent of father. Overtook Bowman at ford of Cumberland River and joined company of Capt. Paulin (?). Arrived at Boonesboro about August, 1777. The only other stations in Kentucky were Logan's and Harrod's. Stayed 16 to 20 days to let the people get in their corn, which they could not do the year before, because of the Indians. Col. Calloway, who lived with his family in the fort, expected to return with Bowman, but failed to catch up. When he came back to the fort reported a man killed on the trail we had come by, and that the Indians had massacred seven or eight families around Castlewood. Affiant and brother and several others became uneasy about the home folks, and the colonel granted a discharge. On the way back we met the Clinch scouts, who confirmed the report and said the families not killed had fled. We had been gone about 50 days. Next expedition was to Illinois under Col. John Montgomery. About 130 men and recruits were sent to Clarke and Montgomery, and it was understood by us that the army would go to Detroit. Affiant and brother, Joseph, enlisted. At Long Island in Holston we were met by Col. Evan Shelby and 40 militia, and went by canoes to Chicamauga, where in a skirmish we killed a few, took some prisoners, stayed two months, and collected a good deal of Indian plunder. Shelby returned and Montgomery went to join Clarke.

Section No. 192

HATCHER, SETH.—Powhatan, Nov. 21, 1832. Born in Goochland, Jan. 13, 1760. Went out in September, 1777, under Capt. Thomas Harris, and served two months at Williamsburg and Yorktown. Next tour under Capt. George Williamson. At Hood's Landing they fired in the night on a landing party of the enemy, and afterwards marched to Suffolk. Under Williamson he crossed the Roanoke at Taylor's Ferry and was wounded at Guilford. Eight months' service.

---

Section No. 193

HUTCHINSON, JAMES.—Powhatan, Sept. 19, 1832. Born in Amelia, 1762. Went out first in 1779 under Capt. John Knight as substitute for Mackness Goode, of Amelia, and served three months about Richmond and Norfolk. Second tour was in same year and locality, and under Capt. William Royall, Lt. John Royall, and En. William Robertson. The third began in April, 1781, when he joined the army at Malvern Hills, and was in the retreat to Rapidan. This time he was under Capt. Paulin Anderson, Lt. William Crowder, and En. William Wood. Fourth tour began Aug. 1, 1781, and was at Yorktown under Capt. Lewis Ford. Total service, one year.

---

Section No. 194

JACKSON, HENRY.—Powhatan, Sept. 19, 1832. Born in Chesterfield in 1761. About 1780, the Chesterfield militia were called South. At least two companies started under Captain Booker and Archibald Walthall. Affiant was with latter. After waiting at Randolph's Mill for the Caroline, Hanover, and Henrico militia to come up. Col. Faulkner led the regiment across the Roanoke at Taylor's Ferry and on to Hillsboro, where Gen. Stevens was in command until Gen. Gates arrived. In the battle at Camden he was wounded in the leg by a bullet. There was a rally at Hillsboro. He reached home in December. In February, 1781, he went out under Capt. David Patterson, but after lying at Dinwiddie C. H. three weeks they were discharged by Capt. (?) Col. (?) Robert Goode, though told to be ready at call. After the battle of Guilford he was again called out and served in Virginia. Total service, nine months.

Section No. 195

MAXEY, JOHN, SR.—Powhatan, March 21, 1833. Born in Prince Edward in June, 1764. First tour was early in 1781, guarding stores at Prince Edward C. H. The only officer there was Serg't Alexander McClardy. Next substituted for Benjamin Hart, the company with another from Buckingham marching under Maj. John Overstreet, of Prince Edward, to Malvern Hill, crossing the James at Carter's Ferry. Under Col. Towles the command was constantly in motion. A week or two after his discharge he substituted for his brother, Shadrach Maxey (married), and marched to Yorktown under Capt. Nathaniel Cunningham. After the surrender he guarded prisoners to Winchester.

