Jones receiver of the Circuit Court of Gloucester County in the case of Miller vs. Rowe, as far as such money will go, and I wish also the money due me to be collected by my Executor and applied toward the extinguishment of said debt. But this provision for paying off said debt shall not in any way interfere with the payment of the money hereinbefore directed to be paid to my daughter (Maria H. 4th I have encumbered my estate by a deed of trust to secure the payment of the debt aforesaid to my son Archibald H. Robins, and I hope my children mentioned in the second clause above will arrange satisfactorily to themselves the payment of the balance of said debt as may remain unpaid, after the provisions for the payment hereinbefore made of the said debt have been complied with.

5th I desire my son Joseph T. Robins to be my executor, and I hereby nominate and appoint him executor of this my last will and Testament, and I request the Court before which he qualifies not to require any security of him. Witness my hand and seal this the 24th day of August 1885.
