PURCHASES.—The Society purchases Reversions and Remainders, whether absolute or contingent; Life Interests, whether in possession or deferred; and generally all Interests (in approved property) that depend upon the duration of human life.

LOANS.—The Society also grants Loans on the security of such Interests, either on Ordinary Mortgage or by way of Reversionary Charge. The latter mode meets the convenience of borrowers who do not wish to make any payment for either Principal or Interest until their Reversionary Property falls into possession. The amount to which the Society will then be entitled is fixed at the outset, and does not depend on the time elapsing between the grant of the Loan and its repayment. The option of redeeming the Charge during the first three or five years can usually be combined with this form of Loan.

LIFE ANNUITIES are granted by the Society in exchange for Reversions and other Interests, and also in consideration for Reversionary Charges payable when the property falls into possession. In this way a reversioner can secure a fixed income and avoid the trouble and expense of obtaining successive Loans.

Forms of Proposal and full information can be obtained at the Society's Offices.

To combine, as far as possible, men and women of every shade of political and religious opinion in the maintenance of the Established Church and her rights and privileges in relation to the State.

Impelled by pressure from political Nonconformists, the Government have taken steps to destroy the distinctively religious features of Church Training Colleges and Schools, and have pledged themselves to introduce next Session a Bill to Disestablish and Disendow the Church in Wales.

In these circumstances it is most important that the hands of the Central Committee should be strengthened by contributions, both large and small, from Churchmen of all classes throughout the country.

Object: TO IMPROVE THE CONDITION OF THE POOR.

I.—ON THE PART OF THE COUNCIL OF THE SOCIETY.

1. By propagating sound principles and views in regard to the administration of charity.
2. By promoting the co-operation of charitable institutions for the furtherance of their common work.
3. By convening Special Committees to inquire into, and report on, comparatively technical questions connected with the administration of charity, such as the education of the blind, the legal provision for the afflicted, convalescent homes, artisans' dwellings, &c.
4. By making enquiries for persons legitimately interested, and collecting information regarding the utility, objects, and mode of working of charitable institutions.
5. By investigating on behalf of persons legitimately interested, and reporting on the appeals of begging letter-writers, whose operations are of a metropolitan or general rather than of a local character.
6. By supplementing the resources of the District Committees of the Society, by the personal assistance of officers appointed and paid, in all or part, by the Council, by grants for general purposes, and when necessary, for relief, and by obtaining adequate help in cases of difficulty.

II.—ON THE PART OF DISTRICT COMMITTEES.

1. By careful inquiry regarding all applicants for assistance (whether they be referred to the District Officers or apply of their own accord), in order to ascertain how and by whom they should be helped, and to test the truth of their statements.
2. By applying to each case, susceptible of permanent benefit, and suitable for assistance by charity rather than by the Poor Law, such remedies as are likely to make the applicant self-dependent.
3. By obtaining the various kinds of help required by those interested in the applicants, from their relatives, from charitable institutions, and from private persons; by assisting by loans, or, when necessary, by grants.
4. By sending (gratuitously) to legitimate inquirers, whether charitable agents or private persons, reports on cases of distress.
5. By bringing into co-operation with each other, and with the Poor Law authorities, the various charitable agencies and individuals in the district, and by making the District Committees representative of local charities and a centre of reference for all interested in charitable work.

IT has been our duty to note since our last publication the deaths of 22 Peers, of 1 wife of a Peer, and of 5 widows, 3 heirs apparent, and 4 heirs presumptive, of Peers; 4 Peerages, the Baronies of Glenesk, Herries, U.K. cr. 1884 (in this case the Scotch Barony, cr. 1489, remains extant), Kelvin, and Overtoun, have become extinct; 3 Privy Councillors (other than Peers, Baronets, and Knights), 34 Baronets, 5 wives, 16 widows, 4 heirs apparent, and 4 heirs presumptive, of Baronets have died; 3 Baronetcies have become extinct, and that of Gordon, of Letterfourie, Banffshire, cr. 1625, extinct or dormant; the deaths have occurred of 105 Knights, of 22 wives and 16 widows of Knights, and of 311 heads of families, 59 wives, 16 heirs apparent, and 10 heirs presumptive, of heads of families.

