Parker, being of legal age and of sound mind and realizing the uncertainty of life and the sureness of death, do hereby make, and declare this my last will and testament, revoking all prior wills, and codicils, however, the revoking of same is done for the purpose of making this my last will and testament, since a former will, in substance as this has been misplaced and lost.

In testimony, whereof, I, Ida M. Parker, have had this my last will and testament typewritten at my direction and have duly had same read me by John Allen, in the presence of Lawrence Keathley and Virginia Keathley, and have signed same in the presence of each of them.
