

George Whitlocke of the City of Louisville, County of Jefferson and State of Kentucky being sick and weak in body, but of sound mind and calling to mind the uncertainty of life, do hereby make my last will and testament in manner and form following, that is to say:
First. I desire that my ~~undivided part~~ of land in the Green River country shall be sold as soon as the same can be done lawfully and the proceeds thereof to be applied to the procuring a home for my family.

Second. I desire that all my just debts shall be paid so soon as the interest accruing on the purchase money of lot No 180 can effect the same and support my family at the same time, after which my wife shall receive the interest and dispose of it as she may think best, And she shall likewise have the control of all other property both personal and real during her widowhood and if she should get married then and in that case an equal division of all the property both real and personal together with the purchase money of lot No 180 shall take place.

And Lastly I do hereby constitute and appoint my friend Frederick Maye Executor of this my last will and testament.
In Witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and affixed my seal this sixteenth day of June in the year of our Lord One thousand eight hundred and thirty two
