LOCAL INTEREST.

COURTS:
Tuesday after 4th Monday in March
Tuesday after 2nd Monday in August
Tuesday after 2nd Monday in Nov.

November 14th and 15th, Dr. Martin will be here.

Elections are funny things, don't you think so?

If you can't see, see Dr. J. Harry Martin, Nov. 14-15.

Jno. W. Williams came from Richmond, Tuesday, to vote.

When in town be sure to call at the Pearisburg Pharmacy.

Ain't you sorry you run? We told you you would get beaten.

Our sick are getting along nicely, no one in a dangerous condition.

For Sale —Several nice, large sugar pumpkins. See Mrs. J. M. Peters.

Circuit Court convenes here next Tuesday, Judge Fulton Kegley, presiding.

J. E. Saunders of Vinton, visited his daughter, Mrs. M. W. Royall last Saturday.

Fresh oysters, fresh pork, pork sausage, and best of beef, at Painter's Meat Market.

Gordon Wilburn of Raleigh, W. Va., is visiting his brother, Geo. C. Wilburn of Sugar Run.

A man never knows how popular or what kind of a pedigree he has, until he runs for office.

Pearisburg Pharmacy is open to the public and solicits your patronage.

A. A. and H. H. Adair of Rich Creek, attended the funeral of Mr. A. J. Bane at White Gate, Tuesday.

We told you so! we told you so! but you would not adhere to us, so take the consequences. Up Salt River you go.

Mrs. J. H. Woodram who has been visiting her son's family at Bluefield for several days, returned home Monday.

Mrs. Daisy Miller who is teaching school near Princeton, W. Va., spent Saturday and Sunday with homefolks here.

H. H. Kirk of Burton called to see us Wednesday and shoved his subscription far in advance. This is the way we like to see them do it.

Jerry Johnston and children in company with Mrs. S. C. Moore, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Campbell at Narrows.

Early Robertson, who holds a position at Portsmouth, Va., came home to vote, visit friends and relatives at Thessalia, returned Tuesday night.

Fresh oysters, fresh pork, pork sausage, and best of beef, at Painter's Meat Market.

Rev. M. W. Royall will preach at Eggleston next Sunday morning and at night. In the afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, he will preach at Mt. View.

Hugh Eaton of Stonega, Va., spent a week in town lately. He came here more particularly to vote, but has been visiting relatives and friends.

Last Thursday was the coldest day we have had in a long time and some ice was made. That night a frost came that made the leaves hustle from the trees in a hurry.

Something of an unusual occurrence occurred here last Saturday, as Chas. D. French of Narrows was in town. Something always happens when he is around.

John Peters who has been visiting his grandmother at Cambria, Va., for several weeks, returned home Monday. John is getting "phat" since he got over the fever.

"Crow" Stafford, formerly of this place but now of Thacker, W. Va., came home to vote; to see homefolks, and some one else, we won't say who. He returned to Thacker, Tuesday.

Dr. Walter Woodyard and family of Greenville, Tenn., who have been visiting his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. William Woodyard here for several days, returned to their home Wednesday.

If all others have failed to fit you with glasses, come to see Dr. Martin. My method is the latest and best and I guarantee results. Will be in Pearisburg next Tuesday and Wednesday, November 14th and 15th.

A town out West with 4,000 inhabitants has not had a marriage in ten years. Perhaps it is not so cold out there as here, or it was it would hurry them up a little more. We people here believe in comfort.

Fount Johnston has installed in his new livery building the brilliant acetylene lights. The newness of the building and such bright lights, make one who visits there, think they are in a mansion, instead of a livery stable.

There does not seem to be very many "energetic citizens" here, or at least, no one has volunteered to put up a street lamp to light the walks of our beautiful village. What's the use of nice walks when you cannot keep on them after dark!

If you don't see right, you can not live right. Get right with yourself by having your eyes fitted with the proper glasses. Examination free by Dr. J. Harry Martin, who will be in Pearisburg, November 14th and 15th.

To the Buyers of Merchandise!

We have a store chuck full of seasonable goods, with style and prices just right.

Our line of ladies' suits and cloaks are the most complete we have ever had. We want to insist on you to come in and give us a look.

Millinery, you will make a mistake not to call and see the staples and new styles in this line. They are right up to the minute.

We have not forgotten the wants of men, we have these in Schloss Bros. suits and overcoats. Also a good line of Crossett shoes.

Do not forget that if you miss us we will miss you. Get our prices on produce.

H. B. SHELTON & CO.

The ladies of the Episcopal church will serve oysters in all styles and a regular dinner on court day, and also oysters, cream and cake that evening, for the benefit of their church, and will greatly appreciate the patronage of the public.

Read the new advertisement on our inside of Dr. J. Harry Martin, leading eye specialist of Roanoke. He will be here next Tuesday and Wednesday at Hotel Savoy. Examinations free.

Geo. A. Albert, who lives near Lawton, Va., has a strange bay mule which came to his place about ten days ago. The owner will please come and get it and pay for this advertisement.

On Saturday, November 11th, at Mt. Zion church, beginning at three o'clock in the afternoon, there will be a box supper given for the benefit of the parsonage. Music furnished by the Crandon Cornet Band.

Clyde Lee Eaton of Thessalia, and Miss Sallie Ann, daughter of J. C. Ball of Monroe county, W. Va., were united in marriage at Peterstown, October 25th, Rev. J. H. Watkins, officiating. We extend to the young couple a long life of happiness.

Quarterly Conference for this District will be held as follows: Eggleston, Mt. View, December 3d and 4th; Narrows, December 3d and 4th; Staffordsville, at Thessalia, December 9th and 10th.

S. S. Catron, P. E.

W. L. Warden of Nemour, W. Va., gave us a pleasant call on Monday last. He was on his way to attend the funeral of Mr. Andrew J. Bane who dropped dead Sunday. Mr. Warden is an old "standby" of the Virginian, being one of its oldest subscribers.

The Bookkeeper or Stenographer who has the recommendation of the Mountain State Business College, Parkersburg, W. Va., can always secure employment. Write today for their 96 page catalogue.

"Marry in haste and repent at leisure," is a proverb often false. Few men, after marriage, have any leisure. Is not this true, we can name some men who have been on the jump ever since, are still jumping, and will continue to jump, until they jump off the jumping place.

Rev. B. Hobson was in our town Monday afternoon. He was on his way to White Gate to preach the funeral of Mr. Andrew J. Bane, who dropped dead last Sunday and whose funeral was preached Tuesday morning at eleven o'clock. The Dr. is looking hale and hearty.

Read the advertisement of R. A. Brice & Son, commission merchants, Philadelphia, Pa., in another column. They have been dealing in turkeys and poultry for the past 40 years, and have an unlimited outlet for choice stock. Thanksgiving and Christmas are near and this firm will treat you square, should you see proper to deal with them.

Now that election is over and all are happy—particularly the ones elected—let's all get down to business and talk about our future prosperity or something of that kind. But for goodness sake, don't tongue flash your neighbor.

Will Woodrum of Bluefield, came home to vote.

Preston Vest and wife of Hiwatha, W. Va., gave us a call Wednesday from a visit to White Gate.

Theo Dulaney, Misses Mary Peery and Ethel Dulaney spent Sunday at Peterstown, W. Va. Mrs. Theo Dulaney, who has been on a visit there, returned with them.

The ladies of the Episcopal church will serve oysters in all styles and a regular dinner on court day, and also oysters, cream and cake that evening for the benefit of their church, and will greatly appreciate the patronage of the public.

Many school children fail in their examinations on account of defective eyes. Dr. Martin will make a free examination of the eye and entire nervous system next Tuesday and Wednesday, Nov. 14th and 15th, at the hotel Pearisburg.

The new two-story building erected by Messrs. Woodyard & Woods for Jess Stafford, is about completed and Jess has his tonsorial parlor, bathroom, etc., on the first floor. Shaves and getting the dirt off in the latest and up-to-date style, is now Jesse's delight.

Dr. J. A. Booth has opened up a drugstore here, called the Pearisburg Pharmacy, and is now ready for business. This is a much needed necessity and will, no doubt, be liberally patronized. There will be no use now going to Radford or other places for pure drugs as they can be obtained right here at home.

The tenth annual meeting of the Giles County Teachers' Association will commence here in the High School building Friday morning at ten o'clock. All the teachers in the public schools of the county are requested and expected to be in attendance. School officers, patrons and all others interested in the work of our public schools are cordially invited to attend this meeting and participate in the discussions. The program is a very interesting one and able speakers will be on hand to discuss the various subjects. We welcome you and extend to you all the courtesy possible.

Wilfred, the Wizard, was played to a crowded house at the High School Auditorium on Monday night. The show from start to finish, was first class. It consisted of music, legerdemain and funny sayings of a negro, named Rastus, who was always in more or less trouble. The legerdemain was, in our opinion, the best we ever saw. This was the second of a series of four entertainments to be given here, and the other two are being eagerly looked forward to by our people.

WILL BE HERE SATURDAY.

L. W. Clark, representing the C. L. Hall Optical Co., of Roanoke, Richmond and Norfolk will be at Pearisburg, with G. W. D. Dennis, Jeweler, Saturday, November 11, 1911, for the purpose of Fitting Glasses, Adjusting Frames, etc. Call and have your eyes examined by an expert. Examination free.

NOTICE TO DOCTORS!

All orders and prescriptions sent the Pearisburg Pharmacy, will be carefully filled. Fresh antitoxin and serums on hand.

J. A. Booth, Prop.

DEATH OF A. J. BANE.

Quite a shadow of gloom was cast over our village on Sunday morning, when news reached us of the sudden death of our old and esteemed friend, Mr. A. J. Bane of White Gate. We had known him since boyhood, having gone to school here in his younger days. When the Civil War broke out, he volunteered and went to war, and made a brave and gallant soldier.

After the war he returned to his home at White Gate, and took up the quiet life of a farmer and cattleman, in which avocation he amassed a large fortune in blue grass land, owning many hundreds of acres on the waters of Walker's Creek.

He lived as a bachelor until about 15 years ago, when he married Miss Nannie Allen of Poplar Hill, who survives him. He was 72 years of age.

He was loved and respected by all who knew him, and it is with deep regret we have to part with him.

To Our Patrons.

We are now entering on our eighth year of publication of the Virginian, and wish to thank all those who have patronized us, either by advertising or subscription, to our sheet. We have done our best in trying to give you a good, newsy and readable paper; if we have failed, it has not been intentional on our part, but lacking of knowledge on our part.

A great many of our subscribers are in arrears, both in and out of the county. To those in the county we wish they would remit as soon and as fast as possible, as we are in need of the "long green," as we owe more or less, and it takes money to run our business, and the madam and children have to be clothed. To those who are outside the county, statements will be sent soon, and hope there will be no delay in remitting to us.

We wish each and every one a long life of happiness.

Gay Hallowe'en Party at Narrows.

"The Senior Class" of the Narrows High School, on Tuesday evening, entertained at the town hall. The hall was lighted with candles, that glimered through large yellow pumpkins, and it was beautifully decorated in autumn leaves and lovely chrysanthemums.

The guests wore costumes to represent ghosts, witches, and spirits, and the evening was joyfully spent by dancing and various games, after which, delightful refreshments were served.

At the time of leaving every one expressed their full enjoyment of the evening, which will long be remembered by the members and guests.

Nance.

The Election In Giles County.

Below we give the unofficial vote of Giles county; the official count not having been made up to the time our paper goes to press. The figures given are practically correct and there is no probability that the official count will make any material change.

A. G. Crockett for Senate, Martin Williams for House of Delegates, F. E. Snidow for Clerk and J. H. Woodrum for Treasurer had no opposition.

The Vote.

Precincts.	Crockett.	Williams.	Baldwin.	Woodrum.	Snidow.	Woolyard.	Walker.	Park.	Durham.	Thompson.

Totals,	1267	1267	1296	1325	763	573	812	512	641	712

From the above, it will be seen that all the Democratic nominees are elected by good majorities, except J. H. Durham for Sheriff, who is defeated by W. H. Thompson, the independent candidate, by a majority of 71 in the county.

On account of not having the vote for district offices from the four districts of the county, we only give the names of the successful candidates for these offices.

It is a very serious matter to ask for one medicine and have the wrong one given you. For this reason we urge you in buying to be careful to get the genuine—

THEDFORD'S BLACK-DRAUGHT Liver Medicine

The reputation of this old, reliable medicine, for constipation, indigestion and liver trouble, is firmly established. It does not imitate other medicines. It is better than others, or it would not be the favorite liver powder, with a larger sale than all others combined.

A WEEKLY JOURNAL DEVOTED TO POLITICS, LITERATURE, AGRICULTURE, AND THE INTEREST OF THE GREAT SOUTHWEST.

VOL. LII. Pearisburg, Giles County, Va., Thursday, November 16, 1911. No. 50.

What Ails You?

Do you feel weak, tired, despondent, have frequent headaches, coated tongue, bitter or bad taste in morning, "heart-burn," belching of gas, acid risings in throat after eating, stomach gnaw or burn, foul breath, dizzy spells, poor or variable appetite, nausea at times and kindred symptoms?

If you have any considerable number of the above [illegible] you are suffering from biliousness, [illegible] indigestion, or dyspepsia. Dr. [illegible] Medical Discovery is made up of [illegible] valuable medicinal principles known to medical science for the permanent cure of such abnormal conditions. It is a most efficient liver invigorator, stomach tonic, bowel regulator and nerve strengthener.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is not a patent medicine or secret nostrum, a full list of its ingredients being printed on its bottle-wrapper and attested under oath. A glance at these will show that it contains no alcohol, or harmful habit-forming drugs. It is a fluid extract made with pure, triple-refined glycerine, of proper strength, from the roots of native American medical, forest plants. Ship Your Turkeys
To the Old Reliable Poultry Firm.
FRANK HELLERICK & CO.,
349 New Market St.,
Philadelphia, Pa.

We take pleasure in announcing to all Poultry raisers and dealers that last Spring we moved into one of the largest and best located stores in the East and this season, with our two outlets, immense floor space and storage rooms and more than double our former force of help, we are in far better shape to handle your poultry than ever before. The buyers here realizing this are of course expecting us to have a tremendous amount of fine fat poultry (the kind they always get from us) for Thanksgiving, and are now rushing in their orders for Turkeys and most of them are saying: "Just double our order for last Thanksgiving." We are accepting this immense pile of orders believing that our friends in the country are going to furnish us the goods with which to fill them. We are going to depend upon you and when your shipment comes you can depend upon us. No matter how small the shipment we will give it our personal attention, get every cent we can for you and send prompt returns. We have been working all Summer and Fall with both brain and muscle preparing for this season's poultry business and we say without hesitation, that no firm on God's green earth can get you more money for your TURKEYS than we are prepared to do and will do. We have the buyers, we have the room and the help to handle four times as much dressed poultry as we ever received before. We were the recognized leaders in our old quarters. What are we going to be in our new? Behind this great enterprise is plenty of hard cash, an abundance of energy and hustle and 31 years experience in the handling of dressed poultry. Where could you look for a firm better qualified and more able to render you satisfactory service?

We earnestly hope every one whoever shipped us before will ship us again this year and all who have never yet tried us will do so now. Nobody at home or on the markets will work harder for you or give you more net money for your Turkeys (Eggs too, they are high and going higher) than Frank Hellerick and Emory Sadler. Ship nice fat stock for Thanksgiving and hold your thin stock for later shipments. Prices are going to be good from present outlook, especially on fancy stock. Write us at once what you have and we will keep you posted and advise best days to ship. Remember our motto: "Best goods for our buyers, top prices for our shippers and a square deal to all." We have stood by this motto for 31 years and are willing to rest our future upon it.

Awaiting your shipments, we are yours to serve.

The Fall of the Year

The woodland leaves are turning brown
The sky is turning gray;
The fruit has fallen to the ground,
The birds have fled away.

The daisies dot the fields no more,
The frost is coming near;
Our summer's work is almost done,
For this is the fall of the year.

The butterflies are southward bound,
Bound to return no never more;
Some of them fall to the ground,
To stay forevermore.

The meadows are no longer green,
The sky is gray and drear;
The singing birds are no longer seen,
For this is the fall of the year.

The Way It Went, Has Gone, Still Goes.

Paredy on Twenty Years Ago by a Poet Whose Name is Lost to Fame.

I wandered to a grog shop, Tom; I stood before the bar and drank a bowl of lemonade and smoked a rank cigar; the same old kegs and jugs were there, the ones we used to know, when we were on a round up, Tom, some fifteen years ago. The bar keeper was a new one, Tom. The one who used to sell corrosive tanglefoot to us, is stoking now in H—alifax, the new one has a plate glass front, his hair is combed quite low, he looks just like the one we knew, some fifteen years ago. Old soaks came up and called for booze and dudelets staggered in, and burned the linings from their throats with the old Holland gin; and women stood outside the door, their faces seamed with woe, and wept just as they used to weep some fifteen years ago. I asked about our old friends, those cheerful sporty men, and some were in the poor house, Tom, and some were in the pen, and one—the one we liked the best—the hangman laid him low; the world is much the same, dear Tom, as fifteen years ago. I asked about that stately chap whom pride marked for its own; he used to say that he could drink or let the stuff alone; he perished on the "James H. James," out in the storm and snow, ah, few survive who used to bowl, some fifteen years ago. New crowds line up against the bar, and call for crimson ink, new hands are trembling as they pour the stuff they should not drink, but still the same old watch words rings "the drinks on me you know?" The same old cry of doom we heard some fifteen years ago. I wandered to the churchyard, Tom, and there I saw the graves of those who used to drown themselves in red fermented waves; and there were women sleeping there, where grass and daisies grow who wept and died of broken hearts, some fifteen years ago. And there were graves where children slept, having slept for many a year, forgetful of the woe that marked their short sad journey here; and 'neath a tall, fine monument in peace there lieth low, the man who used to sell the booze some fifteen years ago.

Sat in Sweetness.

When chapel exercises in Ohio Northern University were ended Tuesday, one thousand students in attendance endeavored to rise to go about their duties. Few succeeded, however, for during the night some one had spread molasses on the seats, and students and instructors alike were caught in the sticky mess.

Counterfeit 1910 nickels are said to be in circulation, but if any of our readers get one we advise them to confront the loss with equanimity and not try to work it off on the contribution box.

Needs of Our School.

The following was written and read by Miss Nita Rector of the Pearisburg High School, at Patrons' Day:

"Of course we have an excellent school here. It is better than most High schools in Southwest Virginia, but, when we cast a glance around us, we can think of so many things that would help to make our school an ideal one.

"Then let us talk of some of these things for a few moments.

"First, let us look at our campus. The grounds are large enough; but so many things could be added to them that would make them beautiful. We need a back ground of evergreen trees, dotted here and there with a maple, that will in autumn lend color and beauty to the scene; cement walks with graveled drives on either side; well trimmed boxwood that is neatly arranged; a fountain casting up a silver spray, with water-lilies sending rootlets into the clear liquid in the basin. If all of these were closed in by a pretty hedge fence, we would have a picture worth while.

"Then let us visit the school rooms. Can we imagine some of the numerous things that are needed?

"The walls are of a good color, but a thorough cleaning would improve them, and more than this, repainting would be beneficial.

"Then we need some good pictures properly framed. It is better to have a few good pictures than a number of poor ones. So, for our selection, let us get some portraits of Washington, Lincoln and Longfellow. To these may be added those of Holmes, Shakespeare, Webster, Clay and Bryant. Such pictures as 'Washington Crossing the Delaware,' 'Battle of Bunker Hill,' 'Landing of Columbus,' and 'Mount Vernon,' have a historic interest and can be understood. Then each room should have book shelves with nicely bound books written in clear print and on good paper. Among these should be a good encyclopedia and a large unabridged dictionary. Each room should be provided with maps to suit the different grades.

"Our school needs a large library, so that the pupils—especially those in the High school—may have access to the world's best literature.

"Today the study of science is being largely introduced in the High schools. This brings to our minds the question: How are we going to study and understand science without a laboratory? Now, every good High school has a laboratory, and why should not Pearisburg have one? We hope the kind citizens will think about this question, and help us obtain a laboratory for this school. We feel sure that, with the efforts of the people, we can have one. For you know the old maxim says; "where there is a will there is a way."

Now let us think of the real comforts of our school. Each room should be furnished with single desks, for the single desk is the ideal one. Where students are compelled to sit six hours a day the desk figures largely, and it should be for comfort, but its construction should render loung ing uncomfortable. From a hygienic point of view the desk is one of the most important factors that enter into school life. The soft bones of children are often contorted by misfitting desks.

Sometimes the eyesight is injured by sitting in a desk that is too high.

No matter how much time and money may be spent upon beautifying the interior and exterior it will avail nothing unless cleanliness prevails. Dust is one of the most serious enemies of a school. The only way it can be controlled is by frequent wiping and oiling the floors. They should be wiped up once every two weeks, but these are wiped and oiled about once a year. Dustless chalk should be used. Ours is of a good quality, but it is not the best.

The slogan of the present seems to be the individual drinking cup and the cooler. We hope to have these in our school before the end of this term.

The more important needs of our school have been mentioned. we hope by the help of the patrons and the citizens, to some day reach this standard, and when we do, Pearisburg High School will reach that high position to which the ability and character of the people of Giles county entitle her.

MR. THEO DULANEY,
Pearisburg, Va.

DEAR BROTHER:

This bright morning after a good night's rest and hearty breakfast and washing the dishes and sweeping the rooms, then an auto ride a mile into the busy city, I find my thoughts rambling back to the old Virginia mountains, looking into the homes and faces of loved ones. O, so many, they might be called legion.

This is quite a city, more than 25,000 inhabitants; fine schools, and just now the Baptists of the State are establishing a State University here, and they are up against a big job. They are a big people and can do big things. They have a big man at the helm and if the lesser ones chip and pull altogether, they will build a great educational plant. This is a beautiful city and country; there is all sorts of religion here and all sorts of corruption and graft.

The farmers have been in hard luck now three years, too dry. Of course living is high, especially such as apples, peaches, etc. There was no berries. Farmers are still cutting alfalfa, it's fine hay, beats all the grasses.

My health is and has been good, and I have realized that I am taking on a little flesh for quite a long time. You have heard of boys getting too big for their breeches, I'm sure, well I am close along there. I believe that is not so bad as the big head. A fellow could remove a few buttons in the former case and get relief; in the latter, bands would be troublesome.

The boys are forging on in the University and Cynthia a busy church worker. Mr. Wolfe is an enthusiastic evangelist. The last three meetings more than 200 were added to the Baptist churches in this State and Arkansas. The State Convention meets in Enid this State, November 15, 1911. It is looked forward to with great interest in behalf of the University.

Now, love to all yours, and all inquiring. Too many to mention names.

Yours in the faith,
K. SHUMATE.

SALT PRODUCTION OVER THIRTY MILLION BARRELS.

Figures of Geological Survey Show Increased Output But Big Drop in Price.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 1.—The United States produced 30,305,656 barrels of salt in 1910, valued at $7,900,344, according to figures compiled by W. C Phalen and just published by the United States geological survey. This was an increase of 198,010 barrels over the production of 1909, but a decrease in value amounting to $443,487. The six leading producers of salt in 1910 were New York, Michigan, Ohio, Kansas, Louisiana and California. Nearly ninety-nine per cent of the salt consumed in the country was obtained from domestic sources, the United States having long been independent of foreign production.

Salt is thought of mostly in connection with cooking and seasoning, but it has a great many other important applications. It is used largely in the preservation of fish and meat, in the dairying industry, and in chemical metallurgical processes. It is also used as a source of chlorine employed in the manufacturing of bleaching powders in the chlorination of certain gold ores.

One of the main sources of salt is common sea water and some of the California product is obtained from the ocean. When sea water is evaporated to dryness, salt is among the first compounds to be deposited. The last are the potash and magnesium compounds, these being the most soluable. The great Stassfurt potash deposits are overlain as well as underlain by salt, and it is the opinion of geologists that potash may accompany some of the known salt deposits in this country.

In a recent geological survey report on potash, written by Mr. Phalen, the hope is expressed that every salt producer in the United States will be in the future, when boring or otherwise exploring for salt, be on the lookout for possible occurrences of potash compounds. At present the geological survey has a deep-drilling party at work in the arid west, where vast deposits of salt are known to exist, in an endeavor to find possible sources of potash and nitrate of soda—two or the three essential elements of "complete fertilizer," a recognized necessity for successful agriculture.

RATS AS WINTER GUESTS.

With the opening days of winter, housekeepers will begin to note evidences that the dwelling has had an increase in the number of its inhabitants, and that the cellar and the pantry have been invaded and plundered. Not by one, but by a company of barefooted burglars. It is high time to set the rat traps, for with change in the weather those knowing animals have come in from the lumber piles, the stables and the trash heaps they occupied in the summer, and they have come, too, with the keenest of appetites, ready to carry off anything in the line of eatables, except—here they draw the line—canned goods.

All the common so-called house rats in this country are immigrants, belonging originally to the old world, from which they came in ships. The rat most common with us is the brown rat, sometimes called the Norway rat, but originally a native of India and Persia, entering Europe through Russia about 1727, and brought to America about 1775. Whatever may be said of the pilgrim fathers, or of the first settlers at Jamestown, it has never been charged that they brought any rats with them.

The brown rat is eight to ten inches long with a tail six or eight inches long, and this tail is a wonderful appendage, with more muscles than the human hand, being used as a hand, as a balancer, and as a spring to aid in jumping.

Though rats live in filthy places and in foul air they are naturally cleanly and always have a sleet coat as they take great pains to clean themselves, licking their paws after the fashion of the cat. In sleeping they coil themselves up like a ball, with the nose between the hind legs and the tail curled around outside, leaving out only the ears to catch any sign of danger. Wherever the brown rat takes up its abode it drives off or destroys all other rats. The black rat was the common house rat until driven off by the brown rat. The black rat, like the brown, came originally from Asia and was first known in America in 1544.

This country, while its house rats are all from abroad, has a number of indigenous species. Among these are the Florida wood rat, the California wood rat, the gray wood rat of the Rocky Mountains, which is noted for its pilfering, carrying away all manner of articles that may be lying about, such as knives, forks, and other things of no use to it. This species has soft, bushy tail and is eaten by Indians, its flesh having a delicate flavor. Then, too, there is the cotton rat, of the southern states, sometimes called the rice rat, a little fellow about five inches long, a reddish brown rat, which lives in burrows which it digs. Its name is derived from the fact that it lines its nest with cotton.—Bluefield Telegraph.

WEDDING A SURPRISE.

Miss Nettie Zink Becomes the Bride of Wade Miller.

Miss Nettie Zink, daughter of Mrs. D. A. Zink, was married on last Thursday morning at the home of her mother to Wade Miller, a well known and popular railroad engineer. The ceremony, which was solemnized by Rev. W. S. Bullard, pastor of the Christian church, took place at 7 o'clock, so that the couple could leave on train No. 15 for the west. The bride, who is well known in the city where for several years she has maintained a first class dressmaker's studio, has a large circle of friends, to most of whom the wedding will come as a surprise. Only a few friends of the bride and groom were present at the wedding, among them being T. W. Zink, of Keystone, brother of the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Draper, of Richlands, Mrs. Draper being the bride's sister.

The bride wore a traveling suit of coronation cloth and looked extremely happy as accompanied by the groom and a number of friends they went to the train on which they left for Columbus, Pittsburg and other cities, where they will spend a week, returning via Norfolk to this city where they will make their home.—Bluefield Daily Telegraph.

The many friends of Mrs. Miller here, where she formerly resided, will read the above account of her marriage with much interest, and join us in friendly felicitations and sincerest wishes that her dreams of a happy married life may be fully realized.

THANKSGIVING.

Our annual Thanksgiving day occurs this year on the 30th of November, a little later in the month than usual. This day ought to be of special interest to all of our people, for it is the highest mark of our civilization—a time for the most profound thanks to Almighty God for the past and present blessings. Every community should hold religious services and spend the day in a social religious manner. Don't fail to remember the poor with some kind of benefaction, as it will encourage them and help you.

Drinking in New York.

The borough of Manhattan annually consumes about one hundred thousand barrels of whiskey, which cost the consumers $9,500,000. To this item must be added thirty thousand barrels of other spirits, sold for $500,000; two hundred thousand cances of champagne, for which $5,500,000 is paid; four million gallons of other wines and brandies, costing $27,000,000, and last, but not least important, five million barrels of beer, selling for $100,000,000. This makes a total of $135,000,000. It is a fact that if all of this beer and liquors were put into a tank, and were allowed to run through an ordinary watertap at the rate of a gallon a minute, the receptacle would require ninety years and thirty six days to empty itself.—Pearson's Magazine.

Women's Secrets

There is one man in the United States who has perhaps heard more women's secrets than any other man or woman in the country. These secrets are not secrets of guilt or shame, but the secrets of suffering, and they have been confided to Dr. R. V. Pierce in the hope and expectation of advice and help. That few of these women have been disappointed in their expectations is proved by the fact that ninety-eight per cent. of all women treated by Dr. Pierce have been absolutely and altogether cured. Such a record would be remarkable if the cases treated were numbered by hundreds only. But when that record applies to the treatment of more than half-a-million women, in a practice of over 40 years, it is phenomenal, and entitles Dr. Pierce to the gratitude accorded him by women, as the first of specialists in the treatment of women's diseases.

Every sick woman may consult Dr. Pierce by letter, absolutely without charge. All replies are mailed, sealed in perfectly plain envelopes, without any printing or advertising whatever, upon them. Write without fear as without fee, to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, Prest., Buffalo, N. Y.

Ship Your Turkeys
To the Old Reliable Poultry Firm
FRANK HELLERICK & CO.,
349 New Market St.,
Philadelphia, Pa.

We take pleasure in announcing to all Poultry raisers and dealers that last Spring we moved into one of the largest and best located stores in the East and this season, with our two outlets, immense floor space and storage rooms and more than double our former force of help, we are in far better shape to handle your poultry than ever before. The buyers here realizing this are of course expecting us to have a tremendous amount of fine fat poultry (the kind they always get from us) for Thanksgiving, and are now rushing in their orders for Turkeys and most of them are saying: "Just double our order for last Thanksgiving." We are accepting this immense pile of orders believing that our friends in the country are going to furnish us the goods with which to fill them. We are going to depend upon you and when your shipment comes you can depend upon us. No matter how small the shipment we will give it our personal attention, get every cent we can for you and send prompt returns. We have been working all Summer and Fall with both brain and muscle preparing for this season's poultry business and we say without hesitation, that no firm on God's green earth can get you more money for your TURKEYS than we are prepared to do and will do. We have the buyers, we have the room and the help to handle four times as much dressed poultry as we ever received before. We were the recognized leaders in our old quarters. What are we going to be in our new? Behind this great enterprise is plenty of hard cash, an abundance of energy and hustle and 31 years experience in the handling of dressed poultry. Where could you look for a firm better qualified and more able to render you satisfactory service?

We earnestly hope every one whoever shipped us before will ship us again this year and all who have never yet tried us will do so now. Nobody at home or on the markets will work harder for you or give you more net money for your Turkeys (Eggs too, they are high and going higher) than Frank Hellerick and Emory Sudler. Ship nice fat stock for Thanksgiving and hold your thin stock for later shipments. Prices are going to be good from present outlook, especially on fancy stock. Write us at once what you have and we will keep you posted and advise best days to ship. Remember our motto: "Best goods for our buyers, top prices for our shippers and a square deal to all." We have stood by this motto for 31 years and are willing to rest our future upon it.

Awaiting your shipments, we are yours to serve.

Married to a Drunkard.

BY MISS JENNIE WILLIAMS.

She suddenly rose in the meeting, and spoke as follows:

"Married to a drunkard! Yes, I was married to a drunkard. Look at me! I am talking to the girls." We all turned and looked at her. She was a wan woman with dark, sad eyes and white hair placed smoothly over a brow that denoted intellect.

"When I married a drunkard I reached the acme of misery," she continued. "I was young, and O so happy! I married the man I loved, and who professed to love me. He was a drunkard and I knew it—knew it, but did not understand it. There is not a young girl in this building that does understand it, unless she has a drunkard in her family; then perhaps, she knows how deeply the iron enters the soul of a woman when she loves and is allied to a drunkard, whether father, husband, brother or son. Girls, believe me when I tell you that to marry a drunkard is the crown of all misery. I have gone through the deep waters, and know. I have gained that fearful knowledge at the expense of happiness, sanity, almost life itself. Do you wonder my hair is white? It turned white in a night—'bleached by sorrow,' as Marie Antoinette said of her hair. I am not forty years old, yet snows of seventy rest upon my head, and upon my heart—ah! I can not begin to count the winters resting there," she said with unutterable pathos in her voice.

"My husband was a professional man. His calling took him from home frequently at night and when he returned he returned drunk. Gradually he gave way to temptation in the day, until he was rarely sober. I had two lovely girls and a boy." Here her voice faltered and we sat in deep silence listening to her story. "My husband had been drinding deeply. I had not seen him for two days. He had kept away from his home. One night I was seated by my sick boy; the two little girls were in bed in the next room, while beyong was another room into which I heard my husband go, as he entered the house. That room communicated with the one in which my little girls were sleeping. I do not know why, but a feeling of terror suddenly took possession of me. I felt that my girls were in danger. I arose and went to the room The door was locked. I knocked on it frantically, but no answer came. I seemed endowed with superhuman strength, and throwing myself with all my strength against the door, the lock gave way and the door flew open. Oh the sight! The terrible sight!" she wailed out in a voice that haunts me now; and she covered her face with her hands, and when she removed them it was sadder and whiter than ever.

"Delirium tremens! You have never seen it, girls; God grant you never may. My husband stood beside the bed, his eyes glaring with insanity, and in his hand a large knife. 'Take them away!' he screamed. 'The horrible things; they are crawling all over me. Take them away, I say!' and he flourished the knife in the air. Regardless of danger I rushed to the bed, and my heart seemed suddenly to cease beating. There lay my children, covered with their life blood, slain by their own father. For a moment I could not utter a sound. I was literally dumb in the presence of this terrible sorrow. I scarcely heeded the maniac at my side—the man who wrought me all this woe. Then I uttered a loud scream and my wailings filled the air. The servants heard me and hastened to the room, and when my husband saw them he suddenly drew the knife across his throat. I knew nothing more. I was borne senseless from the room that contained my slaughtered children and the body of my husband. The next day my hair was white, and my mind so shattered that I knew no one."

She ceased. Our eyes were riveted upon her wan face, and some women present sobbed aloud, while there was scarcely a dry eye in that temperance meeting. So much sorrow, we thought and through no fault of her own. We saw that she had not done speaking, and was only waiting to subdue her story.

"Two years ago," she continued, "I was a mental wreck; then I recovered from the shock, and absorbed myself in the care of my boy. But the sin of the father was visited on the child, and six months ago my boy of eighteen was placed in a drunkard's grave; and as I, his loving mother, stood and saw the sod heaped over him, I said, thank God; I'd rather see him there than have him live a drunkard,' and I went to my home a childless woman on whom the hand of God rested heavily.

"Girls, it is you I wish to rescue from the fate that overtook me. Do not blast your life as I blasted mine, do not be drawn into the madness of marrying a drunkard. You love him! so much the worse for you; for, married to him, the greater is your misery, because of your love. You will marry him and then reform him so you say. Ah, a woman sadly overrates her strength when she undertakes to do this. You are no match for that great demon Drink when he possesses a man's body and soul. You are no match for him, I say. What is your puny strength beside his gigantic force! He will crush you, too. It is to save you, girls, from the sorrow that wrecked my happiness, that I have unfolded my history to you. I am a stranger in this great city I am merely passing through it and have a message to bear to every girl in England—never marry a drunkard!"

I can see her now as she stood there amid the hushed audience, her dark eyes glowing and quivering with emotion, as she uttered her impassioned appeal. Then she hurried out and we never saw her again. Her words "fitly spoken" were not without effect, and because of them there is one girl single now.—English Railway Signal.

A Sane Christmas.

Topique gives his hearty support to the movement for a sane Christmas. The campaign of education has been started by the Federation of Women's clubs and it deserves success. The folly of extravagance in gifts has grown with the years and it is a folly which has robbed the day of its pleasures to a large extent. For the wage-earner and salaried man the giving of the costly gifts demanded by the prevailing silly and senseless fashion is a crime against his home, for the practice leaves most men of moderate means practically penniless for a month and many times longer. To those who have to pay the bills "Merry Christmas" is a period of gloom. Let us return to the simpler gifts that do not insult the recipients and pauperize the giver.

A Fish Story.

The late President Grover Cleveland was a great fisherman. He and the actor, Joseph Jefferson, were intimate friends and used to take a holiday together at Palm Beach, Fla., where Jefferson owned a beautiful cottage and from which place the two famous men went fishing every day. They used to tell the following story about an old negro of the place who risked his life when out fishing by plunging into the water to save a drowning colored boy.

"Was the boy your own?" asked the actor.

"No, sah, he no relative. No, sah."

"Then," asked Mr. Cleveland, "why did you plunge into the water in that reckless way to pull him out?"

"Well, sah, the fact is, sah," said the negro with a grin, "dat dare boy he had de bait can."

It's awfully deceitful for a young widow not to want to remarry.

SEVEN GOOD ROADS COMMANDMENTS.

1st. Don't fill up the holes and ruts in the dirt road with brush, with rocks on top; and a little dirt to cover the rocks; but fill up the hole with dirt of the same character as the balance of the road.

2nd. Don't throw all the refuse from the ditches into the middle of the road; thus softening the surface and destroying the solid, firm bed that you have obtained by previous work; but throw this material out on the opposite side of the ditch.

3rd. Don't leave the center of the road the lowest point; but make it the highest and give the surface of the road a slope of about 1 in 20 to the side ditch.

4th. Don't carry the water across the surface of the road from one side to the other; but carry it by means of culverts underneath the road.

5th. Don't have grades on your road over 4 1-3 per cent; for if you do, it will be necessary to build V-shaped surface ditches or "Thank-you-mam's" across the road.

6th. Don't, in working out the labor tax on the roads, try to make a holiday of it; but give an honest day's work on the roads. Let us eliminate what is often seen in the sections where the roads are maintained by the labor tax—10 to 12 men and an overseer, a little gray mule, a small plow, six dogs, three or four guns, and a few tools which often are not considered worth using at home.

7th. Don't reject the split log drag because it is a cheap road machine, but use it constantly, for it is the most efficient road machine that we can use in maintaining the dirt road.—Joseph Hyde Pratt.

Wise or Otherwise.

The wise youth enters upon a career by hustling for a job.

A practical joke is never what it's cracked up to be.

There are still a few legitimate ways of acquiring wealth.

Much that passes for real wisdom is nothing but nonsense.

People would never know you had a temper if you didn't lose it occasionally.

A man who looks like a sinner to other men may look like a saint to some woman.

Some people are always talking offense, but somehow the supply never becomes exhausted.

State-Wide Primary for W. Va.

Parkersburg, W. Va., Nov. 14.—After being in session all day the Republican State executive committee decided in favor of a State-wide primary with the State as a unit, for West Virginia in 1912. The vote was 10 to 1. The decision was reached only after a prolonged fight made by prominent Republican leaders who favored the so-called district unit plan.

Pointed Paragraphs.

People who think themselves some pumpkins are usually small potatoes.

A man never lives long enough to understand why his neighbors dislike him.—Chicago News.

CALIFORNIA.

Any one wanting to buy land or property of any kind in California in any part of the state will do well to write for information to Geo. H. Poling, 308 Lissner Building, Los Angeles, California.

COMPULSORY EDUCATION IN LYNCHBURG.

On November 7, Lynchburg voted for compulsory education by an overwhelming majority, and thus made for herself the record of being the first city in Virginia to take advantage of the law compelling children between the ages of eight to twelve to attend school for three months during each year.

In Virginia the provisions for compulsory school attendance are very reasonable. The Legislature provides that each county and magisterial district may vote on the subject. But only children between the age of eight and twelve years of age may be subjected to the requirements of the law, and there are certain exceptions even as to these ages.

The sentiment for this law is rapidly growing. Already several counties have voted for compulsory attendance, and now since the progressive city of Lynchburg has voted favorably on the subject it is expected that many counties and cities will make this law a feature of their school work.

Every great nation in the world has compulsory school attendance, and this is likewise true of the majority of the States in our own country. It is only a matter of time when Virginia will incorporate this feature into its organic law and give to every child the right of an elementary education.—Southwest Times.

Fall Plowing.

It is generally thought that fall plowing is a very good thing to do. This appears to apply particularly to sod land. Many different kinds of insects live in sod, among them cut-worms and wire-worms, both well known pests. A great deal can be done to destroy these pests by plowing the land in fall.

By disturbing after the insects have prepared for their winter rest, they are exposed to their natural enemies when more helpless that usual. A great many of them are then in pupa state, absolutely unable to help themselves, and breaking their cells at that times means death to them. A very large percentage of reduction in the number of injurious insects can be effected by this practice alone.

Fall plowing is not advisable on some kinds of land, but it is beneficial on others. It is work that should be done with judgement, and each farmer should know enough about his own land to enable him to decide which way is best. Fall plowing ought to be done so as to leave the insects no time for good protective work. In this way both ants and the lice get destroyed.—Home and Farm.

A pure food authority says that a bottle of pop contains 1,000,000 microbes. Now it is understood why the fan in the bleachers sometimes manifests an uncontrollable longing to throw it at the umpire.

The law of the harvest is to reap more than you sow. Sow an act and you reap a habit; sow a habit and you reap a character; sow a character and you reap a destiny.

If you want to be miserable think about yourself—about what you want, what you like, what respect people ought to pay to you and what people think of you.

Some people seem to think it is useless to do right unless a crowd happens to be present.

Dr. J. T. Parker and family are at Phlegar's this week, where the Dr. is doing some dental work.

Mrs. Dr. R. Whittaker of Ennis, W. Va., came Saturday and spent a few days on their farm near town.

Judge and Mrs. W. J. Henson have returned from a trip to Baltimore and Washington.—Roanoke Times.

The lofty peaks around this beautiful village, is capped with a crown of white—looks like snow, and we guess it is.

Will Tracy, a young man who lived near Chapel, died at his home last Thursday of consumption and was buried Saturday.

Mrs. Fannie Munsey who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Thomas Williams of this place, has returned to her home in Bluefield.

Rev. W. B Belchee will preach at Hale's Chapel next Saturday night at 7 p. m. and Sunday morning at 11 a. m., and Bluff City at 7 p. m.

Miss Annie King of Poplar Hill, and Miss Elsie Graybeal of Maxwell, Va., were guests of Miss Constance Osborne last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Charlton of Bluefield, W. Va., and J. C. Darst of Dante, W. Va., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Charlton of Bluff City, last week.

Hon. Dan P. McMullen and wife reached their home, Cheboygan, Mich., after several days stay in Detroit. They report eight inches of snow and many sleigh bells.

John R. Johnston who has been visiting at Thorpe, Bluefield, Oakvale and other places of interest in West Virginia, returned to this place Monday last. He reports a delightful trip.

Dr. Frank B. Miller is at Newport and will remain there for two weeks. Those in that vicinity needing dental work, now is your time to have it done.

McComas Chapter, U. D. C., will meet at 3:00 o'clock, Saturday, November 25th. The members are urged to attend.

MRS. M. C. EASLEY, Pres.

Jno. W. Williams of Rich mond, was in town the first of the week on business.

Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Farrier of Newport, were in our town a few days this week, the former attending to business matters, the latter visiting friends. They returned home yesterday.

Rev. W. B. Belchee of this place, left here Monday for Newport, where he will help Rev. Geo. R. Fringer in revival services. We hope much good will be accomplished at these services.

Tomorrow morning Henry Clay Beattie, the wife murderer, goes into eternity. He says he is willing to pull the string himself that ends his life. People who his stamp have the nerve to do anything.

Raisins, currants, chocolate, cocoanuts, citron, dates, nuts, figs, orange and lemon peel, etc., all fresh and nice and of the best quality, at

BUCHANAN & POWELL'S.

This is getting to be a "greaser" season, many farmers are killing their porkers, and the good old "pie spare" and backbones are now on many of our tables. Oh, how delicious! Could they only last longer than they do.

Mrs. Effie Lucas of Ennis, W. Va., who had a severe case of diphtheria not long since, but is well now, and Miss Addie Mun sey a sister of hers of this place, who has been taking care of her, have returned to this place.

Dr. J. T. Parker, dentist of this place, wishes us to say he will not be at his place of business at Savoy Hotel, until Tuesday of next week. Those wishing dentistry done by him will please wait until the time mentioned.

Geo. B. Eaton of Wabash, who has been confined to his home for about eight weeks with sickness, we are sorry to say, is not improving much, if any. We hope, however, a decided change for the better will take place soon.

Miss Lizzie Williams and Reave Williams of Berton, gave us a call last week and seen how the paper was printed. We are always pleased to see the ladies (gentlemen also) and show them around. Come again, or any others who desire to see how it is done.

Thanksgiving is almost here. Wonder if the poor editor is going to "chew" turkey through the kindness of some benevolent person, or will he have the "old woman" wring the necks of a couple of old hens! We await patiently and anxiously the result.

Creed D. Frazier of Graham, who has been at death's door two or three times lately and mention of whom was made in last week's issue, has revived again, and says he is going to get well. He even asked one of his sons for a chew of tobacco. A splendid sign of getting well.

When you want nice Brushes, Combs, Toilet Sets, Pipes, Cigars, Tobacco, Stationery, etc. prescriptions filled, or anything in a nice toilet article, you can get them at

PEARISBURG PHARMACY.

We are requested to say that an entertainment and oyster supper will be given on Saturday night, Dec. 9th for the benefit of the Methodist church, and that those attending can come expecting a nice and pleasant occasion.

Rev. M. W. Royall will preach here Sunday morning at eleven o'clock; and at night at seven o'clock. Morning subject: "The Church." Evening subject: "Crucified with Christ." Sunday afternoon at three o'clock he will preach at Ripplemead; also Saturday afternoon at two o'clock, at Berean church.

Mrs. E. C. Hale of Bluff City, is now located in her beautiful home which was finished a few weeks ago, fire having destroyed her other residence about a year ago. The house is a large one, with several porches and is on a beautiful site. We hope nothing will mar her pleasure in the future.

L. G. Burton has built him a two-room cottage on the lot he purchased from the Johnston addition to the town of Pearisburg and is now keeping bachelor's hall on same. He says when he has the good luck to find a mate (of course he means a wife) he will add more room to his palatial residence. We hope he will succeed.

H. T. Adair at Lurch, is one of those who believes in spreading the VIRGINIAN and sending to friends in distant lands, and he is appreciated by his old friend, K. Shumate of Shawnee, Okla., who receives this valuable present, the VIRGINIAN, weekly, from this kind donor. There ought to be others of this nature in our land hereabouts.

All the sick of our town and community have gotten well or nearly so, with the exception of Mr. Edward Carper, who has been sick about a month, who now has typhoid fever. He is getting along as well as can be expected under the circumstances. Sometime ago, several cases of diphtheria were here, but that disease has disappeared from our midst. Taking it, all in all, our town is in a healthy condition.

Oakvale, W. Va., a town not one-quarter as large as ours, has street lamps. Shame on you, you miserly, close-fisted "cusses" of this place. What are you going to do with your money? You cannot carry it with you, as shrouds have no pockets. If we only had half a dozen what a good thing that would be. Now, don't everybody put up one, you might frighten us. Take it slow and easy.

Now that the weather is cool and will be colder in a short time and everybody has to sit around the fire, it is a good time to read the papers and learn about the doings of the world. Besides, a great deal can be learned by reading good journals. Try the VIRGINIAN which will prove of great interest to you and the children by whiling the hours away reading it when sitting around the fireside. Try it and see how it works.

Don't forget The Lineback Musical Family entertainment here Friday and Saturday nights of this week at Dennis Hall. The press speaks very highly of them.

The Rosebud or Juvenile Missionary Society of the M. E. church, will give a weighing party at the parsonage of said church on Tuesday, 28th inst. You will be required to pay five cents for every 25 pounds you weigh and one cent for every pound over your weight. Every body is invited to come and take part and to help the Rosebuds along. Don't forget this event.

FOR THANKSGIVING AND CHRISTMAS.

Go to Pearisburg Pharmacy for Fruits, Nuts, and good flavoring, Breakfast Coco and Choco late. Martha Washington and other nice candies always fresh.

THANKSGIVING SERVICE AT PLEASANT HILL CHURCH.

There will be a special service held at Pleasant Hill church Thanksgiving day Nov. 30th at 10:30 a. m. In connection with the regular thanksgiving service by the pastor, the ladies have arranged a short program consisting of recitations, readings, and special music. A cordial invitation extended to all.

THANKSGIVING SERVICE.

We are requested to announce that Thanksgiving services will be held in the Methodist church of this place at 11:00 a. m. on Thanksgiving day, the 30th inst. An invitation for the co-operation of all the churches of the town is cordially extended, and it is hoped that all who can will be present.

Special music will be rendered and other features added to make the occasion pleasant and interesting as well as beneficial, and it is earnestly hoped that a large audience will be present.

TO THOSE CONCERNED.

This is to say that we have given Mr. E. S. Dennis of Pearisburg, Va., power of attorney to release the vendor's liens retained to secure the deferred payments on lots sold in the Johnston addition to the town of Pearisburg. All parties who purchased lots on time will please call on Mr. Dennis with their paid notes and these liens will be released.

TRAMPS ARRESTED.

On last Friday morning, two tramps, James Young and Albert Black, colored, who claim to be from Memphis, Tenn., were found in W. H. Thomas' fine barn at Bluff City, where they had lodged during Thursday night, and had also built a fire in the loft that they might warm themselves. Had it not been discovered in time the whole structure, would no doubt, have been burned to the ground. The barn was full of fine horses, machinery, and an abundance of feed of all kinds.

They were arrested Friday morning and tried before Squire Massey of this place, who sentenced Young to eight and Black to six months in the county jail.

Mr. W. H. Thomas the owner of the barn in trying to capture them—who were making their escape as speedily as possible—accidentally dropped his pistol and in some way it was discharged, shooting him through the calf of the leg and also in the thigh. He is doing as well as can be expected. The wounds being not of a serious character, we hope to see him around again soon.

Coming!

THE LINEBACK MUSICAL FAMILY.

This is in many respects, the most musical family on the American continent today. This family has never met their equal as entertainers. Their entertainment consists of nothing but what is clever, clean and refined. Black face comedy acts, impersonating the Southern darkey. Loop the neck banjo and guitar act. The Mocking Bird, performed on the violin, is so real you would almost believe the bird was in the house. Don't fail to bring your children to see the Little Boy that plays the part of a Girl, so real that he has baffled the world. Be on your guard, you may think you are talking to a girl when it is a boy.

The Orpheus is something extra to this entertainment, it is a remarkable musical instrument, is capable of the softest and most silvery chimes and songs of the heart and produces music of the greatest depth and power.

This musical family will exhibit here in Dennis Hall, Friday and Saturday nights, November 24th and 25th. Doors open at 7; performance begins at 8 o'clock, sharp.

General admission, 15 and 25 cents. Reserved seats, 35 cents. Don't fail to see this else half your life is lost.

BANE.

Mrs. John Hale is visiting homefolks at Rocky Gap.

Miss Peachie Campbell is visiting her brother's family, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Campbell.

S. J. Strader is on a business trip to Kilsite, W. Va. He will be absent several days.

The many friends of Mrs. Dan St. Clair who is critically ill with peritonitis, will be glad to learn that she is some better.

Mrs. J. B. Correll spent Friday at Trigg with Mrs. Pauline Burton who is critically ill. She has a host of friends here who are much grieved to know of her illness.

Miss Gladys Scott will leave soon for Florida to spend the winter. She will be accompanied by her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Tivis Moore of Springville, Va.

Mrs. P. F. St. Clair who has been in Roanoke for the past two weeks with her daughter, Miss Nancy, who underwent an operation at the Jefferson hospital for appendicites, returned home today with her daughter.

MOYE-POWERS.

Roanoke, Va., Nov. 15, 1911.—The home of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Powers was the scene of a beautiful wedding when their daughter, Miss Nannie Virginia, became the bride of Mr. Robert H. Moye, son of 'Squire J. D. Moye of Staffordsville. Dr. Harper of the Grace Church, M. E. South, officiating.

The bride was tastefully dressed in white satin and carried a bunch of bridal roses. The groom was dressed in the conventional black.

The bride's maids were Misses Etta and Ive Powers, cousins of the bride, and Miss Effie Front. They were becomingly attired in white and carried white carnations.

After the ceremony the bridal party entered the dining room where a sumptuous supper was served.

The guests departed at a late hour wishing the bride and groom a long and prosperous life. After an extended wedding tour the bride and groom will make their home for the present with the parents of the bride.

STATE NORMAL SCHOOL. HARRISONBURG, VA.

The following news-letter which was required in Composition Class at State Normal School, Harrisonburg, Va., November 14, 1911, was written by Miss Mabel Snidow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Snidow of Kimballton, which we gladly publish:

Situated on the beautiful Shenandoah Valley near the City of Harrisonburg, we find one of the Normal schools of Virginia. The location of the school commands a magnificent view of the surrounding valley in every direction, from the Blue Ridge to the Shenandoah mountains. This locality should be of special interest to every Virginian, since it is surrounded by a treasure of local history. Some of the most famous natural curiosities in the world are near at hand; such as Luray cave, Weyer's cave, Natural Bridge and several others.

This being only the third session of this school; it is encouraging to note its rapid growth, the entire enrolment to the present date being 878 students, in which 84 counties of Virginia have been represented. The enrolment of students this year up to the present date is 254.

In addition to the advantages offered the students by a most excellent faculty; there are also splendid religious and social opportunities through the churches, Sunday schools, young people's societies, and ladies' organizations. Great interest is also shown in athletic sports; there being three tennis courts and four basket ball teams.

We had the honor of having with us, shortly after school opened, Senator Claude A. Swanson, who made a very inspiring address.

Miss Mary E. Gerhart, who has been in Japan as a missionary for several years, gave an interesting talk to the girls of Y. W. C. A., Tuesday evening.

Miss Ella S. Agnew, secretary of the girls' demonstration work, of the Department of Agriculture of Washington, D. C., gave a very instructive talk to the normal girls on the morning of the 10th inst.

The Rockingham County School Fair and Corn Club exhibit was held in our town Wednesday. The exhibits were displayed in the Masonic Temple and were of special interest since they mark the rapid progress that the school girls and boys of this county are making in the industrial pursuits. The address of the day way was given by Hon. J. D. Eggleston, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, in the town hall. Every one showed a great interest in this exhibit, the entire county being well represented. The Normal School was also well represented, as almost the entire number of students and teachers were present.

The Corradi Brothers, the very famous musicians, gave a concert in the Opera House, Wednesday evening. They also gave the Normal girls a treat Thursday morning, by playing for us at chapel exercises.

WHITE GATE.

"Hear the tingle, tongle, tangle of the bells,
As they dingle on the downs and in the dells;
Over the meadow in the gloam
See the cows are coming home;
Hear the dingle, dongle, dangle of the bells."

It will soon be "fow!" weather.

Today, (Nov. 21) rules the winter.

Cally Ryland says: "Sometimes hits a mighty good thing to be the lowest, spoke in de 'Wheel of Forchune; you jes' 'bleedged to come up, no matter which way de 'wheel turns."

Dr. J. Thomas Conduff was in town Monday and Tuesday of last week.

Mrs. Sallie Vermillion who spent a couple of weeks with her sister, Mrs. A. J. Bane, returned home Wednesday.

Mrs. Jacob Stinson and Mrs. Jas. D. Eaton left Sunday a. m. for Clifton Forge, where they will visit Mr. and Mrs. Will Stinson.

Mrs. Mary Jordan of Poplar Hill, is visiting Mrs. A. J. Bane.

T. S. Miller and S. H. Bane made a business trip to Pearisburg last Tuesday.

Mortimer Bane of Pulaski, made a hurried business trip home last Tuesday.

W. F. McColgan, Jr. of Bland, was a visitor at "Westlawn" Friday and Saturday.

P. J. Bane met business engagements at Pulaski, Monday and Tuesday.

A. J. Francis and wife visited relatives at Poplar Hill, Saturday.

Miss Neta Blankenship returned to her school duties at Providence, Sunday afternoon.

E. M. Hicks returned from Pulaski Saturday.

W. C. Williams and wife who have been visiting at Mrs. M. B. Allen's, left for Bland, Saturday, where they make their future home.

Misses Annie King, Elsie Graybeal, Mary Bane and Miss. Banks King, S. U. Vermillion, W. F. McColgan, Roscoe Eaton and Arthur Brown, attended the box supper at Mechanicsburg, Friday evening. The proceeds went to the Crandon Band.

W. T. Miller and little daughter, Mary, attended the entertainment at Mechanicsburg, Friday afternoon.

Next Saturday (25th) rules February.

The Fountain Head of Life Is The Stomach

A man who has a weak and impaired stomach and who does not properly digest his food will soon find that his blood has become weak and impoverished, and that his whole body is improperly and insufficiently nourished.

Dr. PIERCE'S GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY makes the stomach strong, promotes the flow of digestive juices, restores the lost appetite, makes assimilation perfect, invigorates the liver and purifies and enriches the blood. It is the great blood-maker, flesh-builder and restorative nerve tonic. It makes men strong in body, active in mind and cool in judgement.

This "Discovery" is a pure, glyceric extract of American medical roots, absolutely free from alcohol and all injurious, habit-forming drugs. All its ingredients are printed on its wrappers. It has no relationship with secret nostrums. Its every ingredient is endorsed by the leaders in all the schools of medicine. Don't accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this time-proven remedy or known composition. Ask your neighbors. They must know of many cures made by it during past 40 years, right in your own neighborhood. World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, Pres., Buffalo, N. Y.

Thanksgiving Praise.

BY JOHN T. WYF.

Again God's bounteous hand has spread
The tables of the poor with bread—
Again our grateful fervent songs
Ascend to Whom all praise belongs;
Accept, O God, our thankful lay
To Thee on this Thanksgiving Day.

The husbandman has sown the seed,
And Thou didst bless his work indeed;
He trusted in Thy sacred Word,
And harvest great was his reward;
So on Thy promises we stay
On this our blest Thanksgiving Day

The cattle on a thousand hills,
The wild bird with his thrilling trill
Fish of the sea—the lion, bear,
All yield to Thy protecting care;
May all creation own Thy sway,
Thou God of this Thanksgiving Day

We thank Thee for the sun's bright light,
The silvery moon, the stars of night,
For water pure—for fragrant air,
And for Thy tender watchful care—
For blessings all that with us stay
On this our blest Thanksgiving Day.

We thank Thee for the Gospel truth,
For hi st old age or hopeful youth,
E'en troubles great—for grief and care,
Knowing they will our souls prepare,
Straighten the path and clear the way
For God's own blest Thanksgiving Day.

Great God, accept our thankful songs,
While hymns of praise swell on our tongues;
Guide Thou our feet o'er life's rough path—
Teach us to mercy, not in wrath;
Grant we may ever with Thee stay
And join in heaven's Thanksgiving Day.

Minnie's Thanksgiving.

BY DONALD ALLEN.

"If I was a girl, I wouldn't go walking too far," said old Uncle Robert, as a girl of twenty passed him on her way down to the gate of the farm house.

"And why not?" she asked, as she almost came to a pause.

"Well, according to my idea, it's going to rain and snow and blow and hail, and when the storm does break, she's going to be a buster."

"I wanted to go to the post-office to mail a letter."

"It's three miles there and back, and if I was you I'd put it off. Mebbe somebody'll be passing that you can send by. Tomorrow's Thanksgiving, you know, and we are going to have the awfulest, biggest, nicest dinner anybody ever sat down to. It's in your honor, you know. There'll be a turkey, a duck and a chicken; there'll be cranberry sass, pumpkin pies, currant jell, sweet cider and apple dumplins; there'll be—"

"I think I'll just walk a little ways, anyhow," said the girl, as she opened the gate and passed down the highway toward the village and the railroad depot.

"And if you come home as wet as a hen don't say I didn't warn ye. It's going to come, and it's going to be a buster."

Half an hour later a middle-aged woman with a motherly face and voice came out on the steps and asked:

"Pa, do you reckon it's goin' to storm?"

"Sure as ducks."

"Where's Minnie?"

"O, she's gone for a santer. I give her warning. What's she wantin' to mail a letter for? I hain't mailed a letter nor got one in twenty years, and I guess I'm about as well off as most folks. I was going to ask her but forgot it."

"Don't you ask her a word about it," cautioned the wife as she came down to him. "I guess Minnie's got something on her mind, but it hain't none o' your business."

"Something on her mind, eh? That's funny. Didn't know that girls ever had anything on their minds except new clothes. Is that why she come visiting us all of a sudden?"

"None o' your business! I guess my own sister's daughter can come and see me any time she takes a notion, and that without writing ahead. What's on her mind, as nigh as I can make out, is about a young man. They are engaged, and they've had a falling out, and she's sorter run away from him to find out if he really cares for her."

"And she's got scared about it and has written him a letter to tell where she is!" queried the husband.

"Go on! It's probably a letter to her ma, though I didn't see it nor ask. I hope she didn't start for town. It's going to storm for sure, and there hain't but one house on the road where she could find shelter. Look down the road and see if you can see her."

"Can't see hide nor hair of any girl," reported Uncle Robert after going out to the highway and taking a long look.

An hour later, with both uncle and aunt fidgeting about their girl visitor, the gray afternoon had become twilight. In 15 minutes there was cold rain and lively hail, and Uncle Robert was blown into the kitchen.

Miss Minnie had reached town and mailed her letter and started back again when the storm broke. Before it came she thought she could make out a human figure on the road ahead of her, but wasn't sure.

The very first gust picked her up and turned her around and deposited her under a roadside tree. She remained there until the gale began to whip the branches off, and then let go her hold and ran for it.

She hadn't gone a quarter of a mile when, as she crouched and covered her face, she was struck by a falling limb and knew no more.

It was the dim sight of the girl and the scream she uttered when hit, that sent the man who was clinging to the roadside fence back into the highway. He bent over the unconscious form and picked it up and staggered back to the fence and followed it until he saw a light and found the gate of a farm house.

His lusty calls for help soon brought out a man, and the senseless burden was carried into the house and received by a woman.

"I don't know who she is, but I found her in the road," explained her rescuer. "There is blood on her hair, and I think she was struck down."

"We'll do all we can," replied the man and woman together, but you mustn't look for much. We are mighty poor folks. We hain't got no camphor nor whisky and as for getting a doctor out from town—it can't be done to night."

The girl was carried into the only bedroom and laid on the only bed, and when her wet clothing had been removed and she was between the sheets, the woman got a cloth and a basin of water and washed away the blood and whispered to the stranger:

"I don't think she's bad hurt. She's just fainted away with the scare of it. When she opens her eyes I'll tell her to go to sleep, and she'll be all right in the morning."

"Do you think it's some young lady from the village?" asked the stranger of the farmer as they talked in whispers in the outer room.

"No, I don't reckon so. I reckon it's that new girl that arrived at Turner's a few days ago. I saw her going towards the village two hours ago."

"Arrived at Turner's! Say, man, are you sure? Is it a strange girl to the neighborhood?"

"I've heard say it was Uncle Bob's niece, and that she come from the city. What ails you, stranger? Does this storm upset you?"

It wasn't the storm. Percy Kincaid had quarreled with the girl he loved and had asked to be his wife. It was about nothing, almost, as most lovers' quarrels are, but pride on either side held off a reconciliation until the lover finally learned that Miss Minnie had gone on a journey and left no word for him.

She was going to spend Thanksgiving week in the country. Within two days she had relented; within three he was making every effort to locate her, that he might patch up a peace.

He had succeeded. He was going to throw himself on her mercy and ask Uncle Robert for a place at his Thanksgiving table.

The storm grew fiercer as the night advanced. When another day came even the cattle could not face the storm nor man move from his door. It was Thanksgiving day. At Uncle Robert's there was a feast to be spread; "I don't believe they'd eat a single mouthful," at Bradley's, there was hardly better than poorhouse fare.

But the victim of the accident was no longer in bed, and the rescuer no longer cared about the weather, and the farmer folks looked at each other and smiled and whispered:

"Even if we had turkey and cranberry sauce I don't believe they'd eat a single mouthful. They've just sorter found each other and are tickled to death."

And when at last they could make their way to Turner's, and Uncle Bob stuttered and Aunt Harriet cried for joy, Miss Minnie asked in a way that was almost heartless:

"Why do you take on so? I never had such a lovely Thanksgiving in all my life!"

REGULATIONS ARE UPHELD IN COURT.

Health Department Registers Another Prosecution For Violation of Quarantine.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 23, 1911.—Determined to aid in protecting the public against those who will fully violate quarantine, the State Health Department today announced the successful prosecution by local health officers near Richmond of another man who permitted his children to leave quarantine when they had been placed in confinement by health officers for diphtheria.

The case in point is deemed of especial importance in view of the fact that the child in question did not exhibit clinical symptoms of diphtheria, but when his throat was examined bacteriologically, active germs were found. The health authorities contended that the child in this condition was a menace to the children in the same school and consequently placed the child in quarantine.

When the father of the child, seeing no active symptoms of the disease, permitted the child to leave home, prosecution was at once begun by the county health officer, and the parent was fined in a magistrate's court.

Coming at the end of an investigation which disclosed a number of diphtheria carriers in a school close to Richmond, this case is regarded by the Health Authorities as indicating a new line of attack on diphtheria.

In discussing the case this morning, the Health Commissioner said: "The spread of diphtheria is often obscure, and possible sources of contagion have to be watched very closely. When our inspectors found that there were children in the school who showed no clinical symptoms of the disease, but who had the germs in their throats, they had no difficulty in understanding why a number of cases of diphtheria had broken out in the rooms where these children were taught. It is of vital importance to isolate every person who shows the germs of disease present, whether that person shows clinical symptoms of diphtheria or not. In this way and in no other can the children who are in contact with such a carrier case, be properly protected.

"The prosecution in this case was absolutely necessary. It is not fair to a neighborhood to allow a child with the active germs of the disease to mingle with other children. It is often a hardship which we much regret, to confine the carrier case; but the good of the community and the safety of the entire school population is paramount."

See Signs of Victory Over Dread White Plague.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 23, 1911.—Statistics just compiled by the State Health Department confirm the recent predictions that the crusade against consumption in the State was beginning to show results. According to these figures, since the year ending September 30, 1909, there has been a decrease of almost thirty per cent. in the number of new cases of consumption. When figures were compiled on Sept. 30, 1909, it was estimated that 12,127 cases of consumption had originated in the State during the twelve months then ending. The figures given out today show an estimated total of only 8651 new cases this year. The State Health Department, the State Antituberculosis Association and the numerous local health organizations which have combined to produce this result, are rejoicing over the victory and see in it one of the most encouraging victories ever achieved over disease in the Commonwealth.

Discuss Many Problems at State Conference.

Richmond, Va., Nov., 22, 1911.—The final programme of the State Conference of Charities and Corrections, given out today by President R. K. Flannegan, indicates the most important collection of papers yet discussed at these annual gatherings of the State's social workers. The condition of the Jails, the Problem of the Wayward Girl, the Menace of the Feebleminded, the Need of Co-operation and like topics will be discussed. A large gathering of health and social workers is expected to assemble when the conference convenes in Roanoke next Monday morning, Nov. 27th.

This being Thanksgiving week and the editor (and "devil" as well,) wanting to have a day off in which to give thanks and also to eat turkey, we get out our sheet a little earlier than common; therefore, if anything is missing and the paper not up to its usual good standing, we hope our readers will forgive us and not think hard of us.

We are glad to report that during the past week the hustling town of Pembroke has organized the Bank of Pembroke, to begin business in the near future. Mr. James Hoge will be president and Mr. W. H. Snidow will be cashier. The directors will be a number of the most prominent citizens of the community. If we are correctly informed, the First National Bank of Pearisburg is largely interested in the organization. We bespeak for this new enterprise the greatest measure of success.

Our old friend and neighbor, Mrs. M. D. Woolwine, has moved her household belongings and gone to live with her daughter, Mrs. R. L. Poindexter of Graham. Mrs. Woolwine has been a resident of this place for many years and it is with deep regret we part with her. She has rented her property to Fount Johnston, who will take possession on Monday next.

Will it ever come to pass that people will change their taste from drinking concentrated lye, tobacco juice, licorice, etc., mixed together and called whiskey, and which ruins their stomach? We know a man who made whiskey, or rather had it made, who could not walk a step and had to sit in a chair all the time; he chewed tobacco, and when he spit a pint in a bowl, poured it into his whiskey barrel and sold it to his customers. Young man (or old man, either, for that matter), you don't know what you are drinking these days. A man that will ruin you, will stoop to the lowest things. And a rum seller is that man!

The Linebuck Musical Family gave an entertainment here Saturday night in Dennis Hall to quite a good sized audience. The show from beginning to end was first class, and all who attended, were loud in their praise of this gifted family. They will give an entertainment Saturday night, December 2d, at Lindside, W. Va. On Monday night, December 4th, they will give one at Petertown, W. Va., for the benefit of the Royal Neighbors. If you want to enjoy yourself to the fullest extent, attend these entertainments. They are sure to please.

AUTOMOBILE TOURISTS.

Messrs. J. G. Kelley, V. B. Jesse, C. A. Greerer and E. C. Snead of Bluefield, who are automobiling to Florida, spent Monday night in town. They are using the fine passenger Ford and left here Tuesday morning over the Bluefield-Pearisburg-Roanoke branch of the National Highway, with Mr. J. G. Kelley leading the van.

DEATH OF S. K. MUNSEY.

Mr. Samuel K. Munsey who lives near Providence church, and who has been ill for quite a long while, died on Tuesday night, at the ripe age of 78 years.

He leaves behind him three sons, three daughters, and a host of friends, to mourn his loss. He was a kind old gentleman and beloved by all who knew him. It is with sorrow we chronicle his death.

His funeral and burial will take place this (Thursday) afternoon.

A CARD OF THANKS.

We take this method to express our sincere thanks and heartfelt gratitude to those who so kindly assisted at the burial of our darling boy, and for whose kindness and sympathy in our great bereavement, we shall hold them in loving remembrance forever.
MR. AND MRS. W. D. LUCAS.

DEAR TOM:

I send you by today's express, prepaid, one gobbler for your Thanksgiving dinner. He is nice and fat. Please accept him with my compliments and best wishes for your success and a long life for the VIRGINIAN. I greatly admire your devotion to Democratic principles and your fight against the evils of whiskey.

Your friend,
C. P. HUDSON.

Words fail us in our expression of thanks to you for this fine "bird." We hope you and yours will live to enjoy many Thanksgivings and that no storms may ever cross your paths.

AN INTERESTING FOOT BALL GAME.

Pearisburg High School football team accompanied by a merry crowd of boys and girls went to Pembroke last Saturday and won an exciting game from Pembroke High School to the score of 44 to 0. Pearisburg won the toss up and chose to defend the East goal. The game started by Pembroke kicking off to Pearisburg. Williams got the pigskin and carried it for a game of 12 yards. In the first scrimmage Gilliam carried the ball for a touchdown. Gilliam, Pearson, Phlegar, Duncan, each got two touchdowns to their credit. The other features of the game were Pearisburg's excellent line mark and the playing of Ray and Williams in quarterback for their respective teams. Only once did Pearisburg fumble against three by Pembroke. The girls added much to encouragement of Pearisburg. Referee: Prof. Reed. Umpire: Prof. Wasson. Linemen: Johnston and Dunthat.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.

On last Sunday afternoon our little village was greatly shocked to learn that a horse driven by Mr. Ray Snidow, who was accompanied by Miss Nellie Price, both of Pembroke, had ran off and the occupants thrown out and severely injured, which proved to be too true. This young man and lady had been to Pearisburg, and when near the residence of Mr. E. W. Hale, the holding back strap broke, which caused the animal to run at lightning rapidity, throwing the occupants out with the above result. They were taken into the residence of Mr. Hale, where everything was done that could be thought of, and medical aid sent for, when Dr. D. A. Dunkley of this place responded. The young lady was found to have a sprained ankle and some bruises; the young man found to be unconscious, with several bad cuts and bruises about the head, and has remained unconscious up to this present hour. This was a very sad occurrence, and we hope the young man's injuries will turn out better than most of the people have predicted.

He was taken to the Roanoke Hospital Sunday night on No. 16, which made a special stop at Ripplemead, accompanied by Dr. Dunkley, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Snidow, his father and mother, and his brother, Wirt Snidow, who still remain by his bedside.

Up to going to press, we learn the young man has taken a little nourishment, the first since the accident, and show signs of improvement, and that his skull is not fractured as at first thought. We hope to hear of his getting better, if not well, soon.

GAUTIER--LUCAS.

At the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Lucas of Pembroke, on November 22d, was the scene of a beautiful wedding, when their daughter, Miss Nellie Gray, became the bride of Mr. Frank Gautier, oldest son of Dr. and Mrs. Ida B. Gautier of Athens, West Va., Rev. G. W. Harlees officiating, in the presence of a few relatives and friends.

Immediately after the ceremony the happy couple took the westbound train for Athens, W. Va., where there was a welcome reception awaiting them at the home of the groom.

The bride's going away suit was blue, with hat and gloves to match. The groom wore black broadcloth.

After spending a few days with homefolks, they will return to Dott, W. Va., where they will make their future home, the groom holding a position with Wenonah Coal & Coke Co., as clerk.

The bride will be greatly missed as she was of a quiet and lovable disposition; the groom will be missed at his home where he has a wide host of friends.

May they have a long and happy life in their new home is the wishes of their many friends.

NARROWS.

Frank V. Johnson, Jr., of this place, and Miss Bessie Higginbotham of Athens, W. Va., eloped to Bristol on the seventeenth and were married. The parental objections were on account of the youthfulness of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson spent a few days at Rural Retreat, the guests of the groom's sister, Mrs. Chas. P. Hudson. After returning to Narrows they were given a lovely reception at the home of the groom's father, F. V. Johnson. There were at least one hundred guests present, and a most elaborate six o'clock dinner served. Mrs. Johnson was assisted in entertaining by her daughter, Mrs. Hale Brown.

Mrs. Virginia Lee Crum French, wife of Dr. Chapman J. French, formally of this place, died at her home Crum, W. Va., on the twenty-third of November and her body was brought to Pearisburg on No. 4, Friday morning and interred in the French cemetery beside her little son, Roy White. Virginia was so young, just in the bloom of life, being only twenty-three, when she took that dreadful disease tuberculosis of which she suffered several months. She was much loved by all who knew her. She was a member of the Missionary Baptist church, and the funeral services were conducted by Rev. M. W. Royall of Pearisburg. She leaves besides her devoted husband, one son not quite two years old. Those who accompanied the remains were her husband, brother, Mrs. Wm. Crum, Mr. and Mrs. John Crum of Crum, and W. A. French and family of Huntington, W. Va.

Mrs. F. E. Bastian and Miss Ruth Davis attended the opera in Bluefield, Saturday night.

Miss Mary Woolwine attended the German in Bluefield, given by the Cloverleaf German Club, Friday night.

Mrs. C. R. Shumate who has been the guest of relatives, has returned to her home in Lynchburg.

Mrs. J. Hank Woolwine entertained in honor of Mr. and Mrs. F. V. Johnson, Jr., Thursday night.

Mrs. Linsenmeyer entertained her numerous friends at six o'clock dinner Friday night.

Mrs. C. R. Shumate was the honoree of a beautiful card party at the home of Mrs. J. G. Alvis, Saturday evening the eighteenth. Five hundred was the game played, dainty score cards were used at the conclusion of the game a delightful salad course was served.

Mr. and Mrs. F. V. Johnson were entertained at the home of Mrs. George Bane, Friday evening.

Worth.

Let woman remember, when buying a bonnet,
Men care very little for what is upon it;
If eyes of the wearer are tender and bright
And in them there shines intellectual light.

Pure dresses to dazzle mere man and she tries
To hide this stern truth from the masculine eyes,
But man's intuition is subtle and keen—
He reads between lines and is wary, I ween.

Art takes many forms, as the gentleman knows;
It is shown in our bonnets, our boots and our clothes;
And beautiful dressing if used in good taste
Will prove that our minds are not going to waste.

Most precious adornments that women can wear
Are purity, wisdom and love—everywhere,
So, envy no woman who wears stunning clothes
If this is the limit of all that she knows!

The milliner's skill and the modiste's fine art
Delight, in a way, every masculine heart;
But the heart of a man who is tender and wise
Is won by the soul in a pure woman's eyes!

Put the Convicts On the Roads.

(From Richmond Times-Dispatch.)

Former State Senator Charles T. Lassiter, of Petersburg, one of the leading good roads advocates in Virginia, yesterday delivered a valuable and practical address before the Good Road Congress, in which he made some extremely valuable suggestions. After outlining the history of the good roads movement in this Commonwealth and giving due honor and credit to those who had a great part in launching the movement for this splendid reform, Mr. Lassiter said Virginia's next step as to better highways would be the logical consequence of the successful operation of our system of employing convicts on the roads, blazing the way for other States seeking a practical and economical plan of road improvement to follow. Here is the system he proposes:

It seems to me that prior to the expiration of the shoe contract the Legislature of 1912 should provide for the employment of the greater number of the felon prisoners on the roads and in making road material and agricultural lime. It this be done the State will no longer need the highly valuable city property now occupied by the penitentiary in Richmond. It is estimated that this property is worth about $500,000. If it were sold it would soon become a component part of the pulsing business life of our beautiful capital city. It would pay taxes to the State and to the city.

The proceeds in my judgment, should be used in the establishment of a prison farm in each one of the ten congressional districts. The Constitution requires a penitentiary, but we would not need a very large prison. The new penitentiary could be built upon the present State Prison Farm in Goochland or could be located in some other district somewhere near the geographical centre of the State. In the penitentiary there would be confined the long term and dangerous prisoners, whose duty it would be to make shoes, clothes and other supplies for themselves and the men on the roads. Their number, I find from an analysis of the printed reports of the penitentiary, would be comparatively small. The old men, women and children should be employed on the farms in producing food for themselves and for the other prisoners. In this way a force of about 1,400 able-bodied laborers, of an average age of twenty-five years, would be available from our felon population for work on the roads, in stockades, making road material and agricultural lime.

This plan commends itself most strongly to our approval, although we are not ready yet to endorse the putting of convict labor to the making of agricultural lime, while recognizing the fact that the principle seems well established in other activities of the State.

In the opinion of Mr. Lassiter, this system would be incomplete without a reformation of the jails. Two thousand misdemeanor prisoners are today lying in jail at the expense of taxpayers. "It should be a governmental axiom that no person be kept in jail after conviction," for the jails should be used only for persons awaiting trial in the absence of bail. After conviction, misdemeanor prisoners, who are State prisoners also, should be sent to the district prison farms. In such a way there can be made available in 1913 a force of from 2,500 to 3,000 able-bodied men for road work. "No longer would it be necessary for the State to appropriate $250,000 the year for State money aid nor $150,000 a year for the support of prisoners in jails. A comparatively small addition to these sums already appropriated would take care of all the prison population, who would be at work creating values for the taxpayers," points out Mr. Lassiter.

It has been the experience of Virginia that the prisoners engaged in road work have uniformly improved in health and many have shown a better moral tone on account of working. In fact, it is the only logical thing for the State to do, this putting of men to work on roads, because it is the best sort of work for them, since it is not indoor work. The State owes a duty to its prisoners—that of keeping them in as good health as possible and in preventing that idleness which impairs the body and weakens the mind.

His Sympathetic Soul.

The prominent citizen who employed a large number of women in his box factory was very indignant.

"The idea of the legislature having the effrontery to interfere with the right of women to earn a livelihood!" he ejaculated.

Naturally we were eager to be enlightened, hence we asked for information.

"Why, the legislature has just passed a law making it illegal for women to work more than ten hours a day in any factory."

"But isn't that a wise and humane law?" we asked.

"Indeed it is not!" shrieked the prominent citizen. "Why, I have hundreds of women in my employ who will be unable to earn enough to live on if they are not allowed to work fourteen and sixteen hours a day."

We admit being a little slow with our thinking apparatus, hence the prominent citizen was well along on his way to see a judge about an injunction before we thought to ask him why his wage scale wasn't high enough so that a woman could earn enough in ten hours to enable her to live comfortably and honestly.

There are many kinds of beauty, and many beauties who are unkind.

Communicated.

DEFIANCE, OHIO, November 26, 1911.

MR. EDITOR:—In renewing my subscription, I want to say a few words for my native State, and especially good old Giles county. I want to say for the Virginian, whether I meet him in Texas, far away California or New England, they are proud of their State, most of them members of the F. F. V's and trace their genealogy to the Mayflower; of course the Mayflower made several trips, there was room for all of us. Speaking of Giles county I do not believe we appreciate the grandeur of our mountains. Some time ago Mr. Lebaume of the N. & W. R. R. Co. at the local opera house pictured the great Salt Pond mountain, the lake and little Niagara Falls, and I think you will excuse my vanity for feeling proud of my county and State when I heard so many of that audience praising the class of the farm products shown, and growing into ecstasy over these natural wonders. God did not make our county as free from stone, soil as deep or level as the sister counties, He gave us these great natural wonders, so many clear, crystal springs; so many large trees, and beautiful flowers. It is debatable whether or not the Gardeo of Eden was not on top of Salt Pond mountain.

I suppose it is this ethereal, artistic environment that has to do with the chivalry and hospitality of the Giles county farmer, especially is this so up the Sinking Creek valley, through the great Williams' and Lucas' settlement. Even you and your paper, Mr. Editor, occupy a position unique in journalism. It has often been my delight to show some rural editor of the West or North a news item in the VIRGINIAN. Some good wife had presented the editor a big pumpkin, a fat turkey or a basket of snap beans, while we as Virginians may look upon these little courtesies as a matter of fact, to others not of our kind, it is not understandable, because commercialism has not destroyed the communistic spirit of the John Smith colony.

While extoling these commendable Virginia virtues, it is also gratifying to note the position of your paper, and the good people of Giles county have taken on this one favor of exploitation the liquor question. Admitting the indictment in its broadest aspect it is like a pimple on a carbuncle when compared to the exhibition of child labor, white slavery and the gorge of the different towns. History tells us two forms of government have existed, performed their functions and died, feudalism and chattel slavery the next evolutionary step, was wage slavery, ideal in the line of individual competition. But with increased machinery production, individualism was submerged. Man became a number, competition wasteful, for proof of this I point you to the Steel Trust, Oil Trust, and the trustification of all the commodities of life.

I know your paper is a party paper, and I think you will agree with me, Jeffersonian competition and individualism, has disapproved, is the reason the socialist party elected mayors in fourteen cities in the State of Ohio. Here is our little town of ten thousand people, the Socialist vote increased 6J per cent. in two years. I believe with the Republican, Mark Hanna, that the issue of 1916 will be Socialism, and believe with the Democrat, Governor Folk of Missouri, when he said: "The only party that has a clear cut set of principles is the Socialist party." May its object be justice, righteousness and the uplifting of human kind.

ELLIOTT WILLIAMS.

The Retort Courteous.

In a western state a few years ago an effort was being made to secure the enactment of a child labor law. The committee in charge of the bill set a date for a hearing, and among those present to urge a favorable report on the bill were representatives of women's clubs, union men and social workers.

Among other members of the committee was one senator who will be called Eggleston, because that is not his name. Senator Eggleston, a six-footer, weighing 250 pounds, was opposed to the bill.

"I don't believe in these child labor bills," said Senator Eggleston. "I believe children should be taught to work, and the earlier the better. I began working when I was six years old and when I was twelve I was doing a man's work on the farm. I don't look like it had stunted me, do I?"

"Not physically," remarked a quiet little woman representing an organization of women in the state's metropolis.

After a minute of deep silence the hearing was resumed.

The bill passed.

Information.

He was a kindly constable and had for a long time been answering the inquisitive old lady's questions to the best of his ability. But he was beginning to tire a little. "And what's truncheon for, policeman?" inquired the inquisitive dame.

"Ketch a feller a cop over the nob if 'e gets vi'lent," responded Bobby.

"And what are those numbers for?"

"Hidentificashun purposes, mum," said Bobby, laconically, turning away.

"And what, policeman," said the old dame, catching him by the arm, "is that strap under your chin for?"

"Well, mum," snorted Bobby, "that's ter rest me jaws when I gits tired answerin' silly questions."

Cuba's Silent Forests.

Silence reigns in the vast forests of Cuba. Says a traveler: "No beast crashes through the undergrowth, no birds in the branches, no wind sighs through the mighty tops. The living creatures of that world glance noiselessly through the air or glide stealthily through the heavy sound deadening verdure. Cuba has practically no song birds. They are merely gaudy creatures of the ballroom. She is happy also in having no venomous snakes and few pests of any sort.

Goodness.

Whatever mitigates the woes or increases the happiness of others is a just criterion of goodness, and whatever injures society at large or any individual in it is a criterion of iniquity. One should not quarrel with a dog without a reason sufficient to vindicate one through all the courts of morality—Goldsmith.

It is a great thing to know when the hour is ripe for decision. It is one of the fine arts of living to know when to act upon an impulse and when to accept the hints of emotion as signs of a favoring gale.

TIME TO PRAY.

A preacher at the close of one of his sermons, said: "Let all in the house who are paying their debts stand up." Presently every man, woman and child rose to their feet.

The preacher seated them and said: "Now, every man not paying his debts stand up." The exception, a careworn, hungry looking individual, clothed in his last summer suit, slowly assumed a perpendicular position.

"How is it, my friend," asked the minister, "you are the only man not to meet his obligations?"

"I run a newspaper," he answered meekly, "and the brethren here who stood up are my subscribers, and,—"

"Let us pray," exclaimed the minister.—Tampa Tribune.

Mrs. L. M. Clark of Stuart, Va., is spending several weeks with her daughter, Mrs. J. A. Booth.

Miss Nita Blankenship who is teaching school at Providence, spent Saturday and Sunday in town.

Your attention is cordially directed to Buchanan & Powell for dry goods, notions, hardware, shoes, groceries, etc.

E. I. Terry of Peterstown, W. Va., spent a few hours in town Sunday afternoon on his way to Bluefield.

Theo Dulaney has purchased the two lots adjoining the post office belonging to A. H. Woodyard.

H. K. Osborne, who spent Thanksgiving with his parents, has returned to his work at Northfork, W. Va.

Byron Cecil of Kansas City, Mo., is visiting his aunts, Mrs. T. J. Pearson of this place and Mrs. P. F. St. Clair of Bane.

R. Allen Brown has returned from his home at Wytheville. He was accompanied by his brother who will remain several days.

Mrs. W. E. Minter of Northfork, W. Va., who has been visiting her father, Mr. D. W. Mason, has returned to her home.

Mrs. J. T. Wassom and daughter, Nancy, and Miss Gladys Scott spent the week's end with Miss Scott's mother, Mrs. M. Scott of Bane.

There are reasons why you should buy your merchandise from Buchanan & Powell. Call and let us show you.

Roy Munsey is confined to his bed with typhoid fever. We hope it will be a mild case and that he will be well in a few weeks at most.

Thanksgiving services were not as largely attended as they should have been. Did you have nothing to be thankful for or what was the matter with you?

Go to Pearisburg Pharmacy when you want Medicine, Toilet Goods, Brushes, Combs, nice line Cigars, Candies, Oranges, Nuts, Cut Glass, Leather Goods, etc.

Mrs. A. E. Fry and children, Master Davis and Miss Mary of Portsmouth, Ohio, are visiting Mrs. A. L. Fry of this place and Mrs. Robert Fry of Bluff City.

Dr. D. A. Dunkley returned from Stuart, Va., Sunday, where he had been with his sister who was operated on last week. Mrs. Dunkley is still by her bedside.

We have a very select line of Jewelry for Xmas trade, at

SHELTON & Co's

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of Narrows, will give a bazaar on Friday and Saturday, December 8th and 9th. Be sure to give them a call and buy your Xmas presents.

Mrs. Dent Echols and son of Newport, are visiting her sister, Mrs. Dr. F. B. Miller of this place. Mrs. Echols left for Bluefield Monday with her little son who is under treatment of Dr. Peery.

We are sorry to report that Ray Suldow, whose horse ran away with him Sunday, Novem ber 26th, and who was seriously injured, has remained unconscious ever since, and is not much better, if any, at this writing.

Lost—On the road between J. T. Scott's farm, Bane, and Pearisburg, one brown muff, a pair brown kid gloves on the inside of muff. Finder please return to Miss Gladys Scott, Pearisburg, and receive reward.

The carnival of crime that disgraces this fair Virginia city —Lynchburg—has its root in the saloon trade that was foisted upon it by the negro vote. Look out, Pearisburg, that this will not be your fate, but by many whites as well.

James Gordon of Camp 12, Roanoke, came here one day last week and took James Young and Albert Black, colored, who were found in W. B. Thomas' barn, and who were sentenced to eight and six months in the county jail, to work on the road. A good place for them.

Mrs. Fannie Miller of Newport, is visiting in and about this place.

Master Richard Dulaney spent Thanksgiving with his friend, Paul Scott of Bane.

E. S. Dennis left this place Tuesday for Norfolk, where he will remain a few days.

Mr. Jones, representing R. A. Brice & Son, of Philadelphia, Pa., registered at Savoy Hotel here last Sunday afternoon.

The first quarterly meeting for the Staffordsville charge will be held next Saturday and Sunday at Thessalia. Rev. S. S. Catron will preside.

Prof. T. H. R. Christie of Bluefield, gave us quite a friendly call one day last week. He sold while here a fine piano to Mr. Geo. E. Fletcher of Bluff City.

Rev. S. S. Catron, the presiding elder, preached at Narrows last Sunday night and held the quarterly conference Monday morning. The report was good for the quarter. We are always glad to see the old elder.

Rev. M. W. Royall will preach at Eggleston Sunday morning and at Mt. View in the evening at 3 o'clock. There will be no preaching at Eggleston Sunday night as the pastor will be back at Pearisburg to be in the revival that Dr. Fisher is holding.

Mrs. J. F. Meadows of Narrows, called to see us Tuesday and made the editor smile a smile that is hard to rub off. They will move to Harper, W. Va., today, her husband being in the beef business there. The VIRGINIAN and best wishes follow them.

We are requested to say that on account of the protracted services now in progress at the Baptist church of this place, the oyster supper for benefit of the Methodist church, which was announced for next Saturday night, will be postponed to a later date to be made known in our next issue.

The Baptist and Methodist churches of this place, have each decided to have a Christmas tree. The former will have theirs on Christmas night, and the latter on Tuesday night. What our Presbyterian friends are going to do, we are not prepared to say, but they will probably do some thing to please their little ones.

Prof. F. S. Williams of Newport, commenced a singing school at Thorn Spring, Pulaski county, November 22d, which numbered 42 persons, since then eight more has been added. Prof. Williams is second to none as a singer and vocal instructor. A big day is anticipated at the close, which will be between Christmas and New Year.

Last Monday while out hunting, a sad accident happened to Otto, son of Mr. John Wilburn of Sugar Run. He slipped and fell, dropped his gun and it went off, shooting him in the shoulder. Dr. Anderson was called and got out the shot and dressed the wound. A piece of his collar bone and several pieces of bones were gotten out. We hope for his speedy recovery.

We are glad to state that Mrs. Dan St. Clair of Bane, is getting along fairly well.

We regret to state that Mr. C. L. Simpkins of Interior, lost his wife on Monday and was buried Wednesday. Mrs. Simpkins was a highly respected Christian woman and will be missed by a large number of relatives and friends.

There was a singing contest at the M. E. Sunday school last Sunday. The "small ones" were arrayed against the "large ones," and there was some "tall" singing done too, by both sides. We are proud to say, the "little ones" were the winners, although the "large ones" done excellent. It is hard to beat young America these days.

Mrs. Ruth, wife of Augustus Manning, deceased, died at Bluff City Monday morning and was buried Tuesday morning at the Chapman burying ground on Walker's Creek. She was supposed to be one of our oldest inhabitants and probably was near 90 years old. We know she has ceased from her labors, and know she is at rest.

Thanksgiving being over, the turkey all gone (those who had one), and the bones boiled and made soup out of them, we will now go back to our spare ribs, backbone, sausage, souse, pudding, etc., which is good enough for us or even a king, and be content with these until Christmas rolls around. We await patiently to see what will fall in our dish between now and then.

Revival services still continue at the Baptist church, while not many have connected themselves with the church, much good has been accomplished and seed has been sown that will bear fruit in the future. How much longer these services will continue, we are unable to say, but probably the rest of the week at the least. Rev. Fisher who is conducting these services, is a very able and earnest minister and his sermons have been listened to with the utmost attention, and have sank deep into the hearts of his hearers.

This little boy was as badly mixed up as some of the liquor advocates, and nearly as bad as some of the drunken sots we see on our streets occasionally: A schoolboy at a prize examination furnished the following biography of the patriarch Abraham: "He was the father of Lot and had two wives. One was called Ishmael and the other Hagar. He kept one at home, and he turned the other into the desert, where she became a pillar of salt in the daytime and a pillar of fire by night."

We have just been authorized to sell a farm of nearly 200 acres situated near the center of Giles county, four miles from Railroad. Large fine spring at the dwelling. Fine blue grass land. Excellent dwelling house. Convenient to churches, schools, post office, stores, etc. Price low and terms reasonable. Write for complete description, price, etc.

E. S. DENNIS,
Pearisburg, Va.

R. A. Brice & Son, commission merchants, 328 N. Front street, Philadelphia, have a new "ad" in this issue, be sure and read it. This is one of the oldest turkey houses in that city, and it means dollars to you to trade with them. They give the best of references as to their honesty, among them being the Bank of Pearisburg. Brices is the place for good prices.

Mr. P. G. Lucas of Maybrook, died at his home at that place Monday morning and was buried in the Lucas burying ground at that place Tuesday afternoon. He had been in bad health for many months, having had a stroke of paralysis. He was a life-long member of the Christian church, and lived a consistent, Christian life. He will be sadly missed by his neighbors, relatives and friends. We offer our deepest and heartfelt sympathy to the sorrowing ones who mourn his loss.

J. D. Foote, Jr., who has been a member of the law firm of Williams & Farrier here for the past year, left Tuesday for Blue field where he has accepted a position with the First National Bank of that place. He was formerly connected with the State Bank of Bluefield. John was one of our foremost and most popular young men, and his absence from among us will be greatly felt. We wish him happiness and prosperity in his new place of business.

R. Henry Bailey and Mrs. Lucy V. Wells Johnston of Narrows, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony here Thursday afternoon last at 4 o'clock at the Methodist parsonage, Rev. W. B. Belchee officiating. The happy couple were escorted to this place by Mr. K. S. French of that place in his auto. Immediately after the knot was tied, they started for their home accompanied by Rev. Belchee, where a bounteous repast awaited them. We wish them success and happiness as they journey through this world of trial and trouble.

Read the new advertisement of Frank Hellerick & Co., 349 New Market street and 120 Callowhill street, Philadelphia, in another column. They want your turkeys and chickens. As to their liability and standing, they refer you to the banks and Bradstreet's and Dunn's agencies. No company is more reliable than this one. Have no fear of being swindled in any way. If you have any turkeys, geese, ducks, chickens, eggs, etc. to sell, you can do no better than to ship to this company. Be sure and read their advertisement and see prices, etc., for yourselves.

Jack McGhee, a survivor of the four years of hard struggle in the Civil War, died at the home of his son, S. S. McGhee of Roanoke, last week. His funeral service was conducted at the City Mission by Rev. Dr. Pedicord, a large crowd attending. Interment was in Fairview Cemetery. There were quite a number of old comrades there to pay their last respects to him. A few years, only, and those noble old warriors will be a thing of the past, but remembrance of them will still linger in the hearts of our people.

To Our Subscribers!

We are sending out a large number of statements to those who are owing us for subscription, and hope they will remit at once, as we are in need of money. We, like all others in business, need money to carry it on with, besides, we have a family to support. Though the amount is not large which we send you, a number of them put together will do us a great deal of good. We have taken particular pains to give you a nice, clean paper, and we feel confident that you will be pleased to remit the amount due us.

MARRIAGE INTENTIONS.

The following are the marriage licenses issued from our clerk's office, for the months of October and November:

October—Lucian Boyd to Miss Virginia M. Keffer, Theo T. Dulaney to Miss Zolla Z. Robertson, James Compton to Miss Alice Hollins, Robt. L. Williams to Miss Myrtle Atkins, Ambrose Bradley to Miss Minnie Tickle.

November—Frank Gautier to Miss Nellie Lucas, Jno. W. Terry to Miss Emma Z. Woolwine, William Stebars to Miss Helen Gillispie, R. Henry Bailey to Miss Lucy V. Wells Johnston.

VETERAN DEAD.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 28, 1911.—Philip A. Cason, seventy-two years old, a Confederate veteran, died yesterday morning at his home, 605 North Tenth Street, succumbing to an attack of pneumonia. He leaves a widow, who was Miss Mary C. Pack of Princeton, Mercer county, W. Va., the daughter of Mary Gooch and Captain John Anderson Pack, and the following children: Mrs. Charles H. Judd of Colorado Springs, Col.; Mrs. George D. Vaughan of Logan, W. Va.; P. A. Cason, Jr., and John A. Cason of Norfolk; Miss Mary Daniel Cason, Miss Jane Porter Cason, James Irving Cason and French Cason of Richmond.

The funeral will take place this afternoon at 3 o'clock from the residence. Interment will be made in Hollywood Cemetery.

Mr. Cason was born in Essex county, Va., in 1839, and was the son of Elizabeth Daniel Reynolds and James Bartlett Cason. From early youth he lived in Hanover county. He was educated at the old Louisa Academy. At the opening of the war between the States he enlisted in the Confederate army and became a sergeant in Westpoik's Battery, Alexander's Battalion, Pickett's Division, Longstreet's Corps, of the Army of Northern Virginia. At the end of the war he entered the service of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway and continued in the employ of that road for forty-four years.

Turkey Shippers!

If you have any doubts as to whom you should ship your Xmas Turkeys just step into our large store building at 349 New Market Street and 120 Callowhill Street, Philadelphia, Pa., and take a glimpse of our new location, immense floor space, our army of experienced helpers and our many conveniences for rapid work, then come into our office and glance over our books and files of Xmas orders, then ask us to explain our methods of doing business, go to our Banks and Bradstreets and Dunns agencies and inquire about our financial standing and your doubts will vanish like a snowball on the fourth of July and you will be forced to say that we are the people to handle your Holiday poultry and all future shipments. You cant make any mistake by shipping to us if your poultry is fat and if it isn't we advise holding till it is. We have enough orders now for Xmas to take up quickly more than double the amount we received last Xmas. If your Turkeys are fat don't hesitate but let them come from the 18th to 22nd, Geese, Ducks, Chickens and Turkeys will all be wanted for New Year. If you desire to ship all together then let it come from the 26th to 30th. We look for good prices on all nice stock. From present outlook December 4th, fancy Turkeys should bring around 22 cents. A 20 cent sale here dressed is equal to 16 cents alive at home. Later predictions will be given out about the 10th to 12th.

In our new and spacious quarters we shall be able to handle with perfect ease many times more the coming Holidays than we ever received before. Friends, we want every one of you to ship all the nice dry picked Turkeys you can rake up. We are certainly going to need them. Strangers, we want your shipments too—send us your name and tell us what you have, we want to write you a personal letter and get acquainted with you. Your neighbors ship to us every season. They wouldn't do it if they were not satisfied with our dealings. If its money to them wouldn't it be to you? Try us now. We have the best buyers to be found and our specialty of fancy goods enables us to hand out the finest of goods to our buyers and the best prices to our shippers. The Xmas demand for fancy Turkeys is going to be wonderfully heavy with us. Let them come. Your business will be appreciated and we guarantee correct weights, top market value and prompt returns. No poultry wanted this month till the 18th. Eggs are very scarce and high. Ship every case possible. Write us for prices.

Hoping to receive thousands of shipments and wishing you all a Merry Xmas and a Happy New Year, we are yours for fancy goods and top prices.

Maidenhood.

You have raised the cup to your lips to drink,
You have opened your eyes to see;
Fearless you stand upon the brink,
Where many have stood, to plunge and sink,
Through the wash of the waves to their unknown graves
In the depths of an angry sea.

Ah, child, girl child, is it well you learn?
You are pure and young, and the lesson is hard;
You stand on the threshold now and yearn
To pass the gates; but the world is stern,
There are thorns to reap, there are tears to weep,
And many feet are scarred.

We must walk the road till the close of day;
But you—why grieve before you need?
'Twere better far your feet should stray
Through fields, than tread life's dreary way,
Better you sing and the young voice ring,
Than that your heart should bleed.

Ah, tarry awhile and stay your hand,
Nor open the gate to sorrow and fret;
Tarry awhile in the golden land,
There is time and to spare to understand;
Stay your feet where the stream runs sweet,
Tarry a little yet.

—Westminster Gazette.

How Alisie Saved The Bible.

It was in the year 1555, when Queen Mary sat upon the English throne with her Spanish husband at her side, and filled the land with trouble because of her terrible persecution of the Protestants.

In the western part of England was a little village called Harrant. At one end of the hamlet, standing apart from the few dwellings scattered along either side of its single street, was the blacksmith's shop, with his small house just back of it and a tiny garden in the rear of the house.

The blacksmith's wife was dead, but his bonny, blue-eyed little daughter kept his house. When lonely, she pushed aside a small panel in the end of the shop and crept in and stayed with him, unless the sound of voices or hoof beats on the road drove her away, for she was a shy child.

One day when she had stolen in, her father was standing behind the door. He had a sliver in his big hand, with which he touched the side of the great black beam in the corner. Suddenly a block of wood fell forward, disclosing a small opening. Into this he thrust a dark, leather bound book, and quickly but carefully fitted the chip into its place, so that no sign of the hid den space remained.

Seeing his daughter, he started and said sternly: "Ailsie, child! How dare you spy upon your father!"

"O, father, I am not spying!" and the blue eyes filled with tears.

"Of course you were not. I was wrong to say so, child," said the smith remorsefully. "But you saw what I did?"

"You put the Holy Bible into the beam, father. It is a fine hiding place, too; for surely neither priest nor soldier can find it there."

"I would you knew not its place of concealment, for the knowledge may bring you into danger, lass. You must never betray it. When Parson Stowe went away to foreign lands, he gave me the sacred Word, and told me to keep it as my life; for, by the queen's orders, all the Bibles have been gathered up and burned, and we are forbidden to read from its holy pages. This is the only one between here and the sea, and it is more precious than the crown of jewels. You are fifteen, Ailsie, and old enough to understand, so I have told you all."

"You need not fear, father," said Ailsie firmly. "I will not tell." But the rosy cheeks grew pale as she remembered what her promise might mean.

Now, there was a certain priest that came sometimes to Harrant to preach to the villagers. But being all Protestants, they would neither listen to him nor pay him tithes. He was angry at their behavior, and spied about until he became sure there was a Bible among them; and he knew that it was in the blacksmith's possession, because he was the only man in the village who could read.

After trying in vain to find the Holy Book, he went to the nearest town and lodged information against the village with the officers there; and one day, when the smith chanced to be away from home, an officer and six men marched into Harrant.

They called upon the cottagers to surrender their Bibles; but one and all declared they had none. Then the soldiers searched every dwelling, and threatened to burn them, every one, unless the Book was found.

But that did not suit the priest at all. He would get fewer tithes than ever if the village were destroyed. So he told the soldiers to let the rest of the villagers alone, for the Bible was in the blacksmith's possession. It was getting late, and the soldiers were in a great hurry to be gone. So they resolved to burn the two buildings, and thus destroy the Book.

At first sight of the strange men Ailsie had fled through the garden, out upon the moor, and hidden among the furze bushes. She was terrified, for she feared that they might find her and demand the hiding place of the precious Bible.

It was growing dark when she saw a bright light against the sky, and sprang to her feet. Her father's house was on fire. The sight made the shy child a heroine. Forgetting all about her danger, she only remembered that she must save the Bible at any cost.

Swift as an arrow she sped homeward.

The soldiers were intent upon piling straw around the burning buildings, and did not see the little figure that darted between the house and the shop, whose thatched roofs were all ablaze. Breathless and determined, she pushed aside the panel and stumbled through the blinding smoke.

The hungry flames scorched her dress and her hair, and burned and blistered her hands and face, before she secured what she sought. But at last she reached the Bible and fled out into the open air.

No one had noticed her in the darkness, and she crept safely into the little garden and sank down, choked and suffering, among the vines.

She slipped off her woolen petticoat and wrapped it around the volume; then, digging with her little burned hands in the soft soil she buried it under an immense cabbage. Then she crawled upon her hands and knees to the spring at the foot of the garden, where her father found her an hour later half unconscious with pain and fright. He never ceased while he lived to praise his little daughter for her brave deed of that day.

The Bible always remained in the family, and years and years after Ailsie's great granddaughter carried it with her when she followed her Puritan husband across the sea to the lonely coast of New England.—King's Builders.

Communicated.

Recently getting a letter from one of my Giles county friends addressed me at Athens, W. Va., makes me think I had better write a few words to the Virginian, lest other friends fail to know my whereabouts.

We came to Ohio the last of September and am located in Bowersville, a village in Green county, one of the foremost corn and hog raising counties of the State. It looked good to see the broad fields of corn, but rather wasteful to see the hogs turned into 10, 20 and 30 acres to tear it down. They thus save much hard work, however, and when the weather is not too wet, very little sound corn is left on the ground. Cholera among the hogs has caused great loss to the farmers. Many whose hogs were not sick, rushed them off when only partly fattened, for fear of losing them.

I have a nice little church of earnest workers which takes full time, so I do not have to ride a circuit as of yore.

Hope some one remembered the editor with a nice, fat turkey for Thanksgiving.

The success of the whiskey people in other counties have emboldened them to make another fight in our county. We will hope and pray and work to get all the dry voters out, even if it is in mid winter, and the old farmers dread to leave a good, warm fire.

It was with mingled regret and joy that I read of the defeat of my old brother, J. H. Durham. He has earned a rest and his age and health demand that he take life easy, but how queer it will appear, just like one of us poor preachers on Sunday morning with no appointment to fill.

May all of us strive to do our daily task so well that we will not only earn a few easy years in old age, but also be ready to enter into the rest that remains for the people of God.

Gentle Hint to Girls Who Flirt.

An exchange prints the following:

A fifteen year old girl in a neighborhood town, who was in the habit of meeting trains and flirting with the trainmen, succeeded recently in landing a beau. She gaily consented when he asked to walk home with her. Her newly formed acquaintance asked to be led to her home, and arriving there loudly rang the bell. Her mother came to the door and Mr. Traveling Man delivered a short lecture something like this: "Madam, here's your little girl, I picked her up at the depot, a place where a girl of her age should not go alone, unless on business. I have a daughter at home about the age of this one, and I am away from home a great deal and don't know for certain whether my daughter meets the train or not, but if she does I hope some one will do that which I have done for you—take her home to her mother.

No Pardon for Incurables.

Richmond, Va., Dec. 5.—Governor Mann today announced his purpose to refuse pardons hereafter to convicts who are suffering from infectious or contagious diseases. He says that he will adopt this course for the protection of the public health and that it will be made especially applicable to consumptives. The governor has also decided that future pardons, based on the ill health of prisoners will be made "revocable at the pleasure of the executive." It means that the governor, after freeing a sick convict, can send the man back to prison if he sees fit so to do.

PURPOSE.

The following was delivered by Mr. Frank S. Pack (a junior) at the morning exercises at Pearisburg High School, November 5, 1911:

First ask yourselves this question, "Why do we live?" Life means something to us, we were certainly put here for some purpose, so why not use ourselves! We all should have a purpose, as man without an object in life, without ambition and destitute of a settled purpose to achieve some definite end is to be pitied. A purposeless life is like a saltless dish. A man who lives a worthless, lazy life, satisfied with his condition and with no ambition to do or to achieve something higher, knows nothing of pleasure. One of the greatest pleasures in life is to pursue and attain; the endeavor and overcome. Overcoming of difficulties is the flavor of life. I think a man had much rather be dead than to live a life without some aim or purpose. Some writer has said that work is a blessing, and idleness a curse.

Many there are that start out determined to succeed, but they work with fitful effort. They work a while with promise of achievement, then they give up; they do not succeed fast enough; they become impatient and try some other line of action. They think they can succeed better and faster in some other profession. They are weighed in the balance and found wanting.

A man who has no purpose in life is like a ship without a rudder. A man who aims at nothing can hardly expect to hit anything. In battle the captain always has an object, the object is the thing to be made and the thing to be done. All the forces of his army are concentrated on the making of that particular point; and when that point is made, success is sure to follow. Every one should have his object, a clearly defined purpose with undeviating persistency. This is the only way to succeed. To live a life with an object, is a priceless privilege, and it leads us direct to competence on the path of the sunbeams to the bosom of the lilley.

"Where there is a will there is a way," so reads the old Proverb. A great purpose is always the antecedent of a great action. Our own Franklin had never risen to proud eminence as a philosopher and statesman, had not a great purpose been marked out for him, and then move him with power to fill his true niche in the record of human greatness. Thus I might continue to recite names to show that an honest purpose is a necessary condition of success.

The man with a purpose seeks employment and depends upon himself for what he is to be and to do. He leans not on another, and hence grows strong by standing alone. Place an acorn in the crevice of a barren rock and it will strike down its roots and send them out in search of fostering places, till it will surround the rock with a net of clinging fibres; and while the winds grow fiercer and the storm howls wilder, the oak will strike deeper and widen its anchoring roots. It will brace itself to meet the emergencies of life. It will nerve its energies to stand its ground. It will gather vigor from every storm; resolutions from every wind; strength from every trial; energy from every defiant bolt of heaven.

So it is with the man of purpose. Place him in a hard place on his feet, where the storms of life strikes hotly upon him, and the winds blow fiercely upon him, there he will stand by his own strength or fall, and ninety-nine times out of a hundred he will grow into strength by the pressure of adverse circumstances. Every blow of his own will give him vigor, every trial of his character will knit firm its binding fibres. He keeps in mind his purpose—whether awake or sleeping. Every trial of his character, every storm that blows only adds strength to better enable him to carry out his purpose. I insist that every one have a purpose in life, and by so doing, he may expect success.

Proved.

A young woman about to be married decided, at the last moment, to test her sweetheart. So, selecting the prettiest girl she knew, she said to her, though she knew it was a great risk:

"I'll arrange for Jack to take you out tonight—a walk on the beach in the moonlight, a lobster supper and all that sort of thing—and I want you, in order to put his fidelity to the proof, to ask him for a kiss."

The other girl laughed, blushed and assented. The dangerous plot was carried out. Then the next day the girl in love visited the pretty one and said anxiously:

"Well did you ask him?"

"No, dear."

"No! Why not?"

"I didn't get a chance. He asked me first."

The Way of the World.

"Isn't it awful? According to the papers, there just seems to be one revolution after another."

"Yes—That's the way the world goes round."—Judge.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Bessie Bowman of Lawton, wife of Mr. Sidney Bowman and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John King (colored) of Pembroke, after having undergone an operation at Roanoke hospital, died November 27, 1911.

She had been married only five months and 27 days when death, who shall visit us all, came and summoned her to meet her God, whom she had been serving for more than three years.

She was a member of the Baptist church and lived a consistent Christian life up to her death. Husband, your jewel is gone; parents, a loving daughter has been taken from you; a loving sister is left alone.

Jesus has prepared a way that God will bring us to Himself in glory, and thus way—the peaceful way—this loving, happy way, our sister had gone. We give her up to Him, the giver of every good and perfect gift. Then we give her up to the Great I Am. We bow to Him humble submission, for He killeth and maketh alive; He giveth and He taketh away, blessed be his name.

Farewell, dear father and mother,
I had to leave you all;
Death came to me one morning
And I obeyed the call.

It was to join the angels,
The happy beings of God;
Who welcome every pilgrim
This lonely road should trod.

My work of life is over,
The world's no more my home;
I'll meet you when life is over
'Round God's eternal throne.

Good-bye dear sister, Hattie,
The world is not your home;
I shall look for you in glory,
When mortal life is done.

Alas! dear mama, don't worry,
I've just gone on before,
I will meet you again dear mother,
On Canaan's happy shore.

My chair at home is vacant,
My husband is lonely now;
Dear don't forget Your Maker,
And to the Saviour bow.

To my darling baby boy
That has no mother now,
I'll meet you little Raymond,
On the resurrection morn.

H. L. CHRISTMAN.

There are some women who never change their minds. Not so with man—especially if he be a married man—sometimes she prevails on him to change his. And he prevails.

In casting about for a suitable Christmas present, always remember that the Virginian makes a most acceptable gift for an absent friend and keeps the giver in constant remembrance throughout the year. One dollar in advance.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Wilkerson of Bristol, spent Saturday and Sunday, guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Stump of Narrows. Mr. Wilkerson is well pleased with the outlook of export lumber and has a large amount of orders on hand.

It is reported here this morning, that Santa Claus will make his headquarters in this town at Carper Bros' store, and shipments of his wonderful and marvelous Xmas trix are already arriving there. It is a sight to see 'em. So, go early or you'll get left.

Form the habit of writing locals and hand them to the editor. Many things happen in the country and town that should appear in our local columns that we do not hear of. The Virginian is your paper and the editor will appreciate any item you may write for its columns.

B. L. Carper of Huntington, W. Va., a former Pearisburg boy, says: "Enclosed please find check for one dollar in payment for subscription to your paper. Wishing the Virginian continued success and its editor a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year." Thanks for your kind words.

Our sanctum was brightened very much on Friday last by the smiling and brilliant faces of Misses Sallie Thompson and Maggie Dudley of Bluefield. We are always delighted to show the ladies how the "rag" is made and "chin" them a little. Call again, we are always pleased to see the ladies.

We notice in the Sandy Valley News, where one Dock Pruitt, aged 92, and Maude Gibson, aged 19, are booked to be married. She certainly believes in being an old man's darling, if luck should have it that way. But in our opinion, Maude must be out of her mind or hard up for a husband. Isn't love funny!

Ladies, we have some nice suits and coats left, will give one-fourth off, regular price. Call and look over them.

W. O. Coburn,
Narrows, Va.

Report from Roanoke, Tuesday was, that Ray Snidow's condition was somewhat improved.

Read the change of advertisement of W. O. Coburn of Narrows, Va., at top of this page. One-fourth off on ladies' suits and coats, mens and boys' overcoats and sweaters. Go and see him if you want bargains.

We call attention to the report in this issue of the First National Bank of Peterstown, W. Va. The report shows a larger increase in deposits than that of any former report. The removal of this bank into its new quarters, which are now about completed and are well equipped and elegant in style and finish, will soon be made.

Farmers and other persons who have poultry to sell on the markets and at home, will do well and at the same time procure something of a great deal of interest to them by sending to the United States Department of Agriculture, Bureau of Chemistry, Washington, D. C., and getting "Circular No. 61." You can get it for the asking. This circular tells you how to kill and prepare your poultry for market, and when these instructions are carried out, an increase of from three to five cents per pound will, in all probability, be added to your sales. Send for this circular, No. 61, as it will be of great benefit to you.

MEETING CLOSED.

The protracted services, which were in progress, in the Baptist church, of this place for ten days, or more, came to a close last Sunday night.

While the results were not so gratifying as hoped, there were a number of conversions, as well as reclamations, and it is hoped that seed was sown that will bring forth fruit later on.

Rev. Dr. F. S. Fisher of Lynchburg, the evangelist, whose services were secured for the occasion, is a strong man intellectually, is a fine reasoner and an interesting and instructive divine, and the people of our town and community who had the pleasure of hearing him, were much pleased with him.

PETERS-HUNT.

Mr. W. C. Peters and Miss Dossie Hunt were married Thursday night at 8 o'clock at the home of Mr. R. S. Brown, 803 Second avenue, n. w. Elder J. Calvin Hurst officiating.

The wedding was quiet, but a few near relatives and close friends were present. Mrs. Pitt noggie played the wedding march. After the ceremony supper was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Peters will live in Roanoke.—Roanoke Times, 9th.

The above notice of the marriage of Will Peters, will be interesting to his old home friends here. We extend heartiest congratulations to him and his no doubt beautiful and charming bride.

Requisition Honored.

The Charleston papers announce that Gov. Glasscock has honored a requisition from Gov. Mann of Virginia, for Mr. Sam'l F. Beckett of Petersburg, this county, who is charged in the Circuit Court of Giles Co., Va., with the malicious wounding of Mr. Chris P. Spangler. Spangler has also brought suit against Mr. Beckett in the Circuit Court of this (Monroe) county for $5,000 damages. The friends of both men deeply regret the unfortunate difficulty between them which took place some months ago, and which is the origin of these cases in the courts.—Monroe Watchman.

RIPPLEMEAD.

W. L. Duncan spent the week's end with his parents at Dublin.

On Thanksgiving night the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. E Douthat was the scene of much merriment, the occasion being a Thanksgiving party. Delicious refreshments consisting of ices, pop corn, candies and fruit were served. Those present were: Misses Goldie Britts, Maggie Givens, Bessie Smith, Senah and Lula Pyrtle, Minnie Johnston, Roxie Vaught, Eva Epling and Gladys Duncan. Messrs. Frank Johnston, L. A. Durham, Harve Niday, Robert Britts, R. L. Ray, R. E. Douthat, Lon Pack, Paul and Tom H. Duncan, Kenneth Britts, Frank and Clay Pyrtle. The guests departed at a late hour, each one feeling that they had experienced a very enjoyable evening.

Mrs. R. B. Durham and children have returned to their home at Narrows.

Robert Gerald is visiting at Eggleston.

Misses Susie Easley, Helen and Frances Mason spent the week's end with Mrs. Clay Mason.

"Bonnibel"

Judge Martin Williams Addresses Emory and Henry Students.

Emory, Va., Dec. 9th—Judge Martin Williams of Pearisburg, Va., delivered a very interesting and instructive address on "How legislation is made" before the Civic Club of Emory and Henry College, Friday, Dec. 8, 1911.

In this address the speaker gave something of the organization of the Legislature and the general manner of procedure thereafter, outlining very clearly the successive steps through which a bill must go in order to become a law. He also gave the Club a sketch of the present political situation in Virginia and something of "sectionalism" as it is seen in the Legislature.

Although Judge Williams was "at sea" when we got him into the oyster industry, (as would very naturally be expected) his address was a very interesting and instructive one indeed, and the Club was very much delighted at having had a legislator of Judge Williams' type to instruct it on this question.

On Saturday morning at the Chapel hour Judge Williams also spoke to the Student Body on the subject of Prohibition and the liquor problems. He briefly discussed the economic and social development of Southwest Virginia during the last few decades and pointed out the relationship between the liquor traffic and the efficient industrial and social development of this section. Judge Williams expressed his intentions of either introducing or supporting a bill in the approaching session of the legislature to allow the question of State Wide Prohibition to be submitted to the vote of the people.

This address like the one of Friday night was highly interesting and instructive. The timely remarks on the drink habit and its effects will certainly be remembered, especially, when the question of State Wide Prohibition shall be submitted to popular vote.

We are always glad to have a man who has the general good and social welfare of his constituents at heart like Judge Williams, to speak to us. We hope to have him again.

A Student.

NARROWS.

George Grice of New Jersey, spent the Thanksgiving holidays here.

Miss Mary Woolwine has gone to San Francisco to spend several months.

Miss Ruth Davis left Monday for Lynchburg, where she will spend some time with her aunt, Mrs. S. T. Pearis.

Miss Lelia Hale entertained at tea on Tuesday evening in honor of Miss Fisher.

C. J. Alvis and daughter, Miss Claris spent Thursday in Bluefield.

C. J. French has returned from Chicago, where he was the guest of relatives.

The little boy of Jno. Wheeler, who was taken to the hospital two weeks ago to be operated on, doesn't improve as they had hoped. He also has another child at home very ill with fever.

Mrs. A. S. Cover gave a delightful series of entertainments Thanksgiving week. Two evenings were given to the married ladies and gentlemen and one for the entertainment of the young folks.

Miss Fisher who has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. John Orr, has returned to her home at Keyser, W. Va.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Johnson have been visiting relatives at Athens.

C. W. Shannon and Dutch White returned from Oakvale, Sunday, where they were called on account of sickness.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Givens spent several days last week with Mrs. C. E. Johnston of Pembroke.

The Ladies Missionary Society of the Methodist church held a Bazarr in the Shannon building Friday and Saturday, and also served refreshments. They were very liberally patronized and a nice sum was realized.

Mrs. Charles Shannon was called to Bell Spring, on account of the sudden death of her uncle.

Miss Annie Dee St. Clair is the guest of Mrs. A. S. Cover this week. X.

TUGGLE-MUSTARD.

A quiet but popular marriage was solemnized yesterday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. N. Mustard, when their sister, Miss Rolahe Shell Mustard, became the charming bride of Mr. James Conrad Tuggle, of Rocky Gap.

The bride wore a very attractive grey dress with accessories to match.

The ceremony was performed at 10 a. m. by Rev. J. G. Reveley, the pastor of the bride, after which they took a carriage for Mr. Tuggle's home, where a royal reception awaited them.

Many presents of linen, china, cut glass and silver were received.

Miss Mustard was a daughter of the late W. N. Mustard, and has a large family connection throughout Southwest, Va., who are all well and favorably known. She was a popular member of the Bland society ranks who regret very much to give her up.

Mr. Tuggle is a son of Mr. J. M. Tuggle of Rocky Gap, a wealthy farmer and grazier.

Those present from a distance were: Mrs. Martin Williams of Pearisburg, and Mr. J. D. Honaker of Rocky Gap, sisters of the bride; Mrs. Frank Snidow of Pembroke; Misses Eula Lee Honaker and Mass Bell Tuggle of Rocky Gap, and Hon. J. D. Honaker, William Tuggle and Henry Helver of Rocky Gap.—Bland Messenger, 7th.

Miss Ruth Philpott who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. W. T. Snidow of "Lindenhurst," returned Wednesday to her home in Yucon, W. Va.

It is cheering to know that no wine is used on the royal table in Sweden, and the King of Sweden recently gave an official banquet where no wine was served.

Pearisburg Pharmacy has a nice line of goods, suitable for young an old. Also Books, Bibles, etc.

Fount Johnston has moved to town and is occupying the Woolwine property. George Osborne has moved into the Snidow property he purchased not long since.

Miss Maggie Thompson who is head nurse at Bluefield hospital and who is getting over a case of typhoid fever, is at home near town and will remain for several days.

M. F. Neel of Cove Creek, Va., says: "Enclosed check for your paper. So keep sending it on and when you need money let me know." Many thanks for your kind words.

The year 1912 is leap year. Now if the women—young maids and old maids—will only do their duty how happy they can make poor man. Perhaps be blessed with bliss themselves.

We would like for EVERY ONE owing us on subscription to remit to us at once, or at the latest, by the first of January, 1912. This request will not hurt any of you, as the amount, in most cases, is small.

There are some women who never change their minds. Not so with man—especially if he be a married man—sometimes she prevails on him to change his. And he prevails.

In casting about for a suitable Christmas present, always remember that the VIRGINIAN makes a most acceptable gift for an absent friend and keeps the giver in constant remembrance throughout the year. One dollar in advance.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Wilkerson of Bristol, spent Saturday and Sunday, guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Stump of Narrows. Mr. Wilkerson is well pleased with the outlook of export lumber and has a large amount of orders on hand.

It is reported here this morning, that Santa Claus will make his headquarters in this town at the Carper Bros' store, and ship ments of his wonderful and marvelous Xmas trix are already arriving there. It is a sight to see 'em. So, go early or you'll get left.

Form the habit of writing locals and hand them to the editor. Many things happen in the country and town that should appear in our local columns that we do not hear of. The VIRGINIAN is your paper and the editor will appreciate any item you may write for its columns.

B. L. Carper of Huntington, W. Va., a former Pearisburg boy, says: "Enclosed please find check for one dollar in payment for subscription to your paper. Wishing the VIRGINIAN continued success and its editor a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year." Thanks for your kind words.

Our sanctum was brightened very much on Friday last by the smiling and brilliant faces of Misses Sallie Thompson and Maggie Dudley of Bluefield. We are always delighted to show the ladies how the "rag" is made and "chin" them a little. Call again, we are always pleased to see the ladies.

We notice in the Sandy Valley News, where one Dock Pruitt, aged 92, and Maude Gibson, aged 19, are booked to be married. She certainly believes in being an old man's darling, if luck should have it that way. But in our opinion, Maude must be out of her mind or hard up for a husband. Isn't love funny?

Ladies, we have some nice suits and coats left, will give one-fourth off, regular price. Call and look over them.

W. O. COBURN,
NARROWS, VA.

Report from Roanoke, Tuesday was, that Ray Snidow's condition was somewhat improved.

Read the change of advertisement of W. O. Coburn of Narrows, Va., at top of this page. One-fourth off on ladies' suits and coats, mens and boys' overcoats and sweaters. Go and see him if you want bargains.

We call attention to the report in this issue of the First National Bank of Peterstown, W. Va. The report shows a larger increase in deposits than that of any former report. The removal of this bank into its new quarters, which are now about completed and are well equipped and elegant in style and finish, will soon be made.

Farmers and other persons who have poultry to sell on the markets and at home, will do well and at the same time procure something of a great deal of interest to them by sending to the United States Department of Agriculture, Bureau of Chemistry, Washington, D. C., and getting "Circular No. 61." You can get it for the asking. This circular tells you how to kill and prepare your poultry for market, and when these instructions are carried out, an increase of from three to five cents per pound will, in all probability, be added to your sales. Send for this circular, No. 61, as it will be of great benefit to you.

MEETING CLOSED.

The protracted services, which were in progress, in the Baptist church, of this place for ten days, or more, came to a close last Sunday night.

While the results were not so gratifying as hoped, there were a number of conversions, as well as reclamations, and it is hoped that seed was sown that will bring forth fruit later on.

Rev. Dr. F. S. Fisher of Lynchburg, the evangelist, whose services were secured for the occasion, is a strong man intellectually, is a fine reasoner and an interesting and instructive divine, and the people of our town and community who had the pleasure of hearing him, were much pleased with him.

PETERS-HUNT.

Mr. W. C. Peters and Miss Dossie Hunt were married Thursday night at 8 o'clock at the home of Mr. R. S. Brown, 803 Second avenue, n. w. Elder J. Calvin Hurst officiating.

The wedding was quiet, but a few near relatives and close friends were present. Mrs. Pitts noggle played the wedding march. After the ceremony supper was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Peters will live in Roanoke.—Roanoke Times, 9th.

The above notice of the marriage of Will Peters, will be interesting to his old home friends here. We extend heartiest congratulations to him and his no doubt beautiful and charming bride.

Requisition Honored.

The Charleston papers announce that Gov. Glasscock has honored a requisition from Gov. Mann of Virginia, for Mr. Sam'l F. Beckett of Peterstown, this county, who is charged in the Circuit Court of Giles Co., Va., with the malicious wounding of Mr. Chris P. Spangler. Mr. Spangler has also brought suit against Mr. Beckett in the Circuit Court of this (Monroe) county for $5,000 damages. The friends of both men deeply regret the unfortunate difficulty between them which took place some months ago, and which is the origin of these cases in the courts.—Monroe Watchman.

RIPPLEMEAD.

W. L. Duncan spent the week's end with his parents at Dublin.

On Thanksgiving night the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. E Douthat was the scene of much merriment, the occasion being a Thanksgiving party. Delicious refreshments consisting of ices, pop corn, candies and fruit were served. Those present were: Misses Goldie Britts, Maggie Givens, Bessie Smith, Senah and Lula Pyrtle, Minnie Johnston, Roxie Vaught, Eva Epling and Gladys Duncan. Messrs. Frank Johnston, L. A. Durham, Harve Niday, Robert Britts, R. L. Ray, R. E. Douthat, Lon Pack, Paul and Tom H. Duncan, Kenneth Britts, Frank and Clay Pyrtle. The guests departed at a late hour, each one feeling that they had experienced a very enjoyable evening.

Mrs. R. B. Durham and children have returned to their home at Narrows.

Robert Gerald is visiting at Eggleston.

Misses Susie Easley, Helen and Frances Mason spent the week's end with Mrs. Clay Mason.

"Bonnibel"

Judge Martin Williams Addresses Emory and Henry Students.

Emory, Va., Dec. 9th.—Judge Martin Williams of Pearisburg, Va., delivered a very interesting and instructive address on "How legislation is made" before the Civic Club of Emory and Henry College, Friday, Dec. 8, 1911.

In this address the speaker gave something of the organization of the Legislature and the general manner of procedure thereafter, outlining very clearly the successive steps through which a bill must go in order to become a law. He also gave the Club a sketch of the present political situation in Virginia and something of "sectionalism" as it is seen in the Legislature.

Although Judge Williams was "at sea" when we got him into the oyster industry, (as would very naturally be expected) his address was a very interesting and instructive one indeed, and the Club was very much delighted at having had a legislator of Judge Williams' type to instruct it on this question.

On Saturday morning at the Chapel hour Judge Williams also spoke to the Student Body on the subject of Prohibition and the liquor problems. He briefly discussed the economic and social development of Southwest Virginia during the last few decades and pointed out the relationship between the liquor traffic and the efficient industrial and social development of this section. Judge Williams expressed his intentions of either introducing or supporting a bill in the approaching session of the legislature to allow the question of State Wide Prohibition to be submitted to the vote of the people.

This address like the one of Friday night was highly interesting and instructive. The timely remarks on the drink habit and its effects will certainly be remembered, especially, when the question of State Wide Prohibition shall be submitted to popular vote.

We are always glad to have a man who has the general good and social welfare of his constituents at heart like Judge Williams, to speak to us. We hope to have him again.

A STUDENT.

NARROWS.

George Grice of New Jersey, spent the Thanksgiving holidays here.

Miss Mary Woolwine has gone to San Francisco to spend several months.

Miss Ruth Davis left Monday for Lynchburg, where she will spend some time with her aunt, Mrs. S. T. Peach.

Miss Lelia Hale entertained at tea on Tuesday evening in honor of Miss Fisher.

J. G. Alvis and daughter, Miss Claris spent Thursday in Bluefield.

C. J. French has returned from Chicago, where he was the guest of relatives.

The little boy of Jno. Wheeler, who was taken to the hospital two weeks ago to be operated on, doesn't improve as they had hoped. He also has another child at home very ill with fever.

Mrs. A. S. Cover gave a delightful series of entertainments Thanksgiving week. Two evenings were given to the married ladies and gentlemen and one for the entertainment of the young folks.

Miss Fisher who has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. John Orr, has returned to her home at Keyser, W. Va.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Johnson have been visiting relatives at Athens.

C. W. Shannon and Dutch White returned from Oakvale, Sunday, where they were called on account of sickness.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Givens spent several days last week with Mrs. C. E. Johnston of Pembroke.

The Ladies Missionary Society of the Methodist church held a Bazarr in the Shannon building Friday and Saturday, and also served refreshments. They were very liberally patronized and a nice sum was realized.

Mrs. Charles Shannon was called to Bell Spring, on account of the sudden death of her uncle.

Miss Annie Dee St. Clair is the guest of Mrs. A. S. Cover this week.

TUGGLE-MUSTARD.

A quiet but popular marriage was solemnized yesterday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. N. Mustard, when their sister, Miss Rolahe Shell Mustard, became the charming bride of Mr. James Conrad Tuggle, of Rocky Gap.

The bride wore a very attractive grey dress with accessories to match.

The ceremony was performed at 10 a. m. by Rev. J. G. Reveley, the pastor of the bride, after which they took a carriage for Mr. Tuggle's home, where a royal reception awaited them.

Many presents of linen, china, cut glass and silver were received.

Miss Mustard was a daughter of the late W. N. Mustard, and has a large family connection throughout Southwest, Va., who are all well and favorably known. She was a popular member of the Bland society ranks who regret very much to give her up.

Mr. Tuggle is a son of Mr. J. M. Tuggle of Rocky Gap, a wealthy farmer and grazier.

Those present from a distance were: Mrs. Martin Williams of Pearisburg, and Mr. J. D. Honaker of Rocky Gap, sisters of the bride; Mrs. Frank Snidow of Pembroke; Misses Eula Lee Honaker and Mary Bell Tuggle of Rocky Gap and Hon. J. D. Honaker, William Tuggle and Henry Helvey of Rocky Gap.—Bland Messenger, 7th.

We have just been authorized to sell a farm of nearly 200 acres situated near the center of Giles county, tour miles from Railroad.

Large fine spring at the dwelling. Fine blue grass land. Excellent dwelling house. Convenient to churches, schools, post office, stores, etc. Price low and terms reasonable. Write for complete description, price, etc.

WELCOME WORDS TO WOMEN

Women who suffer with disorders peculiar to their sex should write to Dr. Pierce and receive free the advice of a physician of over 40 years' experience —a skilled and successful specialist in the diseases of women. Every letter of this sort has the most careful consideration and is regarded as sacredly confidential. Many sensitively modest women write fully to Dr. Pierce what they would shrink from telling to their local physician. The local physician is pretty sure to say that he cannot do anything without "an examination." Dr. Pierce holds that these distasteful examinations are generally needless, and that no woman, except in rare cases, should submit to them.

Dr. Pierce's treatment will cure you right in the privacy of your own home. His "Favorite Prescription" has cured hundreds of thousands, some of them the worst of cases.

It is the only medicine of its kind that is the product of a regularly graduated physician. The only one good enough that its makers dare to print its every ingredient on its outside wrapper. There's no secrecy. It will bear examination. No alcohol and no habit-forming drugs are found in it. Some unscrupulous medicine dealers may offer you a substitute. Don't take it. Don't trifle with your health. Write to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, President, Buffalo, N. Y.,—take the advice received and be well.

Turkey Shippers!

If you have any doubts as to whom you should ship your Xmas Turkeys just step into our large store building at 349 New Market Street and 120 Callowhill Street, Philadelphia, Pa., and take a glimpse of our new location, immense floor space, our army of experienced helpers and our many conveniences for rapid work, then come into our office and glance over our books and files of Xmas orders, then ask us to explain our methods of doing business, go to our Banks and Bradstreets and Dunns agencies and inquire about our financial standing and your doubts will vanish like a snowball on the fourth of July and you will be forced to say that we are the people to handle your Holiday poultry and all future shipments. You cant make any mistake by shipping to us if your poultry is fat and if it isn't we advise holding till it is. We have enough orders now for Xmas to take up quickly more than double the amount we received last Xmas. If your Turkeys are fat don't hesitate but let them come from the 18th to 22nd, Geese, Ducks, Chickens and Turkeys will all be wanted for New Year. If you desire to ship all together then let it come from the 26th to 30th. We look for good prices on all nice stock. From present outlook December 4th, fancy Turkeys should bring around 22 cents. A 20 cent sale here dressed is equal to 16 cents alive at home. Later predictions will be given out about the 10th to 12th.

In our new and spacious quarters we shall be able to handle with perfect ease many times more the coming Holidays than we ever received before. Friends, we want every one of you to ship all the nice dry picked Turkeys you can rake up. We are certainly going to need them. Strangers, we want your shipments too---send us your name and tell us what you have, we want to write you a personal letter and get acquainted with you. Your neighbors ship to us every season. They wouldn't do it if they were not satisfied with our dealings. If its money to them wouldn't it be to you? Try us now. We have the best buyers to be found and our specialty of fancy goods enables us to hand out the finest of goods to our buyers and the best prices to our shippers. The Xmas demand for fancy Turkeys is going to be wonderfully heavy with us. Let them come. Your business will be appreciated and we guarantee correct weights, top market value and prompt returns. No poultry wanted this month till the 18th. Eggs are very scarce and high. Ship every case possible. Write us for prices.

Hoping to receive thousands of shipments and wishing you all a Merry Xmas and a Happy New Year, we are yours for fancy goods and top prices.

A GEM FROM THE POETS.

THE LOOKOUT MAN.

"The Lookout Man," written by Will M. Maupin of the Commoner's staff, has been reprinted in the VIRGINIAN before, but it was received with so much favor that we venture to give it place again in our columns. Every year, as Christmas approaches, there are requests for "The Lookout Man," for before the children who first listened to it with round, reflective eyes have outgrown its warnings, there is always a new crop of children who have learned about the mystic and wonderful Santa Claus and are fit to be impressed by the picture of the weird and watchful Lookout Man:

Now listen, little children, and I'll tell a story true—
And better you remember, for it means a lot to you—
An' if you heed the lesson, then when Christmas time is here
You'll get a lot of presents, and a lot of Christmas cheer,
The Lookout Man is walking when the stars begin to peep
To see if little children are in bed and fast asleep;
And all who act up naughty, and don't mind their ma's and pa's,
The Lookout Man is watching and he'll tell old Santa Claus.

I knew a little fellow once who got real bad and said
He didn't care for Santa Claus, and wouldn't go to bed;
And said he didn't have to mind—O he was awful bad—
And didn't care the leastest mite in making folks feel sad,
But when it came to Christmas, he didn't get a thing,
For Santa Claus had heard of him, and not a thing he'd bring,
He knew that bad boy's record—better mind your ma's and pa's;
The Lookout Man is watching, and he'll tell old Santa Claus.

I also knew a little girl who was just awful bad,
She wouldn't learn her lessons, and she always got so mad
If anybody told her to be still and hush her noise—
Well, she was always wishing for a lot of Christmas toys,
But when 'twas Christmas morning, to her wonder and surprise
An empty stocking hanging in the corner met her eyes,
You see, she acted naughty—better mind your ma's and pa's;
The Lookout Man is watching, and he'll tell old Santa Claus.

The Lookout Man is peeping through the windows every night,
And counting up the children who are always acting right
And going off to bed at once when told it's time to go,
And never pouting, not a bit, nor taking clothes off slow,
He puts them in the good book, but the bad ones in the bad—
And when he writes a bad one, O, he looks just awful sad,
For he knows they will get nothing—better mind your ma's and pa's;
The Lookout Man is watching, and he'll tell old Santa Claus.

CHRISTMAS LEGENDS.

All around the season of the Coming of Love as a little Child there have sprung legends and beliefs, like blossoms in a gracious clime, which testify with subtlety to the depth of the appeal of the birth of Christ. Here divinely spiritual symbolism and there sweet human tenderness and pathos appear, and, blended, they evidence the world's belief that this was both Son of Man and Son of God.

An Irish legend tells that, on Christmas eve, the Christ-Child wanders out in the darkness and cold, and the peasants still put lighted candles in their windows to guide the sacred little feet, that they may not stumble on their way to their homes. And in Hungary the people go yet farther in their tenderness for the Child, they spread feasts and leave their doors open that He may enter at His will, while throughout Christendom there is a belief that no evil can touch any child who is born on Christmas eve.

The legend which tells how the very hay which lined the manger in which the Holy Babe was laid put forth living red blossoms at midwinter at the touch of the Babe's body could only have arisen from belief in the renewal of life through the Lore of Life.

THE HOLY THORN.

It is not so many centuries ago since there was that holy thorn at Glastonbury which blossomed every Christmas, and, so ran the legend, had done ever since St. Joseph of Arimathea, having come as apostle to Britain, and, landing at Glastonbury, had stuck his staff of dry hawthorn into the soil, commanding it to put forth leaves and blossoms. This the staff straightway did, and thereby was the king converted to the Christian faith, the faith which preached life from death.

The holy thorn of Glastonbury flourished during the centuries until the civil wars. During those it was uprooted; but several persons had had trees growing from cuttings from the original tree, and those continued to bloom at the Christ-season, just as their parent, which had grown from St. Joseph's staff, had bloomed. And about the middle of the 18th century it was recorded in the Gentleman's Magazine how the famous holy thorn would not deign to recognize the new style calendar, which had then come into force but would persist in blossoming as of old on old Christmas day!

In those days the anniversary of the advent of the Babe had certainly meant more to the common people than merely a time for feasting and revelry, for giving and receiving; it had been also a season for holy observances, for they refused to go to church on New Christmas day, the holy thorn not being then in blossom. So serious became the trouble that the clergy found it prudent to announce that Old Christmas day should also be kept sacred as before. Only another story of men's weak, superstitious minds? True, perhaps; but they are better who evidence some spiritual weakness than those who wallow in the wholly material, and when we cease to be careful of the cup and the platter, we become not over careful of their contents.

THE FIRST CHRISTMAS ROSE.

Another of those spiritual parables is the legend of the Christmas rose, and it tells how good things, fit for giving, spring up ready to the hand which earnestly desires to give to the Child. It is said that a certain maiden of Bethlehem was so poor that she had nothing to give to the Babe to whom kings brought wealth from afar, and, as she stood, longing and mourning, and angel appeared to her, saying: "Look at thy feet, beneath the snow," and lo! on obeying the maiden found that a new flower had miraculously sprung up and blossomed at her needs. Every since then, runs this story, this exquisite flower, with its snowy petals just touched by suggestions of pinkish bloom, is to be found at this season; and, indeed, its half opened cups are like chalices of love, and its fully-spread petals are like a happy innocence, fit symbols for the gifts for the Babe of spotless innocence, whose heart was the vessel of love.

CHRISTMAS EVE LEGENDS.

There are several exceedingly touching legends concerning bells, which are heard ringing from buried cities and villages at this season. One belongs to a village near Raleigh, in Nottinghamshire, and the story runs that once, where there is now but a valley, there was a village which, with every trace of life and habitation, had been swallowed by an earthquake; but ever since, at Christmas, the bells of the buried church are heard to ring as of old.

A similar legend is told of Preston, in Lancashire, and yet another and more moving one comes from the Netherlands. It is said that the city of Been was notorious for its black and shameless sins, as well as renowned for its beauty and magnificence. To the Sodom of the middle ages came our Savior on one anniversary of his birth, and went as a beggar from door to door, but not one in all that Christmas keeping city gave the Master of the abundance. Sin he saw rampant on every side, but not a trace of Christmas bounty and good will, and he called to the sea, which as of old, obeyed his voice, and Been, the city of sin, was buried deep, clean out of sight, beneath the waves. But ever at Christmas up from beneath the covering waters comes the sweet calling of church bells buried in Been. It is a legend which appears to tell in parable that nothing which ever belonged to the Christ, and was dedicated to his service, is ever wholly lost from him and alienated from service; that ever and again something of their inherent beauty and compelling sweetness rises from the depths through all seeming ruin.

