R. H. Agnew
Will

BOOK C PAGE 317

Know all men by these — that I Andrew H. Agnew do make and publish this my last Will and Testament. I will that my tract of land on which I — containing a 'cut' four hundred acres, be divided as follows, namely: Whereas I am indebted to Franklin Gallaway by note of hand in the sum of Six hundred Dollars, in full satisfaction and for payment in full of said note and interest thereon, I will to the said Gallaway and his wife the tract or parcel of land. Beginning at a stone in the corner of the land owned by the said R. H. Agnew, goes up, thence with R. H. Agnew's line to another stone in said R. H. Agnew's line and comes to R. H. Agnew's line, thence south easterly, comes with said R. H. Agnew's line a sufficient distance to make eighty acres, by running a parallel line with the first line described above. The said Franklin Gallaway and his wife is to have and to hold said tract of land with all appurtenances thereto belonging, forever. The said R. H. Agnew's tract of land is situated on the above described tract or parcel of land, and is hereby reserved to his amount of one acre, and the said Gallaway is to have eighty acres of land after this reserve is made. To my niece Caroline V. Agnew widow of John J. Agnew dec^d I will the following tract of or parcel of land, bounded as follows: Beginning at the R. H. Agnew east corner of the Spring Rock fence at a gate and near a large branch of water willow, thence with the Spring Rock fence a south westerly course to the corner of the young orchard fence, thence with the young apple or hard fence to a stake in the water between the sixth and seventh rows, thence strate between said rows south westerly, to a stake in the line of R. H. Agnew's line, thence south easterly, comes with the line of the said R. H. Agnew a line of O. Mills to his corner & corner also to R. H. Agnew thence with said O. Mills line and the line of Henry Bonds to one end east and a stone mark J. K. and a standing in the line of Henry Bonds, thence a north westerly course strate to the field fence at the point where a ditch strikes the fence and along the fence, thence the same north westerly, comes continued up the said ditch, with the meadows thereof to the land at a gate, thence down the center of the lane to the mouth of a ditch on the west side of the lane, then across said ditch with the meadows thereof to the beginning of the lane and I do hold the said tract of land with all appurtenances thereto belonging during her life time or so long as she is the widow of John J. Agnew, then this lot or tract of land is to her son, R. H. Agnew and right title rest in him forever. To my wife Elizabeth H. Agnew I will the remainder of my tract of land on which I am living, and not disposed of supposed to be 200 acres, June 3rd 1874. R. H. Agnew, supposed to be about two hundred acres be the same more or less to have and to hold the same her life time with all the rights and appurtenances thereto belonging and at her death, she may dispose of one half of said tract of land as she may think best to do, sales will to her my said wife, to have and to hold in her own right forever, all of my house hold furniture, stock of all kind and belonging to the all of my farming tools, waggon & buggy together with all money due and owing to me at my death, and crops of corn, beans, wheat and oats, hay or grass that may be growing or on hand, with this understanding that the above bequests are made in
