I John Brew of Charles City County, being favored to arrive to the seventieth year of my age, am therefore well assured that this frail body will soon be dissolved and be no more for which reason I think it prudent to set my House in order in the best manner I can, both in regard to time and Eternity. Then in respect to the small portion of Temporal things which kind providence has been pleased to bless me with, I lend the use thereof entirely to my dear and loving wife during her natural life, and after her decease I give it entirely to my son Robert Brew of London to him and ^{his} child or children forever, but in case he should die without issue, leaving a widow, I desire she may receive from my estate one hundred guineas, but if my son should die leaving no widow nor offspring then I desire my estate may be divided according to law