THE MANGER.

Tradition declares that within the stone manger there was another one of wood, and that the stone cradle in the Chapel of the Nativity is, indeed, the outer manger. Splendid is that humble stone trough now with white marble, softly rich with costly draperies, and radiant with a silver star, which is surrounded by 16 lamps, ever a-lit. But yet more glorious is the wooden manger at Rome, held to be the veritable manger in which the Christ child lay. It was removed to Rome in the seventh century, during the Mohammedan invasion of the Holy Land, and there it is preserved in a strong brazen chest, from which it is brought forth on Christmas days, when it is placed on the Grand Altar. It is mounted upon a stand of silver, which is inlaid with gold and gems, and the shrine in which it rests is of purest rock crystal. In the days in which this was accomplished men, whatsoever may have been their shortcomings in other directions, gave magnificently to the Church Visible.

CHRISTMAS BELLS.

Tradition says that the hour of the Babe's birth was the hour of midnight, and legend adds that from then until dawn cocks crow. In Ireland it is held that whoso looks into a mirror on this eve will see the devil or Judas Iscariot looking over his shoulder, surely thought sufficient to drive the hardiest soul to a thought of the innocent Babe.

Another legend tells that, on Christmas eve, Judas Iscariot is released from that hell—"his own place"—and is allowed to return to earth that he may cool himself in icy waters.

Wild and improbable although such and such legends appear on their faces, they bear study and repay it, for we then see that they are full of subtle spiritual expression, as it were; that they are parables of certain spiritual facts, and it will be ill for us should the Christmas day ever dawn on which such flowers of tender faith and wonder shall appear to us no more than dry curious specimens from the dead roots of superstition.

What Christmas Means.

Christmas means hope and its realization. The child grows eagerly expectant as the time approaches for the visit of Santa Claus. While this fiction remains unquestioned, the imagination opens new and wider worlds, and ideals become so much a part of the mind that the prosaic and commonplace can never crush them. Until the youth reaches manhood and independence, Christmas is the happiest day of the year. Its gifts and hearty good cheer impress family affection, parental thoughtfulness and brotherly love. The dullest and most irresponsive of fathers and mothers are uplifted to a vision of higher life by the interchanges of souvenirs and the merry meeting with children and grandchildren at the table and fireside. Few can escape and all enjoy the meaning of the festival, the lessons it conveys and the inspiration it gives, and we enter upon a brighter future and a fuller appreciation of the beneficence of the practice of faith, hope and charity. The loved ones who have crossed to the other side, the loved near and far who are still with us, the old homestead with its precious memories, the old church whose sacred associations tie together childhood, maturity and age, love, marriage and death; the schoolhouse where the beginnings of education were so painful, and the ever-increasing pleasures of the pursuit of learning through the high school, academy and college are recalled and recited, and there is exquisite delight in these oft-told tales, and new experiences enliven this blessed anniversary.—Leslie's Weekly.

First Christmas Observance

Christmas gets its name from the mass celebrated in the early days of the Christian church in honor of the birth of Christ, its first solemnization having been ordered by Pope Telesphorus. This was in or before the year 138, for in that year Pope Telesphorus died.

At first Christmas was what is known as a movable feast, just as Easter is now, and owing to misunderstandings was celebrated as late as April or May. In the fourth century and ecclesiastical investigation was ordered, and upon the authority of the tables of the censors in the Roman archives December 25th was agreed upon as the date of the Savior's nativity. Tradition fixed the hour of birth at about midnight, and this led to the celebration of a midnight mass in all the churches, a second at dawn and a third in the later morning.

A little candle went out walking one dark night, and bugs and flies, moths and men gave it an ovation; the next noonday it went out again, but no one noticed it.

HINTS ON MAILING CHRISTMAS GIFTS.

Points Which It Will be Well for Everybody Just Now.

Persons intending to send presents through the mail during the holidays should observe the following instructions:

All packages should be weighed and the correct amount of postage affixed thereto before mailing.

Communications of a personal character are strictly forbidden in packages requiring other than first class postage and if such packages have written communications the sender is subject to a fine and the packages are likely to be delayed until after Christmas.

Cards bearing "Merry Christmas," "Happy New Year," "Best wishes of the Season," and similar phrases can be placed in the package, provided nothing personal is added.

Merchandise always should be securely wrapped and tied and the name and address of the sender writtes or printed on the package.

The post office department has ruled that the request "Don't open until Christmas" can be put on unsealed packages without additional postage; this applies only to Christmas packages.

Red Cross stamps and Christmas stamps are not good for postage and should be placed on the back and end of packages, but not on the address side.

The following counties refuse to accept mail matter containing stamps other than postage: Austria, Norway, and Portugal.

All foreign countries refuse to accept any package with Christmas stamps placed on any part of the envelope or package other than the back.

The rate of postage for mail to be delivered in the United States is 2 cents per ounce, or fraction thereof for all articles that are sealed. For packages unsealed containing no writing the rate is one cent per ounce.

Unconventionalities.

"I just knew you were coming to visit us, Cousin Abigail. I saw the new moon over my left shoulder the other evening."

"Don't apologize for bringing the dog with you when you come to call, Mrs. Jipes. I've noticed that you don't stay quite so long when you bring him."

"I don't remember that I ever lent you any money, my dear fellow. If I did, I charged it up to profit and loss."

"Landlord, I haven't given a tip to any of the waiters, but I'll give you a tip if you'll tell me how you manage to get people to come and stay at your old shebang."

"You mustn't mind my telling you, Borus, that your latest book is the rottenest thing you ever wrote—and that's saying a good deal."

"Lettie, dear, you're a good girl, but if ever you get a husband you'll have to catch him with a lasso."—Chicago Tribune.

Baptized 4,000 Persons During His Life.

Rev. F. H. Jones, a well known Baptist minister, who died at his home a few days ago at Reidsville, N. C., aged 75. During his ministerial career he baptized 4,000 persons, among them ten men who became Baptist preachers and who are now occupying fruitful fields in this state and elsewhere.

All the bad things we do are the result of having nothing good to do. Idleness is the devil's trap. Keep busy.

LOCAL INTEREST.

Our Greeting!

This being our last week before Christmas and New Year, and wishing to be charitable to all, we therefore wish YOU ALL a merry Christmas and a happy New Year.

We hope you will make merry by doing what is right, and that you may make good resolves for the coming year and hold fast to them, and by doing so, at the end of the year, you will find yourself greatly benefitted by so doing.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Buchanan spent the week's end with their daughter, Mrs. C. R. Ballard of Lindside, W. Va.

Some nice, fine, rich, fresh, delicious fruit cakes for the Christmas trade, just received at J. H. Walker's.

Misses Nita Blankenship and Winnie Johnston spent the week's end with friends and relatives in Bluefield.

Mrs. Lee Buchanan of Kimballton, was shopping in town last week. She was the guest of Mrs. Geo. W. Osborne.

For something useful (as well as ornamental) get a nice sweater for Xmas from Buchanan & Powell.

Rev. W. B. Belchee will preach at Hale's Chapel next Saturday night and Sunday morning at 11 o'clock and Bluff City at night.

John R. Johnston and his son, William, who were visiting his brother, Wm. A., on Wolf Creek, returned to this city on Saturday last.

Don't fail to attend the Gypsy Queen entertainment at the High School auditorium, Friday night. You are sure to get your money's worth.

If you wish to get your money's worth, go to
BUCHANAN & POWELL.

Harry Echols, Peery Muncy, Martin Williams, Jr., and Thos. J. Pearson, Jr., have returned from M. C. V., Richmond, to spend their holidays with homefolks.

G. W. Hetherington of Staffordsville, shipped on Saturday last a car load of turkeys to Shippensburg, Pa. We hope he will return home safe and also receive the highest market prices for his birds.

Do not fail to attend the Christmas trees at the Baptist and Methodist churches on Monday and Tuesday nights, respectively. A joyous good time at both places.

On last Thursday morning the saw mill of J. J. Cole near Kimballton, was discovered to be on fire by Robert Snidow, a workman employed at this mill. A number hurried to the fire and soon extinguished it, causing but very little damage, probably about $100.00.

N. C. Heatherington returned Tuesday from a visit to Triggs. He reports Mr. Monroe Williams, who has been ill for a long time, not much better, if any. We are very sorry for this gentleman and hope for his recovery soon. We wish him a merry Christmas and a happy New Year.

We are just in receipt of a shipment of fine, fresh California Naval Oranges just from the orchards. The California Naval Oranges are the sweetest and finest oranges grown.
J. H. WALKER.

James Blaine Muncy of the V. P. I., Blacksburg, has arrived home for the holidays.

Don't everybody send us a present at once. It might procrastinate us.

Misses Mary Shelton and Mattie Johnston of Va. Institute, Bristol, Va., are home for the holidays.

A man that will "go back" on his "best girl" because it is Christmas, will steal the coppers off a dead person's eyes.

Several communications of quite lengthy dimensions, are crowded out this week, but will appear a little later on.

J. C. Daily of Bluefield, one of our oldest subscribers, passed through town Tuesday on his way to Wabash. He made us smile as he passed through.

When you want Christmas presents of any denomination, go to Carper Bros., they have them in abundance and at very low prices.

Misses Pearl Pyrtle and Clara Stafford, and Messrs. Frank Pyrtle, Warren Johnston and Clyde Odell of Roanoke Business College, are at home for the holidays.

If it's quality and low price you want, do not fail to go to
BUCHANAN & POWELL.

Our town has put on a fresh appearance, by so many of our young ladies and gentlemen being home from college for the holidays. It makes us feel good to see them.

Rev. M. W. Royall will preach at Pearisburg Sunday morning and night. Morning subject, "The Star of the Soul." Evening subject, "The King's Insurance Company."

The tunnel between Glen Lyn and Kellysville on the Virginian Railway, that fell in several months ago, has been repaired, and trains are now running through it.

E. E. Criner of Newport, in remitting us for subscription, wishes us a happy Christmas and a merry New Year. Thanks to you, Mr. Criner, we wish you the same, and may your shadow never grow less.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Hale of Bane, returned last Saturday from Bluefield, W. Va., where they attended the burial of Alex W. Bailey. Mr. Bailey was one of Mercer county's best citizens and was loved and respected by all who knew him. He leaves five children to mourn his loss.

We are sure to have a Xmas cake, as we received from Mr. S. W. Pyrtle of Ripplemead, a nice basket of fresh eggs as a Christmas present. These precious things came to us like oranges from Florida, all nicely wrapped in paper. They even looked delicious from the outside. We thank you very much and hope you will live to see three times as many Christmasses as the number sent us.

Presents for the Children.
Presents for Father and Mother.
Presents for Sister.
Presents for Brother.
Presents for "Her" and "Him."
BUCHANAN & POWELL.

W. T. Palmer, Justice of the Peace on Wolf Creek, gave us a call Wednesday.

Gypsy Queen, Friday night, 22nd inst., at High school auditorium. Don't fail to be there and take with you your "best girl"

The boys, or young men of our town, have organized themselves into a brass band, with Prof. W. A. Lugar as teacher, and pretty soon we expect to hear some excellent "tooting."

Wedding bells will soon ring here, if reports are true. Two or three fair maidens have been asked for and consent given. Oh, joy! If this does not look like bells will ring, what do you call it?

When we say quality and low price, it includes everything in general line
BUCHANAN & POWELL.

We notice in the Roanoke Times, that Mr. Robert Woolwine, once a resident here and a brother of Dr. W. D. Woolwine of this place, and Miss May Moses of Lafayette, were married in Salem, Saturday, the 9th inst., and are making their home at Vinton. We wish them success and happiness as they wend their ways together.

Jailor Franklin took Theo Hardy, col., one day last week to the Reformatory, who received a sentence of two years in that institution. It will be remembered that Hardy shot another colored man in this vicinity some three or four months since, and that he soon recovered from the effects of his wound.

We are receiving this week one of the handsomest lines of shoes ever on display in Pearisburg. Style and durability are combined in them, and the prices are right down at the bottom,
J. H. WALKER.

Read the change in the advertisement of the Duncan Implement Co., Rich Creek, Va., in this issue. When you want anything in hardware, farm implements, gasoline engines, cream separators, spray solutions, or anything else you can think of in this line, give this company a trial and you will be convinced they have the goods and the right people to trade with.

We have now hanging on our walls, a beautiful illustrated calendar for 1912, from the Remington Arms-Union Metalic Cartridge Co., 299-301 Broadway, New York City. This is a sportsman's calendar, is a very fine one, and any one can have the same by sending their address and four cents in stamps. If you want a nice calendar send to the above address and get one.

We have sent out up to this date 151 statements to those who are in arrears for subscription and so far only 25 have responded. Are you willing to act fair in your dealing with a toiling newspaper man? We send to your desk or table, each week a copy of the VIRGINIAN, on which we extend our energies and money, then we send you a statement of your account and you fail to respond to it. Now, do you consider this either right or honest?

Rev. K. G. Munsey, pastor of Eggleston M. E. church, brightened our office by his smiling countenance on Wednesday.

The third attraction of the Lyceum Course, "Rip Van Winkle," will be presented in the Pearisburg High School Auditorium, Saturday night, January 6, 1912. This attraction is especially strong. Reserved seat tickets can be had at the Pearisburg Pharmacy.

It being our old established custom not to issue any paper during Christmas week, and next week being that memorable one, no issue of the VIRGINIAN will appear. We know it will be hard on our subscribers to do without the "rag," but this is really the only time during the year when we can take a good, long breath, and we need a little recreation for the benefit of our health. The missing of this issue will be no loss to you, as we make it up in the future. So we ask you, readers, to grin and bear the missing of the VIRGINIAN for one week.

I have the largest and prettiest line of Christmas cards ever seen in Pearisburg,
J. H. WALKER.

DENNIS-BOLIN.

Miss Fannie Moore Bolin and Kyle Dennis were married Friday evening, December 1st, at 9:30 o'clock at the Mitchell House, the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. W. C. Bolin.

The wedding was a quiet one, only a few friends and relatives of the contracting parties being present. Mendelshon's wedding march was played by Mrs. W. C. Bolin, during the wedding services, which were performed by Rev. James Heaton of Hale. The bride's dress was of lavender silk, trimmed with trimmings of old lace. Benjaman Lineback of Elk Park, acted as best man and Miss Nell Campbell, cousin of the bride, as maid of honor. The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Minnie Bolin of Jonesboro, Tennessee, and has for the past year made her home with her aunt at Cranberry, N. C. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Dennis of Erwin, Tenn. The invited guests attending were: Mr. and Mrs. John Gaurley of Milligan, Tenn., Mrs. Elizabeth Allerton of Elizabethton, Tenn., R. L. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Helton and Carl Salyers of Johnson City, and Henry Richards, Supt. of the Cranberry Furnace Company.

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis will make their home at Cranberry, where Mr. Dennis holds a position with the E. T. & W. N. C. Ry. Co.

Princeton Editor Dead.

D. Howe Barger, editor and part owner of the Mountain Messenger, died at Princeton, W. Va., Friday night of pneumonia, after a short illness. Mr. Barger had been connected with newspapers in this county for several years, and with Rev. B. P. Pennington started the Mountain Baptist, which paper later became the Mountain Messenger. There is little doubt but that he gave Princeton the newsiest paper it ever had, each issue carrying much that was of interest to the public. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Barger.

"THE GYPSY QUEEN."

"The Gypsy Queen," will be played by the Senior Class of Pearisburg High School, in the School Auditorium on the evening of December 22nd, at 7:30 o'clock.

Admission 25 and 35 cents.

This play is very dramatic, as well as amusing. The characters are as follows:

Richard Harding, a man with a history,	Warren Stafford.
Joseph Dare, Irene's adopted son,	Tom Duncan.
Frank Savage, Dora's Lamb,	Jesse Johnston.
George Holt, weak-headed but tender-hearted,	Russell Pearson.
Adolphus Surpew, a cowboy evangelist,	Arch Phlegar.
Irene Dare, The Gypsy Queen, a woman with a history,	Lena Goodwin.
Inez, Harding's reputed daughter,	Lula Shrader
Dora Sharp, Inez's cousin,	Nita Rector.

Time of representation, two hours and a half.

SYNOPSIS OF INCIDENTS.

ACT I. The Picnickers. An angry father's demand. Shadows of the past. A woman's challenge. Dora's lamb falls foul of the dude, and a flirting coquette takes the warpath. A gathering storm. For a father's sin. A daughter's defiance.

NARROWS.

Mrs. W. E. C. Merriman left Wednesday for Hagerstown, Md., where she will visit relatives until after the holidays.

C. J. French returned Sunday from Cincinnati.

Harry C. Ellett of Princeton, spent several days here last week on legal business.

F. E. Bastian will spend this week in Roanoke on business for the N. R., H. & W.

Miss Magdalene Walker of Vinton, was the guest of the Misses Adair this week.

Preparations are being made to have entertainments at the Christian and Methodist churches during Xmas week.

Mrs. Frank E. Bastian left Monday for Williamsport, Penn., to spend the holidays with her mother.

Miss Nellie Adair returned Saturday from Wilmington, N. C., where she had been the guest for several months of her aunt, Mrs. Mollie Dunn.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hammer are rejoicing over the arrival of a new boy at their home.

Mrs. Charles D. French entertained a limited number of her friends at six o'clock dinner Thursday evening.

W. Russel Davis returned Thursday morning from Roanoke, where he purchased a new automobile.

Miss Grace Hale of Bluff City, spent several days here last week with relatives.

Mrs. D. F. Hale has been quite sick for several days with rheumatism.

SANTA CLAUS

Will find fresh Oranges, Lemons, Raisins, Currants, Dates, Figs, Cranberries, Nut Kernals, and candies of most all kinds, at PEARISBURG PHARMACY.

CHAPEL.

We have heard and know of farmers digging potatoes very late in the fall, but we know a farmer who dug his potatoes this year on the 14th day of December. He did not want to eat them up before Christmas, but he will come very near it, as he only had two and one-half bushels.

Alvis & Beamer, who have been sawing lumber on the land of Wm. A. Johnston, have about completed their job and will soon move their mill to other quarters.

A number of nice Christmas presents will be given to the Sunday school scholars here Sunday. These presents will probably be given immediately after preaching Sunday morning.

Wedding bells will soon ring in our midst. We don't wonder at the boys "grabbing" up our girls like hungry dogs at a bone, for we have as pretty and as sweet a lot of girls on this creek as can be found on any creek in this county or anywhere else.

Your scribe can recommend women on Wolf Creek as making good wives, he was there himself and knows what he is talking about. While sitting pretty close to one the other day and chatting at a rapid rate, she all the while was making yarn for a pair of socks or something else useful. This is what we call combining pleasure and business together.

Billy Johnston returned from Oakvale last Friday where he went to visit his daughter, Mrs. Will Beamer. Report has it that he is casting "sheeps eye" at a lovely widow. One thing is certain, he visits his daughter quite often and makes long stays. Looks quite suspicious.

Y. M. C. A. JOINS IN HEALTH CAMPAIGN.

Promise Co-operation With State in War on Disease.

Richmond, Va., Dec. 14, 1911.—A new ally for health work has been found in the Young Men's Christian Associations of the State, which have pledged their co-operation to the State in the war on disease and which have already begun active steps towards improving sanitary conditions in the cities where located.

Danville has the distinction of being one of the first cities of the Commonwealth to begin the campaign, according to officials of the Health Department who have advised with the Y. M. C. A. workers of that city.

The Danville Association has arranged a series of public lectures in the auditorium of its building and has invited a number of health authorities to speak there. This is regarded not only as an educational measure, but as a step toward the re-organization of health work in Danville.

"The Christian Association offer a splendid field for health work," said Commissioner Williams in discussing the matter this morning. "They have a splendid organization, have many members who are in close touch with local conditions and wherever they will unite with the health authorities they can be of the utmost value in opening up new fields of activity. The State Health Department stands ready, with other health organizations, to co-operate with the Association in these lecture courses."

Red Cross Seals Will Aid in Reducing Death Rate.

Richmond, Va., Dec. 13, 1911.—One of the strongest arguments advanced by health authorities in the Red Cross seal campaign is that the widespread use of these seals in the State is a contribution of great value towards a further reduction of the death rate from consumption in the State.

Health authorities point with pride to the record made in the State against tuberculosis and declare that no State has done more in the last few years than has Virginia to reduce the number of new cases of consumption.

It is argued likewise that the greater part of all work to be done against consumption is educational, and that the information of the people as to the cause and prevention of consumption is the most immediate road to the conquest of the White Plague.

From the proceeds of the Red Cross seals, which are now selling in all parts of the State, funds will be available to push this campaign of education throughout the Commonwealth. "The extent of our work and the success of our educational campaign is directly in proportion to the funds available from the Red Cross seals," said an officer of the State Anti-tuberculosis Association today.

WANT MORE "FRESH AIR."

Health Department Bulletin in Great Demand Throughout State.

Richmond, Va., Dec. 13, 1911.—If the demand for information regarding fresh air indicates the desire of the people of the State to have abundant ventilation, health officers express their hope that the ravages of consumption and like diseases of bad air will be much reduced. Since the Health Department issued its bulletin on Fresh Air,—the first of its kind in the State,—there have been demands for the bulletin from all parts of the State. The edition, however is a large one and will be sufficient to supply all requests for some months to come.

His Ambition.

Tommy—What are you going to do when you grow up?

Johnny—I'm going to have bedclothes long enough to pull over my head without scorching.—New York Sun.

Those Women!

The chief was cross that morning and was venting his wrath on the pretty young lady who manipulated the typewriter.

"Everything is in confusion on my desk," he said testily. "It always is."

"You insist that you don't want anything disturbed there," she responded meekly.

"Well, I don't wish my papers disturbed, but I don't want this sheet of postage stamps left there."

"Where shall I put them?" she inquired demurely as she took them up.

"Don't ask too many questions," he snapped. "Put them anywhere out of my sight."

"Very well, sir," she cooed as softly as a dove.

And, licking them with her pretty red tongue, she stuck the sheet on his bald head and walked out to seek a new situation.—Houston Chronicle.

Rebuffed.

"No, sir!" roared the old man as Slithers asked for the hand of his daughter. "I know you pretty well, Slithers, and it doesn't take two eyes for me to see that the hand you're after is the hand that writes the checks. Nobody shall ever marry my girl for her money."

"You wrong me, Colonel Bilkins," returned Slithers. "I don't give a hang for her money. All I want is the girl alone."

"Well, by ginger! I'll see that you don't get her alone," retorted Bilkins, "if I have to hire every blessed chaperon from Maine to California. The man who says he doesn't care a hang for her money is either a second Ananias or a blankety blank idiot."—Harper's Weekly.

Knew the Risks.

Chloe, a huge black cook of middle age, came to her mistress one day with the announcement that she was about to be married. Regretting the loss of an excellent cook and having real interest in Chloe's welfare, her mistress said:

"I hope, Chloe, you appreciate the fact that marriage is a serious thing and you have considered carefully in regard to the step you are about to take. Marriage brings great responsibility."

"Deed it does, ma'am!" said Chloe, with emphasis. "I reckon I knows, fo' I's been mah'ied fo' times. I knows just what reesks yo' takes when yo' done git mah'ied. My last divo'ce cost me twenty-five dollahs, but I made him pay half of it. Yo' nevah know what yo' is gittin' into when yo' gits mah'ied."—Washington Star.

The Size of the Oceans.

The Pacific ocean covers 68,000,000 square miles, the Atlantic 30,000,000 and the Indian ocean, Arctic and Antarctic oceans 45,000,000. To stow away the contents of the Pacific it would be necessary to fill a tank one mile long, one mile wide and one deep every day for 440 years. Put in figures the Pacific holds in weight 948,000,000,000,000,000,000 tons. The Atlantic averages a depth of not quite three miles. Its waters weigh 325,000,000,000,000,000,000 tons, and a tank to contain them would have each of its sides 430 miles long. The figures of the other oceans are in the same startling proportions. It would take all the sea water in the world 2,000,000 years to flow over Niagara.

Warning.

"Jimmy," said Tommy, "what is the matter with you? You don't never go in for any fun nowadays."

"No; I'm bein' good because I'm goin' to have a birthday soon, an' I wait to git a present," replied Jimmy.

"Better not be too good or mebbe they won't give yer nothin' but a Bible."

Stella—If the third finger is for the wedding ring, which is for divorce?

Bella—The finger of scorn.—Judge.

Boston pays twenty-nine cents per capita to support its jails. Prohibition Maine pays two cents per capita. If that fact doesn't make a mighty big financial problem out of the drink traffic we would like for some wiseacre to tell us why.—Monroe Watchman.

Saved His Wife's Life.

"My wife would have been in her grave today," writes O. H. Brown of Muscapine, Ala., "if it had not been for Dr. King's New Discovery. She was down in her bed, not able to get up without help. She had a severe bronchial trouble and a dreadful cough. I got her a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery, and she soon began to mend, and was well in a short time." Infallible for coughs and colds, its the most reliable remedy of earth for desperate lung trouble, hemorrhages, lagrippe, asthma, hay fever, croup and whooping cough. 50c, $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by T. J. Pearson.

"How is it that woman seems to know so much more about Europe than most of us?" said the frank and outspoken lady.

"Because," replied Miss Cayenne, "she stayed at home and read guide books instead of squandering her time in travel."

Lightning Kills Few.

In 1906 lightning killed only 169 people in this whole country. One's chances of death by lightning are less than two in a million. The chance of death for liver, kidney or stomach trouble is vastly greater but not if Electric Bitters be used, as Robert Maddox of West Burlington, Ia., proved. Four doctors gave him up after eight months of suffering from virulent liver trouble and yellow jaundice. He was then completely cured by Electric Bitters. They're the best stomach, liver, nerve and kidney remedy and blood purifier on earth. Only 50c at T. J. Pearson's.

"Why did you leave the place in which you were previously employed?" asked the head of the firm.

"I think," said the applicant for the position of office boy, "de boss was afraid if I stayed I might git his place."

Ends Winter's Troubles.

To many, winter is a season of trouble. The frost bitten toes and fingers, chapped hands and lips, chilblains, cold sores, red and rough skins, prove this. But such troubles fly before Bucklen's Arnica Salve. A trial convinces. Greatest healer of Burns, Boils, Piles, Cuts, Sores, Bruises, Eczema and Sprains. Only 25c at T. J. Pearson's.

Patiner—He said he would go through fire for me.

Patrice—Well, you don't doubt him, do you?

"Sometimes I do. I notice he always sits near the fire extinguisher when he calls on me."

A Terrible Blunder

to neglect liver trouble. Never do it. Take Dr. King's New Life Pills on the first sign of constipation, biliousness or inactive bowels and prevent virulent indigestion, jaundice or gall stones. They regulate liver, stomach and bowels and build up your health. Only 25c at T. J. Pearson's.

A fair day's wages for a fair day's work is the everlasting right of man.

We wish to call your attention to the fact that most infectious diseases such as whooping cough, diphtheria and scarlet fever are contracted when the child has a cold. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will quickly cure a cold and greatly lessen the danger of contracting these diseases. This remedy is famous for its cures of colds. It contains no opium or other narcotic and may be given to a child with implicit confidence. Sold by all dealers.

Many a man doesn't realize that he might have made good as a fiction writer until he hears some of his love letters read in court.

He who comes up to his own idea of greatness must always have had a very low standard of it in his mind.

A Des Moines man had an attack of muscular rheumatism in his shoulder. A friend advised him to go to Hot Springs. That meant an expense of $150.00 or more. He sought for a quicker and cheaper way to cure it and found it in Chamberlain's Liniment. Three days after the first application of this liniment he was well. For sale by all dealers.

A woman may not be able to reform the man she marries, but she is reasonably sure to inform him.

You will find that druggists everywhere speak well of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. They know from long experience in the sale of it that in cases of coughs and colds it can always be depended upon, and that it is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by all dealers.

Our observation is that no mother can do her full duty by a big family of boys without becoming a good deal of a pugilist.

If you are troubled with chronic constipation, the mild and gentle effect of Chamberlain's Tablets makes them especially suited to your case. For sale by all dealers.

Jones—Do you think the horse will survive the automobile?

Brown—Not if he gets in its way.

When you have a bilious attack give Chamberlain's Tablets a trial. They are excellent. For sale by all dealers.

Notice to inventors—A device for squeezing water out of stocks and the milk supply would fill a long felt want.

There can be no just reason why any reader of this will continue to suffer the tortures of an aching back, the annoyance of urinary disorders, the dangers of serious kidney ills when relief is so near at hand and the most positive proof given that these ills can be cured. The following is convincing proof.

W. H. Hall, Dade Hill, Pulaski, Va., says: "I willingly allow the continued use of my name in praise of Doan's Kidney Pills. I have been entirely free from kidney complaint since this remedy cured me some years ago. My kidneys were disordered for several years and though I tried many remedies, I did not seem to improve. My back became so weak that I could hardly get around and the kidney secretions were highly colored and irregular in passage. My hips and limbs became affected and for five weeks, I was in a critical condition. A friend advised me to take Doan's Kidney Pills and I did so. They benefitted me in every way and I was convinced of their merits."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

"Cardui Cured Me"

For nearly ten years, at different times, Mrs. Mary Jinks of Treadway, Tenn., suffered with womanly troubles. She says: "At last, I took down and thought I would die. I could not sleep. I couldn't eat. I had pains all over. The doctors gave me up. I read that Cardui had helped so many, and I began to take it, and it cured me. Cardui saved my life! Now, I can do anything."

TAKE CARDUI The Woman's Tonic

If you are weak, tired, worn-out, or suffer from any of the pains peculiar to weak women, such as headache, backache, dragging-down feelings, pains in arm, side, hip or limbs, and other symptoms of womanly trouble, you should try Cardui, the woman's tonic. Prepared from perfectly harmless, vegetable ingredients, Cardui is the best remedy for you to use, as it can do you nothing but good. It contains no dangerous drugs. It has no bad after-effects. Ask your druggist. He sells and recommends Cardui.

The Holidays.

Once again, once again,
Christmas wreaths are twining;
Once again, once again,
Mistletoe is shining.

Time is marching through the land,
Decked with leaf and berry;
He leads the Old Year in his hand,
But both the churls are merry. .

His speaketh in the clanging bells,
He shouts at every portal:
God speed the tidings that he tells—
"Good-will and peace to mortals."

Gladly welcome shall he be,
Even though he traces
Silver threads upon our heads
And wrinkles on our faces.

For once again, once again,
He brings the happy meeting;
Whence cynic lips may preach in vain
That life is sad and fleeting.

Christmas logs should beacon back
The wanderer from his roving;
Leave, oh! leave the world's wide track,
And join the loved and loving.

Spirits that have dwelt apart,
Cold with pride and folly,
Bring alive in your hand and heart
To weave with Christmas holly.

—Eliza Cook.

A Fool's Christmas.

A TRUE STORY WITHOUT ARTIFICIAL LIGHTS.

Everybody said that the Carson children had done very well with themselves since their parents died. Indeed, there were those who considered it quite providential that they had been thrown on their own resources, since their father had been anything but a model of financial success and their mother a lily-like woman who had never thrived in the rude western garden into which she had been transplanted.

Both died in the same week, and the children at once set about the business of life with great good sense.

They had not a dollar left when everything was settled. Even the old house was sold away from them. But they decided to hold together and get their share of the world's chances. There were five of them—George, Catharine, Julia, Annette, and Davy. Nobody ever mentioned Davy, who did not speak his name softly and with an accent of gentle pity, for he was simple minded. He was a fool.

Though he was large and well formed, at sixteen his face was as vacant as a baby's. But there was "no harm in him," the neighbors said. He was just a big infant, pleased with the trifles that delight the very least of children, and of as little use, as usefulness in this blind old world, as the weeds that grow on the hillsides or the wild vines that choke the grain.

Yet he wasn't a disagreeable figure to look at. His appearance never excited repulsion, only pity. He was always well dressed, and the yellow curls that covered his big head like a fleece were always hushed and shining. Though his vacant brown eyes were sometimes misty with tears, they knew nothing of anger. He had a laugh for everybody and was invariably happy. He could not understand in the smallest degree the troubles which beset all humanity born to superior endowments. His world was so little and so comfortable, so simple and so beautiful, so entirely without distress or dread; that he was absolutely happy. Mothers of bright boys just beginning to make places for themselves in the world sighed as they looked at Davy Carson and recalled his image when he was a chubby baby toddling by his mother's side.

They recalled him as he had often sat by her as she sewed, on the shady porch, putting the words of his small vocabulary together to express his pleasure. The dogs and the cats, the swallows that built their nests under the roof of the old porch, the squirrels that sometimes flashed through the yard, the butterflies and even the bees knew Davy.

He who could talk only half ingly to men and women knew the language of the voiceless creatures understand. Many the days he passed in their company, laughing and happy. And so he grew up—grew in body, though scarcely at all in mind. It was pitiful to see him, almost a man in stature, holding his hands be low some foolish toy, a baby's mug, or a glass bird, when another examined it, childishly eager to protect it from possible carelessness.

In but two things did he advance—kindness and love. Though his intellect stood still, his spiritual senses seemed somehow to grow. Instinctively he understood that all living things were entitled to kindness, and in his poor simple fashion he was forever trying to help the helpless. His mind was not clouded there. Higher than the intellect sits the soul. Through the strange veil that shrouded his mind, the simple boy's soul looked out clear and beautiful. Literally and absolutely did he fulfill the golden rule—he who could not understand a law, who knew not a line of injunction, who had no idea of reward or punishment, of heaven or hell, of God or demon. Yet he did all that the wisest of us are commanded to do. And so he grew up—big, simple, kind and loving.

When his father and mother died—both were carried to the cemetery on the same day—Davy was dazed by the strangeness of it all; but could not understand that anything in the nature of a calamity had occurred. He tiptoed over the room and spoke in whispers, not because he was awed by the presence of death, but for fear a noise would disturb their sleep.

When he saw them no more, he often, searched for them again, and again, and waited for them always with a patience that was more than mortal, and a longing that made his childish face at times look old and sick.

There were days when he was so sure they would come back that he sat by the gate from morning until night, looking down the street over which the long dark wagon had driven when it carried them away asleep—sat there hopeful and happy, eager to be the first to greet them.

One day Rev. Winthrop walked by and was touched by the longing in the boy's face. The hunger of the heart had temporarily extinguished the look of vacancy in his eyes, and they burned with a pathos that was indescribable. He sat rocking a worn out doll in his strong arms, alternately kissing and holding it up that it might see those he waited for while they were still far off. "What are you doing Davy?" said the minister, kindly.

"Waiting for mother and father," answered the big child, his face breaking into a laugh at the mention of their names.

Mr. Winthrop had a kind heart, but was sometimes clumsy in his methods of imparting instruction.

He revered the truth, and thought he ought to bring it within the comprehension of the child's feeble mind, and so with the best intentions in the world, he began by trying to rob him of his sweet hope.

"They will never come, Davy, never, never in this world again."

"Eh!" said the boy, and the momentary look of hope gave way to one of bewilderment. He did not understand.

The minister continued: "They will never come, Davy, not to day, nor tomorrow, nor next day, nor next, never, never. They cannot come. They are dead."

"Dead, dead," echoed the child looking into distance. "Dead like the birds that can't fly or sing, like the dog that kept so still and was put in the ground. No they couldn't die, my mother couldn't die, my father couldn't die.

He said this with such calm assurance, such unruffled hope, that the minister stood abashed and rebuked. Here was the perfect faith he had vainly tried to instill into greater minds, the sum of all his teaching. The soul he had tried to enlighten was on higher ground than he. It knew no doubt.

He repeated over and over the boy's words: "They couldn't die," as he walked away, seeing clearer than ever what is meant by the scriptural assertion that out the mouths of babes cometh wisdom. Yes, the "Carson children"—as the neighbor's called them though they were all grown up—had done well with themselves, since their parents died. The four who constituted the working force developed a genius for the science of getting along, they were as ambitious, practical and wordly as their father had been dreamy and unworldly. The prizes he passed by with indifference, they strove for and gained.

They held together and in a year or two bought back the old home and brought it out of dilapidation into smiling companionship with its modern neighbors. They liked to advance themselves in that never-to be defined circle which calls itself society. George decided that money was the best thing attainable, and set about getting rich. Catharine managed the housekeeping; Julia made music her profession and Annette, the loveliest of the sisters, married and went away.

For a while Davy was not neglected. His brother and sisters remembering their mother's tireless tenderness and their father's unvarying patience towards his helplessness, did their best to make him happy.

He was their one great charge—a holy one had they only known it. His weakness and trustfulness were continual monitors to their hearts.

But the days went on, and their cares increased and their interests widened. Each had aspirations outside the circle of home. Contact with the world, successful contact began to do its work. It was teaching them to value the tinsel-gilding of life higher than the pure gold. It was teaching them a false standard of worth. It was inoculating them with the insidious sin of selfishness, and at last it taught them to be ashamed of Davy. Being ashamed of him they tried to keep him hidden. They were never unkind to him; but by and by there seemed to be no place for him.

He didn't notice the change. In his simple soul there was neither suspicion nor discontent. He rocked his dolls, talked to the birds and dogs, still watched at the gate—at times still watched for his mother and father, and still loved all the world.

They could never afterward tell who suggested it. Perhaps it was Catharine, who had grown less kind of late, or perhaps it was George, whose pursuit of money grew more engrossing every day; or it might have been Julia who was continually sought after by what they were pleased to call "society." The had all thought of it, but jus who had dared to first utter it they could never afterward deter mine. After it had been spoken however, it was easy enough to give it shape and development.

It is the first expression of evil that is difficult, after that the way is smooth. At last it was talked of, quite plainly Davy was in the way. He was a discredit to them, and an obstacle to their advancement. They were ashamed of him.

"Something ought to be done with him." They talked it over, and actually persuaded them selves, as people often will, when they are about to do something very mean, that they are doing it for the victim's good.

Catharine urged that Davy wandered away so much that she was always uneasy about him, and she was too busy to be continually hunting him up, she couldn't answer for what he might do. George was absorbed in the great business of getting rich, and did not dissent. Julia, too, seemed to have given up all weakness in the shape of love for him and agreed with the others that he "ought to be put somewhere." At last it was decided to send him to the poorhouse. It was not that they grudged him the little it cost to supply his necessities; they wanted him out of the way. Neither did they want to send him to the almshouse as a pauper, but as a person of infirm mind—not demented enough to be lodged in a hospital for the insane, but too uncertain to have his liberty. The way was easy. The law was on their side, though humanity was not. They even plumed themselves upon having done more than their duty by him. They were to pay his board and buy his clothes. The idea was, they wanted him "looked after."

This was the language in which they clothed the very meanest act of their lives.

They measured out justice at a valuation of dollars and cents, and took no account of most precious things. They were about to hurt the helpers, forgetting it is written that the strong shall share their strength with the weak. The evening before Davy was to leave, an ominous silence fell on the household. The unkind deed planned for the morrow had already taken evil shape at their hearth, intangible but real. The knowledge of the invisible spectre, whose name was injustice, made them strangely silent—all but Davy. He was playing with a toy fox that barked weakly when it was squeezed.

At the feeblest sound that came from the mouth of the diminutive Reynard he would break into peals of laughter. The more he laughed the graver grew the three other faces. His perfect trust put them to shame.

Outside the wind was making wild music. Suddenly it blew open the gate, which swung shut again with a clatter of its iron latch. "It's mother! it's mother!" shouted Davy, springing to the door and opening it; but only the raw December night-wind rushed in. At least that seemed to be all, but brought with it a chill. The word "mother," as Davy spoke it, had rent her grave and brought her there—an actual presence.

All felt her calm eyes look into their guilty hearts with sorrowful surprise, and saw her wrap her arms lovingly around Davy, as they had seen her do in a thousand times. They did not see this with their natural eyes, but their clumbering consciences aroused by her name took this shape. Davy shut the door, and sat down with a look of disappointment on his face. "She didn't come" he said, "but I thought all day she would." He sat for a minute and then said to Catherine: "If mother comes tonight you'll wake me Katy, won't you? She'll be so glad to see me," and at that very thought he was all sunshine again.

This innocent faith in his own importance touched them. There was not one of the three at that moment who would not gladly have undone everything and declared Davy should stay there forever; but no one put the wish into words. It is as difficult to give expression to good at first as to evil. That curious shame which sometime seals the lips when the noblest feeling demand utterance held them silent. And so the golden moment which might have been glorified by a deed of imperishable beauty rolled by, and an act of shameful selfishness was recorded in its stead. Some of the gloom that shadowed the place settled upon Davy at last, and he laid his head upon Julia's lap and fell asleep. It was ten o'clock the next morning when John Keller, who drove the wagon from the poor-farm to the town every day halted before the Carson cottage, Davy was never so jubilant. He was full of health, easily pleased and was about to have a ride.

At first, he thought he would take the cat with him. Finally he changed his mind and took his doll, which by some—to him—unaccountable agency had been freshly and gaily dressed, and was standing in the front window as though ready for ceremonious events. Her modish attire was a pitiful burlesque upon her destination; but happily, she and her owner were both unconscious of that. Surely no one could have dreamed that such a beautiful belle of dolldom was destined to display her charms in an almshouse. As soon as Davy saw her he dropped the cat, declaring that she was the prettiest doll in the world, and should go for a ride. With the barking fox in his pocket and the beautiful belle in his arms he climbed into the wagon and sat down beside John Keller as innocent and happy a child as ever found pleasure in childish things. "Good bye, Katy, I'll be back by dinner time," he called, out cheerily. Catherine did not answer, she stood leaning on the gate, with dry eyes and a horrible heaviness at her heart. The others had gone away like cowards, leaving her to go through the ugly work alone as they had always done. She was silent but she suffered, she realized she had done a hateful thing, was sullen over it and would say nothing. John Keller's face grew very white and his big hands fumbled nervously with his coat. He ended the scene by slapping the lines on the horse's back and away they went. Davy turned around, and with a grin that covered his entire face called out, "Good bye," louder than ever, and holding the doll up helped her bow an ungraceful adieu. It was most pathetic to hear John Keller tell of that ride afterward. "I never saw any human being as happy as that boy. Every bird that flew over our heads delighted him. He made that foolish little fox in his pocket bark a hundred times. Pon my word, I couldn't keep the tears out of my eyes to see him so happy and know where he was going to." "I don't see how them Carson children could send him away, I really don't.

Rev. Andrew Shumate and wife of Fork Union, Va., were visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Shumate, near this place, during the holidays.

Resolves, like pie crust, are often broken, but people who have some stamina and 'get up' about them, can make them and keep them. How is it with you?

Ed Carper, who has been confined to his bed with typhoid fever, for the past six or eight weeks, we are proud to say, is now able to walk around at his home.

We are glad to report that Mrs. Thos. J. Rader of Glen Lyn, who has been seriously ill for the past two weeks, is improving and is able to be out again.

Prof. Jas. R. Stafford and family of Rocky Mount, Va., spent the holidays here with relatives and friends. Glad to see and shake hands with our old townsman.

Haynes Brotherton and family spent a few days in Bluefield lately with Mrs. W. F. Collins, Mrs. Brotherton's sister. They returned home Wednesday of last week.

J. R Furrow of Newport, in remitting us, says: "A happy Christmas and merry New Year, is my wishes to you and a long life of prosperity." Many thanks for your kind words.

We have a large number of statements out that you have not remitted to us, as yet. Is it possible you pay no attention to us and do not care what becomes of us. Seems that way.

We are sorry to state that our old friend and townsman, Mr. A. L. Fry, is confined to his home with illness, though not serious we are proud to say. Hope to see him on our streets soon.

Mrs. Capt. W. D. Haynes in remitting us for the VIRGINIAN, says: "With every good wish for all the good people of Giles county: wishing the VIRGINIAN a most prosperous New Year."

We had a very pleasant call from Mr. A. Blaine Brooks of Emory and Henry College on Saturday last. He was a very pleasant gentleman and we enjoyed his presence very much.

Rev. Dr. J. J. Lloyd of Episcopal faith, preached a very interesting sermon in the M. E church on Sunday night last. Rev. Lloyd is a very able minister and is sure to please those who hear him.

Quite a goodly number of colored people to show their appreciation of Dr. J. L. Muncy deceased, viewed the remains and attended his burial. He surely had friends among all classes and conditions of life.

Your attention is called to the advertisement of R. A. Brice & Son, in another column. They are after your poultry, butter and eggs. They are headquarters for fancy dressed turkeys and offer best possible prices.

This is Leap Year. Lookout gentlemen, for the widows, old maids and marriageable young maidens. They will be after you. The first two mentioned, will, in all probability, try to "shove" themselves off on you.

Miss Mattie Lease of Tazewell, was the guest of Miss Clara Stafford, Tuesday and Wednesday. Misses Lease and Stafford returned to Roanoke-National Business Col., Roanoke, where they are taking a short hand course.

Otto Wilburn of Sugar Run, who accidentally shot himself about two weeks ago, while out hunting, we are sorry to say, died from his wound one day last week. We tender to his parents, brothers and sisters our sincere sympathy.

Dr. F. G. Kell and wife of Welch, W. Va., spent the holidays at Bluff City with Mrs. E. C. Hale, Mrs. Kell's mother, and her sister Mrs. A. E. Shumate, and at Narrows with two sisters, Mesdames J. E. Hammer and Alfred Hale.

We are pleased to state that Ray Snidow, who it will be remembered was seriously injured by his horse running away with him at Pembroke, a few weeks ago, is now able to be up and go about his home. We hope for his ultimate recovery at an early day.

We call attention to the new advertisement of Frank Hellerick & Co., in another column. They never tire of wanting turkeys, chickens, ducks, geese, eggs and butter. They report having a nice business from our county during 1911, and ask a continuance of the same for 1912.

Watches, clocks, jewelry, graphophones, organs, sewing machines and revolvers carefully repaired. Gold soldering neatly executed. All work guaranteed first class. All kinds of produce taken in exchange for work. Call on C. W. BROYLES, over Bond's Grocery, Pearisburg, Va.

We have printed by request a long-winded Christmas story, which will be found on our outside, and hope every one of our readers will read it, as it is in our opinion, a real good story, if not perhaps, the truth. It shows how that little thing, called sin, will creep into one's heart. Be on your guard.

W. H. Hansbarger and wife of Peterstown, W. Va., visited Pearisburg Sunday to attend the funeral of Dr. James L. Muncy. While here they were guests at the home of Theo Dulaney and wife. Their little daughter, Madge, will remain in Pearisburg during the balance of the school term and make her home with them.

Peruse the advertisement of Pearisburg Pharmacy, J. A. Booth, proprietor, in another column. This new drugstore is a long-felt want supplied to our people. Any one wanting drugs, medicine, etc., can procure same at home, without going a distance. We cannot enumerate here all he has to sell, so read the "ad" and find out.

Christmas passed off very quietly here. It was the quietest one we have had in many years. There were some drinking and merry-making but none of the transgressors of the law were before the mayor, which goes to say, they kept themselves very quiet. We are truly glad to see the way our citizens (with the exception of a few) behaved themselves on this memorable occasion. We are surely growing better, but we might be a great deal better still. Let's try it for 1912.

John Foote, Jr., of Bluefield, spent several days in town during the holidays.

R. Allen Brown spent the holidays with his parents in Wytheville.

Rev. M. W. Royall will preach at Narrows next Sunday morning and night.

"The beautiful snow," about six inches deep, arrived here Tuesday afternoon.

G. Hal Peck of Roanoke, spent the holidays with his sister, Mrs. Dan St. Clair of Bane.

Judge Skeen and family of Norton, were visiting homefolks here during the holidays.

Preaching in the M. E. church Sunday at 11 o'clock and at 7:30 in the evening, by the pastor.

Miss Maud Shell of Graham, was visiting relatives here the first of the week. She returned home today.

J. A. Dunn and daughter, Miss Nellie, of Peterstown, W. Va., attended the burial of Dr. J. L. Muncy here last Sunday.

The "Rip Van Winkle" entertainment that was to have been played here Saturday next, has been postponed to Monday night, 15th inst.

A little child about eighteen months old of John Blackburn, Narrows, died Friday morning of pneumonia and was buried Saturday afternoon.

W. E. Minter, wife and daughter, Eleanor of Kenova, C. S. Angel, wife and daughter, Elizabeth of Northfork, Hoge Mason and daughters, Helen and Dorothy of Bluefield, W. Va., spent part of the holidays at the residence of Capt. D. W. Mason.

The Rosebud Missionary Society of the M. E. church, had a weighing party at the parsonage on Monday night. The young people had a very enjoyable time. Quite a snug little sum was raised by the "Rosebuds." From what we learn, this is a splendid way of raising money.

The following relatives from a distance of Dr. J. L. Muncy, deceased, were in attendance at his funeral and burial: T. J. Muncy and wife, Tazewell; J. A. Muncy and daughter, Miss Addie, Mrs. C. P. Muncy and son Minor, Miss Jessie Sue Bruce, Perry Bruce, Mrs. W. A. Davidson, Bland; Mrs. T. R. Kelley, Radford; Dr. E. S. Peery, Bluefield; Mr. and Mrs. Hansbarger, Peterstown, and Rev. H. E Bailey and wife, Eggleston.

The Christmas trees at the Baptist church Christmas night and at the Methodist church Tuesday night, following, were beautiful ones, and the pretty presents that hung on them more than pleased the children. While waiting for Santa Claus to put in his appearance, an enjoyable programme of recitation and music was heard by a large audience. The recitations by the children were exceedingly fine and could not have been excelled by even more older ones. The music on these occasions, was far above any we have heard for many a day—even if ever. Taking both these events from start to finish, they were more than pleasing and a decided success.

Rev. Belchee informs us that 675 persons were in the church at the obsequies of Dr. J. L. Muncy. There were over a thousand people in and around the church.

Miss Bertha Ballard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Ballard of Peterstown, W. Va., spent several days in Pearisburg visiting Miss Ethel Dulaney and some of her relatives. Some of us had the pleasure of being agreeably entertained by this young lady's singing and playing, and we hope to have her with us again in the near future.

Quite a number of parties for the young folks have been held here lately, but as we have not been informed as to what transpired or what delicacies served on these occasions, we are at a loss what to say about them. One was held last (week) Wednesday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Pearson, and on the following Friday night, one at the home of Mrs. C. W. Bingham. That the young ladies and gents enjoyed themselves, there is no room for doubt.

We have received a nice Christmas card from our old friend, Edward F. Sheffey of Lynchburg, upon which it says: "God bless you and yours." Also the following nice and very lovely verse:

The thought of you brings back the days,
The happy days of old,
When friends were made that still abide,
As true as minted gold.

We wish you and yours never-ending prosperity and happiness.

RADFORD, VA.,
January 1, 1912.

EDITOR VIRGINIAN:

Having heard with profound sorrow of the death of Dr. James L. Muncy, I desire to express my appreciation of his professional ability and standing and the great loss which his family, the profession and the people he served so well, sustained in his death.

None but a physician knows a physician's cares. He has no hour he can call his own. Never exempt from the imperative call. The darker the night, the more disagreeable the weather conditions, the more likely he is to be needed and to be aroused from slumber to go the chamber of suffering.

Dr. Muncy was exceedingly popular and will be missed by a large number of friends in the home of his adoption, as well as in the adjoining counties where he was well and favorably known as a physician of rare clinical success.

A FRIEND.

RIPPLEMEAD.

W. T. Cowgy is spending the holidays at his home, wytheville.

S. A. Durham, 3rd trick operator at this place, has just returned from a visit to Cincinnati, Portsmouth and several other western cities. He was accompanied by his brother, Sidney Durham.

Misses Geraldine and Ernestine Gerald are spending the Xmas holidays at home.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Duncan and family are visiting Mr. Duncan's parents near Dublin.

Miss Mabel and Master Robt. Durham of Narrows, spent the week's end with J. H. Durham of this place. "Bonnibel."

MARRIAGES.

Painter-Wheeler.

A very quiet marriage took place here Wednesday night, December 20th, at the Baptist parsonage, when Mr. Ike Painter of this place and Miss Lattie Wheeler of Holly Springs, N. C., were united in marriage by Rev. M. W. Royall. This was a very quiet affair, no one knowing of their intention of marriage but the two witnesses. Mr. R. Allen Brown and Mr. Cecil Painter, a brother of the groom.

Miss Wheeler is the handsome and popular milliner for Mrs. C. T. Painter, mother of the groom, and has made many friends while in our town.

Ike has been a resident here all his life, and his smiling countenance and pleasant manners has made him many friends.

We wish them joy, peace and success as they travel life's rugged road together.

Hayes-Harless.

In the Presbyterian church, Wilkesboro, N. C., by Rev. C. W. Robinson, Mr. Johnson Jay Hayes and Miss Willa Virginia Harless, the winsome and accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Kunkle, formerly of this county.

The church was beautifully festooned in ropes of cedar and white pine, terminating in an arch over the pulpit, from which a lovely white wedding bell was suspended, and under which the bridal party assembled.

They received a large number of beautiful presents, attesting the love and esteem in which they were held.

The bride is a sister of Mrs. K. M. Charlton of Narrows.

Merritt-Taylor.

Miss Irene J. Taylor, step-daughter of Mr. Eugene Beaver, No. 541 Eighth Avenue, s. w., and Mr. Vance Merritt, of Harrisonburg, Va., were married at the Methodist parsonage at Salem, Va., by the Rev. Mr. Brown, on December 19th. They will make their home in Harrisonburg, Va.

Whittaker-Dunagan.

During the holidays, by Rev. W. B. Belchee, Geo. E. M. Whittaker and Miss Virgie Virginia Dunagan.

Sifford-Woodyard.

During the holidays, by Rev. W. B. Belchee, Guss Sifford of Pulaski, and Miss Roxie Woodyard of Giles county.

Tickle-Bradley.

On Christmas day by Rev. M. W. Royall, Harvey Tickle and Miss Masoure Bradley.

Duncan-Conley.

On Christmas day by Rev. M. W. Royall, G. C. Duncan and Miss Margaret Conley.

NOTICE!

Something About Farm Implements!

You don't buy Farm Implements with the same frequency that you buy Groceries, and if you buy the wrong kind you have brought a trouble that lasts a long time.

The essential thing about buying Implements then, is to know that it is good that brings you here, for the last skilful buyer can come here and be sure that what he buys is good, because we make it good.

Our qualities, our low prices, our splendid assortment, are facts, not theories, because of the prevalence of facts in our establishment, our customers come to us in constantly increasing numbers, and our firm adherence to facts is the best guarantee that could be offered for our goods.

The difference in cost, between good and bad machinery, for instance, is very small, but there's a great difference in satisfaction.

Cheap goods, are a continual source of worry and annoyance and it will pay you when figuring on that Disc Harrow, Grain Drill, Spreader, Gasoline Engine, Crusher, Grinder, Mower, Binder, Rake, Weeder, Plow, Wagon, Buggy, Harness, Well Pump, Spray Pump, Cream Separator, Spray Solutions, Hardware Repairs and Etc., to come here and get the best.

You can't afford to leave this store out of consideration, when you purchase your Implements, we can save you money, and give you a square deal.

SOME FACTS IN REGARD TO TUBERCULOSIS IN CATTLE AND THE RELATION OF THIS DISEASE TO MAN.

In the last few years there has been in all probability no disease that has attracted such world-wide attention as tuberculosis. When we consider the fact that it is a disease prevalent in all civilized countries and that it causes the loss of hundreds of thousands of human lives annually, not to mention millions of dollars, it is not at all to be wondered at that this disease is so widely and continually discussed before medical societies and world congresses. The newspapers and magazines are constantly printing articles in regard to this plague of humanity. The United States government is spending millions of dollars for bulletins, and the various States are spending large sums for the purpose of educating the general public to the great danger arising from the use of milk, butter, meat, etc., from diseased animals. It would seem that with all these methods being employed to disseminate knowledge in regard to the great and deadly disease commonly known as consumption, there would hardly be a community anywhere in this enlightened country of ours, where the people were not fully apprised to the seriousness of this most important problem. And yet in my conversations with people who own cattle here in Giles county, I have been surprised to discover how little aware the average farmer is of the danger confronting him and his children, through the use of products from animals suffering from tuberculosis. The object of this article is to endeavor to enlighten, be ever so little, the general public in regard to the grave danger arising from tuberculosis cattle.

Tuberculosis is an infectious and communicable disease, caused by the bacillus tuberculosis. This disease has been known for many centuries, and legislative enactments having reference to the destruction of affected animals and forbidding the use of the flesh, date far back into the middle ages. Statistics concerning tuberculosis show that it is a disease prevalent in all civilized countries.

Returns from testing British cattle in March, 1910, showed that among nearly 16,000 animals tested, about 4,000 or 25 per cent., had the disease. A Dairy Farmers' Association in England wishing to ascertain as to what extent the disease prevailed among dairy cattle on the average farm, instructed its secretary to write to a number of dairy farmers, asking their cooperation and the use of their herds for the application of the tuberculosis test. Of the herds offered nine were selected, containing 471 cows and 12 bulls, and 188 of these animals reacted (that is had the disease according to the test).

Reports of tuberculin tests made on 400,000 cattle in the United States during a period of five years by state and government veterinarians with tuberculin prepared by the Bureau of Animal Industry, show 37,008 reactions, or 9.25 per cent.

In regard to the prevalence of tuberculosis in the United States the 25th Report of the Bureau of Animal Industry contains the following:

"It is a well-known fact that tuberculosis is the most serious disease with which the American farmer has to contend. It is widely spread among cattle and is yearly appearing with increased frequency among our hogs."

Forty-one cities and towns in the United States have tuberculin test ordinances, and this has led to the application of this test to many dairy herds. It has been estimated in the Bureau of Animal Industry that the annual sum that may be charged to loss and depreciation through tuberculosis in cattle and hogs is in the neighborhood of $23,000,000.

I have given the above figures to convince those who are inclined to be skeptical, that tuberculosis among cattle is not imaginary, but a real and deplorable condition. I have spoken about the disease from a pecuniary standpoint, and will now try to throw some light upon its more serious aspects, namely, upon the manner in which it destroys thousands of human lives every year. Eliminate the milk supply from the country and many thousands of children will die of starvation; even after children reach an age at which milk is not absolutely necessary, most of them continue its use as a beverage and add butter to their diet; cream and cheese are also more or less used and thus these products from the cow form current articles of food throughout life. So, even if we are not greatly influenced by the idea that it is disgusting to eat substances that are obtained from the living bodies of diseased cows, we must feel that it is important to make a careful inquiry regarding the transmissibility to ourselves, through the use of dairy products, of the commonest disease with which dairy cows are affected. The need for this inquiry is emphasized by the knowledge that the commonest and most important disease of cows is also the commonest and most important disease of mankind, and by the fact that though the disease in question, tuberculosis, is one of the few infectious diseases to which widely different species of animals are susceptable, its commonest victims are persons and dairy cows. The only cause of tuberculosis is the multiplication of tubercle bacilli in the animal body. Bacilli does not grow and multiply in animal bodies until they have been introduced into them from without, and tubercle bacilli grow and multiply nowhere else in nature. The propagation of tuberculosis therefore depends upon the tubercle bacilli that emanate from the bodies of tuberculosis individuals, human and animal.

As persons and dairy cows are the commonest subjects of tuberculosis they are also the commonest sources from which the tubercle bacilli emanate, and as the exposure of persons to persons through the ordinary routine of life, and the exposure of persons to dairy cows through the lifelong use of dairy products, are more direct and intimate than the exposure of persons to other possible sources of tuberculosis infection, it follows that the two most important sources of tubercle bacilli against which public health must seek to defend itself, are tuberculosis persons and tuberculosis cows. Tuberculosis of cattle, as of persons, may be acute and run its course quickly from infection to death. This is rare. As a rule, it is insidious, chronic, and slowly progressive, and an animal may appear in good health for a long time after becoming affected with the disease. The character of tuberculosis among cattle is that of an effectually concealed disease, the detection of which before it is well advanced and has done great harm is practically impossible through the agency of our unaided powers of observation.

Fortunately we have in the substance known as "tuberculin" an excellent agent for detecting tuberculosis in cattle when all other means of diagnosis are of no avail.

Prof. V. A. Moore, of Cornell University, says; "It has been shown from all examinations that have been reported of milk from tuberculous cows that about 15 per cent of them give off tubercle bacilli with their milk during the course of the disease.

When a cow is visibly affected with disease, no one will continue to knowingly use her milk, but when a cow is apparently healthy, and has tuberculosis, she is a source of danger from which there are no means of escape to the average farmer, unless he employs a competent veterinarian to apply the tuberculin test to his cattle.

As to whether bovine tuberculosis is transmissible to man, we have numerous high authorities who most emphatically and conclusively assert that the disease can and often is conveyed from animals to man. The British Royal Commission on human and animal tuberculosis concluded from its investigations that cows milk containing bovine tubercle bacilli is clearly a cause of tuberculosis, and of fatal tuberculosis in man, and that a very large portion of tuberculosis contracted by indigestion is due to tubercle bacilli of bovine origin. The nearly unanimous opinion of the members of the last International Congress on Tuberculosis at Washington, D. C., was that the tuberculosis dairy cow is a serious menace to the public health.

From reports from several hospitals in different parts of the country we learn that among 280 children from 1 to 15 years old who had succumbed to various diseases, 44, or 15 per cent, were found on autopsy to be affected with primary intestinal tuberculosis. The men who made these investigations say the ingestion of raw milk is an important cause of tuberculosis of the bowels in children.

Not only is fresh milk a source of great danger, for butter, if anything, is even more so. The following experiment was undertaken at the experiment station of the Bureau of Animal Industry.

Butter was made from the milk of a cow affected with tuberculosis, and tested from time to time by making guines pig inoculations. The butter was salted at the rate of one ounce of salt to the pound of butter, and the conclusions drawn regarding it are as follows:

"The guines-pig inoculations show that tubercle bacilli in ordinary salted butter undergo no weakening in 49 days; that they are still highly virulent after 99 days, or more than three months, and that they are still alive after one hundred and thirty-three days. As some authorities criticized the test on guinea pigs, the following experiment was made."

Four hogs, weighing 125 pounds each, were tested with tuberculin, to make sure that they were free from tuberculosis, and then placed in four separate disinfected pens. Each hog was fed one ounce of butter daily in addition to its other feed. The butter was from tuberculosis cows; the feeding was continued thirty days. This butter consisted of several different lots, the youngest of which was 90 days or 3 months old when it was fed to the hogs. The amount of butter received daily by each hog was less than the average person of the same weight eats, and the total amount received was less than two pounds. Several months after the feeding of butter was discontinued, the hogs were killed and examined post mortem, and three of the four were found to have contracted tuberculosis. More direct evidence to prove that tuberculosis is contracted from infected food, and more direct evidence to prove that tubercle bacilli remain alive a virulent a quarter of a year in ordinary butter would be difficult to obtain.

In the District of Columbia about 17 per cent. of the cows tested with tuberculin reacted and in New York about 30 per cent. of those tested reacted, (that is had tuberculosis).

After reading the above facts, farther comment is unnecessary. A person of average intelligence will readily see that it is time to find out whether the cows of Giles county are such rare exceptions as to be free from a disease that effects cattle in every other part of the world. Let every one pause and ask themselves this question: "Am I absolutely sure that I am eating products from a cow free from tuberculosis?"

Unless your cattle have been tested with tuberculin by a competent veterinarian you will be forced to answer in the negative. There is nothing to be gained in setting forth a public danger, unless we also set forth the remedy.

The remedy is to have all milk cows tested with tuberculin, the cost is small, there is no danger to the animal tested, but there is a great satisfaction to the consumer of dairy products in knowing that the cows supplying his family are free from man's worst enemy, "The White Plague."

As to the reliability of this test the U. S. Government says it is almost infallible.

Little Miss Mildred Snidow of "Lindenhurst," who has suffered greatly the last two weeks with a bealed knee, is much improved.

They say goat's milk is a cure for inebriety. How we wish we had a few goats in our village. A cure is certainly needed here.

A young actor has married a widow worth $15,000 000. We (Eber) would like to catch on to something about the size of that, of course we mean the woman, also.

Some one says blessings brighten when some other fellow begins to cast an admiring eye in their direction. Not so, when some other fellow casts sheep's eyes at your "best girl."

Miss Rosannah Felty and brother, Wythe, who spent the holidays with Misses Lena Bowles and Janie Bingham and other friends, returned to their home at Salem last week.

Miss Mary Lucas has returned home after an extended visit to her sister, Miss Lucile Lucas at Farmville, Va. While absent Misses Lucile and Pearl Anglea of Farmville, joined Miss Mary for a week's visit in Richmond.

C. E. Turner of Hillsboro, Ohio, gave us a very pleasant call at our sanctum on Saturday last. Before leaving he made us "smile a smile" that was hard to eradicate. He was a guest of Mr. W. H. Buchanan of this place.

Mrs. C. A. Lucas of Pembroke, Va., who is visiting her father and mother, Postmaster and Mrs. G. H. Kunkel of Mexico, Mo., was guest of honor at the pretty New Year's reception given by Mrs. John Abbay and Mrs Ovens Admas.

Mrs. T. T. Phlegar who has been on an extended visit to her daughter at Cruthersville, Mo., and who also accompanied her daughter, Miss Viola, to that place where she will attend a business school, arrived home on Monday of last week.

Dr. L. D. Whitaker contributes a very valuable article this week, which will be found on first page. Every farmer and others who own cows and hogs, should read this article with the greatest care. It relates to tuberculosis in cows and hogs.

Rev. M. W. Royall will preach at Eggleston Sunday morning at eleven o'clock and at night at 7 30. In the afternoon at 3 30 o'clock, he will preach at Mt. View. There will be a church meeting at Eggleston Saturday afternoon at two o'clock. All members are requested to be present.

Miss Kate Gott of Dublin, and granddaughter of Andrew Gott, once a resident of this town, was the successful contestant for a fine piano given by the Southwest (Pulaski) Times. There were several contestants, but Miss Gott received the largest number of votes. We congratulate her and wish her many happy years to enjoy this fine instrument.

T. B. Shannon of Poplar Hill, gave us a very pleasant call Wednesday.

The third attraction of the Lyceum Course of the Pearisburg High and Narrows High Schools, entitled, "Rip Van Winkle," will be held in the High School Auditorium on the nights of the 15th inst., and at Narrows the 16th inst. Don't fail to see this play, as it is endorsed by people of many States.

Miss Annie Lee Brotherton entertained her class in school last Friday evening at her residence. There were a few invited outside the class, though very intimate friends. Despite the inclemency of the weather, which was very cold, they all enjoyed themselves to their hearts content. About 10 30 dainty refreshments, such as ice cream, sherbert, cake, oranges, etc., were served. The party broke up about the turn of the night.

The Sandy Valley News has changed hands. D. P. Branscome, who has been editor and proprietor, has been succeeded by B. P. Made as publisher and E. H. Witten editor and proprietor. Bro. Branscome, the retired editor and publisher, got out a neat and newsy sheet, and from the tone of the new owners, we expect to see lively issues gotten out by them. They start out very good, indeed, with their initial number. We wish them success.

Now, in the beginning of the new year, let the town council, "get together," and do something for this town. It needs cleaning up. The streets need repairing in places, some new sidewalks should be built, and above all, a few street lamps should be erected, that the ladies and others going to church or doing their chores during the night might see how to wend their way. In time of peace prepare for war. Fire may break out at any time, and under present conditions, the hydrants being nearly all froze up, the town could not fight it successfully. Let the "city fathers" get together, and DO SOMETHING.

DEATH OF C. C. WOOLWINE.

Mr. Charles C. Woolwine, who for many years was a resident and a leading merchant of our town and a prominent citizen of our town, died after a long illness on last Thursday the 4th inst., at his home in Vinton, Va.

The remains were brought here on Saturday and interred in Eastside Cemetery. The following members of his family, who accompanied the remains and attended the obsequies here, were Mrs. Josephine Woolwine, widow of the deceased, his sons, C. C., Drs. Andrew, Wm. D., Robert and Wood, and daughter, Mrs. Fannie Beaver and her husband, E. E. Beaver.

The attendance at the funeral was larger than was expected, by reason of the severe cold weather.

THE NEW BOARD NOW IN OFFICE.

The new Board of Supervisors for this county met at the court house the first of the year and elected county chairman for the ensuing term. The Board consists of the same ones as last year, with the exception of T. B. King, who is succeeded by Charles Dulaney, who will, no doubt, do his duty, as he has this reputation in all of his transactions. J. T. S. Hoge, former chairman of the Board, was again elected to his old position, one which he has held for many years, and which goes to prove that he is the right man in the right place.

The Board settled with the Road Commissioners. In connection with the members of the Board, were the Prosecuting Attorney, W. B. Snidow, and Sheriff, W. H. Thompson, and other minor officers, were in attendance, making a full attendance.

W. B. Snidow, our new Commonwealth's Attorney, is a lawyer of more than ordinary intelligence, and one among the ablest that practices at this bar, and the office to which he has just been elected will be filled with honor and without fear or favor of any one.

W. H. Thompson, our newly elected Sheriff, is one of our best citizens, and is loved and respected by all who know him, and this office will be conducted in a fair manner with respect for all, prejudice to none.

W. W. Walker, our new Commissioner of Revenue, is a man in the prime of life, being only 39 years of age; is well qualified for the position he has been elected to, and will attend to it in a gentlemanly and courteous manner.

The rest of the officers, F. E. Snidow, Clerk; J. H. Woodrum, Treasurer, are old, tried and true ones, and need no good words from us.

Porterfield-Keffer.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Keffer of Huffman, Va., was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Wednesday, December 27, 1911, when their daughter, Miss Matalie, became the bride of Mr. Logan V. Porterfield of near Newport, Va. The impressive Methodist ceremony was solemnized by Rev. G. R. Fringer, in the presence of the immediate friends of the bride and groom.

The bridal party entered to the inspiring strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, rendered by Miss Ida Keffer, the bride's sister. The bride was very becomingly attired in gray satin, trimmed in Irish crochet. The groom wore the conventional black.

Immediately after receiving congratulations, the bride and groom, accompanied by a few friends, left for the home of the groom, where a bountiful dinner was served.

The bride was the recipient of many beautiful presents, consisting of rugs, furniture, gold coins, hand painted china, glass ware, fancy pieces of battenburg and eyelet embroidery, linens and an entire set of forty-six pieces of silver ware.

We join with their host of friends, in wishing them a long, prosperous and happy life.

HERBERT A. SPRAGUE
AND FLOY MAHAN SPRAGUE
IN
"Rip Van Winkle."

INTRODUCTORY.

The dreamy old legend of Rip Van Winkle clings to the American people more closely than any other written story. We know that he was as much a fancy of a great brain as were the gray-bearded ghosts of Hudson and his men; but Rip, the jolly vagabond, and Rip, the pathetic hero of a twenty years' sleep, are more real to us than Irving, whose hand penned the immortal picture. Since Joseph Jefferson passed from the stage of life, no actor in this country has presented "Rip Van Winkle" as does Herbert Sprague. We stake our reputation upon this assertion. Mr. Sprague is ably assisted by Mrs. Floy Mahan Sprague, whose splendid work is a feature of this excellent programme.

PROGRAM:

Rip Van Winkle — Everybody's Friend.
Gretchen—His Scolding Wife.
Meenie—Their Daughter.
Derrick Von Beekman—The Burgomaster.
Nick Vedder — The Village Inn-keeper.
Katchen — The Inn-keeper's Daughter after twenty years.

Act I.—The Village Green at Falling Water-Plot of Derrick Von Beekman.

Act II.—Rip's Kitchen on a Stormy Night—"Gretchen, are you going to drive me away?"

Act III.—Summit of the Catskills—Rip's Encounter with the Phantom Dwarfs.

Act IV.—Village of Falling Water after twenty years. Return of Rip Van Winkle.

Intermission of five minutes at the close of Act III.

We have a number of press notices from different States in the Union, including Y. M. C. A's, ministers and others, and all are loud in their praise of "Rip Van Winkle," and pronounce it one of the best plays they have ever seen. So do not miss it, or half your life will have been spent in vain.

Tickets on sale at Pearisburg Pharmacy, 35 and 50 cents.

CARD OF THANKS.

We desire to express our heartfelt gratitude to the many kind people of Pearisburg, who so kindly assisted us and sympathized with us during the death and burial of my husband.

You can save money and obtain the highest class of professional services in this line by taking advantage of this opportunity.

Bear in mind the date.

Vinton, Va.,
January 6, 1912.

Editor Virginian:

Surrounded by his family and neighbors, Mr. C. C. Woolwine, formerly one of the leading merchants of Pearisburg, Va., peacefully passed away January 4th at his home in Vinton, Va. Mr. Woolwine had been in delicate health for several years. His two sons, Drs. Andrew and William were with him, and everything that loving hands and medical skill could do was done to prolong his life. Mr. Woolwine's wife was Miss Josie Woodrum of the popular Woodrum family of Giles county, and his body was taken there for interment.

Was greatly shocked to hear of the sudden death of Dr. J. L. Muncy. As a physician he stood at the head of his profession. His kind disposition endeared him, not only to his patients, but to all classes who came in contact with him. Endowed as he was with an unusual bright intellect, fitted him every way for the profession he adopted. In bidding farewell to these two friends, we cannot think they are dead but have only fallen asleep.

Among our Giles friends who we met on the streets of Roanoke, were Will St. Clair of Bane, Dr. R. H. Hoge and Charles Tinsley of Hoge's Store. Dr. Hoge is looking younger than he did 25 years ago. Mr. Tinsley looks well and shows that time has used him well. We also met E. S. Dennis of Pearisburg, who wears his many years with grace and dignity. Roanoke is forging ahead, many new buildings are going up, some large ones. Property seems to be changing hands rapidly. Roanoke now claims 40,000 population and a stranger netering her gates would think that half of that number were engaged in the real estate business.

Wishing the editor of the Virginian a happy and prosperous year for himself, his family, patrons, and paper, I am

Your friend,
J. A. P.

A HOLIDAY GIFT.

One of the handsomest pieces of art work that has ever been gotten up is "The Bride" a beautiful lithograph calendar for 1912. It is lithographed in 15 colors and is a perfect reproduction of one of the finest oil paintings ever produced in this country. This calendar shows every detail of the original and could not be distinguished from is except by experts. Sold in the regular way it would cost a nice sum, but the publishers of the National Stockman and Farmer of Pittsburgh, Penn'a have purchased 100,000 of these handsome pieces of art and will send them to any one who will send 10 cents in silver or stamps to cover packing and postage. Under this favorable offer "The Bride" should be in the hands of every reader of this paper. Address as above.

FOUND!

In Methodist church, one pair ladies kid gloves, one pair misses yarn gloves, one ladies' umbrella. Would like to return to owners if they will call for them.

WORDS OF PRAISE.

The following in remitting us has this to say:

Mr. J. W. Pruett of Rocky Gap, Va., says: "I like to read the Virginian real well."

Mrs. E. V. Miller of Rural Retreat, Va., says: "I enjoy your valuable paper so much, as it is from my dear old home. Wishing the Virginian a happy and prosperous New Year."

Dr. C. W. Spangler of Thorpe, W. Va., says: "Would like to see you all and will run down in the spring to spend a day or so with brother Theo Dulaney and will come around. Very sorry indeed to hear of my old friend, Dr. Muncy's sad death. Come up some time."

Mr. C. M. Draper of Ashland, W. Va., says: "Thanking you for the nice paper and interesting news I get from it from week to week. Wishing you much success in the future, and a prosperous and happy New Year, wishing to remain a friend to the Virginian."

Mr. A. M. Meadows of Lerona, W. Va., says: "I appreciate the weekly visits of the Virginian, and the first paper read in the home; the Daily Post comes next, then the other papers and magazines. I get a number of magazines, but the Giles county news comes first. I cannot do without it. Wishing you and your family a happy and prosperous year, and may the Virginian be in the national fight for good government."

WHITE GATE.

Something About Farm Implements!

You don't buy Farm Implements with the same frequency that you buy Groceries, and if you buy the wrong kind you have brought a trouble that lasts a long time.

The essential thing about buying Implements then, is to know that it is good that brings you here, for the last skilful buyer can come here and be sure that what he buys is good, because we make it good.

Our qualities, our low prices, our splendid assortment, are facts, not theories, because of the prevalence of facts in our stablishment, our customers come to us in constantly increasing numbers, and our firm adherence to facts is the best guarantee that could be offered for our goods.

The difference in cost, between good and bad machinery, for instance, is very small, but there's a great difference in satisfaction.

Cheap goods, are a continual source of worry and annoyance and it will pay you when figuring on that Disc Harrow, Grain Drill, Spreader, Gasoline Engine, Crusher, Grinder, Mower, Binder, Rake, Weeder, Plow, Wagon, Buggy, Harness, Well Pump, Spray Pump, Cream Separator, Spray Solutions, Hardware Repairs and Etc., to come here and get the best.

You can't afford to leave this store out of consideration, when you purchase your Implements, we can save you money, and give you a square deal.

THE PROGRESSIVE TEACHER, WHAT HE MUST BE AND WHAT HE MUST DO.

The following paper was read at the Teachers' Institute held at Pearisburg last November, by Prof. N. P. Reed of Pembroke High School:

As a first thought, we might say that the progressive teacher is the ideal teacher or the ideal teacher is the progressive teacher and no matter which way we express it, we will most probably arrive at the same conclusion, as there has been only one perfect or ideal man; so also there has been only one perfect or ideal teacher in the true sense of the word.

As in Geometry, two incommensurable qualities cannot be expressed in integers in terms of a common unit, yet by taking a unit sufficiently small, an approximate value can be found that shall differ from the true value of the ratio by less than any assigned value, however small, so with the ideal or progressive teacher, by taking the qualifications necessary as a constant and by striving towards it as a limit, we may hope some day to differ from this constant by ever so little, yet we may never hope to reach it absolutely.

But in order for us to understand what this constant or limit may be, it will be necessary to outline the qualifications necessary for the progressive or ideal teacher:

I. The teacher should be a person of strong personality, positive, not negative.

II. The teacher should have culture.

III. The teacher should love nature.

IV. The teacher should maintain high ideals; have a broad view of life and know the real aims of life.

V. The teacher should be honest, a truth lover and a truth seeker.

To realize the aspirations of democracy must be the chief business of education. It must pour into society men and women capable of sustaining a sane, wholesome public sentiment; for without vision the people perish.

To encourage righteous public sentiment, men and women in their youth must be inculcated with a spirit of industry, with a feeling for justice amounting to enthusiasm, and with a kind of indomitable sincerity that marked the old Puritans.

Education must prepare for the life that is to be lived. It must be in a sense vocational. It must not teach even by multiplication the degradation of hard work, nor must it teach the youth that the gentleman is the idler. Schools must teach industry. But to teach men to work the rewards of work must be sure. Universal education is essential to the material, intellectual and moral welfare of the State and its people and only in proportion to its education is the real power of a country.

The foundation of good citizenship rests upon the public school system and the efficiency of the public schools rests with the teachers and the patrons, therefore it behooves us as teachers with so much responsibility resting upon us, to fit ourselves for this work, to try to attain these five qualifications outlined, so as to approach as near to this limit as possible.

We will no doubt find many obstacles in our way, but remember that every obstacle in human life is for a purpose. Overcoming obstacles strengthen the character and rightly considered they can be turned into blessings.

Teaching is the most important task to which man has yet set his hands. The work of the farmer, lawyer, the preacher and the doctor, are nothing compared with the work of a teacher; for the results of the work of these professions are either subject to revision or are only of an earthly nature, while teaching is the developing of human souls, and the impressions made upon the child are harder to revise than those made on an adult.

The best men in all professions should be chosen as teachers, inasmuch as teachers are the seed of the nation, and according to the seed planted today so will the nation of tomorrow be. If the teacher fails, the republic fails and finally civilization fails. I am very glad to say that the standard of teachers is rapidly being raised and that the teacher and the people in general no longer look upon the profession as a pastime, but as a real profession, an unselfish vocation with the real aims of fitting the youths of this nation for good citizenship, for a high position in its affairs. In conjunction with a strong positive personality, we may link enthusiasm and personal magnetism. The teacher must have enthusiasm and be able to impart this feeling to his pupils, get them thoroughly warmed up to the subject, as nothing great was ever accomplished without enthusiasm and he must have a certain degree of magnetism that his very presence may inspire confidence. As I said nothing great was ever accomplished without enthusiasm, we may also add without some personal magnetism. It was the wonderful enthusiasm and personal magnetism of Napoleon that became imbued in his soldiers and inspired them to the greatest feats of military science that the world has ever known. We might draw further parallel cases but such would be a mere repetition of history.

That the teacher should have culture, be well educated, goes without saying. Nothing so shocks the sensibilities of refined people as lack of culture, coarse, abrupt manners and in a teacher, one to whom is intrusted the cares and responsibilites and to a certain degree, the destiny of the youths of this country, it is utterly inexcusable. One never knows when or where destiny may call him and he will soon realize that those with plebian manners, those without the little niceities and proprieties of social life will be placed at a decided disadvantage.

Some of us no doubt are too unappreciative of the beauties of nature. We are so well and abundantly blessed with the gifts of God's hand, the beautiful mountain ranges, the leaping cataracts and mountain streams, the verdant fields and valleys with their ever changing vistas of sunlight and shadow, that they have been relegated to the common place and we often fail to note the wonders of His handiwork. How beautiful, how elevating, how close is the communion with God, in the love and study of nature! How much good can be accomplished by the teacher in showing the pupils the beauties of nature, by implanting in them a love for the beautiful and an appreciation for it. We all recall what a wonderful change came over the Ancient Mariner, when he began to admire the creatures of the deep, and "to bless them in his heart." His penance was ended and "the selfsame moment he could pray." Then perhaps we too, might draw a lesson from that and help others to view things in a different light.

The teacher should maintain high ideals. His moral worth should be unquestionable, the school is no place for the moral percent. He should have broad views of life, know the real aims of life. Do not be a bigot, be liberal in your views and do not let your aims of life be diverted to a mere monetary consideration. There is something better, something higher, something more elevating to impart than to let the sordid cares of commercialism arrest our attention. In the relation of the teacher to the truth, we might say that the teacher should always be willing to tell the child the truth, although it may be against the teacher's prejudices. If you are from the Southern half of country and in your history lesson you find that in a certain battle the people from the Northern side were right, tell the children the truth about it. If you are from the Northern side and find a truth in favor of the Southern side, tell the children the truth. If you are a Protestant and find a truth in favor of the Catholics, or you are a Catholic and find a truth in favor of the Protestants, tell the children the truth.

The English is a growing language, words are constantly changing in spelling, words are acquiring new meanings, words are being introduced from other languages, just so is the English race a growing race. People are no longer content to use old and antiquated methods. Farmers do not still use the old wooden plows, crude machinery, etc., but they have here up-to-date and efficient implements and what is more, they have laid aside primitive methods and are adopting scientific principles of using them. Therefore it stands to reason that the methods of teaching of our forefathers are not conducive of best results for our present age, but more progressive methods are clearly the need. The progressive teacher must lay aside primitive methods and be ever awake to add whatever may increase his or her efficiency, draw out some truth from the lesson taught and apply it to principles of every day life But don't let your enthusiasm for every new-fangled idea that buds into being, overcome your better judgment, and we may add, "Be not the first by which the new is tried, nor yet the last to lay the old aside."

In this day of progressiveness, we hear so much of the "progressive," the progressive republican, the progressive democrat, the progressive teacher, the progressive business man, and what they stand for, their ever changing creeds and "issues," that we are liable to become confused, and like the poor peasant who grew tired of hearing Aristides called the "Just," we, too, may grow tired and join our sonorous chimes with those of our slumbering brothers of the standpatters. But let this not be the case, let us become infested with the spirit of progression; for time will tell; time, the changes of fortunes, the wielder of destinies, and when it comes let us not be inhabiting the "Doubting Castle of the Giant Despair," but let us be in that vast vanguard of the "Hopeful."

In the electrical world, we hear of live wires and dead wires, so in the educational world there are live wires and dead wires. The live wires are the true virile characters, that are the potent factors in the development and progress of the community, exerting a good influence over all with whom they come in contact and acting as an impetus, injecting new life into its affairs, both socially, commercially, and educationally; and these are the dead wires, those content with the existing state of affairs and taking no interest in the development of the community. Which are we going to be, the live wires or the dead wires!

THE NORFOLK & WESTERN RAILWAY FARM AT IVOR, VA.

A Practical Demonstration of What Can be Accomplished on the Low-Priced Lands of Virginia and Other Southern States, When They are Properly Handled.

This is a day of rapid development and effective results along all lines of human accomplishment and Agriculture, with its numerous allied branches, is no exception to the rule.

The Norfolk & Western Railway's Experimental Farm at Ivor, Virginia, is an example of what can be accomplished under adverse conditions when perseverance and energy are combined with a practical knowledge that insures results. This farm is under the general supervision of Mr. F. H. LaBaume, Agricultural and Industrial Agent for the railroad; but the property is under the direct charge of the Farm Manager who lives on the place, and gives the work his personal attention.

Five years ago the farm site was a tract of timber land which has been gradually cleared off until today it is superseded by a hundred acres or more, of highly cultivated fields, experimental plots, and pastures. A commodious thirteen room dwelling, with modern barns, dairy, piggeries, hen-houses, tool house, implement sheds, and other outbuildings provide every convenience for the proper housing of employees, stock, and produce. The grounds surrounding the dwelling have been laid off attractively, with flowers, shrubbery, and ornamental trees interspersed among its green lawns. Water is liberally supplied by a gasoline power plant which pumps it from an artesian well and then distributes it under pneumatic pressure to all the buildings and feed lots.

The usual complement of live stock and poultry is carried and the surplus is disposed of to best advantage either through the general markets or to farmers who desire to improve their stock or to secure new blood for breeding purposes. A small herd of Holstein Cattle is maintained, and with Hampshire and Berkshire Pigs, Collie Dogs, White Plymouth Rock and Leghorn Chickens, and the usual work teams all go to complete a very satisfactory live stock equipment. Experiments have been conducted with various farm crops in which lime and barnyard manures have been used to excellent advantage, and the management maintains that these natural fertilizers, with the aid of the legumes, including clover, cow peas, velvet beans, and alfalfa, combined with a practical rotation and efficient cultivation of the farm crops, are the really necessary factors in restoring abused farms and in maintaining their fertility.

Thousands of northern and western farmers are settling in Virginia, North Carolina, and other Southern States, attracted thereto by the low priced lands, mild climate, diversity of crops, abundant rainfall, and nearness to good markets. The farm at Ivor is an excellent object lesson to these newcomers as well as to our own Southern farmers, all of whom have free access to it at any time. A cordial invitation is extended to all who are interested in Southern agriculture to stop off and inspect this property whenever they find it convenient. The latch-string hangs on the outside and we will try to make your visit pleasant and instructive.

Vest's "Eulogy On The Dog."

The "Eulogy on the Dog," one of the most famous speeches ever made by the late Senator Geo. G. Vest of Missouri, was at the trial of a man who had wantonly shot a dog belonging to a neighbor. Vest represented the plaintiff, who demanded $200 damages. When Vest finished speaking the jury, after two minutes' deliberation, awarded the plaintiff $500. The full text of the speech follows:

Gentlemen of the Jury:

The best friend a man has in this world may turn against him and become his enemy. His son or daughter that he has reared with loving care may prove ungrateful. Those who are nearest and dearest to us, those whom we trust with our happiness and our good name, may become traitors to their faith. The money that a man has he may lose. It flies away from him, perhaps, when he needs it most. A man's reputation may be sacrificed in a moment of ill-considered action. The people who are prone to fall on their knees to do us honor when success is with us may be the first to throw the stone of malice when failure settles its cloud upon our heads. The one absolutely unselfish friend that man can have in this selfish world, the one that never deserts him, the one that never proves ungrateful nor treacherous, is his dog. Gentlemen of the jury, a man's dog stands by him in prosperity and in poverty, in health and in sickness. He will sleep on the cold ground, where the wintry winds blow and the snow drives fiercely, if only he may be near his master's side. He will kiss the hand that has no food to offer, he will lick the wounds and sores that come in encounter with the roughness of the world. He guards the sheep of his pauper master as if he were a prince. When all other friends desert he remains. When riches take wings and reputation falls to pieces he is as constant in his love as the sun in its journey through the heavens. If fortune drives the master forth an outcast in the world, friendless and homeless, the faithful dog asks no higher privilege than that of accompanying him to guard against danger, to fight against his enemies, and when the last scene of all comes, and death takes the master in his embrace and his body is laid away in the cold ground, no matter if all other friends pursue their way, there by his graveside will the noble dog be found, his head between his paws, his eyes sad but open in alert watchfulness, faithful and true even to death.

OBITUARY.

In the afternoon on Christmas day, little Miner Lafon, son of Mrs. Anna Lee Lafon, died at his home on Bearspring and was buried at Clover Hollow on the 27th ult. He is survived by his mother and three brothers, Frank, Kennith and Earnest, his father having died several years ago.

Miner was only eleven years old and was one of the brightest, manliest and sweetest little fellows I ever knew. He was stricken with typhoid fever three weeks ago and all his friends and relatives did what they could to relieve his suffering, but God had called him:

The golden gates were opened wide,
A gentle voice said come:
And angels from the other side
Welcomed our loved one home.

His fond mother devoted all her time to the little sufferer, not even leaving his bedside for refreshments.

His last words were: "Give me a harp, mama, I want to play 'That Happy Band.'"

Dear little Miner, he had filled his mission here, and is no doubt in heaven, where he can hear the music of thousands of golden harps, and where he can join that happy band who sings praises to Jesus, the One who bears our heaviest burdens and shares our bitterest sorrows.

We extend to the heart-broken mother and family our sincerest sympathy and would invoke them to look to Jesus who hath said, "He is not dead but sleepeth."

John A. Myers is spending a few days at home this week.

Harry Shumate of Roanoke, spent Saturday and Sunday in town.

Miss Clara Shumate is visiting her brother, Bernard, at Thorpe, W. Va.

W. T. Kessinger of Goodwin's Ferry, gave us a friendly call on Tuesday.

Martin Williams, Jr., left for Rocky Mount, Va., the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Emory Fry left last week for their home at Portsmouth, Ohio.

Drs. Cover and Coburn report a great deal of sickness in and around Narrows.

Mrs. P. F. St. Clair who is spending the winter in Richmond, is home for a few days.

Sam Brown, whose former home was Narrows but now of West Va., was in town Monday

Sidney Peters of Mayberry, W. Va., was visiting relatives at Trigg and here first of the week.

J. J. Cole and C W. Littenberger of Kimballton, were in town Tuesday attending to business.

W. H. Hansbarger of Peterstown, W. Va., was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Theo Dulaney last week.

Rev. M. W. Royall will preach at Glen Lyn Sunday morning at eleven o'clock and Pearisburg at night.

Those wishing to do so, please notice statement in card space in another column, relative to my absence until Spring.

Rev. W. B. Belchee will preach at Bluff City Sunday morning at eleven o'clock, and Narrows at night.

Mrs. G. W. Buchanan has been confined to her room for a few days with lagrippe. Hope to hear of her recovery soon.

A minister in Boston has quit preaching and gone into the coal business. He still wants to make it hot for the poor sinner.

Dolphin Fry, who was here last week on a visit to his father, who is quite ill, has returned to his home at Clifton Forge, Va.

Buford Williams left today (Thursday) for Richmond, Va., to spend the week's end with his father, Judge Martin Walliams.

Rev. J. L Prater, our former pastor, was in town Friday. He had been to Princeton to assist in the funeral services of the late Dr. J. W. Hale.

Hugh Eaton of Bluefield, W. Va., spent Sunday with his sister, Mrs. L A. Stafford. Little Mary Alice returned home with her father Sunday night.

Misses Helen Mason and Edna Shumate left last Friday for Glade Springs, where they will attend the Williams-Alleson nuptials at that place.

We are more than pleased to see our old friend, Ed Carper, on the streets again. He has been confined to his home with sickness eight or ten weeks.

Taking advantage of the cold snap, most all our friends and neighbors, who have them, filled their ice houses with the much-needed "stuff" for summer.

We are pleased to hear from our friend, L. G. Burton, who was a citizen of our town for a short while, and during his stay here made many warm friends. He is now in Jacksonville, Fla

We want as many subscribers as will to help the VIRGINIAN by securing one or two new subscribers. Ask your neighbors to subscribe, and thus help us and you will feel good in knowing that you have helped your friend and neighbor.

Last Thursday night some of the pupils of the Pearisburg High School gave Misses Annie Laura and Nettie Stafford a surprise party. This party was a very enjoyable one. It broke up at a late hour.

E L Burgh of Troutsville, Botetourt county, killed a hog last week, when dressed, weighed 839 1-2 pounds. This hog was two years old and of improved stock. This goes to show what can be accomplished by farmers interested in improved stock. Who can beat it!

Pupils of the Pearisburg High School gave Miss Nina Johnston a surprise party on Friday night last. About thirty young ladies and gents were present. Plays of various kinds were indulged in. They departed for their homes at 11 45. The party was much enjoyed by all.

If the people would feed their dogs a little meat once in a while (ham for instance), perhaps they would not kill so many sheep. A number of sheep have been killed by dogs around here lately, and the sheriff is after them. Dogs, like human beings, like a little fresh meat once in a while.

Ye editor made a trip to Rocky Gap and other points of interest on Wolf creek last Friday, returning Saturday. At one place he was taken for a tramp, and had the person a gun, would, in all probability, have been shot. Oh, how people's eyes do fail them when they can't tell such an august personage as an editor from a "tramp."

The entertainment given by the Lyceum Course of the Pearisburg High School on Monday night, entitled, Rip Van Winkle, was largely attended, despite the cold, freezing and slippery weather. There were divers opinions as to the merit of the play, while some thought it good, there were many who did not seem to take to it.

We are more than pleased to state, that Ray Snidow of Pembroke, who was taken to Richmond hospital last week in order that his brain might be trepaned (who it will be remembered, his horse ran away with and seriously injured him, sometime ago), has been done and proved a success and he shows symptoms of regaining his right senses. We hope this will prove to be only too true.

Last Thursday evening Judge Bernard Mason and Miss Edna Shumate entertained their respective Sunday school classes in the Law building. Plays and other kinds of merriment were indulged in. There were twenty or thirty in attendance, and all seemed to enjoy themselves. Candies, nuts and fruits were served. It was near the turn of the night when the happy throng departed for their homes.

We have had some of the cold est weather for the past ten days that has been experienced here in a number of years. On last Friday morning the thermometer registered three degrees below zero. There are several inches of snow and the creeks and rivers are frozen over and children on the other side of New River who attend High School here have been unable to attend.

Now do not run all over the town and county to borrow your neighbor's paper, but send along one dollar to help defray the expense for fifty-two doses of Gilead's balm and hot drop literary dope we will give you this year; and if it does not loosen up your bowels of compassion, we will cheerfully refund your money.—Sandy Valley News.

Same here, Bro. Witten, this will do for two—you and us. Any one that will run around and borrow another persons paper, ought to be watched, it is next to stealing.

A farmer who wondered why the editor didn't make money from his large subscription list, dreamed one night that he had 2,000 bushels of wheat and sold it to 2,000 different people, a bushel to each one, and they all stood him off for pay. He had such an awful time in trying to collect the $2,000 before he woke up that he went straight to the newspaper office the next day and paid his subscription.—Lebanon News.

This is the way the poor publisher is fixed, a dollar scattered here and there all over the world, and very hard to get at. Oh, that about eight hundred or one thousand of our subscribers could dream a dream like this, would not we be made happy!

DEATH OF JOHN CARPENTER.

Many Giles county citizens will read of the death of Mr. John Carpenter of Bland county, with sincere regret. It was not our pleasure to have known Mr. Carpenter intimately, but we have often heard him spoken of as a man of the highest honor and uprightness of character and a good, kind neighbor and friend. Mr. Carpenter was rather an aged man and for many years he has lived near Rocky Gap in Bland county, and was married for the first time but a year or two since. Years ago, he was in Giles county quite a good deal and our older citizens will remember him most kindly and learn of his death with sorrow.

DEATH OF ANOTHER GOOD OLD MAN.

Mr. Charles A. Hale of Narrows Passes Away.

In the death of Mr. Charles A. Hale of Narrows, Giles county loses a citizen than whom she had not a more popular one, nor one who has lived a more honorable and upright life. His death occurred at his home at Narrows, Va., on last Wednesday night, the 10th inst., after a lingering illness from pneumonia. His wife preceded him but a year or two ago.

Mr. Hale was about seventy-one years of age. He served throughout the Civil War in defense of his native Southland and by his undaunted courage and unswerving devotion to duty, he made a record that reflected credit and honor on himself and county. For a number of years he was a member of the Board of Supervisors of his county, the duties of which position, he discharged in a faithful and conscientious manner. Truly it can well be said of Mr. Hale, that he was a man whose kindness of heart, whose gentle and patient disposition, whose conception of character as to honor, uprightness, integrity and duty, are rarely excelled.

He had been a member of the Methodist church for many years and lived the life of a Christian and died fully trusting the Saviour whom he loved and served.

Interment was in the family burying ground near Narrows on last Friday afternoon, and was conducted by his pastor, Rev. W. B. Belchee. Peace to the ashes of "Uncle Charley" Hale. We loved him and miss him.

A ROYAL(L) LEAP YEAR PARTY.

On Friday last the Senior and Junior classes of Pearisburg High School were entertained at the hospitable home of Rev. and Mrs. M. W. Royall, in honor of (the Royall girls) Misses Lena and Mabel Goodwin, Minnie and Annie Bess Journell and Lela Shrader.

The young ladies met at the Royall home at 7.30 in the evening and this being Leap Year, started out about half an hour later for their beaux.

The merry crowd called at each house until each girl had received her beau. On arriving at the parsonage, the girls and boys were shown respectively to their dressing rooms. They had to be very careful or they would find themselves caught in the spider webs (small twine so arranged throughout the house as to form a complete net like a spider web) that were in waiting for them. When the girls went to the parlor they were shown their names fastened to the strings, and by winding up these strings found their partner for the guessing contest and proposals. The girls were then given three minutes in which to propose to their partners.

The prize for the best proposal was awarded to Miss Mattie Buchanan who proposed to Mr. Tracy Whittaker. Miss Viva Scott who proposed to Mr. Archie Phlegar, winning the booby prize.

Numerous guessing contests and games followed, after which delicious refreshments were served.

The following couples were present:

Lena Goodwin with Tom Duncan; Lulu Shrader with Russell Pearson; Mabel Goodwin with Robert Woods; Minnie Journell with Buford Williams; Annie Bess Journell with Frank Johnston; Janie Bingham with Warren Stafford; Bess Charlton with Sidney Scott; Winnie Johnston with Clarence Strader; Mattie Buchanan with Fred Tabor; Macie Lewey with Jess Johnston; Nita Rector with Tracy Whittaker; Viva Scott with William Fletcher; Nell Cunningham with Archie Phlegar; Trixie Woods with Bittle Woods and Frank Pack.

At a late hour they departed, thanking their host and hostess for their most enjoyable evening.

Much credit is due Mrs. Dr. Dunkley for assisting the host and hostess in arranging things and in trying to make this party a success, which was one in every respect.

This Leap Year party was brought to an end when each young lady escorted their fair young beau to their home and bid them good bye when safe inside the front gate.

An Enjoyable Event.

At "The Maples," the beautiful home of Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Stafford, their daughter, Miss Elsie, entertained last Tuesday evening, Jan. 9, 1912, in honor of her attractive house guest, Miss Irma Harris of Danville, Va. Games were indulged in until a late hour. The most interesting feature of the evening, was the music, both vocal and instrumental, charmingly rendered by Misses Stafford, Harris and Sonner. Refreshments were served consisting of cakes, pickles and chocolates.

Those present were: Misses Irma Harris, Flora and Marguerite Sonner, Janie and Hattye Barger, June Huffman and Linnie Hurt, Messrs. Clarence and Gilbert Hunter, Joe and Harry Bishop, Will and Gus Hart, Lacy Durham and Walker Webb.

Walter E. Huffman is registered at Hotel Savoy for a few days.

NOTICE!

All persons holding claims against the estate of A. J. Bane, deceased, of White Gate, Virginia, will present the same, in person or by mail, at once to T. M. Bane, administrator, or H. C. Gilmer, attorney, Pulaski, Va.

WOOLWINE REUNION.

The following is from The Graphic, a society journal published in Los Angeles, California:

There was a quiet foregathering of all the Woolwines for Christmas dinner at the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Woolwine, 3601 North Broadway. Those present were Mrs. S. S. Wharton and her daughter, Miss Emma Wharton of Nashville, Tenn.; Mr. and Mrs. Woods R. Woolwine and Mrs. Riddle, mother of Mrs. Woolwine; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lee Woolwine and their son, Thomas Lee Woolwine, Jr.; Mr. and Mrs. James E. Woolwine and their young son, James E. Woolwine, Jr.; Mr. and Mrs. B. I. Harding, the father and mother of Mrs. Woolwine; Clare W. and Beverly Woolwine, sons of Mr. Woods R. Woolwine; Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Woolwine and their daughter Martha. The original family of Woolwines in California consisted of three members of the family of W. D. Woolwine. The W. D. Woolwines, while on their trip through the East, enjoyed reunions of their relatives in the old home in Virginia, and also in Nashville and Memphis, Tennessee, in each of which places there were as many in attendance as were present on this occasion.

NARROWS.

Willie Wheeler was badly hurt Sunday evening by his horse falling on him, his ankle badly sprained, foot mashed and shoulder hurt.

Simpson Beamer and little daughter Hazel are both very ill with pneumonia.

Mr. Charley Hale, an old and much respected citizen, died here Wednesday night and was buried Friday in the Hale burying ground. The funeral was conducted at his home by his pastor, Rev. W. B. Belchee.

Mrs. Arthur Glenn entertained quite a number of her lady friends Tuesday evening.

Miss Lizzie Lambert is very sick with pneumonia.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Bastian have returned from a visit to Williamsport, Penn.

Mrs. J. H. Woolwine is visiting relatives and friends at Graham and Bluefield.

C. J. French entertained a few of his friends at his home Saturday evening.

Mrs. Harry L. Johnson of Princeton, stopped off here Monday on her return from Roanoke, where she had accompanied her brother, Henry Wheeler, he having gotten badly burned in a tunnell in West Virginia, while working for the Virginian Railroad.

The M. W. of A. gave their annual banquet at Hotel Narrows Friday evening, which was very much enjoyed by all present. The M. W. of A. Lodge is one of the largest and best beneficiary societies in the world, and others not belonging to the Lodge, would do well to join, and avail themselves of the cheap and good insurance which they offer.

Miss Rucia Johnson has returned from a visit to Norfolk.

Mr. John Carpenter of Rocky Gap died Saturday morning and was buried on Sunday. A special train the N. R., H. & W. was run Sunday to accommodate those who wanted to attend the funeral and burial. Mr. Carpenter was an uncle of Mrs. Geo. Bane of this place.

Something About Farm Implements!

You don't buy Farm Implements with the same frequency that you buy Groceries, and if you buy the wrong kind you have brought a trouble that lasts a long time.

The essential thing about buying Implements then, is to know that it is good that brings you here, for the last skilful buyer can come here and be sure that what he buys is good, because we make it good.

Our qualities, our low prices, our splendid assortment, are facts, not theories, because of the prevalence of facts in our stablishment, our customers come to us in constantly increasing numbers, and our firm adherence to facts is the best guarantee that could be offered for our goods.

The difference in cost, between good and bad machinery, for instance, is very small, but there's a great difference in satisfaction.

Farmers' Winter Course

IN

AGRICULTURE AT THE VIRGINIA POLYTECHNIC INSTITUTE,

Blacksburg, Va., February 1-28.

GENERAL STATEMENT.

This course of instruction is offered to meet the needs of those who have not the time to take the one year apprentice course, but who desire more thorough training than can be secured from Farmers' Institutes or Movable Schools in Agriculture, both of which are necessarily of short duration. Guided by experience of the past we have decided to allow students to specialize in the three main branches of agriculture, viz: General Agriculture, Dairy Husbandry, and Fruit Growing. Certain fundamental subjects such as Farm Crops and Commercial Fertilizers are taught in each of these courses, but to a large extent the student is able to concentrate on those subjects which apply directly to his line of farm work.

The aim will be to make the work as practical as possible and the work will be given by heads of departments or by assistants of equal experience.

Practical training in the laboratory, stable, or orchard will go hand in hand with the instruction given in the class room.

The training given in this course should appeal to a large number of farmers. There is no longer any question regarding the value of technical knowledge on the farm. The man who is already a wide-awake farmer will gain information during this month's work that will enable him to effect improvements in his system of farm management, the man who owns a dairy will be able to perfect himself in the technique of handling the cow and her products, while the orchardist will be able to familiarize himself with the best and latest methods of planting, pruning, spraying, and packing.

This work does not consist merely in lectures and demonstration but so far as possible the student will be given enough practice to develop skill and self-reliance in his work.

CERTIFICATE.

Those students who successfully complete either group of subjects will be granted a certificate stating the work completed. Certificate will be awarded only to those who continue throughout the four weeks.

EXPENSES.

The expenses of a farmer for this winter course of three weeks may be estimated as follows:

Tuition	Free
Board	$16.00
Heat, light and laundry	4 50
Matriculation	1.00

Tickets should be bought over the Norfolk & Western to Christiansburg, or the Virginian to Merrimac, from which points connections are made with a short railroad line to Blacksburg. Farmers upon arrival should report at once at the President's office where, after registering, quarters will be assigned. Farmer students will not be suject to the usual college discipline, but are expected to conform to the program adopted for this course and to act as law-abiding citizens.

Farmers can board at the College dining hall at $16.00 per month, or with private parties in the town. Rooms can be secured at the hotel or at private residences in town at reasonable rates. For further information write to Dr. P. B. Barringer, President, Blacksburg, Virginia.

THE PREVENTION OF NAVEL AND JOINT DISEASE OF FOALS.

BY L. D. WHITAKER, D. V. S.

In nearly every section of the country where the breeding of horses is practiced to any extent, there is a comparatively large loss of foals annually, due to carelessness or ignorance on the part of breeders. While there are several causes for this mortality among young foals the chief and most important is due to naval and joint disease. As I have been requested by some of the stallion owners of this country to write an article having for its purpose the enlightenment of stock raisers in regard to this disease, I am taking this opportunity to do so, and I trust that in this manner I may be the means by which the lives of some valuable stock will be saved.

The question will naturally arise in the minds of some of my readers as to why I should endeavor to prevent disease, when it is owing to the fact that animals get sick, that I am able to successfully follow my profession as a veterinarian.

The disease with which this article has to deal, is one that the farmer can successfully prevent, but it is a very unsatisfactory condition for the veterinarian to handle, as in the majority of cases, it is not amendable to treatment.

Inflammation of the umbilical cord, or as it is commonly called "navel-ill," consists essentially in inflammation of the umbilical vein, which sooner or later involves the adjoining tissues, with the formation of pus; this pus is taken up and carried by the blood to various parts of the body and often affects the joints, causing what is commonly known as joint disease.

As there are times when a farmer fails to recognize the trouble with which the foal is suffering, and attributes it to other causes, I will briefly give the symptoms afforded by an animal suffering with the disease, so as to prevent this mistake if possible.

Symptoms—Soon after birth the navel or umbilical cord appears to be moist, and projects from the abdomen as an enlarged, compact and hard mass from the center of which flows a small quantity of thin, unhealthy, purulent-looking fluid that soils the surrounding skin. The colt appears dull, arches to back, seems disinclined to suck, lies persistently, has a fever, breathing becomes hurried and the animal pants.

As the malady progresses, great prostration is manifest; there is swelling of the navel, and intense pain or manipulation of that region; the eyes are dull and injected; the mouth very hot and dry; the pulse is so small and quick as to be scarcely perceptible; the bowels may be constipated and the faeces scanty or obstinate diarrhoea may supervene. The whites of the eyes are yellowish; soft fluctuating swellings, containing a yellow gelatinous fluid, often appear on various parts of the body. There are indications of colic and in the majority of cases death rapidly ensues. When a fatal termination does not quickly follow from blood poisoning we may have chronic morbid conditions characterized by the formation of abscesses in various parts of the body and particularly in the joints, in which case there is a hot, painful swelling in these parts. The affected foal is found to be suffering from heat, pain and swelling of say, a hock joint, and the owner takes it for granted that the mare has caused the injury. Next day another joint may be affected and abscesses are formed.

It is comparatively rare that an affected colt can be saved after the disease has progressed to the stage of pus formation in the joints or elsewhere and those that recover are likely to prove scrubs the balance of their lives.

Now we come to the most important part as far as the farmer is concerned, namely, the preventative measures to be employed. In the first place it should be understood that the disease is due to filth germs gaining access to the system of the foal by the way of the wide open umbilical vein of the navel at birth.

It is far better to attempt prevention of the disease than to have a case of it treated, and simple hygiene measures will prove perfectly successful when properly carried out. In the first place the mare should bring forth her foal in a box stall especially prepared for her. Preparation consists in removing every particle of bedding, litter and dirt. Saturating the floor with a strong solution of disinfectant, such as four ounces of sulphate of copper to one gallon of water, should be the next step, and the walls, ceilings and partitions are to be treated in the same way. Then whitewash everything. In the fresh made lime wash mix a quarter of a pound of chloride of lime to each pailful, and if possible apply by means of a spray pump so as to get into all crevices. After having carried out the above measures put in fresh bedding. This to be done each time a box stall is to be used by a mare about to foal.

Have two box stalls set apart for foaling, keep them both in condition as advised above and when foal is born, has been attended to and mare has cleaned and been washed, turn mare and foal into second stall and at once prepare used stall for next mare. When the foal comes, immediately wet its navel with a solution of half an ounce of corrosive sublimate in one pint of boiling water (let cool before using) to which has been added one dram of hydrocholic acid. (This solution is poison, and should be so labeled.) After applying the medicine to the navel, wash the foals belly with solution of creolin (sheep dip) two tablespoonful to the quart of water; use some of this same solution and wash the udder, etc., of the mare before the foal is allowed to suck. Repeat the applications of the strong solution at least twice a day until the navel cord dries up, drops off, and there is no raw spot left. The strong disinfectant solution applied to the navel at birth destroys any germs present and the after applications keep the part absolutely free from germs besides having cauterizing and astringent effects which are highly beneficial. When it is necessary to tie the foals navel at birth always be careful to use a cord that has been kept soaked in a solution of creolin, four tablespoonful to a quart of water. After tying the cord apply the strong corrosive sublimate solution as advised above. When this treatment is followed carefully navel disease will not occur and there is the added benefit of preventing a form of scours which is also due to the infection of the navel. I am aware that all farmers do not have the facilities to enable them to carry out all that I have prescribed, but all can at least attend to the navel of the new born, and see to it that the disinfectant solutions are applied as I have advised above.

Children's Keepsakes.

How very few parents ever think of taking care of little treasures belonging to their children, putting them away until the child's sense of responsibility is so educated as to give a value to the article in his eyes. One of the things that should always be done is, when photographs are taken, to put away one to be kept for the child through life. No matter how often a picture is taken, one should be set aside for the child. How often, when a dear child dies, there is lamentation that there is no picture of him or her, because none has been kept in the family, and the picture was not of sufficient value to others to be preserved. I have in my possession a little knife, fork and spoon, given to my little girl when a baby, by one who is no more than a memory, and as soon as the tiny little daughter becomes "eligible," the set will be passed to her. Many other belongings of the mother, kept for her since her own babyhood is passed on to the babies of her own household. Of every picture taken of her there was a copy kept, and she can see herself, just as she was at the age of her own little children. A mother should keep bits of clothing—scraps of calico, gingham, and other cotton goods, and of woolens as well, which went to make up the child's wardrobe, and these may, later on, be made into "patchwork" either for or by the child. One mother I know gives to her little daughter a piece of china or glassware, or something of lasting quality, on every birth day or "gift" day, and the child is taught to keep these as treasures against her day of need. Among my own most precious belongings is a solid silver butter knife, received as a premium at a fair on some stock exhibit, by my father, half a century ago, and kept for the baby girl. There is also a little old-fashioned coal oil lamp, the first our family ever had, and because I admired it so much, it was passed on to me. The sight of it brings back visions and memories so plainly that they seem realities of today, instead of the long dead past.

Scattered Toys.

In every home where there are little ones, there is more or less scattering about of the toys when the little ones are tired of playing with them, and they are seemingly always under one's feet, being stepped on and damaged beyond repair. This should not be allowed. The child should be required to put away the toys after use, and a little patient and firm training will make them "get the habit." There should be a box, basket, shelf, or a portion of a closet set apart for storage, and while they are still new and consequently valued by the child, it should be taught to put the playthings away; but when the "new" is worn off, it may require some penalty to enforce the rule. Still, the rule must be enforced, and habits of care and neatness inculcated. Insist on the toys being put away in their place.

Dimensions of the Oceans.

The Atlantic Ocean covers an area of 35,160,000 square miles, and receives the waters drained from 19,050,000 square miles of land, making the total area of its basin 54,210,000 square miles. Its average depth is 12,060 feet.

The Pacific Ocean covers an area of 67,800,000 square miles, and receives the waters drained from 8,660,000 square miles of land surface, making the total area of its basin 76,460,000 square miles. Its average depth is 12,780 feet.

Hints for Sleepless Persons.

Don't think of how much you have to do tomorrow.

Nor of all the things you have neglected today.

Leave your worries with your clothes on the chair,

Have fresh night clothes and sheets as often as possible.

Cultivate lazy evenings with a short walk followed by a warm bath before getting into bed.

An exciting book, an attempt to finish off some of the day's work or an engrossing game of cards just before bedtime often means a number of sleepless hours.

A cup of beef tea or warm milk before retiring helps one to fall asleep easily.

Persons with a lively imagination that refuses to quiet down find a shaded light in the sleeping apartment useful.

An extra hour walk during the day will sometimes lead to a full night's sleep.

Plenty of fresh air in the bedroom is absolutely necessary.

Sleeping in draughts is to be avoided.

Train Freezes to Tracks.

A dispatch from Lynchburg, Va., dated Jan. 14th, says:

"The Norfolk and Western Railroad's fast Washington-Chattanooga train actually froze to the track when it stopped here today."

"Dripping water from the pipes hardened quickly in the zero weather and the wheels were locked so securely in the ice that three engines bumping the train from the rear were required to move it. At that two and half hours were lost before the train could be budged and it arrived at Bristol, Tenn., seven hours late."

Father of 32 Children Dead.

Cape Charles, Va., Jan. 8.—John W. Guy, 79 years of age, the father of 32 children died at his home near Melfa, Va., of stomach trouble after a lingering illness of several months. Mr. Guy was a prosperous farmer and a lifelong resident of the eastern shore of Virginia. He was married three times.

Of Mr. Guy's 32 children, 21 sons and 11 daughters, 23 are still living, the oldest son being 56 years old. All of his sons are the father of large families. All his children and grand children attended his funeral, many of them coming from their homes in distant cities.

Logan Court House, West Virginia, Burned.

A fire which started in the Miners' Department Store at Logan, Saturday morning, Jan. 13th, swept a business block of that place and spread to the county court house, which was completely destroyed with the records. This was a comparatively new building, having replaced one that was destroyed by fire about six years ago, and was a much finer building than is generally found in places the size of Logan. The loss is estimated at $250,000.

Simply Blushing.

A Gillman man, it is related, has a very red nose, and recently a very inquisitive person said to him: "Please don't take offense, but I'm curious to know why your nose is always red!" And this is the reply the inquisitive got: "My nose is merely blushing with pride over the fact that it has never butted into any one's business."—Fort Smith Times-Record.

LOCAL INTEREST.

Miss Clara Stafford is reported ill in Roanoke.

Miss Nancy Pearson is visiting friends in Kenova, W. Va.

J. P. Woolwine spent several days in Bluefield last week.

Batteries! the very best at Buchanan & Powell's.

Miss Zella Woodrum was shopping in Roanoke last week.

Bob Brown spent the week's end with Joe Wyse at Pembroke.

Shoes! We have the newest shapes—Buchanan & Powell.

W. H. Buchanan spent a few days the first of the week in Roanoke.

Mrs. M. Scott of Bane, spent the week's end with her daughter, Miss Gladys.

Dunning & Higgs of Pearisburg, pay the highest prices for all kinds of Furs.

Mrs. Hunter of Davy, W. Va., is the guest of her brother, Mr. Welsh Farley.

Show us your foot and we'll show you the shoe to fit it—Buchanan & Powell.

Mrs. Thos. McKelvey of Norton, Va., stopped off between trains Sunday to see Mrs. A. A. Skeen.

A. Vest of White Gate, Va., says: "With best wishes to you for a happy and prosperous New Year." Thanks.

The weather is delicious now and we are glad of it, the thermometer ranging from 20 to 50 degrees above zero.

Rev. W. B. Belchee and family and Miss Clara Neal were entertained at dinner last week by Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Painter of Bluff City.

Come here for shoes—you'll get outside appearance and inside comfort—Buchanan & Powell.

Miss Blanche Hedrick of Bane, has graduated at the State Normal School at Farmville, and has accepted a position in a High school at Middleburg, Loudoun county, Va.

Mr. and Mrs. I. C. Painter left Tuesday for Mrs. Painter's former home, Holly Springs, N. C. Mrs. Painter will spend several weeks in Baltimore before returning home.

We return thanks to Mr. Herbert E. Noll of New York City, for nice and quite handy, presents. We hope he will have better luck than we expect to have, and that his will always be "bulge" with the long green.

Doctors should not give prescriptions for alcohol or other stuff to those who get drunk, when they know it is for this sole purpose. We do not know as our doctors do this, but we only wanted to warn them from so doing.

It's the stove that pays for itself. Bakes right, does right and looks right, makes dad and the cook happy. It really cheers the whole family. If interested write for catalogue and delivered price at your railroad station.

A. A. ADAIR & Co.,
Rich Creek, Va.

Mrs. W. B. Belchee left yesterday for a visit to Galax, Va.

Say Buddie! Let us sell you the best fence, the American Wire—Buchanan & Powell.

Rev. W.B. Belchee will preach at Chapel Saturday night, also Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. He will preach at Bluff City in the evening.

C. B. Mahood of Oak Hill, W. Va., says: "I enjoy your paper very much as it is from my old home. Wishing you and yours a happy and prosperous New Year." Thanks to you for your kind words, we wish you a long life of happiness.

Pearisburg seems to be exceedingly "wet," and one thing is sure, it does not all come from Bluefield or outside towns by any means. We are sure of this, as we have proof for our assertion. One of these days there is going to be trouble in this "burg." A word to the wise, etc.

Catherine Hardy, wife of Alexander Hardy (col.), died Wednesday and was buried Friday at Conner's cemetery, near Prospect Dale. Aunt Catherine was a good old lady, and her funeral was largely attended by her relatives and friends.

McComas Chapter U. D. C will meet Saturday afternoon at 2:30 in the law office of Williams & Farrier. This being the regular time to pay the dues for this year. All the members are earnestly requested to be present.

MRS. M. C. EASLEY, Pres.

Rev. M. W. Royall will preach at Pearisburg next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock and Sunday night at 7:30. Morning subject, "Eternal Life." Evening subject, "Preparation for the Redemption." In the afternoon at 3:30 he will preach at Ripplemead. Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock he will preach at Berean church.

Pretty soon we expect to hear some grand "tooting," as the Pearisburg Brass Band has been newly organized and has some of the best talent in town in it. It has also been under the instruction of Prof. A. W. Lugar for the past month and has made very rapid progress. They tell us they are going to treat us soon. We await patiently their appearance.

On our first page will be found an article in relation to the Farmers Winter Course in Agriculture at the Va. Polytechnic Institute, Blacksburg, Va. This term costs you comparatively nothing. If you were at home you would have to eat and have light, so that is about all it will cost you there. This term lasts from February 1-28. Go and learn something you don't know, nor never would.

We are sorry to announce that the old man, better known as the "kindling wood man," was found frozen to death on the mountain between Rocky Gap and Bluefield one day last week. He was considered a poor, harmless creature, and many people about here often bought kindling wood of him and befriended him in many other ways. We hope he is better off and that he is in the home of the blessed.

We return thanks to Mr. W. D. K. Woolwine of Los Angeles, Cal., for a well gotten up and large roll of interesting papers pertaining to said State.

Tyler G. Farley of Fort Mills, P. I., says: "I am always glad to see the VIRGINIAN, for it always gives the news of dear old Giles. I am getting along fine but would like to see some of my old Virginia friends."

We call your attention to the advertisement of Thomas Mercantile Co. of Bluff City, in another column. This firm is one of the liveliest and most energetic business houses we have in our community. They have a general line of merchandise and sell at as reasonable prices as can be found anywhere. Give them a trial and be convinced they are fair and square dealers.

Dr. J. Thomas Parker and family will leave next Monday for Eastern Virginia, where he goes to settle up an estate of his wife's father who died not long since. They will return in the Spring and settle down in our village and practice his profession, that of dentistry. We are glad of their coming back as Pearisburg does not like to lose such a fine and much-beloved family. When he returns it will be made known through the columns of the VIRGINIAN.

A disastrous fire occurred at Northfork, W. Va., on the N. & W. R. R., on Monday morning last, in which $95,000 worth of property were destroyed. The lighting plant, store, hotel, packing house plant and several other buildings were totally destroyed. A large part of the loss was covered by insurance. Mr. C. B. Angel of the Northfork Ice and Electric Company, whom many of our citizens know, was a heavy loser. The fire is believed to have originated from some defective wiring on the top floor of the hotel.

The Memorial Hospital Training School for Nurses at Richmond, Va., is now forming its Spring class and there are still a few vacancies. This school is Registered by the Regents of New York State, and a Southern girl can get the same training in this school that she would get in any Northern school. If there are any young ladies in our community who would like to become a nurse, here is your chance, and it will pay you to become one.

Last Friday night an informal dance was given at the hall in honor of the Misses Howe of Radford. Dancing commenced at 8:30 and continued until one o'clock. At suitable intervals, refreshments were served. Delightful music was furnished by the Pearisburg Colored Orchestra. Those present were: Misses Sallie and Minnie Howe, Radford; Nancy and Ellen St. Clair and Douglas Peck, Bane; Helen Hoge, Hoge's Store; Marguerite Pearson, Carrie Williams, Constance Osborne, Annie Strader, Bess Shelton and Mrs. Lucile Mann, Pearisburg. Messrs Sam Hoge, Hoge's Store; Joe Wyse, Herman Snidow and Prof. Reed, Pembroke; R. A. Brown, Tom Duncan, Russell Pearson, Sterling Mann, Ike Painter and Martin Williams, Jr., Pearisburg. Chaperones, Mrs. Elsie Kemp, Judge and Mrs. Bernard Mason.

CAMPBELL-BROTHERTON.

On last Wednesday evening (17th inst.), at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. Frank Brotherton, Mr. G. Arthur Campbell and Miss Hattie Brotherton were joined together in wedlock; Rev. W. B. Belchee, officiating.

This was a very quiet affair, only a few friends witnessing the ceremony.

We wish this happy pair a joyous and successful journey as they travel through this troublesome world together.

EMBROIDERY CLUB.

The young ladies Embroidery Club was very highly entertained last Saturday afternoon by Dr. and Mrs. D. A. Dunkley. The guests were received at the door by Misses Annie Strader and Elizabeth Shelton, and ushered into the drawing room. The young ladies embroidered sometime, then indulged in many games, after which delicious refreshments were served.

Those present were Misses Susie Easley, Helen and Frances Mason, Gladys Duncan, Mabel Goodwin, Ethel Dulaney, Mary Peters, Madge Hansbarger, Willie, Frances and Katharine Shelton.

DEATH OF A. S. BEAMER.

Mr. A. S. Beamer of Narrows, died last Friday morning after a short illness of pneumonia, aged 43 years. He is survived by his widow and four children.

He was connected with the Narrows Lumber & Manufacturing Co. He was a member in good standing of three secret orders, Masonic, Odd Fellows, and Modern Woodmen of America, carrying $1,000 insurance in the Woodmen.

The Masonic order had charge of the burial. A beautiful service was conducted at the Christian church by Rev. W. B. Belchee.

The pall-bearers were: J. H. Warner, G. F. Linenmeyer, J. G. French, J. H. Woolwine, R. B. Durham, H. N. Stump, R. L. Shrader and C. P. Shrader. The flower-bearers were: C. R. Adair, James Adair, F. P. Hale and Walter Hale.

The hymns rendered by the choir were: "Nearer My God to Thee," "Abide With Me," "Asleep in Jesus," and "Rock of Ages," the last sung by special request by Mrs. W. R. Davis and Miss Agnes Coburn.

Floral offerings were sent by the three orders; the Narrows Lumber & Manufacturing Co., senior class of the Narrows High School and a number of friends.

He was buried in River View cemetery. Both the Pearisburg and Peterstown lodges of Masons attended.

The VIRGINIAN extends its deepest and sincerest sympathy to those who mourn the death of this dear and faithful husband and father.

BRING OR SEND.

Any one who has Masonic aprons and gloves belonging to Giles Lodge. No. 106, will please bring or send them to me.

OFFICERS ELECTED.

The following officers of Giles Lodge, No. 106, A. F. & A. M., were elected for the ensuing year:

G. E. Hambrick, W. Master.
J. J. Carper, S. Warden.
N. C. Hetherington, J. Warden
J. W. Carper, Treas.
W. H. Thompson, Sec'y.
G. W. Moore, S. Deacon.
G. H. Dennis, J. Deacon.
C. A. Johnston, Tyler.

Death of James Edward Williams.

James Edward Williams, aged 79 years, departed this life Jan. 5, 1912, after a brief illness from pneumonia. He bore his suffering patiently and was ready when the end came; was a faithful soldier of the cross for a number of years; having joined the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, when yet a boy. He lived such a pure, upright life, that others would do well to follow in his footsteps. He was well known throughout the country, where he was very popular, having been born and raised in Giles county. Was always ready to help the poor and needy. His death has cast a gloom over the entire community.

He is survived by his widow (who was Miss Elvina Atkins), one son, Warren Davis of Van West, Ohio, and one brother, Reese Williams of Mg brook.

May God's richest blessing be upon the broken-hearted widow and son, is the prayer of

A FRIEND.

WHITE GATE.

Some men work for power,
Some men work for fame,
Some men keep on working
Because they like the game;
Some men work for health's sake,
Some to show their grit—
Most men work because they
Would starve if they would quit.

1912 has had a very cool reception.

White Gate is wearing her crat collars turned up ever since the mercury started downward. Pedestrians are wearing shawls on their heads and chilblains in their shoes!

The last seen of the mercury it was disappearing through the cement floor in the cellar, and by this time it may be "rising" somewhere in China.

We are a fortunate people,—as we have had no trouble with water-pipes freezing, nor tanks and boilers bursting, we don't even have to shovel snow off our pavements!

Rufus Lewey has returned from a visit to Gibson, Va., and Morristown, Tenn.

T. B. Shannson was a guest at T. S. Miller's, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Williams of Bland, spent Saturday and Sunday at Capt. M. B. Allen's, returning home Monday.

A. W. Suiter of Bland, was a guest at "Edgehill," Sunday, returning home Monday.

Rev. T. M. Bane was a business visitor in town last week.

The cold weather is not conducive to social life here, so it has been unusually quiet, however the warm sunshine is now making the snow disappear rapidly, and we hope "Mr. Groundhog" will not interfere with the good weather.

NARROWS.

One of the saddest deaths that has occurred in our community for some time was that of Mr. A. S. Beamer, who died at his home here on Friday morning of pneumonia. He had only been sick one week, though he was taken very ill at first. He leaves a widow and four children to mourn the loss of a devoted husband and father. He was a member of the Masonic and Odd Fellow Lodges, and also belonged to the Modern Woodmen of America Society. The funeral services were conducted at the Christian Church by Rev. W. B. Belchee, after which the body was interred in Knob cemetery near this place. The floral offerings were numerous and beautiful. Much sympathy is felt for Mrs. Beamer, as it has only been a week since her father's death. There were a great many relatives from a distance besides the Masonic lodges from Pearisburg and Peterstown attended the funeral.

J. G. Alvis has returned from Hollins, where he visited his daughter, Miss Claris, who is there in school.

J. A. Crocker and wife left Sunday for their home at Big Stone Gap, after visiting friends and relatives at this place.

Mrs. J. A. Vaughn was hostess at a card party Saturday night in honor of Mrs. Crockett.

Miss Willie Johnson of Oak vale, is the guest of relatives here.

Mrs. Wimmer, who spent last week with her sisterinlaw, Mrs. A. S. Beamer, returned to her home at Radford, Sunday.

L. T. Cadle and Russell Derrick spent Saturday and Sunday with C. J. French.

J. H. Durham and daughter of Ripplemead, have been visiting his son, Robert, of this place.

Mrs. W. E. C. Merriman was the hostess of a most delightful card party Friday afternoon at her home on Main street, complimentary to Mrs. J. A. Crocker. Five hundred was the game played. The game was progressive and some very high scores were made, in which Frank Johnson was awarded a lovely picture for largest score; Mrs. W. R. Davis a tape measure in a silver shoe, for second largest, and Miss Ruth Davis won the consolation, a set of 'Jack rocks.' Mrs. Crocker was presented with the booby prize, a beautiful pin. At the conclusion of the game, dainty refreshments were served. The guests were: Mesdames F. D. Kelley, J. B. Givens, J. A. Crocker, J. A. Vaughn, C. D. French, W. R. Davis, J. G. Alvis, James Adair, Frank Johnson, Hale Brown; Misses Ruth Davis, Leslie Wheeler, Roxie and Edith Lent.

Resolutions of Respect.

We, the Senior Class of the Narrows High School on the bereavement of our friend and fellow class mate, Frank Beamer, do hereby offer the following resolutions:

First. Be it resolved that we extend to the bereaved family our deepest sympathy.

Second. Be it resolved that we as a body, pay our respects to the deceased.

Third. Resolved that the said resolutions be printed in the PEARISBURG VIRGINIAN, also a copy be sent to the family.

KIMBALLTON.

The sick are all still improving.

C. J. Peck spent Friday and Saturday at Pembroke.

Floyd Osborne and Chap Link spent from Thursday until Sunday at Maybeury, W. Va. They certainly did look bad when they returned. I think they also visited Pocahontas.

Mr. Sutherland was here Wednesday with his nice line of shoes and oxfords.

Miss Mabel Bolton spent the week's end here with parents. She is a beautiful and bright young lady.

Miss Mabel Farrow, passed here Saturday on her way to Waiteville to see her grandfather, John Crozier, who is seriously ill. He will be 102 year's old the 2nd of March and a good old man.

W. H. Buchanan was here Thursday night.

Mrs. Lucinda Lucas of Roanoke, is here visiting her son, W. H. Moser. She is 97 years old and can get around like a 16 year old girl.

Billy Bradley was down from Interior, Wednesday. He says he is getting along fine in the mercantile business.

Bro. Royall and Dr. Dunkley were over to see M. C. Bolton, Thursday evening.

Miss Sallie Snidow is visiting her brother, Sam, here this week.

C. J. Peck, J. M. Snidow and H. E. Peery filled their ice houses last week.

E. E. Britts spent Sunday at Ripplemead.

Miss Eva Epling returned from Newport, Thursday.

G. W. Buchanan spent Sunday here with his parents.

Cub Smith moved to Pembroke, Thursday.

J. J. Cole went to Bluefield, Friday on business.

Walter McCroskey was down from Bluefield, Saturday taking up lumber for Saxon Lime & Lumber Co.

Something About Farm Implements!

You don't buy Farm Implements with the same frequency that you buy Groceries, and if you buy the wrong kind you have brought a trouble that lasts a long time.

The essential thing about buying Implements then, is to know that it is good that brings you here, for the last skilful buyer can come here and be sure that what he buys is good, because we make it good.

Our qualities, our low prices, our splendid assortment, are facts, not theories, because of the prevalence of facts in our stablishment, our customers come to us in constantly increasing numbers, and our firm adherence to facts is the best guarantee that could be offered for our goods.

The difference in cost, between good and bad machinery, for instance, is very small, but there's a great difference in satisfaction.

Cheap goods, are a continual source of worry and annoyance and it will pay you when figuring on that Disc Harrow, Grain Drill, Spreader, Gasoline Engine, Crusher, Grinder, Mower, Binder, Rake, Weeder, Plow, Wagon, Buggy, Harness, Well Pump, Spray Pump, Cream Separator, Spray Solutions, Hardware Repairs and Etc., to come here and get the best.

You can't afford to leave this store out of consideration, when you purchase your Implements, we can save you money, and give you a square deal.

WHAT CAN YOU DO WITH IT?

Seasonable Advice to Those who Have Something in Their Possession They Wish to Shake.

How dear to our hearts is the old silver dollar,
When some kind subscriber presents it to view,
The liberty head without necktie or collar,
And all the strange things that to us seem so new.
The wide spreading eagle, the arrows below it,
The stars and the words, with the queer things they tell,
The coin of our fathers. We're glad we know it,
For some time or other 'twill come in right well.

PREACHES A SERMON ON COUNTRY EDITOR.

Illinois Minister Declares He Should be Sent to Congress.

Elder John P. Galvin, pastor of the Christian Church of Fairfield, Ill., in a series of sermons on the different trades and occupations of life delivered a sermon on "The Newspaper." Among the many good things he said were:

"What am I doing for it? Kicking because it's not blowing my horn? But how much of myself am I lending to the paper by speaking a good word for it whenever I have a chance? Really, how much of my personal influence can its editor depend upon? If I grow a big cabbage I want him to publish it, but I may hear item after item of news about other people's cabbages and never drop him a line about them. Now, as he is not almighty enough to be in all places at the same time why not help him by making news for his paper? It's rather a mean thing to take everything and give nothing back but fault finding. If we never feed the cow how can we expect any milk, and can we blame Bossey if she kicks the milker and the bucket? All in all I find that our county papers are doing their very best for every part of the country, even a hundred times more than any of the large city papers can possibly do.

"The city daily or weekly can not deal with those, to them, small items which interest close neighbors. But the county papers tell us all about them and keep us posted in all home matters, from the first baby down to the garden truck and the visit Mrs. Sallie Howcomereo made at Pitchfork Creek.

"In fact, the magic of the county paper sets far off neighbors in close gossipping contact—just a rail fence between. And where can the preacher find a more willing agent than this same county newspaper? It gives him free ads. for his sermons, lecture, etc.

"And how many times its puff has inflated the cash balance of the church social! And he has to pay for his ice cream and cake besides.

"Talk about men working for glory. Why, the only share of glory of half the editors of country papers is like that of the man who saw the father of his nation from afar off. Yes; his glory is like some of those weird pictures of Dore. And after he has spent an hour or so patching up the spelling and punctuation of some hasty brother's article or letter so as to make decent reading out of it he feels as if he had a mouthful of mustard and sour dock when the said brother goes around telling every one how the said editor has ruined his beautiful effusion. Job had boils to contend with, but the country editor has to try to satisfy men and women afflicted with an elongated dose of twisted conceit. Job prayed that his enemy might write a book, but if I could ever pray for the affliction of a man I didn't like I'd pray he might be an editor of a country newspaper. It would keep him hot through the day, and he would not have much sleep at night.

"So my heart goes out to the country editor. May his paid up list grow as fast as the gourd of Jonah, only with a better staying quality, and may his days be long in the land, and may his shadow never, never, grow less, and, if we can, let us send him to Congress.—American Press.

ARE YOU EDUCATED?

Not long ago a lecturer at the University Club of Chicago, handed out one hundred typewritten sheets to as many men in the audience. These papers contained twenty questions, and the lecturer explained that if any gentleman present could answer correctly one-half of these questions he might consider himself an educated person. Otherwise he had better go back and take a post-graduate course for fear that the college degree might receive the recall.

So here are the questions. Just test yourself by them:

1. Name the vice-president of the United States.
2. Name the treasurer of the United States.
3. Name the conductor of the New York Symphony Orchestra.
4. Name the leader of Tammany Hall.
5. Name your congressman.
6. Who is Hugo Munstrberg?
7. Who was Sir Christopher Wren?
8. Why is All Babe?
9. What is the Penteteuch?
10. What is a selsmograph?
11. What is a clevis?
12. How many justices are there on the bench of the supreme court of the United States?
13. Name five of them.
14. Who said, "The child is father of the man?"
45. Who said, "The groves were God's first temples?"
16. Who said, "Once more unto tha breach, dear friends, once more!"
17. Who was Mommsen?
18. Who is president of the Lake Shore railroad?
19. What is the fourth city in size in the United States?
20. What is a preposition?

All of the gentlemen present were college graduates. Forty-one of them read the questions over and gave them up. The other fifty nine filled them out. Not one man answered all the questions correctly and very few gave correct answers to half of them.

Of course this does not prove that these men were incompetent. It merely shows that a man may know a great many facts and yet be ignorant on many simple propositions that the average high school sophomore can answer correctly.

For the benefit of any one who may think he is a very ignorant individual on account of his inability to answer all of these questions, let me say that education is more a matter of qualities than the acquisition of facts.—Elbert Hubbard.

It is Just a Habit.

"I suppose, Elleen," she remarked to the new girl, who feigned indifference, "that you overheard my husband and me conversing rather earnestly this morning. I hope, however, that you did not think anything unusual was going on?"

"Niver a bit, mum. Oi wanst had a husband meself, an' niver a day passed that th' neighbors didn't believe one or th' other av us would be kilt entoirly."

WHY NOT WILSON?

Why shouldn't Virginia support Wilson for the presidential nomination?

What is the matter with his past record?

What is the matter with his capacity?

What is the matter with his democracy?

What is the matter with the man?

Absolutely nothing!

He is a Democrat of the purest type—one who lives, and teaches and preaches his democracy in every sphere of his life. He is the best disciple of Jefferson we have produced in a quarter of a century.

He is straight on every Democratic doctrine—as to the tariff, as to trust regulation, as to safe currency, as to local self-government, as to purity in politics, as to publicity in corporate matters affecting the people, as to primary elections—in short as to the full business and political rights of the people at large.

He does not believe in the initiative, referendum and recall as national policies. He is not at all dangerously radical, neither is he deadly conservative. He is sanely, intelligently, farsightedly progressive.

He is no faddist, has no "paramount issue" and never divorces theory from practice.

So much for his democracy.

What about his personality, his equipment, his capacity, his controlling aims?

His personality is strong, honest and convincing; his equipment is that of a ripe scholar, deeply and practically versed in the science of government and economics; his capacity is that of a brilliant, penetrating and constructive mind-rich in achieved values, and capable of splendid growth, and his controlling aims are the honest progressive government of the people, by the people, and the banishment or corruption from our business and political life.

What then is the matter with him? We answer again absolutely nothing? Why then should he not receive the especial support of Virginia and the South? He should and for these reasons:

1. Because he was born in Virginia.

2. Because he was educated for the most part in Virginia and in the South, and therefore knows the needs and traditions of our people. At the same time he is broadly American in the best sense of the word.

3. Because he is the best known and best equipped man we have produced in a generation as an aspirant for presidential honors.

4. Because as governor of a great northern state he is in a position to gain the confidence of the North and West and to swing as he has done a great deal of their coveted strength to his support.

5. Because we can claim that he is the best representative of the New South. Young, strong, clean and progressive, without sectional bitterness, without political enemies, and without a past record of radical views and populistic tendencies.

These are pretty good reasons why we should support him. Certainly until some other state can show a better man. Until that is done let us stop boosting outsiders, and give home talent home strength.

Finally, what are his chances for winning the presidency? Listen to the editor of "The World's Work."

"On the democratic side there is no longer any doubt of the overwhelming popular preferences for Gov. Woodrow Wilson. If the Convention reflect or respect the preference of the masses of the party, his nomination seems as certain as any such further event can be."

Again: "His so-called 'radicalism' also is in some quarters held against him. But it is a two-edged weapon. The conversation turned on this subject at a lunch club in the financial district of New York a little while ago. One man asked: 'Isn't Wilson radican.'? 'I hope so' was the quick reply of one man after another in the company. 'Radicalism' is relative and it means what you will. If it mean doing the public business in the open; if it mean dethroning bosses and giving the people themselves a direct, controlling voice in public affairs; if it mean the restoration of popular government and the consequent abolition of special privilege, he is radical. There would otherwise be no sufficient reason for his political existence, or his swiftly won popularity."—Charlottesville Daily Progress.

DREWRY'S BILL IS SUPPORTED.

Health Commissioner Approves Vital Statistics Bill--Its Importance.

Richmond, Va., Jan. 24, 1912.—Senate Bill 86, known as the Drewry vital statistics bill, will not lack for supporters among lawyers and health workers of the State who regard this measure as a most important contribution to the law and to public health.

Commenting on Drewry bill this morning, Health Commissioner Williams strongly approved the provisions of the proposed measure. "As matters stand today," said Dr. Willlams, "a man may come into the world, may live his allotted time and die without a single legal record of life remaining. Unless he be tried before some court of justice, or make a will which is admitted to record, the average man in Virginia leaves absolutely no permanent record of his existence.

"In European countries, the record of vital statistics is a matter of centuries. Even the humblest peasant, immigrating to America, brings his birth certificate with him, showing when he was born and who are his parents. He can likewise secure a record of the birth and death of all the members of his family for centuries. These are often indespensible.

"Much more important is the record of deaths. The last census showed a decline in the population of 31 Virginia counties. Were there a record of deaths in these counties, it would be possible to establish beyond doubt the reason for this decline, —whether it is due to the removal of residents or to an excess of deaths over births. Moreover, if such records were available, we could at once know where to center our activities in combatting any given disease. For instance, if we had a vital statistics law and found that there were abnormal death rate from typhoid in any county, we could at once direct attention to that county and begin a campaign against the disease.

"The legal profession is strongly supporting this measure, as its enactment removes many difficulties in the way of probating wills and fixing inheritances."

