

of her death) under the foregoing provisions of this will, then only such proportionate part of the said sum of Five Hundred Dollars ($500.00), if any, shall be paid in each instance, as will leave sufficient funds in the hands of said trustees out of the said eighty percent (80%) of the net income from my estate to pay said annuity of Four Thousand Dollars ($4,000.00) to said Helen M. Beary, said annuity of Three Thousand Dollars ($3,000.00) to said Phyllis Waters, and to pay for such first year not less than the sum of Three Thousand Five Hundred Dollars ($3,500.00) to said George R. Collins (or those to whom his share is payable in case of his death) and not less than the sum of Three Thousand Five Hundred Dollars ($3,500.00) to said Amy T. Venable (or those to whom her share is payable in case of her death).

TENTH: My estate shall be vested in said trustees and the income distributed as hereinbefore provided, until the death of both said Helen M. Beary and said Phyllis Waters, at which time said trustees or their successors shall transfer, set over, assign and convey one-half of my entire estate then in their hands to my said son George R. Collins, if he be living, otherwise to such person or persons as he may have provided by his will, or if there be no such provision by will, to his legal distributees; and one-half to my said daughter Amy T. Venable, if she be living, otherwise to her surviving children and the descendants of deceased children, per stirpes; or if thereby no surviving children or descendants of deceased children, then one-third of said one-half to said Helen M. Beary, if she be living, otherwise to such person or persons as said Helen M. Beary may have provided by will, or if there be no such provision by will, then to the legal distributees of said Helen M. Beary; one-third thereof to said Phyllis Waters, if she be living, otherwise to such person or persons as she may have provided by will, or if there be no such provision by will, then to her legal distributees; and the remaining one-third of said one-half to said George R. Collins, if he be living, otherwise to such person or persons as he may have provided by will, or if there be no such provision by will, then to his legal distributees.

ELEVENTH: As a general provision, to be effective for as long as the trusteeship herein provided for continues, I specifically provide and direct that neither the principal, nor the income from the trust property and estate, shall be liable for any debt or obligation of any beneficiary hereunder, nor be subject to any form of proceeding by any creditor of any beneficiary, whether at law or in equity or otherwise, and whether by levy, attachment, bankruptcy, receivership or any other form of proceeding; and that no beneficiary hereunder shall have any power to sell, assign, transfer, encumber, or in any other manner to anticipate or dispose of his or her interest in the trust estate or income therefrom.

TWELFTH: I have heretofore made advances in various amounts to all my children and kept memorandum accounts of the same in my private ledger. Some have received more than others and it was originally intended that from my estate the differences in the advancements should be equalized, as shown in the ledger; but as my estate has become so depleted, I declare that these accounts or advances heretofore made, and also such as I may hereafter make, be wholly disregarded by my executors and trustees, and that the provisions hereinbefore contained be carried out entirely without reference to any such advances.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF I hereunto set my hand and seal, and have likewise affixed my signature to each of the foregoing seven pages hereof, there being no interlineations, this 26th day of July, 1933.
