

1779, January 7—Will of John Ligon.

“Wife, Judith; sons, Blackman. In case my son, Blackman, is dead, or should die before he leaves the army, the land shall return to my son, John Ligon.

“To my son, Joseph Ligon, &c., and it is my desire that he shall act and dispose of his estate as if he was actually 21 years of age.

“Executrix: My wife, Judith; executors, my sons, John, Thomas, James, Obediah, Henry, Blackman and Joseph.

“John Ligon.”

Witnesses: John Flinn, Jr., Robert Jordan, Ety Jordan.