He is happiest, be he king or peasant, who finds peace in his own home.

The Up-to-Date Girl.

The up to date girl wears a harem skirt (which has few defenders), the next she wears her brother's shirt, and likewise his suspenders. She joins the lodge and rides the goat, does many things that shock us, and now she's learning how to vote, and left her voice in caucus. When she goes forth on Dobbin's back, she needs no lady's saddle; she gives her trusted steed a whack and jogs along astradle. She doesn't know the works of Pope from Thackeray's "Pendennis," she's training as the white man's hope, and she is strong at tennis. When whiskers sprouted on her face it didn't amaze her, and oft I hear her singing bass while hunting for her razor. She is pathetic, she is droll, she's more or less than human; she is that trial to the soul, the modern mannish woman. You'd hear the country side complain if I wore waists and dresses that I had swiped from Sarah Jane, her rats and storemade tresses. The girls would hoot me out of town, they'd say I tried to shame them: they'd lynch me in my borrowed gown, and not a soul would blame them.

No Chicken in the Pie.

A hungry customer seated himself at a table in a quick lunch resturant and ordered a chicken pie. When it arrived he raised the lid and sat gazing at the contents intently for a while. Finally he called a waiter.

"Look here, Sam, what did I order?" he said.

"Chicken pie, sah."

"And what have you brought me?"

"Chicken pie, sah."

"Chicken pie, you black rascal!" the customer replied. "Chicken pie? Why there's not a piece of chicken in it and never was."

"Dat's right, boss—dey ain't no chicken in it."

"Then why do you call it chicken pie? I never heard of such a thing."

"Dat's all right, boss. Dey don't have to be no chicken in a chicken pie. Dey ain't no dog in a dog biscuit, is dey?"

Speed Record Broken.

A guest in a Cincinnati hotel was shot and killed. The negro porter who heard the shooting was a witness at the trial.

"How many shots did you hear?" asked the lawyer.

"Two shots, sah," he replied.

"How far apart were they?"

"'Bout like dis way," explained the negro, clapping his hands with an interval of about a second between them.

"Where were you when the first shot was fired?"

"Shinin' a gemman's shoes in de basement of de hotel."

"Where were you when the second shot was fired?"

"Ah was passin' de Big Fo' depot."

A Matter of Opinion.

"Mary!"

Father's voice rolled down the stair and into the dim and silent parlor.

"Yes, papa, dear?"

"Ask that young man if he has the time."

A moment of silence.

"Yes, George has his watch with him."

"Then ask him what is the time."

"He says it is 11:48, papa."

"Then ask him if he doesn't think it about bedtime."

Another moment of silence.

"He says, papa," the silvery voice announced impersonally—"he says that he rarely goes to bed before 1, but it seems to him that it is a matter of personal preference merely and that if he were in your place he would go now if he felt sleepy?"

H. B. SHELTON & Co.

Tomorrow is ground hog day. Wonder if he will be able to see his shadow? We don't care a snap whether he does or not. All signs fail anyway.

Something that will not perhaps, happen again while we live—five VIRGINIANS in the month of February. One on the first, another on the last day.

H. W. Sears, "The Taffy Man," will lecture at the Pearisburg High School building next Wednesday night, Feb. 7th. Go, if you want to enjoy yourself.

Mrs Hugh M. Hill of Atlanta, Ga., is visiting her mother, Mrs. M. C. Easley of this place; also her numerous friends, who will be glad to welcome her to her native town.

Miss Dee St. Clair of Bane, left Monday to join her uncle, C. R. St. Clair and wife in Roanoke, who the latter part of this week will leave for Florida to spend several months.

H. W. Sears, "The Taffy Man," will lecture at the Narrows High School building Saturday night, Feb. 3rd. Be sure and attend if you want to have a good time.

Matrimony is a cure for love sickness. Why don't some of the old maids or widows try it while they are ailing so much? You had better take advantage of leap year while it lasts.

A man tried to raise money in Washington the other day by forging a newspaper man's name. He didn't succeed, of course, as his delinquents were behind on their subscriptions.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Robertson of Poplar Hill, who have been on a visit to Mrs. Robertson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Gott of Princeton, W. Va., last week, returned home last Saturday.

If you can't say anything good about your town, don't say anything. But then there are individuals in it that need "poking in the ribs," once in a while to bring them to a sense of their duty. Be on the lookout for us.

Monday morning when we got our peepers open we noticed that mother earth was clothed in a sheet of ice, and about the "slipperest" time we ever saw. However, before noon, it rained and the "slickness" soon disappeared.

J. M. McGinley and wife of Worsham, Va., have been visiting Mrs J F Farley and their little daughter near this place. They leave in a day or so for their new home in Florida. May peace and happiness attend you while in this sunny clime.

Newton Mustard of Mechanicsburg, died in a Bluefield hospital last Wednesday morning and was taken to his home for burial. He has many relatives in this county, and is an uncle of Miss Lulu Shrader who is attending the High School at this place.

WANTED!

A good white girl or woman for house work in small family. A good home with good pay. Must be well recommended.
Address, L.,
624 Raleigh St.,
Bluefield, W. Va.

How about that California fever a number of our citizens had some time ago? They were so eager to get there they were going to tear themselves away from us without hardly saying goodbye. Is California no good or what is the matter? Why so mum?

Read the new advertisement of Frank Hellerick & Co., commission merchants, Philadelphia, Pa., in another column. They want your turkeys, ducks, chickens, eggs, etc. They pay the highest market price. They are reliable and can be depended upon.

A couple were recently married. The ceremony over the wife began to weep copiously: "What's the matter?" asked the new husband, "I never told you that I didn't know how to cook," sobbed the bride. "Don't fret," said he, "you'll not have anything to cook; I'm an editor."—Exchange.

Look here, people, what do you mean? Out of 157 statements we sent out some time ago, about 50 have responded. Do you think we live on wind? If so, we would certainly get fat these days. Come on with that money, we need it in our business, and have a family to support also.

The fourth and last of the series of plays given by the Lyceum Course of the Pearisburg High School, entitled, "The Taffy Man," will be given on the night of February 3d at Narrows, and at Pearisburg, on the night of February 7th. Dr. H. W. Sears who is "The Taffy Man," is without a peer to entertain and edify an audience. His endorsement by the press, colleges, etc., cannot be beaten if words of praise count.

M. W. Franklin, our former jailer at this place, has given up that position and is now giving his entire time and attention to his former business that of Life Insurance. Mr. Franklin is with the Old Union Mutual Life Insurance Co. of Maine, and is writing some very attractive policies, and would say to those who desire a safe protection for self and family, they can do no better than to insure with him, as he represents a good, safe, old line company.

One of the nicest and most enjoyable surprise parties this season was at the home of Mrs H L Bingham on Friday evening last Quite a goodly number of young ladies and gents were in attendance. Plays and other amusements were indulged in. Dancing was also a feature of the evening's enjoyment, music being furnished by the "Hobo Printer from Bland," which was said to be excellently rendered. Dainty refreshments were served. They went to their home at a late hour, well pleased with the evening's fun.

It's the stove that pays for itself. Bakes right, does right and looks right, makes dad and the cook happy. It really cheers the whole family. If interested write for catalogue and delivered price at your railroad station.

Dent and Starrette Osborne of Saltville, are guests of W. H. Buchanan.

We are requested to say that next Tuesday, February 6th is the regular meeting night for the Royal Arch Chapter, A. F. & A. M.

A string band composed of about twenty young ladies and gentlemen, has been organized in this place. This band is under the direction of Prof. Cam A. Lugar, and after a reasonable time, no doubt, will be a success, for, as fine talent as we have in our midst, are in this band. With the new brass band and this band, we expect in the near future, to hear some very fine music.

Mrs. Mary Benson of Philadelphia, Pa., quietly passed away in the stillness of the night at her daughter's home, Mrs. Davis of Bluff City, last Wednesday night. She leaves a husband and five children to mourn her death. She was here on a visit. "In the midst of life we are in death." She was a member of the High Episcopal church in Philadelphia. Her funeral was preached by Rev. W. B. Belchee, assisted by Rev. M. W. Royall. Her remains were laid in the Bluff City cemetery on last Friday to await the resurrection morning. May the Lord bless the sad home.

Bayard H. Taylor of Baltimore, Md., says: "Your paper and letters of recent date from homefolks have informed me that you have been having shivering weather. So have we. In fact, we have shivered so much of late that the whole town rocks in the fury of one continuous shiver. The streets are a mass of ice, and he who cannot skate remains at home. The street cars are all equipped with skates, and 'tis a wonderful sight to behold them gliding around over trackless streets. Of course we hope to have things moving in the ordinary way by the fourth of July. Wishing you and your paper honor, glory, good luck and success."

A suburban residence sale of more than usual importance has just been consummated in the purchase by Walter L. Taylor, formerly of this county, of the beautiful Keidel home, at Edmondson avenue and Ingleside road, Catonsville, Md., which, as soon as the title is passed, will be occupied by Mr. Taylor as his residence. The property consists of ten acres of high, rolling land, improved with a large three-story, 14-room dwelling and all necessary outbuildings. The house is beautifully situated in what is considered the most exclusive section of the pretty suburb and was erected a number of years ago by Mr. Keidel. The purchase price reported was $20,000.

NOTICE!

We have numerous inquiries for large, medium and small size farms, also for mountain land. If those having property of this kind for sale, will accept fair prices, and will communicate with us, can sell for them. All correspondence confidential.

SOMETHING OF INTEREST AND IMPORTANCE TO PEARISBURG.

The faculty of William and Mary College have under consideration a plan, which, if put into effect, may be of much interest and importance to the people of Pearisburg. They are talking of trying to establish a Summer School for young men somewhere in the Southwestern part of the State, and there is reason to believe that should these plans be carried out Pearisburg will be the place selected for the school. This school will be held for two months during the Summer under the supervision of the faculty of William and Mary College.

They have already written to some of the men of our town for information in regard to accommodations, etc. The success or failure of these plans all depend upon what the Legislature does. Judge Martin Williams is trying to get an appropriation for the school and if he succeeds it will be established.

We extend our best wishes for success to all those who are working for this school, and should they win out and decide to honor Pearisburg during the Summer, we can promise them a hearty welcome into our midst, and they can rest assured that they will not find the people of Giles county lacking in hospitality.

A TRIP TO PRINCETON.

Last Thursday and Friday we had the pleasure of visiting for the first time, the thriving and increasing village of Princeton, W. Va. She is destined to be one of the prettiest towns in that State, as the land is level and commands a broad and extensive view.

Goochville, a part of the town, in the eastern end, is building up at a rapid rate and will soon be a town in itself.

From the Virginian depot to the Courthouse, many fine residences are to be seen and many new ones are being erected.

There is talk of more street car lines being built to accommodate the people in the eastern end of the town, which will be a great convenience to that section.

We had the pleasure while there of attending court, and shaking hands with Judge Hugh G. Woods, Attorney J. A. Meadows, Revs. J. H. Shuler and J. H. Johnston, J. D. Gott, the undertaker; Chas. Gott, yard conductor on the Virginian, and numerous other friends, whom we would like to mention, but space forbids.

We also had the pleasure of visiting our brothers of the quill, "Mountain Messenger" and the "Mercer Republican," both of whom seemed to be happy and doing well with their sheets.

Princeton covers a large area, is at least one and one-half miles long and one-half mile wide, and is so situated that a large and fine city could be made out of her territory and that surrounding her.

The man who is doing good work is writing his name on the memory of the world. Let us look around and see how many of us are doing this grand thing.

H. W. SEARS,
"The Taffy Man,"
AT NARROWS HIGH SCHOOL,
SATURDAY NIGHT, FEB. 3d.
AND PEARISBURG HIGH SCHOOL,
WEDNESDAY NIGHT, FEB. 7th.

Happy is the man who finds his mission in the world. Dr. H. W. Sears found his when he began by his lectures to drive out the blues and rout the demons of grumbling with his scourge of satire, wit and humor. Like the poet, the lecturer is born, not made Such is the inimitable Dr. Sears, with his word pictures, sound logic, true philosophy and gospel ethics, seasoned with good spirits, pathos and soulstirring eloquence. He is Sam Jones and Dr. Willets in one, for he has the pungent sarcasm and brilliant gift of the one and the pathetic and inspiring power of the other. Dr. Sears is unique and without a peer to entertain and edify an audience on any occasion. He is one of the greatest entertainers and best drawing cards on the lecture platform today. Every lecture course is richer when he is in it, and every Chautauqua program is sadly defective when he is left out. You have not heard the best until you hear him. He is always at his best.

Subjects: "More Taffy and Less Epitaphy;" "Grumblers and Their Cure;" "Climbing the Mountain Before You Get to It;" "Stickability."

Capt. Richmond Pearson Hobson, says: "I have heard Dr. Sears lecture, and commend him most heartily and enthusiastically. As a humorist he has no superior."

Resolutions of Respect.

Resolutions of respect upon the death of neighbor, Augustus Simpson Beamer, of Narrows Camp, No. 11698, Modern Woodmen of America, who died Jan. 19, 1912.

WHEREAS, It has pleased Almighty God in His divine providence to remove from our midst our esteemed neighbor and colaborer in the cause of Industry, Power and Progress; and

WHEREAS, We deeply regret the loss of our beloved neighbor, but realizing that we must bow in humble submission to the Divine will; therefore be it

RESOLVED, That we have lost an exemplary citizen, and a just and honorable man.

That we tender the family of our deceased neighbor our heartfelt sympathy and that we render unto them such aid and assistance as may be in our power.

That our charter be draped in mourning for a period of thirty days.

The little kindnesses we are likely to undervalue are counted large in heaven.

SIX OF ONE AND A HALF A DOZEN OF THE OTHER.

(Special to the VIRGINIAN.)

Isn't it strange the way folks do,
When they live in a country town?
Did you ever notice the way they talk,
Of each other all around?

The women will go to the church
On a Sunday afternoon,
And talk of foreign missions
In countries near the moon.

They speak of the Golden Rule,
And of love for fellow man,
Of the way to treat their neighbors
In following out God's plan.

Then when the meeting's over,
And they've been dismissed with prayer,
Some straightway start to gossip
Of the other ladies there.

And Mrs. Smith gets awful mad
And says that she don't see
"Why Mrs. Brown did such a thing Without consulting me."

And thus the gossips go
A talking of each other.
They'll criticise some girl,
And then discuss her mother.

Now, these same religious people,
(And this means some men too),
When there's going to be a dance
Will raise a big to do.

They say the girls who dance
Commit an awful sin,
And that if they do not stop it,
No church should take them in.

The girls and boys who dance
Are seeking harmless pleasure;
And they do not stop to gossip
In between the music's measure.

The question it appears
With which their minds should labor,
Is whether it is worse to dance
Or gossip with some neighbor?

I am no gossip, and I never dance
So I speak for neither class.
But throwing stones is foolish sport
When your house is built of glass.

Something About Farm Implements!

You don't buy Farm Implements with the same frequency that you buy Groceries, and if you buy the wrong kind you have brought a trouble that lasts a long time.

The essential thing about buying Implements then, is to know that it is good that brings you here, for the last skilful buyer can come here and be sure that what he buys is good, because we make it good.

Our qualities, our low prices, our splendid assortment, are facts, not theories, because of the prevalence of facts in our stablishment, our customers come to us in constantly increasing numbers, and our firm adherence to facts is the best guarantee that could be offered for our goods.

The difference in cost, between good and bad machinery, for instance, is very small, but there's a great difference in satisfaction.

Cheap goods, are a continual source of worry and annoyance and it will pay you when figuring on that Disc Harrow, Grain Drill, Spreader, Gasoline Engine, Crusher, Grinder, Mower, Binder, Rake, Weeder, Plow, Wagon, Buggy, Harness, Well Pump, Spray Pump, Cream Separator, Spray Solutions, Hardware Repairs and Etc., to come here and get the best.

You can't afford to leave this store out of consideration, when you purchase your Implements, we can save you money, and give you a square deal.

MID-WINTER PRICES

On Eggs, Poultry and Butter,

By Hellerick & Co., Philadelphia, Pa.

Never have we seen Butter, live Geese and Ducks so high, clear out of sight almost. Eggs, Turkeys and Chickens continues to bring fine prices too. The returns we are sending out now are better than shippers are looking for especially on Butter, Eggs, live Ducks and Geese. The sales of Turkeys and Chickens are very satisfactory. They haven't advanced in proportion to other goods, but we hope and expect them to be higher during February than they were in January. Never have we had such a heavy demand in mid winter before. We are getting more goods than any one in Philadelphia, but still not half enough. Can't you ship us something during February? If you have neighbors who have Produce to sell tell them to ship it to us. If they haven't been shipping us won't you please send us their names at once. We'll appreciate it very much if our friends all over Giles county will do this. If only one or two names from each one of our friends it would be a special favor to us just at this time. Let us see how many of our friends will help us out this much.

Everybody ship during February! Returns will more than please you. Yours to command.

Modern Young Men.

Of the amusements of modern young men Swift gives the following description, which, unhappily, still has its application:

Gaming, talking, swearing, drinking,
Humbug, shooting, never thinking;
Chattering nonsense all day long,
Humming half an opera song;
Chasing baubles, rings, and jewels;
Writing verses, fighting duels,
Mincing words in conversation,
Ridiculing all the nation,
Admiring their own pretty faces,
As if possess'd of all the graces;
And though no bigger than a rat,
Peeping under each girl's hat.

A CUTTING REPLY.

A tramp asked a farmer for something to eat,
One day as he chanced there to stop,
The kind-hearted farmer went out to the shed
And gave him an ax and feelingly said,
"Now, just help yourself to a chop."

Alphabets for Men and Women.

BY ELLA WHEELER WILCOX.

Some one has arranged an alphabet for women. It lays down the rules for true womanhood, in the following manner:

I will be—
Amiable always.
Beautiful as possible.
Charitable to everybody.
Dutiful to myself.
Earnest in the right things.
Friendly in disposition.
Generous to all in need.
Hopeful in spite of everything.
Intelligent but not pedantic.
Joyful as a bird.
Kind even in thought.
Long suffering with the stupid.
Merry for the sake of others.
Necessary to a few.
Optimistic, though the skies fall.
Prudent in my pleasures.
Quixotic, rather than hard.
Ready to own up.
Self-respecting in the right limit.
True to my best.
Unselfish short of martyrdom.
Valiant for the absent.
Willing to believe the best.
Xemplary in conduct.
Young and fresh in heart.
Zealous to make the best of life.

The woman who lives up to all precepts of this alphabet would need a very exemplary man for a mate.

So here is an alphabet for men to learn, that they may be fitting themselves to be suitable companions for the woman who has learned her alphabet.

A Man's Alphabet:

I will be—
Ambitious to live up to the best in me.
Brave in adversity.
Consistent in theory and practice.
Determined and daring in doing right.
Eager to correct my faults.
Faithful to my convictions.
Good to everyone, foe or friend.
Happy to do my share of the world's work.
Intense in my efforts at self-development.
Just in my dealings with others.
Kind to all created things; and kind accordingly.
Loving and lovable to those near me.
Mighty in faith.
Notable for my optimism.
Open-hearted.
Patient.
Quiet in the midst of confusion and turmoil.
Righteous as I can be.
Strong in my principles.
Trusting God like a little child.
Unswerving in efforts at improvement.
Versatile in my methods of being entertained.
Watchful of my own actions.
X-asperating never.
Yielding in small things.
Zealous in great things.

The Country Editor.

A Portion of Champ Clark's Famous Speech in Defence of the Small Newspaper.

The following is an extract from the proceedings of the House of Representatives on March 2, 1898. It is well worth reading. The House was considering the Loud Bill, which proposed to increase the postal rates on country newspapers and to adopt a number of restrictions on their transmission through the mails. Champ Clark defeated the bill by his speech, a portion of which follows:

"Newspapers are great disseminators of information. The mammoth metropolitan papers with their vast circulations are splendid educators, but after all, ten persons read the little country weekly where one reads a metropolitan paper.

"Having once been a country editor myself, I entertain a most kindly feeling toward my old confreres. I am willing to make affidavit that the eleven months I spent editing a rural journal were the most beneficial of my life to myself, perhaps to others. I am proud to have belonged to the editorial guild. I am unalterably opposed to anything that will injure the country editor, curtail his profits, circumscribe his usefulness, or place an additional thorn in his pathway.

"The rural editor—God bless him—is the most persistent of teachers. Like charity as described by St. Paul in the thirteenth chapter of the First Corinthians, "he suffereth long and is kind," which cannot be said of the man that got up this bill. He "envieth not," in which he does not resemble some people over on this side of the House. He "vaunteth not himself," in which he is differentiated from the leaders on the other side of the big aisle. He "is not puffed up," in which he rises above a good many of us. He "does not behave himself unseemly; seeketh not his own; is not easily provoked.

"He is the pack horse of every community, the promoter of every laudable enterprise, the worst underpaid laborer in the vineyard. Counting his space as his capital, he gives more to charity, his means considered, than any other member of society. He is a power in politics, a pillar of the church, a leader in the crusade for better morals. He is preeminently the friend of humanity.

"Line upon line, paragraph upon paragraph, day by day, he is embalming in cold type the facts from which the Herodotus, the Tacitus, the Sismondi, or the Macaulay of the future will write the history of our modern times. (Applause) He joyously announces our advent into this world, briefly records our uprisings and our downsittings, and sorrowfully chronicles our exit from this vale of tears.

"As a creator of beauty, he double discounts Mme. Ayer, who undertakes to increase feminine pulchritude only in particular instances; but the country editor in exercise of plenary power, impartially beautifies all women whose names appear in his columns. (Laughter and loud applause) By a touch of his magicians wand he converts paste into diamonds sparkling on beauty's neck and with a skill of which ancient and ambitious alchemists only dreamed, and with politeness which Chesterfield might have envied, he transmutes brass trinkets into jewelry of purest gold, when they appear as ornaments of the family of his subscribers.

"He is the greatest and most ingenious of manufacturers, for while other manufactures produce only perishable stuffs, he manufactures immortal statesman out of raw, sometimes very raw material. (Laughter.) In this laudable industry no Dingly bill can protect him, and he must ex-necessitate work in competition with the pauper manufacturers of Europe.

He is—
To our virtues very kind
And to our faults a little blind.

"We are all more or less, generally more, his handiwork; and it does not become the creature to injure the business of his creator. Without his ingenious, generous and enthusiastic labors most of us would never be here, and when he tires of us we will retire to private life, amid rural scenes propitious for secret meditation and silent prayer. (Laughter.) Working night and day during the campaign, often without money and without price, when the election is over, the victory won and the loaves and fishes, now vulgarly called "pie," are to be distributed, by some strange lapse of the human memory, he is generally forgotten.

"Horace Greely was certainly one of the greatest editors the world ever saw. His letter to William H. Seward in 1854, announcing "the dissolution of the political firm of Seward, Weed and Greely, by the withdrawal of the junior partner," is one of the wittiest, most caustic, and most pathetic epistles in American Literature.

"Horace's wrathful statement, part of which I quote, would easily fit many another rural editor. After stating that in 1837 Weed and other friends of Seward asked him to run a campaign weekly paper, he continues:

"They asked me to fix my salary for the year. I named $1,000 which they agreed to; and I did the work required to the best of my ability. It was work that made no figure—

"See how closely it fits the country editor—

"It was work that made no figure and created no sensation, but I loved it—

"As the country editor loves it—

"And I did it well. When it was done, you (Mr. Seward) were governor dispensing offices worth $3,000 to $20,000 per year to your friends and compatriots, and I returned to my garret and my crust and my desperate battle with pecuniary obligations.

"I command that entire letter to politicians and to editors. It makes what Horace Greely himself would have called "mighty interesting reading," in the light of Greely's revenge by aiding to defeat Seward for Presidency at Chicago six years later. "The junior partner" evened up the score on that occasion and no mistake. I refuse utterly to become particeps criminis in robbing the country editor of any privilege he now enjoys. I would rather confer new ones upon him, thereby multiplying his power and augmenting his emoluments. He is as faithful to the people as the needle to the pole.

Mosaic.

The teacher asked: "When did Moses live?"

After the silence had become painful she ordered: "Open your Old Testaments. What does it say there?"

A boy answered: "Moses, 4000."

Now," said the teacher, "why didn't you know when Moses lived?"

"Well," replied the boy, "I thought it was his telephone number."—Suburban Life.

IN MEMORIAM.

Paris Lucas, son of Mr. Geo. A. and Harriet E. Lucas, was born December 7, 1853, and departed this life December 4, 1911, near Maybrook, Va.

He was married to Miss Ella Dowdy January 23, 1878.

United himself with the Christian Baptist church and was immersed by his brother, Rev. C S. Lucas, in the year 1880.

Bro. Lucas lived a quiet, peaceable life; he was modest and retiring in his nature; unassuming in all his life work. He early developed traits of noble manhood; as a citizen he was intensely loyal to his country; as a husband and father the very soul of affection and kindness; as a son he loved devotedly his aged mother (who preceded him to the glory gates of the celestial world). As a Christian he never wavered in his faith, but steadfastly looked forward to the rest beyond the mystic river.

His father died when he was but a young man, leaving the widowed mother and children a rich heritage in his noble character. Many yet living remember George A. Lucas as a prosperous farmer. A splendid husband, a loving father and an upright Christian gentleman in every respect.

The subject of this notice was very much like Moses in his meekness; like his Saviour in his gentleness, and kindness with all and to all around him.

He said a few days before he died, "I am not afraid." His perfect love for the Christ had cast out all fear.

He is survived by his wife and children, three brothers, W. E. P., J. M. and Robert, and one sister, Mrs. Wint Williams, and a host of friends to mourn his absence.

The funeral services were conducted by the writer in the midst of a large crowd of relatives and friends. G. W. Harless.

A TRIBUTE OF RESPECT.

Julia Ollie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Burton, was born near Chapel, Va., October 16, 1902, and departed this life January 8, 1912. She had been suffering for a month with appendicitis and after careful treatment from the family physician, it was found necessary for her to be sent to a hospital. She was only a few days there when the Master called her home. She was laid to rest in the Burton cemetery near Chapel. She leaves a father, mother, three brothers, one sister and many relatives and friends to mourn her loss.

She seemed to have knowledge of the fact when she first took sick that she was soon to leave the world She made known to her mother that she had only a short while to stay with her. She asked her parents if they thought she had done anything that the Good Man would not take her when she died. In her childish way she gave them to understand where she was going.

It may seem strange to us why God called her so early, though we cannot doubt the wisdom of God, and as he looked out with His all-seeing eye we know that His hand touched this lovely flower and it faded from human vision only to bloom in eternity. Thus it was our Saviour's command, "Suffer little children to come unto me and forbid them not for of such is the kingdom of heaven."

She is waiting father and mother for you. Brothers and sister she is looking for you too. Will you meet her? Let us look on the departure of little Julia as none other than the will of The Great I Am.

May we thank Him for His great salvation; for His throne of intercession, and for the hope of endless life beyond the grave. Les us thank Him for the present blessings, burdens and joys. May we take hold of God and His holy promises; may we adjust ourselves to his character as revealed in Jesus Christ, and to His will as recorded in His blessed word, that we may in a higher and nobler sense become dispensers of the light that shineth brighter unto the perfect day.

May we enlighten our minds, comfort our hearts, inflame our zeal, that we may walk with Him all the way, even unto the end, then what a happy band in that glorious land, we shall meet where parting never ends.

L. W. Whittaker.

The Point of View.

"No newspaper in the place!" exclaimed a tourist in a remote Scottish town. "Why, what a way to live! You never know what is going on in the rest of the world." "Ah, weel," replied the innkeeper, "it's aboot as broad as it's lang, isn't it? The rest o' the world's na better off than we. They don't know what's going on here. Ye told me yerself as ye hadn't so much as heerd the name o' this place before ye were landed here by accident; but all on us here have known all aboot the spot ever since oor childhood!"

Where Was John?

A San Francisco woman, whose husband had been dead some years, went to a medium, who produced the spirit of her dead husband.

"My dear John," said the widow to the spirit, "are you happy now?"

"I am very happy," John replied.

"Happier than you were on earth with me?" she asked.

"Yes," was the answer. "I am far happier now than I was on earth with you."

"Tell me, John, what it is like in heaven?"

"Heaven," John replied. "I'm not in heaven."—Nat. Monthly.

Dry Humor.

The governor of Maine was at the school and was telling the pupils what the people of different States were called.

"Now," he said, "the people from Indiana are called 'Hoosiers;' the people from North Carolina 'Tar Heels;' the people from Michigan we know as 'Michiganders.' Now, what little boy or girl can tell me what the people of Maine are called?"

"I know," said a little girl.

"Well, what are we called?" asked the governor.

What Is a Lady?

Sometime ago a paper offered a prize for the best definition of a lady. This is the answer that took the prize:

"To be a lady, means, rightly, to be a gentlewoman, who shows by her every word and action a sweet and gentle dignity, with a gracious charm of manner; a woman whose heart is pure and true, who is tender toward all suffering, who sympathizes with those in trouble, and is ever ready to give that which costs her some effort and self denial. A lady thinks no work derogatory, and no one is deemed too low to receive courtesy and kindness. She is pure and good in every detail of life, a true friend and a ministering angel in sorrow and in sickness."

A nice line of Comic and Sentimental Valentines, at Mrs. C. T. Painter's.

Read the administrator's sale of the estate of G. T. Porterfield, deceased, in another column.

Dr. H. G. Johnston of this place was called to Eggleston on Friday last for professional services.

A nice line of comic and Sentimental Valentines, at Mrs. C. T. Painter's.

Misses Helen Mason and Edna Shumate have returned home after spending several weeks in Tennessee.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Johnston left Tuesday for Montvale, Va., to see Mrs Johnston's sister who is critically ill.

Fish and oysters, fresh from the stream and beds, also nice, fresh and tender beef, at J. P. Woolwine's market.

R. Allen Brown was unexpectedly called to the bedside of his mother, who is very ill at her home in Wytheville.

We omitted to mention last week the death of a little three year old girl of Mr. and Mrs. Peyton Hunter of Curve.

W. B. Stafford of Sugar Run, gave us a pleasant call Tuesday. He don't stand back on the weather, to help the poor editor out. Good boy.

Judge A. A. Skeen of Norton, spent a few days with Mrs. Skeen last week who is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Woodrum.

A nice line of Comic and Sentimental Valentines, at Mrs. C. T. Painter's.

Quite a number of our citizens are reported to be down with pneumonia. We hope none are serious and will soon be on the well list again.

Dr. W. D. Woolwine left Monday night for Vinton, to be by the bedside of his brother-in-law, Mr. Beavers, who is reported ill. He returned Tuesday noon.

There is no use of us growling and kicking over a few degrees below zero, when not a thousand miles from here it is ranging from 24 to 30 degrees below zero.

Mrs. Hattie Campbell who has been visiting her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Campbell of Narrows, has returned to her father's home at this place.

BORN—To Mr. and Mrs. Alex Powell one day last week, a son. For goodness sake, Alex, how many does this make? Will it take the multiplication table to count them?

We are sorry to hear our young friend, Peery Muncy of this place, who is attending a medical college in Richmond, is sick, and has been confined to his bed for several days. We hope there is nothing serious and that he will soon recover entirely from his illness.

Rev. Thomas Sexton, the blacksmith preacher and evangelist, will preach in the Methodist church here Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. Let all come and hear him and give him a full house.

The wife and two children of J. H. Clifton of Bluff City, who have been quite ill with pneumonia, we are glad to say, are able to be up and about the house.

Miss Nannie Pierce of Roanoke, who has been visiting her cousin, Mrs. J. T. Wassom of this place, left here Tuesday to visit a while in Bristol, Tenn.

Henry Campbell, who has been in the merchandising business at Bane for several years, has sold out and moved his family to Bluefield, where he will engage in business at that place.

A Texas man secured a divorce from his wife because she had cold feet. We know some in this place complaining about the same thing. Get a divorce by all means, you have good grounds for one.

A little child of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Thomas of Bluff City, who has been very sick and near death, we are proud to state, is improving fast. We hope to hear of the little one's ultimate recovery soon.

A young married woman, who was a Miss Ella Weiss before marriage, was brought from Narrows to this place on Tuesday night by Rufus Hale, deputy sheriff, and put in jail. She is said to be insane.

Mr. and Mrs. John V. Thomas of Sherman, Texas, who are visiting Mrs. Thomas' father, W. I. Wilburn on Sugar Run for the past month. We learn that one of the children has scarlet fever, but the child is some better.

Once more we wish to state that all correspondence must be signed by the writer's name in order to secure insertion, to the waste basket it will go if not accompanied by said autograph. Don't have us tell you this again.

Rev. Thos. Sexton the blacksmith evangelist of Knoxville, Tenn., will assist Rev. W. B. Belchee in a revival meeting at Narrows, commencing next Sunday night. Everybody come and hear this wonderful preacher.

The second quarterly meeting for the Pearisburg charge will be held at Pearisburg, 17th and 18th of this month—third Saturday and Sunday. Rev. S. S. Catron will preach for us. It is hoped the stewards will be present on Saturday.

A. E Shumate of Bluff City, has purchased a handsome family automobile. Geo. W. Shumate of Rich Creek, has purchased him a fine one also. Prosperity is surely in our county, we have a large number of these horseless conveyances.

There are difference of opinion as to whether the groundhog saw his shadow or not, and we don't care which way they have it, if the weather was a little more like Spring time it would suit us a great deal better. These mornings make too much "goose meat" on our flesh.

F. D. Kelley, Cashier, First State Bank of Narrows, was in town Wednesday.

Rev. M. W. Royall will preach at Eggleston Sunday morning at 11 o'clock and Sunday night at 7.30 o'clock. There will be a church meeting at Eggleston Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. He will also preach at Mt. View church Sunday afternoon at three o'clock.

Mrs. T. T. Phlegar, Mrs. Susie Walker and son, Duard, left here Monday morning for Radford, Mrs. P. to visit her son, Dr. O. K. Phlegar and Mrs. W. will visit her sister-in-law, Mrs. Frank Walker. We hope they will have a pleasant trip.

The Bluefield Leader made its appearance Thursday after a lapse of about a month. It is under new management, Mr. W. O. Frith, owner of the Princeton Progress, having purchased the plant and organized The Frith Publishing Company. We wish you a long and prosperous life with the Leader.

Hugh Croy, who has been occupying the Presbyterian Manse for a few months, has moved to his farm on the outskirts of town. He has just built one of the finest and prettiest dwelling houses in this section. He certainly knows how to do good work, particularly, when it is for his own benefit.

M. H. Clark of Clarksville, Tenn., confidential clerk to Jefferson Davis during the Civil War, and the last acting treasurer of the Confederacy, died in Washington, D. C., on the 5th inst. He was a native of Richmond, but early in life went to Tennessee. Another one of our grand old heroes gone to receive his reward.

M. W. Franklin, our former jailer at this place, has given up that position and is now giving his entire time and attention to his former business that of Life Insurance. Mr. Franklin is with the Old Union Mutual Life Insurance Co. of Maine, and is writing some very attractive policies, and would say to those who desire a safe protection for self and family, they can do no better than to insure with him, as he represents a good, safe, old line company.

A very nice and enjoyable party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Odell near this place on last Friday evening. Between thirty and forty young ladies and gentlemen were present. The Pearisburg Brass Band, as a whole, attended, and their music was very good, indeed, for so young a band—little over a month old. Stealing partners was the principal amusement of the evening. Dancing was also another feature of the evening's entertainment, and was enjoyed by some of the older ones as well as the younger ones. About ten o'clock dainty refreshments were served, something which never fails to tickle the palate of young folks. It was the turn of the night before the happy throng thought of going to their homes, and were loth to go then. But as all things have an ending they left, hoping to have another good time at this hospitable home some time in the future.

On last Friday we visited the beautiful and thriving towns of Berton and Eggleston, and found the merchants in both places happy and doing a prosperous business. This was our first trip up that way in a long time, and though the weather was exceedingly rough, we enjoyed our trip very much. The merchants in this section are very generous to the poor printer, and always lend or give him a helping hand.

Tuesday evening 23rd at their home near Wabash, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Dulaney delightfully entertained the young people of the neighborhood. Games and amusements were indulged in, and the music rendered by Miss Annie King was enjoyed by all. During the evening dainty refreshments were served. The merry crowd parted at a late hour, wishing Mr. and Mrs. Dulaney a pleasant year in their happy home.

One man was killed and twelve others injured at 5 35 Monday morning, when passenger train No. 16, eastbound, on the Norfolk & Western railway, was derailed half a mile east of Hebron. The train was running forty miles an hour. Hebron is between Crewe and Petersburg The locomotive did not leave the track, but the tender, baggage car, and eight coaches were derailed and badly wrecked.

Now we are having it again—zero weather. Sunday morning was considered, by some, to be the coldest yet this winter, and it does not seem to get any better. Saturday it snowed all day and far into the night. Sunday morning it had so drifted that it was almost impossible to navigate, either with teams or on foot. Many of us are longing for the "good old summer time." But then, we are never satisfied, nor never will be, always too hot or too cold; too wet or too dry. Let us grin and bear it (we might as well) and be pleased with whatever comes to us, and we will be much happier.

NEW BANK.

The Bank of Pembroke, which was organized sometime ago, opened its doors for business the first of the month. Mr. W. B. Snidow of that place, is Cashier, and is the right man in the right place. We wish it success and of long standing.

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS.

The Board of Supervisors met in regular session at the Court House on Tuesday and allowed the usual number of claims against the county.

They took up the question of fixing the salary of the Superintendent of the Poor, and the care and maintenance of the paupers for the ensuing year. Mr. J. H. Durham had been appointed by the Judge of the Circuit Court as Superintendent of the Poor, which office has been vacant for a number of years, being last filled by Mr. D. W. Mason, since the expiration of whose term the paupers have been kept in first one way and then another at different places. Mr. Durham will from this on have charge of the poor farm and the paupers at an annual salary of $200.00.

The Board passed the following resolution:

WHEREAS, The Board of Supervisors of Giles county, has heard with regret of the death of Mr. Charles A. Hale, a former member of this Board for many years; be it

RESOLVED, That they express their profound sympathy to the family of the said Charles A. Hale in the great loss that they have sustained in his death, and that it is the sense of this Board that the county of Giles and the State of Virginia has lost a faithful and loyal citizen, and one whose life was given to his country, having served bravely and loyally as a soldier on the field of battle, and faithfully and conscientiously in all his civil duties as a citizen and filled public office with honor and credit to himself, and that the Board do now adjourn in honor of the said Charles A. Hale.

PLEASANTLY ENTERTAINED.

The hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. T. B. King at Poplar Hill, was the scene of a most enjoyable occasion Tuesday evening when a party of young invited guests assembled in honor of their daughter, Miss Annie.

Despite the extreme severe weather the merry party gathered around the fire and the thoughts of snow and wind soon banished from their minds.

The evening was spent in music, games and pleasant conversations, after which a delicious supper was served, consisting of chicken salad, salmon, sandwiches, pickles, peanuts, butter and crackers, ice cream, cake and hot chocolate.

The guests having wished the host many pleasant returns of the occasion, returned to their respective homes.

Miss Annie was assisted by Mesdames H. D. Johnson and J. B. Robertson.

The guests were: Misses Callie Eaton, Clara Eaton, Bessie Eaton, Messrs. Hoge Robertson, Roscoe Eaton, Sidney Vermillion, Allen Eaton, Fred Whittaker, Arthur Brown, Lee Munsey, Earnest Eaton, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Robertson, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Johnson.

EDITOR VIRGINIAN:

Will you kindly allow us space for a word or two.

It is said a prosperous farmer is known by his fine dwelling house and other outhouses; a poor farmer by his dwelling and other outhouses.

Now, what we are driving at is this: we would like to know who is "boss" over the county house (we mean the Courthouse) the Board of Supervisors or the Judge of the Circuit Court? Are they, or he, going to let the structure rot down or what are they going to do with it? From top to bottom it is in a deplorable condition.

The belfry, which is made of shutters, are partly gone; so are the window shutters mostly gone, and some that are there, are hanging by one hinge; the water spouts are off half way down and the corners of the building are green like moss. We do not know as to the inside, but it must be in poor shape.

Now, if our county is to be judged by the appearance of our Courthouse, people will say Giles county is not a prosperous one.

Two or three years ago it was said we were going to have a new Courthouse, but that talk seems to have been all wind.

In conclusion, we would like to know what they are going to do? From present appearances, it would seem they are going to let, this once notable structure, rot down.

NEWPORT.

Newport is blue.

Our school has closed for the time being on account of measles We cannot state just when the duties of school work will be resumed. The teachers and pupils of the High School from distant places have left for their homes.

Early Payne, son of Erastus Payne, who has been ill for sometime, quietly passed away Friday morning Jan. 26th, at the home of his sister, Mrs. Mason Miller. He will be missed and deeply mourned for by all. We extend our heart felt sympathy to the bereaved ones in this dark hour.

On Wednesday night, January 31st, Mrs. Dent Echols gave the pupils of Newport High School a delightful leap year party, which was immensely enjoyed by all. They departed for home at a late hour, each thanking their hostess for a most enjoyable evening.

On Thursday evening, January 25th Misses Hallie Bowen, Alice Grubbs, and Myrtle Steele very charmingly entertained a few friends at "Forty-two," at the home of Supt. C. A. Hardwick.

The weather in Newport is very much "Floridaized" at present.

EXPRESSED SYMPATHY.

The following resolutions were adopted by Intermont Lodge, No. 269, A. F & A. M., Narrows, Va., at their last regular meeting, upon the death of Bro. A. S. Beamer, who died January 19, 1912:

WHEREAS, It has pleased the Supreme Architect of the Universe in His Divine wisdom to remove from this life our faithful brother and co-worker, and

WHEREAS, We deeply regret the loss of our beloved brother, we bow in humble submission to the Divine will; therefore be it

RESOLVED 1st. That we have lost a most estimable companion, a faithful brother and an esteemed and honest man.

2nd. That we extend our heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved family in this hour of their sorrow and affliction.

3rd. That our Lodge be draped in mourning and the brethren wear the usual badge for thirty days.

4th. That these resolutions be spread upon our records, a copy be sent to the PEARISBURG VIRGINIAN for publication and a copy be sent to the bereaved family.

LADIES MISSIONARY SOCIETIES.

Did you ever think of the good that's done,
In far-off heathen lands,
Thru mission societies in country towns
That are run by women's hands?

Do you think of the cause they're aiding?
Do you think of the souls they save?
Do you know of the message they're sending
That message, the Saviour gave?

When He talked to His disciples,
And left them His commands:
"Go ye forth to all the world
Preach the gospel in all lands."

Do you know that the money they send,
Though it be but a widow's mite,
May save some soul from darkness
Into everlasting light?

It may bring some far-off lost one
To the shining gates of gold:
By spreading "The old, old story,"
That never will grow old.

If you know these things my brother,
Would it not be well to pause,
And ask if there's not something
You can do to help their cause?

Is it right to let the burden
Be borne by just a few?
When the harvest is so heavy,
And there's need of me and you?

The words were meant for us,
That He spoke to the Eleven,
Are you helping foreign missions
To bring lost souls to heaven?

Our women—God will bless them
When they leave this mundane sphere:
But we, by our encouragement,
Should strive to help them here.

Something About Farm Implements!

You don't buy Farm Implements with the same frequency that you buy Groceries, and if you buy the wrong kind you have brought a trouble that lasts a long time.

The essential thing about buying Implements then, is to know that it is good that brings you here, for the last skilful buyer can come here and be sure that what he buys is good, because we make it good.

Our qualities, our low prices, our splendid assortment, are facts, not theories, because of the prevalence of facts in our stablishment, our customers come to us in constantly increasing numbers, and our firm adherence to facts is the best guarantee that could be offered for our goods.

The difference in cost, between good and bad machinery, for instance, is very small, but there's a great difference in satisfaction.

Cheap goods, are a continual source of worry and annoyance and it will pay you when figuring on that Disc Harrow, Grain Drill, Spreader, Gasoline Engine, Crusher, Grinder, Mower, Binder, Rake, Weeder, Plow, Wagon, Buggy, Harness, Well Pump, Spray Pump, Cream Separator, Spray Solutions, Hardware Repairs and Etc., to come here and get the best.

You can't afford to leave this store out of consideration, when you purchase your Implements, we can save you money, and give you a square deal.

MID-WINTER PRICES On Eggs, Poultry and Butter.

By Hellerick & Co., Philadelphia, Pa.

Never have we seen Butter, live Geese and Ducks so high, clear out of sight almost. Eggs, Turkeys and Chickens continues to bring fine prices too. The returns we are sending out now are better than shippers are looking for especially on Butter, Eggs, live Ducks and Geese. The sales of Turkeys and Chickens are very satisfactory. They haven't advanced in proportion to other goods, but we hope and expect them to be higher during February than they were in January. Never have we had such a heavy demand in mid winter before. We are getting more goods than any one in Philadelphia, but still not half enough. Can't you ship us something during February? If you have neighbors who have Produce to sell tell them to ship it to us. If they haven't been shipping us won't you please send us their names at once. We'll appreciate it very much if our friends all over Giles county will do this. If only one or two names from each one of our friends it would be a special favor to us just at this time. Let us see how many of our friends will help us out this much.

Everybody ship during February. Returns will more than please you. Yours to command.

Opportunity!

The following poem by Judge Walter Malone, one of the great poets of the South, ought to be pasted up in every young man's room. There is inspiration in it.

They do me wrong who say I come no more
When once I knock and fail to find you in;
For every day I stand without your door,
And bid you work, and rise to fight and win.

Wail not for precious chances passed away,
Weep not for golden ages on the wane!
Each night I burn the records of the day—
At sunrise every soul is born again!

Laugh like a boy at splendors that have fled,
To vanished joys be blind and deaf and dumb;
My judgments seal the dead past with its dead,
But never bind a moment yet to come.

Though deep in mire, wring not your hands and weep;
I lend my arm to all who say "I can."
No shame-faced outcast ever sank so deep
But he might rise and be again a man!

Dost thou behold thy lost youth all aghast?
Dost reel from righteous retribution's blow?
Then turn from blotted archives of the past,
And find the future's pages white as snow.

Art thou a mourner? Rouse thee from thy spell;
Art thou a sinner? Sins may be forgiven;
Each morning gives thee wings to flee from hell,
Each night a star to guide thy feet to heaven.

Mr. Bowser Gets A Little Too Much Cider.

The Bowsers had just finished dinner the other evening when an expressman drove up with a two-gallon jug which was tagged in Mr. Bowser's name. The cork being removed and the contents sampled, he smacked his lips and explained:

"This must be hard cider. I had a letter away along last fall from an old friend in Chemung county, and I remember that he hinted about sending me down a jug of something good later on. By John, but the taste of it brings back the days when I used to walk three miles to the cider mill! The old days are gone never to return, but here is the cider, and I'd rather have it than so much champagne."

"I have heard that hard cider is almost as bad as whiskey to intoxicate," observed Mrs. Bowser as Mr. Bowser got away with his second glass within five minutes.

"That's all nonsense. There's isn't enough alcohol in a barrel of it to affect the brains of a canary bird. Um! But that is old times! I feel almost as if I were climbing apple trees again. If only we had a pumpkin pie now, I'd feel myself an Uncle Rube."

Mr. Bowser read his paper for 10 minutes and then descended to the diningroom to see if the gas was turned out. He decided to kill two birds with one stone, and a third glass of hard cider followed the second and first. A quarter of an hour later the jug was tipped up for the fourth time within 40 minutes, and soon after he came upstairs he began to grin and chuckle.

"Anything funny happen today?" queried Mrs. Bowser after a sharp look at him.

"Yes, a fat man was running to catch a car, and—ha, ha, ha!—it was mean to laugh at him, but when he fell over a dog and rolled over and over how could anyone help but—ho, ho, ho!"

"I wouldn't drink any more of that hard cider this evening if I were you."

"What's the matter with the cider? Ha, ha, ha! Say, now, look at your old cat. Isn't she a perfect picture of domestic contentment? With a dear little wife at my elbow and blamed old cat on the hearth rug I ought to be a happy husband, eh? I think the basement door may be open, and I'll go down and see."

"I'll call the girl."

"No. I'll go. Yes, she's a nice old cat, and you are a dear little wife, and if you'd seen that fat man fall over that dog you'd have gone into a ha, ha, ha!"

The basement door was not open. The cider jug was, however, and Mr. Bowser took advantage of the occasion. As he was all alone and in no hurry, he drank a couple of glasses, and the taste carried him back to the days when harvest apples gave him the colic. He smiled to himself while drinking, but when he returned to the sitting room, Mrs. Bowser noticed that his hilarity was on the wane. Five minutes later he turned to her and said:

"Do you remember that little red schoolhouse beyond the bridge where we went to school together."

"Of course," she replied.

"Did I tell you that it had been torn down?"

"Yes, torn down and a cow stable put up there. How could they do it? That dear old schoolhouse was surrounded with sentiment. There was where I first met you. There was where I first loved you. There was where—where—"

He could not go on. He pulled out his handkerchief and held it to his eyes, and Mrs. Bowser realized that the hard cider from old Chemung had got in its work in good shape.

"Hadn't you better lie down on the lounge for an hour or so?" she suggested, as his tears continued to fall.

"No, sir!" he replied, with considerable force.

"Mrs. Bowser, what kind of a woman are you? Here they go and tear down our little red schoolhouse, one of the most sacred spots on earth to us, and you haven't a word to say! Even when I tell you that cows are now chewing their cuds on the spot where I first told you of my love, and you do not shed a tear!"

"I can't weep over all the sad things I hear. In this case I suppose the building was about ready to fall, anyhow. Won't you lie down?"

"And there was an old oak under which we used to gather acorns," continued Mr. Bowser, as his face grew redder and more tears came. "They have gone and cut down that dear old tree, and put up a windmill in its place. How dare they do it? It was under the um-umbrageous branches of that old oak that I first told you of my love; that you told me my love was returned. I wanted to buy that tree and preserve it under a glass case, but they have cut down and sold it for stove wood!"

"It's too bad," said Mrs. Bowser, "but don't you think you'd better go to bed now, I'm afraid you are not well"

"No, I'm not feeling well. Do you know I feel that I won't live to bother any one much longer? I shall be found dead in my bed some morning, and that will be the end of it. I did want to see that dear old mill again, the spot where I first told you of my love as we were sliding down the hill, but it cannot be. Do you know they have torn that hill down and made a woodyard on the spot? How could they do tt—how could they j"

"Well, we are sorry, but we can't help it, and I think you'd better go to bed now. You know you were up late last night."

"Go to bed? Never! How can I go to bed when I know that the dear old horse pond in whelh I first told you of my love has been cut up and sold by the piece? Such things sink deep into my heart, and if you were a true hearted woman you would be weeping instead of sitting there like a log of wood. You wouldn't care if all the dear old things of your childhood were traded off for turnips."

"Where are you going?" asked Mrs. Bowser, as he started down the hall.

"Where am I going? I'm going to fine someone who can sympathize with me and understand my feelings. You can sit there with your heart of stone, and the blamed old cat can sit there with you, but I—I"——

He put on his hat and went out. The night wind dried his tears, but at the same time it set that hard cider working up in the top of his head, and Mr. Bowser had only reached the corner when he had to reach out for the fence. What happened to him in the next quarter of an hour was told by the policeman who brought him home.

"Madam," he said as Mrs. Bowser answered his ring at the bell. "Is this your husband?"

"Yes," she replied as Mr. Bowser was assisted into the hall.

"His name is Bowser, isn't it?"

"Yes."

"Yesh; my name's Bowser," mused the culprit as he leaned up against the wall and stared around.

"Has anything happened to unhinge his mind?" continued the officer. "I found him at the corner muttering about a little red schoolhouse. He isn't crazy, is he?"

"Not at all. He simply received a jug of hard cider from Chemung county tonight."

"I see, madam; I understand."

Ten minutes Mr. Bowser was in bed and unconscious to the world, and Mrs. Bowser was down stairs pouring out the rest of the cider and replacing the contents with water. When he came down to breakfast he sought the jug for another drink, but after a taste he set it down and growled.

"Humpj Chemung county must be might hard up for catnip tea!"—Copyright, 1912, by the Associated Literary Press.

A PLIABLE TOOL.

In response to the appeals of city treasurers and commissioners of the revenue, the legislature has consented to submit to a vote of the people a proposed amendment of the State constitution whereby these officials can succeed themselves as often as they please and not be limited to eight years as the constitution now provides. For fear that the amendment might be rejected as it was last year, our lawmakers have provided that only voters resident in cities shall vote on it. The Petersburg Index-Appeal, commenting on this action says:

"But this is aside. The people said they did not want the constitution amended in respect of city official. Now, the legislature proposes to have the amendment voted on again, although the time which has elapsed since the sense of the people was taken on the subject is so short. Not only this, but the measure proposing the constitutional change, as we understand it, provides that the people of the cities alone shall vote on its ratification. This, despite the fact that the people of the cities voted on the amendment affecting the tenure of office of county treasurers and county comissioners of the revenue.

"But the legislature proposes to go still further, and disobey the clear mandate of the constitution concerning the manner in which the instrument shall be amended. The constitution says that a proposal amendment shall be adopted by two successive legislatures, and then be ratified by the people before it shall become a part of the organic law. The legislature, in the present instance, proposes to submit the amendment when it shall have been adopted without waiting for the next legislature to connfirm the action of the present one."

The strennous anxiety of the legislature to accede to all things demanded or petitioned by office holders was never more strikingly illustrated than in this instance. Not only does it give to city treasurers and commissioners of the revenue a second chance to change the constitution but it actually converts the constitution into a pliable tool, capable of meeting any situation and of adjusting itself to any political emergency.—Roanoke World.

NORTH HONORS THEM.

Native Southerners Who Are in Important Positions.

Referring to the decline of sectional spirit and the activity of Southern men in the North, the Houston Post calls to mind that at the present time "a Southern Democrat and ex-Confederate is representing a Colorado district in Congress: a Tennessean is representing a connecticut district; 'Uncle Joe' Cannon is a native of North Carolinia; the senior Senator from Montana is a native of North Carolina; the senior Senator from Nevada was born in Mississippi; Martin Littleton, who represents the Roosevelt district in the present House, is a native of Tennessee and former citizen of Texas; a Virginian represents the Fourteenth New York district; the junior Senator from Oregon, and ex-Governor of that State, is a native of Mississippi; the junior Senator from Washington is a native of Memphis; the junior Senator from Washington is a native of Memphis; Rhode Island has had a Southern born Governor; Kansas has had a Virginian to represents her in the Senate; Minnesot has been represented Cineorngod- sceseacecesceseseccescesceed in Congress by a Virginian; one of the Tennessee Polks has represented a Pennsylvania district in Congress; a Texan is Mayor of Omaha; a Virginian is Governor of New Jersey, and a score of Southerners have in the past represented New York city districts in Congress."

In this connection it may appropriately be mentioned that President Taft raised an ex-Confederate to the position of chief justice and appointed two other Southern men justices of the Supreme Court. And aside from official life, many Southern men hold prominent positions in business in the Northern centres. What is sought everywhere is fitness without regard to the politics of 50 years ago.—Macon Ga. Telegraph.

EMORY NOTES.

Bishop W. A. Candler of Atlanta, Ga., has been engaged to preach the baccalaureate sermon on June 9th. Bishop Candler is among the ablest and most eloquent preachers in the M. E. church, and our college is fortunate in procuring him.

President L. E. Johnson of the Norfolk & Western Railway, will deliver the annual address before the Literary Societies on Tuesday, June 11th. The college management is especially pleased in procuring such a noted man as Mr. Johnson on our spring commencement programme for this year, and the people of our Southwest Virginia will consider themselves very fortunate in hearing him.

We are pleased to report this week the authenticity of a former statement seen in many of the daily papers of recent date to the effect that this college is to receive a donation of $50,000 from the far-famed Rockefeller fund. Request for aid from this source was made by Bishop Waterhouse some three years ago. At the invitation of President Weaver, Doctor Buttrick, secretary of this fund, came to Emory and Henry, investigating the worthiness of the cause. It is the policy of this board to aid education in great centers of population, but Doctor Buttrick's faith in the future of Southwest Virginia, his knowledge of the history of Emory and Henry College, and his belief in her future, caused the granting of the above sum. The above gift is creating much enthusiasm among the friends of the college, who are rallying substantially to its support. The conditional amount of money will be raised beyond the question of a doubt. Hence, our denominational rally cry: "A new Emory and Henry."

Rev. S. B. Vaught, financial agent for Emory and Henry College, closed our real estate deals last week amounting to more than $5,000.

The second term, or last half of the college year began Saturday, the 3d inst.

Doctor J. P. McConnell returned from Richmond, Friday, where he attended to many matters connected with the State Educational Board, among which was some work in interest of the teachers' pension plan. Relative to the prohibition movement, the Doctor predicts strenuous drastic legislation in the way of heavy liquor taxation—this at least in the Richmond Legislature this year.

Work has begun on the new Emory and Henry College catalogue, and the same will be out about the middle of March.

OBITUARY.

The subject of this sketch, James Edward Williams, was born April 18, 1834, died January 5, 1912; was married to Miss Elvina Atkins in 1858.

He became a member of the M. E. Church, South, when but a lad of fourteen years. Just think of it, a member of the church for sixty three years! He was a member upon whom the preacher could always rely. Always found at the house of God, unless sickness prevented.

In his death the county has lost a good citizen; the community a kind neighbor, and the church a consistent member.

The last time I visited him before he was called away, I thought of the words of our Master: "Except ye receive the kingdom of God as a little child ye can in no wise enter therein." He was so meek and childlike and seemed to be waiting so patiently for his summons to cross over the river and be at rest.

How much we shall miss him in his accustomed seat in the church.

But our sorrow is nothing compared to that of the dear wife who is left to walk the rest of life's journey alone. God alone can comfort her in her declining years.

He leaves one son, Warren D. Williams of Van Wert, Ohio.

One of our very best men has gone from us, but we feel it we live the life that James Edward Williams lived that when we too are called to pass over the mystic river, we shall join him in the paradise of God.

O, how sweet it will be
In that beautiful land,
So free from all sorrow and pain;
With songs on our lips,
And with harps in our hands,

LOCAL INTEREST

E. L. Buchanan was in town Friday on business.

W. E Huffman of Bluefield, is in town for a few days this week.

M. P. Farrier left Tuesday night for Richmond on a business trip.

Alfred Hale of Narrows, gave us a call while in town Wednesday.

Raymond McGee of East Radford, spent the week's end in town.

Mrs. M Scott of Bane, spent Sunday with her daughter, Miss Gladys.

Mrs. Hugh Hill and Mrs. Miller are visiting friends in Bluefield.

Easter will fall at a comparatively late date this year, coming on April 7th.

Miss Nell Wilburn returned home Sunday after an extended visit to Bluefield.

Miss Pearl Pyrtle of Ripplemead, spent the week's end with Miss Addie Munsey.

J. D. Miller and Morris Puckett of Newport, spent Monday and Tuesday in town.

W. H. Buchanan spent a few days in Roanoke this week attending to business.

H. K. Osborne from Northfork, W. Va., is home for a few days with a sore hand.

Miss Lucy Strother returned home from Welch, W. Va., with James French Strother, Sunday.

Rev. M. W. Royall will preach at Glen Lyn Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, and in this place at night.

A number of cases of diphtheria are reported in and around this place, and there is talk of quarantining.

J. C. Journell left Wednesday for Princeton, W. Va., where he goes to help his brother, Ote, to do some carpenter work.

A little child of Mrs. C. D. Kemp, is very sick with diphtheria at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. J. Pearson.

C. B. Bishop of Roanoke, and H. H. Bishop of Eggleston, were in town Sunday. When the school term ends they will not call so often.

Misses Ethel Dulaney and Madge Hansbarger spent the week's end at Peterstown, W. Va., with Mr and Mrs. Hansbarger.

G. E. Hambrick and W. H. Thompson left Monday night for Richmond where they went to attend the Grand Lodge of Masons.

George B. Eaton of Wabash, called to see us one day this week. We are glad to see him looking so well, as he has been in poor health for a long time.

A goodly sprinkle of people from various sections of our county, were here on Sunday last to hear Rev. Thomas Sexton, the blacksmith preacher and evangelist.

Did you hear the Pearisburg Brass Band Wednesday evening last? Many of our citizens had the impression it was some great band from the city. This was their first appearance. too.

Charles Vaughan, who lives on W. H. Buchanan's farm, near this place, had a child to die Tuesday night with diphtheria, and another is at the point of death with the same disease.

Russell county seems to be the banner county in the State for her people to marry. Sixteen couples were "hitched together" there last month. Zero weather, we suppose, had something to do with it.

H. L. Eaton, wife and little daughter of Bluefield, are visiting Mrs. L. A. Stafford. Mr. Eaton returned to Bluefield Sunday. Mrs Eaton is spending a few days with Miss Clara Stafford in Roanoke.

We don't know what this world will come to if the hats of women get much larger. It would be well to put them all on one side of the church, the men on the other, then the poor men will be able to see something.

Feed your hens red pepper in their corn meal dough, warm them up and make them lay. Eggs are selling at a number of places for 45 cents; in New York City they are 65 cents. Kill 'em if they don't lay, when eggs are at such a high price.

Philadelphia has a case where the lady not only proposed but paid the carfare and the parson. Leap year isn't so bad after all. Why don't some of our old maids and widows try this on some of our marriageable ones? It might prove beneficial to them.

Miss Alice Pastorfield of Newport, says: "I enjoy reading the VIRGINIAN very much and wish you a prosperous year." Thanks. It it were not for the words of encouragement we get from the ladies, we would rather leave this world than to live in it.

Quarterly meeting for Pearisburg circuit convenes here Saturday and will end Sunday night. Rev. S. S. Catron will preside. Let everybody attend this meeting. Good sermons are sure to be preached. The stewards are requested to be present Saturday.

A 90 pound Boston woman beat her 290 pound husband into unconsciousness. He could have laid the weight of his hand on her and she would have sunk to the floor. This is what we call A MAN! It is a shame to beat a woman. Perhaps she built the fires for him these zero mornings.

A movement is on foot in Craig county to erect a monument to the memory of the late James W. ("Cyclone Jim") Marshall. A Marshall Memorial Association has been organized for that purpose. We hope this work will be pushed through to a finish, and a memorial erected to this great neighbor, friend and statesman.

FOUND—A watch. Owner can get same by paying for this advertisement and describing property. Call on

J. H. WALKER.

Mr. W. R. F. Osborne and family of Kimballton, have moved into our town and are now occupying the property formerly owned by Mrs. T. T. Phlegar, but now owned by Mr. W. H. Buchanan. We welcome you to our midst, and hope you will prosper and be happy among us.

Mrs. R. S. Fry of Bluff City, was taken to a Richmond hospital last Thursday suffering from appendicitis, and was operated on Saturday, the operation being such a successful one, that her husband, who accompanied her, returned to his home on Monday. We hope to hear of her being home soon.

Hon. L. P. Summers of Abingdon, and editor of the Republican printed at that place, was in town last Saturday and attended the Republican convention held here. He is a very courteous and polite gentleman, if he does not agree with us in politics. It would not do for us to be all alike, we would have nothing to wrangle over.

Dr. Sears "The Taffy Man," at the High School auditorium last Wednesday and Thursday evening, was considered by all who heard him, as a first-class entertainer, and all enjoyed themselves very much. This ends the amusement of the Lyceum Course for this season, all of which were real good and enjoyed very much by our people.

We call your attention to the new advertisement of Messrs. A. A. Adair & Co., Rich Creek, Va., in another column. They handle the American Wire Fence, (which stands up like a post), by the car load. When wanting anything in this line, you will do well to write them for prices. They are fair and square dealers. Try them once.

We return thanks to Mr. P. C. Williams of Tampa, Florida, for a classified business directory of that place. It is handsomely illustrated with groves, lakes, beautiful residences and a number of handsome churches. Tampa is the fastest growing and most efficient city of the Southland in the fastest growing section of the State of Florida.

We often hear ministers praying for merchants, bankers and other people, but we never hear of them offering up a petition for the poor printer. But then, we suppose, they think we are a poor, harmless set of people and do not need any praying for. That is very true we do not need much praying for, but then we are an enlightened set of people.

M. W. Franklin, our former jailer at this place, has given up that position and is now giving his entire time and attention to his former business that of Life Insurance. Mr. Franklin is with the Old Union Mutual Life Insurance Co. of Maine, and is writing some very attractive policies, and would say to those who desire a safe protection for self and family, they can do no better than to insure with him, as he represents a good, safe, old line company.

Why don't some of our enterprising and energetic business men of this place, build a house where we could have a show, moving picture entertainments or something of that kind? It ought to and certainly would pay, It is a shame a town one hundred years old has not a hall or anywhere else where we can have anything.

"Those who pray right will pay right and stay right."—Midland Methodist.

Had you done this, you would have sent us what you owe us when we sent our statement to you sometime ago. Many of our subscribers, we expect, do not pray at all, from the way our accounts come in. Get right, and send us what you owe us.

Mrs. Hattie Campbell, who has been staying with parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Brotherton of this place, was called to Narrows Sunday afternoon to see her husband, Arthur Campbell, who had been working in West Va., who fell from a telegraph pole and more or less injured. He is at his parents home, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Campbell. We are glad to state his injury was a slight one.

Rev. Thomas Sexton, the blacksmith preacher and evangelist, preached in the M. E. church here last Sunday morning to a crowded house. He delivered a very interesting sermon and was more than appreciated by the entire congregation. As to our part, we could have listened to him for hours without being the least fatigued. We hope he will in the near future, again grant our people the privilege of hearing him. He is now helping Bro. Belchee in protracted services at Narrows, and we hope and pray that the turning over of many to the Master's cause, will crown their efforts.

Last Wednesday and Thursday evenings our citizens were treated to some very delightful and charming music by the Pearisburg Brass Band. Considering the time this band has been in operation, it bids fair to eclipse any band this place has ever had (and it has had several). This band is in its infancy—being about one month old. It is composed of about eighteen members, some of whom are very young, and from the way they take hold of these instruments, they seem to be gifted in the way of music. Stick to it, boys, and let nothing come in between you that will cause you to disbandon and success is sure to perch on your banner.

INSANE MAN KILLED.

Marion, Va., Feb. 12—John Viperman, an insane patient from Patrick county, escaped from his keepers here Saturday night on the way from the train to the Southwestern State hospital. He was violently insane, and had been placed in a straight-jacket. Every effort was made by the hospital authorities to locate him, but no clue as to his whereabouts could be found. Saturday morning he was struck by No. 29 on the track at Atkin's Tank, six miles east of Marion, and killed instantly. Some boys who were near warned him of the approaching train, but he did not heed them.

LOCATED AT PEMBROKE.

Dr. F. S. Robertson who has been practicing medicine at Herndon, W. Va., for the past three years, is now located at Pembroke, Va., and will be pleased to attend to all those who desire his services—day or night. We know him well, and know he will do all in his power to cure or relieve you of your trouble.

The doctor is a graduate of the Medical College of Baltimore, and graduated with honor and distinction. After graduating he served a time in a hospital at Baltimore, which greatly aided him in his profession, and better prepared him for the duties of administering to the wants of others.

The doctor is a fine, whole-souled gentleman, and we bespeak for him a liberal patronage by the people of Pembroke.

He is a son of our friend and county man, Mr. Henry Robertson of Sugar Run, whom most people of our county know.

TRIP TO RICH CREEK.

Last Friday we had the pleasure of visiting the new and thriving little town of Rich Creek, Va. This town is the liveliest and most business-like place on the Virginian Railway between Roanoke and Princeton, and one of these days, we predict for it to be a town of large dimensions.

The merchants of this place seem to be wide-awake business men, and are very prosperous. They also believe in printers ink, as all wise, business men should do The richest men in our land today are those who have advertised on a large scale.

While there we had the pleasure of dining with our old friend, T. M. Guinn. His amiable wife knows how to prepare a good meal and we certainly enjoyed it, for which we return thanks.

DEATH OF MRS. E. M. THORN.

The death of Mr. E. M. Thorn on Friday evening 9th inst., at the residence of her husband on Thorn street, Princeton, W. Va., was not unexpected as for some days the physicians had despaired of her life. Mrs. Thorn was the youngest daughter of the late John Barberie and was a sister of Mrs. A. G. McCue of Bluefield; Mrs. J. C. Davidson of Brush Fork; Mrs. R. G. Oxley of Athens; Mrs. A. M. Sutton, John Barberie, G. S. Barberie of Princeton. She was about the age of thirty years and besides a husband leaves three infant children, the eldest being five years old. The remains were interred in the Barberie cemetery at Tanglewood, near this city Saturday evening.—Bluefield Telegraph.

E. M. Thorn, husband of the deceased, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Green Thorn, formerly of Green Valley, this county, but now of Princeton, W. Va.

Performed Operation.

Drs. Willingford and Hays operated on Deck Spangler last Wednesday, removing the puss from a bad abscess on the leg. Mr. Spangler had lost a foot in a railroad accident and the limb was diseased, which caused this abscess. It is to be hoped that he will now have a speedy and permanent recovery.—Mercer Republican.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY.

An event of unusual interest took place on January 26th, when Dr. and Mrs. H. W. Strader entertained a number of friends in honor of their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary celebrating at the same time the fourteenth anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Niestrath of Courtland.

Dr. and Mrs. Strader were married on January 26, 1887, in Lincoln, Nebraska, when the doctor was a young physician of Ohio, Neb. Remembrances were sent from many friends of the happy couple. The guests at last week's affair were: Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Niestrath of Courtland, Mr. and Mrs. D. Ahern, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Chambers, Mrs. Brennan of San Francisco, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Knowles, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Frazier, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. McLaughlin, Mrs. W. H. Jones, J. H. Crandall, Mrs. M. H. Getz, Lloyd and Percy Getz, D. W. Johnston of Berkeley, Mrs. E. P. Norton, Dr. and Mrs. A. T. Piercy of Oakland, Mrs. Tiffany of Oakland, Mrs. Stickell and daughter, Gladys, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Willis.—Sacramento, (Cal.) Union.

Dr. Strader was born and reared in this county, and is a son of Josiah Strader, deceased, and a brother of Mrs. H. B. Shelton, W. E. and T. D. Strader of this place.

WHITE GATE.

"Enough and too much of the sect and the name,
What matters our label, so truth be our aim?
The creed may be wrong, but the life may be true,
And hearts beat the same under drab coats or blue."

Did you get a valentine, or did your valentine "get" you?

What city in the United States describes a thinly clad miss? (Gal-vest-on.)

If you cannot find happiness anywhere, look in the dictionary.

The snow has lain on the ground 41 days, and the drifts may be here sometime yet, but we prophesy warmer weather after May 10th!

"Billy" Dunford has moved to the Curve.

Chas. Flick, who moved to Ohio some years ago, has returned to his native county—Giles.

Wm. Gusler is recovering from an attack of grippe.

A. J. Francis met business engagements in Pearisburg and Poplar Hill, Friday and Saturday.

E. S. Jones, who represents Guggenheimer & Co., of Lynchburg, was a guest at T. S. Miller's Wednesday night.

Mortimer Bane of Pulaski, left Saturday the 10th inst. for New York City, where he goes to purchase his new spring stock.

Miss Mary Vermillion was a guest at "Miller-meade," Friday night.

Rev. T. M. Bane filled his usual appointment at the Baptist church Sunday morning.

Mrs. W. T. Miller and little daughter Frances spent Sunday at Mrs. F. M. Bane's.

Mrs. Chas. Sands of Bedford, died at her home near Montvale, Wednesday a. m., (Feb. 7th) of pneumonia. Mrs. Sands was a sister of Mrs. Otto Nidermaier.

Robert and C. D. King left Wednesday for Montvale to attend the burial of their sister, Mrs. Chas. Sands.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Keister of Mechanicsburg passed through town Monday on their return from Radford, where Mrs. Keister has been quite ill with typhoid fever.

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Francis returned home from Roanoke Sunday. Mrs. Francis' many friends will be glad to know of the great improvement in her health.

"Hayseed."

INTERIOR.

Prof. Tucker is progressing nicely with the school here.

Julian Bryant of this place was in Roanoke on business for a few days last week.

Mrs. Farley, who has been very ill for a few days, we are glad to note, is improving some.

Ben Philpot of Kimballton, who was thrown from his motor car, was very badly disabled.

Charlie McCambrige of Roanoke, spent a few days with home-folks here last week.

Mr. Kessling, the telephone inspector, was here on business last week.

Okie Hilton, who is attending school at Pembroke, is spending a few days at home this week.

Dr. Ratcliff is practicing at Paint Bank now, and we regret that he is talking of moving his family.

Norman Little of Lindside, is in town.

Rev. H. D. Caffee of Lynchburg, will begin a revival meeting here next week and we hope everybody will turn out and give him a full house, that he may be prosperous in his undertaking, and also have a good meeting, as he is coming to work for the advantage of the new church being built here. We will also give a box supper Saturday the 24th inst. Everybody is invited.

Angel Eyes.

VALENTINE VERSES.

To G. W.—
You need a wife, to make your life
Just what it ought to be;
So mount your bike and down the pike
Come pedaling to me!

To J. M.—
A button unto you I send,
A token ere this Leap Year's gone,
The right I'll have your clothes to mend
And sew the buttons on!

To T. D.—
You are not pretty, but I am,
You are not sweet, but I am
Sweet enough to be called "Honey,"
And love and help you spend your money!

To J. J.—
We'd be happy, if yoked together,
In sunshine or in cloudy weather;
And if you love me as I love you,
And to me you if you'll e'er be true,
Then get on the hurry line,
To the Clerk's office for our Valentine

To Will Mc.—
Thou hast been coming more'n a year,
And never asked me to be thine;
And as it now is Leap year,
I'll ask of thee—wilt thou be mine?

To Bob W.
Remember dear, this is Leap year,
And I'll not wait much longer,
For you, but listen to some other boy,
Whose courage and love are stronger.

To W. S.
You've told me oft, I am the belle,
Of Pearisburg, and the sweetest girl you know;
Now isn't it time to ring the belle,—
O, why are you so slow?

To N. R. J.
You are the sweetest thing in town,
I love you sincerely,
And when I'm done beating the drum,
We'll be made one most surely.

Marvin Lucas who has been home for some weeks, returned to his work at Williamson, W Va., Tuesday.

Miss Marian Saunders and Mont Woods from Totham, W Va., were the guests of J. H. Woods, Sunday.

Was not last Saturday a fine, warm day? Had it not been for the snow on our peaks, we would have thought it a June day.

From a purely astronomical point of view (and we suppose it is correct, at least we will not dispute it, as we have not been here quite that long), it is now said this earth is fifty-six million years old. Who would have "thunk" it.

Two children of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Hale of this place, have diphtheria, but in a mild form.

We represent Traymore, Philadelphia and Tailor-made Clothing Co., Chicago. Give us a trial, Buchanan & Powell.

Rev. W. B Belchee will preach at Hale's Chapel Saturday night and Sunday morning at 11 o'clock; at Bluff City in the evening.

Any one who cannot give a friend or neighbor anything better than a bottle of whiskey, had better go to some out-of-the-way place, and shoot themselves.

Don't jump at conclusions unless you can see the conclusion,—let Buchanan & Powell take your order for a Spring and Summer suit.

Mr. and Mrs Moore, en route to their home, Tazewell, Va., from Calverton, Va., spent several days this week with their granddaughter, Miss Gladys Scott.

We had two or three mornings last week like sugar tree weather It will soon be here, then we will be puzzled to know which we are eating the most of—sugar or sand.

Any one having a house to "chink and dob," now is your time to do it, as the mortar is here already made up for the job, and that in an unlimited quantity.

Guy French, who has been in the city visiting his parents, Capt. and Mrs. D. A. French on Rogers street, returned to his home in Cincinnati, Sunday night.—Bluefield Telegraph.

We learn from the Monroe Watchman that Mr. C. S. Ballard of Lindside, W. Va., contemplates, at an early day, of coming to this place and opening up a large stock of goods. The more the merrier, we suppose.

H. K. Osborne who returned to Northfork, W. Va., last week, was accompanied to Bluefield by W. H. Buchanan, Jr., Will St. Clair of Bane, and Mr. St. Clair of Fayette county, W. Va., who spent a few days in that city.

Mr. L M. Cooper and Miss Mary A Spangler were married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr and Mrs. Jas. Spangler, Feb. 7th, by Rev. Watkins of Peterstown —Rich Creek correspondent to the Monroe Watchman.

Lewis Hall, deputy sheriff of Mercer county, W. Va., brought to this place Monday and lodged in jail, George Whitlow who knocked Forest Eastman in the head with a rock twelve months ago at Glen Lyn. Eastman's life hung in the balance for a long time but finally recovered. Whitlow was arrested at Kellysville, W. Va, Friday, and placed in jail at Princeton, W. Va. He consented to come to Virginia without requisition papers. Whitlow was indicted some time ago by the grand jury of this county.

Creed Wheeler of Rocky Gap, gave us a friendly call on last Saturday on his way home from Trigg where he and his wife were visiting their daughter, Mrs Thomas Kirk. Mrs. Wheeler will remain a few days longer.

We return thanks to the Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn., for a copy of the Cardui Wall Calendar and Weather Chart for 1912 It is printed in colors and is a very fine and valuable calendar.

The weather for the past week has been nice and warm, with an occasional sprinkle, and should it continue this way long, considerable budding of the trees may be expected Lettuce and onions may be planted now—provided, the ground is dry enough.

Perry Short of this county, who was summoned to Monroe county, W. Va., last week, on account of the death of his father, Mr. William Short, is spending the week with his brother, Marion C. Short, at the latter's home on what is called the "Knobs."

The Elkhorn news in the Daily Telegraph of Bluefield, on the 18th inst., says: "Mrs. Houston Wilburn of Charleston, who has been ill, was brought to the home of her father, Mr. Herndon, last Saturday. Mrs. Wilburn is improving rapidly. —Miss Grace Wilburn is visiting her brother, Louis Wilburn."

Quite a number of men went from here to Narrows Sunday afternoon to hear Rev. Thomas Sexton's sermon "to men only." As we have not seen any of these gentlemen, and we did not go, we will have to be "mum" as to how good the sermon was. But, if we had to guess at it, we would say it was a very interesting one.

The Grace (M. E.) church revival meeting at Bluefield, closed its third week last Friday night with over three hundred conversions. Truly, these meetings were a manifestation of God's power, and we would love to hear of many places having the same kind of services and the number of conversions being as large, if not larger, than that of Grace church.

Regardless of ground hog predictions, the robins have already made their appearance in Southwest Virginia. This is a sign of the near approach of Spring, and these little friends brings joy and gladness into many hearts. Of course warm weather is not to be expected, as yet, but the temperature can be much milder than it has been. Help to care for the dear birds, by throwing pieces of bread out in the yard to them.

Rev. M. W. Royall will preach in this place Sunday morning at eleven o'clock and at night. Morning subject: "The Majesty of Christ" Evening subject: "Come Down from the Cross." He will preach at Ripplemead Sunday afternoon at three o'clock and at Berean, Saturday afternoon at two o'clock. There will be a church meeting at Pearisburg Friday afternoon at three o'clock. All members are requested to be present.

Mrs. Dr. D. A Dunkley, who has been taking care of Mrs. Arthur McDonald and son at Kimballton, and who have been at the point of death, returned to this place Tuesday. She reports them as getting along nicely and on the road to recovery. We are very glad indeed to hear this.

We noticed one of our young gentlemen going about town the other day with a gun, and from what we could see, we would say he was shooting birds. Come, now, cannot you get into better business than killing these poor, little, harmless creatures? You ought to know better.

A well known minister who had been preaching a begging sermon, concluded it as follows: "I don't want any to contribute who have not paid their subscription to the home paper, for country papers need money a great deal more than do the heathen." That minister knew what he was talking about.

The revival meeting at Narrows, commenced Sunday night, 11th inst., by Rev. Belchee, assisted by Rev. Thomas Sexton, the blacksmith preacher and evangelist, still continues. Many converts to Christianity have been made, and the people greatly awakened as to their spiritual welfare. On last Friday night, over 200 people shook hands with these divines and promised to lead better lives. Let the good work continue, and we hope the best time in these services are to be yet seen and realized.

Rev. S. S. Catron, the presiding elder for this district, held a quarterly meeting here Saturday and Sunday. He preached three sermons. We had the pleasure of hearing two of these sermons, and we deeply regret we did not hear them all. It seems the older he gets, the better his oratory and sermons are. The two sermons we heard, in our opinion, were the best we ever listened to, and we have been told by those who heard the first one, that it was the best of all Bro. Catron is an able preacher, as many thousands can testify to assert, and we hope he will live many years to expound the gospel in his forceful and eloquent manner.

Mrs. Adalene Martin Dead.

Radford, Feb. 17.—Mrs. Adalene Martin died Friday night at 10 o'clock of heart trouble, after an illness of three weeks. She was born in Newport, Giles county, and was married in 1856 to Mr. W. H. Martin, who died 12 years ago. She was a consistent member of the Baptist church for 58 years and a faithful wife and devoted mother. She was 77 years at her death and had lived in Radford for 22 years.

She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Everet Leftwich of Williamson, W. Va., and four sons, Messrs. J. R., W. M., J. F. and A. E. Martin of East Radford.

Interment was held in the East Radford cemetery.

MESSRS. H. B. SHELTON & CO.'S GROCERY STORE BURGLARIZED.

During the past week, the clerks when opening up the store of Messrs. H. B. Shelton & Co., noticed that some one had been in the store and robbed the cash drawer of its contents, besides helping themselves to candy and other things. It was decided, after this thing had been done two or three times to "lay in wait" for the intruder and catch him if possible. On last Thursday night John Givens and Haynes Brotherton hid themselves in the store and waited for the intruder, when about 9.15, one Kin Smith, colored, of this place, entered the store through a window and began rifling the money drawer, when Mr. Givens drew a revolver and ordered him to "throw up his hands," but instead of doing this, he tried to make his escape, when Givens fired two shots at him—neither taking effect. However, he was caught and placed the same night in the county jail. Smith admits this was the fourth time he had entered the store. The amount of goods taken was comparatively small, though he helped himself to something each time.

Since the above was put in type, another, Warren Hardy, colored, has been arrested and placed in jail, charged with being an accessory. It is said he was the first one who entered the store and that he afterwards showed Smith "the wrinkle" how to get in.

They had a hearing on Saturday last before 'Squire Munsey, and were sent on to await the action of the grand jury.

In our opinion they will not steal anything for a while, at least, as this is a penitentiary offense, and will get a few years to live at the boarding house in Richmond.

Recovers from Injuries.

J. E. Gerald, the engineer who was hurt in a wreck on the Radford division just before Christmas, was able to get out Sunday for the first time.—Bluefield Telegraph.

Paint and "Paint."

Paint itself costs $2 10 per gallon—but remember that—Linseed Oil costs only $1.00 per gallon, and that "Paint" ready for use consists of 4 parts Paint and 3 parts Oil. Consequently it is plain—that you should buy Paint and Oil separately—mix them yourself—and so save 45 cents per gallon. Therefore buy L & M. Paint (prepared in semi-paste form) mix three quarts of Oil to each 1 gallon L. & M. and make 1¾ gallons of Paint ready for use at $1.65 a gallon. Call on H. B. Shelton & Co., Pearisburg, Va.

Major Samuel E. Lybrook Gone Beyond the Dark River.

Though far along in years and feeble in body, his legions of friends in Giles county were not prepared for the sad news announcing the death of Major Samuel E. Lybrook, which occurred at his home at Pembroke last Thursday night. He was about 88 years of age and death came rather suddenly after several years of impaired health due, in the main, to the infirmities incident to advanced years.

Major Lybrook was a great grand son of Philip Lybrook, who was among the first settlers of Giles county, having come here from Pennsylvania about the year 1750. He was one of a family of several children and is the last of the immediate family except his brother, William, who has spent the past year or two with his brother, the Major, and who still survives.

His wife was Miss Jennie Chapman, daughter of David Johnston Chapman, and sister of Mr. D. J. Chapman of this place. She preceded him to the grave only a few years ago. To them was born one child, Kemper Lybrook, who still survives and is now living at Pembroke in this county.

Major Lybrook served Giles county in the Legislature for two or more terms, and did so with honor and credit to himself and his county.

He was a gallant soldier of the Confederacy; won the distinction of Major and made a record second to but few in his devotion and loyalty to his native and loved Southland.

Without reference to the personal characteristics of this good man, this feeble tribute would be incomplete. We knew him, we loved him. His neighbors, amongst whom his long life was spent, loved him for the kind, gentle, christian character which he was. We will again say here what we said many years ago, and have said it many times, a better man never lived in Giles county than Major Lybrook. He possessed at one time valuable areas of lands and other property. Through the kindness of heart so characteristic of the man, he became surety for friends, who were unfortunate. He did not employ counsel and resort to the courts to shun payment of his obligations. No. "He said take it, apply its proceeds to my obligations, both legal and moral." Reader, pardon this allusion in a tribute of this kind. It is done to show the character of the man.

Ask the neighbors of Major Lybrook about him; those who have lived around him all their lives. They will tell you his purse, his home, his smoke house, his granaries, were ever open to those in adversity.

Major Lybrook's life was a plain and beautiful one. Never proud or ostentatious. Always agreeable, pleasant, affable. He will be missed, sadly missed.

What a grand, bright, beautiful world would this be, were all the people in it as was this sainted but departed friend.

VISIT TO PEMBROKE.

We had the pleasure on Friday last of spending part of the day in the beautiful and hustling town of Pembroke.

This town has three stores, all of which seem to be doing a profitable business.

The Bank of Pembroke, organized there a few weeks ago, seems to be getting its share of the trade and will no doubt do better in the days to come than at the present time. President, James Hoge; Vice-President, R. A. Gilliam; Cashier, W. H. Snidow.

We had the pleasure of being shown through Odd Fellows hall by our old friend, H. P. Bauman. This hall is a large one and very artistically arranged, and presents a fine appearance. This lodge is quite large and in a prosperous condition.

The High School is prospering and the scholars all seem to be well pleased with their principal, Prof. Reed, who is the right kind of a man when it comes to educational affairs.

The sound of the hammer and the whistling of the engine may also be heard in this thriving village, and the saw mills are doing a rushing business.

We had a good dinner at the Hotel Snidow, got a few subscribers, several dollars in money, and returned home very well pleased with our trip to Pembroke.

Changes Made on the Virginian.

Princeton, W. Va., Feb. 19.—The recent experiment the Virginian made with a new model stoker is said by railroad men to have proven so very satisfactory that the company has ordered twenty additional ones, to be delivered in April or May, which will be installed on east end locomotives. The new device will not be used on the west end, stoker coal being an unsatisfactory steamer on mountain grades.

The Virginian has inaugurated a new passenger service. By an agreement with the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad, its passenger trains Nos. 13 and 14 use the C. & O. tracks from Deepwater to Russellville, Ky.

On a pleasant Sunday afternoon an old German and his youngest son were seated in the village inn. The father had partaken liberally of the home-brewed beer, and was warning his son against the evils of intemperance. "Never drink too much, my son. A gentleman stops when he has enough. To be drunk is a disgrace."

"Yes, father, but how can I tell when I have enough or am drunk?"

The old man pointed with his finger. "Do you see those two men sitting in the corner? If you should see four men there, you would be drunk."

The boy looked long and earnestly. "Yes, father, but—but—there is only one man in that corner."—Lippincott's.

MID-WINTER PRICES On Eggs, Poultry and Butter.

By Hellerick & Co., Philadelphia, Pa.

Never have we seen Butter, live Geese and Ducks so high, clear out of sight almost. Eggs, Turkeys and Chickens continues to bring fine prices too. The returns we are sending out now are better than shippers are looking for especially on Butter, Eggs, live Ducks and Geese. The sales of Turkeys and Chickens are very satisfactory. They haven't advanced in proportion to other goods, but we hope and expect them to be higher during February than they were in January. Never have we had such a heavy demand in mid winter before. We are getting more goods than any one in Philadelphia, but still not half enough. Can't you ship us something during February? If you have neighbors who have Produce to sell tell them to ship it to us. If they haven't been shipping us won't you please send us their names at once. We'll appreciate it very much if our friends all over Giles county will do this. If only one or two names from each one of our friends it would be a special favor to us just at this time. Let us see how many of our friends will help us out this much.

Everybody ship during February. Returns will more than please you. Yours to command.

Redistricting Measure Falls.

House Democratic Caucus Opposes Change in Congressional Lines.

Richmond, Feb. 21.—By a vote of 42 to 32 the Democrats of the house tonight in caucus decided that there should be no change in the lines of the congressional districts of the State at this session. When the vote was announced the result was made unanimous and the decree of the caucus is the will of the majority.

The caucus got down to work soon after 8 o'clock, and then followed the interminable points of order and parliamentary practice. Delegates Oliver and Houston wanted to exclude the newspapermen, only to be reminded by Delegate White that if that were done the caucus would tomorrow morning read the full proceedings, just as is the case of the executive session of the United States Senate. The proposition to shut out the newspaper men received six votes.

JUDGE WILLIAMS' VIEWS.

Judge Martin Williams, chairman of the committee on privileges and elections, made a plain statement, saying that it was no secret that all legislative bodies bent their energies to perfecting and strengthening their party, and that it was no secret that the bill to be considered was for party political purposes. However, he wanted the Democrats to discuss and vote on the matter, assuring the caucus that what ever it did would be wholly acceptable to him. He then moved that the report of the committee take Halifax from the sixth and placing it in the fifth and taking Giles, Bland and Tazewell from the ninth and placing them in the sixth, be adopted. He denied the insinuation that the purpose of the committee was to legislate certain congressman out of the districts. His one object was to make the fifth certainly Democratic, also the sixth and to relieve the ninth. He denied that he expected to be a candidate for congress in either the sixth or the ninth districts "for the next term."

WHITE OPPOSES CHANGE.

Delegate Hugh A. White of Rockbridge, made a protest against any change. He said redistricting under consideration meant nothing to the ninth, would imperil the sixth and possibly not benefit the fifth. He declared that the vote last election, Stuart and Slemp, was abnormal, when votes had sold as high as two hundred and fifty dollars instead of two and a half under normal conditions.

Delegate Stebbins of Halifax, pleaded against any interference with existing conditions, saying he did not want to see his own district jeopardized when the added burden would not relieve the conditions in the ninth district. The sixth district would be in danger for all time, for they had Republicans who were dormant and only needed to be aroused. The same was true in other counties "Please let us alone" concluded Mr. Stebbins.

The vote was taken on Mr. Stebbins' motion directing the recommittal of the bill with instructions to report a bill retaining the congressional districts as they are at this time, and the motion was adopted 42 to 32.

The largest horse in the world died last week. It was owned by C. W. Campbell of Madison, Wis., and weighed 2,960 pounds. In the last ten years he exhibited it all over the country and made $100,000 from the exhibitions.

DIAGNOSIS OF BABIES.

A baby is a large volume of noise entirely surrounded by safety pins.

The baby itself is not large, however. It rarely weighs more than an unabridged dictionary, and is very fragile to look at But then the smallest baby can make a noise which will cause an old bachelor three blocks away to tear the picture of Theodore Roosevelt from the wall and stamp on it.

This is because a baby deals exclusively in noise. He does nothing and thinks of nothing but making noise. Men who have become great by sticking to one thing and learning all about it claim that specialization is a new idea, but for over 6,000 years babys have specialized in noise, and their success is more impressive than that of Edison or Hans Wagner.

Babies are very young and have no past to speak of. They are greatly beloved by all who know them, not because of what they say, but because of what they do not say. Babies do not tell ancient stories to their friends, or talk politics when they want to read a good book, or tell them that the country is going to the dogs, or ask them for $5 until pay day. As babies grow older they talk more and lose a few more friends each year. A young boy baby is frantically beloved by hundreds of women, but after he is grown up and has learned conversation in all its branches he is lucky if he can keep one woman fond of him long enough to die married.

Babies are great diplomats. A baby can induce a strong man to get up at night and prance all over the place in his pajamas, though the man would positively refuse to do it for his wife or his employer or the President of the United States. Men who never sang a note in their lives, and would fight at the suggestion from anyone else, will sing half the night when requested to do so by a mere baby with no particular eloquence at its command.

Babies are the gamble of the world. It costs $5,000 to raise a baby and you can never tell whether it is going to be worth $5,000 or 30 cents when it grows up. However, if it is a girl, you can always find some young man to take a chance on her in that other great gamble—matrimony.

Babies are very feeble and could be demolished by a strong man. Yet they often live for ninety-five years, which is more than a strong man can do. But babies do not smoke cigars, drink cocktails or eat nineteen griddle cakes at a sitting. Feed a baby on lobster Newburg and he would soon fade away. Strong men grow old and feeble on beefsteak, while small babies grow strong and big on milk alone. There are three kinds of babies—cow babies, tin babies and home talent babies.

Babies are not often given the consideration they are entitled to. Among today's babies are the Presidents of 1960, the steel kings of 1950, the baseball stars 1940, the aviators of 1930 and the golf champions of 1935.—Home and Farm.

We are coming to understand that all the prayers and baptisms and communions which the churches can bestow upon us will not make us christians, so long as we think mean, uncharitable thoughts of one another and permit our minds to be filled with malice, envy, jealousy, gloom and despondency.

Going back often begins by looking back.

Nobody Knows But Mother.

Nobody knows the work it takes
To keep the home together;
Nobody knows of the steps it takes
Nobody knows—but mother.

Nobody listens to childish woes
Which kisses only smother;
Nobody's pained by naughty blows,
Nobody—only mother.

Nobody knows of the sleepless care
Bestowed on baby brother;
Nobody knows of the tender prayer,
Nobody—only mother.

Nobody knows of the lessons taught
Of loving one another;
Nobody knows of the patience sought,
Nobody—only mother.

Nobody knows of the anxious fears
Lest darlings may not weather
The storm of life in after years,
Nobody knows—but mother.

Nobody kneels at the throne above
To thank the heavenly Father
For the sweetest gift—a mother's love;
Nobody can—but mother.

—Maine Farmer.

Mr. Bowser Has a Smallpox Scare.

When Mr. Bowser took the street car home the other evening he sat down beside a man who seemed to be ailing. It was a case of solitude, if not for anxiety, and he was asked if anything could be done for him.

"I'm afraid I'm in for it," he replied. "I stood it up to half an hour ago, and I then consulted a doctor. He told me to get home and go to bed at once."

"Feel chilly?"

"No—feverish."

"Think it's malaria?"

"Hardly."

"Hope it isn't pneumonia. That's something that goes hard with a man."

"The doctor said it wasn't pneumonia, though I'd sooner it was."

"Then he must have given you a hint of some sort?"

"Yes, he did."

"If you don't think you can get to your house from the car all right I'll assist you," said Mr. Bowser.

"You are very kind, but I think I can make it. One don't meet a man like you very often. These other people in the car can see that I'm under the weather, but not a word of sympathy from any of them. Please give me your card. It may be that I can do you a favor some day."

"Don't mention it. When I no longer have a heart for others I want to die."

"You've got the heart all right, and I have a great mind to confide in you."

"You can safely do so."

"Then lean over this way a bit. The doctor asked me if I had been exposed to small pox."

"By thunder!" exclaimed Mr. Bowser, as he half rose up.

"Don't jump that way, man! I told the doctor I thought I had."

"And you are coming down with—with——!"

"Hush! Yes, it's probably the real thing, but as you have been vaccinated lately——"

"But I haven't—not since I was a baby! My heavens, man, but you shouldn't have taken a car!"

"Couldn't walk home, and hadn't the dough to hire a taxi. Besides, the conductor of this car beat me out a dime one day last week, and I want to get even with him. See that fat man over there? He called me a hog one day last summer because I had an end seat and he had to climb over me. He'll take it easy and have it hard."

"But I—I—I—!" stammered Mr. Bowser.

"You are a man with a heart, and you'll have it light. Going? Thanks for your kind words. Hope to see you when we both get over it!"

Mr. Bowser got off two blocks from his own street and struck a gallop for home. He had thoughts. His hair crawled. Like a fool, he had entered the car and taken a seat beside a man coming down with the smallpox when he might have stood out on the platform in the wind, snow. What should he do? He could find no answer to the question and he rushed up the steps and banged the door open.

"Are you pursued by a mad dog?" asked Mrs. Bowser as she came forward.

Mr. Bowser sat down on the bottom stair and groaned.

"What is it?"

Groans and head shakes.

"Why don't you tell me?"

"I—I sat beside a man on the car that had smallpox!"

"Oh, I see. Couldn't have taken the car ahead or the one behind? Well, if you have small pox we must make the best of it."

"But it's an awful disease! The chances are that I shall die of it!"

"Yes, I've been expecting every day for the last 20 years you'd bring home something to kill us all off. I'd send for the doctor, only I know he's out of town. How do you feel?"

"Something terrible."

"Yes, they always do, I believe. You't better go to bed and I will treat you as well as I know how for a day or two. It may be that the man only had measles."

"Smallpox, Mrs. Bowser—smallpox! Smallpox, and I'm a dead man!"

"Nonsense! It don't come on as quick as this."

Mr. Bowser was assisted upstairs and into bed. Groans—sighs—ejaculations—e x c l a m a-tions. He was sprinkled with vinegar. He was given hot vinegar and pepper to drink. He was told to imagine that he only had a chill. The back of his neck was rubbed with camphor, and mustard plasters applied to the soles of his feet. A cloth soaked in carbolic acid was laid on his forehead. He couldn't sleep. After an hour he said:

"Mrs. Bowser, before I become delirious I want to say a few things to you. I have been a bad husband to you."

"Oh, not so very," was the reply.

"But I have. I have come home and kicked the gate open."

"I think most husbands do that."

"And I've banged the front door open and been cross to you. At the table I've found fault with the cooking. At other times I've taunted you with selling the gas and coal to send me to the poor-house. Can you forgive me?"

"Of course. All wives expect such things from their husbands."

"You have about ten of my old love letters laid away," he continued. "Now and then you get them out and begin reading them to me, and I get mad and deny that I ever wrote them. I have even charged you with forgery. Is it possible for you to forgive?"

"Quite so, Mr. Bowser. No husband wants his love letters read to him after the first six months."

"But I've jawed about the clothespins to be found in the back yard, and I've fairly howled when I came home and found a window pane broken. Now that I am on the edge of the gave can you —— ——?"

"Yes, Mr. Bowser, I forgive everything."

"It's hard to die—hard—hard!"

'Yes, but you are sure to go to heaven. Think how happy you'll be up there!'

'I don't give a dum for being happy up there!' he moaned. 'I want to be happy down here. Mrs. Bowser, hold my hands. Hold me back from the grave!'

'Yes, yes, but there's the telephone ringing downstairs, and I must run down to answer.'

When she returned she found Mr. Bowser sobbing, but that didn't chase the smile off her face.

'It was a message from your smallpox friend,' she said.

'Then he's d-dead!'

'Not at all. He telephones that his doctor says he's only got a boil!'

'Good lands!'

'And that the doctor that hinted about smallpox is a jackass, and he himself is another, and that you make the third!'

Mr. Bowser got out of bed and began to dress.

'Aren't you glad?'

'Mrs. Bowser, I may have asked you a bit ago to forgive me for certain things in the past.'

'Yes, you did.'

'Then I take it all back, and I want dinner within ten minutes.'

Unknown Man Killed on the Rail.

J. O. Edwards, a white man about 42 years of age, was run over and killed at Twin Branch, W. Va., Tuesday night, 20th inst., the man's relatives are not known nor the place of his residence, but he was not an employee of the railway company and was a trespasser upon company property when killed.

It is not known what train killed him, the accident occuring about 10 o'clock last night, and it is supposed that it was the old story that causes so many accidents upon the double tracks, that the man stepped in front of one train to avoid another that was coming upon the other track.

The county authorities were notified to take charge of the remains.—Bluefield Leader.

Recipe for Old Age.

We sent our reporter out to Geauga county recently to interview an old codger who was celebrating his one hundred and fourth birthday.

'How do you account for the fact that you have been able to attain this remarkable age,' asked our bright young man.

'To the fact that I have never worked a lick before breakfast,' answered the centenarian.

'This is a fact worth remembering,' muttered the reporter, making a note of it.

'There's another thing that pa failed to mention,' a son in law whispered in the newspaper man's ear.

'What is that?'

'He never does a lick of work after breakfast neither. Git that in your story too."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Work is a moral and physical uplifter it is a panacea for sorrow; idleness brings moral decay and furnishes an incentive to crime. The avalanche of crime that is sweeping over our beautiful land is largely due to the fact that too many would rather steal than work. The life of duty, not the life of mere ease or mere pleasure, is the end of life which makes the great men and women. The best prize that life offers is the chance to work at work worth doing.

In Japan it is the height of bad form for a woman to express an opinion contrary to that of her husband.

Very Serious

It is a very serious matter to ask for one medicine and have the wrong one given you. For this reason we urge you in buying to be careful to get the genuine—

THEDFORD'S BLACK-DRAUGHT
Liver Medicine

The reputation of this old, reliable medicine, for constipation, indigestion and liver trouble, is firmly established. It does not imitate other medicines. It is better than others, or it would not be the favorite liver powder, with a larger sale than all others combined.

LOCAL INTEREST.

Royal Arch Chapter No. 29, meets in Masonic Hall every Tuesday night after the full moon. All companions are requested to be present at the next regular convocation, March 5th. Invitation extended to all Royal Arch Masons in good standing.

J. R. EMMONS,
High Priest.

W. H. THOMPSON,
Secretary.

Read the order of publication in this week's issue.

Born—To Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Peters, on the 26th inst., a son.

It thundered and lightened last week. Did you hear and see it?

The Misses Journells spent the week's end with parents near Eggleston.

Jesse Charlton of Bluff City, was in Cincinnati, Ohio, last week on business.

R Allen Brown was in East Radford the latter part of last week on business.

If the mud gets much deeper in this town, it will be oozing through on old "Nick."

Misses Mary Peery and Madge Hansbarger spent the week's end with Mrs. Scott of Bane.

Frequently we hear women say: "If I were only a man!" Cheer up, ladies; leap year isn't over.

Mrs. Isaac Robertson of Bluefield, was visiting her sister, Mrs. Hubert Peters of this place last week.

Miss Mary Peters, who has been very sick for the past week, is convalescing.

Mr. Jim French from Tazewell county, has moved his family into W. H. Buchanan's house near the Odell farm.

Mr. J. Alf Brewer of Bristol, Tenn., says: "I get many items from Giles that only reach me through your paper."

Wilford Thaxton, who has been attending school here left Saturday for New York to take a course in telegraphy.

Miss Clara Stafford who came home last week with a very bad arm, having been vaccinated two week's ago, returned to Roanoke, Tuesday.

Miss Clara Neel who has been spending several weeks with her sister, Mrs. W. B. Belchee, returned home to Cove Creek, Va., Monday.

Mrs. Lucille Mann returned home after spending several days with her parents, Judge and Mrs. Martin Williams, Richmond, Virginia.

S. T. Dennis of Newport, will in a short time, move his family to this place. He will build him a house in the new part of our town in the west end.

Pearisburg and Bluff City will soon be linked together with houses. Then we will apply to the Legislature and have this place named Greater Pearisburg.

Sup't C. A. Hardwick of Newport, spent Tuesday night in town.

Read the Bank Reports of the First National Bank of Pearisburg, and First State Bank of Narrows, on our inside this week.

E. A. Keister of Newport, spent Saturday night in Pearisburg on his way to Charleston, W. Va. He was driving a fine Red King horse, four years old, he bought from M. P. Farrier.

If Baptists and ducks like water, they certainly ought to be pleased with the weather we have had in last week, and forepart of this week. It has been raining about four days.

Mrs. W. H. Buchanan is visiting her daughter, Mrs. C. R Ballard, Lindside, W. Va. Mrs. Ballard has been confined to her bed for quite a while, but is now improving slowly.

I have about 30 bushels Choice German Millet Seed left. Price $2.00 per bushel. Write to, or see J. A. Didder at once, Hoge's Store, Va., if you need it.

J. ALF BREWER.

"Umbrellas to mend," was the cry on our streets on Saturday last by one who was in the business. As some one had borrowed ours, and perhaps will never return it, we could not give him a job.

No man ever abuses an enemy as much as he does his stomach. Is not this true when some people will fill their stomach to overflowing with "rot gut" whiskey, something a dog would not do, if he could.

George Whitlow, who was brought here and lodged in jail last week by deputy sheriff, Lewis Hall of Mercer county, was bailed out one day last week, and went on his way rejoicing.

Spring will soon be here with gardening and house-cleaning. The last named makes the good man of the house wish he never was born. But then let Spring come, we are real hungry for jole and greens.

We call attention to the advertisement of Mrs. C. T. Painter at the top of this page. She has just received a beautiful line of women's dress goods, embroidered flouncings, etc. Now is the time to get your children's commencement dresses. Nice and pretty ones here.

We had the pleasure on last Wednesday afternoon (at our sanctum) of having the smiling and beautiful faces of Mrs. Dr. Dunkley, Misses Lena and Mabel Goodwin, Lulu Shrader and Nita Rector visit us. They came to see how the "rag" was made, but we had just finished, and we were real sorry. Come again, we love to have the ladies visit us.

On last Wednesday night a terrific wind storm visited this place and played the mischief with a few trivial things around town. We were beginning to think we would be blown to the farther end of the earth, but such did not happen. From all over the country come reports of much damage being done. However, our town escaped with comparatively small loss.

Fount Johnston's livery bell is a great convenience to this "burg." It awakes those who do not sleep like a dead person, every morning at 6 20. About the right time for an early riser to get up.

A. D. Sligh, a fireman on the N. & W. R. R., was brought here from Bluefield by Sheriff W. H Thompson one day last week and placed in our county jail. He is charged with shooting Elbert Dent of Lurich, about one month ago.

We would call the attention of the town daddies to the fact that the sidewalk between the postoffice and the Episcopal church ought to have a railing on the lower side. If some one should fall over that side and break a leg or an arm, to say nothing of their neck, the town might have a lawsuit on its hands. Better do something while times are good.

E. A. Keister of Newport, and Miss Elizabeth Hutchinson of Craig county, were married January 31, 1912. They had been sweethearts for fifteen years. Mr. Keister is one of Giles county's most respected citizens, and very much of a gentleman. They will make their home in Charleston, W. Va., where Mr. Keister will engage in the livery business. We wish them prosperity and happiness in their new home.

We call your attention to the advertisement on our first page of the Duncan Implement Co., Rich Creek, Va. This company sells the Page Lion Fence, one of the best (if not the best) fences manufactured. They also sell and keep on hand all kinds of farm implements and machinery, and repairs for same. When you want a good wagon or buggy, here is the place to get them. When in need of anything in the hardware line, give them a call. They are fair minded men and will treat you right.

Rev. M. W. Royall, wife and little Arlona, left yesterday evening for North Carolina to visit Mr. Royall's people. They will be at Fremont, N. C., Friday at a reunion of the family. There are ten children and a mother, they are all to meet at Rev. Royall's sister, Mrs. J. B. Exum's. They have not all been together in twenty years. Rev. Royall will be away from his churches the 1st and 2nd Sunday. We hope they will have a safe trip and nothing to mar their pleasure while gone.

At Eggleston, Tuesday night, 20th inst., Mr. Will Hurt passed away after a few days illness with pneumonia. He was a fine young man only 31 years of age. He leaves a mother, four sisters and one brother to mourn his loss. His funeral services were conducted at Wesley's chapel by Rev. M. W. Royall and he was laid to rest by the side of his father who died a few years ago. He had never been strong but had always been in poor health, and when the disease took him in charge he was not able to battle against it. May God comfort those who are bereft of their loved one.

We are sorry to report that Mrs. Pierce J. Bane of White Gate, has been very ill for the past ten days, but at this writing is improving slowly. We hope to hear of her ultimate recovery soon.

Clyde Odell who was one of our High School scholars the last term, but who went to Roanoke to attend the Business College there, has the small pox. We are glad to say, he is getting along as nicely as the pesky disease will allow.

C. E. Pyrtle of Ripplemead, and who has been attending our High School as a scholar, has joined the U. S. Navy, and is now on the battleship Amphitrite, at Memphis, Tenn. We hope he will like Uncle Sam, and we wish him success in his new field of labor.

Capt. John P. Jenks, though able to be up, is in a very precarious condition. He has been on the decline for some time suffering with blood poison caused by a bruise on his leg received more than a year ago. He has kidney trouble also, either of which will cause his demise. He is now in his 83rd year.—Lebanon News.

Mr. Jenks is the owner of the old Hoge property in this place, is also the father of Mrs. Geo. M. Henderson of Thessalia.

REVIVAL SERVICES AT NARROWS CLOSES.

The revival services at Narrows, which have been carried on for the past two weeks by Revs. W. B. Belchee and J. T. Sexton, the blacksmith preacher and evangelist, came to a close Sunday night. This was the greatest revival ever held in the county, and its influence will be felt for years to come.

Rev. Sexton is a man who carries much weight and force with his preaching, as well as keeping his congregation wrapped with the utmost attention.

Rev. Belchee needs no words of commendation from us, as the people of this circuit know his ability in revival services.

There was at this revival 123 converts to Christianity; forty have united themselves with the M. E. church; two with the Missionary Baptist; two with the Presbyterian church, and about 15 with the Christian church. The rest will most certainly unite themselves with the different churches a little later on.

Rev. Sexton left Monday for his home in Knoxville, Tenn. Many sorrowing hearts were left behind as the people had learned to love this noted divine.

We hope he will in the near future come to our town and that his labor here will be rewarded as much, if not more abundantly, than he was at Narrows.

A Card of Thanks.

I desire through the VIRGINIAN to thank the friends around Eggleston and Green Valley for their many kind acts shown us during the brief illness of my son, his death and burial. May the Lord recompense them for their sympathy and love.

MRS. MARGARET HURT.
Eggleston, Feb. 24.

AN HOUR WITH MOZART AND SCHUMANN.

At 2:30 o'clock on Saturday afternoon, a music recital will be given in the auditorium of the High School building by twelve members of the music class. The program will consist of numbers selected from the compositions of Mozart and Schumann.

The public is cordially invited to be present.

DEVILS LAKE, NORTH DAKOTA,
February 19, 1912.

EDITOR VIRGINIAN:

DEAR SIR:—Though we have been separated by seventeen hundred miles for twelve years, from kindred, home and native land, we still enjoy the weekly visits of the VIRGINIAN and eagerly peruse its pages. We are still glad that we came to North Dakota. We found a congenial climate, country and people. We enjoy better health here than in Virginia, and have been reasonably successful in our undertakings.

I wish you many years of health, wealth and happiness. Long live the VIRGINIAN.

Yours Respectfully,
JOHN S. KIRK.

Thanks for the above sentiments; also for the nice leaflet, showing many beautiful mansions, parks and lakes. We also notice a field in potatoes, which averaged 300 bushels per acre. What State in the Union can beat this?

HOGE'S STORE.

We are expecting to hear "wedding bells" soon.

Miss Maud Williams, Frank Williams and Snow Meredith spent Sunday with Miss Agnes Duncan.

Mrs. Clarence Martin and Miss Sarah Williams spent Monday with Miss Louise Meredith.

Fred Douthat was seen here Sunday. Look out "Jack" or you will be standing back in the corner.

We are glad to see Lee Bishop out again. Some girls are all smiles.

Bird Bishop of Roanoke, spent a few days with homefolks last week.

Misses Lida Meredith, Bemer and Maggie Smith spent Saturday night and Sunday with Miss Beatrice Williams.

One of the most enjoyable events of the season was a party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Will Bishop, Monday night. Those present were: Misses Alma and Eva Tinsley, Virgie and Effie Via, Grace, Maud and Beatrice Williams, Bemer and Maggie Smith and Lida Meredith. Messrs. Herman, Frank, Bernard and Hampton Williams, Snow Meredith, Fred Williams, Walter Via, Wat Tinsley, Bird Bishop of Roanoke, and Harry Bishop of Eggleston. All left at a late hour, saying they had a most delightful time.

Miss Agnes Duncan will visit friends at Dublin next week.

Miss Senah Williams spent Friday with Mrs. V. A. Duncan.

"Dixie Girl."

NARROWS.

Mrs. F. D. Kelley and son Frederick, have returned from a pleasant visit to relatives in Tenn.

Mrs. J. E. Hopkins is very ill at her home on Main St.

Miss Leafie Wheeler accompanied Mr. Chambers and mother of Lurich to Athens last week to spend several days.

Miss Ruth Davis returned Thursday from Hollins Institute, where she had been to visit her sister, Miss Claris.

Sam Brown of Bluefield spent Sunday here.

Mrs. J. H. Durham of Ripplemead, visited her son, Robert of this place and also attended the blacksmith preacher's meeting.

I. R. Harless of Christiansburg, was a business visitor here last week.

Mrs. F. E. Bastian entertained a limited number of her friends at a six o'clock dinner on Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Russel Davis was hostess at a valentine party the fourteenth. She was also celebrating her birthday, it coming the same day.

Mr. and Mrs. F. V. Johnson, Jr., have returned from Athens, where they were called on account of the serious illness of Mrs Johnson's father, Mr. Higginbotham. He still remians in a very serious condition.

Rev. Thomas Sexton of Knoxville, Tenn., called the "blacksmith preacher," closed his meeting here last night. He has been here for two weeks holding two services a day, and preaching three times on Sunday. His meeting in every sense of the word, was indeed a glorious success. There were over one hundred confessions made, and new life seemed to inspire in every christian's heart. It has been said by the older inhabitants that Narrows never has had suce a revival before in its history. The church was always crowded and many that could not gain admittance, a great many coming in from the surrounding country and tows.

K. S. French left Monday for Huntington, where he will spend several days.

Mrs. James Johnson returned to Princeton Saturday after spending severrl days here with her daughter, Mrs. J. E. Hopkins, who has been so ill.

Mrs. Thomas Hott has been very much indisposed for several days.

Mrs. Robert Wheeler, who has been quite sick, is improving.

E. L. Shockey received an appointment on the N. & W. last week in the mail service, which is quite an honor.

On Road to Recovery.

J. S. Richardson is getting well. Mr. Richardson has been battling for the past three weeks against a severe attack of pneumonia, and it was feared at one stage of his illness that the chances were against him, and his many friends will be glad to learn that he is now on the road to recovery.—Graham News.

Are You Wondering What Wire Fence to Buy.

If you are—you'd better drop in and see us. We have the fence you want.

It's not often that you buy a FENCE, and when you do, you want to be sure you are getting the best.

There's only one best—that's PAGE LION FENCE.

PAGE LION FENCE, is ideal in structural and economical features, as it furnishes the greatest strength and most thoro protection with the least expense.

Fence off your farm into a sufficient number of fields to get the proper rotation of crops, and your cash returns each season are bound to increase.

At the same time Fences are an asset, as they add greatly to the value of any Farm.

No use in talking, we can save you money, not only in Fencing, but many other things too numerous to mention.

Come in and look our lines over, and if you are at all interested, we are confident of the result—you will buy.

The Little Child.

Oh, well for the little child
That it cannot know as yet
The things that we who have found them out
Are longing to forget!
Well that it has no grief
To cloud its sunny cheer;
Well that it cannot know the ache
Of heart and the silent fear!

Oh, well for the little child
That there is no shadow there
To stay its glee where it romps so free
In the pure and sunlit air!
Well that no sorrows haunt
Its mind beyond the hour;
Well that its hands feel not the thorn
But only the velvet flower.

Oh, well for the little child
That it glows on tripping feet,
With only the tender things of life,
The pleasant and the sweet!
Well there are none so base,
So vile and low and mean,
As to rob its heart of a single joy
In the tender leaf and green!

Oh, well for the little child
That the passing storms it knows
Are lost and gone in a night of dream
And ever the morning glows!
Well that it cannot cross
That chasm so dark, so wide,
Or worry and care that we must fare
Who come to the great divide!

—The Bentztown Bard.

"Days That Are Gone."

Remember the old-time 'watch meetings' we used to have? Too bad they have fallen into disuse, for we used to have some mighty good times attending them—to say nothing of receiving an uplift that helped us well along into the new year. Oh I know the young folks have parties now and watch the old year out and the new year in, but they don't get out of such gatherings what we old-timers used to get out of those "watch meetings." Nowadays they make fudge and play cards and giggle. Then we used to sing and listen to good music and hear Elder Ferguson, and Elder Wetzel, and Deacon Holmes, and Brother Haynes, and Sister Lowrie, and Sister Bedford, and a lot of others, tell their experiences.

We didn't go hungry at all of those old "watch meetings," for most of the time there would be a lunch along about 11 o'clock—not a church sociable, or anything like that, but just a plain lunch, with rather subdued conversation and not much laughter. Just before midnight a solemn hush would fall over the gathering, and it didn't take much of an imagination to hear wings and whispers and echoing music not by earthly hands. And just as the clock tolled the hour of midnight, the good pastor would kneel, with all of the watchers, and pour forth a prayer that the new year might be full of richest blessings for all mankind. Then a rousing rallying song or two would be sung, and with laughter and good cheer and hearty wishes we'd start for home through the crispy cold of the first January morning.

I remember one delightful old woman who seldom failed to attend the "watch meeting." She was almost blind, practically helpless from rheumatism, and so far as known, without a relative on earth. For more than forty years before she died she lived alone, for husband and children were waiting for her over yonder. My nine or ten years' of experience had not taught me to understand how Aunt Charlotte could be thankful for anything. She was poor, but she rested secure in the words, "never have I seen the righteous forsaken, nor His seed begging bread." She had a smile for everybody, and Aunt Charlotte's little home was a refuge for every small boy and girl in the village. Every "watch meeting" this old and crippled woman would tell us of the blessings the dying year had brought her. As I said, I didn't understand then; I am beginning to understand now.

If there happened to be good sleighing when the new year dawned, didn't we young folks have a high old time on the evening of New Year's Day. It's all right to go buggy riding in a narrow seated single buggy with "her," of course; but there's only one way for young folks to go sleigh-riding, and that's the old-fashioned "bobsled" way. Four horses to the "bobsled," every horse loaded with sleigh bells, and about four "bobsleds-full." Full of rollicking, joyous young folks unspoiled by fudge parties and dressing for the opera and all that sort of thing. Fill the wagon box on the "bobs" about two-thirds full of sweet hay, and then pile in the blankets and the buffalo robes. By the way, what's become of all those buffalo robes? Then pack each wagon box as full as it will hold of young folks—O, they'll pair off, all right, all right—tuck in the blankets and robes, and away we go!

The young folks of today may really enjoy themselves with their box parties at the theatre, and their receptions and soirees and all that sort of thing, but if I could drop about thirty years or such a matter from my shoulders tonight, the first thing I'd do wouldn't be to go to any theatre or reception or soiree. Not me! The first thing I'd do would be to pass the word around that the "boys" were getting things ready for a "bobsled party!" I wouldn't worry about the girls—they'd be able to get ready for any old good time in less than an hour in those days. They have to take the whole afternoon to it now. We "boys" wouldn't have to shave and put on claw hammers and dinky little patent leather pumps for that sort of a social affair. Not us! We'd hike home from work, stow away enough chuck to make a dyspeptic writhe in agony to see, and without stopping to change a single garment would hurry out to get the horses harnessed and the "bobs" prepared. And about 7 30 we start out after the girls—and we'd always find 'em ready on the minute, too.

And then we'd make things hum for about three hours. Remember the songs we used to sing? "Jingle Bells," "Goodby, my Lover, Goodby," "Singin' Skewl," "Good Night, Ladies," "Goin' Back to Dixie," "Suwanee River," "Old Kentucky Home," and all the rest of them—they'll come to your mind as you sit and think of those old days. And if we "boys" were feeling just a bit flush, which wasn't usual so soon after Christmas, we'd have a oyster supper at the village restaurant after the ride. Not oysters in bulk, almost fresh from their ocean bed. Say, I must have been almost a man grown before I saw an oyster that had never been in a can. No, sir; our oyster suppers were from the good old cans marked "Cove," and they were mighty good eatin' those days, believe me.

The oysters consumed we'd take the girl's home, and every last one of us would be asleep before midnight. As a result the girls were all able to be up in time to wash the breakfast dishes before going to school, and we "boys" would have the stores opened and swept out before 7 o'clock, or the print shop cleaned up and warm, or the day's wood cut before the schoolbell rang. Nowadays the young folks don't get their parties started much before the time we used to be saying "good night" to our sweethearts; and nowadays the morning after finds a lot of pale-faced lassies in bed until mothers have the dishes washed and put away, and lads who look like they had been shot through a spell of illness yawn through what they call a "day's work." Not all of them, of course, but most of them.

And the "taffy pulls," and the "popcorn parties," and such like? Every now and then the Little Woman drags me out to a social function, and as I watch a bunch of men and women of average intelligence playing "progressive high five," some such intellectual game, I feel like jumping up and shouting: "Oh, for goodness sake, let's play 'clap in and clap out,' or 'charades,' or 'Jacob and Ruth,' or 'weevilly wheat,' or 'ship's coming in,' or something else that requires real action and at least some gray matter."

Wow! Wouldn't I like to take some of the young folks I know now and make 'em sleep in one those old time bed rooms that could, and did, get 'steen degrees colder than the weather outside. Wouldn't it be a picnic to watch 'em shiver as they jerked off their clothes? And wouldn't it make us old-timers yell with glee to watch 'em crawl out of bed with the frost an inch thick on the windows and the air in the room so cold it actually made the lungs ache. Take one of the furnace-warmed young fellows back to one of those old time winter bedrooms and he wouldn't know what to do. We did, didn't we? By jinks, we practiced up on it until we could get all of our clothes on excepting our boots without getting out of bed. We could have got the boots on if the old things hadn't got a crimp in the counter, and were frozen stiff before morning.

Well the best I can wish for my young friends today is that the new year just dawned will afford them just as much innocent pleasure as the years used to afford us old-timers when we were young folks.

How the Mountains Were Named.

Adirondacks: Derived from the Canenga (Mohawk) Iroquois language in which the original form is ratirontaks, meaning "bark eaters."

Allegheny: A corruption of the Delaware Indian name for Allegheny and Ohio rivers, the meaning of the name being lost.

Appalachian: The name was given by the Spaniards under De Soto, who derived it from a neighboring tribe, the Appalachi. Brinton holds its radical to be muscogee apala, "great sea," or "great ocean," and that apalache is a compound of this word with the Muscogee personal participle "chi," and means "those by the sea."

Blue Ridge: So called from the hue which frequently envelops its distant summits.

Catskill: The mountains were called katsbergs by the Dutch, from the number of wildcats found in them and the creek, which flows from the mountains, was called Katterskill, "tomcats creek."

Ozark: The aux arcs was said to refer to the bends in White River and was applied to the Ozark Mountains through which the river pursues a wandering course—in other words, to the mountains at the bends of the river.

Sierra Nevada: A Spanish term signifying "snow-clad range."

THE EDITOR.

Most anyone can be an editor. All the editor has to do is to sit at a desk six days in the week, four weeks in a month, and twelve months in a year and "edit" such stuff as this:

Mrs. Jones of Cactus Creek let a can opener slip last week and cut herself in the pantry.

A mischievous lad of Piketown threw a stone and cut Mr. Pike in the alley last Tuesday. Joe Klay climbed to the roof of the house last week looking for a leak and fell striking himself on the back porch. While Harold Green was escorting Miss Violet Wise from the church social last Saturday night a savage dog attacked them and bit Mr. Green on the public square. Isaiah Trimmer of Running Creek was playing with a cat last Friday night when it scratched him on the veranda. Mr. Frong while harnessing a bronco last Saturday was kicked just south of his crib.—Florida Chief.

Drinking at Meals.

Physicians claim that water can be taken with the meals provided it is not over one glass, and more will not be harmful. It is an old fashioned and disputed idea that water must not be taken with the meals, for it is not recommended in small quantities. The only reason it is not insisted upon more is because mastication is essential, the saliva being needed in the process of digestion, and if one washes food down without chewing it properly harm will come. All kinds of fevers, inflamations, defective nutrition, rheumatism, and the like, are caused by poisonous accumulations in the body, which copious water drinking between meals is intended to wash out of the system daily. If too little water is taken, every organ is impaired, and disease is certain to follow.—Medical Magazine.

You can say goodbye to constipation with a clear conscience if you use Chamberlain's Tablets. Many have been permanently cured by their use. For sale by all dealers.

Driving the Boys From the Farm.

Much is being said through the press about boys leaving the farms to seek homes in the towns and cities. In many instances, the parents themselves are to blame.

I heard a conversation recently between a farmer and his son that convinces me of this, and I'm sure that this instance is the rule and not the exception. The son wanted to join the Corn Club. Most of his schoolmates and companions had entered the contest to see which could raise the most corn on one acre. Liberal prizes had been offered to the winners. When the son mentioned it at home, the father angrily told him that he (the son) was not going into any "book farming project;" that it was all a "passel of blamed foolishness," and that he was not going to put a year's labor and all the fertilizer on the place on one acre. Who could blame the boy for leaving?

We may not realize perchance, what home means to us until seas and mountains separate us from the loved ones—perchance not until dreaded shadows falls upon the threshold and the Raven croaks above the bust of Pallas. But when some tie is snapped and some link is broken and some chair is vacant at the fireside then we realize that the cords which bind us to the homestead are knotted in the bosom's core and center—then we realize that the poet sang for all the world when he sang beside the Thames:

"'Mid pleasures and palaces tho' I may roam,
Be it ever so humble, there's no place like home."

We have received Vol. 1, No. 1, a new paper published at East Radford, Va. It says, "We do not stand as the organ of any individual, faction or party." Now, you know its politics. It is a very neat sheet and is published by the Radford Record Company. We welcome you to the fold and hope you will have abundant success.

Mrs. A. L. Johnston, Eagleville, Mo., says: "Inclosed find one dollar to pay for "the old reliable," another year. Our time was out two weeks before Christmas, and we have missed your paper so much. We find out that we just can't keep house without the VIRGINIAN. We wish you and the good people of Giles county, a happy and prosperous year."

Messrs. H. B. Shelton & Co., are now receiving their Spring stock of dry goods and millinery. This stock has been selected with the utmost care and attention, and a better, nicer or prettier line of goods has never been seen in Pearisburg before. Their stock must be seen to be appreciated as it should be. Call and look them over whether you buy or not. Read their advertisement on this page.

It is truly wonderful how much good a poor man thinks he could do in this old world—if he only had the money. We had a case of this kind in our office the other day, when a "poor" man told us what he would do, had he Rockefeller's millions. But would he? He must have forgotten that he was human. If we were a betting person, we would bet dollars to doughnuts he would not have done as he said.

J. M. McGinley of Haines City, Fla, says: "I have been here about three weeks and I missed getting the VIRGINIAN. It seems like it has been a month since I got my last letter from home, I call it a home letter. A person don't know how to appreciate their home paper until they get away from home. I like here fine, weather like good old summer time. Hoping the VIRGINIAN a prosperous year."

Last Saturday night it snowed and continued to do so until late in the afternoon Sunday, consequently, we have one of the deepest snows we have had this winter. Reports from the weather bureau at Washington, D. C., stated it would snow all Sunday night, but the bureau—like the best of regulated families—were liable to mistakes, and it did not snow. It commenced again on Tuesday afternoon, and at the time of going to press, we have an inch or two on top of that received Sunday. March is showing her hand, and is putting her time in well.

Miss Julia Hood of Baltimore, Md., arrived in town last week. She will take charge of the millinery department for Messrs. H. B. Shelton & Co. We hope she will like our village and make many friends while here.

Miss Marjorie Shumate's music class gave a recital on Saturday afternoon last at the High School Auditorium. Quite a number of scholars and others attended. Her pupils showed quite a marked improvement since that of her recital some few weeks ago.

We guess "Eben" the other week in his article, must have stirred somebody up, for our county officials have been around looking at the courthouse with an idea, we suppose, of doing some thing for it. About time something was being done or a new one being built, for it is in a deplorable condition.

We understand that Rev. J. G. Reveley has accepted a call to the Presbyterian church at Pearisburg. Rev. Reveley is a good preacher and a fine man and it is to be regretted that he is to leave us.—Bland Messenger.

We have heard something in relation to Rev. Reveley coming here but know nothing definite. The Presbyterian church here has been without a pastor for nearly a year. We would be glad indeed, to have this worthy and notable divine in our midst as pastor of this church.

The Pearisburg Band was out Saturday afternoon, but instead of treating the citizens of our town to some of their melodious strains, they hied away to the hills above town, where we could only hear their reverberating. We hear they have greatly improved since on our streets two or three weeks ago. If such be the case, and as the saying goes, "the proof of the pudding is in the eating of it," and the hearing of the Band is the way of telling how good their playing is. Let them come out and show us how much better they are now than when they last appeared on our streets.

Mrs. Charles Johnston of Bane, who has been in Portsmouth, Ohio, taking care of her daughter-in law, Mrs. Thomas Johnston, who has the fever, returned to this place one day last week, bringing with her the baby of Mr. and Mrs Thomas Johnston. The baby is one month old and weighs only three pounds. It was put in a basket and surrounded with hot water bottles that it might suffer no harm from the cold weather. The mother has been very ill, but at this writing, we are glad to say, is improving, though slowly. Mrs J. stopped over in this place for two or three days at Rev. Belchee's before going home.

DISASTROUS FIRE AT PETERSTOWN, W. VA.

Last Friday morning at two o'clock, fire destroyed, nearly all the business section of this busy little town. The fire started in a repair shop of J. A. Dunn, whose son, C. W. Dunn and family lived in the building, barely escaping. The following are the losers:

J. A. Dunn's shop and residence. No insurance.

Barber shop building, belonging to Spangler Bros., covered by insurance.

Next door, same building, was occupied by 'Squire Ballard, who lost some valuable papers, but a number were saved by having been stored away in his safe.

W. A. Davis who had a furniture and dry goods store lost all his furniture but saved most of his dry goods. Loss, $3,000; insurance, $2 000.

W. H. Ballard, P H. Spangler and C. S. Witt's property were badly damaged from heat.

The goods of Mr. Ballard, a merchant across the street from Davis' store, was badly damaged by moving the goods, as fears were entertained as to the safety of the building.

Spangler Bros. owned all the buildings with the exception of the Dunn property, upon which only $1,000 insurance was held.

This is rather a hard blow to our neighboring town and we are very sorry for this devastation of their property, and hope no other like event will happen to them in the future.

POPLAR HILL.

Mrs. Nannie Bane of White Gate, passed through town Friday on her way to see her sister, Mrs. W. B. Whitaker of Bristol, who is ill.

J. B. Robertson and wife have moved to Eggleston where Mr. Robertson has accepted a position with the Eggleston Produce Co. Our loss is Eggleston's gain.

Mrs. T. B. King is visiting her daughter, Mrs. C. C. King, Pearisburg.

A. J. Francis of White Gate, were guests of W. B. King, Saturday.

S. W. Vermillion and W. B. King were in Dublin on business last week.

D. M. and W. C. St. Clair of Bane, were in town last Thursday.

H. D. Johnson of Trigg, has moved to our town, where they will make their future home. Welcome to our midst.

Bush Shannon has been on the sick list but we are glad to see him out again.

R. C. Eaton was in town Sunday.

Miss Mary King has returned from Wytheville, where she has been under treatment of Drs. Graham and Umbarger, for necrosis of the jaw bone, and is much improved.

H. S. Spencer, grocer drummer, was in town last week.

Preaching at Shady Grove, Sunday morning at 11 a. m. by the Rev. D. T. Miles.

"Shady Sue."

Willie—Then you think it possible to stop the divorce evil.

Gillis—Certainly. Merely let it become common enough to be unfashionable.—Puck.

NEWS FROM NEWPORT.

Mrs. H. M. Hill, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Miller, has returned to Atlanta, Ga.

Mrs. S. A. Hunter of Radford, is in town this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Robert's of Roanoke, recently purchased the Hunter House and took possession of it March 1st. It is rumored that they will make extensive improvements on the property. We are glad to welcome them amongst us and hope they will prosper.

Mrs. Atlee Smith and children are visiting her sister at Coeburn.

Kenneth Farrier, accompanied by a classmate of V. P. I., spent Saturday and Sunday at home.

Mrs. Clinton Lucas, who is under the care of Dr. Trout in Roanoke, is improving as rapidly as could be expected.

Miss Athlyn Frye, who attended school here this session, left last Wednesday for her home at Cripple Creek.

Mrs. Frank Keister entertained the young folks at "42" on February 22nd.

Miss Clara Leffel is visiting Mrs. Frank Miller in Pearisburg. Mrs. Dent Echols returned from there on Monday.

Andrew Farrier has returned to Emory, after an attack of measles.

Mrs. R. Y. Payne entertained at "42" on February 27th in honor of her sons, Clyde and Francis.

Mrs. A. P. Miller, who had the misfortune to fall and bruise herself severely several weeks ago, is much better.

Invitations are out for the marriage of Mr. Stuart Vaught of this place and Miss Rachel Oliver of Craig county on March 13th.

A. F. Tetter of Blacksburg, has opened a harness and shoe mending shop in the old factory building. This is a much needed industry and we hope Mr. Tetter will do well.

Mrs. C A. Hardwick entertained "the younger set" on Thursday evening in honor of Misses Frances Feamster and Kizzie Payne.

There have been a number of surprise parties lately which were much enjoyed by the young people.

A Reader.

What Cigarettes Will Do.

Three quarts of a nicotine solutive were removed from the lungs of young Fred Meredith by Dr. O. K. Phlegar. Excessive smoking was the cause of the trouble. Fred is not at all enthusiastic on the cigarette question. He is able to be out again. East Radford Record.

Young men and boys of this place, you had better stop using these "coffin nails" before three quarts of nicotine are taken from your lungs. You have some now, and if you keep on, you will have to be operated upon.

Anderson-Painter.

Wednesday morning Miller Anderson, age 18, son of Capt. and Mrs. C. W. Anderson, and Miss Ethyl, the beautiful 16 year old daughter, of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Painter, all of West Graham, went to Bristol where they were married. The young couple returned to Graham last night where they were greeted by their many friends.—Graham Banner.

EGGLESTON.

Misses Mary Stone and Effie Hamlin of Belspring, were guests of Misses Mildred and Zetta Morten several days ago.

Mrs. J. W. Carter and children of Radford, have returned home, after spending several days with with Dr. and Mrs. Stafford.

Mrs. John Thorne and daughter, Myrtle, are guests of Mrs. John Price.

Miss Frances Robertson of Staffordsville, was the guest of Miss Elsie Stafford last week.

Mrs. Mary E. Southern is recovering from an attack of sickness.

B. C. Bishop has returned to Roanoke, after visiting relatives here.

Little Carl Saunders is indisposed at this writing.

Messrs. Richard, John, Henry, Frank and Hubbard Snyder of Spokane, Wash., were guests of Mrs. Hurt last week.

Miss Effie Butler who has been spending sometime at "Willow Brook," has returned to her home at Altoona, Pa.

A gloom was cast over the entire community Tuesday, 20th ult., when the death angel visited the home of Mrs. Margaret Hurt, and claimed as its victim her eldest son, William A., death being caused by pneumonia. He is survived by one brother, A. G. Hurt, and four sisters, Mrs. Steward Williams of Berton, Misses Linnie, Laura and Flora Hurt of this place. The bereaved family have our deepest sympathy in this their sad hour.

Minnie Thorne who has been sick, is improving.

Value of a Smile.

The thing that goes the farthest toward making life worth while,
That costs the least and does the most, is just a pleasant smile,
The smile that bubbles from the heart that loves its fellow-men
Will drive away the clouds of gloom and coax the sun again,
It's full of worth and goodness, too, with manly kindness bent;
It's worth a million dollars, and it doesn't cost a cent.

There is no room for sadness when we see a cheery smile;
It always has the same good luck; it's never out of style;
It nerves us on to try again, when failure makes us blue;
The dimples of encouragement are good for me and you,
It pays the highest interest—for it is merely lent—
It's worth a million dollars, and it doesn't cost a cent.

A smile comes very easy—you can wrinkle up with cheer
A hundred times before you can squeeze out a salty tear;
It ripples out, moreover, to the heart strings that will tug
And always leaves an echo that is very like a hug,
So, smile away! Folks understand what by a smile is meant—
It's worth a million dollars, and it doesn't cost a cent.

—Chicago Post.

George Washington as a Boy.

George Washington was born in Westmoreland county, Va., on February 22, 1732, and died December 14, 1799. His father died before he was eleven years old and George grew up under the care and guidance of his mother. It was to this wise, lovely, devoted mother that he owed his moral and religious training. She was a woman of strong character, who kindly but firmly exacted implicit obedience. Of her, Washington learned his first lesson in self-command. Her favorite book was Sir Matthew Hale's Contemplations. It was filled with precepts and maxims, easily memorized and easily applied to daily conduct. From these George early copied a number for his own use. When he died his mother's book was found carefully preserved in the library at Mount Vernon.

Although bashful and hesitating in his speech his language was clear and manly. In the school boys' soldier plays he was always chosen captain because of his natural ability to direct others. In games of skill, he was chosen umpire because of his fairness. He excelled in running, wrestling and horse-back riding.

His school note books, which still exist, are models of neatness and accuracy. And before his thirteenth year he had copied forms of all kinds of legal and mercantile papers.

George wanted very much to go to sea and his brother secured an appointment for him to be a midshipman in the king's navy. But his mother was not willing for him to go, and rather than cause her sorrow, George gave up his own wishes and plans.

He then fitted himself for an appointment as surveyor, and at the age of sixteen—think of that boys—George Washington was appointed surveyor of Lord Fairfax's enormous grant of Virginia land. The traits of character he had displayed in school among his playmates now came out prominently. He had now to live afoot and on horseback in the wilderness; he had helpers to direct; servants to govern; he he had to make out survey records so complete and accurate that they would be accepted by public officials as records upon which to base titles to land. That was a great deal of responsibility for a boy of sixteen, but George did all and more than was expected of him.

When he returned after three years of hardship and danger and exacting work in mountain and forest, he was a youth of nineteen. He was six feet two inches tall and slender at this time but he added weight as he grew older. In later life his appearance was of the greatest dignity and nobility. He had blue eyes and an abundance of brown hair, and a clear ruddy complexion. His manner was self-controlled, his speech well-considered.

At the age of 21 George Washington was regarded as a man of such remarkable gifts and experience that he was made major of the Virginia militia. The colonies were preparing for war with France, and Washington was entrusted with a message to a French post six hundred miles away.

That journey was a severe test of his character and capability. It took him across unexplored mountains, through trackless forests containing wild beasts and savage Indians. You can read of it and of Washington's many other adventures and services to his country in your history.

George Washington is like Robert E. Lee, a man whose fame is not accounted for by the record of his deeds. Both were men who were far greater than their deeds.

Washington died on December 14, 1799, and at his death a nation mourned. He was a consistent Christian, a regular attendant at church, and indeed for many years held the office of vestryman in the church. England and America have vied in tributes to his memory. John Richard Green, an English historian said: "Washington was the noblest figure that ever stood in the forefront of a nation's life." And Lord Brougham said: "Until time shall be no more, a test of the progress which our race has made in wisdom and virtue will be derived from the veneration paid to the immortal name of Washington."

Don'ts for Daughters.

Don't fail to take an interest in mother's affairs.

Don't let her feel that she is growing old and of less importance than she used to be.

Don't hurt her by scoffing at her religious principles if they happen to be different from your own.

Don't forget that no matter how much you may do for her you will never be able to repay her for all that she has done for your.

Don't neglect to talk to her about your work, your studies, your friends, your amusements, the books you read; remember everything that concerns you is of interest to her.

Don't fail to bring her flowers or a small present once in a while; the thought even more than the gift will please her.

Remember that her life is perhaps monotonous compared to yours; take her for outings or to places of amusement as frequently as possible.

The cigarette fiend is being hit hard upon all sides in the business world. The Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad company has announced that every employe found smoking cigarettes the company will no longer give him employment. They have ascertained to their satisfaction that the cigaratte fiend cannot, or does not perform his duties in as satisfactory a manner as does the other fellow. This is poor encouragement for our boys.

A little outside assistance might have improved some self-made men.

Tribute To His Mother.

"I owe a great deal to my mother. She was a seamstress, cook, washlady, and never until late in life had a servant in the house. And yet she was a cultivated woman. She read Channing and kept up with the literature of the day. When I was a little tot she used to read good books to me.

"You young women have here every opportunity for literary culture and you ought to avail yourselves of it. You ought to be very proud with money earned so honorably, for money that is not earned honorably will never do you any good."

The above words were spoken by Mr. Carnegie, the iron-master, while talking to a large company of working girls in New York City. And then this man of unlimited wealth closed by saying:

"I shall never forget how proud I was when I got my first wages of $1.25 a week, and how I felt when I was raised to $1.50 as a telegraph operator. To take home that sum to my good mother gave me such a feeling of manly independence."

"Other People's Children."

"To such an extent has the lack of training of the children been carried that instead of children being looked upon as an attraction, everybody outside their immediate family regards them as an affliction. Apartment houses and hotels bar their doors against them, servants refuse to work in households possessing them, landlords prefer empty houses to them, and when you hear that even your dearest friend is coming to visit you and bring her children, you have the same kind of feeling of despair that you would if she were bringing the leprosy or Asiatic cholera. This is the fault of the mother who from the child's earliest consciousness has spent her time burning incense before it, cultivating tyranny in it, fostering its egotism, teaching it by word and deed that nobody has any rights which it is bound to respect. There is nothing of earth so lovable, so adorable as a sweet, unspoiled child, and the lack of training is fast doing away with the once familiar type."—Elizabeth M. Gilmer.

The Children's Clothes.

If the children are inclined to stoop forward, look into the matter and see where the cause lies. It is usually ill-adjustment of the weight of the clothes. The hose supporter is usually put on in front and fastened to the underwaist, and this pulls on the chest and drags it over. The bands around the waist weigh on the muscles so they are not strong enough to hold up the body. An illfitting and too thick coat collar drags the body, and there should be no pull or weight on the back of neck. If anything pulls the young spine or presses it down, the muscles are affected and can not hold it straight and flat. Badly fitting shoes and stockings are a source of much distress to the child, who does not realize where the trouble lies; hence can not complain clearly enough to get relief.

