Meade County Court

The Comr. has made a Complete failure in the Original, of which this is a true Copy, he has boocherd the Job desperately, and has Since left the County, and the errors he has Committed Cannot be Corrected for the want of the proper information. The name of the dec'd, Age, Sex, Condition, Occupation, Residence & Place of birth, being entirely left blank, so far as this half sheet on page is Concerned. CCK "

These returns, with marriage dates, were recently found in file boxes in the office of the County Clerk of Mason County and are a "real find" as there are no Bonds in existence for many of the marriages listed. Therefore, many are not in the copy of Mason County Marriage Bonds as compiled several years ago by Limestone Chapter, DAR, of Maysville, Kentucky.

PAGAN CREEK MONTHLY MEETING

(also called Nansemond and Levy Neck Monthly Meeting)

Established: 1737 when the Chuckatuck-Nansemond Monthly Meeting was divided.
Continued: After 1752 as the Black Water - Surry Monthly Meeting

Counties within bounds of this Monthly Meeting: Nansemond, Surry, Sussex, Prince George, Dinwiddie, Isle of Wight, Amelia, Southampton.

Particular meetings: Pagan Creek, Isle of Wight Co.; Surry, Surry Co.; Burleigh (Burley), Prince George Co.; Butler's, Dinwiddie Co.; Black Water, Surry Co.; Stanton's, Sussex Co.

The lower Virginia counties of Isle of Wight, Nansemond and Norfolk have always attracted dissenters and from early times we find them in this section of our state. Even before the rise of the Society of Friends and its subsequent spreading to America, Puritans were in the Isle of Wight County as well as Nansemond. They came under the leadership of Richard Bennett, whose wealth and influence upheld them, he having transported many across the Atlantic at his own expense. Many of these Puritans occupied positions of highest rank in the Virginia Colony. Bennett himself became governor as we shall presently see. But Puritanism reached its climax in the south in 1687 with the battle of the Soverns, which event was perfectly timed to the arrival of the first Quaker missionaries. Thereafter we find many Puritans and their families being converted to the beliefs of George Fox. In fact, John B. Boddie, historian of the Isle of Wight County, concludes that a large majority of the first Quakers of that county and Nansemond were originally Puritans, including the renowned Major General Richard Bennett, Governor of Virginia under Oliver Cromwell. Among these earliest Quaker families, not all of whose had been Puritans, are found the names of Godwin, Bennett, Hutchins, Jordan, Draper, Copeland, Denison, Johnson, Jones, Murray, Bessie, Chapman, Boddy (or Boddie) Outland, Howard, Wiggs, Exum, Barnes, West, Lawrence, Cooke, Taberner, Newman, Bufkin (or Buskin), Perkins, Garret, Belson, Grove, Pope, Lacie and others too numerous to mention. It should, however, be remembered that Quakerism was a new faith and that often only one or two members of a family were converted, while in the established Church all members could be taken for granted as being members, unless shown to be otherwise.

The Society of Friends was first planted in Virginia on the Eastern Shore and then in the region south of the lower James River which area is penetrated by the Nansemond and Elizabeth Rivers. All the meetings in the counties there are closely related by both ties of blood and organization. The same families which first settled Isle of Wight County, later moved on into Nansemond, and in the period 1690-63 almost every Quaker family sent members to become the first settlers of the state of North Carolina. Wheeler in his "History of North Carolina", says, "The first permanent settlement (i.e. in Perquimans Co.) was formed after the expulsion of the Quakers from Virginia in 1662". So one should not be surprised to find the same family names in all these places.

Because the earliest Quakers of Isle of Wight County were either so new in the faith or were laboring under such severe persecution, they left little of a positive nature concerning the history of their beginnings as a religious group. The fact that so many were recent converts accounts for the apparent lack of any true understanding of Friends discipline or any authentic or proper organization in their meetings before 1672. Until that time organization does not seem to have gone very far beyond the individual congregation. The fact that they were being constantly harassed by the officers of the law made it difficult and perhaps unwise to keep records. The only surviving record book, and perhaps the only one kept at this period, was begun in 1673 at George Fox's suggestion. It is generally known as the Chuckatuck Record, but it actually contains data and information pertaining to all Quakers in the three lower counties.

