In the presents of Edmund Scarborough
Edmund Scarborough Junior Livinge Remwood.

A Court holden at Hechaumacke the day of April 1634
Right Capt Edmund Scarborough Mr William Andrews
Mr William Stone Mr William Burdett In the first place the oath of John Major aged 27 or thereabouts sworn and examined saith that in February last there was a bargain made between Capt Scarborough and Phillip Taylor for halfe of an Ox and one old Bull for wch Phillip Taylor was to pay to Capt Scarborough 200th of tobacco in commodities this Shipps, and 200th of tobacco more at they next Crops. Of the bargain (concerning the Bull) about the 200th of tobacco last, Capt Scarborough desired to be released but Phillip Taylor would not, saying that he would hold him to the bargain, and if that Capt Scarborough would cause the said Bull to be put into any boate wth his Chattells bound over the Bay that then the said Phillip Taylor would accept of him for his owne and take him upon his owne account for damage as that Bull was shipped or put into any boate, and this is all that this deponent can say.

Upon the oath, Richard Hadlow aged 24 years James Davis and John Ford saith that John Ford sold unto James Davis one cow worth for 40th of tobacco to be payed at the next Crops.
Wherefore it is ordered by this Court that the said Davis shall keep the Sum for the Bull Capt Scarborough desired to be released of it, but Philipp Taylor would not release him of it, but say<sup>d</sup> that he would not allow him to his bargain and if the say<sup>d</sup> Capt Scarborough would put the say<sup>d</sup> Bull with his cattle into any boate bound over the Bay, that then the say<sup>d</sup> Philipp Taylor would hold the say<sup>d</sup> Bull for his own and upon his own account for so long as the say<sup>d</sup> Bull was put into the boate for the use of Philipp Taylor. And about the tenth day of March last, the say<sup>d</sup> Bull was put into a boate with Capt Scarborough's cattle bound over the Bay, accordingly, each boate Capt Scarborough's herd of old & new cows having a fair Easterly wind well & sound not long after came up at South West, wher upon they were forced to land them, otherwise they would have perished. But before the say<sup>d</sup> Bull was landed this defont went with Capt Scarborough to the house of Philipp Taylor who being not then at home he demanded of Philipp Taylor's wife what she would have done with the Bull, and after long conference she sent two of her servants to her self the say<sup>d</sup> Bull out of the boate and to mark him of her husband's mark which was done accordingly by the hands of her servants all well that defont knoweth well to be true, he being both an eye and an ear witness to the same by reason he was to carry them over the Bay if wind and weather should have permitted, and this is all that this defont can say.

At this Court it appeared that Richard North is indebted unto Thomas Arnold deceased thirty six shillings of good and lawfull monies of England to be payed unto the lawfull Executors or assigns of the say<sup>d</sup> Thomas Arnold as by a bond appeared under the hands of the say<sup>d</sup> North and William Melling Gent.

These presents witnesseth that we Richard North and William Melling Gent of Ackhewmache, do acknowledge ourselves our heires Executors Administrators and assigns to our and to be indebted unto the estate of Thomas Arnold deceased, his heires Executors Administrators or assigns the full and just summe of thirty six shillings of good and lawfull monies of England to be pay at all demands of the Administrator, and for the true and quiet performance of the same we have hereunto put to our hands and Seales even this 2nd day of April 1634.
