

Observe that one of those Crofs lines divides the bottom land from the hill & the other is the great road & the dotted Line comes within two rods of the Gum Corner within mentioned, so that Thomas may have a Road to his Timber on the hill, now whether the dotted line begins, or ends, so as to divide the Bottom land, & the hill equal I know not, but when it is divided ~~it is~~ I desire it may begin & end so as to divide equally the Bottom & the hill between said George & Thomas & the dotted line still to come within two rods of said Gum if there should be a Crook made in it against the Gum now you see a dotted line, in the south west Corner beginning at a Gum Sapling which points out Georges other six Acres for his meadow ground as within mentioned.