Stephen Weeks, who had access to manuscripts not available to this writer, states that Elizabeth Harris of London was the first missionary to Virginia and that she came in 1656 and had good success, converting many. It is not stated exactly what part of the state she visited but by a close study of allied data it would seem that while some of her labors were on the Eastern Shore, she also visited the Isle of Wight, Norfolk and Nansemond, as we have evidence

WESTERN BRANCH MONTHLY MEETING (also called Lower and, infrequently, Baskin's Monthly Meeting)

Established: 1737 when the Chuckatuck - Nansemond Monthly Meeting was divided.
Divided: 1906 into Black Creek Monthly Meeting and the Corinth - Lower Monthly Meeting.
Continues: 1950 under the name of Somerton Monthly Meeting

Counties within bounds of this Monthly Meeting: (1767) Southampton, Nansemond, Isle of Wight and Norfolk. After 1807 Sussex and Surry. After 1832 all counties southeast of James River.

Particular Meeting: Chuckatuck, Nansemond Co.; Southern Branch (Baskin's), Nansemond Co.; Western Branch, Isle of Wight Co.; Terasco (Derastoe) Neck, Isle of Wight Co.; Vick's (Anne West's), Southampton Co.; Johnson's, Isle of Wight Co.; Somerton (Sommerton), Nansemond Co.; Black Creek (or Sedley), Southampton Co.; Bennett's Creek (Nansemond Co.); Black Water, Surry Co.; Gravelly Run, Dinwiddie Co.; Corinth, Southampton Co.; Bethel, Southampton Co.

When the ancient monthly meeting of Chuckatuck was divided in 1737 (see Yearly Meeting and Nansemond sketch) part of it was appointed to convene "in the meeting house near Leowin Burkins". The official name of this place of worship was Southern Branch and is known to have been on the eastern side of the Southern Branch of the Nansemond River in Nansemond County. Its meeting house was built in 1702 and a full account of its construction is recorded in the Chuckatuck record. Weeks states that this division of the Chuckatuck Monthly Meeting was first known under the name of the "Nansemond Monthly Meeting" - a name which previously had also applied to the ancient Somerton and then Chuckatuck. Since all monthly and quarterly meeting minutes of the period immediately following 1737 are lost, and since the representatives to the yearly meeting reported only by quarterly meetings, we cannot now say positively what happened, though Weeks is probably correct.

In a pamphlet, written in long hand and now in the Baltimore vaults, dated 1768, 8th month 17th and entitled "An Account of all Yearly, Quarterly, Monthly and Particular Meetings of the People called Quakers in the several Provinces in America, when and where held and how constituted", Western Branch Monthly Meeting is listed as being in the Virginia Yearly Meeting, Black Water Quarterly Meeting (also called Western Branch and Lower Quarterly Meeting-D.S.B.) and its particular meetings are listed as being: Chuckatuck, Western Branch, Terasco Neck, Somerton and Burdaugh's. Since Burdaugh's seems merely a continuation of Southern Branch Meeting it is not difficult to bridge the gap.

It is highly probable that the newly divided monthly meeting circulated between the Southern Branch and Western Branch Meeting Houses in its sessions, then as the former meeting grew weaker and the latter stronger and the monthly meeting was permanently settled at Western Branch taking its name. Certainly in 1766 the 11th month, when the surviving Western Branch Monthly Meeting minutes upon this is the name of the monthly meeting having jurisdiction over all Quakers in the counties of Southampton, Nansemond, Isle of Wight and Norfolk. In 1758 the Virginia Yearly Meeting was held "at our meeting house at the Western Branch" and under the date of 1755 the representatives to the Yearly Meeting from the "Western Branch Quarterly Meeting" are, John Denson, Samuel Hargrave, Thomas Trotter and William Daley (Eley). All these are later listed in the Western Branch Monthly Meeting. So, we can see that quite early Western Branch became the center of the business activities of the meetings in lower Virginia.

Here it is important to pause long enough to learn something of the particular meeting of Western Branch in the Isle of Wight County which gave its name to the monthly meeting. It is famous in the annals of this part of the state. We know by a survey of the civil records of both Isle of Wight and Nansemond Counties that Quakers had been "on the Branch" from the very beginning of the spread of the Society in Virginia. Just when their meeting was organized we do not know, but it must have been early for it is mentioned in 1698 and in the Chuckatuck Record we find the following entry: "Att our ann and woman's meeting held at our Publick meeting house on 12th of the first mo in the yeare 1708 It was ordered that friends of the Branch doe go on & build them a house to meet in first daies & week daies and to sett itt on theould field of Frances hatchins by the high way side".