Mamma: Don't let me catch you in a lie again, you naughty boy!"

Johnny: "I won't if I can help it; but I haven't had the experience that Pa has had.—Boston Transcript.

Money talks, but it doesn't stutter when it gets tight.

Tea Poisoning.

A well known specialist in diseases of the mind and nervous system says:

"It would be difficult to enter into a discussion regarding the effects of tea drinking as regards the nervous system; it is the habitual use of tea, and not any particular kind of tea, that produces deleterious effects. The time comes when the user of tea feels a continual craving for the stimulant, and a larger percentage of neurasthenia cases are caused by the habit of excessive tea drinking. Women of the poorer classes suffer from nervous prostration because of it; many such women keep a pot of tea on the stove constantly, and when they feel faint, or a weakness, resort to the beverage instead of foods. The beverage has a slow, insidnous effect upon the nervous system, and in fact is very similar in its effects to chronic alcoholism. Tea taken in proper quantities, freshly made, acts as a stimulant to the stomach and causes a secretion of gastric juices, acting as an aid to digestion, and is beneficial. The harm comes when the drinker resorts to its use as a whim or habit. It is not any particular beverage in itself that is deleterious to health, but rather the immoderate use of it, that works injuriously to the nervous system. It is claimed that the greatest harm resulting from the use of tea results among poor people who buy and use the cheaper grades of tea, boiling or steeping it continuously.

Helping the Blind.

The blind generally adopt the language of their more fortunate brethren, and speak of 'seeing' things, when they only feel or hear them. That explanation however, does not quite exonerate the trickster described in the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The wind was blowing a bit more than a gale when the benevolent old chap stopped to put a dime in the hat of a shivering blind man on the public square.

The donor nearly dropped the coin, but the beggar shoved his hat underneath it and skilfully rescued it.

'Why, you're not blind!' cried the giver, scornfully.

'No, sir,' confessed the beggar. 'I'm just takin' a pal's place while he has a bit o'rest. He's been blind, sir—been blind from birth.'

'Where is he taking his rest?' demanded the stranger, still unconvinced.

'Why, he's gone to a moving picture show.'

Stretching a Point.

Br'er Jasper died and the other deacons told Br'er Johnson he must say something good about the deceased on Sunday night. At first he declined, but finally consented.

Sunday night, when time for the eulogy arrived, he arose slowly and said: "Brederen and sistern, I promised ter say sump'n good 'bout Deacon Jasper tonight, an' I will say we all hopes he's gone whar we knows he ain't."—McCall's Magazine.

Poor Adam.

A tiny West Newton miss is responsible for the following version of the Adam and Eve story, we believe:

"God made Adam, and he put him in a big garden, an' Adam he was so, so lonesome, an' then he putted him to sleep, he did, an' then he took out his brains and made a woman of the brains, an' then Adam he wasn't lonesome any more."—Transcript.

Six Things for the Farmer To do in March.

1st. See that the seed bed for all crops is not merely well broken, but thoroughly pulverized by harrowing and disking. An ounce of preparation may be worth a pound of cultivation.

2nd. Get ready with weeders and harrows to kill the grass before it comes up. Don't be afraid of hurting the stand. This will not happen.

3rd. Get ready to share with the western farmer his golden flood of profits in raising hogs and cattle. First of all get an improved breed, and then arrange to feed economically.

4th. Of the over $50,000,000 spent in the South for fertilizers each year, at least $10,000,000 is wasted through ignorance of crop needs and soil needs. Try to stop your part of this colossal loss by learning the subject.

5th. We cannot have good fruit now without spraying. A good spray pump will often pay for itself the first year, in the orchard and potato patch.

6th. Drag the roads after every rain. The split-log drag is the cheapest good roads maker ever invented.

Modern Terms.

A Delta is a Greek letter found in some rivers.

Three kinds of plains are marine plains, lake plains, and the kind we use in manual training.

Trade winds are when the wind changes from north to west or east and we have a nice day for a change.

Ocean currents are currents growing in the ocean. They are usually green and quite large, even larger than a gooseberry.

A desert consists of ice cream, fruit or pie.

Environment is anything that surrounds you, such as your shirt or pants.

Tides are caused by the sun, which is so hot that it forces the water out of the center of the ocean and piles it up on the shore unless there is a large hole for it to run into.

A water shed is a shed where you store water. They are usually higher than the house, because water has to run down instead of up.

A water spout is any spout that takes water from the roof.

A mountain pass is a pass that the railroads give you, so that you can spend your vacation in the mountains.

Yellow Jackets Break up Baptizing.

Otwell, Ind.—A ceremony of baptizing was broken up near here yesterday by yellow jackets.

Just as the prescher was leading several women into Flat Creek, and the church choir on the bank was singing, two nests of yellow jackets were stirred up and dozens of persons were stung.

Many rushed headlong into the water and several persons were so badly stung they had to go to bed.

It has been figured out that each person in the United States eats about eighty pounds of sugar annually, costing about five cents a pound. That is four dollars a person. Multiply that by the last census figures, and it gives three hundred and eighty million dollars for the nations yearly sugar bill. That would take care of the army and navy, wipe out the postal deficit, pay various other expenses—if we were only willing to use our sugar money for those purposes.

Many a woman drives her husband to drink and then blames him for letting her do it.

Mrs. Lem Smith of Willow-ton, W. Va., was at the home of Thos C. Johnston and family three or four days lately visiting her grandson, little Ivan Johnston, who broke his leg last week. She returned home Tuesday.

Monday and Monday night it snowed again to the depth of several inches. What we did have had about disappeared Tuesday it rained, consequently we have more mud and slush than at any time during the past winter.

Now comes the valuable information that the South Pole has been found. It is not known whether it was a Norwegian or an Englishman found it—probably both. If they are as good at finding poles as Cook or Peary, or in other words, as good liars, they are daisies.

We know, that we know, our business, because we get results. Try us and you will know, because you will get satisfaction.

Pembroke, March 25th; Pearisburg, March 26th and 27th.

DR. J. HARRY MARTIN.

Read the Condemnation notice in another column.

Remember the Democratic mass meeting here today (Thursday) to nominate delegates to the congressional convention which meets in Bristol on the 20th, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for congressman for this district.

G. T. Fuller of Pembroke, seems to be a sheep raiser, whether he raises anything else or not. He has a ewe that had seven lambs inside of fourteen months; another one had seven lambs inside of twelve months. He has 23 ewes that have 35 lambs. If there are any of our farmers who can beat this record, we would like to hear from them.

HOGE'S STORE.—Miss Annie Sarver has been confined to her room for several days. We all hope for her speedy recovery.—Mrs. S. B. Harvey who has been ill for several weeks, we are glad to say, is very much improved.—We will all be glad when our Sunday school opens up, for we long for the good old Summer time.

People from this town going to Bluefield and wishing to purchase anything in the line of women's dress goods, go to E. S. Pedigo Co.'s store, Princeton avenue. They have all the newest and latest designs in Spring dress goods—silks, satins, woolen, linen and cotton fabrics, etc. Their millinery line cannot be excelled for taste and beauty. They are reasonable in prices and are sure to please you. They are gentlemanly and courteous to all who pay a visit to their store. Read their double column "ad" in this issue.

The revival services commenced here last Sunday morning by Revs. W. B. Belchee and Thomas Sexton, the blacksmith preacher and evangelist, is going on with unabated interest and large audiences, despite the very inclement weather. These services will continue, in all probability, for two weeks. Though none as yet, have been converted, the meeting is in its infancy, and its influence is being felt by the entire community. These ministers are very earnest and able workers, and that their labor may be crowned with many converts to Christianity, is the earnest desire and prayer of all the good people of our community.

Ivan, a little son of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Johnston of Princeton, who are visiting their parents, T. C. Johnston and wife, had the sad misfortune on last Thursday morning to break his right leg between the knee and hip. The little fellow was out on the back porch with several members of the family looking at the chickens, when suddenly he slipped on some ice and fell to the floor. He was picked up by his mother and carried into the house, she declaring his leg was broken Dr. Woolwine was sent for and upon examination, found it to be broken as above stated. Drs. Woolwine and Johnston set the broken limb and at this writing he is getting along as well as can be expected under the circumstances.

Read the financial statement of the Bank of Pembroke in another column. This is its first report and shows this bank to be doing a very good business for the time it has been in operation.

The Young Men's Christian Association of Roanoke, Va., will hold their 33d State Convention at that place, April 11-14, 1912 Strong speakers will be on hand, also good music. Six hundred delegates will be in attendance, and a grand, good time is sure to be had. Reduced rates on the railroads to those who wish to attend. This convention should be well attended by the good people of this State, and thus show their appreciation of this grand and noble body of men, whose whole aim is the uplifting of the people in general.

This has been a most admirable year, thus far, to try the women on leap year, if cold weather counts for anything, but, as far as we know, none here have availed themselves of their leap year privileges. We heard of one woman who paid all the marriage expenses, she knew a good thing when she seen it and made sure of it. Men are scarce, you know, only one to every four women.

Mrs. Martha E. Vass, wife of Mr. A. C. Vass, formerly of this county, departed this life on Feb. 25, 1912, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Harriet Smith at White Sulphur Springs, Greenbrier county. She was a daughter of the late Geo. and Henrietta Vaughan and was born in Giles county, Va., May 7, 1837. She had been a member of the M. E. Church South for 48 years. Her remains were interred in the family burying ground at Wayside, Monroe county, her former home. She leaves to mourn her loss her husband, one sister, Mrs. Sarah Ridgeway, five sons, Messrs J. A. Vass of Wayside, R. L. of Hinton, H. D. of White Sulphur, J. E. of Iaeger, and W. T. of Raleigh, and one daughter, Mrs. Harriet Smith of White Sulphur. — Monroe (W. Va.) Watchman.

Mrs. Mary French Dead.

Bluefield, March 12, 1912 — Mrs. Mary French, the widow of the late David French of Athens, died on yesterday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Janie Armstrong, near South Boston, Va. The remains will be brought here for burial and today interred beside her husband in the city cemetery. Mrs. French was about the age of seventy and was born in Giles county, Va. She was a sister of the late E. C. Hale of Pearisburg, and the daughter-in-law of the late Col. Napoleon B. French of this place. She was the mother of James H. French and Mrs. Minnie Shields of Welch, Mrs. Maggie Apple of Williamson, Mrs. Janie Armstrong of South Boston, Va., and Jessie French of St. Louis, Mo., and the aunt of B. H. Hale and James Hale of Bluefield. Mrs. French was all her life long a consistent christian woman, whose noble qualities made her loved by all who were so fortunate as to have her acquaintance. Her friends are legion all over this end of the state and the neighboring counties of Virginia. Church and home, in her death, have lost one of their brightest, noblest characters, whose place will never be completely filled.

Are You Wondering What Wire Fence to Buy.

If you are—you'd better drop in and see us. We have the fence you want.

It's not often that you buy a FENCE, and when you do, you want to be sure you are getting the best.

There's only one best—that's PAGE LION FENCE.

PAGE LION FENCE, is ideal in structural and economical features, as it furnishes the greatest strength and most thoro protection with the least expense.

Fence off your farm into a sufficient number of fields to get the proper rotation of crops, and your cash returns each season are bound to increase.

At the same time Fences are an asset, as they add greatly to the value of any Farm.

No use in talking, we can save you money, not only in Fencing, but many other things too numerous to mention.

Come in and look our lines over, and if you are at all interested, we are confident of the result—you will buy.

How I Got Out of Prison and My Journey Home.

BY JOHN P. PECK.

PEMBROKE, VA., March 19, 1912.

At the battle of Winchester, Va., fought by Generals Jube Earley, C. S. A., and Philip Sheridan, U. S. A., I was a participant.

On the morning of September 19, 1864, our Battalion (26th Va., commanded by Col. Geo. M. Edgar), was on picket on the left bank of the Opequan River a few miles from Winchester. Just about 5 o'clock a. m. the Yankee bands sounded reveille, thousands and thousands of them fell into line at roll call, who were that day to fight us poor lonesome Confederates. We were soon withdrawn to our Brigade, commanded by Gen. John Echols of Union, Monroe county, W. Va., and then formed in line of battle near Winchester.

The battle was opened by the Artillery, but soon the Yankees burst through the woods and were upon us with a solid line. Onward they marched into a meadow about 200 yards in front of us.

The battle was on, and we commenced killing Yankees, and after we had killed about half of this line, the remainder retreated, but another line of fresh troops appeared in front of us which we succeeded in driving back. After we had whipped the third line they determined to flank us, which they thought would be an easy matter; onward they came in heavy column, flanking our right and pushing us back to our colors, which stood firmly. Some of us rallied our men and drove them back through the woods; we were behind a stone fence they in the open; and I believe we would be killing Yanks, yet, if their Cavalry had not charged into our rear. This move drove us back after we had whipped four lines of their infantry.

About this time I noticed that my little brother, 18 years old, was wounded, blood all over his face, I hastened to him and found his gun bent and useless, so I told him to throw it away, and upon examination found he was wounded in the face as if he had been hit with bird shot, the wounds were caused by a bullet striking his gun, or stone fence and flying all to pieces. After having him to throw away his blanket and cartridge box, we started up a long slope on retreat of one mile to the rifle pits. When about half way my brother was so exhausted we stopped and lay flat on the ground for about one minute, when up and onward we went, Yankees shooting at us all the while, until we reached the breast-works, where we fought until the enemy appeared on the embankment, when we surrendered. After we came out of the pits, we met our Colonel and other officers and men of our battalion, and we shook hands in sympathy as if we had not seen each other for months.

After an all day fight, Gen. Earley was defeated by four times his number of men and retreated up the valley, while 1,500 of us were marched in the night to Winchester, and guarded in the courthouse and yard, where we were kept three days and nights without food, except what the good ladies brought us. God bless the noble ladies who stood so truly by us soldier boys, fighting for our cause!

There we saw the hogishness of our fellow men for those who were next the fence, after getting all they could eat, stayed until they filled their haversack also, while nine-tenths of us got nothing.

On the second day I found a section of ham bone that had been picked clean and thrown down in the mud, this I cleaned as best I could with paper, broke it and ate the marrow, which was all I had for three long days. The Yankee guards had plenty and would sell crackers from the second story windows and laugh to see 1,500 men rush to capture them. On the morning of the fourth day they issued us two days rations and marched us to Harper's Ferry. While on the route to Charlestown, ladies came to us, as we marched, with baskets full of food, but the guards would not let them give it to us. There I saw one guard more brutal than the others, grab and try to take a basket of provisions from a lady.

She indignantly pulled it away from him, when the brute kicked her shins, jerked the basket from her and scattered its contents on the ground. Oh! if we could only have gotten to him he would never have kicked another woman! Without further incidents we reached Harper's Ferry to await a freight train to take us to Baltimore.

While there we were searched the second time, when all pocket and table knives were taken from us leaving only the spoons we had. But your uncle Peck got busy. I sold a silver pencil and pen holder and gold pen to a Yankee for $2 00, just what it cost me in 1860. Then I sold a guttapercha ring (I had very great care fitting a gold plate on it), which I made for $2.00 in greenbacks. Still with an eye to necessity, I sold a $10.00 Confederate bill to another Yank for $1.00 making a total of $5.00.

Just about dark we were put aboard a train of box cars, with a guard in each door and started to Baltimore. After we had gone about twenty miles, I proposed to three of my companions that we rush the guards out through the open doors and make our escape. But their nerve forsook them, and I could not have accomplished the trick alone. So we arrived in Baltimore about midnight, were placed in a tobacco warehouse under guard until morning. Being arroused about daylight next morning to continue our journey to prison, I tried to raise the planks of the floor with hope of hiding and getting away but no plank would move. They were nailed with 30d. nails, so I had to march out to the boat and board same for Point Lookout. While waiting aboard many citizens tried to give us money but the Yanks would not allow it, and sent our friends back.

But this did not abash me, for after we were steaming down the Chesapeake for about half an hour, I went back to the boilers to warm, it being a chilly morning, and found a sleeping Yankee off duty on top of the boilers, they being brick lined outside, and had a very warm place to sleep. Said Yank had a brand new Government blanket over him, which your uncle John made up his mind to steal.

And you just ought to have seen me stealing that blanket, because I had none and needed it very much. I stood up by the side of the boiler to warm, it being, a cold foggy morning with the wind from the ocean, I reached up with my left hand (you know I'm left handed) and caught the blanket gave it a pull, innocent like, looked up and as Mr. Yank did not move, I gave it another pull, kept watching and studying as to what sort of a scrape I was getting into, if the Yankee would discover me, but he slept on, and I gave it another pull, when the fool thing fell down on my shoulders, and as the sleeping guard made no move, I sank to the floor, blanket with me. Now I had the blanket, but the greatest worry for all theft is to hide it. That put your uncle John up to his studying cap. I had stolen the blanket all right, but how was I to hide it, with 400 true Rebel prisoners around me. I don't think anyone saw me take the blanket and if they had they would not have told on me. Having on a coat many sizes too big for me, (because we had to wear anything we could get) I commenced stuffing the blanket inside of my jacket. Finally I got it hid within its folds, took another look at my sleeping foe, marched around the boiler to the front of the boat, where my little wounded brother was guarding our scant belonging, which consisted of a rubber blanket. He asked me what I had. I told him to unroll the rubber and ask no questions. The good little darling did so, and I returned to where I had stolen the blanket to watch results. Soon after my Yankee friend awoke, looked on right and left, rubbed his eyes with his fist, looked again and asked who in h—l stole my blanket? Your uncle John stood close by, looking as innocent as a little lamb, but never said a word. After cursing awhile my friend slid down and I have not seen him since.

Without further event we reached Point Lookout prison, which consisted of a point of wet land, where the Potomac River joins the Chesapeake Bay. While outside of the prison they issued us one day rations. I drew for my brother and myself some western pork and crackers, and this pork was a very benefit to me, as you will see later on. It was a rule with the prison authorities to search all prisoners and to take all knives, pistols, watches or money that the prisoners may have concealed. This was the third search and your uncle John was embarrassed for awhile, because he had a good silver hunting case watch, a knife and $5 00 in greenbacks, which he thought he would most likely need while in prison.

A plan soon came to me, whereby I thought I could save them all. Having a piece of mess pork 4 by 3 by 6 inches, took my knife split down in the center to near the bottom, and as wide as may be, without cutting through. Then I stuck my watch in the orifice, then wrapped my $5.00 in an envelope, put that in; took my knife, cut through top of meat, put my knife in and with a string torn from my old pocket handkerchief—a string which I ran through the jaws of the meat—tied it so I could put my hand through, and when Mr. Yankee came to search me, I put my hands out at right angles to my body and let him search away, he felt all over me, around, up and down, my shoes, took off my hat, looked, in it and passed on. The meat and valuables were on my left hand extended and your uncle John was not robbed, but thousands were and cursed the Yankees for the loss of their little possessions. Oh! I was a mean little Rebel to cheat the Government so, but you don't blame me, do you? Into prison we were thrust, which consisted of a plot of land 15 acres, fenced by boards 14 feet high, parapet outside where our negro guards walked their beats to and fro, and upon the lightest pretext would shoot at or among us. Really they came very near shooting your uncle, because, he, seeing a nice, grassy place near the prison wall started to go across a ditch and lay down on the cool grass and read his Bible that a little sweetheart gave me, when the negro guard said: "git back dar white man or I will shoot."

Of course I went back and looked at him twice and thought, but I was a prisoner! I did not stand up and curse the negro, but I had thoughts of what might have been, would not you under the circumstances? We were quartered in 16th division in a tent. Brother and I, and two others. Here my stolen blanket did us much good because the Government did not issue us either blankets or clothing, we had to lay on the wet sand with water within one inch of the top of the ground, in tents in October, with a cold wind always blowing, but your uncle was fortunate in having the gum blanket to lay upon the damp ground with and my good Yankee blanket to cover with.

The dull monotony was passed by fighting body lice, which in the sand bred millions every day, and we poor rebels had not a stick of wood or a pound of soap to boil or wash our clothes which consisted of just what we had on. Of course we could go out to the bay and wash in cold water, but it takes hot water to kill body lice and plenty of it. I saw soldiers with holes in their bodies, made and kept raw by the lice. But this was not our worst trouble, William Adair, Steve Chewning and others will bear me out in the assertion that we were starving—almost to death. Many died from hunger and cold. Our breakfast consisted of one thin slice of bakers bread with a thin piece of boiled pork; our dinner was a cup of vegetable soup; no supper. So the day's rations was only enough for a scant meal. The only persons that would dispute this are the cooks, who, shame to tell, were detailed from our own ranks to draw and cook our food, most of which they stole and sold, while we were starved on a part of it. You can't believe it? Well, look here and see if you can explain this away. I, having a little money, could go to the cooks at any time and buy all the meat and bread I wanted, meat by joint or side; flour by sack or barrel. Question: if we were starving, the cooks had plenty to sell, where did they get it? These had been our own soldiers, but fell from their high estate, and right here let me say, that the great suffering reported from Andersonville and other Southern prisons are similar, their cook stole their rations.

I believe that the officers commanding at these prisons compelled these cooks to steal and divide with them in order to hold their places as cooks. Oh, the depravity of man, it makes me mad all over to think about their roguery, and you also my comrades who suffered in prison. What could be less in manhood than these despicable thefts? There is no excuse, no palliating circumstances. Rogues whom satan would be ashamed of. I know these assertions to be facts, because, while I had money many friends came to me and said: "John, I am starving." I would give them a five cent greenback, which they would take to the cook house and buy a loaf of bread.

The water was the filthiest that ever a human was compelled to drink, because our wells, six inch holes, bored down into the sand had accumulated ages of drift buried within it. So thro' this decayed vegetation, we had to draw our supplies of water, which when drawn and allowed to stand five minutes would gather a scum over it like that you have seen in cow tracks in our streets.

This, with short rations and exposure to cold, caused our men to have chronic diarrhoea, which killed hundreds of them, while the Yankees laughed to see us die. It would be that many less to fight. Oh, the cruelties and horrors of a Civil War.

While mothers, sisters, and sweethearts were praying for our safe return, we were being murdered by this slow death.

I don't blame Lincoln for this, but his subordinates connived at and accomplished this fearful result. Just think of 15,000 men confined in prison and suffering as. But your uncle John then twenty years old, studied and planned to get out of prison, and fate came to his assistance.

It was about my time to be detailed to help clean camp and carry the barrel (that the men used during the night) and empty it into the bay. Luck came to me when William Adair of Giles county and former schoolmate, proposed that we swim out into the bay, dive and catch some oysters, which I readily agreed to, although a poor swimmer, but I knew that salt water would bear one's body up with very little effort on his part, the same as our mothers used to test their brine for pickles, when it would float an egg it was salt enough. We stripped off our clothes and swam out to where the water was twelve feet deep, when we dived to the bottom and gathered such little sickly oysters as we could get. As I was a poor swimmer, and Mr. Adair could swim and dive like a duck, he proposed that I stay on the top of the water and let him dive and get the oysters and give to me to hold, which I agreed to, and soon my haversack was full of oysters, so I swam ashore and gave my haversack to my brother Lewis to hold standing on the shore. I took his empty haversack and returned. Being naked my body became chilled in the wind, so when I returned into the water, it appeared warm, got another haversack full and came ashore. Now, it so happened that your uncle was the only man of our acquaintance that had any money, so I bought the salt and pepper, white Will Adair found a wharf restaurant, where we shucked and cooked the oysters upon which we made a meal.

Having been chilled in the water gave me an excuse the next morning to report sick, which I did, and it saved me from having to carry the barrel. The Dr. came, felt my pulse, looked at my tongue and sent me half a dozen powders to take every two hours, your uncle took them all at once, scratched a hole in the sand, and buried them. I was not sick but just 'possoming. The next morning the prisoners were commanded to form line and were marched away. Then came one of the greatest trials of my life, because my little brother came to me and asked what he should do. I saw I he was too inexperienced to shun the advances of a sick man, and told him to go with the others. I returned to my tent, layed down, soon the doctor came looked into my tent, and said: "all of you sick men go to the hospital." I said, "Doctor I am too sick to go," thinking they would haul me in an ambulance. He said: "well, if you go you will

We have a prettier line of Millinery and Ladies' Furnishings than we have ever had heretofore, and the public is invited to attend.

In our line of Millinery we have the Derby Hat, Mandarin Sailor and English Walking Hats and other jaunty styles.

MRS. C. T. PAINTER.

COURTS:
Tuesday after 4th Monday in March.
Tuesday after 2nd Monday in August.
Tuesday after 2nd Monday in Nov.

Turn out Democrats to the Mass Meeting here next Tuesday.

Farmers, bring in your horses, several buyers will be here during court.

Z. W. Price, who lives near White Gate, spent Sunday night in town.

D. R. Whittaker of Ennis, W. Va., spent Tuesday and Wednesday on his farm near this place.

Mrs. J. W. Pyrtle of Ripplemead, will sell a few very fine Rhode Island Reds at $1.00 a piece. Come and look at them.

Kryptok, the busy man's glass, see far and near without removing. Get them from Dr. Martin, at Pembroke, Monday, March 25th; Pearisburg, Tuesday and Wednesday, March 26th and 27th.

C. L. Eaton, Jr., of Petersburg, W. Va., says: "I have toughed it out about three weeks without the VIRGINIAN, and that is as long as I can stand it. Everything is all right over here."

Mrs. W. H. Buchanan, who has been by the bedside of her daughter, Mrs. C. R. Ballard of Lindside, W. Va., for quite a while, returned home Tuesday. Mrs. Ballard is improving, though quite ill yet.

Rev. M. W. Royall returned home last week, after a two week's visit in N. C. Mrs. Royall and little lois, who accompanied Mr. Royall, stopped in Roanoke for a few days. They are expected to arrive home this week.

We know, that we know, our business, because we get results. Try us and you will know, because you will get satisfaction. Pembroke, March 25th; Pearisburg, March 26th and 27th.

DR J. HARRY MARTIN.

Rev. Geo. R Fringer, pastor of the M. E. church at Newport, in remitting us says: "I want to congratulate you on the newsy sheet that you get out. It is one of the very best country papers that I know anything about. Best wishes for the future success of the VIRGINIAN."

An excellent Spring tonic, after several months of hanging around the fireside, and one which we would recommend to many of our citizens, particularly those who are not over-anxious to work and want a soft snap, is a good sawbuck, a sharp saw and a pile of hard wood. We know what we are talking about, for we have tried it.

At the top of this page will be found the advertisement of Mrs C. T. Painter. Read it. She will have her Spring millinery opening 27th, 28th and 29th of this month. She has the prettiest line of millinery and ladies' furnishings she ever had. She has the Derby hat, Mandarin and English, walking hat and other jaunty styles. Call and see them, glad to show you around.

Mrs R E. Williams of Grandy and Mrs. J. A. Hagy of Stonega, since spending several days here at the bedside of their sick mother, Mrs. Hamilton, and since the funeral and burial, have each returned to their home. —Lebanon News.

Week before last the Lebanon News received on subscription $76 75, and last week $25.00. His subscribers are better to him than ours are, we would be glad to receive half of either amount a week. We congratulate our brother "quill driver" on his prosperity. Let the good work go on.

Read the change in the "ad" of E. S. Pedigo Co., Princeton avenue, Bluefield. W. Va., in another column. This is the busiest and most up-to-date store in the above-mentioned city. They are offering bargains in millinery, handkerchiefs, etc., this week. When in Bluefield be sure and pay a call to this great ladies' furnishing house.

Read the advertisement of Messrs. H. B. Shelton & Co., at top of this page. Their Spring millinery opening will take place 27th and 28th inst. They have all the latest styles in Spring hats—imported and domestic. They have also a nice line of silks, satins, white goods, ladies' suits, cloaks, etc. They will take pleasure in showing you around, whether you buy or not.

J. Arthur Adair of Danville, Va., a Giles county man, says: "I hate to write to you for the paper without sending you what I owe you, but am denying myself too much not to do so. Please send me the VIRGINIAN, that I may know what you are all doing about home. Am here in the drill business, but the weather has been such I have not been able to turn a wheel for several weeks."

The Pearisburg Brass Band on Saturday afternoon last, gave our town quite a nice treat by discoursing some of their elegant music in different parts of our city. This band, as you all know, is quite young, about two months old. They certainly have improved at a rapid rate since they last appeared on our streets. If they continue to improve as they have in the past, they will eclipse any band ever in these parts. Keep bur up, boys, you are sure to succeed.

John Woods, our jailer, came near getting a "dose" Monday afternoon that would have settled "his goose" for good hac it been in inch or two more toward the center of the head. While picking up some wood in the courthouse yard, a stray bullet from some individuals, who were having a shooting match near by in the same yard, hit him near the top of the head, and buried itself under the skin. Dr. Whittaker of the veterinary profession, removed the bullet, and at this writing he is not much the worse for the bullet hitting him. This was certainly a closer shave for life than your scribe would like to have.

Last Thursday and Friday we had the pleasure of spending the day at the thriving and busy little town of Interior. Everything here seems to be in the right order. There are two stores here, which seem to be doing a good business. The West End Furnace Company of Roanoke, have quite a force of men here mining iron ore, which, if it turns out as expected, a still larger number of men will be put to work in the near future. We hope this ore will be found in abundance, as it would be a great thing for the company, as well as a like thing for the people of Interior, as it would give many of them employment, as well as bringing money into their midst. While there we had the pleasure of spending Thursday night with Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Cahill, old friends of ours, and we were entertained very handsomely and enjoyed their good company very much.

The revival services commenced here in the M. E. church, Sunday, 11th inst., by Rev. W. B. Belches, assisted by that able divine, Rev. Thomas Sexton, the blacksmith preacher and evangelist, is still going on and will continue the rest of the week, in the least. Several have been converted and a number are at the mercy seat. A large number requested the prayers of the church at Monday night's services. The people are being greatly benefitted and revived by these services. This revival bids fair to outrival any that has been held in this place for years. These services are well attended—afternoon and evening—which goes to show the people are deeply interested and want to encourage the good work. Many have been prevented from attending these services oh account of sickness and the weather has been more or less very inclement, but taking it, all in all, the attendance has been very good. Rev. Sexton is a man who holds his congregation with the utmost attention. All are well pleased with his discourses.

OUR SICK.

Robert King, son of C. L. King, who has diphtheria, is on the road to recovery.

Mrs. Joe Dennis, who has been quite ill for about a month, is getting better.

Miss Nannie Lou Johnston, who has a severe ease of tonsilitis, is not much better, if any, at this writing.

Will Dennis, who has been seriously ill for about a week, continues very ill.

Gresay Johnston, who has been confined to his home for a week or ten days, is again at his post of duty.

James Hughes, a very poor man and 65 years of age, is very ill at his home here and his death is expected at any moment. He has what is called a nervous breakdown. He has a wife and five children.

BARGAINS.

New and Second-hand sawmill outfits, engines, wood-working machinery, etc.

FOUR VIRGINIANS GOING TO PANAMA.

Hon. Peyton F. St. Clair of this county; Col. W. S. Battle, Jr., of Roanoke; Hon. H. G. Buchanan of Richmond, and Major L. Wayne Childrey of Norfolk, left Wednesday morning on No. 14 over the Norfolk & Western for New Orleans, whence they will sail for the Isthmus of Panama to inspect the canal. They will be absent about a month.

MAY TEACH A LESSON.

School patrons in St. Louis are agitating a matter that is of interest, we know, to patrons of schools everywhere.

The suggestion is to the effect that gifts by pupils to teachers be prohibited.

It is argued that pupils who are unable to contribute when a present is to be bought, are afraid to refuse a contribution, lest they be ridiculed or disliked.

But is not this one of the problems which children might very advantageously master in their youth? How many adults have the backbone to refuse to give when they fully realize that they have already given to the extent of their ability, or when they are not in sympathy with the cause toward which they are asked to donate?

It is unfortunate that adults have not the ability to say no when their consciences are on their side, and to do what they believe to be right, no matter whether it is popular or not.

A child would have gained a valuable lesson if he learned to consult his own condition and conscience when the insinuating hand of patronage is extended toward him.

Death of Little Boy.

Little Roy Sands, aged six years, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Sands, died Saturday morning at the home of his brother, A. F. N. Sands, 309 Madison street, with membranous croup. He was from White Gate, Va., and he and his mother were visiting his brother when he became ill and only lived eight days. He is survived by six brothers and three sisters—Effie Wark, McKinley, Albert and Emery of White Gate, and Mrs. G. H. Gills, Miss Sheffey Sands, I. E Sands and A. F. N. Sands, of Bluefield.—Bluefield Telegraph.

REUNION OF A PROMINENT FAMILY.

A reunion of the family of the late Isham Royall, for a long time a prominent Sampson county educator and citizen, took place at Fremont, on March 1st. All of the family are living, and all were present with the exception of one, Rev. V. A. Royal of Pittsboro. The reunion was held at the home of Mrs. J. B. Exum, one of the sisters. This happy family, which had not been together for 25 years, made merry during the day and recalled many incidents and pleasures of childhood days. The morning was spent in reading the Bible, praying and singing hymns. Mrs. Exum prepared an old-fashioned dinner, consisting of eatables too numerous to mention. Splendid music was furnished by Mr. Exum and his family. The mother was present, and had every reason to be proud of the group that gathered about her. They have done honor both to her and their father. Widely scattered, they have all taken prominent places in the community which they live. The following were present: Mrs. Rachel Royall and her sister, Mrs. J. F. Souther land of Goldsboro; Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Exum of Fremont; Mrs. Murd Maxwell of Fayetteville; Mrs. Katie Bruce of Raleigh; Mrs. Louise Bullard and daughter Antryville; Mrs. Mamie Martin of Calypso; Miss Evelyn Royall of East Durham; Rev. Frank Royall of Zion City; Prof. L. T. Royall of Smithfield; Rev. M. W. Royall, wife and daughter of Pearisburg, Va.—Clinton, (N. C.) Democrat.

Paint and "Paint."

Paint itself costs $2 15 per gallon—but remember that—Linseed Oil costs only $1.00 per gallon, and that "Paint" ready for use consists of 4 parts Paint and 3 parts Oil. Consequently it is plain—that you should buy them yourself—and so save 45 cents per gallon. Therefore buy L. & M. Paint (prepared in semi-paste form) mix three quarts of Oil to each 1 gallon L. & M. and make 11 gallons of Paint ready for use at $1.65 a gallon. Call on H. B. Shelton & Co., Pearisburg, Va.

RIPPLEMEAD.

A BANQUET.

On Saturday night March 16, 1912, the Seniors of the Narrows High School, were entertained at a banquet given by Misses Walters, Drinkard and Topper in the Music Room at the school building. The room was artistically decorated in the class colors, purple and white.

On entering the Seniors were greeted by the hostesses in a very charming manner, and were presented with, The Floral Romance, a dainty booklet which was held together with a purple cord, the cover design being done in violets, the class flower. The person having correctly formed this Romance of Flowers, received a box of Martha Washington candy. There were four who accomplished this, Misses Lula Bailey and Kathleen Hale, and Messers. Frank Beamer and Percy Hale. So to settle this difficulty they drew for the prize, and Miss Hale was the lucky one. After which each boy was assigned a place at the blackboard and was requested to draw a man without a heart, each girl in turn was blindfolded and was allowed to put a heart in the man. The one she came nearest being her partner for the next part of the program, which was to carry out Leap Year's privileges. The boys were appointed judges over these proposals, and decided unanimously in favor of Miss Kate Bane, whose proposal was to Mr. Louise Coburn. As he answered in the affirmative preparations were made at once. Miss Lula Bailey acted as maid of honor and Mr. Frank Beamer as best man. The impressive ceremony was performed by the "Rev." Earl Johnston. The bridal party entered to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march rendered by Miss Drinkard, during the ceremony she softly played, Hearts and Flowers.

After the ceremony congratulations were showered upon them by their school mates, and all were invited to partake of the wedding supper, which was not only attractive, but was enjoyed by all.

As a climax to this delightful evening each Senior was presented with a marked Diploma signed by the three hostesses, certifying their membership in the Senior class and wishing that each life be filled with happiness and success.

How I Got Out of Prison and My Journey Home.

BY JOHN P. PECK.

Pembroke, Va., March 12, 1912.

While on the tug a doctor gave a ticket number 2. This did not suit me, as I wanted to travel as number 1. He told me to call my number when I met the guard on the big steamer. Alright I said, with a lie in my mouth, I had determined to say number 1, which I did, and got a good berth, while number 2 had to go to a bare floor for quarters.

That afternoon we steamed down the Chesapeake aboard the mighty Baltic, and stopped at Fortress Monroe, where we stayed four days.

The Yankee guards told us that the cartel of exchange was bursted and we would have to go back to prison, which was very sad news to us. But in the evening of the fourth day, news came that Mr. Lincoln was re-elected, so we weighed anchor and put out to sea.

I had slept very soundly through the whole night, and when I awoke the next morning, I went up on the hurricane deck I found that we were out of sight of land in all directions, and, as I had been taught, that to see the sun rise on the ocean was a most beautiful sight, I went out on the bow of the ship, let my legs hang over, my body braced by two strong ropes running to the mast, where I first beheld the beautiful sight of sun rise on the ocean.

After enjoying this awhile, I began to feel dizzy, so I layed back on the deck and moved myself back until I could rise with out danger of falling overboard, and it was well I did, as this was a side wheel steamer, and the paddles of the great wheels would have beat the life out of me in a minute. As soon as I could get up on deck, I went back and found as I thought the biggest lot of drunk men I had ever beheld. They were wallowing on deck, some going to the rail and vomiting into the sea. Said I, where did you get your liquor? Liquor, nothing, they said. We are sea sick! Then I began to realize the fact, as I became dizzy, weak and sick. As I did not want to vomit my breakfast into the sea, I went below to my berth, laid down and put my mind on these eternal old hills and mountains of Virginia. I soon found that by doing so the sickness left me, the same as when your head swims in cross ing rapid water, if you look upon land it will cease. I had to make the third trip to my bed, which cured me, and I did not lose my breakfast.

We had been going due east, but in the afternoon we turned south, and in rounding Cape Hatteras, your uncle was very much frigthened.

The big waves were striking us sideways and the ship rolled so that when a big wave struck her she would lean over so much that one wheel would be entirely out of the water, and the other wheel would be in water up to the hub. I thought the ship was going to sink, said my prayers, lots of them, until we passed the cape, when we had a calm sea, and pleasant voyage to the mouth of the Savannah River, where we were exchanged, having traveled three days and nights from Fort Monroe.

We were put aboard a little boat and started up the river for Savannah, Ga. When within five miles of Savannah, the doctors put water buckets full of whiskey on the stair steps, with half-pint tin cups set by to drink out of, so we dipped in and helped ourselves.

I took about a gill and felt quite mellow by the time we reached the wharf at Savannah, where there were bands playing, and hundreds of women, children and old men, stood to meet and welcome us back to Dixie. The women were loaded with provisions, bread, boiled ham and sweet potatoes, all cooked and the finest I ever ate, while the little boys and girls, had haversacks full of plug tobacco, cut in squares. We filled our haversacks with the good things, and tobacco; were formed in ranks and marched up street, guarded by the last call of 16 year old boys and 60 year old men.

This did not suit your uncle. It was night, and we were to be taken outside the city and put in a recruiting camp. I said to my friend Ellison: "I don't like this." He said, "what are you going to do about it." I said, "I am going to sleep in a house in this city." He grinned at me to and watched me like a hawk. So we marched up street under guard, moon shining, guards on the sidewalk, we in the street like cattle. I spied ahead of us a stoop, six feet high, latticed up on two sides. I saw on the side next to us that there were some stripe off leaving a hole large enough for a man to crawl through. I said, "Jack, I am going." "Where?" he asked. "Watch me," I replied, but did not think the darned fool would follow me. I obliqued to the sidewalk, got behind a guard, walked as big as a policeman, and crawled through the hole under the stoop. I had just got squared around, when bump came my friend Ellison, and then another, a Mr. Barker of Peters burg, Va., who was really sick with chronic diarrhoea. He was a nice, gentlemanly fellow.

So we three were in this cuddy hole and stayed quiet until the last guard passed. "Jack," said, John, "what are we going to do." I said, "watch me," and they did. I looked out the hole and saw the way was clear, crawled out, and sat upon the stoop, followed by Jack and Barker. I commenced groaning and so did they, making an awful noise. Soon a lady's voice was heard calling from above and asking what was the matter, and as the other cusses did not speak, I said, we are poor sick soldiers trying to get home and do not want to go out to camp. She said, "come right up here and I will take care of you."

Oh! how I loved that sweet Southern woman, (and there are millions of them) She led us into her parlor bedroom, and said that two of us could sleep in that bed and she would bring in another bed. I said, "my dear lady, we are dirty and lousey; we cannot accept your kindness; and we will not polute your beds with our filth. We could not help it, but we will lay on the floor, just give us a blanket or quilt apiece, and we will sleep on this brussels carpet." After seeing our determination, she gave in and brought us cover to keep us warm.

My friend Ellison and I slept sweetly through the night, but poor Mr. Barker spent a restless night, having to go out often during the night on account of chronic diarrohea.

The lady gave us a good breakfast, after which your uncle began looking around. The public square was a plot about five acres with buildings surrounding it. On this there were millions of cannon balls, and many cannons. As I came to the front, I saw my old friend, Steve Chewning, whose life I had saved by giving him money in prison. I went to see him, and he wanted to know why I wasn't out at camp.

I just pulled down the corner of my eye; he laughed and said if you had gone to camp you might now be on your way home. I asked "how?" He replied that he had a furlough for 30 days, transportation home and an order to draw his money. Geewhilicans! your uncle was knocked a hundred miles. Steve going home, and I—well I said, "Steve, why can't I go too? He replied, "they are only sending the sick men home and you know you are not sick." This puzzled your uncle for a few minutes, but he rallied and asked him where he got his furlough.

He pointed out the building, and I said, "Steve, give me your cane," which he did. I took the cane, tied my old bandanna handkerchief around my head, put on my sick looks and went up the stairs and into the doctor's office, Oh! so weak and sick, stopped before the doctor. He said, "my good fellow, what can I do for you?" I replied, "Oh! doctor, if I could only get home I think I would get well." He told a clerk to write me a furlough, which he did, gave me transportation papers through to Richmond and I hobbled down the stairs to the street, I was happy, for I had all I wanted, a furlough and my transportation home.

Of course my friends, Barker and Ellison, followed, and got their furloughs. The surprised me, because Ellison was 40, Barker 30, and I only 20. I afterwards found that they wanted me to be a foolish idea, but they were right. I did help them.

We went to a depot, boarded the wrong train, was told it went to Florida, so we hustled out, ran half a mile, found the right train filled full of soldiers, all and bound for Columbia, S. C. Arriving there we found that the citizens had arranged to board and bed us through the night. I and my friends were taken to Judge Adams'; had supper, bed, and breakfast, good beds, ticks filled with straw upon the floor, for which we were very grateful, and I will always remember with pleasure the kindness extended to us by the good citizens of Columbia, S. C.

The tug of war came soon afterwards. We were to leave at 9 a. m. so we went to the depot and found a train steamed up and ready to go to Richmond. Our joy was great, but sorrow soon filled us with awe. We were told by the guards that this train was for the gentlemen and ladies and that we could go down into a corral, and wait for a freight train, that would soon be along and take us in box cars to Richmond.

If there ever was a time that patriotic blood boiled within a nation, this was it. We had fought our country's battles, and suffered the hardships of war for four years nearly, had suffered in prison, and to be told to take the cattle car to Richmond, made our blood boil and scathe through our veins, so we were ready if needs be to fight our last battle. Think of it, put yourselves in our places. We, who had fought in many battles, returning from prison, must take the box cars of a freight train to Richmond. While the gentlemen and ladies travel on the passenger train.

While our young blood was ready to fight everything out of our way, my boyhood friend, Steve Chewning, came to me and said, "John, we know you are not sick, we appoint you to command and get us on this train." You could have knocked me over with a feather. I was only 20 years old and to think men of 30 or 40 would say such to me. But I wanted to get home and said, "Well, Steven, if you all will stand by me, I will get us all on this train." He and hundreds of others said we will spill the last drop of our blood to protect you, go ahead, and I went.

I told some of the men to go to the opposite side of the cars (there was a provost guard on each platform with a musket and bayonet pointed toward us to keep us off), and to try to get on, knowing that when the attempt was made the guard would turn to them. As the men approached to them. As the men approached the steps the guard turned to repel them and this was my chance. I made a lunge and two steps brought us on the rear platform of a car. I lunged against the guard, who, with musket and bayonet pointed to the person approaching, calling, "halt, you can't come on here." I knocked him off the car. He went down the embankment with his gun and clatter to the correl he wanted us to occupy. Your uncle went to the middle of the car, took a good seat, when the car soon filled, all seats taken, the aisle full, they crawled upon the top of the cars, ready for a start to Richmond.

Now I knew something was coming. My friend, Steve Chewning, came into the aisle just opposite me and said, "John, you have managed this like a general and we will stand by you to the last drop of blood. If anybody comes along, don't you say a word, I'll do the talking." I looked at him, six feet six inches, a tower of strength above his fellow man, a sample of Southern grit and go. I felt honored by this man's constancy. Said I, "Alright, Steve."

A few minutes later, a sleek, well dressed and well fed provost marshal came stepping in, just like you have seen sheep when a dog approaches them. Oh, he was hot and heavy. He wanted to find the man that knocked the guard off the train, he would take him to the city prison. As no one answered he went on through the car searching, and came back to us. Said the scoundrel was in this car.

Then my friend Chewning, standing with his head among the bell ropes in his great manhood, said, "Look here, my good fellow, we are sick and returning from prison, and we are going to ride in this car, if you don't get right out I'll throw you through that window, swinging his great arms to catch him, but he had left, which was well, because if he hadn't, he would have been torn limb from body.

Now they wanted to thank me. Five hundred wanted to give me sweet potatoes, bread and tobacco. Said I; "No, friends, this is war, and your uncle is in it; keep your goodies."

We reached Richmond in due time, where we were issued provisions, soap and clothing; some one stele my soap from under my pillow, but what did I care. I was back in Dixie.

Your uncle John joined the army at Abingdon, Va., where he was a witness before court against a deserter, who had deserted many times, and was captured in the Batt Mountains of Giles county, with pistol drawn trying to make an old man eighty years old give him money, threatening to kill him if he did not. The fellow was sentenced to be shot to death; your uncle was in the death detail. I aimed at his left breast. He died easy, not a muscle moved nor quivered. This was at Dublin Depot one day before Lee surrendered. I was on special detached service and returned home to take up a life of peace.

Repels Attack Of Death.

"Five years ago two doctors told me I had only two years to live." This startling statement was made by Stillman Green, Malachite, Col. "They told me I would die with consumption. It was up to me then to try the best lung medicine and I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery. It was well I did, for today I am working and believe I owe my life to this great throat and lung cure that has cheated the grave of another victim." Ed Miller of Pulaski, Va., spent Sunday in town.

E. B. Gilliam is at Raven, Va., looking after business interests.

Mrs. J. L. Muncy visited Mrs. T. R. Kelley of Radford, last week.

C. C. Peters and wife of Trigg, are visiting Mrs. J. M. Peters this week.

J. C. Miller of Roanoke, was a visitor to our town court day. He is looking well.

R. B. Brotherton of War, W. Va., is visiting his parents at this place.

H. L. Eston of Bluefield, W. Va., spent Sunday with his sister, Mrs. L. A. Stafford.

Mrs. Mary Sue Huffman of Newport, is visiting Mrs. Dr. F. B. Miller of this place.

E. L. Carper and sister, Mrs. A. E. Croy, spent the week's end with relatives in Bluefield.

Miss Clark who visited Miss Shelton last week, has returned to her home, Honaker, Va.

Mrs. J. M. Peters visited her niece, Mrs. F. G. Johnson of Narrows, first of the week.

Several fine horses were shown on our streets Tuesday. We are proud to see such fine stock.

Misses Annie and Mary King of Poplar Hill, visited friends in town Tuesday and Wednesday.

Fresh garden seeds, from two of the best seed houses at

J. H. WALKER'S.

Miss Clara Leffel has returned to her home, Newport, after a long visit paid her aunt, Mrs F B. Miller.

Our quiet little village seems to be enjoying very good health at the present. Hope she will stay this way.

Mrs. Lucille Mann of Pembroke, spent the week's end here with parents, Judge and Mrs. Williams.

FOR SALE—I have for sale one team, middle aged, harness and wagon. Apply to Lon Pack, Pearisburg, Va.

Miss Lucy Strother returned home last week after an extended visit to her brother, James F. Strother, Welch, W. Va.

Mrs. Uzzie Eston who is teaching school at Pembroke, spent Saturday and Sunday with her sister, Mrs. T. J. Pearson.

Floyd Saidow, wife and little son, Francis, spent Saturday and Sunday with Mrs. Saidow's parents, Mr. and Mrs Sibold of Eggleston.

Eggs for hatching, R. C. Rhode Island Reds, exclusively, $1 00 for 15. MISS MARY C. SHANNON AND SISTER, Poplar Hill, Va.

J. D. Lovell, Shumate, Va., has an "ad" in this week's issue. Read it. He solicits work in concrete, masonry and plastering, and is a contractor for same. Give him a trial.

Rev. Jno. J. Lloyd of the Episcopal church, will hold services in Pearisburg next Sunday a. m. at 11 o'clock and at Narrows at night.

Mrs. Thos. C Johnston who went to Bluefield last week to see a sick child of her daughter, Mrs. W. F. Collins, returned home yesterday.

On April 3rd and 4th, Mrs. S. B. Harvey will show a line of our Millinery at Hoge's Store.

H. B. SHELTON & CO.

Mrs. Dent Echols, assisted by Miss Hood, will show a line of our Millinery at Newport, Va., April 12th and 13th.

H. B. SHELTON & Co.

Miss Mary Henry Woods of Pecos, Texas, who is in school at Blackstone, and was unexpectedly called to the bedside of her father, stopped off with relatives and friends for a few days before going home.

Now is a good time to clean up your back yards. We venture the assertion there are a number of them in this town that need cleaning, besides it is healthful, and we should look after this all-important factor.

The maple trees and rose bushes are beginning to put on leaves and will soon blossom out. We hope good weather is here and that no hard freezes will come to kill the fruit which will be coming soon, it the weather keeps nice and warm.

One week from Sunday is Easter. Then flowers and Easter bonnets and hats will be in great display. Every lover will be looking at his beloved, and those who have no beloved will be casting sheep's eyes at some other fellow's sister. 'Twas ever thus!

Miss Nancie Johnston of Glen Lyn, who has been visiting friends and relatives at Princeton and Athens for the past two weeks, has returned home, accompanied by her cousins, Misses Beatrice and Pauline Johnston of Princeton, who will remain for two weeks.

Mrs. T. B. Francis of White Gate, who has been at Trout's hospital, Roanoke, for treatment, passed through town last Thursday on her way home. She was met at Pearisburg depot by her husband. We are glad to say she has been greatly benefitted by attending this hospital.

The annual meeting of the Stockholders of the New River, Holston & Western Railroad Company will be held at their office at Narrows, Va., Tuesday, April 2, 1912

F. E. BASTIAN, Sec'y.

Mrs. C. F. Brown and son, Herman of Staffordsville, while on their way home Monday afternoon from a visit to Pembroke, happened with an accident in the east end of our town, their horse became unmanageable, upsetting the buggy and throwing Mrs. Brown into the road. Fortunately, no one was injured.

Rev. W. B. Belchee and wife of this place was on Monday given a pounding by their many friends. This was Bro. Belchee's 31st birthday. This kind of pounding does not hurt any one, because it consisted of many of the good and substantial things of earth—something to eat. From what we learn, they are quite well supplied, for some time to come.

The Clinch Valley News says a traveling man remarked that Tazewell has more pretty girls than any place in his travels. He certainly does not travel through Giles or he would change his opinion quite quickly. This county or town can't be beat in the State for pretty girls, if you don't believe us, come this way once and see.

Let me show you a line of up-to-date Oxfords, from the smallest to the largest.

J. H. WALKER.

We call attention to the new advertisement of Messrs. A. B. Coburn & Co., Narrows, in this issue. They have been to market and bought one of the choicest assortments of merchandize ever brought to that place, and propose to sell same at the lowest figures ever given in that place. They have everything that can be mentioned in their mammoth establishment. Call and see them and be convinced that what we are telling you is correct.

We call attention to the advertisement of the Cortright Metal Roofing Co., on our first page. Cortright metal shingles have the elegance of uniformity. They are handsome when the house is new and just as handsome when it is old, for they do not warp, split, rot or curl. They make an old house look like a new one. This company is represented in our county by Mr. C. L. Eaton of Staffordsville, and Messrs. J. W. Walker & Sons, Newport. Try these shingles and you will want no other.

John Hughes, an old man 65 years of age, died at his home here on Thursday morning last and was buried Friday in the Mason burying ground one mile east of this place. Rev. M. W. Royall conducted the services at the grave. He had been confined to his home for several months from nervous prostration and grew worse and worse until the end came. He was a hard working man. He is survived by a wife and five small children, and two brothers. We tender to the bereaved ones our sincere sympathy.

Sunday night it snowed, though in the low-land not much were to be seen, our peaks put on a cold, blue look, and were coated quite white.

Mrs. W. B. Suidow entertained at dinner Friday in honor of Miss Bell Strother who is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Clay Mason of Ripplemead.

Milton Woolwine and family returned to their home, Bluefield, W. Va., Wednesday, after an extended visit to their parents, J. P. Woolwine and wife.

C. D. Kemp, who has been living in New York State, has moved to this county and taken charge of the Daniel Cecil farm and will proceed to run the same.

Geo. C. Spangler of Macon Ga., was in town Courtday and requested us to say to any of his friends, especially readers of the VIRGINIAN, that the C. V. Reunion will be held in his city May 6th to 9th. Any who desire to attend and would like board and lodging, by dropping him a line he will secure it for them, that as the city is not as large as some and the crowd is expected to be too large for all to have comfortable quarters, it would be well to make arrangements for your lodging and board beforehand. His address is 130 Coleman avenue, Macon, Ga.

The revival services commenced here two weeks ago last Sunday in the M. E. church, continues, and when they will discontinue cannot be stated at this writing, but, in all probability, will last for quite awhile yet. Rev. Belchee will endeavor to procure the services of some other good preacher to help him carry on these services, as Rev. Thomas Sexton, the blacksmith preacher, left for his home Tuesday morning. This revival seems to grow better every day and the people are getting more deeply interested. Quite a number have professed faith in Christ and the outlook for a larger number seems inevitable. Still, at the end of two weeks, these services are largely attended, which goes to show the attitude of the people.

Rev. Thomas Sexton, the blacksmith preacher and evangelist, who has been helping Rev. W. B. Belchee in holding revival services for the past two weeks, returned to his home in Knoxville, Tenn., Tuesday morning. Rev. Sexton is a very able and earnest worker and labored hard while here to do our people all the good he could. He preached from two to three sermons a day, and though not a great number were converted under his preaching, still there is no telling how much good he has done, as much of his preaching surely lies dormant in the hearts of our people, and is bound to show forth in the future, as the best of seed has been sown and must in due time bring forth an abundant harvest. We were sorry to see this great divine leave us, but he will be remembered by our people for many years to come, and perhaps never be forgotten. The people here in appreciation of his services and good work presented him with a purse of one hundred dollars.

Read the new advertisement on our first page of The First National Bank of Pearisburg. Every father should take an interest in his children, and most do, and all those who are favored with this world's goods—money, should try and put some away for a "rainy day," which, in all probability, will benefit his children when he is no more. The First National of this place, is a reliable and safe institution in which to deposit, besides a liberal interest is given, which counts something at the end of the year. This "ad" will run indefinitely, but will be different each issue.

The Baltimore Conference of the M. E. Church, South, began its session in Roanoke, Va., Tuesday evening at eight o'clock. Bishop Murrah of Jackson, Miss., will preside. Two hundred and fifty delegates will be in attendance. The opening sermon will be preached by Rev. Dr. J. W. Duffy, pastor of the Braddock Street Church, Winchester.

AT NARROWS, VIRGINIA.

An ameteu play entitled "The Deacon's Second Wife," will be given at the Town Hall, Narrows, Virginia, on Friday night, April 5, 1912.

Admission, 10 and 15 cents.

Proceeds for the benefit of the Episcopal church at Pearisburg.

MUSIC REGITAL.

There will be a music recital in the High School building, Saturday afternoon at two o'clock. The program will be given by pupils of the first and second grades.

The public is invited and the parents of the pupils are requested to be present.

COURT.

Circuit Court convened here Tuesday, Judge Fulton Kegley, presiding.

The afternoon was mostly taken up by the Democratic Mass meeting.

The grand jury was in session and found the following indictments: A. D. Sligh was indicted on two counts, one for felony and one for misdemeanor; Kin Smith and Warren Hardy, colored, felony in each case.

The case of Chris Spangler against S. F. Becket for fighting, is going on, and will probably be disposed of Wednesday. A goodly number of witnesses are in attendance on both sides.

A large crowd from all over the county were in attendance, and a good deal of interest was seen on our streets by a display of fine stock. Giles is rapidly coming to the front in this business.

Buried at Hoge's Chapel.

Miss Maude Porterfield, who died Tuesday, the 19th inst., at the home of her parents on the northside of Bluefield, was taken to Hoge's Chapel Wednesday for burial. Services were held at the home, conducted by Rev. H. S. Bable, after which the remains were taken to Hoge's Chapel on train No. 4, accompanied by the family and W. F. Francis and C. H. DIXON.—Bluefield Telegraph.

OUR SICK.

Mrs. T. A. Williams, who has been confined to her room with lagrippe, is improving slowly.

Miss Nannie Lou Johnston, has about recovered from her illness and is able to be out, we are glad to report.

Miss Mica Rector, who has quite sick with a trouble in her head at the home of her aunt, Mrs. A. L. Fry, we are glad to say, is once more herself again and able to be out. Glad to see her at her post of duty, playing the organ in the M. E. church.

We are sorry to say that on Sunday morning last Mrs. C. T. Painter was taken suddenly ill and her life was seriously threatened. We are glad to state she is some better now. We hope, to see her out soon, and her health fully restored to her.

Will Dennis, who has been critically ill for the past two weeks, with acute indigestion, we are glad to state is on the road to recovery. He is now able to be out. We hope he will continue to improve until he is sound and well.

DEATH OF MR. JOHN H. PECK.

On last Saturday morning about five o'clock, Mr. John H. Peck, who lived on Sugar Run, about six miles East of Pearisburg, passed away, after an illness of several weeks of a serious liver trouble, complicated with other afflictions.

Mr. Peck was nearly seventy-seven years of age, and had lived in Giles county almost, if not all, his life.

He served throughout the Civil War in Capt. Eggleston's company and was a faithful, loyal soldier.

He was a man who was liked by every one; his disposition being a pleasant, jovial one, his general characteristics of a nature that always made it pleasant to be with him. He was kind, obliging, hospitable and always enjoyed having his friends about him.

Surviving him are his widow, one brother, Mr. Joseph A. Peck of Roanoke, one sister, Mrs. Dr. Pharr of Clifton Forge, one son, James, a daughter, Miss Virginia.

After feneral services at the home, conducted by Rev. D. T. Miles, interment was in the family burial ground near by.

He was liked. He will be missed. Lightly rest the sod above him.

How to Make Paint.

Take 10 gallons of L. & M. Paint made of pure Lead, Zinc and Linseed Oil at $2 10 per gallon. Add 7 gallons of Linseed Oil at $1 00 per gallon, and make 17 gallons of pure Paint at a cost of only $1 65 per gallon.

It's the best paint that can be made.

It's $7 70 less cost than same quantity of any other high grade pure Paint.

Death of Mr. Miles Cary.

Died March 16, 1912, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Dr. W. H. Carter, near Eggleston, Mr. Miles Cary, in his sixty-fifth year. Mr. Cary was a native of Albemarle county, Va., and had only resided in Giles county about two years; the greater part of this time he was in declining health. Another soldier of the Civil War has passed over the river.

Mr. Cary leaves to mourn his loss a wife and two children, Mrs. Dr. Carter of Eggleston, and Mr. Miles Cary, Jr., of West Va. We commend the bereaved to Him who is able to comfort in the dark and trying hours of life.

Services were conducted at the home by the writer at 2:30 Sunday afternoon and the body was laid to rest in the Williams cemetery to await the resurrection.

Attention to Farmers!

The famous Belgian Stallion, "Beau Soigneur," will make the season of 1912 in Giles county, at same stands of 1911. This horse was late getting out last season. His service fee was out to $10 00; for 1912 it will be $12 50, insurance. The farmers will make no mistake in breeding to this horse. The "Belgian" is truly king of all the draf horses.

Yours truly,

World-Wide Observance of Easter.

BY HELEN BRUCE WALLACE.

This day of Christian joy is world-wide in its observance. From sea to sea, from the frozen North to the equally frozen South,

"The world itself keeps Easter Day,
And Easter larks are singing,
And Easter flowers are blooming gay,
And Easter buds are springing,
Alleluia, Alleluia."

Sometimes that observance falls short in the true meaning of the season that symbolizes to the Christian a risen Lord, and hope of immortality. Like our Christmas celebrations, the religious side of Eastertide is o'ershadowed by the social.

The change from the solemn penitential week just past to the joyousness and light and color of Easter morn has for most of us too little of religious element.

Even though we join the throngs surging the churches and revel in the Easter flowers that bank the altars, and join in the Easter carols of praise, we fall far short of realizing what a lack of Easter would have meant to civilization.

The world is a better place to live in because of Eastertide. Though the spiritual side of us be but poorly developed the material should rejoice in the blessings and comforts bestowed by the ages-old belief in the risen Lord.

What the world would have been without Easter; what women would have been we can but faintly imagine. Without the hope that sprang from that open grave in far-away Judea, life would lack a high incentive to purity, truth and love for our neighbor.

If this were all; if with the ebbing of life there were no hope of a "beyond;" then would selfishness and pleasure reign supreme, the law of might would prevail, and this world be a worse place than it is for the poor, the sick and the lowly.

If we cannot wholly approve of the world's method of observing Easter and the days immediately preceeding it, the Easter festival with its curious observances have an interest in that however feebly, they draw universal attention to the day of the risen Lord.

Odd points of resemblance may be seen in many of these observances, and like many of the great days of the church, the customs associated with it have been drawn from pagan worship.

Easter is a time of joy and gladness, for it comes in the spring, when, according to pagan belief, Nature awoke from the winter death sleep and everything breathed of life and hope.

Therefore there is a common note of joy in Easter celebrations whether it be among the cool-headed Anglo-Saxon, the undemonstrative Scandinavian, or the intense, passionate Latin races.

But perhaps nowhere is the spirit of the day more emphasized than in Russia, where, when at the stroke of midnight on Easter Eve, the priest announces to the kneeling multitude "He is risen," the congregation bursts into unanimous response. "He is risen indeed," and joy in the blessed thought is expressed in warm embraces among friends.

During all of Easter Day, the Russian peasants visit among their friends, exchanging the joyous greeting with each acquaintance, "Christ is risen," to which the other responds, "He is risen, indeed!" followed by the triple kiss on either cheek and forehead.

Yet even here is the trace of paganism in the use of the Easter egg, which was the symbol to the pagan of a new life. On the round of visits each guest presents a colored egg to the hostess, receiving one in return, with refreshments thrown in.

In most Christian countries the joy of Eastertide is shown in music and flowers. Every church make special preparation for the great day, but probably nowhere in the world is such music heard as in St. Peter's, in Rome, of which Mrs. Humphry Ward has given us so impressive description in Eleanor.

Besides the flower-banked churches the newer custom of marking Easter-tide with flowers in the window of each house is one of much beauty and symbolism. When in palace and tenement alike there is a common bond of commemorative Easter flowers to greet the passer-by, the classes cannot be so far apart as the pessimist thinks.

In Catholic countries the joy of Easter is less impressive than the solemn observances of Good Friday. The churches are thronged with reverent worshipers, the procession commemorative of the Crucifixion, the burning of Judas in effigy, so common a practice in Portugal, Greece, Mexico and South American countries, all bear witness that despite scoffers the story of The Cross with the joyous Resurrection is not deemed a myth

It is said that Portuguese sailors in whatever port they may be on Good Friday at sundown commit Judas to the waves as the sailors sing the Angelus. And there are those who say Christianity is passing.

Less religious in its symbolism is the universal Easter egg, beloved of children.

Young America with his Easter basket of Easter hunt this morning, does not think that the Parsee children have eggs distributed to them at their spring festival; that the small Hungarians sprinkle their girl friends with rosewater and in return receive gifts of eggs; that French children in country districts will today make a round of visits begging for red eggs; while the little Russians will, for every gift of a red egg, set free a caged canary.

The Easter bunny is another custom borrowed from Pagan times, as the hare was associated with the moon and new life.

It may be from the firm belief of small Germans that if they are very good the white hare will steal into the house on Easter Eve and hide beautiful colored eggs, that young Americans feel their Easter celebration is incomplete without their bunnies, toy or real, candied or painted.

A curious, but less common belief is that the sun dances with joy as it rises on the day of Resurrection. Our forefathers utilizing pagan worship of the sun taught that in it was seen an emblem of the Sun of Righteousness risen on Eastern morn. There are certain parts of Europe, where today the people rise early to climb the hill to watch for this phenomenon.

However, it may be kept, whether with heartfelt worship or perfunctory following of long custom, this Easter morning finds the world united in celebration of that great day that brought joy and hope to a small band of men and women, weeping for a lost leader whom they called The Christ—until their faith was tested by the dire tragedy of the Cross.

The joy of that long gone Easter morn has grown with the ages, until its radiance is felt the world over, even by those who do not call themselves believers in the "Risen Lord."

RAILWAY WAGES AND RAILWAY EARNINGS.

There were substantial increases in the wages of railway employees during the fiscal year 1911. Reports filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission show that the total compensation to the employees of railways over 500 miles long was $1,005,277,249. The total wage cost to the railways for the year was greater by $41,868,822 than it would have been at the rates of pay in effect during 1910, and greater by $69,297,678 than it would have been at the rates of pay in effect during 1909.

Notwithstanding an increase of 2,108 in the miles of railway operated, there were fewer employees of the payrolls June 30, 1911, than on June 30, 1910, by 31,037, yet the total compensation paid employee during 1911, was greater than that paid during 1910 by $49,976,216. This is greater than the increase in the gross earnings of the railways by $22,595,121. The net revenues of the railways, which are what is left after paying operating expenses, fell off by $40,988,539 during this same period in which compensation increased nearly fifty million dollars.

These figures are summarized from official reports made by the railways to the Interstate Commerce Commission, for the fiscal years 1909, 1910, and 1911.

The summary of revenues and expenses of the steam railways over fifty miles in length for the month of December, just issued, shows that for the calendar year 1911 the total operating revenues were less than for the calendar year 1910 by $27,698,780, and the net revenues less by $22,286,784.

MEMORIAL TO JEFFERSON.

In the will of the late Joseph Pulitzer of the New York World is a clause giving $25,000 to his executors to erect a statue of Thomas Jefferson in the city of New York. His desire was that an equal amount be contributed by others to make the statue more imposing and to interest the public in the life of the great Jefferson, the author of the Declaration of Independence, the founder of the University of Virginia, and the thorough and uncompromising advocate of popular government.

To this end a Thomas Jefferson Memorial Fund has been organized, with the Hon. William J. Gaynor as chairman. Among the members of this committee are the Democratic Governor of New York, the Democratic Governor of Connecticut, the Democratic Governor of Ohio and the Democratic Governor of Virginia, the State that gave Jefferson to the Nation.

It seems peculiarly appropriate to The World that the work of erecting the memorial should be undertaken this year, when the political party which Jefferson founded is entering upon a new career of national usefulness, and when the theories of government which he advocated were never more appliable to the political problems of the time.

A witness in a railroad case at Fort Worth, asked to tell in his own way how the accident happened, said:

"Well, Ole and I was walking down the track, and I heard a whistle, and I got off the track, and the train went by, and I got back on the track and I didn't see Ole; but I walked along, and pretty soon I seen Ole's hat, and I walked on, and seen one of Ole's legs, and then I seen one of Ole's arms, and then another leg and then over one side Ole's head, and I says: 'My God! Something muster happened to Ole.'"—Ex.

A little girl visiting in the country, says the Ram's Horn, wrote to her mother:

"I'm having a beautiful time. I went to a funeral, and saw two pigs killed, and saw a barn burn down."—Ex.

It was built little at a time; so are great Fortunes

The Pyramids of Egypt that were built many centuries ago are still standing. The whole world looks at them with inquisitive admiration. Storms and time have not destroyed their magnitude nor their symmetry. But they were built one stone at a time. If the FIRST STONE had not been properly placed, the Pyramids would not be there today. A fortune can be built little by little, but not until after it is STARTED. If you want a fortune, START ONE NOW.

SMITHVILLE.

The school at this place closed Friday, March 22d, after another six months term of very earnest and successful work with Mr. Bowen as teacher. Quite a number of spectators were present and seemed to enjoy the afternoon with the school very much. Mr. Bowen has ever been faithful in the discharge of his duty and has taught for us two splendid sessions of school. We hope to have him with us again next year.

Mrs. J. Cummings and Miss Frieda Diddle were in town Friday.

Four of our elders from the State of Utah were with us for several days a short while back. Many new members were connected with the church of the "Latter-day Saints," and several were immersed at Mt. Lake during the sojourn of the elders.

Smithville has grown to be one of the most progressive little towns in the county. A new 'phone line has recently been constructed, connecting it with the outside world, and everything seems to be on the upward movement.

The mission of the common school teacher is a most high and noble one, because, he it is who must mould the character of the coming generation, and unless he looks upon character as the standard of human progress, he should not be selected as the instructor of the young. The individual, the community, the nation, tells its standing, its advancement, its worth, its true wealth and glory in the eye of God by its estimation of character. That man or nation who or which lightly esteems character, is low, growling and barbarous Wherever character is made a secondary object, sensualism and crime prevail. He who would prostitute character to reputation is base. He who lives for anything less than character is mean. He who enters upon any study, pursuit, amusement, pleasure, habit or course of life, without considering its effect upon his character, is not a trusty or an honest man. He whose modes of thought, states of feeling, every day acts, common language and whole outward life, are not directed by a wise reference to their influence upon his character, is a man always to be watched Just as a man prizes his character, so is he. This is the true standard of man.

THE DRUG HABIT.

Medical experts estimate that from 50,000 to 70,000 pounds of opium a year would suffice for all the medical needs of the people of the United States. We import and consume 500,000 pounds a year. They estimate that 15,000 ounces of cocaine would supply all our needs. We import and consume 200,000 ounces a year.

These figures give some idea of the appalling growth of the drug habit among the American people. Opium and cocaine have increased in use enormously during the past twenty years. Once a habit fixes its chains on a victim they are rarely, if ever, broken. China has just shown to the world that the wholesale consumption of opium can be stopped, but Chinese methods were the drastic methods of an absolute monarchy. We can hardly adopt them in the United States.

Nevertheless, the growing evils of excessive drug consumption make a problem that deserves most earnest attention. Local authorities can do much to check the evil. Cocaine and opium compounds are sold with entirely too much freedom in the city of Wheeling, as they are in probably every other city in the United States. We have our cocaine drunkards and we have many people who make a business of catering to their demands. Public sentiment ought to demand vigorous enforcement of the laws regulating the sale of those drugs.—Wheeling Intelligencer.

Why He Was Late.

"What made you so late?"

"I met Smithson."

"Well that is no reason why you should be an hour late getting home to supper."

"I know, but I asked him how he was feeling, and he insisted on telling me about his stomach trouble."

"Did you tell him to take Chamberlain's Tablets?"

"Sure, that is what he needs." Sold by all dealers.

A statesman is simply a politician who politicates to suit one's own fads and fancies.

For rheumatism you will find nothing better than Chamberlain's Liniment. Try it and see how quickly it gives relief. For sale by all dealers.

Mrs. J. T. Wassom and little daughter have returned home after spending a week with friends at Bane.

A. W. Johnston who spent the winter with his daughter, Mrs. E. L. Hedrick of Verdon, Va., returned home last week.

Our aim is to sell you the best at the lowest price. Most anything in general line.

BUCHANAN & POWELL.

McComas Chapter, U. D. C., will meet Saturday afternoon April 6th, with Mrs. F. G. Thrasher. All members are urged to be present.

A game of base ball was played here the other day between the Loafers and the High School teams. The score stood 7 to 5 in favor of the Loafers

J. L. Beamer of Chapel, gave us a very pleasant call on Friday last. We are always pleased to see our old friends, particularly, when they are one of our oldest and best subscribers.

W. O. Coburn, Narrows, Va., has the largest and most complete line of Shoes and Oxfords for men, women and children that you will find in any small town. It will pay you to look at them before buying elsewhere.

Why not have special musical services in some of our churches on Easter Sunday? We have as fine talent here for musicians can be found anywhere. All churches do their best in this respect on this Sabbath in the cities, why not in Pearisburg?

Mrs. J. W. Woodrum and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Charlton and little daughter of Bluefield, W. Va., spent Sunday with J. H. Woodrum and wife. Little Elizabeth, who has been visiting her grandparents accompanied her mother home, Sunday.

We return thanks to Miss Mattie Anne Johnston of Virginia Intermont College, Bristol, Va., for an invitation to attend several Graduating Recitals at that famous institution of learning. Sorry we cannot attend, as business will not permit.

We carry American Fence always and shall be pleased to explain its merits.

BUCHANAN & POWELL.

Our creeks and rivers had on their Sunday clothes the latter part of last week. They jumped out of the usual tenor of their way and were running wild, so to speak. Wolf Creek was higher on Friday last than for many years, and all our streams were terribly swollen.

Two brothers were in partnership in the coal business. One of them got converted in a revival meeting and then urged his brother to get religion too. The brother replied. "Why, John, if I'd get converted who'd weigh the coal?" This did not happen in Pearisburg, for they weigh coal correct here.

Mr. Harve Frazier, an old citizen of this county, also an old soldier in the Civil War, died at the home of his son, Isaac, who lives across the river on Raleigh Johnston's farm, one day last week. One by one these old veterans are passing away, and the time is not far distant, when all will have passed into endless time.

Men's and Boys Spring Suits, best values in ten years. Boys Suits with blouse pants, large as 18, neat and well made, price from $3.00 to $8.00. I also have the Globe Tailoring Co.'s line, which is one of the best.

W. O. COBURN,
Narrows, Va.

Hugh Douthat of Bluefield, was a guest of J. M. Peters, Tuesday.

There will be a business meeting at the Pearisburg Baptist Church, Saturday afternoon at two o'clock.

Remember the play, "The Deacon's Second Wife," at Narrows, tomorrow night, the 5th inst.

Judge James F. Strother of Welch, W. Va., spent Sunday with his parents, Judge and Mrs. P. W. Strother.

Ems Phlegar of this place, and who is now a telegraph operator at Wurno, Pulaski county, came home to spend his Easter.

J. H. Woodrum was at Oakvale Tuesday. He reports that Mrs. Rufus Shumate is critically ill at her home.

Miss Nancy Pearson who has been visiting friends and relatives in West Va, for quite a while, has returned home.

Misses Lizzie Hoge and Nellie Adair, Messrs Arthur Adair and Henry McClaugherty of Narrows, were shopping in town Monday.

We learn that W. J. Odell has purchased a stone crusher to use in his business when making concrete sidewalks. This looks like business.

Miss Emma Hale of Pembroke, accompanied Mrs. Mann home Friday and spent the week's end with Mrs. Mann's parents, Judge and Mrs. Williams.

Never in the history of this town has our Main street been in such a muddy condition. It has been almost impassable, and is not much better, if any, at this minute. Would it not be a good thing for our town daddies to macadamize it from end to the other. It is disgraceful the way it has been during the Winter and Spring.

Read the new advertisement of E. S. Pedigo Co., Bluefield. This is the best ladies furnishing house in that city. Why should not any lady go will dressed when you can buy a Kimono for 82 cents and upwards. Straw hats in every variety and style, and real pretty, at the lowest prices ever heard of. Pay a visit to this store and satisfy yourself.

The Sandy Valley News says: "On account of preaching at the Baptist church, the moving picture show will be postponed from Saturday until Monday night." This picture showman must be religious or he would have went on with the show, for, if like most places, he would have had the largest crowd. We are glad to know that Grundy is so pious, and that her showmen give way to the churches.

A card received from E W. Stafford once a resident of this county, but now of Pattonsburg, Mo, states that his residence and contents were totally destroyed by fire a few days ago. No insurance. He says they have had one of the severest winters ever known in that section; Spring is very late, high waters and muddy roads make traveling almost impassable. There are a number of Giles county people settled in this vicinity, and all are doing well.

Read the advertisement in another column of M. P. Farrier, agent, for the Metz "Twenty-Two" automobile. The fastest hill climber on the market.

C. C. Altice, who formerly lived at Curve, has bought a house and lot of Carper Bros., on the outskirts of town, and is occupying same.

Samuel Dennis, who has been living at Newport for a number of years, has moved to our town and is occupying part of the brick house owned by Thos. J. Pearson.

Eggs for hatching, R. C. Rhode Island Reds, exclusively, $1 00 for 15. MISS MARY C. SHANNON AND SISTER, Poplar Hill, Va.

Davy Jones and John Myers have purchased between them a rock crusher for use in their business, that of making concrete. Surely out of two crushers now in our town, our town daddies ought to get stone enough crushed for the macadamizing of our Main street, which is in such a shameful condition.

Mrs. Dent Echols, assisted by Miss Hood, will show a line of our Millinery at Huffman & Echols' store, Newport, Va., April 12th and 13th.

H. B. SHELTON & Co.

The first or second week in January we gave some one of our friends a package of printed matter to deliver to J. M. Puckett of Newport, and up to this writing it has never been received. Please look around your premises and see if you have a package about 4 by 8 inches. It will save us a lot of trouble if you will look this package up.

A freight train in charge of Conductor C. F. Peters of Roanoke, was wrecked on Monday morning between Crockett and Wytheville by a slide. Engineer Sam Pettit of Pulaski, was killed, and four others injured, not seriously. The train was a double header, both engines were overturned and five cars went down the bank. The slide was caused by the softening of the earth by the recent heavy rains.

The revival services commenced three weeks ago last Sunday in the M. E. church by the pastor, Rev. W. B. Belebee, still continues, and when the end will be cannot be said at this time. These services are growing brighter and brighter and the people are greatly stirred up. Several persons are at the mercy seat and large numbers are asking the prayers of the church. As to how many have been converted we do not know the exact number, but it will come near reaching the thirty mark. As long as this great interest is shown—that the people are so anxious for their soul salvation—it is safe to say, these services will be carried on. Brother Belebee is untiring in his energy when the work of saving souls is at stake.

Ladies come in and look over my dry goods, most complete and attractive line ever shown in this town. Prices cheaper than last season.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

Three children, from eight to sixteen years old of Mr. and Mrs. Estill Stafford of Bane, came near losing their lives on Friday last. They were crossing a swinging bridge over Walker's Creek, which stream was badly swollen by the recent heavy rains, when the bridge gave way and they were thrown into the stream.

One of the children, a boy of 8 years, in going down the stream, caught on to a limb of a sycamore tree, where he stayed about four hours. Another one grabbed a log and managed to get to the bank. The older one swung to the bridge which washed to the shore.

The father and another person got a canoe and started to go to the rescue of the boy in the sycamore tree, when on their way the canoe sunk with them, and it was with some trouble they got out. They then proceeded to the home of Mr. Harve Peters, where they procured another canoe, and again went to the boy's rescue, which, this time, proved successful, and he was released from his perilous position.

Four trials had to be made before the boy in the sycamore was released, and it is a great wonder that one or more of them were not drowned.

Howe Tabor, Gus and Edward Bales deserve much credit for their bravery on this occasion, as they endangered their lives.

AT NARROWS, VIRGINIA.

An ameteur play entitled "The Deacon's Second Wife," will be given at the Town Hall, Narrows, Virginia, on Friday night, April 5, 1912.

Admission, 10 and 15 cents.

Proceeds for the benefit of the Episcopal church at Pearisburg.

COURT ITEMS.

The March term of the Circuit Court for Giles county, convened here on Tuesday, the 26th, Judge Fulton Kegley on the bench.

A grand jury was impaneled on the first day of the term and returned three indictments for felonies as true bills: McKinley Smith and Warren Hardy (both colored) for burglary, and Alfred Sligh for shooting with intent to kill.

Smith plead guilty to the charge and was sentenced to one year in the Negro Reformatory at Hanover, Va., and Warren Hardy was tried and acquitted. Sligh's case was continued to the next term of the court.

S. F. Becket of Peterstown, W. Va., was tried for a felonious assault upon C. P. Spangler, who resides near Peterstown, and was convicted of assault and battery and fined $25 and the costs of the prosecution. The verdict in this case was a surprise to many, who thought it would have been much heavier.

George Whitlow, charged with felonious assault, pleaded guilty to assault and battery, and was fined $5 and costs.

Amos Jones on a plea of guilty of assault and battery, was fined $5 and costs.

W. H. Caldwell, who was indicted four times at a former term of the court for unlawfully retailing ardent spirits, was tried on one of the indictments and acquitted. The others were continued to the next term.

A nolle prosequi was entered in the case of the Commonwealth vs. Fleming Key. All of the other Commonwealth cases were continued to the next term of the court in July.

In the case of Jno. P. Dunn vs. The Merriman Co., Inc., there was a verdict for the plaintiff for $78.

In the case of the admr. of Mrs. Sarah A. Caldwell vs. the Virginian Railway Company, there was an agreed verdict for the plaintiff.

The Tanner case was continued on account of the absence of Jno. S. Draper, one of the attorneys for the plaintiff, who was in Carroll county.

Three divorces were granted at this term, to-wit: William Ratcliff, Alex Tapley Wells, and Rhoda Thompson.

NOTICE!

The Board of Supervisors will meet on Tuesday, the 9th day of April, 1912, at the Bridge across Walker's Creek, near Mr. P. F. St. Clair, for the purpose of considering what repairs are necessary to said bridge.

It is expected that there will be some concrete and carpenter work to be done, and the Board would be pleased to have those desiring to bid on the work to be present.

By order of the Board.

F. E. SKIDMORE, Clerk.

LAST BESTOWAL OF CROSSES OF HONOR.

This being the last year that the Crosses of Honor can be bestowed, McComas Chapter, U. D. C., will have their last bestowal on June 3, 1912. All veterans, who have not received a cross, will at once make application to Mrs. Minnie C. Easley. These applications must be in her hands by April 25th, as they must go to the Recorder of Crosses a month before the date of bestowal.

In making the application the veteran must give the time he entered the army, where he entered, in what Company and under whom he served, how long he was in the army and when and where he was discharged, or surrendered. All this information must be given, in order for the blanks to be properly filled out by the Chapter ordering the Crosses. It is sincerely hoped that every veteran in the county, who has not received a Cross, will make the necessary application, as this is positively the last chance they have for a Cross.

CARRIE WILLIAMS, Sec'y.

PEARISBURG HIGH SCHOOL VS. PEMBROKE.

Pearisburg High School made the Pembroke boys bite the dust in a ball game at Pembroke last Saturday by the score of 11 to 6. This was one of the first games of the season and of course was marked by many errors.

Heavy hitting was another feature, the P. H. S. boys hitting Helton almost at will, while Tabor and Williams kept their hits well scattered.

Features of the game were the batting and fielding of Phlegar, the catching of Pack for P. H. S. and the batting of Williams and base running of Reed for Pembroke. Lucas caught a nice game for Pembroke, while Pearson filled the short stop position to perfection for P. H. S.

All the players put up a nice game and but for several wild throws and bonehead plays, the score would have been less.

The batteries were: P. H. S., Tabor, Williams and Pack. Pembroke, Helton and Lucas. Umpires, John Duncan and Tood Douthat.

Another game is to be played here Saturday, possibly between the same teams.

NOTICE!

The Board of Supervisors will on the 7th day of May, 1912, at the Court House, receive sealed bids for scraping and painting (one coat), the County Bridge at Ripplemead. Paint furnished by county.

By order of the Board.

F. E. SKIDMORE, Clerk.

Metal and Seed.

White Lead and White Zinc made from the Metals Lead and Zinc—are pigments. Linseed Oil is pressed out of Flaxseed. A little Oil mixed with these pigments constitutes the L. & M. semi-paste Paint. It's made so that by adding 3 quarts of Linseed Oil to a gallon of L. & M. semi-paste—1½ gallons of ready for use Paint is produced at a cost of $1.57 per gallon. Anybody can mix the Oil with the L. & M. in five minutes. It saves from $5. to $25. in painting a house. Call on H. B Shelton & Co., Pearisburg, Va.

Say Not.

Say not there is no use to try,
To struggle and to do one's best;
Beyond the shadows burns the sky
Blue to its clear and joyous crest,
Say not there is no hope for you,
That everything is but to fail!
The dreams some time, somewhere, come true,
And spring comes laughing up the vale.

Say not there is no use to hope,
To trust and find delusion vain!
The violets of the April dawn
Are just beyond the cold and rain,
Say not there is no use at all,
That only sorrow's real, and night!
The hour beyond this hour of loss
Is set, perhaps, to bring you light!

Say not that it is never best
To feel contented and like one
Who trusts that just beyond the crest
Of every shadow rides the sun!
Say not that you have tried so oft,
To find but failure and deceit!
The last great effort flings aloft
The banner to the winds grown sweet.

Say not the struggle is not wise,
That only failure waits the end!
On every breeze the rumor flies
Of footsteps of a coming friend,
No effort, howsoe'er it fails,
Is useless in this world of strife,
For climbing still time's ivied walks
It lives to help some other life.

Dr. Pedigo On Outlaw Country.

Tells of the Wonderful Mountain District in Which the Allen Gang is Hiding.

DR. L. G. PEDIGO.
(From Roanoke World.)

Years ago, this writer had the pleasure of tramping through the wild region, in which the Allens are giving the best detectives in this country one of the most delicate and difficult problems of their lives. It happened in this fashion:

I was taking a vacation in Patrick county with a view to visiting and climbing the pinnacle of the Dan—a piece of scenery worth going half across a continent to see. I was at Stuart (Patrick courthouse). I had tried for two days to engage a guide. My time was limited, but I found it impossible to hurry my arrangements. I was surrounded by a proposition which can't be hurried. They have a theory that there is as much time now as there ever was. This, contrary to the usual feeling in the great rushing "outside world" that somehow time is getting scarce. The mountaineers have the advantage of us in this bit of philosophy. Later I was vaporing around on the front porch of an ancient tavern, occupied by a mixed crowd, trying to shame somebody into helping me. A long lanky figure with white hair and beard was sprawling in an easy chair in a remote corner. At some stage of his checkered career some enemy had struck him between the eyes with a brick and "caved in" the bridge of his nose. With a cynical expression worthy of the hero of "By order of the King" after the Comprachicos had finished their plastic work on his countenance he growled out this: "What are you fussing about over there? I'll go with you to the pinnacle." "When will you go? Next week?" "No! right now!" "Shall I hire a horse or a mule for you?" "Don't you bother about me, I'll furnish my own horse." "Tied in the back lot." "Meet me in front in five minutes, and we start."

In five minutes by the watch—old Jim Boyd—"constable of the Dan River deestrick"—had led out the leanest, most forlorn looking specimen of a flea-bitten gray horse I had ever seen. You could count his ribs by sight, or almost hang your hat on his hip bone. A dilapidated wooden saddle with one stirrup leather four inches longer than the other and a rope bridle completed the pathetic outfit. I had engaged for my own use a beautiful well-bred saddle horse that could go all the gaits known to the jockey fraternity. We then mounted for the 20 mile ride and my animal went prancing off—a living wave of grace and beauty. I felt sorry for my aged guide and said, "Mr. Boyd, you set the pace. I want to make this ride comfortable for you." "That's all right!" came the answer in rather irritable tones. Evidently he did not appreciate my patronizing manner. Eventually we struck the foot of the Blue Ridge and that old mountain horse commenced reaching out and climbing that long, steep grade. Before we were half way to the summit the guide was a hundred yards ahead. My beautiful horse was puffing and blowing and struggling, in a froth of sweat. A white bearded face with a quiet diabolical leer looked back and said, "Doctor, you set the pace, I want to make this ride comfortable for you!" Oh! Jim Boyd! He has gone to the land where the lawbreakers cease from troubling and the weary mountain constable is at rest. But—the ice once broken—the stories of thrilling adventure he told me in those two days of rambling will never be forgotten, stories that would make "Arabian Nights" seem like a volume from a Sunday school library. He was a rare individual character and yet a type of the Blue Ridge mountaineers.

"Oh wild as the accents of lover's farewell.
Are the hearts which they bear and the tales which they tell."

After climbing till we were up against the clouds we reached the high table lands of the Blue Ridge. We rode for miles through this country, hills, valleys, apparently low mountain ranges (for we are near the altitude of the creste), grass lands with flocks of sheep grazing, dense forests, clear streams. The head waters of the Dan river roll lazily along on top of the ground "Meadows of the Dan" eventually it takes a tumble down into a true canyon and you have the "Great Falls of the Dan." Ages ago in the gradual making of this canyon the rushing waters found a hard point of rock in the center of the channel and following the line of least resistance cut a channel 650 feet deep on either side. Then they found it softer and less resistant in the left channel and continued cutting down until they have reached an additional depth of 500 feet, leaving the right channel high and dry. With this bit in geological history, the present topography is easily understood. We passed a resort where blockade brandy was circulating and a drunken man came out calling my guide by name, cursing, grossly insulting and threatening him. All of which made no more impression and elicited no more notice or response than the flitting of a sparrow across the road. After spending the night in a mountain cabin home where you are supposed to eat pie three times a day, after almost forgetting that we are on top of the mountains, we are forcibly reminded of it, in approaching pinnacles by sudden appearance beneath us of the canyon nearly 1,500 feet in depth figured from the crest of the mountains. The first view is not from a distance but right at hand. We have to go down to reach the pinnacle. First we have what the natives call the shoulder or hump, a sort of promontory. From this point our illustration is made. The view here is over awing. It is not distant scenery but near by hemmed in and frowning savagely right in your face. True from this point by looking down the gorge you can see Pilot Knob in North Carolina, but this is a narrow vista and is simply one detail. The thrilling part of it all is right at your feet. We go down and find "the saddle," a ridge twelve feet wide at the crest, connecting the "shoulder" with the pinnacle. Standing on this we are 500 feet above the Dan river, while 650 feet above us is the summit of the Pinnacle. Therefore, when with infinite caution and hard climbing we reach the summit we look over a sheer precipice 1,150 feet high on the river side. A daring engineer in the earlier part of the nineteenth century made this estimate and recorded it with a chisel on the solid rock at the summit. At the time of my visit a more daring engineer, an eagle, had built her eyrie half way up on the vertical face of the Pinnacle, where she and her young were safer from her ancient enemy—man—than any of the Allens are in whatever hiding place today. Arriving at the top you find that the Dan river almost encircles you and that you are hemmed in by a rim of mountains 300 feet higher than the pinnacle. When you throw a stone over the brink you can not follow it with your eye till it reaches the tree tops in the forest in the bottom of the canyon. Fire a pistol from this point and the echo continues reverberating in succession till it sounds like cannonading down the gorge. When you look around up and down and across the wild gorge you agree at once with the widely traveled woman who visited this point just before I reached there and said she had never seen anything wilder or more picturesque in the Swiss Alps. Another impression comes over you that hunting for a fugitive in such a country is a forlorn hope. But when you come back and look into the face of William G. Baldwin you know that the Allens will be caught if they stay on the face of this planet.

A High Opinion of Harmon.

Governor Harmon has done more actual work in an executive capacity than any other man in the field for honors in the Democratic National Convention. The achievements of Mr. Underwood or Governor Wilson, or Speaker Clark, separately, or even put together, do not amount to as much as those of Governor Harmon alone. He has been especially efficient in getting things done in Ohio that were opposed by what are popularly called "the interests."

Moreover, Governor Harmon carried his State by about 20,000 in the same year that Mr. Taft carried it by 70,000 and after two years Governor Harmon, coming up for re-election, crrried the State by 100,000. Yet Mr. Bryan takes the trouble, just now, to make the awful charge that Governor Harmon is the Wall Street favorite among the Democratic candidates. "Brutus says he was ambitious."—Buffalo News (Rep.)

A girl of seven in California saved a passenger train from wreck on broken rails by presence of mind and timely warning. This is one of the few exceptions proving the rule against the use in life of the infant phenomenon.

As for the fellow who has been going with a girl three years without renting a flat and asking the question, he had better look out. Something is likely to happen.

REV. M. H. BITTINGER.

Rev. M. H. Bittinger, Pastor Emeritus of Centreville Presbyterian church, was born at Georgetown, D. C., now West Washington, Oct. 14, 1826. He was graduated from the College of New Jersey, now Princeton University, in 1849, and entered Princeton Theological Seminary the same year. He graduated from that institution in 1852, and was licensed to preach by the Presbytery of New Brunswick, N. J., April 28, 1852.

He came to Giles county, Va., in 1853, and had charge of the Presbyterian church at Pearisburg for two years, when he came to Monroe county and took charge of Centreville church, with preaching points at Rich Creek and River View near Lowell, and occasional appointments at Shanklin's Ferry, Crump's Bottoms, Mouth of Greenbrier, and many other places. He was made Pastor Emeritus of Centreville church in 1902.

Besides his ministerial work Mr. Bittinger taught school at Springfield and at Greenville and served one term as County Superintendent of Schools. Few men in the county have been more widely known and perhaps not one has been more highly esteemed. His long life has been one of devotion to his Master and unselfish service of his fellowmen. The value of his work can not be known till that day when the Lord shall return and reckon with His servants; but his has been no idle talent laid away in a napkin. Dr. C. E. Vawter, who knew him intimately, and who was himself eminent for his service to others, once said, "I would rather have the life and work of Mr. Bittinger placed to my account than that of any man I ever knew."

Mr. Bittinger's serene and cheerful old age is a beautiful example of the sweetening and brightening influence of religion. His presence among us is felt as a benediction, and many are the hearts that turn to him with veneration, with gratitude and love.—Monroe Watchman.

Probably there are some (but very few), who remember this preacher. He is the first minister we remember ever preaching in this place, as we were very young when he was paster here. We are glad, indeed, to know that this good, old reverend gentleman is still alive and active in the service of the Master, though we had thought he had gone to where the faithful go many years ago. He is now in his 86th year. We hope he will live many years to come and that through him many souls may yet be saved.

Rev. M. W. Royall will preach at Eggleston Sunday morning and night. There will be a business meeting Saturday at 2 p. m He will preach at Mt. View Sunday afternoon at 3:30 p m.

Pearisburg Pharmacy has a fresh stock of drugs, rubber sundries, brushes, toilet articles, cut glass, and japalac in different sizes and colors. Prescriptions carefully compounded by Dr. J. A Booth, Proprietor.

That energetic and persevering little animal called the flea, has arrived Did you ever try to catch him? Isn't he a hard fellow to get your fingers on? It would puzzle a Pearisburg lawyer to catch him.

E W Hobbs of Narrows, was in town Monday and gave us a visit. He has been appointed by Judge Fulton Kegley as a member of the Pension Board. Mr. Hobbs is a real gentleman, and no better man could fill this position.

Read the change in the "ad" of Messrs. H. B. Shelton & Co., at top of this page. They have something nice for ladies, gentlemen and every one. They have everything usually kept in a first-class store; also the best and prettiest of everything.

Pearisburg is on the mend. Fount Johnston has painted his mammoth livery stable a fiery red. It looks quite conspicuous. There are a number of other houses in this town the paint brush would not do any damage if applied to them. Why don't you do it? It makes your property look better, also adds to the beauty of the town.

Mrs. W. F. Collins and little son, Billy of Bluefield, were visiting homefolks here Saturday and Sunday, returning home Monday.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Hoge Mason of Bluefield, was buried in the Mason Cemetery near here last Friday. This little child was only five days old when it died.

J. Walter Munsey moving from Eggleston, this county, to Craig county, has this to say: "As I have moved up in Craig county my family thinks they cannot do without the home paper."

A card from W. D. Woolwine of Los Angeles, Cal., states that he, his wife and daughter, left on the 15th inst. for an extended visit through Belgium, France, England, Ireland, Scotland, Germany and Italy. They will sail on their return trip from Naples, October 24th.

Dr. Walter Woodyard and wife of Greeneville, Tenn., arrived here on Wednesday last to visit their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Woodyard. The Dr. returned to his home Saturday. Mrs. William Woodyard has been very ill for some time, and is not much better at this writing.

Mrs. C. T. Painter will be at W. E. Goodwin's store, Eggleston, Friday and Saturdy, April 19th and 20th, with a fine assortment of ladies and children's new Spring hats in the latest styles and most beautiful designs. Call on these days and examine her stock. Read her advertisement at top of this page.

Miss Mary Dunreath Woolwine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Woolwine of Narrows, who is on a visit to her aunt, Mrs. Lee of Alemeda, Cal., has also visited her relatives, W. D. Woolwine, wife and daughter of Los Angeles, Cal., returned to Alemeda on the 5th inst. A cousin of hers will come home with her for the summer on her return home.

Mrs. H. A. Johnston and children, who were visiting her husband's parents, the editor of this paper and his wife, and who was detained here for three weeks, owing to her young son, Ivan, getting his leg broke, returned to her home last week at Princeton, W. Va. We are glad to state the little one is getting along remarkably well and if nothing else happens, will be able to walk again in a few weeks

There are certainly some good people in and around Pearisburg and who will make great efforts to attend church, and Mr. John French of Curve, is one of these, he having walked from Curve to this place and back many times at night in order to attend the revival services that has been going on here. Mr. and Mrs. Geo. C. Wilburn came from Sugar Run, a distance of six or seven miles at night that they might be at these services, but they did not walk. This shows the interest some people take in the good work.

The revival services at the M. E. church still continue with unabated interest. Many souls are being saved. The attendance is real good and the people are deeply interested. When these services discontinue we will tell you all about the meeting, and the good it has accomplished.

Rev. J. G. Reveley, who has been called from the Presbyterian churches of Bland to take charge of said churches in this county, and who has accepted the call, will preach his first sermon here in the Presbyterian Church Sunday morning at 11 o'clock and at Narrows at night. Let the good people of these towns turn out and give this reverend a hearty welcome, so that he may feel that he is at home among us.

DEATH OF DR. WM. COBURN.

Dr. William Coburn of Narrows, one of the oldest and most respected citizens of our county, died at his home in that place on Monday afternoon. He was about 80 years of age. He had been ill for some time and life had been despaired of. He was a good man and beloved by all who knew him. His wife preceded him to the grave several years ago. He leaves several children and a host of friends to mourn his departure. His funeral was preached by his pastor, Rev. W. B. Belchee at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, after which he was laid to rest in the family burying ground, the Masons taking charge of the body.

We tender to the bereaved ones our heartfelt sympathy.

Death of Mrs. J. T. Duncan.

Dublin, Va., April 4—Mrs. Elizabeth Duncan, wife of Mr. J. T. Duncan, died last night at the family home near Highland. While she had only been confined to her bed about three weeks yet she had been in ill health for several years as a result of cancer. She is survived by her husband, several children, a number of grandchildren and other close relatives. She was a native of this section of the country and was born about 67 years ago. Prior to her marriage she was a Miss Anderson. She had been a member of the Methodist church for 53 years, and so long as she was able was a faithful and devout attendant upon all church services. The funeral will be held tomorrow, Friday afternoon from the Highland church with interment in the graveyard near by. The funeral service will be conducted by her pastor, Rev. N. R. Cartright, assisted by Rev. J. T. Trolinger, of Pulaski.

Mrs. Duncan is the mother of W. T. Duncan of Ripplemead. She had a large relationship and many friends in this county, who will regret to hear of the death of this good, Christian lady.

NOTICE!

The Board of Supervisors will on the 7th day of May, 1912, at the Court House, receive sealed bids for scraping and painting (one coat), the County Bridge at Ripplemead. Paint furnished by county.

Paddle Your Own Canoe.

(Published by request)

I've travel'd about a bit in my time,
And of troubles I've seen a few,
But found is better in ev'ry clime,
To paddle my own canoe.

My wants are small, I care not at all,
If my debts are paid when due;
I drive away strife in the ocean of life,
While I paddle my own canoe.

Then love your neighbor as yourself,
As the world you go traveling through;
And never sit down with a tear or a frown,
But paddle your own canoe.

I have no wife to bother my life,
No lover to prove untrue;
But the whole day long with a laugh and a song,
I paddle my own canoe.

I rise with the lark and from daylight 'till dark,
I do what I have to do,
I'm careless of wealth if I've only the health,
To paddle my own canoe.

To borrow is dearer by far than to buy,
A maxim, tho' old, still true;
You never will sigh if you only will try,
To paddle your own canoe.

If a hurricane rise in the mid-day skies,
And the sun is lost to view,
Move steadily by with a steadfast eye,
And paddle your own canoe.

The daisies that grow in the bright green fields,
Are blooming so sweet for you,
So never sit down with a tear or a frown,
But paddle your own canoe.

Why Men Don't Marry.

BY MRS. E. S. CHAYCROFT.

One young woman declares that the chief reason why men do not marry is that women are not as easily won as in the old days.

"There are so many avenues open to women today," she says, "that matrimony loses some of its glamor.

"Ever since the world began woman has been under an obligation to man; for centuries she has been dependent upon him, and now, for the first time, she is able to flutter her wings and soar to moderate heights without his aid.

"As a daughter and wife, or even sister, she has had to turn to him for everything. Not a penny did she spend but what she must first ask for it; her every action must be explained, and did she depart from the given rule in the slightest degree she was open to severe criticism.

"Suddenly she has discovered that there is a place for woman, as well as for man, in the world's field of work, and is it any wonder that she is slightly dazzled with her independence?"

The young woman may be right in some respects. She is making her trial trip of independence, and is one of the "dazzled" ones she speaks of.

But if she thinks the majority of women are better off out in the world reeking careers than in their natural sphere of wife and motherhood she is highly mistaken.

There is no career open to women that comes within a thousand miles of that of being happily married.

Men are not crazy about independence in women; they prefer that they should be gentle and yielding.

The modern girl, flushed with her success as a business woman, is in some danger of becoming rather masterful.

Now, girls, I want to tell you something.

If the men are going to remain unmarried let it be because you don't want them, not because they don't want you. Don't lose checks.

your greatest charm—your femininity.

Men will never care for the mannish girl. What they want is sweet, lovable, womanly women.

If you feel that you must be independent, go out in the world, earn your living, but don't grow unwomanly. And don't throw away the love of a good man because you fancy that you have a "career" before you.

Careers are all very fine while you are young and hopeful, with all the world before you.

But how about the lonely days to come?

You may have made enough to live comfortably—all by yourself—but wouldn't it be nicer if you had a strong, gentle arm to lean on and bright young faces to gaze upon?

There is no comparison between the lonely spinster and the happy married woman. I speak from experience.

Don't add to the growing ranks of bachelors by refusing to marry, and don't be so independent that men will be afraid to ask you.

Don't marry a man that you don't love, but be very sure that you don't love him before you refuse him.

Lots of heartaches have come from indiscretion

Make yourself so attractive that even the most hardened old bachelors will succumb to your wiles.

There is not one of them so hardened but that he has some vulnerable spot. Perhaps you can't find it.

Don't let it be said that the men of today don't marry because the girls of today are not as attractive as their grandmothers were.

Because that is not so. The modern girl is the best product of modern civilization. But she must guard against becoming too self-sufficient or she will frighten the men away.

And as the modern man seems rather timid in regard to matrimony that would never do.

A teacher was one afternoon examining a class of young boys in geography. He said:

"Now, boys, what do you think that Noah did while he was in the ark?"

After waiting several minutes he saw one hand go up, and the little chap, on being asked what he thought that Noah did, said:

"Sir, I think he might have fished some."

"Yes," said the instructor, "that is possible; he might have fished some."

Presently another small hand went up. The teacher asked this one also what he thought about it.

The small boy said: "I don't think that he fished very long, because he only had two worms."—Exchange.

A farmer near Corning whose son was an applicant for a position under the government, but who had been repeatedly turned down, said:

"Well, it's hard luck, but John has missed that civil service again. It looks like they just won't have him!"

"What was the trouble?"

"Well, he was short on spellin' and geography, and missed party fur in mathematics."

"What is he going to do about it?"

"I dunno. Times is mighty hard, and I reckon he'll have to go back to teaching school for a livin'."—Kansas City Journal.

The world owes every man a living, but it doesn't send out

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

Bane, Va., April 8.—The social event of the week was a birthday dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Eaton, Saturday, April 6th, in celebration of Mrs. Eaton's fortieth birthday. The occasion was enjoyable from the arrival of the first guest to the departure of the last one.

Music was discovered during the day by the Wabash Cornet Band. Their music was of the highest order and greatly enjoyed.

The dinner consisted of every available dish of the season and was elegantly served.

The guests were treated to a real demonstration of genuine Virginia hospitality.

Mrs. Eaton was the recipient of many handsome presents of cut glass, linen and silver.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Charlton and sons, Reginald and Auldman of Wilcox, W. Va.; Mr. and Mrs. Geo. P. Hedrick, Mr. and Mrs. D. M. St. Clair, Mrs. P. F. St. Clair, Mr. Joe Scott, Mrs. Bert Scott, Mrs. Minerva Eaton, Mr. and Mrs. Austin Robertson, Mrs. Alice Eaton, Mrs. J. B. Correll, Mrs. Charles Henderson, Mr. L. B. Stafford, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Shufflebarger, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Peters, Mrs. W. B. Stafford, J. D. Eaton, C. H. Habbernigg, Richard Eaton, Philip Rowe, A. C. Brown, F. E. Brown, S. U. Vermillion, W. B. King, Clarence King, Miss Ada Wilburn, Mrs. M. D. Wilburn, Miss Rhoda May Henderson, Miss Macie Henderson, Alford Meadows, Robert Eaton, Albert Eaton, Roscoe Eaton, Rev. D. T. Miles, Anderson Eaton, Miss Nita Rector, Miss Nellie Brown Eaton, Misses Lottie Correll, Annie Correll, Sadie Correll, Pauline Miles and Mary Georgia Hedrick and Charlton Martin.

Late in the afternoon the guests bade farewell to the hostess with kindest wishes for many happy returns of the day.

Nothing published in The Roanoke Times pleases the editorial department so much as the simple, stereotyped accounts of the social affairs of our country people. We like to read about parties given here and there and the delicious refreshments and games played and music and recitations. All these indicate that the people are enjoying life and that some of them, at least, have some surplus to spend in decorations and fancy candies and ice cream and other luxuries.

Especially did we enjoy the account of Mrs. Eaton's birthday party at Bane, Giles county. Mrs. Eaton is forty years old and evidently proud of it and her husband is proud of it. That is the age at which women usually begin to be sensitive and reticent. Hazarding a guess, we surmise that Mrs. Eaton is a trim, well preserved, good looking woman with sense in her head and just a little of the personal vanity every woman ought to have and that her husband is just a bit afraid of her, as every good married man should be of his wife, and firmly persuaded that in the matrimonial lottery he drew the capital prize.

So many women are old and ashamed at forty—the time when really they ought to be in the very zenith and glory of their womanhood and power and beauty and fulness—and so many misguided and miserable men are weary of their wives at forty, the time when they are at their best as helpmeets and lovers and associates, that it is refreshing to read of this gentleman and lady of Giles joyfully celebrating the lady's fortieth birthday. There is dignity and meaning and beauty about such a party. Long life and continuing happiness and prosperity to Mrs. and Mr. Eaton. May the lady continue until her hair is entirely white to be the queen of her household, loved and obeyed; and may the husband live to enjoy a sturdy and ripe age, always remembering his wife's birthday and willing and able to give a party in honor of it, well up into the nineties.—Roanoke Times.

KELLEYSVILLE.

(Last Week's Items.)

There was an Easter entertainment at Oakvale Sunday night. Those who went from this place were Fred Vest, Oscar Shelton, Marshall Mikey, Lawn Smith, Foster Wright and Miss Pearl Vest. Everybody had a good time.

Walter Vest was calling on his uncle, Charles Vest, the other day.

Misses Blanche Pierce, Pearl Vest, Messrs. Oscar Shelton and Mickey were visiting Miss Susie Williams Sunday at Oakvale.

Miss Dollie Stafford was shopping at Bluefield, Saturday.

Miss Pearl Vest and Miss Etta Weeks attended the burial of Mrs. Bonham, Sunday.

Mrs. Carrie Bonham died Friday night. She had been sick for a week. She will be missed in this community. She was a good woman and was loved by all who knew her. She leaves a husband and four children to mourn her loss.

A precious one from us has gone,
A voice we loved is still;
A place is vacant in her home
Which never can be filled.

Pearl Vest.

Nobusiness Lumber Company has been manufacturing lumber ever since first of February. They have not got all their machinery running yet. Their dinkey is broke down again.

The farmers are getting along fine with their work.

There is talk of being plenty of tan bark peeled this season.

Hoge Mason of Bluefield has been spending two or three days each week here of late.

Uncle Rastus.

Rev. Herman Linskog of St. Ansgarius Swedish Episcopal church, Chicago, holds the record of tying the best knots of any minister in the United States. We would advise him to try New York City, where it is almost impossible to have a good job done—the knot being untied in a couple of years, more or less. This minister has married 4,607 couples, and out of all these only two couples have been divorced. We think he ought to give other preachers a recipe so they could be successful in this knot tying business.

Many are called, but few want to get up.

BRILLIANT MARRIAGE.

Bright and fair dawned the day for the marriage of W. B Long of Lindside, West Va., to Miss Francenia Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs A. C. Williams of Olean, Va., which event occurred on the morning of tenth of April at nine o'clock.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. M. W. Royall of Pearisburg, in a most impressive manner at the handsome home of the bride.

The home was beautifully decorated in evergreens. The bride and groom entered, accompanied by the maid of honor, Miss Ethel Rogers, and the best man, Mr. John Buchanan, to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, and formed a lovely picture under the beautiful arch of green.

The bride's gown was a dream of white net over taffeta. The veil was artistically draped to enhance the loveliness of the fair bride. She carried a handsome boquet of bride's roses. The maid of honor wore a lovely creation of white silk and carried pink carnation.

Mrs. Andrew Williams, sister of the bride, and guest of honor, was handsomely gowned in black silk.

The groom is a prosperous farmer of Lindside. The bride is one of the most lovely and popular of the Olean girls.

Immediately after the ceremony the happy couple took the train for their home at Lindside.

REVIVAL SERVICES CLOSED.

The revival services commenced in the M. E. church four weeks ago last Sunday, by Revs. W. B. Belchee and Thomas Sexton, the blacksmith preacher and evangelist, (the former helping only two weeks), came to a close on Thursday night last. The rest of the services up to the night mentioned have been carried on by the pastor, Rev. W. B. Belchee, assisted by Rev. M. W. Royall of the Missionary Baptist church of this place.

These services throughout their entire length, have been remarkably well attended, which proved, conclusively, that the people were interested.

Bro. Belchee labored hard and earnestly for the salvation of souls and if they were not saved it is certainly through no fault of his as the congregations, which attended, could testify to, if it were needed.

Fifty-four persons professed faith in Christ and a goodly number of them have joined the different churches, and more will do so, a little later on.

Many of those converted are heads of families, which make the meeting more interesting, as this enables them (if they do their duty) to bring up their children in the proper manner—in the fear of the Lord.

Another feature of the meeting is, many members who have not been in the habit of holding family prayers, have had their spiritual strength renewed and have gone to taking down the Bible, reading a chapter, and offering up a prayer.

There is still another feature, there are more persons asking a blessing on sitting down to their meals, than has been done in Pearisburg for years.

This has been a great revival, and its influence will be felt in this community for years to come, and probably never be forgotten by those who participated in it, particularly by the young men who have been so abundantly blessed and saved from their sins.

Rev. S. S. Catron, preached a short but able sermon, the last night. Quite a number came forward and shook hands with the pastor and promised to lead better lives in the future, a step in the right direction. Before the benediction there was a good, old-fashioned hand shake, which touched the hearts of many.

Thus endeth one of the greatest revivals ever held in this place (though not the largest in number of conversions) but because it has done so much good other ways.

Paint and "Paint."

Paint itself costs $2.10 per gallon—but remember that—Lindseed Oil costs only $1 00 per gallon, and that "Paint" ready for use consists of 4 parts Paint and 3 parts Oil. Consequently it is plain—that you should buy Paint and Oil separately—mix them yourself—and so save 45 cents per gallon. Therefore buy L. & M. Paint (prepared in semi-paste form) mix three quarts of Oil to each 1 gallon L. & M. and make 1¾ gallons of Paint ready for use at $1 65 a gallon.

Chance to Secure Summer Session of William and Mary College for Pearisburg.

It has been decided that William and Mary College of Williamsburg, Va., will hold a Summer Session at some town in Southwest Virginia, the session to continue for a period of eight weeks, beginning this year the 19th of June. During the Session, it is the intention to proceed along the same lines, and go on with the regular routine of work that is carried on at the college, and all the necessary paraphernalia from the college will be brought along for this work, the Norfolk & Western Railway Co., having promised free transportation of it from and to the college. It is presumed that a goodly number of the regular students of the college will attend these sessions, and it is the intention to canvass Southwest Virginia for male students, especially those who think of fitting themselves for the work of teaching, it being a recognized fact that William and Mary is a most superb institution in that line of work, and, as we understand it, the only State school of the kind for males, within our borders.

Now, people of Pearisburg and Giles county, what will you do?

A few days since a committee composed of Messrs. J. W. Ritchie and R. C. Young, of the faculty of William and Mary were sent out to visit several towns in the Southwest and they honored our town with a visit to ascertain if we desired the school, and were willing to meet the requirements. They will need ten or twelve suitable rooms for laboratory work, also suitable accommodations in our homes, and at reasonable rates, for the students, of whom there are expected one hundred or more. In addition to this, a certain sum of money is needed to defray the expense of sending out the necessary canvassers to the end that a sufficient number of students be secured to make the session a success, as well as to meet other expenses that will necessarily be incurred.

Let it be understood that it is not only proposed to hold a Summer Session this Summer only, but annually thereafter, and it is the intention to select the place for this session that will also be used for future sessions.

Again we ask, what are Pearisburg and Giles county going to do about it? We will answer. They are going to pull and pull hard and use every honorable means to secure this attraction for our county. Radfrod, Dublin, Christiansburg and other towns are after it, good and strong, and have already offered to meet all the conditions asked.

Pearisburg has probably more natural advantages and attactions than either of the towns mentioned, and she can entertain those who will be in attendance, and it would not only be an institution from which we could expect value received for our money and efforts, but it would also be one, the securing of which would be a distinction and honor to our county.

A mass meeting was held at the court house on Saturday evening to take up and discuss the matter, and it was practically unanimous that no stone should be left unturned in endavoring to land this institution. At the meeting Messrs. F. E. Snidow, H. B. Shelton and E. S. Dennis were appointed as a committee to take up the matter with the citizens. They have already discussed it with quite a number and have met with very encouraging success, and now, friends, when these gentlemen see you on the subject, don't be pessimistic and grouchy, but respond in the loyal manner that is always so characteristic of Giles county citizens when anything looking to her progress and advancement is offered.

MRS. J. C. DAILEY DEAD.

Bluefield, W. Va., April 16.—After a two weeks' illness Mrs. J. C. Dailey, aged forty years, passed away Sunday night at her home, 120 Giles street. Death was caused by typhoid fever. Hope for Mrs. Dailey's recovery had been held out from time to time, but she commenced to sink so rapidly the latter part of last week that it was seen her death could be but a matter of hours and her relatives and friends were prepared for the end when it came shortly after 6 o'clock.

The funeral services will be held this morning at the Presbyterian church and will be conducted by Rev. S. W. Moore, after which the body will be taken on train No. 4, to Pearisburg from which place the funeral party will go to Wabash, where the burial will take place in the family burying ground.

The funeral of Mrs. Dailey will be the first to occur from the new auditorium of the Presbyterian church and the death is the second which has occurred in the Presbyterian congregation in nearly two years. The church has a membership of over 300.

Mrs. Dailey is survived by her widower, Jesse C. Dailey.—Blufield Daily Telegraph.

Mrs. Dailey was the youngest daughter of the late John Hughes of Wabash, and is survived by one brother, Arthur Hughes, and three sisters, Mrs. George B. Eaton, Mrs. Charles Dulaney and Mrs. Dr. F. G. Anderson of Wabash.

About twenty five or thirty persons accompanied the remains from Bluefield to her last resting place.

We extend to the bereaved husband, brother and sisters our sincere sympathy.

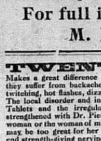
TWENTY YEARS.

Makes a great difference in most women. They are troubled with "nerves"—they suffer from backache, headache, sleeplessness, a sensation of irritability or twitching, hot flashes, dizzy spells, or many other symptoms of female weakness. The local disorder and inflammation should be treated with Dr. Pierce's Lotion Tablets and the irregularity and weakness of the female system corrected and strengthened with Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. The strain upon the young woman or the woman of middle age upon the nerve and blood forming structures may be too great for her strength. This is the time to take this restorative tonic and strength-giving nervine and regulator. For over forty years sold by druggists for woman's peculiar weaknesses and distressing ailments. The one remedy so perfect in composition and so good in curative effects as to warrant its makers in printing its every ingredient on its outside wrapper. The sure remedy which absolutely contains neither alcohol nor injurious or habit-forming drugs.

Following letter selected at random from a large number of similar ones and cited merely to illustrate these remarks:



Mrs. Scott.

"In the winter of 1897, I became greatly run down and breaking in health. Was troubled with pain in my left side, and had a bad cough. I wrote Dr. Pierce my symptoms, and, at last, resolved to apply to the doctors for help. The doctor said I had inflammation, enlargement and ulceration. I was in bed eleven weeks and got no better. The doctor said I would have to have an operation, but to that I would not listen. My husband purchased two bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and one bottle of 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I started to take them and I could not walk across the floor, but after I had taken the first bottle I could feel myself gaining, so I dropped the doctor and took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Only for it I think I would have been dead—I really believe it saved my life. I feel better now than in twenty years."

The Busy Mother.

(Sara Roberta Crotty, in Frostburg Mining Journal.)

From early dawn she works—till late at night;
No rest for aching brow or tired feet:
Her help brings aid in every childish plight—
To every baby-woe a refuge sweet.

At night she sits, a babe upon her arm—
Its tiny head in safety on her breast;
About her knee, secure from any harm
She hears the lisping prayers of all the rest.

As she, all weariness and cares forgot,
Imprints upon each cheek her good-night kiss,
Not with a queen would she exchange her lot—
No throne could bring such happiness as this.

Dear loyal mother! we who love her know
That, clothed in mystery deep her kingdom lies
Safe and secure where none but she may go
Within the azure depths of baby's eyes.

Tired mother, faller not—each noble deed,
However small, is watched by One above;
He, holy will send, each wayward step to lead,
And power to rale each little heart with love.

Sermon on Baseball.

[Published by Request.]

Prefacing her sermon with a recitation of "Casey at the Bat," the Rev. Franklin Baker, pastor of the First Unitarian Church at Sacramento, California, spoke to a large congregation in defense of Sunday baseball. He said that the $15,000,000 spent on baseball last season was better expended than the same sum in foreign missions.—News Item.

Shades of Abraham, Isaac, Jacob, Jehosophat and Sally Ann Swiggins! If that don't everlastingly cook your honorable grand mammy's rye dumplings, I'll be dogone!

Whenever an old worldly wise, pride pampered puke of a preacher does set out to make a genuine jabbering jackass of himself he never fails to get there with both feet.

The Fool-Killer has handled quite a variety of pumpkin-headed pulpit-pounders in its time, but this crazy California crank is an unclassified curiosity. He is a human grubworm. He crawls on his back and goes wrong end foremost. He was born on a cloudy night, when they couldn't see how to put his thinker in straight, and he rode into the pulpit on the hind wheels of bad luck. His preaching sounds like a cross between the howl of a hell-cat and the tout of a tin horn.

"Casey at the Bat" is a dingbusted jimdandy of a text to preach a sermon from, dog my cats if it ain't. And I think old man Baker makes just about such a blooming bust at the preaching business as Casey did at the bat. You remember Casey started out like he was just going to put the game in his vest pocket and walk off with it. But it wasn't more than three flaps of a Junebug's wing till "great Casey had struck out." And it looks to me like that fool preacher struck out the first pass he made at it.

Baseball is such an all-fired important business that the week days are not long enough to play enough of it in, and so the Rev. Fool Baker would like to see Mr. Casey bit the Sabbath a few whacks with his baseball bat and break it all to flinderations.

A pretended preacher who has no more respect for the Sabbath than that ought to be compelled to live for twelve years on raw baseballs, and have them rammed down his ungodly goozle with the big end of a baseball bat till his belly hung out over the waistband of his breeches like a second story hay window full of green turnips.

And he thinks it is better to spend $15,000,000 on baseball than on Foreign Missions. Jumping Jerusalem! And that from a thing that calls itself a preacher! Why, honey, that fellow ain't no more fit to preach the gospel than a jackass is fit to teach a singing school.

It looks like tomfoolery to spend fifteen million dollars on baseball or foreign missions either while we have such howling heathens right here in our own country as the Rev. Franklin Baker, D. D.—Fool-Killer

FAIR GIRL IS MOST POPULAR.

Statistics Show that She Has More Chances of Matrimony Than Her Dark Sister.

"The fair girl has a fifty per cent. better chance of marrying than the dark girl."

This striking statement was made by a woman who has chaperoned many debutantes, saying: "Fair girls are more tender and loving than dark girls, but a dark girl is capable of a greater and more lasting affection, once her affection is completely won."

"Why is it," she continued, "that one sees so few fair-haired old maids? They are almost always dark, possessing more often than not strong, vigorous minds, with little sentiment about them."

"Personally, I think the fair girl is shallower than the brunette, more inclined to be fickle and irresponsible. Her affection is often on the surface; she is incapable of thinking deeply."

With a view to discovering the exact facts on this question the opinion of a registrar who marries dozens of people every day was sought. He confessed that he knew of no actual figures on the point, but said that the fair girl has a better chance than the dark girl.

The number of fair-haired brides is remarkable. Fair girls are generally impressionable and very sweet and trusting, and these qualities make an immediate appeal to most men, while dark girls who often poise a more lasting affections, are stronger willed.

Some of Billy Sunday's Tribute to Mothers.

Moses came into the world under sentence of death, but his mother saved him to give to the world a code of laws upon which the jurisprudence of all civilized nations is built.

Pharaoh's daughter heard Moses cry, and her motherly heart was won. It was the tears of Moses that proved to be the jewels which ransomed the children of Israel from bondage.

I am going to heaven some day, and after I have seen Moses I will hunt up his mother and ask her how much gold she received from Pharaoh for nursing her own child. It was one of the greatest jokes of all time.

Some persons ask me how the angels employed their time. I think they employed a part of their time in herding the crocodiles the other side of the Nile while Moses slept peacefully in the ark.

Don't trouble to look toward the throne for greatness. Look toward the cradle. The mother of Moses did more for the world than did all the kings of Egypt.

We have more good mothers in America than in any country beneath the shining sun. It George Washington had a happy hooligan for a mother he would himself have been a happy hooligan.

It is better to teach your boy to love truth and hate a lie than to teach him how to build an airship that will fly to the moon.

No one was ever able to swim without going into the water. How is a woman going to know how to save money who never had any money to save? If more men intrusted their finances to their WIVES, there would be fewer bankrupts. If men intrusted their wives with their bank accounts, they would find at the end of the month that there was A BIGGER BALANCE in the bank than ever before.

The Successful Man.

I notice that most successful men are those whose minds are always cool, who, no matter how swift the movements of their bodies, are able to deliberate coolly and to produce calm, sober judgment even under disturbing circumstances. It is not the man who reaches the corners first who wins, but the man who knows exactly what he is going to do when he reaches the corner. —Gov. Charles E. Hughes.

Teacher—"Now, Willie, where did you get that chewing gum? I want the truth."

Willie—"You don't want the truth, teacher, an' I'd rather not tell a lie."

Teacher—"How dare you say I don't want the truth! Tell me at once where you got that chewing gum."

Willie—"Under your desk."—Judge.

LOCAL INTEREST.

Crow Stafford of Thacker, W. Va., is visiting hometolks in this place.

Mrs. Thomas Williams and little son, James, are both on the sick list.

Miss Talia Catron of Radford, is the guest of Miss Constance Osborne.

Milton C. McNeil of Eckman, W. Va., spent Tuesday and Wednesday in town.

Miss Ruth Thompson of Poplar Hill, is visiting relatives and friends in this place.

W. F. Neel of Rocky Gap, spent last Friday with his daughter, Mrs. W. B Belcher.

Messrs. Byrd and Harry Bishop of Eggleston, were in town Monday and Tuesday.

John R Johnston returned Saturday from a visit to relatives and friends up Wolf Creek.

Mrs. I. O. Painter, who is in Jefferson Hospital, Roanoke, is reported as doing very nicely.

Miss Bertie Buchanan of Kimballton, visited her sister, Miss Mattie, during the commencement.

Mrs. Hattie Campbell of Narrows, was in town Saturday visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Brotherton.

Dr. W. F. Fisher of Lynchburg, will begin a series of meetings with Rev M. W. Royall at Eggleston Sunday night.

From the amount of bloom, this certainly ought to be a glorious year for the sweetest of things that hang on a tree—the cherry.

We notice some of our old bachelors getting quite gay of late with the young ladies. This is leap year, look out o b. they may entrap you yet

Rev. W. B. Belcher will preach at Hale's Chapel Saturday night and on Sunday morning at eleven o'clock. Bluff City in the evening at the usual hour.

Miss Marguerite Pearson has been his house guests for several days, the Misses St. Clair and Douglas Peck of Bane, and Miss Hoge of Hoge's Store.

Will Woodrum and little daughter, Elizabeth of Bluefield, spent Sunday with J. H. Woodrum and wife. Little Elizabeth will remain with her grandparents for some time.

D. P. Niday who lives near the big spring on Wolf Creek, gave us a call on Tuesday, and as is usual with all good subscribers, made us smile a smile, that was hard to rub off.

Misses Clara Leffel, Virginia Price, Marjorie Miller, Messrs. Harry and Payne Miller, Harry and Maurice Payne of Newport, were guests of Mrs. Frank B. Miller, attending commencement.

Miss Effie Robertson of Shumate, has been visiting Mrs. Kate Campbell of Johnston avenue, this city, also "taking in" the closing exercises of our High school. She returned home Tuesday.

Last week we had in our columns that L. L. Givens had returned from a veterinary college in Baltimore, Md. It should have read H. C. Givens, Washington, D. C. We gladly make the change.

A band of Gypsies passed through our town Monday on their way toward West, Va. We did not hear of any of our citizens trading horses with them or getting the worst end of the bargain.

H. L. Phlegar and family, and S. J. Strader and family, who have been residing here in order that their children might attend the Winter term of the High school, have moved back to their farms out in the country.

"Tobe" Johnston, an employe of the First National Bank of Graham, spent from Saturday until Tuesday at his home in this place. He was quite conspicuous on our streets Sunday flying around with the calico.

B. A. Brown of Lafayette, Va., who has been visiting relatives and friends at Staffordsville for several days, gave us a call one day last week. We understand Brown & Durham have sold their mill at that place.

Where does the people come from when a show or entertainment comes along? It is well enough something can draw you out. If people would only attend church as they do these two things mentioned, what nice congregations we would have.

Rev. M. W. Royall will preach in this place Sunday morning and at night. Morning subject: "Some things that Baptist believe" Night subject: "Responsibility." He will preach at Berean church Saturday after noon at two o'clock.

Read the new advertisement of Mrs. C. T. Painter at top of this page The "ad" will tell you more than we can, but she has some nice, new and fine goods to show you, and will not murmur if you should decide to purchase some of them.

The weather a few days back was quite cool. Frost was seen in Bluefield last Friday morning. On Monday afternoon we had quite a hard shower of rain, accompanied with a large amount of round white pills, and the weather has been quite cool ever since.

Some of our young men in town will have sad hearts soon, as the fair young maidens depart for their homes But then some of them are not far away, only you have a little farther to go to look on their smiling faces. It is not as though you had hundreds of miles to go.

Rev. J. G. Reveley preached his first sermon here as pastor of the Presbyterian church, Sunday, the 14th inst. He made a good impression on his hearers and all seemed well pleased with this divine We hope the people will make his stay while among us pleasant and profitable.

W. A. Stafford, J. R. Johnston and wife of Trigg, attended commencement exercises of our High School.

Porter Jackson arrived Monday from Emory, and will be the guest of his sister, Mrs. Wassom, for several days.

Platt A. Haup of Galax, spent several days at Hotel Savoy last week, leaving Sunday for Roanoke and Lynchburg.

H. F. Farley and wife of Athens, W. Va., spent last Wednesday night with Mr. and Mrs. Will Woods of our town.

We are sorry to report that Mrs. J. E. M. Stafford is quite ill at her home here. Hope to hear of her recovery soon.

The Misses Anderson of Dublin, and Misses Williams of Maybrook, were guests of Miss Emma Carper during the commencement exercises.

Misses Tom Peery and Grace Loundon of Bluefield, attended the commencement exercises and while here were the guests of Miss Mabel Muney.

R. B. Williams left Tuesday morning for Johnson City, Tenn., where he has accepted a position with the Johnson City Pennant Winners Base Ball Team.

Misses Eva Walters and Kathleen Hale, and H. C. Johnson of Narrows, attended the play, "Gypsy Queen," at the High School auditorium, Tuesday evening.

Frost (we don't know whether it was Jack or not) put in his appearance here yesterday morning. We hope he touched us gently, for we were not in a condition to have him lay his hands on us too hard.

What do you think of our Band, isn't it "some pumpkins"? It won't be long until it will be the foremost one in the State. People are amazed at the wonderful music they make. Stick to it, boys, and you are a winner sure.

A crowded house greeted the play, "Gypsy Queen," Tuesday night, the last thing on the programme of our High School commencement. Pearisburg Band discoursed a number of choice selections of music, the crowd behaved to their utmost and all seemed happy and contented. The proceeds of this entertainment amounted to $76 85.

Read the change in the advertisement of Messrs. E S. Pedigo Co., Bluefield, W. Va., in another column. Men wanting clothes of comfort would do well to try their Kirschbaum (Cherry Tree Brand) True Blue Serges, they give comfort, are cool and light, and will meet your ideal of a Summer suit. All fine wool, won't fade and are sure to please you.

On Saturday last, Dr. W. D. Woolwine, in company with Thos. C. Johnston, went to Princeton, W. Va., to remove the plaster paris cast from little Ivan Johnston's leg who got it broken while visiting his grandparents at this place last winter. He is getting along nicely—better than was to be expected—and it will only be a short while until the little fellow will be walking as well as he ever did.

William and Mary Faculty have decided to hold their Summer school at Dublin. This school is for men only, and no doubt will prove to be a permanent institution whose usefulness and importance will increase from year to year. Pearisburg and Radford were also contestants for this school, and we had hoped to be the lucky one. We congratulate our neighboring town on her success.

We are glad to note that our brother of the quill, the Bland Messenger, has installed a large cylinder press, and has discarded the old Hoe hand press. This goes to show he is thriving with his neatly printed and newsy sheet, and promises to still do better in the future. We are glad to hear this, but do not see how you can improve much, as the Messenger is one of the neatest and best country sheets that comes to us.

After this week Pearisburg will feel very lonesome, the High School term having come to a close. All the pretty and buxom girls and the fine, stalwart young men will have gone to their respective homes, which makes quite a deficit in our population. But the best of friends must part sometimes, and as this is only for a short while—in the Fall—when the most of them will return, we will try and bear it and make the best out of it.

Pembroke was again defeated by the P. H. S. boys last Saturday by the score of 13 to 3. Pearisburg outclassed Pembroke in everything known as base ball, Pembroke's fielding being ragged and doing very weak hitting throughout the entire game. Phlegar pitched a superb game for Pearisburg, and would have twirled the full game, if his southpaw arm hadn't been injured in a collision with Reed at second base in the fifth inning. Williams finished the game and did the punchout act for the few remaining innings. Pembroke used three pitchers and neither one was able to stop the P. H. S. batters. Batteries, P. H. S., Phlegar, Williams and Pack, Pembroke, Hilton, Viers, Hess and Lucas. Umpires, J. C. Duncan and Tude Douthat.

Rev. M. W. Royall, pastor of the Missionary Baptist church of this place, held services on last Sunday evening in commemoration of the ill-fated steamer, Titanic, who struck an iceberg and went down in mid ocean, and where about 1,600 souls perished. The sermon, though an interesting one, was very sad, indeed. The playing of the band on this steamer at the last moment, of "Nearer my God to Thee," was at these services sung and played by the choir in a low, solemn and impressive manner, and there was scarcely a person in the large congregation but what was more or less moved by the way this good old song was rendered. He concluded his sermon by imploring all to be ready to get into the life boat—manned by Jesus—when their trials on this earth shall have come to an end. Brother Royall is a good preacher, a Christian gentleman, and we hope it will be our good pleasure to have him among us many years to come.

PROGRAMME NARROWS HIGH SCHOOL COMMENCEMENT.

WORDS OF PRAISE.

Our long felt want has at last been supplied, in that we have at our command the efficient and skilled veterinary, Dr. Whittaker, and it is but fair to say that Dr. Whittaker is indeed master of his profession, and he should be given encouragement by every stock raiser in our county. Think of the thousands of dollars of valuable stock the citizens have lost through lack of medical skill. Dr. Whittaker is a "God send" to the horse lover.

WHAT IS NEEDED.

Pearisburg is sadly in need of a building in which to hold entertainments of any kind. At the school entertainment the other night, in the auditorium of our High School building, the place was crowded to its utmost and then many were unable to get in. Why don't some of our enterprising citizens get together and erect a building with a seating capacity of about 2,000 which would enable all to be comfortably seated and not wedged in together like sardines in a box? It would pay to do this, as the building could be rented out on many occasions. Besides the people here do not see much, nor never will, as they have no place in which to hold entertainments of any kind. If they had a suitable building of this kind, they could, and would in all probability, have shows, moving pictures, etc., besides a comfortable place in which to hold many other things of a like nature.

Now let some of our enterprising gentlemen get together, form a company and erect a building of this kind, and our word for it, you will never regret it, for it will certainly repay you for your trouble.

Who will be the first one to start the ball rolling?

CHAPEL.

From present appearances, a very large acreage of oats will be sown in this Spring.

Ada, a little daughter six years old of Mr. and Mrs. J.L. Beamer, died with scarlet fever on the 15th inst. and was buried the following day in the family burying ground on her father's farm. She was sick only four days when the Lord called her away to be with him. She was a very bright child and loved by all who knew her; she was the pet of her parents and worshipped her sister and brothers; she will be sadly missed, but all must bow in submission to His will, who said: "Suffer little children to come unto me and forbid them not, for of such is the kingdom of heaven."

If reports be true, wedding bells will ring up and down the creek in the near future. We could mention names, but sometimes there are "slips" and for fear of these, we will not divulge your names. Keep your ears peeled.

Will Beamer and wife of Oakvale, W. Va., attended the burial of little Ada Beamer on Saturday, the 11th inst.

Wolf Creek has model women who would make fine wives, and some of them will not take advantage of Leap Year when they have a good chance. Your scribe called on one the other day but could not get to speak to her until she had finished her work. It was "goose-picking day" and she was making the feathers fly. She says business before pleasure. Not so with most women, they would "chin you" if a goose never got his or her feathers pulled, besides here was her Leap Year chance. This is the right kind of a woman for a wife, but hard to court her when you can't get her to stop her work and sit by your side or face you so you can smile at one another. She will be a prize to any one who captures her.

Quarterly meeting here the 11th of May. If there be no Spring chickens for the preachers, we offer them the consolation that green onions will be abundance.

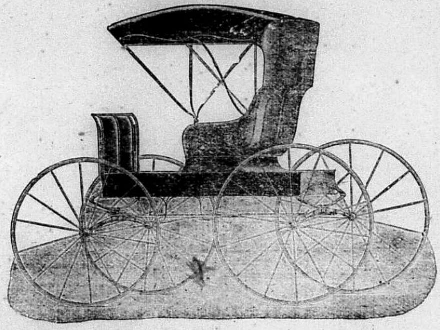
How About That New Buggy?

If you have not bought yet, don't do so until you look over our stock of



HAYDOCK BUGGIES.

We have unquestionably the swellest line of buggies that has been seen in this or any other vicinity.

We had them made that way! We feel that the best is none too good for the buggy users of this country, and to that end we had our vehicles made our way and according to our ideas of what constitutes a good honest buggy.

The HAYDOCK has the snap, the class, the distinctiveness and originality which counts for a handsome job.

Why buy the ordinary buggy when we can sell you the latest thing on wheels at a price that is no more than you would pay for the cheaper kind?

Come in and see for yourself what we have. A look costs you nothing, but it might mean a big saving for you. We are always glad to show you, and if it's superior style, exceptional finish, durable material, quality and price that appeal to you, we have it.

Why Should A Mother Sigh?

Why should a mother sigh,
O'er her wayward boy;
When he above all,
Should be her greatest joy?

Why should a mother sigh,
When she is left alone;
When her dear only son,
Has gone away from home?

Why should a mother sigh,
When her wayward boy,
Has brought tears in her eyes,
And taken away her joy?

Why should the sons of mother be,
So wreckless and so wild?
Why not look back and see,
The mother's care o'er her child?

Why should the mother sigh,
And be so sad and lone,
When her dissipated boy,
Has brought reproach upon the home?

Boys, why not come back to mother,
She is waiting for you dear?
You will never find another,
That will be to you so dear.

You've wandered so far,
In darkness and cold;
Come and cheer up,
Your mother that's old.

O dear, prodigal child,
Come home if you will,
Come in from the wilds,
Your mother loves you still.

Founder of Red Cross is Dead.

Miss Clara Barton Passes Away at Advanced Age of 90 Years.

Miss Clara Barton, founder of the American Red Cross and probably the most widely known American woman of her day, died at her home, Red Cross, in Glen Echo, Md., near Washington last Friday morning at 9 o'clock, April 12th. She was 90 years old.

Miss Barton suffered an attack of pneumonia in February 1911, had a relapse and the disease became chronic. Muscular weakness of the heart developed and for weeks the condition of the venerable nurse had been such as to cause grave concern among her friends.

Clarissa Harlowe Barton, known throughout Christendom as Clara Barton, has been aptly called the Florence Nightingale of America. On the battlefields of the Civil War and in the camps of the French and German armies in Europe she nursed wounded and dying soldiers. She took personal charge of the nursing of fever patients of the South, and after the fall of the Commune she entered Paris on foot and distributed food to the starving. She endured the hardships of travel in Russia and Turkey to relieve suffering humanity and faced the dangers of yellow fever in Cuba to nurse Cuban reconcentrados and later the American soldiers in Santiago.

Miss Barton was born December 25, 1821, at Oxford, Mass., was the daughter of Captain Stephen Barton, who fought under Mad Anthony Wayne against the Indians.

When the Civil War commenced, Miss Barton immediately gave up her place in the Patent Office at Washington and advertised in the papers of Worchester, Mass., that she would receive money for wounded soldiers at the front which she would personally distribute. Her appeal was so liberally answered that it became necessary to use large ware-rooms in Washington in which to store the donations. She went direct to the head quarters of Gen. Butler in Virginia and undertook with all the energy and will at her command the work of relief to the troops. She continued with the soldiers in Virginia during nearly the entire period of the war, and in 1864 Gen. Butler appointed her head nurse of the hospitals in the Army of the James. This was the beginning of her long service in relief work.

GRANTED AN APPROPRIATION.

Upon returning to Washington at the close of the war, Miss Barton petitioned Congress for an appropriation of $15,000 in payment of her services "in endeavoring to discover missing soldiers of the Army of the United States, and in communicating intelligence to their relatives." (Congress did not respond very readily to her appeal, and when the bill finally passed it was in payment of services rendered and to be rendered.

Miss Barton took the lecture platform under an agreement to lecture for 300 nights at $100 a night. Her subject was her experience in the war, and she was so well advertised and managed that it proved a very successful venture until she broke down in the Spring of 1867.

Two years later Miss Barton went to Europe, and she was abroad when the Franco-Prussian war broke out. She proceeded later to Paris and rendered assistance in relieving the distress after the fall of the Commune. Her work abroad did not go unrecognized. In addition to rewards of a more substantial character she received numerous medals and decorations from the sovereigns of the Old World.

For several years after her return to America she urged upon the government the confirmation of the Red Cross treaty by the United States. In 1881 she took the matter up with President Garfield. Secretary of State Blaine gave his approval to the action proposed, and on May 21, 1881, a meeting was held in Washington which resulted in the formation of the American Association of the Red Cross. Miss Barton was chosen first president of the society and this position she continued to hold until advancing years obliged her to relinquish active work in 1904.

The season of year is at hand when the city man does an awful lot of scientific farming—in his mind.

Sometimes we wish somebody would establish a kindergarten school for the instruction of parents.

The time has at last come when people view with suspicion the man who admits that he is a hide-bound partisan.

We can forgive that man much whose typewriting machine gets out of whack when he is in an awful hurry to finish up and get away.

People who are thinking of getting all they can out of life often make the mistake of over looking the necessity of putting something into it.

If only those who sowed wild oats had to reap them it wouldn't be so bad. The trouble is that innocent people often have to do the most of the harvesting.

DUBLIN SUMMER SCHOOL WILL OPEN JUNE 19.

The movement for higher education took a step forward Saturday, 20th inst., when it was decided to establish the Summer Session of the College of William and Mary, at Dublin, Pulaski county, Va., and to open the eight weeks term on June 19.

