From an examination of the books Reuben Underwood died it appears there is a balance in favour of the estate of $200. by open account, but it is extremely probable that may acct. will be disputed and there is due by credit of which the administrators can have no objection - It further appears that there is due the estate by bond forty dollars - Against the estate there appears to be by bond David and four hundred and twenty five dollars. The money due the adm^r for the sale of the property included in the inventory above is not included in this statement but will be found on a list of sales here attached -

The within statement of the sundry acct therein referred to is just the best of our knowledge written out by our hands this 20th February 1815.
