In 1623 Thomas was on the Muster of persons living at Flower Dieu Hundred, on the southside of James River, being part of the Weyanoke Plantation, the home of Governor Yeardley, situated on the border of Charles City Co., later Surry Co., Va. In his LWT dtd 1683, a Robert Burgess (wife Ann), left his land to Thomas Dunn, son of John Dunn, Sr. of Surry Co. His second wife was Ann, believed to be a Fargeson. Waters Dunn had conflict with his father over certain debts which Waters Dunn owed. Before removing from Essex Co., he had an auction at which his father purchased 3 slaves. In his LWT, his father "lends" these slaves to Waters until Waters pays certain debts. About 1760 a group of families, led by Waters Dunn, migrated from Essex Co. to Halifax Co., Va., then to Pittsylvania and Henry Counties, Va. James and John, sons of Waters Dunn's brother, William, went and also Frazier Gatewood. In 1765 Waters Dunn bought 405 acres in Pittsylvania Co. He appears to have accumulated several hundred acres and even though residing in Henry Co., he still sold land back in S. Farnham Parish, down to 1779. Also, his LWT, in Columbia Co., Ga., speaks of "the remainder of my estate lying in any part whatsoever", implying that he still owned land in Virginia. He came to Georgia ca 1780, and d.