Numerous changes in the names and numbers of regiments have been rendered necessary by the formation of the Special Reserve and Territorial Force, with the consequent abolition of the Militia and Volunteers, and these have been duly made, as far as the appointments have yet been gazetted.

The Editor has again to express his gratitude for an increased amount of information courteously sent to him on the forms returned and in reply to questions, and to an esteemed correspondent for much useful information on the Families of Cambridgeshire and neighbouring Counties.

The Editor would suggest to any persons who may wish to use the work as a directory that it is advisable to read the notice as to postal addresses on page 1. The annoyance of having circulars returned by the Post Office may thus in many cases be avoided.

The Editor will always receive with the greatest gratitude any corrections, and will adopt, as far as possible, any suggestions which may be addressed to him, to the care of the Publishers, Messrs. Spottiswoode & Co. Ltd., 5 New Street Square, London, E.C.

EXTRACT FROM THE PREFACE TO THE FIRST EDITION.

---

IT is impossible for me to send forth to the Public this work—the result of more than two years' constant labour and research—without acknowledging in terms of gratitude the kind and generous assistance which I have received from almost every quarter, in answer to the circulars which I have issued to the present representatives of the highest families in the three kingdoms, whether numbered among the 'titled' or the 'untitled' aristocracy, who, with few exceptions, have freely communicated to me the information which I requested at their hands. Here and there, it is true, my applications have been met with a refusal on the part of those who were most nearly interested; but even in these cases I have endeavoured to keep faith with the public, by instituting private inquiries among local friends and correspondents, and by consulting a large library of useful books of reference. By these means I have been enabled to produce a volume which, in spite of numerous imperfections, embraces the whole of the titled, and by far the largest portion of the untitled aristocracy of the three kingdoms, and may, therefore, fairly lay claim to be styled, in common parlance, a 'Dictionary of the Upper Ten Thousand.'

I am well aware that such a book as this must always remain, in one sense, imperfect in a country like our own, where, mainly owing to the influence of trade and commerce, individuals and families are continually crossing and re-crossing the narrow line which severs the aristocracy from the commonalty. But I can safely promise that, as often as a new edition of the 'COUNTY FAMILIES' shall be called for, the book shall be found in a state more nearly approaching completion, by the constant addition of fresh families to the roll of its contents, and by carefully noting the various changes wrought day by day by the silent operation of births, marriages, deaths, and preferments, in the families whose names I record.

It is to be hoped that the public and subscribers to the work will pardon such errata as they may find on referring to their names; and they will further oblige me if they will kindly communicate to me those errors, through my Publishers, in order that they may be rectified in future editions. When they call to mind that every separate entry involves a statement of from five to fifty facts, inclusive of dates, the public will be able to realize some portion of the labour of an Editor in preparing such a work as this for the press.

I have not chosen the title of this work without deliberation. I have called my book a MANUAL OF THE TITLED AND UNTITLED ARISTOCRACY, and have accordingly arranged both these orders under a single alphabet, because I remember the words of James I., that 'the king, though he can make a noble, cannot make a gentleman,' and because the bearing of arms, not of titles, has ever been considered as the distinctive mark of true noblesse.

ORDER OF PRECEDENCE AMONG WOMEN.

The general rule is that unmarried females take their rank from their fathers, married ladies and widows from their husbands, if superior in rank to themselves; but the wife or widow (while a widow) of a peer, if by birth of superior rank to her husband, takes only the precedence of her husband. The widow of a peer or baronet takes precedence while a widow of the wife of the existing peer or baronet. When there are widows living of two or more holders of any title, they take precedence inter se, according to the priority of their husbands in the succession.
