

Joseph Clow of the County of Henderson and State of Kentucky being of sound mind and disposing memory and not wishing to die intestate do make this my last will and testament;

1st When I die it is my desire to leave my business and worldly affairs under the charge and control of my beloved wife Martha Clow to be managed by her in all respects and with the same rights power and authority as I now possess in my own proper person, and to carry out that intent and purpose I give and bequeath unto her all my property of every nature and description real, personal and mixed and wherever situated absolutely and in fee simple she paying my funeral expenses and all just debts

2nd It is my desire that my said wife shall carry on my Saw Mill and lumber business as it is now being carried on until the circumstances in her judgment make a change therein or discontinuance thereof advisable, but her discretion in this matter is not to be in any way restricted by this request.

3rd My said wife is to have free and unlimited discretion in selling and disposing of any of my property either by will or deed but any of said property that she should not dispose of by will or deed I desire shall pass to and vest equally in my children then living and the children of my children then dead per stirpes in part as hereinafter provided each of my said children to be charged with the advancements I have made them, and I desire that my said wife in any advancements that she may make to them that she shall likewise take into consideration the advancements made to them by me in my life time.

4th If my grand child Maggie Clow daughter of Miller Clow do should join the Roman Catholic Order of Nuns or Sisters of Charity then she shall not have any part of my estate and it is my desire that my said wife in that event shall not give or devise to her any part of my estate. Or if she should join said order of Roman Catholics after the title to said property has been vested in her or for her use and benefit, then the same is to be divested and is to revert to my children and their heirs as herein stated. If she should not join said order at any time then it is my desire that the interest of my son Miller if he were living shall be vested in my son W. H. Clow in trust for my said grand daughter and he shall hold the same in trust and only pay over to her as she may need it, the income therefrom with power on his part to sell any portions of said property and convert the proceeds in his discretion to be held in like trust. No security is to be required of him as such trustee. This expression of my desire is not to interfere with the absolute fee simple title and right of my said wife as expressed in the first paragraph of this will, but is to control the said property only in the event of my said wife dying intestate and without having disposed of the same.

5th I hereby nominate and appoint my said wife the executrix of this my last will and testament and request that no security be required of her.
