[Faint, illegible handwriting, likely bleed-through from the reverse side of the page.]

The image shows an open, antique book or manuscript. The pages are severely damaged, with extensive water staining, foxing, and discoloration. The paper is a dark, mottled grey-brown color. The binding is visible in the center crease, showing signs of wear and damage. The text on the pages is mostly illegible due to the damage, but some faint, handwritten script is visible on the right-hand page. The overall appearance is one of great age and poor preservation.

The image shows a piece of aged, dark paper with significant damage. The paper is heavily stained, discolored, and torn, particularly along the left edge and bottom. Faint, illegible handwriting is visible throughout the document, but the text is mostly obscured by the damage and the dark background. The paper appears to be a document or letter that has been severely deteriorated over time.

This is to certify that it is my desire that said money should be immediately paid for the marriage of Seth Spencer and myself as witness my hand — Mrs. Thurston