When the Board of Visitors, some days ago determined to hold the summer term in Southwest Virginia, the definite location was left to be decided upon by the Faculty. The citizens of five towns—Dublin, Pearisburg, Radford, Christiansburg and Big Stone Gap—offered special inducements to have the college come to them and the final choice of a location was difficult to make. The fact that at Dublin the buildings of Dublin Institute would be available had much to do with the selection of that town. Another inducement offered by Dublin was a grove of trees covering a hundred acres, which will be used for outdoor lecture rooms and tent sites.

This selection is looked upon as being fortunate for both Dublin and the college. It is expected that many teachers and college students from Virginia and other States will attend the summer session, thus adding materially to the summer population of the town. While it is generally agreed among school men that no better or more accessible located site than Dublin could have been found. Many educators have expressed their gratification at this move to bring the advantages or higher education more fully within the reach of the people.

A young schoolma'am in a rural district required written excuses from parents or guardians for absence or tardiness. Here are two she received:

"Please axcuse Willys absents on Tewsday as I kneaded him all day."

"Please excus Nelly's being tardy on Wensday. She fell in the mud by doing the same you will greatly oblidge her mother, Mrs. Jackson."

Speaking of etiquette, did you send the dollar for those advertised instructions on "What to do at table?"

"Yes"

"And what did you get?"

"A slip with one word printed on it. 'Eat!'"

Six Things for the Farmer to Do in May.

1. Keep up the cultivation of all growing crops. Work level and shallow and stay ahead of the grass. Use weeders and harrows and cultivators instead of turning plows.

2. Plant cow peas, soy beans or velvet beans—every available seed and every available foot of land.

3. Prepare to fatten the hogs cheaply, and to double your pork product this year. Fence in a permanent pasture, if possible, and arrange lots for a rotation of quick growing pasture crops.

4. Put out plenty of peanuts and sweet potatoes, and keep the garden going. Set out tomatoes, plant corn, beans, etc., for succession. Plenty of fruit, vegetables and watermelons is every Southern farmer's birthright.

5. Begin marketing the early chickens and look closely after the health of the younger ones. Disinfect often and whitewash, if necessary.

5. Make a fireless cooker for your wife to use during the hot weather.

A Fish Game.

Here is a game that will prove interesting when the boys and girls are ready to sit down a while with pencils and paper:

1. What fish is found in every land? Drum.
2. What fish is served with meats? Jelly.
3. What fish is worn by officers in the army? Sword.
4. What fish is a household pet? Cat.
5. What fish forms a resting place for birds? Perch.
6. What fish represents the earth? Globe.
7. What fish is not of this planet? Moon.
8. What fish is found among royalty? King.
9. What fish guides the ships? Pilot.
10. What fish was once used as a military weapon? Pike.
11. What fish is man's solace? Pipe.
12. What fish is a destroyer of ships? Torpedo.
13. What fish is a carpenter's tool? Saw.
14. What fish is prominent in winter sports? Skate.

After June the Presidential pot will begin to boil.

Some people are bound to get there." We know a couple of ladies who "hiked it" from Bluff City to Narrows on Tuesday afternoon to get to the High School exhibition. No use for conveyances when we have such as these.

Mr. and Mrs. Varney of Williamson, W. Va., are visiting Charles Hughes and wife near this place. This couple are Mrs. Varney's parents. Mr. Varney gave us a pleasant call Monday and subscribed for the VIRGINIAN. He is car inspector at Williamson, W. Va.

Read the advertisement of Messrs. E. S. Pedigo Co., Blue field, W. Va., on second page. They have a reduction of one fourth off on all ladies suits and coats, all pure wool, high grade and guaranteed. Now is your time, ladies, to get something good at a low price.

Read the advertisement of the Duncan Implement Co., Rich Creek, Va., on our first page. They have the best quality of buggies and at the same price as cheap ones. Any person wanting a vehicle of any kind, would do well to give this company a trial before purchasing elsewhere.

Rev J. G. Reveley and family have moved their belongings from Bland county his former pastorate, and are now occupying the Presbyterian manse at this place. We welcome them to our midst, and hope their stay among us, no matter how long this may be, will be a pleasant one, and that they will be pleased with their new home.

Mr. J. W. Porterfield and wife, who have been living on Walker's Creek, near its mouth, have moved to this place and are occupying the second story of the house where Prof. Wasom resides. They will build a dwelling on their lot next to the M. E. church in the near future. We are proud to have you as occupants of our town.

Rev. M. W. Royall assisted by Rev. Dr. Fisher of Lynchburg, is holding revival services at Eggleston. The meeting commenced last Sunday. Large congregations have thus far attended these services. We hope these reverend gentlemen will be successful and that many souls will be saved. Dr. Fisher is a very able minister, as many of our citizens know, for he carried on revival services here in the Baptist church several months ago.

Let everyone keep hustling to improve the appearance of their streets and lots. Keep all kinds of rubbish off the streets and sidewalks, and see that your houses, fences, etc., are neatly painted. There is nothing that helps the looks of a town and induces newcomers to settle in it more than neatly painted houses and fences, neat and tidy streets and sidewalks and fruit and shade trees on your lots. Let us see what you will do for the benefit of our progressive little burg.

All mothers should learn their daughters to cook and make their own dresses, as every mother's daughter of you (if you have good luck) will make some man a wife. What on earth does a poor man want with a wife who is fit for nothing but an ornament! A poor man might as well have a stone tied to his neck and cast into New River as to marry a girl who cannot cook and make her own dresses. If he be a millionaire, then it will be all right to marry a girl who knows nothing.

R. H. Woodrum, one of the most prominent citizens of Roanoke, died at his home in that place on Tuesday of this week. His death was caused by paralysis of the heart. He had been in perfect health up to the time of his death. He was born in Fincastle, Botetourt county, Va., May 5, 1856, and was a son of Jordan Woodrum, founder of the Fincastle Herald. He is survived by a widow and one son, and two brothers. He is also a first cousin of our townsman, J. H. Woodrum. We are sorry to hear of his departure.

The following students from out of town, who attended our High School, have departed for their homes: Miss Lula Shrader of Round Bottom; Miss Nita Rector of Seven Mile Ford; Misses Lena and Mabel Goodwin, Minnie and Bess Journell and May Butte of Eggleston; Misses Mattie Buchanan and Mabel Bolton of Kimballton; Misses Macie Lewey, Lula Pyrtle and Gladye Duncan of Ripplemead; Mess. Guy and Landon Williams, Luther, Frank and Jess Johnston, Bill Price, Warren Stafford, Tracy Whittaker, John and Tom Duncan, Sidney, Paul, Emory and Algean Scott.

Here is a minister who appreciates the editor. (We refrain from telling his name) At a recent editorial convention he offered the following toast: "To save an editor from starvation take his paper and pay for it promptly. To save him from bankruptcy advertise in his paper liberally. To save him from despair send him every item of news of which you can get hold. To save him from profanity write your correspondence plainly on one side of the sheet and send it in as early as possible. To save him from mistakes, bury him. Dead people are the only ones who never make mistakes."

PLEASANT OGGASION.

It was our very great pleasure to be at Eaton's Chapel on last Sunday; the occasion being the celebration of the ninety-third anniversary of the founding in America of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows.

The exercises were under the auspices of Wabash Lodge, No. 189, I. O. O. F. Cordial invitations had been sent out by that lodge to neighboring lodges to participate and there was a grand gathering of the "three links." Seldom has it been our privilege to spend a day of more genuine pleasure and enjoyment.

A large crowd was assembled the exercises began by an address of welcome by our long esteemed friend, Geo B. Eaton. While brother George did not attempt anything in the way of flowery eloquence, nor to make his discourse an extended one, yet when he was through, there could have been no doubt but that those present felt that they were among friends and were thrice welcome.

Following this was the response by Hon. Martin Williams, and his remarks were listened to with such attention as to leave no doubt of its being well received and enjoyed. After appropriate reference to the subject which was the occasion of our being brought out on that day, he branched off along historical lines and traditions concerning the people and events in the vicinity of the old Wabash Camp Ground. Especially interesting were his references to the large number of persons who were born and reared in that community, who have gone out in the world and made good, some of them having gone to the top in their respective callings. His reference to the old Wabash Camp meetings as probably being one of the contributing causes of the high moral tone of that community, were very fitting and appropriate. His talk was a most excellent one and was well received.

The sermon by Rev. D. T. Miles, which was almost entirely on Odd Fellowship, was a gem of rare excellence. It has been our privilege to listen to a number of sermons and discourses on this subject, but we can most conscientiously say this was, by far, the finest we have ever heard on that subject. He was easily master of the situation, knew what he was talking about, and put his thoughts into words that enlisted the closest attention of those who heard him, and many were the highly complimentary references to it during the day.

Next came dinner, and a dinner it was. Large baskets, boxes and anything that would answer the purpose, were there by the hundreds and they were well filled with the good things of which that community knows so well how to prepare. If any one left there without a good dinner, he ought to starve to death.

The occasion throughout was a grand success from start to finish. The crowd was large, everybody greeted everybody else with a glad smile, the day was a beautiful one, and nature was at her best in her fresh green foliage, her buds and blossome, her pretty meadows, laughing brooks and singing birds, and who would not be glad with such surroundings!

Long live the good people in that grand and historic old community.

EGGLESTON.

Miss Frances Howell of Puskasi, is the guest of Mrs. Edgar Price.

Last Tuesday evening a "merry bunch" of youngsters, with Mrs. J. Lee Durham as chaperone boarded train No. 3, for Pearisburg to "take in" the play, "Gypsy Queen." There being no train for them to return on, they were driven through the country by Fount Johnston, Jr., arriving here about 1:30 o'clock, declaring they had had an "accumulating" time. (We had to "accumulate" to get in the back, alright, alright.) Those partaking: Misses Flora Sonner, Elsie Stafford, Pearl Durham and Margerite Sonner, Messrs. R. S., L. A., and E. A. Durham, and Clarence Hunter.

Misses Sallie Shumate and Geraldine Gerald of Crewe, were guests at "Clover Nook" this week.

Miss Zetta Morton was the guest of her sister at Prospect Dale last week.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Muncy, were guests of relatives at Trigg Sunday.

Death of Colored Man.

Arch. Parker, an old-time colored citizen of Pocahontas, died Saturday night and was buried Monday. He was well known in this section, and a large number of members of his race attended the funeral.—Cor. to Bluefield Telegraph.

A great many of our citizens will remember this good, old colored man. He ran a blacksmith shop here for years, and, if we mistake not, was born and reared in this county. We are sorry to hear of his death.

NOTICE!

All persons owing the estate of the late Dr. J. L. Muncy by account, are requested to come forward and settle at once.

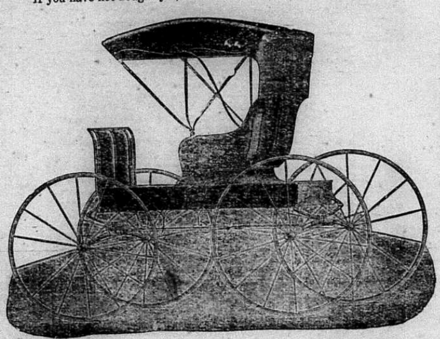
How About That New Buggy?

If you have not bought yet, don't do so until you look over our stock of



HAYDOCK BUGGIES.

We have unquestionably the swellest line of buggies that has been seen in this or any other vicinity.

We had them made that way! We feel that the best is none too good for the buggy users of this country, and to that end we had our vehicles made our way and according to our ideas of what constitutes a good honest buggy.

The HAYDOCK has the snap, the class, the distinctiveness and originality which counts for a handsome job.

Why buy the ordinary buggy when we can sell you the latest thing on wheels at a price that is no more than you would pay for the cheaper kind?

Come in and see for yourself what we have. A look costs you nothing, but it might mean a big saving for you. We are always glad to show you, and if it's superior style, exceptional finish, durable material, quality and price that appeal to you, we have it.

A WOMAN'S GOOD LOOKS
Depend on her general health and freedom from pain. Many a woman looks old before her time because of those irregularities which are essentially feminine. Starting from early womanhood, she suffers from frequently recurring derangements that upset her womanly health. If she be beautiful she grows into that mellow age without wrinkles and crowfeet about the eyes or the blue circles underneath. It is invariably the rule that such women suffer little, or not at all, from womanly derangements which sap the health and leave in the face the tell-tale story of pain and suffering. Dr. R. V. Pierce, the famous specialist in the diseases of women, found a prescription in his early practice that soothed the organism peculiar to womanhood—oiled the machinery, as it were, of the human system—and helped the woman to pass those painful periods that scar-lined and aged her face. This remedy became the well-known Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, that has benefited thousands of women and saved them from misery and suffering at different periods in life.

Mrs. Pierce.

Mrs. Harkely E. Pierce, of 244 Bright Street, Sarnia, Ont., writes: "I am now a well woman after suffering for three years and doctoring with several different doctors, each one saying it was something different, and the last one, after putting me through a thorough examination, said I was suffering from a growth, which, in time, would result in cancer, and said I would not live more than two years if not operated upon right away. I became hopelessly discouraged but would not consent to the operation as I was too weak and too much afraid, but at last, through the advice of a friend, I tried Dr. Pierce's medicines, and after using two bottles of the 'Favorite Prescription' I immediately felt a change. I also used two boxes of 'Healing Suppositories' and eight boxes of 'Lotion Tablets,' and can safely praise the name of Dr. Pierce's medicines to all who suffer from any female disease, for these medicines are all they are claimed to be, and I hope will help others as they have helped me."

SYMPATHY.

Unspoken words, like treasures in the mine,
Are valueless until we give them birth;
Like unfound gold their hidden beauties shine
Which God has made to bless and gild the earth.

How sad 'twould be to see a master's hand
Strike glorious notes upon a voiceless lute,
But, O, what pain when, at God's own command,
A heart-string thrills with kindness, but mute.

Then hide it not, the music of the soul,
Dear sympathy, expressed with kindly voice,
But let it like a shining river roll
To deserts dry—to hearts that would rejoice.

O, let the sympathy of kindly words
Sound for the poor, the friendless and the weak;
And He will bless you; He who struck these chords
Will strike another when in turn you seek.

—John Boyle O'Reilly.

NEARER!

It would be good and appropriate in every American and British church today the arrangement for the music should include "Nearer My God to Thee." The title and the refrain of the hymn express the aspiration that has made our race great and the Jewish race great. They tell of our longing and our ideals, vague, but predominating our lives at last. They indicate the faith and the hope, born in us, of an Almighty and a Merciful God, Creator and Supreme Ruler and Architect somewhere. One human soul may be foul with sin and unclean and sordid and villainous thought, memory and purpose. Another may be clean and white and beautiful as the wings of an angel or the plumage of a chosen dove. Yet, in the recesses of both, is the same yearning for a purer and a higher and a nobler life, for a serene atmosphere rarified from the dust and the clamors of the world we know, for the quiet and tranquil white light within the kingdom and the presence of the Everlasting God. Where the wicked shall cease from troubling and the weary shall be at rest—bathing and soothed in rest from labor and care, from the ambitious and the anxieties that disturb us here, the deep, sweet peace of sleep and the joy and stillness and beauty of the sunrise and the sunset and the clanging glories and the purpling mountains afar, the still waters and the green pastures with the bending willows reflected in the water. These dreams and hopes come to the worst of us and the very best of us.

On the Titanic were many wicked and strong men and let us hope, many men good according to their varying creeds. They had done the supreme thing a man may do for their standards of manhood and ethics. They had with deliberation and courtesy yielded the tribute of strength to weakness. With kindly faces and quiet, pleasant acceptance of fate, they had looked in the face of Death, the final earthly terror, and defied him to strike when he would and find no shrinking or faltering or fear. Then as the great ship slid down to the depths, carrying them with her or leaving them to struggle, strangle and die, they listened while the staunch and fearless British band sent over the quiet but deadly waters and to the people rocking in the boats in the darkness amid the menacing icebergs, "Nearer My God to Thee—Nearer."

It is easy to imagine that among those men were many who in that last swift and solemn retrospect, while the dark and eager waves leaped and lapped hungrily against the sides of the sinking vessel, knew they had done many, many things they ought not to have done. "But then, oh Lord, have mercy upon us." And with the strains of the familiar hymn, perhaps half forgotten by many men there, associated in the minds of many others with peaceful Sundays and quiet churches and churchyards far away and holy impulses long lost, the souls of the men went out on the music across the desolate and deadly quiet waters and to the very sky and the Loving and Tender and Omnipotent Supreme that loves manliness and self-sacrifice and the final gift and surrender—as the music went out and the souls of the men waiting for death went with it—who knows?

Who is to limit and fix the boundaries of the mercy and the love of the Almighty? Who is to say how much He will and can and shall forgive when the man He has made a man proves himself at the time of ultimate test to be a man and ready to surrender his life, dear to him as it may be, in deferential submission to the weaker and the helpless?

Doubtless many of the men of the Titanic in that last hour wished they had lived nearer to God; but it seems to us that their last act put them very near to the purposes and the requirements of God; and that as they strove and froze and died in the cold and cruel sea the aspirations and long longings of their souls must have gone to Him from the deep, with the slow and solemn strains, appealed His mercy and His love, so that all of them—the real substance and meaning of them, high and low—may rest "Nearer—Nearer, My God to Thee, though like a traveler weary and worn, darkness comes over me, the sun gone down."—Roanoke Times.

His Ambition.

I would rather be the humblest among those who have given hope to the hopeless, and happiness to the distressed of my race than to live in history as a conqueror with my hands stained with innocent blood. I would rather have loved their fellow man than to wear the laurels that encircle the brow of the iron prince. I would rather sleep in some quiet church yard, unknown and unremembered, save by those in whose hearts I have scattered seeds of kindness and upon whose lips I have conjured smiles of joy, than to be confined in a sarcophagus of gold, when desolate homes as my monuments and widows and orphan as living witnesses of my glory.—Senator Robert L. Taylor.

"When I arose to speak," related the martyred statesman, "some one threw a base, cowardly egg at me.

"And what kind of an egg might that be?" asked an attention listener.

"A base, cowardly egg," explained the statesman, "is one that hits you and then runs."—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

"Thomas," said the professor to pupil in the junior class in chemistry "mention an oxide."

"Leather," replied Thomas.

"What is leather an oxide of?" asked the professor.

"An oxide of beef," answered the bright youngster.—Chicago Evening News.

NEGATIVE AND POSITIVE THOUGHTS.

Negative thoughts that bring failure. Don't allow yourself to think such thoughts as the following: They are "destructive thoughts," a poison to the man and body, and bring only trouble and failure:

Worst luck ever.
No chance at all.
If I win today, I lose tomorrow.
I can't get ahead.
I can't get help.
I can't go it alone and succeed.
So it's failure for mine always.
My strength fails.
My spirit is crushed.
My nerves weaken.
The outlook for me is very gloomy.
I fear tomorrow.
I fear responsibility.
I feel that I am about "done for."
Why try to go on?
What's the use?

Positive thoughts that bring success. Utter the following thoughts frequently. They are "constructive thoughts," and will help you to increase your power for success and happiness:

I am very fortunate.
Splendid opportunities.
Help from all sides.
Though I gain much today, I shall do better tomorrow.
I do get ahead.
I get much help.
But I depend upon myself, always.
That's why I am always successful.
My strength increases.
My spirit grows.
My nerves are stronger.
The outlook for me was never so bright.
I welcome tomorrow.
I welcome responsibility.
I have gained much and I enjoy it all.
That's why I am happy.
I am a success.

"What are these cups for?" asked a well dressed man of a jeweler, pointing to some lovely silver cups on the counter.

"These are race cups to be given as prizes."

"If that's so suppose you and I race for one?" And the stranger with the cup in hand started, the jeweler after him. The stranger won the cup.—Ex.

He Proved It.

Down Frisco way lived a man who was quite attentive to a woman who had a lovely young daughter, says the San Francisco Chronicle. His frequent calls at the home of the two were so noticeable that the neighbors began to speculate. One day the woman spoke to her suitor thus: "The neighbors say that you are courting me for my money."

"Foolish chatter," he countered, with a laugh. "Don't pay any attention to such idle gossip. To prove that I am not, I suggest that you deed all of your property to your daughter."

This the woman did and the next day the man eloped with the lovely young daughter.

An Irishman and an Italian had each given the conductor ten cents, but received no change.

"I wanta da nick," whined the Neapolitan.

"You've got your nick! No more nicks for you! See?" And the conductor moved to the back platform.

The Italian sat in gloomy silence. But the Irishman employed different methods. He went to the door.

"Gimmee five cints change!" said he to the conductor.

"You've got all the change you're going to get, see?" was the retort.

"See here," exclaimed the Irishman, "you may play that chune on a hand organ, but you can't do it on harp. Gimme five cints."

He got it.

A railroad man—a section foreman—had his brother over from Ireland recently, and one Sunday morning he took him along the line of the railroad to see some of the fast trains rush by. Finally they stopped just at the entrance to a tunnel, and waited until an express, running at the rate of sixty miles an hour tore past them and with a roar disappeared in the tunnel.

"Well, what do you think of it?" asked the railroad man of his raw Irish brother.

"I was just thinkin'," said he, shaking his head, "that it was mighty lucky the train didn't miss the hole."

The south pole has been spotted, but it will prove no more valuable than its colleague at the other of the earth.

Just Received!

I have just received a nice line of embroidered and tailored white shirt waists. Also white and colored dress goods; ladies black silk hose at 25 cents.

If you cannot paint, a little whitewash makes things look quite pleasant, and is very cheap. A tree up on Bunker Hill has been done this way, and is noticeable all over town. Let others do likewise.

B. A. Walker, Cashier of the National Valley Bank, Staunton, Va., says: "Your 'Honor Roll' was short last week, I will help to bring it up." Thank you, brother, for your assistance and may you live long and prosper.

The Third Quarterly Conference of the Pearisburg Circuit will be held at Hale's Chapel next Saturday and Sunday. Please let all officials be present on Saturday morning. Rev. S. S. Catron will be present to preach for us on this occasion.

The weather is about as funny as it can be. Last week Thursday and Friday the thermometer got up as high as 85 degrees, and we had hopes Summer was here. Since then it has been 40, 60, 55, 70, and all kinds of figures. Just so it don't snow we will grin and bear it.

Read the advertisement of the University of Virginia in another column. This University is the head of the public school system of Virginia. The following departments are represented: Colleges, Graduate, Law, Medicine, Engineering. No better place of learning in the State.

Prof. Jas. R Stafford and family have arrived in our town from Rocky Mount and are occupying the cottage vacated by S. J. Strader. They will remain with us until school commences again in the Fall. We are proud to have them with us as they are valuable and pleasant people in any community.

Mrs. I. C. Painter, who has been in a hospital at Roanoke several weeks for treatment, returned home on Thursday afternoon last. She was accompanied home by her husband who went to Roanoke after her. Her many friends will be glad to hear this and to know she is much improved in health, and will soon be herself again.

If parties wishing building lumber in car lots will communicate with me before buying, I will be glad to name prices that you will admit are the lowest you have had offered.

The regular annual Radford District Conference of the M. E. Church, South, will be held at Galax, Va., May 15th to 19th. A large assemblage of eminent divines and many delegates will be in attendance. As the Methodists are noted for their oratory, some eloquent sermons will be preached. All who attend this Conference are sure to be well pleased with what they see and hear.

Read the large advertisement of The Studebaker Corporation, Detroit, Michigan, in another column. They are makers of two models of Automobiles, Flanders "20," and E. M. F. "30," said to be as good as any manufactured. Mr. A. E. Dinsmore of this place is agent, and has sold machines to Messrs. George Shumate, Rich Creek; A. E. Shumate of Bluff City, and Sterling Mann of this place. See him before you purchase elsewhere.

D. W. Mason and J. D. Snidow of this place are attending the Confederate Reunion at Macon, Ga., which convened at that place Monday morning of this week. Miss Carrie Williams is also attending as a delegate from the Daughters of the Confederacy of this place. Thousands of old soldiers and their friends are in attendance. It is proposed, that instead of the Crosses of Honor, which have been given heretofore, a new emblem that has been designed by the Daughters, be given to those who can show by the records that they were actual members of the Confederate army and fought in the battles.

Mrs. Myrtle Snidow Dowdy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Snidow, and wife of Roy S. Dowdy of Roanoke, was brought to Blacksburg from Newport on Sunday, April 28th, and buried in the town cemetery after funeral services in the Methodist church conducted by the pastor, Dr. Henry P. Hamil. Mrs. Dowdy spent her girlhood here and for several years after her marriage lived in Roanoke. She has been ill for some months at the home of her husband's family in Giles and her death was not unexpected. She was twenty-four years old and leaves her parents, husband, one child and two brothers, Clarence and Carl Snidow.—Cor. from Blacksburg to Roanoke Times.

The brick plant at Tip Top, formerly known as the Radford Brick Company, has been purchased by Hoge Mason of Bluefield, W. Va. Beginning June the 1st the plant will be renamed and thereafter will be called the Tip Top Brick Company. Mr. W. H. Shuff, for the past sixteen years buyer for the Mill Creek Coal and Coke Company, at Coopers, W. Va., will be superintendent of the plant under the new ownership. The first order to be filled by the new company will be one from the Appalachian Furniture Co., of Bluefield, for 400,000 brick. The plant, which has an annual output of eight million brick has been idle for the past year.—Tazewell Republican.

Truman Brown of Bane, came home from Rock, Mount, where he has been attending school during the past winter, bringing a beautiful gold medal. He proved himself the best in a very large declamation class. He was a former pupil of Pearisburg High School. Our Giles county boys and girls make good records wherever they go.

COMMENCEMENT OF PEMBROKE HIGH SCHOOL.

The commencement exercises of the Pembroke High School will be begun by an annual sermon by the Rev. D. T. Miles of Bane, on Sunday morning May 12th at 11 o'clock.

On Tuesday evening, May 14th at 8 o'clock, there will be exercises by the Primary and Grammar grades; Recitation contest for a medal by pupils of the High School grades, and address by Judge Martin Williams, awarding of prizes and medals.

On Wednesday evening, there will be several plays by the pupils of the High School and Grammar grades, to which a nominal fee will be charged, for the purpose of purchasing a piano for the school.

The public is cordially invited to attend.

MOTHER'S DAY.

The Epworth League program for Sunday evening May, 12th, at 7 o'clock p. m.

This is the date set apart for the observance of Mother's Day and the League will use this subject as a theme for study instead of the regular scripture topic.

All who attend this meeting—and the League extends a cordial invitation to all—will please wear a white flower in honor of our Mothers.

PROGRAM.

Opening Song—"Somebody," No 129.

Scripture Reading—Luke vii, 37-50, Mrs. Will Strader.

Prayer.

Song—"Can a Boy Forget His Mother I" No. 114.

Reading—"Mother's Day," Mrs. J. W. Porterfield.

Recitation—"The White Carnation, Eleanor Clark.

Duet—"My Mother's Prayer," Mesdames Miller and Wassom.

Reading—"Mother and Her Influence," Mrs. Robert Peters.

Song—"Will There Be Any Stars I" No. 82.

Recitation—"Left Alone," Mary Frances Mason.

Brief talks on subject by League members.

Closing hymn.

A GRAND TIME COMING.

On Wednesday, the 15th day of May, there will be an Ice Cream Supper at Staffordsville M. E. Church, beginning at 4 or 5 o'clock in the afternoon. There will be some good music on hand, several talks by different ones and lots of other things of interest. Proceeds go to the benefit of the church. Come one, come all.

NOTICE!

All persons owing the estate of the late Dr. J. L. Muncy by account, are requested to come forward and settle at once.

MRS. J. L. MUNCY,
Executrix.

DEATH OF AN AGED CITIZEN.

On the first day of May, Mr. David L. Bolton, aged about 75 years, passed from this world to the world above. He had been a member of the Baptist church for over fifty years, and as long as he was able he was found at his post of duty at the church.

He lived with his son, Billie Bolton, near Kimballton. He leaves four children.

His body was laid to rest in the family burying ground near the home. Funeral services were conducted at the graveyard by his pastor, Rev. M. W. Royall, on last Friday afternoon.

To the sorrowing ones we extend our sympathy.

DEATH OF A GILES WOMAN.

Mrs. Cora Heslep, wife of Dr. W. A. Heslep of St. Albans, W. Va., died at that place a few days ago.

She was before marriage a Miss Mahood, daughter of Capt. Francis P. Mahood who lived in this place many years and who a great many will remember.

She has two sisters in this county, Mrs. J. M. Peters of this place and Mrs. C. C. Peters of Trigg, a brother, Chester B. Mahood and a sister, Mrs. Amanda Van Pelt of Fayette county, W. Va.

She spent most of her young womanhood days in Pearisburg, and was loved by all who knew her.

She was a consistent member of the Missionary Baptist church and was faithful to it until death.

She leaves a husband, one daughter, two sons, four sisters and one brother to mourn her loss.

We tender to the bereaved ones our sincerest sympathy.

GILES COUNTY LITERARY CONTEST.

The Giles County Literary contest will be held at Pearisburg, beginning May 30th at 8 p. m., and ending on June 1st.

The object of this contest is to select one representative for each of the usual contests in recitation, declamation, oration, essay and debate.

Each High School in the county is entitled to send three contestants for each event.

The successful contestants will represent Giles county in the Inter-High School Literary contest to be held at Abingdon, Va., on June 13th and 14th.

The question for the county debate is: Resolved, "That Giles county should have a compulsory school law." Each debater may choose his side, and he will be allowed fifteen minutes time for his first speech and five for his second. Send your names to me at once.

JOHN T. WASSOM, Pres.,
Giles Teachers Association.

NOTICE!

I will be at home the first week in June and there having claims against the estate of the late Samuel K. Muncy, deceased, will please come forward and present their accounts, as I want to get the estate settled.

K. MUNCY,
Administrator.

DEATH OF MRS. MARGARET CHARLTON.

With a pang of deepest sorrow, the hundreds who knew and loved her, will read these lines.

At her home, Bluff City, this county, Mrs. Margaret Rebecca Charlton ("Aunt Mag," as she was familiarly known), passed peacefully away after quite a long period of feeble health. She was born January 29, 1827. Death came on the morning of May 3, 1912 She was the widow of Mr. Charles William Charlton long since deceased and mother of John W. and C. M. Charlton of Bluff City, with whom she has made her home for many years. Before marriage she was Miss Woolwine and a sister of Lafayette and Adam S. Woolwine, whom many of our citizens so well and kindly remember, as residents of Pearisburg in other years.

With her passing, there goes the last of a family of eleven children.

Early in life she was connected and joined the Methodist church in which she remained a faithful member until her death. Her health had been much impaired for a number of years and more so recently, and being more than eighty-five years of age, her death was not unexpected at this time.

After funeral services conducted at the home on last Sunday afternoon by her pastor, Rev. W. B. Belchee, interment was in the cemetery just above and overlooking her home and the scenes 'mid which she had so long lived and which she loved.

"Aunt Mag" was one whom all loved. Her life was a beautiful one. Always affable, cheerful, pleasant, smiling. Her disposition was gentle, kind, affectionate.

She had a wide circle of relatives and friends, all of whom will learn of her death with profound sorrow and she will be missed, and especially so in the home where she was for so long the object of loving care and attention at the hands of her loved ones, who now have the sincerest sympathies in the loss they so deeply feel.

INTER-HIGH SCHOOL LITERARY CONTEST.

The Inter-High School Literary contest for the counties of Giles, Pulaski, Bland, Wythe, Smyth, Washington, Grayson, Carroll and Bristol City will be held at Abingdon, June 13th and 14th. The usual contest in recitation, declamation, oration, essay and debate will be arranged for. Each county is entitled to one representative in each contest. Gold medals will be awarded to the successful contestants. All representatives should be regularly selected by primary contests, if necessary, and their names given to the committee in charge at least two weeks before the time of the contest.

The question selected for debate is, "Resolved that the United States Government should establish at once a general Parcels Post system that will provide for the carriage of all parcels not exceeding twelve pounds in weight."

The debaters are allowed to take either side of the question. Fifteen minutes will be given to each speaker for his first speech and eight for his second.

The division superintendents and the principals of the high schools will arrange for the primary contests.

F. B. KEELEY, Vice-Pres.,
State Teachers' Association.

NARROWS.

The commencement exercises of the High School, consisting of Recitations, Essays, Declamations and Debate, closed Tuesday evening. The Annual Sermon was preached on Sunday night by Rev. J. A. H. Shuler of Princeton. On Monday evening the High School gave the play, "Dot, The Miner's Daughter," in the school auditorium. This has been one of the most successful years of the High School, and the first time there have been any so fortunate, as to receive diplomas. There were nine, who graduated, who are as follows: Kate Bane, Lula Bailey, Lula Day, Kathleen Hale, Frank Beamer, Joe Topper, Carl Dillow, Lenice Coburn and Cover Johnson. There were three gold medals awarded, two given by the school, and the medal in Recitation, was donated by W. O. Coburn. Cover Johnson received the medal for debate; Pete Glenn the one in Declamation; Kathleen Hale was awarded the one on Recitation; Jesse Pence was given the prize in Declamation from the seventh grade. Every one taking part in the different contests, acquitted themselves with credit, and it was hard for the Judges to decide just which were the best, so close were the contestants.

Miss Mamie Ayers of the Narrows High School faculty, has returned to her home in Cleveland, Tenn.

Miss Eva Walters, also of Narrows High School, left Thursday for her home in N. C.

Mrs. W. E. C. Merriman has returned from a pleasant visit to relatives in Hagerstown, Md.

Mrs. F. E. Bastian was shopping in Roanoke last week.

Miss Ruth Davis is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. S. T. Pearis of Lynchburg.

Misses Maggie and Mattie Givens of Newport, were the guests of Mrs. J. B. Givens during the contest exercises.

Miss J. Nellie Hoge is visiting in Bluefield.

Mrs. Robert Durham, who has been quite sick, is improving.

Mrs. Chas. Witt has returned to her home at Bramwell, after visiting friends and relatives here.

F. V. Priddy of Knoxville, Tenn., came Friday to spend the summer with his daughter, Mrs. E. M. Hale.

Cecil Stafford of Harper, spent several days here last week with his family.

Prof. J. B. Givens returned Monday from Newport, where he was the guest of his father, J. M. Givens.

K. S. French, Miss Mamie and Mrs. Frank Bane motored from Roanoke in Mr. French's car last week.

Joe Vaughan is a business visitor here.

Miss Mary Woolwine after an absence of several months visiting in California, has returned home to the delight of her numerous friends.

Miss Mamie Ayers, James and Nellie Adair, spent Saturday and Sunday with Mrs. James Adair at Lurich.

Mrs. Charles R. Shannon is still with her mother at Dublin, not being able to come home on account of the serious illness of her little daughter, Virginia.

Mr. and Mrs. F. V. Johnson, Jr., have returned from Athens, where they were called several weeks ago on account of the serious illness and death of Mrs. Johnson's father, Mr. Higginbotham.

Mrs. M. C. Easley was the guest of relatives here during the High School Commencement.

Studebaker Automobiles — FLANDERS "20" — E-M-F "30" — Two Models

If You Were an Expert, What Car Would You Buy?

The time has passed when automobiles can be sold to you on their appearances or claims. This is a day when you and every purchaser must be shown what the car for which you pay your money will actually perform; what it will do. Beware of an automobile salesman who attempts to beguile you with a pleasing story. Tell him to show the goods and prove to you that his cars are worth the money. Find out whether his car is a real car or only an assembled automobile built to sell.

You have a right to your money's worth, but it is up to you to see that you get it. Deeper than all appearances, there are a few expert tests which ought to be applied to every car.

Who makes the car? Is it an assembled car or made from top to bottom by one manufacturer? What kind of a guarantee is on it? Does the manufacturer respect his own product with a real guarantee, or does he want you to take the chance? What do parts cost you and how conveniently can you get them? How many cars of this make are in service and how many are giving satisfaction? Questions like these go deep into the heart of the case, and if you put them rigorously upon any car you will find out with a certainty whether or not that car is worth its price.

We are selling Studebaker E-M-F "30" and Flanders "20" cars because we know that, dollar for dollar, their equal is not sold in the market today. The records of many thousands of cars in all kinds of service have convinced us absolutely. Studebaker E-M-F "30" and Flanders "20" cars are built to run, and because they run they sell. If we cannot prove to you under the most searching test that Studebaker cars are absolutely the best automobile values in the market, we do not want your business; but we can prove it, and your neighbors who drive these cars will tell you the same thing.

Be an expert when it comes to buying a car. You can, by getting from us some further ideas on real tests of an automobile. Clip the attached coupon and send it to us now because we have something new to tell you which you ought to know, whatever car you have in mind.

How About That New Buggy?

If you have not bought yet, don't do so until you look over our stock of

HAYDOCK BUGGIES.

We have unquestionably the swellest line of buggies that has been seen in this or any other vicinity.

We had them made that way! We feel that the best is none too good for the buggy users of this country, and to that end we had our vehicles made our way and according to our ideas of what constitutes a good honest buggy.

The HAYDOCK has the snap, the class, the distinctiveness and originality which counts for a handsome job.

Why buy the ordinary buggy when we can sell you the latest thing on wheels at a price that is no more than you would pay for the cheaper kind?

Come in and see for yourself what we have. A look costs you nothing, but it might mean a big saving for you. We are always glad to show you, and if it's superior style, exceptional finish, durable material, quality and price that appeal to you, we have it.

A Lesson of School.

BY J. W. FOLEY.

So you failed in your class, my lad?
 You couldn't quite make the mark?
You failed—and you feel so blue and sad
 And all of the world looks dark?
You lost, and your heart is sore,
 And you wish you could go and cry?
Well let us not worry a minute more
 Or give it another sigh.

You failed, and you stand in fear
 Of the things that the boys will say?
Why, there isn't a boy who is worth a fear
 But who knows he may fail some day
For it isn't to win that's good,
 And it isn't the head held high,
But to know you did the best you could,
 And the best we can do is try.

You failed, and you know how sad
 Were the ones who have failed before;
And what did you say to them, my lad,
 When you knew that their hearts were sore?
Did you come to them, near and near,
 With kind word and a smile,
And bid them dry that very tear
 That came to you after a while?

Ah yes—you don't know
 What it meant to the ones who lost;
And maybe you said some boy was slow
 And you didn't count the cost
Of the sorrow it was to him
 When he heard what his fellows said,
But you know it now, when your eyes are dim
 And the sorrow is yours instead.

So, lad, we have failed, maybe,
 And the other boys may pass,
But we've found a lesson for you and me
 That's finer than one in class;
We've learned what the bitter tear
 And the sorrow of boys may be,
We've learned the need of a word of cheer,
 So we haven't failed you see?

Mr. Bowser Entertains His Uncle Ike.

That Mr. Bowser had news of some kind to communicate when he reached home the other evening was plain to be read in his face, and after he had got seated at the dinner table he said:

'One of the strangest things that ever happened to me occurred today.'

'I hope you didn't buy a chicken farm,' replied Mrs. Bowser.

'I was taking my noonday lunch when a man came in that I knew and called me by name r noticed an oldish man sitting nearby prick up his ears and look at me and two or three times before I went out he seemed about to speak to me."

'Yes?'

'I had been back at the office about half an hour when he came in.'

'And wanted to borrow five dollars,' added Mrs. Bowser.

'Woman, if you are going to begin your sarcasm I shan't say another word! Why do you suppose he wanted to borrow five dollars! What right have you to suppose any such blasted thing?'

'Oh, I just happened to think so.'

'Well, don't just happen again. It's an insult on me. The man begged my pardon and wanted to know it he had understood my name—Bowser—aright. I answered that he had, and then he introduced himself as Ike Harris.'

'A dealer in city lots at the North pole?'

'By thunder, woman, but you provoke me until I feel like boxing your ears! Are you trying to make me out a fool?'

'No, of course not, but the name Ike has a suspicious sound to me. What did he want?'

'He simply wanted me to know that he was my uncle!'

'Mr. Bowser, you don't mean it?'

'That's just what I do mean, and you have been insulting him.'

'Your Uncle Ike, eh? I never heard you speak of him before.'

'No! Well, I'm not a man that goes around saying that I've got this uncle and that aunt and such and such a cousin. Besides, the last I heard of Uncle Ike was twenty years ago, and I thought him dead. He is very much alive, however.'

'And you were glad to see each other?'

'Naturally.'

'And you talked over old times?'

'Certainly.'

'And you haven't got a doubt left that he is your Uncle Ike?

'How can I have? A person must be a fool not to know his own uncle. He is an uncle on my mother's side. He is about 50 years old and very rich. He doesn't put on any style, but he's got the dough just the same, and has neither wife nor chick to leave it to.'

'Then, if he takes a liking to you—"

'Just so, Mrs. Bowser. If Uncle Ike wants to leave me a fortune I shan't kick. He and I tumbled into each other's arms at once, but how it will be with you, I don't know. You always muddle up things if there is a chance to.'

'Is he coming over here?'

'Of course. He had some business to attend to first, and said it might be nine o'clock before he got around. Yes, he's going to stay with us a week or two before going back West to his gold mine. You'll see a rather shabby but old fashioned sort of a man—just the kind of an old chap to tie to, and I hope you'll do your best to make things pleasant for him.'

Mrs. Bowser puzzled over the matter for a couple of minutes and then said:

'Mr. Bowser, don't be touchy about the matter, but it seems a dangerous thing to do to take a stranger into the house. How much did you question him?'

'There you go,' he replied. 'I wonder if there is a person on earth you are not suspicious of? If Uncle Ike were not my uncle would he dare come here to the house?'

'It doesn't seem so, and yet—"

'I'll bet my life against a nickel he's my uncle right enough You see that the spare bed is ready for him, and you might dress up a little. I want him to see that I selected a dandy for a wife.'

At 9 o'clock the doorbell rang and Uncle Ike was admitted and guided back to the sitting room. From what Mr. Bowser had said Mrs. Bowser was prepared to see an Uncle Rube, and her surprise was great when she noticed what a foxy face the uncle carried. Men of that look work the shell game at fairs and circusses. She had seen pictures of all sorts of bad men in the newspapers, and she wasn't over a minute in making up her mind that Mr. Bowser had been played for an easy mark. She tried to be listening, but it was the hardest kind of work.

Uncle Ike tried hard to feel at home, but it was evident that he would have been easier in his mind if alone with Mr. Bowser. After a little time had passed, Mrs. Bowser asked:

'Then you are a brother of Hannah's?'

'Yes,' was the reply.

Mr. Bowser's mother was not named Hannah, but Mary. Uncle Ike had told lie number one.

'Were there any other brothers?'

'Two others—Sam and Bill.'

She knew, and so did Mr. Bowser, that there was only one brother. Lie number two had been told.

'What has become of Mr. Bowser's mother's sisters? There were two, I believe?'

'Yes—Sarah and Ruth. Both are dead.'

The mother had no sisters. That was lie number three, and Mr. Bowser looked at his Uncle Ike in astonishment.

'I suppose you remember the old red farmhouse as vividly as if you had seen it yesterday?'

'Indeed, I do.'

The old red farmhouse wasn't red at all, but white. The liar was getting along swimmingly. Mr. Bowser didn't exactly think he was lying, but laid it to loss of memory instead. Five or six times he gave Mrs. Bowser the wink to stop the cross-examination, and when she persisted, he said she might be excused for a time. She left the room satisfied that Uncle Ike was a fraud, but what he was after further than to borrow money, she could not make out. While she wrestled with the problem the uncle was saying to Mr. Bowser:

'Nice wife you have.'

'Thanks.'

'Good looking and keen.'

'Yes.'

'But she don't like me.'

'Oh, it's just her shy way. She don't take to strangers at first. In two or three days you'll be visiting like old friends.'

Uncle Ike observed that he had had a long day of it and was tired out, and was presently shown up to his room. When the Bowsers were alone she said:

'Look out for your Uncle Ike?'

'What do you mean?'

'He'll be trying to borrow money in the morning.'

'Woman, I thank heaven I haven't your nature!'

'He's no more your Uncle Ike than I'm your Aunt Jerusha!'

'Stop! Stop right there!'

Mrs. Bowser stopped. She stopped 'till about 2 o'clock in the morning. Then she returned from a trip downstairs and shook Mr. Bowser awake to say:

'Get up!'

'Wh-what for?'

'Because your Uncle Ike has gone.'

'You don't say?'

'And robbed the house of everything he could take with him!'

Discipline is the root and foundation of efficiency.

A man's wife is the best partner he has got—if he only gives her a CHANCE. Give your wife a bank account and a share of your confidence and she will save your money. That is no sentimental theory. E. H. Harriman left a vast fortune. HIS WIFE had a share in making it; he left it to her, knowing her ability to handle it.

THE SABBATH FOR MAN.

Not for his abuse, but for his use; not that he may make it the occasion for wicked revelry and self-indulgence, but that he may therein promote the best interests of himself, his fellows, and the things entrusted to his care. It is, first of all, a rest day, and he has not used it wisely who is not better fitted for the duties before him by virtue of the recuperation obtained by the rest of the rest day.

He who made the heavens and the earth and crowned his creative work by the creation of man, saw fit to provide for the renewal of impaired energies, the promotion of health and comfort. He illustrated his idea by proclaiming his own rest, after the six creative days. If it was expedient for Omnipotence to rest, it was much more expedient for his creatures to rest.

It does not follow that, because the Sabbath was made for man, therefore he may use it as seems good to himself. It becomes him to ask the Author and Giver of the day how he shall use it, and conform his conduct to the revealed will of his Creator.

She's a Beauty.

If you had been permitted to stand with Moses on Sinai's flaming crest, or with the Man of Sorrows when he uttered the Beatitudes, you could not have been more impressed with the fact of the existence of an All Wise one, than in this county now, if you will only look at the eternal hills, the masterpiece of all his works. Every blossom, green leaf and brilliant color, looks like the eyes of pitying angels, watching poor blind man, staggering along through life, not realizing, that he can look in no direction, without seeing the glorious countenance of Nature's God.

"My grandmother died last week."

"That's too bad. You have my sympathy old man."

"Thank you. It was a terrible blow."

"It must have been."

"Yes, coming as it does right now, with the base ball season only three weeks away."—Detroit Free Press.

LOCAL INTEREST.

Empty—our county jail.

Prof. Jas. R. Stafford's little daughter, Mary, has the measles.

Little Miss Min Mason is visiting relatives at Northfork, W. Va.

Miss Constance Osborne is the guest of Miss Julia Catron of Radford.

Hurry up and get your corn planted, the mountains are green to the top.

From all appearances this is going to be the finest fruit year we have had in ages.

Misses Nannie Lou and Polly Johnston are visiting Miss Mae Butte near Eggleston.

Prof. C. A. Brown of Narrows, was in town Saturday on business and gave us a call.

Messrs. William C. and Frank Easley of Bluefield, were guests of relatives here last Sunday.

H. T. Adair of Lurich and W. Davis of Glen Lyn, were in town Monday on business.

Rev. and Mrs. W. B. Belchee left Tuesday to attend Radford District Conference at Galax.

Dr. O. J. French of Crum, W. Va., and K. S. French of Narrows, were in our city Tuesday.

Porter Jackson, who has been visiting his sister, Mrs. Wassom, left for Austinsville, Friday last.

Joe Brown of Wytheville, was the guest of his brother, R. Allen, several days the first of the week.

A light frost was seen in this place on Friday morning last. We sincerely hope it did no harm.

Miss Gertrude Porter is at Pembroke this week doing some stenographic work for Mr. Wirt Snidow.

Judge James French Strother of Welch, W. Va., spent Sunday with his parents, Judge and Mrs. P. W. Strother near town.

The Epworth League, which was stopped for two or three weeks, has commenced again, and was well attended Sunday evening.

C. M. Munsey left Monday for Newport News, where he goes as a representative to the Grand Lodge of I. O. O. F. at this place.

Mrs. J. E. M. Stafford, who has been confined to her home for quite a long while with sickness, we are glad to state, is able to be out again.

Mrs. D. R. Whittaker and children of Ennis, W. Va., are visiting Mrs. Newby near Curve. Mr. Whittaker spent Sunday with his family.

Drs. W. D. Woolwine and Harvey G. Johnston went to Wytheville, Monday to "take in" the Allen trial. They returned Tuesday.

By an act of the last General Assembly the terms of the Circuit Courts for this county will begin on Tuesday after fourth Mondays in March, June and October.

Miss Ethel Sue Johnson of Narrows, is visiting her cousin, Miss Mary Peters of this place.

Rev. D. T. Miles of Bane, passed through town Tuesday on his way to District Conference at Galax.

Dr. Frank Miller will be at Newport, Monday, May 20th, for two weeks. Come early and make engagements.

Rev. J. G. Reveley will preach in the Presbyterian church next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock; Green Valley at 3:30 p. m., and Pleasant Hill at night.

Messrs. W. H. Buchanan and C. S. Ballard have opened up a livery and feed stable in our town and will endeavor to please the public in this line of business.

Prof. and Mrs. J. T. Wassom and daughter, Nancy, left Sunday for Galax and other points east. Mrs. Wassom and Nancy expects to be absent for several weeks.

Owing to Rev. W. B. Belchee being present at the District Conference at Galax, he will not fill his regular appointments at Bluff City and Narrows next Sunday.

Frank Glover of Herndon, W. Va., was visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Glover of this place Wednesday and Thursday. He is one of our nicest young men.

Prof. J. T. Wassom of this place and Rev. C. A. Brown of Narrows, are in attendance at the District Conference at Galax, as delegates, which convenes there Wednesday.

Mesdames J. W. Porterfield and F. E. Snidow and Master Francis Snidow left Saturday for All Healing Springs in Craig county. Mr. F. E. Snidow accompanied them, and returned Monday.

Monday morning was Marchy, the wind blew at a hurricane rate, and most of our citizens had to build fires to keep warm. Wonder if this was some of the wind used by Taft and Teddy? If so, it was quite severe.

Rev. M. W. Royall will preach at Glen Lyn Sunday morning at 11 o'clock and Pearisburg at night at 7:45. After the sermon the ordinance of baptism will be administered. We hope all those who have joined the church will be ready.

Capt. David A. French and son, Charles, of Bluefield, W. Va., John D. Snidow and Daniel W. Mason of this place, returned to their homes on Saturday evening last after attending the Soldiers Reunion at Macon, Ga., last week. They were delighted with the Reunion and their trip.

Mr. C. R. St. Clair of Dublin, has been in the city today. This is his first trip here since returning from Florida, where he spent the winter. His health is very much improved and he says he is able to enjoy three meals daily.—Southwest Times.

The Pearisburg Brass Band gave us a nice treat on Friday evening last by playing a few tunes on our thoroughfare. They are improving wonderfully. Next time you play for us give us a more extended 'Yankee Doodle,' you cut it too short the other evening.

They tell us that if it does not rain on the tenth day of May, it will be a dry summer. Well, it did not do so. But as it rained very early on the 11th, we guess it won't be so awful dry after all. A few hours does not make so much difference—without you are being hung.

Rev. J. G. Reveley preached a very able sermon Sunday at 11 o'clock in the Presbyterian church on "Our Mother," it being Mother's Day. Those who were not there to hear this divine missed something fine and something which ought to have done you a power of good.

The ladies of the Episcopal church will serve strawberries and ice cream at the Dennis building, Friday afternoon and evening, for the benefit of their church furniture, and will have music on the graphophone during both the afternoon and evening, and will greatly appreciate the patronage of the public.

Lieutenant and Mrs. Leuman Morgan of the United States navy were the guests of Mrs. T. J. Pearson and Mrs. P. F. St. Clair the past week. Lieutenant Morgan has just completed a tour of shore duty in Boston and before joining his ship on the Asiatic station visited Washington, Philadelphia and historic sections of Virginia.

The Odd Fellows of our colored friends, were out on our streets Sunday with their regalias on, and presented quite a handsome appearance. Rev. Holmes of New River, preached a sermon on Odd Fellowship, which was said to have been an able one and well delivered. They were to have had a big day of it, but the rain spoiled the programme.

Dr. L. D. Whitaker, Veterinary Surgeon, who has been in town about a year, and who, it seemed, did an exellent business, left here Monday for Nashville, Tennessee, where he will make his home. We were very sorry to part with the doctor, as he was a nice, courteous and gentlemanly young man. We wish him success in his new home.

We have received an invitation to attend The Faculty and Graduating Class of Martha Washington College, Abingdon, Va., at its fifty-third annual commencement, from the 25th to the 28th of this month. The Baccalaureate Sermon will be preached by Bishop R. C. Waterhouse of Los Angeles, Cal. This is one of the best colleges in the State. We are sorry, indeed, but business forbids our attending.

Some one in this town has our ice cream freezer, and we know who it is, and if they do not return it at once we will send an officer for same, and publish the ones name in next issue of this paper. JERRY JOHNSTON.

Mrs. H. B. Shelton, and her mother, Mrs. Barbara Strader, and Miss Kate Shelton are visiting relatives and friends in Bluefield.

Mrs. R. A. Pauley of Bland, Mrs. Doan Wilburn and little Miss Rhoda May Henderson of Thessalia, gave us a pleasant call Wednesday. We are delighted to have the ladies call around to see us.

The doctors of our town seem to be "on the go" all the time, but the people must not be very ill, or the doctors know their trade to perfection, for we seldom hear of a death in and around our quiet little village. But this place ought to be as healthful a place as anywhere in the world, as we have the purest of air, and our water the purest that ever came out of the earth. People who taste of our water once often come back for more.

John R. Johnston, our brother, who has been with us and rendering us valuable assistance in our editorial and printing work for the past year, left Monday for his home in Hartford, Conn., going via New York City, where he will make a stay of some two weeks, before proceeding on his journey. With much regret we bade him goodbye, as we will miss his cheering presence and kindly help in many ways every hour and day he is absent, which we hope will not be for long and that he may soon return to us.

We wish those of our subscribers who are in arrears (and you know how it is in your case) would come in person or send us what you owe us, as we are in need of money badly, not having taken in enough the past month to buy our blank paper to print the VIRGINIAN on. We cannot run our business without money. Please bear this in mind and see to it that we get what you owe us. You don't owe us enough to break you, but it will do us a great deal of good.

Rev. S. S. Catron, our presiding elder, preached a missionary sermon in the M. E. church on Sunday evening last to a good-sized congregation. It would be useless for us to try to tell you how he handled this subject, all know too well how this reverend gentlemen does things. He is, in our opinion, one of the ablest preachers and as fine an orator as we ever listened to and we never tire or grow weary when under the sound of his voice. We wish we could hear Brother Catron more often than we do.

A Summer session of school will be held at Emory and Henry College, from June 17th to August 17th of this year. Those who desire to enter this school will confer a favor by addressing the local manager, Dr. J. L. McGhee, Emory, Va., as soon as possible. Board, tuition for eight weeks, and furnished room, not over $50. Payments to be made in advance. No finer place for summer study can be found. Cool weather, cold spring water and tables supplied with fresh products from the surrounding farms and gardens. Those desiring more information, address as above.

SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS.

We have just learned that Mr. R. Henry Farrier of Newport, will probably ask for the appointment of Superintendent of Schools of Giles county, in place of our present very efficient incumbent, Mr. C. A. Hardwick, who, we learn will not be a candidate for re-appointment.

We do not know what others may have similar aspirations, but without saying anything whatever in disparagement of them, we can consistently and with much pleasure say, that if there is a man in Giles county who would fill this position creditably that man is Henry Farrier. We have known him intimately for many years, and in addition to the fact that his literary attainments are more than ample to meet the requirements of the position, he is a most superb man; safe, sound, practical along all lines, and is one whose honor, integrity and high character, as well as all that go to round out a fine man, are such that he stands without a superior in Giles county.

A DELIGHTFUL EVENT.

Mr. J. H. Durham of Ripplemead, celebrated his sixty-fifth birthday on last Thursday, May 9th, by a large birthday dinner. The table groaned with an abundance of good things to eat.

Those present were as follows: C. H. Magee and family of Salem; J. L. Durham and family of Eggleston; R. B. Durham and family of Narrows; W. T. Duncan and family, Mrs. T. J. Gerald and family, F. H. Durham, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Durham of Ripplemead.

Mr. Durham has eight children and twenty-three grandchildren. He is a man widely known and very popular, having served as Sheriff of Giles county for many years. His many friends join in wishing that he may live long and prosper.

CARD OF THANKS.

We desire through the columns of your kind paper to express our sincere thanks to the Ladies Aid Society of the Pearisburg Presbyterian Church for installing a splendid range in the Manse; the Ladies of the Narrows for installing a handsome buffet, and the kind people of Hoge's Chapel for sending so many good things for the pantry. We appreciate the spirit that prompted the donation of the gifts as much as the gifts themselves. The people have just been lovely to us. Indeed, our lines have fallen upon pleasant places.

Paint and "Paint."

Paint itself costs $2.10 per gallon — but remember that — Linseed Oil costs only $1.00 per gallon, and that "Paint" ready for use consists of 4 parts Paint and 3 parts Oil. Consequently it is plain—that you should buy Paint and Oil separately—mix them yourself—and so save 45 cents per gallon. Therefore buy L. & M. Paint (prepared in semi-paste form) mix three quarts of Oil to each 1 gallon L. & M. and make 1¾ gallons of Paint ready for use at $1.65 a gallon. Call on H. B. Shelton & Co., Pearisburg, Va.

MID THE GREEN FIELDS OF OLD VIRGINIA, FAR AWAY!

It's up in old Virginia, there they never have the blues;
Where the captain kills the Colonel, and the Colonel kills the booze,
Where the horses they are pretty, and the women they are brave;
Where they clean the court up quickly, when they want to misbehave.

Where the blood it flows like water, and bullets fly like hail;
Where every pistol has a pocket, and every coat a tail;
Where they always hang the jury, but they never hang the man,
Where you call a man a liar, and then leave him if you can.

Where you go out in the morning, just to give your health a chance,
And they bring you home at evening, with some buck-shot in your pants,
Where the owl's afraid to holler, and the birds don't dare to sing,
For it's hell in Carroll county, where they shoot 'em on the wing.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

To the Worshipful Master, Wardens and Brethren of Intermont Lodge No. 269, A. F. & A. M.

We, the undersigned committee, beg leave to submit the following resolutions on the death of Brother William T. Coburn, who departed this life April 8, 1912:

WHEREAS, It has pleased the Supreme Architect of the Universe in His divine wisdom, to remove from this life our faithful brother and co worker, and

WHEREAS, We deeply regret the loss of our beloved brother, we bow in humble submission to the Divine will. Therefore, be it

Resolved, 1. That in the death of Brother Coburn the lodge has lost a faithful co-worker, an estimable companion and an esteemed and honest man.

2. That we extend to the bereaved family and friends our heartfelt sympathy in this hour of their sorrow and bereavement.

3. That our lodge be draped in mourning and the brethren wear the usual badge for thirty days, that these resolutions be spread on the minutes of the lodge, a copy be sent to the bereaved family and one to the PEARISBURG VIRGINIAN.

Studebaker Automobiles
FLANDERS "20" E-M-F "30"
Two Models

If You Were an Expert, What Car Would You Buy?

The time has passed when automobiles can be sold to you on their appearances or claims. This is a day when you and every purchaser must be shown what the car for which you pay your money will actually perform; what it will do. Beware of an automobile salesman who attempts to beguile you with a pleasing story. Tell him to show the goods and prove to you that his cars are worth the money. Find out whether his car is a real car or only an assembled automobile built to sell.

You have a right to your money's worth, but it is up to you to see that you get it. Deeper than all appearances, there are a few expert tests which ought to be applied to every car.

Who makes the car? Is it an assembled car or made from top to bottom by one manufacturer? What kind of a guarantee is on it? Does the manufacturer respect his own product with a real guarantee, or does he want you to take the chance? What do parts cost you and how conveniently can you get them? How many cars of this make are in service and how many are giving satisfaction? Questions like these go deep into the heart of the case, and if you put them rigorously upon any car you will find out with a certainty whether or not that car is worth its price.

We are selling Studebaker E-M-F "30" and Flanders "20" cars because we know that, dollar for dollar, their equal is not sold in the market today. The records of many thousands of cars in all kinds of service have convinced us absolutely. Studebaker E-M-F "30" and Flanders "20" cars are built to run, and because they run they sell. If we cannot prove to you under the most searching test that Studebaker cars are absolutely the best automobile values in the market, we do not want your business; but we can prove it, and your neighbors who drive these cars will tell you the same thing.

Be an expert when it comes to buying a car. You can, by getting from us some further ideas on real tests of an automobile. Clip the attached coupon and send it to us now because we have something new to tell you which you ought to know, whatever car you have in mind.

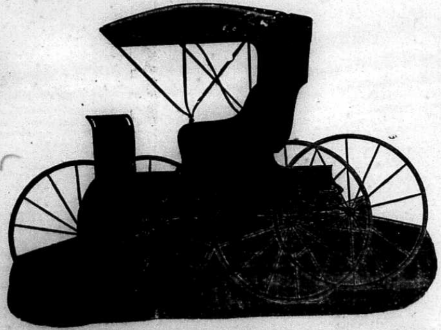
How About That New Buggy?

If you have not bought yet, don't do so until you look over our stock of



HAYDOCK BUGGIES.

We have unquestionably the swellest line of buggies that has been seen in this or any other vicinity.
We had them made that way! We feel that the best is none too good for the buggy users of this country, and to that end we had our vehicles made our way and according to our ideas of what constitutes a good honest buggy.
The HAYDOCK has the snap, the class, the distinctiveness and originality which counts for a handsome job.
Why buy the ordinary buggy when we can sell you the latest thing on wheels at a price that is no more than you would pay for the cheaper kind?
Come in and see for yourself what we have. A look costs you nothing, but it might mean a big saving for you. We are always glad to show you, and if it's superior style, exceptional finish. durable material, quality and price that appeal to you, we have it.

Things We Cannot Afford.

We can't afford to win the gain
That means another's loss;
We can't afford to miss the crown
By stumbling at the cross,
We can't afford the heedless jest
That robs us of a friend;
We can't afford the laugh that finds
In bitter tears an end,
We can't afford the feast today
That brings tomorrow's fast;
We can't afford the farce that comes
To tragedy at last,
We can't afford to play with fire,
Or tempt a serpent's bite;
We can't afford to think that sin
Brings any true delight,
We can't afford with serious heed
To treat the cynic's sneer;
We can't afford to wise men's words
To turn a careless ear,
We can't afford for hate to give
Like hatred in return;
We can't afford to feed a flame
And make it fiercer burn,
We can't afford to lose the soul
For this world's fleeting breath;
We can't afford to barter life
In mad exchange for death,
But blind to good are we apart
From thee, all-seeing Lord;
Oh, grant us light that we may know
The things we can't afford.

Mr. Bowser Indulges in a Spring Tonic.

'Mrs. Bowser,' began Mr. Bowser, the other evening after he had been puffing away at his cigar for a quarter of an hour, 'I was talking with a farmer today and he said the robins had come back from the South.'

'Yes?'

'That's a sure sign of spring, isn't it?'

'It's so considered, I believe.'

'One needs a tonic in the spring, doesn't he?'

'You can make yourself believe that you need one,' she replied, as she gave him a sharp look.

'But I don't have to make myself believe. More than a dozen men have told me in the last month that I was all run down. Only yesterday Green was telling me that he never saw a man fail as I had.'

'Mr. Green, as you know, is near sighted and cross-eyed.'

'But I have failed. I feel it and know it. There have been days in the last week when I did not feel that I could crawl to the office. On the car coming home tonight I had a faint spell, and for ten minutes I hardly knew where I was.'

'And when you recovered an old woman had her arm around you and was saying; 'Poor kid!''

'By thunder, woman, are you making a burlesque of this?' shouted Mr. Bowser as he roused up.'

'Not at all, only when a man loses his senses on a street car for ten minutes he can't tell what may happen. Had you been eating hard-boiled eggs in a quick lunch place?'

'Of course not!'

'Well, go on with what you were going to say. I presume you will get around to spring tonics in time.'

'I shall get around to what I darn please! Mrs. Bowser, what sort of a wife are you, anyway? Never does the state of my health worry you in the least. If I were dying like an old horse in the shafts you would turn to ridicule. I have the backache; I have swimming of the head; I have pains; I have loss of memory; I have ringing in the ears; I have a general feeling of lassitude. All thse and more I have and yet you sit there with a heart of stone.'

'Far from it, Mr. Bowser,' she replied. 'On the contrary, I say you need a spring tonic and if I were you I'd go over to the drug store and get one right away.'

Mr. Bowser looked at her in a doubtful way for a minute and then said:

'Brown got a spring tonic a week ago and he is feeling joyful all the time. You may have noticed that I haven't laughed for days and days?'

'Yes, I have noticed.'

'I keep thinking all the time of how father was killed by a bull in whom he trusted, and how mother was drowned in the well.'

'Then go to the drug store at once. Tell the druggist just how you feel and have him put you up a joyful tonic. Come to look at you by gaslight, you do look worn out.'

'I—I don't have to go to the store, Mrs. Bowser. I had a tonic put up near the office.'

'A joyful tonic?'

'The druggist said there were five laughs and six whoops in every dose of it. Here it is.'

And he drew from his pocket a quart bottle with the written label on it: 'Spring Tonic.'

Mrs. Bowser took the bottle from his hand and shook it and sniffed at the contents and said:

'Better take a dose at once.'

'You don't have to measure it out,' replied Mr. Bowser. 'All you have to do is to tip up the bottle and——'

And he gurgled.

And he smacked.

And the dose he took was a liberal one.

'How often?' asked Mrs. Bowser as the gurgling ceased.

'Every ten minutes 'till the joyful feeling comes, and then at longer intervals.'

'Do you know the ingredients?'

'Not one. The druggist said I could trust it all to him. He has been putting up spring tonics for the last thirty years, and has never made one failure. He put up all of Roosevelt's tonics, spring and fall. I think I'll take another dose.'

More gurgles.

More smacks.

With the addition of a long-drawn u-m m-m—m!

Then there was a period of waiting for the joyful to set in. It wasn't on the hustle, and it was five or six minutes after the third dose before Mrs. Bowser looked up and found Mr. Bowser's eyes brimming with tears.

'Now what on earth's the matter with you?'

'Thinking, Mrs. Bowser—— thinking?' he sobbed.

'But I thought it was a joyful tonic.'

'It is, but the joyful doesn't come until after the sorrowful. Think of my poor old father being gored to death by a bull and no one to save him! He cried for help, but cried in vain!'

'You've told me a hundred times over that he died of typhoid fever.'

'And my poor old mother!' he sobbed. 'She went out to draw on old oaken bucket of water and fell into the well. They didn't find her for a week, and then she was dead. Yes, sir, down that well for seven days, and nobody knows how many times she called for me?'

'You forget that I was there when she died and that the cause was pneumonia.'

'And there was my Aunt Lucinda,' continued Mr. Bowser as he rose up and walked the floor and wrung his hands. 'At 10 o'clock one morning she was alive and kicking. An hour later she was cold in death. Climbed a cherry tree and came down with a kerplunk and broke her neck. Mrs. Bowser, why don't you weep with me?'

'Mr. Bowser, I don't believe that druggist put you up a spring tonic. I believe it's straight whisky.'

'And there was my Uncle Joab, went on Mr. Bowser as he sat down and sobbed. 'When I was a boy he used to hold me on his knee and tell me pirate stories and hope I'd be another Kidd then he was taken, Mrs. Bowser —taken right away from earth to heaven. Yes, sir, a sawlog rooled over him and he was mashed as flat as a pancake. He called my name just as he was mashed, but I was fur, fur, fur away.'

'But I wouldn't mind if I were you,' said Mrs. Bowser in a soothing way. 'You had better go to bed now and take the rest of the tonic in the morning.'

'And there was Aunt Jane. Oh, what lovely pies she made!'

'But never mind.'

'And there was Moses Skinner. He used to carry me through the deep snow on his back. He's —dead now.'

'But come to bed.'

'And Aaron Whitefield—he used to love me. If I had been a girl and growed up to be a woman he'd have married me. And there was my Cousin Julia. She was just the sweetest, nicest, cutest——'

But Mrs. Bowser went upstairs and left him alone with the sobs and tonics and sorrowful memories. When Mr. Bowser is taking a spring tonic according to directions he can't be coaxed. For an hour she hoped to hear him creeping up the stairs on hands and knees, but as he did not appear she slipped down. He lay on the floor fast asleep with the faithful cat watching over him. She got a pillow for his head and a shawl to cover him up and left him alone to his joyful dreams. The tonic went out doors and she went upstairs.

Next morning she innocently asked:

'Mr. Bowser, do you feel an improvement in your condition from taking that spring tonic?'

'What spring tonic?' he shouted back at her. 'Mrs. Bowser, I hate to say it, but you have weakening of the brain, and if you don't quit running to bargain sales you'll find yourself in a lunatic asylum some day!'

Muscular Christianity.

A New York dispatch recently stated that the Rev. Joseph Walter Miller, pastor of a Presbyterian church at 196 Bleecker street, who lives in East Orange, New Jersey, saw a team of horses galloping south in Greenwich street. A youth, driving, continuously plied the lash.

The minister ran after the team. From Eleventh to Christopher streets he followed the galloping horses. They were drawing away from him when one of them fell, exhausted.

"Instantly," said the Rev. Mr. Miller later in night court, "the driver leaped from his seat, lashed the fallen horse and kicked it."

Mr. Miller ran up and seized the youth by the collar. "I shook him and then I cuffed him, and when a policeman came up I ordered his arrest," said the minister, in telling his story to Magistrate Appleton.

The prisoner denied that he had beaten those "old nags," and said, "It wasn't my fault one of 'em fell down."

"Don't believe what you say," said the magistrate. "I'll hold you in $200 bail for trail."

The Opal, Child of Love.

A sunbeam lingered under a leaf in the forest at sunset, loath to leave so fair a spot, until the moon suddenly rose. Enraptured with the shimmering beauty of a moonbeam, he stood entranced and trembling and could not go. In ecstacy they met and kissed. The sun sank and left him in her arms. The opal is the child of their love. In its fair face are forever mingled the silver of the rising moon and the glory of the sunset.—Anonymous.

"That paper causes a disturbance every time it comes to my house," said a father the other day. Thereby he revealed a truth which parents are slow to recognize—the children are hungry to read. Take a healthy normal boy ten or fifteen years old, and if the father will supply him, and knows what sort of books to buy, he will read his weight in books every year. The pity of it is, many of them are literally starving for books, and no man supplies them. It is a shame.—Midland Methodist.

Pearisburg and Eggleston played a good game of ball here Saturday, Pearisburg winning by the close score of 10 to 9. Both teams played hard for the game, and it kept the spectators in doubt as to which would win, until the ninth when Powell scored the winning run on a hit by Pearson. Gilliam pitched a superb game for Pearisburg, fanning thirteen batters and walked one for the seven innings he pitched, Pearson relieving him. Fry pitched good ball for Eggleston but had hard luck throughout the game. Each team put up a good game in the field and hit the ball hard in the pinches. Batteries: Pearisburg, Gilliam, Pearson, Peters and Johnston. Eggleston, E. Fry, Bishop and Huffman. Umpires Williams and Whittaker.

NEWPORT, VA., May 20, 1912.

I appreciate very much the compliment paid me in last week's VIRGINIAN in regard to me being a candidate for Superintendent of Schools, for the kind words and deeds we give to one another through life are worth far more than the costliest of flowers placed upon our graves; yet, I must correct the statement that I have no superior in our county. Among the many noble men that it takes to compose as good a citizenship as will be found in any county in Virginia. I believe there is more than one above your humble servant.

R. H. FARRIER.

NEWPORT.

COMMENCEMENT AT PEMBROKE.

High School Closes With Appropriate Exercises Including Three Plays Presented by Students.

The closing exercises of Pembroke High School were in every way a splendid success, reflecting much credit on the teachers, students and community.

The entertainment was held in the large and magnificient new hall of J. F. Williams & Co., on the second floor of their brick building. The stage is large and well suited to the rendering of any play, and the hall has a seating capacity of nearly five hundred. The last night of the exercises a charge of fifteen and twenty-five cents admission was made, from which a sum of forty five dollars was realized. This amount will be applied to the purchasing of a piano for the school.

The annual sermon was preached in the Lutheran church on Sunday, May 12th by Rev. David T. Miles of Bane, Va. A solo was sung by Mrs. J. T. S. Hoge, entitled, "Not Half Has Ever Been Told." A very large congregation was in attendance from different parts of the county, and was well pleased with the excellent sermon and music.

The exercises were resumed in the hall on Tuesday afternoon by the primary and intermediate grades, as follows:

(1) Doll drills, songs, recitations and pantomines.

(2) Prizes were awarded in the primary grades to Paul Croft and Theodore Williams.

(3) In the third and fourth grades prizes were given for deportment, scholarship, attendance and spelling to Noel Williams, Ethel Martin, Sarah Price, Bessie Winfrey and Cathleen Worley.

(4) In the fifth and sixth grades prizes were won by Harry Price, Porter Kirk, Lura Bauman and Doyle Williams.

Certificates of promotion were given to the following:

(a) From second to third grade: Charlie Shaw, Paul Croft, Theodore Williams, Albert Link, Porter Link, George Hilton, Mary Collins, Bessie Bauman and Helen Wallace.

(b) In third and fourth grades to: Sarah Price, Flora Hinchee, Louise Hinchee, Alice Shaw, Earle Lucas and Eva Lafon.

(c) To the first year high school: Harry Price, Fred Thompson, Lema Hendrickson, Ethel Collins, Maggie Link and Helsie Hilton.

(d) To the second year high school: Bess Hale, Glenna Lucas, Chapman Hoge, Raymond Williams and Mervin Williams.

(e) To third year high school: Bertha Hinchee, Maude Hinche, Geneva Snidow and Okee Hilton.

PROGRAM FOR TUESDAY NIGHT.

(1) Instrumental Solo—Second Waltz, Miss Annie Barrier.

(2) Pantomine—Nearer My God to Thee.

(3) Recitation—The Wedding Fee, Ethel Collins.

(4) Recitation—The Burning Ship, Lema Hendrickson.

(5) Instrumental Duet — Mrs. Lucile Mann and Miss Lillian Williams.

RECITATION CONTEST FOR MEDAL

(1) The Polish Boy, Miss Lillian Williams.

(2) The seventh Plague of Egypt, Miss Lona Mattox.

(3) Regulus to the Carthagenians, Chapman Hoge.

(4) Pro Patria, Miss Mamie Lucas.

Instrumental Solo—Miss Annie Barrier.

(5) Peter Sorghum in Love, Luster Bowens.

(6) Amanda's Wedding, Miss Glenna Lucas.

(7) What William Henry Did, Miss Bess Hale.

(a) Music—Miss Annie Barrier.

(b) Address — Judge Martin Williams.

The contest for the gold medal was splendid; the contestants showing that they had each striven to win by much effort. Several of them showed that they had not only been enthusiastic in making preparation but also manifested much talent in the art of appearing and speaking in public. It was rather difficult to decide who was the successful one, but the judges finally rendered their decision in favor of Miss Glenna Lucas.

WEDNESDAY NIGHT.

(1) Play by the Grammar grades—"The Country School."

(2) Pantomine — "The Star Spangled Banner."

(3) Play—By the High School pupils, "Miss Blothingay's Blunder."

(4) Play—By the High School pupils, "Jumbo Jum."

Music — By the Pembroke Orchestra.

Under the management of Prof. N. P. Reed of Maryland, as principal, together with an able corps of assistants, Miss Emma Hale, Mrs. Lizzie Eston and Mrs. Lucile Mann, the Pembroke High School has made great progress within the past three years. Owing to the increased attendance, it will be necessary to add one more room, and it is hoped that the School Board will deem it advisable to construct a wing to the old building, thereby making room for another grade as well as the teaching of music before another session.

PULLMAN ARRANGEMENT.

Heavy Fall of Snow.

Denver, May 14.—Nearly nine inches of snow had fallen in Denver up to 4 o'clock Monday, establishing a new record for this date. The snow fall covered a considerable portion of Colorado and Wyoming. Snow began falling here late Sunday, having been preceded by almost continuous rain since Saturday night. It melted quickly.

How to Make Paint.

Take 10 gallons of L. & M. Paint made of pure Lead, Zinc and Linseed Oil at $2.10 per gallon. Add 7 gallons of Linseed Oil at $1.00 per gallon, and make 17 gallons of pure Paint at a cost of only $1.65 per gallon.

It's the best paint that can be made.

It's $7.70 less cost than same quantity of any other high grade pure Paint. Call on H. B. Shelton & Co., Pearisburg, Va.

Studebaker Studebaker Studebaker
FLANDERS "20" Automobiles E-M-F "30"
Two Models

If You Were an Expert, What Car Would You Buy?

The time has passed when automobiles can be sold to you on their appearances or claims. This is a day when you and every purchaser must be shown what the car for which you pay your money will actually perform; what it will do. Beware of an automobile salesman who attempts to beguile you with a pleasing story. Tell him to show the goods and prove to you that his cars are worth the money. Find out whether his car is a real car or only an assembled automobile built to sell.

You have a right to your money's worth, but it is up to you to see that you get it. Deeper than all appearances, there are a few expert tests which ought to be applied to every car.

Who makes the car? Is it an assembled car or made from top to bottom by one manufacturer? What kind of a guarantee is on it? Does the manufacturer respect his own product with a real guarantee, or does he want you to take the chance? What do parts cost you and how conveniently can you get them? How many cars of this make are in service and how many are giving satisfaction? Questions like these go deep into the heart of the case, and if you put them rigorously upon any car you will find out with a certainty whether or not that car is worth its price.

We are selling Studebaker E-M-F "30" and Flanders "20" cars because we know that, dollar for dollar, their equal is not sold in the market today. The records of many thousands of cars in all kinds of service have convinced us absolutely. Studebaker E-M-F "30" and Flanders "20" cars are built to run, and because they run they sell. If we cannot prove to you under the most searching test that Studebaker cars are absolutely the best automobile values in the market, we do not want your business; but we can prove it, and your neighbors who drive these cars will tell you the same thing.

Be an expert when it comes to buying a car. You can, by getting from us some further ideas on real tests of an automobile. Clip the attached coupon and send it to us now because we have something new to tell you which you ought to know, whatever car you have in mind.

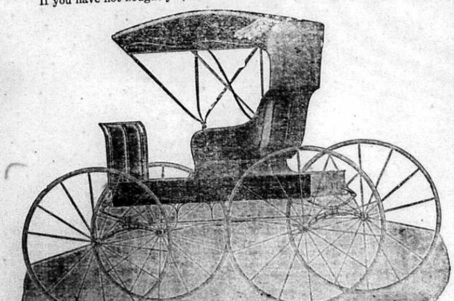
How About That New Buggy?

If you have not bought yet, don't do so until you look over our stock of



HAYDOCK BUGGIES.

We have unquestionably the swellest line of buggies that has been seen in this or any other vicinity.

We had them made that way! We feel that the best is none too good for the buggy users of this country, and to that end we had our vehicles made our way and according to our ideas of what constitutes a good honest buggy.

The HAYDOCK has the snap, the class, the distinctiveness and originality which counts for a handsome job.

Why buy the ordinary buggy when we can sell you the latest thing on wheels at a price that is no more than you would pay for the cheaper kind?

Come in and see for yourself what we have. A look costs you nothing, but it might mean a big saving for you. We are always glad to show you, and if it's superior style, exceptional finish, durable material, quality and price that appeal to you, we have it.

The Telephone Girl.

The telephone girl sits still in her chair
And listens to voices from everywhere,
She knows all the gossip, she knows all the news,
She knows who is happy and who has the blues;
She knows all our sorrows, she knows all our joys,
She knows all the girls who are "chasing the boys."

She knows all our troubles, she knows of our strife,
She knows every man who talks mean to his wife;
She knows every time we are out with the boys,
She knows the excuses that each fellow employs.

If the telephone girl told half that she knows,
It would turn all our friends into bitterest foes;
She would sow a small wind that would soon be a gale,
Ingulf us in trouble and land us in jail,
She would start forth a story which, gaining in force,
Would cause half our wives to sue for divorce.

She would get all our churches mixed up in a fight,
And turn our bright days into sorrowing night;
In fact, she could keep the whole town in a stew,
If she told but one-tenth of the things that she knew,
Say, kid, but doesn't it make your head whirl
When you think what you owe to the telephone girl?

—Judge.

The Circus Apples.

The circus was coming to town. Tommy knew because he saw a man posting the bills. They showed pictures of elephants, and lions, and tigers, and ladies swinging far out over the heads of the people. All this was to be in town the following day and Tommy wanted to go.

Tommy sought his mother and told her his desire. She patted him on the head and said:

'Very well Tommy, if you earn the money you may go.' This was rather discouraging, for Tommy was only eight years old. How could he earn any money in a small country town? He went out in the orchard to think it over. As he lay under the big red apple tree he dreamed about the glorious circus. How splendid it would be if he and Polly could go. Polly was his sister, five years old, and Tommy never made any plans without including her, for she was his best chum.

Just when Tommy was about giving up, hope of seeing the circus, a big red apple tumbled down out of the tree at his feet. It looked up at him so cheery and bright and its rosy face seemed to express encouragement.

'Take me,' it seemed to say, 'and let me earn your ticket for the circus.'

Tommy clapped his knee with his hand and hurried back to the house for Polly.

'Come on, Polly,' he shouted excitedly. 'Bring a basket and we'll get some apples and sell them to Mr. Dobbin down at the store'.

'Why are you going to sell apples, Tommy,' Polly asked with a puzzled face.

'Why, to go to the circus, of course,' explained the happy Tommy.

Tommy's mother said she would hitch up old Bess to the spring wagon and the children could put their apples in this and drive down to the store. Their faces were shining with expectation when they drove off down the lane, waving a jolly farewell to mother.

It was a very brave and business-like Tommy and a very proud Polly who stood before the counter in the store. Mr. Dobbin pushed back his glasses from his kindly face and said:

'Well, Master Tommy and Miss Polly, what can I do for you today?'

'We have some apples out here in the wagon and want to know if you would like to buy them?' Then Tommy went on to explain his plans about the circus.

'Let's see,' said Mr. Dobbin, 'It would take just about one dollar to get you and Polly into the circus and buy you some candy, some pink lemonade, and some peanuts to feed to the elephants. I'll look at your apples.' Mr. Dobbin went out to the wagon and looked at the tempting red fruit.

'They're pretty nice,' he said 'I'll take them.' After he had unloaded the apples he gave Tommy a shining dollar. The little people hurried home as fast as old Bess' legs could take them. Mother was pleased and said she would get their clothes all in readiness to be worn to the circus.

Never was there a prouder couple than were Tommy and Polly, as hand-in-hand they entered the big circus tent. They enjoyed the circus the more because they had earned the price of admission themselves.

Husbands, Attention!

From the time of St. Paul's decree that women should not go to church with bare heads, there have been precepts innumerable laid down for the guidance of women in every walk of life. For wives, especially, the newspapers and magazines roll off column after column of rules which are supposed to teach them how to be dutiful and obedient to the lords of creation. Now the tables are being turned, and in this "age of woman," as Victor Hugo called it, the husbands are coming in for their share of good counsel. For instance, The Hibernian recently gave the following directions to those husbands whose eyes are opening to the fact that the wife, too, has a point of view:

Deserve her perfect confidence.

Never do anything which will make you appear mean in her eyes.

Let her tell you her grievances and tell her your worries; you may be able to help each other, and you can surely comfort each other.

Try to be as thoughtful of your wife's comfort as you were when you first tried to win her heart; she needs your thoughtfulness more now.

Don't forget all the little courtesies you used to show her and which made you appear so well in her eyes; if there were aught to endear her to you before marriage she should be a thousand times dearer to you now.

Help her with the children sometimes at night, when they are fretful and you have no hired help. Supposing you do put in the plea that you are tired and that you have been working all day, too, and isn't she tired?—McCall's Magazine.

Most Extravagant.

The government of New York city is the most extravagant in the world. Its fixed charges for interest payments are enormous. Yet the tax rate for the coming year is only $1,722 a hundred in Manhattan, $1,755 in Brooklyn, $1,736 in Bronx and $1,816 in Queens. The rate for all purposes last year for Albany was $1.95, in Buffalo $2 19, in Rochester $1.93, in Schenectady $2 13, in Syracuse $1 39, in Utica, $2 22. It costs a lot to run New York, but they have a lot to collect taxes on.

WAKE UP! Bank your Money

Are you going to grow old without a dollar in the BANK?

Winding up in the POOR HOUSE is not a pleasant prospect. Old age comes as sure as the clock ticks. A comfortable OLD AGE is the ambition of every man. The way to have this is to have MONEY to make it comfortable. The money that you could save now by cutting out a few extravagances would grow into a big sum by the time your life reached its December. While enjoying the May time of your life, prepare for the December.

UNVEILING OF THE BLAND MONUMENT.

Several Noted Speakers Will be Here on that Occasion.

The Daughters of the Confederacy have fixed Thursday the 20th day of June as the time for the Unveiling of the Monument. Everything will be ready by that time. The ladies have worked incessantly for several months to raise the necessary funds and carrying out the original plans, with the result that we shall have a memorial to the Confederate dead of Bland county of which every citizen of the county can well feel proud.

This is a work in which the people of the whole county are interested and all are cordially invited to be present and assist in the ceremonies incident to the unveiling. Addresses will be delivered by distinguished speakers. Music will be furnished by one or more bands and a large crowd is expected. Luch will be served on the grounds at twenty-five cents for each person, except that no charge will be made the old soldiers. Proceeds to finish paying for the monument.

Everybody is solicited to bring a basket of provisions to be placed in charge of the committee. In this way they will be contributing so much towards the cost of the monument.

Let the whole people come out and help us, as there is scarcely a family in the county that did not send representatives to the front—many never to return.—Bland Messenger.

We hope the citizens of Giles county will turn out and help our neighbor county in the Unveiling of the Monument, which will be at Bland Court House on Thursday, June 20th.

A RULE FOR EVERY DAY.

Monday—Never put off till tomorrow what you can do today.

Tuesday—Never trouble another for what you can do yourself.

Wednesday—Never spend money before you have it.

Thursday—Never buy what you do not need because it is a bargain.

Friday—Never eat too much food.

Saturday—Do not harbor false pride.

Sunday—Never be afraid to say "No" when you are tempted.

Miss Ida Parker, W. M. Walker and E. A. Bower of Mabscott, W. Va., are guests of Mrs. E. B Gilliam of the Savoy Hotel.

Miss Della Dennis of Bluff City, is visiting her uncles, W. L. Dennis of Grundy, and B. P. Richardson of Crow, W. Va.

Peery Muncy has returned home from the University College of Medicine at Richmond. Peery looks as pleasant as ever.

Mrs. T. T. Phlegar returned home Monday from a visit to her sons, Dr. O. K. Phlegar of Radford, and Ema Phlegar of Pulaski.

Misses Nettie and Annie Laura Stafford, Mrs. E. B. Gilliam, Messrs. Loyd Brillhart and Irving Howbert spent Sunday at Mt. Lake.

Mesdames L. P. Eaton and Lucile Mann have returned to their respective homes, after a successful year's work in the Pembroke High School.

Mrs. W. F. Collins and son, Billy, of Bluefield; H. A. Johnston, wife and two children, Inez and Ivan, of Princeton, are visiting homefolks here for a few days.

A good road from Pearisburg to Newport, with a good bridge across Sinking Creek, now being built, will add greatly to the comfort and convenience of the traveling public.

Have a good garden at Ripplemead—Durham and Duncan. We hope they will remember the editor when the vegetables make their appearance, which will be in a very short time.

The Unveiling of the Confederate Monument will take place at Craig court house, June 7th. We hope our citizens, who can, will go and help our sister county to make the day a great success.

If you borrow a book return it as soon as finished. Always write your name in the front of the book, so borrowers will know whose it is. An unmarked book is a lost one.

Don't be so greedy, and pick the strawberries half ripe. That ruins the market, and disgusts the buyer. The using of "short quarts" is another dishonest thing, as is putting the finest berries on top. Play fair, or quit.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Nidermaier of Poplar Hill, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Antoinette, to Dr. R. L. Phipps of Clintwood, Virginia, the ceremony to be solemnized June the thirteenth, nineteen hundred and twelve.

Rev. W. B. Belchee was summoned to the home of his brother, Z. P. Belchee, who died May the 20, 1912, at Tazewell. The trouble was something like apoplexy. The services were held at the residence by Rev. Kelly Neel.

We were glad to see so many of our citizens along the road between Pearisburg and Newport using the white wash brush. We would like to see it used a little more often in and around Pearisburg. Lime is cheap and it makes things look nice and healthful.

The ladies of the Episcopal church gave an ice cream and strawberry festival last Friday afternoon and evening at J. H. Walker's store building. It was a great success and did much credit to those who organized and conducted it. Proceeds amounted to about $30 00.

We wish to acknowledge and return thanks to Miss Lucille Lucas who graduates this year at the Virginia State Normal at Farmville, Va.; and to Mr. Harry Echols who graduates in pharmacy at the Medical College of Virginia, for invitations to the commencement exercises of their respective schools. We are sorry we cannot attend.

Atlee Smith, Proprietor of Clarktown Barber Shop and Pool Room, Northfork, W. Va., in writing us for the VIRGINIAN says: "Don't fail to do this as you know what the VIRGINIAN is to a fellow away from home. Hope that you are getting along all right." Thanks to you for your kind words and wish you much success in your business.

Eggleston defeated Pearisburg on their own grounds Saturday by the score of 4 to 3. Rain fell at intervals during the game and the ball became so slippery that it was hard to control and field. The fielding was good and many good plays were made, but the hitting was weak, both pitchers keeping their hits scattered and far apart. Williams made a good catch in left field for Pearisburg and Bishop put up a good game at first base for Eggleston. Each of these teams have won a game and another game will be played at Pearisburg Saturday. Batteries: Eggleston, E. Fry and Huffman. Pearisburg, Pearson and Peters. Umpires, Durham and Pack.

DEATH OF MRS. FRENCH ROWE.

Seldom has the community so deeply felt the impressiveness of the grim monster death as when over the telephone came the message that Mrs. Rowe was dying. Although critically ill since last Sunday, yet her friends still hoped for her recovery, notwithstanding it was known that she was afflicted with acute bright's disease. At 5 o'clock Tuesday morning her nearest relatives were summoned to her home at Bluff City, where at about 9 a. m. her life passed out to God the Giver of all life.

Georgie Pearson Rowe was the daughter of Mr. W. D. Pearson of this place.

She was born October 30, 1893. Last September she was married to Mr. French Rowe. They have made their home at Bluff City.

Georgie was known and loved by a large circle of acquaintances as a school girl, she had strong friendships and was a leader among her young friends, manifesting at all times great strength of character.

To the young husband, who is prostrate with grief, and to the bereaved relatives and friends, we extend sympathy.

Rev. W. B. Belchee held the funeral service in the Bluff City Church at 3 o'clock Wednesday evening. By the side of her mother in the Charlton family burying ground the beautiful young wife was laid to rest amid heaps of flowers of her native soil and many beautiful floral designs from friends from a distance.

DEATH OF T. E. McVITTY.

We see in the Philadelphia papers notices of the death of T. E. McVitty of the firm of Lees & McVitty, owners and operators of the tannery at Bluff City. Giles county will ever remember Mr. McVitty. He came here many years ago and purchased of the late E. C. Hale a site for a tannery and without any ostentation began the erection, in a quiet way, of a large tannery. Our people did not then realize what this meant for them, but they soon found out that this enterprise being in the hands of an experienced business man, an enterprising citizen and a thorough gentleman, was destined to work a revolution in the business affairs of Giles county.

The many working men who now own their homes as a direct result of this enterprise, can testify as to his worth. Those who have come in direct contact with him in social and business affairs can testify as to his high moral and business standing. He was a man that did "big things," but always in a quiet way, and we but voice the sentiment of the citizens of Giles county, when we extend our sympathies to his family and express regrets at his death.

The real business of life is the making of a happy home. When you come to sift the whole chaff of existence, everything goes to the wind but the happiness we have had at home.

SPECIAL! SPECIAL! SPECIAL!

A Big Surprise.

The Adair Company have kindly given to the Ladies Aid Society the use of their fountain for Thursday, Friday and Saturday, May 30th, 31st and June 1st from 7 a. m. to 11:00 p. m., each day.

Ice Cream and Sodas will be served by the ladies. The proceeds to go towards the erection of the Presbyterian Church at Narrows. All Presbyterians MUST COME. Every one else is INVITED.

This is the time to entertain your MANY friends. If they are out of town bring them on Hay Wagons, in Automobiles or Ox Carts. If none of these are available, start early and walk in. You will not regret it as we are serving most delicious refreshments.

Those in town show your appreciation for our new sidewalks.

Come and help us. We want you. We need you. We must have you.

TRIP TO NEWPORT.

The editor, accompanied by I. C. Hale, Manager Southern Bell Tel. & Tel. Co, made a hurried call last Saturday to that prosperous part of our county, known as Newport. Improvement is to be noted on every hand, the road is in the best condition we have ever known it. New buildings have been constructed in town and out, showing that every one is sharing in the general prosperity.

We were received by the pleasant proprietor of the Newport Inn, Mr. M. F. Roberts, and did justice to the many good things placed before us at dinner.

As an entertainment was booked for the evening we were afforded the pleasure of meeting a large number of the citizens. Old friendships were renewed, several subscriptions paid, etc., and a very pleasant afternoon spent with these good people.

Mr. Hale informs us that he negotiated a contract for the continuation of telephone service to this community. He expects much improvement as the Newport Company contemplates rebuilding line from Newport to Pembroke. Also a large number of telephones in the Maybrook neighborhood will be connected that has not received service with the outside world heretofore. With the above connection 400 telephones in Giles county will have continual service with one another. This completes a chain of telephones reaching to every community, furnishing a quick means of communication of inestimable value.

NARROWS.

Narrows has recently been taking on new life. Many improvements are noticeable. The Virginian Railroad Company is erecting a good depot on the opposite bank of New River, giving splendid facilities for shipping of products, as well as accomodations to passengers in going from the N. & W. R. R. to the Virginian line.

An iron bridge is under construction across Wolf Creek. This bridge has been badly needed for a number of years, as there has been loss of life and other serious accidents at this point to those attempting to cross the rough ford.

Also to be noticed in our town is the interest taken in the improvement of the streets, as far as possible crooked places are being made straight, old plank walks are being abandoned for new concrete walks. These improvements have been badly needed, and we hope it will be the pleasure of the Town Council to push these walks to a finish as rapidly as possible. Why not issue bonds on the good faith of town and build the much needed walks at once, and give the tax-payers an opportunity to enjoy the walks while they pay for them? A little debt on the town would be inspiring and give us some stimulus to work.

Our school girls are returning from college. Those who have arrived are well reported. Miss Nell Hale, daughter of H. W. Hale, has returned from Sullin's College. In addition to her literary work she has gained the distinction of being the most gifted pupil in the department of Expression.

Miss Edna Brown, daughter of C. A. Brown, graduated in the Conservatory of Music at Sullin's College with the highest honors in her class under Prof. Bodell. We note the following reference made to her in the Bristol Courier:

"Miss Edna Brown played with a great deal of expression, and displayed remarkable technic. Her last number, "Concertstuck," by Charminade, in which she was accompanied by Prof. Bodell, at the second piano, was very beautiful and provoked much applause from the audience."

HOGE'S STORE.

One of the most enjoyable social events of the season was a porch dance given at "Claremont," the pretty home of Miss Helen Hoge, on Thursday evening May 23rd. The house was attractively decorated in flowers and ferns, which, with the glow of the lights and the graceful dancers made a pretty scene.

At intervals during the evening music, both vocal and instrumental, was well rendered by Miss Mary Snidow, Mrs. Lucille Mann and Messrs. Pearson, St. Clair and Reed.

Delicious refreshments were served and the young people engaged in that fascinating amusement until a late hour, music being furnished by Pembroke String Band.

The guests were: Miss Edna Shumate and Mrs. Lucille Mann, Pearisburg; Miss Susie Follingsbee, Washington, D. C; Misses Nita Douglass Peck, Annie Dee, Ellen and Nancy St. Clair, Bane; Misses Mary Snidow, Nellie Price and Emma Hale, Pembroke, and Misses Nannie Sue Hoge, Alma and Eva Tinsley. Messrs. Studebaker
FLANDERS "20" Automobiles E-M-F "30"
Two Models

If You Were an Expert, What Car Would You Buy?

The time has passed when automobiles can be sold to you on their appearances or claims. This is a day when you and every purchaser must be shown what the car for which you pay your money will actually perform; what it will do. Beware of an automobile salesman who attempts to beguile you with a pleasing story. Tell him to show the goods and prove to you that his cars are worth the money. Find out whether his car is a real car or only an assembled automobile built to sell.

You have a right to your money's worth, but it is up to you to see that you get it. Deeper than all appearances, there are a few expert tests which ought to be applied to every car.

Who makes the car? Is it an assembled car or made from top to bottom by one manufacturer? What kind of a guarantee is on it? Does the manufacturer respect his own product with a real guarantee, or does he want you to take the chance? What do parts cost you and how conveniently can you get them? How many cars of this make are in service and how many are giving satisfaction? Questions like these go deep into the heart of the case, and if you put them rigorously upon any car you will find out with a certainty whether or not that car is worth its price.

We are selling Studebaker E-M-F "30" and Flanders "20" cars because we know that, dollar for dollar, their equal is not sold in the market today. The records of many thousands of cars in all kinds of service have convinced us absolutely. Studebaker E-M-F "30" and Flanders "20" cars are built to run, and because they run they sell. If we cannot prove to you under the most searching test that Studebaker cars are absolutely the best automobile values in the market, we do not want your business; but we can prove it, and your neighbors who drive these cars will tell you the same thing.

Be an expert when it comes to buying a car. You can, by getting from us some further ideas on real tests of an automobile. Clip the attached coupon and send it to us now because we have something new to tell you which you ought to know, whatever car you have in mind.

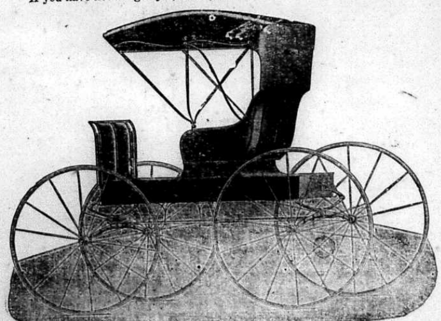
How About That New Buggy?

If you have not bought yet, don't do so until you look over our stock of



HAYDOCK BUGGIES.

We have unquestionably the swellest line of buggies that has been seen in this or any other vicinity.
We had them made that way! We feel that the best is none too good for the buggy users of this country, and to that end we had our vehicles made our way and according to our ideas of what constitutes a good honest buggy.
The HAYDOCK has the snap, the class, the distinctiveness and originality which counts for a handsome job.
Why buy the ordinary buggy when we can sell you the latest thing on wheels at a price that is no more than you would pay for the cheaper kind?
Come in and see for yourself what we have. A look costs you nothing, but it might mean a big saving for you. We are always glad to show you, and if it's superior style, exceptional finish, durable material, quality and price that appeal to you, we have it.

My Mother's Cookie Jar.

In a dim old country pantry where the light just sifted through,
Where they kept the pies and spices and the jam and honey, too,
Where the air was always fragrant with the smell of things to eat,
And the coolness was a refuge from the burning summer heat,—
It was there I used to find it, when I went to help myself—
That old cookie jar a-setting underneath the pantry shelf.
Talk of manna straight from heaven why, it isn't on a par
With those good old-fashioned cookies from my mother's cookie jar.

They were crisp and light and flaky; they had lots of sugar on;
And I think the way they tasted that the fountains of the dawn
Had been robbed to give them flavor, and the sweetness of the south
Had been kneaded in them somehow, for they melted in your mouth.
How I used to eat those cookies when I came in from my play;
Yet the jar was never empty, spite of all I put away.
Oh the "days that were" were better than dyspeptic days that are,
And I wish I had a cookie from my mother's cookie jar!

I am sick of fancy cooking: I am weary of the ways
Of the butler and the waiters. Give me back my boyhood days!
Give me back the good old kitchen, with it roominess and light,
Where the farm hands did their "sparking" almost every winter night.
Give me back my boyhood hunger and the things my mother made;
Give me back that well-filled pantry where I used to make a raid.
Take me back, as though forgetting all the years which mark and mar—
Let me taste once more the cookies from my mother's cookie jar.

Mr. Bowser Is Ridiculed by His Wife.

'I shall be out this evening,' remarked Mr. Bowser as he rose from the dinner table with a look of importance on his face.

'I was going to ask you to go to a moving picture place with me,' replied Mrs. Bowser as she followed him upstairs.

'It would be useless. The pictures will have to move without me.'

'Then it's something very important.'

'It is.'

'Very important?'

'So very important that a thousand dollars wouldn't keep me at home.'

'Some club?'

'Two weeks ago, Mrs. Bowser, I was elected a member of the Most High and Noble and Ancient Humanitarians. I don't recollect whether I said anything about it to you or not.'

'No, you didn't. So they have a meeting tonight?'

'They do, and I am to deliver an oration, and I don't know whether I mentioned the fact or not.'

'No; I think you didn't. Have you got the oration written out?'

'Mrs. Bowser, I am a man that doesn't have to write out my speeches and orations. After I have chosen my subject the words come to me spontaneously. Sometimes my thoughts come to me faster than I can express them orally.'

'Y-e-s. You are all prepared for this occasion, are you?'

'I am. There isn't a question about success.'

'Just what is the object of the Humanitarians?'

'To extend sympathy to the afflicted and alleviate distress. If I should be taken away the members would come here and sympathize with you.'

'How good of them! And if I wanted to borrow 15 cents I suppose they would lend it to me if I turned in the furniture as security.'

'See here woman, said Mr. Bowser, after a long look at her, 'I don't understand this levity. The Most High and Ancient and Noble are not a set of buffoons!'

'I didn't suppose so, but I hadn't heard of any number of humanitarians banding together to alleviate anything or anybody. It's all right, though, I suppose, and the proceedings will be interesting. Will they sit you on a chunk of ice, the same as the Gay Old Boys did? You didn't get warm for a week.'

Woman!'

'And when you were initiated at the Subconscious Reprobates they rubbed your head with a brickbat and made you chew on a bootleg. I was just asking if this was a club of that order?'

'No, of course not!' was shouted.

'Then I am glad you are to become a member. I like the name very much, and I should say that its members were above the middle age and serious steady men.'

'Now you are talking a little sense,' growled Mr. Bowser. There is no levity about the Most Ancients. I know three or four of the members, and I never saw a smile on their faces yet. The proceedings will be dignity itself.'

'That's good. But why do they want an oration?'

'To vary the programme a little, I presume. Also to draw out its members and get new ideas.'

'I see. I hope you make a hit and I should like to hear what you are going to say. What is your subject?'

'It's on the duty we owe mankind.'

'That's a wide subject, Mr. Bowser.'

'And I have treated it widely. I will repeat enough of the oration to give you a fair idea of the whole. Listen:

'The bells were striking midnight when a man was seen making his way toward the dark and silent river!'

'But why not have him making his way toward Prospect park?' queried Mrs. Bowser.

'How was he to drown himself in the park?'

'Oh, I see. Go on.'

'He was a lame man—lame in both legs. His back was bent, and his locks were gray.'

'Porous plasters and hair dye would have fixed that,' whispered Mrs. Bowser to herself.

'His right arm had been paralyzed. (Gestures.)

'He had tuberculosis!' (More gestures.)

'He had lost wife and children. (Gestures and emotion.)

'He had no home, and not a cent in his pocket. (Very pathetic.)

'He had begged the world for a crust, and it had given him kicks instead. (More pathos.)

'Why live on? He were better dead and with the angels in heaven. (Bowser points to the ceiling.)

'The turgid waters should be his shroud and the turgid mud at the bottom his coffin and his grave! (Tears.)

'He reaches a wharf!

'He walks out to the far end?

'He clasps his wrinkled hands and raises his eyes to the mid night sky. (The orator motioned it out.)

''I die! I die because—— because——!'

''No brother—hold!''

'And a member of the Most High and Noble and Ancient Humanitarians suddenly appears on the scene,' finished Mrs. Bowser.

'He does.'

'And tells the man there is hope for him?'

'Yes.'

'And takes him to his own home and feeds him up and then calls in a doctor?'

'Just so.'

'And the doctor says the man can be cured, but it will cost money, as he must make good to a disappointed cemetery company and an undertaker?'

'Yes, something like that.'

'And the Ancient tells him to go ahead, and he does, and the man is cured and later on becomes a great statesman?'

'Y-e-s.'

'And thus you point your moral and adorn your tale, and also get before the public the real object and work of the club. Why don't you change it a little, Mr. Bowser?'

'Where—how?'

'Make your man a woman, and when she is cured have her go out as cook. You see, we have too many statesman and too few cooks.

'By thunder, woman, I believe you have been making fun of me all the time?' shouted Mr. Bowser, as he sprang up.

She was red-faced and gurgling.

'If you have———'

Mrs. Bowser tried to get upstairs, but the way was blocked. She tried to get down to the basement, but Mr. Bowser headed her off. Then she had to laugh in his presence. She laughed till the tears came, and it was three or four minutes before he said:

'Woman, this is too much—too much?'

'But it's so funny?'

'You have crossed the dead line at last and must pay the penalty.'

'But I didn't mean—mean—'

'Too much and too late.'

And he strode down the hall and clapped on his hat and left the house. To attend the meeting of the Most High and Noble and Ancient and deliver that oration? Not any! Mrs. Bowser had butted in and killed all that. He went down the street three blocks and sat down on the hard stone steps of a house to shiver and think, and he might have sat there all night had not the tenant of the house come to the door and shouted at him:

'Come now, you old sneezer, and clear out from here, if you've got a home, go to it, and don't be so slow about it!'

IN ROANOKE.

On last Thursday afternoon the editor of this paper, accompanied by his wife and Dr. D. A. Dunkley, went to the Jefferson hospital at Roanoke, the trip being necessitated on account of Mrs. Johnston's illness, from Gall Stones, from which she has suffered at intervals for three years or more, and recently assumed a nature as to render an operation imperative. The operation was most successfully performed on Friday afternoon, since which time Mrs. Johnston has been rapidly improving and all indications are that she will have sufficiently recovered within a very short while to return home.

Misfortunes often visit us in multiplied form. On last Saturday, a son, Tom, Jr., was suddenly attacked with a severe case of appendicitis. It was plain that an operation was also necessary in his case and on Sunday night, accompanied by Dr. Harvey G. Johnston, he was taken to the same institution where mother is. The operation was performed within an hour or so after his arrival, and he is also now rapidly recovering. While the double affliction has given us much anxiety, we are grateful that it was no worse, that the loved ones now seem well on the road to recovery and will soon be with us again.

It would be unkind to fail to make mention here, of the superb management of the Jefferson hospital. The buildings and equipments are up-to-date, the surgical and medical departments are in charge of those who are thoroughly competent in every way to discharge the duties of their responsible positions. In every department there is thorough cleanliness and everything pertaining to sanitary arrangements are of the highest order. The nurses, of whom there are many, seems to be simply angels of mercy. In spotless attire and with pleasant sweet smiles they greet you on every hand and their every effort seems to be to impress on you that you are among friends.

INTER-LITERARY COUNTY HIGH SCHOOL CONTEST.

On last Friday evening, May 31st, at 8 o'clock in the P. H. S. auditorium, the representative students of Narrows, Pembroke and Pearisburg High Schools contested in declamation and recitation.

Rev. S. S. Catron, Radford, Va., Prof. Morell, Emory, Va., and Rev. J. G. Reveley, Pearisburg, served as committee.

The declamation class was composed of Messrs. Haven Hoge, Pembroke; Frank Johnston, Robert Woods and Tracey Whittaker, Pearisburg; John Glenn, Percy Hale and Cover Johnston, Narrows.

In recitation, Narrows was represented by Misses Kathleen Hale and Kate Bane; Pembroke by Misses Bess Hale and Glenna Lucas; Pearisburg by Misses Frances Mason and Lena Goodwin.

Each school acquitted itself with honors. The chairman of the committee announced the contests were very close. Mr. Frank Johnston was selected in declamation and Miss Frances Mason in recitation. As the Pearisburg students had no opposition in debate and essay this gives the home school the honor of representing Giles county in the district contest at Abingdon, June 30th, in four subjects, viz: Debate, Mr. Charles Cooper; Declamation, Mr. Frank Johnston; Essay, Miss Nita Rector; Recitation, Miss Frances Mason.

Invitations are out for the marriage of Miss Edna Shumate of this place, and Mr. Arthur H. Moore of War Eagle, W. Va., on Wednesday, June 19th, at 5 p. m. in the Presbyterian Church of Pearisburg.

Rev. M. W. Royall will preach at Eggleston Sunday morning and night. There will be a business meeting of the church Saturday at 2 p. m. He will preach at Mt. View Sunday at 3:30 p. m.

E. W. Hobbs of Narrows, gave us a call Monday while in town on business. He says that his wife and Miss Snead, whom they took to raise, have just recovered from a severe attack of scarlet fever. We are glad to hear of their improvement.

C. M. Jenks of Lebanon, Va., and his son, Charles, Jr., who was operated on about three weeks ago for appendicitis at the Jefferson hospital, Roanoke, passed through town Monday enroute to his sister, Mrs. G. M. Henderson of Thessalia, where they will spend several days.

Dr. and Mrs. D. A. Dunkley returned Sunday evening from Dr. Trout's Hospital, Roanoke, where Mrs. Dunkley has been for the past two weeks for treatment. She was accompanied by her friend and nurse, Miss Edna Berry of Richmond, who will be her guest for a few days.

John Buford shipped Tuesday from Dublin two car loads of lambs. He purchased 260 of the number from Mr. Francis Bell which averaged in weight 83 pounds, and were an exceptionally fine lot. Mr. Buford stating they were the finest he has ever shipped. Messrs. Buford and Harman also shipped a carload from that place which included some of the choicest of this springs raising.—Pulaski Southwest Times.

APPROACHING NUPTIALS.

Among the announcements of approaching weddings which have been made public recently hardly any will create more surprise than that of Miss Edna Shumate of Pearisburg, who is to marry Harold Moore of War Eagle. The young lady is pretty and charming and has frequently visited this city and section, where she has a large number of friends who will wish her god speed.—Bluefield Telegraph.

CARD OF THANKS.

I wish to use this opportunity of expressing my thanks to the good people of Pearisburg and Bluff City for their many kindnesses and help given me during the brief illness and death of my wife and baby. I pray God's richest blessings may rest on each and every one. Also those who would have come or helped but could not.

IN ROANOKE.

On last Thursday afternoon the editor of this paper, accompanied by his wife and Dr. D. A. Dunkley, went to the Jefferson hospital at Roanoke, the trip being necessitated on account of Mrs. Johnston's illness, from Gall Stones, from which she has suffered at intervals for three years or more, and recently assumed a nature as to render an operation imperative. The operation was most successfully performed on Friday afternoon, since which time Mrs. Johnston has been rapidly improving and all indications are that she will have sufficiently recovered within a very short while to return home.

Misfortunes often visit us in multiplied form. On last Saturday, a son, Tom, Jr., was suddenly attacked with a severe case of appendicitis. It was plain that an operation was also necessary in his case and on Sunday night, accompanied by Dr. Harvey G. Johnston, he was taken to the same institution where mother is. The operation was performed within an hour or so after his arrival, and he is also now rapidly recovering. While the double affliction has given us much anxiety, we are grateful that it was no worse, that the loved ones now seem well on the road to recovery and will soon be with us again.

It would be unkind to fail to make mention here, of the superb management of the Jefferson hospital. The buildings and equipments are up-to-date, the surgical and medical departments are in charge of those who are thoroughly competent in every way to discharge the duties of their responsible positions. In every department there is thorough cleanliness and everything pertaining to sanitary arrangements are of the highest order. The nurses, of whom there are many, seems to be simply angels of mercy. In spotless attire and with pleasant sweet smiles they greet you on every hand and their every effort seems to be to impress on you that you are among friends.

INTER-LITERARY COUNTY HIGH SCHOOL CONTEST.

On last Friday evening, May 31st, at 8 o'clock in the P. H. S. auditorium, the representative students of Narrows, Pembroke and Pearisburg High Schools contested in declamation and recitation.

Rev. S. S. Catron, Radford, Va., Prof. Morell, Emory, Va., and Rev. J. G. Reveley, Pearisburg, served as committee.

The declamation class was composed of Messrs. Haven Hoge, Pembroke; Frank Johnston, Robert Woods and Tracey Whittaker, Pearisburg; John Glenn, Percy Hale and Cover Johnston, Narrows.

In recitation, Narrows was represented by Misses Kathleen Hale and Kate Bane; Pembroke by Misses Bess Hale and Glenna Lucas; Pearisburg by Misses Frances Mason and Lena Goodwin.

Each school acquitted itself with honors. The chairman of the committee announced the contests were very close. Mr. Frank Johnston was selected in declamation and Miss Frances Mason in recitation. As the Pearisburg students had no opposition in debate and essay this gives the home school the honor of representing Giles county in the district contest at Abingdon, June 30th, in four subjects, viz: Debate, Mr. Charles Cooper; Declamation, Mr. Frank Johnston; Essay, Miss Nita Rector; Recitation, Miss Frances Mason.

How About That New Buggy?

If you have not bought yet, don't do so until you look over our stock of

HAYDOCK BUGGIES.

We have unquestionably the swellest line of buggies that has been seen in this or any other vicinity.
We had them made that way! We feel that the best is none too good for the buggy users of this country, and to that end we had our vehicles made our way and according to our ideas of what constitutes a good honest buggy.
The HAYDOCK has the snap, the class, the distinctiveness and originality which counts for a handsome job. Why buy the ordinary buggy when we can sell you the latest thing on wheels at a price that is no more than you would pay for the cheaper kind?
Come in and see for yourself what we have. A look costs you nothing, but it might mean a big saving for you. We are always glad to show you, and if it's superior style, exceptional finish, durable material, quality and price that appeal to you, we have it.

The Life That Counts.

The life that counts must toil and fight;
Must hate the wrong and love the right;
Must stand for truth, by day, by night—
This is the life that counts.

The life that counts must hopeful be;
In darkest night make melody;
Must wait the dawn on bended knee—
This is the life that counts.

The life that counts must aim to rise
Above the earth to sunlit skies;
Must fix its gaze on Paradise—
This is the life that counts.

The life that counts must helpful be;
The cares and needs of others see;
Must seek the slaves of sin to free—
This is the life that counts.

The life that counts is liked with God;
And turns not from the cross—the rod;
But walks with joy where Jesus trod—
This is the life that counts.

—From "Heart Throbs."

When the Deacon Cut Loose.

When the doctors told the good wife of Deacon Gray, with whom he had lived in peace for almost twenty-eight years, that her time on earth was short, she had him called in from the field that she might say:

'Deacon, you have never spoken an angry word to me in all our married life.'

'I'm glad on't,' he replied.

'We have never quarreled.'

'Nosp.'

'I have never seen you out of temper with the oxen, and when you've been stung by bumble bees you haven't said a word.'

'No use getting mad.'

'You've gone right along, deacon, being as placid as an old hen and letting me do all the jawing and fighting, and now you are to be left alone. I'm sorry for you.'

'I shall hope not to have any trouble with any one,' was the deacon's humble reply.

'But you will have unless you spunk up. Promise me that you'll have a chip on your shoulder.'

'I'll kinder have one.'

The good woman departed for the better land feeling that way, and the deacon lifted up the added cross and bore it along as best he could His wife had been right as to what the world would do to him when she was gone. He had always been considered an easy mark, even with her to defend him, but now with her gone he was a rich find. They borrowed his money, his plow, his hoe, his wheelbarrow and his old gray mare. They cheated him in buying and some more in selling. They got him to indorse notes of hand and left him to pay for them. If it hadn't been such a task for him to write with his stiff fingers they'd have had a mortgage on his home.

As predicted by the dead wife the Widow Brown did her fair share toward making the widower's life miserable. She encouraged her scratching hens, she encouraged her crowing rooster, she encouraged her mean tempered dog, she threw more ashes, and she helped herself to cucumbers and squashes as long as they lasted. Deacon Gray saw and knew all these things, but he kept right on being complacent and placid.

The Widow Brown was a woman with a personality. No neighbor's chicken dared to step foot on her land. The boy that swung on her gate got a box on the ear to make his head ring for an hour. One day when her old spotted cow had jumped the fence and was in the deacon's cornfield, plain to be seen by the deacon himself, she walked over to the man and said:

'Deacon Gray, you're a bean pod!'

'Mebbe.'

'You're a cucumber, a fish-worm! You hain't got spunk 'nuff to keep the boots on your feet. Lor' bless me, I'd marry a basswood hitching post before such a man as you!'

'Yes, reckon you would,' was the weary reply as the widow rounded up her cow and drove her home without another look at the man.

She had sowed a seed, however. After a few nights the deacon had a dream of his dead wife. She was back on earth again and calling him names and jawing around because he hadn't got his lander up yet. Her voice came to him as plain as he had ever heard it when she exclaimed:

'Deacon, you hain't no man to stand all this. You're nothing but a frazzle!'

What the widow and what the wife said started a new train of thought in the good man's mind. Was he a failure? Was he an easy mark? And in being so had he lost the respect of the community? Did folks say of him that he was a good man, but a half fool at the same time? That new train of thought lasted the good man three days and nights, and on the morning of the fourth day he woke up and realized that he was a changed man. Before he was hardly conscious of the change he found himself throwing stones at the Widow Brown's hens, and the widow looking right at him at that. After breakfast he looked about for her dog and plumped a rock against his ribs. One of the widow's roosters flew the fence to interview the swill pail, and he didn't get home alive.

'You monster!' shouted the widow.

The answer was another rock at her dog.

'You unhung villian!'

An old white hen was jarred by a lump of dirt.

'I'll have you in jail within an hour!'

Off came the deacon's hat and coat, and with a yell he broke loose and jumped the fence and had lifted the woman up to throw her into the old tomato patch when he heard her saying:

'Don't go any further, deacon! I'm in love with you!'

'What!' he demanded.

'If you want me I'll marry you tomorrow. I thought you was a bean pod, but you are a man from head to heel. I thought a boy ten years old could drive you all around the village, but I see that it would take four men, Deacon, I do just dote on you.'

No; they didn't get married within three months, but they did within four, and if you were to ask a resident of the village today as to what kind of a man Deacon Gray is the answer would be:

'Mighty good man, but don't fool with the deacon. He's dangerous since he cut loose.'

Bostonise Sayings.

He must be nutty. He has his baby girl named Hazel.

"Twenty-four! Impossible! She looks old enough to be her own mother."

"Finical! Why, she felt wretched because every nail in her new house wasn't manicured before it was driven.

"I was so mad at him that I could have run up his form with these spikes on they see in climbing telegraph poles."

"Yes, longevity runs in our family. My brother Bill was six feet two. John was six feet four and George had mere longevity than any man I ever saw. He was six feet eight if he was an inch.—Boston Transcript.

Gets Big Inheritance Tax.

Charleston, W. Va., June 4—The State of West Virginia yesterday received its largest inheritance tax check, $91,320, from the estate of the late Col. Thomas B. Davis, of Keyser, brother of Henry G. Davis, Democratic candidate for Vice-President in 1904.

The estate was appraised at $1,064,973.

There is a structure which every graduate from our school is building, young and old, rich and poor, each one for himself. It is called "character," and every good act you do is a stone for a structure. If day by day you are careful to build your lives with pure, upright deeds, at the end you will stand a fair temple, honored by God and man. But as one leak will sink a ship, and one flaw break a chain, so one mean, dishonorable act or word will forever leave its impress and work its influence on your character. Then let the several deeds unite to form a day and one by one the days grow into noble years, and the years as they slowly pass will raise at least a beautiful edifice, enduring forever to your praise, and you will cherish with the utmost tenderness the memories of your school life. The old schoolhouse, the familiar walks about the place and the desk upon which you wrote your name, all indelibly stored away in memory never to be forgotten.—Rural Retreat Times.

To the Teachers of Giles County.

I am glad to announce to the teachers, who expect to attend the Galax Summer Normal, that the Department of Public Instruction has extended to all teachers, who attend a summer institute 20 days, whether they hold a certificate or not, the privilege of dividing the subjects on the examination. Heretofore no one without a legal certificate had this right. This regulation is a big advantage extended to teachers attending summer normals and will greatly increase their chances to win certificates.

Another very important change in the new regulations is the reduction in the average per cent. required for a third. Heretofore an applicant had to make an average of 65 per cent. on all subjects required for a third, but he now has to make only an average of 60 per cent. Along with this the minimum grade has been changed from 50 per cent. to 45 per cent. Again, a teacher who wins a third grade certificate at a normal may be issued a third, although he may have taught on such a certificate the year before. Heretofore no one could be issued a third grade if he taught his last session on a third. Let me say, too, that if a teacher attends a summer normal 20 days and makes the required average on five subjects, including grammar and arithmetic, he will stand a good chance for a third grade certificate provided he is not an absolute failure on the other subjects.

It will probably be arranged so that certificates expiring 1912 may be renewed upon attendance of 20 days at some summer institute.

Teachers may combine their July grades made at Galax with their spring grades and also with their July grades made at Galax 1911.

I hope you have received a catalogue of the Galax Normal and are planning to be with me this summer.

If you come I am sure you will never regret it. I am satisfied that we can help you. The faculty is made up of experienced men and women and their lectures will be on topics from which the examinations are made.

The Normal opens July 3rd. Lectures will begin at 9 a. m. on that day. The formal opening will take place the night of July 3rd.

If you haven't received a new catalogue containing the latest information concerning the certification of teachers, write me for one.

Yours very truly,
F. B. Fitzpatrick,
Conductor,
Roanoke, Virginia.

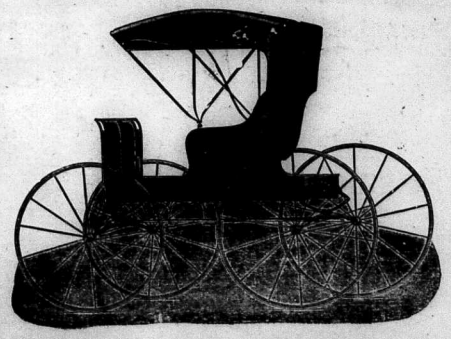
How About That New Buggy?

If you have not bought yet, don't do so until you look over our stock of



HAYDOCK BUGGIES.

We have unquestionably the swellest line of buggies that has been seen in this or any other vicinity.
We had them made that way! We feel that the best is none too good for the buggy users of this country, and to that end we had our vehicles made our way and according to our ideas of what constitutes a good honest buggy.
The HAYDOCK has the snap, the class, the distinctiveness and originality which counts for a handsome job.
Why buy the ordinary buggy when we can sell you the latest thing on wheels at a price that is no more than you would pay for the cheaper kind?
Come in and see for yourself what we have. A look costs you nothing, but it might mean a big saving for you.
We are always glad to show you, and
if it's superior style, exceptional finish, durable material, quality and price that appeal to you, we have it.

Kipling's New Poem.

If you can keep your head when those about you
Are loosing theirs and blaming it on you;
If you can trust yourself when all men doubt you,
But make allowance for their doubting too;
If you can wait, and not be tired by waiting,
Or being lied about, don't deal in lies,
Or being hated, don't give way to hating,
And yet don't look too good or talk too wise.
If you can dream, and not make dream your master;
If you can think, and not make thoughts your aim;
If you meet with triumph and disaster,
And treat those two imposters just the same;
If you can bear to hear the truth you've spoken
Twisted by knaves to make a trap for fools,
Or watch the things you gave your life to, broken
And stoop and build 'em up with worn-out tools.
If you can talk with crowds and keep your virtue,
Or walk with kings, nor lose the common touch;
If neither foes nor loving friends can hurt you;
If all men count with you, but none too much;
If you can fill the unforgiving minute
With sixty seconds' worth of distance run,
Yours is the earth and everything that's in it,
And—which is more—you'll be a man my son!

The Garden Sentinel.

Once upon a time there was a beautiful garden full of flowers. There was a high wall around the garden, a comfortable, old fashioned stone wall, and altogether it made a lovely place.

One day there was a sound of 'Buzz, buzz, buzz!' And over the wall into the garden went a great yellow and black and dark brown bumblebee. He hurried to the flowers and hunted for those that held the most honey, then greedily gathered all he could carry.

There was another sound of 'Buzz, buzz, buzz!' And over the wall into the garden went another bee, a smaller one and not so gay in color. He, too, went to the flowers and hunted for those which held the most honey, then busily gathered it as fast as he could work.

There was again a sound of 'Buzz, buzz, buzz!' And over the wall into the garden there went a wasp. He was a long, dark blue fellow with a queer body and a waist that was almost not a waist at all. He had a brisk, business like way and went at once to the fountain and began to hunt for a spot where water spattered over upon the pathway. Then he set to work rolling a little mud ball to carry away.

There was one more sound of 'Buzz, buzz, buzz!' And over the wall into the garden went—What do you think? A mosquito! He, too, went to the fountain where, in a near-by puddle, lived his baby brothers and sisters known as 'Wigglers.' After a chat with them, he began to hunt for the little daughter of the owner of the garden. Mr. Mosquito cared not so much for the honey of the flowers as he did for a bite into plump, rosy flesh.

By and by each buzzer started home. A bird stood guard on the stone wall and stopped Mr. Bumblebee.

'What have you been getting in the garden?' asked Sentinel Bird.

'Honey,' said Mr. Bumblebee.

'For whom?' asked Sentinel Bird.

'For myself, of course,' said Mr. Bumblebee.

'Then you will have to pay,' said Sentinel Bird. And Mr. Bumblebee grumbled, for the bill was so large.

Next came Mr. Honeybee, and Sentinel Bird asked him the same question.

'Honey from the flowers,' said Mr. Honeybee.

'For whom?' asked the Sentinel Bird.

'For the people who live in the cottage over the wall,' answered Mr. Honeybee.

'Then you may go free,' said the Sentinel Bird.

Then came Mr. Wasp. He said that he was getting mud by the fountain.

'The mud is for a home for my little ones,' said Mr. Wasp.

'You may go over free,' said the Sentinel Bird.

Along came Mr. Mosquito. He had to answer the same questions. But, alas for him! he had to say that he had come for mischief. The Sentinel Bird punished him in a way that Mr. Mosquito did not like.

'That is the way,' said the Sentinel Bird as he sat thinking about it all afterwards. 'One comes to the garden to see how much he can get out of it for himself. That is Mr. Bumblebee. Another comes to take away good things for others That is Mr. Honeybee. Another comes to get something to help him do something useful for his family. That is Mr. Wasp. Still another—and what a pity it is!—comes, and is not only idle, but tries to do harm. That is Mr. Mosquito. It is, indeed, a queer world.'

And the last I saw of the Sentinel Bird he was stopping a beautiful butterfly to ask her the same two questions. And you will have to guess her answers.—Blanche Elizabeth Wade, in the Churchman.

Big Mortgage.

One of the largest mortgages ever recorded in this county has been placed on record by the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company of New York on the properties of the Virginian Railway for $75,000,000. The same mortgage has been recorded in every county and city through which the road passes. The State fee was paid at Suffolk and amounted to $32 650 and the document consists of about one hundred pages. The mortgage is signed by Urban H. Broughton president, and Joseph Clark, secretary, of the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company.—Bedford Sentinel.

Reflections of a Bachelor.

Love letters take a lot more ink than brains.

All a woman needs to believe gossip is to know it isn't so.

A man's money is mostly useful to those he spends it with.

It's a stand-still race between a woman's age and waist measurement.

It's very bad luck to try your luck at anything involving money.

When a man surprises a girl with a proposal it's a sign she knew it first.

Most people count the chicks not only before they are hatched, but before the eggs are laid.

The more a man ought to be a clerk the bigger grievance he can have because he isn't a railroad president.

Knowing that she's in society does not count so much with a woman as knowing that others are out.

It must be a fearful disappointment to get rich and then find your feet can hurt you as much as ever.

Turk Dynamited Pesky Insects.

Pottsville, Pa., June 12—John Turk of Tuscarora, was informed that a violent shock would exterminate the insects which recently have been interferring with his sleep.

Accordingly Turk got a quantity of dynamite, placed it under the bed and exploded it. The shock exterminated the insects, also the bed and the house in which the bed once was. When Turk came to he was sitting in a mud puddle in the middle of the road.

Harry Kelly, owner of the house, is asking legal advice as to whether he should bring suit against Turk for the value of the house or sue the person who advised Turk that dynamite is a good insect exterminator.

The man who keeps a dairy or feeds beef cattle and saves and applies the manure, feeding all of his forage and buying concentrated feeds as well, has little need to buy artificial nitrogen, and if his soil is clay, he is not likely to need much potash. A liberal application of phosphoric acid will be necessary to fill out his grain and keep his crop from making lest and stalk at the expense of seed.—Agnew Webster, in the Progressive Farmer.

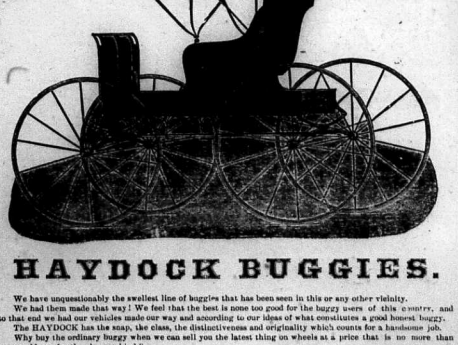
How About That New Buggy?

If you have not bought yet, don't do so until you look over our stock of



HAYDOCK BUGGIES.

We have unquestionably the swellest line of buggies that has been seen in this or any other vicinity.
We had them made that way! We feel that the best is none too good for the buggy users of this country, and to that end we had our vehicles made our way and according to our ideas of what constitutes a good honest buggy. The HAYDOCK has the snap, the class, the distinctiveness and originality which counts for a handsome job.
Why buy the ordinary buggy when we can sell you the latest thing on wheels at a price that is no more than you would pay for the cheaper kind?
Come in and see for yourself what we have. A look costs you nothing, but it might mean a big saving for you. We are always glad to show you, and if it's superior style, exceptional finish, durable material, quality and price that appeal to you, we have it.

Kipling's New Poem.

If you can keep your head when those about you
Are loosing theirs and blaming it on you;
If you can trust yourself when all men doubt you,
But make allowance for their doubting too;
If you can wait, and not be tired by waiting,
Or being lied about, don't deal in lies,
Or being hated, don't give way to hating,
And yet don't look too good or talk too wise.

If you can dream, and not make dreams your master;
If you can think, and not make thoughts your aim;
If you meet with triumph and disaster,
And treat those two imposters just the same;
If you can bear to hear the truth you've spoken
Twisted by knaves to make a trap for fools,
Or watch the things you gave your life to, broken
And stoop and build 'em up with worn-out tools.

If you can talk with crowds and keep your virtue,
Or walk with kings, nor lose the common touch;
If neither foes nor loving friends can hurt you;
If all men count with you, but none too much;
If you can fill the unforgiving minute
With sixty seconds' worth of distance run,
Yours is the earth and everything that's in it,
And—which is more—you'll be a man my son!

The Garden Sentinel.

Once upon a time there was a beautiful garden full of flowers. There was a high wall around the garden, a comfortable, old fashioned stone wall, and altogether it made a lovely place.

One day there was a sound of 'Buzz, buzz, buzz!' And over the wall into the garden went a great yellow and black and dark brown bumblebee. He hurried to the flowers and hunted for those that held the most honey, then greedily gathered all he could carry.

There was another sound of 'Buzz, buzz, buzz!' And over the wall into the garden went another bee, a smaller one and not so gay in color. He, too, went to the flowers and hunted for those which held the most honey, then busily gathered it as fast as he could work.

There was again a sound of 'Buzz, buzz, buzz!' And over the wall into the garden there went a wasp. He was a long, dark blue fellow with a queer body and a waist that was almost not a waist at all. He had a brisk, business like way and went at once to the fountain and began to hunt for a spot where water spattered over upon the pathway. Then he set to work rolling a little mud ball to carry away.

There was one more sound of 'Buzz, buzz, buzz!' And over the wall into the garden went—What do you think? A mosquito! He, too, went to the fountain where, in a near-by puddle, lived his baby brothers and sisters known as 'Wigglers.' After a chat with them, he began to hunt for the little daughter of the owner of the garden. Mr. Mosquito cared not so much for the honey of the flowers as he did for a bite into plump, rosy flesh.

By and by each buzzer started home. A bird stood guard on the stone wall and stopped Mr. Bumblebee.

'What have you been getting in the garden?' asked Sentinel Bird.

'Honey,' said Mr. Bumblebee.

'For whom?' asked Sentinel Bird.

'For myself, of course,' said Mr. Bumblebee.

'Then you will have to pay,' said Sentinel Bird. And Mr. Bumblebee grumbled, for the bill was so large.

Next came Mr. Honeybee, and Sentinel Bird asked him the same question.

'Honey from the flowers,' said Mr. Honeybee.

'For whom?' asked the Sentinel Bird.

'For the people who live in the cottage over the wall,' answered Mr. Honeybee.

"Then you may go free,' said the Sentinel Bird.

Then came Mr. Wasp. He said that he was getting mud by the fountain.

'The mud is for a home for my little ones,' said Mr. Wasp.

'You may go over free,' said the Sentinel Bird.

Along came Mr. Mosquito. He had to answer the same questions. But, alas for him! he had to say that he had come for mischief. The Sentinel Bird punished him in a way that Mr. Mosquito did not like.

'That is the way,' said the Sentinel Bird as he sat thinking about it all afterwards. 'One comes to the garden to see how much he can get out of it for himself. That is Mr. Bumblebee. Another comes to take away good things for others. That is Mr. Honeybee. Another comes to get something to help him do something useful for his family. That is Mr. Wasp. Still another—and what a pity it is!—comes, and is not only idle, but tries to do harm. That is Mr. Mosquito. It is, indeed, a queer world.'

And the last I saw of the Sentinel Bird he was stopping a beautiful butterfly to ask her the same two questions. And you will have to guess her answers.—Blanche Elizabeth Wade, in the Churchman.

Prof. C. A. Brown, Principal of the Narrows High School, announces himself as an applicant for the position of County Superintendent. He bases his claims for this responsible position upon his thorough preparation for the work. He is a practical educator, thoroughly understanding the needs of the schools in the county. After having graduated at Emory and Henry College, he has been in charge of a number of high schools in the states of Virginia and West Virginia and has made for himself the reputation of being an excellent school man. He is well versed in school methods, having taken an active part in State Normals and County Institutes for a number of years.

HIGH SCHOOL CONTEST AT ABINGDON.

Giles County and especially Pearisburg High School has many reasons to be proud of its boys and girls. In the contest among the High Schools of Southwest Virginia in declamation, recitation, essay and debate, held at Abingdon last week, our school won the honor of the occasion. Mr. Frank Johnston in declamation, Miss Francis Mason in recitation, and Miss Nita Rector in essay, our representatives, captured the medals. This gives Pearisburg six out of the fifteen medals given since the beginning of these contests. In 1909, Pearisburg won two of the medals; in 1910, one; and this year was the greatest victory of all, Pearisburg winning three out of the four given.

TO ALL THE ODD FELLOWS AND PUBLIC IN GENERAL.

There will be two I. O. O. F. sermons preached on Sunday, June 30th, under the auspices of Pembroke Lodge, No. 174, and a big basket dinner, to which all are cordially invited to attend.

We will be thankful to our neighbors and friends for any help they may give us, in the way of full baskets.

Thanking all in advance for their assistance.

H. P. BAUMAN, Sec'y.

Death of Mrs. Page.

Bluefield, W. Va., June 18 — Mrs. R. L. Page of Lurich, died yesterday at 11 o'clock at the Bluefield Sanitarium, following an operation for the removal of a tumor. Her remains were taken to her home on the afternoon train, accompanied by Mr. Page. The deceased was forty-eight years of age and is survived by several children.—Bluefield Telegraph.

OUR COLLEGE BOYS.

The orator's medal at V. P. I., Blacksburg, was won by Arthur Sibold, a Giles county boy and former student of Pearisburg High School. This is not the first honor won by Mr. Sibold at that famous school. He won the declamation medal last year and has won distinctions every year. He is one of the best pupils that has gone to college from P. H. S. His teacher has been heard to remark many times that Arthur was one of the most thorough pupils he ever prepared for college.

Walter Brown another P. H. S. boy of a few years ago won the declamation medal at Richmond College this year. This young man left Pearisburg several years ago for Roanoke College. He made a splendid record there. He seems to be making the same record at Richmond College as he made at Pearisburg and Roanoke College.

Much credit should be given to our Giles County boys who leave our schools for college and by their earnest and conscientious work there not only win medals for themselves but by their scholarship and gentlemanly conduct reflect honor on the school and county from whence they come.

PARIS, FRANCE,
June 4, 1912.

Mr. W. D. Woolwine in writing us, says:

"We have seen the interesting places in England, Holland and Belgium. Have been here for ten days. This is by far the most interesting place historically we have seen. The country round about is most beautiful. We have met acquaintances from home in nearly every place we have been. There are many Los Angeleans here. It is cold here today. We enjoy Paris, but love Pearisburg."

Card of Thanks.

It would be ingratitude on our part to fail to express our appreciation of the many kindnesses shown during the fatal illness of wife and mother. Though comparative strangers in your midst, you came and administered and by many acts of kindness and words of sympathy demonstrated that we were among friends. The loved one who has gone often spoke of this during her last illness.

Very Sincerely,
S. T. DENNIS AND FAMILY.

PHIPPS-NIDERMAIER.

Poplar Hill, Va., June 13, 1912.

A pretty home wedding was solemnized today at the home of Mr. Otto Nidermaier when his daughter, Miss Antoinette, became the bride of Dr. R. L. Phipps. The ceremony was impressively performed by Rev. J. G. Reveley.

The home was tastefully decorated with white laurel and mountain ferns, the color scheme being white and green. A large number of relatives and friends had gathered in the dimly lighted room for the occasion. As the bridal party entered, the march was rendered in an artistic manner by Miss Mary Vermillion, and during the ceremony soft music added to the impressiveness of the scene.

The bride looked lovely in her attire of pure white. The soft folds of the veil of tulle fell gracefully from her dark and luxuriant tresses, while in her hand she carried brides roses.

The bridesmaids were Miss Jessie Nidermaier, sister of the bride, and Miss Lucille Nidermaier, her cousin of Abingdon. They were gowned in costumes of pink and white with crystal trimmings and carried white flowers.

The groomsmen were Messrs. Walter Phipps and Joe Nidermaier, brothers of the bride and the groom.

The bride is a graduate of the State Normal School of Farmville, and for three years has been a very successful instructor in the Normal Training Department of the Clintwood High School, where she has won the hearts of many friends whose joy in welcoming her will be exceeded only by the regret of those whom she leaves.

The groom is a prominent practitioner of Clintwood, having obtained his professional skill in the Tennessee Normal College, Richmond College, and completing with four years of work in the University of Louisville, receiving at the last named school a medal on Chemistry and one on Theraputics, also the honor medals of the Junior and Senior Classes. Upon the completion of work as a student at Louisville he received a hospital appointment to Louisville City Hospital as House Physician, and while in Kentucky was a member of the Kentucky State Medical Society and the Jefferson County Medical Society. He passed the Kentucky State Board of Medical Examiners during the same year, after which time he served in New York City as an Interne in the Willard Parker Hospital and the Kingston Avenue Hospital, both of the Health Department of the city.

Dr. and Mrs. Phipps left on an evening train for Louisville, Chicago, and other Northern points of interest.

Those from a distance attending the marriage were Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Vermillion of Dublin; Miss Lucille Nidermaier of Abingdon; Mrs. A. A. Sheen of Norton; Mrs. R. A. Johnston of Pearisburg; Mr. Walter Phipps of Clintwood.

DEATH OF MRS. SAM DENNIS.

Mrs. Belle S. Dennis was born March 22, 1860, died June 14, 1912. In 1879 she was married to Samuel T. Dennis, who with five children, three girls and two boys, survive her. Besides these, she leaves to mourn her loss two sisters and five brothers.

Mrs. Dennis was a consistent member of the Missionary Baptist church at Newport until its disorganization, after which she affiliated with the Lutherans of that place, kept her children in that Sunday school, and attended church hereof when her health, which has been lacking in strength and vigor for several years, permitted her. After moving to Pearisburg in March of this year, she re-united with the Baptist church, in whose fold she died. Mrs. Dennis was a kind, patient wife, a devoted, sacrificing mother, and to those who mourn the loss of her love and christian guardianship, we extend our heartfelt sympathy and point them to the One who giveth and who taketh away. May He be their refuge and strength, their present help in trouble.

A FRIEND.

Death of an Estimable Man.

J. H. Porterfield of this city, a brakeman on the Virginia railway, while attempting to jump from a Norfolk and Western train at Singer, Va., fell on the cattle guards at that place and almost instantly killed. Mr Porterfield has been with the work train at Singer putting in a long siding. He came to Princeton Sunday morning, went to Roanoke in the afternoon, there catching an Norfolk and Western freight train, he went to Singer, arriving about midnight, where he came to his untimely death. He was thrown under the train and both legs were severed from his body. He lived about one hour after sustaining above injuries.

His body was taken to Pembroke, Va., his old home for burials last Monday morning.

He leaves a wife and three children to mourn their loss. He has made his home in Princeton for the last two years where he made many friends who regret to learn of his sad death. The Progress extends sympathy to the bereaved family.—Princeton Progress.

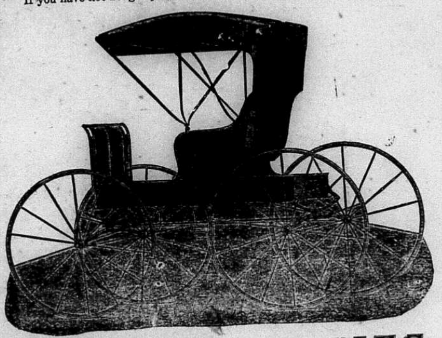
How About That New Buggy ?

If you have not bought yet, don't do so until you look over our stock of



HAYDOCK BUGGIES.

