Big Springs, Ky
April 17, 1920.

In the name of God, Amen:

I, James A. Ritchie, of Big Springs Breckenridge County, Ky, being now sound of mind and memory do hereby make and publish this writing as my last will and testament, hereby revoking all others, towit:

FIRST - I desire that all my just debts and funeral expenses fully paid.

SECOND - I bequeath to my son William Ritchie one half of all my real and personal property at my death after debts are paid.

THIRD. I bequeath to my wife Nannie Ritchie all the property she had at our marriage to be hers entirely, also her dower and one half of the personal property after all debts are paid and the balance of the real property to be divided equally among the rest of my children namely, Mary Haynes, Gabe Ritchie, Nora Ritchie Kaelin, Irene Ritchie Curry Nellie Ritchie, Blanchette Ritchie.

The last bequest (dower and one half of the personal property) to my wife to be hers as long as she remains my widow or during her natural life and then at her death or marriage to revert to my estate and be equally divided among all my bodily heirs.

Fourth. I hereby appoint my son William Ritchie, executor of this my will and without bond, giving him full power and authority to sell and convey any and all my real and personal property necessary to do so.

Subscribed by the testator in our presence and in the presence of each other and subscribed by us as witnesses at the request of the testator and in his presence and in the presence of each other.
