By the 1st of March, 1861, the first of the

The first thing I did was to go down to the bottom of the river and look at the water. It was very muddy and I saw many small fish swimming about. I also saw some larger ones, but they were all very tame.
 They seemed to be used to people being there.
 I stayed for about half an hour and then went back up the river. The water was still very muddy, but it was much clearer than when I first got there. I saw many more fish, both large and small, and they were all very tame. I stayed for about half an hour and then went back up the river.
