

In the Name of God Amen

I solemnly thank you for the blessing of your presence, and for the grace of your love, which has been the source of all my comfort and joy. I thank you for the peace and refreshment which you have given to all my heart, and for the assurance of your love, which has been the source of all my strength and courage. I thank you for the grace of your love, which has been the source of all my comfort and joy. I thank you for the peace and refreshment which you have given to all my heart, and for the assurance of your love, which has been the source of all my strength and courage.

I thank you for the grace of your love, which has been the source of all my comfort and joy. I thank you for the peace and refreshment which you have given to all my heart, and for the assurance of your love, which has been the source of all my strength and courage. I thank you for the grace of your love, which has been the source of all my comfort and joy. I thank you for the peace and refreshment which you have given to all my heart, and for the assurance of your love, which has been the source of all my strength and courage.
