WILL OF J. V. ST. CLAIR

BRECKINRIDGE COUNTY COURT

Maggie St. Clair, Alta Frances
Hendrick, and Mildred Henderson,

PLAINTIFFS,

ON PETITION FOR ESTABLISHMENT OF LOST
WILL OF J. V. ST. CLAIR, DEC'D.

Petitioners, Maggie St. Clair, Alta Frances Hendrick and Mildred Henderson, say that on the 28th., day of October, 1935, J. W. St. Clair, husband of petitioners Maggie St. Clair, and father of petitioners Alta Frances Hendrick and Mildred Henderson, died a resident of Breckinridge County, Kentucky.

That on the 28th., day of October, 1927, during the lief time of said J. V. St. Clair and at a time when he was of sound mind and disposing membsy, capable recognizing the objects of his bounty and his duty toward them, and capable of making a rational survey of his property and to dispose of it according to a fixed purpose of his own, he made and published his last will and testament, in his own handwriting; that the same was written by him on a blank page in the family bible and was exhibited to petitioners; that, on numerous occasions since the time of the making of said will and prior to the time of the death of said J. V. St. Clair, petitioners saw said will in said Bible, and he talked with them about the will and discussed the provisions written in the will by him.

Petitioners say that, after the death of said J. V. St. Clair, they examined said Bible in order to get said will for probation and that the page on which said will was written and said will was missing; and that they have never been able to locate said will; that said J. V. St. Clair never, at any time, revoked said will or expressed any intention of doing so; and petitioners believe and allege it to be true that the page upon which said will was written became detached from said bible, through accident and by reason of the wear and tear in the use of said Bible by the family, and was misplaced or destroyed unintentionally and unknowingly.

Petitioners say that they, therefore, are unable to produce the original will for probation, but that they are thoroughly familiar wit the provisions contained in said will and that the following is in substance a copy of the same, to-wit:-

WILL

I, J. V. St. Clair, being of full age and of sound mind and memory, do make, publish and declare this to be my last will and testament, hereby revoking all wills by me heretofore made.

I. I direct that all my just debts and funeral expense be paid out of my estate as soon as practicable after the time of my decease.

II. All the property, real and personal of every kind and description, wheresoever situated, which I may own at the time of my decease, I give, bequeath and devise to my beloved wife, Maggie St. Clair, for her sole use and benefit during her natural life, unless she shall marry again, in which event her rights in said property shall cease and determine as if she were dead. But until said death or remarriage she shall have full power to control and dispose of said property or any part thereof if needed for her support.

III. Upon the death or remarriage of my wife, Maggie St. Clair, I give, bequeath and devise what may remain of said property to my daughters, Alta Frances Hendrick and Mildred Henderson; and if Alta Frances Hendrick and Mildred Henderson, should die without issue, before the happening of either of said events, I give and devise her interest in said property to the children of Mildred Henderson.

LAINTIFFS,
