I, Henry A Dean being of sound mind and disposing memory make this my last will and testament.
In addition to the land this day conveyed to my two sons William and Frank, I have remaining about Eight hundred and fifty six and $\frac{3}{4}$ acres of land, and in addition to the personal property this day sold them as stipulated in said deed of conveyance, I have remaining in money and evidences of debt, about three thousand dollars.
The said land now remaining is now estimated to be worth twelve thousand dollars.
Now I will to my wife, Margaret A Dean all my household furniture, to dispose of as she pleases. Except the proceeds of any of the said land I may dispose of during my life. I also will to her one third of any remaining personal property and effects I may dispose of, to be by her used and enjoyed during her life as she may see proper, anything remaining at her death to be equally divided between my children.
To my sons William and Frank I will one thousand dollars each, provided my entire disposable estate at my death shall amount in value to as much as fifteen thousand dollars, or a less sum in the same proportion, if it shall amount to less than that sum.

To my daughters, Bettie Moomaw, Flora Wortham, Jennie McBarty, Kelly Owen, Sallie Dean and Lou Dean I will the remainder of my estate, both personal and real, after the payment of my debts and funeral expenses. This includes the remainder of my landed estate, containing in several tracts about Eight hundred and fifty six and $\frac{3}{4}$ acres valued as above, or the proceeds of such of same, as I may sell during my lifetime.

If I should sell any of said land during my life, and give them, or any of them the proceeds of same, or any part thereof, the value or sum as given, shall be included in making up the sum total of my estate in estimating the amount of the legacies to my said sons, and likewise if I should convey to them or any of them said land, or any part thereof.

My said children, except my sons William and Frank shall be charged as advancements with such money and property as I have given them, or may hereafter give them he for an account kept by me.

In case any of my said children should die before my death, leaving children, the said children shall take the deceased parent's share as herein devised and bequeathed.
I appoint my son William A Dean, and my nephew W J. Dean Jr the executors of this my will. Signed and acknowledged by the said Henry A Dean in our presence and by us as witnesses in his presence, this the 14th day of November 1892.

"Codicil".

I, H. A. Deane do make and publish this codicil to my last will and testament. My daughter Kelly, having died since the making of my will. It is my will and desire, and I do hereby direct that all the property, both real and personal herein bequeathed to her, be equally divided between my other daughters as herein named, except five hundred dollars, which I will to my wife Margaret Ann. I further will and direct, that should any of my children die without issue, that all of the property willed to them be equally divided between the remaining children.
