Annals of Lincoln Co., N. C., page 32-33:

"Gentleman John Perkins who came to this section with Adam Sherrill in 1747 was born in Virginia 9/15/1733 and died Burke Co., N. C. 4/13/1804. His daughter, Mary m.
Rev. Robert Johnson Miller, Senator from Lincoln Co., N. C. In 1795."

Gentleman John Perkins by W. W. Scott:

"Born in 1733 and dying in 1804, John Perkins has been succeeded, during the 115 years following his death, by six generations of descendants, the progeny of five sons and two daughters, whose families in each generation have been prolific beyond the average. The principal habitat of the members of this family who have remained in North Carolina is comprised within the boundaries of the counties of Burke, Caldwell, Buncombe, Iredell, Catawba, Wilkes and McDowell...From time to time many of them have moved to other States, and they have been traced to every State in the Union except the New England States, and some of them may be there....I can inform you that Mrs. C. B. Harrison of Lenoir owns an old English prayer book which was the property of her great-great grandfather, Parson Miller--Rev. Robert Johnstone Miller of blessed memory---and on one of the blank pages of this book is written in Mr. Miller's own hand writing the following 'John Perkins of Lincoln county, State of North Carolina, son of Elisha Perkins, of the State of Virginia, was born in Virginia on the fifteenth day of September 1733 A. D., and departed this mortal life on Friday morning at five minutes past 7 o'clock, the thirteenth day of April 1804, aged 70 years and 7 months, wanting 2 days."

I think it probable that Elisha Perkins was a citizen of Frederick county, Virginia, which in those days covered a large part of the Valley of Virginia. Stannard's Virginia Colonial Register reports that in the Virginia Assembly of 1752-5 sessions of August 22, 1754, May 1, 1755, and October 27, 1755, Frederick County was represented by George William Fairfax and _____ Perkins.

....These facts are derived from an article written for the Baltimore Sun of Dec. 8, 1907 which states further: 'John Perkins was born in Frederick county, Virginia, in 1733, the son of Elisha Perkins, and removed to North Carolina in 1751 or 1752. This would make Elisha Perkins, father of John Perkins, of an age between the minimum of 40 and the maximum of 50 years in 1752, eligible in age to represent Frederick County in the Assembly of 1752-5.'

...One incident not generally known in the life of Parson Miller (who married John Perkins' daughter, Mary, and resided at Mary's Grove, two and a half miles west of Lenoir) is that he took part in political as well as in religious matters. He was one of the delegates from Burke County in the Constitutional Convention that met at Hillsboro in 1788. W. W. Scott."

"John Perkins immigrated to this country along with the great pioneer, Adam Sherrill, when he was a mere lad...He acquired great wealth. He owned all that valuable country from the Island Ford along the Catawba river to the mouth of Lysle's creek, several thousand acres; besides several thousand acres in Burke county, along the beautiful valley of John's river, from whom it took its name...He married Catherine Lowrance and settled on the western banks of the great Catawba not far from Little's Ferry.

....He was blessed with five sons--Elisha, Ephraim, Eli, John, Joseph and Alexander. The two former inherited all their father's land in Catawba county, the three latter all the lands on John river. All the sons were large, handsome, well-proportioned men. Ephraim Perkins was about six feet high, complexion somewhat light, with blue eyes, finely chiseled nose, a massive forehead, and an intellectual face. He saw Elizabeth Abernethy. He fell in love at first sight. He did not resolve and resolve again what to do. He determined to offer her his hand and heart. Her father, David Abernethy, lived in what is now Lincoln county, about six miles southwest of Beatty's Ford, on a plantation now owned by Miss Sallie Lucky...."

BIOGRAPHY

John Perkins, known as Gentleman John Perkins, was born 9/15/1733 Frederick Co., Maryland, and died 4/13/1804 Burke Co., North Carolina. He had a family of five sons, Elisha, Ephraim, Eli, John, Joseph, Alexander, and two daughters. His descendants can be found in Burke, Caldwell, Buncombe, Iredell, Catawba, Wilkes and McDowell Co.'s, N. C.

There was an article written for the Baltimore Sun 12/8/1907, which stated that "John Perkins was born in Frederick county, Virginia in 1733, the son of Elisha Perkins, and removed to North Carolina in 1751 or 1752. This would make Elisha Perkins, father of John Perkins, of an age between the minimum of 40 and the maximum of 50 years in 1752, eligible in age to represent Frederick county in the Assembly of 1752-5."

"No record has yet been discovered that shows what was the given name of _____ Perkins, who served in the Colonial Assembly of 1752-5 as one of the representatives of Frederick county. The Baltimore Sun's writer makes a plausible, though not conclusive, argument in favor of Elisha Perkins as the man.

"One incident not generally known in the life of Parson Miller (who married John Perkins' daughter, Mary, and resided at Mary's Grove, two and a half miles west of Lenoir) is that he took part in political as well as in religious matters. He was one of the delegates from Burke county to the Constitutional Convention that met at Hillsboro in 1788. (See N. C. State Records). W. W. Scott"

John Perkins owned land from the Island Ford, along the Catawba River to the mouth of Lysle's Creek, being several thousand acres; also several thousand acres in Burke Co., along the John's River.

He emigrated to Burke Co., N. C. area with Adam Sherrill in 1747, when but a lad, and married Catherine Lowrance. They settled on the western banks of the Great Catawba River, near Little's Ferry. In 1795 Gentleman John Perkins was State Senator from Lincoln Co., North Carolina.

Elisha and Ephraim, sons, inherited all their father's lands in Catawba Co., and the other sons, Eli, John, Joseph and Alexander, inherited all the lands on the John River.
