

I, Isaac Williams, being of sound mind, make this my last will and testament as herein contained. I give and bequeath to my dear wife Lucy Williams to have and hold, so long as she may live after my death, all of my property both real and personal, with full authority to use and control as she may desire. I furthermore direct that the above named property, or so much and such part thereof, as may be in her possession, at the time of her death shall pass into the hands of my great nephew James Andrew Williams to have and hold as his own; provided the said Williams shall continue to live upon and manage the said property as the said Lucy Williams may direct. Given under my hand this 28th day of April 1884 Isaac ^{his} ~~man~~ Williams

In the name of God Amen. I William H. Handery in the name of those present and being of a sound mind, doth make this to be my last will and testament, hereby revoking all former wills &c — I desire first that all of my just debts shall be fully paid. After which I give to my beloved wife, all of my property of every kind, both real & personal to have and to hold during her life time, and after the death of my beloved wife, I desire that all of the property left by her shall be equally divided between my two wives namely Regina Feresa Handery and Julia Veronica Handery. And I desire further to leave my beloved wife, as administratrix of my estate, and request that she be allowed to qualify with giving any security. Witness my hand this 28th day of
