

I, Beards, shall have been given a good horse & cow. I desire that my executrix shall give them to her, or pay for in kind thereof. One hundred & fifty dollars, as she thinks best, and she shall have ample time to do it in and if it is not done in her life time, my son Wallace is to do it at his mother's death.

Item 3. As my four eldest children have the advantage of the three youngest in education & gifts, I can do no more for them, I have given Annie a horse & cow & 1000, and that is my reason for giving Ellen the horse & cow, & have all my children alike, and have what I thought was just to all.

Item 4. I will and bequeath to my faithful wife Sarah P. Peete, my farm and all property, both real & personal, that I may be possessed of, to manage as she may see fit, during her life, after paying the above bequests.

Item 5. I desire that my wife shall keep Wallace with her to work the farm, & manage her business for her, as he has done for me. Him to comply with my will at all times.

Item 6. I desire at the death of my wife that my son Wallace Peete, shall have all there is, that is the farm farming implements, and stock, as for contract verbally made between myself & him when we settled the farm, the house held, & after his mamma, to do as she pleased with.

Item 7. I desire that my wife Sarah P. Peete shall act as my executrix, to carry into effect this my will, and she shall not be required to give any bond, Sept 27, 1897.