We have unquestionably the swellest line of buggies that has been seen in this or any other vicinity.
We had them made that way! We feel that the best is none too good for the buggy users of this country, and to that end we had our vehicles made our way and according to our ideas of what constitutes a good honest buggy.
The HAYDOCK has the snap, the class, the distinctiveness and originality which counts for a handsome job.
Why buy the ordinary buggy when we can sell you the latest thing on wheels at a price that is no more than you would pay for the cheaper kind?
Come in and see for yourself what we have. A look costs you nothing, but it might mean a big saving for you.
We are always glad to show you, and if it's superior style, exceptional finish, durable material, quality and price that appeal to you, we have it.

Praising His Name.

Praise the Lord in the heights,
Praise Him from morn till night;
Praise him in the sunshine bright
Always the same.
Flowers and birds, grasses and hills,
Rocky slopes and flowing rills;
Everything that rapture thrills,
Is praising His name.

Sweeping fire and dashing wave,
Angels that have the power to save;
To the saints He also gave
A wonderful name.
Mountains, hills and fruitful trees,
Humming birds and busy bees;
Everything that beauty sees
Is praising His name.

Beasts, cattle and creeping things,
Flying birds with outstreched wings;
Ever to His mighty name sing,
Praising His name.
Every little bursting spring,
Every little sprinkling rain,
Every field of flowing grain
Is praising His name.

Brave Little Pietro.

A little over two hundred years ago the city of Turin, in Italy, was besiaged by the French, who made great efforts to take it before assistance could arrive. They at last succeeded in opening a breach in the western bastion of the town. In those days cities were still defended by walls of masonry, and it was necessary to batter down a portion of these unscalable barriers before making an assault, success thus depending upon the storm column hurled through the breach.

The great war of the Spanish Succession was then raging. France, under the Grand Monarque Louis XIV., was pitted against the combined powers of England, Austria, Holland, and Prussia.

At that time no such terrible artillery fire as is now possible could be concentrated upon the charging battalions, and the crisis of the assault would occur directly in the breach; and if the defenders were weak in numbers and the advancing mass well under headway and full of courage, the chances were in favor of the storming column.

Could the French but capture the city, they would strike a great blow and meet the advancing army of Prince Eugene flushed with victory, and therefore much more formidable.

The defenders realized this, and the engineer officers of Duke Amedeus decided upon laying a mine under the breach and exploding it as the storming party entered the passage through the wall. The explosion was sure to arrest the assault and perhaps postpone its repetition indefinitely.

As the soldiers were busy defending the walls, all the men and boys able to work were called upon to aid in the excavation of the mine. Among the latter was little Pietro Micca.

He was only a boy of fourteen, small and tender for his age, with a singularly fair complexion, which placed him in strong contrast with his swarthy, dark haired countrymen, who were somewhat disposed to tyrannize over him on account of his youth and fragile appearance. But he always received their gibes and taunts in good part, though the poor boy more than once turned away from them with a heavy heart and with tears in his eyes.

"Do not care for them, my boy They mean nothing," said an old man to him who had noticed the boy's quivering lips.

Out one day things went so far that one bully struck him a hard cruel blow in the face.

Instantly there was a cry; "Pay him back, Pietro. We will stand by you."

"He dares not do it! He dares not do it!" cried his tormentor, who was nearly twice Pietro's size.

Pietro's face was as white as chalk and his hands were clenched tightly. For a moment it looked as if he would strike back. Then he calmly folded his arms and walked away.

"No, Carol: I dare not strike you," he said.

"Coward, coward!" was repeated on all sides. But he stood firm, careless of their taunts and reproaches, though it was hard for the poor lad day after day to listen to the words of scorn they heaped upon him.

No one labored more industriously at the mine under the breach than little Pietro. The fact that they all thought him a coward seemed to spur him on to increased exertion.

"But I am not a coward," he said to himself "I cannot engage in a street brawl, but I shall not run away from an enemy."

After almost incredible labor the mine was finished and filled with thousands of barrels of gunpowder. While the men were contemplating their work with a sense of gratification, an officer suddenly entered with the startling information that the enemy was marching to the assault and in a few moments would enter the breach.

Confusion at once seized the working parties. The mine was laid, but the train of gunpowder with which to fire it had yet to be made. This required time and a nicety of arrangements that would insure the explosion at the right moment.

The French were advancing rapidly. Officer after officer hurried down to hasten the last arrangements, only to increase the confusion and dismay. No one knew what to do.

Suddenly a boyish figure sprang forward and addressed the commander of the pioneers. It was little Pietro. His face was deadly pale, but his eyes glowed with the light of a heroic resolve.

"Retire quickly with thy comrades," said the brave boy. "Recommend my mother to the duke and pray to God for me. I will fire the mine."

"No, no! You must not." cried a hundred voices. But the muffled sounds of firing overhead and the reverberation of marching feet struck terror to the boldest heart and the boy was firm.

"Go while there is yet time," he cried. "I will save our city."

And they left him there in the dim light of the lanterns to face death—the boy they had called a coward—while they sought safety in flight.

Meanwhile the French were marching steadily onward into the breach in spite of the heavy firing from the walls. Pietro could hear the thundering tread of the advancing feet and the exultant shouting of the foe. There was not a moment to lose.

Uttering a brief prayer, the brave boy dashed his lighted lantern deliberately upon the train of gunpowder. Instantly with the roar of a thousand thunderbolts the solid ground heaved up an opening, vomited into the air a frightful mass of mingled smoke, fire, earth, stones and human flesh, the mangled fragments of twelve hundred men.

The torrent of armed men, shattered by the frightful and unexpected upheval, was reduced to a confused mass of mere individuals frantic for their lives. The assault had failed. Turin was saved. Brave little Pietro's arm had done the work of an army.

His statute in bronze stands in the city's market place today, the boy who did not strike back in a quarrel, but who did a hero's part in the defence of his native city.—United Presbyterian.

Quit "Get-rich-quick" Speculation

How many times have you said, or your friends said: "I cannot, because I HAVE NOT GOT THE MONEY?" How many good business chances have had to be passed up because you did not have the money? "Get-Rich-Quick" speculation is the worst thing a man can do with his money. If the enterprise into which some smooth stranger asks you to put your money were such a good one he would keep it--not sell it to you.

Dr. Barringer Will Not Resign.

Blacksburg, Va., June 10—President Paul B. Barringer, of the Virginia Polytechnic Institute, has not resigned, and does not intend to do so. This was made known today when the board of visitors met here today in regular session.

Persistent rumors had been circulated to the effect that he would resign at this meeting; others had it that his resignation would be asked for by some of the board members.

Neither rumor materialized today.

Pointed Paragraphs.

We are suffering a great deal from dry weather just now, but our crops look rather well.

There was almost a tragedy near M. P. Farrier's, Saturday, when a horse driven by Luther Lucas and Frank Sibold ran away, throwing Luther from the buggy and injuring him rather badly. Frank escaped with slight injures.

Hon. W. B. Snidow was a business visitor in our neighborhood Saturday. He is an unusually talented young lawyer.

Thomas Taylor visited J. A. Lucas, Sunday.

W. A. Kissinger was calling on Mathew Bradley, Sunday.

Logan Porterfield and wife and Abner Kefler and wife were visiting G. A. Porterfield and wife, Sunday.

Justice Barger passed here on his way to Newport to attend court. The 'Squire looks pleasant as usual.

Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Link and children were at Blacksburg last week.

Mr. Charles Hearn is visiting his son Charles Crumpecker, of Mountain Hollow. We are always glad to welcome this venerable old man.

Miss May Martin and brother have been visiting relatives and friends at this place of late. She and Miss Lucy Caldwell were at the commencement. They report a good time.

J. B. Porterfield continues quite sick we are sorry to relate.

Mr Editor, we are having an abundance of fried chicken and fresh vegetables. If you are fond of good things to eat, spend several days with us.

Best wishes for the VIRGINIAN.

The Wabash Band and Pearisburg Cornet Band will furnish music for Narrows, July 4th. Good music, plenty of amusements and a jolly good time for everybody who will attend.

The Children's Day was ob served last Sunday night at the Baptist Church. Artistic decorations, potted plants and cut flowers formed a beautiful back ground for the children and fair maidens who took part in the exercise. The choir under the leadership of Mr. Walter Johnston rendered very beautiful and appropriate music. Much credit is due the committee Mesdames M. W. Royall and R. L. Peters and Miss Banie Johnston.

Mr. E. A. Keister, of Charleston, W. Va., was in New Castle Tuesday on his way to lower Sinking Creek Valley where he expects to locate. He has been in the livery business in Charleston for some time but has decided to try farming for awhile. Mr. Keistr is a native of Giles county and married a daughter of Mrs. Ella Hutchinson some months ago.—New Castle Record.

Attention is called to the advertisement of the Summer School of Emory and Henry College. The work offered looks to the assistance of public school teachers who desire better preparation for their work and students who wish to better prepare themselves for college or to make up a deficiency in college work. The location and many advantages offered in the use of college building, libraries, etc., will doubtless appeal to many who wish to take advantage of the course offered. The work will be conducted by men of experience who are familiar with the needs of this section. Read advertisement in another column.

An executive meeting of the Radford Fair Association was held last week. Several important matters were discussed and disposed of. The Fair will be held August 27th, 28th, 29th and 30th. It was decided to have one day of the fair free to all comers. The entrance fees for the other days will be 25 cents instead of 50 cents, as has been the case heretofore. Return checks will be issued for the convenience of those who will go outside the grounds for dinner. Children under 5 years of age will be admitted free. This reduction of entrance fees is made in the hopes that farmers from the country will take advantage of the opportunity to bring their families and enjoy the fair at a moderate cost. The price of grand stand seats will be 25 cts. as usual and 10 cts. for the bleachers. Box seats in the grand stand reduced from $10 to $5.

The case of the Commonwealth against Wiley Weiss was tried at the afternoon session. The jury returned a verdict of not guilty.

The case of the Commonwealth against Sutphin was next called and on motion of counsel for defence was continued until next term of Court.

The next case is the Commonwealth against Sligh and is now in progress of trial.

The case of Tanner against the N. & W. R. R. Co., will be tried today.

The following is a list of attorneys from a distance: R. L. Jordan and H. C. Tyler of Radford; J. S. Draper of Pulaski; Judge W. J. Henson of Roanoke; Judge Sam'l W. Williams of Richmond.

A BEAUTIFUL HOME WEDDING.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. John Myers of this place, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on the evening of Wednesday, June 19th, their oldest daughter, Miss Kathleen, being united in marriage to Mr. Raymond McGhee of Radford, Va.

The parlor in which the interesting ceremony was performed had been beautifully and artistically decorated for the occasion with a profusion of roses and evergreens, the color scheme being green and pink. As a prelude to the celebration of the marriage rites the song, "Perfect Love," was rendered by the noted vocalist, Mr. E. S. Jones of Radford, in which he was accompanied by Mrs. M. W. Royall on the piano. At the conclusion of the song, the handsome bride-groom entered with his best man, Mr. Thos. Kennett of Roanoke, and Miss Corrol Monroe of Radford, bridesmaid, then came the bride elect carrying bride's roses with her sister, Miss Callie Myers, maid of honor. The bride was beautifully gowned in white voile over messaline and made a picture of rare loveliness. The ceremony, which was with a ring, was gracefully and impressively performed by Rev. M. W. Royall in the presence of a number of relatives of the bride and groom and invited guests from the town and vicinity and from a distance.

Delicious refreshments were served, Miss Winnie Johnston gracefully presiding at the punch bowl.

The bride was the recipient of a number of handsome presents.

The happy groom with his winsome bride, accompanied by Miss Callie Myers, left on train No. 16, for Roanoke and other points East, bearing with them the sincere best wishes for their future happiness and prosperity of a host of admiring friends.

The out of town guests attending the wedding, were: Mr. Dad McGhee, uncle of the groom, Miss Corrol Monroe and Mr. E. S. Jones of Radford, Mrs. Jno. Cook of Wytheville, Mesdames Hoge Mason and W. F. Gordon of Bluefield, W. Va.

A BRILLIANT WEDDING.

Moore-Shumate.

The most noted event of the social season in Pearisburg and its vicinity was the marriage of Mr. A. Harold Moore of War Eagle, W. Va., to Miss Edna Earle Shumate at the Presbyterian Church, Wednesday, June nineteenth at five p. m.

The decorations of the quaint old church were in perfect harmony and the great masses of vivid green that concealed the chancel made a most perfect setting for the living picture—while the glow of myriad candles cast a becoming light over the attractive scene. Arches of ivy and a great lily-covered bell suspended above the altar, completed a scheme of decoration that was both beautiful and artistic in its conception and execution.

Dr. Bolling Hobson of Buchanan, Va., who until recently was pastor of the church, accompanied by Mr. Reveley, the present pastor, preceded the bridal party into the church. Immediately following them came Mrs. W. E. Minter of Kenova, W. Va., and Miss Margaret Williams of Glade Springs, dressed in embroidered marquisettes over messaline and picture hats, who arranged themselves at the organ where Mrs. Minter presided. Miss Williams then sang, "I love you truly," in a beautiful and sympathetic manner, perfectly in accord with the sacred rites about to be consummated. Then to the strains of the "Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin, the ushers: Messrs. William St. Clair, Joe H. Wyne, R. Allen Brown, Sterling Mann, Thomas J. Pearson, Jr., and Aker Williams, entered singly and crossing at the altar, took their places at either side. Miss Helen Mason, Maid of Honor, gowned in an exquisite creation of apricot crepe over messaline, with large picture hat, and carrying a huge bouquet of La France roses, came slowly up the aisle, while on the opposite side, Mr. Moore and his best man, Dr. N. K. MacLeod of Canada, approached the altar, there to await the coming of his bride. Next little Miss Elizabeth Angel of North Fork, W. Va., in white lingerie dress and white ribbons, bearing a basket of roses in which was concealed the ring—a personification of childish grace—immediately preceded the bride elect. Miss Shumate entered on the arm of her guardian, Mr. D. W. Mason, who though seventy-eight years of age, walked with the vigor and elasticity of early manhood and his venerable appearance made a perfect foil for the petite loveliness of the golden-haired bride.

She was gowned in Duchess lace over ivory satin, with pearl trimmings and long court train; her tulle veil draped and caught up with orange blossoms, on her arm a shower bouquet of bride's roses—a perfect embodiment of glorious womanhood. Dr. Hobson, assisted by Mr. Reveley, performed the ceremony, using the ring service of the Presbyterian church, and as he pronounced the solemn words of the benediction, the notes of Mendelssohn's joyous Epithalamium pealed forth and the new-made husband and wife went down the aisle followed by the bridal procession in reverse order.

Mr. and Mrs. Moore left immediately for an extended tour, which will include a visit to friends in Canada, the Great Lakes, the Thousand Islands and other points of interest. The bride's going away gown was of tailored blue serge with tan accessories, extremely modish in effect.

Miss Edna has made her home in the community about fifteen years and that she was greatly beloved is fully attested by the numerous ante-nuptial events in her honor.

Mr. Moore is a prominent young coal operator of the Tug River district and the wide-spread popularity of this fortunate young couple was but indicated by the immense number of handsome and beautiful presents of which they were the recipients.

Those from a distance who attended the wedding were:

Mrs. Arthur Moore, mother of the groom, War Eagle, W. Va.; Mrs. J. Randolph Hubbard, Williamson, W. Va.; Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Wright, Northfork, W. Va.; Mrs. Kerner, son and daughter, Salem; Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Rhoades, Bluefield, W. Va.; Miss Margaret Williams and Mrs. Gordon Allison, Glade Springs; Mrs. Carol Etter and Miss Mary Glenn Baylor, Bristol, Tenn.; Mr. and Mrs. Hoge Mason and children, Mr. Joe Hoge and Dr. Albert Hoge, Bluefield, W. Va.; Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Angel, Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Toney and Mr. S. H. Buchanan, Northfork, W. Va.; Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Minter, Kenova, W. Va.; Mrs. Sidney Steger, Pulaski City; Mr. C. H. Preston, Salem; Gov. J. Hoge Tyler and Mr. E. S. Jones, Radford; Mr. Aker Williams, Glade Spring; Dr. N. K. MacLeod, Canada; Mrs. J. P. Williams and son, Richmond.

BUTTE-GROY.

At the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. L. Butte of Green Valley, this county, on Wednesday afternoon, June 19th, at 1:30 p. m. o'clock, Miss Sarah May Butte became the bride of Mr. Parkley W. Croy of this place. Rev. W. B. Belchee officiating.

Last winter Miss May was a student in the Pearisburg High School where she won many friends.

Mr. Croy is a young man of fine habits and is deservedly popular.

They left on train No. 3 for Bluefield where they will make their home.

The VIRGINIAN joins their many friends in wishing them much joy.

Mrs. Martin of Radford, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. W. E. Goodwin.

The ball game at Pembroke, between Pembroke and Eggleston, resulted in a victory for Eggleston. The score stood seven to eight up to ninth inning, when Hilton blew up, and allowed Eggleston to get five more runs, and winning the game, eight to twelve. One remarkable feature of the game, was the total absence of "kicking," not a "kick" being registered on either side. Batteries for Eggleston, Fry and Huffman; Pembroke, Hilton and Lucas. Umpires, Durham and Douthat. Time, two hours. Attendance, one hundred. "Billy."

WHITE GATE.

"Let us be kind:
The way is long and lonely,
And human hearts are asking for this blessing only—
That we be kind.
We cannot know the grief that men may borrow,
We cannot see the souls storm-swept by sorrow,
But love can shine upon the way today, tomorrow—
Let us be kind."

Willie Survived.

Father's lost his whiskers;
Cook's in ashes, too;
Nose is in court plaster.
One eye black and blue;
They cut his shirt off of him
To graft skin on his back,
For he was showing Willie
Why his crackers wouldn't crack.

Uncle's in his bedroom,
Minus lots of skin;
Thumb and finger missing,
Splints upon his shin;
They turned the hose upon him
In time to save I li eyes,
For he was showing Willie
Why his rockets wouldn't rise.

Mother's feeling awful,
Moaning in distress;
Says it simply ruined
Back breadths of her dress;
She also lost her collar,
An eyebrow and a curl,
For she was showing Willie
Why his pinwheels wouldn't whirl.

Grandpa goes on crutches
When he goes at all—
He collided with a
Roman candle ball,
But what about young Willie?
When do they bury him?
Why, Willie came through safely—
Unscathed in life or limb.

The Sage of Monticello.

It was at Monticello that Jefferson prepared the draught of instructions for Virginia's delegation to the congress which met at Philadelphia. His activity in the cause of the colonies brought him into special disfavor with the British and it was planned to capture Jefferson at Monticello through Tarleton's raiders. Jefferson was warned that the enemy was coming to Monticello, and he sent his family away, and he himself escaped on horseback. The mansion at Monticello, thanks to Tarleton's orders, escaped serious pillage or damage. Though the house itself was not plundered or burned, the rest of Jefferson's property suffered severely at the hands of the enemy. All the stock and farm products that might be of service were carried off, the rest being wantonly destroyed.

When Jefferson resigned from the Washington cabinet in 1794 he returned to Monticello to enjoy a retirement which he intended should last many years. But this was not to be. He was elected vice-president in 1796, and in 1800 he was chosen president.

In March, 1809, Jefferson, after a nearly continuous public service of forty four years, retired to private life, but he was so seriously impoverished that he was not sure of being allowed to leave Washington without arrest by his creditors, but this, fortunately he was able to prevent. Toward the close of his life, however, he became distressingly embarrassed in his circumstances. In 1814 he sold his library to congress for $23,000, but through indorsing a note for a friend he was completely ruined, and was in danger of being compelled to surrender Monticello and seek shelter for his last days in another abode. But wealthy friends came to his assistance with a considerable sum of money.

"No cent of this," he wrote, "wrung from the taxpayer. It is the pure and unsolicited offering of love." In the last seventeen years of his life Jefferson lived like a patriarch among his admiring friends. "The sage of Monticello" was the most prominent man in private life in the country. Even to the year of his death he was a great moral force in the land. As the former president, the purchaser of Louisiana, the chastiser of the Barbary pirates the founder of the University of Virginia, as the scholar, the philosopher and the savant, he was known the world over.

Every day for at least eight months in the year brought its contingent of guests to Monticello. People of wealth, fashion, men of office, professional men, military and civil, lawyers, doctors, Protestant clergy, Catholic priests, members of congress, foreign ministers, missionaries, Indian agents, tourists, artists, strangers, friends. Some came from affection and respect, some from curiosity, some to give or receive advice or instruction, some from idleness, some because others set the example. And everybody who could not visit "the sage of Monticello" at least gave thought to the great retired man of the nation.

Jefferson retained his health nearly to his last days, and had the happiness of living to the fiftieth anniversary of the Declaration of Independence. He died at Monticello at 12:40 p. m. on July 4, 1826. He was buried in his own graveyard at Monticello, beneath a stone upon which was engraved an inscription prepared by his own hand: "Here is buried Thomas Jefferson, author of the Declaration of Independence, of the Statute of Virginia, for Religious Liberty and Father of the University of Virginia."

"The sage of Monticello" stands today next to "the father of his country" in the esteem of the United States. And this is as it should be, for his wise counsel helped to establish this nation as firmly as did the arms and statesmanship of George Washington.

Things to Remember.

Let us pause in our pursuit of money or pleasure or health or happiness on this day of days, July Fourth, to remember some of the bits that have grown rusty in our memories or that have been unthought of for so long that they may have been forgotten. It will do us good to re-read:

"We join ourselves to no party that does not carry the flag and keep step to the music of the Union."—Rufus Choate.

"Our country! In her intercourse with foreign nations, may she always be in the right: but our country, right or wrong."—Stephen Decatur.

"Our country is the world—our countrymen are all mankind."—Wm. Lloyd Garrison.

"I only regret that I have but one life to lose for my country."—Nathan Hale.

"One flag, one land, one heart, one hand, one nation evermore.—O. W. Holmes.

"I was born in America; I live an American; I shall die an American."—Daniel Webster.

The Patriotic Song.

Miss Irene Ingersoll was practicing for the Fourth of July song service. She had selected a beautiful song about summer and home and native land, with an appeal in it for Independence Day. Some of the crescendoes were pitched high and Miss Ingersoll was determined to rise to the occasion or burst.

Her music teacher stood by coaching her. Finally he threw up both hands and cried:

"Miss Ingersoll! Miss Ingersoll! Remember you are singing an invitation to the Fourth to come! You are not daring it!"

Rules Jefferson Lived By.

The hundred and sixty-eighth anniversary of the birth of Thos Jefferson was celebrated with a big banquet in Indianapolis, April 13th. In this connection Jefferson's ten rules of life, which follow, will be of interest:

1. Never put off till tomorrow what you can do today.
2. Never trouble another for what you can do yourself.
3. Never spend money before you have it.
4. Never buy what you do not want because it is cheap; it will be dear to you.
5. Pride costs us more than hunger, thirst and cold.
6. We never repent of having eaten too little.
7. Nothing is troublesome that we do willingly.
8. How much pain have cost us the evils which have never happened.
9. Take things away by their smooth handle.
10. When angry, count ten before you speak; if very angry, a hundred

Here are some of the great principles of government advocated by Mr. Jefferson in his first inaugural address, March 4, 1801:

Equal and exact justice to all men, of whatever state of persuasion, religious or political.

Peace, commerce and honest friendship with all nations, entangling alliances with none.

The support of the state government in all their rights as the most competent administrations for our domestic concerns and the surest bulwarks against anti republican tendencies.

The preservation of the general government in its whole constitutional vigor, as the sheet anchor of our peace at home and safety abroad.

A jealous care of the right of election by the people.

A mild and safe corrective of abuses which are lopped by the sword of revolution, where peaceable remedies are unprovided.

Absolute acquiescence in the decisions of the majority, the vital principles of republics, from which there is no appeal but to force the vital principle and immediate parent of despotism.

A well disciplined militia, our best reliance and for the first moments of war until regulars may relieve them.

The supremacy of the civil over the military authority—economy in the public expense, that labor may be lightly burdened.

The honest payment of our debts and sacred preservation of the public faith.

The diffusion of information and arraignment of all abuses at the bar of public reason.

Freedom of religion, freedom of the press, and freedom of person under the protection of habeas corpus.

Trial by juries impartially selected.

"These principles form the bright constellation which has gone before us, and guided our steps through an age of revolution and reformation. The wisdom of our sages and blood of our heroes have been devoted to their attainment; they should be the creed of our political faith; the text of civic instruction; the touchstone by which to try the service of those we trust; and should wander from them in moments of error or of alarm, let us hasten to retrace our steps and to regain the road which alone leads to peace, liberty, and safety."

The Night Before.

Little Willie Wilkins was counting his firecrackers and punk for the forty ninth time when his mother called him.

"Come, Willie," she said, "it's time to go to bed. Tomorrow is the Fourth and you will want to get up early."

"Yes'm," replied Willie, in a non committal voice.

"Now, Willie; remember that little chickens all go to bed early."

Willie stacked a nigger chaser on top of a dozen pinwheels and replied, eagerly:

"Yes mother, but the old hens go with 'em!"

Not Qualified.

The Ladies' committee on the celebration of the Fourth was discussing the proposed program of exercises.

"I think," suggested a dimpled blonde, "that it would be awful nice to have some man with a good voice to read the Declaration of Independence.

At this juncture a woman with a square jaw and deepset eyes observed.

"It might be well, but I am opposed to having a marriee man read the document. It does not do to allow them to encourage themselves too much.

A PLEASANT OCCASION.

Last Sunday was red letter day with the Pembroke Odd Fellows and their visiting brethren from the various lodges of the county. The program of the day was well executed and every one present seemed to enjoy it to the fullest.

Brother K. G. Muncy of Eggleston, preached a very able sermon in the Lutheran Church at 11 a. m., and Brother W. B. Belchee of Pearisburg, preached a very interesting and pleasing sermon in the Christian Church in the afternoon. With a lavish basket dinner between these good sermons the day was declared by all to be a great success.

Special credit and praise is due the good housewives of the neighborhood for their abundant and delicious dinner, which they so well know how to prepare and serve.

Last but not least among the interesting features of the day and occasion was Prof. Daily Stafford and his choir from Trigg. They dispensed sweet melodies throughout the day and received many flattering compliments from their listeners.

In addition to all this Pembroke was made quite alive by the presence of a Sunday School excursion of 160 from Waitville, coming via N. & W. Dr. P. B. Ratcliff, a former resident of Pembroke, seemed to be Captain of the hosts on this excursion.

LOST!

Phlegar & Shelton of Ripplemead, have two three-year old steers gone astray from their farm. A liberal reward will be paid for their return or their whereabouts.

"SOMETHING DOING."

Correspondent from Villamont to the Roanoke Times, has the following to say about our former citizen, who now lives in the thriving city of Roanoke.

"Col. Jas. D. Johnston, one of Roanoke's affable bachelors, has selected a pair of the villa sites, from which can be seen Roanoke City and valley, the Peaks of Otter, Montvale, Mesa and Bedford City, with great stretches of undulating hill and vale. The Colonel is growing poetic and figuring on a cozy bungalow. There are indications of "something doing.""

Going to Stop.

PARRISH-JOHNSTON.

An interesting event of last Wednesday, the 26th of June, was the pretty home wedding of Miss Nannie Lou Johnston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James D. Johnston, to Mr. Fred L. Parrish of Hurley, Va., with the Rev. M. W. Royall officiating.

Promptly at five thirty o'clock, to the strains of the Lohengrin wedding march rendered by Miss Lucille Lucas, the bridal party entered a parlor beautifully decorated with daisies and evergreens.

Miss Winnie Johnston, the bride's maid of honor, entered first, gowned in white marquisette with picture hat and carrying a shower bouquet of pink carnations. Next came little Helen Johnston, sister of the bride, in white lingeril, carrying a silver tray in which lay a beautiful rose concealing the wedding ring.

The groom was accompanied by his best man, Mr. William W. Witten of Witten's Mill, Va., while the bride entered on the arm of her brother Tobias A. S. Johnston, who gave her away.

During the ceremony, "Hearts and Flowers" was softly rendered by Miss Lucille Lucas.

The bride's costume was a lovely blue whipcord suit, with hat and accessories to match, she carried a large bouquet of bride's roses.

The parlor was effectively decorated with daisies and evergreens, the background was of dark heavy green touched with daisies. From the walls was suspended a festoon from which hung a lover's knot of daisies, under which the impressive ring ceremony was performed.

Immediately after the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Parrish left for an extended trip to Cincinnati, Columbus and other western points.

The wedding gifts were unusually beautiful and numerous.

On Tuesday evening, Mr. and Mrs. James D. Johnston, gave a reception at their home. The lower floor was decorated with red rambler roses and ferns. An orchestra was stationed in the East end of the lawn where delicious refreshments, consisting of ices and cakes were served.

On the porch, which was lighted by Japanese lanterns, the punch bowl was presided over by Miss Lucille Lucas.

Much merriment was caused when the bride's cake was cut, and all told, a very pleasant evening was spent.

BROWN-ANDERSON WEDDING.

Through some inadvertency The Banner failed to mention last issue the marriage of Miss Mary Anderson and J. D. Brown, Jr., at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Anderson, in West Graham, June 20th.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. S. W. Moore of Bluefield, in the presence of the family and a few invited guest.

The bride is one of the most popular young ladies of Graham, and the announcement came all the more as a surprise from the fact that she possessed such excellent business qualifications, that it was hardly expected she would fall a victim to cupid's arrow. She was employed in the office force of the Norfolk & Western station at Graham for several years until recently when she resigned and accepted a position with the mercantile firm of J. D. Peery & Co., at Gary.

The groom also held a position at Gary, where the couple will probably reside after returning from the wedding trip.

Even at this late hour The Banner extends congratulations and best wishes for a happy journey over the sea of matrimony.—Graham Banner.

LEAS & McVITTY, INC.

Philadelphia, Pa.,
June 21, 1912.

At a meeting of their Board of Directors, held June 18th, the following officers were elected:

Albert E. McVitty, President; Samuel H. McVitty, 1st Vice President; W. S. Anderson, 2d Vice President; L. P. Leas, Treasurer; Robert J. Neely, Secretary.

David P. Leas, Chairman of the Board.

This represents no actual change in the management, as their late President, Mr. Thos. S. McVitty, along with David P. Leas, retired from active duties in 1907. Since that time the responsibility of the management has rested with A. E. McVitty, who now succeeds his father as President.

Mr. S. H. McVitty (residing at Salem, Va.) continues as general manager of their Virginia plants:

The Salem Tannery, at Salem, Va.; New River Tannery, at Pearisburg, Va; Blue Ridge Tannery, at Buena Vista, Va; Buena Vista Ext. Works, at Buena Vista, Va.

They represent the fourth generation actively engaged in the business; their great grandfather having established a tannery in Central Pensylvania in 1800. The business has continued uninterruptedly for 112 years.

The Days Gone By.

By James Whitcomb Riley.

O the days gone by! O the days gone by!
The apples in the orchard, and the path as through the rye!
The chirrup of the robin, and the whistle of the quail
As he piped across the meadows sweet, as any nightingale;
When the bloom was on the clover, and the blue was in the sky,
And my happy heart brimmed over in the days gone by.
(Repeat last line of each stanza for refrain.)

In the days gone by, when my naked feet were tripped
By the honeysuckle tangles where the waterlilies dripped,
And the ripples of the river lipped the moss along the brink
Where the placid-eyed and lazy-footed cattle came to drink,
And the tilting snipe stood fearless of the truant's wayward cry,
And the splashing of the swimmer, in the days gone by.

O the days gone by! O the days gone by!
The music of the laughing lip, the luster of the eye;
The childish faith in fairies, and Aladdin's magic ring—
The simple, soul-reposing, glad belief in everything—
When life was like a story, holding neither sob nor sigh,
In the olden golden glory of the days gone by.

The Teacher and His Work.

(Paper Read by Rev. M. W. Royall at Sunday School Convention, Fincastle, Va., June 27, 1912.)

There are certain qualifications that a Sunday school teacher really needs to fit him for teaching. He can not be perfect for the world has never had but one perfect teacher. Yet the true teacher needs to pattern after the man who was perfect, and who spake as never man spake. The teacher who strives to make his life like the Christ in every way, will not reach perfection as a teacher, but will find himself standing on a higher plain, where he can get an enlarged vision, where new and deeper truths will stand out like ripe clusters of fruit, not only beautiful to behold, but rich with new thought that gives added strenght to the soul.

To be Christ-like let us see what it means. He was the manifestation of God's love; God's love made known through all His life. So man who wishes to teach man, must be capable of revealing God's love through himself. He must be able to say "The love of Christ constraineth me," and let the world see that God's love is the motive for every action. The sun shines brightest when not dimmed by dark clouds, but even when behind the clouds and can not be seen with the natural eye, he has left his impression above the clouds, a sight beautiful for angels to behold. So the true teacher whose life is patterned after the great teacher and has his heart filled with love for God and humanity, will do his greatest work when his life is not clouded by temporal things. On Sunday when before his class his heart over flowing with love he is like the sun when there are no clouds to dim his brightness, then in the week when in business and every thing is in such a rush, he must then be able to leave his impression for good to shine above his business. He must carry with him at all times the love of Christ. The sun pushes forth light unquenchable, so if light is within man he shines, if darkness rules he shades, if his heart glows with love he warms, if frozen with selfishness he chills, if corrupt he poisons, if pure-hearted he cleanses; and love makes the heart pure. In 1848 during the riot in Paris the mob swept down the street blazing with cannon when a white-haired old man stood before them, the mob stopped, then the leader cried out "Soldiers, sixty years of pure life is about to address you." A true man's presence transformed a mob that cannon could not conquer. His presence made bad men good. So the presence of a true and loving teacher will change his pupils when other means would fail. As a lump of clay is lifted to the wheel by the potter's hand and under the gentle pressure takes on the lines of a beautiful cup or vase, so man stands forth a mere mass of mind seen under the gentle touch of love, he stands forth in the aspects of a Milton or a Broadus or a Spurgeon.

Not only is Christ a manifestation of His love but also of His for the first recorded saying of Jesus was "I must be about my Father's business." All during His life He was submissive to His Father's will, then at the close of life in Gethsemane when the burden was the greatest, we hear him say "Not my will but thine be done." Then the true teacher will seek to know the Father's will in regard to his own life. It is the Father's will that the teacher gives his life to those whom he has to serve. He must give it to them in the way of service. Again there comes into his life moments when some question of importance have to be decided concerning the school, or some point of doctrine that a wrong decision might change the destiny of a soul, and the right decision might influence a life that might change the history of a nation. How important that every teacher be able to say from his heart "Thy will be done." Sometimes a teacher may think that he does not need to ask the Father's will but there is nothing so small that we are capable of managing when we leave God's will out of it for the great things of life are made up of what man once called little. If we dwell upon the summit of the Matterhorn, there we find that the mountain hath its height and majesty through particles themselves though weak and little, for the geologists who analyzes the topmost peak of the mountain must go back to a little flake of mica that once floated along some one of earth's rivers, too light to sink and too feeble to find a resting place. Therefore dropped into decay, hardened by earth's process, the day came when that flake of mica was lifted upon the mountain peak wrought into the strength of imperishable iron capping the very summit of the Alpine tower. A teacher who knows God's will, will not ignore the little things of life but will be able to cause them to be a part of a great structure which Christ's people are building. So, some of the qualifications of a teacher are to have God's love and to know His will. Without these he can not teach others to know God. I have known a Sunday school which had a teacher who was not even a Christian and whose life at other times was very immoral. That teacher attempted to teach one thing on Sunday as he stood before the class and another, just the opposite, during the week by his daily walk. The last I knew of that Sunday school class not a single one was a Christian. How could we expect them to be, when the teacher did not know Christ himself. God deliver us from such so called teachers in our Sunday schools.

The other part of this subject is his work What is the work of a teacher? What object has he in view? Surely every teacher has some object in view around which centers all his work. It is true there are several secondary objects, but the primary and supreme one is to get the pupil to know Jesus Christ. For if they are not Christians they need to know Him as their personal Saviour, if they are Christians they need to know Him better so they can understand what He will have them to do. Paul's desire was "That I may know Him." The teacher in order to get them to know the Saviour must study the lesson from his own standpoint as he sees it, then from the pupils standpoint as the pupil sees it. The teacher needs not only to study the lesson but he needs to study the pupil also. Every scholar individually, then his work is not done, he has only begun, just made the preparation for his work. He has some truth that he understands; and the question that concerns him is, What is the best method he can use to convey that truth to the pupil? Whatever method he uses, he must make that truth live. I would suggest the method that Christ used when He was teaching a great truth, that is become interested in whatever his pupils are interested in, for when He saw the woman at the well to draw water, He became interested in that well and drew her attention from that to the fountain of everlasting life; when He saw men fishing He talked about fishing, than said "Follow me and I will make you fishers of men." So the teacher's work is not simply to take that truth and hurl it at them in a careless way as you would a ball to a crowd of boys at play, but to carry that truth down into every pupils life, and to show them the beauty as he unfolds it to them, and create within them a desire for something better in other words, a desire to know Christ. Ever teacher must have a method of his own to convey the thought to the pupil's mind, and then to lift the pupil up to Christ. A merchant employed a clerk and asked him if he could sell goods, he answered, "Yes, to any one who wants them." The merchant answered, "Any one can do that, but I want a man to sell goods to people who don't want them, first make them see that they need them and then sell them." So in teaching we have to deal with people who have no desire to be taught, and the teacher's duty is to make them see that they need to be taught or in other words their need of a Saviour.

The work of the teacher is an opportunity. Sometimes one hour is a critical period for the pupil. Destiny is determined by our use of the critical period, the teacher must see that hour. Christ interprets opportunity in Gethsemane at midnight when He saw the torches fluttering in the darkness, the clanking of sabers and soldiers' armor, and in sad reproachful irony wakened His diciples with these words "Sleep on now," as much as to say the opportunity has gone. One moment's carelessness, one moment's inattention to a single scholar, may mar that teacher's work for all that day. New and patient endeavor may yet undo the wrong teaching, but this is at the cost of precious time that might have been better improved. If however the neglect is not promptly undone it is by no means forgotten. "For we must all appear before the judgement seat of Christ that each one may receive the things done in the body, according to what he hath done whether it be good or bad. Therefore he must be faithful not looking for reward here but hereafter. For Christ says, "Behold I come quickly and my reward is with me, to render to each man according as his work is." Great is the teacher's work and "they that be wise shall shine as the brightness of the firmament; and they that turn many to righteousness as the stars forever and ever."

What Was Time to Him?

At a banquet given by the Lawyers' Association in Chicago, former Judge James E. Purnell declared that the useless questions used by young lawyers when cross-examining their first witnesses remind him of the answer given to a convict.

"A street laborer," said Judge Purnell, "was digging just outside a State prison. One of the convicts called out from his cell. "Say, what time is it?"

The man kept on digging and did not reply. Finally, after the prisoner had repeated the question two or three times, the laborer looked up at him and remarked:

"What do you care? You aren't going any place."—Chicago Tribune.

The VIRGINIAN joins in with a hosts of friends in wishing them much joy and happiness through life.

CHIL-LAX
For Chills and Fever.

J. H. Walker and J. W. Porterfield have gone into partnership in the mercantile business at this place.

Remember the play given by the Wabash Cornet Band at Wabash Academy tonight (Thursday), entitled, "The Baby Elephant." If you want to hear something good, go and see it. Plenty of music on the ground.

We spent a few hours mingling with the good people of Eggleston, Saturday afternoon and found everybody happy and good looking as ever. The Eggleston Produce Co., and J. R. Goodwin have consolidated, and is one of the strongest mercantile firms in the county, consisting of J. R. Goodwin, W. W. W. Walker and C. F. Straley.

A. R. Richardson's famous show presented the sensational comedy drama, "Jesse James," here, before a large and attentive audience Tuesday night. A feature band and superb orchestra furnished excellent music, much to the delight of the people. The show was full of thrilling acts, laughable scenes, singing and dancing, with nothing to offend but everything to please.

The Fifth Rural Life Conference for training in Rural Leadership, University of Virginia Summer School will be held at Charlottesville, Va., July 16th to 19th. The purpose of the Conference is to bring together rural life workers interested in and having a knowledge of every phase of country life: economic, social, religious, sociological and educational, in order that a more perfect co-operation of all the forces looking to the betterment of rural conditions may be obtained.

We spent a few hours last Saturday at that thriving town Pembroke. We find the merchants looking pleasant, the bank doing a nice business, the blacksmith at his anvil, the saw mill running, the farmers up and doing taking care of the products on the farm. While there we had the pleasure of dinning at the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Snidow, at which time we did justice to the occasion, for which we return many thanks to Mrs. Snidow for her kind hospitality. Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Snidow were also guests, who left next day for their home at Roanoke. There are no better people on earth than can be found at Pembroke.

JACKSON-MUNSEY.

Last Saturday night, Mr. Bishop Jackson of Emory, Va., and Miss Addie Munsey of Pearisburg, boarded the train at Dublin for Bristol, where Parson Burroughs added another happy and courageous couple to his list of over four thousand he has made happy.

Miss Addie is the youngest daughter of our fellow-townsman and worthy 'Squire, Charles Munsey.

Mr. Jackson is a son of the late Rev. Jackson, who had charge of the Bane Circuit some years ago.

We join their many friends in wishing them much joy.

KILL-POIS
For Bad Blood.

The Lord's Supper will be celebrated in the Pearisburg Presbyterian church next Sunday after the morning service. There will be preaching Friday and Saturday nights before the second Sunday at 8 p. m. If any parents have children to be baptized I wish that they would let me know before the morning service. Rev. L. W. Irwin from Princeton, W. Va., will do most of the preaching. There will also be services at McClaugherty's Chapel at 3:30 p. m., and at the Narrows at 8 p. m.

J. G. REVELEY.

DEATH OF MR. A. J. GIVENS.

On July 3rd at his home at Narrows, Mr. A. J. Givens fell asleep. He was born January 6, 1833. He leaves a wife and five children to mourn his loss. He was a member of the Christian church and left bright testimony of his acceptance with Christ.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. W. B. Belchee and interment took place late in the afternoon of July 4th in the Hare cemetery. He was burried by the Masonic fraternity.

We extend sympathy to the bereaved friends.

A RED LETTER SUNDAY.

The first Sunday in July was replete with intellectual and spiritual teaching of a high order.

By courtesy of Rev. W. B. Belchee, the Methodist pulpit, was occupied in the morning at eleven o'clock by Dr. Crockett Painter of Charlottesville, Va., who preahed a very strong and clear sermon from Matt. 5-20.

Dr. W. G. Painter, who served thirty years as a Missionary to China, at 10:40 a. m. gave a twenty minutes talk to the Methodist and Presbyterian Sunday Schools assembled at the Methodist Church. Sunday evening at 8 o'clock, he lectured on "China." To one even moderately well read on recent social and political changes in China, the lecture could not fail to prove interesting and instructive.

We also wish to commend the choir for the good taste displayed in the selection of those beautiful old time hyms which have been pushed aside for several years.

Notice of Teacher's Examination.

The next regular uniform examination for teachers of Giles county will be held at Pembroke on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, July 31st, August 1st and 2nd, 1912.

All applicants must be on hands promptly at 9 a. m. of the first day, with pen, ink and paper.

Yours very respectfully,
C. A. HARDWICK,
Div. Sup't. Schools.

THE FOURTH AT NARROWS.

The celebration of the Fourth by the Modern Woodmen of America of Narrows was attended and congratulated by the people, as being one of the most successful entertainments ever given by the Camp. There were at least 2,000 people attended, coming from all parts of the county and the nearby counties and towns.

Some of the events that are worthy of mention: Harmonious strains from the Pearisburg and Wabash Cornet Bands cheered the crowd at all periods of the day.

The grand auto parade was something new and appreciated by all. In the circle formed on the grounds were the E. M. F. 30, Maxwell Special, Chalmers 30, Buick 30, Ford, Mitchell 30, and others. The prize was awarded to Chalmers 30, owned and operated by K. S. French.

H. B. Shelton was awarded the prize for best team of draft horses; Mrs. W. B. Belchee, for best single driver; Miss Spangler of Peterstown, best lady rider; Mr. Houston Spangler won in the tournament; Young McGhee was lucky to get the greased pig by one of its extremities and bringing him to a halt.

There was sufficient dinner served by the Woodmen for all present. The Carnival Company had several good shows on the ground and the merry-go-round, which was liberally patronized, was enjoyed by all children present.

The crowd stayed late, and on leaving, declared it a most enjoyable day.

EGGLESTON.

Miss Maggie and Mr. Emmit Mullens, who have been the guests of Mrs. Thom Kelley, have returned to their home at Keystone, W. Va.

Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Stafford were guests of their sister, Mrs. J. U. Pettit at Hollins, last week.

The Ladies' Aid Society of Wingo, gave an ice cream supper on the bridge last Saturday night. They realized about $50.

Misses Geraldine and Ernestine Gerald of Ripplemead, and Elanor Lucado of Iron Gate, were guests of Pearl Durham several days ago.

Children's Day Services were given in the Methodist church last Sunday evening, and were well attended. The children all did their parts perfectly, and much credit is due Rev. K. G Munsey for making this occasion a success.

Mrs. Tobe Murray of Providence, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Morton.

Miss Bettie Wysong, died last Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the home of her sister, Mrs. Fannie Saunders, age 64 years, death being due to disease of the liver, with dropsy as a complication. She leaves to mourn her loss, several brothers and sisters, who have the sympathy of the entire community. Interment was in the family burying ground at Newport.

Mrs. W. G. Carter is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. H. L. Roberts at Roanoke.

F. E. Stafford spent Sunday at home.

Misses May and Ethel Martin of Pembroke, visited Miss Irene Saunders last week.

Miss Price of Hagerstown, Md., is the guest of Miss June Huffman.

Mrs. W. W. Walker left last week for Craig All Healing Springs, where she will spend several weeks. "Billy."

A FREE SCHOLARSHIP.

Any young man or woman who is a bona fide patron of this paper may secure free instruction in Music or Elocution.

The Ithaca Conservatory of Music, with the desire to stimulate the study of these arts, offer two scholarships to applicants from the State of Virginia, valued at $100 each and good for the term of twenty weeks beginning with the opening of the school year, September 12, 1912, in any of the following departments: Voice, Violin, Piano, Organ and Elocution.

These scholarships are awarded upon competition which is open to anyone desiring a musical or literary education.

Anyone wishing to enter the competition or desiring information should write to Mr. Geo C Williams, General Manager of the Ithaca Conservatory of Music, Ithaca, N. Y., before September 1, 1912.

DEATH OF AN AGED MAN.

Mr. N B. Underwood died in Floyd county, Virginia, on June 30th at five o'clock in the morning, aged 84 years, one month. He was a kind husband and father, and was loved by all who knew him. He was only sick one week when his Father called him, and he said he was ready to go. He had lived a Christian life, and died looking up to heaven. He was a father of 21 children, seven preceding him to the grave. He leaves a wife and 12 children. Children that came from a distance were: J. C. Underwood of Wyoming; C. W. Underwood of Botetourt county; Mrs. W. J. Fisher of Pembroke; Mrs. F L. Mays of Christiansburg.

He had 73 grandchildren and 32 great grandchildren. He was a member of the Iron Side Baptist church. We fall in sympathy with all who knew him.

A FRIEND.

WHITE GATE.

"If you have a friend worth loving,
Love him. Yes, and let him know
That you love him ere life's evening
Tinge his brow with sunset glow,
Why should good words ne'er be said
Of a friend till he is dead?"

RAY IS BROUGHT BACK TO BRISTOL.

Bristol, Va., July 8—Robert L. Ray, the young man who is charged with the theft of a diamond brooch valued at $500, and who was caught by detectives in Louisville, was brought back here Sunday afternoon by Officer Moreloeck. The officer recovered the missing brooch, which has been returned to its owner, Mrs. David S. Simpson. Two young men who were in company with Ray in Louisville, and who were taken in charge by the detectives, were released. Ray told the officer that drink is responsible for his conduct, and that had he been sober he would not have disappeared with the diamond.

New Times.

New times demand new measures and new men,
The world advances, and in time outgrows
The laws that in our father's day were best;
And doubtless after us, some purer scheme
Will be shaped out by wiser men than we,
Made wiser by the steady growth of truth.
The time is ripe, and rotten-ripe for change;
Then let it come: I have no dread of what
Is called for by the instinct of mankind;
Nor think I that God's world will fall apart
Because we tear a parchment more or less.
Truth is eternal, but her effluence.
With endless change, is fitted to the hour;
Her mirror is turned forward to reflect
The promise of the future, not the past.
My God! when I read o'er the bitter lives
Of men whose eager hearts were quite too great
To beat beneath the cramped mode of the day.
And see them mocked at by the world they love,
Haggling with prejudice for penny-worths
Of that reform which their hard toil will make
The common birthright of the age to come
When I see this, spite of my faith in God,—
I marvel how their hearts bear up so long.
—Lowell.

The Conceited Man.

There is a great multitude of "him" in this world of ours, and he is found somewhere in nearly all the walks of life. The trouble with him is that wherever he is found, he never looks outward and always inward. He is so full of himself that he can never see anything outside of himself. He is so puffed up in extreme admiration of himself, it is a wonder he can find a tailor who can make his clothes to fit. Sometimes he marries, and it is the wonder of those who know him that he could condescend to take a partner for life to be his equal, but she is not, and she quickly realizes that he does not so consider her. He is by nature the greatest bull dozer conceivable, and the woman who has to live with him needs all the sympathy a compassionate world can bestow.

He is dogmatic to the anoyance of everyone who comes in contact with him. You can no more reason with him than you can reason with a kicking donkey—for his opinions are the only opinions by his own rule of judgement. He is as sounding brass and a tinkling cymbal, and if everybody does not dance to the music he makes, then everybody else is an arrant fool. If you concede his superiority in all he claims, which is everything, you will find him like a turkey at Christmas, or violets in May. If you fail to concede his claims, you need not look in a dictionary to learn what wormwood and gall mean. Nod when he talks, and he will keep in good humor with you. Let him do the talking, the praying, and lead the singing at a church prayer meeting and it was a splendid meeting. Let him do the preaching, and it was a splendid sermon. Let him be chief marshall and it was a great procession. In fact let him have his way about everything and make him president and the country will be safe. Otherwise everything will go to the bad.

The conceited man is a little man on a big pedestal; a hopper grass on a church steeple; he is like a cheap restaurant, everything in the front window and nothing on the table; or a village newspaper with all "big heads" and no news. We shot a sea bird once that looked like an eagle, but when we picked its feathers, it looked like a sparrow caught in a storm. That is the conceited man, all fuss and feathers and nothing besides. He is the whistle on an engine; the noise when the wagon starts; the stripes on the barber's pole; the smallest pea in the dish, or apple in the barrel, or pebble on the beach, the smallest oyster in the stew. Had he been with Moses and Jehovah, when the law was given he would have suggested more amendments. But why say more? We all have seen him or heard of him and doubtless desired to prick the tremendous bubble in which he has enveloped himself, and let him explode and be reduced to his diminutive reality—the little end of nothing.—Roanoke World.

The Appalachian Reserve.

That the United States is investigating the titles to about two hundred thousand acres of heretofore considered worthless lands on Virginia watersheds, with their purchase in view at a cost of more than a million dollars, was disclosed upon the return of A. S. Laurier, assistant of the solicitor of the Government Department of Agriculture, who has for several weeks been on an inspection trip of Virginia, accompanied by surveyors and title examiners.

Title examiners were busy in the office of Col. John W. Richardson, register of the land office of Virginia, looking up the old grants.

Mean while the Government is open to offers from the other land owners of the watersheds.

The price that will be paid by the Government for these lands in Virginia is from $3 to $7 per acre.

The 200,000 acres now under consideration without doubt will be taken over by the Government just as soon as all legal questions thereto are arranged. Where there is a question of the legality of the title, the United States Government will condemn the lands and pay the money into the hands of Virginia State courts to be turned over to the owners thereof.

Thus far there have been no differences between the land owners and the Government as to the prices. The lands involved are those iron which the timber has been cut and have been considered practically worthless. The bulk of these lands are owned by lumber companies.

The Government has available $12,000,000 for the purchase of lands. The purpose of the Government is to secure the maintenance of a perpetual growth of navigable streams where such growth will materially aid in preventing floods, in improving low waters, in preventing erosion of steep slopes and the silting up of the river channels and thereby improve the flow of water for navigation.

The lands purchased will be converted into forest reserves and will be patrolled and guarded as in the case of the Yellowstone Park.

When the deals are consummated in Virginia, subject to the approval of the United States Attorney-General, the money will be available for their purchase.

The employment of men to patrol these reservations will bring additional income to Virginia.

While the Government officials thus far have only taken into consideration about 200,000 acres and they are open to additional offers and would be willing to buy, possibly, twice this amount of land.

There is a limit on the price, however, and where a price is considered excessive for these unused lands, the Government simply rejects the proposal.—Richmond Virginian.

The Sanctity of Marriage.

He who reads and believes the New Testament will not fail to notice the stress Jesus himself lays on the sanctity of the marriage relation. He sets marriage high in the galaxy of virtues in his sermon on the Mount and elsewhere, both by direct statement and implication. He sets it forth as one of the cardinal virtues of humanity. He taught that the vow is an inviolable bond, which nothing but death or conjugal infidelity can break. If we believe what Jesus said on this subject, then it is time in these days of hasty marriage and more hasty divorces for the pulpit, the virtuous home, and the press to cry out in favor of the sanctity of marriage and against the ease with which it is annuled by the courts. Beyond all question the divorce courts are becoming a menace to our Christian civilization.

We need not say much about Utah nor Mormon Church, so called, until we have somewhat improved conditions in other States. In many places the marriage vow is not only broken on the slightest pretext, but another marriage is consummated almost before the ink is dry on the docket which dissolved the former. This has gone on until there are men having two or three living wives, and women who have two or three living husbands, until children are ashamed and the nation disgraced by a legalized adultery as offensive to God and to good society as Mormonism ever dared to be in its worst form. For if the Mormon takes two or three wives, he keeps all of them and does not abandon one wife for another.

If our children are to have the right sort of training, they must have placed before them, both by precept and example the sanctity of the marriage vow.

God's plan is for one man and one women to build the home and live together in fear and under his favor until death separates them. This doctrine should be taught in the home as the very foundation on which the family rests, and the children should be taught its ideal beauty—a beauty never yet fully attained, because its highest and holiest beauty is seen only in the home eternal, where only its blessedness is fully realized. It is the emblem of heaven, the prototype of complete social idealism.—Midland Methodist.

Save a little of thy income and thy hide bound pocket will soon begin to thrive and will never again cry with the empty belly-ache; neither will creditors insult thee, nor want oppress, nor hunger bite—nor will nakedness freeze thee. The whole hemisphere will shine brighter, and pleasure spring up in every corner of thy heart.

HE WAS RIGHT

Just plain, common horse-sense ought to teach every man that Franklin was absolutely right, just as sure as two and two make four. Creditors cannot insult you, nor can Want press you if you have prepared for them by having something in the bank; besides, your money is SAFE in the bank, not only from fire or burglars, but from your own extravagance.

Presbyterians' Liquor Attitude.

Louisville, Ky., May 21.—Though the general assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States of America did not act on a recommendation of one man who wanted the assembly to memorialize the federal government to prohibit the manufacture, importation and distribution of intoxicating beverages, it took a very positive stand on the temperance question today. Congressional legislation to prohibit inter-State shipment of liquor into prohibition States or districts was indorsed.

Yet further use of the Bible in the curriculm of the Christian colleges of the country is urged in the report of the college board made today. Before aid is given Presbyterian colleges, the faculty is composed of men who shall exercise a strong Christian influence. The board in the past year has received and disbursed more than a million and a half dollars. Criticism that college students are ignorant of the Bible is answered in the report of the board by the Statement that this ignorance is mostly of the Bible as a book, though the students are proficient in studies of books of the Bible. More careful attention to the book itself is urged.

M. W. Franklin of Pearisburg, has paid the license tax required by a common cryer as auctioneer and now offers his services to all who may have work of this kind to do. Call on him, he is an experienced auctioneer, and reason able in his charges.

Frank Woodyard, son of the late Clayton Woodyard of this county, died at Bluefield last Thursday, where he has been living for several years, and his remains were brought to Thessalia, this county, on the following day and laid to rest in the Thessalia cemetery. Quite a crowd accompanied the remains from Bluefield. Frank is well known here and we were sorry to hear of his death. We extend sympathy to the bereaved ones.

PLEASANT OCCASION.

An occasion of more than usual interest took place on last Saturday night when the Odd Fellows lodge of this place had the pleasure of entertaining the other Odd Fellows lodges of the county.

Information had been received that Hon. A. M. Southall, Grand Master of Odd Fellows of the State of Virginia, would be present and desired the presence of as many members as could attend. The home lodge had prepared a nice supper and had the pleasure of quite a large attendance from Wabash, Narrows and Pembroke lodges, but at the last moment it was found that the Grand Master could not be present on account of conflict or mix up in appointments in some way.

Though somewhat disappointed but more determined than ever to yet make the meeting a success, all joined hands to that end. After the usual ceremonies in opening the lodge, Hon. Martin Williams was called on for an address and well was the duty performed. Not having been before notified that this would be expected of him, and having no time for preparation, his address was a most excellent one and to the point in every way, and it was fortunate for the success of the occasion that Judge Williams was present. Following him came Mr. J. E. Hammer of Narrows lodge. To say that this gentleman acquitted himself well, but feebly expresses it. His address was replete with interesting thoughts, and most feelingly expressed, and well calculated to do good for the order. Next came Mr. C. W. Thompson in a lecture and exposition of the secret work of the order. This was listened to with attention and was timely.

After this adjournment to the supper room was taken, where all hands seemed to enjoy the time for the next hour.

We are requested by the Pearisburg lodge to say that while it regrets that the Grand Master failed to arrive, that it was glad indeed to have the visiting brothers present, and hope that all enjoyed the occasion and that they were as glad to be present as Pearisburg lodge was to have them.

Let us have more such gatherings.

A. H. WOODYARD.

Death of Mrs. Sarah E. Johnston.

Mrs. Sarah E. Johnston fell asleep in Jesus on the evening of June 14, 1912, at the home of her son, Jas. Wesley, near Princeton. Mrs. Johnston was 77 years, 11 months and 14 days old. Her maiden name was Bruce, a sister of William Bruce near this place and an aunt of J. A. B. Bruce of Bluefield.

She left her son's home in Bluefield, John Hearve, on Tuesday evening for the home of Jas. Wesley, where she expected to spend a few quiet weeks and visit her other children and friends, and on Friday night after a hearty supper and a short nap, she awoke only to tell them she was feeling badly, and before doctors or any one could reach the home, the beautiful spirit and life that comforted so many here left to try the realities of an unknown home beyond. So great was her faith and love for her God and church and fellowman that death had no sting. The grave won no victory, but with God's help she conquered, all though the spirit of love and faith, and was ever found about her Master's business. She was too pure, too true to her church vows to be tempted by vanity to waste in earthly lusts the natural gifts she consecrated to her God. She went forth a Christian into a gain-saying world, without fear and without reproach. Her principles and standards of truth, love ad duty were fixed and could not be moved, for she drew them from the eternal word of God. It was not strange that her granddaughter said, "it pays to be ready."

Rev. C E Painter conducted the funeral services on Sunday afternoon at Pisgah in presence of a large gathering of relatives and friends, when the body was carried to her old home and laid beside her husband, who preceded her to the grave 24 years ago. The pall bearers were her grand children, Lenoard, Isiah and Clarence Johnston of Princeton, and C. B. Tiller of Oakvale. She is survived by the following children: Erastus of Eagleston, John Hearve of Bluefield, Frank G. of Narrows, Jas. Wesley and Will of Princeton, E. Howe of Maben, W. V., Mrs. C. P. Caldwell of Gap Mills, Mrs. N. A Boggess and Miss Jennie Johnston of Athens. Also 27 grand children and 4 great grand children.

Farewell dear mother, thou art at rest
And shall forever be,
You could not stay on earth with us,
But we can come to thee.

"Sunshine."

WHITE GATE.

"You can't improve on things, you know, no matter how you fret;
Fussing won't make a hot day cool or
Fret won't make a dry spell wet.
In fact, the more you fuss the more unhappy you will be,
And nobody'll admire you—take that, now straight from me.

We need all sorts of weather, and we're going to get it too;
The program won't be changed at all, not even to please you.
So make the best of what we have and do not fret and fume,
And you can make a humid day seem quite sa-lu-bri-ous."

Here we are again!

Greetings to every reader of the VIRGINIAN.

Miss Nancy Bane was a guest at "Westlawn," Friday.

Mrs. W. B. Wright delightfully entertained her Sunday School class at her attractive home on Thursday evening. About fourteen were present and after some appropriate selections on the graphophone, and sacred music led by their teacher, in which all the young voices joined, then the happy children gladly indulged in lively out door games on the beautiful lawn, after which delicious refreshments were tempingly served each one, and after a most pleasant time they reluctantly separated and with many as evidence of grateful appreciation, they bade their kind, amiable teacher "good-night."

The Wabash Band will render that amusing comedy "The Baby Elephant" at the graded school building here, on Monday evening, July 22nd. Doors open at 8 o'clock. Everybody COME and enjoy a real hearty laugh once more and hear the best band in Southwest Virginia. Proceeds for the benefit of the band.

Very Serious

It is a very serious matter to ask for one medicine and have the wrong one given you. For this reason we urge you in buying to be careful to get the genuine—

THEDFORD'S BLACK-DRAUGHT Liver Medicine

The reputation of this old, reliable medicine, for constipation, indigestion and liver trouble, is firmly established. It does not imitate other medicines. It is better than others, or it would not be the favorite liver powder, with a larger sale than all others combined.

Crossing the Bar.

By Alfred Tennyson.

Sunset and evening star,
And one clear call for me,
And may there be no moaning of the bar,
When I put out to sea.

But such a tide as moving, seems asleep,
Too full for sound and foam,
When that which drew from out the boundless deep
Turns again home.

Twilight and evening bell,
And after that the dark !
And may there be no sadness of farewell,
When I embark.

For tho' from out our bourne of Time and Place
The flood may bear me far,
I hope to see my Pilot face to face
When I have crossed the bar.

As the British See Wilson.

A "PRACTICAL" SCHOLAR, WHO LOOKS LIKE JOSEPH CHAMBERLAIN.

Mr. Woodrow Wilson, the candidate of the Democratic party for the Presidency of the United States, has made for himself a quicker and more brilliant name, and by quieter means, than any American of our day and generation. He stands out today by far the strongest man that his party could have put forward.

Indeed, to read, Mr. Wilson's speeches, to study his acts and to be with the man himself is to be filled with a new hope for American politics. It is not often they attract the best type of men, they have never to my knowledge attracted a man of Mr. Wilson's tpye before. He is a phenomenon new to American experience. He belongs, in fact, much more to the class of public men we are accustomed to in England than to the class that has hitherto pretty well dominated American affairs. He is nearer the Morley, Mr. Balfour and Mr. Bryce, to Walter Bagehot and the late Professor Butcher than to such typically American politicans as Cleveland, Mckinley or Bryan.

That is to say, he is primarily a scholar, a student, a writer, a political philosopher, a vigorous, illuminating and untrammeled critic and observer of governments and institutions rather than what Americans, with unconscious irony, are pleased to call "a practical statesman." Of his 55 years, 30 have been passed in the lecture room. He has written the best "History of the American People" that has yet appeared.

The weakness of many American public men is that they have never been grounded in the fundamentals of political science. It is Mr. Wilson's strength that he has not only as a student got to the bottom of things, has not only as a writer and professor applied his knowledge to the discussion, criticism and illumination of current measures and events, but has also as president of Princeton University from 1902 to 1910 superadded a sustained and all-round experience in the daily work of administration. The head of such an institution need not be a scholar or a commanding intellectual figure, though Mr. Wilson is both. But he must have organizing power, the capacity for compromise, the gift of diplomacy, the ability not merely to form decision but to work them out in detail; he must have trained himself to the transaction of business and the exercise of executive authority, and he must have been braced by the continuous contact and often the wholesome conflict with a variety of men and issues. What better apprenticeship to public life could any man with the capacity for growth in him have served than this?

It was, I believe, Col. George Harvey, the keen-eyed editor of Harper's Weekly and the North American Review, who was the first to designate Mr. Wilson as a man pre-eminently qualified for party leadership and public office. Nothing came, or could have come, of the suggestion until about a year ago, when the New Jersey Democrats, anxious to appear respectable and not doubting that a college professor untutored in the ways of "practical politics," would be thoroughly amendable to professional guidance and control, offered Mr. Wilson the nomination for the Governorship. The "machine" was so tainted and disreputable that many Progressive Democrats could not be convinced that Mr. Wilson was not standing as the candidate of "the interests." It took only a little while to undeceive them; it took only a little longer to make the bosses realize that in this untried amateur they had met their match.

Mr. Wilson's campaign was of a character unique in American electioneering. There was none of the usual party claptrap and vituperation, no effort to keep alive meaningless party lines and traditions, no dealing in sonorous generalities. From first to last Mr. Wilson appealed to reason and to conscience. He discussed nothing but specific and ponderable issues, and on each one of them he showed just where he stood. In language that the most ignorant could understand and the most fastidious could appreciate and be stirred by, with innumerable happy side flashes of humor and illustration, keeping always to a high elevation of thought and feeling and practically, Mr. Wilson laid bare the New Jersey politics and industrial organizations, clearly outlined his program for their reform and asked from all who cared for the good name of their State the support that would enable him to carry it out. Republicans and Democrats flocked to the metting of this university president, who saw and spoke so clearly and stated what he proposed to do so frankly and modestly; Republican and Democrats joined on polling day in electing him by a triumphant majority.

When Mr. Woodrow Wilson became Governor, New Jersey was one of the most depraved and reactionary States in the Union. It was farcical even to speak of it as a government of the people, by the people, for the people. It was a government of the poeple, by the bosses, for the trusts.

Today things are very different. Pressing the prerogatives of his office to their fullest limits. Governor Wilson has contrived to pass through a Democratic Assembly and a Republican Senate a whole series of beneficent reforms.

One gets, in talking with Mr. Wilson, that sense which politicians in America are all too rarely able to impart—the sense of a solid, mellow background of reading, culture and philosophy. His politics are the politics of ideas and measures, not of personalities and committee rooms. For all his years in the lecture room there is nothing "donnish" about him. His manner is utterly unpretentious, even in its geniality; his rich flow of talk is flecked with spontaneous humor; his whole bearing speaks of alertness, zest and confident energy.

In appearance he curiously resembles Mr. Joseph Chamberlain. One might describe his features as a lengthened, Americanized edition of Mr. Chamberlain's. The mouth is a shade more sensitive and mobile, the eyes a trifle larger and more charged with mirth, the lower jaw appreciably longer, but the general contour and effect are virtually the same, with the advantage perhaps of a more businesslike air of precision on Mr. Chamberlain's side and of a greater charm and reflectiveness on Mr. Wilson's. There are other and more important points that the two men have in common. Both see with a piercing distinctness and both are equally intolerant of shame, haziness and the specious forms and aspects of things that pass muster as realities.—"B" in the London Daily Mail.

For Pity's Sake.

"Our Dumb Animals," a magazine published by the Massachusetts Society for the prevention of Cruelty to Animals, contains in its July number a picture and article entitled "For Pity's Sake." The picture shows what once might have been a horse. It is in fact a living skeleton. Its bones are almost protuding through the skin, and the hair of its hide is worn and scarred. The article is as follows:

"That's why we print this sad picture. Our Dumb Animals cannot always show you, dear reader, the well-kept, kindly treated horse. From time to time you must have your attention called to the multitudes of these poor worn-out starved, mal treated old servants of man for whose sake this society in no small part exists. Our work is something besides publishing attractive pictures, and stories of kindness and humanity. We say little to you about it, but days are spent in following up just such pitiful victims of man's inhumanity as you see before you. Then with sorrow for all he has suffered, and gladness that we can end for him the long, hard journey, we give him at least the rest that comes with a painless death."

The New Express Rates.

There will be universal approval of the action of the Interstate Commerce Commission in directing a revision and reduction of express rates. Conditions in relation to the express companies had become intolerable. Excessive charges were common, the imposition of double charges were unwarrantably frequent, and there was, in addition, an absolute disregard of public interest and convenience.

The whole question of express rates is so involved that it required the expert wisdom of the Interstate Commerce Commission after months of patient investigating, to solve the problem. Now that the work has been concluded it is certain that there will be prompt and speedy relief.

The express companies must accept the judgement of the commission and in doing so they must also appreciate the fact that they alone are to blame for the situation in which they find themselves. If they had not been gorged with greed, if they had been less intolerant toward the public, the revolution which they invited by their own conduct would not have occurred.—Washington Herald.

To steal a kiss is natural. To buy one is stupid. Two girls kissing is a waste of time. To kiss one's sister is proper. To kiss one's wife is obligation. To kiss an ugly woman is gallantry. To kiss an old, faded woman is devotion. To kiss a young, blushing girl is—quite a different thing. To kiss one's rich aunt is hypocracy. Kissing three girls on the same day is extravagance.

People who write things which they would like to see printed in a newspaper, should bear in mind that what they write as their personal opinion should be gathered by them. And when they write stuff that is not fit for them to attach their names to it should never be printed. Remember, the rule of all decent newspapers and you will never have occasion to put on the shoe. This is the rule which we give in all kindness. Never ask a newspaper to do anything you are ashamed to do yourself.—Rural Retreat Times.

Refreshments were served and games were played until a late hour, when all left, declaring they had a most delightful time.

The Blue Healing Springs Co., Inc., have sent us a pamphlet for which we return thanks. These springs are endorsed by many prominent physicians, and have an elevation of 2214 feet and of course it needs nothing more from Nature's lavish hand to make it an ideal health and pleasure resort. This is a mutual benefit resort where you can have all the comforts of a good home at a minimum cost.

MEETING OF THE CHAPTER.

McComas Chapter, U. D. C., will meet on Saturday, July 27th at Judge Williams' office. All members are requested to be present as important business will be transacted.

Those who have not paid their yearly tax, will please pay Mrs. Duncan on or before the day of the meeting.

MRS MINNIE C. EASLEY, Pres.
MISS CARRIE WILLIAMS, Sec.

DEATH OF MRS. W. S. LEAKE.

On the 23rd of July came the sad news of the death of Mrs. W. S. Leake in Richmond, Va.

Scarcely a month ago Mrs. Leake conducted a Mission Study Class here for ladies. She left here on the 19th of July, seeming in the best of health.

Mrs. Leake was one of the most prominent and useful women of Virginia. Highly gifted intellectually, with rare tact, and adorning all with a beautiful Christian spirit, she became one of the foremost Christian leaders in the South.

For several years past she has given herself almost entirely to the Mission work of the Baptist Church, going all through the Southland, conducting Mission Study Classes and looking after the needs of the Home Mission Workers.

She was greatly loved wherever known and her loss to her be loved work will be almost irreparable.

She has a host of relatives and friends in Giles county, to whom her death comes as a great sorrow.

She is survived by her husband, Rev. W. S. Leake, our fellow-countyman John C. French of Curve; E. C. French of Bluefield; Mrs. C. C. Snidow of Pembroke; Mrs. Bernice Holland of Holland.

To the bereaved we extend sympathy.

GREAT DISTRICT FAIR.

The Great District Fair at the Radford Fair Grounds, of the Southwest Agricultural and Live Stock Association has been scheduled ahead of the Virginian Circuit, this year and will be held August 27th, 28th, 29th and 30th. Horses booked for the circuit will go to the Radford grounds for acclamatization and some interesting races will be arranged for two of the days of the fair. This Fair, at the junction of the roads and therefore convenient for all of the people of the Southwest deserves the support of this part of the State and the management calls attention to the fact that while racing is given as an attraction, it is essentially a Farmers' fair and the interest of the farmer is solicited. In agricultural and live stock exhibit it promises to excel itself this year. The concessions and amusements will also be on a larger scale and more varied than ever.

FATAL ACCIDENT AT BLACKSBURG.

Blacksburg, July 16.—John Cecil, the seventeen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. James T. Hardwick, accidentally shot himself at noon today in the home of his parents, four miles from Blacksburg, dying almost instantly. He had been engaged most of the morning in cleaning his gun and was alone in the room when the fatal shot was fired. Young Hardwick had been a cadet at the V. P. I. for two years and was an exceptionally bright youth. He was the youngest student to enter the freshman class in September, 1910, and was one of the highest honored men.

John Hardwick is the grand son of Mrs. Ella J. Slusser, who before her marriage was Miss Ella Snidow, a sister of J. M. Snidow of Kimballton, James Snidow of Pembroke, and a sister of J. C. Guthrie's mother, who lives near our town.

Notice of Teacher's Examination.

The next regular uniform examination for teachers of Giles county will be held at Pembroke on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, July 31st, August 1st and 2nd, 1912.

All applicants must be on hands promptly at 9 a. m. of the first day, with pen, ink and paper.

Yours very respectfully,
C. A. HARDWICK,
Div. Sup't. Schools.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to express our gratitude to the people of Thessalia, and also to Mr. Feunt Johnston, who were so kind to us in the bereavement of our son and brother, F. B. Woodyard.

Two Boys and A Cigarette.

Two bright little fellows, named Harry and Will,
Where just the same age and the same size until
One day in their travels it chanced that they met
A queer little creature, surnamed Cigarette,
This queer little creature made friends with the boys,
And told them a story of masculine joys
He held for their sharing, "I tell you," quoth he,
"The way to be manly and big is through me."
Will listened and yielded, but Harry held out,
"I think your assertions are open to doubt,"
He said, "and besides, I'm afraid I'd be sick,"
"Afraid!" echoed Will, "O, you cowardly stick!
Well, I'm not afraid, look here!" As he spoke
He blew a halo of cigarette smoke.
Five years from that meeting saw them again,
The time had arrived when they both should be men;
But, strangely enough, although Harry boy stood
As tall and as strong as a tree in the wood,
Poor Will seemed a dwarf; sunken eye, hollow cheek,
Stooped shoulders proclaimed him unmanly and weak.
With thumb and forefinger he listlessly rolled
A cigarette, smoothing each wrinkle and fold;
And the smoke that he puffed from his lips, I declare,
Took the form of a demon and grinned from the air,
And it said: "See that wreck of a man that I made
Of that boastful young fellow who wasn't afraid."

Ella Wheeler Wilcox.

Work at Baltimore Makes Third Party Unnecessary.

Walter Cain in Memphis News-Scimitar: Washington, D. C, July 6.—Mr. Bryan has succeeded in "running" the democratic party. Fresh from Chicago, where the all-powerful frm made up of big business and privilege, after having connected a nice little harmonizing platform and set upon a most harmless straw nominee, he landed in Baltimore and without consulting anybody, started out immediately and forthwith to tear to pieces the most harmonious program of procedure that ever an inside cabal concocted for blinding the representation of a free people.

Days before the date for the convention assembling, a number of national committeemen wisely counseled for such patriots as August and Perry Belmont, Thomas F. Ryan and their several attorneys, had come together and determined upon a most superior brand of harmony. It was harmony spelled all out in upper case letters, and they made it look most alluringly enticing to the casual reader. They picked out a suave gentleman by the name of Parker, who eight years before had been named for president by enemies in the main of real democrats, and declared that he must be the chairman. Later the platform was to be written to fit his key note speech, and Charley Murphy and his Tammany hall and the interests whom the program was intended to score would do the rest.

They had not finally determined upon a candidate, but would do so later on very harmoniously and at the proper time. How harmonious it all looked and how serene for the patriot behind its formation! But right then it was that the "marplot," as Stanchfield, of New York, later called him, began his interference. He said he didn't want harmony. He opposed smooth sailing. Calm and safe breezes didn't appeal to him. So he at once started something. He opened the cave of the winds and a cyclone burst forth. He began to toss thunder bolts all around in the most reckless fashion. Audacious beyond all reason he let a bomb loose under the temporary chair manship nomination and the explosion fairly rent the air.

PARKER'S VICTORY SHALLOW.

Parker landed in the seat that had been fixed for him, but he didn't look the same when he sat down. He needed arnica aplications and lotions and his anatomy was a big sore from one end of his harmonious cadaver to the other. A great many delegates thought that Bryan had been needlessly cruel and said so, but hoped that he would thereafter be good. Was he? Not for a minute. He came right along with a loaded resolution to the effect that Thomas Fortune Ryan and August Belmont, sitting delegates from Virginia and New York respectively and whom the harmony forecasters had selected to finance the coming campaign, were highbinders and grafters and democrats in such bad standing that to touch them even was sure disease and probable death.

He declared that the democratic party to deserve success must be as clean as it professed to be and that it couldn't come thus clean with such pollution in its midst. He advocated a purgative for the party and thus and thereupon again shocked the forerunners of perfect harmony. His resolution prevailed, but many of those who voted for it, believing that he meant nothing in fact and would not seriously hinder the harmony outlook, thought that Bryan ought to have gone out and quit when he failed to put Parker out of business.

NEBRASKAN ORDURATE.

The Nebraskan was obdurate, however, and kept going right along. Having had the resolution passed, he must very unharmoniously demand that the convention live up to it. Had Mr. Bryan agreed to permitting that the bosses run the democratic party, agreed to acting with them in carrying out a program of deceit, agreed to making a league with Tammy hall in the name of political decency and a covenant with big business in the name of popular government, he would have been a hero of the hour, merely for the hour. He would have been publicly hailed as the greatest statesman by the bosses, who would secretly have held him in contempt for his hypocrisy and by the people who later would have cursed his memory when they awoke to find that even he had betrayed them into the hands of their enemy.

Rather han to do this Mr. Bryan created a disturbance. He compelled men to go on record to their political death. He had forced the interests that have manipulated parties for years, out into the open, and rendered their work ineffective by making it public.

He focused public attention, for the first time in history, upon the scaffolding, the men behind the scenes, the real machinery of a convention, rather than upon the painted actors, the artificial landscapes and all the other pleasant things that have hitherto been supposed to be the most important part of the show.

HARMONY DRY ROT.

And far worse than all else, he made men think. He has shown that what parties have been calling harmony is dry rot. He has made men discontented with their lot, and when men become discontented, they act, they progress. He rendered it impossible for the democratic party, as it has been constituted for years, to win the coming election. He also made it impossible for the republican party to win. He has, however, made it possible and altogether likely that the people will win.

It takes a real man to "destroy" a party, almost single-handed, and out of the pieces re create a force for popular government. But it begins to look as though Mr. Bryan about succeeded in doing it.

You, my many readers, may not believe me, but sometimes a disharmonizer, or deharmonizer, as you may prefer, can appear grand. And surely, as this man rode the storm of his own raising, he took on majestic proportions. It was soon found that instead of having been driven into silence by the preliminary bout, he held the scepter as a ruler. He never temporized, he never tendered any compromise with the self constituted harmony makers; he talked as one conscious of the rectitude of his attitude and spoke a language that all who heard could understand. No longer the "boy orator" dealing in glowing phrases, he dawned upon the convention a giant who could not be cowed and whom abuse could not swerve. Before the balloting had begun, he had put through a second resolution, deferring the adoption of the platform until after the nomination had been made; then he himself wrote the platform and dared the assembled enemies of progress to name a man who would not fit to the splendid proportions demanded. Insulted, derided, attacked personally when in his seat as a delegate, he never lost sight of his purpose and never wavered in his endeavors.

HE NEVER STOPPED

Old-time friends joined with old-time enemies in criticism and denunciation, but he never stopped. When he arrived in Baltimore, he was committed alike to Clark and Wilson. After Tammany had cast its vote for the former, after the foul touch of Tammany had shown through a fair record as a splotch, he hesitated not for a moment to leave Clark to the ruinous friends who had taken him up and proclaimed Wilson his preference. At the time Clark was far in the lead, and his nomination was apparently assured. Bryan called a halt, and the Clark progress came to a dead stand. In the meanwhile, the busy wires over countless miles, into every hamlet, were carrying the story of the convention's proceedings.

The people became interested, then enlightened, and from every state, delegations were bombarded with telegraphic demands that they dishonor not their commissions. Every delay, every adjournment, brought from without warnings to the constituent units of the convention. It was not a fight merely for the nomination of Woodrow Wilson; it was a fight for a nomination for Woodrow Wilson which would be without the aid of Tammany Hall and Belmont, Morgan, Ryan and big business generally. This required many more votes than the accustomed two-thirds. There were few who believed Bryan could win. He had overplayed himself, they insisted, and the forces behind Clark and the others would eternally block the scheme. But those who doubted knew not the forceful fighting capacity of truth.

The unawed determination of the conservative leaders, the chasers after harmony, at any price, or with any surrender, had not yet become acquainted with the developed Bryan. The adjournment over Sunday gave to prejudice a pause. Delegates hearing from home stopped to think. They began to wonder if, after all, there was anything patriotic in the sort of harmony Bryan had been so ruthlessly destroying. Most men are honest when face to face with themselves, and the fact that it is better to be honest than to be dishonest, and delegations are merely men. When Monday morning came, the harmonizers were still defiant. They believed themselves strong enough to yet destroy Bryan by defeating Woodrow Wilson. They believed further that they could yet agree upon a man who would represent the old order and be able to elect him over such an opponent as Taft. The miserly and molecular

A Boy's Mother.

My mother, she's so good to me,
'Ef I was as good as I could be,
I couldn't be as good—no, sir!
Can't any boy be as good as her!

She loves me when I'm glad, or mad;
She loves me when I'm good or bad;
And what's the funniest thing, she says
She loves me when she punishes.

I don't like her to punish me;
That don't hurt; but it hurts to see
Her cryin'—nen I cry; an' nen
We both cry—an' be good again.

She loves me when she cuts an' sews
My little cloak and Sunday clo'es;
An' when my pa comes home to tea,
She loves him most as much as me.

She laughs an' tells him all I said,
An' grabs me up an' pats my head;
An' I hug her, an' hug my pa,
An' love him purt' nigh much as ma.

—James Whitcomb Riley.

Woodrow Wilson.

(By Frank P. Glass, Editor, Birmingham News.)

Immediately after Woodrow Wilson's brilliant campaign and triumphant majority in New Jersey in November 1910, the Birmingham News pointed out that he would be the proper national leader in 1912.

The prediction was then made that Woodrow Wilson would make as admirable an executive of the state as he had made a president of the Princeton University. The judgement was advanced that his record as governor would push him to the front for the democratic nomination.

The News very properly takes pride in seeing at Baltimore the realization of that judgement expressed so early in Governor Wilson's political career. The prediction was based on a thorough knowledge of the man's superb combination of equipment, manliness, and industry.

No man in the world has known better the history and the spirit of American institutions.

No man in public life has developed in a higher degree the truest manliness.

No man in any relation of life has shown greater industry.

No man has shown greater interest in latter day political and social problems. He loves his brothers and believes in service.

No man has shown more loyal devotion to the interests of all classes of people, or more practical common sense in working out the problems of this generation.

It is not surprising that with such an equipment and such a courageous devotion to the needs of the hour he has made an unprecedented success in routing bosses and uprooting bossism. His chief undertaking has been to restore representative government, to provide for the fullest operation of the intelligence and conscience of the people through their honestly elected servant and their constitutional channels. He has stimulated the utmost publicity about all public affairs. He believes in law and tries to re-establish law and provide that law shall be supreme over all and for all.

He has said that he seeks conservative ends through progressive methods and policies.

It is a lucid and apt statement. He will never set himself up as superior to the constitution. He will never usurp legislative or judical powers. He will never enter upon distinctly destructive policies, unless in the work of construction it is necessary to destroy rotten growth. He may use the knife, but never dynamite.

Governor Wilson is deliberate, cautious, painstaking, but once having decided on a course as wise and just, he is firm, tenacious, steadfast, and determined. No man has ever dominated him, and none ever will. He is most approachable for counsel, but never vacillating and indecisive He is self-reliant, but not self centered, vain nor afflicted with megalomania.

The democracy's candidate knows all sections and is thoroughly familiar with the heart of all classes of people. Born in Virginia, he was reared in Georgia, educated in North Carolina, New Jersey and Virginia. He has practiced law in Georgia, taught in Pennsylvania, in Connecticut, in Maryland, in New Jersey. He has kept in close touch with educated young men for thirty-five years, and this has helped keep him progressive. He is of the south, but is preeminently an American. His ideals are high, his sympathies broad, his methods clean. He was elected governor without making any deal, and he has been successful at Baltimore without one.

The News believes that in selecting Governor Wilson for its national leader, the democratic party has been extraordinarily wise. He was named by the people, not by the politicians. His nomination was secured after a long struggle between the people and the bosses. No nomination since Mr. Cleveland's will prove so popular He will evince greater power than any public man in fifty years in influencing voters through his marvelous faculty of lucid statement, by word and in print.

He will arouse the enthusiasm and conscience of the younger generation of men to a greater extent than this generation has know. Governor Wilson will be triumphantly elected.

It is doubtful whether Roosevelt's movement for a new party will survive the withering power of Wilson's great light. The "schoolmaster" will enroll the longest line of pupils in the science of government ever known. He will carry more states and electoral votes than the great Cleveland.

All hail to democracy, its new leadership, and its new life and vision of usefulness!

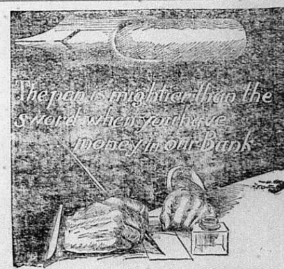
The south is back to the union. A southern man, vibrating with ever noble instinct, sympathy and ideals of the old south, inspired with every ambition of the new, is in the saddle. A new regime is in sight for the nation, for the south, for the democracy. God speed the day!

The World's Largest Building.

The first day of July the topmost piece of steel work was riveted in place on the Woolworth Building in New York. This structure is notable as being the loftiest building devoted to business purposes in the world. From the sidewalk to the top of the cupalo is 750 feet, which is 50 feet more than the height of the Metropolitan Building in this city, and 138 feet more than the height of the Singer Building tower, also in New York. The buildings contains fifty five stories in the tower. It is of the standard steel column and floor beam construction; but in order to take care of the enormous dead load and the great wind load, the columns are necessarily of unprecedented size.

I have learned that success is to be measured not so much by the position that one has reached in life as by the obstacles which he has overcome while trying to succeed.—Booker T. Washington.

Ignorance, when it is voluntary, is criminal.—Johnson.



If a good business chance came your way, in the shape of a piece of property or a share in a thriving business, it would be very nice to write out a check for the amount. If sickness or fire invaded your home, it would be nice to have money in the bank. Martha Washington College out of Debt.

It will be a great pleasure to the thousands of friends of Martha Washington College to know that this most excellent school is at last clear of debt, and that a fine new dormitory will be added for use in the fall. Dr. S. D. Long, the President, and Rev. Jack Ward, the Financial Agent, deserve the thanks of all for the wonderful success that has crowned their efforts. Working under almost insurmountable difficulties they have overcome every obstacle. The final subscription was paid Tuesday, July 16, when Brothers Long and Ward received a check for $12,500 from Hon. Andrew Carnegie. His subscription was given with the proviso that all indebtedness on the college should be paid. So the college is now clear of debt and a good new building in addition all provided for. The new dormitory will easily and comfortably accomodate forty girls. It is well arranged and splendidly equipped in every particular. The school is in a position to do a great work and to grow and expand.—Midland Methodist.

The city's ways are not my ways,
And never shall I to its demand be reconciled;
I walk amid its roar and rumble, dreaming,
A cool and careful man in outward seeming,
But in my heart a lost and lonely child.

Miss Ida Dulaney attended the ice cream supper Saturday night.

Oh! that cake, how white it was, nicely baked it seemed to be and bravely stood the boys, 'till each lance of logic failed as the glistening dew drops fell from the skies above, the night birds sang their sweetest songs, the dimes seemed to vanish 'till there was not one to be found and how pale and red did the smiling faces grow, that stood so bold, 'till they pronounced that cake sold. Hurrah! Hurrah!! Hurrah!!!

Tough Guy.

They will leave Naples on September 26th for America. —New York Herald, Paris Editor.

A Tackey party, one of the most comical and laughable ones ever given in our community was given by Miss Janie Bingham at her home on main street Thursday evening. All guests tried to be as tackey as possible and acted their parts to perfection. Several contests were carried on during the evening after which dainty refreshments were served. Miss Bessie Charlton of Bluff City, received the prize for being the tackiest girl and John Powell for the tackiest boy. Miss Clara Neel and Emory Johnston won the prize for guessing the best answers to the questions asked them. Numerous games were indulged in until a late hour when all departed, saying they had had the time of their lives.

Embroidery Club Entertained.

Miss Gladys Duncan of Ripplemead, very delightfully entertained the Young Ladies Embroidery Club at her home, "The Locust" on last Wednesday week. A prize was offered to the young lady, who could work the largest number of solid dots in fifteen minutes. The prize for the greatest number (a role of music) was awarded to Miss Geraldine Gerald. The booby was awarded to Miss Helen Mason. A delicious fruit, cake and ice course was served. Members present, Misses Helen and Frances Mason, Margaret Dills, Katharine Shelton, Ethel Dulaney and Gladys Duncan. New member admitted, Miss Geraldine Gerald.

Visitors present, Misses Sallie Shumate of Crewe, Ernestine Gerald of Ripplemead, John W. Williams Jr., of Richmond, and H. T. Duncan of Ripplemead.

CHIL-LAX
For Chills and Fever.

LETTER FROM OUR OLD FRIEND W. D. WOOLWINE.

In Germany every one works. Men, women and children and there are more women in the fields than men, due to the law of the Empire requiring service of men in the army.

The cows do the work of horse and ox on the farm. You see it costs no more to feed a cow than a horse or ox and the cow furnishes the milk, butter and cheese for the family. The steer is sold and the revenue derived pays for the things not produced on the farm. In driving through the country in Germany, we were interested in seeing the entire membership of a family comfortably seated on a load of hay drawn by the faithful and indispensable cow, laughing and jolly as if on a picnic. The people of Germany and Switzerland are strong and ruddy complexioned, giving evidence of clean, wholesome lives, in contradistinction to the French, who are small and lack the clear eye and skin, which denote health. There are practically no flies in Germany and Switzerland for the cities are kept clean and a fly cannot exist in these conditions. All this old world is beautiful, is a finished country and its lands are all required and are intensely cultivated. This beautiful mountainous Switzerland reminds me of dear old Giles county.

Lucerne is a quaint interesting city, on the shores of the beautiful lake of the same name, and all the mountain resorts shown in the pictures are reached by steamboats and railways or route inclines down by immense cables to heights ranging from 3000 to 10000 feet. The Alps in plain view from the city are crowned with perpetual snow, and by the way we had a big snow in the mountains last night and it came well down, visiting several of the resorts. We will go next to Lake Geneva and after the balance of this month and August in this country of the northern Italian lakes, will go to Venice, Milan, Florence, Rome and sail for home from Naples shortly.

The picture of the Lion, as all the others, is excellent. It is hewn out of the solid wall of living rock. This rock or cliff is 44 feet long and 20 feet high. The inscription engraved above the grotto marks the event to which the monument relates and underneath are the names of the officers, who perished victims to their fidelity. On the 10th August, 1792, the Swiss guards were placed in charge of the palace in Paris in which was the King Louis XVI. Although the King fled from the palace (not making it known to the guards), against overwhelming numbers of the Revolutionists, after the King's had deserted and joined the Revolutionists, these Immortal Guards stood steadfast and yielded up their precious lives in defense of duty. The Swiss people gather reverently each year in commemoration of the bravery of these fallen heroes

English is spoken in all the stores, banks and hotels here for they get most of their money from Americans. We have found people from Los Angeles everywhere we have been. The American Minister, Hon. Henry S. Boutelle and his wife called on us yesterday. Yours truly,

W. D. Woolwine.

A Laugh.

A laugh is just like music,
It freshens all the day,
It tips the peaks of life with light
And drives the clouds away;
The soul grows glad that hears it,
And feels its courage strong—
A laugh is just like sunshine
For cheering folks along.

A laugh is just like music,
It lingers in the heart,
And where its melody is heard
The ills of life depart;
And happy thoughts come crowding
Its joyful notes to greet—
A laugh is just like music
For making the life sweet.

—The Friend.

For Boys on The Farm.

One of the first lessons a boy should have in the care of stock is to handle it quietly, urges a contributor to the Progressive Farmer. From the smallest pig to the most valuable horse, there is not an animal on the farm but is better for being managed with systematic quietness. The boy rarely takes this into consideration, however, but, with characteristic liking for "fun," prefers a harum-scarum scramble to anything else, when driving the horses or cows to or from pasture. The more noise and excitement he can get up, the more attraction the job holds for him.

It is very easy, however, to teach him better. The boy is a reasonable creature and will not willingly transgress rules that he knows are for the best interest of the farm. A little precept and a good deal of example will usually check any undue carelessness in the management of farm animals.

Many a good cow has been excited by harsh treatment, by being run through a narrow gate or by having dogs set upon her, until she has sustained some permanent injury in consequence. On most farms the boys are expected to take care of the cows, and it is a great mistake not to show them plainly what the result of such usages is likely to be, and to insist that they treat the cows with kindness.

Every animal on the place, especially the young ones, should be excited as little as possible. Even hens lay more and do better if they are kept free from excitement. The best farmers realize this, and many a boy has been refused work in a very desirable situation because he was known to be rough in handling stock.

As the boys of the family often have almost entire charge of the stock, it is a great saving in every sense to teach them orderly, systematic methods, and then to spend time enough to be sure that the instructions are carried out. It is an invaluable training for the boys.—Our Dumb Animals.

Dog's Funeral Procession.

A Toulon druggist, owner of a magnificent Newfoundland dog called Phoebus, which was recently poisoned by some unknown hand, has given his faithful companion a magnificent funeral.

On the closed shutters of the drug store was affixed a black edged notice reading: "Closed owing to the death of Phoebus, killed by a brute." The dead Newfoundlander was placed in a box lined with white cloth, which was then hoisted on a splendid hearse drawn by two white horses. Eight magnificent wreaths and bouquets of white flowers were laid on the coffin, and then the bereaved druggist having mounted the box of the hearse beside the driver the funeral set off for a plot of ground owned by the druggist outside the city, where Phoebus was buried with all solemnity.

The hearse drove through the principal streets of Toulon and excited considerable interest.—New York Herald, Paris Edition.

THE LONGEST REIGN.

It is a little late to mention it but it is interesting even late July 5th set up a record. On that day Francis Joseph, emperor of Austria, had reigned 63 years, seven months and three days, thus passing the record for length of reign in the last hundred and fifty years previously held by Queen Victoria. He was called to the throne December 2, 1848, when eighteen years of age. It is believed that no monarch widely known to history ever has reigned longer than Francis Joseph, except Louis XIV of France, and nine years of his reign can hardly be counted. He was king for seventy two years but he ruled only 63 years. He inherited the kingdom at 5 and was declared of age at 14 years. Francis Joseph may yet add considerably to his record. He will be 82 years old if he lives to August 18 and his health is comparatively good.—Knoxville Sentinel.

PRACTICAL EDUCATION.

While our schools are being conducted very satisfactorily, we believe many of the problems in mathematics are not practical. Why not have problems useful in every day life? For instance like the following.

If it takes a boy twelve years of age twenty-two minutes to bring in small sticks of wood, a distance of seventeen feet, how long will it take him to travel to see a circus show procession?

A woman placed four pounds of cold meat and eight slices of bread before a tramp. At the end of twenty minutes how much was left?

A housewife sold a coat to a peddler for a vase worth nine cents, a pair of boots for a china dog worth six cents, and a vest for a glass bottle worth four cents; how much did she receive for all and how much over $9 clear profit did the peddler make?

A man pays thirty cents for three pounds of evaporated apples and gets a $14 newspaper puff for sending them to an orphan asylum. Does he gain or lose and how much?

Two females, each thirty years of age are sitting on a sofa. Neither of them has a husband. One is worth two hundred thousand dollars and the other teaches a district school. Which is the unmarried lady and which is the old maid?

A man winks his eye an average of 30,000 times a day, a woman's tongue makes 78,000 motions every twenty four hours. At this rate how long will it take the man to catch up?

If it costs $200 for a young lady to learn painting, and she turns out two landscapes worth forty cents apiece, what is the net profit?

It takes twenty blows of a hammer in the hands of a woman to drive a tenpenny nail three inches. She misses the nail twice where she hits it once. How many blows does she strike in all and how far can her voice be heard when she strikes her thumb?—Rural Retreat Times.

England's Oldest Newspaper.

Besides being the government's best journalistic property, the London Gazette is also the oldest existing English Newspaper. It published its first number in 1665. In that troubled year the court was at Oxford on account of the plague and the paper bore the name of the Oxford Gazette in consequence, not changing to its present title until the twenty-fourth number.

Crowds Excited As Airship Passes Over The City.

Monday evening, shortly after sunset, hundreds of persons watched an airship sail directly over the business section of the city, apparently five or six hundred feet above the earth. People along Garrison avenue were startled to see a large dirigible airship with a man sitting in the framework beneath what resembled the world-famous Zeppelin type of Germany.

The airship, with its numerous mechanism at work, sailed rapidly and within a few minutes had crossed the Arkansas river and was floating over Oklahoma soil, while the crowds wonderingly watched it as it disappeared in the western horizon.

Investigation revealed the fact that the "airship" in question was a life-like dirigible airship that was sent up from the top of the Goldman Hotel by the publicity managers of the International Drug Company, who have their advertising offices at the Goldman.

The International Drug Co., was organized last May under the laws of Arkansas with an authorized capital of $100,000. While this corporation has only been in existence a short time, they have attracted attention all over the United States and sections of Canada, Mexico and Cuba. They sell four remedies as follows: "CHIL-LAX" for Chills and Fever; "KIL-POIS" for Blood Ailments; "KIDNEY-FLUSH" for Kidney and Bladder Diseases, and "666" for Rheumatism. From the present outlook, and if they continue to grow as rapidly in the future as they have in the past, these remedies will undoubtedly prove the largest sellers ever known, as remedies with merit sell, and it is hoped they will break all previous records of the medicine world, which will put Fort Smith in the homes of millions and millions of people.----Southwest American, July 23rd, 1912.----Fort Smith, Arkansas, U. S. A.

Must Be Wonderful Discoveries.

The Company mentioned above is patronizing us with a nice advertisement, as shown on this page, and you will see that they are offering the consumer a mighty liberal proposition, putting Remedies in the home of the people at the Company's risk, as they figure that every family receiving a set of Remedies means several permanent users.

The International Drug Company further claim that a satisfied customer is worth more to a business than a solid block of flashy billboards.

We are glad the Remedies are proving large sellers, as one spending years upon years searching and researching at an uncounted cost, to relieve suffering humanity, deserves success.

Something else to be admired of the International Drug Company is the fact that their advertisements do not claim any "CURE ALLS," etc., and we will say for the benefit of our readers that single Remedies and 50c sizes may be had at any Drug store or General Mercantile store throughout the country; although you can not lose by ordering the "Family Set," as each Remedy must give absolute satisfaction or the Company does not want the other $4.00, and you are to be the sole judge. Evidently these Remedies have proven wonderful discoveries, or no concern could have built up such an enormous business on so liberal terms.

We are informed that the International Drug Company is offering the druggists and merchants an Airship free with each order received for Remedies during August. These Airships are exactly like the one that thousands of people in the Company's home town riveted their eyes on recently. They are 12 feet long and have a framework beneath that resembles the old famous Zeppelin type of Germany, which has created comment from every quarter of the globe.

Every man, woman and child would like to see an Airship float in the upper blue. Who is the first live merchant?

Mr. Baldwin Ballard, who is in his 92nd year and probably the oldest man in Monroe county, made a full hand in the hay harvest on his farm near Greenville last Monday, working all day. He carries his 90 odd years as lightly as a youth. We challenge the world to produce his equal —Monroe Watchman. Mr. Ballard is the father of our townsman, C. S. Ballard.

Our readers have no doubt noticed the advertising of the Cortright Metal Roofing Company, 50 N. 23rd St, Philadelphia, Pa, which has been appearing in our columns for several months with a change of cuts each week, and we hope that those of our subscribers who have been in need of such material have communicated with this Company, as they offer a system of roofing possessing every point of superiority, absolutely weather tight, fire proof, ornamental in appearance, durable, easily applied and low first cost. This Company has local agencies established at many places, some of whom carry the goods constantly in stock but where they are not so represented, are always glad to get in direct communication with the prospective buyer. If in any way interested in roofing, write them for literature and further particulars.

The Pearisburg Baptist Sunday School held its annual picnic on last Thursday on the farm of J. W. Carper, jointly with the Curve school, which is a mission school organized by the Baptists of the Pearisburg Church. The attendance was good, and everyone enjoyed the occasion. The school passed a resolution of thanks to the Pearisburg Cornet Band for music, to C S. Ballard and T. S. Williams for free conveyances, to J. W. Carper for the use of grounds, and to all others who contributed to the enjoyment of the children and members of the schools. All the lemonade the children could drink was ready for them, dinner and watermellons were in abundance. The children played games of different kinds, but one of the most amusing features of the day was a foot race by four young ladies. We will not give their names, but those who were there know them and know that they were pretty good runners. In the evening they all separated feeling that the day was well spent for all enjoyed it.

NOTICE!

At seven-thirty o'clock Tuesday evening, August 20th, the ladies of the Methodist Church will serve ice cream, sherbert and fruits on the church lawn.

All are cordially invited to come and help in a good cause.

THE PICNIC AT FLESHMAN'S GROVE.

On last Saturday we had the pleasure of attending the 15th annual picnic of the Peterstown Methodist Sunday School at Fleshman's Grove.

To say that we had a very pleasant time on this occasion would not begin to describe it, and we take this method of expressing our sincere appreciation to the people of Peterstown for the kind hospitality extended us on this occasion.

In recent years this has grown to be an event of unusual interest and is always looked forward to with much pleasure, not only by the people of Monroe county, but others, Giles county in particular, which is always well represented at these occasions.

To say the least of it, it was a success in every way and we are informed was attended by larger numbers than ever before.

Perhaps the most interesting feature of the occasion was the speaking by the pastor Rev. Mr. Watkins, Mr. J. Alex Meadows of Athens, and Hon. A. P. Axis of Charleston, W. Va. Each of these gentlemen made short but excellent addresses, which seemed to be very much enjoyed by the large and attentive audience.

The Pearisburg Cornet Band was on the ground and furnished music which was highly appreciated and which added much to the pleasure of the occasion.

We can say that it has never been our pleasure to spend a more pleasant day than on this occasion and we hope it will be our good fortune to attend it in future years.

Lloyd-Huffman.

A quiet wedding was solemnized here Monday, when Miss Virgie Huffman of Eggleston, Va., became the bride of John H. Lloyd, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Lloyd of this city. The happy couple left on No. 4 for Bristol and will also visit Roanoke and Eggleston. After Sunday they will be at home to their friends on Mercer Street. Mr. Lloyd is employed at the freight station.—Bluefield Telegraph.

NOTICE!

There will be a meeting of the Pearisburg District School Board held at Pearisburg at 10 o'clock a. m., Monday, August 19th, for the purpose of contracting with teachers for the Rural schools of the district, for the coming session. All teachers, interested, will please be on hand, with their certificates.

FAIR CHANGES DATES.

Owing to the delay in completing the new East Radford Inn the Great District Fair at Radford has changed its dates to September 10, 11, 12 and 13. These dates are made available by the abandonment of the Fair at Princeton, W. Va.

PICNIC AT EATON'S CHAPEL.

Saturday, August 17th.

The Staffordsville country always believes in doing things on a big scale. They carry out this idea in their Annual Sunday School picnic at Eaton's Chapel next Saturday. All the Sunday schools of all denominations in the Staffordsville charge meet on that day to have an all-round good time.

The Wabash Cornet Band will furnish music for this occasion. This is one of the best bands in Southwest Virginia, and if you fail to hear them you will miss half of your life.

CARD OF THANKS.

I desire through the columns of the Virginian to thank the kind friends who have not been thanked for their kind generosity. I wish to express my appreciation to the White Gate people and Dr. Hobson for so cheerfully giving the money to buy a nice horse and to Dr. Hobson for starting the ball rolling, and to another friend for collecting the money and bringing the horse up I desire to thank Mr. and Mrs. James Hoge and the Mason Brothers, and King Johnston for their kind remembrances.

J. G. Reveley.

DEATH OF MISS WILLIAMS.

Wytheville, Va., Aug. 12.—A message was received in Wytheville this morning announcing the death of Miss Rosalie Grayson Williams, daughter of Attorney General and Mrs. Samuel W. Williams, which occured this morning at 5 o'clock at Asheville, N. C. Her death was due to tuberculosis and she had been in ill health just about a year. The body will reach here on the early train tomorrow morning, but as yet the funeral arrangements have not been made.

Miss Williams is thought to have contracted to disease a little more than a year ago during an an automobile trip from Wytheville to New York. Her health began to fail a short time there after. She left Wytheville last fall to spend the winter in Richmond with her father and about two months ago was taken to Asheville for treatment. She was the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Williams, and besides her parents, leaves these brothers and sisters; Mrs. J. B. Dunn, Miss Louise, John, Brook and Bright, of Richmond; S. W. Williams, Jr., and Carrington Williams, of Bland county, Jack Williams, of Beuna Vista, Robert W. Williams of Wytheville.

Penn Johnston and wife of Waycross, Ga., are visiting relatives here.

Miss Annie Hetherington, after spending two weeks with relatives in Roanoke, has returned home.

Miss India Stafford spent last week with grandparents, G. W. Barger and wife of Eggleston.

Edgar Martin, wife and two children of Roanoke, are spending a few weeks at D. W. Martin's.

J. R. Johnston is all smiles, it's a Democrat. Hurrah! for Jim in his old days.

D. T. Martin and son Garvin of East Radford, are visiting Mr. Martin's neice, Mrs. W. A. Stafford.

Guess Who.

Meeting of School Trustee Electoral Board.

The regular annual meeting of the School Trustee Electoral Board will be held in Pearisburg on Monday, August 12, 1912, to appoint one trustee for each district and fill any other vacancies that may exist at that time.

Very respectfully,
C. A. Hardwick,
Clerk of Board.

KILL-POIS
For Bad Blood.

Kimballton, Va.,
August 8, 1912

Dear Mr Editor:

Some few days past I took a trip to Marion, Va., to see our fellow-countrymen, Mr. H. W. Frazier.

I found a great abundance of wheat, oats, corn and fruit of every kind through the counties of Pulaski and Wythe.

Soon after reaching Marion I found Mr. Frazier and sorry to say in a very bad condition. There are no hopes entertained for his recovery. He is well cared for by the skilled physicians and nurses, but nevertheless, he is not improving.

We, as people of Virginia should be proud of this grand institute, to see how well the unfortunate are treated in this home they are given, where every effort is put forth for their recovery. Those that are so unfortunate as to have loved ones there should rest assured that they are well cared for and better attention given them than at home.

The State has well selected for managers of this institute, Drs. King and Henderson, and general manager, Gibboney. They showed me as much courtesy as if I had been a "Progressive candidate."

It would bring happiness to any one to look over the situation and see how the unfortunate are cared for. The building and surroundings make one of the prettiest scenes that can be witnessed, yet amidst all this there is a breeze of sadness that seems to still the atmosphere.

Best wishes for the Virginian.
E. L. Buchanan.

RIPPLEMEAD.

Miss Pearl Pyrtle is visiting her parents here.

Mrs. C. D. Shumate of Crewe, who has been the guest of relatives here has returned to her home.

Mrs. G. Huff, Misses Helen Mason and Bessie Elliott, were guests of Mrs. Clay Mason last week.

C. H. Magee, wife and son, C. H. Jr.; are visiting Mrs. Magee's parents, J. H. Durham and wife.

Little Elizabeth Vickers of Dublin, is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. H. Durham.

The community is much grieved over the death of Mrs. Anna Harmon of Radford. Mrs. Harmon has visited here several times and by her wining ways won a host of friends. Our sympathy is with the bereaved ones.

Mrs. J. H. Durham gave a delightful birthday dinner on last Friday. Only the family were present. All of the children except one son.

Miss Mabel and Robt Durham are visiting relatives here.

Miss Gladys Duncan was on the sick list Tuesday.

Mrs. W. T. Duncan and son Paul and Mrs. C. D. Shumate spent the week's end with friends and relatives at Dublin.

J. C Duncan has returned home after an extended visit to relatives at Dublin.

STAFFORDSVILLE.

Mr. S. H. Bane was host to a stag breakfast on Friday a. m., given in honor of the visiting gentlemen in the immediate neighborhood. Those enjoying this pleasant social function were: Messrs. J. G. Johnson of Memphis, Tenn., Geo. L. Bane of Narrows, M. A. Barbee of Abingdon, and Jas. A. Bane of Roanoke.

Mortimer G. Bane of Pulaski, is spending a short while with his parents at the old homestead, "Westlawn."

Miss Elizabeth Allen is spending the week at Poplar Hill.

A neighborhood picnic will be held on the banks of Walker's Creek in the meadow opposite Pierce Bane's residence on Saturday, August 24th. The ladies of the Presbpterian church will serve dinner to the crowd for 25 cts. each. The Wabash Band will furnish music, and a most pleasant time is anticipated. EVERYBODY come and bring their friends, and thus help in a good cause, as the proceeds are to be used in repairing the church at this place.

Mrs. L. P. Summers and two daughters, Misses Gay and Fannie, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Barbee of Abingdon, who have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. Pierce Bane for several days, left for home Sunday in their car, having driven from Abingdon to this place in about eight hours and a half.

Miss Annie Vermillion of Poplar Hill, pleasantly entertained a few friends Monday evening in honor of her cousins, the Misses Whitaker of Bristol. A delicious supper was elegantly served after which fine music, games, and animated conversation were enjoyed until the time for saying good night arrived. Those enjoying this delightful social gathering were: Misses Mary A. and Nannie F. Whittaker, Vara and Mary Bane, Jess Nidermaier, Elizabeth Allen and Mess. R. E. Bane, Mortimer Bane and Joe Nidermaier.

The Woman Who Wears A Smile.

Give me the woman who never frowns,
Whose face is an open book,
Who smiles right at me frank and fair
With a sort of chummy look,
Whose happy eyes are bright and clear,
With never a trace of guile,
Oh, the woman I hold so good and dear
Is the woman who wears a smile.

I know a woman who ever smiles;
Her heart is a mint of gold,
It matters not what her name may be
Or whether she's young or old,
'Tis enough to know she will never fail
If a cause be true and just,
Such a matchless grace of the constant heart
In whom I have put my trust.

The world is better the day more fair,
Less thorns are in our path
When we meet the woman who wears a smile,
When we hear her happy laugh,
God bless the woman who wears a smile,
God bless her every day,
And bless the people whose tired lives
She brightens along the way.

FRIEL ALLEN PLEADS GUILTY, GETS 18 YEARS.

On Account of Prisoners' Youth Commonwealth's Attorneys Accept Compromise this Morning and Another of Allen Gang is Convicted--Sidna Edwards also Wants to Plead Guilty.

Wytheville, Va., Aug. 14.—Friel Allen, son of Jack Allen, pleaded guilty to the murder of Commonwealth's Attorney W. M Foster, of Carroll county, in the circuit court of Wythe county this morning after hearing the indictment read upon which he was to stand trial. A compromise sentence of 18 years in the penitentiary was given as a result of the prisoner's plea, which was agreed upon by the attorneys for the commonwealth on account of the extreme youth of young Allen, who is only about 19 years old. In view of this plea the other charges against him, four in number on the the charge of murder in the first degree, were dismissed the above being accepted.

Friel Allen was in the rear of the court room seated in the back of a bench when the firing began and drew his pistol and fired several times at the commonwealth's attorney, and as the attorney had received so many wounds it is not unlikely that a part of them were fired by the young man. Deputy Clerk Queesenberry, who saw him shooting at the court officers, turned his gun on Friel Allen and shot at him once. The case against this member of the clan was extremely strong and had he not plead guilty he stood in the shadow of the electric chair, the law showing mercy to the criminal who acknowledges his crime.

When court opened this morning the case of the commonwealth against Friel Allen was called and he was arraigned in court on the charge of murdering W. M. Foster in the Hillville tragedy on March 14. After hearing the reading of the indictment the prisoner responded "guilty." The matter of sentence was then agreed upon by the attorneys which was 18 years. Judge W. S. Staples, who is presiding in the cases, then sentenced the prisoner to serve a term of 18 years in the State penitentiary. He will be taken at once to Richmond to begin serving his term. The fact that he was sentenced precludes his testifying in any of the other cases against the Allens.

Friel Allen was the only one of the prisoners brought from the Roanoke jail to Wytheville, and then sudden termination of his case left the court without any members of the clan here for trial. They will be brought here for court tomorrow. Just which case will come up next has not been definitely dicided, but there remain Victor Allen and Sidna Edwards. It is currently rumored here that Edwards will likewise enter a plea of guilty in hopes of getting a light sentence. Just what disposition of any other cases against him will be taken in case he does is not known. The commonwealth may insist on arraigning him on the other indictments.

The venire summoned from Bedford county, about one hundred men, arrived here last night on No. 13 and were in readiness to be examined for the jury box when court opened this morning. They will be held here pending the procedure in the remaining cases.

THE VOICE NOT OF A PARTISAN, BUT OF AN AMERICAN.

One of the things which especially fixes the attention and inspires confidence in Governor Wilson is the non-partisan spirit in which he approaches and discusses the great public questions before the people in this campaign. He is a true Democrat and has a reason for the faith that is in him, but in considering what is best to be done for the country he considers it from the standpoint of an American rather than as a member of any political subdivision.

In his speech of acceptance, for instance, he does not "denounce" the program of Mr. Taft or Mr Roosevelt, but he presents calmly, though with striking intellectual vigor, the situation as it exists, the causes from which it has resulted and the general remedies which it demands. He does not assert that the other two parties are irreclaimably bad, that the Democratic party is divinely commissioned to set things right, or that he himself is acting as special agent for the Lord as well as the people. It is too serious and too great a situation for ordinary or extraordinary political clattrap.

Listen to these sentences, which ring true because they strike the high notes of patriotism:

"It is in the broad light of this new day that we stand face to face—with what? Plainly, not with questions of party, not with a contest for office, not with a petty struggle for advantage, Democrat against Republican, liberal against conservation, progressive against reactionary. With great questions of right and of justice, rather—questions of national development, of the development of character and of standards of action no less than of a better business system, more open to ordinary men, practicable to live under, tolerable to work under; of a better fiscal system whose taxes shall not come out of the pockets of the many to go into the pockets of the few, and within whose intricacies special privilege may not so easily find covert."

The same thought was repeated Saturday when, in discussing the issues of the campaign, he said:

It seems to me we are standing in the presence of something higher than allegiance to the Democratic party.

It is the voice of an American speaking the words of sincerity and truth. He is the nominee of the Democratic party, it is true, but he holds a brief for the whole American people. Things which are settled in such a spirit as this will be settled right and settled permanently.—Baltimore Sun.

SPARE THE CALF FOR BEEF.

Washington, Aug. 13—A new solution of the high cost of beef has been discovered.

A charter member of the local Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, who as yet refuses to allow her identity to become known, has started a crusade to be promoted by the several hundred chapters of the national organization of which she is a member to prevent the slaughtering of young calves.

The society has taken the matter up and will endeavor to secure legislation along the desired lines by Congress. The woman who has advanced the suggestion says:

"Thousands of young calves that have little more flesh on their bones than a good-sized chicken are being slaughtered by the butchers every month.

"The tariff cannot be responsible for the high cost of beef. I do not believe the trusts are either. If a Federal statute would forbid the killing of calves before they arrive at a fair age, the cost of meat would go down. I for one am content to go without veal to bring down the high cost of living."

The woman who is promoting the crusade against the slaughtering of calves is understood to be prominent in the national capital's social as woman's club life.

A nation-wide campaign by the national humane societies will be waged in behalf of the "let-the-calves live" propaganda in the hopes of securing the recognition of Congress in this novel effort to lower the cost of living.

Don't For The Baby.

Don't dance him on your knees until his little brains are addled.

Don't pin him into tight bands and clothes and then wonder why he cries.

Don't forget that three hundred thousand babies die each year before they are a year old, in our own United States

Don't forget what the baby needs and not what you would like to do for him.

Don't lack courage to forbid promiscuous kissing of your baby.

Don't forget to feed him regularly.

Don't forget that he needs much sleep and much letting alone, lots of fresh air and sunshine, as does any young plant.

THE COST OF CRUELTY.

According to a recent statement by Dr. William R. Callicotte, the Colorado state superintendent of moral and humane education, the United States loses annually, through cruelty to dumb beasts, $2,000,000,000. He declares that such cruelty not only causes this immense economic loss to the country, but is also one of the chief causes of crime.

"Unless children learn to feel for the sufferings of animals, we may be sure that they will never lead helpful, upright lives when they become older. They must be sensitized to suffering, and the best way to arouse the best in them is to appeal to them to aid animals which cannot aid themselves. When every child has learned to be thoughtful of these friends we will no longer need prisons and fines, for there will be no criminals."

Dr. Callicotte goes on to say that we lose, annually, $200,000,000 from mistreatment of cattle, the same amount for not caring for horses, $150,000,000 from giving dairy cows unsanitary quarters and poor food, and $800,000,000 because of the destruction of birds. If proper treatment were accorded these creatures, he claims, the cost of living would be reduced 25 per cent. and we would also be able to prevent 50 per cent. of the diseases which ravage the country.—Our Dumb Animals.

Didn't Want Very Much.

A western editor has received the following letter. "Please send me a few copies of the paper which has the obituary and verses about the death of my child a week or so ago.

Also publish the inclosed clipping about my niece's marriage. And I wish you would mention in your local columns, if it don't cost anything, that I have a couple of bull calves to sell. Send me a couple of extra copies of the paper this week. As my subscription is out please stop my paper. Times are too hard to waste money on a newspaper."

"That singer certainly knows how to manage her range."

"She out to. She used to be a cook."

"It would be a strange and wonderful man who would go for long without making a woman cry."

A man, supposed to be a foreigner, was killed at Curve Tuesday morning about 6 o'clock. He had a moustache, weighed about 130 lbs., and was about 35 years old. His body was taken in charge by overseer of the poor, S. S. Lucas, and buried at the county farm.

Do not fail to attend the picnic at Hale's Chapel, Saturday 24th. If you want to get something good to eat and hear some fine music be sure and come, for everybody is going to bring that big basket along and the Pearisburg Band is going to be present to help everybody enjoy the day.

If you are interested in the purchase of a pair nice light farm and driving match horses, perfectly safe and reliable, not afraid of automobiles or railroad trains don't fail to attend Mr. B. Ellison's sale Saturday p. m. of this week. A nice home, too, can be bought privately at this time.

On last Saturday several Sunday schools from different places gathered at Eaton's Chapel and had a union picnic. A large number of people were in attendance. Dinner was served to the delight of all and everybody's appetite was more than satisfied. Games of all kinds were played by the children. Speeches were made by several prominent gentlemen. The Great Wabash Band was present and played some up-to-date and high class music. Everybody seemed to enjoy the day.

The beautiful home of Dr. and Mrs Frank Miller was the scene of much merriment on last Tuesday evening, when they entertained the young folks in honor of their nieces, Misses Marjorie and Margaret Miller of Newport. Progressive Rook was very much enjoyed by all, the highest score being made by Miss Mary Peters and Russel Pearson. A deck of forty-two was awarded the lady winner. Punch was served throughout the evening, at the close of which, delicious refreshments, consisting of a salad course, cream, cakes, coffee and candies. Those enjoying Dr. and Mrs. Miller's genial hospitality were: Misses Clara Stafford, Ethel Dulaney, Mary Peters, Lurline Smith, Frances and Helen Mason, Kate and Frances Shelton and Madeline Williams. Messrs. Russell Pearson, John Peters, Richard Dulaney, Frank Peters and Walker Williams.

Robbers.

The Pearisburg station was robbed by thieves Tuesday night. They entered one of the back windows and dynamited the safe and took all the money. Also took all the money from the cash drawers. No clue to the robbers.

Coming!

One week from today the Cherokee Indians will play a picked Giles county team at Pearisburg, Thursday, August 29th.

Come one and all and see a good ball game played, as well as to see the Indians.

Posters at every postoffice in the county.

METHODIST SUNDAY SCHOOL PICNIC.

Last Thursday, Aug. 15th, the Methodist Sunday School of this place held its annual picnic at Mr. Crowgy's home, near the mouth of Walker's Creek. Perhaps no more beautiful or attractive place could be found in Giles county for a picnic.

There was a large attendance not only of Methodist, but many others. Many interesting games were played, while wading the creek seemed an attractive feature for some.

There was an abundance of good things to eat. The committee on arrangements had provided lemonade, bananas and watermelons free. Everybody had a nice good time and the day seemed all too short for the assembled throng.

Many thanks are due Mr. Crowgy for the use of his premises and to the committee of arrangement, Mrs. E. B. Carr, Miss Carrie Buchanan, Messrs. E. S. Dennis, D. H. Jones and Thomas Johnston, Jr., who arranged so well for the enjoyment of the crowd.

CUPID SURPRISES AUTOMOBILE PARTY.

Miss Mamie Bane and Mr. K. S. French of Narrows, Are Secretly Married and Motor With Others to Grockett Springs Before Divulging Secret.

Crockett Springs, Va., Aug 17.—Nobody thought of romance when an automobile party, consisting of Miss Mamie Bane of Narrows; Miss Winifred Sugge of San Francisco; Miss Ruby Little of Bramwell, W. Va.; Messrs. C. J. and K. S. French of Narrows; Mr. Sterling Mann of Pearisburg, drove to this summer resort last Wednesday evening.

Cupid was sitting on the hood of the machine, but no one saw him. He had sent out two fatal darts, but his deed was unobserved, save by the two victims. It was only when Miss Bane abandoned her maiden name and registered as Mrs. K. S. French that the secret was out.

Not even the other members of the automobile party knew that Miss Bane and Mr. French had played a little joke on them and had slipped quietly away Wednesday and were married. The ceremony was performed before the party left at Pearisburg Presbyterian Manse by their pastor, Rev. J. G. Reveley.

Both of the young people are prominent in Southwest Virginia society. Miss Bane is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. L. Bane of Narrows. The groom is a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. A. French of Narrows, and is a prominent young business man of that place. His father was State Senator in 1881, defeating for that office ex Governor J. Hoge Tyler.

Mr. and Mrs. French received many congratulations when their secret became known. They will leave here tomorrow evening for a trip to Roanoke, Luray and Natural Bridge and other points in the Valley. The party was joined by Miss Mamie Johnson of Bedford City, and Mr. T. E. Little of Bramwell, W. Va. Mr. and Mrs. French will make their home in Narrows.

MRS. TOM'S PART IN THE ELECTION

Governor Marshall's Wife Has the Memory for Names.

ROMANCE OF THEIR LIVES

The Notification of the Indiana Executive For Democratic Vice Presidency Honors a Record Breaker.

By J. C. HAMMOND,
Of Democratic National Publicity Bureau.

Indianapolis.—Just about the time that thousands of friends of Governor Thomas Riley Marshall were anxiously wanting to shake his hand in congratulation on his acceptance as candidate for vice president on the Democratic ticket, a smiling woman stepped before him, and if one could have heard what she whispered in his ear it would have been something like "Now, hurry in, Tom, and change your clothes."

And Tom Marshall forgot to shake hands with the enthusiastic friends until he had carried out the orders of Mrs. Tom.

Indiana has honored four of her sons as vice presidential candidates on the Democratic ticket, but the crowds that greeted Governor Marshall in the big coliseum in the state fair grounds, Indianapolis, on Tuesday were the greatest in the history of the party.

THOMAS R. MARSHALL.

The west wanted to show the east what could be done in notification honors, and, while Mrs. Marshall was happy, of course, over the honors for her husband, she was also worried, for her husband comes mighty close to being father, husband, son and partner all in one. And when a woman has that combination on her hands to care for she has every right to be worried.

Governor Marshall will never gain any honors as a hammer thrower. He is not built that way.

While all the country was reading the vigorous words of Governor Marshall which told the voters what he expects Democracy to do in carrying out the pledges for the next four years it's worth while to know what part a woman is taking in the affairs of the campaign—how Tom Marshall happens to be in the position in which he stands today.

The good people of Columbia City, Ind., never thought Thomas Riley Marshall was a "marrying man." For forty years he had lived with his parents, nursing both his father and mother, who were invalids, which was the reason Governor Marshall was not a marrying man. He felt his first duty was to his parents.

Meeting Mrs. Marshall.

After the death of his parents Governor Marshall dived deeper into his law practice, and one day an urgent case took him to Angola, Ind. His duties called him to the county clerk's office, and there he met Miss Lois Kimsey, daughter of the county clerk, who was assisting her father in the office.

From that day Governor Marshall had more business around the country clerk's office in Angola than any lawyer in half a dozen nearby counties.

Governor Marshall was forty-two years of age when he was married, Mrs. Marshall being nearly twenty years his junior.

The Marshalls had been married only a few weeks when the future vice president was called to an adjoining county on a case that would consume some five or six weeks of his time.

"Now, I did not want to be starting off like that," Governor Marshall explained to a friend one day, "so I just told Mrs. Marshall that I thought she should go along. And she did."

Since then Governor Marshall has never made a trip without Mrs. Marshall going along. They have traveled all over the country together; they go to banquets and political meetings together until the friends of the Indiana executive refer to him and his wife as the "pards."

"Tom Marshall is not overstrong," explained one of his friends. "While not a delicate man, his constitution is not of the most vigorous type.

"When he gets into a political battle he forgets his weakness. He gives all that is in him, and that will tell on any man. Mrs. Marshall soon discovered that the governor would become heated in making a speech and the next day his voice would be husky. She decided that he had better give up some of the handshaking and take care of his health first. So when you find him making a speech, when he has finished he does not stay around to hear the applause of the audience. Rather, he hurries to his room and changes his clothing.

"Some people have said that Tom Marshall is not a handshaking politician. He is not. His wife thinks it is more important to guard his health than to carry out the old time policy, and she is correct, as she is in most all other things."

"Home Air" Prevails.

The Marshall home is typical of the mistress. It is a home of books, and still one does not feel 'bookish.' One of the Marshall friends said he always felt like eating when he entered the Marshall home in Columbia City or the executive mansion at Indianapolis.

Mrs. Marshall believes in a home first, and the "home air" prevails.

"If Governor Marshall ever occupied the White House people would not know that historic institution," declares an admirer. "Mrs. Marshall would have it a real home. People would feel comfortable even in the midst of the gold and glitter."

But it is not only as a wife and the mistress of a home that Mrs. Marshall shows her ability. She is a politician and a clever one. She also has a remarkable memory.

Governor Marshall has earned the reputation of being in a class of story tellers all by himself. He can remember stories, but he forgets names. A name is something to be cast aside with Governor Marshall, and this is one of the regrets of his life, if he has any regrets. The governor is not a worrying man. He is somewhat a fatalist, but if he could he would like to remember names, but, not having that ability, he does not worry, for Mrs. Marshall is the name rememberer of the family.

She has a peculiar ability along this line. Not only does she remember the last name, but any combination of names comes as second nature to her, and she carries this ability on down to the children and cousins of any one seeking the governor.

While the governor is shaking hands and trying to remember whether his caller is Jones or Smith, Mrs. Marshall is busy supplying the information and asking about all the relatives.

Ideal Partners.

Governor Marshall has no brothers or sisters, and his parents being dead leaves him somewhat barren of relatives.

Governor Marshall's friends are enthusiastic over his home life. When he has started on talking of his wife a new light in the Hoosier executive comes to the surface.

They come near being ideal married partners.

"I was talking to Tom one day," explained one of his most intimate friends. "We were leaning back, and Tom had been telling some of his good stories to illustrate various topics of our conversation. We were waiting for Mrs. Marshall to come back from a shopping tour, and I happened to remark that I liked Mrs. Marshall better every time I met her.

"'Well, now that's the way she strikes me, Jim,' he said. 'We have been married some sixteen years, and as time goes that is a long or short period, just as you think. To me it is just a fleeting day. Then I think back over my married life and find I have grown to know Mrs. Marshall better every day. A man must not only love but he must also respect his partner in this life—respect her in all things. She must have wonderful qualities to make the love and respect grow deeper and better each day. That's been my history.

"'The fact that Mrs. Marshall has been in sympathy in my work, my play, my life, is good. But I have been in sympathy with hers. Ours is not a one sided life. We have been partners, and that's the way it should be in this world.'"

MRS. MARSHALL.

Mrs. Marshall has watched over his administration of the affairs of Indiana with a jealous care. There has been nothing of the spectacular in his administration. It has been a sane government. The laws that he has fought for and won show the spirit of the man. They are uplifting. They deal with the improvement of man, woman and child.

While Governor Marshall is described as a "tender hearted" executive, nevertheless, he is a fighter. He belongs to the old fighting stock of Virginia.

Governor Marshall is not a dodger. He has his opinions, and he lets them be known. While he is an organization man, he knows that organizations are not perfect—that they can make mistakes. If they make mistakes he thinks it is his duty to say so and get the saying over at the first possible moment.

Mrs. Marshall is not satisfied with her domestic duties alone. She wants to do her share in problems of the political and business world. Mrs. Marshall is said to have discussed in detail with her husband his actions on the Baltimore convention, and when it was seen that Marshall was the man who was going to go on the ticket with Wilson he wanted to know what his wife thought about it.

"It won't be any harder than being Governor of Indiana, and if the party thinks you are the man it only agrees with my opinion," she said, and that settled the matter with Governor Marshall.

Mrs. Marshall had the honor of being the first woman in Indiana to hold an office. She was appointed county clerk of Steuben county by her father and held that office for a number of years.

When Governor Marshall and his wife were about to be married she decided that her last official act of the office would be to make out the marriage license. Governor Marshall accompanied his wife to the county clerk's office and watched her with care as she noted the records in the big book and filled out the license and watched her as she carefully signed her father's name, with her own as deputy.

Mrs. Marshall, having blotted the ink, said, "Now we can go."

"Not yet," laughed Governor Marshall.

"Why, we are all fixed," explained Mrs. Marshall, pointing to the license.

"Yes, but I have to pay for it," replied the governor. "It's all right for you to make it out, but it's up to me to pay the fee." And he did.

Mrs. Marshall is a keen student, and, having established the practice of going with her husband on all his trips, be they short or long, they make it a point to carry along some book.

Mrs. Marshall is as much of a humanitarian as the governor. A glance at some of the bills that have been passed by the 1911 Indiana legislature gives an insight into the governor:

To curtail child labor.

To regulate sale of cold storage products.

To require hygienic schoolhouses and medical examination of children.

To prevent blindness at birth.

To regulate sale of cocaine and other drugs.

To provide free treatment for hydrophobia.

To establish public playgrounds.

To improve pure food laws.

To protect against loan sharks.

To provide police court matrons.

To prevent traffic in white slaves.

To permit night schools.

To require medical supplies as part of a train equipment.

Governor Marshall has also played an active part in providing for protection of labor, as is exampled by the following acts:

To create a bureau of inspection for workshops, factories, mines and boilers.

To establish free employment agencies.

To require full train crews.

To require safety devices on switch engines.

To require efficient headlights on engines.

To require standard cabooses.

To provide weekly wage, etc.

And Governor Marshall has consulted with his "partner" on all these bills. He is quoted as saying a man can't go far wrong in taking the advice of a wife—if she is his partner as well as his wife.

The divided Republican party is like the boy "blowing against the wind." There will be a lot of bluster, but it will not take votes away from Wilson and Marshall.

Having exhausted his supply of adjectives in denouncing Taft, Roosevelt is now leading a campaign of denunciation of every one who does not agree with himself.

Farmers have pulled against the short end of the yoke long enough. Wilson and Marshall promise to see that the pulling is made more nearly even.

BREAKING IT OPEN AGAIN
—C. R. Macauley, New York World.

ROLLA WELLS IS EARLY ON THE JOB

Democratic National Treasurer Is After Small Contributor.

THE PEOPLE ARE TO HELP

There Is to Be No "Tainted Money" Used in Electing Wilson and Marshall.

New York.—A small, smooth shaved, middle-aged man with a coat of tan that gave evidence of much outdoor life recently came into the Waldorf carrying a suit case early in the afternoon and registered as "Rolla Wells, St. Louis, Mo."

The smooth shaved little man, who is to be the watchdog of the Wilson campaign money from now on, was asked for vital statistics, whereupon it was learned at first hand that he is a banker and ex-mayor of St. Louis, is fifty-six years old, was graduated at Princeton in 1876, or three years before Governor Wilson was graduated; that he has two sons who are Princeton men and a grandson who some day will be a Princeton man; that he had no notion of seeing New York this summer until the Wilson organization selected him as its treasurer and that just at present the one thing that sticks out in the appointment in his mind is that the new job cut in seriously upon a most beautiful vacation which he and Mrs. Wells had been enjoying in a camp at Little Traverse bay, Michigan.

Mr. Wells believes in getting at his desk at 8 o'clock in the morning.

"We are going to raise our campaign fund through the small contributions," said Mr. Wells.

"I am sure that a large part of the money will be raised by popular subscription.

"The people have confidence in Woodrow Wilson, and they will give what they can of their means to elect such a man president.

"I am a great believer in publishing broadcast, before and after election, the various contributions made.

"There are men who can well afford to give the committee $5,000, but I want to assure the public that we are not going to have any tainted money.

"We are appealing to the people, and we are relying on them to help elect Wilson and Marshall.

"I have two boys who have been graduated from Princeton, one five years ago and one seven. But it is not because ours is a Princeton family that I like Governor Wilson. He is a great big man and the type that we should have in public life."

Woodrow Wilson says this is not a time to be afraid to "speak out in meeting." That he was not afraid is demonstrated by his logical speech in accepting the Democratic nomination.

Roosevelt was willing to crawl from the White House to the capitol in 1908 if he could help his friend Root. Today he would like nothing better than meeting Root up a dark alley.

The Democrats are depending on the small contributor to help elect Wilson and Marshall. The appeal is being made to the people, and the people are responding.

The Democrats are not taking the election of Wilson for granted. They are working and working harder than in a score of years and working as a united party.

Farmers have awakened to the folly of the so called blessings of a protective tariff.

Winning with Wilson means more than a mere Democratic victory. It means restoring real prosperity.

MR. B. ELLISON HAS MOVED TO BLACKSBURG.

It is a source of regret to his many friends that Mr. Ellison is no longer a resident of Giles county.

Courteous, affable and honorable, he influenced many to good who daily came in contact with him.

We wish for him and his estimable family, health, satisfaction and prosperity in their new home at Blacksburg, where Mr. Ellison will hold the position of steward in the Virginia Polytechnic Institute.

THE PICNIC AT HALE'S CHAPEL.

We attended the annual Sunday school picnic at Hale's Chapel last Saturday, and we can truthfully say we have never attended an occasion of more pleasure than this one.

Large numbers of people were in attendance and every one seemed to enjoy the pleasures which the day afforded, particularly the delicious viands, which were spread with a lavish band.

Excellent addresses were made by the Revs. Warner, Miller and Morris. Each of these gentlemen made short but interesting addresses and well suited to the occasion, and which were very much appreciated.

The Pearisburg Band was present and furnished the music, which was highly enjoyed and which added to the success of the occasion.

A SAD DEATH.

Peterstown, W. Va., Aug 22.—The funeral and burial services of Mrs. Robert F. Fleshman took place Sunday at eleven o'clock, from their home, conducted by Rev. McConnell, Pastor of the Presbyterian church of which the deceased was a member. The home was filled with a sympathetic crowd of people from different parts of the country. The floral tributes were beautiful. Few more deeply regretted deaths have occurred in Monroe. Mrs. Fleshman was popular here where she has lived all her life, and her friends followed her to her last resting place with more than common sorrow. She was laid to rest in the family burial grounds near her home, leaving two little twin daughters and a sorrowing husband.—Monroe Watchman.

Mrs. Fleshman was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henderson Peck of Peterstown, W. Va. The VIRGINIAN extends sympathy to the husband, father and mother.

MERITED RECOGNITION.

The many friends and acquaintances of Miss Willie Woods, daughter of O. F. Woods and wife, formerly of this county, now of Reeves county, Texas, will be pleased to learn of her nomination before the primary for County and Circuit Court Clerk of Reeves county, being the first woman to aspire to this position in that county.

For several years past Miss Woods has held the position of Deputy Clerk in her home county, and to the entire satisfaction of her people, who have fittingly demonstrated their appreciation for her excellent services in the primary election held a few weeks since. She has had sufficient experience in this office to make her peculiarly fitted for the position to which she aspires, and that she will make a faithful and efficient officer, goes without saying.

The fact that she received the nomination before the primary over an opposing candidate in a county which is almost solidly Democratic, makes her ultimate election a certainty, which will be peculiarly gratifying to her many friends in Giles county and a portion of West Virginia, where she resided until young womanhood, and where she is held in high esteem.

DEATH OF DR. BALLARD.

His friends have been shocked by the sudden death of Dr. A. B. ("Tobe") Ballard which took place at his home in Peterstown, this county, last Monday night, Aug. 19, 1912. He had retired about 9 o'clock apparently in his usual health. A few minutes before 10 his wife was awakened by his groans and found him in an unconscious condition. She immediately called Dr. Cover of Narrows, who happened to be in Peterstown. Dr. Cover found that the patient was suffering from an overdose of medicine taken by mistake and did everything possible to relieve him but without success. Dr. Ballard died at 10 o'clock. He was a son of the late Mr. Lewis Ballard and was about 50 years of age, endowed by nature with a bright mind and a generous temperament, and being in active medical practice for years. Dr. Ballard had a useful place in the community from which he will be sadly missed.—Monroe Watchman.

GALA-DAY AT WHITE GATE.

Picnic, Brass Band and Leap Year Tournament.

"Maid of Westlawn" Wins Highest Honor.

Clear skies and pleasant breezes added to the enjoyment of the large and orderly crowd assembled in the shade of the grand old elms in the meadow opposite Mr. P. J. Bane's residence on Saturday 24th, to participate in an all-day picnic and girls' tournament. The limpid waters of Walker's Creek afforded excellent fishing and boating, amusing games and fortune-telling were enjoyed, and an excellent dinner served by the ladies of the Presbyterian church. The noted Wabash Band furnished music of high order, being greatly enjoyed by an appreciative people. At 2 o'clock the girls' tournament began, which merits special mention. The contestants assumed names are as follows:

"Lady Mutt" (Miss Beverly Taylor.)
"Lady Jeff" (Miss Susie Higgins.)
"Joan of Arc" (Miss Marjorie Miller.)
"Maid of Westlawn" (Miss Mary Bane.)
"Lady Roanoke" (Miss Mary Stone.)
"Maid of Westlawn" received highest honors crowning as the "KING" Mr. C. B. King.
"Joan of Arc" second, crowning Mr. E. A. Bane.
"Lady Roanoke" third, crowning Mr. L. B. Miller.

After the excellent equestrianship evinced by the young ladies, the young men quickly mounted their shining steeds and with unusual spirit rode as knights of old, each using every effort to crown the "Queen." The names of the knights are as follows:

"Lone Star" (Joe Nidermaier.)
"Great Expectations" (Dr. V. A. Vermillion.)
"Knight of the Wabash Band" (Sydney Vermillion.)
"Knight of Band" (Bryce Williams.)
"Knight of Westlawn" (Robert E. Bane.)

There was a tie between Messrs. S. U. Vermillion and L. B. Miller which was decided by giving them equal honors.

Mr. Vermillion crowned Miss Kate Bulman; Mr. L. B. Miller crowned Miss Mary Stone; Dr. V. A. Vermillion crowned Miss Hellen Bulman; Mr. J. O. Nidermaier crowned Miss Edna Bulman.

Everybody seemed to enjoy the day, the remembrance of which in after years will revive pleasant associations.

Very Serious

It is a very serious matter to ask for one medicine and have the wrong one given you. For this reason we urge you in buying to be careful to get the genuine—

THEDFORD'S
BLACK-DRAUGHT
Liver Medicine

The reputation of this old, reliable medicine, for constipation, indigestion and liver trouble, is firmly established. It does not imitate other medicines. It is better than others, or it would not be the favorite liver powder, with a larger sale than all others combined.

DEMOCRACY MUST BE A WORTHY INSTRUMENT

People Trust It, Says Woodrow Wilson, and It Must Make Good.

Sea Girt, N. J.—Woodrow Wilson, at the "Little White House" at Sea Girt is daily called upon to demonstrate his ability as a ready speaker.

There is not a day passes but what he meets various delegations who call to assure him of their support.

In speaking of political machines to the Brooklyn Democratic Club, Governor Wilson said: "Machines are bad, but an organization may be very essential. For instance, I have been surrounded by an organization here in New Jersey while doing my best work. A machine uses its political opportunities for the selfish ends of its members. No members of our organization would ever think of doing that. Public opinion in New Jersey has drawn the distinction. It has killed the machines, and it is going to keep the organization going.

"It seems to me that we are standing in the presence of something higher than allegiance to the Democratic party. The country has been disappointed in the Republican party, and it is turning to the Democratic party. That party is willing to show the way toward those things which must be realized.

"Some gentlemen seem to find it easy to make personalities out of politics, but it seems to me that whenever that is done politics is debased.

"Men who are in search of reform are now resorting to the Democratic party, because, for my own part, I do not know where else they will turn to expect the results. There is no discounting the strength and serviceability of a united party, and the splendid part is that the Democratic party is united.

"Speaking seriously, nothing affords me more genuine pleasure than to receive such greetings from men in Jersey who have at least tested my qualities. Because you have known me at close range and if you will be kind enough to vouch for me perhaps the rest of the country will be credulous of your report.

"I have spent a great deal of time since I became governor of New Jersey defending your character. It was supposed in the old days, when the board of guardians was in charge of the state, that you were all of you disposed to give the most monopolistic trusts of the country a great ringing welcome in New Jersey.

"New Jersey was known as the mother of trusts—a very troublesome and questionable family—and I had to spend my time outside New Jersey assuring the people of the Union that it had not been the fault or the disposition of the people of New Jersey that there were certain gentlemen who had undertaken to carry the Republican party in their pockets and to administer independently of the rank and file of Republicans in the state.

