

Know all men by these presents, that I Henry B. Masters of the County of New Kent, State of Virginia, being at this time in the exercise of all of my faculties unimpaired, do make and ordain this my last will and Testament, revoking all others heretofore made by me. I hereby devise to my beloved wife Abby Amanda Masters all of my right, title and interest in and to the tracts of land lying in the said County of New Kent known as "Crif Crofs" and Richardsons and all of the appurtenances of every kind, debts due me by J. S. Nesbit & Co. as per Company's Books, and all else thereto belonging, with the personal property heretofore on the farm, and I moreover devise and bequeath to my said wife Abby Amanda Masters all other real estate and personal property which I may now own or be in any manner entitled to, or may hereafter acquire both at law or equity. Lastly I hereby constitute and appoint my said wife Abby Amanda Masters as the executor of this my last will and Testament, and desire, that the Court before which she qualifies may require no security of her.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed my seal this 16th day of August in the year Eighteen Hundred and seventy one Published and acknowledged in presence of the undersigned who were present at the same time and who subscribed their names in the presence of the testator.

This being my last will and testament I want my interest in the lands to be equally divided among my three Sisters Mary, Virginia and Florence with no division except in case of marriage of one or more of them. To my Brother Robert I leave half dozen $\frac{1}{4}$ latte spoons. To Virginia I leave my Sewing machine. To Mary my watch & chain. To Florence the rest of jewelry & my bureau. I want to be decently interred but in a plain ^{and} ~~rich~~ manner. my coffin not to cost over \$15.00 or \$20.00
