I, John Thomas Wheeler being of sound and disposing mind and memory and knowing the uncertainty of life and the certainty of death, and further knowing that I have but little longer to live, do make and declare this to be my last will and testament, hereby revoking any and all other wills by me at any time heretofore made. I desire that all my just debts and funeral expenses shall be paid by the Executor hereinafter named.

I desire that all property, personal property, real estate, stocks, bonds, or any other effects of which I may die possessed to be divided as follows:

To my wife Susan Adelaide Wheeler I will and bequeath one third of all my property of which I may die possessed to hold and to use as hers in any manner she may choose during her natural life. Should my wife Susan Adelaide Wheeler, marry, then she surrenders all claim to her interest in the property aforesaid, and I desire that the part of my effects, I have set apart for her shall revert to my two children Lillie Dee and Daisy Lee Wheeler. To my daughter Mary Alisha Wheeler I will and bequeath five dollars.

To my daughters Lillie Dee and Daisy Lee Wheeler I will and bequeath to each, one third of all property of all kinds of which I may die possessed, after five dollars has been deducted equally from their interests for Mary Alisha Wheeler; And I further desire that the property which I have bequeathed to Lillie Dee and Daisy Lee Wheeler shall not be liable for any debts or contracts either of their husbands should either of them marry; And in the event that either or both of my daughters Lillie Dee and Daisy Lee Wheeler should marry, I desire that any deed of real estate or transfer of any property that they may have as coming from this testament shall be declared null by the Courts, provided such deed or transfer is made before they shall have attained the age of twenty one years. Should either or both of my daughters Daisy Lee and Lillie Dee Wheeler die without issue then I desire that all property they may have as coming from this testament shall revert to my next nearest relations and kinship. I desire that A. C. Richardson be appointed Administrator of my estate, and I request that the Court require no bond of him. In testimony of which I have this the 3^d day of January 1894 signed my name in the presence of witnesses.

I, John Henry Celge of the County of Boone and State of Kentucky being of sound mind and disposing memory and feeling that life is uncertain, and to me of my age, death is near, do make ordain and publish this my last will and testament, hereby revoking all others which I may have heretofore made.

I desire and direct that my funeral expenses and all my just debts if any, be first paid out of my estate. I hereby bequeath and devise unto my daughter Leonora all the property both real and personal, of which I may die seized and possessed, but upon the conditions herein named. I have heretofore given to my other children what was their share of my estate, and what I thought them entitled to, and hence the bequest above named to my daughter Leonora.

This bequest and devise unto my ^{said} daughter Leonora is upon the following conditions viz: If she remaining single shall continue to reside with me, and take care of me, furnishing me with good comfortable clothing and living, as long as I shall live, and shall always comfort and conduct herself towards me with the affection and consideration due from daughter to father. Or if she shall marry and shall continue to furnish me with a good comfortable home and abiding place with her wherever she may reside, and shall board clothe and comfortably share for me in any event until I shall die, and shall give me a proper and decent burial. In the event of her marriage she shall not only act and conduct herself towards me with due and proper affection and consideration, but she shall see that the same is given by her husband and family. My desire and intention being to provide for myself comfort and quietude in my declining years.

If she fail in all or any of the hereinstant conditions this bequest shall fail, and devise be void, and my estate shall descend as though no will had been made. Given under my hand this the 26th day of June 1885.

I, Martha C. Graham of the County of Meade and State of Kentucky being of sound mind; but of feeble health do make and publish this my last will and testament, hereby revoking all others.

First - As my late husband Andrew Graham has hitherto given and advanced to our beloved daughter Emily C. Brown much more than has been, or can be given to our daughter Mattie E. Latrobe, yet as a slight token of a Mother's affection, I now will, devise and bequeath to my daughter Emily C. Brown, my set of Combs and Pearl Jewelry, and my Gold Thumbable.

Second - After the payment of my just debts, I will devise, and bequeath, to my beloved daughter Mattie E. Latrobe all the remainder of my jewelry including my diamond rings &c. my Gold Watch - all my silver ware, and all and every description of property that I may die possessed of, real, personal, and mixed.

Third - I appoint my daughter Mattie E. Latrobe the sole Executor of my will, and desire that she shall qualify and execute the same, without giving bond.

In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand this the 20th day of November 1884.