"New Jersey is progressive, but the United States is progressive, and we have here merely a delightful sample of the people of the United States.

"Now, these people are not bent on destroying anything, but they are bent on setting everything in order; they are bent upon justice; they are bent upon seeing to it that the people in general are partners of the government, as I was trying to show the other day. And the Democratic party is now placed under a peculiar responsibility. It has to prove that it is the worthy instrument of that zeal on the part of the people of the United States. If it does not prove it now it will never be given another chance to prove it. No party that proves unfaithful to that ideal will ever again be trusted by the people of America. And therefore we are standing at a turning point in our politics. We must make good or go out of business. In the vernacular, it is a case of 'put up or shut up,' because words are going to be discounted. Nothing will be honored except the actual carrying out of such programs as sensible men may unite in for the common benefit."

THE GREAT DUTY OF ADJUSTMENT.

We are servants of the people, the whole people. The nation has been unnecessarily, unreasonably at war with itself. Interest has clashed with interest when there were common principles of right and of fair dealing which might and should have bound them all together, not as rivals, but as partners. As the servants of all we are bound to undertake the great duty of accommodation and adjustment.—From Woodrow Wilson's Speech Accepting the Democratic Nomination.

Wilson will make the most accessible president who has ever occupied the White House. He is typically a Democratic man.

Wilson is the best equipped man nominated for the presidency since Lincoln.

George W. Perkins is sure a "bully" Progressive.

DEMOCRATIC NATIONAL COMMITTEE.

By Governor William Hodges Mann of Virginia.

The Democrats of the State will vote solidly for Wilson, not only because he is a Virginian and the nominee of the Democratic Convention at Baltimore, but because in their judgment he is the best man for the place. I do not know a single Democrat who will not cheerfully and enthusiastically support Governor Wilson.

Governor Wilson, in his speech of acceptance, said, "this is not a partisian fight," and the thinking, non-partisian members of the Republican party have reached the conclusion that justice and right are better than party dogmas; they are not satisfied with the position of their party on the tariff, and the trusts; they demand tariff reductions and the enforcement of anti-trust laws, and realize, as never before, that if the tariff is to be so revised as to meet the demands of the people, it must be done by the party which stands for a tariff for revenue with the incidental protection which necessarily results.

They condemn the annual collection from the American people of over two billions of dollars of which not more than three hundred and thirty-five millions find their way into the treasury the balance going steadily and continuously into the pockets of the protected manufacturers.

The people, whether Democrats, republicans, of third terners, are opposed to all trusts and combinations born of the tariff or otherwise which create monopolies and strangle individual enterprise and competition, but favor equal opportunity to all and the punishment of the individuals who transgress the laws prohibiting trusts just as other law breakers are punished.

They want an honest, economical administration of the government, with due regard to the interests of the people, by a president who is under no obligation, express or implied, to any special interest.

They want a progressive president who is wise enough to keep up with the ever advancing needs and requirements of the people, and who understands that some things, such for instance, as a downward tariff revision, must be brought about gradually but steadily, with proper regard for the business interests of the country, in which all the people are more or less directly or indirectly interested.

The dissatisfied republican and third term voter will support Governor Wilson because they realize that he is making his fight for the people; that he is taking them into his confidence, and seeking counsel from them, not as one who directs and controls, but as one who leads for the purpose of carrying into effect their policies and wishes.

Governor Wilson has been through the crucible of the primary and has come out without spot or blemish.

He has demonstrated in New Jersey his capacity for leadership, and his fealty to pre election pledges. He is a clean, strong man, willing and able to meet squarely and bravely every issue which may arise in the campaign or after it.

He knows that there is wisdom in counsel and will surround himself with advisors of intelligence, character and standing and will so administer the government as to carry out the pledges of himself and party, and be securing the approval of the people will entrench in power the party of equal rights for all, and special privileges to none.

I have reached the conclusion, from a careful study of the political situation, that Governor Wilson will carry two-thirds, if not three-fourths, of all the state, and have a deserved and abundant entrance into power.

Contents of the Human Body.

The compilers of statistics know no bounds. One of our most brilliant physicists, whose speculations in the region of human chemistry have led him to make most exhaustive researches has analyzed the human anatomy into its convertible components He reports as follows:

A normal man of 150 pounds contains in reducible nutritive principles the equivalent of 12,000 hen's eggs.

The gas of the human organism is sufficient to inflate a balloon of 10,000 cubic feet capacity.

A human body contains sufficient iron to make four nails of five centigrammes weight.

A man of this weight contains enough fat to make seventy-five candles and leave over enough grease to make a cake of Marseilles soap.

There is sufficient phosphorous to make 8,045 boxes of parlor matches.

The hydrogen portion of the human gas contents would fill a balloon that would lift the weight of the contributor.

In addition to the foregoing the human body contains also six teaspoonfuls of salt, a basin of sugar and thirty-two quarts of water.

What's the use? When all's said and done, the human organism, with all these valuable contents could not be pawned at the Monte de Piete for three sons.—Farm and Home.

A Bite.

Mr. Jones kept a toy shop, and among various things sold fishing rods. For the purpose of advertising them he had a large rod hanging outside, with an artificial fish at the end of it.

Late one night, when most people were in bed, a man who was rather the worse for his night's enjoyment, happened to see this fish. He looked at it and then went cautiously up to the door and knocked gently. Jones did not hear this, but after the man had knocked a little louder he responded at the window up above.

"Who's there?" said Jones.

"Don't make a noise," said the man in a whisper, "but come down as quietly as you can."

At the request our friend thought there must be something the matter; so after dressing and coming down as quietly as possible, he proceeded to know what it was.

"What is the matter?" he asked.

"Sh!" said the man. "Pull your line in quick; you've got a bite!"

How much happier we would all be, if we would attempt to build instead of tearing down; how much sweeter our lives would be, if we would encourage, by kind words, those of our fellow-men and fellow-women who have fallen by the wayside; extend a helping hand, whisper words of encouragement in their ear, and oh! how much brighter our lives and theirs would be Give no heed to the Tattler and Gossiper, turn a deaf ear, and tell them that you are otherwise engaged, when you find them inclined to talk and very soon the tattlers will find their profession gone.

Rev. M. W. Royall will preach at Eggleston Sunday morning at 11 o'clock and Sunday night at 8 o'clock. Saturday evening at 2 o'clock he will have a business meeting, and desires all Sunday school scholars to be present. He will preach at Green Valley Sunday evening at 3:30.

The Wabash Band did their part in making the colt show a success by furnishing music for the occason. This is one of the best bands we have ever listened to and is composed of gentlemen also. They will play for the Great District Fair at Radford, September 10th, 11th, 12th and 13th.

There will be a meeting of the Daughters of the Confederacy, at 2 o'clock Saturday, September 7th, at Mrs. H. B. Shelton's. It will be a historic meeting, subject, "The War in Giles county." A number of Confederate ladies will be present, who will give their personal experiences.

The Great District Fair will open its gates to the public Sept. 10, and will remain open through Friday. A large carnival will add much enjoyment to all. Day and night the grounds will be alive with merry throngs and the carnival with its Ferris wheel, merry-go-round and large side shows will play a leading part. Arlington street will be brilliantly lighted. Many fine horses and cattle will fill the barns The fair this year will be the best that has been held for years.

EDUCATIONAL RALLY.

Dr. Weaver of Emory and Henry College, on account of sickness in his home was not able to fill the appointment for an educational address at this place on last Sunday at 11 a m. So, Dr. Joseph L. McGhee was sent in his place.

Not a great many years ago Dr. McGhee was a student in our town who made good at whatever he went. It was a very great pleasure to his many friends to look into his face again and to hear his voice. His address was one that every patron of the school should have heard.

SCHOOL OPENING.

Last Monday morning, Sept. 2nd, found the town in a more than ordinary stir, almost equal to a picnic occasion. Many boarding pupils had arrived Saturday and Sunday, so that by nine o'clock Monday morning a great and important procession was wending its way to the school building, many patrons and visitors accepting the invitation to be present on the morning of the opening.

Devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. S. S. Catron.

Brief speeches were made by Revs. Reveley and Belchee, Dr. J. L. McGhee, Prof. Jas. R. Stafford, Messrs. A. H. Woodyard and Theo Dulaney.

Rev. M. W. Royall introduced Prof. Shackleford of Virginia Christian College, Lynchburg, Va., who told the small children a "Nature Myth" that will not soon be forgotten. To the young men of the school he gave strong and wise advice which they would do well not to forget.

The teachers and pupils were very much encouraged and pleased with the large number of visitors and extend the invitation to all to come at any time and see the work of the school.

Up to the present two hundred and ten have been enrolled, forty-six of whom aspire to do high school work.

In our next issue we hope to give the names of boarding pupils.

AN HONORED POSITION.

Mr. J. T. S. Hoge of Giles County, Was Elected President of Pulaski and Giles Insurance Co.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Pulaski and Giles Mutual Insurance Company, that was held at Radford, August 23rd, an account of which is published in this week's paper. Mr. H. B. Howe of Pulaski, on account of his health tendered his resignation as president. Mr. Howe was made president of this company by its charter and has done his work well and goes from the office with the universal benediction, well done, good and faithful public servant.

Mr. J. T. S. Hoge, who was elected president of the company in Mr. Howe's stead, is a member of the Board of Supervisors of this county, and has presided as chairman of said board for the last 16 years, and as the executive head of our county affairs, has measured up to the highest standard of a public officer. The directors have made a good selection in electing Mr. Hoge president of this company.

The Colt Show

EXCEEDED ALL EXPECTATIONS.

It is with a great deal of pleasure that we can report that the Giles County Annual Colt Show, which was held here on last Saturday, was a most gratifying success. Every section and neighborhood of the county was well represented.

The display of fine stock, for which Giles county has become so justly noted within the last few years, was most magnificent indeed, not only in point of numbers, but in quality as well. Much credit is due the enterprising gentlemen who, a few years ago, conceived the idea of holding these annual exhibitions and who have so successfully brought them up to the standard attained.

Below we present the list of ribbons and premiums awarded the exhibitors in the various classes represented:

Sucklings by the Imported Percheron Stallion Pierre:

First, H. L. Phlegar; second, W. C. Price; third, Sam'l S. Hoge.

Yearlings by same—First, J. D. Miller; second, M. E. Epling; third, R. Lacy Johnston.

Two year olds by same—First, Jas. R. Johnston; second, Chas. Straley; third, C. E. Johnston.

Sucklings by the Imported Percheron Stallion Hum:

First, H. W. Hale; second, S. J. Strader; third, R. T. Linkous.

Yearlings by same—First, G. B. Hetherington; second, J. B. Correll.

Pure Bred Yearlings by same—First, W. H. Thomas; second, C. L. King.

Pure Bred Sucklings by same—First, Phlegar & Shelton.

Sucklings by the Imported Percheron Stallion Bidard:

Yearlings by same—First, C. H. Shufflebarger; second, Luther Johnston; third, H. M. Johnston.

Two Year Olds by same—First, Geo. P. Hedrick; second, George Kirk; third, E. B. Johnston.

Sucklings by the Hackney Stallion, "Blanche Sportsman":

First, H. B. Shelton; second, H. L. Phlegar; third, L. D. Shumate.

Two Year Olds by Hare Horse—First and second, Phlegar & Shelton.

Sweepstakes offered by the Firt National Bank of Pearisburg:

Percheron, H. L. Phlegar.

Sweepstakes offered by same—Saddle and driving, H. B. Shelton.

Again we desire to express gratification at the unbounded success that has crowned the efforts of those who are promoting these exhibitions and the great interest that is being taken in them by people all over the country. The very fine stallions that have been brought into our country within the past few years, and this means of letting the world know what we have, have given Giles county a reputation for fine stock, of which all should feel justly proud, and each and every person in the county should encourage this enterprise in every reasonable manner to the end that each future exhibition shall be larger and better than the preceeding one.

A most pleasing feature of the occasion was the presence of so many ladies from all over the the county, and let it be known, they took no little interest in the occasion. All were pleased to see this, and we trust it will be their pleasure to be present on future occasions of this kind.

Three cheers for the Giles County Annual Colt Show. May it continue to grow in attendance, interest, pleasure and usefulness.

EMBROIDERY CLUB.

Wednesday afternoon the Embroidery Club was charmingly entertained by Miss Ethel Dulaney.

Their embroidery, however, was laid aside in favor of Rook, and a trinket contest, each proving both entertaining and pleasurable.

The prize, a beautiful linen centerpiece, was awarded Miss Frances Mason, whose memorandum of the tricks and trinkets was almost complete.

Croquet was greatly enjoyed after partaking of the delicious refreshments. Punch, orange cream in the hull, and cake were daintily served, carrying out the color scheme of yellow and white.

After voting Miss Dulaney a most gracious hostess, the Club adjourned to meet with Miss Francis Shelton the following Wednesday.

Club members present: Misses Kate and Francis Shelton, Mary Peters, Margaret Dills, Francis and Helen Mason.

Visitors: Misses Margaret and Marjorie Miller of Newport; Madeline Williams of Richmond; Lurline Smith of Roanoke.

Why Births and Deaths Are Recorded In Virginia.

THE REASON FOR A LAW THAT REGORDS THE LIFE OF EVERY GITIZEN.

How It is Operating, Without Hardship, to the Advantage of Every Citizen and of the State.

Why Its Enforcement Needs Your Co-operation, Mr. Virginian.

(From Virginia Health Bulletin.)

Jealous of his life, man is careless of his history. Countless generations have lived and wrought and died and have left behind them no conscious memorial of their existence. Empires have risen, have extended their sway and have left no record of their achievements. Great dynasties have ruled over wide domains and have fallen without transmitting to posterity a single chronicle of their deeds. Even where future generations have been able to reconstruct the history of the past, it has been through the unconscious memorials rather than through records that man intended for posterity. The memoranda of business transactions which Babylonian merchants made to refresh their memory have yielded more light on the history of that empire than have the chronicles of kings; the potteries of Crete tell the story of Minoan civilization where no legible record has ever been deciphered. To complete the story of a single conquest re corded on an Egyptian obelisk, historians have been compelled to delve in graves and to unravel the meaning of unconscious records of that day.

The age of neglect is past and present-day civilization can not fail to leave behind it for the information of remotest posterity, a connected, conscious story of its life. But what men have done for the race, they have not done for the individuals. They record the acts of government and preserve the records of State, but they take little thought of the individual. Millions of men die every year, even in civilized countries, and are remembered only in the minds of their friends. Within a few years, all accurate record of their life has vanished; none knows when they were born or of what they died or how old they were when they passed beyond. Indeed, unless a man attain to fame, or commit some crime, or serve a term in prison, or enlist in the army or navy of his country, no permanent record of his existence survives in many States, except by accident.

This is not as it should be. Men do more for the animals they cherish. A blooded horse is registered, the date of his birth is known, the names of his sire and his dam are recorded. Often it is possible to trace the genealogy of a famous horse for generations. Sometimes men have been forced to reckon their own ages by the ages of their stock.

An Instance of Man's Neglect.

One case of this sort illustrates how careless men have been. In a suit over some property in an American State, the age of one of the heirs became a question of prime importance. None of the witnesses could be exact; all remembered the approximate year, but all were unable to fix the time beyond question. There was no public record of the birth that might have been consulted; it seemed as though the heir would lose his rights merely because he could not establish his exact age. Then, by chance, someone remembered that a thoroughbred cow on the farm had given birth to a calf the day the man was born. Other witnesses corroborated this. The calf was valuable; its birth had been registered. By the books of the Breeders Association, the man was able to prove his own age.

It is a sorry commentary on mankind that we should suffer this. No matter how obscure a man may be, no matter how simple the story of his life, that record is sacred, the existence of the man should be publicly preserved. He is entitled to that much. His children's children, studying their forbears, have a right to know when He was born, how long he lived and where he lived.

In most cities this injustice is corrected. The birth and death of every man is recorded, his family connections and his age are matters of permanent record so that anyone may learn the details of the life of any individual. These records are properly indexed and are so arranged that they can be consulted with the greatest ease. The humblest laborer has his existence recorded along with that of the richest citizen; the waif on the street and the child of rich parents both have their birth, their parentage, and the principal facts of their entrance into the world filed in permanent records.

Our Country People at a Disadvantage.

Such registration is now in force in practically every city of the Commonwealth, with the result that those for whom no record is kept are citizens of rural sections of the State. They also have been the victims of a strange social order that registers the birth and parentage of a blooded horse but denies the citizen a like record. Their honest lives pass into oblivion without a record; their parentage is confused; within a few years none remember them; within a generation they are altogether forgotten.

The New Law Gives a Record.

The last General Assembly of Virginia by the enactment of what is known as the Vital Statistics Law has put an end to this state of affairs. This measure was introduced by Senator P. B. Drewry, of Petersburg, and received careful attention. The Assembly has provided that the State Board of Health be required to keep a strict and complete record of every birth and death hereafter occuring in Virginia, and it has established machinery which will insure the enforcement of the law. The law became effective June 14th. Every person born in Virginia after that date will have a record of his name, the ages and birthplaces of his parents, his nationality, the time of his birth and the details. Every man who dies hereafter will leave for posterity a record that will show the time of his death, his age, the names of his parents, the nature of the disease of which he died, and the place of his death and interment. For the future, no man will be born or die in the Commonwealth, regardless of his estate or condition, whose existence is not a matter of record. Every man is assured a vital record, the least that government can do to preserve the existence of citizens.

Other Advantages of the Law.

But the law does more than give to every citizen a record to which he is entitled and without which his existence may be forgotten. The law operates in other directions to the clear advantage of the individual, to the benefit of society, to the better enforcement of law and to the promotion of the cause of public health. These advantages of the new statute are so numerous and so obvious that they cannot be more than touched on within the compass of this Bulletin, yet all of them are real and practical.

Advantages to the Individual Citizen.

A record of one's birth is of advantage to the individual, first of all, in settling one's right to the elective franchise. In all American States citizens are not allowed to vote until they reach the age of majority, twenty-one years. But it often happens that a man's right to exercise the franchise, even when he comes of age, is disputed. Sometimes it is impossible for a man to secure the necessary evidence to insure him a ballot. Indeed, in rural Virginia there is no way whereby he can prove his majority except on the oaths of other individuals. If he could secure a copy of a permanent record, made at the time of his birth he could at once and forever settle the question and prove his right to vote.

Debarred from Office for Failure to Have Citizenship.

The same record would prove his age at any time when there is dispute as to the right of any citizen to hold office or to apply for a civil service position. Typical cases of this sort occurred recently in a Northern State. Two men, at different times, were elected to important positions of public trust and were prepared to enter upon the discharge of of their official duties when some question arose as to their age qualification. Both were positive that they were of the required age, but neither could produce a legal record of his birth. The result was that they were debarred from office, where, if there had been a vital statistics law, there could have been no possible confusion.

Proving One's Citizenship.

Again, a record of one's birth is often of value in determining one's citizenship. A notable case of this kind occurred some years ago when an American boy, the son of naturalized parents, went abroad with his father and returned to America. When he reached Ellis Island, the immigration officers discovered that he did not have in his possession the minimum sum without which no foreigner can enter the country. The boy protested that he was an American citizen and was not, in consequence, subject to the provisions of the immigration law. The authorities at once demanded a transcript of his birth certificate and held him at Ellis Island until this should be procured. He came from Kansas, a State that at that time had no vital statistics law and did not preserve any record of births. In required weeks of search among the midwives of Kansas City before the woman could be found who had been accoucher at the time of his birth and remembered him. Had the lad come from a registration State, a copy of the certificate of his birth could have been secured on a few hour's notice.

Where a Birth Certificate Was Worth $12,000.

Birth certificates are likewise of the utmost importance in proving one's right to an inheritance. A certificate of the standard form provides for the registration of a person's parentage as well as of the date and place of his birth. Oftentimes it is extremely difficult to prove that a given is the next of kin to a decendent and, in consequence, is entitled to any estate. A case of this kind was recorded some time ago in Indiana. A young man from Switzerland came to that State with his wife, settled there and in time, became the father of a little girl. When the child was three years old the father was killed in a saw-mill accident and left his wife penniless. Without friends or relatives, she went to work as a laundress and struggled on in a vain effort to rear her child. Finally came the news that the child's paternal uncle had died in Switzerland and had left $12,000 to his brother's child. The money was awaiting the girl upon proof that she was the issue of the dead man's deceased brother. But the doctor who believered the child's mother was dead, the mother's testimony was invalid, the child lost the inheritance and, despite the greatest efforts, never received a dollar of the legacy. Had there been a law registering the birth of the child, the Swiss government would have accepted this without question and would have awarded the child the legacy. As it was, she lost it irrevocably and was consigned to a life of drudgery.

A Virginia Case.

A somewhat similar case occurred recently in Virginia and was reported to the Health Department soon after the new law became effective. A former resident of Switzerland, now living in Newport News, fell heir to a large estate in his native country. The will provided that his brothers and sisters, some of whom were quite young, should share in the inheritance. There was no question as to their identity or their relation to the man who left the property, but because they could not produce the legal birth certificates, the Swiss authorities refused to give them a title to the property. The matter is still in court and heirs have little prospect of securing their rights unless the Swiss authorities will accept birth certificates filed under the new law.

These cases are by no means exceptional. The courts are crowded with cases of disputed inheritances; millions of dollars are in the hands of trustees and never will be awarded the rightful heirs of deceased persons because the State has been careless enough to neglect a record of every birth.

We have often wondered why mother's memory and hands must serve for a dozen persons. Would it not be better for all concerned if mother's kindness contained more of self-assertion and less of self-sacrifice? Would not, at times, papa feel less disturbed, nay, wrathfully, if he were careful to keep his own papers in order, and perform the twenty other trivial things he has time to do in leisure moments, but expects of some one else? Would it not be better for sister to teach baby—who is old enough—to button his own shoes, than to do it for him each morning as a duty?

In hours of exuberance and exultation or joyous merriment; in reflective moments when the soul is swept with memories, pleasing or plaintive; in the silence of religious meditations; or in our little recesses from the homely duties and commonplace labors of the day, or week they befriend us with their solace, these thoughts of home and a happy family circle.

The apple of many a young man's eye is a peach.

Come out and help this good man and at the same time receive much benefit yourselves. Also, will be at Narrows 16th and 17th and Eggleston 20th.

THE GREAT ROANOKE FAIR.

Uniting the experience of ten years with the expenditure of thousands of dollars, the Great Roanoke Fair, Roanoke, Virginia, September 24th, 25th, 26th and 27th will present by far the best fair in the State this fall. With the facilities doubled and the demand for space for exhibits even exceeding the additional area, visitors to the Great Roanoke Fair will stand amazed at the progress of the fair since ten years ago when it set a precedent that has been followed by many cities and counties in the State and revived the annual fairs. It may be said that the Great Roanoke Fair aroused the enthusiasm which has rejuvenated the Virginia State Fair. To do this has required remarkable business tact and bringing together of the farmer and manufacturer. The Great Roanoke Fair is for education and then pleasure. Education is for the farmer who goes to see what progress the world has made since a year ago. The fair is better than the farmer's institute in that it gives a vast display of the work of other members of the craft of tilling of the soil, and it brings pleasure of a sort that is not harmful and is necessary after the long siege of spring and summer work. The Roanoke has always extended a welcome to strangers but never more than during the time of the Great Roanoke Fair. If any information is desired about premium lists, exhibits or anything of local interest it will be given upon application to L. A. Scholz, Secretary, Great Roanoke Fair, Roanoke, Virginia.

Why Births and Deaths Are Recorded In Virginia.

THE REASON FOR A LAW THAT REGORDS THE LIFE OF EVERY CITIZEN.

How It Is Operating, Without Hardship, to the Advantage of Every Citizen and of the State.

Why Its Enforcement Needs Your Co-operation, Mr. Virginian.

(From Virginia Health Bulletin.)

No Certificate--No Marriage License.

Again, certificates of birth are of the utmost importance to the individual in cases where marriage licenses are denied on account of dispute as to age of one or the other person to the contract. Quite recently a young man followed his betrothed to Germany, where she was spending the summer, in the expectation of marrying her there. But he came from a State that had no vital statistics law and could not take with him the evidence of his majority. He was met with a flat refusal on the part of the German authorities; if he could not produce his birth certificate he could not secure a license. In vain he cabled to America and resorted to all possible expedients. The marrige could not be performed in Germany. The disappointed young people had to go to another country. A somewhat similar case was reported to the Health Department during March of the present year. A young negro who described himself as a "colored music hall artist" wrote in dire distress from a Roumanian city, asking that a certificate of his birth in Virginia be forwarded him in order that he might marry in that country. He came from a rural section of the State where births were not recorded, and, in consequence, cannot get the legal statement of his birth required by the strict continental laws.

Another advantage of recording births in this connection is that, where births are universally registered, it is possible to enact laws in America which will require the presentation of a birth certificate before a marriage license can be issued by any court. This will prevent the hasty and illconsidered marriage of minors.

Our People Appreciate These Advantages.

That our Virginia people appreciate these advantages to be gained from the correct registration of births is shown by their hearty approval of the new law. When this measure became operative, the State Board of Health announced that, for the protection of the individual, it would receive and file birth certificates conforming to the law, even where the birth occurred before the law went into effect. In answer to this dozens of requests for registration have come and many certificates have been filed. Anxious parents have expressed their pleasure at being able to place the names and records of their children where their preservation was sure in case of future disputes.

Death Certificates Necessary to Prove Title to Property.

When it comes to the advantages to the individual from the proper recordation of all deaths, these are obvious and of everyday application. Perhaps a majority of all men now have their lives insured. Their children have to present legal proofs of death before a settlement can be made. This is easy in registration districts and in cities, but it often presents serious diffical ties in other places, especially in those localities where the population is sparsely settled and where deaths are not recorded in any manner. A case typical of the difficulties here involved occurred in Virginia some years ago. A citizen of Richmond, for business reasons, went to South America where he was attacked by fever and died. The report of his death did not reach his family for many months. The dead man had been heavily insured and it was a matter of the utmost consequence to his dependent family that his death be certified by legal proofs. It required many months' painful labor before the widow could produce ahy proofs of death, and those finally presented might have been disputed if the insurance company had cared to do so. Had the Brazilian province in which this man died been a registration district, his death would at once have been certified to the health authorities and a transcript therefrom could have been secured without difficulty and at a trifling expenee.

Other Instances.

All the questions of inheritances, legacies and bequests that arise in connection with births occur even more frequently in disputes over death claims, and render the permanent registration of the death of any individual a matter of the utmost personal importance to the decendent. Life insurance claims, pensions, business contracts, personal liability, etc., are in a large measure dependent upon indisputable legal proofs of death. These may often be demanded in the most unexpected cases; for the protection of the individual they should be secured in every instance.

Legal Importance of Registration.

In addition to the legal questions mentioned above, there are many court matters in which a proper record of births and deaths is of paramount importance to the proper administration of the law.

The enforcement of the criminal law, for example, is much expedited by a proper report of births and deaths. In cases of death by poisoning, homicidal deaths and the like, interment is frequently made where no burial permit is required, immediately after death. Within a few days, decomposition will render most difficult the proof of crime even where the body is disinterred. Many cases are of record where murder was clearly done but could not be proved because the body was buried before it was examined by a proper officer of the law and became so decomposed that violence could not be shown. Manifestly, where no body could be buried without a permit and a physician's or coroner's certificate, the difficulties of concealing crime would be multiplied and the possibilities of detection greatly increased.

An English Example.

As proof of this may be cited the apparently high rate of infanticide in England as compared with New York State. In England, during the five report years, 1901-1905 inclusive, 778 murders came to the attention of the police, of which number 278, or 36 per cent. were of children under one year of age. In New York, on the other hand, of 643 murders during the same periods, only 35, or 5 per cent. were infanticide. Such a wide divergence cannot, of course, reflect real conditions; the truth is that the more reliable system of registering births and deaths in England brought to light many cases of infanticide which, under the less stringent American laws, went undetected. The welfare of society and the majesty of the law demand that so important a method of detecting crime should not be neglected.

Viewing the legal aspects of vital statistics in their larger light, all students of the law are agreed that a proper registration of births and deaths is a contribution second to none in expediting and simplifying the due administration of justice. The most prominent legal bodies in all parts of America have put themselves on record as favoring the complete registration of births and deaths throughout the United States.

3. The Importance of Registration to Society at Large.

The advantages of the registration of vital statistics do not end with the benefits conferred on the individual and with the contribution made by such statistics to the proper enforcement of the law. There are genuine and important benefits to society at large from such registration. In a certain sense, government is a business. To its administration should be applied the best business methods. Since no business man can attempt to conduct his affairs without taking stock or making an inventory, neither can the government successfully carry on its work studying the results of its activities and the actual condition of its people at a given time.

Where the Census Falls.

The decennial census was intended as a means to this end, but the census of itself is incomplete. It records with reasonable accuracy the population, distribution, wealth and activity of the people, but it is lacking in the most important detail—reliable information as to the real life of the people—their birth-rate, their sickness, their death-rate. The Government has attempted to furnish this information and has in its employ the most accurate vital statisticians of the country who publish admirable statistics for certain certain areas, but who are handicapped by lack of co-operation among the States. Strive as they will and utilize as they do every means at their disposal, they are impotent to draw the most important deductions from their evidence.

The Negro Problem and Vital Statistics.

As typical of their limitations may be cited the question of the negro population. Many students of national life have feared that the ten million Americans of African descent constitute a most serious problem; it these negroes increase, their effect on the white race may be most demoralizing. If they are increasing, what steps should be taken for their general uplift? Naturally in answering these questions, students consult the census. They find there a statement of the negro population for each ten years since 1790, and they can see from this evidence that the relative increase of the black race is not as great proportionately as that of the white race, even when the number of immigrants be deducted. Beyond this the census shows nothing, yet this is by no means ample evidence on which to base a definite answer to the question. Is the negro birth rate decreasing; is the length of the average African's life being shortend; is he, in any marked degree, the victim of special diseases, other than tuberculosis; is he increasing in certain parts of the country and decreasing in others? Evidence on all these points is necessary to a solution of the problem, but the census gives only partial information or no information at all.

If every birth and death were recorded in America, with the age at death and the disease of which the person died properly reported, it is easy to see that ample evidence on this, as on many other social problems would be available. The country might then proceed to an intelligent solution of any such question that might be presented.

We Grope in the Dark.

Like instances might be cited indefinitely to show accurate vital statistics will afford evidence upon which to base plans for the future of American society, but the purport of all these would be the same. As matters stand today, the American people are groping in the dark, with only partial information as to their own conditions, with but the faintest intimation of developments which are of the utmost importance to the very life of the nation. Were the American people to utilize the information that might be made available by wise vital statistics legislation, they could move intelligently and safely towards their goal as a nation.

The Importance of Vital Statistics to Public Health.

Finally, the proper recording of births and deaths is a matter of the utmost importance to the cause of public health. Modern preventive medicine deals with the mass of mankind. It cannot, under State direction, touch the individual except in the case of certain rare diseases; it reaches him only through the community. The results of public health work, therefore, and its success, depend on accurate information as to the health of the community. But this, in turn, cannot be had without an accurate report of every case of preventable disease, of every birth, of every death. Vital statistics balance the books of life and death; without them, public health work can never audite accounts for better or for worse.

Checking up the War on the White Plague.

Again, vital statistice are of the utmost importance in determining the success of the campaigns being waged against special diseases During recent years many American States, Virginia among them, have been engaged in a vigorous warfare against tuberculosis. There have been encouraging evidences of progress in combating this most messing foe of human life; but there has been no means whereby the absolute results of this crusade can de determined. Scientists still hesitate to say that with all our efforts, tuberculosis is truly a declining disease. Were accurate reports of deaths available, health authorities might then know whether vigorously to prosecute new lines of endeavor or to take courage and follow the present methods of attack. The same is true of the campaigns against pellagra, typhoid fever, diphtheria, scarlet fever and, indeed, all the more common communicable diseases.

Cambria, Va., Sept. 6, 1912 — Married, at the home of the bride, Wednesday, August 28th, Mrs. Henrietta Williams to Mr. John Henderson of Cloverdale. The officiating minister was the bride's pastor, the Rev. J. Paul Bowers of the Baptist church. Mr. and Mrs. Henderson will live at Cloverdale. Mr. Hender son has been twice married and Mrs. Henderson once before this marriage. The romantic feature of their marriage is, that they will live in the home built by Mr. Henderson for Mrs. Williams, when she was Miss Henrietta Schell, before the war.

Coming!

Judge Martin Williams has received a telegram from Senator Swanson saying that he would accept an invitation to speak here on the 11th of October. We will publish particulars leter.

JOLLY DAYS ARE AHEAD FOR NEXT WEEK.

Jolly days are ahead for next week, to be exact, September 24th, 25th, 26th and 27th is Great Roanoke Fair week when all of the agriculturists and manufacturers meet at Roanoke and join with the young folks in enjoying the sights of the fair and indulging in swapping experiences of the field and the markets. The Great Roanoke Fair is founded solely for the benefit of the farmer. He is first and last in the thonghts of the management. First he is given ah education shown with hundreds of exhibits that interest him and how he and his neighbor have progressed during the past year, and then with scores of shows and many free attractions and spirited horse races he is amused and made to forget the cares of a dollar earning life. Both day and night the Great Roanoke Fair will keep ablaze with marvelous sights. Fireworks and other free attractions will entertain the visitors after dark and make the stay of the stranger happy. Among the free attractions will be the Five Flying Gilmores in startling areal feats, and a circus in minature with a donkey that has never been rid den and to successfully ride him will be the making of fifty dollars, a standing offer. Information about the exhibits and premiums can be had of L. A. Scholz, Secretary, Great Roanoke Fair, Roanoke, Virginia. BASE BALL.

Pearisburg and Pembroke played ball Saturday at Pembroke, and Pbg received an extra good drubbing, the score being 19 to 6. A large number of errors were made, the Pbg boys booting the ball all over the lot when it came their way. Featnres were the batting and fielding of E. Johnston for Pbg and the fielding of Reed for Pke. Four umpires were used during the game. Batteries, Pke, Hoge and Lucas; Pbg, Belchee and "Jim" Peters. Umpires, Brotherton, Donthat, Bishop, Whittaker.

These two teams will play here Saturday, 21st.

EMBROIDERY CLUB.

Saturday afternoon at three o'clock, Misses Frances and Helen Mason delightfully entertained the Young Ladies Embroidery Club.

Laying all embroidery aside, Rook and other games were indulged in, after which delicious fruits and mints were served.

Club members present: Misses Margaret Dills, Mary Peters, Ethel Dulaney, Kate Shelton and Gladys Duncan.

Visitors: Misses Eleanor and Mattie Clark and Garland Warren.

After all reporting a most delightful time, they returned to their homes.

MARRIED.

On the 11th of September at the home of the bride near Pennvir, there was a beautiful wedding that made Miss Erctia Eulalia McGhee and Mr. Grover Cleveland Mellott husband and wife; Rev. W. A. Warner officiating. After the ceremony they retired to the dinning room, where there was a bountiful supply of good things to eat.

Mrs. Mitcher played the wedding march while the ceremony was being performed. After dinner they all had their pictures taken several times. Those present: Harry French, daughter and son; R. P. French, wife and daughter; Misses French and Leafy Warner; Dave French and wife and Mrs. R A. French and others too numerous to mention. May joy and peace crown the lives of the bride and groom.

LINKOUS-LUGAS.

The greatest social event of the season in the neighborhood of Price's Forks was the marriage of Miss Ora Linkous to Mr. Wm. L. Lucas, of Maybrook, September 10th.

The beautiful home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Byrd Linkous, was gay with a select and charming few to whom a lavish and delicious dinner was exquisitely served at 1 p. m.

In the spacious parlor, surrounded by members of the families of both the bride and groom and a few neighbors and friends; and amid a profusion of golden rod, the Rev. Dr. Hamill, pastor of the bride and officiating minister, took his position at 3 p. m., and to the strains of Mendelloschn's wedding march the groom entered with the bride leaning on his arm, followed by little Irvin Williams, nephew of the bride, bearing the wedding ring. The ceremony being solemnly and impressively performed the happy young couple were showered with congratulations and best wishes, immediately after which they took their departure for a tour through eastern cities.

The bride is a sister of Mrs. Arthur E. Williams of Wingo.

The writer ate a big dinner and stood and looked on and was then glad the minister had chosen him as body guard and Lieutenant.

Why Births and Deaths Are Recorded In Virginia.

THE REASON FOR A LAW THAT REGORDS THE LIFE OF EVERY CITIZEN.

How It Is Operating, Without Hardship, to the Advantage of Every Citizen and of the State.

Why Its Enforcement Needs Your Co-operation, Mr. Virginian.

(From Virginia Health Bulletin.)

Suppose Cholera Game Today.

The immediate report of all deaths, for example, is essential to preventing the spread of communicable disease. Suppose, for example, an immigrant came to Virginia from a community infected with cholera. He might have none of the symptoms of the disease and might pass quarantine without question but might, within a few days, die of cholera in some rural part of the State. Prior to the passage of the new law, he might have been buried in the usual manner, after several days exposure and might have been the means of starting an epidemic that would have swept the State. There would have been no means of preventing this; society would be subjected to the gravest possible danger. Under the operation of the vital statistics law, the body could not be buried until examined by a health officer. The report of the death would at once be forwarded to the State Department of Health; the physician's certificate would be followed up if it showed any suspicious symptoms; precautions could be taken and an epidemic might be prevented which would otherwise play havoc. To cite another case, children might now die of poliomyelitis, "infantile paralysis," in various parts of the State, and no physician might have more than one case; few would suspect that this dread disease had assumed epidemic form. If all deaths were properly and promptly reported, the officers of the State Board of Health would observe the mortality from this disease and could at once take all possible steps to inform the public and to prevent its spread.

What is true of cholera and infantile paralysis is true of every one of the dangerous communicable diseases that afflict people of the State. Despite the law requiring the report of these diseases to the Health Department, the only effective way to control them is have the physicians' certificates of death for the whole State and to consider these in their bearing on the frequency, geographical distribution and relative mortality of communicable disease.

Studying our Declining Population

In the same way, vital statistics furnish the only clue to the mortality in any given community. The Census for 1910, to cite a striking instance, showed a decline in the population of 27 Virginia counties. This obviously may be due either to an excess of deaths over births or to the removal to other localities of a part of the population. If the former be the case, the situation demands careful study at the hands of health authorities, for there may be sanitary causes for such an abnormal condition. If the decrease be due simply to removals, it presents an economic rather than a sanitary problem. But the State is absolutely without any index as to the real solution of the problem, neither births nor deaths are recorded—the only basis for accurate deduction is entirely lacking.

In the same way, the census statistics show that Virginia's population, since the establishment of the Republic, has rarely increased at a rate of fifty per cent. of the rate for the entire country. To what is this to be attributed—to an abnormal and alarming mortality or to the removal of our population to other States? If our mortality is so much greater than that of other States, every energy should be strained to lower it; health work should be made the chief business of government. But it we have lost citizens through removal, without receiving them by immigration, the facts should be known. Vital statistics alone give an accurate answer.

Summary of Advantages.

From every point of view, then, the action of the General Assembly of 1912 in providing for the registration of births and deaths was a distinct contribution by the representatives of the people to the welfare of the people. It insures every man the record of his life to which he is entitled; it expedites his title to his property; protects him in his identity; guarantees him against the injustice of accidents; protect his estate and his family. It places Virginia in her proper relation to the other States; makes her contribute her share to the general information of the people; it lessens the tangles of the law and aids the prosecution of the criminal. It gives a stable basis for health work, provides an audit of the books of life, makes less difficult the warfare against preventable disease and gauges the success of the campaign against these particular foes of human life from whose ravages Virginia suffers. Taking these advantages as a whole and viewing them in their proper light, they render the vital statistics law, if properly administered as fruitful of good to the people of the Commonwealth as any statute enacted in recent years. Indeed, if the value of the law in this State be measured by the success of like statutes in other American commonwealths, it may rank with the most beneficial legislation of the day.

What a Proper Vital Statistics Law Must Provide.

From what has been said, it is obvious that the success of a vital statistics law depends primarily upon the character of the law. A feeble law may be valueless; a poor act may do more harm than good. To accomplish the full measure of good, a vital statistics law must fulfil certain requirements.

a. Complete Statistics.

It must provide, first of all, for the report of all births and deaths. Partial statistics are worse than useless; they are often grossly misleading. The law must be so worded and so administered that the statistics secured will be an accurate guage to existing conditions. This, manifestly, is only possible when every birth and every death, no matter where or how occurring, is properly reported.

b. Prompt Statistics.

The law must, in the second place, provide that statistics be gathered promptly. Persons easily forget the details of a dead man's life—his parentage, his age, the hour and exact cause of his death. The same is true of births. Unless the report be filed immediately after the event, when the details are fresh in the minds of the people, it will be misleading, inaccurate and confusing. This is well illustrated by the experience of those States which have attempted the collection of vital statistics through taxing officers who visit all citizens once a year. The statistics gathered by them are manifestly false and the totals are often absurd on their face.

c. Standard Statistics.

Again, the law must provide that the statistics be compiled according to a standard form No man lives unto himself alone; no community, no State can prosper without co-operation. Unless the statistics compiled in say, Washington County, are of the same form as those compiled in Northampton County, they are useless for purposes of comparison. In the same way, unless the statistics for Virginia are compiled in the same fashion as those of New York, no conclusions can be drawn that will apply to the whole people. Uniformity of report and the standardization of forms are absolute essentials.

d. Accurate Statistics.

In the next place, the law must provide for the collection of accurate statistics. It must provide machinery for getting the information from those who know the facts and must provide for the registration of the information by those competent to do so. A casual neighbor may give the principal facts regarding a deceased friend, but he will not have information which will be specific enough to be valuable; an attendant on a dying man may have a general idea as to the cause of his demise, but he cannot classify that death in such a form as to make it valuable for purposes of comparison. Statistics are only valuable where accurate; they cannot be accurate unless registered and be compiled by those who know the facts.

e. Statistics Without Hardship to Citizens.

Finally, a vital statistics law, in preserving the records of the people should do so with the least possible inconvenience to the people. There should be no needless hardship on those who are stricken with grief at the death of a beloved one. The welfare of the whole community should be attained with the least disadvantage to any individual.

To summarize, the manifest essentials of a vital statistics law that will really be of benefit to the people are, that it provide statistics that are complete, immediate, accurate, according to a standard form and collected with the least hardship to the people. If the law contain these provisions and be properly enforced, it may be expected to give to the people all advantages of registration; if it be lacking in any of these respects, its effectiveness will be seriously impaired.

The Provisions of the Virginia Statute.

These essentials of a good statistics law have been dwelt upon at length because they will be found to underlie the admirable measure by which the last General Assembly planned to give the people a permanent record of their lives. This bill was introduced and strongly supported by Senator P. H. Drewry of Petersburg, who shaped this measure in the light of the experience of other States. The Assembly withheld final action on it until the experts of the Federal Government examined the law and approved its provisions. As it stands today, it contains all that is necessary to safeguard the records of the people without working a hardship to them in any way.

The Undertaker's Duty.

When a person dies, the undertaker, or the friend acting in that capacity, is required to procure a permit for the burial of the body. To do this, he has only to secure a death certificate from the registrar and have this properly filled out. The undertaker first takes the certificate to some member of the dead man's family and from him gets all the necessary information as to the name, age, etc., of the deceased. He then has the attending physician certify the cause of death, and, when this is done, returns the certificate of death to the registrar and from him gets a permit authorizing the burial This permit the undertaker files with the sexton of the cemetery or with the person in charge of burial, who in turn certifies that the interment took place and forwards the cancelled permit to the registrar.

Under normal conditions, this is all that has to be done, and in the average community it can be very quickly done. Every physician has been requested to leave at his office or at the home of the deceased a blank filled in with the cause of death which the undertaker can get on his first visit and return to the registrar immediately. As registrars are always located within five miles of one another, no delay will be incurred.

In Sparsely Settled Districts.

But to insure the people of thinly populated communities from any hardship, the law provides that the local Boards of Health may designate certain communities where there are few physicians and undertakers as "sparsely settled." In these communities it will be lawful for the burial to take place without a permit, provided the death certificate be filed within ten days. This provision of the law will seldom have to be invoked, but it is an absolute guarantee against any possible hardship to persons who live at a distance from any physician or undertaker.

The law requires that still-births shall be reported both as births and deaths, but that when a child breathes even once after birth it shall not be reported as still-born. In case of suspicious deaths, no registrar is authorized to issue a burial permit until the case has been passed upon by the coroner; and where there was no physician in attendance during illness, the body must be viewed by the nearest member of the county board of health before a permit is issued. In this way, the public will be protected against burials where violence was responsible for death. These provisions are fully outlined in the statute and in the regulations and suggestions for registrars, physicians, etc., copies of which may be had upon application.

To secure a proper enforcement of the law, the act provides the necessary penalties for its violation and prescribes that every physician, undertaker and sexton shall furnish the proper information to the local registrar. Penalties are also prescribed for any undertaker, or person acting as such, who will conduct a burial or inter a body without filing a death certificate and procuring a permit. The law likewise provides penalties for any one who falsifies any certificate or gives false information in the text of any certificate of death or birth.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

Norfolk & Western Railway Company
A Corporation,
against
Peter Pfeifer et al.
CONDEMNATION.

To Peter Pfeifer, Mrs. C. C. Blabee, Clarance Pfeifer, Alma W. Pfeifer, (the last named being an infant under twenty-one years, and whose Guardian is Peter Pfeifer), and to all whom it may concern:

You are hereby notified, that the undersigned Norfolk & Western Railway Company, a Corporation, authorized to condemn lands, will on the 20th Day of October, 1912,

apply to the Circuit Court of Giles County, Virginia, for the appointment of Commissioners, to ascertain what will be a just compensation for the fee simple interest or estate in those three certain strips or parcels of land on the waters of Big Stony Creek, in Giles County, Virginia, and in which Mrs. C. C. Blabee owns a one-half interest, Peter Pfeifer, a life estate in one-half, and Clarence Pfeifer and Alma W. Pfeifer own jointly the remainder in fee in one-half, and said parties above named are tenants of the free hold as to their respective interests in said lands, said Alma W. Pfeifer being an infant under twenty-one years, Peter Pfeifer, being her Guardian.

The three tracts of land above referred to, and which are sought to be condemned, are fully described in the memorandum and petition, the profile blueprints and descriptions accompanying the same, all of which were filed in the Clerk's Office of Giles County, on March the 13, 1912.

Said tracts or parcels of land, and the estate or interest therein, are wanted and sought to be condemned for the uses and purposes of the said Norfolk & Western Railway Company, and said Commissioners will be required to award the damages, if any, resulting to the adjacent or other property of the owners, or any one of them, or to the property of any other person beyond the peculiar benefits that will accrue to such properties respectively, from the construction and operation of the works of said Company.

The interest of Alma W. Pfeifer, (an infant) alone is sought to be condemned in the above proceeding because of her incapacity to contract for the sale thereof.

Respectfully,
NORFOLK & WESTERN RAILWAY CO.
By Counsel.

TAYLOR-WILBURN.

Bluefield, W. Va., Sept. 16th.—F. P. Taylor and Miss Nellie Wilburn were united in marriage yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. T. S. Hamilton officiating. The marriage took place at the home of Mrs. A. M. Wilburn, on Third street. Mrs. Wilburn is a cousin of the bride. The groom is a well known passenger brakeman of this city, running between Bluefield and Gary. He has been a resident of this city for eight years. The bride is the attractive and popular daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Wilburn of Pearisburg, Va. Only a few intimate friends of the couple attended. They left on No. 2 yesterday for Norfolk and Washington and will be absent from the city for ten days. The young couple will make their future home in Bluefield.

Arriving at the station without ostentation, Mr. and Mrs. Taylor kept in the background until the train came into the station, thus escaping the shower of rice which descended upon another couple of newlyweds who boarded the same train.—Bluefield Telegraph.

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor spent a few days first of the week with Mrs. Taylor's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. C. Wilburn of Sugar Run. We wish them a long life of happiness and prosperity.

BASE BALL.

Pembroke and Pearisburg of the second game of a series of games at Pearisburg on Saturday, 21st. The score was Pbg 10, Pke 8. Pke was badly crippled by the absence of four of her players, Reed, Hale, White and Williams, but she put up a game fight. Features were the home run by Carr and a great running catch by Lucas for Pke, and the first basing of Powell and pitching of Fletcher for Pbg. Batteries: Pbg, Gilliam, "Wild Bill" Fletcher and Pack. Pke, Hoge, Hilton and Lucas. Umpires, "Jim" Peters and Pearson.

Pembroke and Bane will play a series of games, the first to be played at Bane, October 5th, second at Pke, October 12th, and the third, if necessary, will be played at Pearisburg, October 19th. These games will be very interesting and exciting and we hope every "fan" that loves the game will attend.

DICKINS-TAYLOR.

CULPEPER, Va., }
September 22, 1912. }

"Kinloch," the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Strother of Welch, W. Va., was the scene on Saturday evening of a beautiful wedding when Mrs. Strother's sister, Miss Vera Taylor, was united in marriage to Dr. Glem Luck Dickens of Lynchburg, Va.

The entire lower floor was artistically decorated with potted plants, golden rod and mountain laurel, carrying out the color scheme of pink and yellow. In the back parlor, where the ceremony was performed, an improvised altar was made of golden rod and ferns. The soft glow of many shaded lights added much to the beauty of the scene. As the guests arrived they were received by Mr. and Mrs. James A. Strother, assisted by Misses Frankie Taunt and Lucy Wiltshire of Baltimore. Mrs. Strother was gowned in lavender crepe de chine trimmed in gold fringe and lace. Promptly at six o'clock the first notes of Mendelsson's wedding march were played by Miss Champe Carter Thompson of Waynesboro, Va. Miss Thompson wore blue chiffon over pink messaline trimmed in rose buds and rhinestones. The bridal party came down the front stairway, through the front parlor to the back parlor where the ceremony was performed. First came the maid of honor, Miss Cecil Taylor of Baltimore, Md., niece of the bride, wearing pink satin veiled in pink chiffon with trimmings of point lace and an arm bouquet of LaFrance roses. The matron of honor, Mrs. Chas. R. Shumate of Lynchburg, Va., sister of the bride, followed. Her gown was yellow brocade satin and she carried golden rod and yellow daisies. Little Miss Mary James Strother, in a dainty dress of white lingerie and ribbons and sash of pink, acted as ring bearer, carrying the wedding ring on a white satin pillow. She was followed by the bride, on the arm of her father by whom she was given in marriage. At the altar the bride was met by the groom and best man, Mr. James A. Dickens of Houston, Va., brother of the groom. The attractive and impressive marriage ceremony of the Episcopal Church was performed by the Rev. W. W. Hamilton, D. D., pastor of the First Baptist Church of Lynchburg, Virginia. During the ceremony, Shumann's Traumerei was softly played. The bride's gown was an exquisite creation of white Duchess satin over taffeta, made en train and the entire bodice was princess lace and pearls. The veil was draped with the Juliet cap edged with lillies of the valley and she carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and lillies of the Valley. Mrs. Dickens, by her charming and attractive personality has been one of the most popular members of the young set of Lynchburg. She is a graduate of Martha Washington College at Abingdon, Va., and she also graduated in voice at Randolph-Macon Woman's College at Lynchburg, She is the youngest daughter of Major and Mrs. Thomas S. Taylor of Pearisburg, Va. Dr. Dickens is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John N. Dickens of Houston, Va. He graduated at the University College of Medicine of Richmond, in 1907. Immediately after graduation, he entered upon the practice of his profession at Lynchburg. By his skill and sterling qualities of manhood, Dr. Dickens won the confidence of the public and is now one of the leading dentists in the Hill City. Immediately after the ceremony an informal reception was held. The punch bowl was presided over by Miss Della Yowell, assisted by Mrs. Roger Bickers. Misses Celeste Williams and Ruth Davis of Narrows, Va., and Miss Adele Gildes of Baltimore. A dainty and elegant buffet luncheon was also served.

Dr. and Mrs. Dickens left on a late train for a wedding trip North, the itinerary being Washington, New York, thence to Norfolk by boat, Old Point and Richmond. The bride's traveling costume was dark brown broad cloth with hat, shoes and accessories to correspond.

The popularity and high esteem in which the young couple are held was evinced by the many and handsome wedding presents.

Dr. and Mrs. Dickens will be at home after Oct. 1st, at 1108 Rivermont Avenue, Lynchburg, Va.

Among the out-of-town guests were: Meadames R. A. DePriest, John Moon, A. P. Montague, R. E. Bopes, Dr. and Mrs. Charles Shumate and Miss Affie Mosby of Lynchburg; Miss Ruth Davis of Narrows; Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Taylor, B. H. Taylor, Miss Cecil Taylor and Miss Adelle Gildes of Baltimore; I. J. Rhodes and M. S. Taylor of Welch, W. Va.; Mrs. J. N. Dickens and J. A. Dickens of Houston; Miss Elizabeth D. Terrill of Roanoke; Dr. and Mrs. W. B. Isenger of Gloucester; Mrs. P. C. Ballard of Hammonton, New Jersey; Mrs. S. W. Thompson, Misses Champe C. Thompson, Hood Thompson and Nell Talbott and W. G. Ellison of Waynesboro, Va.; Ralph M. Stafford of Thacker, W. Va.

MR. SLEMP.

In a feeble, funny kind of a way the Republican leaders and newspapers in the Ninth Virginia district are trying to get the two factions of their party together on the protective tariff. President Taft says he is for a protective tariff. Col. Roosevelt says he is for a protective tariff. Therefore, we are told, the Virginia voters should vote for Mr. Slemp to represent them in the congress.

A protective tariff! Col. Roosevelt is very vague on that question. Notice that in his speeches he gives most of his time and words to chasing President Taft and calling people liars and corruptionists; but he is shy of going into details on the tariff. He dodges it every time, as he dodged it during his seven years as president. Mr. Taft, as well as his position on that subject can be understood, is a standpatter, along with Uncle Joe Cannon and Mr. Slemp. That position has been rejected and abandoned by all the thinking people of the country. It has been proved by experience that the tariff as it is taxes the masses of the people, takes pennies, dimes and dollars from the pockets of the consumers, the people who eat victuals and wear clothes and must furnish their homes and supply their farms and buy their tools. These pennies, dimes and dollars go pouring in endless streams from many millions of hands to be concentrated in the pockets and bank accounts of a favored few. These are the few who have grown enormously rich. If they did not gather in their money from the present tariff system, how did they get it? Everybody knows, all the thinking and studying and observing people who go deep into the inwards of things, know, that the great fortunes are built and maintained and constantly further swollen by the present tariff system, draining from the common consumer to glorify and enrich the favored few.

Mr. Taft and Mr. Slemp say this is right. Mr. Slemp voted faithfully for the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill under which these conditions have come. Mr. Slemp voted for everything in this bill, like a wooden man pulled by a string or a doll made to say "aye" or "no" when it is squeezed in the stomach. A large proportion of the thinking Republicans of the entire country have repudiated and condemned this bill after seeing how it worked and the results of it. Yet, Mr. Slemp was going about the Ninth district two years ago boasting of his votes for the Payne-Aldrich bill, upholding it, telling the people it was a masterpiece of statesmanship and patriotism. Col. Roosevelt, knowing this record of Mr. Slemp's, came along and at Bristol two years ago told the people Mr. Slemp was "straight as a string." The Colonel now says no honest man can support Mr. Taft or approve the methods by which he was nominated for president at Chicago. Mr. Slemp not only voted for the Payne-Aldrich bill but he was one of the most active and eager in promoting Mr. Taft's nomination and helping forward the means by which he was nominated. While Col. Roosevelt had a chance for the Republican nomination he was willing to endorse Slemp, Payne-Aldrich bill and all. After he was beaten for the nomination, partly by the work of Slemp, he calls Slemp a crook. All of them are tarred with the same stick. No better evidence is needed to convict them of being enemies to the people than to set them in the witness stand and take their testimony against each other.

Mr. Slemp's course is condemned by the verdict of the people, North, South, East and West, at the last federal election when there was a landslide against the Republican majority in congress, of which he was a steadily voting part. It is condemned by every thinker and scientific student of political economy. It is recognized as almost a relic of barbarism. Mr. Slemp is a back number, along with Uncle Joe Cannon, of whose favor he boasted while Uncle Joe was a power. He is a Bourbon of the Bourbons, a stand-patter. He learns nothing in a Democratic house. He learns nothing, forgets nothing, does nothing. What has he done and said in the last two years? Let any and all of his admirers answer. He amounted to little in a Republican house. He amounted to forget his ill feeling and can house. He amounted to forget his ill feeling and put him at peace with the world. The next house will be Democratic and he would amount to less than nothing if he should be sent back. The great, live, powerful empire of Southwest Virginia needs to represent it in the house a live, strong man abreast of the progress of modern thought and purpose. It does not want a political puppet or a representative of dead positions and repudiated theories.

The Democratic party represents progress without radicalism, the forward movement without rashness. In the Ninth District it has caused a man, in Ayers, who illustrates perfectly the spirit and purpose of his party. He is a practical man, not a theorist. Yet holding, teaching and exemplifying the best and highest theories, he applies them practically. He is a live man and a strong man. He has proved his patriotism, his devotion to the State of Virginia and her principles and to the people of Virginia and their rights. His past has made for him already a place in the future of the Democratic party and a power in the constructive and developing work of that great party. Like Governor Wilson, he favors no destruction of any thing but wrong and evil, injustice and oppression. He stands for reform of the tariff which will give relief to the people in their homes and their daily lives and lessen gradually the tribute extracted from them to pay for the extravagant luxuries, wanton waste and measuring heaped up wealth of the "protected." He will stand sturdily against the protection that means pampering a score and plundering ninety million. Mr. Slemp's record is that of pampering.

There should be no doubt or hesitation among the live men of the Southwest. Their instinct is to be part of the live, moving, progressive forces of the country. Ayers offers to lead them onward. Slemp is trying to hold them back. Ayers offers them strength and power and progress. Slemp would hold them to the dead carcass of the disrupted and decayed Republican party, dropping to pieces from the weight of its own corruption, condemned and denounced by its own leaders.

Let the live people go with the live man and party; have nothing more to do with a dead party led by a man whose political habits are those of the politically dead, whose political habitation is a charnel house and grave, with Uncle Joe Cannon standing the solitary sentinel and the Payne-Aldrich bill the torn, trampled and drooping decoration.—Roanoke Times.

Love does not see; friendship cannot see.

She Makes Home Happy.

There are, says a well known woman writer, so many vexations and difficulties connected with life as the woman in the home knows it that if she loses her sense of humor for a moment there is danger of looking at the tragic side of things. The wife and mother with a sense of humor saving the family from many a distressing quarrel and misunderstanding. With her ready wit she breaks in upon the unpleasant argument among the children and thus saves them from engaging in an out and out quarrel. With tact and grace she ignores her husband's fits of ill humor, when he comes home weary and nervewora at the end of the day and with a bright remark or a humorous event of the day makes him look too much on the serious side of life. This does not help matters in the least. It only makes them worse. Life is full of unpleasant experiences and it also contains many real pleasures. The thing to do is not to dwell upon the unhappy affairs, but rather to select the pleasant things and emphasize them. While it is not well to jest at sacred things it often is wise to greet some of the serious things with a keen sense of humor. This is the only way to live one's life in happiness.

The Fourteen Errors of Life.

To attempt to set up our own standard of right and wrong and expect everybody to conform to it.

To try to measure the enjoyment of others by your own.

To expect uniformity of opinion in the world.

To look for judgement and experience in youth.

To endeavor to mold all dispositions alike.

Not to yield in unimportant trifles.

To look for perfections in our own actions.

To worry ourselves and others about what cannot be remedied.

Not to alleviate if we can all that needs alleviation.

Not to make allowance for the weaknesses of others.

To consider anything impossible that we cannot ourselves perform.

To believe only what our finite minds can grasp.

To estimate people by some outside quality, for it is that within which makes the man.—Judge Rentoul.

Not Like Mother Made.

Johnny and his mother were dining with a friend. The first course was chicken soup, with macaroni in it. The hostess watched Johnny as he sat quietly gazing at his plate. Finally she asked: "Why don't you eat your soup, Jonny?"

"I don't care for it, please, ma'am."

"But your mamma said you liked chicken soup."

"I do like mamma's chicken soup, but she don't put the wind pipes in."

"But," her father objected, "you have never shown that you are capable of supporting a wife."

"Oh," the young man replied, "if you want her to marry a widower I'll have to confess that I can't qualify."

Trousseau Hysteria.

"Trousseau hysteria," is the name a physician calls the nervous fretfulness that lines the faces of so many brides on their wedding day.

Every woman who has been married or who has had a wedding in the family knows that the million and one little duties and ceremonies connected with the exchange of maidenhood for matronhood are all tiring and exciting.

There is the fun of packing, the opening and replying to belated wedding gifts, and a dozen other waves of excitement that often cause the ceremony to prove the last straw for the girl already high strung and nervously inclined. Added to this are the ante-nuptial teas, dinners, luncheons, etc., arranged in the bride's honor, all of which claim so much of her vitality and nerve force that she cannot help feeling that the wedding march is being played out of tune.

Dog Philosophy.

The following paragraphs are from Eleanor Atkinson's story of the little Skye terrier, Greyfriars Bobby:"

And it was a new gospel at that time, that a dog or a horse might have its mission in this world of making people kinder and happier.

A sensitive little dog learns to read the human barometer with a degree of accuracy rarely attained by fellow-men, and, in times of low pressure, wisely effaces himself.

It is not the least of a little dog's missions in life to communicate his own irresponsible gaiety to men.

It cannot but be a pleasant thing to be a wee young dog, full of life and good intentions.

But a dog, no more than a man, cannot live on bread alone. His heart hungers for love.

Very, very early a dog learns that life is not as simple a matter to his master as it is to himself. There are times when he reads trouble, that he cannot help or understand, in the man's eye and voice. Then he can only look his love and loyalty, wistfully, as if he felt his own shortcoming in the matter of speech.

There cannot well be more love in this world than there is room for in God's heaven.—Our Dumb Animals.

She Had Him There.

"Talk about consistency," he said, savagely; "a woman never knows her own mind from one day's end to another. Why, within a week of our wedding you insisted that you wouldn't marry the best man who ever lived."

"Well," she remarked, sweetly, "I didn't."—Chicago Times-Herald.

Theology.

Ethel—"Didn't grandpapa go to heaven, mama?"

Mama—"Yes; I hope so."

Ethel—"Then why did they put 'Peace to his ashes' on his tombstone? People who go to heaven don't have ashes, do they?"—Pick-Me-Up.

He Kept His Word.

"Her husband said, when she married, his love would be unremitting."

"Did he keep his word?"

"Yes; he has never given her a cent."—New York Times.

When men go about giving the world sacred sympathy and pious prosperity, the vaudeville of hypocrisy is doing a stunt.

Born to Prof. and Mrs. Jas. R. Stafford of Rocky Mount, Va., a little daughter. Congratulations.

C. S. Angel of Northfork, W. Va., spent Sunday with his family here, who are visiting Capt. D. W. Mason.

Rev. J. G. Reveley will conduct services at White Gate, Sunday at 11 a. m., and Poplar Hill at 3:30 p. m.

Mrs. Jennie Farley, who was operated on at Lewis-Gale Hospital, Roanoke, has so far recovered as to be able to return home.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. O. Merriman have returned from Mt. Lake to their home, Narrows. We learn that the season at Mt. Lake this year was a good one.

Always on hand, the American fence.

Read the advertisement of Dr. J. Harry Martin, eye specialist of Roanoke, who will be here Tuesday and Wednesday, Oct. 29th and 30th at Hotel Savoy.

Remember the Grand Display of Fashionable Millinery, by H. B. Shelton & Co., Friday and Saturday, October, 4th and 5th at Huffman & Echols' store, Newport, Va.

C. T. Painter has lost 47 hogs inside of a month, 10 of these hogs would average over 300 lbs. apiece by killing time. Also Fount Johnston lost 8, James Dillon 8 and Milt Thompson 4.

There will be a Democratic Club organized at Pembroke school house next Saturday, October 5th, at 2 p. m. We hope there will be a good turn out of citizens.

Mrs. Minerva Eston and Miss Ellis Havens of Thessalia, and Miss Alraka Bogle of Bland county, were callers at the Virginian office last week to see how we print our papers.

Hugh M. Woods and daughter, Miss Lucille, of Old Point Comfort, Va., who have been visiting his brother, H. J. Woods near town, returned to their home last Friday. Hugh is looking well.

W. O. Coburn, Narrows, advertises Fall styles in Ladies' Tailored Coat Suits on this page. If you want to see one of the most beautiful lines of this merchandise that has ever been in Narrows, call on him.

Do not forget that Mrs. C. T. Painter will have Millinery Openings at the following places: Maybrook, Oct. 7th and 8th; Hoge's Store, Oct. 9th and 10th; Pembroke, Oct. 11th and 12th; Eggleston, Oct. 15th and 16th.

At the home of the bride, R. A. Fenwick of Penvir, a beautiful wedding took place on the 14th day of September, that made Miss Lelia French and Mr. John Carr husband and wife; Rev. W. A. Warner officiating. A number of friends and relatives being present, they all went on to old Penvir to the picnic and enjoyed the day very much.

J. W. Porterfield left Tuesday night for the Jefferson Hospital, in company with his niece, Miss Ruby Echols, who will undergo an operation for appendicitis. Miss Echols is a student at P. U. school.

Rev. W. D. Mitchell, eye specialist of Radford, advertises in another column. He will be here on the 29th of October, court day. He will also be at Eggleston on the 28th; Wabash the 31st, and White Gate, Nov. 1st. Read the ad.

An invitation has been extended us to attend the Symposium on Geography held by the Trans continental Excursion of International Geographers at the University of Virginia at one o'clock, October 12th. We are exceedingly sorry that we cannot attend this meeting but wish to express our many thanks to those who were kind enough to remember us.

Mr. E. B. Gilliam of this place has recently sold his hotel property to Mr. T. F. Witten and will remove with family to Raven, Va., where he is engaged in the coal business. Mr. Gilliam, who for the past two years, has been engaged in the hotel business, proved himself to be a man of sterling integrity and won many friends, and it is with deep and sincere regret that we part with him. Mr. T. F. Witten, who will conduct the hotel business in the future, is a native of Tazewell county and comes highly recommended, and we gladly welcome him and his family to our midst.

James Hypes (colored) died at his home last Thursday night and was buried Saturday afternoon by the True Reformer Organization. "Cook," as he was better known, has been cooking at hotels here for several years and was known by all traveling men, being very popular with them as well as the people here. He was a good man and had numerous friends. He leaves a wife to mourn his loss.

Nearly two hundred pupils are enrolled in the Public Schools, with fifty in the High School department. It is gratifying to note what a large number of students from the country have availed themselves of this opportunity to continue their education beyond the grammar school grades. Mr. Jas. R. Stafford, the principal, is a whole souled hard working teacher, and the outlook for the year is full of promise.—Franklin Times Democrat.

Attention Voters!

You are especially invited to attend a meeting of the voters of Pembroke District, to be held at Pembroke School House, Saturday, October 5th, at 2 o'clock p. m. for the purpose of organizing local Wilson—Marshall—Ayers Clubs.

BASE BALL.

Pearisburg was defeated by Eggleston Saturday 8 to 6 on Eggleston's grounds. It was a good game, both teams working for victory, Eggleston finally coming out on top. Few errors were made the fielding being of high order. Features were the batting of P. Johnston and the pitching of E. Johnston, who finished the game after Gilliam was batted out in the first inning and the playing of Powell on 1st base for Pbg. H. Bishop put up a nice game at third and Huffman caught a fine game for Eggleston. Batteries: Egg, Price and Huffman. Pbg, Gilliam, E. Johnston and "Jimmy" Peters. Umpire, Gene Durham.

There two teams will play here Saturday. If you want to see a game between two good clubs attend.

Esteemed Neighbor:—

It became a part of my official duties at this session of the Board to pass upon the proof in the Claim on death of late Neighbor, Arthur B. Ballard, which was approved, and voucher will follow in due course of business.

I find in looking over these proofs that Neighbor Ballard was 46 years, 10 months and 28 days old, and had been a member of society 4 years, 2 months and 15 days. He held a certificate for $1000.00 payable to his wife. During his membership in the society, he paid into the benefund $41.80.

Kindly express my sympathy to the widow in this her hour of bereavement and believe me to be at all times,

Fraternally Yours,

THAT VIRGINIA PLUNDERBUND.

Copy of Editorial from Lynchburg News of Thursday, September 19, 1912:

The Richmond Times Dispatch continues to excite itself over the re submission of the constitutional question involving the right of city treasurers and commissioners of the revenue to succeed themselves in office. It is a pity that this is so. It is a pity that so prominent a newspaper as our Richmond contemporary finds itself unable to dispassionately discuss the merits of the case. It is a pity that it beclonds the issue by drastic denunciation of the methods of those who do not hold its view that it lashed the last General Assembly with the whip of its ire, because it dared to enact the re-submission measure, and characterizes the members of that body as having been tools of a Plunderbund, obedient to the crook of its greedy fingers, and kissing its slimp feet—as the owned and subservant slaves of court house rings—as having been guilty when passing the re-submission act, of proceeding in a manner at once disgraceful and destructive of popular government. All this we say is regrettable because being unseemingly unjust, and having tendency to becloud the issue.

There is really but one question before the people of Virginia in this relation. It doesn't have to do with a Plunderbund. It doesn't involve a verdict as to whether the last General Assembly disgraceful and dishonored itself by passing the re submission act. It doesn't have to do with slimy feet and pregnant knees and crooked ways. Really it doesn't. It involves merely an appeal to the Virginia electorate to decide at the approaching election whether the interests of the Commonwealth will be conserved by so changing the present constitution that city treasurers and commissioners may become candidates for re-election. An amendment to this general effect, and including county treasurers and commissioners within its scope, was voted upon at election of 1910—the result being unfavorable to the city officeholders by a small majority in a large in a large total vote. But it was claimed that the proposition insofar as the city officers were concerned, had not been submitted in manner and form as provided for by the constitution, and that as result it might have happened that many voters were misled or confused when passing upon the question. So the General Assembly at its last session decided to re submit the matter in a way that would produce no misconception in the mind of the electorate, and the Supreme Court held that the re-submission act is without taint of invalidity. That's the situation. The Legislature proceeded within its proper jurisdiction—it had the right to re-submit—it was its duty to re-submit if in doubt as to whether the matter had been fairly and properly and justly presented at the polls. Because it so happened that the treasurers and commissioners of cities believed that they had not had justice in the contest and because thus believing they co-operated in effort to have the Legislature give them a fair deal, affords no reason to show why the pending amendment should be defeated. These gentlemen resorted to no fraud, to no corruption; to no unfair methods. They merely sought that to which as Virginia citizens they believed themselves entitled. In doing this they have provided no new issue—they simply have succeeded in presenting the old issue, so clearly defined that its effect and meaning can admit of no doubt. So let's to the merits of the cause—let's to the germane considerations involved in the contest.

Our friend, the Times-Dispatch, in its yesterday's issue asks who shall rule: "The people or the plunderbund?"—and says that in 1910, thirty-eight counties and thirteen cities voted for this amendment, while sixty counties and seven cities voted against it, and thus defeated it by a majority of 1,544. Then the Times-Dispatch proceeds to argue that if reversing that verdict now, the people will indicate that popular sovereignity is dethroned and a vicious plunderbund placed in the seats of the mighty? We must confess inability to grasp the force of this logic. The people are as intelligent, as patriotic, as alert to their interest can repeat their verdict thereon in 1912. So why the indignation of the Times-Dispatch? Is it afraid to trust the people? Is it fearful that in two years the people have lost in sanity or in self-respect? Does it apprehend that the people because given an opportunity to vote again upon this question, will become a dis graced set of freebooters?—a venal gang of Pirates?—a supine aggregation of traitors to the common weal? No? Then why this commotion? The Legislature settled nothing finally. The Supreme Court settled nothing. Nothing has been settled. Nothing can be settled unless and until the people settle it. This being so, the so-called plunderbund appears to be frankly relying upon the people—appealing to the people—approaching the throne of popular sovereignty and asking that its rights be protected there—while the Times-Dispatch is in effect belaboring them for so doing. Far be it from us to charge that the Times-Dispatch is disposed to rail against the capacity of the electorate to determine this question fairly, but it is assuming a position which reflects upon the good sense and patriotism, and well nigh the integrity of that electorate unless it proceeds as our friend says it should proceed. In no such temper should the question be discussed.

As a quite obvivous matter of fact, city treasurers and commissioners of the revenue in Virginia cut but an inconsequental figure in the present situation. The people of the cities are more directly involved, more directly affected, more directly concerned than the present office-holders. They—a large number of them—a majority of them, according to the 1910 vote, believe that experience enters into the qualifications of a city treasurer or commissioner of the revenue as important, and in many cases, as a controlling consideration. The functions of the office in question are essentially of business nature—they are related directly to the business affairs of the city and State—they represent the tax assessment and the tax collecting arm of government, and efficiency in their administration can be best acquired by famailiarity with the details thereof, which in turn can only be born of experience—while inefficiency is often the price of constantly changing the incumbents of the offices. As we have more than once pointed out, private business undertakings reckon experience as a highly valuable attribute of the employe. By the same token it should be true that such features of public administration as has to do with its strictly business features, ought not to be arbitarily deprived of experienced service—certainly the people of a city ought not to be arbitrarly denied the right to re elect an experienced, faithful, altogether competent business agent, if they desire to do so. This is all that is involved in the case at bar. The pending constitutional amendment, if adopted, insures re-election to no treasurer or commissioner of the revenue. It only insures the privilege of the voters to choose whom they will for their officers; it only provides against the straight jacket in politics. Under its terms, any one who so desires may become a candidate for these offices—any unfaithful or unsatisfactory officer may be defeated at the polls. It simply puts the incumbents upon the same footing with their fellow citizens.

The matter, to be sure, is of State concern as well as of city concern. The force of this proposition is fully recognized, fully conceded. But we take it that the people of the State having voted to remove the ineligibility discrimination from county treasurers and commissioners of the revenue, will not be disposed to withhold like action with reference to city officers—that they will not likely say to the country people: "You may re-elect commissioners and treasurers," and to the city people, "you shall do no such thing." To thus dispose of this question does not seem logical—nor do we believe that this sort of disposition will be given it. Rather is it probable that county voters will note that in 1910 thirteen Virginia cities voted to permit city treasurers and commissioners of the revenue to succed themselves, and only seven voted against such permission, and combining considerations of local self-government with those of popular sovereignity they will overwhelmingly endorse the proposed change in the State constitution.

GOSSIP.

"Gossip is one of the popular crimes that has caused infinitely more sorrow in life than murder. It is drunkenness of the tongue, it is assassination of reputations. It runs the cowardly gamut from mere ignorance, impertinent intrusion into the lives of others to malicious slander. If facts do not exist, it creates them. If the facts be innocent, it somehow juggles them into evidence of black guilt. In interpretation it alway chooses the worth of two possible motives. It constitutes itself a secret of inquisition that decides on the fate of the victim in his absence when he has no chance to speak in his own behalf. It is a conspiracy of wrong.

He who listens to this crime of respectability without protest is as evil as he who speaks.—Exchange.

When He Heard Shots.

The guest in a Chicago hotel was shot and killed. The negro porter who heard the shots was a witness at the trial.

"How many shots did you hear?" asked the lawyer.

"Two shots sah," he replied.

"'Bout like dis way," explained the negro, clapping his hands with an interval of about a second between them.

"Where were you when the first shot was fired?"

"Shinin' a gemman's shoes in the basement of de hotel."

"Where were you when the second shot was fired?"

"Ah was passin' the Santa Fe depot."—Exchange.

TWO PROMINENT CITIZENS OF PEMBROKE DEAD.

J. W. SNIDOW.

The death of Mr. James W. Snidow of Pembroke, on Sept. 25, 1912, has cast a gloom of sadness over this community, and a vacancy is made which cannot be filled, but he has left with us more than a vacancy. Though a quiet, unostentatious man, his noble, high toned christian character, his high ideals of life and its responsibilities, his interest in schools and education, together with his untiring interest in church and Sunday school work leave an influence that will live in the lives of others. He was a deep thinker, a clear reasoner and a man of unusual intellect. He was the oldest son of Wm. T. Snidow, deceased, of Big Stony Creek.

In young manhood he went to Texas, where he completed his education in Mansfield College Afterwards, he returned to Virginia and married Miss Elvina Snidow on Sept. 22, 1886, of Pembroke. They have one son, Herman Walker Snidow, who holds a position with a publishing company in Buffalo, N. Y.

He passed away without a struggle, his mind clear, and only a few minutes before his last, gave expression to his unfailing and abiding faith in his Saviour. He was about 64 years of age at the time of his decease.

C. W. SNIDOW.

Christian Wiley Snidow died at his home at Pembroke, 9 a. m., Oct. 8, 1912. He had no special disease, except the frailties of age, being in his eighty-third year.

"Uncle Wiley" is the last of his generation of the Snidows in Giles county. With his going from us we feel that in some way we sadly let go the only visible chain that connected us with the past.

During his active life he was well known in the circle of stock raisers and dealers. In those days the hospitality of his kind hearted wife, "Aunt Onie" and himself, was unbounded. Truly their "latch string hung on the outside." Especially was this welcome always open to their many nieces and nephews and young people generally. Memories of many pleasant gatherings will be recalled by many readers of this.

In early life he was married to Miss Exonie Turner of Henry County, Va. To them were born seven children. Only two of these were they permitted to keep; five bright, sprightly boys, ranging from two to ten years, were successively called to the heavenly home.

It is with joy we can say, "He died a Christian." About fifteen years ago he became a Christian, uniting with the Lutheran Church of Pembroke, since a very marked change came into his life.

His body was laid to rest in the old Snidow Cemetery on the old homestead farm.

He leaves a daughter, Mrs. John M. Lucas, and eight grand children. Also a son, Jimmie, the afflicted one.

He died in the faith. We will meet again.

AT PEARISBURG HIGH SCHOOL, Tuesday Night, October 15th.

Mr. W. Powell Hale, the impersonator, will give one of his delightful evenings at the Pearisburg High School, Tuesday, October 15th.

To those who heard Mr. Hale two years ago, he needs no introduction. It is the unanimous verdict of all who heard him that his entertainment was one of the best ever given here. Mr. Hale has the endorsement of leading educators of both the North and South.

SOME EXCELLENT ENDORSEMENTS.

Mr. W. Powell Hale, the Impersonator, is not a stranger to the lyceum field in the South. His six years of solid work there have made him a great favorite. The mere mention of his name guarantees crowded houses wherever he goes. In one college town he filled four return dates the same season. We present him in the North with commendable pride. We know his welcome will be generous and general. He fills the program with wit, tragedy, humor and pathos and carries his audience from tears to laughter and from the ridiculous to the sublime in a remarkable manner. His dialects and facial expressions render him the peer of any entertainer on the platform. We guarantee him to give absolute and perfect satisfaction. His monologue, Dickens' "Christmas Carol," has been pronounced by critics to be unsurpassed.

Midland Lyceum Bureau.

We understand that you have arranged with Mr. W. Powell Hale for next season in your circuit, and in this connection we wish to state that Mr. Hale has just completed his second year's work with us to our great satisfaction. Indeed, his work has been more than satisfactory and our committees have been uniformly enthusiastic in their praise, both in regard to his work and to him as a man. He is a thorough Christian gentleman, worthy of all confidence. We congratulate you on having been able to add him to your list of attractions.

Alkahest Lyceum System,
S. Russell Bridges, Pres.

PERSONAL ENDORSEMENTS.

J. Hopwood, President Milligan College—Mr. Hale gave a very delightful entertainment.

H. P. Fitch, Dalton, Ga.—Mr. Hale fully sustained his reputation as one of the finest impersonators on the American platform.

C. S. McClelland, Pastor Heron Avenue Presbyterian Church, Pittsburg, Pa.—I can heartily commend Mr. Hale as an entertainer. I regard his conception and rendition as most excellent.

J. H. Ford, Demorest, Ga.—Mr. Hale gave us a delightful entertainment.

W. G. Templeton, Belton, S. C.—Of the three numbers so far, I believe the last, W. Powell Hale, gave the best satisfaction.

Rev. J. H. Deere, Crawfordsville, Ind.—In his matchless mimicry we saw the several characters of the "Christmas Carol" and heard them speak as though they were actually before us.

Tickets on sale at the Pearisburg Pharmacy. Prices 35 and 25 cents.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

Virginia, in the Circuit Court of Giles county.

New River, Holston & Western Railroad Company, a corporation,
against
Union Tanning Company, a corporation.

Proceedings to Condemn Land for Railroad Purposes.

To Union Tanning Company, a corporation, and to all other parties whom it may concern.

You are hereby notified that the undersigned New River, Holston & Western Railroad Company, a corporation, will on the 1st Day of November, 1912,

apply to the Circuit Court of Giles county, Virginia at the court house of said county, for the appointment of commissioners to ascertain what will be a just compensation for the fee simple estate in the parcel of land hereinafter described and of which the Union Tanning Company, a corporation, is the owner and tenant of the freehold, which parcel of land is proposed to be condemned by the said New River, Holston & Western Railroad Company, for its uses, and to award the damages, if any, resulting to the adjacent and other property of the said owner or to the property of any other person beyond the peculiar benefits that will accrue to such properties respectively from the construction and operation of the said company's works.

The said parcel of land proposed to be condemned as hereinbefore referred to, is situated on the waters of Wolf Creek, near the town of Narrows in Giles county, Va., and is described as follows: Beginning at a point 50 feet from and at right angles to station 30 plus 75 of the centre line of the New River, Holston & Western Railroad as located and constructed, and on the northwest side thereof, thence N. 31 degrees 30 minutes W. 30 feet to a point; thence westwardly on a curve to the left with a radius of 899 feet, a distance of 76 feet to a point; thence S. 31 degrees 30 minutes E. 30 feet to a point 50 feet from and at right angles to station 31 plus 51 of said centre line of said railroad; thence eastwardly on a curve with a radius of 869 feet, a distance of 76 feet to the beginning, containing .052 acres more or less.

A petition for the appointment of such commissioners, and along therewith a plat of the survey of said parcel of land with a profile, showing the cuts and fills, trestles and bridges, and description thereof and also a memorandum, showing the name and residence of the owner of said lands, have been filed in the Clerk's Office of the Circuit Court of Giles county, Virginia, as provided by law.

Will You Spend ONE DOLLAR to Elect Wilson President?

How deep is your conviction that this government ought to be in new hands, in clean hands?

How much are you in favor of a clean slate from Wilson and Marshall clear down the line to the very smallest offices in your locality?

The Democratic National Committee has every reason to believe that every progressive voter is willing to spend a dollar to elect Wilson and Marshall and their ticket.

And that thousands are anxious to contribute to the Wilson Campaign Fund in amounts of $2, $5, $10 and $20.

To such we make our appeal. To such we must look for victory.

Time An Important Factor

This is another case where time is money.

The enemy have their funds—supplied instantly by the Interests.

We have only a few days and contributions to be effective must be received at once.

There is no question of the money of the People being able to defeat the money of the Trusts.

Because it is greater even in volume and will be used in straightforward telling ways.

But to be effective it must be received and used within the next few days.

Quick action is absolutely necessary. Let us have your contribution or the list you make up from your friends and co-workers today if possible, tomorrow sure.

How Your Money Will Be Spent

Woodrow Wilson, our standard bearer, has never had the time or disposition to talk about himself.

He has never used spectacular methods to place himself in the spotlight.

His greatest work has been done without ostentation, in the most expeditious, dignified manner.

The great mass of voters do not know what a really great man Wilson is. They do not know all he has done. They do not understand all the features of his platform. We must tell them.

To educate this great nation of voters, especially the clear thinking Independent Democrats, Republicans and Progressives who choose their leader on his merits, means the expenditure of a vast amount of money.

We propose to use your dollars in just this way—judiciously, and without a penny frittered away for an unnecessary item.

We know you have confidence we will do this thing—and successfully.

Why the Dollar Counts

In this campaign the issues lie between the forces of Representative Government and Popular Government.

In Representative Government only a part of the people have influence—those with no political faith, who spend fortunes in any direction where their own ends are furthered for money.

In Popular Government all the people have influence, because their executives and legislators do not dare to thwart the expressed will of the people.

Representative Government, as ever, this year is being supported by the money of the Interests. It is being spent lavishly to give the voters a wrong impression of Wilson.

Popular Government, this year, to win, must depend on the truth being told about Wilson. We must publish his record and platform broadcast so that no one can controvert it.

Your $1, your $2, your $5, your $10 or $20 will count and count to win if spent in this work.

Head a List For the Fund

If you know several Wilson voters, or work in a place where there are Wilson voters, take up a subscription from all of them.

Place your name and the amount of your subscription at the top of the list and get the others to join you.

Mention the name of this paper on your list.

Then mail the list and contributions to C. R. Crane, Vice Chairman Finance Committee, Democratic National Committee, 900 Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Ill.

This is the most helpful work you, as an individual, can do for clean government next to casting your ballot for Wilson and Marshall on November 5th.

How to Contribute to the Wilson Campaign Fund

Sign the Coupon in this corner and fill in the amount you give. Then attach your Money to this Coupon and mail today to the address given on the Coupon.

Issue all checks, money orders and address all contributions to C. R. Crane, Vice Chairman Finance Committee Democratic National Committee, 900 Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Ill.

Then write a letter to this newspaper giving your name as a contributor and stating your reasons why you believe Woodrow Wilson should be elected President of the United States. In this way you will be listed as a Wilson contributor. A Souvenir Receipt, handsomely lithographed well worth framing, will be sent to you. Your letter will help the fight by encouraging your friends.

Do everything you can to hold up Wilson's hands in his clean campaign for the people who do the work and fighting of the country.

Wilson Stands For a Principle—Will You Stand By Him?

Woodrow Wilson is a vastly different order of man than you find among the ranks of many good men in practical political life.

Woodrow Wilson is not among the great majority of politicians and business men, otherwise estimable characters, who believe that the end justifies the means, who are honest in a commercial or political sense.

The candidate of the progressive voters of the country not only does not believe in the doctrine of "anything to win," but he insists on plain old fashioned honesty in every detail of his campaign.

Woodrow Wilson proposes to win on the merits of his candidacy and platform or not at all.

"Clean hands or no fight" is Wilson's ultimatum to his supporters throughout the country.

No Tainted Money For Wilson

Not a dollar of questionable money will be spent to elect Woodrow Wilson.

The Democratic National Committee is heart and soul in accord with the candidate's views.

And the corrupting influences, with no political faith, casting about to win a foothold in the new government with bribes of ill-gotten gains, have despaired of reaching Wilson or his campaigners.

They have gone to the enemy, whoever that enemy may be. It is a matter of common knowledge that the "Interests" are using all their political funds to defeat Wilson.

This makes it your fight.

What the American People Need to Know

The people have constantly made the mistake of believing that this is a money-ridden nation.

Such is only the case insofar as the People fail to get together and so permit the few to control the dishonest representatives they, by mistake, elect to office.

The actual money power of the People is still greater than that of the Interests.

The Progressive People of the country, if they get together, can buy and sell the Corrupting Influences and destroy their financial power.

So Woodrow Wilson and his managers believe that not only is it the only clean method but the most practical method for the Progressive People of the country to supply the Woodrow Wilson Campaign Fund.

The People to Fight With THEIR Dollars

This year a popular president is to be elected with the People's money.

The Woodrow Wilson Campaign Fund is to be collected from the rank and file of the Progressive Voters of the country.

The bills of the Democratic National Committee are to be paid, not with the thousands of the Interests, but with the individual dollars of the earnest, eager voters who desire clean, efficient government and who are willing to help Wilson as he wants to be helped.

Money thus needed is not spent in improper ways or in any manner similar to the way in which the funds of the Interests are disbursed.

But we have to tell the voters of the country about Woodrow Wilson. We have to tell them what he has done. We have to tell them what he stands for. We have to point out to them the important planks in his platform. All this means that to hold up our end we will be obliged to spend as much money as those who oppose us.

This means that every man or woman who believes in Wilson should be willing to contribute to his cause.

Let the supporters of Wilson help us to spread the Wilson gospel to the four winds.

Let the Progressive Voters battle this year with their pocketbooks as well as their ballots.

We Solicit Popular Subscriptions—Can You Give From $1 to $20?

Of course, you can—and you are glad to support the cause in this way.

Practically every voter can afford to give $1 to aid the Wilson Campaign. A great many can give $2. A great many can give $5. And there are lots and lots of progressive voters who will be eager to donate from $10 to $20.

These are the kind of contributions we want.

And we will be proud to receive from thousands, who can only afford $1, their $1 contributions. We want to hear from every man who has a dollar to give.

This year the man with the dollar must defeat the government traducer who spends his thousands.

Get Club Subscriptions

If you know many Wilson men, if you work among many Wilson men, head a list with your name and money and get the others to join you with their subscriptions.

Then send your list with the money to C. R. Crane, Vice Chairman, Finance Committee, Democratic National Committee, 900 Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois.

No loyal Wilson man can do more than this to assure Wilson's victory at the polls in November.

How to Contribute to the Wilson Campaign Fund

Sign the Coupon opposite and fill in the amount you give. Then attach your money to this Coupon and mail today to the address given on the Coupon.

Issue all checks, money orders and address all contributions to C. R. Crane, Vice Chairman, Finance Committee, Democratic National Committee, 900 Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Ill.

BOOST THE SOUTH.

How You Can Help Build Up Your Own Section.

This office is just in receipt of a very attractive issue of the Southern Homeseeker and Investors Guide, a magazine sent out all over the United States to people who inquire about Virginia, North Carolina and the South. The magazine is handsomely illustrated with half tone cuts and colored covers, and contains mineral and timber possibilities of the Southern States, tributary to the Norfolk & Western Railway lines. Mr. F. H. LaBaume, Agr'l & Inds'l Agent of the Norfolk & Western Railway, under whose auspices it is published, advises that he will be glad to send a copy of the magazine, with other literature, to any address if the names are sent him by our readers, who have friends in the West that they would like to interest in the South and its possibilities. Let us remember that the way to build up the South is to tell our friends who live in other sections of the country about the advantages that we enjoy. The Railways spend thousands of dollars advertising for just this purpose and if our own people will furnish the names of friends and relatives who have gone West in former years, or who have never had the privilege of living in the South, then they will be glad to send them literature and use their best endeavors in trying to locate them in Southern territory.

Mr. LaBaume also advises that he will be glad at any time to receive articles of interest regarding farm successes, business developments, successful fruit growing, new mining, timber or industrial enterprises, also short stories that are redolent of Southern atmosphere. He will also be glad to receive photographs, and those that are accepted will be used in future issues of their publication. The Railroads are trying to do a work that is needed in the South. They solicit the assistance of all individuals who are interested with them in seeing the South grow and expand at a rate to which its natural advantages entitle it. The Western Railways have been spending millions of dollars for years to induce people from the East to migrate Westward, and the whole South has lost thousands of young men and women, the very cream of her population, who have gone to Texas, California, Oklahoma, Montana and a dozen other Western States and helped build them up to a state of highest prosperity. We in the South have been sitting idly by and seeing this Western immigration wave increase in size without taking any effective means of stopping it. Here is a chance to do something. Write Mr. LaBaume at Roanoke, right now and send him some names and other information.

MERITORIOUS.

Seldom has it been our pleasure to hear a short introductory speech with greater pleasure than on last Saturday when our young friend, Frank Johnston, of the Pearisburg High School, introduced Senator Swanson on the occasion of the political speaking here on that day. We fully expected him to do his part handsomely, but to so completely capture the audience, as he did, was more than a pleasure and was indeed gratifying to his many friends.

MARRIED AT SOUTH BOSTON.

Stafford-McDowell.

To the many friends of our townsman and popular Tonsorial Artist, Mr. Jess Stafford, the news of his marriage will be a pleasant surprise.

At the home of the bride's father, Mr. Thos. A. McDowell of South Boston, Va., on Tuesday the 15th of October, 1912, at 7 a m., Mr. J. W. Stafford of this place, was united in marriage to Miss Sallie McDowell by Rev. —— Mitchell. The interesting ceremony was witnessed by a select assemblage of relatives and invited guests. The happy couple arrived here Tuesday night.

The groom was accompanied on his wedding tour by his sister, Miss Bessie Stafford.

This marriage was peculiarly interesting because the bride, bridegroom and officiating clergyman are all deaf mutes, and the ceremony was performed by the sign language used by them in communicating their thoughts.

We extend heartiest and sincerest congratulations with best wishes for their future happiness and prosperity.

TERRY-JOHNSTON.

Miss Annie Johnston of Oakvale, W. Va., and Mr. Eustace I Terry of Peterstown, W. Va., were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents, Mr and Mrs. D. Andrew Johnston, at 2:30 p. m., Thursday, October 10, 1912, Rev. J. B. Chambers officiating.

The wedding was very quiet, only relatives and a few special friends being present. Among the guests were:

Mr. and Mrs Eugene Williams of Chicago; Mr and Mrs. Clayton Terry of Salem; Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Rhodes, Mrs. Halligan, L T Cadle of Bluefield; Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Guinn, Mr. and Mrs Geo. W. Shumate, Miss Ella Shumate of Rich Creek; Mrs. Una Burton, sister of the groom, Graham; Mr. and Mrs. Chas French of Narrows; Miss Savannah Hearn of Oakvale; Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Adair of Lurich; J. Raleigh Johnston of Bluff City; Messrs. Hester, Callaway, Vines, Chambers, Frank Hansbarger and Mrs. Lem Chandler of Peterstown.

The presents were handsome, a great many pieces of cut glass, silver, linen and also a number of checks.

Mr. and Mrs. Terry left for New York and Niagara Falls and will be at home at Peterstown, W. Va., after Oct. 20th.

The VIRGINIAN joins the host of friends in wishing them a long life of happiness.

INTERMENT OF MRS. SALLIE JOHNSTON, WIFE OF THE LATE STUART JOHNSTON.

Mrs. Sallie Foote Johnston was born in Pulaski County, Va, July 20, 1837, aged 75 years. She was the third daughter of S. C. and Paulina Foote. She was married to M. Stuart Johnston in Oct. '61. Her husband died July 6, 1905.

On last Friday, October 11th at 11 a. m., in the Methodist church of this place, Rev. Painter of Athens, W. Va., assisted by the pastors of our town conducted the funeral service of Mrs. Sallie Johnston a former resident of this county, but for many years she had made her home at Athens, W. Va.

Mrs. Johnston, when a resident of our town was strongly affiliated with the organizations of her church, her zeal in the cause of missions, being a great inspiration to the members of the Missionary Society. Wherever she resided she left a strong impress for Christianity.

On the morning of October 10th the end came to this good lady at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Holroyd of Athens, W. Va. "Like a sheaf ripe unto the harvest she was gathered into the garner of the saved."

By the side of her husband, who some years ago preceded her, she was laid to rest in our beautiful Eastside Cemetery.

Mrs. Johnston was a sister of Mr. J. D. Foote of our county, and was closely related to a great many of our most prominent people. She is survived by two sons and three daughters: Messrs. Chas. Johnston, Princeton, W. Va., Foote Johnston, Huntington, W. Va., Mesdames Holroyd and J. C Higginbotham, Athens, W. Va., and Mrs. J. C. Pack, Bramwell, W. Va.

The children were all here except one, who is at home in Huntington, caring for his wife in extreme illness.

PACK-ECHOLS.

On Wednesday at high noon a pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Echols, near Boyd's Chapel, when their daughter, Miss Mabel, was united in marriage to Mr. Alonzo Pack of Pearisburg, a fine young man of sterling qualities and who is liked by all who knew him. Miss Mabel is a popular young lady and her social circle regrets to lose her.

On account of the illness of the bride's father and sister, only the immediate families and a few friends were invited.

The wedding party consisted of the bride and groom, Miss Bessie Pack and Mr. Carl Echols and Miss Lillian Porterfield and Mr. Frank Johnson.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. L. Snead, pastor of Methodist church.

A wedding luncheon was served to all present, after which the wedding party were driven to Pembroke where the bride and groom boarded a train for Eastern points.

They will stop off in Roanoke to see the bride's sister, Miss Ruby Echols, who is ill at the Jefferson Hospital.

The young couple were in receipt of quite a number of useful and valuable presents among them being cut glass and silver ware.

They will visit some of the interesting cities of the State and will be at their new home in Princeton after November 1st.

SUNDAY SCHOOLS OF SOUTHWEST VIRGINIA.

Convention of all Denominations Will be Held in November at Pulaski.

A Sunday School convention of all denominations for the eighteen counties west of Roanoke will be held at Pulaski, November 20 and 21. It will be in charge of the State Sunday School Association, and will be in every respect equal to the regular state convention of this association. A strong program is now being arranged, and already there has been secured an exceptionally strong list of speakers.

Any Sunday School workers of the territory mentioned may attend, and will be welcomed and entertained as a delegate. Nine of the counties now have county Sunday School Associations, and it is hoped that the convention will result in the organization of others.

New River, Holston & Western Railroad Company, a corporation.
against
Union Tanning Comp-ny, a corporation.
Proceedings to Condemn Land for Railroad Purposes.
To Union Tanning Company, a corporation, and to all other parties whom it may concern.

You are hereby notified that the undersigned New River, Holston & Western Railroad Company, a corporation, will on the 1st Day of November, 1912,

apply to the Circuit Court of Giles county, Virginia at the court house of said county, for the appointment of commissioners to ascertain what will be a just compensation for the fee simple estate in the parcel of land hereinafter described and of which the Union Tanning Company, a corporation, is the owner and tenant of the freehold, which parcel of land is proposed to be condemned by the said New River, Holston & Western Railroad Company, for its uses, and to award the damages, if any, resulting to the adjacent and other property of the said owner or to the property of any other person beyond the peculiar benefit that will accrue to such properties respectively from the construction and operation of the said company's works.

The said parcel of land proposed to be condemned as hereinbefore referred to is situated on the waters of Wolf Creek, near the town of Narrows in Giles county, Va., and is described as follows: Beginning at a point 50 feet from and at right angles to station 30 plus 75 of the centre line of the New River, Holston & Western Railroad as located and constructed, and on the northwest side thereof, thence N. 31 degrees 30 minutes W. 30 feet to a point; thence westwardly on a curve to the left with a radius of 899 feet, a distance of 76 feet to a point; thence S. 31 degrees 30 minutes E. 30 feet to a point 50 feet from and at right angles to station 31 plus 51 of said centre line of said railroad; thence eastwardly on a curve with a radius of 869 feet, a distance of 76 feet to the beginning, containing .052 acres more or less.

A petition for the appointment of such commissioners, and along therewith a plat of the survey of said parcel of land with a profile, showing the cuts and fills, trestles and bridges, and a description thereof and also a memorandum, showing the name and residence of the owner of said lands, have been filed in the Clerk's Office of the Circuit Court of Giles county, Virginia, as provided by law.

Agers' Jail Record.

From a correspondent in Southwest Virginia we have an enquiry as to the facts of the imprisonment of Gen. Rufue A. Ayers, Democratic nominee for the congress in the Ninth District.

Once in Charleston, S. C., a local wag fell in with a stranger at a ball of the St. Cecelia Society, the most exclusive social organization on earth. The local man began to discourse of the sad decadence of Charleston Society. Pointing out a young gentleman on the floor, he said: "That man is mingling with the best people, although his great grandfather was hanged right here in Charleston." But the shocked visitor discovered later that the citizens who had been hanged was of the very cream of South Carolina and was executed by the British because of his fidelity to the cause of his countryman in the revolutionary war. Therefore his decendants carried no stigma because of his fate.

Gen. Ayers' case is something like that. The general has a jail record, but is earned for him the formal thanks of the general assembly of Virginia and he is not ashamed.

Briefly, the facts are that certain English holders of past due interest coupons, cut from Virginia State bonds, were trying to force the State to accept the coupons in payment for taxes. The statement to the court showed that one Hooper and others in London had bought for $30,000 coupons of the face value of $100,000 which they undertook to sell at large profit to Virginia tax payers. Obviously, if the coupons had been held good for taxes the State would have collected no money and would have been starved to death and reduced to bankruptcy. About $4,000,000 of her over due coupons were outstanding. In 1887 the general assembly adopted a "coupon killer" act, requiring persons who tendered coupons for taxes to give certain evidence of the validity of the coupons, which it was impossible to give, and instruching the State's law officers to proceed by summary process to collect taxes from persons who presented coupons and failed to tender the legal proof that they were valid. Under this order, Gen. Ayers, then attorney general proceeded to sue the Baltimore and Ohia railroad for taxes due and unpaid. The United States Circuit Court, Judge Hugh L. Bond, issued an injunction forbidding him from prosecuting that suit. He disregarded the injunction. Thereupon he was summond to show cause why he should not be punished for contempt of court. He replied disclaiming purpose to be disrespectful to the court but saying he refused to obey its injunction because he believed it had no jurisdiction and because he was acting as required by act of the general assembly of the sovereign Commonwealth of Virginia. He was fined $500, refused to pay it and was committed to the custody of a Tnited States mashall. It is not recorded whether he actually "played checkers with his nose on the big casino"—which is the technical description used by the criminal classes for an unfortunate gentleman looking throught the lattice work of a jail window—but he was deprived of his liberty and made a prisoner.

He appealed to the supreme court of the United States on haboas corpus proceedings. He was committed in October, 1887, and his case was heard in November of the same year. He was represented by and associated with W. W. Gordon, Chas. V. Meridith, J. Randolph Tucker and Roscoe Conkling. The supreme court sustained his position, vindicated the rights of Virginia, for which he stood, and ordered his release. It ruled that his contention that the United States courts had no jurisdiction in the matter was right; and that as the application for injunction virtually was a suit against a sovereign State, it was in violation of the constitution and the guaranteed rights of the States. It was one of the most important and critical cases ever tried in this country. The result brought about by Gen. Ayers' firm stand and his knowledge of the principles of the law, was one of the first checks to the encroachments of the United States and its courts against the rights of the States and to intrusion by those courts upon the affairs of the States. The quick and decisive declaration from the highest court of the land saved Virginia from bankruptcy and her people from great distress and misery. While Gen. Ayers was not hanged, as was the Charleston man referred to above, he was as ready as that martyr to offer himself as a sacrifice for the liberty, rights and welfare of his people and is fully entitled to public gratitude and honored remembrance. He earned well the puclic thanks he received from the general assembly—an honor accorded to few men in the history of Virginia. He proved himself to be a faithful, wise and brave servant and officer of Commonwealth and people.

When a man has been tested and has rung true he is the right kind of a man to trust. We think our Southwest correspondent who asked the question will agree in that conclusion. If he will consider the facts he will decide that Gen. Ayers is a mighty good, and safe man to represent the district in the congress and will only go to the polls and vote for him but give a few days of active work to induce every other voter in the neighborhood to do likewise.

A SUPLUS INSTEAD OF A DEFICIT.

The state is to be congratulated at her financial showing at the close of the fiscal year ending Sept. 30th. The deficit has been wiped out, and now for the first time in three years, everything has been paid, everything provided for, and there is an actual balance in the treasury.

Even official salaries for Sept. has been paid and charge up in the settlement for the year ending Sept. 30th, contrary to the usual custom of paying these September salaries on the first of October and charging them against the revenues of the year beginning that day. We strart out this year with a clean slate, and an actual balance. It is not large, but the fall payments into the treasury will soon give us a heavy surpius with which to begin the fiscal year.

There was an increase in the revenues of the year just ended of nearly a half million dollars over those of the year before. This is not due to any improved system of taxation. Unfortunately, efforts to adopt a better system failed at the last session of the legislation. The increase, therefore, was due to the increase in taxable values; to increase in the wealth of the state, and, in spite of the wretched, cumber some, inequitable system of taxation under which we labor, that works gave injustice upon many, apportions unequally the burdens of taxation, and yields a minimum of revenue, to a maximum of cost of collection.

Let us earnestly trusts that the next legislation will address itself rather to the task of simplifying our system of taxation and equalizing its burdens, rather than to the task of spending the supius that we may now with confidence expect.—News Leader.

In a reckless race with another automobile on 33rd st., Philadelphia, about midnight last Saturday night, a big touring car driven by young Elgar Shaw, collided with a car standing on the curb, was whirled to right angles and dashed over the 33rd street bridge, falling 75 feet to the rocks below. The nine young men in the car were all killed. Shaw was the son of a wealthy lumber merchant.

Virginia Farmers Facing New Era.

Henry G. Stuart Tells of His Own Conversion to Modern Farm Methods--Says Dark Days of Agriculture Are Passed.

Richmond, Va., Oct., 12—"Gone forever are the dark days of agriculture in Virginia. After forty years of hard times for the farmers, we have entered upon a new era." So said Henry C Stuart last night, addressing an audience of farm demonstrators and others interested in agriculture, which crowded the floor of the Senate chamber.

Mr. Stuart indorsed in highest terms the work done by T. O Sandy and his men, who go about telling the farmer how to raise two blades of grass where one grew before. He also praised the work of Governor Mann in focusing attention upon agriculture.

As a director of the State Fair Association, Mr. Stuart pledged his best efforts to secure for exhibit purposes a building commensurate with the importance of the work being done by the demonstrators. He went further, and said he would do his best to reward the farmers a little more and "bobtailed horses a little less."

Real Cause of High Prices.

The high cost of living, with the various remedies proposed, was the text of Mr. Stuart's address. He said the constant immigration, mainly of consumers, with the drift from the country to centres of population, resulting in an increase in the consuming class and a decrease in the consuming class and a decrease in producers, was the real cause of the high cost of living. The colution was to increase the production of the producer.

"We know now," said Mr. Stuart, "that the yield of the average farm can be practically and probably doubled. I would not say so if I had not done it myself. For many years I went along, content to make forty bushels of corn and fifteen bushels of wheat to the acre, until I found that others were doing far better than I. For years I had been following in the old paths, passing by the writings of men who were leading in new things as the work of theorists. Now, having learned better things, I make eighty bushels of corn where I made forty before; I make twenty, twenty five and even thirty bushels of wheat on land where formerly I made twelve to fifteen. Instead of one ton of hay to the acre, I have a yield of two and two and a half tons. All this is done with little increase in the cost of labor, so that I can get the additional corn, for instance, at a cost of ten to twelve cents the bushel."

Salvation for Boys.

Above all, however, Mr. Stuart placed the good of the boys. With machinery which has removed drudgery, there was no longer a good reason, in his opinion, why the boys should not earn his living in the field. "Instead of wearing a cap and a cigarette, let him wear overalls. He will be more of a gentleman and have more respect for himself. Let him co-operate with his father to get the best results from the land. It will mould his character, develop good habits, and he will make far more money than in city pursuits. It is high time we were teaching our boys that if they earn money in any way save by the sweat of their brow, they are not entitled to the distinction which the community has to offer.

"Far better than a check for $100,000 when the boy becomes twenty-one is a good constitution, good morals, a love of the farm and a knowledge of how to make the most of it."

T. O. Sandy addressed the forty-five demonstration agents briefly, saying that the exhibits at the State Fair are fully fifty per cent better than were those of last year.

"I am more impressed, every day that I live," said Mr. Sandy, "with the importance of this work. I believe it to be the greatest work that ever touched the people of this State."

DEMOCRACY'S TARIFF PLANK.

The representatives of the Democratic party of the United States, in National Conventien assembled at Baltimore, declared it to be a fundamental principal of the party that the federal government under the constitution has no right or power to impose or collect tariff duties, except for the purpose of revenue, and demanded that the collection of such taxes shall be limited to the necessities of government honestly and economically administered.

After denouncing the high Republican tariff as a system of taxation which makes the rich richer and the poor poorer, the convention adopted a tariff plank which of necessity must commend itself to the thoughtful voter and on which the party's nominees, Wilson-Marshall-Ayers, stand squarely. The plank is as follows:

We favor the immedite downward revision of the existing high and in many cases prohibitive tariff duties, insisting that material reductions be speedily made upon the necessaries of life. Articles entering into competition with trust-controlled products and articles of American manufacture which are sold abroad more cheaply than at home should be put upon the free list.

We recognize that our system of tariff taxation is intimately connected with the business of the country and we favor the ultimate attainment of the principles we advocate by ligislation that will not injure or destroy legitimate industry.

We denounce the action of President Taft in vetoing the bills to reduce the tariff in the cotton, woolen, metals and chemical schedules and the Farmers' Free List bill, all of which were designed to give immediate relief to the masses from the exactions of the trusts.

The Republican party, while promising tariff revision, has shown by its tariff legislation that such revision is not to be in the people's interest; and having been faithless to its pledges of 1908, it should no longer enjoy the confidence of the nation. We appeal to the American people to support us in our demand for a tariff for revenue only.

The high cost of living is a serious problem in every American home. The Republice party, in its platform, attemps to escape from reponsibility for present conditions by denying that they are due to a protective tariff. We take issue with them on this subject and charge that excessive prices result in a large measure from the high tariff laws enacted and maintained by the Republican party and from trusts and commercial conspiracies fostered and encouraged by such laws, and we assert that no substantial relief can be secured for the people until import duties on the necessaries of life are materially reduced and these criminal conspiracies broken up.

"Let the young man about town out of a job try a year on the farm. Plowing behind a mule will give him an entirely new constitution, take the kinks out of his head and the frog out of his throat, the gas out of his stomach, the weakness out of his legs, the corns off his toes and give him a good appetite, a honest living and a sight of heaven."—The Blue Ridge Guide.

J. W. Copeland of Dayton, Ohio, purchased a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for his boy who had a cold, and before the bottle was all used the boy's cold was gone. Is that not better than to pay a five dollar doctor's bill? For sale by all druggists.

A Southern aviator who jumped from a biplane proved that it cannot be successfully done.—Pittsburgh Dispatch.

When you have a bad cold you want the best medicine obtainable so as to cure it with as little delay as possible. Here is a druggist's opinion: "I have sold Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for fifteen years," says Enos Lollar of Saratoga, Ind., "and consider it the best on the market." For sale by all druggists.

Wilbur Wright left an estate valued at $275,000, whereas all the other highflies usually die broke—Washington Post.

Here is a woman who speaks from personal knowledge and long experience, viz., Mrs. P. H. Brogan of Wilson, Pa., who says, "I know from experience that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is far superior to any other. For croup there is nothing that excels it." For sale by all druggists.

W. D. Pearson informs us that he and W. R. Bracey last Friday saw an apple tree on the farm of Miles Snodgrass near Goodwin's Ferry, that Mr. Kerr said measured 9 ft. around the body. Also they saw an apple tree that measured 7 ft. on Mr. Kerr's farm.

George Suggs and Mr. Benton of Kinston, N. C, the two star pitchers for Cincinnati Reds, were visiting Misses Winnie Suggs and Mary Woolwine, first of the week. These young ladies attended the ball game at Charleston, W. Va., last week and saw these young gentlemen win the games.

Rev. M. W. Royall has received a letter from his former field in Roanoke county, asking him to accept a call, and also what salary he would come for. This is a compliment to Bro. Royall, but we don't believe the people would like to give him up as he is a faithful worker, and liked by all denominations.

We had the pleasure last Friday of visiting the thriving town of Newport, in company with Messrs. C. L. King, A. E. Shumate, R. Allen Brown, W. H. Snidow, R. P. Johnston and Gen. Ayers. We made the trip in Messrs King and Shumate autos. We had a good dinner at Newport Inn, mingled with the good people of Newport and came back well pleased with our trip.

THE NEED OF A HIGH SCHOOL AT EGGLESTON.

We are in receipt of a rather lengthy article from Eggleston in regard to the need of a high school at that place. We considered the article a little too personal for publication; but we are very much in sympathy with the young writer, and we believe as he does, that Eggleston should maintain a first class high school.

We hope the citizens will not only agitate but promptly take the necessary steps to secure a high school second to none in the county.

KENNETH-MYERS.

Mr. Thos. J. Kenneth and Miss Callie Myers, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Myers of this place, were united in marriage Wednesday evening, Oct. 16th, at 8.30 p. m.; Rev. W. B. Belchee performed the interesting ceremony in the presence of a number of friends and relatives.

Mr. Kenneth holds an important position in Roanoke, where they will make their home. Miss Callie is one of our most popular young ladies.

The VIRGINIAN joins in with a host of friends who wish them much happiness through life.

AYERS IN GILES.

General Rufus A. Ayers, the Democratic Nominee for Congress in the Ninth District, spoke at several points in the county Thursday and Friday, the 17th and 18th, in interest of his candidacy.

Gen Ayers spoke at Narrows, Thursday night, at Newport, Friday afternoon, and at Pembroke, Friday night. He was greeted by good crowds at all three places.

We had the pleasure of hearing him at Newport. He was introduced in a few appropriate words by the Hon. V. K. Porterfield.

Gen. Ayers presented the issues of the day in a clear and forcible manner. He discussed the tariff, which he said was the great issue of the campaign, in a logical and convincing way. Those who were so fortunate as to hear Gen. Ayers were greatly impressed with his earnestness in securing pure elections in the Ninth.

MONTAGUE AT EGGLESTON.

Ex-Governor A J. Montague spoke at Eggleston, Saturday afternoon. There had been considerable misunderstanding and for that reason Gov. Montague, who has always been popular in this county, was only greeted by a fair crowd.

He spoke for an hour and a half in his usual clear, logical and convincing manner on the leading issues of the campaign.

Mr. Wm. Gibboney introduced Mr. Montague in a few appropriate words.

BLUEFIELD TO HAVE BIG AVIATION MEETING THREE DAYS.

October 31st, Nov. 1st and 2nd.

The Chambers of Commerce of Bluefield have made arrangements to bring Aviator, Oscar Brindley here for three days. Mr. Brindley is one of the World's greatest flyers, and holds several records to his credit. Up until a few weeks ago Aviator Brindley held the World's altitude record, during his flights here he will try to get this record back. All of the sensational flying known to Aviation, such as cross country flying, altitude climbing, vol-planing and the wonderful glides, dips, and the sensational spiral glide will be preformed by the bird man.

The Merchants of Bluefield are making great preparations, and it is expected that thousands of people will take advantage of this opportunity to come into the city.

The first flight will take place about three o'clock, and the second one will be a short time after. This will give all out of town visitors ample time to reach Bluefield, witness the flight, and return home again.

CARD OF THANKS.

This is to thank each friend and the kind strangers who in any way assisted us in our sad journey to Pearisburg.

Our sadness is lessened as we know that our dear mother now lies by Father's side, among the friends of other days, and in the shadow of the mountains they both loved. May God bless and ever keep those who made us realize as never before the sentiment of the beautiful song, "Blest be the tie that binds."

W. P. COWLING CRUSHED TO DEATH UNDER ENGINE.

A disastrous accident occurred Sunday morning when No. 15 West bound train was wrecked near Coopers, West of Bluefield, in which Engineer W. P. Cowling of Bluefield, was crushed to death beneath his engine. He had been running on the Norfolk & Western as engineer for 23 years and was considered as one of the very best on the road. He was a man of high standing among the railway people and had been a member of Grace Methodist church for a number of years. He came to this city from his home at Ingleside about 1887, when Bluefield was a mere village, and since that time he had made his home here. The deceased was forty-eight years of age and is survived by a widow and eight children, the oldest being nineteen years old, is a daughter, Mrs Caperton, who has only been married a short time, and now resides in Princeton.

Mr. Cowling married Miss Sallie Douthat of this place.

Four postal clerks injured, as well as a number of other people.

Ellen Jones (col.) of this place, who was on her way to Ohio, was among the injured, back hurt and arm sprained.

RECEPTION.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel H. Pack entertained at their home on Oct. 12th, in honor of their son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Lon Pack.

The home was tastefully decorated with autumn leaves and cut flowers.

A six o'clock dinner was served consisting of meats, salads, pickles and deserts.

Those present were as follows: Mr. and Mrs. Gooch Pack of Colorado Springs, Col.; Mesdames Katie Bettis, French Pack and daughter of Blacksburg; Miss Lillian Porterfield and Karl Echols of Newport; Aubry and Frank Brown of Cashmere, W. Va; Brown Felty of Roanoke; Misses Emma Carper, Lula, Bessie and Minnie Johnston, Messrs. John H. Givens, Frank Carper, Lacy and Frank Johnston of Pearisburg.

ONE WHO WAS PRESENT.

DEATH OF MR. W. K. BROOKS.

Bristol, Va., Oct 18—W. K. Brooks, 76 years of age, and one of the most prominent and wealthy residents of Glade Spring, Va, died suddenly there this morning. He was up early and went down town feeling apparently better than usual. Soon after the breakfast hour, he was discussing the political situation on the streets, a group of friends being around him. He was laughing and joking about the Bull Moose party and other features of the campaign. He turned to go to his home, and had but reached the porch when death struck him. He called for help, sank down in a rocking chair on the porch and was dead in a few seconds

The death produced a profound shock in the community, where Mr. Brooks had spent so many years of his life. He had not only accumulated considerable wealth, but had on one occasion represented Washington county in the Virginia house of delegates.

Mr. Brooks at one time lived at Staffordsville in this county.

TO THE TEACHERS OF GILES COUNTY.

Every teacher now employed in the public schools of Giles county is expected to be present at the Annual Association at Narrows, November 15th and 16th.

Arrangements have been made whereby all teachers so attending and answering roll-call on both days will be paid for the Friday so used as if they had taught. Any teacher failing, refusing, or neglecting so to attend will be subject to a $5 00 forfeiture from salary, unless a most satisfactory excuse in writing is duly filed with the secretary of the Association.

The purpose of these meetings is to acquaint our teachers with the very best possible methods, and to bring about a greater uniformity of school work throughout the county; hence the necessity for every teacher to be in strict attendance to help or to be helped.

In addition to our own good teachers we expect the presence of some of Virginia's leading educators, and this promises to be one of the very best meetings we have ever had.

Very respectfully yours,
C. A. HARDWICK, Div. Supt.

SMITHVILLE.

Prof. Floyd S. Williams of Newport, the well known vocalist, is conducting a singing school at this place. We predict a wonderful success.

As the Sherry Memorial class is helping along with it and they are all talented singers, the material of Smith town is more than an average, the two classes will give a box supper at the Sherry Memorial Church next Saturday 26th at 5 o'clock p. m. Everybody is cordially invited to attend. Immediately after the summer, there will be rendered musical solos, duets and quartettes, etc. This will no doubt close the singing at both places for this season. So everybody must come out if they want to get good full boxes and hear plenty of good music

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

Virginia, in the Circuit Court of Giles county.

New River, Holston & Western Railroad Company, a corporation,
against
Union Tanning Company, a corporation, Central Leather Company, a corporation, and United States Leather Company, a corporation.

Proceedings to Condemn Land for Railroad Purposes.

To Union Tanning Company, a corporation, Central Leather Company, a corporation, United States Leather Company, a corporation, and to all other persons whom it may concern.

You are hereby notified that the undersigned New River, Holston & Western Railroad Company, a corporation, will on the 1st Day of November, 1912,

apply to the Circuit Court of Giles county, Virginia, at the court house of said county, for the appointment of commissioners to ascertain what will be a just compensation for the fee simple estate in the parcel of land hereinafter described and of which the Union Tanning Company, a corporation, Central Leather Company, a corporation, and United States Leather Company, a corporation, are now the owners and tenants of the freehold, which parcel of land is proposed to be condemned by the said New River, Holston & Western Railroad Company for its uses, and to award the damages, if any, resulting to the adjacent and other property of the said owners or to the property of any other persons beyond the peculiar benefits that will accrue to such properties respectively from the construction and operation of the said company's works.

The said parcel of land proposed to be condemned as aforesaid is situated on the North bank of Wolf creek near the town of Narrows in Giles county, Va., and is described as follows: A strip of land 200 feet in width, that is to say 100 feet on each side of the centre line of the New River, Holston & Western Railroad as located and constructed, from the point where the said railroad connects with Norfolk & Western Railway Company's main line at station O of said N. R., H. & W. Railroad, mile post 534 plus 12 of said Norfolk & Western Railway as measured from Norfolk, to station 12 plus 62 of said New River, Holston & Western Railroad, and 100 feet in width, that is to say 50 feet on each side of said centre line of said New River, Holston & Western Railroad as located and constructed from said station 21 plus 62 to station 49 plus 00, equal to station 27 plus 62 of said company's tannery branch, and being on the land of the said Union Tanning Company, a corporation, Central Leather Company, a corporation, and United States Leather Company, a corporation, lying within said strip and included between two parallel lines, one on each side of the said centre line of said New River, Holston & Western Railroad, as located and constructed and each distant 100 feet from sidecentre line, from said station O to said station 27 plus 62 thereof, and each distant 50 feet from said centre line from said station 27 plus 62 to said station 49 plus 00, said centre line of the said railroad is particularly described as follows: Beginning at the point 534 plus 12 from Norfolk, of the Norfolk & Western Railway, said point being designated as station O of the New River, Holston & Western Railroad; thence on a 7 degrees and 23 minutes curve to the right, 72 feet to station 1 plus 29 P. T.; thence S. 3 degrees 28 minutes W. 52 feet to P. C. at station 1 plus 61; thence on a 12 degrees curve to the left, 178 feet to P. T. at station 3 plus 39; thence S. 17 degrees 46 minutes W. 79 feet to P. C. at station 4 plus 18; thence on a 10 degrees curve to the right, 142.7 feet to P. T. at station 5 plus 60.7; thence S. 3 degrees 30 minutes W., 511.3 feet to P. C. at station 10 plus 72; thence on an 8 degrees curve to the right, 250 feet to P. T. at station 13 plus 21; thence S. 12 degrees 13 minutes W. 199 feet to P. C. at station 15 plus 21; thence on a 10 degrees curve to the left, 120 feet to P. T. at station 16 plus 41; thence S. 5 degrees 13 minutes W. 169 feet to P. C. at station 18 plus 10; thence on a 5 degrees curve to the right, 115 feet to P. C. at station 19 plus 25; thence on a 7 degrees curve to the right, 357 feet to P. T. at station 22 plus 82; thence S. 74 degrees 58 minutes W. 111 feet to P. C. at station 28 plus 75; thence on a 7 degrees curve to the left, 600 feet to P. T. at station 32 plus 75; thence S. 46 degrees 58 minutes W. 241.3 feet to P. C. at station 35 plus 56.5; thence on an 8 degrees curve to the left, 343.5 feet to P. T. at station 38; thence S. 27 degrees 28 minutes W. 652 feet to P. C. at station 44 plus 52; thence on a 4 degrees curve to the right, 286.7 feet to P. T. at station 47 plus 39; thence S. 39 degrees 8 minutes W. 181.2 feet to station 49, being equal to station 27 plus 29.5 of the tannery branch of the said New River, Holston & Western Railroad; said strip or parcel of land containing in the aggregate 16 acres more or less.

A petition for the appointment of such commissioners and together therewith a plat of the survey with a profile, showing the cuts and fills, trestles and bridges and a description of said parcel of land and a memorandum, showing the names and residences of the owners thereof, have been filed in the Clerk's Office of the Circuit Court of Giles county, Va., as provided by law.

High Cost of Living.

The Whole Story Told In Plain Figures and Brief Paragraphs for the Busy Voters.

The "High Cost of Living" is made to order.

Prices are not fixed by competition, or by the law of supply and demand, but by private understandings.

There can be no relief until import duties on the necessities of life are materially reduced and criminal conspiracies are broken up.

Republican "protection" is for the favored classes, for the manufacturers and the owners of big industries. It does not go into the pay envelope of the employee, and can never be put there. Colonel Roosevelt admits he was wrong in claiming benefits of protection for labor. He now proposes to see that the workingman shall receive the tariff benefits, but he should remember that—

Wage earners of highly protected industries receive LESS PAY than those in unprotected industries.

Iron and steel workers received in 1909 only one-seventh of the total value of their products. If the average protective duty of 38.59 per cent. was distributed in the same proportion there was $6 of protection for manufacturers and $1 of protection for workers.

In 1910, out of 37.380,460 employees, only 1,372,381, or 3.64 per cent., might have been benefited by protective duties. The rest were robbed by the system.

THE PRESENT COST OF PROTECTION TO AMERICAN CONSUMERS THROUGH INCREASED PRICES IS AT LEAST $2.570,000,000 ANNUALLY.

During a period of alleged "industrial prosperity" under the protective tariff, labor was worked twelve hours a day and seven days a week at less than living wages.

"Since 1896 prices have risen sixty per cent., while money wages have risen about twenty per cent."—BYRON W. HOLT.

Since 1897, according to New Jersey statistics, the cost of food articles has increased 40.96 per cent., while the average wages of factory employees has advanced only eighteen per cent. under a protective tariff.

According to Carroll D. Wright, former Director of the U. S. Labor Department, the American laboring man had to work twenty days more in the year 1903 than did his English competitor in order to meet the higher cost in America of housing, food, clothing, lighting, heating and taxes.

The price of labor in tariff-for-revenue-only Great Britain is 17 per cent. higher in the same line of employment than in protection Germany. If protection brought high prices of labor, one would expect to find high wages in Russia, with her average ad valorem duty of 131 per cent. The price of labor is not one-half in Russia what it is in Great Britain.

A Dam to Industry.

Prohibitive duties prevent competition, put a premium on inefficiency, check productive activity, limit consumption in the home market and encourage manufacturers not to go out after the world's trade. Thus protection diminished the ultimate opportunities for labor.

The "Indefensible" Wool Tariff.

"The tariff question, as dealt with in our time at any rate, has not been business. IT HAS BEEN POLITICS. Tariff schedules have been made up for the purpose of keeping as large a number as possible of the rich and influential manufacturers of the country in a good humor with the Republican party, which desired their constant financial support. The tariff has become a system of favors, which the phraseology of the schedule was often deliberately contrived to conceal."—WOODROW WILSON.

The Carded Woolen Manufacturers' Association prepared a history of the wool tariff—"Schedule K." It shows that—

In 1867 a Republican Congress passed a woolen tariff law substantially in accordance with recommendations from the wool growers and manufacturers.

In 1890 the National Wool Growers' Association, opposing any revision, favored a Tariff Commission, and the officers of the Association received from the President assurances as to the personnel of the Commission. The Commission was authorized in 1882, and Secretary J. L. Hayes of the National Association of Wool Manufacturers was made its President, later becoming Chairman of a sub-committee to prepare the woolen and worsted schedules. In 1890 the McKinley bill, passed by a Republican Congress, increased the duty on woolen goods.

In 1894 a Democratic Congress passed the Wilson Bill revising "Schedule K," with free wool and ad valorem duties on wool goods.

Secretary S. N. D. North, of the National Association of Wool Manufacturers attended secret sessions of the Senate Finance Committee in 1897 while the Dingley bill was being framed. The Dingley bill was passed with "Schedule K" practically unchanged, and the National Association of Wool Manufacturers gave Mr. North $5,000 for his services.

In 1908 the Republicans and their candidate, Mr. Taft, promised an "honest and exact" revision of the tariff.

In 1909 a Republican Congress passed and President Taft signed the iniquitous Payne-Aldrich bill, leaving "Schedule K" practically unchanged and the wool manufacturers satisfied.

In 1911 the Underwood-La Follette bill, providing 29 per cent. duties on wool and 40 per cent. on woolen goods, was passed by a Democratic House and by Democrats and a few insurgent Republicans in the Senate.

The bill was vetoed by President Taft on the ground that the Tariff Board had not reported. When it did report it justified even lower duties that the Democratic bill had proposed. But the wool tariff still remains to rob the people.

The American Woolen Company—the "Woolen Trusts"—controls 32 plants with a total capitalization of $64,000,000.

The Woolen Trust.

The value of the product of the American Woolen Company in 1911 was $419,826,000. The average yearly wage paid 168,239 employees was $470.80—only 16.5 per cent. of the value of the product.

No industry demonstrates more strikingly than does this the fraud of the Republican pretense that the tariff goes to the working man. The report of the Tariff Board shows that the duty on woolen cloths is equal to never less than TWO AND A HALF TIMES THE TOTAL COST OF LABOR, and in most instances is FIVE OR TO SEVEN TIMES THE WAGES PAID TO THE AMERICAN WORKER.

Therefore if the American woolen mill operative were to receive the "tariff in his pay envelope," he would have wages two and one-half to seven times what is now paid in this industry, which has ground down labor until it has produced such frightful conditions as were disclosed by the Lawrence (Mass.) strike.

Woolen cloth imported to compete with the product of the American Woolen Trust pays average duties ranging between 95 and 124 per cent. of the foreign value.

An industry saved from competition by prohibitive taxation levied against competitors should treat its employees well. But the Immigration Commission reports the following comparison of wages paid to the heads of families in representative American industries:

Woolen and worsted manufacturing	$400
Slaughtering and meat packing	578
Collar, shirt and cuff manufacturing	662
Manufacture of boots and shoes	573
Glove manufacturing	650
Oil refining	662

Samuel S. Dadle, Editor of the Textile World Record, formerly expert for the Tariff Board, proved to the Ways and Means Committee that in practice the infamous "Schedule K" imposes duties on raw wool ranging between 22 and 733 per cent. of the foreign value.

"Imposing a duty of $1,167.98 on a product hearing a labor cost of $65.99 is not protection; it is exclusion. Its sole effect is to make access to the world's wool clip impossible."

President Taft has publicly admitted that on the woolen schedule the Republican party broke faith with the people. But in spite of this he vetoed the Democratic bill reducing the duties. He evolved this defense:

"Most of the rates in the submitted bill are so low in themselves that if enacted into the law the inevitable result would be irretrievable injury to the wool-growing industry, the enforced idleness of much of our wool-combing and spinning machinery, and of thousands of looms, and the consequent throwing out of employment of thousands of workmen."

President Taft declares that the duty on raw wool should not be reduced below about 34 per cent., while the bill he vetoed provided only 20 per cent. The bill he vetoed reduced the tariff on woolen cloths from an average of 88 per cent. to an average of 49 per cent.

Cotton Manufacturers.

New England wash fabrics manufactured for 9 3-5 cents a yard costs the American house wife 25 cents. The same cloth in tariff-for-revenue-only England costs 17 cents.

Cotton curtain scrim is made in America for 10½ cents a yard, and costs the American housewife 19to 29 cents. It retails in England for 15 22 cents.

Dotted Swiss costs 17 cents per yard in England; 25 cents in the United States. The Payne-Aldrich bill increased the duty from 35 per cent. to 51 42 per cent.

The total value of cotton goods manufactured in 1909 was $628,392,000; wage earners employed, 378,880; average wage paid, $330 66, while labor cost only 21 14 per cent. of the value of the product. The average annual earnings of male heads of families was only $448.

The Tariff Board reports that J. & T. Coats, Ltd., control the price of cotton thread in every country of the world. They own mills in America and England and pay over 25 per cent. dividends. Yet the duty on thread was icreased by one-fourth in the Payne-Aldrich revision.

On cheap grade cotton hosiery used by poor people the rates were increased from 60 40 to 71 10 per cent. Highest grades were not increased.

Poverty Producer.

The average duty collected on cotton manufactures in 1910 under the Payne-Aldrich law of 1909 was 56 04 per cent.

The average duty collected in 1909 under the Dingley Act of 1897 was 53 41 per cent.

There was no revision downward on cotton fabrics. Of half of the representative classes of cotton cloth the duties were increased where reduction had been promised.

If the price of domestic cotton manufacturers was increased by only one-half of the average duty, the increase in price to the consumer attributable to the tariff amounted for the one year 1910 to $235,000,000, or an average of approximately $10 50 to each family.

The cheaper the quality of goods, the higher the Republicans made the tariff. Poor people have to buy cheap goods.

The revenue from duties on cottons was in 1910 only 4 17 per cent. of the total tariff receipts, while the imports of all manufactures of cotton were estimated atonly about 8 per cent. of the total domestic consumption. For this much revenue privileged manufacturers are permitted to rob the consumer of $235,000,000 a year. The Democratic cotton bill vetoed by President Taft would have reduced duties so as to save consumers not less than $88,000,000 of this annual tax.

Tariff Raises Prices.

"It is not as easy for us to live as it used to be. Our money will not buy as much. High wages, even when we can get them, yield us no great comfort. We used to be better off with less, because a dollar could buy so much more. The majority of us have been disturbed to find ourselves growing poorer, even though our earnings were slowly increasing. Prices climb faster than we can push our earnings up."—WOODROW WILSON.

If high tariffs did not increase prices, manufacturers would not spend millions to keep the Republican protectionists in power.

According to the conclusions reached by the English Board of Trade in 1909, the cost of food, heating and lighting for a workingman's family is 38 per cent. higher in this country than in free trade England and 18 per cent. higher than in "protected" Germany or France. Assuming that the average family in this country spends about $1,100 a year, it would cost this family but $893 a year to live in England. Here is a difference of $300 a year per family or $6,000,000,000 for the 22,000,000 families in the United States. If we cannot charge this difference to the tariff, to what can we fairly charge it?

The total tariff tax for the average family is about $115, and out of this only $16 is collected as duties for the government. The remaining six sevenths represents increased prices which the protected trusts are enabled by the tariff to collect and keep.

The Remedy.

"Tariff revision should begin with the schedules which have been most obviously used to kill competition and to raise prices in the United States, arbitrarily and without regard to the prices pertaining elsewhere in the markets of the world; and it should, before it is finished or intermitted, be extended to every item in every schedule which affords any opportunity for monopoly, for special advantage to limited groups of beneficiaries, or for subsidized control of any kind in the markets or the enterprises of the country; until special favors of every sort shall have been absolutely withdrawn and every part of our laws of taxation shall have been transformed from a system of government patronage into a system of just and reasonable charges which shall fall where they will create the least burdan. When we shall have done that, we can fix questions of revenue and of business adjustment in a new spirit and with clear minds. We shall then be partners with all the business men of the country, and a day of free, more stable prosperity shall have dawned."—WOODROW WILSON.

SUNNY SIDE.

(Last Week's Items.)

The tournament at this place had to be postponed on account of bad weather. It will be on Saturday, Nov. 2nd. Come everybody and have a good time.

The Rev. Chas. Otey has just closed a very successful revival at this place. There were forty members added to the church. We regard Mr. Otey as being one of the finest preachers in Southwest Virginia. It is always a pleasure to have him and his charming wife with us.

Mathew Bradley and Frank Porterfield left Monday for the National Business College at Roanoke. We wish them great success.

Our school is progressing nicely under the wise and efficient management of Miss Cora Jennings of Carroll county. Miss Jennings is one of Virginia's very best teachers, and Giles county is indeed to be congratulated on securing the services of this charming young lady.

The 'possum dog of Plow Screw caught during last week 150 possums. Can you beat it, Mr. Editor?

Best wishes for the VIRGINIAN.

CHURCH NOTICE.

The regular meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church will meet next Sunday afternoon at three o'clock in the Methodist Church. "China and the Orientals," is the subject for the meeting. A very interesting programme will be rendered.

All members of the Society are requested to be present, as several important matters are to be discussed, one of which is, the Reading Course for the winter.

WILL FURNISH THE ELECTION NEWS.

The Chesapeake & Potomac Tel. Co., formerly the Sou. Bell Tel. & Tel. Co., has kindly offered to furnish the National election returns to the Court House where one or more telephones will be installed for that purpose. The people are requested to ask the operators for these Telephones and secure any information they may want from men stationed there.

Please do not ask the operator for news as they will know nothing and hasn't time to tell it if she does. Also do not hold the line long as there are hundreds waiting for the same information and get very impatient if they do not get it shortly.

The Telephone Company reminds you that they will be pushed to the limit to furnish service and any unneal request will entail a hardship on them. Any long distance service will be promptly attended to.

PLEASANT OGGASION.

A merry party from Pearisburg spent Sunday with Miss Bessie Phlegar, at the beautiful country home of Mr. and Mrs. Harve Phlegar, "yan side." They were Mr. A. D. Gerberich and Miss Annie Strader, Mr. Jess Shelton and Miss Lula Strader, Mr. John Givens and Miss Winnie Johnston. After an elegant dinner presided over by the lovely hostess, the ladies repaired to the spacious parlors for a pleasant chat. While the gentlemen sought the shade of the "Old Apple Tree," where they sampled some (sweet) cider.

The day passed so pleasantly the shades of night had fallen before they were aware of it. After bidding adieu to their friends they drove home by the "light of the moon."

Misses Mabel buidow and Mary McDonald, Dr. and Mrs Fred Scott were also guests on this occasion.

PUBLIC SPEAKING COURT DAY.

Court day last Tuesday was a lively day in politics here. Gen. Rufus A. Ayers, our candidate for Congress, and Hon. Don Halsey of Lynchburg, were advertised to speak for the Democrats, and Hon. T. J. Muney and Hon. Harris Hoge for the Republicans.

The Wabash Band was on hand as well as our new band at Pearisburg.

The Democrats were disappointed by the non-appearance of Hon. Don Halsey, but Gen. Ayers made a speech of about an hour and a half and fully measured up to the expectations of his friends and to his reputation as a forceful and logical speaker, and was followed by local speakers, Mr. W. B. Snidow and Judge Martin Williams.

The Republicans had on hand A. P. Crockett, Esq. of Coeburn, Mr. Stovall of Danville, Mr. Harris Hoge of Roanoke, and Mr. T. J. Muney of Tazewell, all of whom made speeches as usual on such occasions.

Tracy Whittaker of Pearisburg High School, introduced Mr. A P. Crockett in a few appropriate words.

Both sides claimed the day, but the Democrats feel fully satisfied with the day and the general situation in the district and especially in Giles.

SAD DEATH OF CHILD.

Grim Reaper's Second Visit to Home of Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Neal.

Bluefield, W. Va., Oct. 25.—The death yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock of Elizabeth Ward, the little two-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Luther Neal, is one of the saddest we have been called upon to chronicle. Just a few days more than a month elapsed since this same home was darkened by the death of their daughter Mary, aged four years. The little girl who died yesterday had been ill only a few days, and everything that human skill and loving kindness could do for the little sufferer was done, but the end came yesterday afternoon. The whole community extends its sympathy to the bereaved parents. The funeral will take place this afternoon at 3 o'clock from the home, and the interment will be made in Walnut Grove cemetery.—Bluefield Telegraph.

Mrs. Neal was Miss Margarite Hicks, daughter of Rev. W. W. Hicks, at one time pastor of the Methodist Church here. Her many friends here sympathize with her in her bereavement.

A FAMILY REUNION.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Kirk of near Berton, Va., October 17, 1912, there was a happy reunion of the Kirk family, three generations were represented. Those present were H. H. Kirk and family, C. W. Kirk, wife and two children, J. G. Stephens, wife and five children, G. S. Hetherington, wife and son Estil, G. B. Hetherington and wife, and Mrs. Sylvester Snodgrass of Berton, Mrs. Jane Kirk and two grand children of Roanoke, Kyle Stafford, wife and two children of Bane, G. C. Kirk, wife and son, and N. C. Fetherington of Pearisburg, Luther B. Kirk, wife and Elmer Kirk of Lila, W. Va., W. G Kirk, wife and six children of Trigg, and Mrs. Monroe Williams of Springdale. Making forty-six in all.

Dinner was served out in the yard and the tables were loaded down with lots of good things to eat.

The evening was spent in pleasant conversations, music and games, each, regretting when the hour of departure was at hand. May this not be the last gathering at that hospital home.

MARTIN WILLIAMS ADDRESSES VOTERS.

Both Democrats and Republicans Listen to Address.

Judge Martin Williams of Pearisburg, addressed a large crowd of citizens of the county in the court house Monday afternoon on the issues of the present campaign.

The audience, composed of the representative citizens of both political parties of the county, listened with marked attention to the discussion of the political situation of today and his address was well received, and many said that this was the best speech the Judge had ever made.

Judge Williams is a pleasant speaker and gifted with the ability to drive his thoughts home to his listeners in a most forceful manner.

Judge Williams discussed the tariff at some length, showing where under the high tariff that many trust made articles can be bought cheaper abroad than at home.

He paid a high tribute to General Ayers the Democratic nominee for Congress from this district. He also discussed Wilson and Marshall and declared he was confident of their election by large majorities.

Judge Williams made a fine speech and it is thought did much good for his party.

The people of Bland county appreciate the service Judge Williams has rendered his district as well as his State in the Legislature and hope to see him the next Speaker of the House of Delegates for which position he is prominently spoken of.—Bland Messenger.

A Tribute to the Memory of James W. Snidow.

At a meeting of the Stony Creek Lutheran Sunday School the following resolutions were adopted as a tribute to the memory, services and life of James W. Snidow, who died on September 25, 1912. Mr. Snidow was a prompt and ever-zealous worker in the Sunday School, and a teacher of the Bible class.

A committee was appointed to draft resolutions which were prepared and adopted as follows:

In the death of James W. Snidow of Pembroke, Va., the Stony Creek Lutheran Sunday School has lost from her corps of teachers one of her most valued and honored workers. Mr. Snidow has for long years been a teacher of the Bible class, and as such was highly capable; being untiring in his research for the truths of the scriptures, and having an unusual knowledge of ancient and biblical history; his precepts were presented to his class in a very interesting manner. His alert and vigorous intellect sought profoundly into the higher things of life, thus making him pre-eminently fitted for an instructive teacher.

Noble, simplicity and quiet strength were the serene marks of his character. The lofty traits of his life and personality were reflected in his intellectual work. Thorough sanity of mind, a serene faith, and a wide outlook on God's world, were characteristics of his thought and feeling. In the world of nature, life and history, he saw the movement of a divine drama unfolding steadily towards a divine end.

The hand is not vanished and the voice is stilled, but the transfigured stature of noble abide in memory of his friends. "Imperishable mountains are not to be rated higher than the rose, whose leaves quickly fall, and whose perfumed life is but for a season."

The superintendent, officers, teacher and scholars of the Stony Creek Lutheran Sunday School, deeply sensible of their great loss, desire to make record of their admiration for his power and influence; their esteem for his character; their respect for his memory; therefore be it

RESOLVED 1st. That in the death of James W. Snidow, the Stony Creek Lutheran Sunday School has lost an honored teacher whose noble character and life career reflected honor on the church and Sunday school to which he gave his ever zealous efforts, and a friend whose highest ideals of life were the full development of true Christian manhood and womanhood as shown by deeds as well as words.

