A Codicil

The kind affections and tendering devotion & attention of my old & faithful servant Mary, displayed towards me in my present illness & to my children in their many distresses & afflictions has induced me to append this codicil to my will - As I have not the legal right to dispose absolutely of said David Mary I have to rely upon the filial love of my children to conform to this my request - that said David Mary in a proper way & manner be manumitted & suffered to be free & in the dispensation of an all wise Providence, affection old age or any thing else should disable her from maintaining herself then I request that she shall be kindly treated maintained & provided for by my children and in doing this my children you will pay a debt of gratitude to my old servants & pay a proper tribute of respect to the memory of a deceased parent
