

I, Charles L. Christian, of the County of Buckingham in the State of Virginia, do make and ordain this my last Will and Testament, hereby revoking all other Wills by me at any time heretofore made.

First I wish my just debts and funeral expenses to be paid.

Second I give and bequeath the whole of my estate, real and personal and mixed, to my executor herein after named, (whom I also appoint guardian of my children,) in trust, for these purposes, viz: that my said executor, as trustee as aforesaid, shall keep my estate together for the support and comfort of my wife in her accustomed style, and for the education, support and comfort of my children, and to these ends I authorize and empower the said trustee, at any time during the continuance of the said trust, to sell any portion of my estate real or personal, as he in his discretion may think advisable, and apply the proceeds to the said purposes, or invest it in other property, as he may think judicious. When my oldest child shall arrive at the age of twenty one years I authorize and empower the said trustee to give of to her such portion of my estate as he may think advisable, but she is to account for the same, according to valuation when given off to her, in the division herein after provides for. The same authority and power I give to the said trustee in respect to my second and third children upon the same conditions. When my youngest child comes of age, I wish and direct the said trustee to deliver to my said four children Ann Elizabeth, Charles L. Lelia and William Murphy, as much of my estate, as it may then be, and according to valuation at that time, as with what may have been advanced to them by the said trustee as aforesaid, shall be equal to two thirds of my estate estimated by said valuations, and so that the said two thirds of my estate shall be equally divided among my said four children. The remaining third of my estate I give to my wife, for and during her life, and at her death to be divided among my said four children.