2nd. That the sincere sympathy of the Sunday school is hereby extended to the wife and son of the saddened home, whose serene happiness he had made the central joy and comfort of his life.

The Old Virgina Woodpath.

The old roads up to glory
  Were grand in Roman days;
The roads to famous Athens
  Still live in ancient lays;
But the grandest road I know of,
  And the sweetest road to me
Is an old Virginia woodpath
  In the sunlit land of Lee,
    A sweet road winding dreamward
      By wooded lea and dell
    In all the fresh, green beauty
      Of the lovely Dixie spell!

October in a red vest
  Goes down the path today;
And winds upon the sunbeams
  Still whisper songs of Mry;
The last blush-rose has faded,
  And the primrose stalk is brown—
An old Virginia woodpath
  To roasted 'possum town!
    An old path bound with creeper,
      And pines and ceders, too,
    And cobwebs of the autumn
      All jeweled with silver dew!

I need no map to find it,
  The road to Arcady—
An old Virginia woodpath
  Will bring it unto me!
And all the autumn morning
  The mockingbird will sing
As of remembered music
  In lilac lands of spring,
    They know the dream in Dixie,
      That dreams men out of wrath,
    And how to go to find it,
      Adown the old woodpath.

Why, Caesar and his army
  Ne'er climbed a Roman hill
With half the conscious glory
  And half the human thrill
That comes to those who follow
  From blue hills to the sea
A lovely old time woodpath
  In the Dixie land of Lee,
    A highway sweet and simple
      That leads to simple things,
    And yet that are eternal
      As love's immortal wings!

I saw sweet Miss October
Dressed in her red vest stray
Adown the dells of Dixie
  In dreams of yesterday;
And I am tripping with her
  The woodpath once again
That leads to sweeter women
  And haunts of braver men!
    A fine old path forever,
      From blue hills to the sea,
    That woodpath of Virginia
      In the Dixie land of Lee!

—Bentztown Bard.

Present Day Evils of Woman's Attire.

MRS. E. W. FOSTER.

If through the Woman's Edition of the Banner one clear note of warning could be sounded to the mothers of today, we believe it should be regarding modern female dress.

The spectacle of young girls on the streets of Nashville with painted faces, low necks and short-sleeved gowns, which are immodestly narrow, is shocking to those who hold to high ideals. The girls themselves are not to be blamed for this, and it is not to be hoped that these words will reach, or could touch if they did, their young and unmindful hearts; but somewhere back of their uncurbed desire to trail in the fashions of today lies a lost opportunity for mother love and mother training, and it is to the mothers or guardians that this appeal is made.

The City Council's Vice Commission in one of our large cities spent two months in investigating the subject of vice, and all citizens were invited to appear before it and present their views. The Chairman of the commission said that "immodest and suggestive dress is becoming one of the evils of Southern life;" the clinging, short skirt, the low-cut waist and the short sleeves were, in the opinion of that commission, among the things to be condemned as leading to vice, and the present mode of women's dress was blamed for much of the vice of the day.

A prominent Catholic minister recently issued an edict that all women attending his church should be modestly attired. "There must be no nudeness of the neck, shoulders and arms; it is a deplorable fact," he continues, "that there are many young girls in the city who wear immodest clothing; the Catholic Church is against such a custom, and I mean positively to forbid such dress in my church. It is the occasion for many rude remarks from men."

Unfortunately, these conditions prevail in Nashville; one has only to observe our young people on the streets to understand that this warning is in a timely place.

Young girls, if they are not modest by nature or training, should be controlled, and their clothes selected for them; in Nashville more than one of the shocking things that have happened within the past year or two, where young people were involved, might be traced to just such a cause.

Dr. Talmage once preached a strong sermon on the "Dominion of Fashion," taking his text from Deuteronomy, xx. 11:5, "The woman shall not wear that which pertaineth unto a man, neither shall a man put on a woman's garment; for all that do so are an abomination unto thy God."

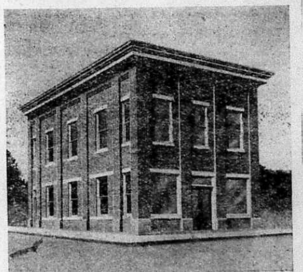
The eminent divine called attention to the fact that God thought womanly attire of enough importance to have it discussed in the Bible; "Paul, the Apostle, by no means a sentimentalist and accustomed to dwell on the great themes of God and the Resurrection, writes about the arrangement of woman's hair and the style of her jewelry. "In my text," said Dr. Talmage, "Moses, his ear yet filled with the thunder of Mount Sanai, declares that womanly attire must be in marked contrast with masculine attire and infraction of that law incites the indignation of the high heavens; just in proportion as the morals of a country or an age are depressed is that law defied. Show me the fashion plates of any century from the time of the deluge to this and I will tell you the exact state of public morals."

At the time when Dr. Talmage wrote this sermon the extreme of fashion was toward mannish attire for woman, and he was aiming particularly at that. Following upon the heels of this came "bloomerism," which the American women had the good sense to obliterate very speedily.

Fashion is not to be decried because it is fashion; the text from which Dr. Talmage preached his sermon sanctions and sets a fashion, but there are right fashions and wrong fashions; the evil is the adoption and exaggeration of immodest fashions.

The rock on which many a home is wrecked is clothes, and the love of finery: the worship of fashion has doubtless caused as much unhappiness as any of the great evils, about which there is so much hue and cry.

If mothers would cultivate in their daughters a taste for the simple and the modest in dress, many a heartache would be saved and many a sorrow averted—Woman's Edition Nashville Banner.



The First National Bank of Peterstown, W. Va.

The Monroe Watchman has the following to say about The First National Bank of Peterstown, W. Va.:

"The WATCHMAN takes pleasure in presenting above an engraving of the new home of the First National Bank of Peterstown. It is typical of the spirit of progress and improvement which pervades that thriving town, now the gateway for a large portion of Monroe and Summers counties to the Virginian Ry. and the Norfolk & Western Ry. systems, that the new bank building is handsome and modern in its appointments. It is a brick structure 26 by 48 feet, two stories high, and is well lighted. The first floor is used by the Bank and the second floor is leased to the I. O. O. F. lodge The banking room is equipped with modern fixtures, including a standard fire proof vault in which is installed one of the Ely Norris manganese burglar proof bank safes—"the strongest burglar proof bank safes in the world." The building is erected on the corner opposite the Ballard Hotel, and, like the new High School and Graded School building, is an ornament to the town.

The First National Bank of Peterstown was organized on Jan. 27, 1910, with O. P. Vines, J. E. Hansbarger, W. H. Ballard, R F. Fleshman, E. I. Terry, and S. Y. Symns, incorporators. J. E. Hansbarger, W. H. Ballard, E. I Terry, J. H. Jordan, J. R Johnson, S. Y. Symns, and R. F. Fleshman were elected Directors. J. E. Hansbarger was chosen President, W. H. Ballard, Vice President, and O. P. Vines, Cashier. All have been reelected from time to time and are the present officers of the Bank, which opened for business April 15, 1910.

Since the organization the number of Directors was increased from seven to nine, and at present the Directorate is composed of the following named stockholders: S. Y. Symns, W. H. Hansbarger, J. R. Johnson, J. A. Spangler, C. N. Vass, J. E. Hansbarger, W. H. Ballard, E. I. Terry and R. F. Fleshman.

The capital stock is $25,000, which is fully paid in, and the Bank has accumulated undivided profits amounting to $5,000, which sum is the net earnings since the organization to date.

Under judicious, prudent and courteous management this Bank has made a steady growth from the beginning and has built up a business that has been merited by its safe, conservative methods and the ample facilities it affords. It has not only furnished its many patrons and customers a safe depository for their funds and other accommodations connected with a commercial bank ing business, but it has also been a paying proposition from the stockholders' standpoint, the book value of stock being about $120 00 per share at this time."

The best protection you can have for your family is A BANK ACCOUNT. The best protection you can have from creditors or sickness, or hard times, is A BANK ACCOUNT. What is Education Worth.

The United States Bureau of Education is putting out some figures to show the money value of an education.

Of course a good education is worth much more than money, but the money side of it need not be neglected.

The average value according to bureau, is something like this:

Two boys, age 14, are both interested in mechanics. One goes into the shops, the other into a technical school. The boy in the shops starts at $4 a week, and by the time he is 18 he is getting $7. At that age the other boys is leaving school and starting work at $10 a week. At 20 the shop trained young fellow is getting $9 50 and the technical graduate $15. At 22 the former's weekly wage is $11 50 and the latter's $20. By the time they are both 25 the shopworker finds $12 75 in his pay enveloped while the technically trained man draws a salary of $31

Suppose that the cost of the education is now paid, and that the difference goes no further continues to be $18 25 a week in favor of the education worker. In 40 years of the life it would be nearly $38.00, and that may be taken as the average money value of an education after the age of 25.

Some people may be inclined to disbute these figure, but they are based on a study and averaging of nearly 2,000 actual cases, made by the Massachusetts Commissioner for industrial and Technical Education.

If an education will give a boy the power to earn even $20,000 after he becomes a man, more than he could earn without it, then his school time for ten years, 200 days in the year, must be worth $10 a day to him.

Boys, if your time at school is worth $10 a day to you, can you afford to waste any of it.—Ex.

Not Limited to the State.

Neither law nor precedent requires that the next president of the Virginia Polytechnic Institute shall be a resident of the State of Virginia. In their quest of a suitable man to shoulder the responsibilities of directing that institution at a crisis in its history, the board of visitors not only can go out of the State to get the right man, but ought to do it if necessary. Merit, capacity and ability know no geographical limitations. When the board of visitors of the University of Virginia had to secure its first president, they went to Louisiana to get him. When the board of trustees of Washington and Lee had to select a new president last year, they went to North Carolina to get him. When the Massachusetts Institute of Technology had to select a president for it, perhaps the most efficient technical college in the county, they selected a man who had but lately emigrated from New Zealand. The board of visitors of the Virginia Polytechnic Institute has just as free rein as the appointive body of any other institution, and if the right man for the place is outside of the State of Virginia, they must get him nevertheless. The people of Virginia, whose interests are at stake, demand that the best man available be secured, and they want him, no matter where he comes from. Efficiency is the gauge in this case, not residence.—Richmond Times Dispatch.

Government Buys Large Orchard.

The longest orchard in Colorado has been bought by the United States government for the purpose of using it as the right of way for a new $5 000,000 canal. The orchard which is situated in Mesa county is 11 miles long and only 135 feet wide. About 75 carloads of fruit were shipped this year from the strip by the former owners.

PEARISBURG PHARMACY.

PATRON'S DAY IN PEARISBURG HIGH SCHOOL.

On last Friday afternoon at one o'clock, while fierce winds blew down from the mountains, quite a goodly number of patrons and friends of the Pearisburg High School assembled in the school auditorium for the "Patron's Day Programme."

Each department had been allowed ten minutes on the programme, so that justice might be done to all, and that the audience might not be tired by too long exercises. Very little school time had been used in preparing for the occasion, yet each department acquitted itself with honor. The selections in most cases had been made so that large numbers of pupils could take part in brief exercises.

The selections were quite varied, embracing, songs, recitations, declamations, calisthenics, pantomimes charades, essays and orations. A beautiful flag drill closed the exercises in the auditorium, after which the student body and visitors marched out upon the campus and sang "America," while "Old Glory" was hoisted upon the stiff breeze amid youthful enthusiasm which even icy wind could not chill The rising young orator, Frank Pack, made the speech of the occasion, which was listened to with appreciation and has since been very highly complimented.

DUBLIN MAN DIES FROM GUN WOUND.

Roanoke, Va., Nov. 5 —S. T. Gerberich of Dublin, Pulaski county, who was mortally wounded, Saturday, by Charley Cooper, and who was brought to this city Saturday night and placed in the Lewis-Gale hospital, died Sunday night.

The man was shot through the abdomen, and when he arrived here, it was seen that his condition was critical. An operation was performed with a view of saving his life, but he survived but twenty-four hours.

The body of Gerberich was take to his home yesterday.

Pulaski, Va, Nov. 4—Chas. Cooper, the slayer of S. T. Gerberich, who died in the hospital in Roanoke last night, this evening gave himself up to D. C. Graham, town sergeant of Dublin. There will be preliminary examination next Wednesday and it is likely that there will be a special grand jury at the term of court, which begins Wednesday, to indict him. The killing seems to have been an unprovoked murder, though Cooper claims self defense.

Mr. Gerberich was the father of Mr. A. D. Gerberich of the firm of H. B. Shelton & Co. This young man has made many friends since coming here, who will sympathize with him in his bereavement.

NEWPORT.

The Sinking Creek Valley Bank was organized two weeks ago with C. L King, President, and George Buchanan, Cashier. As soon as the charter has been obtained Mr. Buchanan will take charge. This is a long needed institution in Newport and should receive the encouragement and support of all the people.

Mrs. C. A. Hardwick, who has typhoid fever, is improving.

Mrs. F. S. Givens and little son, Frank, are visiting friends in Roanoke.

Mrs. S. R. Snead has returned from an extended visit to relatives in Highland county.

Jno. Robertson, who has been working as clerk in Miller Bros.' store for the last two months, leaves with his wife for the coal fields this week.

Miss Harriet Farrier is quite sick with fever.

The many friends of Mrs. Chapman Keffer will regret to hear of her death on Oct. 9th. While she had been ill sometime she retained her strength and faculties until very near the end so that death came as a shock to her devoted family, who have the sympathy of the entire community.

C. P. Logan and R. Y Payne, are at home for the election.

Newport High School, with an enrollment of 115 pupils is doing good wook under the principalship of Mrs. W. P Miller, assisted by Misses Gruff and Sarver, with Miss Smith in charge of the music department.

Miss Bera Pastorfield, who has had an attack of pleurisy is able to be out again.

Mr and Mrs. W. D. Payne are expected Wednesday to open "Willowcraft" for the hunting season. Their guests will be Frank Payne, Harrisburg, Penn., E M. Payne, Beckley, W. Va., and Henry Payne and Dave Patterson of Charleston, W. Va.

E E. Criner had the misfortune to break his leg in two places on last Monday. Though the accident was serious Mr. Criner has not suffered greatly and is recovering as rapidly as can be expected.

Ernest Echols is at home on a visit.

Luther Lucas is home from Blacksburg to vote.

Atlee Smith is here from Northfork for the same purpose.

The Hallowe'en entertainment at the school house was quite a success. The program opened with a tableau—A Hollowe'en Scene which was very artistic. Following this was a mock marriage by the little tots, which was carried out very prettily. The feanture of the occasion however was "A Family Album" —a monologue illustrated by living pictures and greatly enjoyed. At the close of the entertainment a Dutch lunch was served, after which the young people spent an hour in social pleasure.

WOODROW WILSON'S TRIBUTE TO THE BIBLE.

The Bible is still the "sheet-anchor of our liberties," both individual and national. It is refreshing to read the splendid tribute paid God's word recently by Gov. Woodrow Wilson:

"The opinion of the Bible bred in me, not only the teaching of my home when I was a boy, but also by every turn and experience of my life and every step of study, is that it is the one supreme source of revelation, the revelation of the meaning of life, the nature of God and the spiritual nature and needs of men. It is the only guide of life which really leads the spirit in the way of peace and salvation. If men could but be made to know intimately and for what it really is, we should have secured both individual and social regeneration."

EMBROIDERY CLUB.

Misses Frances and Helen Mason and Susie Easley delightfully entertained the young ladies of the Embroidery Club and the young gentlemen invited by them at a Hallowe'en Party at the home of Judge and Mrs. Bernard Mason last Thursday evening. The porches were decorated with Jack O'Lanterns and ghostly figures. The young ladies were received at the front door by little Miss Minnie Mason, dressed as a ghost and the young gentlemen at the back door by Master Webster Mason, dressed as a pumpkin. The guests were ushered up stairs by Mrs. Bernard Mason, the lovely mother and aunt of the hostesses, where they were received by the three beautiful young hostesses. The young ladies were transformed into weird looking ghosts and the young gentlemen into black cats. The young ladies were ushered to the parlor by Mrs. M. C. Easley. Then began the exciting guessing contest. The young ladies were given miniature pumpkin tally cards and pencils each young gentleman was numbered the girls wrote the name of the young man on the card as he thrust his head in the door. The young men then guessed the names of young ladies. The prizes for guessing the greatest number of boys was won by Miss Mary Peters and for guessing the greatest number of girls by Clarence Pearson. After a few games the guests were taken to the dining room where a delicious salad course was served in miniature pumpkin hulls, mints and sandwiches were also served. Each person was given a minature crepe paper pumpkin which contained their fortunes. These were very humorous and caused much merriment. The guests returned to the parlor and played numerous games suitable for Hallow E'en, until a late hour when they departed to their different homes, each declaring they had spent the most delightful evening of their young lives.

Those present were Misses Ethel Dulaney, Mabel Goodwin, Katharine Pearson, Mabel Bolton, Margaret Dills, Gladys Duncan, Susie Easley, Frances and Helen Mason, Garland Warren, Mary Peters, Frances and Kate Shelton, Messrs. Gilbert Hunter, Sidney Scott, Clarence Pearson, Richard Dulaney, Frank Johnston, Luther Bingham, Guy and Landon Williams, Lucian Durham, Walker Williams, Clarence and Frank Strader.

ARMAGEDDON OF THE SCRIPTURES

Startling Presentation of Coming Events.

PASTOR RUSSELL'S VIEWS.

Churches of All Denominations and the Civil Powers of Earth Are About to Unite in Common Cause—Powerful Influence Preparing For the Battle of Armageddon—A Reign of Anarchy Will Be the Result of the Warfare Until The Messiah Takes Control.

PASTOR RUSSELL

Brooklyn, N. Y., Nov. 3.—The Brooklyn Academy of Music was crowded to the limit today to hear Pastor Russell's discourse on the "Battle of Armageddon." His text was: "He gathered them together unto a placed called in the Hebrew tongue Armageddon." (Revelation xvi. 16.) The speaker said:

Armageddon in the Hebrew signifies the "Hill of Megiddo," or Mount of Destruction. It was famous as a battlefield in Old Testament times.

The Lord has seen fit to associate the name Armageddon, with the great controversy between Truth and Error, right and wrong, God and Mammon, with which this Age will close, perish, and the New Age of Messiah's glory be ushered in. He has purposely used highly symbolical figures of speech in the last book of the Bible, evidently with a view to hiding certain important truths until the due time for their revealment. But even in the due time, the Bible assures us, "None of the wicked shall understand" (Daniel xii, 9, 10) none who are out of heart harmony with God—but only the wise of His people—the "wise virgin" class of the Master's parable.

I have long avoided presentation of my understanding of our text and its context. I take it up now by request and because I believe it is due time to be understood. I disclaim any special inspiration. In some particulars my views agree with those of other Bible students, and in other respects they disagree. Each hearer must use his own judgment, do his own Bible study, and reach his own conclusions.

Kindly remember that I am not responsible for the figures of speech used by the Lord. My interpretations do indeed constitute a terrible arraignment of institutions which we have all reverenced and which embrace good people, of good words and good works. God's saintly people in these various institutions, being comparatively few, are ignored when systems as a whole are dealt with in prophecy.

The Dragon, Beast, False Prophet.

Our context tells us that three impure spirits (teachings) will go forth from the mouths of the Dragon, the Beast and the False Prophet, and these three will be in accord, and symbolically the doctrines are represented by "frogs." These three doctrines are to have a mighty influence throughout the civilized earth. They are to gather the kings and their armies to the great Battle of Armageddon.

The ecclesiastical kings and princes, and their retinues of clergy and faithful adherents, will be gathered in solid phalanx—Protestant and Catholic. The kings and captains of industry, and as many as can be influenced by them, will be gathered to the same side. The political kings and princes, with all their henchmen and retainers, will follow in line on the same side. The financial kings and merchant princes, and all whom they can influence by the most gigantic power ever yet exercised in the world, will join the same side, according to this prophecy.

These "doctrines of demons," represented by the "frogs," will lead many noble people in this great army to assume an attitude quite contrary to their preference. For, a time the wheels of liberty and progress will be turned backward and medieval restraints will be considered necessary for self-preservation—for the maintenance of the present order of things.

In giving this interpretation, it is necessary for us to indicate what is symbolized by the Dragon, the Beast, and the False Prophet. Bible students of nearly all denominations agree with us that the "Dragon" of Revelation represents the purely Civil Power. Protestant interpreters generally agree that the "Beast like a leopard" (Revelation xiii, 2) represents the Papacy. But fewer still, we fear, will be ready to support our view that Protestantism is the "Image of the Beast" (Revelation xiii, 15) in our context given another name, "the False Prophet." We urge no one to accept our interpretation, nor shall we think hard of any who refuse it. We will neither slander nor otherwise injure them now, nor threaten them with eternal torture. They have the same right to their views that I have, and the same right to make them known to others. And I, for one, will be very glad to consider anything which opponents may set forth as their interpretations of our text.

"Unclean Spirits Like Frogs."

The symbolisms of Scripture, rightly understood, are always forceful. When the Holy Spirit used a "frog" to symbolically represent certain doctrines or teachings, we may be sure the true application will fit well. A frog has a sage look, a wise look. It swells itself up in an apparent endeavor to impress the beholder. Its great mouth well represents its chief power, used to croak.

Applying these symbols, we learn that an evil spirit, influence, teaching, will come from the Protestant churches federated, from the Church of Rome, and from the Civil authorities, all in full agreement. The spirit of all will be boastful; an air of superior wisdom and knowledge will be proudly assumed—all will croak in harmony. All will tell of dire results that would follow, involving the interests of both the present and the future life, if their counsel be not followed. However conflicting the creeds, the differences will be ignored in the general proposition that nothing ancient must be disturbed, or looked into, or repudiated.

The Divine authority of the Church, and the Divine right of kings, aside from the Church, will not be allowed to conflict. Any persons or teachings in conflict with these boastful and unscriptural claims will be branded as everything vile, at the mouths of these "frogs" speaking from pulpits and platforms and through the religious and secular press. The nobler sentiments of some will be strangled by the philosophy of the same evil spirit which spoke through Caiaphas, the high priest, respecting Jesus. As Caiaphas declared it expedient to commit a crime in violation of justice, human and Divine, to be rid of Jesus and His teachings, so this "frog" spirit will approve of every violation of principle necessary to their self-protection.

The croaking of these "frog" spirits or doctrines will gather the kings and princes, financial, political, religious and industrial into one great army. The spirit of fear, inspired by the croakings of these "frogs," will scourge the passions of otherwise good and reasonable men to fury, desperation. In their blind following of these evil spirits, evil doctrines, they will be ready to sacrifice life and everything on the altar of what they mistakenly suppose is justice, truth and righteousness, under a Divine arrangement.

For a brief time, as we understand the Scriptures, these combined forces of Armageddon will triumph. Free speech, free mails, and other liberties which have come to be the very breath of the masses in our day, will be ruthlessly shut off under the plea of necessity, the glory of God, the commands of the Church, etc. All will seem to be serene, until the great social explosion in our context described as the "great Earthquake." An "earthquake," in symbolic language, signifies social revolution, and the declaration of the context is that none like unto it ever before occurred. (Revelation xvi, 18, 19.) Jesus described it as a time of trouble such as never was since there was a nation.—Matthew xxiv, 21.

The Lord Will Gather Them.

The false, frog-like teachings will gather together into one host the great, the rich, the wise, the learned and the kings of the earth, to battle. At this juncture Divine Power will step forward, and our text tells us that He shall gather the marshaled hosts to Armageddon—to the Mountain of Destruction. The very thing which they sought to avert by their union, federation, etc., will be the very thing they will hasten. Other Scriptures tell us that God will be represented by the Great Messiah, and that He will be on the side of the masses. Thus we read in Daniel xii, 1: "At that time shall Michael [the Godlike One—Messiah] stand up"—assume authority. He will take possession of His Kingdom in a manner little looked for by many of those who erroneously have been claiming that they were His Kingdom, and authorized by Him to reign in His name and in His stead.

Jesus declared, "His servants ye are unto whom ye render service." Some may be rendering service to Satan and to error, who claim to be rendering service to God and to righteousness; and some of these may be serving ignorantly, as did Saul of Tarsus, who "verily thought that he did God a service" in persecuting the Church. The same principle holds true reversely. As an earthly king does not hold himself responsible for the moral character of each soldier who fights in his battles, so the Lord does not vouch for the moral character of all who will enlist and fight on His side of any question. "His servants they are to whom they render service," whatever the motive or object prompting them.

The same principles will apply in the coming Battle of Armageddon. God's side of that battle will be the people's side, and the very nondescript host, the people, will be pitted at the beginning of the battle. Anarchists, Socialists, and hot-headed radicals of every school of reason and unreason, will be in the forefront of that battle. The majority of the poor and the middle class prefer peace at almost any price. A comparatively small number, God's consecrated people, will at heart be longing for Messiah's Kingdom. These will bide the Lord's time and wait patiently for it; they will be of good courage, knowing the outcome outlined in the "more sure word of prophecy," to which they have done well to take heed, "as unto a light shining in a dark place until the Day dawn."—II Peter i, 19.

The masses will be restless of their restraints, but will be conscious of their own weakness as compared to the kings and princes, financial, religious and political, which will then hold sway. Besides, the masses have no sympathy with anarchy. They realize truly that the worst form of government is better than none. The masses will seek relief through the ballot and peaceful re-adjustment of earth's affairs for the elimination of evil, for the placing of monopolies and utilities and the supplies of nature in the hands of the people for the public good. The crisis will be reached when the hitherto upholders of law shall become violators of the law and resisters of the will of the majority as expressed by the ballot. Fear for the future will send the well-meaning masses to desperation; and anarchy will result when Socialism fails.

The Cloud's Silver Lining.

Horrible would be this outlook for the future did we not have the infallible Word of God assuring us of a glorious outcome! Divine Wisdom has withheld until our day the great knowledge and skill which is at the same time breeding millionaires and discontents. Had God lifted the veil a thousand years sooner, the world would have lined up for its Armageddon a thousand years sooner. But that would have been too soon for the Divine purpose, because Messiah's Kingdom is to be the great Thousand-Year-Sabbath of the world's history. God in kindness veiled our eyes until the time when the gathering to Armageddon would immediately precede Messiah's taking to Himself His great power, and beginning His reign.—Revelation xi, 17, 18.

"Send Them Strong Delusions."

St. Paul wrote prophetically of our time, that it would be one of serious trial and testing to many professing to be Christians. The reason for this he states—they received not the Truth in the love of it. (II Thessalonians ii, 10, 11.) They preferred their own erroneous theories, the Apostle explains, and therefore God will give them over to a "strong delusion," and let them believe the lie which they preferred, and let them suffer for missing the Truth which they did not love. Thus they will be in the condemned host, "fighting against God," because of their lack of love for the Truth.

It is sad to say that we all as Christians have been laboring under a thorough delusion respecting God's Plan. We have claimed that Christ set up His Church in Kingdom power, and that the Church has been reigning on the earth as His representative. On the strength of this delusion, Jews and heretics have been persecuted to death as opponents to Christ's Kingdom. All the while we thoughtlessly repeated the Lord's prayer: "Thy Kingdom come; Thy will be done on earth, as in Heaven." We knew that the Redeemer said that He would come again to make us His Bride and joint-heirs; but we ignored the Scriptures. We were drunk, as the Scriptures symbolically say, "all nations were drunk" with the false doctrine. It is this false doctrine that will constitute the "frog" spirit which soon will begin to croak and to prepare for Armageddon.

The Bible presentation is that the world is a section of the universe in rebellion against Divine authority, under the captaincy of Satan and his associated fallen angels. By Divine grace Jesus has already "tasted death for every man," and the merit of that sacrifice must, eventually, grant Adam and his posterity a full, fair opportunity for the attainment of everlasting life. All who thus see the Divine program and are walking in the light may know something at least respecting the "times and seasons." These brethren "are not in darkness, that that day [and that battle of Armageddon] should overtake" them "as a thief"—unawares.

Armageddon Not Yet but Soon.

For forty years the Armageddon forces have been mustering for both sides of the conflict. Strikes, lockouts and riots, great and small, have been merely incidental skirmishes as the belligerent parties crossed each other's paths. Court and Army scandals in Europe, Insurance, Trust and Court scandals in America, have shaken public confidence. Dynamite plots, charged by turns on employees and on employers, have further shaken confidence and tended to make each distrustful of the other. Bitter and angry feelings on both sides are more and more manifest. The lines of battle are daily becoming more distinctly marked. Nevertheless Armageddon cannot yet be fought. Other matters intervene, according to prophecy.

Gentile times have still two years to run. The "Image of the Beast" of our context must yet receive life—power. The image must be transformed from a mere mechanism to a living force. Protestant Federation realizes that its organization will still be futile unless it receive vitalization—unless its clergy directly or indirectly shall be recognized as possessed of apostolic ordination and authority to teach. This the prophecy indicates will come from the two horned beast, which, we believe, symbolically represents the Church of England. High handed activities of Protestantism and Catholicism, operating in conjunction for the suppression of human liberties, await this vivifying of the Image. This may come soon, but Armageddon cannot precede it, but must follow—perhaps a year after it, according to our view of the Prophecy.

Still another thing intervenes: Although the Jews are gradually flowing into Palestine, gradually obtaining control of the land of Canaan, and although reports say that already nineteen millionaires are there, nevertheless prophecy requires an evidently larger number of wealthy Hebrews to be there before the Armageddon crisis be reached. Indeed we understand that "Jacob's trouble" in the Holy Land will come at the very close of Armageddon. Then Messiah's Kingdom will begin to be manifested. Thenceforth Israel in the land of promise will gradually rise from the ashes of the past to the grandeur of prophecy. Through its Divinely appointed princes Messiah's Kingdom, all-powerful but invisible, will begin to roll away the curse and to lift up mankind

GAY HALLOWE'EN PARTY AT POPLAR HILL.

On Saturday evening, November 2nd, a delightful Hallowe'en Party was given by Miss Annie Vermillion, Miss Annie King and Miss Minnie Shannon at "The Gap," the hospitable home of Miss Bert Weaver. A number of invitations were issued, and the many guests spent a most delightful evening.

The hall, parlor and dining room were artistically decorated with autumn leaves, ferns, black cats and bats. Light shone brilliantly through the weird faces of jackolanterns. These, with candles and blazing pineknots in an open fire place afforded the lights.

The guests were admitted in silence, by spooks and the Old Witch. The merry making began with a guessing contest. The girls being masked and numbered marched in, and the young men made guesses as to their identity. A pumpkin, on which were painted the letters of the alphabet, was suspended from the ceiling, and was punched with a skewer as it swiftly revolved, each guest thus learning the first letter of the name of his "Intended."

The candle jumping afforded great amusement. Three lighted candles were placed on the floor, and the young lady who could clear them all, without extinguishing a light, was to be married before the close of the year. Quite a number succeeded in doing this.

Next came the magic mirror. The guests in turn, were led by the Old Witch, (Miss Minnie Shannon) into a dimly lighted room, where they were allowed to gaze into a magic mirror, and behold the face of the one whom they should wed.

The most interesting feature of the evening was the fortune telling by the Old Witch, in her best. The hut was curtained with white, in a dim corner of the large parlor. On the curtains, and among the autumn leaves above, swarmed bats and black cats. Through the half drawn curtains the Old Witch could be seen bending over her magic pot, from under which blue flames leaped forth and shed a ghostly light over the interior of the hut.

The Old Witch announced supper by telling the company to march in, two by two, just as the animals went into the Ark. Each guest was given a card bearing the name of an animal, and was instructed to find his partner by imitating the voice of that animal.

The table was made beautiful with autumn leaves, ferns and candles. The refreshments consisted of sandwiches, pickles, salted peanuts, ginger cakes, apples and pears.

A bowl of excellent cider was presided over by Miss Bert Weaver.

After supper the dining hall was cleared, and the spooks indulged in the Virginia Reel until the hour for departing.

The charming hostesses are to be congratulated upon the success and enjoyment of this delightful evening, and we hope to be entertained by them again in the near future.

A GUEST.

Plenty of Air.

Set the head of your bed near an open window, where every breath of air that stirs blows in. Inhale and exhale rapidly and with force eight or ten times. Then take long, deep, slow breaths so as to fill your lungs to their utmost capacity with pure air.

AN ENJOYABLE EVENING.

Salem, Va., Nov. 4, 1912.—On last Friday evening, at the home of the Misses Dame, on Virginia Avenue, Miss Fannie Goff's Sunday School class of the M. E. Church, South, held its regular monthly meeting. This being the night after Hallowe'en, that event was celebrated.

The following members of the "W. W." class were present: Misses Beunah Lefew, Evelyn Jervis, Lena Wright, Pauline Strickler, Grace and Maude Goodwin, Mamie Williams, Gay and Virginia Dame. Honorary members: Misses Clara Dillow, Faith Camden, Mary Moore, Fannie Boitnott, Lorena Wright, Sallie Maury and E. H. Day.

The library and parlor were thrown into one, and lighted by pumpkin lanterns, which presented a very weird appearance.

At first the usual devotional services were conducted by the president of the class, Miss Beunah Lefew, after which services, the Hallowe'en fetes began. Concealed in the rooms were slips of papers containing a "task" for each guest to perform. First, Miss Faith Camden, amused, as well as frightened, the crowd by singing in a very woeful voice "Ole Skin and Bones" during which time the ghost appeared upon the scene and made its way through the room. Next, a trio, entitled, "Three Blind Mice" was rendered in a comical manner by Misses Goff, Maury and Dame. Another interesting feature of the evening was the "bobbing" for apples, in which the young ladies showed a strong determination. Other similar amusements were indulged in, then, the lights being thrown on a number of piano duets were played by Misses Maude Goodwin and Faith Camden.

Next the witches appear, in "loose flung coats and high cocked hats," inviting the guests to the dining room where refreshments were served consisting of pumpkin pie, ginger snaps, lemonade and apples.

Much credit is due Misses Goff and Gay Dame who had secretely arranged the programme before hand.

At a late hour the guests departed declaring the evening to have been one of great enjoyment.

"THE WITCHES."

"Father" John Russell Dead.

Detroit, Nov. 4—"Father" John Russell, founder of the Prohibition party and the oldest Methodist preacher in the Detroit conference, is dead at the home of his daughter here. He was born in Livingston county, N. Y., in 1822. He wrote the first article and made the first speech in favor of the organization of an independent party on the issue of prohibition. He wrote the call for the first convention at which the party was organized in Chicago, and was its first candidate for vice president in 1872. For years he was the recognized leader of the prohibition forces throughout the country.

Please remember me to all of my friends in the city, and with best wishes." Owing to the Republican rule our rooster has not been used for quite awhile, therefore was out commission, and owing to high cost of living we was not able to purchase a new one, but we did not fail to hollow. Hurrah for Wilson.

Business Instinct.

"Columbus," said the boy who is studying history, "discovered America."

"Yes," replied his father, who is in finance; "he discovered it. But it took a number of people like myself to put the proposition on a paying basis."

TEACHERS' MEETING AT NARROWS.

The Teachers' meeting of Giles county will convene at Narrows, Friday and Saturday, November 15th and 16th, of this week.

He will also make a cheaper line of work including post cards and penny pictures.

Remember at Pearson's gallery from the 20th to the 25th of November.

JUDGE KEGLEY ISSUES WARNING.

In discharging the grand jury here at the present term of his court, Judge Kegley made a statement to them in regard to the purchase and selling of votes in which he said that in view of the fact that both of the political parties had heretofore indulged in this disreputable practice and that public sentiment had seemed to sanction it the court had not taken any notice of it, but that hereafter he would do as Judge Skeen had done and gave specific instructions to the future grand juries in regard to this violation of the law.

We heartily commend this course of Judge Kegley and warn all parties to beware.

THE GREAT SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION.

The Virginia Sunday School Association has issued posters of the Great Sunday School Convention of the Southwest, which is to be held at Pulaski on Nov. 20th and 21st. All Sunday School workers of the eighteen counties west of Roanoke are invited to attend as delegates from their Schools and will be entertained by the people of Pulaski. A large attendance is expected.

The list of speakers shows that every phrase of Sunday School work will be discussed, and by the best Sunday School speakers of the State. Among the subjects we note: "Training the Teachers," "Solving Church Problems," "The Older Boy," "The Girl Problem," "Teaching by Objects," "Soul Winning," "Adults in Sunday School," etc.

The Convention will open Wednesday morning Nov. 20th at 10 30, and close at 4.30 Thursday afternoon.

A SAD DEATH.

Mabel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Eaton of Bane, died at her home Nov. 7, 1912, age 16 years. The providences of God are often puzzling to human minds and such was the case when the angels came and carried away the sweet spirit of Mabel Eaton.

Mabel was a girl of remarkably sweet disposition and was always cheerful about her home duties. She had such a sunshiny manner about her that it was a pleasure to be in her company. Her schoolmates and young friends found her companionable and helpful. Her character was of that strong type on which her father and mother and little sister and others learned so confidently. In the home she was the stay of her mother and the companion of her little sister, Mamie. God's ways are always best and she was submissive to his will from the time she was taken sick. She was laid to rest at her home church, Eaton's Chapel, by her pastor, Rev. D T. Miles, assisted by Rev. W. B Belchee, in the presence of a large concourse of relatives and friends.

May God bless the bereaved father, mother and little sister, who survive her and unite the broken family circle in heaven.

GRAND BRIDGE CELEBRATION AND OYSTER SUPPER AT MAYBROOK, VA.

Saturday, November 16, 1912.

The opening of the Maybrook Bridge will be celebrated at Maybrooke on Saturday, November 16, 1912, with Tournment, Dart Riding, Sack Race, Tug of War, etc. One of the interesting features of the program will be the Tug of War between the Bradley Bridge boys and the Maybrook boys, and will be well worth seeing. Program begins promptly at two o'clock.

Beginning at six o'clock a box supper and oysters will be served in the Lucas Memorial church, the proceeds to be for the benefit of Lucas Memorial and Boyd's Chapel churches.

Everybody welcome.

Committee.

NOTICE!

Let all teachers remember the meeting of the Teachers' Association at Narrows, Friday and Saturday. The meeting will be called to order promptly at 10 o'clock a. m. We have a number of prominent speakers, Dr McConnell and Dr. Ennion G. Williams of Richmond, member of the State Board of Health, and other good speakers.

SNIDOW-RIPLEY.

The home of Mr. and Mrs Max Yvan Ripley, 501 Tenth avenue, s. w., was the scene of a quiet, but pretty wedding Thursday morning, when their sister, Miss Virginia Gladys Ripley, was married to Mr. Lacy Brown Snidow. Only a few friends and relatives witnessed the ceremony, which was impressively performed by the Rev. Samuel T. Senter, of Greene Memorial church. The only attendants were Miss Mabel Ripley, of New Castle, maid of honor, and Mr. Ryan H. Ripley, best man, sister and brother of the bride.

The bride was becomingly attired in a blue going-away suit with hat and gloves to match, and carried bride's roses. The maid of honor wore a blue coat suit and carried white chrysanthemums.

After receiving the congratulations and best wishes were driven to the N. & W. station and left on the noon train for a trip to Washington, Baltimore and other points north, after which they will be at home at Pembroke, Va.

An informal reception was given to the party. Wednesday evening, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ripley. The room were beautifully decorated with roses and potted plants and delightful refreshments were served. Mrs. Snidow is the youngest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. N. N. Ripley of New Castle, and by her sunny disposition, beauty and many accomplishments, has won for herself the friendship of all who knew her. Mr Snidow is a prominent business man of Giles county.—Roanoke Times.

Miss Lucy Strother of "Hill Top" spent Friday afternoon at P. F. St. Clair.

The sad news was spread over our community Friday morning, when the news reached us that Miss Mabel Eaton had passed out of this life to a fairer and brighter one above. Mabel was a beautiful girl of only sixteen summers and her kind and loving disposition will be greatly missed among her many friends, teachers and schoolmates. We extend our sincere sympathy to the father, mother and little sister, Mamie, through this sad breavement.

There will be Sunday School at Pleasant Hill Sunday at two o'clock and preaching at three in the afternoon by Bro. Reveley. Come one and all.

CHAMBERS-WHEELER.

A pretty wedding was solemnized on Saturday, Nov. 9th, at six o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Wheeler, Narrows, Va., when their daughter, Miss Leafy Vane, was united in marriage to Mr. I. Watha Chambers of Monroe County, W. Va.

The home was beautifully decorated with potted plants, evergreens, chrysantheums and cut flowers. The guests were ushered into the parlor by the bride's sister, Mrs. Tom Gearheart, who was gowned in spangled net over pink satin. Immediately before the ceremony Mrs. Russell Davis sang, "Oh, Promise Me." Then she played the familiar strains from Lohengrin to which the bridal party entered. First, came little Miss Dorothy Gearheart, niece of the bride, bearing the ring upon a satin pillow. Following came Miss Roxana Lent, maid of honor. The bride entered on the arm of her brother, who gave her away. They were met in the parlor by the groom. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Baber of Princeton, W. Va., assisted by Rev. James Johnston, grandfather of of the bride.

The bride was becomingly attired in a dark blue coat suit, with hat and accessories to match, and carried bride's roses The maid of honor also carrying bride's roses, was gowned in yellow charmeuse court train, draped with chiffon and embroidered in pearls.

After the ceremony the guests were ushered into the dining room, where a delicious five course dinner was served. Mesdames Lent, Merriman, Alvis and Brown assisting in the dining room.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs, W. E. C. Merriman, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Alvis, Mr. and Mrs. John Orr, Mr. and Mrs. F E Bastian, Mr and Mrs. W. R. Davis, Dr. and Mrs. A. S. Cover, Mr. and Mrs Frank Johnson, Mrs. Hale Brown, Mrs. A. B. Glenn, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Givens, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. French, Mr. and Mrs. K. S French, Mrs. G C Lent, Miss Edith Lent, Dr. F. D. Kelley, Mr and Mrs J. A. Crocker of Arno, Va., Mrs. Harry Charlton of Bluefield, Mr. and Mrs. Chambers. Mr. and Mrs. James Adair of Lurich, Frank Hansbarger of Peterstown, Wm Adair of Lurich, Mr. and Mrs. Fount Allen of Bluff City, Mr. Wesley Shannon, Mrs. William Johnson and Mrs. J. E. Hopkins.

Mrs. Chambers was one of the most beautiful and popular young ladies of Southwest Virginia, not only her great beauty but her charming and lovely manner has won her a hosts of friends, who will greatly miss her.

Mr. and Mrs. Chambers left immediately for Cincinnati, Columbus, Chicago, Omaho and South Dakota. They will be at home at Peterstown, W. Va., after December the fifteenth.

There's a big difference in Grain Drills. You don't want a Drill that takes longer to do the work than it should, or one that doesn't do the work right. You want a light running, strong and durable Drill. That's the kind we handle. So, we have the best line of Drills in this country. We can save you money and give you the best machine.

DUNCAN IMPLEMENT CO.,

WE WANT YOUR

Turkeys at Thanksgiving

or any time previous to that holiday market. We need a large supply of fine birds for which we have a regular outlet at absolutely the highest prices. Be careful of your selection of stock as only well-meated birds can be handled to best advantage for you. If your turkeys are fancy, properly graded and packed we can get you a premium.

Chickens, Fowls, Ducks, Geese, Also Wanted.

Dressed poultry (eggs also) has been our main specialty for 30 years. We handle large quantities every week in the year, having a constant, steady trade for all stock. Do NOT BE FOOLED by produce dealers who only "pull" for poultry during the holidays and who in many instances over-quote the market to get your goods, then not having a regular, established trade often have to sell your stock for less than market prices to clean it up. If you have anything to ship we will furnish correct quotations and shipping cards upon request.

Don't forget us?

The Winner.

We met up with a pretty gal, whose fortune was her face,
And he was quite enamored of her piquant charm of grace,
He liked to idly bask within the sunshine of her smile;
Her dimples and her winsome ways held him for quite a while,
But quite an unexpected thing transpired one fateful day,
He sized her up quite carefully, then went upon his way.

He met up with a learned gal who wasn't long on looks,
But who knew all the authors well and could name all their books,
She had old Socrates by heart, philosophers and all,
And gave our hero mental food whene'er he chanced to call,
But something happened once again, just why no one can say,
He sized her up quite carefully, then went upon his way.

He met up with a witty gal, whose small talk was immense,
He listened to her sallies with an interest intense,
She was too quick at making puns, she entertained him right,
Until he went clean daffy and he called there every night,
But somehow he soon tired of her brand of repartee,
He sized her up quite carefully, then went upon his way.

He met up with another gal, who wasn't long on looks,
Who knew no brilliant repartee, nor cared a snap for books,
He didn't know just why he stuck around so faithfully,
Until one night she made some dandy gems for tea,
Folks thought 'twould be the same old tale, but it was not. No, sir,
He sized her up quite carefully, and then he married her.

A Fairy Bird Cage.

Grace and Ella had seen the fine bird cages that Donald and Jane had made at school, which prompted Grace to say: "Come, Ella, come over to the field, and we will make one, same as my mother did when she was a little girl."

They hunted all over the grass for what Grace wanted—the ribbed plantain. 'Here it is, Ella—a funny little body as big as a black beetle, and a crown of wee, wee stars, coming out from round his waist."

'My mother says crowns are on heads,' argued Ella.

'No matter, Ella, for bird cages. They grow on the waist. She here! Quite an old one; and the crown has grown higher and higher, until it has reached his head, like your mother's new king, where she used to live.' And Grace went off into a peal of laughter.

They both picked the long stalks, heads and crowns and all, and with a handful of each sat under a tree near the fence.

'The stalks are not round, like dandelions,' said Ella.

'No; they're tough and ribbed, so they'll keep tied. You hold the heads, Ella, and I'll take the longest one and plait it in and out. Then I'll hold them, and you'll do the plaiting.'

'That's the way we learn to make baskets at school,' she said.

'Yes, but these are fairy cages,' added Grace. After a bit she told Ella: 'The cage is big enough for a fairy now. We must tie it under the crowns and at the bottom.' She brought out a little knife from her underskirt pocket and cut the stems all the right length, saying the while: 'I couldn't get on without my underpocket, though all the girls say it is so old-fashioned.' Leaving the cage a little open, they hung it on a hawthorn bush and went to hunt forget-me-nots.

'Why, Grace, there's a fairy in the cage already!' called Ella presently.

'Sure enough! It's a fairy butterfly. We'll carry it home and then let it fly. Fairies aren't happy unless they fly.'

When Donald saw it, he told them he was sure it was a silk butterfly, such as Emmie had at the end of the road. 'For I saw her winding their yellow silk.'

So after supper they carried their fairy down to Emmie's.

'O Grace!' Ella said on the way, 'you know it might be a horrid gypsy moth that lays eggs enough to eat up a whole wood; or it might be a codlin moth that eats up all father's apples.'

'Nonsense, Ella! It's much too big for a codlin moth, and I believe the gypsy is brownish like a real gypsy.'

Emmie settled the question by telling them she believed it was the very moth that she had lost. So all three were glad at the result of the ribbed plantain play. That was the name of the weed they gathered. Grace's mother told them this about it: 'In Scotland, where I came from, they call it the healing plant, and cover sores and wounds with its leaves. They say it always does good.'—Pacific Methodist Advocate.

SEEK EVER TO KEEP FRIEND.

Worth Careful Nurturing, Since Nothing on Earth Can Be More Beautiful.

In an article in the Woman's Home Companion on the compensations that come to those who live away from great centers of population there appeared the following sound advice:

"We are idly inclined to think that a real friendship, once begun ought to survive of its own vitality; but, alas! all beauty in this world, from a roseslip to a human soul, needs nurture. Nietzsche speaks very scornfully of those who fancy they dare show themselves as they are to their friends. 'For your friends,' he advised, 'wear every adornment.' It is well worth while to save the highest cheer, the brightest thoughts, the gentlest attentions, for the friends. One should always keep some impersonal topics of conversation ready, so that your thoughts together should not huddle down to the sordid atmosphere of narrow spaces. Be not only the sunshine to your friend, but be a broad outlook and a wide view! Love must have space and air to thrive in.

"Human life offers us nothing else so beautiful as real friendship; not love, not prosperity, not fame, are so fair, so precious. So foster it! Let no distrust, no absence, no difference of environment, dim its luster. Let death itself be powerless to rob you of its sweetness! Never break it; never lose it; it is the sweetest touch of mortal life."

Loses Grit.

"Isn't that fellow ever going to propose?"

"I guess not; he's like an hour-glass."

"How's that?"

"The more time he gets the less sand he has."—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

PLAN FOR EMPLOYEES' PENSIONS, DISABILITY BENEFITS AND INSURANCE.

A fund of $10,000,000 for Pensions, Sick Benefits and Life Insurance will be available on January 1st, for the 175,000 employees of the Bell system and associated interests and their families and dependents, amounting altogether to more than a quarter of a million people.

This $10,000,000 Fund will be made from year to year by annual appropriations on the part of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company and Associated Companies, and the Western Union Telegraph Company and the Western Electric Company.

The plan for the distribution of this fund has been characterized as the most liberal, comprehensive and ideal ever inaugurated. President T. N. Vail has provided combined benefits for superannuation, sickness, accident and death for an industrial army more than twice as large as the standing army of the United States.

This provision is made entirely at the expense of the various companies interested, without contributions of any kind from employees themselves. The application of these varied benefits will be strictly democratic and will be for the benefits of all employees of every rank. The plan will provide for free change of employment from one company to another, with full credit for combined terms of service.

The Bell system and associated interests provide employment for about 175,000 people; of this number 130,000 are employees of the Bell Telephone System. The total yearly pay for the whole group is about $115,000,000, something over $80,000,000 being paid out in wages by the Bell Telephone system alone.

The terms by which provision is made for the needs of age, illness, accidents and death may be summarized as follows:

PENSIONS.

Male employees who have reach the age of sixty years and who have been twenty years or more in service, may retire on pensions. They may be retired at the option of the company when they have reached the age of fifty five years and have been twenty-five years or more in service. The pension age of female employees is in each case five years younger than that of male employees. Any employee who has been thirty years in service, regardless of age, may be pensioned on the approval of the President of the company.

The amount of the pension is automatically based on the years of service and the amount of pay, and will be 1 per cent. of the average annual pay for ten years, multiplied by the number of years of service. Therefore, a man who had been thirty years in service would get 30 per cent. of the average salary which he had been receiving during his last ten years of service. No pension will be less than $20 00 a month.

ACCIDENT DISABILITY BENEFITS.

In the case of accidents occuring in and due to the performance of work for the company, the employee will receive for total disability, full pay for thirteen weeks and half pay for the remainder of disability, up to six years.

If the disability is temporary, he will receive full pay for thirteen weeks and half pay until able to earn a livelihood, not exceeding six years.

SICKNESS DISABILITY BENEFITS.

Employees who are disabled by sickness or accident outside of the regular course of duty after ten years or more in service, will receive full pay for thirteen weeks and half pay for thirty-nine weeks; if from five to ten years in service, full pay for thirteen weeks and half pay for thirteen weeks; if from two to five years in service, full pay for four weeks and half pay for nine weeks. In the case of employees who have not been two years in service, heads of departments will be permitted the same discretion as heretofore, in continuing pay during temporary illness.

LIFE INSURANCE.

In the case of death resulting from accident in and due to performance of work for the company, an insurance amounting to three years' pay will be paid to the dependent of the employee, the maximum payment being $5,000.

In the case of death resulting from sickness or from accident outside of business, the payment will be one year's pay for employees who have been ten years or more in service, and one-half of one year's pay for employees who have been from five to ten years in service, the maximum payment being $2,000.

If any State statutes provide for more liberal compensation than is provided under the Benefit Plan, the statutory provision will prevail. Where the employees have legal rights, as in some accident cases, they will have the option of exercising such rights or accepting the company's benefits.

The American Telephone and Telegraph Company has set aside from its surplus a fund which provides for those whom it directly employs, and also provides a reserve, upon which, under certain conditions, the Associated Companies may draw. This fund is supplemented by funds set aside by each company. The total appropriations will aggregate something more than $10,000,000. The benefits, it is estimated, will cost annually about $10,000,000 more than the present payments on this account.

The administration of the funds will be in the hands of Employees' Benefit Committees of five, to be appointed by the Board of Directors of each company. The committee of each associated company will have jurisdiction over the benefits for employees of that company.

The Employees' Benefit Committee of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company will have general jurisdiction over the plan for the entire system and specific authority as to the American Telephone and Telegraph Company's employees' benefits.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Dickie Whittaker near town last week, a son.

FOR RENT—Three or four good houses. Apply to
W. H. BUCHANAN, JR.

Misses Ruth Thompson and Nina Johnston spent the week-end in Bluefield.

Clarence Strader and Earl Carr spent Sunday at Eggleston. What's the attraction boys!

Mrs. Rebecca Smith and Miss Mattie Smith of Cambria, visited Mrs. R. L. Peters the first of the week.

Miss Edith Carr spent the week-end at Eggleston, with Misses Fannie Thorn and Allie Munsey.

Edgar Price, who has been visiting his cousin, Emma Phlegar, has returned to his home at Pulaski.

In spite of all the picnics there have been held this summer there is no visible diminution in the supply of pies.

Mrs. J. A Myers was visiting her daughter, Mrs. R. W. McGhee at East Radford, a few days first of the week.

John White & Co., Louisville, Ky., who deals in furs and hides, advertise in this issue to which we call attention.

For thorough-bred Belgians Hares, address C. A. Brown of Narrows, Va. A large number on hands at present.

Mayor C. T. Painter lost a 300 lb. hog last week from Cholera. This makes about 50 hogs he has lost lately.

Maj. T. S. Taylor, Deputy Grand Master, was holding a two days school first of the week at the Masonic Hall here.

We have a New Home sewing machine, that we will trade for apples, potatoes, corn, pork, fodder, etc. Call at this office.

Rev. J. G Reveley will preach at Hoge's Chapel next Sunday morning at 11 a. m., Pembroke at 3.30 p. m., and Ripplemead at night.

We added to our list this week Mrs. Nannie Belle Hale of Rocky Gap, Va., and Miss Nora French of Kimball, W. Va. Thanks, to you ladies.

CHIL-LAX
For Chills and Fever.

L E Ferrell of New River, gave us a call last Saturday. We are always glad to welcome such gentlemen to our office.

Rev. M. W. Royall will fill his regular appointments at Berean Church Saturday at 2 p. m., and at Pearisburg Sunday at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.

Rev. W. B Belchee will hold services at Hale's Chapel next Saturday night and Sunday morning at 11 a. m., and at Bluff City Sunday night.

Any one wishing to buy a good second hand buggy or delivery wagon will get a bargain from
W. H. BUCHANAN, JR.

Sam Jack Musick, Mgr., Piedmont Business College, Inc., Lynchburg, Va., carry an advertisement with us this week to which we direct attention.

Out of 109 statements we sent out we have only heard from 12 of them. Friends, this is not treating us right, as we need our money. Please let us hear from one and all.

Read the change of advertisement in another column of Frank Hellerick & Co., Philadelphia, Pa. They want your turkeys, etc., for Thanksgiving. They will treat you right.

Prof. J. A. Livesey, Principal of Graham High School, and son Arch, of Graham, Va., spent Sunday in town. Prof. is looking well, and speaks of great improvements in Pearisburg.

Next week's issue will contain quite an interesting program for the Week of Prayer, which the ladies of the Methodist Missionary Society are planning to observe December 1st to 6th.

Walter Bingham, who went to Jefferson Hospital at Roanoke last week, has been operated on for appendicitis, and will be at home this week. We are glad to hear that Walter is getting along nicely.

Aunt Easter Smith (colored), mother of Andy Smith of this place, dropped dead on the 8th inst. near town and was buried on the following Sunday. Aunt Easter was an honored and respected woman of her race.

W. E Hoilman of Mechanicsburg, Va, in writting us, says: "We cannot afford to do without the Giles County paper, if we do live in Bland. Long live the VIRGINIAN and its editor." Thanks.

N. C. Hetherington of this place, sold on Monday his house and lot on Main Street he bought from John Moye, to A. E Dinsmore and G. W. D. Dennis. These gentlemen contemplate in the near future moving the dwelling house and erecting a handsome Garage and Opera on second story. This is a much needed enterprise in Pearisburg, and we wish them much success in their new undertaking.

KIDNEY FLUSH
For Kidney & Bladder Diseases.

Charley Cooper, who shot and killed S. T. Gerberich of Dublin, Nov. 2nd, was tried in Pulaski Court, Monday 18th, and sentenced to the penitentiary for 18 years. Opinion is that death penalty would have been result of trial. The deceased was the father of our townsman, A. D. Gerberich of H. B. Shelton & Co., of this place.

Judge Martin Williams has been invited to make an address at the State Teachers' Association at Richmond on the 27th inst., on the subject: "Public School Business in Virginia." This is a well deserved honor and tribute to Judge Williams, who was the author of the "Williams' School House Bill," and to whose entiring efforts in behalf of the Schools of Virginia, more than to perhaps any other citizen of the State, is the State today in possession of High School buildings in every county, giving to the children opportunities at home, to acquire an academic education, and whatever the grown up people of the State may feel regarding him, it is pretty certain the school children of the State of today and hereafter will "rise up to call him blessed."

Mr. and Mrs. Emory Keister have moved their goods and chattels to Bane, Giles county Va, where Mr. Keister has rented a fine farm, and will engage in general farming and stock-raising. A good democrat has been added to the Ninth Congressional District—New Castle Record.

Mr. Keister is not only a Democrat, but a good citizen, and we welcome him back to our county, his former birth place.

Billy Stebar, Minor Taylor, Martin Huffman and Chas. A. Hardwick have gone to Johns Creek where they will be joined by other friends, including the Commonwealth's Attorney of Monroe Co., W. Va., who will look after W. Va.'s interest along the border, and will be engaged throughout the week, in what they have planned to be the biggest deer hunt for lo, these many years. The narrative of Daniel Boone's famous exploits will sink into insignificance when compared with the summing up of this cruise.—New Castle Record.

Harve Phlegar and James Phlegar of near Ripplemead, were also with the above hunters. We learn they killed five deer, but we haven't any deer meat to prove they did.

DR. ISAIAH BEE DEAD.

Princeton, W. Va., Nov. 15.—Just as we go to press we learn of the death of Dr. Isaiah Bee, which occurred at 3:15 o'clock this afternoon. His death is a shock to Princeton and surrounding country. Dr. Bee was eighty-one years old, and was one of Princeton's oldest and best known citizens.—Princeton Messenger.

PRESTON-MASON.

Married at the Presbyterian Church, Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 20th at two p. m., by Rev. B. Hobson of Buchanan county, Mr. Charles Isaac Preston of Roanoke, to Miss Helen Reynolds Mason of this place.

A more extended notice of this beautiful event will appear in our next issue.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to express through the columns of the VIRGINIAN, our sincere thanks to the many friends who so kindly helped us during the sickness and death of our beloved daughter, Mabel.

Every thoughtful remembrance we treasure in our hearts and the sympathy of those who mingled their tears with ours, have help ed us to bear this heavy cross. May God's richest benediction rest upon all.

MR AND MRS. MILT EATON.

DEATH OF REV. JAS. STRALEY.

We failed to mention in our last week's issue of the sudden death of our former Giles county boy, Rev. James O. Straley, Presiding Elder of the Tazewell District, who passed away at his home in Tazewell on Wednesday, Nov. 6th. He was in his usual good health and spirits all that day, and a few minutes before his death was playing with his children on the lawn and at the barn. He went to the barn to feed his horse and coming out fell at the door the victim of appoplexy. He had a few years ago suffered a stoke of paralysis.

He was born and raised in Giles county and clerked for T. J. Pearson before entering Emory and Henry College. He was a hard student and every spare moment he took advantage of it day and night.

He has a host of friends in our town and county, who mourn with his widow and five small children in their loss of a husband and kind and affectionate father.

He was buried at Emory and Henry according to his wish as he graduated there.

Porter-Talliaferro.

On Wednesday morning at Roanoke, Va., Miss Cleo Talliaferro and Mr. L. C. Porter, both of this city, were quietly united in marriage. The wedding was quite a surprise to the many friends of the constracting parties in this city. The bride is one of Princeton's most charming and popular young ladies, while the groom is a hustling young business man of this city, who for many years has been connected with the Armour Packing Company and who has built up a large and lucrative trade for his firm in this county.

After a bridal tour to eastern cities the happy couple will return to Princeton, where they will make their future home. The Messenger joins a host of friends in wishing for them a long and contented life together.—Princeton Messenger.

THE TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.

The Teachers' Institute which met at Narrows last Friday and Saturday was a success in every respect. A well prepared program was carried out in full. Teachers took great interest in rendering the part assigned them on the program. The Institute was visited by distinguished speakers from within and outside of the county. Drs. McConnell and Williams and Judge Martin Williams added largely to the interest of Southwest.

Judge Williams addressed the teachers and citizens of the town, Friday night on the subject "How the Laws of Virginia are Made." This was an excellent speech on a well selected subject.

It was listened to with great interest. It was something out of the ordinary. The speaker showed his familiarity with the process of law making. He also met the teachers on Saturday morning, and addressed them on the subject of school funds, showing that our present outlay for school funds is not meeting the demand, that while the State is going to the full extent of its ability, the county of Giles is falling short of what it is capable of doing, and that our education interests are laging as a result of this lack of funds. He urged that steps be taken to bring this matter before the proper authorities that a larger school levy may be made, so as to meet the demands and give us better equipped school buildings, longer terms of school, and better paid teachers.

NARROWS.

Grover C. Lucas, who was a brakesman on the Virginian, was injured in an explosion near Lafayette on Thursday night and died at the Roanoke Hospital on Friday evening at six o'clock. His remains were brought home Saturday morning and the funeral was conducted Sunday evening at the Christian church by the Pastor, Rev. Kerfoot, assisted by Rev. Gearheart. Grover is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Lucas and four brothers and one sister, James Lucas of Princeton, W. P., Ira and Clayton Lucas of Narrows and Mrs. Luke Luster of Lester, W. Va. The order of Railway Fireman from Princeton attended the funeral in a body. The casket was covered with beautiful flowers. His was a sad death, for he was only twenty years of age and was snatched away just in the bloom of young manhood.

Miss Ethel Killey of Vivian, W. Va, is the house guest of Mrs. W. R. Davis.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Bastian motored to Roanoke Saturday in their new car.

Dr. and Mrs. A. S. Cover and son, James, left Saturday for their new home at Easton, Md. Everyone here regretted to give them up and wish for them success in their new home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Hank Woolwine entertained their friends at a delightful card party Thursday night.

Misses Gladys Duncan and Mary Francis Mason spent Wednesday night here.

Mrs. Mollie Dunn of Wilmington, N. C., Mrs. Ellen Gooch of Hinton, W. Va., and Mrs. Ayers of Tenn., are the guests of Mrs. J. A. Adair and will remain with her until after Thanksgiving.

Miss Margaret Dills was the guest of Miss Hedrick last week.

Mrs. D. F. Hale, who has been so ill, is improving.

Mr. and Mrs. K. S. French were shopping in Bluefield last week.

The Teachers' Association of Giles county met here Friday and Saturday. There were fifty-five present, and a very interesting program was rendered.

Dr McConnell of Emory, Dr. Williams of Richmond, and Judge Martin Williams of Pearisburg were here, and made excellent addresses before the Teachers' Association.

Miss Janie Adair of Bluefield, spent the week-end with homefolks.

James Wheeler is able to be out again, after having been confined to his room for several days.

Mrs. F. D. Kelley and son, Frederick, have returned from a visit to relatives in Tenn.

X.

In Memory of Mabel Eaton.

When the Death angel comes into our homes and takes from us our choicest treasure—the tender blossom that fillled the home with so much sweetness—it is hard, indeed hard, to realize that the angel messenger Death is God's servant. The flock must be brought home—He comes to bring the wanderer safe home to the fold of God's love.

The lambs are God's, not ours, or ours but to watch and tend until He sends for them. Through our own fatherhood and motherhood can we not read God's heart of love! Through our own watching for a child's return, conceive the thought that glows in love divine!

But we say the thought of Death is so awful, so cold, so grim; could we but go with the loved one across the mystic river the parting would not be so hard.

We cannot comprehend this thought of Death, the living have never seen Death—only the dying and who knows but that behind the mask of this grim monster, is the form of an angel fair—to the good and true always the very image of Christ. On Thursday evening, a little past the sun set hour, in the home of her birth, with loved ones watching beside her, the Death angel came for Mabel and transplanted the beautiful flower to her home in heaven. Born Aug. 11, 1896, she was given sixteen years here to brighten the home and hearts of the parents and to develop a beautiful Christian character.

When only a tiny girl of five years, under my father's pastorate, she asked to join the church and though young parents and pastor thought best to receive her into membership, through the years that followed—unless kept away by sickness, Mabel's place in the Sunday School, the choir, the regular service was never vacant—she loved her church and was faithful to it to the end.

Of a bright, happy disposition she filled the home with sunshine, her voice in song was the sweetest music in the world, parents and sister looked to her for more than the ordinary daughters service and she cheerfully met every demand made upon her time and strength.

She had far more ambition than strength, her love for study—especially music was a passion with her and the fond parents gave her every advantage possible. I well remember what a pains-taking pupil she was, her music lessons ever carefully prepared and how the face would light up with pride and joy as she played some beautiful hymns.

A severe sickness in infancy weakened her constitution and each year gave less promise of health, last winter an attack of rheumatism impaired her heart and the months following were filled with pain and anxiety. Six weeks ago a change for the worse came and though all that human skill could do was done—it was of no avail.

On Wednesday morning Mabel called her mother to the bed side and told her—"all was well, she was ready to go and could see her dear little brother, Mason, who had been dead several years—beckoning for her."

Ah! yes, we know the angel form of a little brother and many others "we have loved and lost awhile" met her as she went home—only a little while if we are faithful until we shall see her again.

To those who so sadly miss her sweet presence and feel that the light of home is gone, our hearts go out in deepest sympathy—God alone can comfort them.

"He knows all about those who love
Him,
How bitter the trial must be,
And right through it all, God is loving,
And knows so much better than we."

In the quiet cemetery at Eaton's Chapel, covered with a profusion of beautiful flowers, her body was placed to rest, she sleeps safe in the arms of a kind, loving heavenly father and the memory of her pure, Christian life is ours for remembrance.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Thanksgiving Day.

BY MRS J M F. GILL

Another milestone marks the way
In answer to the prayer we pray—
"Give us this day our daily bread."
In richness is our country fed,
And thus today, O God, we raise
A nation's joyful, grateful praise.

Within the holly of God's hand
Our soldiers rest on sea and land,
And where the "Stars and Stripes" unfurl
The flag of peace, too, greets the world,
And thus we thank Thee, Lord, that strife
Mars not our nation's glorious life.

The fire, the pestilence, the flood
Have touched us only for our good
Atuning heart and hand to heed
In helpfulness, our brothers' need—
Yea, light has been Thy chastening rod—
For this, we give Thee thanks, O God!

For peace, for food, for temporal care,
And for a nation's faith in prayer,
For power to purge in honor's flame
Each blot that marks our nation's shame
We give Thee thanks. While o'er the land
We count the blessings from Thy Hand.

And counting thus, we find most dear
Is "conquered self" who knows no fear,
But proudly owns himself a part
Of all that moves the nation's heart,
And for this joy today we raise
To Thee our grateful, personal praise.

The Dear Teacher Talks Upon Thanksgiving.

BY WILBUR D NESBIT.

Good old Mr. Timmins had invited his sons and daughters and brothers and sisters and their families to take dinner with himself and wife on Thanksgiving.

They were very thankful.

Good old Mrs. Timmins had been up since 4 o'clock that morning roasting the turkey and devising the pies and getting things in readiness.

The guests had arrived, and the hour or so that elapsed until dinner was spent by the older ones in talking of the weather.

The weather is a great topic of conversation. If it is a nice day or if it is not, it can be discussed. That children, is where the weather has the bulge on people. If they are nice people, we may talk about them in polite society. If they are not, it is different.

Remember that.

The little Timminses and the other children and grandchildren and nephews and nieces were merrily whacking the hardwood floor with grandpa's cane, and rubbed the shoeblacking off against the upholstering of the chairs, and tearing the lace curtains, and otherwise disporting themselves in the merry, merry manner of true innocent youth when it goes a visiting.

Grandpa Timmins was observed the fidget uneasily in his seat, but this had no effect upon the papas of the children. It was a relief to them to see someone else standing for the damage done.

Finally Grandpa Timmins said, sweetly:

"Here, children, bless your little hearts, is a box of matches. Take them and play with them, for the house is insured against fire, but not against you."

Wasn't that a sassy bump?

How many little boys or girls in the class would conduct themselves as these children did when visiting?

Of course, you say that now, but your teacher dear will make bets on you.

Finally the dinner was announced, and good old Grandpa Timmins took his place at the head of the table to carve the turkey.

The turkey is a noble bird, children. He is worth about 40 cents a pound, dressed, but if you buy feathers, feet and all, the marketman will let you have the bird for 39½ cents. If a turkey, with the feathers and feet on, weighs 10 pound and 4 ounces, when will the hash appear for the last time? Write the answer on your slates.

Nature has so devised us that we cannot eat feathers with any degree of comfort or satisfaction. If we could, we would probably feel down in the mouth oftener than we do.

That is right. Always laugh when the teacher gets off one. It will help with your grades.

Grandpa Timmins took up the carving knife and asked each of the little darlings what he or she would have. And each one of them—there were 16 at the table—said he or she would have the drumstick and a wing and the gizzard and plenty of stuffing.

Whereat Grandpa Timmins smiled a saccharine smile and politely inquired:

"Do you think your beloved grandparent has barbecued a cold storage house?"

Then he attacked the turkey and the knife slide all over the surface of the fowl, for it was one of these leather-finished birds that have seen better days, although the marketman was able to break it's wings and tear the skin.

But marketman are strong individuals.

Is there any little boy pesent who hope to grow up to be a marketman?

Would you rather be a marketman or be president?

Nobody spoke, my fair child; always be strenuous.

At last Grandpa Timmins found the weak spot in the armor of the turkey and filed off sufficient meat to help the guests. Then he said "Whoo!" and mopped his brow with his napkin.

He was not a foxy grandpa, or he would have made his newest son-in-law do the hard work.

Then everybody fell to, and ate all the good jelly and pie and pudding and cake and other stuff that Gramma Timmins had worked so hard over, while she tried to look as if her long hours of toil were amply repaid.

And after dinner the babies cried and two of the boys were whipped and the little girls tore their Sunday frocks playing tag behind the curio cabinet. They also broke some of grandpa's pet relics.

Then he broke his good resolution.

Later on they all went home.

And good old Grandpa and Grandma Timmins sat down and looked at the wreck and looked at one another and said:

"Whoo!"

For the company had gone.

And they were very thankful.

A Crisis at the Dinner.

Mr. Gooph (to the guests)—Which do you prefer—dark or white meat?

Eight Guests (in chorus)—White.

Mr. Gooph—Sorry, but our cook prefers the white meat. Can't you chang your minds?

He Lost Twice.

Former Hocorn—Here, you black rascal, where you goin' with that turkey?

Mr. Darkleigh—'Deed Mistah Hoco'n, I ain't nowhar. I's payin' a 'lection bet, dat's all.

Homemade table souvenirs of any sort are especially appropriate for Thanksgiving.

THANKSGIVING FABLE.

There was once a proud fat turkey that looked down upon all the rest of the turkeys and was greatly disliked because of its arrogance and conceit

And when Thanksgiving time came around, the owner of the turkeys came among them, ax in hand.

Whereupon all of the other turkeys were jealous of the proud fat turkey and said that at last it would get what was coming to it.

But the proud, fat turkey only strutted and gobbled with more arrogance than ever. And its owner said:

"I guess I'll not kill that one. I'll send it to the turkey show and take a ribbon."

Which he did.

This teaches that conceit sometimes helps, if there is any excuse for it.

Some Cause for Rejoicing.

In addition to the general occasion for thanksgiving, every life has its own joys and every soul its own delights. There are many who appear to be barren of rejoicing, some into whose homes calamity has come and from which have gone those whose faces were the love lights of the domestic circle. But even here may be found some cause for rejoicing, and, in any event, a reverent faith may take up the triumph of the uncrushed spirit of Job—"Though he slay me, yet will I praise him." God does not willingly afflict the children of men, and when the misfortunes come he stands ready to comfort and to protect.

Not a Mere Festival.

Thanksgiving Day, if it be properly observed, observed in the spirit of true Christian love, will be an inspiration to all. It is not a mere time of feasting. If that were all there would be no thanksgiving in it. It is a religious feast. And now as of old men are asked to remember, when they have eaten and are full, who it is that gives them power to get wealth. A thankful heart and a humble and loving spirit are the graces which ought to be coveted by those who catch the true spirit of Thanksgiving Day.

True Thankfulness.

Where true thankfulness is there can be no selfishness. For the honestly thankful man must be filled with a sense of his own unworthiness to enjoy the good things that come to him Humility must mark his attitude toward his own blessings. The next step is to share them as far as this may be done with others less fortunate though quite as worthy as himself.

The Reason Thereof.

Askit—Why does Thanksgiving always come on Thursday?

Tellit—So that the remnants of the turkey will not run into the Sunday menu.

Such a Mistake.

Boarder—Ah, I see that you have killed that mosquito which was buzzing around last night.

Landlady — Mosquito? Sir! That is our Thansgiving turkey.

A Preference.

Turkey awful hahd to get—
Rathuh have a goose,
'Sides, day ain't so hahd ter reach
When dey on de roos'.

Don't work a bigger town merely—work for a better town.

The man with a big fat turkey has a THANKSGIVING DINNER once a year. The man with a big fat bank account has a thanksgiving dinner EVERY DAY. A Letter from An Old Giles Boy.

"The Outlook," Shawsville, Va.,
Nov. 11, 1912.

To My Friend the Editor of The Pearisburg Virginian:

I have been taking your paper for many years, and find it all the more interesting, since rocks and hills seperate me from the land that gave me birth, and the sweet and pleasant recollections of my childhood days, and the noble Christian friends of my earlier years. I am proud of the fact, that from my old home and church, Green Valley.

We have in China, Miss Mary Sue Mathews; in Japan, Mrs. Rachel Peck Fulton, to represent us in Mission work, and many good and noble ones I might mention, gone out from old Giles to sing its praises and proclaim the glad tidings of great joy in other lands. And most tenderly do I think of the "Home Guards" holding the Fort till glory doth shine.

I am delighted with many things in your paper. The poem "Just for Today," I wish could be impressed on every heart. "Crossing the Barr," so sweet to me. And every week, "Hayseed," heads the White Gate Items with a verse or more, "Like the Value of a Smile," worth the price of your paper, but who wouldn't be inspired to write good things from White Gate, Angel's Rest, Mountain Lake, etc.

And now comes the Good Roads movement. I believe in letting the world know where you stand. If you are on a Good Roads committee talk roads; If you are on the highway to heaven, cut loose from the devil and so live and act day by day that folks will know you are a true child of God and not a miserable hypocrit. We are right on the Washington to Bristol highway and right at the station, no gates to bother, and if anything makes "life worth while," it is good roads. I find from experience here, that land on a good road will bring from $500 to $800 an acre, and you know I am delighted with my new home, "The Outlook," where my friends are welcome.

LOONEY ATTEMPTS SUICIDE.

Harvey D. Looney convicted at the September term of the Craig Circuit Court for the murder of Town Sergeant Oscar M. Martin on the night of June 16, 1912, and sentenced to die in the electric chair on November 29th, attempted to commit suicide in his cell on Monday night of this week.

Questioned by the sheriff as to where he secured the knife, which was a small long-bladed knife with the handles off; he answered that he would suffer his arms to be severed before he would tell. The supposition is that he had the knife sewed up in his clothing where he has had it concealed since he was in the hopital at Clifton Forge. The belief is expressed that had it been possible for some of his friends to smuggle a knife to him they would have given him one with which he could have easily accomplished his purpose.

The guard left with him on Tuesday morning, the prisoner, notwithstanding the loss of blood, being able to walk to the vehicle that was to convey him to the station.—New Castle Record.

ANGEL'S REST.

The bride had gone, and the last sweet sounds
Had faintly died away;
I stood me there on the old home porch
Just at the close of day.

And there in the West in the afterglow,
I saw a mountain rise,
With all the grandeur of lofty height,
And lean against the skies.

The mountain is Angel's Rest, I'm told,
And sweet the thoughts suggest,
That an angel comes and slumbers there,
And finds a holy rest.

An Angel of Cheer, me thinks it is,
Sent to the sad below,
And at night it sleeps at Heaven's brink,
To catch the faintest woe.

I thought of the bride—the home she'd left—
The father's empty heart,
And thinking of these I found the tears
Did from my eyelids start.

And quick as a flash that Angel came,
And wiped those tears away,
And bade me look at the bright red hue,
Left by the parting day.

That though her leaving loomed cold and dark,
That like that red, red glow,
So her life would beam with happiness,
The Angel told me so.

The above beautiful lines were written by Miss Lily Tyler, relative of Miss Helen Mason, whose wedding she attended.

The thoughts that come unsought, and, as it were, drop into the mind, are commonly the most valuable of any we have, and therefore should be secured, because they seldom return again.—Jackson.

Preston-Mason.

Brilliant and Interesting Wedding Solemnized at Pearisburg.

The marriage of Charles I. Preston of Salem, Va., to Miss Helen Reynolds Mason at Pearisburg, on Wednesday, Nov. 20th, was one of the most brilliant as well as interesting events in the social chronicles of Southwest Virginia.

The Presbyterian church had been decorated for the occasion with a taste and skill unsurpassed, and presented in itself a charming picture to the hosts of friends who had congregated from so many places to witness the nuptials of this popular young couple. Tier after tier of evergreen back of the altar, each surmounted with innumerable candles, gave cathedral-like effect to the enterior of the little church, while the profusion of potted plants against the pure white of the draperies made a chaste and artistic background for the bridal party. A huge bell of white chrysanthemums was suspended by ropes of evergreen over the spot where this most sacred of all rites was to be celebrated. Mrs M. E. Minter, of Kenova, a sister of the bride, gowned in pale green crepe meteor, presided at the organ and Miss Margaret Williams, of Glade Spring, sang, "The Hour That Gave Me You," before the ceremony. In the hushed stillness of the waiting church words and music were very beautiful.

The three brothers and three brothers-in law of the bride constituted the ushers—a striking feature of this exceptionally interesting wedding. Preceded by Rev. Bolling Hobson, of Buchanan, Va, who performed the ceremony and Rev. J. G Reveley, who assisted him, they made their entrance as follows: Mr. Hoge Mason, of Bluefield; Mr. Clay Mason, of Ripplemead; Judge Bernard Mason, of Pearisburg; Mr. Sydnor Angel, of Northfork; Mr. Edwin Minter, of Kenova; Mr. Harold Moore, of War Eagle.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Harold Moore, in Duchess lace over pale pink messaline with black velvet picture hat and carrying an immense boquet of shaded chrysanthemums, came in with Mr. Clay Chapman, of Salem. They crossed at the altar and there awaited the coming of the bride. Then came little Miss Elizabeth Angel in white hand-made lingerie dress over pink taffeta, bearing a huge basket of chrysanthemums containing the ring. On the opposite side little Miss Dorothy Hoge Mason, also in white dress of hand-made lingerie over pink taffeta, carried the satin pillow.

Miss Susie Mason Easley, niece of the bride, was maid of honor and wore white net over pink taffeta, with trimmings of real lace. She carried pink chrysanthemums as tall as she, that rivalled the flower-like loveliness of the youthful maid. The bride-elect came in on the arm of her father, Mr D. W. Mason, who gave her away. She was gowned in a magnificent creation of brocaded satin with long court train and pearl ornaments—a regal figure in her gracious loveliness.

Mr. Preston, accompanied by Dr. Koontz, of Salem, met them at the altar. The ring ceremony was used. Immediately afterward Mr. and Mrs. Preston were driven to the station and left for an extended tour of the southern states and Cuba.

The bride's going-away gown was a two-toned brown whipcord with accessories to match and was particularly becoming to her type of beauty.

Mrs. Preston is the youngest daughter of Mr. D. W. Mason and had done the honors of the home place for several years. She will be greatly missed in this community, not only for her sterling qualities but the gracious hospitality she so generously dispensed.

Mr. Preston is connected with the Norfork and Western, with offices in Roanoke. The numerous and elegant presents of which they were the recipients attested the esteem in which they were both held by their wide circles of friends.

Among the guests from a distance were: Gov. and Mrs. J Hoge Tyler and Miss Lillie Tyler, Radford; Col. and Mrs. Jas. S. Browning, Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Huff and Mr. Gilliam, Roanoke; Dr. and Mrs. E. S Koontz, Mrs. Hammett, Mr. Preston, Mr. Clay Chapman, Misses Preston and Chapman, Salem; Maj. and Mrs. A. D Reynolds, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Etter, Bristol; Mr. and Mrs Hoge Mason and daughter, Mr and Mrs. Cubbedge, Dr. A. H Hoge and Mr. J. H. Hoge, Bluefield; Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Minter, Kenova; Mr. and C. S. Angel and daughter, Northfork; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Moore, War Eagle; Mrs. William Lybrook, Blacksburg; Miss Margaret Williams, Glade Springs; Dr. Bolling Hobson, Buchanan.

RECEPTIONS.

The first of the series of entertainments given in honor of Miss Helen Reynolds Mason, whose marriage to Mr. Charles Isaac Preston of Salem, took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. F St Clair of Bane, Friday night. The home was tastefully decorated for the happy occasion. Those who assisted Mr. and Mrs. P. F. St. Clair in receiving were Mesdames T. J. Pearson, L. P. Eaton, Charles D. Kemp and Miss Mason, looking very charming in a pink satin veiled in shadow lace and flowered crepe meteor en traine. Mrs. Lucile Mann poured coffee and Miss Peck served chocolate, assisted by Mrs. D. M. St. Clair. Those receiving in the spacious dining room were Misses Marguerite and Min Pearson and Winnie Suggs. A delectable salad course was served.

Miss Helen Mason gave a dinner Sunday to a few of her girlhood friends. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Carol Etter, Bristol; Mrs. William Lybrook, Mr. and Mrs. Clay Mason, Mr. and Mrs. Sid Angel, Mrs Mann, Mrs. A. J. Reynolds, Mrs. Harold Moore and Misses Nell Peck, Marguerite and Kate Pearson.

Monday afternoon Mrs. Charles Kemp and the Misses Pearson gave a luncheon complimentary to the bride-elect. Miss Mason was very handsome in a brown satin gown trimmed in gold lace. Mrs. Reynolds, aunt of the bride, wore black satin; Mrs. Angel, sister of the bride, red messaline and lace, and Mrs. Clifton Huff, brown velvet; Mrs. Ed. Koontz, black lace over green, and Mrs. Ed. Minter, pea green crepe meteor and shadow lace.

Monday night the young men of the German Club gave a dance in honor of Miss Mason. The chaperones were Judge and Mrs. Bernard Mason, Mesdames Ed. Koontz and William Lybrook. At 11 o'clock, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Shelton served a delicious luncheon on Main Street. All the dancing party participated in this hospitality.

Judge and Mrs. Bernard Mason served a 6 o'clock dinner complimentary to Miss Mason, the sister of the host, Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Clay Mason gave a card party to Miss Mason and the bridal party Saturday night. Mrs. Mason entertained at dinner Monday.

Pembroke Beats Pearisburg.

On last Saturday, Nov. 23rd, Pembroke High School met and defeated Pearisburg High School in a hotly contested game of foot ball on the former's gridiron at Pembroke, before a large crowd of interested fans. Both teams of the grim warriors came on the field with high hopes of bearing away the honor and fought gallantly for the victory from start to finish. Odds were a little in favor of the Pembroke lads throughout the game, yet, until the last, with such determination did the Pearisburg eleven meet the attack, that it was not until the referees final whistle blew that either side could claim the victory.

Pearisburg received the ball on the first kick off, at their five yards line, and lost it on downs. Prof. Reed, Pembroke quarter back, then on the 1st down made a beautiful run around left end and placed the pig skin behind the goal posts for the first touch down. The next thrill that went through the hearts of the spectators was, when in the second quarter Pearisburg rushed the ball down the field by a series of end runs until it lay within one yard of their opponents goal line and then sent G. Williams right half back, on a cross buck through the evening's defense for their first touch down. Both sides failed to kick goal, so the score stood 6 to 6 at the end of the first half. In the 3d quarter neither side was able to score. Pembroke went into the 4th quarter with a renewed determination and within less than three minutes of play, after a series of ground-gaining line bucks sent Fuller right half back, and a wide run around left end for their second touch down. Prof. Reed then kicked goal, after this neither side scored, though Pembroke once more was in striking distance. The game closed with the ball in Pembroke's possession on their forty yd line, and the final score 13 to 6, in their favor.

The line up was as follows:

Pearisburg—L. E., R. E. Carr; L. T., Landen Williams; L. G., Scott; C., Spangler; Rt. G., Hoback; Rt. T., Shumate; Rt. E., Johnston; L. B., Walker Williams, Capt; L. H., Strader; F. B., Gilliam; Rt. H., Guy Williams.

Pembroke—L. E., Sam Hoge; L. T., Lucas; L. G., Thompson; C., Johnston; Rt. T., Haven Hoge; Rt. E., H. Snidow; L. B., Prof. Reed; L. H., Chapman Hoge, Capt.; F. B., Newbill; Rt. H., Fuller.

Referee, W. S. Brown.

ONE WHO SAW THE GAME.

Loses Right Leg.

Frank Saunders, colored, while trying to jump from a freight train near Lurich Sunday evening, had his right leg cut off and his left leg badly mashed. He was brought to the city Sunday night on train No. 17 and taken the Bluefield Sanitarium, where he was operated on. His left leg was found to be so badly mangled that it necessary for the left leg to be amputated near his knee. He was later removed to the Edwards Sanitarium, on Scott street. Saunders' condition is very serious.—Bluefield Telegraph.

I May Not Be With You Again.

I may not be with you again !
My thoughts are full of sorrow ;
The good I ought to do today,
I may not do tomorrow,
If I this moment shall withhold
The help I might be giving,
Some soul may die and I shall lose
The sweetest joy of living.

Only the present hour is mine—
I may not have another,
In which to speak a kindly word
Or help a fallen brother,
The path of life leads straight ahead,
I can retrace it never ;
The daily record which I make,
Will stand unchanged forever.

To cheer and comfort other souls
And make their pathway brighter,
To lift the load from other hearts,
And make their burdens lighter
This is the work we have to do—
It must not be neglected,
That we improve each passing hour,
Is, of us all expected

I may, not be with you again !
O, then with high endeavor,
That I my life and service give
To him who reigns forever,
Then will the failures of the past
No longer bring me sadness,
And his approving smile will fill
My heart with joy and gladness.

The Destruction of the Bastille.

BY S. R. B.

The Bastille was a strongly fortified prison in Paris, France. It was the place where political prisoners of State and prisoners of distinction were confined. Once within the grim and frowning walls of the Bastille, and a prisoner lost all hope. The probability was that, confined in the dungeons beneath the prison fortress, he would never see the sunshine again.

The Bastille was built in the semblance of a feudal castle, and cannon were mounted on its battlements. The people of France hated the Bastille; and the first outward sign of the great Revolution, which was to bring death, misery, and untold suffering on the fair land of France, was the cry: "To the Bastille! To the Bastille!" A great throng of citizens, the working class of Paris, marched to the Bastille thirty thousand strong, armed with guns, clubs, staves; whatever they could obtain; the "butcher, the baker, the candlestick maker" grasped in a jiffy the implements of his trade, if unfortunate in obtaining others more warlike. The wrath of the multitude increased so quickly that the Third Estate, the civilian government of Paris, sent word to Delaunay, the Governor of the Bastille, to withdraw the cannons, the sight of which inflamed the people, promising if he acceded to the request to restrain the mob. The advice was good, but the Governor heeded it not.

The electors grew uneasy, the uproar in the streets increased. At last the committee sent to interview the Governor arrived, bringing word that the cannon would not be used unless in self defense. But while the message was being delivered the roar of a cannon smote upon the ears of the excited populace. An attack had been attempted on the Bastille by the frenzied mob, and the cannon was roaring defiance. That shot was fatal to the Governor of the prison, for it made demons of the already excited crowd. With the cry of "Treason! To the Bastille!" the frenzied crowd rushed forward, and soon surrounded the hated prison, demanded the surrender of Delaunay. The chains of the first drawbridge were cut. The bridge fell, and the mob rushed across to attack the second bridge. The fortress was feebly garrisoned.

For a while it seemed that the poorly armed mob would beat against the century-old and massive bulwarks of the castle in vain; but a chance shot was fired from the crowd. The Swiss guard answered by a volley. Several of the mob were wounded. Other chance shots came from the crowd. Delaunay gave orders for the cannon to be fired. The struggle had begun; it proved to be a very short one. Companies of the National Guard sent up to quell the disturbance joined the ranks of the insurgents. Two officers of the Guard, Elie and Hulin by name, took command of the crowd and led the assault on the fortress. The fire of the garrison swept through the ranks of the mob, wounding one hundred and fifty; but pieces of cannon were dragged up by hand, turned against the gates, and fired.

Delaunay then tried to capitulate, saying that he would surrender if he and his men were allowed to march out with arms and honor; but the proposition was received with derision.

"Life and safety are all we can promise you," said Elie, the young officer of the Guard.

Delaunay then ordered the gates opened and the second drawbridge lowered. The mob rushed in pellmell, venting their spite on the hated prison. They broke open the cell doors with hammers, releasing captives who had been there a lifetime, unearthing secrets which only inflamed their rage; and if the "man with the iron mask" had been confined there then, history would have been robbed of one of its most interesting mysteries.

Elie and Hulin had promised the Governor his life; but they did not know the revengeful spirit of the mob. Before they had gone far they were fighting for the Governor's life. Hulin seized the official and covered his face with a hat, in order to conceal his features; but the mob tore him away from Hulin's strong arms, cut his head off, and bore it aloft on a pike. The other officers of the prison garrison were similarly massacred.

The fall of the Bastille was celebrated by two processions, which marched through its streets; one, blood-stained and grimy, carrying the heads of the victims on pikes; the other, triumphant and pathetic, bearing on their shoulders the prisoners released from that grave of buried hopes. Most of them were pale from long confinement, and so emaciated that they looked like living skeletons. Some had become imbeciles. No one could tell who they were or whence they had come; so the silent procession moved on, the poor, released prisoners blinking at the sunlight, which hurt their weak eyes after years of burial alive down in the dungeons of the Bastille, where no light either from the sun or the moon brightened their existence, and where no sound from the outside world ever reached them—only the scurry of rats across the stone floor of their cells, the turning of the key in the lock as the turnkey pushed in their daily allowance of food, and the occasional visit of the prison physician relieved the monotony of their existence. The spectators looked with pity on the one and with horror on the other.

The great Revolution had commenced. The next day the destruction of the famous and hated prison commenced; and its site was to be henceforward kept as a monument to liberty. A stately column, crowned by a gilded figure of Liberty, holding in one hand a torch and in the other a broken chain, stands where the celebrated prison once stood.

Every life has its December. Every man is looking forward to a comfortable old age; for when the STORMS OF ADVERSITY come, we wish to feel that we are in, out of trouble. Old age must come, and old age with adversity is a very DISMAL PROSPECT for anyone. If you want to be comfortably cared for when you grow old, begin caring for yourself now. D. A. Preston Out for the Office of Internal Revenue Collector for the Western District of Virginia.

It is with pleasure that we learn that D. A. Preston, of Abingdon, is to be an applicant for the office of Collector of Internal Revenue for the 6th district of Virginia, under the incoming Democratic administration, and from enquiries from others than his immediate friends we find that many of the leading and influential Democrats of Virginia, not only wish him success, but were the principal cause of his consenting to seek the honor. Ever since he entered business in Abingdon some twenty-five years ago, he has been more or less actively engaged either in the banking business or identified with the principal financial interests of the town and county and no man stands higher as a financial success and his training and undoubted success in the handling of public revenues in the past has given him the qualifications of one who is peculiarly fitted for the position he seeks.

We believe that under the administration of President-elect Woodrow Wilson all appointed government offices should be filled by Democrats and Democrats alone without the aid, consultation or opinion of ex-federal republican officeholders or any of their ilk and that to Democratic workers the reward should go. It is an undeniable fact that at the recent election it was to a great extent due to the untiring energies and ability of Mr. Preston and with very little assistance from others, that Washington county, the only county in the Ninth Congressional district to retain the Stuart majority of two years ago, not only held that majority but almost doubled it, and this success of Mr. Preston was not occasioned by a sudden or spasmodic effect on his part, but to his untiring and indefatigable energy which has always been his characteristic in behalf of the Democratic party ever since he became a voter and on whose behalf he has worked in every election since then, even when we were confronted with defeat and older party leaders were downhearted and discouraged.

As to Mr. Preston's private life and character no greater compliment could be given than the honor that has been conferred upon him by the Sinking Spring Presbyterian Church, of which he is an officer, and by Stonewall Jackson Institute, of whose board of trustees he is a valued member, and we can assert without fear of contradiction, that there is no man in the State more capable in every respect than Mr. Preston for the position he now seeks, and he has our heartiest wishes for his success and we urge all true Democrats to lend him a helping hand.—Washington County Journal.

Boys Should Not Smoke.

General Baden Powell advises the boys not to smoke. He says that any boy who takes to cigarettes is not brave. "A boy tries smoking" he writes, "not because he likes it. I know I hated it when I began it. He does it because he is afraid not to when other boys are doing it. He is a little funk. So when one sees a boy smoking one knows he is not, as a rule, a very brave or manly fellow. Then smoking does a boy a lot of harm. It spoils his wind and his eyesight and stops him from growing. So a fellow who knows this and yet smokes must be a fool. I began it when I was a fool boy, but I very soon stopped it when I found it was likely to damage my eyesight. So any boy who takes to smoking does so because he is either a coward or a fool or a swaggerer, possibly all three, and therefore he goes into the society of silly asses."—Ex.

A Body Blow.

A farmer carrying an express package from a Chicago mail order house was accosted by a merchant who said:

"Why didn't you buy that bill of goods from me, I could have saved you the express charges on them and besides you would have been patronizing a home store." The farmer looked at the merchant for a full minute and then said: "Why don't you patronize your home papers and advertise? I read them and didn't know you had this particular line."

"Madam, your little dog bit one of the children in the street below."

"What! One of those dirty little creatures! Call up at once for my veterinarian!"

Overstreet-Kahle.

Poplar Cave, the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. T. Kahle, of New Hope, was opened Wednesday night to welcome home the children. The Thanksgiving cheer was made more glowing by the announcement by Mr. and Mrs. Kahle that Thursday's dinner would also be a wedding feast. Thursday morning brought more relatives and at 10:30 o'clock "Whispering of Love', was softly played on the piano by Helen Mabie and J. Edward Overstreet led Miss Minnie Mary Kahle to the altar. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Harry S. Mabie, pastor of the First Baptist church of Bluefield, and immediately following the company repaired to the dining room where a sumptuous turkey dinner was served. The dining room presented a beautiful appearance with the Thanksgiving decorations, consisting of grain, fruits, nuts, and ferns and carnotions and chrysanthemums. The bride was beautifuly gowned in cream panama, wore a veil and carried white roses. She is the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kahle and is very popular with a large circle of friends. The groom is a prosperous farmer from Trigg, Giles county, Va. A few years ago he resided in Bluefield, where he has many friends, and two sisters, Mrs. Will Hetherington and Mrs. Johnston. The bride and groom left immediately for Bluefield where they took train No. 2 for Pearisburg and thence to Trigg.—Bluefield Telegraph.

Mrs. W. D. Haynes Entertains.

On last Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 19th, Mrs. W. D. Haynes delightfully entertained at Progressive Rook in honor of her house guest, Miss Annie Walker of Vinton, Va. The home was tastefully decorated in evergreens, carnations and American Beauty roses.

Mrs. C. C. Sutton and Miss Pauline Haynes greeted the guests and ushered them to the parlor where Mrs. Haynes was assisted in receiving by Miss Walker.

The jolly cards were suggestive of the Thanksgiving seasons. The color scheme of red and white, was prettily carried out in the three course luncheon served by the little Misses Haynes.

Another enjoyable feature was a beautifully rendered trio by Misses Pauline, Genevieve and Isabelle Haynes.

Those present were: Miss Walker, Mrs. C. C. Sutton, Mrs. R. B. Vance, Miss Moss of Burke's Garden, Va., Misses Sutton, Davis, Hurt, Smith and Fugate, Mesdames B. F. Frye, Ingham, Dunn, A. C. and M. H. Honaker, C. F. Palmer, S. D. Long, Wm. Dyer, Armstrong and Baker.—Abingdon Virginian.

A Friend.

Letter from An Old Giles Boy.

Los Angeles, Cal.,
November 20, 1912.

Editor Virginian,
Pearisburg, Va.

Dear Sir:—Having returned from an absence of something like six months in Europe, I write to ask if you will forward me the Virginian until further orders.

Our stay in Europe was pleasant, comfortable and most interesting all the way through. The last three or four weeks were spent in Italy, and while in Rome we were received, in special audience, by the Pope, through a letter from President Taft. Rome is one of the most interesting cities we visited, principally historically, and also because of the old ruins and its art treasures, as well as the great St. Peter's and Vatican buildings and grounds. We had a long drive along the renowned Appian Way, which was a disappointment in that it was rough and dusty. There is a great deal of poverty and filth in Rome, besides a deep-seated discontent on the part of the non-clericals against the church. We left Rome on the 20th of September, when the city was in gala attire and great crowds of men, women and children, with bands of music, were parading the streets in celebration of the separation of Church and State. This is, in effect, their 4th of July. Rome has a Jew mayor and he "stirs up the animals" at each recurring celebration, being opposed to the Church.

At Naples we visited Pompeii with its wonderful ruins and had a drive around the beautiful Bay, than which there is none more attractive. We sailed from there on the 27th of September, arrived in New York on the 10th of October; and after a visit with my niece, Mrs. Morgan, in New York, and subsequently a visit in Washington, D. C., of ten days, where we established our daughter Martha in the National Cathedral School, we were glad to be on the way to Los Angeles, the most attractive, and climatically the most perfect place of which I have any knowledge. The population of this city was given at 319,000 by the Government census of 1910, and we believe that there are 450,000 people here now; and the building of the city and the development of the country round about is keeping up with this wonderful growth.

Through this medium I wish to extend to all my relatives and friends there kindly greetings on my return to the blessed U. S. A.

Very sincerely yours,
W. D. Woolwine.

WHITE GATE.

"Earth's future glory and its hopes and joys
Lie in the hearts and hands of growing boys.
The world is theirs, to do with as they will;
The world is theirs for good results or ill.
We soon must give into their outstretched hands
The mighty issues of our changing lands.
In Earth's large house they soon shall take their place,
A menace or a glory to the race,
Tremendous issues on Time's threshold wait;
We need strong men to guide the Ship of State
Into the harbor of the next decade,
Look to the boys from whom strong men are made."

We had a pure white Thanksgiving.

Don't keep your thanks sealed up in alabaster box until next Thanksgiving, but let your heart overflow in thinksgiving each day.

One of the greatest improvements on Main Street, is the new, attractive fence around the Presbyterian church.

Miss Mary Vermillion, the popular young principal of our graded school spent the week-end at her home at "Shady Grove."

Mrs. C. E. Vermillion of Dublin, spent Thanksgiving at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nidermaier's.

Miss Kathleen Hicks left Tuesday of last week for Pulaski where she will visit Miss Mary Hall, before returning home to Portsmouth, Ohio.

Miss Cora Gusler has gone to W. Va., to be with her sister, Mrs. Lee Short, who is very ill.

Overstreet-Kahle.

Poplar Cave, the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. T. Kahle, of New Hope, was opened Wednesday night to welcome home the children. The Thanksgiving cheer was made more glowing by the announcement by Mr. and Mrs. Kahle that Thursday's dinner would also be a wedding feast. Thursday morning brought more relatives and at 10:30 o'clock "Whisper ing of Love", was softly played on the piano by Helen Mable and J. Edward Overstreet led Miss Minnie Mary Kahle to the altar. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Harry S. Mabie, pastor of the First Baptist church of Bluefield, and immediately following the company repaired to the dining room where a sumptuous turkey dinner was served. The dining room presented a beautiful appearance with the Thanksgiving decorations, consisting of grain, fruits, nuts, and ferns and carnations and chrysanthemums. The bride was beautifully gowned in cream panama, wore a veil and carried white roses. She is the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kahle and is very popular with a large circle of friends. The groom is prosperous farmer from Trigg, Giles county, Va. A few years ago he resided in Bluefield, where he has many friends, and two sisters, Mrs. Will Hetherington and Mrs. Johnston. The bride and groom left immediately for Bluefield where they took train No. 2 for Pearisburg and thence to Trigg.—Bluefield Telegraph.

Mrs. W. D. Haynes Entertains.

On last Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 19th, Mrs. W. D. Haynes delightfully entertained at a progressive Rook in honor of her house guest, Miss Annie Walker of Vinton, Va. The home was tastefully decorated in evergreens, carnations and American Beauty roses.

Mrs. C. C. Sutton and Miss Pauline Haynes greeted the guests and ushered them to the parlor where Mrs. Haynes was assisted in receiving by Miss Walker.

The jolly cards were suggestive of the Thanksgiving seasons. The color scheme of red and white, was prettily carried out in the three course luncheon served by the little Misses Haynes.

Another enjoyable feature was a beautifully rendered trio by Misses Pauline, Genevieve and Isabelle Haynes.

Those present were: Miss Walker, Mrs. C. C. Sutton, Mrs. R. B. Vance, Miss Moss of Burke's Garden, Va., Misses Sutton, Davis, Hurt, Smith and Fugate, Meadames H. F. Pryce, Ingham, Dunn, A. C. and M. H. Honaker, C. F. Palmer, S. D. Long, Wm. Dyer, Armstrong and Baker.—Abingdon Virginian.

A Friend.

Letter from An Old Giles Boy.

Los Angeles, Cal., }
November 20, 1912. }

EDITOR VIRGINIAN,
Pearisburg, Va.

DEAR SIR:—Having returned from an absence of something like six months in Europe, I write to ask if you will forward me the VIRGINIAN until further orders.

Our stay in Europe was pleasant, comfortable and most interesting all the way through. The last three or four weeks were spent in Italy, and while in Rome we were received, in special audience, by the Pope, through a letter from President Taft. Rome is one of the most interesting cities we visited, principally historically, and also because of the old ruins and its art treasures, as well as the great St. Peter's and Vatican buildings and grounds. We had a long drive along the renowned Appian Way, which was a disappointment in that it was rough and dusty. There is a great deal of poverty and filth in Rome, besides a deep-seated discontent on the part of the non-clericals against the church. We left Rome on the 20th of September, when the city was in gala attire and great crowds of men, women and children, with bands of music, were parading the streets in celebration of the separation of Church and State. This is, in effect, their 4th of July. Rome has a Jew mayor and he "stire up the animals" at each recurring celebration, being opposed to the Church.

At Naples we visited Pompeii with its wonderful ruins and had a drive around the beautiful Bay, than which there is none more lovely. We sailed from there on the 27th of September, arrived in New York on the 10th of October; and after a visit with my niece, Mrs. Morgan, in New York, and subsequently a visit in Washington, D. C., of ten days, where we established our daughter Martha in the National Cathedral School, we were glad to be on the way to Los Angeles, the most attractive, and climatically the most perfect place of which I have any knowledge. The population of this city was given at 319,000 by the Government census of 1910, and we believe that there are 450,000 people here now; and the building of the city and the development of the country round about is keeping up with this wonderful growth.

Through this medium I wish to extend to all my relatives and friends there kindly greetings on my return to the blessed U. S. A.

Very sincerely yours,
W. D. WOOLWINE.

WHITE GATE.

"Earth's future glory and its hopes and joys
Lie in the hearts and hands of growing boys."

The world is theirs, to do with as they will:
The world is theirs for good results or ill.
We soon must give into their outstretched hands
The mighty issues of our changing lands
In Earth's large house they soon shall take their place,
A menace or a glory to the race.
Tremendous issues on Time's threshold wait:
We need strong men to guide the ship of State
Into the harbor of the next decade,
Look to the boys from whom strong men are made.

We had a pure white Thanksgiving.

Don't keep your thanks sealed up in alabaster box until next Thanksgiving, but let your heart overflow in thinksgiving each day.

THE BIGGEST ORDER FOR TURKEYS Ever Given by One Concern.

Is now in our hands to be filled December 18th to 21st. When placing this order the buyer told us they wanted the cream of quality and were willing to pay a figure above the top of the regular market. This means

A Price A Little Better Than The Best

to the people who send us the fancy goods with which to fill this order. In addition to this big order we have hundreds of smaller ones from our regular customers that must be filled too and we feel very confident that Big Prices are Ahead for All Who Ship Us Nice Goods for the Holidays.

Don't hesitate but make up your mind now that you will mark your shipments to us. Write us at once how many you will have for us then we will quote you our prices. Does it pay to dress Poultry? some one asked us recently. We say yes. The price for Thanksgiving Turkeys in the country on foot was about 15 cents. The price we got for nice stock here was 25 cents. The loss in dressing as per our instructions is one pound in seven or one-seventh. The expenses of shipping are about 2½ per lb. Figure on this basis and you will find a difference on a 14 lb. Turkey of 60 cents in favor of the dressed. Yes it pays. Try it for Xmas and you will always ship that way. What you don't get off for Xmas send on for New Year with all other kinds of Poultry. Turkeys only will be wanted for Xmas. Let us have Eggs freely. They are going higher every day. Yours for business.

Believe.

If you love me, do not doubt me;
Love is trustful when it's true,
Could you look into my heart, dear,
You would know I love but you.
As I am, dear heart, accept me;
Heed not tales that make you grieve,
Faith in you is all that's left me;
Dearest, say you will believe.

Believe, my love, no knight of old
Would hazard more for thee,
Believe, I'd give my very life
To prove my constancy.
Believe these words from out my soul
That knows its only mate,
Believe, my love! believe in me;
Believe it ere too late.

Mine the task to make you happy,
Mine the joy to hear you say
No regrets are in your heart, love—
That 'twill be the same alway,
Mine the arms that shall enfold you,
Mine the heart to which you cleave,
Mine the only kiss you'll know, love;
Trust me, love me and believe.

Why Jack Stayed In Bed.

Two things Jack did not like to do. He did not like to go to school, and he did not like to go to bed. When he got sleepy he would try to hold his eyes open with his fingers.

But Jack did like to play. He liked to paint with his little box of paints, and he liked to romp with his big dog, Master.

One morning Jack came to the breakfast table with a frown on his face.

'Mamma, I don't want to go to school,' he said.

'Why not, Jack?'

'I want to play.'

'But, Jack, you must go to school to learn. You want to learn to read as your papa does, don't you?'

'I don't want to go to school,' Jack answered with a sullen look on his face.

Just before time for school Jack went to his mother's room. 'Mamma,' he said, 'I'm sick. Won't you let me stay at home?'

'Why yes, Jack, stay at home if you're ill.'

So Jack stayed at home; but about ten o'clock he forgot to look sick, and soon he and Master were having a big time together in the yard.

One night long after that Jack's father brought him home a knife. The next morning, when Mrs. Thomas went to Jack's room to call him, he told her he had a headache. 'I'm too sick to get up,' he said, and he shut his eyes as though he were going back to sleep.

After the school bell had rung, Mrs. Thomas went to see how her little boy was. She found him awake.

'I feel better now, mamma. I'm going to get up,' he said.

'Very well, dear, get up,' she answered as she left the room.

In a few minutes cries of 'Mamma! mamma!' could be heard all over the house.

When Mrs. Thomas entered the room, she found Jack in the middle of the bed, surrounded by pillows and blankets.

'Mamma, where are my clothes?' he called.

'Your clothes, Jack? Why, your father said as you were not able to go to school you must not go out, so he has locked your clothes and toys up. But if you're better when he comes home tonight, you may have them then.'

That was all that was said, but next morning Jack was up in time, for school.—Christian Observer.

It never occurs to the average farmer that the effect of a long continued diet of grain is as injurious to fowls as to cattle, nor that the concentrated grain food gives the best results when diluted or mixed with some bulky succulent material.

BELL TELEPHONE BUSINESS IN VIRGINIA TRANSFERRED.

Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company of Virginia Goes Out of Existence and is Succeeded by the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Virginia—Change is Merely the Transfer of Territory from the Southern Bell to the Chesapeake and Potomac Owing to Economic Reasons.

(From the Mercantile and Financial Times, Buffalo, New York)

Included among important developments of interest in business circles in this state during the past few days may be mentioned the passing away of the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company of Virginia, and the formation of its successor, The Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Virginia. At the same time the capital stock of the enterprise was increased from $7,000,000 to $10,000,000, which has all been taken up by The Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company, which operates in Maryland and the District of Columbia. There is no special significance attached to the change of name, which took place on October 9th, it being dictated solely in the interests of efficiency and economy by the heads of the companies interested. It lessens the territory of the Southern Bell, with headquarters in Atlanta, and increases that of the Chesapeake and Potomac, which from headquarters in Baltimore has operated in the territory above named. The rapidly increasing population of the Gulf and South Atlantic States has provided a very fertile field for telephone development so that the Atlanta concern has ample room for expansion in the territory which it still controls. The Chesapeake and Potomac, on the other hand, has operated in a much smaller territory and inasmuch as Virginia is immediately adjacent it has been deemed the part of wisdom to take it in, it being now considerably nearer the operating base of the Chesapeake and Potomac, than it was that of the Southern Bell. There will be no change in the active management of the local organization, the titles of the various leading officials being only changed to conform with the titles by which the operating heads are known in other Chesapeake and Potomac territory. Mr. J. W. Crews, who was formerly known as General Commercial Superintendent, is now designated as Division Manager, with jurisdiction throughout this state, while Mr. A. S. Tanner, formerly District Commercial Manager, becomes District Manager, having charge of the business in Richmond and immediately adjacent territory.

In looking over the telephone situation locally I am glad to report that the same gratifying conditions prevail as exist in other sections of the country where the Bell interests operate. The people of this city and state enjoy a very superior service at a minimum cost. As a matter of fact, 1-6 of the rates locally are below the average elsewhere while the plant and equipment, likewise the service, is as good as could be desired. The Virginia C. & P. now has 36,000 telephone stations with 25,000 connecting telephones, both local and long distance, making a total of 61,000 stations in the state of Virginia, having connections with the Chesapeake & Potomac system, and the number is rapidly growing. Here is this city the company have nearly 16,000 stations connected with the Richmond Exchange. Population considered, this is one of the most completely telephoned sections of the country and the part that instrument has played in the development of the country is almost incalculable; through its agency the farmer has been brought into instantaneous connection with his neighbors and his business connections in the towns and cities and this has been the means of contributing largely to an increase in farm values throughout the state. And when it is remembered that every individual station is part and parcel with the great Bell system which covers the entire country it will be seen that the local telephone user is by no means confined to his own immediately adjacent territory but can converse over a distance of fully two thousand miles to the south, north and west. While the Bell Company enjoys practically a monopoly of the business in its territory it has never abused its position, but has, on the contrary, taken especial pains to improve its service, an attitude which probably explains why there is no strong independent opposition to contend with.

The Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Co. of Va. occupies a commodious building on Grace street, Richmond, where the equipment and furnishings are what might be expected in a Bell headquarters of corresponding magnitude. Here the exchange and officers are housed under one roof, but as rapidly is the business growing that it has been found necessary to build an additional exchange in the growing West End of the city in the near future.

It may be truly said that the Bell interests in this section were never in a sounder condition than at the present time and the outlook was never brighter for future expansion and progress, of which the recent change of title noted above is an indication.

LETTER FROM K. SHUMATE.

MUSKOGEE, OKLA.,
November 1, 1912.

MR THEO DULANEY,
Pearisburg, Va.

DEAR BROTHER:—I met Evangelist L. C. Wolfe the morning of the 8th of October as agreed. He had just closed his work there with 60 additions to the church. Then we headed for Muskogee and at eleven next night, train robbers took possession of our train, cut off baggage car and made the fireman and engineer drive them a mile or so away, and fired five shots into the big safe, but it clutched its precious treasure so tight that the would be robbers feared to spend more time, or ran out of dynamite or were raw hands at the business. Anyway, they only got a small sum from a smaller safe of course we all looked for them to pay us a visit and to take up a collection, but they slighted us, notwithstanding, we had it ready to hand over. So as the colored brother puts it we had some "spennez."

Well, here I am, this cool 1st day of November, 1912, feeling just as I ever did in the palmiest days of my life, an astonishment to all. Well, I spent one evening at the State Fair, saw some fine horses, cattle, hogs, sheep, fowls, grain, grasses, etc.

One farmer not far off has alfalfa farm and grows hogs as a specialty and one weighed 830 and several 500 to 600, their legs barely long enough to keep them off the ground. The East can beat the West for quality of wheat, but the West can beat us for oats two to one, and here they are just done putting up alfalfa, the 4th crop. I have now been here nearly a month and one company has been hauling in a ten thousand bushel crop of sweet potatoes. They refused $1.25, and are storing spring sale at $2.00 per bbl. May be they will, I hope they wont. Am told that there is a farm just a little out of city limits of 160 acres, well improved, good buildings for $40.00 per acre. Quite likely, if I had the money and somebody's girl to keep the house, I would buy it and go to farming. I could get an auto to pull my plow. They have been running one out in the country and say it can turn 25 acres per day, and it don't get scared or run off with the plow either.

I saw 8000 bales of cotton on the yard and one hundred cars on the track waiting their turn to unload, and the company have worked every Sunday since I came to give room for new arrivals. This city claims thirty thousand and is now putting up many new and elegant residences. Great oil wells near by. I heard that there is all sorts of religion here, so that everybody can have his choice. Like the fellow, who said he'd have a religion all of his own whether priest or protest should not be known, and if it fit too close he'd have none.

This leaves us all well as usual. Love to you and to all enquiring, as ever.

K. SHUMATE.

As President of the State Teachers' Association for the year 1911-12 and Chairman of the Executive Committee of the Virginia Educational Conference I wish to express my appreciation of the hearty co-operation of the Superintendents, Trustees and Teachers in the Southwest to make the Education Conference that closed in Richmond Friday night the best in history of the State. The attendance of Teachers, Trustees, Superintendents, and Citizens from the Southwest was by far the largest and most enthusiastic ever known from this section. I had anticipated a large attendance from this section but the number and enthusiasm far surpassed my expectations. I thank you very cordially for your sympathy and effective co-operation.

J. P. McCONNELL.

Mrs. J. M. Caldwell of Graceton, Pa., in writing us, says: "Can't do without my home paper, just as good as a letter from home. The communications from over the county are very much enjoyed." Thanks.

We have heard, with deepest regret, of the death of Miss Harriet, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Farrier of Newport, on the night of Dec. 1st. Harriet had made many friends among us during a recent visit to our town, and it is with deepest sorrow that we chronicle the death of one so bright and amiable as was Harriet. We extend to the bereaved family our sincerest sympathy.

Miss Janie Drinkard, the music teacher, and Miss Blanche Hedrick, teacher, of Narrows High School, were in town Monday evening, accompanied by Ex-Mayor J. G. Alvis in his auto. They called at our office to have programs printed for the music recital, which will take place Saturday night.

ALLEN CASE.

As we go to press the latest news is that the jury in the Sidna Allen case is hopelessly hung. They came into court Tuesday afternoon and asked that the evidence of Judge Bolen be read over to them which was done.

This is one of the most peculiarly constructed jury that ever tried a case in Virginia being a gathering together of some of the best men Northern and Eastern Virginia—hardly any two of them acquainted with each other and one which is likely to render a verdict unmoved by any pre-conceived opinion or unconscious prejudice.

REGITAL.

The pupils of Miss Janie Drinkard of Narrows, will give their first recital Saturday, Dec 14th at eight o'clock at High School Auditorium.

The public is cordially invited. Ten cents admission.

READY FOR BUSINESS.

The State Corporation Commission of Richmond, has ordered the Sinking Creek Valley Bank of Newport, Va., to be opened.

This bank was opened for business last Monday morning with C. L. King, President; R. I. Hutchinson, Vice President; G. W. Buchanan, Cashier.

We recommend to the people of Newport and vicinity, Mr. Buchanan, a first-class business young man, a man you can rely upon for truth and integrity.

Success to the Sinking Creek Valley Bank.

MR. T. O. SANDY TO SPEAK HERE ON THE 18th.

We are informed that there will be a special meeting of the Board of Supervisors held here on next Wednesday the 18th, at the request of the U. S. Government, who will address the Board and the people of the county on the question of Co-operation in Agriculture. These meetings are being held all over the State and we hope there will be a good crowd here. Mr. Sandy is not merely a speaker on agriculture but has proven himself to be one of the best practical farmers in the State and is regarded as one of the very best authorities on farming in the South.

Roanoke, Va., Dec. 1, 1912.—Notice has been sent out from the general office of the Norfolk & Western, of this city, announcing the promotion of Mr. W. B. Bevill, who was General Passenger Agent, to be Passenger Traffic Manager. This appointment is effective December 1st.

Jointly with this circular is one announcing the promotion of Mr. W. C. Saunders to General Passenger Agent succeeding Mr. Bevill. This also becomes effective December 1st.

Both Mr. Bevill and Mr. Saunders are very favorably known along the lines of the Norfolk & Western, and are considered among the most popular passenger officials in this country.

Big Metal Shingle Business.

The Cortright Metal Roofing Company, of Philadelphia, Pa., whose advertisements of Cortright Metal Shingles have been running regularly in the VIRGINIAN for nearly a year past, advise us that 1912 will show an immense volume of business in their line. It is gratifying to carry the advertising of so prosperous and successful a concern and to feel that the VIRGINIAN has had some part in creating such success. Any of our readers interested in roofing should write for literature and further particulars.

STRAY STEER.

I have on my farm at Hoge's Store a stray steer. Any person describing same, paying for keeping and for this notice, can get the steer. The steer has been on my farm for three months.

Lyceum Course.

The Beulah Buck Quartet will be at the High School Building next Tuesday night, Dec. 17th. This is the first of four attractions under the direction of the Alkahest Lyceum System, Atlanta, Ga., to be held in Pearisburg during the winter months.

Ten citizens have guaranteed a large sum of money to secure these attractions for Pearisburg. They are all of the highest order and it is sincerely hoped that the people of Pearisburg will not allow these men to lose money on this proposition. Show your appreciation of the efforts of these men to provide entertainment for you by patronizing these attractions.

Tickets can be secured at the Pearisburg Pharmacy today (Thursday) afternoon, you can reserve a seat for all attractions in this way.

Reserved seats will also be on sale at the Pharmacy, Thursday afternoon.

The above course will also be given at the Narrows High School Building, Wednesday night, the 18th.

POSITIONS IN PLENTY.

Positions in plenty are waiting for the young man or young women who can measure up to requirements. Throughout the year the Roanoke National Business College receives inquires for pupils and places graduates in positions. At times the demand far exceeds the supply; in fact, the school has been unable to fill more than fifty per cent of the applications received from business men. Such is the confidence the public has in that institution.

Business men know they are getting just the kind of help they need and the best that up-to-date methods in teaching and training can produce. The school is careful to ascertain from the prospective employer just what he expects from the pupil. The college is just as careful to recommend only such applicants as it feels confident can live up to these expectations.

All its students who become reasonably competent can readily secure positions. The college make no charge to either the employer or applicant for its services establishing a mutually satisfactory connection.

The winter session opens January 1st. Desk room is reserved in the order in which applications for entrance are received. Those contemplating a course should make arrangements early.

Northern Virginia Farms.

167 Acres, in one of the best sections of Fair Fax County, Va. This is fine red chocolate clay land that grows, one year with another, 40 bushels of corn, 18 of wheat and ton of hay per acre. 140 acres cleared and in the very finest state of cultivation, fairly well fenced in one of the best social communities, close to church and school, 4 1-2 miles to electric car line running from Washington, D. C., to Bluemont, Va. The improvement consists of a four room house in very good condition; good barn and out buildings; good orchard; good water.

222 Acres, located within 5 miles of a railroad, on good road, close to church and school, and in a fine neighborhood. Clay land in a fine state of cultivation—lately limed. Good water, good 4-room log house, good new barn, and good outbuildings, 150 acres are cleared, the remainder is in white oak timber. This farm will pay 12 1-2 per cent on the price which is $25 per acre, on easy terms.

I have farms to suit the means and preference of any purchaser. Ask for printed list.

A Yule-Tide Offering.

BY LOUELLA C POOLE.

Again the merry Yule-tide comes,
The Day of all the year;
The pealing bells, the mistletoe,
The blazing Yule-log's cheer
Proclaim the Christmas festival;
O now let every voice
In accents glad His praises sing,
And every heart rejoice.

May peace prevail; it is most meet,
This anniversary morn
That marks that holy Day of days
The Prince of Peace was born,
That all should dwell in unity,
That earth should know no war—
O may the white-winged dove of peace
Brood o'er us evermore,!

May each heart beat with quickened love
For man and bird and beast,
Remembering Him who ministered
Unto the very least
And humblest of our Father's flock,
Who marked the sparrow's fall,
Who as a Babe was cradled with
The cattle in the stall.

And now as loving messages
And precious gifts abound,
And at the hospitable board
The loving-cup goes round,
What nobler gift to offer him,
Today, with willing mind,
Than grateful hearts filled with true love
For bird—beast—all mankind?

Regina's Christmas Tree.

BY MOLLY MCMASTER.

Regina gazed despondently out of the window.

A light snow was falling like millions of sparkling diamonds and pearls yet Regina saw nothing. Her Christmas tree had not come! It mattered not that the day was a wonder day and that the even of Christmas was close at hand. Nothing mattered to Regina save the fact that she had promise her Sunday School class a glorious tree and that now there was no tree for them. Tears welled slowly into Regina's eyes and blurred the glittering landscape.

She argued with herself that she might have known that the New York shops could not be relied upon to send a tree to the suburbs at so short a notice, but that did not help the situation.

Regina shrank from facing those twelve little girls whose smiles would vanish in childish disappointment when they learned that the tree they had been promised was not to be theirs.

The tears brimmed over and fell. Regina's vision was cleared and in the clearing she gazed directly at the miniature fir tree in the vacant lot next door. A sense of keen delight swept over Regina. After all, her children would have a tree!

Some fifteen minutes later Regina appeared in outdoor costume. She had put on her gymnasium suit, high rubber boots and her father's great top coat. Over a riot of curls her snug fur cap fitted closely.

"You look for all the world as if you deserved your nick-name," expostulated Regina's mother. "Regina, I do hope no one will see you."

"There's no one for miles around," Regina laughed and shouldered an ax. "Unless the people who live in the bunglow turn up—I will have the world to myself." She picked up a big tub with her free hand and trudged off toward the fir tree in the vacant lot.

Regina's eyes were too intent on her mission to see that a thin curl of smoke was twisting from the chimney of the bunglow that rambled in the lot beyond the vacant one.

Regina drew near the coveted tree and her heart expanded lovingly.

"What a little beauty!" she exclaimed half aloud.

The little tree was of special origin and stood not much higher than Regina. Over its branches a veil of smoke seemed to linger. After a moment spent in admiration, the girl put down her big tub and began to clear away the light fall of snow from about the roots of the tree. Her cheeks were gloriously red and the sparkle in her eyes rivaled the day itself.

When the snow was cleared Regina swung the great ax into the frozen earth. The ground scarcely responded to her strength. She swung again.

"Hey? What are you doing to that tree?"

Regina dropped her ax and grazed in the direction of the deep, gruff voice. A man was standing on the veranda of the banglow.

Regina picked up her ax and with dignity swung it again.

"I say there, you —that tree belongs to me!" The man was coming toward her.

Regina stopped and turned "This is a vacant lot," she called out with asperity.

The approaching male whistled. His speed quickened. He made an involuntary movement to raise a cap that in his haste he had forgotten to put on.

"I beg your pardon," his voice had lost the gruff quality, "I thought you were a man—but—that tree is mine. I brought it up from my father's garden in the south." David Longhorn spoke rapidly. Regina's face was rather startling in its beauty and he had a desire to cover her embarrassment. 'I have taken very special care of that tree.'

'Very special,' Regina said coldly. 'I have lived here a whole summer and no one—'

'I have been away—lately.'

'I don't see why you leave your poor little trees around in vacant lots,' Regina put in hurriedly because she felt like crying now that her precious tree was taken from her.

'This is my lot,' Langhorn told her. 'If you had chopped down—'

'I wasn't chopping it down!' Regina cried indignantly. 'I was going to put it very carefully into this tub.' She stumbled over her words, but determined to tell this very good looking man with the red hair that she was not a George Washington 'I ordered a Christmas tree by express and it didn't come. My Sunday school class—twelve little girls—are expecting a tree tonight in my house and now—' words failed Regina. She bit her lip and looked appealingly up at Langhorn.

The man laughed because it was the safest thing to do for the present.

'And I have brought down twelve little settlement boys with the same promise—and nara a tree have I got. I reckoned on getting one in the village.'

Regina laughed and the whole world seemed to echo the laugh.

'I have tried even the department store!' She gazed into David Langhorn's eyes. 'I am sorry for the poor little souls whom we are disappointing—my class worked so faithfully all last summer.'

'By Jove,' David said. 'I read once of some people who had a Christmas tree out of door! They had a great bonfire and the tree was lit by a thousand candles as well as the stars and a Santa Clause drove up over the real snow! Couldn't we do something like that?'

'With this tree? How perfectly glorious!' Regina, beside herself with joy, began to shovel away a great clearing.

David took the shovel away from her.

'My kiddies will do that—it will be the treat of their lives.' David looked seriously at Regina. 'Now go home and get warmed up. This afternoon I will call properly and in the evening—Christmas Eve—' He did not finish with words for the hearts of both David and Regina were overflowing with good tidings of great joy.

That evening Santa Claus drove up through the crisp snow and opened his great bags before the little tree. It was a wonder tree there in the vacant lot and it was hung with a hundred electric bulbs. Six bonfires reared their flames skyward and around and about danced and capered twenty-four joyous children.

And when the moon was high in the heavens and the spirit of Christmas had entered into each heart. David and Regina drew the band of children about them and led the young voices in carols.

Still later when one tiny girl had cuddled herself into Regina's arms and two more had fallen asleep in David's there was only a duet of voices. David and Regina sang all the old English carols until twenty little kiddies had fallen into a happy sleep.

'For unto you is born this day.

'In the city of David, A Savior!'

The voices of David and Regina trailed into silence and they only looked at each other Regina was the first to speak, the mother instinct prompting her.

'Perhaps we had better waken them now—the fires might get low.'

David was silent a long moment, then he said slowly and reverently, 'The fires will never burn low—Regina. This is the night when the Great Spirit of Love was born into our world.'

Mistletoe and the Druids.

The custom of decorating strategic points in the household with sprigs of mistletoe at Christmas dates far back to the time of the Druids, who held the little plant in great veneration. At the approach of their winter festival, twigs of it were placed above the door of their houses to serve as talismans and signs to the sylvan deities that shelter and comfort awaited them within.

Present-day customs relating to mistletoe represent the evolution of the Druidical legend.

Conundrums for Christmas.

Who gave the tar-tar? The jackall gave the Jack all.

Why did the wood-saw? Because it saw the lamb-chop.

Why did the butter-fly? Because it saw the cake-walk.

Why did the fly fly? Because the spider spied her.

What is the largest room in the world? The room for improvement.

Why is a street car like the heart of a coquette? Because there is always room for one more to be taken in.

When may a man be said to breakfast before he gets up? When he takes a roll in bed.

Why are teeth like verbs? Because they are regular, irregular and defective.

What is it that a gentleman has not, never can have, and yet can give to a lady? A husband.

Why is a man just imprisoned like a boat full of water? Because he requires bailing out.

When does a ship tell a falsehood? When she lies at the wharf.

What is the difference between a mother and a barber? The latter has razors to shave and the former has shavers to raise.

Why are fowls the most economical things a farmer can keep? Because for every grain they give a peck.

Christmas Plum Pudding.

The Christmas plum pudding is decended from the plum porridge and is a time-honored dish at every Christmas feast. To be properly made, each person in all the household must stir it before it is boiled and the mistress of the house must add the spices "with her own fair hand," and so she favors fortune for a year. If she is an American and mixes her pudding in an ancient china bowl, stirring it with an ancient a spoon, whose handle is adorned with an old English crest, so much the better, for in the new land she is helping to keep alive the customs that made old England merrie.

The pudding should be boiled in a well-floured cloth "six hours upon the day of mixing, six hours upon the day of eating, and the steam should not cease to arise from the spot while the pudding is within it."

The woman who takes in stairs to scrub is probably as proud of her husband as is the woman who takes in stares from the depth of her limousine.

ANOTHER CONFEDERATE VETERAN PASSES AWAY.

On last Saturday morning, Dec. 14th at 1:29 a. m., Mr. Wesley Johnston, one of our community's oldest citizens passed away at his home near town.

Mr. Johnston had been in bad health for several years, but had only been confined to his room about ten days.

The early years of Mr. Johnston's life were spent in Mercer county, W. Va. Some thirty years ago he was married to Miss Ella Wall, whose home was near Pearisburg, some years after their marriage they established their home near town. From this home the mother and only son, Harry, had already been removed by death, Mrs. E. L Hedrick, the only daughter, survives her father.

Mr. Johnston was a faithful and consistent member of the Methodist Church, and although bowed down by age and infirmity he regularly filled a pew at the Sunday morning service of the different churches of the town.

From 1861 to 1865, Mr. Johnston followed the "Stars and Bars," being a member of Capt. Henley French's Company B., Clark's Battalion.

Rev. W. B. Belchee of the Methodist Church, assisted by Rev. M. W. Royall of the Baptist Church, conducted the funeral service at the home on Monday morning at 9 o'clock, after which interment was made in the Wall Cemetery.

To Mrs. E. L. Hedrick, the sorrowing daughter, we extend sincerest sympathy.

PUBLIC SALE!

Saturday, December 21, 1912, at 10:00 o'clock a. m., we will offer for sale at Public Auction, the real estate and all personal property formerly owned by the late Wesley Johnston, consisting of the farm of 140 acres, more or less, horses, cows, yearlings, hogs, and all farming implements.

Right will be reserved to receive or reject all bids on the farm.

Terms will be made known on day of sale.
MRS. E. L. HEDRICK,
Pearisburg, Va.

Jackson-Woods Wedding.

A quiet but very interesting wedding to society here took place Dec. 10th at 1:30 o'clock in the Church of the Centurion, Fortress Monroe, when Miss Marguerite Woods, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Meredith Woods, was married to William Congreve Jackson, of this city. Mr. Jackson is a son of the late Bishop Henry Melville Jackson, of Alabama, and is a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. James B. Pace, of this city. The church was decorated with cathedral candles and palms and the ceremony was performed by Chaplain Scott.

"The bride entered the church with her father, who gave her away. She wore a traveling suit of dark blue cloth, with an imported hat trimmed in bands of skunk fur, and carried a bouquet of lillies of the valley and orchids. Her only ornament was a diamond horseshoe, the gift of the groom. Miss Lucille Woods, who was her sister's maid of honor, wore a gown of hand-embroidered saphire blue chiffon and carried an armful of American Beauty roses. John McMenamin was the groom's best man.

"Mr. and Mrs. Woods entertained the bridal party at a luncheon immediately following the ceremony at the church. The luncheon was given in the Chamberlain Hotel. Mr. and Mrs. Jackson left later for New York, and will sail on December 19th for London. They will visit relatives in England and spend sometime traveling abroad. Guests from a distance attending the ceremony were James B. Pace, Miss Bessie Jackson, of Richmond; Mrs. Broner, of New York City, and others.

The bride is a niece of Mrs. Samuel H. Boitnott, of Northfork, W. Va.—Richmond Times Dispatch.

Mr. Woods and his daughter, Miss Marguerite, were visiting Mr. Woods' brother, Mr. H. J. Woods here last summer. We wish the young couple a long life together.

PUBLIC SALE!

I will offer for sale at public auction on Saturday, January 11, 1913, at 10:30 o'clock a. m., at my residence near Kimballton all my personal property, consisting of:

1 Two-year old horse.
2 Yearlings.
1 Young colt.
9 Cows.
5 Yearlings.
2 Calves.
2 Hogs.
1 Buggy.
1 Mowing Machine.
1 Rake.

IN MEMORY.

Harriett Pence Farrier was born February 6, 1899. She was taken sick October 30, 1912, with the worst type of typhoid fever. In the early hours of the morning of Dec. 2nd her spirit winged it way to God and Heaven. The time of her pilgrimage was 13 years, 9 months and 26 days. We had often noticed in her noble traits of character, thoughtfulness for others, friendly disposition, regard for spiritual things and a talent for music.

Some days before her sickness we told the children that during the coming holidays they could invite their friends and schoolmates and have a Xmas party, as the boys would both be home. It greatly pleased her, and as I attended her bed-side several times she asked if it wasn't almost Xmas. No one appreciated this favorite season of the year more than she always looking to the pleasure of others first before her own.

Xmas is nearly here but our little girl is not. God wanted the opening bud in our home to bloom in all its loveliness in the garden of His eternal and unchangeable love. How we loved her and how we miss her. It is all dark to us why she was taken but with unwavering trust in God and assuring faith in Jesus Christ, His Son, we take up the duties and responsibilities of life, pressing on until we come to where we will know it was for the best.

On the morning of her death as we walked to where she often played and sung her mother said to me, "She will never sing for us again." I said not here, but in the Paradise of God she will play on the golden harp and sing the song of Moses and the Lamb, and in the evening as we walk the shadowy way she'll sing our welcome home. As I held her little hand in mine at the crossing I said, Good-bye, until I clasp it again on the golden strand of Heaven where partings will be no more and where God will wipe all tears from our eyes. Brother, sister, friend, fellow travellers to the judgment bar of God, don't miss Heaven.

To all who stood by us in our time of sorrow and need, and to all who sent a letter of sympathy, we extend our heartfelt thanks. So much are these tokens of brotherly love appreciated in the home when dark shadows have crossed its threshold.

HER FATHER.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

Once more God in His infinite goodness and mercy has seen fit to visit our Sunday School at Eaton's Chapel and select from it one of our bright young members in the person of Mabel Eaton, and remove her from our midst to the greatest school beyond.

This sad event occurred at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Eaton, Thursday, November 7, 10 p. m.

Recognizing the divine hand of God in this dispensation and knowing our loving heavenly Father does all things well; therefore be it

RESOLVED 1. That we the Sunday School deplore the loss of one who was faithful as long as her health permitted.

2. That her class has been called upon to give up one of its best pupils one thouth a mere girl in age, was womanly and winsome in ways.

3. That we think God for her life that the Sunday School as a body will cherish tenderly and devotedly her memory.

4. That the Sunday School extend to each member of the bereaved family their heart felt sympathy and commend them to our all wise heavenly Father who comforts the sorrowing and binds the broken hearts.

5. That a copy of these resolutions, be placed upon the minutes of the Sunday School, a copy be sent the bereaved family, and one to the VIRGINIAN for publication.

LETTER FROM REV. A. L. SHUMATE IN REGARD TO PASTOR RUSSELL.

833 S. Floyd St.,
Louisville, Ky.,
December 5, 1912.

EDITOR VIRGINIAN,
Pearisburg, Va.

DEAR MR. JOHNSTON :—In your issue of Nov. 14th, on the front page, you publish a sermon three columns long, by a man known as "Pastor Russell." The discourse is entitled, "Armageddon of the Scripture." The picture of this notable "Divine" at the top of the first column, presents a venerable appearance He talks very glibly and with a show of wisdom that would almost lead some people to think he was divine.

I do not know what motives prompted you to publish this discourse in our County paper, which goes into the majority of our homes. Is it because you do not know the pernicious influence of this man Russell? Have you investigated the nature and policy of Russell's work and preaching? I cannot believe you realize the destructiveness of this man's influence, especially among the uneducated classes of our people; else you would not have given the columns of the VIRGINIAN to such a purpose.

If you will look into the matter, and talk with people who have come into contact with him and with people whom he has deceived, you will agree with me when I say that "Pastor Russell," is one of the greatest Impostors in this country today. His stronghold is in dealing with the highly figurative Book of Revelation, especially the obscure parts of it, and in advocating the theory that the Bible does not teach the doctrine of Eternal Punishment and immortality for the wicked. With a skillful selection of certain passages of Scripture, and with a great show of learning, he proceeds to lead thousands of the unthinking people away from the true Scriptural teaching. You will learn also, by investigating the facts, that his methods are almost entirely destructive, rather than constructive. In an address delivered to a great audience in Richmond about a year ago, he heralded his views concerning Eternal Punishment, Immortality, Missions, etc., taking direct issue with the Bible, and then proceeded to consign all other ministers and teachers of other doctrines than his, to Eternal Oblivion as impostors and hypocrites. He did all he could, not only to shake the confidence of the multitudes in the doctrines taught and interpreted by the ministry, but relegated us all to the plain of insincerity and hypocrisy. This is the character of the man whose sermon appears in our paper of Nov. 14th.

So I submit, Mr. Editor, a kindly but urgent protest against our County paper or any of our people giving any encouragement whatever to the doctrines or the methods used by "Pastor Russell." I could tell you many other reason why I take this stand, reasons pertaining to the character of the man in question.

With every good wish for you personally, and for the success of the VIRGINIAN, I remain,

Yours truly,
A. L. SHUMATE.

In regard to the above letter from our friend, Rev. A. L. Shumate, will state that the sermon printed by us that it was sent to us and not ordered, and we failed to notice the doctrine that Pastor Russell taught, as we don't believe in the no hell doctrine, and we hope this sermon will not mislead any of our readers.—EDITOR.

This week will be the last of the Rev. Russell's sermons that will appear in this paper. We had never read any o Russell's sermons, and did thing about hi Yes, indeed, w ent, as we don delinquent sch that there is News.

Drives Off a Terror.

The chief executioner of death in the winter and spring months is pneumonia. In advance agents are colds and grip. In any attack by one of these maladies no time should be lost in taking the best medicine obtainable to drive it off. Countless thousands have found this to be Dr. King's New Discovery. "My husband believes it has kept him from having pneumonia three or four times," writes Mrs. George W. Place, Rawsonville, Vt., "and for coughs, colds and croup we have never found its equal." Guaranteed for all bronchial affections. Price 50 cts. and $1.00. Trial bottle free at T. J. Pearson's.

If your horse is a mule, remember to speak kindly to him whenever you fasten the traces. The same rule applies when he is only a "hoss."

Fit His Case Exactly.

"When father was sick about six years ago he read an advertisement of Chamberlain's Tablets in the papers that fit his case exactly," writes Mis Margaret Campbell of Ft. Smith, Ark. "He purchased a box of them and he has not been sick since. My sister had stomach trouble and was also benefited by them." For sale by all dealers.

Could Shout For Joy.

"I want to thank you from the bottom of my heart," wrote C. B. Rader of Lowisburg, W. Va., "for the wonderful double ben fit I got from Electric Bitters, in curing me of both a severe case of stomach trouble and of rheuma tism, from which I had been an almost helpless sufferer for ten years. It suited my case to a though made just for me." For dyspepsia, indigestion, jundice, and to rid the system of kidney poisons that cause rheumatism, Electric Bitters have no equal. Try them. Every bottle is guaranteed to satisfy. Only 50 cents at T. J. Pearson's.

California Woman Seriously Alarmed.

"A short time ago I contracted a severe cold which settled on my lungs and caused me a great deal of annoyance. I would have bad coughing spells and my lungs were so sore and inflamed I began to be seriously alarmed. A friend recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, saying she had used it for years. I bought a bottle and it relieved my cough the first night, and in a week I was rid of the cold and soreness of my lungs," writes Miss Marie Gerber, Sawtelle Cal. For sale by all dealers.

A New Back for an Old One. How it Can be Done in Pearisburg.

The back aches—at times with a dull, indescribable feeling, making you weary and restless; piercing pains shoot across the region of the kidneys, and again the loins are so lame that to stoop is agony. No use to rub or apply a plaster to the backs if the kidneys are weak. You cannot reach the cause Pearisburg residents would do well to profit by the following example.

C. A. Butler, Roanoke St., Salem, Va., says: "The nature of my work affected my kidneys and I had pains across the small of my back. In the morning I often had difficulty in getting out of bed, owing to soreness and stiffness across my back. A member of my family finally procured a box of Doan's Kidney Pills and although I had previously taken other medicines without benefit, I found this preparation to live up to the claims made for it. I was relieved and gladly tell of my experience.

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

How to Bankrupt the Doctors.

A prominent New York physician says, "If it were not for the thin stockings and thin soled shoes worn by women the doctors would probably be bankrupt." When you contract a cold do not wait for it to develop into pneumonia but treat it at once. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is intended especially for coughs and colds, and has won a wide reputation by its cures of these diseases. It is most effectual and is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by all dealers.

Blood Was Wrong

All women, who suffer from the aches and pains, due to female ailments, are urged to try Cardui, the reliable, scientific, tonic remedy, for women. Cardui acts promptly, yet gently, and without bad effects, on the female system, relieving pain, building up strength, regulating the system, and toning up the nerves. During the past half century, thousands of ladies have written to tell of the quick curative results they obtained, from the use of this well-known medicine.

TAKE CARDUI The Woman's Tonic

Mrs. Jane Callehan suffered from womanly trouble for nearly ten years. In a letter from Whiteville, N. C., she says: "I was not able to do my own housework. My stomach was weak, and my blood was wrong. I had backache, and was very weak. I tried several doctors, but they did me no good. I used Cardui for 3 or 4 months, and now I am in the best health I have ever been. I can never praise Cardui enough." It is the best tonic, for women.

Whether seriously sick, or simply weak, try Cardui.
