I the said Sarah Style who made & signed the annexed last will & Testament bearing date the 27th day of May 1828 to which is appended a Codicil bearing date the 19th day of Sept. 1828 do hereby declare this writing to be a second Codicil to my said will & to be accepted & taken as a part thereof, in fully & effectually to all intents & purposes as if the same provision had been actually inserted therein, that is to say I do will & direct that for as much as my son James Style has since the date of my said will superintended my affairs & transacted for me all my pecuniary matters, in a manner that subjects him to unjust responsibility by having, at my request, executed to me his obligations for money placed in his hands to loan out for my use, he now his representatives are not to be called upon for discharge such obligations until the expiration of twelve months from the date of my decease & then only for the principal sums of money expressed in said obligations, the interest accruing thereon being hereby intended as a compensation tho' small, for my said son's trouble & risk in transacting the aforesaid business in my behalf. Given under my hand & seal this 29th day of Sept. 1828
