In the name of God Amen, Being far advanced in years and knowing from the course of Nature that I must shortly die, I make this my last will and testament. To my daughter Eleanor Leach I bequeath forty acres of land to be taken from the tract on which I now live to wit, Beginning at a Burr Oak a corner commonly called Old's corner thence to the fifth line and with the south line of my tract until it strikes the Sickman road, thence with the road so far as will give the aforesaid quantity of forty acres by running a straight line from the termination on the road to the beginning at the Burr Oak. The balance of the tract on which I reside I bequeath to the lawful issue of my son John's body containing One Hundred and one and a half acres more or less. To my son John's sons Samuel, James A. John, Thomas and William I give my tract of land adjoining the one on which I live and Nathaniel Welch on the East, James DeLozier on the South supposed to contain about One hundred and ten acres more or less. To the lawful issue of my son John's body I give my slave Abram. To my daughter Eleanor Leach I give my slave Phoebe together with her father in crime in children. To the children of my daughter Nancy Watson deceased to wit (David Watson, Melly Smith and Polly Ann Watson I give my slave Joe. My slave Jack having been faithful through many years service and now infirm and of little value, it is my wish after my death that he should be kept upon the home place given to my son John's children and compelled to labour only at such business as is suitable for his condition. To my son John's children I give my Waggon, gear and appurtenances and six head of horses, three sown mares, four horn a bay horse colt one year old and a bay filly one year old. The balance of my horses I give to the children of my deceased daughter Nancy Watson. To my grand daughter Polly Ann Watson I give one cow the choice of my stock to be by her made. To my grand son William Old's I give one cow. All the rest, residue and remainder of my estate both real and personal I bequeath to the children of my son John Welch. It is my wish that my trusty friend Daniel B. Jones should take upon himself the execution of this will agreeable to the several bequests and devise herein made for which end and purpose I direct that he shall be permitted to qualify as my executor without giving bond security for the performance of the duties imposed upon him by law as such, in as much as I have entire confidence in his integrity and that he will do whatsoever I have herein requested and directed from pure motives. In testimony of the foregoing three pages being my last will and testament I have hereunto set my name and affixed my seal this twelfth day of January 1832.

Signed sealed and acknowledged in presence of - Nelson James Fletcher, W. F. Shely & Seppimus County at May Court 1832.

last will and testament of said John Welch died, whereupon the same was ordered to be recorded, which is done. Test (David N. Jones) Clerk

In the name of God Amen I James A. Campbell of the county of Seppimus and State of Kentucky, considering the uncertainty of this mortal life and being of sound and perfect mind and memory, blessed be almighty God for the same, do hereby make and publish this my last will and testament in manner and form following (that is to say):

First I give and bequeath to my wife Eleanor A. Campbell one half the tract of land wherein I now live containing about two hundred & thirty acres, that is the one half the number of acres in said tract, to be laid off on the East side of said tract to adjoin the farm now owned by Lydia Young widow of Thomas Young died, the division line to run through the passage of the mansion, and to run thence its course each way so far as will best suit each half, and to run to the original boundaries of said tract each way by lines that may best suit each half so as to have an equal quantity and part of the house on each side. Also one negro man named Harry his share of three horses out of my whole stock of horses, one third of all the cattle sheep & hogs and one half of the farming utensils that I may die possessed of during his natural life, on the following conditions (to wit) the land she is to have as long as she chooses to live on it and occupy it as her own, but not to rent or sell her interest in said land to any person or persons whatever except to my son Wallace M. Campbell, as it is my will and desire that said land together with the negro man Harry at the death of my said wife shall pass on & devolve to my said son Wallace M. Campbell. Also I give and bequeath to my wife Eleanor One negro woman named Fanny & one negro boy named Ora, all the household & kitchen furniture of every description that I may die possessed of, to her and her heirs forever. I do also give and bequeath to my wife Eleanor the sum of seven hundred and fifty dollars and no more, which I consider his equal share of all my estate both real and personal including what she has received herebefore, the whole to descend to her and to her heirs forever. I do also give and bequeath to my son John A. Campbell the several tracts of land wherein he now lives and has full possession of, to wit the tract and deeds for the same heretofore deeded to me but now in his possession, said tract contains about 120 acres, also one other tract (part of south side military survey on Marble creek) containing fifteen acres adjoining to my tract from George Bernaugh for the same, also one negro man named Phoebe one negro boy named Mary, to him and his heirs forever. I do also give and bequeath to my son Wallace A. Campbell, one half the tract of land wherein I now live, that is the balance of said tract not within my wife, and to be laid off agreeable to the division line designated in her will, also the other half deeded to my wife, after her death which will include the whole tract (at her death) supposed to be 200 acres, also one other tract of land (part of south side military survey on Marble creek) containing twenty acres, which was purchased in partnership with James and others of the executors of Matthias More died and the whole has been deeded to said George by said executors, also one negro man named Rachel, one negro boy named Dick, one negro woman named Fanny, and one negro man named Harry who is willing to serve during his natural life and heretofore named as a devise & here bequeathed to her. Also all the balance of my estate of every kind and nature (not heretofore devised) that I may die possessed of, I do give and bequeath to my son Wallace A. Campbell his legacy of seven hundred and fifty dollars.
