

inclination of the head assented to what Cutting asked him. The whole direction in the execution of the will was from S. B. Cutting no white person in the room at the time but himself & the witnesses when he entered into S. Carter's room, and before (lying under the same roof) and whilst in the room & when coming away, was of a firm opinion and belief that S. Carter was incapable of making a will or of doing any other disposing act, not in his opinion being of a sound mind, and afterwards on going home he then deponent observed to his wife, that he expected Cutting had made a will for S. Carter to suit himself.

To the 2^d Interrogation he answers that Ho. Scott one of the witnesses lives with him but is now in the country, and expected home in about a week. He does not know the other witness. This Deponent here begs leave to explain the testimony he gave when the will was proved before the Orphans Court on the 30th day of December 1809. He did not suppose that he had proven any thing more than the mere signature & acknowledgment of S. Carter, but being informed now by the Court, that the evidence went further as to capacity of the Testatrix, he again solicits to further explain by stating he never did conceive before he was told of it as above, that his affirmation went further than the mere signing and acknowledgment as expressed above, and had such an impression not been on his mind he never would have taken the affirmation, for he then thought and he now thinks & believes that S. Carter had not capacity to make a will.
