

Whereas Henry Samuel died by his last will and testament leave to his widow Mary Samuel and her sister Nancy Parry the whole estate of which he died seized during their lives after paying all just debts and at their death then to go to John St. Grant, and whereas the whole of the parties being desirous to make a compromise, they have mutually agreed that the estate shall be sold, of which has been this day done, and the equally divided between the three, and that each shall hold a fee simple estate in their respective shares, each paying their due proportion of all claims against the said estate. This division being made we will do hereby relinquish all right and title to said estate agreeably to said will. Given under our hands and seals this 12th day March 1810.