Section No. 196

MOSBY, HEZEKIAH.—Powhatan, Oct. 18, 1832. Born in Powhatan, Jan. 12, 1760. First called out in 1781, under Capt. Robert Hughes. Crossed Roanoke at Boyd's Ferry and joined Gen. Lawson at Hillsboro. Was in battle of Guilford and discharged at Ramsay's Mill. Second tour began almost immediately after. Half of the three months spent at Cabin Point, the other half was in marching up and down the James. The last tour was under Capt. ## Section No. 197

MOSBY, WADE.—Powhatan, Sept. 19, 1832. Born in Powhatan in 1761. About 1777 affiant joined a number of his fellow students at Hampden-Sidney Academy (later a college), in forming a volunteer company. Luke B. Smith, a professor, was captain. Subalterns were, Lt. Samuel Venable and En. Samuel Hackley. Served six weeks at Williamsburg. Was then sixteen years old. A year later the company again went out for six weeks under the same officers, serving at Petersburg. Affiant then quit college, and in fall of 1779 or spring of 1780, was Second Lieutenant under his brother, Capt. Littlebury Mosby (later a General). At Petersburg they joined the cavalry under Col. Banister, of Gen. Lawson's command. The call was because hostile vessels came near on the James. After the defeat of Gates there was a heavy call, and affiant went out under his brother-in-law, Capt. Robert Hughes, serving as adjutant of the regiment. At Moore's Ordinary in Prince Edward, Capt. Cameron, of Buckingham took ill, and affiant was appointed in his place. Was in battle of Guilford under Col. B. Randolph. Col. Carrington, quarter-master-general, laid off the battleground. A fifth tour quickly followed, because Gov. Jefferson wrote Littlebury Mosby to raise all the cavalry he could and go to the aid of Lafayette. L. Mosby called on his subalterns, affiant raising a company and Horatio Turpin another, L. Mosby leading the battalion as major. It lay at Petersburg until the British, under Gen. Phillips arrived, and then the cavalry covered the retreat, taking up the bridge over the Appomattox after the army had crossed. Affiant was then much on vidette service under Col. Call, his own father, militia commandant of county, keeping him to watch Cornwallis while the latter was about Richmond, which was four or five weeks. Married Susanna ———, April 13, 1785. Died June 1, 1834. Widow made application, Oct. 1, 1838.

PART III.

The lists here given for the counties of Albemarle, Amelia, Bedford, Berkley, Botetourt, Caroline, Chesterfield, Cumberland, Fauquier, Fluvanna, Frederick, Goochland, Greenbrier, Henrico, Loudoun, Louisa, Orange, Powhatan, Rockbridge, and Spottsylvania, were compiled directly from the County Order Book, excepting Albemarle (in part), and Spottsylvania. The records of Fluvanna and Greenbrier were found somewhat deficient, and those of Henrico were very much wanting. Nothing was found in Buckingham, Culpeper, Dinwiddie, Fairfax, Hampshire, Nottoway, Prince George, Prince William, or Stafford.

These lists give the date of nomination or commission, and wherever possible, the captains under whom the lieutenants and ensigns served. It is evident that the record was not always complete. In some instances an officer was undoubtedly sworn in, although only the date of recommendation can be found on the Order Book.

Where a name, as of "John Smith," appears twice, it is because it is not clear that in each instance the same person is designated. And as a higher rank usually means that the officer has previously served in one or more lower grades, only the highest rank found is given in the lists.

Where a date is given without any explanatory mark, it means that the person is known to have held the indicated rank in the year mentioned.

The special abbreviations used are the following:

Co. Lt.—County Lieutenant.

Cp.—Captain.

Lt.—Lieutenant (when there is nothing to show whether first or second.)

- F. L.—First Lieutenant.
 S. L.—Second Lieutenant.
 En.—Ensign.
 S.—Sworn into office.
 A.—Appointed by county court.
 R.—Recommended by county court.
 N.—Nominated by county court.

The three last expressions were all in use, but seem as a rule, to have the same force.

Com'd—Date of Commission by governor; bearer subsequently sworn in.

P'ner—Prisoner of war in hands of the enemy.

Res.—Resigned.

General Index

---

This Index is sub-divided into three parts, viz:

Index of Places.

Index of Battles and Skirmishes, which includes services against Indians and at Albemarle Barracks.

Index of Names.

The references given are to sections and not to pages.

This Index is made up from Parts II and III and does not embrace the names of pensioners set out under Parts IV and V.
